(request for broad work award of disputed work to Carpenters applicable throughout Painters' territorial jurisdiction, denied in absence of evidence that Painters would again resort to action proscribed by 8(b)(4)(D))

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 926 (Oliver B. Cannon, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 143
(E's request for broad award applying to all similar work disputes arising between it and U, denied, since U used proscribed means to force assignment of work to Ees it represented for very brief period, and E has not shown U is likely to engage in similar conduct in order to obtain work similar to that in dispute)

Theatrical Protective Union, Local One, IATSE, AFL-CIO (Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation) 255 NLRB No. 120
(request to expend scope of award beyond E in this proceeding and jobsite in question denied)

Bricklayers, Local Union No. 44 253 NLRB No. 15
(where issuance of broad work award soughtby Laborers' U was not warranted)

7580-8080-2000 Similar dispute within entire geographic area of employer's normal operations

Sheetmetal Workers' International Association, Local Union No. 9, AFL-CIO (Elward, Inc.) 250 NLRB No. 099
(scope of award encompasses whole state where E operates because nature of E's business, i.e., performing various jobs at one time with stable work force which is constantly interchanging, indicates that dispute is not restricted to one jobsite and dispute likely to arise again)

7580-8080-5000 Similar disputes on jobs of particular employer in geographic area where competing unions' jurisdictions coincide

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO (Northern Telecom, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 18
(E's request for broad award covering E's work in any area in which jurisdictions of CWA and Electrical Workers coincide granted because disputed work has been continuous source of controversy between two Us, other disputes are likely, Electrical Workers have proclivity to engage in unlawful secondary boycott activity over this work and have job policy and bylaw which induces such unlawful conduct)

4000 EXCESSIVE OR DISCRIMINATORY FEE

Brewery and Soft Drink Workers, Liquor Drivers and New and Used Car Workers, Local 1040 Teamsters (Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company; et al.) 249 NLRB No. 039

(where U's decision to raise fees was part of overall reevaluation of initiation fees at all named Es as required by parent body, fact that fees at charging party E were raised 500 percent which was much more than at others not violative where no unlawful intention to create closed shop or monopolize employment for U members existed)

4017 UNLAWFUL IF EITHER EXCESSIVE OR DISCRIMINATORY INITIATION FEES

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(contention that increased initiation fee restrained applicants from accepting jobs with E rejected; evidence of increase in ratio of number of interviews of applicants to number of jobs filled by E valueless where E failed to give basis for his figures or describe records he consulted to refresh his recollection)

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(initiation fee held not excessive where it was 112 percent of Ees' average weekly wage, and it was not shown to be excessive in comparison with initiation fees in that particular industry)

6000 RELEVANT FACTORS

6000-0100 Generally

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(evidence of U's motive, object, or purpose in imposing initiation fee irrelevant to whether it was excessive)

6033 INITIATION FEE OF OTHER UNIONS IN PARTICULAR INDUSTRY

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(GC's evidence of initiation fee charged by U representing Ees of polyvinyl chloride resins manufacturers too limited and the manufacturers do not constitute a particular industry w/i meaning of 98(b)(5); but, assuming they did constitute such industry, difference between initiation fee herein and highest fee elsewhere in such industry not excessive)

6067 WAGES CURRENTLY PAID TO EMPLOYEES AFFECTED

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(initiation fees of 112 percent of Ees' average weekly wage herein found not excessive)

2025 PICKETING

2025-0100 Generally

Retail Clerks Local 1357 (Genuardi Super Markets, Inc.) 252 NLRB No. 124
(U's picketing of E (who purchased bankrupt store and failed to hire Ees of bankrupt E) to induce it to give preferential hiring consideration to former Ees has permissible object)

2025-6700 What constitutes picketing

2025-6775 Absence of picket signs

Local 282, Teamsters (The General Contractors Association of New York, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 055
(actions which conveyed signal to drivers of delivery trucks to refuse to make deliveries constituted picketing notwithstanding there were no picket signs)

4000 PROHIBITED OBJECTS - FORCING OR REQUIRING

4025 AN EMPLOYER TO RECOGNIZE OR BARGAIN WITH A LABOR ORGANIZATION AS REPRESENTATIVE OF HIS EMPLOYEES

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161
(Local U engaging in strike and picketing with object of forcing or requiring E to recognize and bargain with it as sole representative of its Ees, where it was not certified representative of its Ees, and E had recognized International (from which U had attempted to disaffiliate and affiliate with another International), and Local as joint representatives in contract still effective and thus qcr could not appropriately be raised, unlawful, notwithstanding U did not instigate strike since U representative demonstrated control over strikers and ratified action of strikers)

4025-5000 What constitutes recognition and bargaining

4025-5050 To obtain initial acceptance as representative

Local 137, Sheet Metal Workers International Association, AFL-CIO (Walter Sign Corporation) 260 NLRB No. 191
(organizational and representational object shown by one U representative's presentation of U authorization cards and both U representatives' solicitation of contracts with E)

Sheet Metal Workers Union Local No. 3 (McCarthy Heating & Air Conditioning Services, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 053
(U's picketing had unlawful objective of forcing E to recognize U as Ees' representative rather than, as contended, protecting area standards, where U showed Ees disparity between their conditions and those of Ees it represented, made notes on Ees' attitude toward U and prior U membership, inquired about minorities and females, and told Ees it was picketing to benefit them, that they could have a U shop and get more benefits as such through U's leadership)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 576, AFL-CIO 252 NLRB No. 156
(U's picketing E for over 30 days w/o filing ptn for purpose of securing recognition, unlawful; U not permitted to present evidence regarding possibility of alter ego, joint E, or successorship relationship between picketed E with which U had no bargaining relationship, and another E with which had longstanding relationship, thus rendering picketing for continued ratherthan initial recognition, where same theories had been rejected by GC in refusing to issue complaint in prior ULP case and no ULP charge that would impede processing of R ptn)

Carpenters Local Union No. 1622 (Paul E. Iacono Structural Engineer, Inc.) 250 NLRB No. 056
(U's picketing for more than 30 days w/o filing R ptn violative since picketing was for recognitional purposes, notwithstanding U's disclaimer and claim that it was protesting E's standard labor costs, where U had never investigated whether E's labor costs were substandard and subsequent to its disclaimer and contemporaneously with picketing, it had attempted to organize E's Ees)

United Mine Workers of America, District 17 (Corvette Coal Company) JD-167-82

Local No. 340, Electrical Workers (Warren B. Burgess, d/b/a AJR Electric) JD-(SF)-165-80
(U's picketing construction site with placards protesting subcontractor's prevailing wages and working conditions held violative, since creditable testimony showed that object of picketing was to force subcontractor to sign up with U; U was not currently certified as Ee representative and had failed to file ptn under Sec. 9(c) of Act w/i 30 days from commencement of picketing)

N.L.R.B. v. Sheet Metal Workers Union Local No. 3 662 F.2d 513 (C.A. 8, Oct 1981)
(U agent's oral and written representations to E's Ees during picketing comparing U with non-U benefits and his admission that U might seek to organize them in the future indicated unlawful organizational purpose)

4025-5062 To enforce prehire agreement

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 150 (Tri-City Excavating, Inc.) 255 NLRB No. 083
(U's picketing of E for more than 30 days not violative where parties had had 8(f) contract and U was picketing to protest E's failure to comply with pension fund contribution provisions; 8(f) contract was voluntary and U was seeking payment of alleged past indebtedness and not trying to require current application of new contract)

4025-5083 Not applicable to union entitled to recognition

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 576, AFL-CIO 252 NLRB No. 156
(U's picketing E for over 30 days w/o filing ptn for purpose of securing recognition, unlawful; U not permitted to present evidence regarding possibility of alter ego, joint E, or successorship relationship between picketed E with which U had no bargaining relationship, and another E with which had longstanding relationship, thus rendering picketing for continued ratherthan initial recognition, where same theories had been rejected by GC in refusing to issue complaint in prior ULP case and no ULP charge that would impede processing of R ptn)

6001 GENERALLY

San Diego Typographical Union No. 221, AFL-CIO (Central Typesetting, Inc., d/b/a Central Graphics) 264 NLRB No. 119
(U's previous picketing or shortness of hiatus in picketing cannot, alone, establish whether picketing had recognitional or organizational object)

6007 PICKET SIGNS

Local 77, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Service By Medallion) JD-(SF)-110-81
(violation, where U, which had demanded recognition, intermittently picketed buildings where Ees of janitorial service were working for three months w/o filing ptn since picketing was for recognition where picket signs said Ees of E on strike, U distributed handbills informing public that Ees received substandard wages even though U represented majority of Ees and that its objective was U contract; U's contention that its objective changed from recognitional to informational, rejected, where it never informed E or membership that it was no longer seeking to organize contractor's Ees)

6007-3300 Signs advising public employer does not have contract

San Diego Typographical Union No. 221, AFL-CIO (Central Typesetting, Inc., d/b/a Central Graphics) 264 NLRB No. 119

(U picketing w/i a year of valid election, violative, where picket signs and handbills which stated that E did not have contract with nor employed members of U implied that U considered its quarrel with E would cease when E employed U members or entered into contract with U and therefore, contrary to U's contention, picketing did not have non-coercive, informational objective)

Retail Store Employees Union Local 214, Affiliated With United Food & Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO & CLC (Pick-N-Save Warehouse Foods, Inc.) 252 NLRB No. 086

(while picketing was ostensibly informational, signs utilized by U protesting E did not have contract with U and did not employ members of U left no doubt of recognitional object)

Ogden Enterprises, Ltd. (Local 471, Restaurant Employees) 248 NLRB No. 046

(notwithstanding U's picket signs and leaflets stating that E did not have contract with U and U's alleged purpose of persuading public to patronize restaurants with U contracts, Bd held U's picketing tantamount to demand for recognition where U neither pikceted all nonU restaurants nor did it attempt to inform public which restaurants had agreements with U; additionally U made no attempt to inform either public or E that it was not seeking recognition, and it was U's chief organizer, not business manager, who initially contacted and later met with E for purpose of discussing the picketing)

Local 1506, Carpenters (Best Drywall Co.) JD-(SF)-266-79

(picket signs held not to come w/i second proviso because of failure to state that E did not employ members of, or have a contract with, U)

6007-5000 Signs protesting violation of contract or agreement

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 150 (Tri-City Excavating, Inc.) 255 NLRB No. 083

(U's picketing of E for more than 30 days not violative where parties had had 8(f) contract and U was picketing to protest E's failure to comply with pension fund contribution provisions; 8(f) contract was voluntary and U was seeking payment of alleged past indebtedness and not trying to require current application of new contract)

6007-6700 Area standards signs

Miscellaneous Drivers and Helpers Union Local 610 (Tower Hotel, Inc.) JD-238-80

(U's picketing of E with signs stating wages and working conditions of E were not equal to those of U members and also containing recognitional disclaimer not violative where U had contract with another E which did establish area standards, U was aware of wages, though not fringe benefits, paid to Ees of picketed E, U made no cliam to represent Ees of E)

Congress of Independent Unions and Southern Sun Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 172 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(U's picketing violative since E had lawfully recognized another U; respondent U's picketing had recognitional object where letters to E and pickets stated that Ees were working under conditions substandard to those enjoyed by its members and picketing commenced w/i 2 weeks of Bd overruling its objections to election)

Joseph H. Solien, RD v. Teamsters Local No. 610 484 F.Supp. 1240 (DC E.D. MO, Feb. 1980)

(signs which stated Ees of E who were represented by another U were not being paid wages comparable to those paid Ees represented by U picketing and that picketing was informational and had no organizational or recognition objective, indicative of area standards objective, notwithstanding area standards should encompass more than those comparable to Ees represented by picketing U; contention U failed to meet burden of investigating wages and working conditions in defining area standards, rejected, since statement does not have to be totally accurate to be protected by first amendment)

6014 PLACE OF PICKETING

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 576, AFL-CIO (Earl J. Engle, Attorney on Behalf of R & F Grocers, Inc.) 252 NLRB No. 186

Local 137, Sheet Metal Workers International Association, AFL-CIO (Walter Sign Corporation) 260 NLRB No. 191

(organizational and representational object shown by one U representative's presentation of U authorization cards and both U representatives' solicitation of contracts with E)

Retail Clerks Local 1357 (Genuardi Super Markets, Inc.) 252 NLRB No. 124

(picketing which U claimed informational held to be for recognition and thus unlawful where at rally immediately preceding start of picketing U officials stated: this place will be U and also who needs the U-E)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local No. 1063 (Heathman Employees Independent Union) 249 NLRB No. 082

(U's picketing for recognitional object after E's lawful recognition of another U, unlawful, notwithstanding factors which favored finding picketing was not for proscribed object, where Please do not patronize picket sign language imported present object of organization and GC needed only to demonstrate that recognition or organization is an object; U officials, testified that there would be no picketing if U represented Ees, and such admissions have been basis for finding proscribed object and officials' self-serving statements herein are not determinative)

Carpenters Local Union No. 2361 (Adams Insulation Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 089

(U wrote contractor stating that subcontractor was not signatory to U contract and therefore would engage in publicity picketing, and 5 weeks later did picket for 1 day with some Ees walking off job; contention that letter was legally equivalent to picketing because it contained coded threat to engage in recognitional picketing which started 30 day clock running from receipt of letter, rejected, as letter exhibited intention to engage in publicity picketing, contained no threat regardless of what object U had in mind)

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 211 (Jaden Electric, A Division of The Farfield Company) 248 NLRB No. 034

(picketing non-U contractor on construction project violative where testimony refuted U's alleged area standards object and, conversely, indicated a recognitional object in view of U's failure to investigate what wages and benefits were being paid, U business manager's statement indicating that U was determined to picket contractor before it learned what wages and benefits contractor intended to pay, and his statement to project officials that only thing he could recommend to avoid disruption on job was for contract or to sign agreement with U)

Carpenters Local 316, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-316-80

(U's picketing of joint venture with informational area standards signs for more than 30 days violative where U's agents revealed to E at beginning of picketing that goal was representation and never made any attempt to learn economic status of joint venture, and demanded that joint venture sign agreement)

Teamsters Local No. 600, a/w Teamsters (Poplar Bluff Express) JD-226-82

(unlawful purpose indicated by U's telling secondary neutral E it was picketing its company because of nonU truckdriver and soliciting it not to do business with primary E because it was nonU)

Local 1506, Carpenters (Best Drywall Co.) JD-(SF)-266-79

(U representative's asking what were chances of getting a contract, requesting E to join U and stating that for E to join U would be a lot easier on him)

6040 INQUIRIES OF EMPLOYEES

Sheet Metal Workers Union Local No. 3 (McCarthy Heating & Air Conditioning Services, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 083

(U's inquiries about Ees' attitude toward Us, prior U membership, and minorities and females indicated organizational intent)

6042 STATEMENTS TO EMPLOYEES

Sheet Metal Workers Union Local No. 3 (McCarthy Heating & Air Conditioning Services, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 083

(U's showing Ees through its survey form the disparity between their conditions and those of Ees it represented and telling them it was picketing to benefit them, that they were not too small for a U shop and as such could get more benefits, and that U was a leader in getting benefits indicated organizational intent)

6046 CONDITION FOR DISCONTINUANCE OF PICKETING

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 211 (Jaden Electric, A Division of The Farfield Company) 248 NLRB No. 034
(picketing non-U contractor on construction project violative where testimony refuted U's alleged area standards object and, conversely, indicated a recognitional object in view of U's failure to investigate what wages and benefits were being paid, U business manager's statement indicating that U was determined to picket contractor before it learned what wages and benefits contractor intended to pay, and his statement to project officials that only thing he could recommend to avoid disruption on job was for contract or to sign agreement with U)

8075-8050-9800 Picketing for area standards

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 211 (Jaden Electric, A Division of The Farfield Company) 248 NLRB No. 034
(picketing non-U contractor on construction project violative where testimony refuted U's alleged area standards object and, conversely, indicated a recognitional object in view of U's failure to investigate what wages and benefits were being paid, U business manager's statement indicating that U was determined to picket contractor before it learned what wages and benefits contractor intended to pay, and his statement to project officials that only thing he could recommend to avoid disruption on job was for contract or to sign agreement with U)

Local 77, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Service By Medallion) JD-(SF)-110-81
(violation, where U, which had demanded recognition, intermittently picketed buildings where Ees of janitorial service were working for three months w/o filing ptn since picketing was for recognition where picket signs said Ees of E on strike, U distributed handbills informing public that Ees received substandard wages even though U represented majority of Ees and that its objective was U contract; U's contention that its objective changed from recognitional to informational, rejected, where it never informed E or membership that it was no longer seeking to organize contractor's Ees)

Local 77, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Service By Medallion) JD-(SF)-110-81
(picket sign legend E fails to pay wages and benefits established by local U was phrased in ostentsible area standards language rather than requisite proviso language and as such was not protected by proviso)

0130 CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT CLAUSES

District 2, Marine Engineers Beneficial Association—Associated Maritime Officers, AFL-CIO 261 NLRB No. 046

(agreement providing that any operator employed ... to operate its U.S. flag ships shall have labor agreements with U (U signatory clause) held unlawful because it furthered U objectives elsewhere as evidenced by U's admission in its complaint for TRO to compel specific performance of agreement and affidavit of U agent, e.g., members' jobs will be reduced, enforcement of agreements with contractors will be undermined, U's ability to attract new members will be reduced)

Pacific Maritime Association & ILWU Local 13 (Stone Tire Service and Off-Dock Unlimited 256 NLRB No. 122

(in determining facial validity of contract clauses alleged to be violative of Sec. 8(e), Bd applied rules of construction summarized in J. K. 0140 CONSTRUCTION OF LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Furriers Joint Council of New York, United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO (The Resident Fur Buyers Association) 261 NLRB No. 106

(Section 8(e) of Act was intended to supplement existing prohibitions against secondary boycotts. Congress intended that Section 8(e) embody same distinction between lawful primary and unlawful secondary boycott activity contained in Section 8(b)(4) of Act)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082

(legislative history of construction industry proviso demonstrates that Congress expressed its intent to exempt from proviso total process of transporting materials in spite of fact that some tasks in process might take place on construction site; in interpreting legislative history of proviso Bd has consistently adhered to narrow definition of jobsite work, refusing to apply proviso's coverage to various types of transportation work or to offsite work merely because such work could be done at construction site)

Teamsters, Local Union 222 (S.J. Groves & Sons Company JD-(SF)-118-80

(E's transportation of gravel to work site held not to constitute onsite work and therefore not to be exempt according to Act's legislative history)

Pacific Northwest Chapter of The Associated Builders & Contractors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr 17, 1981)

(legislative history regarding 8(e) construction industry proviso shows Congressional intent, in view of peculiarities of construction industry, to avoid serious damage to pattern of collective bargaining in industry, and to permit Es and Us to enter subcontracting agreements permitted by law prior to enactment of Sec. 8(e))

Lone Star Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 545 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(ct, considering products and cease doing business clauses as well as legislative history of Section 8(e) of LMRDA of 1959, found no indication that Congress was concerned with agreements by common carriers or Es in other industries relating to sale of their businesses or of assets as was done in instant case)

1200 FACTORS MATERIAL TO APPLICABILITY OF SECTION 8(e)

1201 GENERALLY

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(petitioner's contractual promise to UMW to report and make contributions to specified U health and retirement funds based on specified amount, on each ton of — coal procured for use or sale by petitioner from producers not under contract with UMW was illegal under anti-trust and labor laws and thus valid defense to suit for such contributions by trustees of U funds)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(while only Bd may provide affirmative remedies for ULPs, ct may not enforce contract provision which violates 8(e))

Lone Star Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 545 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(Bd properly read successorship clause as applying only to kind of permanent disposition of assets that is outside scope of Section 8(e))

1225-2500 Employers within section

N.L.R.B. v. Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union Local 531 623 F.2d 61 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(collective bargaining agreement between lessor-E and U containing clause that, if lessor leases premises all provisions of labor agreement be applicable and binding upon lessee, coupled with another clause that requires any E bound by agreement must recognize U, violative of 8(e), since contract effectively makes condition precedent to leasing that lessee-E must agree to recognize and contract with U, precisely effect of illegal U signatory clause)

1225-3300 Expressed agreement

Furriers Joint Council of New York, United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO (The Resident Fur Buyers Association) 261 NLRB No. 106

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093

(extrinsic evidence necessary to show whether administration of ambiguous subcontracting clause lawful or unlawful; such evidence must be based on mutual consent or acquiescence of parties to contract)

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093

(Bd could not find contract unlawfully extended prohibition against subcontracting beyond jobsite work where U's attempt to compell contracting E to accept its interpretation of contract was resisted by E during instant hearing and prearbitration proceeding and provided no basis for finding contract clause in issue concerning subcontracting was violative of 8(e) of Act; requisite mutual consent or acquiescence to unlawful interpretation was not present in instant case)

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093

(although proviso to Section 8(e) makes lawful certain secondary clauses limiting subcontracting of work in construction industry, contract cannot provide that they be enforced by resort to economic self-help, notwithstanding self-help and subcontracting provisions were found in different articles of contract—)

1225-6700 Implied agreement

Pacific Maritime Association & ILWU Local 13 (Stone Tire Service and Off-Dock Unlimited 256 NLRB No. 122

(grandfather clause providing that unit work, performed by non-U Ees prior to effective date of contract, may be done by same Ees at option of E, held not unlawful implied agreement; although clause could be interpreted as agreement that members of E association would c/d/b with subcontractors not expressly covered by clause, it does not warrant applying clause mechanistically w/o some proof that it was intended to be administered unlawfully; and there was no evidence regarding intent of parties during negotiation of agreement and no finding by ALJ of unlawful administration of clause)

Pacific Maritime Association & ILWU Local 13 (Stone Tire Service and Off-Dock Unlimited 256 NLRB No. 122

(in finding no unlawful implied agreement that members of E association would c/d/b with nonsignatory subcontractors, Bd held statement by U representative that U was going to do all unit work at new facility and eventually all work in whole harbor to exclusion of rival U held not sufficient evidence of unlawful administration of contract; such statement to rival U representative made no reference to U's contract with E association and, in any event, no association member acquiesced in or gave consent to such statement)

1250-3900 Signing or executing agreement

Pacific Maritime Association & ILWU Local 13 (Stone Tire Service and Off-Dock Unlimited 256 NLRB No. 12

(memorandum of understanding under which E recognized its obligation to comply with provisions of E association-U contract, held to have constituted entering into of such contract provisons w/i purview of Sec. 8(e); E specifically agreed in memorandum to apply disputed provisions of contract; and even though no specific reference was made in memorandum to disputed provisions, it was binding of E because of its membership in E association)

1250-5000 Reaffirming, maintaining or enforcing agreement

General Truck Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers, Local 467, Teamsters (Mike Sullivan & Associates, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 214

District 2, Marine Engineers Beneficial Association—Associated Maritime Officers, AFL-CIO 261 NLRB No. 046

(U's telex to E of its intention to commence legal action in connection with alleged breach of agreement and institution of legal proceedings reaffirmed illegal contract w/i 10(b))

International Union, United Mine Workers of America; UMW District 21; UMW Local 2428 (Garland Coal & Mining Company) 258 NLRB No. 011

(words to enter into have been interpreted broadly (by Bd) to encompass concepts of reaffirmation, maintenance, or giving effect to any agreement which is w/i scope of Section 8(e), notwithstanding agreement itself was executed outside Section 10(b) statute of limitations)

International Union, United Mine Workers of America; UMW District 21; UMW Local 2428 (Garland Coal & Mining Company) 258 NLRB No. 011

(enforcing repair and maintenance work provision of NBCWA, providing for U subcontractor, at second and third steps of grievance procedure through its agents, Respondents International, District, Local and Mine Committee entered into agreement in violation of Section 8(e) of Act whether or not assented to or acquiesced in by other party to contract)

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 6, AFL-CIO (Chronicle Broadcasting Company, KRON-TV) 257 NLRB No. 002

(no violation, where GC failed to establish that U, through its conduct, entered into contract proscribed by 8(e) w/i 6 months of filing of original charge as required by 10(b))

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093

(notwithstanding that subcontracting provisions of contract became effective 6-months prior to filing of charge, U, by filing grievance relating to subcontracting provisions of contract, sought to enforce contract w/i 10(b) period, thereby bringing contract w/i perview of Section 8(e))

Chicago Dining Room Employees, Cooks & Bartenders Union, Local 42 (Clubmen, Inc., d/b/a Gaslight Club, Palmer House) 248 NLRB No. 083

(U held to have reaffirmed agreement and maintained enforceability of clause in agreement, where U demanded compliance with the agreement and instituted suit in order to compel compliance)

Over-The-road, City Transfer, Cold Storage, Grocery and Market Drivers and Helpers, Inside Employees, Local 544, a/w Teamsters (Dahl & Curry, Inc.) JD-71-81

(although executed outside 10(b) period, U reaffirmed agreement w/i 10(b) by requesting and demanding that E adhere to its terms and not subcontract work to a certain company because it was not signatory to Master Agreement and thus brought violation w/i Sec. 10(b) orbit)

N.L.R.B. v. General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters 684 F.2d 359 (C.A. 6, July 1982)

(Respondent U not entitled to rely on Sec. 8(e) proviso which allows terms whereby E agrees not to subcontract jobsite work to Es who are not signatory members to contract, because collective bargaining agreement with E contained other provisions permitting U to enforce terms of agreement by economic self-help, i.e., by a strike; job-site exemption in Sec. 8(e) does not apply where U retained right to enforce agreement by self-help measures, whether invoked or not)

Pacific Northwest Chapter of The Associated Builders & Contractors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr 17, 1981)

(clauses requiring subcontractors at construction site to be U signatories, permitting unlimited subcontracting so long as subcontractors have agreement with contracting U, held secondary since they are intended to satisfy U objectives involving Es and Ees outside bargaining unit and do not seek to preserve work for Ees of contracting E by limiting amount of subcontracting nor seek to protect Ees' wage and benefit standards by limiting subcontracting to parties who maintain equivalent standards)

Pacific Northwest Chapter of The Associated Builders & Contractors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr 17, 1981)

(subcontracting clause arrived at in bargaining relationship held protected by 8(e) proviso in view of practical difficulties in confining subcontractor agreements having U-non U or inter-U conflicts among workers; legislative history and construction industry provisions which favor broad subcontracting clauses; Connell decision construed as supporting validity of clauses in presence of bargaining relationship, regardless of presence or absence of U workers at jobsite; and substantial changes that would occur in construction industry upon narrow interpretation of proviso)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)

(U's proposal which in effect would require E to condition sale or conveyance of its operations upon successor's assumption of E's obligations under bargaining agreement, held not to relate to E's doing business w/i meaning of Sec. 8(e), since transfer of portion of E's business under that clause would involve no continuing relationship with the purchaser)

3780 DIMINUTION OF UNIT WORK

3780-3300 Unit work as defined by agreement

Plumbers, Local Union 342 (Conduit Fabricators, Inc.) 251 NLRB No. 112

(U's refusal to handle pipe prefabricated by one E, thus causing another E not to install pipe, unlawful, where U claimed entire fabrication of pipe since work not covered by work preservation clause inasmuch as entire fabrication had not been traditionally performed by U)

3780-6700 Fairly claimable unit work

5042 AGREEMENT RELATING TO CONTRACTING OR SUBCONTRACTING

Tri-State Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Stark Electric, Inc.) 262 NLRB No. 080

(effecting grievance-arbitration clause authorizing strikes to enforce subcontract clause prohibiting subcontracting to Es who do not observe same conditions of employment as enjoyed by Ees of all local Us affiliated with U, violative since term conditions of employment is so broad as to encompass non-economic provisions and accordingly, subcontracting clause was secondary; contract was not rendered lawful under construction industry proviso, notwithstanding subcontracting clause was limited to work performed on jobsite since self-help provision removes protection afforded by proviso)

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093

(inclusion of subcontracting agreements in 8(f) prehire agreement, not unlawful, since agreements were sought in context of collective bargaining relationship as required under SCt's Connell decision which is satisfied when U seeks complete contractual relationship with E, and it is irrelevant that contract is merely a prehire agreement and U lacks majority status, since 8(f) provides means by which bargaining relationship is established in construction industry, and Congress recognized necessity for prehire agreements due to temporary nature of employment in industry)

(subcontracting agreements which did not need to be renegotiated on each individual construction site or were not limited to particular job sites at which signatory U workers were already employed, not unlawful, since 8(e) proviso itself contains no limitation on subcontracting, subcontracting agreements in construction industry, as recognized by Congress and by legislative and case law, have not been limited to particular jobsites, renegotiation on job site basis or on U workers' presence at site would completely subvert industry's subcontracting agreements; and holding herein is not contrary to SCt's Connell decision)

(agreements permitting subcontracting only with particular Us, not unlawful, since U's legitimate goals of organizing workers and standardizing working conditions are sufficient to justify U-specific agreements, nothing in statute suggests limitation on such agreements, nor is there any Congressional purpose that would be undermined if 8(e) is construed to permit them; moreover, legislative history supports proposition that such agreements in construction industry may be U-specific, such agreements were common at time 8(e) was enacted, and they are consistent with purposes of 8(e))

7875-5000 Must define projects or area to which applicable

Gordon L. Rayner and Frank H. Clark, d/b/a Bay Area Sealers 251 NLRB No. 017
(E held obligated to recognize and bargain with U for prospective as well as current jobsites, since (a) E's Ees had tendered their designation cards w/i determinative payroll period, and (b) U had signed authorization cards from majority in unit of E's permanent Ees when it demanded recognition, so that contract was not 8(f) prehire contract valid only for current jobsite as E contended)

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098
(where E employs stable complement of Ees majority need not be established at each jobsite)

D'Angelo & Khan, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 062
(where E entered into 8(f) prehire agreement with local when it first worked at jobsite w/i local's jurisdiction, its refusal to apply agreement to Ees at succeeding jobsite held not unlawful, since prehire agreement did not give rise to presumption of local's majority status at original jobsite; furthermore, regardless of local's majority status at original site, provisions of 8(a)(5) do not apply unless U can demonstrate its majority status at succeeding sites, record here showed Local did not have majority support at the succeeding site)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 618 F.2d 288 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(repudiation of contract unlawful, where 8(f) pre-hire agreement was transformed into bargaining agreement when U achieved majority status in relevant bargaining unit composed of Ees at E's two construction projects rather than on project by project basis, and rebuttable presumption of continuing majority status applied to unit notwithstanding potential change in its Ee composition and eventual relocation to other, future projects)

8700 ENFORCEMENT OF AGREEMENT

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E, having 8(f) prehire contract with U, to reinstate discriminatees, who were constructively discharged when they quit, to construction projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; history of Sec. 8(f) and its interpretation by Bd and cts establish that U must reestablish its majority status at each affected jobsite before it can enforce Sec. 8(f) agreement with a project-by-project E)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E operating under 8(f) prehire contract to reinstate discriminatees, to construction projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; Bd cases which have drawn line between project-by-project and stable work force situations reaffirm rule that U must reestablish its majority status before it can enforce 8(f) agreement with project-by-project E; and Bd herein sought to restroe discriminatees to economic position they might have attained despite E's lawful right not to rehire them at termination of porjects in progress)

The Carpenters District Council of North Central Texas v. North Texas Contractor Assoc. et al. No. CA3-76-1151-F (D Ct. TX, Feb. 21, 1979 (unreported))
(when U did not have majority status, it could not enforce contract provision which called for arbitration of disputes)

593 PICKETING AND STRIKES AT HEALTH CARE INSTITUTIONS (SECTION 8(g)

0100 GENERALLY

2000 ACTIVITY SUBJECT TO NOTICE REQUIREMENT

2025 FORMS OF ACTIVITY

2025-3300 Picketing

Local Union No. 200, General Service Employees' Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc. etc.) 263 NLRB No. 016

(picketing by U vice president, and 2 business agents at hospital w/o giving notice to E violative where picketers agents of U and sympathy strikers with another U which had given proper notice; Sec. 8(g) requires 10-day notice for any strike, fact that U represented no Ees at hospital does not relieve it of notice obligation; compliance by one U does not fulfill statutory requirement for another which may later join dispute; fact sympathy picketing covered 2 month period, was evidence of breadth of support for strike precluding de minimus finding)

District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, AFL-CIO 256 NLRB No. 017

(picketing hospital premises w/o first giving 10 days written notice as required by Sec. 8(g) of Act, violative, notwithstanding fact that picketing was limited in duration and did not disrupt services in any way)

Sheet Metal Workers Local Union 324, AFL-CIO (Lake Shore Hospital and Health Related Facility) 254 NLRB No. 064

(construction U which picketed construction site of addition to hospital w/o giving hospital required notice violated Act where picket signs did not make clear that U's dispute was not with hospital and had potential to disrupt health care services)

Bricklayers & Allied Craftsmen, Local 40 252 NLRB No. 030

(U's contention that notice requirements of Sec. 8(g) were inapplicable because U did not represent, or seek to represent, health care Ees or because health care Ees did not engage in picketing or other concerted refusal to work rejected; here, the picketing, directed at hospital although disavowing any appeal to hospital Ees, had potential to disrupt health care services at hospital, and was subject to notice requirements of Sec. 8(g))

2025-4000 Strikes

East Chicago Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 135

(striking Ees did not lose protections afforded health care Ees under Act, notwithstanding E's contention that strike caused disruptions in patient care, where walkout involved fewer than half of day-shift Ees, with remaining Ees and supervisors working as scheduled, strike lasted only 2 hours and there was no showing that strike jeopardized any patient's safety or health)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center v. N.L.R.B 621 F.2d 510 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(doctors' strike in sympathy with striking unionized Ees at health care institution held protected as to Sec. 8(g) notwithstanding lack of notice to E, in view of 8(g) language applying only to labor organizations and not individuals, legislative history focusing on large scale and not individual activity, and purpose of giving health care institutions enough notice to arrange for patient care - doctors here created no danger or risk of harm to patients)

2025-6000 Work stoppages

Barry S. Seinf, M.D., A Professional Corporation, d/b/a The Victoria Medical Group and The West Jefferson Medical Group 264 NLRB No. 019

(Ees of medical clinic who refused to work until management heard their grievances do not constitute labor organization; and thus, were not required to give notice under Sec. 8(g) of Act of intended work stoppage; however, 8(g) of Act does not apply only to work stoppages in support of bargaining demands)

Charleston Nursing Center 257 NLRB No. 046

(Sec. 8(g) does not apply to work stoppage at health care institution in which no labor organization is involved)

A & D Davenport Transportation, Inc. and Sun-Fair Special Service Transportation, A Division of A & D Davenport Transportation, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 079

(E's contention that it was a health care institution and that Ees forfeited protection of Act by engaging in concerted refusal to work w/o giving 10 days notice pursuant to Sec. 8(g) of Act rejected, since strictures of Sec. 8(g) apply only to labor organizations as defined in Sec. 2(5) and here, group (unaffiliated with any existing labor organization) was totally unstructured and was doing nothing more than presenting grievances and thus was not statutorily defined labor organization)

Leisure Lodge Nursing Home 250 NLRB No. 134

(unorganized Ees at nursing home who threatened to strike w/o giving 10 days notice did not violate Act as Health Care Amendments only apply when labor organization is involved)

Leisure Lodge Nursing Home 230 NLRB No. 124

(half hour work stoppage at nursing home to present grievances, protected)

Ruehle's Paramedic Ambulance, Inc. JD-129-82

(no violation by giving warnings to Ees who, frustrated by lack of movement in contract negotiations, engaged in one day concerted work stoppage by calling in sick, as Ees failed to give 10-day notice to E, provider of ambulance services, who was found herein to be health care institution)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital Nursing Home and Allied Health Services Union, SEIU, AFL-CIO (Miklos Taube, et al., d/b/a Cliffside Nursing Home) JD-(NY)-45-81

(work stoppage of health care Ees at nursing home called by U to further its grievance demands w/o giving 10 days written notice to E and FMCS, unlawful and not de minimis, despite its relative brevity, where it was not provoked by E and caused harm to home's incapacitated residents)

2050 LOCATION OF ACTIVITY

2050-3300 At health care institution proper

Local Union No. 200, General Service Employees' Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc. etc.) 263 NLRB No. 016

(picketing by U vice president, and 2 business agents at hospital w/o giving notice to E violative where picketers agents of U and sympathy strikers with another U which had given proper notice; Sec. 8(g) requires 10-day notice for any strike, fact that U represented no Ees at hospital does not relieve it of notice obligation; compliance by one U does not fulfill statutory requirement for another which may later join dispute; fact sympathy picketing covered 2 month period, was evidence of breadth of support for strike precluding de minimus finding)

2050-6700 Related construction sites

Sheet Metal Workers Local Union 324, AFL-CIO (Lake Shore Hospital and Health Related Facility) 254 NLRB No. 064

(construction U which picketed construction site of addition to hospital w/o giving hospital required notice violated Act where picket signs did not make clear that U's dispute was not with hospital and had potential to disrupt health care services)

4000 NOTICE REQUIREMENT

4001 GENERALLY

East Chicago Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 135

(U's failure to give 8(g) notice did not deprive walkout of its protected character where it would not have been possible for U to have given 8(g) notice contemplated by Act since it had no prior notice of walkout and did everything it could to end it)

4001—Cont.

District 1199, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, AFL-CIO 256 NLRB No. 017
(picketing hospital premises w/o first giving 10 days written notice as required by Sec. 8(g) of Act, violative, notwithstanding fact that picketing was limited in duration and did not disrupt services in any way)

Laborers', Local 1253 (St. Mary's Hospital of Roswell, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 030
(no notice required where health care institution is only secondary E)

4028 TO WHOM NOTICE MUST BE GIVEN

Laborers', Local 1253 (St. Mary's Hospital of Roswell, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 030
(U's failure to conform to Sec. 8(g) requirements for giving notice to FCMS and health care institution not violative, where U made it clear it was picketing only primary E contractor and limited picketing to places reasonably close to primary dispute's situs, and secondary health care institution could have established reserve gates but did not do so)

4036 BY WHOM NOTICE MUST BE GIVEN

Local Union No. 200, General Service Employees' Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc. etc.) 263 NLRB No. 016
(picketing by U vice president, and 2 business agents at hospital w/o giving notice to E violative where picketers agents of U and sympathy strikers with another U which had given proper notice; Sec. 8(g) requires 10-day notice for any strike, fact that U represented no Ees at hospital does not relieve it of notice obligation; compliance by one U does not fulfill statutory requirement for another which may later join dispute; fact sympathy picketing covered 2 month period, was evidence of breadth of support for strike precluding de minimus finding)

East Chicago Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 135
(failure of Ees to provide 8(g) notice did not render walkout unprotected since notice requirements of Sec. 8(g) run to Us, not Ees; failure of Ees to give such notice prior to striking health care institution does not deprive strike of its normally protected character)

Mt. Carmel Hospital 255 NLRB No. 110
(Sec. 8(g) applys only to labor organizations, not to LPN engaged in sympathy strike in support of nurses' economic strike; sympathy striker is not required to give notice)

Hospital and Institutional Workers' Union, Local 250, SEIU, AFL-CIO(Affiliated Hospitals of San Francisco) 255 NLRB No. 081
(U's honoring picket lines of another U at hospital and thus engaging in a strike and concerted refusal to work there w/o providing 10-day advance written notice to them and to FMCS, unlawful)

Oakwood Manor, Inc., d/b/a Danville Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 108
(walkout by 5 aides in protest over assignment to fewer hours and accusations of vandalism of Ee's car held protected and discharge for walkout held violative; Ees did not lose protection by their failure to give 10 days notice required by 8(g) as no U called, instigated or promoted work stoppage)

Sheet Metal Workers Local Union 324, AFL-CIO (Lake Shore Hospital and Health Related Facility) 254 NLRB No. 064
(construction U which picketed construction site of addition to hospital w/o giving hospital required notice violated Act where picket signs did not make clear that U's dispute was not with hospital and had potential to disrupt health care services)

Leisure Lodge Nursing Home 250 NLRB No. 134
(unorganized Ees at nursing home who threatened to strike w/o giving 10 days notice did not violate Act as Health Care Amendments only apply when labor organization is involved)

Villa Care, Inc., d/b/a Edmonds Villa Care Center 249 NLRB No. 095
(walkout by two nurses aides held not to have lost protection under Sec. 8(g), notwithstanding their failure to give 10 days' notice of intent to strike, since Sec. 8(g) does not apply where labor organization is not involved, and strike here did not involve labor organization, and E and U were not then discussing issue which precipitated strike)

Rushie's Paramedic Ambulance, Inc. JD-128-82
(no violation by giving warnings to Ees who, frustrated by lack of movement in contract negotiations, engaged in one day concerted work stoppage by calling in sick, as Ees failed to give 10-day notice to E, provider of ambulance services, who was found herein to be health care institution)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center v. N.L.R.B 621 F.2d 510 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(doctors' strike in sympathy with striking unionized Ees at health care institution held protected as to Sec. 8(g) notwithstanding lack of notice to E, in view of 8(g) language applying only to labor organizations and not individuals, legislative history focusing on large scale and not individual activity, and purpose of giving health care institutions enough notice to arrange for patient care - doctors here created no danger or risk of harm to patients)

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(striking Ees were not required to comply with 10-day notice requirement of Sec. 8(g) since strike was already in progress on effective date of health care amendments and absent proof of specific individual misconduct E may not deprive a protected Ee of any rights under Act)

4063 TIMELINESS OF NOTICE

Hospital and Institutional Workers' Union, Local 250, SEIU, AFL-CIO(Affiliated Hospitals of San Francisco) 255 NLRB No. 081
(striking and picketing of E-members of multi-E hospital association w/o providing Es and FMCS with 10-days advance written notice of date and time of commencement of strike, unlawful notwithstanding U sent timely strike notice to both w/o date and time and followed it with notice to hospitals only of date and time, since timely notice of date and time of strike's commencement are mandatory; moreover, FMCS was never sent notice of date and time at all)

Jules V. Lane, P.C. d/b/a American Dental Centers JD-(NY)-110-82
(notice to E deficient because it was received no earlier than 9 days before strike and did not state date and time strike would commence)

6000 CONFORMANCE OF ACTIVITY TO NOTICE

6050 ACTIVITY COMMENCED SUBSEQUENT TO TIME NOTICED

Bricklayers & Allied Craftsmen, Local 40 252 NLRB No. 030
(U's picketing of hospital 10 days after time it had specified in notice it had given to hospital and FMCS, violative where picketing did not occur w/i reasonable time period after scheduled date; U gave no further notice of contemplated picketing and no explanation for delay in commencing picketing or for failure to give another, timely notice)

6087 DE MINIMUS ACTIVITY

Local Union No. 200, General Service Employees' Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc. etc.) 263 NLRB No. 016
(picketing by U vice president, and 2 business agents at hospital w/o giving notice to E violative where picketers agents of U and sympathy strikers with another U which had given proper notice; Sec. 8(g) requires 10-day notice for any strike, fact that U represented no Ees at hospital does not relieve it of notice obligation; compliance by one U does not fulfill statutory requirement for another which may later join dispute; fact sympathy picketing covered 2 month period, was evidence of breadth of support for strike precluding de minimus finding)

8000 THREATS TO STRIKE, PICKET OR ENGAGE IN WORK STOPPAGE

Leisure Lodge Nursing Home 250 NLRB No. 134
(unorganized Ees at nursing home who threatened to strike w/o giving 10 days notice did not violate Act as Health Care Amendments only apply when labor organization is involved)

596 PROCEDURE IN ULP PROCEEDINGS

0100 GENERALLY

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(while Bd, having extremely heavy case load, must necessarily rely upon compliance with procedural rules to function efficiently, and as part of process reasonable time limitations must be observed, ct held there are instances where unreasoning insistence upon technical rules results, not in proper disposition of case, but in injustice; and failure to take remedial measures, when such incidents occur constitutes an abuse of discretion)

0125 APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF APA

0125-0100 Generally

Douglas Aircraft Company, Component of McDonnell Douglas Corporation 260 NLRB No. 180

(E's contention that ALJ's finding that E unlawfully maintained and enforced unlawful no-distribution rules violated E's due process rights and APA on ground, among others, that E was not given proper notice that validity of rules was in issue and that E was not afforded opportunity to present evidence, rejected, where E was aware of C allegation that its conduct was a continuing violation encompassing E's rules; E cannot claim surprise since it put rules into evidence; and C clearly put E on notice that rules were related to incident alleged in C)

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054

(although there was substantial merit to E's claim that APA mandate that an agency conclude matters brought before it w/i a reasonable time was disobeyed by GC's issuance of C 19 months after charge was filed, C not dismissed, since . . . Bd is not required to place the consequences of its own delay, even if inordinate, upon wronged employees to the benefit of wrongdoing employers; and E has not shown that its defense was prejudiced by GC's delay)

0125-9200 Section 10–application; definitions (5 USC Sec. 701(a)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)

(under APA Sec. 701(a) judicial review of GC's refusal to issue complaint, which would otherwise be available under APA Sec. 702, is precluded by Sec. 3(d) of Act; legislative history shows it was intent of Congress that GC's discretion as to issuance of complaints should ordinarily be checked by his political responsibility to President and Congress, not by judicial review, and therefore his final authority in most instances precludes judicial review of his decision regarding issuance of ULP complaint)

0125-9600 Section 10(a)–right of review (5 USC 702)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)

(under APA Sec. 701(a) judicial review of GC's refusal to issue complaint, which would otherwise be available under APA Sec. 702, is precluded by Sec. 3(d) of Act; legislative history shows it was intent of Congress that GC's discretion as to issuance of complaints should ordinarily be checked by his political responsibility to President and Congress, not by judicial review, and therefore his final authority in most instances precludes judicial review of his decision regarding issuance of ULP complaint)

0125-9800 Section 10(c) - Final agency action

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully held not final agency action under 10(c) of APA and is not judicially reviewable before administrative adjudication concludes, even though issuance is a part of a final disposition and therefore is agency action; ct left open the question whether issuance of C is unreviewable because it is committed to agency discretion by law)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring it had reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully was not final agency action, since issuance was not a definitive ruling or regulation and had no legal force or practical effect upon respondent's business other than disruptions that accompany any major litigation, and immediate judicial review would serve neither effeciency nor enforcement of FTC's enabling Act)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(respondent's contention that its mtn for dismissal of FTC C, averring that there was reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully, constituted administrative exhaustion, rejected; while respondent may well have exhausted its administrative remedy as to averment of reason to believe, FTC's refusal to reconsider issuance of C did not render C a definitive action constituting final agency action, since FTC's refusal did not augment C's legal force or practical effects upon respondent nor diminish concerns for efficiency and enforcement of FTC's enabling Act)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(respondent's contention that FTC's issuance of C constituted final agency action on ground that respondent will suffer irreparable harm from causing expense and disruption of litigating matter, unless issuance of C is reviewed immediately, rejected; expense and annoyance of litigation is part of social burden of living under government, and mere litigation expense, even substantial and unrecoupable cost, does not constitute irreparable injury)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(E's contention that FTC's issuance of C constituted final agency action on ground that E's challenge to C can never be reviewed unless reviewed before FTC's adjudication is concluded, rejected, since speculation that unlawfulness of issuance of C is likely to be insulated from any review if deferred until appelate review of c/d order is not persuasive; ct of appeals has power to review alleged unlawfulness in issuance of C since ct, under FTC's enabling Act, can order FTC to take additional evidence, and APA provides for review of FTC's action on review of final agency action)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(concern that C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully would be insulated from review because alleged unlawfulness would be moot if respondent prevailed in adjudication does not support conclusion that issuance of C is final agency action; rather, a principal reason to await termination of agency proceedings is to obviate all occasion for judicial review, and thus possibility that respondent's challenge may be made moot warrants requirement that it pursue adjudication, not shortcut it)

0137 APPLICABILITY OF FEDERAL RULES OF EVIDENCE

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, which are applicable in U.S. District Cts, are not controlling in administrative hearings before Bd; GC and charging party are not preferred litigants before Bd and are under same obligation to produce relevant evidence where aporopriate)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(mtn to strike all testimony of witness concerning violence outside U hall denied even though witness refused to respond to clearly material questions; mtn to rehabilitate witness to consider his testimony concerning above act of violence also denied. See Bd's R/R 102.44)

Teamsters, Local Union 215 (B & W Construction Company) 251 NLRB No. 168

(contention that U's presettlement discussions with Ee-members concerning ULP charges filed with Bd against U by one of them were inadmissible as privileged conversations under Rule 408 of Federal Rules of evidence, rejected)

0175 EFFECT OF PRIOR PROCEEDINGS (See also, RES JUDICATA 750-0000)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050

(Bd's findings and conclusions in ULP case are binding and may not be relitigated in subsequent backpay proceeding, and applicability of contract, adjudicated in present ULP proceeding, cannot be litigated at compliance stage herein)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 458 (C.A. 6, 1981)

(Bd did not waive ULP charges stemming from first election campaign by withdrawing first representation ptn and conducting valid intervening election)

0175-2500 Where outstanding order prohibits conduct alleged in new complaint

Accessory Controls and Equipment Corporation JD-590-81

0175-5000 Where ULP proceeding based in whole or part upon facts certified in R proceeding

0175-5025 No relitigation in related subsequent ULP proceeding of issues resolved in R proceeding

Wickes Furniture, A Division of The Wickes Corporation 261 NLRB No. 151

(Sec. 102.67(f) of Bd's R/R, concerning request for review applies with equal force to proposition that Respondent is precluded from relitigating issues which were or could have been litigated in prior R proceeding, whether R proceeding involves decision made in first instance by Bd, RD's decision which Bd has declined to review, RD's report which Bd has adopted, or hearing officer's report which Bd has adopted)

Air Transit, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 044

(while R case findings in related subsequent ULP proceeding are not subject to relitigation, Bd held that in instant ULP case, which involved independent violations unrelated to prior R case, findings in such R case are subject to challenge and may be litigated; subject to reconsideration and to any additional evidence adduced in ULP case, Bd may accord a certain persuasive relevance, a kind of 'administrative comity' to prior R case findings)

Air Transit, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 044

(in ULP case involving independent violations of Act unrelated to prior R case and in which E did not offer any additional evidence to support its denial of any violation of Act, Bd considered its prior decision and affd its previous findings that E's taxi drivers were Ees, rather than independent contractors, and were entitled to full protection of Act)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096

(where in prior R proceeding challenge to ballot of floorlady on ground she was supervisor was overruled, and in instant ULP proceeding ALJ found he was prohibited by R/R Sec. 102.67(f) from relitigating her status, Bd ruled that, since she was not alleged to have engaged in any ULPs and her status would not affect finding of U's majority support, it was not necessary to make new determination as to her status or to consider GC's assertion that such determination would be consistent with Bd's Serv-U-Stores decision (Cote))

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82

(E status and jurisdiction)

0175-5025-2500 Where resolved by Board

C & D Battery Division—Eltra Corporation 263 NLRB No. 106

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(Ees' supervisory status)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 045

(E not entitled to rely on RD's findings in underlying R case as defense in ULP case where Bd granted review of RD's decision, since decision was thus not final, and decision and findings were subject to reversal; nor did lack of stay of RD's order justify E's reliance on RD's findings in ULP case)

0175-5025-3300 Where stipulated by parties

Flair Molded Plastics, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 017

(that U is a labor organization)

0175-5025-5000 Where no request for review under Rule 102.67(f)

[illegible] River Electric Cooperative, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 128

(issue of Ee's managerial status properly before ALJ, notwithstanding issue was litigated in R proceeding, since Bd R/R provides that failure to request review of RD's decision, as in case herein, precludes relitigation of same issue in any related subsequent ULP proceeding; Bd's current position is that related proceeding is one where issue comes up, for example, in Sec. 8(a)(5) case based on certification of representative, but does not include case where independent violations of Sec. 8(a)(1) are alleged, as is case herein)

F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Co. 258 NLRB No. 100

(E's failure to raise issue of RD's failure to transmit complete record in R-case at that time constitutes waiver precluding it from raising it in ULP case)

Fall River Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 50 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(Bd acted w/i its discretion when it refused to grant mtn for reconsideration where E could have raised U merger issue at representation hearing, and its failure to do so until ULP hearing is untimely)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(failure of non-profit hospital, run by religious order, to raise before Bd in R proceeding constitutionality of Bd's assertion of jurisdiction on ground that it is religious organization exempt from governmental regulation under First Amendment, precluded hospital from raising issue before Bd or ct in ULP case. While statutory jurisdiction of Bd may be challenged at any time, facts upon which Bd determines it has jurisdiction may be challenged only upon timely exception, in absence of which Bd's findings are not open to attack in proceeding for enforcement)

Brooklyn Psychosocial Rehabilitation Institute, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 009

(GC's mtn for summary judgment granted where unit issue concerning application of N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University, 444 U.S. 672 (1980) to instant proceeding was fully litigated in prior R proceeding; E's reliance on Ithaca College, 261 NLRB No. 83 (1982), Thiel College, 261 NLRB No. 84 (1982), and Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost, 261 NLRB No. 85 (1982), decided subsequent to Yeshiva, was misplaced inasmuch as those cases were similar to Yeshiva and E has failed to show how instant faculty exercises comparable authority in making academic as well as nonacademic policy)

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 129

(where ct found that record developed at original R hearing was deficient in light of new and relevant information introduced at ULP hearing and that original certification based on inadequate record, Bd on remand found that in view of these unusual circumstances it should reconsider unit determination based on information developed at both hearings rather than apply rule against relitigation of representation in ULP proceedings)

(Bd's findings and conclusions as to objections to election in R case are not binding upon ALJ where same conduct is alleged as ULPs, since issues drawn are different in the two types of proceedings)

Rock Hill Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 139 (C.A. 4, 1979)
(Bd could relitigate supervisory status of Ee even though he was found supervisor in representation proceeding under 29 C.F.R. Section 102.67(f), since that regulation does not necessarily bar relitigation in ULP proceedings of violations other than 8(a)(5))

N.L.R.B. v. Markle Manufacturing Company of San Antonio 623 F.2d 1122 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(doctrine of collateral estoppel did not preclude Bd from determining whether E committed ULPs by failing to reinstate economic strikers who allegedly committed charged violence where fact issue of such misconduct was not determined in previous case, in which Bd acting on E's complaint charging strike violence and misconduct by U agents, entered consent order agreed to by E and U that directed cessation of strike violence; moreover, Bd was not barred from litigation of violence issue on theory that Bd was taking inconsistent positions with respect to same matter in successive suits)

0175-5075-5000 Supervisory status of employee

(Ees' supervisory status determined in underlying R case may not be relitigated in C case absent newly discovered evidence, changed circumstances affecting R case findings or other extraordinary circumstances; see Bd's R/R, Section 102.67(f))

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(where in prior R proceeding challenge to ballot of floorlady on ground that she was supervisor was overruled, Bd held her status could be relitigated in instant ULP proceeding since she was expressly alleged to be supervisor and to have engaged in unlawful conduct in her supervisory capacity (Di Carlo))

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-835-79
(although agreement between U and E involving exclusion of Ee from bargaining unit because he was supervisor may be of persuasive relevance in subsequent complaint proceeding dealing with representation, it is not conclusive and does not preclude litigation of supervisory issue in unrelated ULP proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(ULP proceedings under Sec. 8(a)(1) or (3) are not so related to prior R proceedings that relitigation of common issues is precluded under Section 102.67(f) of Bd's R/R)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

0175-7500 Prior court decision

A. Duie Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092
(State Ct's Contempt of injunction order issued against U and number of its members, including Ees allegedly unlawfully discharged for purported picket line misconduct during strike, held not to relate to issue of whether Ees' conduct was sufficiently egregious to deny them protection of Act)

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Bd holding that three corporations were single E not precluded by principles of res judicata or collateral estoppel based on outcome in prior decisions of federal cts in suit under Section 301 of Act by Us to compel arbitration under bargaining agreement in view of lack of identity of either cause of action or issues involved, since in ct suit issue was whether, under Federal common law, parent corporations bound by bargaining agreements of subsidiaries, and herein issue is whether three corporations single integrated enterprise so as to constitute single E under Bd criteria)

Pegasy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(in partial summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd rejected GC's contention that E was challenging remedy already decreed and that E had obligation under ct of appeals' judgment to make discriminatees whole for losses suffered; judgment of ct had no immediate relevancy to issues raised by GC's mtn; moreover, E's answer was sufficiently specific to constitute denial of specification's allegation involved herein)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 008
(prior litigation in which Bd and ct of appeals had found E's rule prohibiting solicitation on plant premises not unlawful held not to bar consideration of validity of rule in instant case in view of intervening SCt's decision in Magnavox which overruled fundamental assumption of Bd and ct, on which decisions were based, that U can contractually waive Ees' right to engage in solicitation)

Service Employees International Union Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1042 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct agreed with Bd that it lacked jurisdiction to rule on Section 8(a)(3) charge where prior ct had determined that E had not committed ULPs under Sections 8(a)(1), (4) and (5) but deemed it unnecessary to give consideration to 8(a)(3) charge and did not remand it to Bd; prior ct's opinion was final under Sections 10(e) and (f), and barred further proceedings arising from same transaction under doctrine of res judicata)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(E's contention that because settlement stipulation was approved and enforced in prior circuit court of appeals decision in another circuit, that decision's order was enforceable only through contempt proceeding in circuit of prior ct decision rather than by Bd's actions herein rejected; central issue in prior decision was whether E could withdraw from settlement stipulation because of Bd's delay in approving settlement and was thus entirely collateral to litigation herein involving compatibility of E's Preferential Reinstatement System with reinstatement rights guaranteed by E in settlement)

0175-8100 Prior ULP proceeding

American Laundry Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 131
(ALJ's order granting E's mtn for summary judgment to dismiss grounded, inter alia, on RD's investigation and administrative dismissal of prior ULP charges vacated, notwithstanding earlier charges covered some of same allegations, where such charges were subject of only administrative investigation and were not adjudicated)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 008
(prior litigation in which Bd and ct of appeals had found E's rule prohibiting solicitation on plant premises not unlawful held not to bar consideration of validity of rule in instant case in view of intervening SCt's decision in Magnavox which overruled fundamental assumption of Bd and ct, on which decisions were based, that U can contractually waive Ees' right to engage in solicitation)

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 043
(Bd does not consider ALJs' decisions to which no exceptions are filed to show proclivity to violate Act and this is not inconsistent with its policy of considering formal settlement agreements which do not contain nonadmissions clauses as evidence of proclivity to violate Act as the latter are formally reviewed and approved by Bd while former are adopted pro forma and not published)

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 043
(prior decision prohibiting Sec. 8(b)(7)(B) conduct may be used to show proclivity to violate Sec. 8(b)(7)(C))

Accessory Controls and Equipment Corporation JD-590-81
(Board Order entered pursuant to settlement agreement which did not contain non-admissions clause has same res judicata effect as decision entered after answer and hearing)

Accessory Controls and Equipment Corporation JD-590-81
(where GC administratively dismisses allegations, this precludes their litigation in any future proceeding)

0181 EFFECT OF PENDING PROCEEDINGS

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(E was not prejudiced or denied due process notwithstanding 2 year delay between time charge filed and hearing where delay caused by Bd waiting until another case involving same E was adjudicated; E had timely notice that matter would be brought to hearing and of allegations to be litigated; E had obligation to preserve its records and documents)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-60-81
(Respondent may be charged with separate additional violations of law occurring during pendency of judicial review of Bd's underlying decisions and orders)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(notwithstanding RD decision in representation case was still pending before Bd, Bd's findings in ULP case of E-Ee relationship and appropriate unit was proper since issue was relevant to Bd's request for bargaining order and fully litigated below; Bd's findings supported by substantial evidence where it showed E's full and centralized control over Ees and Ees had common interest necessary to comprise appropriate unit)

Construction, Production & Maintenance Laborers' Local Union 383, Laborers (Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc.) 260 NLRB No. 192

this case; Bd thus not precluded from delaying its decision if appropriate, but ALJ's delay would preclude Bd from determining delay not appropriate; further, justice should not be delayed and circuit cts have indicated they prefer Bd to proceed to decide underlying ULP case)

ayward Do-Nut Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 072
(pending 9th Circuit decision on prior 8(a)(5) finding, refusal to furnish information on wage rates and Ee benefits, held violative as pending charges do not relieve party from bargaining obligations)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 002
(mtn to stay ULP proceedings pending final disposition of ptn for arrangement under Chapter XI of Bankruptcy Act denied where Bd has exclusive jurisdiction to hear and decide ULP cases to final disposition)

0188 FAILURE TO EXHAUST OTHER REMEDIES

Bay Shipbuilding Corp. 263 NLRB No. 166
(E's contention issuance of C alleging it unlawfully refused to apply bargaining agreement to Ees transferred to newly established department was contrary to policies of Act since U's rights might have been pursued through other proceedings including unit clarification and/or arbitration, rejected; E, having chosen to resolve matter itself, rather than by filing UC ptn, has violated Act if it took erroneous view as to unit and UC proceeding would not provide remedy for that violation, E has not requested deferral to arbitration, and U is not precluded from exercising its rights under Act by not proceeding to arbitration)

Ventura County District Council of Carpenters
(Commercial Industrial Constructors, Inc.) 259 NLRB No. 028
(failure of U members to exhaust internal U remedies after being fined by U for working behind its picket line for neutral E at construction site at which U had labor dispute with another E held not to preclude processing of 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(4)(B) C, since implementation of Act depends on initiative of individuals whose complete freedom from coercion against making complaints to Bd is important in functioning of Act; and Congress has not incorporated Sec. 101(a)(4) of LRMDA, requiring exhaustion of internal U remedies, into NLRA)

Local 24, Hotel & Restaurant Employees (George Dore, an Individual) JD-414-82
(U's defense to alleged unlawful failure to refer and removal from job referral list of U member, who had filed charges with Bd, on ground he was not entitled to relief from Bd because he failed to exhaust internal U remedies, rejected, where existence of such remedies was not established, and if it were, Ee rights to seek Bd assistance may not be held hostage to U requirement that its own remedies be exhausted first)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(E's assistance to shop and safety committee outside 10(b) period which was subject of earlier charge held unlawful in view of breach of settlement agreement where E w/i 10(b) period continued to unlawfully assist and bargain with committee)

Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne
Trucking 256 NLRB No. 115
(asserted unlawful recognition of U occurring more than 6 months prior to filing charge that E had unilaterally ceased payments into U's health and welfare fund and pension fund, no defense to charge since Section 10(b) was applicable to refusal-to-bargain defense that bargaining relationship was unlawfully established by E's recognition of minority U)

0420 SECTION 10(b) 6-MONTH LIMITATION

Electron Tube Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(respondent E's argument that amendment of complaint at trial to show its correct name violated Sec. 10(b) because E originally named in complaint and respondent E were not single E rejected, since it was apparent that respondent E had not been misled or confused, that it had defended with full knowledge of identification of parties, and that it had not been prejudiced by technical error)

Electron Tube Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(E's argument that RD failed to revoke formally his letter dismissing charge, and that his failure to do so activated Sec. 10(b), rejected, since E's argument involved procedural error at local level, and not statutory or substantive right or duty; further, E's attorney, as well as E and E's manager of industrial relations personally were notified that RD withdrew dismissal of charge)

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American
Menswear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(ULP allegations not time barred where original charge, naming subsidiary as E, whose assets and liabilities were transferred to respondent, was timely filed, and amended charge, while filed outside 10(b) period, was identical to original charge except for naming respondent as E; failure to originally name respondent as E was clearly a misnomer and is not fatal to pleadings)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 031
(where charge and C alleged that Es unilaterally changed procedures for collecting c.o.d. payments by having salesmen replace delivery drivers, represented in another unit, in making collections, ALJ rejected Es' contention that C was barred under Sec. 10(b) on ground that change itself came about through bargaining regarding duties of drivers and that, since neither charge nor C alleged unlawful failure to bargain about effects of change upon working conditions of salesmen, there was a variance between allegations and proof which required dismissal of proceeding)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172
(allegations of enforcement of disparate U dues with respect to Ee held not timely, where only action taken by U w/i 10(b) period was U's counterclaim in Ee's ct suit, for dues U had previously determined Ee owed; meanwhile, levy of dues, Ee's appeal therefrom, and rejection of appeal occurred more than 6 months before filing of charge)

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company
v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 633 (C.A. 2, Aug. 1982)
(C alleging unlawful refusal to provide U requested information not barred by 10(b), notwithstanding E's contention U failed to file charge w/i 6 months of E's prior refusals to do so, where refusal complained of herein occurred w/i 10(b) period, and was independent ULP; while ULP charge arising out of refusal to abide by contract must be filed w/i 6 months of repudiation of contract, E's refusals to furnish information herein were not repudiations of contract, and E continued to have duty to bargain with U and to furnish requested information)

Taft Broadcasting Company, WBRC-TV 264 NLRB No. 028

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Section 10(b) does not preclude liability of two corporations which were not named or served with amended charge until 7 months after alleged violation where they were held to be single E with corporation named and served w/i 10(b) period)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(E's execution of pre-hire agreement with minority U not barred from consideration by Sec. 10(b); while actual date of its execution was not disclosed by evidence, Ees first became aware w/i 10(b) period that agreement was in effect; 6-month limitation does not begin to run until party affected by ULP is on actual or constructive notice of events giving rise to charges, thus estopping wrongdoer engaged in fraudulent concealment of wrongful conduct from using such concealment to permit 10(b) defense)

Borden Chemical, A Division of Borden, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 006
(contention alleged unlawful refusal to furnish information outside Section 10(b) period, rejected, notwithstanding E's consistent failure to furnish U requested information was manifested more than 6 months prior to filing of charge and fact requestor, who was representative of International was not signatory to contract currently in effect, where request was repeated w/i 10(b) period and International representative had been spokesman for Local U and his request paralleled that of Local Safety Committee)

Danmar Company d/b/a Madison South
Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(E's argument that allegation of unlawful interrogation was barred by Sec. 10(b) held erroneous where interrogation occurred five months before charge was filed relating specifically to wrongful discharge of two Ees, one of whom was same Ee who was subjected to interrogation; complaint need not be restricted to precise allegations of charge; so long as there is timely charge, complaint may allege any matter closely related to or growing out of charged conduct, or related to controversy which relates back to or defines charge more precisely)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134
(violation established where action involved might have occurred outside 10(b) period, since 10(b) as statute of limitations is affirmative defense which respondent must prove, and neither respondent nor record provided evidence that such action occurred outside 10(b) period)

Knapp Foods, Inc. d/b/a Hi-Lo Foods 247 NLRB No. 146

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(Bd may deal with conduct occurring subsequent to filing of charge if it is related to ULPs alleged in charge and grows out of them while proceeding is pending before Bd, and if it is of same class of violations as those alleged in charge; moreover, charge does not serve purpose of a pleading since its purpose is solely to set Bd's investigative machinery in motion; and thus Bd has broad leeway to found a C on events not specified in charge as long as it does not initiate proceeding on its own)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(consideration of suspension of Ee, not specifically alleged in any ULP charge filed prior to suspension, not barred, since earlier charges covered suspension of Ee for attending negotiations at another plant after absenting himself w/o leave; such conduct is clearly related to denial of vacation leave as time off to attend bargaining sessions at other plants and occurred w/i same general time period and were part of E's interrelated efforts to discourage inclusion of outsiders on bargaining teams; and earlier charges adequately informed E that its leave denials had been challenged)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(consideration of suspension of Ee, not specifically alleged as 8(a)(3) violation in any ULP charge filed prior to suspension, not barred on grounds earlier charges did not specify an 8(a)(3) violation, since what is crucial is that C, not charge, notify E of charges against him; in any event, consolidated amended C herein alleged suspension as 8(a)(3) violation)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(E's cited cases for proposition that events occurring after original charge is filed and more than 6 months prior to filing of amended charge are barred held unpersuasive since they dealt with amended charges encompassing prior events, while instant case involves inclusion of subsequent events w/i prior charges; and cited cases were decided before Fant Milling decision issued and did not apply its test determining inclusion of subsequent events)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonininos Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(contention allegations not in original complaint barred by Section 10(b) rejected, since all allegations except unlawful interogation took place w/i 10(b) period, and interrogation covered by language by this and other Acts in original charge which was sufficiently specific because it was amplified by consolidated complaint)

(10(b) period limited remedy requiring Es, found single E herein, to apply collective bargaining agreements to Ees in non-U operations, i.e., make Ees whole for loss of earnings, other compensation, and reimburse U trust fund)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010

(10(b) defense that was not affirmatively raised in E's various answers was timely raised at hearing w/o prejudice to parties, and ALJ held that E need not amend answer accordingly)

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(when Respondent unilaterally relocated portion of its operation w/o bargaining with U; Section 8(a)(5) allegation dismissed where relocation took place outside 10(b) period and both U and Ees had received actual notice of relocation prior to 6-month period preceding filing of charge)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134

(violation established where action involved might have occurred outside 10(b) period, since 10(b) as statute of limitations is affirmative defense which respondent must prove, and neither respondent nor record provided evidence that such action occurred outside 10(b) period)

(remand to Bd for further consideration of use of date of filing charge rather than date of refusal to bargain in measuring 10(b) limitation period, where ALJ found that benchmark date for exclusion of evidence was date when ULP charge was filed, while E contended that when Act is not being given its literal application to filing of charge but is being used to bar evidence in defending against such charge, 10(b) period should be measured from time of E's refusal to bargain)

0420-8050 What constitutes effective date

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(allegations of unlawful payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from business referred to E by U held not time barred, although last payment was made prior to 6 months before filing of charges; Sec. 10(b) limitation does not begin to run on alleged ULPs until person adversely affected is put on notice of Act constituting it, and payments herein came to light at criminal proceedings which occurred w/i 10(b) period; thus, concealment of payments prevented timely filing of charges, and 10(b) period is therefore tolled until criminal proceeding disclosed such conduct)

General Truck Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers, Local 467, Teamsters (Mike Sullivan & Associates, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 214
(one charge filed same month as, and another two months after, arbitration evidentiary hearing about discharge committed a year earlier, not time-barred, since they were well w/i six months of the arbitration proceedings involving the same subject matter as the charges)

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(10(b) period did not begin until U, through actual transfers, was first appraised of E's unlawful plan to grant preferential transfers to Ees who abandoned economic strike or who made individual offers to return over those economic strikers on whose behalf U made uncondition offer to return to work and had seniority over reinstated strikers)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(six-month limitation period does not begin to run on alleged ULP until person adversely affected is put on notice, actually or constructively; and such notice of E's alleged unlawful shift change was attributed to U where U steward, who worked closely with U and attended all negotiating sessions, had knowledge relating to alleged ULPs; no concealment on E's part occurred since steward and all unit Ees knew about shift change made by E)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(6-months limitations period does not begin to run until party affected by ULP is on actual or constructive notice of material events giving rise to charge)

Joe Carroll Orchestras & Entertainment Agency, Inc. d/b/a Meyer Davis Orchestra; et al. 254 NLRB No. 153
(contention that complaint is time-barred because E's statement that he would not resume negotiations antedated 6 month filing period, rejected since in alleged 8(a)(5) violations when U subsequently requested negotiations and E refused Bd follows continuing violation theory)

Bay Medical Center, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 159
(Section 10(b) period commenced at time of E's implementation of unilateral reduction in Ees' hours upon their transfer to new facility, rather than upon reduction in hours upon prior temporary transfer to another existing facility pending completion of new facility, or upon E's announcement of contemplated changes, since change upon final act of transfer was subject of complaint)

Inland Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 003

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003
(by delivering payroll records at arbitration hearing, and thereafter allowing U to inspect other records in connection with bargaining agreement, E did not repudiate bargaining relationship sufficiently to begin running of 10(b) period)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003
(Bd precluded from remedying E's failure to make benefit payments to trustee prior to 10(b) period as U had knowledge of such nonpayment and took no action under Act to get E to comply with contract, however, every monthly failure to submit contractual payment to fund is separate and distinct violation and E liable for delinquincies w/i 10(b) period)

McCormick-Boyett Plumbing Company JD-(ATL)-93-82
(Section 10(b) period for charge alleging unlawful refusal to sign and honor multi-E bargaining agreement began running when E specifically informed U it was not going to sign agreement which was w/i 10(b) period, rather than from U's letter asking E to sign new agreement which was outside 10(b) period, since E's failure to reply to or comply with request to sign agreement did not put U on notice of act constituting ULP)

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association JD-(NY)-86-82
(E's contention that allegation of unlawful unilateral change was barred by Sec. 10(b), rejected where E's memo to Ee advising her of prospective change delayed effective date; letter expressly stated to Ee that change would not become effective until transition period of 90 days, at which time Sec. 10(b) period began to run)

Teamsters Local Union No. 688, a/w Teamsters (Ritepoint, Division of Penn Corp.) JD-403-81
(where ULP alleged is U's maintenance of rule unlawful on its face, GC's failure to establish distribution of rule w/i 10(b) period did not bar complaint, since rule would remain unlawful while outstanding and date of distribution does not terminate its effectiveness; nor did fact rule not implemented w/i 10(b) period bar complaint where allegation is mere distribution and maintenance of rule, unlawful)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD283-81
(charge filed two days after allegedly unlawful event—exercise of superseniority by U trustees, to detriment of charging parties, rather than inception of contractual superseniority clause—timely as being well w/i 10(b) period)

Lee Office Equipment JD-(SF)-86-81
(6-month period runs from time U became aware of E's practice of subcontracting unit work)

Seafarers International Union of North America, Atlantic, Gulf, Lakes and Inland Waters District, AFL-CIO (Samuel M. Moody, an Individual) JD-(SF)-88-81
(C against U for breach of duty of fair representation not barred by Sec. 10(b) period where Ees, although suspicious of contract provision at earlier date, did not definitely know that they were bound by 10 percent CPI wage cap negotiated by U and ratified by unit until their suspicions were confirmed at meeting prior to receipt of paycheck with limited increase and exactly 60 days prior to filing C)

General Marine Transport Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 180 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(10(b) period began to run from date that charging party could have filed charge for E's initial repudiation of multi-E association contract since E's subsequent repeated repudiations of contract were only repetitions of its earlier conduct rather than separate ULP's)

General Marine Transport Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 180 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(10(b) period begins to run from time of initial repudiation of contract and actions taken as result of this repudiation, which normally would be violative, are time barred if charge is filed more than 6 months after repudiation as charge inescapably grounded on time barred event; namely, repudiation of contract; ct rejected continued violation theory)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E's closing of part of business rather than deal with U and reopening department with new Ees violative at time of reopening as ct treated closing of 1 of 2 departments as temporary shutdown of total operation since closing of department not doneto dampen unionism in other department)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(notwithstanding supervisor (also president of U) did not negotiate bargaining agreement w/i 6 month period of charges being filed, 10(b) period did not begin to run because as U President he was responsible for processing grievances; though only 1 grievance filed and it became subject of ULP charge in instant case does not alter result because official's dual role itself may account for lack of grievances)

Ernestine Bentley, Bonnie Collins, Ben Hall and Vera Hall v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(although Bd found that three sisters had been discriminated against by E by its refusal to hire them because of their father's reputation as an active U supporter, substantial evidence supported conclusion that ULPs occurred more than 6 months before charges were filed, and were therefore barred by Sec. 10(b))

N.L.R.B. v. Allied Products' Corporation, Richard Brothers Division 629 F.2d 1167 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(contrary to E's contention, Bd did not disregard ct's remand to reconsider Bd's make-whole remedy in light of ct's theory of applicability of 10(b) limitations period which differs from that upon which Bd relied, where Bd accepted ct's finding that charging party did not become aware of E's unlawful suspension of merit wage review program until certain date, agreed that 10(b) limitations period was tolled until then, and consequently expanded its make whole remedy to include those Ees who had suffered before that date by reason of suspension of the scheme)

Peerless Roofing Co., Ltd. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 734 (C.A. 9, Apr 4, 1981)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(Section 10(b) of Act provides that no complaint should issue based upon ULP occuring more than 6 months prior to filing charge. This section, however, only relates to actual filing of charges and, once charge has been timely filed, control over and disposition of that charge is vested exclusively with GC pursuant to Section 3(d) of Act, who has decision to act on charge as he deems fit)

Highway and Local Motor Freight Employees, Local No. 667 (Spector Freight System, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 035
(U to reimburse each applicant or Ee who made payments to U for its referral system when in actuality no such system existed; liability limited by Section 10(b) to 6-month period prior to filing and service of original charge)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(remand to Bd for further consideration of use of date of filing charge rather than date of refusal to bargain in measuring 10(b) limitation period, where ALJ found that benchmark date for exclusion of evidence was date when ULP charge was filed, while E contended that when Act is not being given its literal application to filing of charge but is being used to bar evidence in defending against such charge, 10(b) period should be measured from time of E's refusal to bargain)

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 002
(RD did not abuse discretion by reinstating charge at U's request, notwithstanding Sec. 10(b) limitations, where U had withdrawn charge in reliance on RD statement that any request to reinstate decertification ptn that had been dismissed because of pendency of charge would be denied, but Bd had permitted reinstatement of ptn, only to rectify effects of faulty determination by returning U to status quo ante)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(amendment to complaint to include additional allegation of ULP which had previously been administratively dismissed from original charge by RD not time-barred by 10(b))

0420-6250-3000 Prior charge cannot be revived to earlier date, absent equitable considerations

Winer Motors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 185
(Bd held charge, although originally timely filed, could not, subsequent to its withdrawal, be reinstated beyond normal 6-month period prescribed in Sec. 10(b) notwithstanding RD had approved withdrawal of charge; Bd held allowance for reinstatement of withdrawn charges for equitable reasons is w/o legal justification and accordingly overruled Silver Bakery of Newton)

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 002
(E's mtn for summary judgment contending that RD's reissuance of complaint a year after alleged ULP was time-barred by Sec. 10(b), denied since Bd was not compelled by equities of case to overrule GC's reinstatement of timely filed charge where U acted timely throughout case and E was not prejudiced by and did not detrimentally change position in reliance on GC's actions; GC struck proper balance between Sec. 10(b)'s policy barring stale litigation and the Act' broad remedial policy, and RD did not abuse discretion by reinstating complaint on basis of U's reliance on his incorrect opn)

0420-6275 Reinstatement of charge after dismissal

Brookwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries JD-(Atl)-4-82

0420-8700 Amendment of charge

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company 261 NLRB No. 080
(even assuming alleged ULP oocurred outside 10(b) period of original charge, amended charge filed shortly before end of 10(b) period held timely filed where it related back to and is properly encompassed w/i original charge as other acts; and both charges arose out of same ocurse of conduct by E and alleged same violations)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(alleged violations subject of separate charge filed more than 6 months after events alleged as unlawful held not time-barred since such events were brought into instant litigation by amendment to broadly phrased complaint which alleged numerous incidents of interference and discrimination and incidents at issue were of same character as others alleged as unlawful in original complaint; under the circumstances, specific charge was superfluous and allegations were sufficiently related to original charges and complaint to be amended)

Leyendecker Paving, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 010
(although charge says nothing about more onerous work, ALJ allowed amendment to complaint over 10(b) objection, where other allegations properly flowed from charges, albeit in most general way, and amended charge was closely related to those violations)

0420-8725 Amended charge may allege ULP committed within 6 months of service of original charge

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(complaint amended at hearing to conform to evidence which changed date of alleged violation to 6 weeks earlier falls within 10(b) period notwithstanding allegation not specifically included in amended charge which was filed outside 10(b) period where substance of allegation of amended charge is sufficiently related to allegations in original charge)

Gocat, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 030
(GC's amendment of complaint to include additional discriminatee discharged for U activities held proper where alleged violation was closely related to violations already named in original charge and occurred w/i six months before filing of charge; moreover, E was put on notice by language in complaint that it was charged also with other acts of conduct which has been held to form sufficient basis for later specific allegations)

R & S Transport, Inc. 286 NLRB No. 089
(ALJ allowed RD to amend C to add discriminatees who had previously filed charges which were dismissed by RD as time barred where valid charge on which C issued named certain discriminatees and others and thus was broad enough to support amended C)

High Energy Corporation JD-100-82
(where charge filed w/i 6 months of alleged violative discharges and all Ees named in complaint were discharged for engaging in 1 act of protected concerted activity, then fact that some discriminatees not named in original charge immaterial)

0420-8750 New ULP after original charge and more than 6 months before amended charge may not be included

Graphic Arts International Union, Local 261 (Sale-Niagara, Inc.) JD-202-82
(amended charge alleging that U, in addition to violating 8(b)(1)(A) as alleged in original charge, also violated 8(b)(3) held untimely, since it was filed more than 6 months after alleged ULP, and although untimely allegation may have related to and have been part of underlying controversy of original charge, such factor was not sufficient to permit amended charge to relate back and support otherwise untimely allegation)

0420-8775 May relate back to original charge

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(amending charge to include allegation of unlawful conduct outside Sec. 10(b) period does not bar ULP finding since matter involved was related to timely filed charge)

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054
(settlement agreement disposed of all E's presettlement conduct notwithstanding some conduct was subject of charge filed after RD approved of settlement, since there were no reservations in settlement agreement or conduct not readily discoverable by GC; Ee's knowledge of conduct unknown to GC was imputed to GC, and all E's presettlement actions concerned interference with Ees' organizing, were sufficiently related to withstand Sec. 10(b) attack and not rendered undiscoverable by Bd's internal restrictions as contended; moreover allegedly discriminatory postsettlement conduct was inextricably linked with presettlement conduct)

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054
(allegation added to C at trial by amendment after 10(b) period held time barred; relation-back doctrine, whereby allegations sufficiently related to matters in a timely charge may be added to C and considered timely, did not apply since allegation had been included in prior charge which was withdrawn)

Howard Johnson Motor Lodge 261 NLRB No. 123
(allegations added by amendment outside Section 10(b) period which identified interrogator in allegation in original complaint as officer of E and set forth additional instance of interrogation, not untimely, since merely extension of and directly related to interrogation involved in charge and alleged in complaint)

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(no need to amend complaint when all new allegations relate back to original charge)

Cobb Theatres, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 111
(amending complaint at hearing proper where allegations in amendment related back to matters set forth in original complaint)

Gould, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 092
(violations added to complaint just prior to hearing held not time barred because no new charge filed as they deal with related matters and arose out of events covered by original charge)

Gocat, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 030
(GC's amendment of complaint to include additional discriminatee discharged for U activities held proper where alleged violation was closely related to violations already named in original charge and occurred w/i six months before filing of charge; moreover, E was put on notice by language in complaint that it was charged also with other acts of conduct which has been held to form sufficient basis for later specific allegations)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 285 NLRB No. 137
(amendment of charge after 6 months Section 10(b) period which modified description of nature of discrimination, not improper, since change in nature of discrimination minor and in view of catch all language of charge, Respondent had adequate notice, and failed to raise issue of 10(b) period at hearing)

R & S Transport, Inc. 295 NLRB No. 009
(ALJ allowed RD to amend C to add discriminatees who had previously filed charges which were dismissed by RD as time barred where valid charge on which C issued named certain discriminatees and others and thus was broad enough to support amended C)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(amendment to complaint to include additional allegation of ULP which had previously been administratively dismissed from original charge by RD not time-barred by 10(b))

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(amendment of C to allege additional violation proper where sufficiently related to allegations in original C notwithstanding would otherwise be outside 10(b) period)

High Energy Corporation JD-100-82

concerted activity, then fact that some discriminatees not named in original charge immaterial)

Methodist Hospital of Indiana, Inc. JD-85-82
(where 8(a)(3) charge was filed and included other acts language and, after complaint alleging 8(a)(1) violations issued, 8(a)(3) charge was dismissed, broad language of initial charge was sufficient to support additional 8(a)(1) allegation, as dismissal of 8(a)(3) charge only did not void entire charge)

Eastern Maine Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(contention that amendment of complaint during hearing added allegation of violation by act which occurred more than six months before amendment and amendment was thus timebarred by 10(b), rejected, since nexus between amendment and original charge was not so attentuated as to make ALJ's allowing amendment abuse of discretion; act named in amendment occurred in midst of, and was of a piece with, acts alleged to be violative in original charge, and E was on notice, because of range of charges, that all its 10(b) period conduct would be investigated)

Rock Hill Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 139 (C.A. 4, 1979)
(additional allegations sufficiently related to original timely charge and complaint)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(amendment of complaint during hearing was within ALJ's discretion as it was related to same series of allegedly ULPs designed to keep company, found alter ego, herein nonunion)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antoninino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements of private law suit. Charge need not be technically precise so long as it generally informs party charged as to nature of alleged violations. General allegations in charge may be later supplemented or amplified by more specific allegations which relate back to date charge was filed)

0420-9500 Consolidation of cases

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(consideration of allegations of consolidated amended Cs that E refused to make plant premises available for bargaining or to pay Ees for work time lost during negotiations, not barred, where allegations were clearly grounded in viable charges of which E had ample notice; charges, while not specifically alleging refusals, contained catchall language which encompassed such allegations; refusals were part of E's opposition to U's inclusion of outsiders in negotiations; and other Us had filed charges claiming that similar refusals were part of E's coordinated opposition)

0440 CONSIDERATION OF TIME-BARRED EVENTS AS BACKGROUND TO EXPLAIN LATER EVENTS PERMISSIBLE

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 66 (Houston Lighting and Power Company) 262 NLRB No. 061
(events surrounding U member's efforts to resign from U and to revoke checkoff authorization occurring more than 6 months prior to filing of charge relied on as background only to C allegation that U unlawfully failed and refused to give effect to such efforts of member w/i 10(b) period)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(pre-10(b) facts may be used as background to establish motivation for ULPs as well as to explain alleged violations occurring w/i 6-month period)

Electrical Workers, Local 1701 (Dynalectric Company) 252 NLRB No. 119
(while U representative's conduct outside 10(b) period may be used to ascertain his motive for action taken w/i such period, it is not to be inferred that he was motivated by unlawful considerations in his refusal in instant case to refer non-U applicants, in absence of evidence demonstrating that his actions herein were mere continuation of his prior conduct)

0440-0100 Generally

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(evidence adduced at hearing as to execution of contract between E and minority U and received before complaint was amended to show preferential treatment to U, admissable to show E animus to petitioner and as bearing on credibility of witness, E's president)

0440-1200 Where purpose is for fuller understanding of contention

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045
(E's extreme hostility to U organizers during prior campaign, one year earlier, used as background in evaluating ULP allegations in instant proceeding)

Artley Incorporated 260 NLRB No. [illegible]
(conduct of both E and Ee which occurred outside 10(b) period admissible as background evidence of both E's growing hostility to Ee and Ee's persistent militant U position)

Pick-Mt. Laurel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 084
(on ct remand predecessor E's illegal practice of requiring Ees to join U and sign checkoff authorizations on first day of work which continued into 10(b) period, and its recognition and negotiation of bargaining agreement with U w/o designation by any member of unit, all of which occurred outside Section 10(b) period, considered in determining legality of successor E's withdrawal of recognition of U based on reasonable good faith doubt of U's majority)

Marriott In-Flite Service, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. [illegible]
(E's implementation of certain benefits and wage increases after allegedly forcing U's agreement thereto by presenting U with Hobson's choice may be utilized to shed light on bargaining positions and events alleged in complaint alleging Section 8(a)(5) violation, notwithstanding events occured outside 10(b) period)

Clearwater Finishing Company, A Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183

Pandair Freight, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 134
(although E's memo dated outside 10(b) period could not provide basis for ULP complaint, it was compelling background evidence of E's hostility to Ee's U activities and its intention to discover pretextual rationale for Ee's discharge should he persist in engaging in U activities)

The Motor Convoy, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 178

Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 140
(supervisor's statements made outside 10(b) period that E could not fire one Ee for signing U authorization card or stop another Ee from joining U although not usable as evidence of ULPs, could serve as indicator of motivation of supervisor attributable to E)

American Bakeries Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 170
(date of actual discharge, and not date of notice of intent to discharge Ee, determined timeliness of charge; events occurring before discharge formed background for charge)

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. [illegible]
(U's failure to refer alleged discriminatees outside 10(b) period admissible as evidence of animosity and as background to support finding of unlawful refusal to refer w/i 10(b) period)

Wright Motors, Inc. JD-266-81
(it was necessary to evaluate conduct outside 10(b) period, not alone as background matter shedding light on acts w/i 10(b) period but also because it was essential to determine whether prior extensions of U's certification year had run out due to compliance with Bd and ct orders or not)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(contrary to Bd's holding that Sec. 10(b) precluded E from relying on execution of illegal prehire agreement by predecessor E as basis to support reasonably based doubt of U's majority status, ct held that, even though successor E could not use pre-10(b) evidence to nullify contract, E should be permitted to admit evidence to shed light upon its refusal to bargain as background evidence buttressing E's analysis of various timely events which allegedly gave rise to its good faith doubt of majority status)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 613 F.2d 1338 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(ALJ's consideration of supervisor's statements, held proper notwithstanding the statements were made more than six months before charge was filed; ALJ considered the statements as background evidence for adducing E's motivation for its acts w/i 10(b) period)

N.L.R.B. v. International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 571, AFL-CIO 634 F.2d 866 (C.A. 8, 1980)

0440-2500 Striker's right to reinstatement within period may be based on time-barred events

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 078
(terminating recall rights of economic strikers by E's six-month renewal notification requirement by which Ees were obligated to notify E of their interest to remain on preferential hire list, violative, where such requirement was inherently destructive of Ee reinstatement rights under Laidlaw and E gave no sufficient business justification to shift such burden of notification to Ees as prerequisite to preserve statutory recall rights; remedy not barred by Sec. 10(b) of Act)

0440-5000 Enforcement within period of contract illegal in execution because of time-barred events

period, and its recognition and negotiation of bargaining agreement with U w/o designation by any member of unit, all of which occurred outside Section 10(b) period, considered in determining legality of successor E's withdrawal of recognition of U based on reasonable good faith doubt of U's majority)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172

(Bd's consideration of maintenance and enforcement of U security agreements and U's dues structure held not barred; since violation rests on U's dues structure in conjunction with contracts, circumstances at time of execution of contracts are not critical; moreover, there was at least one instance of enforcement of U security provision w/i 10(b) period; contention that dues checkoff was benign because U did not seek imposition of job related sanction to compel dues payment, and such benign acts are not ULPs, rejected)

N.L.R.B. v. Vitronic Division of Penn Corporation 630 F.2d 561 (C.A. 8, 1979)

(complaint alleging unlawful E's refusal to retain replaced economic strikers on preferential hiring list and reinstate where strikers had failed to comply with its requirement that strikers renew their continued interest in reinstatement six months following sending of initial request for reinstatement form to strikers not barred where w/i Section 10(b) period on basis that E's establishment of requirement that former strikers renew their continued interest in employment was outside 10(b) period since basis of charge is termination not establishment of notification requirement)

0440-7500 Minority status of union recognized before limitations period

Pick-Mt. Laurel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 034

(on ct remand predecessor E's illegal practice of requiring Ees to join U and sign checkoff authorizations on first day of work which continued into 10(b) period, and its recognition and negotiation of bargaining agreement with U w/o designation by any member of unit, all of which occurred outside Section 10(b) period, considered in determining legality of successor E's withdrawal of recognition of U based on reasonable good faith doubt of U's majority)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(contrary to Bd's holding that Sec. 10(b) precluded E from relying on execution of illegal prehire agreement by predecessor E as basis to support reasonably based doubt of U's majority status, ct held that, even though successor E could not use pre-10(b) evidence to nullify contract, E should be permitted to admit evidence to shed light upon its refusal to bargain as background evidence buttressing E's analysis of various timely events which allegedly gave rise to its good faith doubt of majority status)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(where E proferred defense of good faith doubt of U's majority status, ct held E could reasonably consider pre-10(b) circumstances because sweetheart relationship evidenced by unlawful prehire contract entered into by predecessor E sheds light on its commission of independent ULP in assisting U w/i 10(b) period; however, since successor E did not make clear the relationship, if any, between unlawful assistance during 10(b) period and its claim of good faith doubt, ct deemed it best left to Bd, which had not previously considered issue, to consider it in the first instance)

0460 LIMITATION NOT APPLICABLE TO CONTINUING ULP

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(Sec. 8(a)(5) charge not barred because filed more than 6 months after initial request to bargain was made, where U's demand was continuing one in view of U's actions in dilegently pursuing R proceeding and in pressing ULP charges)

Stage Employees, Local 695 (Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp.) 261 NLRB No. 086

(interpretation or application of contested contractual provisions by means of arbitrator's arbitral award is reaffirmation of contract and starts 10(b) period running from time of award notwithstanding contract executed and all subsequent conduct complained of occurred prior to 6 months of filing of charge)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010

(notwithstanding fact that one of 2 Us suspected, outside 10(b), that E was operating non-U, charge was timely filed because E's failure w/i 10(b) to execute or abide by contract was continuing violation)

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company 259 NLRB No. 030

(U's charge timely where w/i prior 6 months it had served subpoena in which it requested same information as before and E again refused to comply; refusal found unlawful standing alone and as part of continuing violation)

Computer Sciences Corporation Applied Technology Division, Huntsville Center 258 NLRB No. 085

(Ee handbook containing violative provision not outside 10(b) period notwithstanding provision was implemented 2 years prior to date charge filed where plan still in effect at time of charge)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163

(maintenance of overly-broad no-distribution rule requiring E's permission violative, notwithstanding that rule was promulgated before Sec. 10(b) limitations period)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022

(E's refusal to bargain concerning E's unilateral change in Ees' shift hours, unlawful, where U's request was made w/i 10(b) period and, even though shift change occurred outside 10(b) period, such request revived E's original unlawful refusal to bargain concerning shift change)

Child Day Care Center, Verona, Virginia and Baltimore Regional Joint Board, Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union Health and Welfare Fund 252 NLRB No. 164

(Sec. 10(b) no bar to finding of violation since, after E's assistance in original establishment and recognition of U in pre 10(b) period, E's assistance to U continued into 10(b) period where E allowed U to use its premises to hold meetings during which Ees were paid, and U business agent who handled grievance of Charging Party w/i 10(b) period was on broad of trustees of E)

Dardanell Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 050

(charge not barred by fact that U's initial request to bargain outside 10(b) period since Bd treats request as continuing)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003

(Bd precluded from remedying E's failure to make benefit payments to trustee prior to 10(b) period as U had knowledge of such nonpayment and took no action under Act to get E to comply with contract, however, every monthly failure to submit contractual payment to fund is separate and distinct violation and E liable for delinquincies w/i 10(b) period)

Local 1115, Joint Board, Nursing Home & Hospital Employees—Florida Division (B & K Investments, Inc., d/b/a Towne House convalescent Center) 248 NLRB No. 167

(U's mtn to dismiss C as time-barred under 10(b), denied, where GC alleged that a number of U's actions occurred w/i 6 months of filing of charge, and mtn to dismiss under 10(b) in prior proceeding was denied because U's refusal to bargain was alleged to be a continuing violation)

United States Postal Service 248 NLRB No. 002

(issuance of complaint alleging that basic arrangement between E and U by which they restricted power of Ees to revoke checkoff to single annual event rather than at will and effective twice yearly as prior to enactment of exception to NLRA embodied in Section 1205(b) of Postal Reorganization Act, not barred by Section 10(b), notwithstanding that the ULP charge was filed after more than five years subsequent to date when E and U made alleged basic arrangement; the arrangement was continued to at least time of hearing herein)

Red Roof Inns III Co., Inc. JD-142-82

(pertinent allegation of complaint was not inescapably grounded on events predating 10(b) period and GC may challenge maintenance of no-solicitation rule, notwithstanding E's contention that allegation must be dismissed because rule was promulgated more than 6 months prior to filing of either charge in case where rule was alleged to be unlawful on its face, and rule was maintained by E at least until date well w/i 10(b) period)

Technicolor, Inc. JD-(SF)-37-82

(amended C alleging additional facts of discrimination against Ee not time-barred, since conduct alleged in amendment were acts of discrimination which occurred after filing of charge and statements concerning unlawful motivation for such acts)

General Marine Transport Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 180 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(10(b) period begins to run from time of initial repudiation of contract and actions taken as result of this repudiation, which normally would be violative, are time barred if charge is filed more than 6 months after repudiation as charge inescapably grounded on time barred event; namely, repudiation of contract; ct rejected continued violation theory)

0465 TOLLING OF PERIOD

Autoprod, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 042

(Sec. 10(b) is of no avail to E where he delayed contributions to U funds and wage increases mandated by arbitration award as this constitutes refusal to bargain and failure to meet each payment constitutes illegal act, and tolls application of Sec. 10(b). Thus, failure to make payments continued to filing of charge and constituted unlawful ongoing refusal)

Rayel Electric Company 260 NLRB No. 190

(10(b) period not tolled until U became aware of E's ULP of violating bargaining agreement)

0465—Cont.

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(Section 10(b) is subject to equitable principles and may be tolled where Respondent has fraudulently concealed its unlawful conduct)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061
(when respondent fraudulently conceals its unlawful conduct 10(b) period of limitations is tolled from date on which ULPs commenced until U acquires knowledge of ULPs; 10(b) period is tolled for purposes of fashioning remedy as well as filing charge)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(charge held timely filed where although events on which charged was based, E's hiring of separate non-U carpentry crew, occurred before 10(b) period, they were not known by U until 10(b) period, because E fraudulently concealed their occurrence by assuring U that it would no longer employ carpenters, thus tolling 10(b) period)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration on ground Bd decision in instant decertification proceeding overruling objection to election should be considered together with subsequent Bd decision finding violation by E on basis of conduct which was subject of objection, denied, where E did not seek to have ULP case consolidated or considered with instant proceeding until after ULP decision issued; contentions that consideration will facilitate final, just resolution of issues and relief to be accorded, and that relief granted for E's violation is wholly inadequate, rejected)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration based on allegedly inconsistent decisions as result of Bd decision finding violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding denied as untimely; findings of fact are based on respective records in each case, and record herein shows insufficient evidence to warrant setting aside election; to extent petitioner argues Bd's findings herein are erroneous on record then before it, regardless of record in ULP case, petitioner's second mtn for reconsideration is a year late)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; Bd rejected contention that, since (8a)(1) conduct a fortiori interferes with election, such finding invalidates retroactively Bd's conclusion herein that E's conduct did not warrant setting election aside; a fortiori principle was attempt by Bd to avoid mechanical approach and Bd looks to economic realities of E-Ee relationship in determining whether to set aside election)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

C & D Battery Division—Eltra Corporation 263 NLRB No. 106
(E's contention that charge did not properly allege 8(a)(5) violation, rejected, where charge alleged that E had refused under 8(a)(5) to bargain with U concerning the discriminatory layoff in violation of its own seniority policy; while it may well be, as E contends, that whether layoff was discriminatory or in violation of its seniority policy is irrelevant regarding violation of 8(a)(5), essence of charge was that E refused to bargain concerning layoff and, as such, properly alleged 8(a)(5) violation)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention that it was denied due process by litigation of matters outside C, rejected, since actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements that govern private lawsuits; charge need not be technically precise as long as it generally informs charged party of nature of alleged violations; and where issue is fully and fairly litigated at administrative hearing, Bd may find ULP even though no specific charge is made in C)

Union Mining Company of Allegany County, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 052
(allegations of unlawful disciplinary warning and demotion were properly before ALJ where GC timely moved to amend complaint to include them and ALJ properly granted GC's mtn, notwithstanding attachments to respondent's brief of letter from RD informing respondent that a charge had been withdrawn and a charge of unlawful disciplinary warning and demotion, since subsequent withdrawal of apparently parallel charges is clearly outside the record and irrelevant to the disposition of the amended complaint here)

The Perlman-Rocque Company (North) 257 NLRB No. 002
(where local filed charges that E violated 8(a)(2) and (1) by entering into a contract with, and attempting to force its Ees to join, another local, then withdrew these charges, and neither first local nor GC has, since withdrawal, requested finding of these violations, E held not to have violated 8(a)(1) by any action such as that alleged above)

(RD did not abuse discretion by reinstating charge at U's request, notwithstanding Sec. 10(b) limitations, where U had withdrawn charge in reliance on RD statement that any request to reinstate decertification ptn that had been dismissed because of pendency of charge would be denied, but Bd had permitted reinstatement of ptn, only to rectify effects of faulty determination by returning U to status quo ante)

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 002
(E's mtn for summary judgment contending that RD's reissuance of complaint a year after alleged ULP was time-barred by Sec. 10(b), denied since Bd was not compelled by equities of case to overrule GC's reinstatement of timely filed charge where U acted timely throughout case and E was not prejudiced by and did not detrimentally change position in reliance on GC's actions; GC struck proper balance between Sec. 10(b)'s policy barring stale litigation and the Act' broad remedial policy, and RD did not abuse discretion by reinstating complaint on basis of U's reliance on his incorrect opn)

0877-8000 Charging party's request for permission to withdraw charge

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(although charging parties' request to withdraw their charges is denied by RD, ALJ has discretionary authority to approve such requests made before him, even if GC objects)

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(request by charging parties to withdraw their charges against E and U on ground that criminal conviction of U officers involved in unlawful kickback arrangement with E, and their subsequent removal from U, obviates need for any further proceedings herein, denied, since criminal proceedings did not resolve issue as to whether U and/or E are responsible for conduct of U officers, and E's Ees and U membership are entitled to clear and unequivocal statement by posting of notice that E and U do not, and will not countenance such behavior on part of its officers and agents)

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(charging parties' request to withdraw their charges against E and U based on Midwest Piping allegations in regard to E's signing of contract with U during existence of qcr, denied; to permit withdrawal would be contrary to policies of Act since, if allegations are sustained, E and U will have been found to have unilaterally abrogated to themselves Bd's function of resolving qcr; moreover, despite defunctness of U, remedy would still be meaningful since, assuming violations are found, substantial number of Ees would be entitled to refund of dues they paid pursuant to union security clause)

0888 DISMISSAL OF CHARGE

0888-0100 GENERALLY

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(RD empowered to reverse original dismissal of Ee's charge, notwithstanding that Ee's appeal of RD's dismissal of charge was still pending; since Ee's appeal remained alive, E remained on notice that a charge might still be brought contesting her discharge)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shurtleff & Andrews Construction v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)
(E's request for review of GC's dismissal of charge against U, denied, since GC has final authority on whether to issue C on ULP charges, and his decision is not reviewable in any judicial forum)

0888-2500 Because of settlement of issues by parties

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054
(settlement agreement disposed of all E's presettlement conduct notwithstanding some conduct was subject of charge filed after RD approved of settlement, since there were no reservations in settlement agreement or conduct not readily discoverable by GC; Ee's knowledge of conduct unknown to GC was imputed to GC, and all E's presettlement actions concerned interference with Ees' organizing, were sufficiently related to withstand Sec. 10(b) attack and not rendered undiscoverable by Bd's internal restrictions as contended; moreover allegedly discriminatory postsettlement conduct was inextricably linked with presettlement conduct)

0888-6700 Appeal to General Counsel from RD dismissal

0888-6767 Reinstatement of charge

Fluid Packaging Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 196
(where after dismissing allegation of unlawful discharge from original charge, RD, upon charging pary's appeal to GC, reconsidered and again included deleted charge, Bd's overruling ALJ's refusal to permit GC to amend complaint to include deleted charge, proper, since charge remained alive and pending during appeal process)

1200 PARTIES

1201 GENERALLY

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(U which was vitally interested party in instant decertification proceeding but was not party and did not have opportunity to participate in related ULP case held not bound by record made in latter case)

N.L.R.B. v. Wayne Electric, Inc., Electrical Installation and Services, and Wayne E. Steward 636 F.2d 1227(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(owner of two businesses both of which found guilty of ULP's liable for backpay award notwithstanding he was not specifically named as party because obligations of proprietorship are obligations of its owner)

1201-5000 Definition (Rule 102.8)

Senftner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 028

1220 CHARGING PARTY

Senftner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 028
(charging party is a party under Sec. 102.8 of Bd's R/R and under Sec. 102.38 of R/R any party has right to cross-examine witnesses; therefore, since charging party is granted full participatory rights, it is reasonable to infer that he is entitled to any pre-trial affidavits in same manner as respondent is)

Ver Cee Provisions, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 125
(on issue of whether or not individual may file 8(a)(5) charge, ALJ noted that for almost 40 years Bd has held, as provided in its R/R, Sec. 102.9, that any person may file a charge; ALJ was satisfied that there was no procedural impediment to finding violation of 8(a)(5) in case here if evidence warranted it)

Union Independiente De Empleados De Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico (Corporation de Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico, Inc.) 249 NLRB NO. 147
(contention that charging party, E's representative has no standing or valid interest permitting him to file charge in instant 8(b)(1)(B) proceeding, rejected, in view of R/R Sec. 102.9)

Union Independiente De Empleados De Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico (Corporation de Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico, Inc.) 249 NLRB NO. 147
(contention that charging party, E's bargaining representative, was equitably barred in instant 8(b)(1)(B) proceeding from obtaining any relief sought, rejected, since clean hands doctrine does not operate against charging party inasmuch as proceedings are brought not for vindication of private rights but are brought in public interest and to effectuate statutory policy)

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82
(charging party-U had standing to file charge notwithstanding E's contention no relationship between U which represented Ees and charging party, where evidence of merger of these two Us, never contested merger, E did not timely raise issue of standing; further, under Bd's R/R Section 102.9 anyone may file charges)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(fact that Ee was not detrimentally affected by enforcement of contractual superseniority clause did not jeopardize his right to file charge nor taint instant complaint)

1240 DISCRIMINATEES

Conoy Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(where original charge alleged 12 individuals had been improperly denied reinstatement, amended charge listed only 3 of the 12, complaint alleged only 3 unlawful denials of reinstatement, violations will only be found for 3 named Ees)

1260 NECESSARY PARTIES

1260-0100 Generally

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046
(exceptions taken by respondents as to correct name of one of respondents held untimely where respondents never raised issue as to correct name of respondent until exceptions were filed with Bd and respondents did not contend that they suffered any prejudice due to use of alleged incorrect name)

N.L.R.B. v. Doug Neal Management Company 620 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied where order not supported by substantial evidence as Ees discharged because E installed automated equipment which eliminated work of Ees, and indispensable party, owner of building, not joined; making building manager party not sufficient, especially where Bd ordered reinstatement of 3 discharged Ees)

1260-1000 Subsidiary of parent

Trans-State Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(renewed mtn, in GC's brief, to amend C to reflect possible subsidiary relationship among 3 corporations providing trucking service, denied as untimely, where original mtn was made and denied at hearing when GC was preparing to rest; 2 of corporations did not appear and were not accorded procedural due process; counsel for GC was aware of facts approximately one week before hearing)

1260-1500 Parent of subsidiary

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No. 065
(international not indispensable party to proceeding against local for allegedly unlawfully withholding paychecks, transmitted by Es through U, from charging party for nonpayment of dues; there was no allegation that either bargaining agreement or procedure for transmitting checks violated Act; rather, allegations pertained to manner in which local implemented such procedure; evidence does not show that international participated in or was aware of local's procedure; and Congress has made it clear that international Us are not to be held liable for acts of their locals on basis of relationship between them)

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 033
(where parent company was not named in proceeding until after ct remanded to Bd, it will not be named as R as it was never afforded opportunity to defend itself against ULP charges or litigate its relationship with E; determination can be made at compliance stage of proceeding)

1260-8000 Trustee in bankruptcy

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 265 NLRB No. 121
(Bd dismissed U.S. Trustee as respondent to ULP proceeding where Bd found that Trustee was not an alter ego, a successor, or a trustee-in-bankruptcy for respondent company)

Belair Chateau Hospital, Inc., d/b/a University Heights Hospital JD-(SF)-213-82
(deletion of trustee in bankruptcy as party respondent from original complaint pursuant to ct order does not bar GC from raising issue of trustee's derivative liability for first time in backpay proceeding)

1260-8500 International Union

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681 and 706 (International Paper Company, Southern Kraft Division) 252 NLRB No. 181
(although C unclear, international U treated as Respondent because it participated in negotiations, insisted upon inclusion of R clause in contract, was named in charge, served with pleadings and required to effectuate full relief)

1260-9000 Alter ego of employer

Teckwal Corp. and E.M. Andrews Sales, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 122
(affiliated enterprise (alter ego) of E held to share obligation with E, named party in original ULP proceeding, to provide backpay, notwithstanding Es' contention that backpay specification should not include alter ego as liable for moneys due because Bd's original order did not apply to alter ego, since Es had admitted their single E status in original ans, and it is established that liability may be imposed upon party to supplemental proceeding even if that party had not been party to ULP proceeding if it is sufficiently closely related to party found in original proceeding to have committed ULPs)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(in supplemental proceedings, contention of individual who was not party to underlying ULP case and was found herein to be alter ego of company involved in ULP case, that proceeding against him should be dismissed held w/o merit, where, after issuance of Bd decision in ULP case, individual as owner of company involved in ULP case discontinued that company and formed sole proprietorship doing same business; furthermore, individual had ample time to address alter ego issue after RD had amended backpay specification upon learning of proprietary operations)

1270 PARTY IN INTEREST

N.L.R.B. v. Local No. 12, Operating Engineers 673 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(Bd order requiring U to reimburse E for monies it unwilling contributed to U-trust funds for its president and vice-president enforced where Bd determined that U had committed ULP by requiring E to contribute; however, ct cannot require Bd to order E reimbursed for similar contributions to trusts which were not subject of ULP charge)

1290 ADEQUACY OF IDENTIFICATION OF PARTIES

Boilermakers, Local Union No. 154 (Western Pennsylvania Service Contractors Association, etc.) 253 NLRB No. 099
(inclusion in make-whole order of all nonmember applicants for job referral as well as individual charging parties, proper where amended charge and consolidated complaint alleged that Ees who were not members of U and applicants for employment who were not members suffered discrimination, so that U was put on notice as to who were alleged to be discriminatees; further, nature of evidence adduced at hearing put U on notice of allegation that its referral system inherently favored members over nonmembers)

1600 SERVICE OF DOCUMENTS

1633 SERVICE BY PARTIES (RULE 102.112)

Victor Electric Company JD-368-82
(E's mtn to dismiss on grounds that charge was served by RD rather than Charging Party denied because jurisdiction is not conditioned on any procedural right under R/R 102.14 to insist on service by Charging Party)

1650 DATE OF SERVICE (RULE 102.113)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82
(application for legal fees and expenses filed with Bd when received and not when stamped in)

1683 SERVICE OF CHARGE OR COMPLAINT

1683-4700 Service on alter ego

Sturdevant Sheet Metal & Roofing Company, Inc., and Orion Trading Company, Inc., d/b/a Sturdevant Roofing Company v. N.L.R.B. 363 F.2d 271 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1980)
(where second E is found alter ego of its predecessor E, service on predecessor E constitutes service on second E)

1683-5000 Service on agent

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(individual and company were constructively served and given sufficient notice of charges against them to be afforded due process of law where receipt for charge sent by certified mail to company's parent company was returned signed by authorized agent, and receipts for charges and complaints sent by mail to both individual and company were returned marked Refused)

Andrews Security Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-14-82
(service on director is valid service on corporation)

Andrews Security Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-14-82
(service of order of reopening of hearing on director of E sufficient as she was agent of E)

1683-5800 Service on joint representative

Local Union No. 46 Metallic Lathers and Reinforcing Iron Workers (Cement League) 259 NLRB No. 010
(service of charge naming predecessor U as Respondent and president of that U as agent does not deny successor U of due process where president of predecessor U is also agent of successor U as assistant to president of that U)

1683-6000 Need not be personal service

1683-6050 Service by mail sufficient

Basic Tool & Supply Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 013
(affidavit of service of the charges, transmittal letter, and certified mail return receipt card confirm both filing and service)

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(individual and company were constructively served and given sufficient notice of charges against them to be afforded due process of law where receipt for charge sent by certified mail to company's parent company was returned signed by authorized agent, and receipts for charges and complaints sent by mail to both individual and company were returned marked Refused)

Crawford Development Corporation, d/b/a Crawford Dairyland of Frankfort, Indiana JD-563-81
(where charge was deposited with Postal Service as certified mail, service was effective notwithstanding E did not receive charge and GC could not produce return receipt)

1683-8000 Date of service is date of mailing

St. John Medical Center 252 NLRB No. 077
(timely for 10(b) purposes)

Crawford Development Corporation, d/b/a Crawford Dairyland of Frankfort, Indiana JD-563-81

N.L.R.B. v. Preston H. Haskell Company 616 F.2d 136 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(even though charges were received 2 days after mailing date)

N.L.R.B. v. Preston H. Haskell Company 616 F.2d 136 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(even though charges were received 2 days after mailing date)

2000 CONDUCT OF INVESTIGATION

2001 GENERALLY

Chattanooga Glass Company 265 NLRB No. 097
(in remanding case to ALJ who had dismissed C alleging unlawful discharge of Ee, on ground that prior settlement of unlawful threat to discharge Ee barred litigation since all ULPs preceded settlement, Bd held that GC's having knowledge of Ee's discharge, standing alone, was not sufficient basis to obligate GC to conduct investigation of charge, since GC knew only that Ee had been terminated at time settlement became effective and did not know any of the particulars of the termination)

Chattanooga Glass Company 265 NLRB No. 097
(in remanding case to ALJ who had dismissed C alleging unlawful discharge of Ee, on ground that prior settlement of unlawful threat to discharge Ee barred litigation since all ULPs preceded settlement, Bd disagreed with ALJ's conclusion that correlation between discharge threat and Ee's letter to GC's office, mentioning his termination, should have put Region on notice to investigate Ee's termination, since 9 months' interval between two alleged incidents was too great a time frame for GC to have divined from Ee's letter a correlation between two incidents)

Chattanooga Glass Company 265 NLRB No. 097
(in remanding case to ALJ who had dismissed C alleging unlawful discharge of Ee, on ground that prior settlement of unlawful threat to discharge Ee barred litigation since all ULPs preceded settlement, Bd disagreed with ALJ's conclusion that circumstances surrounding E's discharge were readily discoverable through investigation w/i meaning of Steves Sash & Door decision, since at time RD approved settlement in prior case, investigation of charge was completed, E had agreed to settlement; and when RD accepted settlement, no Bd agent was on notice Ee had been terminated and, therefore, investigation of such incident could not be planned)

Lafayette Steel Erector, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 160
(due process not denied where RD did not investigate E's position with respect to charges until after E filed answer to C)

2010 CASE FILES

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050
(although documents pertaining to correspondence between respondent and RD, and also internal memorandum between GC and RD, had erroneously been placed in formal instead of informal case file, Bd held backpay proceeding before ALJ was not prejudiced as result, and did not require ALJ to disqualify himself from case or to dismiss backpay specification; documents were either not relevant to backpay proceeding or were otherwise not prejudicial, and E's counsel was given full opportunity at hearing to examine documents)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050
(documents which had been erroneously placed in formal instead of informal case file in backpay proceeding before ALJ, entered in rejected exhibit file, rather than merely being marked for identification and forwarded to GC's office for inclusion in informal file)

2080 INTERVIEWING RESPONDENT'S AGENTS

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(E's mtn to quash C on grounds that investigatory interview of Ee denied it due process because examiner took affidavit from supervisor, treating him as Ee, w/o contacting E's attorney held irrelevant to outcome of litigation since ct upheld finding that Ee was not supervisor and therefore it followed that there was no impropriety in investigation)

2400 RULINGS AND AUTHORITY OF REGIONAL DIRECTOR

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(unless extraordinary circumstances present themselves to justify direct contact with party in proceeding, Region is obliged to deal exclusively with party's attorney, since Bd, in its dealings with respondents, has accepted and followed principle of legal ethics requiring that, so long as attorney-client relationship exists, attorneys dealing with matter involved are prohibited from communicating with the client)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(RD empowered to reverse original dismissal of Ee's charge, notwithstanding that Ee's appeal of RD's dismissal of charge was still pending; since Ee's appeal remained alive, E remained on notice that a charge might still be brought contesting her discharge)

2425 TO TAKE SETTLEMENTS

Ramona A. Drabena, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8)
(where parties stipulated that U had violated 8(b)(1)(A), ct found no abuse of agency discretion when Bd, in accordance with its long-standing policy, entered consent cease-and-desist order against U but did not require U to pay backpay to individual Ees who lost work on account of U's unlawful practices)

2450 Authority to issue complaint

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices are free to reconsider their own decisions in light of changing circumstances and needs, but reversal of previous jurisdictional finding, which was final, must be applied prospectively only)

2800 SETTLEMENTS

2801 GENERALLY

Teamsters, Local Union 215 (B & W Construction Company) 251 NLRB No. 164
(contention that U's presettlement discussions with Ee-member involved herein and fellow-member who had filed ULP charges against U were inadmissible as privileged conversations under Federal Rules of Evidence, and that U's conduct with respect to member herein prior to fellow-member's settlement is barred from litigation, rejected; fellow-member's case, not that of member herein, was settled and latter's expulsion from U and filing of charges with Bd occurred several months after settlement of fellow-member's case; consequently, expulsion of member herein was independent of fellow member's settlement agreement)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189
(contrary to ALJ's misgivings as to whether any presettlement conduct should be considered at all, Bd held that, based on E's postsettlement ULP, its presettlement conduct clearly may be basis for further ULP findings)

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-584-80
(private agreement between E and two of summarily-found discriminatees whereby, in lieu of backpay possibly due them by virtue of E's ULPs, discriminatees agreed to become equal partners with stock ownership in new E aided corporation held violative, since agreement interfered with application of Bd's remedies, which are provided as public right)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(ct discusses Bd's procedures and its R/R dealing with various kinds of agreements settling ULP cases)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 470 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(Bd is bound by settlement agreements that it participates in and approves where parties abide by agreements)

2801-2000 Purpose and objectives

Hollows Manufacturing Co. 260 NLRB No. 137
(where parties engaged in collective bargaining subsequent to Bd order in prior case which effectively remedies ULP's found in this case, and filed joint mtn to modify ALJ recommended order in this case, this is in effect settlement agreement and since GC does not oppose mtn, Bd grants mtn of parties)

APD Transport Corp. and Its Alter Ego, National Book Consolidators, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 056
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E failed to show good cause for failure to file timely answer; and request to withdraw charges and dismiss complaint because of settlement agreement denied since settlement agreement did not provide substantial remedy, some Ees objected to settlement terms of private settlement agreement, and settlement agreement would not effectuate policies of Act)

Service and Hospital Employees International Union, Local 150, AFL-CIO (Watertown Health Care Centers, Inc., etc.) JD-588-80

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1538-81 (09/25/81)
(objection to precluding use of Stipulation in State Court proceedings w/o merit, since Bd may only be concerned with enforcing Act and not with perfecting or preserving any collateral actions parties may have in other forums)

Racine Building and Construction Trades Council (A.R.S. Builders, Inc.) DS-1363-80 (06/01/80)
(to avoid unnecessary litigation)

2801-4000 Policy of Board

Teamsters, Local Union 215 (B & W Construction Company) 251 NLRB No. 164
(Bd reversed ALJ's finding that U unlawfully punished Ee-member by having him discharged for filing ULP charges against U with Bd, where alleged conduct by U occurred prior to date when settlement covering member's charges was executed; it is Bd policy to bar presettlement conduct from ULP litigation, and there was no contention that any of the exceptions to such policy apply)

N.L.R.B. v. Franklin Art Glass Studios, Inc. 678 F.2d 106 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(private settlements to which Bd is not party are not binding on Bd)

2801-6000 Authority and discretion of Board

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's contention that Bd could not rely on settlement agreement, revoked by RD, which provided that E would not refuse to bargain with U and would furnish U with requested information, rejected; Bd may elect either to rely upon settlement agreement and apply sanctions for alleged violations, or it may void agreement and prosecute underlying violations; however, once Bd elected to revoke approval of settlement agreement and proceed to prosecute underlying charge, Bd lost option to enforce terms of voided agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(Bd has wide discretion in determining whether representation election has been fairly conducted and its decision warranted special respect on review; however such discretion is not unlimited)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2285-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)
(Bd order granting mtn to set aside on-th-record settlement agreements and consolidating settled cases with another pending C case held unlawful, since settlement agreements had been consummated and conditions thereof performed and accomplished; action was abuse of Bd's powers and denial of petitioner's constitutional rights)

2801-7000 Conditions of settlement

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. [illegible]
(ALJ refused to approve settlement of charges alleging operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner, notwithstanding institution of new hiring hall procedures and referral system subsequent to issuance of complaint, since discontinuance of ULP does not dissipate its effect and obviate need for remedial order; further, alleged discriminatees not offered anything to make them whole for losses they may have suffered due to U's failure to refer them)

2801-8000 Effect of nonadmissions clause

Carpenters Union Local No. 1622, UBCJA (Robert Wood & Associates, Inc. 262 NLRB No. [illegible]
(broad order to remedy unlawful secondary boycott warranted in view of Respondent U's proclivity to violate Act as demonstrated by charges of similar violations in three other cases and resulting formal settlement stipulations since stipulations did not contain nonadmissions clause; not necessary for cases to be consolidated since Respondent's actions in each case warranted issuance of broad remedial order)

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 042
(informal settlement agreement, in contrast with formal settlements, containing nonadmissions clause will not be used to show proclivity to violative Act)

Racine Building and Construction Trades Council (A.R.S. Builders, Inc.) DS-1363-80 (06/01/80)
(Settlement Stipulation containing limited nonadmission clause insisted upon by respondent approved by Bd since such clauses constitute consideration for settlement; charging party protected because admissions adequate to secure ct order enforcing Bd order and Bd need not hold hearing so that charging party would be able to rely on Bd's factual finding in Sec. 303 suit)

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, AFL-CIO DS-1347-80 (06/01/80)
(charging party's objection to broad nonadmission clause because clause might preclude contempt citation in ct of appeal or jeopardize possibility of Section 303 suit, rejected, since contempt not precluded if warranted and Federal Rules of Evidence precludes use of settlement stipulation to establish Respondent's liability; further, substantial remedy provided outweighed possible detriment that language might prevent introduction of Settlement Stipulation for purposes permissible under Federal Rules)

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, Local Union No. 420 DS-1364-80
(charging party's objections to settlement stipulation clause making stipulation inadmissible in ct as admission against respondent, overruled and stipulation approved; Bd rejected contentions that (1) clause could rule out possibility of contempt citation in ct of appeals; (2) clause could seriously burden charging party's collateral rights under Act's Sec. 303 by preventing it from introducing into evidence Bd'[illegible]ministrative action; and (3) limitations in clause upon charging party's right to use stipulation would deprive it of due process of law; see also DS-1366-80)

N.L.R.B. v. Markle Manufacturing Company of San Antonio 623 F.2d 1122 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(waiver provision of settlement stipulation, pursuant to which Bd entered consent order agreed to by E and U directing cessation of strike violence by U, applied only to proceeding in which stipulation was made; application to all other cases in which alleged U violence might be issue would destroy effect of U's nonadmission clause in consent order)

2801-8500 Effect of waiver of right to reinstatement

N.L.R.B. v. Markle Manufacturing Company of San Antonio 623 F.2d 1122 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(waiver provision of settlement stipulation, pursuant to which Bd entered consent order agreed to by E and U directing cessation of strike violence by U, applied only to proceeding in which stipulation was made; application to all other cases in which alleged U violence might be issue would destroy effect of U's nonadmission clause in consent order)

2820 FORMAL SETTLEMENTS

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(informal settlement agreements should be scrutinized more closely than formal agreements)

2820-0100 Generally

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 042
(formal settlement agreements which do not contain nonadmissions clause may be relied on to establish proclivity to violate Act)

2820-2000 Remedy provisions

Detroit Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 259 NLRB No. 129
(informal settlement agreement, rather than formal settlement agreement, sufficient to remedy all violations alleged in consolidated complant against Respondent-Building Trades Council, since settlement provided for full and complete remedy; record did not show that Council had demonstrated proclivity to engage in violations of Section 8(b)(4) of Act)

2820-9000 Board order

Accessory Control and Equipment Corporation 248 NLRB No. 001
(where parties did not agree to include in formal settlement agreement provision for ct enforcement, Bd refused to amend ALJ's recommended order to so provide)

2840 INFORMAL SETTLEMENTS

T. Marshall Corp., T/A Cliffside Health Care Center JD-(NY)-29-82
(where parties at hearing reached settlement agreement which ALJ found to be fair, equitable, and dispositive of all allegations raised by the complaint, respondent, in order to dispose of pending proceeding, made, and ALJ granted, mtn to withdraw its answer-- so that allegations of complaint were deemed true-- and to consent to entry of recommended order)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(informal settlement agreements should be scrutinized more closely than formal agreements)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(no violation where ULP was remedied by informal settlement agreement entered into in prior case covering same time period as instant case involving same E but different charging party and unit; RD had never set aside this settlement agreement; E had fully remedied ULP regarding invalid no-solicitation; no-distribution rules and it would not effectuate policies of act to find violation in this regard in instant case)

Detroit Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 259 NLRB No. 129
(informal settlement agreement, rather than formal settlement agreement, sufficient to remedy all violations alleged in consolidated complant against Respondent-Building Trades Council, since settlement provided for full and complete remedy; record did not show that Council had demonstrated proclivity to engage in violations of Section 8(b)(4) of Act)

2840-4000 Approval of

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-584-80
(private agreement between E and two of summarily-found discriminatees whereby, in lieu of backpay possibly due them by virtue of E's ULPs, discriminatees agreed to become equal partners with stock ownership in new E sided corporation held violative, since agreement interfered with application of Bd's remedies, which are provided as public right)

2840-6000 After Administrative Law Judge decision

Kerasotes Rialto Theatre Corporation JD-428-82
(after ALJ issued decision dismissing C and exceptions filed with Bd, Bd granted joint mtn, by Respondent and GC, requesting case be remanded to RD for purposes of approval of bilateral settlement of ULP case)

2860 UNILATERAL SETTLEMENTS

2860-1400 Authority of General Counsel and Board to settle with less than all parties

Service and Hospital Employees International Union, Local 150, AFL-CIO (Watertown Health Care Centers, Inc., etc.) JD-589-80

2860-2800 Notice to nonconsenting party

2860-2850 Failure to respond

Indiana Broadcasting Corporation DS-1571-81 (12/29/81)
(Stipulation for Entry of Board Order approved by Bd notwithstanding that charging party did not execute Stipulation nor was GC signatory to it, since charging party did not submit objections to settlement and GC advised Bd it did not object to stipulation)

2860-4900 Opportunity to inspect investigatory file

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, Local Union No. 420 DS-1364-80
(charging party's objections to settlement stipulation clause making stipulation inadmissible in ct as admission against respondent, overruled and stipulation approved; Bd rejected contentions that (1) clause could rule out possibility of contempt citation in ct of appeals; (2) clause could seriously burden charging party's collateral rights under Act's Sec. 303 by preventing it from introducing into evidence Bd's administrative action; and (3) limitations in clause upon charging party's rightto use stipulation would deprive it of due process of law; see also DS-1366-80)

2860-7000 Consideration of objections

2860-7037 By Administrative Law Judge

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 267 NLRB No. 008
(ALJ refused to approve settlement of charges alleging operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner, notwithstanding institution of new hiring hall procedures and referral system subsequent to issuance of complaint, since discontinuance of ULP does not dissipate its effect and obviate need for remedial order; further, alleged discriminatees not offered anything to make them whole for losses they may have suffered due to U's failure to refer them)

2860-8400 Basis of objections

2860-8410 Other type of proceedings more appropriate

2860-8410-5000 Hearing

Service and Hospital Employees International Union, Local 150, AFL-CIO (Watertown Health Care Centers, Inc., etc.) JD-589-80
(charging party's request that proceeding be litigated rejected where settlement agreement fully remedied allegations of complaint; nor does desire to assure res judicata justify litigation)

Interstate Truck Service DS-1454-80
(where parties had negotiated both informal settlement agreement and formal settlement stipulation and had agreed that in event of respondent's noncompliance with terms of settlement agreement, such agreement would be set aside and settlement stipulation activated, ALJ denied respondent's request for hearing on issue of compliance, since parties had agreed that compliance was matter to be determined by RD and had made no provision for a hearing)

Wilkes-Barre Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, Local 137 DS1449-80
(E's objections to settlement stipulation on grounds that: (1) it failed to specify that Ee participants in strike were not protected by act because strike was unlawful; (2) stipulation included nonadmission clause; and (3) broader distribution of notice provisions would have been more appropriate than remedy provided; held w/o merit, since remedial provisions of stipulation provided substantially all relief that would have been attained if matter was litigated successfully and complaint did not allege strike to be ULP strike, therefore settlement does not address issue of lawfulness of strike)

Racine Building and Construction Trades Council (A.R.S. Builders, Inc.) DS-1363-80 (06/01/80)
(Settlement Stipulation containing limited nonadmission clause insisted upon by respondent approved by Bd since such clauses constitute consideration for settlement; charging party protected because admissions adequate to secure ct order enforcing Bd order and Bd need not hold hearing so that charging party would be able to rely on Bd's factual finding in Sec. 303 suit)

United Mine Workers of America DS-1311-80 (02/04/80)
(objection to Stipulation because pattern of unlawful conduct could only be interdicted by litigating cases before ALJ, Bd and cts, and U's unlawful conduct such that it requires specific remedial relief found w/o merit where Settlement remedies all ULP charges in C and in event U does not comply Bd is empowered to seek contempt in circuit ct)

2860-8410-6700 Contempt

District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America DS-1684-82 (09/10/82)
(settlement stipulation containing nonadmissions clause approved where contempt order is outstanding against Respondent and thus any secondary conduct constituting violation by Respondent will result in appropriate punishment; additionally Settlement Stipulation provides for new court consent judgment that will broaden previous prohibitions; moreover, Charging Party's request that Settlement Stipulation be rejected because it does not prohibit all picketing is denied as such prohibition would likely be unconstitutional as well as in conflict with other provisions of Act)

Lodge 34, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO DS-1606-81 (03/02/82)
(objection that stipulation should include accompanying consent or waiver to contempt adjudication and schedule of fines rejected since, in event there is noncompliance with ct judgment in future, appropriate action will be taken with respect to contempt proceedings; further, contempt adjudication which has now been entered by ct is broad enough to encompass type of conduct subject to instant settlement)

2860-8420 Remedy provisions insufficient

Knights Building Materials, Inc. DS-1632-82 (04/28/82)
(settlement stipulation approved by Bd did not require Respondent to execute last collective bargaining agreement allegedly negotiated by parties, where it fully remedied ULP's alleged in complaint; moreover, there was no finalized collective-bargaining agreement and Respondent's representative had limited bargaining authority)

2860-8420-1700 Notice provisions inadequate

Western Conference of Teamsters DS-1661-82 (09/16/82)
(objection that notice-posting provision was inadequate because not all those who had been affected by illegal picketing would receive copy of notice w/o merit since this was standard notice-posting remedy and would ensure that most, if not all, of those affected by E's conduct would receive notice that E was committed not to engage in prohibited Sec. 8(b)(7)(c) conduct)

District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America (Marrowbone Development Company) DS-1680-82 (09/10/82)
(objection to notice posting provision held w/o merit, since requirement that respondent post at its business offices, U halls, and the business offices and U halls of its constituent local Us, and all places where notices are customarily posted is sufficiently broad to ensure that members and Ees are informed of notice's content)

Automobile Workers, (UAW), AFL-CIO and Its Local No. 1712 (Sun Electric Corp) DS-1631-82 (06/03/82)
(objection to stipulation on ground that it did not provide for publication of Notice to Ees and Members in local newspaper of general circulation, rejected since there was no indication of dispersed groups of Ees who could not be reached through normal posting procedures)

Wilkes-Barre Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, Local 137 DS1449-80
(E's objections to settlement stipulation on grounds that: (1) it failed to specify that Ee participants in strike were not protected by act because strike was unlawful; (2) stipulation included nonadmission clause; and (3) broader distribution of notice provisions would have been more appropriate than remedy provided; held w/o merit, since remedial provisions of stipulation provided substantially all relief that would have been attained if matter was litigated successfully and complaint did not allege strike to be ULP strike, therefore settlement does not address issue of lawfulness of strike)

West Coast Industrial Relations Association, Inc., N.C. DS-1434-80
(objections that settlement stipulation (1) did not name individual Ees subject to c/d order, (2) did not require Notice to be posted at E's clients' facilities but permitted posting at 1 client's facility, (3) included nonadmission clause and (4) did not require U pay legal costs and fees incurred by Bd and E, held w/o merit, since settlement applied to all Ees of E, E's clients not subject to c/d order, nonadmission clause, alone, no basis for disapproving settlement; since case not litigated but settled, Settlement Stipulation adequately remedies alleged ULPs w/o assessing costs and fees to U)

Wilkes-Barre Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, Local 137 (Wilkes-Barre Publishing Company) DS-1309-80 (01/24/80)
(notice posting requirement which called for posting at Respondents business offices, meeting halls and other places where notices to members are customarily posted and posting at company's facility, if it is willing, constitutes adequate notice of settlement)

2860-8420-3700 Trust funds

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1538-81 (09/25/81)
(settlement stipulation's failure to provide for liquidated damages in delinquent trust fund payments and interest, not objectionable where Stipulation provided for 100% repayment of monies owed)

2860-8420-6200 Order provisions inadequate

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. 005
(ALJ refused to approve settlement of charges alleging operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner, notwithstanding institution of new hiring hall procedures and referral system subsequent to issuance of complaint, since discontinuance of ULP does not dissipate its effect and obviate need for remedial order; further, alleged discriminatees not offered anything to make them whole for losses they may have suffered due to U's failure to refer them)

Atlantic, Cape May, etc., Building Trades Council, et al. (Altamonte Construction Company) DS-1413-80
(objection to stipulation that although Us were permitted to picket unlawfully over 3-1/2 months prior to settlement, they will suffer no detriment held w/o merit; statute does not provide for punitive measures against respondents and purpose of Bd remedies is to resolve the status quo ante; see also DS-1414 and DS-1415)

Local Union No. 542, Operating Engineers (Ritter Bros., Inc.) DS-1672 (02/11/83)
(broad order not required in view of lack of sufficient recent history of ULPs by E to indicate proclivity to violate Act)

Western Conference of Teamsters DS-1661-82 (09/16/82)
(objection that c/d order was insufficient because it failed to spell out in more detail than statutory language what it was that U must not do w/o merit since order was drafted in form always used by Bd where it concluded that Sec. 8(b)(7)(c) has been violated)

Western Conference of Teamsters DS-1661-82 (09/16/82)
(objection that stipulation represented savings of further litigation only if U voluntarily behaved itself, and that if U violated order, contempt proceedings might be necessitated w/o merit where in stipulation U agreed to consent judgment before any appropriate Circuit Court of Appeals)

Automobile Workers, (UAW), AFL-CIO and Its Local No. 1712 (Sun Electric Corp) DS-1631-82 (06/03/82)
(objection to stipulation on ground that there was no provision requiring Us to provide financial compensation for property damage allegedly caused by them, rejected since monetary damages for loss of personal property is not appropriate remedy to seek through administrative proceeding)

Local Union 2398, United Mine Workers of America (Pyramid Mining, Inc.) DS-1690 (03/08/82)
(objection to stipulation on grounds that Order and Notice is not directed to members of Us, rejected, since Order and Notice to Us' officers, agents and representatives, rather than to its members, comports with standard Bd procedures)

Lodge 34, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO DS-1606-81 (03/02/82)
(objection that scope of stipulation should be co-extensive with 10(j) injunction in that it should extend to U members, strikers and all other persons acting in concert or participation with U, rejected since it is not w/i scope of Sec. 8(b) for Bd order to extend to individual U members except as they act as agents of U; however, it judgment enforcing Bd order will extend also to those who, with notice, are in active concert and participation with U)

Plumbers, Local Union No. 525 (B. P. Williams Company Plumbing and Heating) DS-1463-81
(objections to stipulation on grounds that E repeatedly violated secondary boycott provision of Act and delayed settling, rejected, where stipulation fully remedies allegations in consolidated complaints, providing as it does for entry of formal Bd order and consent ct judgment)

West Coast Industrial Relations Association, Inc., N.C. DS-1434-80
(objections that settlement stipulation (1) did not name individual Ees subject to c/d order, (2) did not require Notice to be posted at E's clients' facilities but permitted posting at 1 client's facility, (3) included nonadmission clause and (4) did not require U pay legal costs and fees incurred by Bd and E, held w/o merit, since settlement applied to all Ees of E, E's clients not subject to c/d order, nonadmission clause, alone, no basis for disapproving settlement; since case not litigated but settled, Settlement Stipulation adequately remedies alleged ULPs w/o assessing costs and fees to U)

Local 598, Plumbers (Guy F. Atkinson Company, etc.) DS-1426-80
(objections to settlement stipulation, that (1) order did not require respondent to c/d ULPs against other persons, (2) work in dispute described too narrowly, and (3) settlement contained nonadmission clause, dismissed where GC advised party that his review of stipulation revealed that it provided full and complete remedy for ULPs alleged; inclusion of nonadmission clause not valid basis for objection where settlement effectuated purposes of Act)

Teamsters Joint Council No. 39 of The IBT, et al., (Lake Line Express, Inc.) DS-1374-80
(objections that: c/d language vague, Settlement Stipulation admissions inadequate to protect charging party, posting period too short, no need for consent decree, failure to receive notice to members, failure to include other E in notice, no requirement to mail notices to stewards of Es involved, denial of hearing at which objections could be litigated overruled where admissions sufficient to secure ct judgment enforcing Bd's order, 60 day posting period adequate, second notice mailed to members, E not included in order not named in C, posting sufficient, no hearing provided at this point in procedure)

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, et al. DS-1320-80 (02/01/80)
(where Bd approved Settlement Stipulation, no merit was found in individual Ee's argument that provision in Notice concerning status of local's contract will give other Ees impression that Bd approved U contract)

Wilkes-Barre Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, Local 137 (Wilkes-Barre Publishing Company) DS-1309-80 (01/24/80)
(stipulation fully remedies allegation of complaint where it provides for entry of formal Bd order and consent court judgment)

2860-8420-6700 Reinstitute operation

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(where ALJ approved settlement agreement which did not require E who had violatively transferred work to another plant to resume operations, Bd reversed ALJ's approval in light of fact that no evidence that such resumption would endanger E's economic viability)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(settlement agreement which did not require E to resume its original operation at plant not approved by Bd where replacement operation only provided Ees with seasonal work and was thus not substantially equivalent)

2860-8420-7400 Cessation of picketing

Local Union NO. 2271, UNited Mine Workers of America (Elk Run Coal Company, Inc.) DS-1635-82 (09/10/82)
(request that settlement stipulation should be rejected because it does not prohibit all picketing not persuasive, since such prohibition would in all likelihood be unconstitutional, as well as in conflict with other sections of Act)

Lodge 34, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO DS-1606-81 (03/02/82)
(objection that stipulation should extend its prohibitions to include, in all cases, locations near or away from picket line rejected, since allegations in complaint which occurred away from picket line are approximately treated in Bd order in that those specific prohibitions extend to locations away from picket line; further, broad c/d provision proscribes all further restraint or coercion at, or away from, picket line)

Knitgoods Workers' Union, Local 155, International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, AFL-CIO DS-1453-80
(objection that stipulation does not provide for cessation of picketing and organizing activities of U held w/o merit, since stipulation fully remedies allegations of complaint providing as it does for formal Bd order and consent ct judgment)

2860-8420-8200 Continuing misconduct

Atlantic, Cape May, etc., Building Trades Council, et al. (Altemose Construction Company) DS-1413-80
(objection that settlement stipulation legitimizes respondent Us picketing after 10-day hiatus held w/o merit; Us have right to conduct lawful area standards picketing and purpose of hiatus was to provide clear break between respondents' prior unlawful picketing and commencement of any new and lawful picketing that might occur; see also DS-1414 and DS-1415)

Lodge 34, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO DS-1606-81 (03/02/82)
(objection to stipulation that by making no reference to numerous violations since date of amended complaint, stipulation has essentially ignored and left unremedied those violations, rejected since, to hold that complaint must always be amended where there is evidence of continuing unlawful conduct would unnecessarily delay entry of Bd order and ct judgment where, as in instant case, order and judgment are broad enough to provide complete remedy for alleged unlawful conduct)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 4-P, AFL-CIO (Sunstar Foods, Inc.) DS-1532-81 (09/04/81)
(no evidence had been presented to Region of any continuing picket line misconduct in violation of stipulation that could be attributed to U; after entry of court judgment, further picket line misconduct, attributable to U, would be subject to contempt proceeding)

Produce, Refrigerated & Processed Foods and Industrial Workers, Local No. 630, Teamsters (Delco Produce, Inc.) DS-1411-80
(absence of limitation on number of U's representatives entering E's premises does not preclude approval of settlement stipulation which provides for Bd order prohibiting unlawful secondary picketing and entry of ct judgment enforcing Bd order subjecting U to contempt proceeding for any unlawful secondary conduct violative of ct's judgment)

2860-8440 Backpay provisions

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. [illegible]
(ALJ refused to approve settlement of charges alleging operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner, notwithstanding institution of new hiring hall procedures and referral system subsequent to issuance of complaint, since discontinuance of ULP does not dissipate its effect and obviate need for remedial order; further, alleged discriminatees not offered anything to make them whole for losses they may have suffered due to U's failure to refer them)

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1530-81 (09/28/81)
(where Stipulation provided only 80% backpay to discriminatees, and no backpay to Ees not referred because of E's failure to use U hiring hall, not objectionable, since remedy was in accord with Bd remedies in negotiated settlements and provided for substantial settlement which clearly effectuates purposes of Act)

Local Lodge No. 39, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of the United States and Canada (Evans Railcar Division of Evans Products Company) DS-1480-80
(failure to include backpay remedy upheld where Ees committed violent acts on picket line)

Ramona A. Drobena, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8)
(where parties stipulated that U had violated 8(b)(1)(A), ct found no abuse of agency discretion when Bd, in accordance with its long-standing policy, entered consent cease-and-desist order against U but did not require U to pay backpay to individual Ees who lost work on account of U's unlawful practices)

2860-8445 Litigation expenses

Western Conference of Teamsters DS-1661-82 (09/16/82)
(objection that stipulation did not provide for attorney's fees as remedy w/o merit since, by settling, charging party would eliminate need to incur further costs with respect to proceedings following issuance of ALJ's decision)

(objections that settlement stipulation (1) did not name individual Ees subject to c/d order, (2) did not require Notice to be posted at E's clients' facilities but permitted posting at 1 client's facility, (3) included nonadmission clause and (4) did not require U pay legal costs and fees incurred by Bd and E, held w/o merit, since settlement applied to all Ees of E, E's clients not subject to c/d order, nonadmission clause, alone, no basis for disapproving settlement; since case not litigated but settled, Settlement Stipulation adequately remedies alleged ULPs w/o assessing costs and fees to U)

2860-8450 Other charges pending

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, et al. DS-1320-80 (02/08/80)
(contention that settlement of allegations inappropriate because of close relation between violation covered in settlement and alleged violation in another case before Bd involving Ee rejected)

2860-8460 Nonadmissions clause

Electrical Workers, Local Union 340 (Rex Moore Electrical Company) DS-1665 (82/10/20)
(objection to stipulation on ground that it contains nonadmission clause, rejected; fact that nonadmission clause negates res judicata effects of settlement stipulation is immaterial. Bd only concerned with enforcing Act in present ULP and not with perfecting or preserving any collateral actions parties may have. Moreover, it provides sufficient deterrent for future unlawful conduct as Respondent would be subject to possible contempt citation)

Automobile Workers, (UAW), AFL-CIO and Its Local No. 1712 (Sun Electric Corp) DS-1631-82 (05/03/82)
(objection to stipulation on ground that it contained nonadmission clause, rejected; stipulation effectuated policies of Act since remedy provided for was identical to that which would be achieved through successful litigation)

St. Paul Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO; and Twin City Carpenters District Council, AFL-CIO, and Carpenters Local No. 87, AFL-CIO DS-1521-81 (07/14/81)
(inclusion of nonadmission clause was not valid basis for objection and rejecting settlement stipulation where settlement effectuated policies of Act)

Local Union No. 892, Teamsters (Hudson Riverside Realty Associates, Inc.) DS-1488-81 03/30/81
(objection that stipulation contains non-admission clause and therefore is not proof that respondent had engaged in egregious conduct w/o merit; purposes of NLRA, as amended, are remedial and not punitive and it would be contrary to statutory purpose and unnecessary waste of government resources to litigate matter solely for establishing proof of guilt on part of respondent)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation DS-1456-80
(inclusion of nonadmission does not preclude approval of settlement which effectuates policies of Act)

Laborers' International Union of North America, Local Union No. 1184, AFL-CIO DS-1388-80

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, AFL-CIO DS-1367-80 (06/01/80)
(charging party's objection to broad nonadmission clause because clause might preclude contempt citation in ct of appeal or jeopardize possibility of Section 303 suit, rejected, since contempt not precluded if warranted and Federal Rules of Evidence precludes use of settlement stipulation to establish Respondent's liability; further, substantial remedy provided outweighed possible detriment that language might prevent introduction of Settlement Stipulation for purposes permissible under Federal Rules)

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1538-81 (09/25/81)
(use of words actually employed in Settlement Stipulation did not preclude finding in compliance stage that persons performing unit work were Ees and not independent contractors)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 4-P, AFL-CIO (Sunstar Foods, Inc.) DS-1532-81 (09/04/81)
(Bd does not require that stipulation contain specific findings of fact of every factual allegation in complaint in order to have complete and effective settlement)

Racine Building and Construction Trades Council (A.R.S. Builders, Inc.) DS-1363-80 (04/01/80)
(Settlement Stipulation containing limited nonadmission clause insisted upon by respondent approved by Bd since such clauses constitute consideration for settlement; charging party protected because admissions adequate to secure ct order enforcing Bd order and Bd need not hold hearing so that charging party would be able to rely on Bd's factual finding in Sec. 303 suit)

2860-8480 Court decision

Atlantic, Cape May, etc., Building Trades Council, et al. (Altemose Construction Company) DS-1413-80
(objection that settlement stipulation did not provide for immediate ct enforcement and the underlying violations are excluded from consideration in contempt proceedings of priviously enforced Bd orders held w/o merit; insistence upon inclusion of provisions for entry of ct judgments unwarranted because none of the three respondents have prior history of 8(b)(4)(B) conduct; as to allegations of 8(b)(1)(A) conduct, while there is history of such conduct by two locals, sufficiently borad judgments have been obtained against them in other proceedings; see also DS-1414 and DS-1415)

2860-8485 Prejudice to rights in court litigation

Electrical Workers, Local Union 340 (Rex Moore . Electrical Company) DS-1665 (82/10/20)

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1538-81 (09/25/81)
(objection to precluding use of Stipulation in State Court proceedings w/o merit, since Bd may only be concerned with enforcing Act and not with perfecting or preserving any collateral actions parties may have in other forums)

Memphis Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO DS-1423-80
(Bd approved Stipulation notwithstanding charging party's objection that provision in Stipulation that ...neither this Stipulation nor its contents shall be used or referred to in any other legal proceeding or action could prejudice its rights in current litigation against Respondent in Federal Ct; Bd was satisfied that Stipulation remedies fully allegations of complaint providing as it does for entry of Bd order and Ct judgment)

2880 SETTING ASIDE OF SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 17
(E's objection to Ee's testimony about E's statements to make it better fo Ees, on ground that informal settlement agreement had been entered into with RD and, while subsequently settlement was disaffirmed, all complaint and charges had been satisfactorily settled by RD and there was no authority to reopen events, overruled, since Bd has consistently followed SC precedent and has held that commission of post settlement ULPs authorize RD to set aside earlier agreement and to seek remedial order directed both to presettlement and post settlement conduct)

2880-6700 Basis for setting aside

Local 3489, Steelworkers (Stran Steel Corporation, a Division of National Steel Corporation) 253 NLRB No. 12
(mtn to set aside settlement agreement on procedural grounds that U local and international did not file answers to notice to show cause why settlement agreement should not be vacated, denied, as such mechanical rule sacrifice exercise of sound judgment based upon all circumstances)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 061
(setting aside of settlement agreement not warranted assertedly because E's attorneys and RD engaged in misconduct on ground that E was not aware that agreement signed by him did not include disposition of perjury allegations against him arising in proceeding herein; perjury charges were never represented by RD to have been disposed of in settlement agreement, and E was fully aware and properly advised as to all terms of settlement, and E specifically knew that settlement did not encompass perjury allegations but did resolve all ULP charges and possible Sec. 12 violations in connection with interference with Bd proceedings)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 061
(setting aside of settlement agreement not warranted on grounds that E and Bd were operating under mutual mistake of fact as to material element of agreement where, although E may have been misinformed by its counsel a to RD's suggestion that, if E and U were to agree on contract, U might intercede with GC not to pursue perjury charges against E arising from his conduct in proceeding herein, it was not factor in E's decision to settle since U's intercession became academic when no contract was executed with U, of which E was aware when he signed settlement agreement)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 061
(setting aside of settlement agreement not warranted on ground that Bd ha failed to ensure that E was adequately and properly represented in settlement negotiations because Region was aware of conflict of interest between E and its attorney representing E in proceeding, and Region should have consulted directly with E instead of his attorney thereafter; E was in fact aware of whatever conflict may have existed but continued to employ attorney with full authority to represent him; and if RD had dealt directly with E he would have violated strictures of Canons of Professional Ethics and Bd policy)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 061
(setting aside of settlement agreement not warranted on ground that RD, in violation of Bd's Case Handling Manual, failed to report to GC possibility of Sec. 12 violation involving E's conduct in proceeding herein; even assuming Manual directed RD to report incident in question, failure to do so did not, ipso facto, invalidate agreement, nor did public policy require such result, since RD's failure to report was totally unrelated to only issue involved herein involving question whether alleged misconduct existed when settlement agreement was executed, and failure to notify GC played no part in E's decision to execute)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc./Bignotti, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 15
(approval of informal settlement agreement withdrawn and hearing resumed where ALJ found that there was no meeting of the minds among parties to settlement agreement concerning challenged ballots)

467 East Gilbert Street Corporation d/b/a Medical Center Convalescent Hospital 247 NLRB No. 07
(Bd rejected proposed settlement between E, U, and Ee since it did not include, inter alia, an offer of reinstatement to discriminatee)

2880-6720 Side notices

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040
(where E posted side notice along with settlement agreement, agreement not set aside where E also took significant remedial actions in compliance with agreement)

2880-6750 Postsettlement conduct breaching agreement necessary

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(RD setting aside informal settlement agreement warranted in view of E's subsequent ULPs including denial of representation at disciplinary interview and threat)

Local 3489, Steelworkers (Stran Steel Corporation, a Division of National Steel Corporation) 263 NLRB No. 129
(litigation of allegations of violations held barred by settlement agreement which was not violated by any action of local U. If any breach of agreement occurred, it was done by International which was not party to settlement agreement)

Local 3489, Steelworkers (Stran Steel Corporation, a Division of National Steel Corporation) 263 NLRB No. 129
(statements by various officials of local that member could not run for U office held not threat of reprisal or promise of benefit but lawful expressions of opinion; hence, no repudiation of settlement agreement where only international had power to determine his eligibility and it was not party to settlement agreement)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(no violation where ULP was remedied by informal settlement agreement entered into in prior case covering same time period as instant case involving same E but different charging party and unit; RD had never set aside this settlement agreement; E had fully remedied ULP regarding invalid no-solicitation; no-distribution rules and it would not effectuate policies of act to find violation in this regard in instant case)

Eaton Corporation 262 NLRB No. 018
(settlement agreement reinstated, since RD's action in vacating settlement held groundless)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(E's assistance to shop and safety committee outside 10(b) period which was subject of earlier charge held unlawful in view of breach of settlement agreement where E w/i 10(b) period continued to unlawfully assist and bargain with committee)

St. Rita's Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 067
(Settlement Agreement reinstated and C dismissed insofar as it alleged postsettlement violations which were dismissed)

Ivan-Ivan and Foodarama, Inc. d/b/a Foodarama 260 NLRB No. 046
(may only be set aside where independent evidence of subsequent or continuing ULP, and ULP must be substantial. E's statement to Ee which gave expression of unlawful surveillance does not warrant setting aside as ULP not substantial)

Cambridge Contracting, Inc. and Cambridge Chemical Corp. 259 NLRB No. 184
(settlement agreement set aside after filing of ULP charge reinstated after determination that E did not breach settlement agreement or engage in any new ULP's)

Chasen Brothers, Inc., d/b/a Ann's-Schneider Bakery 259 NLRB No. 162
(where RD set aside settlement agreement based on ULP allegations agreement reinstated after Bd found no evidence of ULP's)

Research Products/Blankenship Company 256 NLRB No. 063
(RD's determination that settlement agreement be set aside was amply supported where E continued to breach its bargaining obligation subsequent to date of settlement agreement by committing further similar and related ULPs)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 084

Vere Cinema Corp. 254 NLRB No. 167
(settlement agreement may not be set aside unless subsequent violations establishing failure to comply with its terms are proven; moreover, presettlement agreement misconduct may be used to prove E's motive or object in its postsettlement activities; here agreement set aside due to E's unlawful refusal to bargain)

Roadway Express, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 026
(when U announced it would not comply with settlement agreement, RD exceeded its authority by setting aside agreement and issuing notice of hearing based on presettlement conduct since charged party fully complied with settlement agreement and has committed no further ULPs)

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040
(reinstatement of settlement agreement which was set aside by GC after E allegedly refused to bargain and committed other ULPs, proper where ALJ found E had engaged in hard bargaining and subsequent violations differed greatly from those which occurred prior to settlement agreement and E was in substantial compliance with settlement agreement)

Retail Store Employees Union Local 214, Affiliated With United Food & Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO & CLC (Pick-N-Save Warehouse Foods, Inc.) 252 NLRB No. 086
(picketing to force E to recognize U, unlawful, where picketing commenced on two occasions w/i 12 months after valid 9(c) election; settlement agreement reached after first period of picketing set aside and Bd may reach earlier picketing which was subject matter of settlement agreement)

Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 125
(setting aside settlement agreement appropriate where E engaged in postsettlement violations of the Act)

U. S. Reduction Company JD-(ATL)-13-82
(settlement agreement set aside where E by its actions breached spirit of settlement agreement as well as letter of its specific obligations therein)

Teamsters Local No. 600, a/w Teamsters (Poplar Bluff Express) JD-226-82
(RD's vacating and setting aside settlement agreement proper where U continued unlawful picketing after settlement agreement was approved)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(no basis for setting aside settlement agreement in first of 2 consolidated cases brought by same charging party where allegations in second of 2 consolidated cases were found to be w/o merit; thus, no postsettlement conduct to serve as basis for setting aside settlement and settlement agreement reinstated)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(in considering whether any postsettlement conduct is sufficient to warrant setting settlement aside, can consider presettlement conduct only as background evidence or indicator of credibility in appraising E's motives and objectives)

Willard A. Selle, Inc. d/b/a Selle Insulation Company JD-528-81
(setting aside of settlement agreement inappropriate since no violation of agreement where E made proposal marked final insisting on industrial terms which would permit it to use skilled insulators in variety of non-insulation jobs when need arose as it had during illegal strike of U journeymen, in view of fact E had adopted different method of operation during illegal strike and proposals were to allow it to continue operating in same manner)

Penn, Inc.; J. Penn Inc.; and Riverside Warehouse, Inc. JD-441-81
(failed to comply with requirements of agreement)

Russell Handy, d/b/a Handy Service Lines JD-721-81
(RD properly withdrew approval of settlement agreement where Respondent failed to comply with posting requirements of agreement and committed ULPs during period covered by agreement)

Building 76 Auto/Truck Plaza JD-(SF)-15-81
(informal settlement agreement reinstated after ALJ's decision to uphold discharge of same individual who was subject of this earlier settlement agreement covering her unlawful constructive discharge; however, both GC and E precluded from litigating constructive discharge underlying settlement agreement and has not yet breached any of its terms)

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(RD properly set aside settlement agreement which called for reinstatement of ski patrol member to former or substantially equivalent position where Ee was reinstated to job handling sewage disposal)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-273-79
(settlement reinstated where complaint alleged conduct that occured before and after settlement agreement, and though all allegations fully litigated, finding of no violations relatinng to post settlement allegations established that E had fully complied with settlement agreement)

Seale Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(RD's revocation of informal settlement agreements, in view of subsequent ULPs, not abuse of discretion)

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, CLC v. Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 516 F.Supp. 1070 (D Ct AL, June 1981)
(RD may set aside settlement agreement and reinstate ULP charges when terms of agreement have been breached)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2385-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)
(Bd order granting mtn to set aside on-th-record settlement agreements and consolidating settled cases with another pending C case held unlawful, since settlement agreements had been consumated and conditions thereof performed and accomplished; action was abuse of Bd's powers and denial of petitioner's constitutional rights)

2880-6775 Coercion

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(veiled threat concerning Ee's intra-U activity which was also subject of settlement agreement)

2880-6787 Failure to restore status quo

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC, On Behalf of Its Local Union No. 15167 (Memphis Folding Stairs, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 068

(setting aside settlement agreement proper where U failed to pay backpay as provided)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123

Andrews Security Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-14-82

(after mtn of E's attorney, to withdraw from case on ground that E was defunct and insolvent was granted, and E presented no defense in reopened hearing, GC's mtn to set aside settlement agreement for noncompliance was granted)

2880-7500 Effect on stipulation contained in agreement

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(ct held that E which had breached settlement agreement could not complain about stipulation of Bd's jurisdiction over E not being set aside when settlement agreement was dissolved; stipulation was freely entered into, never withdrawn, and still part of record in underlying ULP case; moreover E's accountant's testimony on E's gross receipts supported finding of jurisdiction)

3200 COMPLAINT

3201 GENERALLY

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring it had reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully was not final agency action, since issuance was not a definitive ruling or regulation and had no legal force or practical effect upon respondent's business other than disruptions that accompany any major litigation, and immediate judicial review would serve neither effeciency nor enforcement of FTC's enabling Act)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(respondent's contention that its mtn for dismissal of FTC C, averring that there was reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully, constituted administrative exhaustion, rejected; while respondent may well have exhausted its administrative remedy as to averment of reason to believe, FTC's refusal to reconsider issuance of C did not render C a definitive action constituting final agency action, since FTC's refusal did not augment C's legal force or practical effects upon respondent nor diminish concerns for efficiency and enforcement of FTC's enabling Act)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(issuance of C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully held not collateral order subject to review since issuance of C is a step toward, and will merge in, decision on merits; consequently, review of such preliminary step should abide review of final order)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(in holding that FTC's issuance of C averring there was reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully is not final agency action reviewable by ct before administrative adjudication concludes, ct was not encouraging issuance of Cs by FTC w/o conscientious compliance with reason to believe obligation in FTC's enabling Act, since adjudicatory proceedings following issuance of C may lost for months or years, result in substantial expense to respondent, and divert management personnel from their corporate duties)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

3201-5000 Purpose of complaint

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(C serves two purposes: to present clear and concise statement of facts upon which Bd's jurisdiction is predicated and to indicate clearly and concisely acts which are claimed to constitute ULPs)

3212 GENERAL COUNSEL AUTHORITY OVER COMPLAINT

3212-1700 Final authority under Section 3(d) for issuance

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(Section 10(b) of Act provides that no complaint should issue based upon ULP occuring more than 6 months prior to filing charge. This section, however, only relates to actual filing of charges and, once charge has been timely filed, control over and disposition of that charge is vested exclusively with GC pursuant to Section 3(d) of Act, who has decision to act on charge as he deems fit)

The Motor Convoy, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 175

(where first charge filed dismissed, GC issuance of second complaint on same issue based on newly discovered evidence proper absent abuse of discretion; contentions of res judicata rejected)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(contention that GC's authority and discretion in compliance matters is analogous to that granted him under Sec. 3(d) of Act with respect to issuance of complaints, and that, therefore, his action in compliance matters is also final, rejected, since in compliance matters GC does not act on his own initiative as he does in issuance of complaints but as Bd agent in effectuating remedy ordered)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)

(under APA Sec. 701(a) judicial review of GC's refusal to issue complaint, which would otherwise be available under APA Sec. 702, is precluded by Sec. 3(d) of Act; legislative history shows it was intent of Congress that GC's discretion as to issuance of complaints should ordinarily be checked by his political responsibility to President and Congress, not by judicial review, and therefore his final authority in most instances precludes judicial review of his decision regarding issuance of ULP complaint)

3212-1750 Refusal to issue within administrative discretion

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018

(matter alleged in charge but not alleged in complaint not considered as ULP issue since GC exercised his statutory authority to decline to issue complaint on matter which was clearly before him, and maintained that posture during hearing; however, conduct in question served as basis for objection to election which was sustained)

Laurie L. Abraham v. Graphic Arts International Union, AFL-CIO, CLC, et al. 592 F.2d 1189 (D Ct DC, 1980)

(C that GC failed to perform his official duty by refusing to issue ULP C against E dismissed since Sec. 3(d) of NLRA provided GC with unreviewable discretion to refuse to issue ULP C)

3212-2000 Consideration of untimely filed appeal is within discretion of General Counsel upon good cause shown Rule 102.19(a)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Bd's issuance of complaint based on Ee's charge, not abuse of discretion notwithstanding that previously RD had decided not to issue the complaint and Ee's appeal of RD's decision was untimely by two days; Ee's lawyer gave GC lawyer gave GC sufficient reasons for his unability to comply, with normal time for filing appeal)

3212-3300 Refusal to issue not reviewable by Board or courts

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 576, AFL-CIO 252 NLRB No. 196

(U not permitted to present evidence in proceeding alleging violation of Section 8(b)(7)(c) regarding possibility of alter ego, joint E, or successorship relationship between picketed E with which E had longstanding relationship, thus rendering picketing for continued rather than for initial recognition, where same theories had been rejected by GC in refusing to issue complaint in prior ULP case; final statutory authority to decide whether U should obtain hearing on its charges rests with GC; Bd will not act as forum that GC, for reasons satisfactory to himself has thought it proper to dismiss)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 354 (C.A. 4, July 1980)

(ct lacks jurisdiction over GC's decision to withdraw C and not prosecute further charge in C; controlling factor is that character of GC's decision is fundamentally prosecutorial and is not final order)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc.,
Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S.
Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)
(ct affirmed district ct's dismissal of action by E association for declaratory judgment and writ of mandamus against GC to declare unlawful GC's refusal to file requested complaint and to require him to file complaint; GC's refusal to issue complaint is ordinarily not reviewable by federal cts unless failure to act turns on mistake of law, and GC's opinion in instant case that state agency is not statutory E, and therefore proscriptions of Sec. 8(e) do not apply was not in excess of his statutorily delegated authority)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc.,
Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S.
Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)
(in dismissing action for declaratory judgment and writ of mandamus against GC to declare unlawful GC's refusal to file complaint and to require him to do so, ct held that, unless ct can ascertain that GC acted in excess of his statutorily delegated authority, ct has no jurisdiction to require him to issue complaint, and case dismissed for want of jurisdiction, since Act is not so clear that ct can say with reasonable certainty that GC exceeded his delegated authority in ruling that state agency was not statutory E)

United Food and Commercial Workers
International Union Local No. 576, AFL-CIO
v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 346 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)
(where Bd erred in applying Times Square doctrine by refusing to entertain U's defense based upon evidence that GC had previously considered in refusing to issue complaint, ct directed Bd to reopen 8(b)(7)(C) proceeding to hear evidence on U's defense that picketed E was in reality alter ego of, joint E with, or successor of another E with whom U had contract covering Ees in question; such action would not constitute interference by Bd with Gc's final authority under Sec. 3(d); moreover, charged party has right to full hearing on its defense)

3212-4100 Refusal to issue where charge allegations covered by outstanding Board order or court judgment

Accessory Controls and Equipment Corporation JD-590-81

3212-5800 Amendment of complaint may not be made by other parties

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(ALJ's granting Charging Party's mtn to amend C to allege unlawful failure to bargain regarding decision to close one of its plants in addition to allegation in C of failure to bargain regarding effects of plant closing, improper, where GC had resisted Charging Party's attempt to amend C at hearing and therefore issue not properly before ALJ, notwithstanding contention issue fully litigated at hearing and that GC cannot limit scope of judicial decision and where proof was admitted w/o objection)

3212-6700 Theory of case determined by General Counsel

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(Charging Party may not pursue contention in attempt to add allegations to complaint, which GC has refused to do)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v.
N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)
(Bd's refusal to decide either whether parties reached impasse on U's contract proposals, or whether there would be violation even if they did reach impasse not abuse of Bd's discretion, since GC did not include the issues in C and they were not fully litigated)

3212-8700 Reinstitution of charge after dismissal

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon &
Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006
(RD's dismissal of charge not res judicata)

3212-9100 Right to litigate allegations in face of settlement agreement

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 084
(settlement agreement disposed of all E's presettlement conduct notwithstanding some conduct was subject of charge filed after RD approved of settlement, since there were no reservations in settlement agreement or conduct not readily discoverable by GC; Ee's knowledge of conduct unknown to GC was imputed to GC, and all E's presettlement actions concerned interference with Ees' organizing, were sufficiently related to withstand Sec. 10(b) attack and not rendered undiscoverable by Bd's internal restrictions as contended; moreover allegedly discriminatory postsettlement conduct was inextricably linked with presettlement conduct)

L.B. Priester & Son, Inc. 282 NLRB No. 034
(where E had signed informal settlement agreement to pay 3 Ees backpay claims and later U filed charge against E alleging 8(a)(5) violations and conduct was found to constitute non compliance with settlement agreement, settlement agreement set aside, litigation of those violations covered by vacated settlement agreement proper, ALJ's finding of violation and remedy for all violations proper)

Redding 76 Auto/Truck Plaza JD-(SF)-15-81
(informal settlement agreement reinstated after ALJ's decision to uphold discharge of same individual who was subject of this earlier settlement agreement covering her unlawful constructive discharge; however, both GC and E precluded from litigating constructive discharge underlying settlement agreement and has not yet breached any of its terms)

3225 FORM AND CONTENT OF COMPLAINT

3225-0800 Scope of complaint

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(U's imposition of fine on supervisor-member held unlawful, notwithstanding imposition of fine not specifically alleged in C, where C did allege unlawful filing of internal disciplinary charges which is closely related to fine and thus fine falls w/i general language of complaint; further, matter fully litigated where U did not object to testimony regarding fine)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp.,
Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(although E discriminated against six temporaries, findings were limited to three Ees alleged, by GC in C to have been discriminated against)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82
(threatening to close plant is a very specific allegation and should be pleaded specifically and not as unspecified adverse action; pleading under such umbrella puts E under a burden and in an untenable position when it comes to preparing a defense)

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-86-81
(failure of successor E to pay benefits to Ees accrued under predecessor's contract and continue checkoff held violative notwithstanding they were not specifically stated in complaint, since complaint did allege that E refused to meet and bargain with U, violations were closely related to this allegation, and therefore fell w/i the general language of the complaint)

3225-3300 Particularity not required

Sherwood Ford, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 116
(E's mtn to dismiss C denied, notwithstanding contention that charge alleging violations by E of Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3) by not paying Ees holiday pay because they were not members of U was technically inadequate to support C alleging that E violated only Sec. 8(a)(1) by discharging Ee for protesting E's failure to pay holiday pay since C dealt with same events as charge and E made no contention of being misled either factually or legally by apparent differences between charge and C, mtn aimed only at technical adequacy of charge, and parties had full opportunity to litigate issues)

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon &
Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006

Pyromatics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 141
(E's mtn to dismiss complaint on ground that Ee's discharge was not specifically alleged as violation, denied; charge contained general 8(a)(1) allegation, and such charge is sufficient to support complaint alleging discharge of Ees in violation of Sec.8(a)(1); pleading of all the evidence in the charge is not required)

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-86-81
(failure of successor E to pay benefits to Ees accrued under predecessor's contract and continue checkoff held violative notwithstanding they were not specifically stated in complaint, since complaint did allege that E refused to meet and bargain with U, violations were closely related to this allegation, and therefore fell w/i the general language of the complaint)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v.
N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(C is not to be judged by rigid pleading rules; it is sufficient if E has notice of basis of charges against him; and absent a special showing of detriment, lack of specifics in C is tolerated)

3225-5000 Sufficient to inform respondent of nature of allegations

T.R.W. Bearings Division, A Division of T.R.W.,
Inc. 257 NLRB No. 047
(Bd did not conclude in instant proceeding that prohibitions against solicitation during working time contained in E's Ee handbook and posted notice were in violation of Sec. 8(a)(1), where violation was not alleged in complaint to be unlawful nor had E otherwise been put on notice that presumptive lawfulness of those prohibitions was to be challenged or otherwise litigated)

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(while record did not support finding that Ee filed C with federal agency involved in regulating Ee working conditions, for which Ee was assertedly suspended, C herein may be taken to have sufficient breadth to include theory that Ee was suspended not for filing C with agency, but rather for being Ees' representative while participating in agency's inspection of E's operations)

Gorman Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 284 NLRB No. 041
(E's contention that complaint should be dismissed since it was denied fundamental due process in absence of prior notification of testimony to be elicited or of accusations against U and in view of conclusionary nature of allegations in complaint, rejected, since bill of particulars which had been prepared and served pursuant to order of ALJ clarified issues and issues so clarified were fully litigated)

Boilermakers, Local Union No. 154 (Western Pennsylvania Service Contractors Association, etc.) 283 NLRB No. 098
(inclusion in make-whole order of all nonmember applicants for job referral as well as individual charging parties, proper where amended charge and consolidated complaint alleged that Ees who were not members of U and applicants for employment who were not members suffered discrimination, so that U was put on notice as to who were alleged to be discriminatees; further, nature of evidence adduced at hearing put U on notice of allegation that its referral system inherently favored members over nonmembers)

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 282 NLRB No. 062
(finding of violation proper, notwithstanding allegations of complaint that Respondents' threatened to picket jobsite inadequate to state violation since it might be presumed that Respondents' would engage in lawful picketing and were giving secondary E opportunity to restrict picketing by establishing gate for non-U contractor, as allegation of complaint sufficient to put Respondents' on notice that statements were in issue and threat was fully litigated)

N.L.R.B. v. Tenneco, Inc. 659 F.2d 124 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(E's contention that it was not sufficiently apprised of charge prior to hearing before Bd rejected where Bd correctly concluded that complaint clearly put company on notice that GC was alleging violation of Sec. 8(a)(1) under Weingarten)

Soft Drink Workers Union Local 812, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 1252 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(where U, engaged in consumer picketing at neutral retail store against sale of nonlocal soft drinks, had no conventional labor dispute with store or nonlocal suppliers, ct rejected U's contention that Bd was obligated to prove a labor dispute because GC's complaint had alleged such dispute; such erroneous allegation in no way prejudiced U, which had clear notice of essential charges against it and full opportunity to argue its position before Bd)

3225-8300 Augmenting allegations through motion for bill of particulars

Gorman Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 284 NLRB No. 041
(E's contention that complaint should be dismissed since it was denied fundamental due process in absence of prior notification of testimony to be elicited or of accusations against U and in view of conclusionary nature of allegations in complaint, rejected, since bill of particulars which had been prepared and served pursuant to order of ALJ clarified issues and issues so clarified were fully litigated)

3225-9000 Defective complaints

Flair Molded Plastics, Inc. 280 NLRB No. 017
(typographical error in C allegation which did not obscure sense or meaning of C does not prejudice Respondent and C valid)

3237 RELATIONSHIP TO CHARGE

3237-0100 Generally

Camay Drilling Company 284 NLRB No. 019
(where original charge alleged 12 individuals had been improperly denied reinstatement, amended charge listed only 3 of the 12, complaint alleged only 3 unlawful denials of reinstatement, violations will only be found for 3 named Ees)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention that it was denied due process by litigation of matters outside C, rejected, since actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements that govern private lawsuits; charge need not be technically precise as long as it generally informs charged party of nature of alleged violations; and where issue is fully and fairly litigated at administrative hearing, Bd may find ULP even though no specific charge is made in C)

3237-3300 Legally sufficient relationship between subject matter of charge and complaint only requirement

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Corporation) 282 NLRB No. 086

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 285 NLRB No. 170

Lexington Shipbuilding Company 249 NLRB No. 091
(mtn to strike allegation of unlawful interrogation, denied; evidence of interrogation was uncovered during Bd's investigation of charge that E discharged Ee for U organizing activity, and interrogation was closely related to charge where it was part of E's conduct during dischargee's organizing activity; moreover E responded to C and did not object to testimony on the subject)

Technicolor, Inc. JD-(SF)-37-81
(amended C alleging additional facts of discrimination against Ee not time-barred, since conduct alleged in amendment were acts of discrimination which occurred after filing of charge and statements concerning unlawful motivation for such acts)

Robert Bosch Corporation JD-220-81
(mtn to dismiss amendment to C granted where Section 8(a)(3) allegation in charge based on different factual allegations than those involved in new Section 8(a)(5) allegations and are not closely enough related to allow amendment)

Rock Hill Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 139 (C.A. 4, 1979)
(additional allegations sufficiently related to original timely charge and complaint)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(U's unspecific original charge (discharge of Ee and by other acts) followed by amended complaint specifically alleging E's anti-U pts and announcement of increased benefits legally sufficient to include E's ULPs)

3237-6700 Contents of charge do not limit scope of complaint

Sherwood Ford, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 126
(E's mtn to dismiss C denied, notwithstanding contention that charge alleging violations by E of Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3) by not paying Ees holiday pay because they were not members of U was technically inadequate to support C alleging that E violated only Sec. 8(a)(1) by discharging Ee for protesting E's failure to pay holiday pay since C dealt with same events as charge and E made no contention of being misled either factually or legally by apparent differences between charge and C, mtn aimed only at technical adequacy of charge, and parties had full opportunity to litigate issues)

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078
(charge is not formal pleading and it is not function of charge to apprise Respondent of exact nature of allegations against him. That is function of C. Its purpose is merely to set in motion Bd's investigatory machinery. Only limitation is that C may not issue on matters so completely outside...the charge that the Bd may be said to be initiating the proceeding on its own mtn.)

Storto Sons Construction Co., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 170
(any conduct which occurs during 6-month period prior to filing charge may form basis of ULP finding if complaint issuing based on charge alleges conduct to be ULP even though charge itself does not allege it to be ULP and here where charge alleged discrimination against members of U, discrimination against member of another U which occurred w/i 6-month period may be properly alleged in complaint)

High Energy Corporation JD-109-82
(where charge filed w/i 6 months of alleged violative discharges and all Ees named in complaint were discharged for engaging in 1 act of protected concerted activity, then fact that some discriminatees not named in original charge immaterial)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(U's unspecific original charge (discharge of Ee and by other acts) followed by amended complaint specifically alleging E's anti-U pts and announcement of increased benefits legally sufficient to include E's ULPs)

3250 VARIANCE BETWEEN COMPLAINT AND CHARGE, PROOF, OR FINDINGS

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(mtn to dismiss C on ground variance existed between charge and C in that charge did not allege refusal to contribute to U's health and welfare fund, denied, where 8(a)(5) allegation in charge broadly alleged refusal to bargain with U; Bd has continually held that such charge justifies more specific allegations similar to those made by GC herein)

3250—Cont.

Conroy Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(where original charge alleged 12 individuals had been improperly denied reinstatement, amended charge listed only 3 of the 12, complaint alleged only 3 unlawful denials of reinstatement violations will only be found for 3 named Ees)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031
(where charge and C alleged that Es unilaterally changed procedures for collecting c.o.d. payments by having salesmen replace delivery drivers, represented in another unit, in making collections, ALJ rejected Es' contention that C was barred under Sec. 10(b) on ground that change itself came about through bargaining regarding duties of drivers and that, since neither charge nor C alleged unlawful failure to bargain about effects of change upon working conditions of salesmen, there was a variance between allegations and proof which required dismissal of proceeding)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
withdrawal of objection to election did not preclude consideration of refusal to bargain allegation, or any conduct alleged in remaining objections which relates to it; pleadings fully apprised E of matters to be litigated and GC opened no new areas at hearing which were not covered by amended consolidated complaint, extant charges upon which it was based, and objections to be heard)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(APA and Bd's R/R require that C inform E of violations asserted; Bd may not make findings or order remedies not charged in C or litigated in subsequent hearing)

3250-3300 Complaint may allege ULP's not set forth in charge

Southwest Research Institute JD(SF)-276-79
(E's contention that issue of Ee questionaire was beyond jurisdiction of this tribunal rejected, since, notwithstanding absence of allegations in the charge concerning questionaire, such allegations were included in complaint, E's answer addressed itself to the issue, and E did not object to receipt of evidence regarding questionaire, but cross-examined GC's witnesses and called witnesses of its own, fully litigating issue)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention that it was denied due process by litigation of matters outside C, rejected, since actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements that govern private lawsuits; charge need not be technically precise as long as it generally informs charged party of nature of alleged violations; and where issue is fully and fairly litigated at administrative hearing, Bd may find ULP even though no specific charge is made in C)

3250-3333 If of similar nature

Wolf Street Supermarkets, Inc. d/b/a Jim's Big M; and Big M Supermarkets, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 150
(C alleged discrimination in hiring prior to January 11, and fact that E may have discriminated in hiring after that date was mentioned at hearing; two allegations are sufficiently related that if fully litigated second allegation could have been decided, however mere statement does not constitute full litigation)

Union Mining Company of Allegany County, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 052
(no denial of due process to respondent by amendment of complaint at start of second day of hearing to include allegation whose subject matter was reasonably related to that in original charge since it grew out of very proceedings initiated by charge, issue was fully litigated, and respondent had not requested continuance)

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054
(allegation added to C at trial by amendment after 10(b) period held time barred; relation-back doctrine, whereby allegations sufficiently related to matters in a timely charge may be added to C and considered timely, did not apply since allegation had been included in prior charge which was withdrawn)

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078
(charge is not formal pleading and it is not function of charge to apprise Respondent of exact nature of allegations against him. That is function of C. Its purpose is merely to set in motion Bd's investigatory machinery. Only limitation is that C may not issue on matters so completely outside...the charge that the Bd may be said to be initiating the proceeding on its own mtn.)

Randall E. Wheeler, Kevin E. Wheeler, and Edmund J. Wheeler, A General Partnership d/b/a Wheelco Co. 260 NLRB No. 109
(where complaint clearly describes conduct alleged to be ULP, GC's failure to allege which subsection of Act has been violated, or allegation of wrong subsection does not preclude Bd from considering and deciding issue, provided charged party was not misled and issue fully litigated)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(statements not specifically alleged in complaint to violate Act found sufficiently related to the subject matter of the complaint to justify a specific finding of a violation where other statements made during same conversation were alleged in complaint as violative of Act)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(GC's issuance of complaint alleging violations not specifically recited in charges proper where allegation was present in charge which was earlier withdrawn and charges on which C issued are sufficiently related to complaint)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(allegation that E solicited Ees to decertify U held not barred by 10(b), even though it was contained in amended charge filed more than 6 months after the events, since original charge was broad enough to encompass allegation, specifically in its catch-all language that by the above and other acts E violated Act inasmuch as allegation was sufficiently related to first charge to become part of complaint)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(even though matter of impasse was not specifically alleged in complaint, it was fully litigated and fell w/i general scope of refusal to bargain allegations of complaint)

Red Food Store 252 NLRB No. 023
(dismissal of allegations in complaint appropriate since there was fatal variance between charge and complaint where allegations relating to certain Ees were not part of controversy to which charge was addressed)

American Pistachio Corporation 249 NLRB No. 174
(no finding of violation where GC did not allege conduct in C, did not add it by amendment at trial, and did not make any allegation in C broad enough to encompass it; and respondent was not put on notice that conduct was in issue)

Charge Card Association 247 NLRB No. 119
(mtn to amend complaint denied where in prior related case that particular charge was withdrawn and moreover in instant case there is no conduct to support similar charge)

Technicolor, Inc. JD-(SF)-37-82
(amended C alleging additional facts of discrimination against Ee not time-barred, since conduct alleged in amendment were acts of discrimination which occurred after filing of charge and statements concerning unlawful motivation for such acts)

Robert Bosch Corporation JD-220-81
(mtn to dismiss amendment to C granted where Section 8(a)(3) allegation in charge based on different factual allegations than those involved in new Section 8(a)(5) allegations and are not closely enough related to allow amendment)

Eastern Maine Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(contention that amendment of complaint during hearing added allegation of violation by act which occurred more than six months before amendment and amendment was thus timebarred by 10(b), rejected, since nexus between amendment and original charge was not so attentuated as to make ALJ's allowing amendment abuse of discretion; act named in amendment occurred in midst of, and was of a piece with, acts alleged to be violative in original charge, and E was on notice, because of range of charges, that all its 10(b) period conduct would be investigated)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)
(E is not denied due process where complaint alleged 8(a)(3) violation and ALJ found 8(a)(1) violation for retaliation for engaging in protected concerted activity. Conduct alleged to be violative was the same and matter was fully litigated)

3250-3367 If within 10(b) period

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 139
(complaint amended at hearing to conform to evidence which changed date of alleged violation to 6 weeks earlier falls within 10(b) period notwithstanding allegation not specifically included in amended charge which was filed outside 10(b) period where substance of allegation of amended charge is sufficiently related to allegations in original charge)

Storis Sons Construction Co., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 173
(any conduct which occurs during 6-month period prior to filing charge may form basis of ULP finding if complaint issuing based on charge alleges conduct to be ULP even though charge itself does not allege it to be ULP and here where charge alleged discrimination against members of U, discrimination against member of another U which occurred w/i 6-month period may be properly alleged in complaint)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134
(ALJ found allegation of unlawful promulgation of rule in complaint not barred by 10(b) where it was not affirmatively shown to have been promulgated before 10(b) date and it was not substantially different from issue of unlawful maintenance of rule, was covered by general 8(a)(1) charge and fully litigated)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(Respondent's contention that amended complaint that issued as result of amended charge contained specifications beyond original charge and such specifications were issued after expiration of six month period for filing charges, rejected, since specifications in amended complaint clearly related to issues raised in GC's original complaint, nor did Respondent raise 10(b) issue in reply to complaint or at hearing)

Smithtown General Hospital JD-752-80

(amendment to C during hearing to allege 8(a)(2) violation allowed where amendment conformed to the evidence and U failed to show that admission of such evidence would prejudice his actions; Sec. 10(b) prohibition not applicable as 8(a)(2) allegation closely related to other alleged violations in charge and occurred w/i 6 months of filing charge; furthermore, dismissal of 8(b) charge not related to any Sec. 8(a)(2) allegations which can occur w/o any U involvement)

3250-6700 Cure of variance

Gehrich & Gehrich, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 073

(E cannot be found to have violated 8(a)(5) by unilaterally implementing wage increases exceeding E's preimpasse offers to U, where matter was not fully and fairly litigated since neither original nor amended complaint alleged such violation and GC raised issue for first time in post-hearing brief to ALJ)

Price's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123

(threat not specifically aleged in complaint but closely related to other allegations found violative)

3262 AMENDMENTS TO COMPLAINT

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149

(where E's refusal to reinstate ULP strikers was not alleged as violation in complaint or amended complaint and counsel for GC stated at beginning and end of hearing that only remedy sought was for other actions, ALJ erred in finding refusal unlawful and providing corresponding remedy, since E had no notice that this action was at issue, full record was not developed on the matter, and ALJ has authority to amend complaint only where GC seeks or consents to amendment or evidence on matter has been received into record w/o objection)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(GC's mtn to amend complaint, contained in his brief, to specifically allege interrogation of Ee during specified time period, denied, in view of manner of litigation of interrogation issue and, since matter has been fully litigated, it warrants a finding; and if it were necessary that matter be formally alleged, an order to show cause would be required; moreover, briefs should not be used as means of making motions)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(mtn for leave to amend C to allege additional ULPs, granted, notwithstanding E's contention that mtn should be denied because GC failed to present any evidence supporting amended allegation and because amendment at conclusion of all testimony was improper; E's brief neither claims that E would have offered additional evidence at hearing if C had included proposed amendment nor claims existence of any evidence, not already in record, which supports E's position on merits of proposed amendment; moreover, E's brief deals with proposed amendment on its merits)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(contrary to E's contention, it was proper for ALJ to allow amendment of complaint to include additional charge since E was given full and fair opportunity to rebut charge)

3262-3300 Time of amendment

3262-3325 Before hearing

R & S Transport, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 059

(ALJ allowed RD to amend C to add discriminatees who had previously filed charges which were dismissed by RD as time barred where valid charge on which C issued named certain discriminatees and others and thus was broad enough to support amended C)

Centre Engineering, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 028

(violation found though not alleged in complaint as complaint was amended prior to hearing, facts fully litigated at hearing and sufficiently related to subject matter of complaint)

3262-3350 During hearing

Union Mining Company of Allegany County, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 052

(no denial of due process to respondent by amendment of complaint at start of second day of hearing to include allegation whose subject matter was reasonably related to that in original charge since it grew out of very proceedings initiated by charge, issue was fully litigated, and respondent had not requested continuance)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 0

(mtn to amend complaint denied, where mtn made after all parties had rested case prior to close of hearing, notwithstanding E had stipulated to action alleged to be violative, since mtn not timely made, issue not fully litigated, and E was not appraised it would have to defend against allegations and asserted it would have to call additional witnesses to do so)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 1

(complaint amended at hearing to conform to evidence which changed date of alleged violation to 6 weeks earlier falls within 10(b) period notwithstanding allegation not specifically included in amended charge which was filed outside 10(b) period where substance of allegation of amended charge is sufficiently related to allegations in original charge)

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 1

(amendment of complaint at hearing to include Sec. 8(a)(2) proper where original complaint alleged Sec. 8(a)(5) violations and these are closely related to and occurred within 6 months of filing of charge and are supported by same record evidence)

Cobb Theatres, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 111

(amending complaint at hearing proper where allegations in amendment related back to matters set forth in original complaint)

Ingram Farms, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 137

(exception to mtn granted at hearing to amend complaint denied where allegated ULP took place 1 week before hearing and ALJ offered E additional time to prepare defense and it did not do so)

Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 0

(granting GC's mtn at hearing to amend complaint not improper since mtn was made early enough in hearing to obviate any possible surprise)

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116

(renewed mtn, in GC's brief, to amend C to reflect possible subsidiary relationship among 3 corporations providing trucking service, denied as untimely, where original mtn was made and denied at hearing when GC was preparing to rest; 2 of corporations did not appear and were not accorded procedural due process; counsel for GC was aware of facts approximately one week before hearing)

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 004

(amendment of complaint at hearing to allege maintenance of unlawful no-solicitation rule proper since amendment closely related to allegation in original complaint of maintenance of unlawful no-solicitation rule and issue was fully litigated)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 006

(mtn to amend complaint denied where E was not fully appraised of facts, trial was at end of second day when mtn was first made and subject would be merely cumulative)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151

(evidence adduced at hearing as to execution of contract between E and minority U and received before complaint was amended to show preferential treatment to U, admissable to show E animus to petitioner and as bearing on credibility of witness, E's president)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 0

(E's contention that by permitting GC to amend complaint allegation of discrimination after GC rested, E's representative was denied opportunity to confront and cross-examine alleged discriminatee on issue, rejected, where GC had intended to move to amend before resting and rested only to indicate that he would not call additional witnesses; and after motion to amend was granted, E was given opportunity to reopen his case and call alleged discriminatee but declined to do so)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028

(amendment of C to allege additional violation proper where sufficiently related to allegations in original C notwithstanding would otherwise be outside 10(b) period)

L.B.L., d/b/a China Night of Superior JD-373-82

(mtn to amend C alleging additional 8(a)(1) violations and 8(a)(3) discharge, denied where hearing had been scheduled for 9 months, no notice of intent to amend, E was unrepresented and was specifically advised that no such findings would be made, and proposed 8(a)(3) was so unrelated to allegations in charge or C as to be outside of 10(b))

Robert Bosch Corporation JD-220-81

(mtn to dismiss amendment to C granted where Section 8(a)(3) allegation in charge based on different factual allegations than those involved in new Section 8(a)(5) allegations and are not closely enough related to allow amendment)

Smithtown General Hospital JD-752-80

(amendment to C during hearing to allege 8(a)(2) violation allowed where amendment conformed to the evidence and U failed to show that admission of such evidence would prejudice his actions; Sec. 10(b) prohibition not applicable as 8(a)(2) allegation closely related to other alleged violations in charge and occurred w/i 6 months of filing charge; furthermore, dismissal of

8(b) charge not related to any Sec. 8(a)(2) allegations which can occur w/o any U involvement)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(amendment of complaint during hearing was within ALJ's discretion as it was related to same series of allegedly ULPs designed to keep company, found alter ego, herein nonunion)

Hadley Fruit Orchards, Inc. JD-(SF)-121-82
(mtn to amend C granted, where alleged violations which were added had been discovered during immediate preparation for hearing, were related to types of violations alleged in C, and were based on underlying material already fully litigated insofar as GC's case in chief was concerned)

3262-3362 After hearing

Douglas & Lomason Company 253 NLRB No. 039
(ALJ denied GC's mtn to amend complaint to allege new violation where E had no notice of such violation, did not litigate it, and GC offered no excuse for failure to amend at an earlier date)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(GC's mtn for leave to amend complaint so as to allege that E violated 8(a)(5) by offering to deal directly with Ees, denied, where 8(a)(5) allegations of complaint were dismissed because demand for bargaining limited to E's two-plant facility substantially deviated from appropriate three-facility unit)

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(GC's request in his brief to Bd for additional 8(a)(1) finding denied where issue not litigated at hearing and Respondent had no notice that legality of its conduct was in question, and thus did not defend against it; mtn to conform pleadings to proof is insufficient to add to C new allegation of specific unlawful conduct)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(mtn to amend complaint subsequent to hearing to include comment allegedly made by supervisor to Ee, denied, since matter sought to be added was not introduced with notice that it was to be subject of new and independent allegation of Sec. 8(a)(1) violation, and Bd found that matter was not fully litigated at hearing)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-490-81
(Respondent's mtns to strike allegations of complaint regarding jurisdiction and subsequently to amend answer to deny allegations, contending GC did not adduce evidence supporting allegation, denied, where Respondent had admitted allegations in answer, since mtns thus untimely and prejudicial to GC inasmuch as GC relied on Respondent's admission and correctly did not burden record with unnecessary evidence)

L. R. Bob Spillers Painting Co. JD-(SF)-169-80
(when GC amends C after hearing and only bare prima facie case has been presented during hearing this is not enough to support violation as issue has not been fully litigated because Respondent had no opportunity to present defense)

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(Bd properly allowed to amend C after hearing to allege violation based on E's use of application forms which contained questions as to Ee's U activities where substantial amount of testimony concerning use of these forms presented at hearing)

3262-6700 Adequacy of notice to respondent

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028
(mtn to amend complaint denied, where mtn made after all parties had rested case prior to close of hearing, notwithstanding E had stipulated to action alleged to be violative, since mtn not timely made, issue not fully litigated, and E was not appraised it would have to defend against allegations and asserted it would have to call additional witnesses to do so)

Right-Gard Corporation 261 NLRB No. 177
(amendment of complaint allowed, notwithstanding 6-month statutory period provided in Sec. 10(b) had expired, since amendment related to ULP alleged in original complaint; E's counsel was advised that if lateness of amendment prejudiced his defense, ample time would be provided to overcome any such prejudice)

Ingram Farms, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 137
(exception to mtn granted at hearing to amend complaint denied where allegated ULP took place 1 week before hearing and ALJ offered E additional time to prepare defense and it did not do so)

Sheet Metal Workers International Association, Local Union No. 20, AFL-CIO (The Employers Association of Sheet Metal Workers, etc.) 253 NLRB No. 018
(where complaint was narrowly drawn and raised only one issue, GC's raising of another issue for first time in exceptions to ALJ's decision w/o previously attempting to raise or litigate it held not to sufficiently put respondent on notice of issue as one to be litigated)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-490-81
(Respondent's mtns to strike allegations of complaint regarding jurisdiction and subsequently to amend answer to deny allegations, contending GC did not adduce evidence supporting allegation, denied, where Respondent had admitted allegations in answer, since mtns thus untimely and prejudicial to GC inasmuch as GC relied on Respondent's admission and correctly did not burden record with unnecessary evidence)

Eastern Maine Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(contention that amendment of complaint during hearing added allegation of violation by act which occurred more than six months before amendment and amendment was thus timebarred by 10(b), rejected, since nexus between amendment and original charge was not so attentuated as to make ALJ's allowing amendment abuse of discretion; act named in amendment occurred in midst of, and was of a piece with, acts alleged to be violative in original charge, and E was on notice, because of range of charges, that all its 10(b) period conduct would be investigated)

3262-6780 Continuance to prepare to meet new allegations

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(contrary to E's contention, ALJ did not err in allowing amendment to complaint where E had opportunity to prepare its defense and issue was fully litigated)

3275 AMENDMENT TO CONFORM PLEADINGS TO PROOF

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(GC's request in his brief to Bd for additional 8(a)(1) finding denied where issue not litigated at hearing and Respondent had no notice that legality of its conduct was in question, and thus did not defend against it; mtn to conform pleadings to proof is insufficient to add to C new allegation of specific unlawful conduct)

3282 AMENDMENT TO INCLUDE ULP'S FULLY LITIGATED

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 080
(mtn at hearing to amend complaint to include allegation of violation and admit disputed testimony thereof into record, granted where allegation was fully litigated and closely related to other allegations in complaint)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(mtn to amend complaint denied where alleged violation not fully litigated)

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 084
(amendment of complaint at hearing to allege maintenance of unlawful no-solicitation rule proper since amendment closely related to allegation in original complaint of maintenance of unlawful no-solicitation rule and issue was fully litigated)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(mtn to amend complaint subsequent to hearing to include comment allegedly made by supervisor to Ee, denied, since matter sought to be added was not introduced with notice that it was to be subject of new and independent allegation of Sec. 8(a)(1) violation, and Bd found that matter was not fully litigated at hearing)

Smyth Manufacturing Company, Inc.; Beacon Industries 247 NLRB No. 164
(mtn by charging party, not joined by GC, to amend complaint to allege violation of 8(a)(3) by January and March layoffs, denied, since neither month's layoffs was fully litigated as 8(a)(3) violation where only failure to bargain over March layoff decision had been alleged)

Vitco Steel Supply Corp. JD-103-80
(GC's request that E be found to have conditioned future bargaining on U's withdrawal of ULP charges denied as not fully litigated, notwithstanding E's having introduced testimony to contrary, where U failed to amend complaint to include allegation after ALJ's comments had put GC on notice that E might have violated Act in this way)

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(contrary to E's contention, ALJ did not err in allowing amendment to complaint where E had opportunity to prepare its defense and issue was fully litigated)

3298 DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT

Merrell M. Williams; Boy's Restaurant, Inc.; Girl's Restaurant; Jumbo's d/b/a Farm Boy Restaurant; Farm Boy Restaurants Nos. 2 and 3 265 NLRB No. 070
(E's mtn to dismiss C denied, notwithstanding E's argument that C should be dismissed because of unwarranted delay in its prosecution, which worked to prejudice of E, where delay in case resulted from administrative actions by Regional Office and Office of GC which reduced amount of evidence and issues to be heard against E; moreover, doctrine of laches has no application to cases brought before Bd)

Case, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 069
(where ct did not sustain Bd order based on finding E's unilateral change unlawful, Ees who had struck because of said change were therefore economic rather than ULP strikers and complaint dismissed, since allegations and issues litigated concerned only ULP strikers and were dependent upon Bd's order being sustained; nor was there basis for finding E liable under Laidlaw doctrine even if Ees were economic strikers where there was no allegation, litigation or record evidence of Laidlaw violation)

Ventura Coastal Corporation 264 NLRB No. 054
(although there was substantial merit to E's claim that APA mandate that an agency conclude matters brought before it w/i a reasonable time was disobeyed by GC's issuance of C 19 months after charge was filed, C not dismissed, since . . . Bd is not required to place the consequences of its own delay, even if inordinate, upon wronged employees to the benefit of wrongdoing employers; and E has not shown that its defense was prejudiced by GC's delay)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(mtn to dismiss C on ground of laches because of postponement of original hearing as result of GC's reconsideration of appeal by charging party of RD's refusal to incorporate certain allegations of charge into C, denied)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(E's mtn to dismiss C alleging unlawful discontinuance of contributions to U's health and welfare fund because of provisions of Bankruptcy Act, denied, where E purchased facility involved free and clear of all liens and other interests, and trustee in bankruptcy continued to make payments to U's health and welfare fund in accordance with practice established by debtor under contract with U)

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(uranium mining company's mtn to dismiss C on ground its allegations were w/i exclusive jurisdiction of Mine Safety and Health Administration and beyond jurisdiction of Bd, denied, since nothing in Mine Safety Act deprives Bd of its general power, set forth in Sec. 10(a) of NLRA, to prevent ULPs affecting commerce, which shall not be affected by any other means of adjustment or prevention that has been established by agreement, law, or otherwise; and ALJ herein is not empowered to determine if C should have issued, but only to determine if its allegations have merit)

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 252 NLRB No. 025
(ALJ's finding that E acted unlawfully by unilaterally modifying contract found tantamount to ruling on E'smotion to dismiss complaint notwithstanding ALJ did not specifically rule on said motion)

R. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(although it would have been better if ALJ had issued decision setting forth his reasons for dismissal of complaint, Bd held failure to do so was nonprejudicial error and remand in compliance with R/R Sec. 102.45 unnecessary, where ALJ set forth on the record his reasons for dismissing complaint, GC had fully argued merits of dismissal, and no party has requested remand for purpose of issuance of decision)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172
(allegations in amendment to complaint concerning invalidity of U security provisions dismissed, where RD's prior determination of mootness had not been abandoned for any substantive reason, there was no more apparent reason for remedial order now than when original complaint issued, and there is no other apparent purpose to be served by deciding merits of issue)

3600 NOTICE OF HEARING

Lighthouse For The Blind of Houston 248 NLRB No. 178
(lack of notice in formal C held nonprejudicial to E, and mtn for summary judgment granted; E had notice of ULP charges against it when served with copy of C and had opportunity to prepare its ans and defense; GC did not seek hearing but instead filed mtn for summary judgment of which E had full and fair notice; and E's challenge to Bd's certification on statutory grounds is normally resolved by summary judgment, not hearing)

Lighthouse For The Blind of Houston 248 NLRB No. 178
(lack of formal notice of hearing at initial issuance of C, while not preferable, does not, w/o more, constitute denial of due process or subversion of rulemaking process)

3675 POSTPONEMENT OF HEARING

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's contention that adjournment of hearing should have been longer than 2-day recess granted by ALJ because more time was needed to prepare E's case as result of last-minute change of counsel, rejected; short time E's new counsel had to prepare case was due to circumstances over which E alone had control; any harm to E's ability to adequately prepare case was more than offset by harm inherent in delay of hearing for at least a month due to circumstances herein; and E proffered no excuse in dilatoriness in selecting counsel)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(in backpay proceeding, RD and GC did not agree with E to postpone hearing so that E could prepare its case where, at time of alleged agreement, only E's answer and amended answer had been filed and thus neither RD nor GC was on notice that E intended to broaden scope of hearing by litigating issues other than those raised by answers; and GC opposed E's mtn for leave to file second amended answer on ground there were no previous indications that E was disputing appropriateness of specification's backpay formula)

4000 ANSWER TO COMPLAINT

4017 TIME FOR FILING

4017-3300 Time allowed

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(Sec. 10(e) of Act does not limit ct's review of Bd's treatment of answer to complaint as untimely; however, review is limited to whether Bd abused its discretion in refusing to consider answer)

Sherwood Coal Company 252 NLRB No. 074
(E's failure to file answer due to its attorney's delinquency in reviewing complaint not good cause for failure to file)

4017-6700 Effect of late filing

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 253 NLRB No. 077
(mtn to strike answer to amended complaint, late by 9 days, denied where U brief contends GC made representations which lulled it into filing late answer and also U had filed timely answer to original complaint)

World Service Corporation and/or Peggs Run Coal Company; and World Service Corporation, Debtor in Possession 247 NLRB No. 201
(where Respondent was debtor in possession and refused to file answer to complaint contending that bankruptcy court has exclusive jurisdiction over all controversies affecting debtor, this does not constitute good cause for failure to file mtn and summary judgment granted)

Hillcrest Packing Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 187
(Respondent's reason for its untimely filing of answer to complaint does not meet good cause standard where asserted reason is failure of its attorney to file but Respondent itself had notice that no answer had been filed and had itself promised to file answer)

Mahler Sales Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-312-79
(in rejecting GC's contention that statute of limitations began running when U became aware of unilateral change at time E gave U Ee handbook, ALJ dismissed complaint because it was not timely filed where initial change occurred to U knowledge more than six months prior to filing)

4017-6750 Good cause standard

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(ct, in instant case, limited to question whether Bd abused its discretion in applying extraordinary circumstance rather than good cause standard to E's reasons for late filing of its answer)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(*good cause*standard is not as strict as extraordinary circumstances and former is used to ensure that Bd makes decisions on merits dispite technical and inadvertent noncompliance with procedural rules)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(possibility E had good cause for failure to file timely answer; namely, GC knew of E's attorney's absence due to vacation and short delay occasions by attorney's untimely filing did not appear to cause prejudice to any party)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(enforcement denied and case remanded so that Bd may consider whether good cause excused late filing of E's answer)

4033 EFFECT OF FAILURE TO FILE

Oldwick Materials, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 153
(notwithstanding E filed ans to C which alleged that E violated Sec. 8(a)(4) by discharging Ee for testifying at Bd hearing, its failure to file ans to amended C that alleged same Ee was laid off rather than discharged allowed Bd to grant mtn for summary judgment because of failure to file timely ans as amended C changed factual basis for violation to which no denial was made)

Suburban Plumbing & Heating, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 012
(mtn for default judgment granted where respondent failed to file answer to complaint as required under Bd R/R Sec. 102.20; accordingly, allegations of complaint deemed to be admitted and found to be true)

American Steel Line Co. 253 NLRB No. 066
(allegations of complaint were deemed admitted and found to be true where (1) respondent failed to answer, or show good cause for not doing so, after RD informed it that its letter accusing U of illegal activities did not comply with Bd's rules regarding valid answers, stated that respondent should inform RD if it wished its letter to constitute an answer, and extended time for answering and (2) even if deemed an answer, letter did not meet Bd requirement that an answer specifically admit, deny or explain each allegation of complaint)

4033—Cont.

Urban Laboratories, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 116
(where E was acting pro se and failed to ans C, allegations deemed admitted; moreover, fact that E is not attorney does not constitute good cause for failure to file timely ans)

SPS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Seech d/b/a J. Seech Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009
(mtn for summary judgment granted where one of 2 respondents had filed ans to original C but neither respondent had filed ans to amended C)

Kirlis Contractors, Inc. and Joseph J. Defiore, d/b/a Joseph J. Defiore, Builders 247 NLRB No. 063
(motion for summary judgment granted where respondent failed to request extension of time to file answer and then ignored Region's offered extension of time)

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(failure to answer constituted admission of charges)

4042 EFFECT OF WITHDRAWAL OF ANSWER

Malnic Wrecking, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 156
(E's withdrawal of answer to mtn for summary judgment has same effect as failure to file answer)

T. Marshall Corp., T/A Cliffside Health Care Center JD-(NY)-29-82
(where parties at hearing reached settlement agreement which ALJ found to be fair, equitable, and dispositive of all allegations raised by the complaint, respondent, in order to dispose of pending proceeding, made, and ALJ granted, mtn to withdraw its answer– so that allegations of complaint were deemed true– and to consent to entry of recommended order)

Stevens Ford, Inc. JD-856-81
(withdrawal of answer to complaint constituted admission as to substantially all allegations of complaint)

Speyl Masonry, Inc. JD-32-81
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E withdrew its answer during course of hearing and all allegations in complaint deemed admitted)

4067 SUFFICIENCY OF FORM AND CONTENT

American Steel Line Co. 249 NLRB No. 053
(where Respondent answered C with letter, Regional Office asked Respondent if letter constituted ans and Respondent never replied; letter held improper asw as it does not specifically admit, deny or explain each of facts alleged in C)

4067-2800 Particularity required

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172
(E admitted it had refused to bargain with U of predecessor's Ees by failing to specifically deny this allegation in complaint)

DPM of Kansas, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 030
(E's contention that under R/R Sec. 102.20 its statement that it is w/o sufficient knowledge to admit or deny that it has refused to bargain constitutes denial raising material issues of fact, rejected because Respondent may not, w/o explanation validly deny knowledge of its own actions alleged in C but must specifically deny allegations. Sec. 102.20 qualified by Sec. 102.21)

Amada Enterprises, d/b/a View Heights Convalescent Hospital 255 NLRB No. 013
(failure to specifically deny or explain any allegations in complaint, then allegation will be deemed to be admitted and to be true; Section 102.20 Bd's R/R, Series 8, as amended)

American Steel Line Co. 253 NLRB No. 046
(allegations of complaint were deemed admitted and found to be true where (1) respondent failed to answer, or show good cause for not doing so, after RD informed it that its letter accusing U of illegal activities did not comply with Bd's rules regarding valid answers, stated that respondent should inform RD if it wished its letter to constitute an answer, and extended time for answering and (2) even if deemed an answer, letter did not meet Bd requirement that an answer specifically admit, deny or explain each allegation of complaint)

Varco Phone Parts Corp. 250 NLRB No. 153
(E's letters purporting to be answers to C held inadequate and not in compliance with Bd's R/R Sec. 102.20, since they did not specifically admit, deny, or explain C allegations; even assuming letters constituted proper answer, they admitted facts which established a violation and raised only matters which may more appropriately be raised at compliance proceeding)

Pipeline Construction Workers, Local 692 (Fulhgum Construction Corporation) 248 NLRB No. 151
(GC's mtns to strike Respondent's ans and for summary judgment granted where ans merely denied allegations of C and stated Respondent had made own investigations that disclosed allegations were unfounded)

4067-5000 Sufficiency of statement of defense

G. F. Business Equipment, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 040
(GC's mtn to strike portions of answer to complaint, denied, notwithstanding Respondent's denials did not present meritorious defense to allegations of complaint, since denials could be viewed as attempt by Respondent to preserve position)

Pipeline Construction Workers, Local 692 (Fulhgum Construction Corporation) 248 NLRB No. 151
(GC's mtns to strike Respondent's ans and for summary judgment granted where ans merely denied allegations of C and stated Respondent had made own investigations that disclosed allegations were unfounded)

4067-7500 Adequacy of general denial

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge and E. and W. Management, Inc. d/b/a The Token Lounge and David Erf, A Sole Proprietorship d/b/a Pete and Ann's 265 NLRB No. 088
(Bd ordered hearing limited to determination of amount of discriminatees' gross backpay, interim earnings, and related expenses and not Es' general backpay liability, where Bd construed Es' response to Notice To Show Cause as amended ans, notwithstanding fact that Es' general denial in original ans was inadequate under R/R Sec. 102.54, and such amended ans clarified general denial to refer specifically to amount of tips earned by discriminatees which was not matter w/i Es' knowledge)

Pipeline Construction Workers, Local 692 (Fulhgum Construction Corporation) 248 NLRB No. 151
(GC's mtns to strike Respondent's ans and for summary judgment granted where ans merely denied allegations of C and stated Respondent had made own investigations that disclosed allegations were unfounded)

4075 STRIKING OF FALSE, FRIVOLOUS OR SHAM ANSWER

The Westin Hotel 261 NLRB No. 141
(mtn to strike portions of E's answer to mtn for summary judgment on grounds that they were contrary to facts admitted, denied, because mtn constituted endeavor by E to preserve its position)

M.H.T. Corporation, d/b/a Dollar Rent-A-Car 250 NLRB No. 168
(jurisdictional facts admitted in prior R case and fact of receipt of request to bargain admitted in instant C case)

4079 STRIKING OF PORTIONS OF ANSWER

Coca Cola Bottling Company of Buffalo, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 016
(GC's mtn to strike portions of answer which alleged, as defense to alleged unlawful unilateral changes, that certification was erroneous because unit was inappropriate, denied; while E's answer, defenses, and response to GC's mtn for summary judgment were found herein not to present meritorious defense to allegations, such defenses should not be struck in that they could be viewed as endeavor by E to preserve its position)

Hoosier Energy Division of Indiana Statewide Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 011
(GC's motion to strike portions of answer and amended answer denied, notwithstanding defenses raised therein do not raise meritorious defense to allegations of complaint, since defenses could be viewed as endeavor of Respondent to preserve position)

4083 AMENDMENT OF ANSWER

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge and E. and W. Management, Inc. d/b/a The Token Lounge and David Erf, A Sole Proprietorship d/b/a Pete and Ann's 265 NLRB No. 088
(Bd ordered hearing limited to determination of amount of discriminatees' gross backpay, interim earnings, and related expenses and not Es' general backpay liability, where Bd construed Es' response to Notice To Show Cause as amended ans, notwithstanding fact that Es' general denial in original ans was inadequate under R/R Sec. 102.54, and such amended ans clarified general denial to refer specifically to amount of tips earned by discriminatees which was not matter w/i Es' knowledge)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(post-hearing mtn to amend ans to state it was w/o knowledge of assertions contained in certain paragraphs of C warranted in view of numerous amendments to C by GC at hearing)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-498-81
(Respondent's mtns to strike allegations of complaint regarding jurisdiction and subsequently to amend answer to deny allegations, contending GC did not adduce evidence supporting allegation, denied, where Respondent had admitted allegations in answer, since mtns thus untimely and prejudicial to GC inasmuch as GC relied on Respondent's admission and correctly did not burden record with unnecessary evidence)

4091 ADMISSION BY ANSWER

Rome Baking Company 263 NLRB No. 064
(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction proper where C set forth that E met Bd's statutory and discretionary jurisdictional amount standards and E apparently admitted to them in its answer and then did not attempt to amend its answer to deny allegations of jurisdiction)

Amado Enterprises, d/b/a View Heights Convalescent Hospital 258 NLRB No. 013
(failure to specifically deny or explain any allegations in complaint, then allegation will be deemed to be admitted and to be true; Section 102.20 Bd's R/R, Series 8, as amended)

SSS Typographers, Inc. d/b/a Ace Typographers and AVJ Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Manhattan Graphic Productions 262 NLRB No. 017
(mtn for summary judgment granted, notwithstanding E's denial of complaint allegation that it had refused to bargain on specified date, where E's answer admitted complaint allegation that U had requested it to bargain, and various exhibits attached to mtn for summary judgment conclusively established that E had refused to bargain on specified date)

E. A. Fuller Bentleys, Inc. d/b/a Bentleys Lounge JD-698-81
(Respondent's mtn to strike allegations of complaint regarding jurisdiction and subsequently to amend answer to deny allegations, contending GC did not adduce evidence supporting allegation, denied, where Respondent had admitted allegations in answer, since mtn then untimely and prejudicial to GC inasmuch as GC relied on Respondent's admission and correctly did not burden record with unnecessary evidence)

4400 CONSOLIDATION AND SEVERANCE OF PROCEEDING

4401 GENERALLY

4401-5000 Authority of Regional Director

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(where at time RD's order consolidating cases had issued, ALJ had ordered consolidation of cases with earlier cases and had reopened hearing, ALJ held that, since hearing had been reopened, any question concerning further consolidation would more appropriately be handled through motion to him rather than through RD)

4401-7500 Authority of Board

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(consolidation is w/i sound discretion of Bd and will not be disturbed where parties are given fair hearing and no showing of prejudice is made; moreover, any injury potentially caused by failure to issue a consolidated C is obviated when E has notice of charges against him)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2255-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)
(Bd order granting mtn to set aside on-th-record settlement agreements and consolidating settled cases with another pending C case held unlawful, since settlement agreements had been consummated and conditions thereof performed and accomplished; action was abuse of Bd's powers and denial of petitioner's constitutional rights)

4425 PROCEEDINGS CONSOLIDATED

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(failure to issue one consolidated C covering E's four plants in four separate Bd regions held not abuse of Bd's discretion where GC's transfer of all charges to one Bd region, issuance of consolidated Cs for three plants, and consolidation of all cases for hearing, gave E indisputable notice of GC's theory of prosecution; ALJ made separate findings of fact and conclusions of law for each plant in single decision and did not illogically mix occurrences at plants; and E demonstrated no prejudice and did not claim inability to litigate any issue)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(procedural due process not denied E by ALJ consolidating case where issue of whether 8(a)(4) violation occurred when E sued in state ct discharges in initial case and notice of consolidation ambiguous and sent day before trial as E's action at hearing regarding 8(a)(4) case demonstrated it suffered no resulting prejudice because E (1)Ppresented no evidence, and (2) asserted no claim of inadequate notice or prejudice)

4425-6700 Consolidation of CA and election objections proceedings proper

Konkin Charter Service, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 1
(where R case consolidated with C cases for limited purpose of taking evidence on challenged ballots, RD ordered to open ballots of Ees held eligible and issue certification if U received majority, where U never filed objections to election, notwithstanding E held to have committed ULPs)

4450 CONSOLIDATION CRITERIA

4450-3300 Appropriate where

4450-3350 Same respondent

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 10

4450-6700 Inappropriate where

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration on ground Bd decision in instant decertification proceeding overruling objection to election should be considered together with subsequent Bd decision finding violation by E on basis of conduct which was subject of objection, denied, where E did not seek to have ULP case consolidated or considered with instant proceeding until after ULP decision issued; contentions that consideration will facilitate final, just resolution of issues and relief to be accorded, and that relief granted for E's violation is wholly inadequate, rejected)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration based on allegedly inconsistent decisions as result of Bd decision finding violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding denied as untimely; findings of fact are based on respective records in each case, and record herein shows insufficient evidence to warrant setting aside election; to extent petitioner argues Bd's findings herein are erroneous on record then before it, regardless of record in ULP case, petitioner's second mtn for reconsideration is a year late)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; Bd rejected contention that, since (8a)(1) conduct a fortiori interferes with election, such finding invalidates retroactively Bd's conclusion herein that E's conduct did not warrant setting election aside; a fortiori principle was attempt by Bd to avoid mechanical approach and Bd looks to economic realities of E-Ee relationship in determining whether to set aside election)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(petitioner's mtn to consolidate and/or for reconsideration as result of Bd finding of 8(a)(1) violation on basis of conduct which was subject of previously overruled objection to election in instant decertification proceeding, denied; effect of narrow ruling herein was that, if U has won election despite E's campaign against it, election results stand as against mechanical insistence on laboratory conditions; and fact that E's conduct was later found violative does not cast issue into any light significantly different from that in which Bd first examined it)

4450-6717 Different issues

United States Postal Service 263 NLRB No. 063
(consolidation of Bd cases involving different units, factual backgounds and allegations not appropriate)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 102
(mtn to consolidate denied where cases involve different units of Ees and different factual backgrounds which are best treated separately notwithstanding same E)

4450-6725 Decision in one case already issued

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(consolidation not appropriate where Sec. 8(b)(4)(D) conduct did not occur before E engaged in alleged Sec. 8(a)(3) conduct, additionally two separate proceedings were already held and 10(k) proceeding was already pending before Bd when ALJ's decision issued)

4450-6775 Proceedings tried separately

United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners of America, Local Union No. 743 262 NLRB No. 038

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(consolidation not appropriate where Sec. 8(b)(4)(D) conduct did not occur before E engaged in alleged Sec. 8(a)(3) conduct, additionally two separate proceedings were already held and 10(k) proceeding was already pending before Bd when ALJ's decision issued)

4475 SEVERANCE OF PROCEEDINGS

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(Bd severed part of instant case and remanded that aspect for further hearing to determine whether U steward participated in assault on dissident U member by use of municipal ct judgment wherein U steward was found guilty of assault in issue)

Semi-Alloys, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 137
(in considering whether it would be appropriate to reopen R case investigation for ULP proceeding where Bd had previously adopted Supplemental Report on objections to election in overruling E's exceptions w/o prejudice, Bd adopted ALJ's recommendation that RC case be severed from instant ULP proceeding and Certification of Results of Election be reinstated based upon principles set out in Albuquerque Publishing and other cited cases)

St. Joseph Hospital Corporation 260 NLRB No. 089
(GC's mtn to sever CG cases from CA case granted where Us have agreed to and have in fact begun to comply with ALJ's recommended order in CG cases, all parties to proceedings have been advised of mtn to sever and do not oppose mtn, no exceptions have been taken to ALJ's findings in CG cases, remedies sought in those cases are not interrelated, and no prejudice will result to any of the parties from severance of the cases)

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 176
(severance of one case involving separate E permitted at trial over objections of charging party as that case was in process of settling out and such action is in discretion of RD)

(inasmuch as challenged ballots overruled by RD were sufficient in number to affect results of election, R case ordered severed from C cases and remanded to RD for revised tally of ballots)

Madison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(Bd severed and remanded discharge cases to ALJ for supplemental decision, where ALJ erred in precluding E's witnesses, whose testimony was relevant to events surrounding discharges, from testifying because E's official had refused to comply with subpoena and to testify)

Sun-Dor Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107
(where ALJ erred in dismissing 8(a)(5) allegation that E unlawfully changed job classifications and rates of pay after election herein but before outcome of election had been determined and record shows that changes did occur but fails to show compelling economic considerations, Bd ordered C alleging unlawful changes be severed from proceedings and final disposition be postponed until outcome of election is resolved)

4475-4700 Inappropriate where

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(evidence in instant cases showed that 2 plant sites (15 miles distant from each other) were subject to common ultimate managerial control and allegations relating to sites were assertedly based on single catalytic U organizing effort affecting both locations; no reason present, in instant case, for separate treatment of separate locations)

R. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(mtn to sever ULP case from backpay case involving same parties denied as in discretion of ALJ; moreover, evidence presented in backpay proceeding is admissible to establish present motivation and complete background for most recently alleged ULP)

4801 GENERALLY

General Teamsters Local 162 (K-Lines, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 019
(where U did not learn of Motion for Summary Judgment or Notice to Show Cause until 1 day after deadline for receipt of responses, and inasmuch as only minor 1-day delay was involved, Bd accepted U's documents and treated its mtn to intervene on the merits)

General Teamsters Local 162 (K-Lines, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 019
(U's mtn to intervene in summary judgment proceeding against respondent U on ground U was authorized representative of Ees involved by reason of Joint Council's decision, denied; Joint Council decision is not binding on Bd, U does not claim to represent Ee majority in unit, granting mtn would undermine Bd's authority to determine scope of unit and would fragment unit, E never approved or was party to Joint Council proceeding, and respondent U's assertion of jurisdiction over Ees herein was not claimed to be unlawful)

5200 DISCOVERY

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(in backpay proceeding, Es held not to have been denied due process nor prejudiced by application of Bd's R/R concerning the taking of depositions, since original and amended backpay specifications and notice of hearing disclosed discriminatees' interim earnings, periods when they were employed, and names of interim Es, and Es were provided with copies of all compliance forms filled out by discriminatees and with correspondence from interim Es; and Es clearly indicated desire to pursue traditional discovery and not preservation of testimony of witness unavailable for trial which is purpose of Bd's R/R)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(requested information (personnel records) not discovery concerning pending charges where information was relevant for ascertaining validity of grievance already in grievance-arbitration channels)

5250 NOT PROVIDED FOR BY ACT

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 129
(Bd's failure to provide for discovery not a violation of due process of law, since discovery is not constitutional right in administrative proceedings)

5600 DEPOSITIONS

5601 GENERALLY

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 186
(no merit in E's exception to ALJ's refusal to give it opportunity to secure deposition from former Ee who had left state 2 weeks prior to hearing where E at no time made appropriate written request as required by Sec. 102.30 of R/R)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(ct did not decide whether the taking of deposition after lawsuit filed and inquiring into U activities of person deposed w/o any safeguards violative)

5650 AVAILABLE FOR GOOD CAUSE SHOWN

5650-2300 May not be taken for purposes of discovery

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(backpay proceeding)

5650-6700 Use limited to preserving evidence for trial

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(backpay proceeding)

6000 SUBPOENAS

6001 GENERALLY

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's assertion that Bd and ALJ drew adverse inferences from its refusal to comply with subpoena issued by GC held w/o merit, where ALJ drew no such inference and Bd did not address question because it found that direct evidence at hearing established the charges)

6001-5000 Nature and Scope

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 328 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)
(order requiring obedience to subpoenas duces tecum and ad testificandum granted where Bd sought information, during R case investigation, concerning: Ee job descriptions; equipment descriptions; comparison of supervision; management; and description of physical changes in (E's) plants; all before E relocated its appliance operation, and now during conversion of appliance plants to light body truck and engine assembly plants, since information was related to matter under investigation; information would clarify issues of relationship of Ees in unit well have with entire production processing E's facilities)

6001-5033 'Attendance and testimony of witnesses'

Asbestos Workers, Local No. 17 (Catalytic, Inc.) 266 NLRB No. 089
(ALJ's refusal to grant GC subpoena for Ee upon his withdrawal from case and to grant continuance for appealing denial upheld where GC made proffer of testimony expected from Ee and that testimony was substantially same as that given by other Ee witnesses)

6020 AUTHORITY TO ISSUE

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 328 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)
(merits of instant case, where Bd sought order requiring obedience to its subpoenas, before Bd not District Ct; ct's limited scope of review, which is, whether information sought by Bd relates to or touches matter under investigation, not whether ptn has merits must be kept in focus)

6040 ISSUANCE OF SUBPOENAS

6040-2000 Application to Board

6040-2033 Upon application of 'party'

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(E's contention that he failed to have his intended witnesses appear at hearing assertedly because he was not timely advised of subpoena process to assure their appearance at hearing, rejected, where about 1 month before hearing E was instructed by GC concerning procedure for procuring blank subpoenas from RD, and at no time did E assert that Bd subpoenas were sought or refused)

6040-4000 Showing of relevancy and adequacy of identification of documents requested not prerequisite

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(District Ct may undertake only extremely limited inquiry in deciding whether to enforce subpoenas; Agency need not even show probable cause to believe that law has been violated, only some reasonable basis for believing that information will prove relevant)

6040-5000 Determinable on motion to revoke

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146

(Bd found it unnecessary to review contention that ALJ erred in refusing to quash subpoena duces tecum obtained by U ordering E to produce timestudy worksheets sought by U herein where record fully established relevance of timestudies and related materials to U's processing of grievance concerning production standards)

6040-6000 Prehearing investigatory subpoenas available only to Regional Director

Martins Ferry Hospital Association v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(E's suit for mandamus relief, seeking order compelling Bd to issue subpoenas to it during investigative stage directing field examiner and U's involved in ULP proceeding to turn over originals or copies of authorization cards denied; Bd's interpretation of proceedings as applying only after Bd has issued complaint is not clearly wrong and duty imposed by Sec. 11(1) of Bd's R/R is not so clearly established that E has established clear and certain right and is entitled to mandamus relief)

6060 REVOCATION

6060-3300 Time for filing petition to revoke

6060-3350 Within 5 days of service of subpoena

Valley Camp Coal Company 265 NLRB No. 149

(where Bd issued subpoena ad testificandum directing newspaper editor to testify at ULP hearing about article she had written on closing of E's operation, and she was granted TRO from district ct restraining Bd from enforcing subpoena which was later vacated by Ct of Appeals for failure to utilize available administrative remedies, request for special permission to appeal ALJ's order denying mtn to revoke subpoena denied under R/R Sec. 102.31(b) since initial mtn to revoke was not filed w/i 5 days of service; moreover, contention that compliance with subpoena will impinge on Constitution's guarantee of free press under Branzburg rejected)

6060-6700 Grounds for revocation

6060-6725 Rule 102.118

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 063

(subpenas duces tecum served on RD and field examiner revoked on mtn of GC, since GC had not given his written consent to RD and field examiner to produce documents described in subpenas, or to appear at trial and testify; documents sought had no probative value; Section 102.118 of Bd's R/R precluded production of documents described in subpenas duces tecum)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(R/R 102.118 cannot alone be basis for revocation of properly issued subpoena in absence of some valid evidentiary objection or priviledge; here Bd found evidentiary priviledge which protected informal investigatory and trial preparatory process of administrative agencies)

6060-6730 Improper service

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117

(oral mtn to quash GC's subpoena duces tecum granted where service was defective because not served on anyone authorized to receive service; moreover, E did produce certain evidence relative to subpoena; absence of written mtn to quash did not result in prejudice to GC)

6060-6735 Immaterial to case

Drakker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(mtn to quash subpoena requesting Bd agent to testify at ULP hearing granted where Respondent made no attempt to obtain testimony of other persons who had same knowledge as Bd agent and thus there were no special circumstances requiring privilege shielding Bd personnel from testifying in Bd cases to be waived)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 085

(ALJ properly revoked subpoena of Bd agent whose testimony E wanted to adduce concerning her investigation of initial charge as well as certain affidavits on ground that testimony and documents would have contained admissions from various witnesses, obtained when Bd agent solicited withdrawal of original charge; testimony sought fell w/i limited evidentiary privilege which protects investigatorial and trial-preparatory processes of regulatory agencies such as Bd; moreover, evidence sought is irrelevant to any issue herein)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 063

N.T. Enloe Memorial Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 790 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(where E's subpoena requesting U to bring to hearing documents reflecting number of its Ees who belonged to U was revoked, even if Bd erred in revoking subpoena such error is harmless as evidence of U membership has been held irrelevant in proving lack of majority support in support of E's refusal to bargain)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd properly upheld quashing subpoenas directed to field examiner with respect to his alleged statement that ULP charges would probably be dismissed, where others were present during conversations with field examiner and Es showed no reason why examining those people was not possible or would not have produced information similar to that which they sought from field examiner; moreover, there was doubt whether information sought was sufficiently material to Es' case to outweigh investigatory privilege)

6060-6750 Claim of privilege

Valley Camp Coal Company 265 NLRB No. 149

(where Bd issued subpoena ad testificandum directing newspaper editor to testify at ULP hearing about article she had written on closing of E's operation, and she was granted TRO from district ct restraining Bd from enforcing subpoena which was later vacated by Ct of Appeals for failure to utilize available administrative remedies, request for special permission to appeal ALJ's order denying mtn to revoke subpoena denied under R/R Sec. 102.31(b) since initial mtn to revoke was not filed w/i 5 days of service; moreover, contention that compliance with subpoena will impinge on Constitution's guarantee of free press under Branzburg rejected)

Drakker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(mtn to quash subpoena requesting Bd agent to testify at ULP hearing granted where Respondent made no attempt to obtain testimony of other persons who had same knowledge as Bd agent and thus there were no special circumstances requiring privilege shielding Bd personnel from testifying in Bd cases to be waived)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 085

(ALJ properly revoked subpoena of Bd agent whose testimony E wanted to adduce concerning her investigation of initial charge as well as certain affidavits on ground that testimony and documents would have contained admissions from various witnesses, obtained when Bd agent solicited withdrawal of original charge; testimony sought fell w/i limited evidentiary privilege which protects investigatorial and trial-preparatory processes of regulatory agencies such as Bd; moreover, evidence sought is irrelevant to any issue herein)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd did not err in upholding ALJ's revocation of subpoena duces tecum served on Bd agent who had investigated earlier charge against E, since information sought by E fell w/i limited evidentiary privelege which protects informal investigatorial and trial-preparatory processes of regulatory agencies such as NLRB; and E was furnished with witnesses' prior statements and no prejudice resulted)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(R/R 102.118 cannot alone be basis for revocation of properly issued subpoena in absence of some valid evidentiary objection or priviledge; here Bd found evidentiary priviledge which protected informal investigatory and trial preparatory process of administrative agencies)

Ray Marshall, Secretary of Labor v. Brite Metal Treating, et al. No. C77-1105 (D Ct. Ohio, June 30, 1978 (unreported)

6060-6775 Prejudicial

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd did not err in upholding ALJ's revocation of subpoena duces tecum served on Bd agent who had investigated earlier charge against E, since information sought by E fell w/i limited evidentiary privelege which protects informal investigatorial and trial-preparatory processes of regulatory agencies such as NLRB; and E was furnished with witnesses' prior statements and no prejudice resulted)

6080 ENFORCEMENT

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041

(contention that GC's failure to seek Federal ct enforcement of subpoena duces tecum demanding that E produce documentary evidence of its official's conversation with corporate counsel somehow excused official's defiance of ALJ's direction to answer questions on such issue at hearing, rejected, since GC may not be forced to seek enforcement of validly issued subpoena at whim of party that refuses to comply with it; moreover, E's defiance of Bd authority in one instance does not justify its failure to cooperate in another)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(Bd lacked authority to deny E opportunity to present rebuttal evidence where denial was intended as sanction for E's refusal to comply with subpoena since Bd failed to have subpoena enforced in District Ct; challenges to agency subpoenas must be resolved by judiciary before compliance can be compelled)

6400 STIPULATION AND TRANSFER TO BOARD

Karl Kallmann d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant No. 62 JD-(SF)-200-82

(in proceeding on ct remand of reinstatement and make whole issues, in which charging party would not enter into stipulation entered into by GC and E and agreed to by trustee in bankruptcy, GC's mtn to accept stipulation granted, where charging party failed to respond to order to show cause, stipulation appeared to resolve issues posed by remand, and there was no indication any evidence could be presented that would lead to more satisfactory resolution of issues; moreover, further prolongation of proceeding might only deprive discriminatees altogether of even partial monetary relief)

6800 SUMMARY JUDGMENT

6801 GENERALLY

Wine and Liquor Store Employees Union, Local 122, a/w Distillery Workers (Harvey Entin, d/b/a Oz Liquor Co.) 261 NLRB No. 152

(summary judgment not warranted with respect to allegation that U attempted to enforce in state ct agreement settling matter set for arbitration, notwithstanding GC's assertion that ct's mention of U's notice of cross-mtn conclusively showed that U sought to confirm arbitration award in state ct, where there was no clear evidence that state ct decision cited by GC concerned matter set for arbitration and then settled by parties and U denied pertinent allegation)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031

(Bd's denial of Es' mtn for summary judgment based on favorable arbitration award held binding on ALJ as law of case, notwithstanding Es' contention that under FRCP denial of mtn for summary judgment is interlocutory in nature and not res judicata)

Lighthouse For The Blind of Houston 248 NLRB No. 178

(lack of notice in formal C held nonpreducial to E, and mtn for summary judgment granted; E had notice of ULP charges against it when served with copy of C and had opportunity to prepare its ans and defense; GC did not seek hearing but instead filed mtn for summary judgment of which E had full and fair notice; and E's challenge to Bd's certification on statutory grounds is normally resolved by summary judgment, not hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(in denying Bd's application for enforcement of its summary judgment in 8(a)(5) proceeding against debtor-in-possession who had obtained bankruptcy ct's permission to reject bargaining agreement, which was affirmed by district ct, ct, upon remanding to cts below, emphasized that application for enforcement was not entered after reception of evidence by ALJ and Bd review of record, and held that denial of enforcement does not preclude Bd from processing charges through full hearing governed by bankruptcy ct's determination on remand and guided by ct's views expressed herein)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(although Bd's action was nominally a summary judgment, it was in reality a default, since in summary judgment there is no dispute about relevant facts while in default defendant's contentions, as here, are not considered but rather ex parte allegations of adversary are accepted as true; possibility that an injustice may occur is much more likely in those circumstances, since controversies are decided upon a procedural technicality instead of ruling on merits; and, consequently, in a default case, more exacting judicial scrutiny is in order)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(in case in which Bd issued summary judgment considered by ct to be in reality a default, ct held that where injustice may result in default judgments by administrative agencies, consideration must be given to questions whether prejudice to plaintiff and meritorious defense on defendant's part exist, and standard of liberality rather than strictness should be applied; any doubt should be resolved in favor of setting aside the judgment so that cases may be decided on their merits; and a relevant factor is whether default was wilfully caused by defendant)

Bokum Resources Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1021 (C.A. 10, 1981)

6801-0000 Board authority to use summary procedure

Jefferson Electric Co., Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129

(E's subsequent recognition of U, occuring after its initial, unlawful refusal to bargain, insufficient to withstand Motion for Summary Judgment, since Ees' statutory rights had been violated)

World Services Corporation and/or Peggs Run Coal Company; and World Services Corporation, Debtor in Possession 247 NLRB No. 201

(where Respondent was debtor in possession and refused to file answer to complaint contending that bankruptcy court has exclusive juriediction over all controversies affecting debtor, this does not constitute good cause for failure to file mtn and summary judgment granted)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(E's contention that Bd erred in granting summary judgment in favor of GC, on ground mtn for summary judgment upon which Bd based its decision involved disputed issues of fact, rejected, where there was no dispute regarding substance of U's ULP charges, allegations in complaint, or terms of parties' settlement agreement; E's disagreement with Bd's conclusions from undisputed facts does not support a challenge to Bd's use of its summary judgment power)

6833 NOTICE TO SHOW CAUSE PROCEDURE

Hyatt Regency New Orleans 260 NLRB No. 066

(Respondent not prejudiced by fact that Bd denied its request for review 1 day after Order and Notice To Show Cause issued in case where it presented no evidence showing prejudice)

Clean and Shine 255 NLRB No. 180

(mtn for reconsideration denied where E failed to answer complaint due to its admitted negligence after having been afforded two separate opportunities to file and subsequently failed to file timely answer to duly served Notice to Show Cause in response to mtn for summary judgment due to unsupported contention that E relied on Bd agent's alleged misrepresentations that it was too late)

Varco Phone Parts Corp. 250 NLRB No. 153

(E's response to show cause held not to constitute good cause for failure to file proper answer w/i meaning of Bd's R/R Sec. 102.20, where response did not deny commission of any ULPs and, therefore, allegations of C stood uncontroverted, and response did not explain why E failed to contact RD concerning an answer or extension of time for filing an answer)

Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 067

(where Bd had denied E's mtn to revoke certification in companion case in which E failed to produce any evidence pertaining to conflict of interest as result of supervisory participation in positions of authority in nurses' association, and GC's mtn for summary judgment was still pending in instant case, Bd ordered that cause be shown why Bd should not now issue second supplemental D/O granting GC's mtn for summary judgment)

6833-0000 Notice to parties

Harbor Construction Company, Inc.; et al. 259 NLRB No. 076

(service of consolidated complaint and Notice To Show Cause on organizations which were alter egos and a Single E held sufficient where two organizations were served with statutory requirements and remainder, as denoted by affidavit of service, were served documents in issue at same address shared by all respondents which had common ownership and supervision)

Kochevar Enterprises, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 129

(although attempt was made to file response to Notice to Show Cause, such attempt was rejected by Bd due to respondent's failure to provide Bd with proof of service of the response on other parties involved in matter)

6867 CIRCUMSTANCES OF USE

SSS Typographers, Inc. d/b/a Ace Typographers and AVJ Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Manhattan Graphic Productions 262 NLRB No. 017
(mtn for summary judgment granted, notwithstanding E's denial of complaint allegation that it had refused to bargain on specified date, where E's answer admitted complaint allegation that U had requested it to bargain, and various exhibits attacked to mtn for summary judgment conclusively established that E had refused to bargain on specified date)

SSS Typographers, Inc. d/b/a Ace Typographers and AVJ Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Manhattan Graphic Productions 262 NLRB No. 017
(mtn for summary judgment granted, notwithstanding E assertedly refused to bargain on ground that it had been informed by written ptn that U did not have Ee majority, where alleged ptn was submitted w/i decertification year w/i which certified U's majority is irrebutably presumed)

N.L.R.B. v. Fun Striders, Inc. 647 F.2d 171(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1981)
(Bd's summary judgment proper, notwithstanding E's contention that political party campaigning for U created conditions sufficient to preclude summary judgment; setting aside of election is justified only when third party misconduct, attributalbe to neither party to election, creates atmosphere of fear or reprisal rendering free expression of Ees' choice impossible; and third party conduct can be attributed to U only where instigated, authorized, solicited, ratified, condoned or adopted by U; however, facts herein did not require hearing on either issue, and ct did not accord controlling weight to issue of U responsibility)

Mr. B. IGA, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 111
(more than 3-year delay from time of processing E's objecticns to election in R case to time of mtn for summary judgment in C case, during which 3 of E's 4 stores were sold, number of Ees in unit was reduced from 19 to 3 and complete turnover of Ees in unit, not defense to mtn where Bd's affirmance of RD's Supplemental Decision clearly indicated that issues were considered by Bd; delay not special circumstance requiring Bd to reexamine its decision in underlying R case)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(in ALJ hearing where GC presented E's C from state civil action against Ee for filing ULP charge, Bd's finding violation of 8(a)(4) was judgment on merits rather than de facto grant of summary judgment)

N.L.R.B. v. Electro-Food Machinery, Inc. 621 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(summary judgment proper disposition where Respondent did not contest factual issue of whether final offer had been accepted but rather advanced affirmative defense that U's constitution precluded accepted offer from constituting final agreement)

Local 175, Automobile Workers, (UAW) v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 1151 (C.A.D.C. Mar 1981)
(use of summary judgment procedure to decide merits of complaint improper where Bd had only asked parties to submit briefs on propriety of disposition of issues via summary judgment)

6867-3000 Where answer inadequate

Peter Pan Ambulance Service, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 137
(answer by letter in which E neither admitted, denied, nor explained any of C allegations and only objected to consolidation of the cases for hearing was not acceptable answer under R/R Sec. 102.20)

We-Care Trading Co., Ltd. 265 NLRB No. 086
(letter to GC stating U had agreed to withdraw charge and that complaint was untrue)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 264 NLRB No. 087
(allegations of gross backpay specification, except as to interim earnings, deemed admitted as true and GC's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment granted where respondent filed general denial w/o specifically denying gross backpay allegations, providing alternative formula, or explaining his failure to do so; assertion, in answer to NOtice to Show Cause, that he lacked knowledge because GC had subpoenaed his records held untimely and inadequate to explain his failure to seek information from GC, trial record, or elsewhere; general denial concerning interim earnings, however, sufficient to raise issue warranting hearing)

China Best, Inc., d/b/a Lai Gang 264 NLRB No. 144
(mtn for summary judgment granted where Respondent wrote Bd after Notice to Show Cause why mtn for summary judgment should not be granted issued, stating it did not answer complaint because financially unable to retain counsel and requested second election because U had called in ex-Ees to vote, since Respondent did not established good cause under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.20 why allegations of complaint should not be deemed admitted inasmuch as letter lacked required specificity to serve as answer, nor timely filed nor duly served)

Material Transportation Co., Inc. and its successor Sco-Ric Trucking, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 128
(GC's mtn for partial Summary Judgment denied where GC alleged that Respondent failed to supply supporting figures as required and that alleged successor-E failed to file timely answer; Bd found that E's answer contained more than general denial in that it alleged percentage reduction in work for each discriminatee and satisfied requirements of Sec. 102.54(b); Bd also held that matter of successorship is properly in issue and denied mtn for partial Summary Judgment against that E ordering hearing to determine successorship)

Sonny Stewart's Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Harbor House (263 NLRB No. 030
(summary judgment granted where Respondent failed to file ans to back pay specification, notwithstanding it did notify GC 5 weeks after ans due that it had gone out of business as this is not timely response nor does it relieve respondent of its obligation to ans backpay specification)

DPM of Kansas, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 080
(E's contention that under R/R Sec. 102.20 its statement that it is w/o sufficient knowledge to admit or deny that it has refused to bargain constitutes denial raising material issues of fact, rejected because Respondent may not, w/o explanation validly deny knowledge of its own actions alleged in C but must specifically deny allegations. Sec. 102.20 qualified by Sec. 102.21)

International Printing and Graphic Communications Union, Local 391 (Salem Gravure Division of World Color Press, Inc.) 259 NLRB No. 108
(Bd granted mtn for summary judgment where allegations of complaint were deemed to be admitted true since U did not file proper answer pursuant to R/R Sec. 102.20 because it did not specifically admit, deny, or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint w/i 10 days from service of complaint, or w/i extended time afforded it by GC nor did U show good cause for its failure to do so)

Parisian Manicure Mfg. Co., Inc. and its Alter ego Allure Marketing Corp., and James V. Nucito and Roseanne Nucito, Individuals 258 NLRB No. 068
(E's letter stating We Deny the allegations stated in notice you sent us held insufficient answer)

6867-3300 In absence of answer

Oldwick Materials, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 183
(notwithstanding E filed ans to C which alleged that E violated Sec. 8(a)(4) by discharging Ee for testifying at Bd hearing, its failure to file ans to amended C that alleged same Ee was laid off rather than discharged allowed Bd to grant mtn for summary judgment because of failure to file timely ans as amended C changed factual basis for violation to which no denial was made)

Raymond E. Virgili d/b/a Raymond E. Virgili Painting Contractor, etc. 263 NLRB No. 185
(by debtor in possession)

Mahnis Wrecking, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 186
(E's withdrawal of answer to mtn for summary judgment has same effect as failure to file answer)

Local 3489, Steelworkers (Stran Steel Corporation, a Division of National Steel Corporation) 263 NLRB No. 129
(mtn to set aside settlement agreement on procedural grounds that U local and international did not file answers to notice to show cause why settlement agreement should not be vacated, denied, as such mechanical rule sacrifice exercise of sound judgment based upon all circumstances)

Fenestrol Window Manufacturers, Inc. f/k/a Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 263 NLRB No. 090
(mtn for summary judgment on backpay specification granted where allegations of specification stand uncontroverted because of E's failure to file ans to mtn and to respond to notice to show cause; and since E and its alter ego or successor as well as interim trustee appointed by ct on E's ptn for bankruptcy, who was invited to answer specification, all failed to file ans or offer any explanation for such failure, allegations of specification deemed to be true; accordingly, E and successor ordered to comply with Bd's make whole and reinstatement order)

Martin Arsham Sewing Co. 260 NLRB No. 175
(allegations of backpay specification deemed admitted to be true and Bd so found)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc., and Gary C. Nelson Electric 260 NLRB No. 065
(allegations of backpay specification deemed admitted as true, since E's mtn to stay proceeding did not specifically deny or respond to allegations as required by Sec. 102.54(b) of Bd's R/R or explain E's failure to file timely answer)

Ashland Construction Company and Simon & Chemency, Inc., Architects 258 NLRB No. 079
(withdrawal of answer has same effect as failure to file answer)

Bemis, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 020
(allegations of complaint deemed admitted as true where respondent withdrew its answer to complaint; withdrawal of answer of necessity has same effect as failure to file)

Shulman Air Freight, Inc.; James L. Garrity, Trustee in Bankruptcy 255 NLRB No. 197
(allegations of specification found to be true where respondents had not filed answer to specification nor had requested extension of time; they also failed to file response to Notice to Show Cause or offered, satisfactory explanation to do so)

Magi-Clean, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 049
(mtn for summary judgment granted and backpay specification deemed admitted as true where respondent failed to file answer to specification and made no response to notice to show cause)

Painters and Allied Trades, Local Union No. 297, a/w International Brotherhood of Painters and Allied Trades of The United States and Canada, AFL-CIO-CLC (Kim, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 168
(no good cause having been shown for failure to file answer, allegations of complaint deemed admitted and found to be true, and motion for summary judgment granted)

A. N. O. Packaging Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 110
(in absence of good cause for failure to answer complaint, motion for summary judgment granted upon E's failure to file answer to notice to show cause, thus making allegations of motion stand uncontroverted, and failure to answer RD's notification to E that, due to E's failure to file answer, GC would move for summary judgment)

Bighorn Beverage 254 NLRB No. 081
(concerning backpay specification)

United Inventories of Dallas, Inc. and United Physical Inventories, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 157
(summary judgment awarded in backpay proceeding, since Respondent did not file answer to (backpay) specification nor offer any explanation for its failure to do so)

IPC, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 080
(allegations of backpay specification deemed admitted to be true)

Collier's Superfood, Inc. d/b/a Willow Street IGA 252 NLRB No. 011
(Respondent withdrew answers to complaints and failed to respond to Notice To Show Cause)

American Ham Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 194
(where E failed to answer backpay specification and had not offered any explanation for failure to do so, allegations of specification deemed to be true and so found by Bd w/o taking of evidence in support of allegations)

D. V. Copying and Printing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 085
(summary judgment granted where respondent failed to submit timely ans notwithstanding on last date to file ans respondent requested extension because respondent failed to show proper cause; moreover, fact that respondent now alleges that its counsel and his secretary were both ill at time ans due not determinative as it should have been alleged at that time)

Medallion Automotive Systems, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 131
(allegations of amended complaint deemed admitted and found to be true where after E's attorney advised counsel for GC that E was no longer functioning and that bankruptcy proceedings were being planned, E failed to file answer to amended complaint despite warnings by counsel for GC of consequences, and E further failed to file response to notice to show cause)

SPS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Sesch d/b/a J. Sesch Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009
(mtn for summary judgment granted where one of 2 respondents had filed ans to original C but neither respondent had filed ans to amended C)

(summary judgment granted to extent of determining E's failure to deny allegation in C)

Speed Mercury, Inc. JD-32-81
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E withdrew its answer during course of hearing and all allegations in complaint deemed admitted)

6867-3325 Where answer untimely filed

B. K. Restaurants Olean, Inc., d/b/a Burger King Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 022
(where E filed ans to backpay specification nearly 4 months after expiration of second extension of time in which to do so, and failed to advance explanation for failure to file timely ans, Bd, in summary judgment proceeding, deemed allegations of specification to be true and so found w/o taking any evidence in support of such allegations)

B. K. Restaurants Olean, Inc., d/b/a Burger King Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 022
(where for the first time in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification E asserted that it failed to file timely ans to specification because it had notified Regional Office informally that it disputed specification and that it was seeking legal counsel with experience before Bd, Bd held E's assertions did not adequately explain or justify E's failure to file timely ans; moreover, according to uncontroverted allegations of mtn for summary judgment, E withdrew any dispute as to bakcpay and was represented by counsel throughout period during which timely ans could have been filed)

China Best, Inc., d/b/a Lai Gong 264 NLRB No. 144
(mtn for summary judgment granted where Respondent wrote Bd after Notice to Show Cause why mtn for summary judgment should not be granted issued, stating it did not answer complaint because financially unable to retain counsel and requested second election because U had called in ex-Ees to vote, since Respondent did not established good cause under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.20 why allegations of complaint should not be deemed admitted inasmuch as letter lacked required specificity to serve as answer, nor timely filed nor duly served)

Stafford Construction Co. 261 NLRB No. 064
(mtn for summary judgment granted on backpay specification and net backpay due each discriminatee is as stated in specification, where E filed untimely ans and failed to file response to notice to show cause why mtn for summary judgment should not be granted; consequently, allegations of mtn for summary judgment stand uncontroverted and since E offered no explanation for failure to file ans, in accord with Bd's R/R, allegations of specification are deemed to be true and are so found w/o taking of evidence)

Electro-Mechanical Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 670
(summary judgment granted where E explained that he failed to file timely answer because he had been hospitalized for one week, was than urged to file promptly, filed 8 and 3 days after summary judgment mtn was filed but failed to serve answer on all parties)

Clean and Shine 255 NLRB No. 180
(mtn for reconsideration denied where E failed to answer compliant due to its admitted negligence after having been afforded two separate opportunities to file and subsequently failed to file timely answer to duly served Notice to Show Cause in response to mtn for summary judgment due to unsupported contention that E relied on Bd agent's alleged misrepresentations that it was too late)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 073
(Summary Judgment granted where E, after receiving extensions, mailed answer to complaint on date that answer was to be filed with RD who did not receive answer until after GC's mtn for summary judgment had been mailed to Bd; Section 102.114(b) of R/R states that filing date means that document must be received by Bd on that date)

APD Transport Corp. and Its Alter Ego, National Book Consolidators, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 066
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E failed to show good cause for failure to file timely answer; and request to withdraw charges and dismiss complaint because of settlement agreement denied since settlement agreement did not provide substantial remedy, some Ees objected to settlement terms of private settlement agreement, and settlement agreement would not effectuate policies of Act)

American Steel Line Co. 253 NLRB No. 046
(allegations of complaint were deemed admitted and found to be true where (1) respondent failed to answer, or show good cause for not doing so, after RD informed it that its letter accusing U of illegal activities did not comply with Bd's rules regarding valid answers, stated that respondent should inform RD if it wished its letter to constitute an answer, and extended time for answering and (2) even if deemed an answer, letter did not meet Bd requirement that an answer specifically admit, deny or explain each allegation of complaint)

Charter Co. 252 NLRB No. 007
(mtn for summary judgment granted, where E filed untimely answer to complaint over 2 months after deadline set for filing, E offered no explanation for its untimely answer, and it did not respond to notice to show cause; consequently, in accordance with Bd's R/R, allegations of complaint are deemed to be admitted and are found to be true)

Varco Phono Parts Corp. 250 NLRB No. 153
(summary judgment granted where E failed to file acceptable answer w/i 10 days from service of C, or w/i extended time afforded it by RD, and no good cause for E's failure to do so was shown; consequently, allegations of C are deemed to be admitted true)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where debtor-in-possession untimely responded to 8(a)(5) C and notified Bd that bankruptcy ct had shortly before granted its mtn to reject labor contract on which C was based, ct held Bd erred as matter of law and misused its discretion in granting mtn for summary judgment; while not condoning failure to file, ct refused to enforce Bd order that cavalierly refused to recognize outstanding federal ct order directly relating to proceedings before Bd; technical breach did not excuse Bd's refusal to recognize ct order and to explain its reasons for doing so)

National Book Consolidators, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 323 (C.A. 3, Mar. 1982)

(ct denied enforcement in case where Bd had granted summary judgment against E, held to be alter ego, for failure to file answer to ULP charges since good cause was shown to justify late filing of such answer in view of U's delay of withdrawing complaint after written settlement of ULPs had been signed by parties and E had been lulled into belief by RD's several extensions of time in accommodation of settlement that such settlement would be acceptable in lieu of an answer)

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(where Bd issued summary judgment because E's ans mailed on day designated for filing was received 7 days late on ground that pleading mailed on due date is always delinquent because in no event could it reach Bd before end of business day, ct held that an ans will be accepted if it is mailed before due date, even though late on arrival; and equities herein require acceptance of ans, even though not mailed until due date of extension period granted to E)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(Bd abused its discretion in issuing summary judgment because E's counsel filed untimely ans, since Bd should have considered inexperience of E's counsel in Bd cases, disruption of his practice by personal problems, fact that counsel was not a chronic late filer or dilatory in proceedings and that delay in filing was not factor which would have delayed resolution of case on merits; moreover, E was barred from presenting a meritorious defense which GC had been timely apprised of, and Bd will have to consider intervening ct decision dealing with issue herein)

6867-6700 Where issue has or could have been previously resolved

American Laundry Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 131

(ALJ's order granting E's mtn for summary judgment to dismiss grounded, inter alia, on RD's investigation and administrative dismissal of prior ULP charges vacated, notwithstanding earlier charges covered some of same allegations, where such charges were subject of only administrative investigation and were not adjudicated)

American Laundry Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 131

(ALJ's order granting E's mtn for summary judgment to dismiss grounded, inter alia, on non-Bd settlement purporting to settle all matters between E and U, vacated since matter was not ripe for summary judgment and allegations raised issues best resolved through formal hearing where there was sharp disagreement among parties as to what non-Bd settlement did or did not purport to include)

Jersey Shore Medical Center 263 NLRB No. 105

(summary judgment granted where Bd rejected E's assertion that hearing was warranted based on newly discovered evidence of copy of collective bargaining agreement that indicates greater magnitude of U misrepresentation, where E did not show why contract was previously unavailable or newly discovered)

Cambridge Taxi Company 260 NLRB No. 119

(E's mtn for summary judgment granted where instant charge was filed prior to settlement agreement between parties notwithstanding instant charge was not specifically listed in agreement since settlement agreements dispose of old issues involving presettlement conduct of parties unless prior violations were unknown to GC, not readily discoverable by investigation, or specifically reserved from settlement agreement by mutual understanding of parties. Omitting charge from settlement agreement does not constitute specific reservation)

Net Television, Inc., a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Educational Broadcasting Corporation 252 NLRB No. [illegible]

(summary judgment denied where RD erroneously refused E's request to withdraw stipulation prior to representation election that Ee was supervisor which E entered into with belief that two other Ees who occupied analogous positions were also supervisors but were determined afterwards not to be supervisors by RD; stipulation did not factually address Ee's actual job duties and authority nor was Ee's status litigated in that regard)

Franklin Art Glass Studios, Inc. 2[illegible]0 NLRB No. [illegible]

Divine Providence Hospital of Pittsburgh 248 NLRB No. 078

(mtn for summary judgment granted where all issues raised by E were or could have been litigated in prior R proceeding, E does not offer to adduce at hearing newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence nor allege any special circumstances which would require Bd to reexamine R-case decision)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 047

(E's mtn for summary judgment based on E's claim that charging party had refused E's unconditional offer of reinstatement, denied since issue of whether E in fact made unconditional offer of reinstatement had not yet been resolved and case involved other issues which had been resolved contrary to E)

6867-6708 Jurisdiction

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180

N.L.R.B. v. Southeast Association For Retarded Citizens, Inc., d/b/a Southeast Work Training Center 666 F.2d 428 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)

(no denial of due process where E claims that Bd relied on allegedly coerced stipulation as basis for its jurisdiction and such claim was first raised in answer to GC's mtn for summary judgment, as claim could have been litigated in prior proceeding; moreover due process was not denied and coercion was not involved where E voluntarily submitted information that GC could have subpoenaed)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 123 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(First Amendment challenge to Bd's jurisdiction over charitable hospital operated by religious order held timely raised, notwithstanding contention that issue could have been litigated at R proceedings before RD and no new or previously unavailable evidence was offered or special circumstances alleged to require Bd's consideration, since it is sufficient that hospital raised First Amendment issue in R proceedings before Bd and did not defer its challenge to enforcement proceedings; case remanded to Bd for further consideration in light of SCt's opinion in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490)

6867-6712 Failure to refer Region's investigatory file

Prairie Tank Southern, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 117

(E's failure to previously argue that RD improperly failed to transmit complete record in underlying R case to Bd not justified by Region's refusal in instant case to enter into stipulation to effect that affidavits taken during Region's investigation of R case not forwarded to Bd. E may not now raise this as defense to failure to bargain, since no requirement that RDs enter into such stipulations, and E was familiar with requirements for filing exceptions to elections and what constitutes record thereunder; further, E had notice through RD's report as to what would constitute record)

Knickerbocker Foods, Inc., A Division of Knickerbocker Meats, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 121

(statements of witnesses which were before RD in his disposition of election objections and challenged ballots are expressly excluded from definition of documentary evidence in Sec. 102.69(g)(1)(ii) of R/R, and this accords with Bd policy of protecting investigatory affidavits from disclosure when witnesses have not testified at hearing, thus E was not denied due process and party which wants Bd to consider statements of witnesses must append them to its submission to Bd)

Harvard Folding Box Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 102

(no denial of due process by RD's failure to forward E's witness's affidavit to Bd upon request for review, since (a) it was not part of record under R/R 102.69(g) being expressly excluded from record under 1981 amendment to Sec. 102.69 and (b) was not prejudiced thereby, where E attached affidavit to mtn to reopen record and Bd considered it as part of record but found it raised no material issue of fact or law warranting reversal or modification of certification)

Colonial Manor 1977, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 131

(RD's failure to foweard to Bd affidavits obtained during investigation of objections held not to make Bd's review of R proceeding improper; RD's decision was final decision on the record, Bd's R/R require request for review to be self-contained document enabling Bd to rule on basis of its contents w/o recourse to record, it was no abuse of Bd's discretion to deny request solely on basis of RD's decision and E's request for review which presented no substantial and material issue of fact; and action herein accords with Bd's policy of expeditiously resolving qcr)

Allis Chalmers Corporation 252 NLRB No. [illegible]

(mtn for summary judgment granted notwithstanding E's contention that Bd's review of RD's report on objections was defective because entire investigative recard was not before it when it adopted report, and that Bd should consider entire record in underlying R proceeding suplemented by proper hearing; Bd properly exercised its discretion in adopting RD's decision inasmuch as E's exceptions raised no substantial or material issues to warrant a hearing, and instant finding is supported by Act's policy of expeditiously resolving R questions; Bd declined to follow Prestolite, 592 F.2d 306 (C.A. 6) and Cambridge Wire 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4))

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(RD must make available relevant information discovered in course of investigation of representation election, at least to extent that E has pointed him toward it, whether it favors successful party or objector regardless of whether it was referred to by objectors affidavits or is independently turned up by investigation)

N.L.R.B. v. RJR Archer Inc., Filmco Division 617 F.2d 161 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where E filed objections to election based on U misconduct and filed affidavits of supervisory Ees substantiative allegations but RD, w/o hearing, recommended certification of election, Bd's adoption of recommendation w/o ordering hearing or having before it complete Regional Office file constitutes on abuse of discretion as being arbitrary and capricious; certification set aside and remanded to Bd for hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(remanded for evidentiary hearing Bd refused to hold w/o reviewing documentary evidence underlying RD's report on objections and w/o making such evidence part of record for judicial review. RD did not send any documentation relied on in report and only documentary evidence before Bd was affidavit attached to exceptions. RD's failure to transmit documents not harmless since not submitted by objecting E either)

6867-6725 Unit determination

Brooklyn Psychosocial Rehabilitation Institute, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 009
(GC's mtn for summary judgment granted where unit issue concerning application of N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University, 444 U.S. 672 (1980) to instant proceeding was fully litigated in prior R proceeding; E's reliance on Ithaca College, 261 NLRB No. 83 (1982), Thiel College, 261 NLRB No. 84 (1982), and Duquesne University of The Holy Ghost, 261 NLRB No. 85 (1982), decided subsequent to Yeshiva, was misplaced inasmuch as those cases were similar to Yeshiva and E has failed to show how instant faculty exercises comparable authority in making academic as well as nonacademic policy)

Benchmark Industries, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 031
(Respondent's mere assertion in its opposition to mtn for summary judgment that it has unspecified information to submit concerning appropriateness of unit does not suffice as offer of newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence that would require Bd to reexamine decision made in underlying R proceeding)

The Medical Center at Bowling Green 261 NLRB No. 120
(contention that E was not obligated to bargain because unit placement of certain Ees was unresolved, rejected since neither basic appropriateness of the certified unit was affected nor parties obligation to bargain with respect to that unit)

The Trustees of The Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund 261 NLRB No. 049
(mtn for summary judgment that E violated 8(a)(5) by refusing to furnish requested information on wage, fringe benefit, and employment data granted where E defended its refusal on grounds that certified unit was not appropriate, since E offered no new evidence concerning appropriateness of certified unit -- which had already been litigated -- and no evidence to rebut presumptive relevance of information requested)

Penstone Corporation 260 NLRB No. 188

Milton College 260 NLRB No. 047
(GC's mtn for summary judgment denied and proceeding remanded for hearing concerning appropriateness of unit of college's faculty members where E claimed that SCt's intervening Yeshiva decision, holding certain faculty members managerial, rendered previously stipulated unit of faculty members' inappropriate; SCt's decision, issued following initial stipulation herein, constituted substantial change regarding managerial status of faculty members; there was no allegation of change in faculty's duties or authority; issue was not previously litigated; and E cannot be held to have knowledgeably waived ct decision which postdated unit stipulation)

Milton College 260 NLRB No. 047
(in denying GC's mtn for summary judgment in proceeding in which GC claimed that college, which had stipulated appropriateness of faculty members' unit, had effectively wavied litigation of appropriateness of such unit, asserted by E to be inappropriate because of SCt's intervening Yeshiva University decision holding certain faculty members to be managerial, Bd held that, since waiver implies knowledge of a right before it can be waived, E cannot be held to have knowledgeably waived a ct decision which issued some 9 months following initial stipulation herein)

Mercury Marine Division of Brunswick Corporation 259 NLRB No. 110
(in prior UC case)

Mr. B. IGA, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 111
(more than 3-year delay from time of processing E's objections to election in R case to time of mtn for summary judgment in C case, during which 3 of E's 4 stores were sold, number of Ees in unit was reduced from 19 to 3 and complete turnover of Ees in unit, not defense to mtn where Bd's affirmance of RD's Supplemental Decision clearly indicated that issues were considered by Bd; delay not special circumstance requiring Bd to reexamine its decision in underlying R case)

Globe Products Corp. 254 NLRB No. 185
(E's mtn for summary judgment granted where RD found that election ptn was not premature even if E's plans for expansion were not speculative as work force at hearing would constitute 50 percent of its contemplated Ees and 100 percent of job classifications and Ees' right to immediate representation outweighed potential evil of disenfranchisement of prospective voters)

Valley View Hospital 252 NLRB No. 160
(GC's mtn for summary judgment denied where RD had found unit including RNs appropriate in view of stipulation of parties; however, there was no testimony at R hearing which would indicate RNs were technical Ees, or performed duties different from those implied in their job classification, and stipulation alone cannot override mandate of 9(b) requiring professional Ees to vote on inclusion in unit with non-professional Ees)

Big Y Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 122
(E's contention that Bd had not fulfilled its statutory duty to make unit determination in its Decision and Direction of Elections and summary judgment fails because of new issue that could not have been previously raised held w/o merit; Bd had found that either Unit A or Unit B was appropriate, and therefore affirmative duty placed on Bd by Sec. 9(b) was not violated by allowing Ees to express their desires in elections)

Colorado Aggregate Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 160

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 403 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(remanded for reconsideration of question of whether Ees known as Operator/Runners were guards w/i meaning of Sec. 9(b)(3) where Bd held determined Ees were not guards on basis of R hearing only, did not consider relevant information introduced at ULP hearing on related charge and avoided addressing inconsistency between classification of Ees in present case and Ees with same title in three Bd decisions involving same E, notwithstanding Bd's argument that R/R Sec. 102.67(f) required party to produce all abvailable evidence at R hearing rather than attempt to relitigate unit issue at ULP hearing)

6867-6790 Failure to hold hearing on objections to election

Semco Printing Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 073
(in summary judgment proceeding, Bd rejected E's contention that it is entitled to hearing on specified objections to election, where Bd, prior to adopting findings and recommendations of RD's report with respect to objections, considered report, exceptions thereto, and entire record and, by its adoption of portion of report recommending that objections herein be overruled, necessarily found that such objections raised no material issue warranting a hearing)

Bleyer Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 035
(refusal of some Ees on E's season recall list to return to work does not constitute newly discovered evidence relevant to preelection determination of voting eligibility of those Ees)

F. W. Woolworth Co. 258 NLRB No. 176
(mtn for summary judgment on refusal to bargain complaint denied and E entitled to hearing on underlying objections to election since E raised litigable material issues of fact where certified representative had merged with another U and while intended merger was raised in objections to election, there was no consideration in R case of actual merger and issue of U's successorship)

Allis Chalmers Corporation 252 NLRB No. 063
(mtn for summary judgment granted notwithstanding E's contention that Bd's review of RD's report on objections was defective because entire investigative record was not before it when it adopted report, and that Bd should consider entire record in underlying R proceeding suplemented by proper hearing; Bd properly exercised its discretion in adopting RD's decision inasmuch as E's exceptions raised no substantial or material issues to warrant a hearing, and instant finding is supported by Act's policy of expeditiously resolving R questions; Bd declined to follow Prestolite, 592 F.2d 306 (C.A. 6) and Cambridge Wire 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4))

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(enforcement denied where Bd improperly granted summary judgment in ULP case despite E's showings of atmosphere of fear and coercion that would tend to interfere with election and possible Sewell violations; hearing was required o.. E's objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)

6867-6758 Challenges to ballots

McCrometer, Division of Ametek, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 136
(upon reconsideration, Bd denied GC's mtn for summary judgment since certification was improvidently granted where U challenged ballots on ground voters were not unit Ees, and RD chose not to conduct hearing on challenged ballots but rather to sustain challenges on basis of evidence apparently gathered from U during his investigation, and E offered to provide witnesses to support its contention that Ees in question shared sufficient community of interest with other unit Ees so as to require their inclusion)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc./Biquette, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 150
(approval of informal settlement agreement withdrawn and hearing resumed where ALJ found that there was no meeting of the minds among parties to settlement agreement concerning challenged ballots)

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 668 F.2d 661 (C.A. 2, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's granting summary judgment in 8(a)(5) case that ballot of clerk at hospital had been successfully challenged by U – and U therefore correctly certified – because clerk was member of religious order sponsoring and, according to Bd's findings, controlling hospital held error, where only alleged indicia of control relied on by Bd are the religious order's majority membership on board of trustees and the top administrator's membership in the order; moreover Bd granted summary judgment without holding evidenciary hearing to permit more extensive fact finding)

6867-6766 Objection to conduct affecting election

Sonoma Vineyards, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 085
(E's cross-mtn for withdrawal of order transferring proceeding to Bd and Notice to Show Cause denied since Bd rejected alleged newly discovered evidence showing bias on part of Bd agent who conducted election where agent's comments at polls regarding U's ability to overcome challenges to ballots were not, if stated, overheard by voters as to have impact on election, and furthermore, agent's subsequent employment with U 3 years after election is not evidence of bias nor contravenes R/R 102.119 inasmuch as there is no evidence that former agent is representing U in any capacity before Bd in this proceeding; accordingly Bd granted mtn for summary judgment)

ARA Services, Inc. 269 NLRB No. 26
(S.J. granted where E refused to bargain alleging invalid certification of U because U threatened Ees with deportation for their illegal alien status if they did not vote for U; however no evidence was introduced at original hearing to show that Ee who made statement was agent of U; thus E's offer of such statements as proof of interference with election are not determinative because they do not provide new evidence regarding agency status)

Racraft Foundry 261 NLRB No. 194
(E's defense to summary judgment proceeding denied where it alleged contention that was included as one of its objections to election in underlying R proceeding but was subsequently withdrawn by E. Having raised defense once but withdrew it, E is estopped from raising same issue in subsequent litigation, and it cannot qualify as newly discovered evidence)

Hyatt Hotels, Inc., d/b/a Hyatt Regency Phoenix 256 NLRB No. 106
(Bd held that E did not raise meritorious defense to mtn for summary judgment in case involving technical 8(a)(5) violation where E raised for first time question of Ee's supervisory status in regard to impact of Ee's alleged organizational and other U activities on election; however, RD had previously made determination of Ee's supervisory status concerning which Bd denied E's request for review and Bd held that instant case is a related subsequent ULP proceeding which precludes relitigation of issues under R/R Sec. 102.67(f))

Hanes Dye and Finishing Company 258 NLRB No. 140
(summary judgment granted where after hearing on objections to election and Bd issuance of certification to U, E sought to reopen hearing but could not satisfy requirement that evidence sought to be introduced was newly discovered or unavailable to E at time of hearing)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 248 NLRB No. 068
(granting GC's mtn for summary judgment, held warranted even if GC neglected to affix to copy of mtn mailed to E U's letter requesting recognition and E's response thereto, since E had possession of the two documents)

6867-6790 Defenses raised in prior 10(k) determination proceeding

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry, Local Union NO. 741 (The Ashton Company, Inc.)
(issues raised and litigated in prior 10(k) proceeding may not be relitigated in subsequent ULP proceeding alleging violations of Section 8(b)(4)(D) which are based in part on factual determinations made in prior 10(k) proceeding)

6867-6800 Failure to litigate present allegations in prior proceeding

We Transport, Inc. Towne Bus Corp. 265 NLRB No. 114
(mtn denied where argument that presumption of single-location unit should not apply to public service; i.e., bus company, because state law prohibits such unit fragmentation among Ees, providing public services could have been litigated in R-proceeding)

Racraft Foundry 261 NLRB No. 194
(E's defense to summary judgment proceeding denied where it alleged contention that was included as one of its objections to election in underlying R proceeding but was subsequently withdrawn by E. Having raised defense once but withdrew it, E is estopped from raising same issue in subsequent litigation, and it cannot qualify as newly discovered evidence)

F. W. Woolworth Co. 258 NLRB No. 176
(mtn for summary judgment on refusal to bargain complaint denied and E entitled to hearing on underlying objections to election since E raised litigable material issues of fact where certified representative had merged with another U and while intended merger was raised in objections to election, there was no consideration in R case of actual merger and issue of U's successorship)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 256 NLRB No. 187
(E's mtn for summary judgment on ground GC's failure to litigate instant allegations in earlier consolidated cases precluded him from litigating such allegations, denied, where GC was not aware of those allegations at time of earlier proceeding nor should he reasonably have discovered circumstances of allegations during earlier investigation; prosecution herein does not subject E to unnecessary harassment, and instant allegations are completely separate from prior litigation; and to compel GC to litigate all ULPs occurring during pendency of other litigation would allow E to delay indefinitely litigation of any charges by committing further ULPs)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 147
(E's assertion that U was not same labor organization that petitioned for certification, rejected as E did not mention alleged change in U's identity in its Request for Review; moreover, Bd had already held in earlier case that new international U was continuation of and successor to representational rights of Retail Clerks International Association and Amalgamated Meat Cutters which 2 Us had merged)

Maremont Corp. World Parts Division 269 NLRB No. 060
(E's mtn for summary judgment on ground that GC's failure to litigate instant allegations known to him at time of earlier hearing, precluded GC from litigating such allegations herein, denied; although aware of such allegations, GC was not therefore compelled to litigate allegations in prior proceeding, or not at all; there was no attempt to relitigate factual matters previously litigated under different provision of Act, alleged violations in both proceedings were not roughly concurrent, and there was no settlement agreement precluding litigation of presettlement conduct known to GC at time of execution of settlement).

Movement Corp. World Parts Division 249 NLRB No. 043
(E's mtn for summary judgment on ground that GC's failure to litigate instant allegations known to him at time of earlier hearing, precluded GC from litigating such allegations herein, denied; instant case does not subject E to unnecessary harassment since GC attempted to litigate allegations herein in earlier proceeding but ALJ denied mtn to amend C; having sufficient notice to prepare case herein, E may not now successfully argue that it has been prejudiced; and E's argument, if accepted, would severely restrict GC's legitimate exercise of discretion in expeditious litigation of outstanding Cs)

6867-6900 Where no factual dispute

Semco Printing Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 073
(mtn for summary judgment granted where no material issues of fact existed with regard to E's refusal to furnish information sought by U concerning Ees' rate of pay, benefits, seniority dates, and related information, since such information is presumptively relevant for bargaining purposes and must be furnished upon request, and E herein had not attempted to rebut relevance of information)

Valley Mfg., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 171
(GC's mtn for summary judgment granted where allegations of 8(a)(5) in C were admitted by E in affidavit when considered in conjunction with other documents attached to GC's mtn and assertions in GC's mtn itself; accordingly, all allegations of C held to be true and no material issues of fact remained for determination)

Stephens College 260 NLRB No. 143
(mtn for summary judgment denied where case involves supervisory status of full-time faculty members and SCt's decision in N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University rejected collective authority theory RD relied on in his finding of nonsupervisory status; therefore genuine issue exists which cannot be resolved on current record)

Honda of America Mfg., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 055
(E's contention that its application of Japanese approach to labor relations should be considered held w/o merit and not special circumstance warranting further consideration by Bd)

Schoemer Construction Company 258 NLRB No. 173
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E admitted it was bound by bargaining agreement and had failed to make payments into fringe benefit funds as provided therein)

Steinbaum Laundry, Inc., Brooks, Inc. d/b/a Rutters Linen Service 256 NLRB No. 176
(summary judgment granted since no material issues of fact existed with regard to E's refusal to furnish information sought by U, where E admitted it refused to furnish requested information, and its defense on grounds U's certification was improper was rejected because it was attempt to relitigate issue which was or could have been litigated in prior R proceeding and which E was not entitled to do)

Zeigler Coal Company 256 NLRB No. 169
(mtn for summary judgment granted where E's only reply to bargaining request was letter in which it asserted that current contract contained agreement that U would not seek to represent Ees in recently certified unit during life of contract covering another unit)

Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 255 NLRB No. 043
(no factual issue where E's refusal to furnish U wage, fringe benefit, and employment data concerning unit Ees was based on its contention that it had no obligation to supply such information and did not challenge relevance of information sought which has been held to be presumptively relevant)

W. F. Hall Printing Company 250 NLRB No. 122
(mtn for summary judgment granted where it is admitted that E sent Ees letter, using language substantially same as that which has recently been found unlawful, requesting them to refuse to sign U authorization cards and also to report to E if any Ee harrassed them about signing U authorization cards)

Colony Printing and Labeling, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 002
(and there was no matter in issue that required hearing before an ALJ; statements, admittedly made by E, constituted ULPs)

6867-9100 Obligation to bargain resolved in prior unfair labor practice

Robertshaw Controls Company 265 NLRB No. 032
(summary judgment granted finding that E's failure to furnish U with requested information violated 8(a)(5), in view of Bd's decision in a prior case that E had obligation to bargain with U at all times pertinent herein)

6867-9500 Backpay proceeding

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 264 NLRB No. 087
(allegations of gross backpay specification, except as to interim earnings, deemed admitted as true and GC's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment granted where respondent filed general denial w/o specifically denying gross backpay allegations, providing alternative formula, or explaining his failure to do so; assertion, in answer to NOtice to Show Cause, that he lacked knowledge because GC had subpoenaed his records held untimely and inadequate to explain his failure to seek information from GC, trial record, or elsewhere; general denial concerning interim earnings, however, sufficient to raise issue warranting hearing)

Fenestrol Window Manufacturers, Inc. f/k/a Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 263 NLRB No. 090
(mtn for summary judgment on backpay specification granted where allegations of specification stand uncontroverted because of E's failure to file ans to mtn and to respond to notice to show cause; and since E and its alter ego or successor as well as interim trustee appointed by ct on E's ptn for bankruptcy, who was invited to answer specification, all failed to file ans or offer any explanation for such failure, allegations of specification deemed to be true; accordingly, E and successor ordered to comply with Bd's make whole and reinstatement order)

Sonny Stewart's Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Harbor House (263 NLRB No. 030
(summary judgment granted where Respondent failed to file ans to back pay specification, notwithstanding it did notify GC 5 weeks after ans due that it had gone out of business as this is not timely response nor does it relieve respondent of its obligation to ans backpay specification)

Alamo Cement Company, d/b/a Portland Cement Company 262 NLRB No. 37
(where parties entered into informal settlement agreement and dispute arose over amount of backpay due under its terms and RD issued backpay specification and notice of hearing alleging amount due; Respondent's use of general denial for disputing accuracy of formula and figures used not sufficient under Sec. 102.54(b) and (c) of R/R and summary judgment granted as to these portions; however, general denial is sufficient with respect to amount of intermin earnings contained in specification to raise issue warranting hearing on that matter)

Sun Inn, Inc. d/b/a San Antonio Inn 261 NLRB No. 129
(where respondent failed to file timely answer to backpay specification and Notice to Show Cause, allegations of backpay specification were deemed admitted as true)

Ace Masonry, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 131
(pursuant to Sec. 102.54 of Bd's R/R, allegations of backpay specification were deemed true and admitted w/o taking of supporting evidence where respondent was informed of provisions of SEc. 102.54 by backpay specification and letter from RD but failed to answer specification)

Stafford Construction Co. 261 NLRB No. 064
(mtn for summary judgment granted on backpay specification and net backpay due each discriminatee is as stated in specification, where E filed untimely ans and failed to file response to notice to show cause why mtn for summary judgment should not be granted; consequently, allegations of mtn for summary judgment stand uncontroverted and since E offered no explanation for failure to file ans, in accord with Bd's R/R, allegations of specification are deemed to be true and are so found w/o taking of evidence)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(GC's mtn for partial summary judgment on net backpay allegation in specification, and mtn to strike E's answers thereto, denied, where E's answers made general denials to specification's allegations and, since E's general denials on issue of interim earnings is directly related to computation and accuracy of net backpay which, in turn, is dependent upon data derived from interim earnings, E's general denials are sufficient to require hearing on issue)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(in partial summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, GC's mtn to strike portions of E's answers, which either deny generally or fail to explain adequately allegations of specification, granted, since E's answers are nonresponsive and not in conformity with Bd's R/R)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(GC's mtn for partial summary judgment with respect to certain allegations in backpay specification granted since E's answers thereto are general denials and not adequately explained and, therefore are deemed to be admitted as true)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(in partial summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, E held precluded from introducing into evidence any controverting issues not properly raised in its answers)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(in partial summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd rejected GC's contention that E was challenging remedy already decreed and that E had obligation under ct of appeals' judgment to make discriminatees whole for losses suffered; judgment of ct had no immediate relevancy to issues raised by GC's mtn; moreover, E's answer was sufficiently specific to constitute denial of specification's allegation involved herein)

William Minter Masonry Contractor, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 157

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 098

(GC's mtn for summary judgment with respect to backpay specification issued to respondent U, denied; although U's original ans, amounting to general denial of entire backpay specification, would not have been adequate under Bd's R/R, U's subsequently submitted documents stating that general denial was based on lack of information concerning discriminatees' employment prior to their present jobs, were construed by Bd as an amended ans which adequately raised interim earnings issue; and since interim earnings are not generally w/i knowledge of respondent, a general denial is sufficient to place them in issue)

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 098

(although denying GC's mtn for summary judgment and ordering hearing concerning portion of backpay specification dealing with interim earnings raised as issue by respondent U's amended ans, Bd held that, inasmuch as U had not raised issues in its original ans or amended ans regarding other matters in backpay specification pertaining to backpay period or gross backpay, U's general denial was not sufficient to bring such matters in issue)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004

(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held E's ans constituting a general denial failed to comply with Bd's R/R Sec. 102.54(b) and (c) as to compliance matters w/i E's knowledge. where ans did not dispute accuracy of specification's figures or provide any alternative formula for computing amounts owed; and inasmuch as Ees' hours worked and pay rates are presumed to be w/i E's knowledge, ans was insufficient to deny specification's allegations concerning gross backpay and amounts owed to benefit funds)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004

(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held general denials in E's answers of allegations concerning interim earnings were sufficient to require hearing on such issue since it is not presumed that amount of interim earnings is normally w/i knowledge of E)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004

(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held Es' general denials of allegation in specification regarding their status as successor Es were sufficient to require hearing on whether they are successors obligated to remedy ULPs herein, since they were not made parties to underlying ULP proceedings and thus never had opportunity to present evidence at hearing as to their liability)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004

(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held E's general denial as to all allegations were insufficient under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.54(b) and (c); and since no explanation or response to notice to show cause was filed, E is deemed to have admitted all allegations in specification, except those regarding interim earnings, to be true)

Magi-Clean, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 049

(mtn for summary judgment granted and backpay specification deemed admitted as true where respondent failed to file answer to specification and made no response to notice to show cause)

Seven Motors Ltd., d/b/a Mazda South; et al. 252 NLRB No. 116

D. V. Copying and Printing, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 005

(summary judgment granted where respondent failed to submit timely ans notwithstanding on last date to file ans respondent requested extension because respondent failed to show proper cause; moreover, fact that respondent now alleges that its counsel and his secretary were both ill at time ans due not determinative as it should have been alleged at that time)

Chemtronics, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 006

(back pay specification deemed admitted as true and GC's mtn for summary judgment granted since ans not timely nor sufficient in form or content where 11 months from service of purported ans due in part to numerous extensions to allow E to obtain new labor counsel, and 5 months after E aware of its counsel's failure to file ans response was not ans prepared by new counsel but affidavit by E's vice-president)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-209-82

(GC's contention in mtn for summary judgment that amended backpay specification should be found true and recommended order should issue w/o taking evidence in support of allegations since Respondent failed to answer amended backpay specification, rejected, where Respondent had filed ans to original backpay specification as Bd's R/R states Respondents may rather shall amend its ans; thus, Respondent may rely on ans already submitted w/o having specification deemed admitted on basis of failure to answer amended specification)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-209-82

(backpay specification as to interim earnings remained uncontradicted and deemed true, notwithstanding Respondent's general denial as to interim earnings and that general denial sufficient to defeat summary judgment since Bd does not presume interim earnings w/i knowledge of Respondent, inasmuch as hearing ordered and held and Respondent failed to avail itself of opportunity to contest interim earning figure which GC had burden of establishing)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-209-82

(Respondent filed general denial to backpay specification but disputed end of backpay period, and thereafter, GC filed amended specification modifying backpay period in line with Respondent's objections to which Respondent filed no ans, nor appeared at hearing, nor responded to Notice To Show Cause, Mtn for Summary Judgment granted in view of lack of specificity in ans which under Bd's R/R allegations are deemed admitted, thereby precluding Respondent from offering evidence)

6884 DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT OR ALLEGATIONS CONTAINED THEREIN

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 135

(E's mtn to dismiss all allegations in 8(a)(5) case because RD revoked U's certification based on U's disclaimer of interest in representing Ees, denied, since alleged violation occurred when U was Ee bargaining representative, and subsequent disclaimer by U does not alter fact that E violated Act and that remedy is necessary for such violation)

Royal Zenith Corporation 263 NLRB No. 83

(Respondent's mtn to dismiss complaint granted where Charging Party's testimony on cross-examination false and contradictory so as to render his entire testimony not credible and where charging party violated ALJ's instructions not to discuss testimony with others)

Cambridge Taxi Company 260 NLRB No. 119

(E's mtn for summary judgment granted where instant charge was filed prior to settlement agreement between parties notwithstanding instant charge was not specifically listed in agreement since settlement agreements dispose of old issues involving presettlement conduct of parties unless prior violations were unknown to GC, not readily discoverable by investigation, or specifically reserved from settlement agreement by mutual understanding of parties. Omitting charge from settlement agreement does not constitute specific reservation)

Kennicott Bros. Company 256 NLRB No. 083

(E's mtn for summary judgment contending that RD's reissuance of complaint a year after alleged ULP was time-barred by Sec. 10(b), denied since Bd was not compelled by equities of case to overrule GC's reinstatement of timely filed charge where U acted timely throughout case and E was not prejudiced by and did not detrimentally change position in reliance on GC's actions; GC struck proper balance between Sec. 10(b)'s policy barring stale litigation and the Act' broad remedial policy, and RD did not abuse discretion by reinstating complaint on basis of U's reliance on his incorrect opn)

Electrical Workers, Local 1701 (Dynalectric Company) 262 NLRB No. 119

(where GC refused to consent to respondent's motion for dismissal of specified allegation, ALJ felt obliged to reserve decision thereon and subsequently made ruling disposing of issue)

Pyromectics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 141

(E's mtn to dismiss complaint on ground that Ee's discharge was not specifically alleged as violation, denied; charge contained general 8(a)(1) allegation, and such charge is sufficient to support complaint alleging discharge of Ees in violation of Sec.8(a)(1); pleading of all the evidence in the charge is not required)

6892 GRANTING OF LIMITED SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Tucson Yellow Cab, Inc., A Debtor in Possession 265 NLRB No. 063

(Bd complied with inj of U.S. Bankruptcy Ct in granting summary judgment only to extent that Bd found E had committed ULPs w/o ordering normal remedies; Bd retained jurisdiction over present case pending outcome of bankruptcy)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 264 NLRB No. 087

(allegations of gross backpay specification, except as to interim earnings, deemed admitted as true and GC's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment granted where respondent filed general denial w/o specifically denying gross backpay allegations, providing alternative formula, or explaining his failure to do so; assertion, in answer to NOtice to Show Cause, that he lacked knowledge because GC had subpoenaed his records held untimely and inadequate to explain his failure to seek information from GC, trial record, or elsewhere; general denial concerning interim earnings, however, sufficient to raise issue warranting hearing)

The Westin Hotel 261 NLRB No. 141
(mtn to strike portions of E's answer to mtn for summary judgment on grounds that they were contrary to facts admitted, denied, because mtn constituted endeavor by E to preserve its position)

Itt Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 258 NLRB No. 155
(E's mtn for partial summary judgment denied, contrary to E's contention that Bd dismiss certain paragraphs (relating to transfer of U adherent to allegedly more onerous position) of amendment to consolidated complaint on ground that it was prohibited by Sec. 10(b) period and that neither RD nor GC had jurisdiction since above case had been transferred to Bd earlier, where Bd determined that there were material issues to be resolved at administrative hearing concerning objectionable paragraphs)

World's Best Janitorial Services, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 103
(where E did not file ans to certain paragraphs of C but sent RD letter which was interpreted to be general denial of two paragraphs of the C, Bd granted GC's mtn for Limited Summary Judgement as to other allegations contained in C and remanded for hearing on allegations contained in these two paragraphs)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(primary judgment granted to extent of determination of appropriate unit, since both E and GC agreed to unit by written stipulation)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(summary judgment granted to extent of determining E's failure to deny allegation in C)

7000 JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS

I.S.G. Extrusion Toolings, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 007
(U's mtn for judgment on pleadings granted since no factual issues in dispute and E obligated to bargain with U, notwithstanding its closing of facility, its bankruptcy ptn and order of bankruptcy ct prohibiting payment of any debt of E by debtor in possession w/o permission of ct)

Dellinger Excavating, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 061
(granted where respondent filed no answer to complaint)

V. Pangori & Sons, Inc., and David Currell,
Receiver in Bankruptcy 240 NLRB No. 070
(mtn for judgment on the pleadings granted, since respondents failed to file answer to complaint)

7100 DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Urban Excavating Company 264 NLRB No. 041
(mtn for default judgment granted in absence of answer to complaint alleging failure and refusal to make required payments into fringe benefit funds and to allow audit of its books and records to verify compliance persuant to collective bargaining agreement. Such audit provided for in contract)

D & J Gravel Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 054
(mtn for default judgment granted where Respondent failed to answer complaint and failed to file answer to notice to show cause)

7200 ALJ's QUALIFICATION AND AUTHORITY

7201 GENERALLY

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(where at time RD's order consolidating cases had issued, ALJ had ordered consolidation of cases with earlier cases and had reopened hearing. ALJ held that, since hearing had been reopened, any question concerning further consolidation would more appropriately be handled through motion to him rather than through RD)

7250 QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

7250-3000 Substitution in event of unavailability

7250-3080 Preparation of report by new ALJ

Illinois Bell Telephone Company 259 NLRB No. 167
(Bd upheld credibility findings of ALJ who wrote decision after trial judge died where such credibility findings were based on factors other than demeanor, and, in consonance with Bd policy set forth in Standard Dry Wall)

7250-4500 Motions to disqualify

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(Bd denied E's mtn to disqualify ALJ, to vacate his decision and have hearing de novo assertedly because at settlement conference attended by ALJ and occurring before his decision issued E's counsel had informed participants that, because of economic changes unrelated to issues herein, E planned to move its operations to Hong Kong, which assertedly prejudiced ALJ's finding that E had repeatedly threatened to do so if Ees supported U and also prejudiced ALJ's findings of other violations)

7250-4533 Adequacy of facts alleged

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(Bd rejected E's request that Bd listen to tapes of hearing as Bd reviewed record and decision, found no evidence of bias, hostility or prejudice although some of ALJ's statements may have been ill-chosen)

7250-4550 Procedural adequacy

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(mtn to disqualify ALJ allegedly for showing bias by expressing off-the-record opinion of case's merits before respondent presented evidence, denied where E did not object on the record and did not comply with Bd's disqualification procedures)

7250-4567 Timeliness

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(respondents contention to Bd that ALJ should disqualify himself for having engaged in ex parte communication with RD, rejected, since contentions untimely filed as respondents delayed filing until after ALJ's decision issued; moreover, communication in no way addressed merits of complaint; rather, limited to settlement possibilities specifically allowable under Sec. 102.130 of Bd's R/R)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 253 NLRB No. 060
(Bd found no merit in E's contention that ALJ was prejudiced against E and unduly pressured it to settle case by alleged off-the-record comments where it was incumbent upon counsel for E immediately to request that any alleged comments be repeated on record, to make timely objection thereto, and to move that ALJ disqualify himself; moreover, E's claim of impropriety was not made until after ALJ had issued decision and thus not timely raised; in any event, ALJ's findings were fully supported by record evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)
(ALJ's ex parte communication with GC held no basis for ALJ's disqualification, where respondents did not comply with R/R Sec. 102.37 requiring timely filing of affidavit alleging grounds for disqualification; parties, informed of communication, stated they were satisfied with ALJ's explanation concerning communication and did not raise objection until well after ALJ's decision; moreover, communication was entirely proper under R/R Sec. 102.130 permitting communication regarding settlement of case, which conversation herein dealt with and did not inappropriately deal with merits of case)

7250-5000 Disqualification for bias and prejudice

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's contention that ALJ suffered from unspecified conflict of interest which caused him to be biased in favor of GC, rejected, and E's mtn for stay of proceedings, hearing de novo before different ALJ, and request for consideration by full Bd, denied, where ALJ conducted hearing in irreproachably impartial manner and, in fact, was extremely sensitive to E's representative status in proceedings as nonattorney and frequently allowed him to deviate from Bd's R/R)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's mtn for stay of proceeding and trial de novo before new ALJ on ground ALJ herein was unqualified due to prior knowledge of case as result of prejudice inherent in pre-hearing settlement conference initiated by ALJ, denied; Bd's R/R Sec. 102.35 authorized ALJ to hold settlement conference, and E failed to allege sufficient ground for disqualification under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.37; and there was no allegation of ALJ's knowledge ex parte of any evidence, unlawful contact with parties, or similar disabling element; nor did E support allegation of prejudice or wrongdoing by affidavit required by Sec. 102.37)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 058
(merely because ALJ resolved important factual conflicts in favor of GC's witnesses is no basis for finding that bias and partiality existed; total rejection of an opposed view cannot of itself impugn the integrity or competence of trier of fact)

Scherr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 090
(although documents pertaining to correspondence between respondent and RD, and also internal memorandum between GC and RD, had erroneously been placed in formal instead of informal case file, Bd held backpay proceeding before ALJ was not prejudiced as result, and did not require ALJ to disqualify himself from case or to dismiss backpay specification; documents were either not relevant to backpay proceeding or were otherwise not prejudicial, and E's counsel was given full opportunity at hearing to examine documents)

Ampco Metal Division of Ampco-Pittsburgh
Corporation 247 NLRB No. 091
(contention that ALJ in original hearing should be disqualified because of bias and prejudice from participation in supplemental hearing, and that hearing de novo should be held before different ALJ, rejected)

7250-5030 Bias must appear on face of record

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(no bias of ALJ found in absence of statements or other evidence on record indicating bias or prejudice; contention that ALJ's former service as counsel to GC interfered with his impartiality or fairness, rejected)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(where party desires that ALJ disqualify himself, it must take action before ALJ files decision. Objection to conduct at hearing may be included in record)

Redlands Christian Migrant Association 260 NLRB No. 027
(respondent's contention that ALJ was biased as result of its refusal to settle case rejected in view of lack of conduct by ALJ showing improper attempt to secure settlement or of indication in his findings and conclusions that he prejudged case or showed bias)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(where ALJ evidenced some bias towards E, although not enough to warrant finding abuse of discretion, this bias detracts from weight accorded his credibility findings and ct subjected them to closer scrutiny than unusual, concluding that there is insufficient evidence to support ALJ's conclusions and remand case for further proceedings before different ALJ)

7250-5040 Intemperate language

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 583 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1)
(no impropriety, bias and lack of due process evidenced by ALJ's failure to credit testimony of E's witnesses and his use of words and phrases that are incisively descriptive and damning to E; ct's reading of cold record did nothing to instill confidence in testimony of E's witnesses, and substantial evidence supports finding that E's firing of U activists was particularly petty and vindictive)

7250-5050 Improper conduct of hearing, credibility resolution or inferences

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 268 NLRB No. 161
(charge of bias w/o merit and Bd noted attorney's prior groundless accusations against ALJ's; attorney behaved unprofessionally at hearing but Bd will not at this time institute disciplinary proceedings against him)

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 068
(no bias shown by ALJ in interpreting testimony at hearing as contended where there was no evidence ALJ prejudged case or demonstrated bias against charging party in analysis or discussion of the evidence)

Local No. 3, Electrical Workers (Nixdorf Computer Corporation) 282 NLRB No. 082
(ALJ's taking judicial notice of credibility findings made in another case held not reversible error, notwithstanding fact that it is generally inappropriate for ALJ to rely on credibility findings made in another case; here, ALJ did not predicate his credibility resolutions on credibility findings in companion case, but rather based his resolutions on demeanor of witnesses and record as whole)

N.L.R.B. v. Aluminum Cruiser, Inc. 620 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held E did not receive fair and impartial hearing where during hearing ALJ made several inexcusable and injudicious attacks upon E's president, one of which was particularly directed to his ethnic background, which could not but taint entire proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(standard in determining whether ALJ's display of hostility and bias requires setting aside his findings and conclusions and remanding case before new ALJ is exacting one, and requires that ALJ's conduct be so extreme that it deprives hearing of that fairness and impartiality necessary to that fundamental fairness required by due process)

7250-5060 Resolution of all issues against respondent not evidence of bias

Dimensions in Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078
(no basis for finding that bias and partiality existed merely because ALJ resolved important factual conflicts in favor of GC's witnesses)

Tom's Ford, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 125
(no basis for finding ALJ biased merely because he resolved important factual conflicts in favor of GC's witnesses)

Holliston Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 33 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(ct held, contrary to E's contention of bias on part of ALJ based on fact that ALJ ruled against E, that ALJ's conduct was proper throughout administrative hearing; ct stated, even had the ALJ's ruling in fact been erroneous a judicial ruling made in the ordinary course is not to be translated into bias by disappointed counsel)

(no impropriety, bias and lack of due process evidenced by ALJ's failure to credit testimony of E's witnesses and his use of words and phrases that are incisively descriptive and damning to E; ct's reading of cold record did nothing to instill confidence in testimony of E's witnesses, and substantial evidence supports finding that E's firing of U activists was particularly petty and vindictive)

Miami Springs Properties, Inc., and James H. Kinley and Associates, Joint Employers v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 276 (C.A. 6, Aug 1981)
(contention that ALJ was biased against company, w/o merit where ALJ made careful assessments of facts and testimony, and his conclusions were well supported by the record)

7250-5080 Crediting all witnesses for one party and/or discrediting all witnesses for another

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 140

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 076
(contention that because ALJ credited GC's witnesses and discredited E's witnesses, his credibility resolutions were erroneous, biased or prejudiced, rejected)

Research Products/Blankenship Company 258 NLRB No. 088
(no error where ALJ credited all of GC's witnesses over E's witnesses)

7250-7000 Conduct of prehearing conferences

7250-7084 Settlement conference

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's mtn for stay of proceeding and trial de novo before new ALJ on ground ALJ herein was unqualified due to prior knowledge of case as result of prejudice inherent in pre-hearing settlement conference initiated by ALJ, denied; Bd's R/R Sec. 102.35 authorized ALJ to hold settlement conference, and E failed to allege sufficient ground for disqualification under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.37; and there was no allegation of ALJ's knowledge ex parte of any evidence, unlawful contact with parties, or similar disabling element; nor did E support allegation of prejudice or wrongdoing by affidavit required by Sec. 102.37)

7600 HEARING

7601 GENERALLY

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004
(in denying GC's mtn for summary judgment in proceeding on backpay specification, Bd ordered hearing limited to determination of net interim earnings of discriminatees and to issue of whether Es are successor Es responsible for remedying ULPs herein)

Mosey Manufacturing Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 077
(C case on remand from circuit ct to Bd retaines its status as ULP proceeding thereby enabling Bd, which had accepted remand, to remand proceedings to RD who in turn ordered case returned to ALJ rather than ordering hearing)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 156
(GC's contention that, in addition to alleged violations, certain other violations should be found, based on evidence adduced during trial, rejected, since it would be unfair inasmuch as respondent was never put on notice that such conduct was under scrutiney)

7601-5000 Procedural due process required

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)
(due process not denied on ground Bd had predetermined outcome of case when it sought 10(j) inj; if such claim were accepted, Bd would preclude itself from fulfilling its obligation to review and decide whether ULPs had occurred under Sec. 10(c), by meeting its obligation to seek inj under Sec. 10(j); such result would be completely out of keeping with Congressional intent to delegate such duties to Bd; moreover, in seeking 10(j) inj, Bd does not decide merits of labor dispute, rather, it need only show reasonable cause to believe ULPs have occurred)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(no denial of due process merely because hearing on remand is conducted in context of ULP proceeding rather than R proceeding)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(E had full and fair hearing where, it was ably represented by counsel, had opportunity to produce evidence and cross examine adverse witnesses, and demonstrated no prejudice as result of GC's dual role at hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(APA and Bd's R/R require that C inform E of violations asserted; Bd may not make findings or order remedies not charged in C or litigated in subsequent hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(E's substantial claim of lack of due process at hearing upheld, since failure to object at Bd level does not invariably deprive ct of ability to decide that hearing was fundamentally flawed for lack of due process; and ct review is not precluded, in absence of objection below, when Bd has patently traveled outside orbit of its authority)

7601-5025 Hearing not required in absence of issues to hear

McCrometer, Division of Ametek, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 136
(upon reconsideration and denying GC's mtn for summary judgment, Bd directed hearing pursuant to R/R 102.69 to resolve substantial and material issues of fact and law where U had challenged ballots on ground voters were not unit Ees; and E, in opposition to challenges, submitted letter which noted that challenged Ees were permitted to vote in previous election involving same unit and petitioning U, specifically identified Ees' supervisor, and made clear and unequivocal offer to identify other witnesses and to cooperate in processing affidavits)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(where backpay specification raised issue dealing with franchise agreement between E and discriminatees as franchise drivers, Bd held E's contention regarding franchise as having appreciated in value and ALJ's ruling which narrowed scope of issue to capital loss situations raised sufficient controversy to warrant hearing on the matter)

Keystone Pretzel Bakery, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 089
(upon consideration of parties' statements of position, Bd concluded, contrary to contention, further hearing was unnecessary)

7601-5050 Requirement not obviated by fact decision justified on merits

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(even where record contains evidence supporting a R/O, ct will not grant enforcement in absence of either a supporting allegation in C or a meaningful opportunity to litigate underlying issue in the hearing itself)

7601-5075 Not denied because of delay in holding hearing

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(E was not prejudiced or denied due process notwithstanding 2 year delay between time charge filed and hearing where delay caused by Bd waiting until another case involving same E was adjudicated; E had timely notice that matter would be brought to hearing and of allegations to be litigated; E had obligation to preserve its records and documents)

7612 CONTINUANCE OF HEARING

7612-3300 Discretionary with ALJ

A & A Ornamental Iron, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 138
(ALJ's denial of continuance held not abuse of discretion)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

7612-6700 Grounds for continuance

7612-6767 Insufficient

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(E's mtn for continuance properly denied by ALJ where examination of record showed ALJ did not abuse his discretion in denying E's mtn)

7612-6767-2800 Absence of witnesses

Quebecor Group, Inc. Philadelphia Journal Division 258 NLRB No. 125
(ALJ did not abuse his discretion when he denied Respondent's request for continuance in order to call former Ee as witness where Respondent was on notice that Ee would be necessary witness as he was named in complaint and Respondent made no showing that his whereabouts were unknown or he was otherwise unavailable)

Robert Batchelor d/b/a Batchelor Electric Co., a sole proprietorship 254 NLRB No. 186
(request to remand case and reopen hearing denied where E's request for continuance of hearing was denied initially by RD almost 2 weeks before opening of hearing, did not ask ALJ for continuance during hearing and E failed to show any reason why it could not have taken steps to insure witness's appearance at hearing)

Leland Detroit Mfg. Co. JD-489-82
(on GC's mtn and his own order to show cause, ALJ resumed hearing which had been adjourned for 9 months because E's sole witness, its president, was unavailable to testify due to illness, since witness was still unavailable and E did not indicate when witness would be available and would not agree to the taking of his testimony outside hearing, or calling as witness E's vice-president who obviously was knowlegeable on matters in question)

7612-6767-4500 Obtaining evidentiary records for hearing

Ampco Metal Division of Ampco-Pittsburgh Corporation 247 NLRB No. 091
(E's motion for continuance to obtain criminal record of witness for impeachment purposes, denied, where issue was first raised at original hearing, E had ample opportunity prior to supplemental hearing herein to obtain such record, and further delay in instant hearing is unwarranted)

7612-6767-5000 Engagement of counsel in other proceeding

Local 32E, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Cadillac Fairview Shopping Centers (U.S.) Ltd. d/b/a The Galleria 259 NLRB No. 100
(fact that ALJ failed to grant further postponement of hearing held not arbitrary, capricious nor denial of E's right to hearing where E was granted postponement and agreed to new Bd hearing date, and subsequently E's counsel established trial ct hearing date which created conflict)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(due process not denied where hearing proceeded w/o Respondent's labor counsel when counsel failed to appear at hearing w/o submitting timely written request for second continuance and w/o justifying giving precedence to other matter, and at subsequent reconvening of hearing failing to appear w/o any previous form of request for continuance)

7612-6767-8700 Grounds created by party's own action

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(Es' request for continuance of hearing, made after all testimony was completed, in order to obtain testimony of missing witness, denied, where, although unsuccessful in attempt to serve subpoena on witness, E did not request a continuance until a few days before date of hearing and at least 8 weeks after they were unable to serve witness)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(continuance to prepare defense denied where factual basis for GC's amendment arose from materials submitted by Respondent in response to subpoena duces tecum and Respondent cannot claim surprise as to legal implications of requested documents)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(where Respondent's counsel withdrew from case 14 days prior to hearing continuance denied because withdrawal caused by fact that counsel also represented co-defendant in case and defendants had created this untenable situation themselves)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's contention that adjournment of hearing should have been longer than 2-day recess granted by ALJ because more time was needed to prepare E's case as result of last-minute change of counsel, rejected; short time E's new counsel had to prepare case was due to circumstances over which E alone had control; any harm to E's ability to adequately prepare case was more than offset by harm inherent in delay of hearing for at least a month due to circumstances herein; and E proffered no excuse in dilatoriness in selecting counsel)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1029 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(denial of contoinuance when E found alter ego herein substituted new counsel after case failed to settle was not abuse of discretion nor denial of due process where focus of hearing was alter ego status and relevant facts were within its own knowledge; counsel should have foreseen that settlement failure might necessitate his withdrawal from representation of one of the parties)

7618 PRODUCTION OF WITNESSES

7618-8000 Obligation on General Counsel to produce witnesses to resolve ambiguity in offer of reinstatement

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 693 F.2d 277 (C.A. 2, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that, in inquiring as to Ees' actual understanding of reinstatement language of mailgrams, found facially ambiguous by ct, although E has ultimate burden of persuasion on issue of validity of offer of reinstatement, Bd has an initial obligation to produce Ees to testify on their understanding of offer)

7625 SEPARATION OF WITNESSES

Gossen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041
(mtn to exclude testimony of witnesses who had been permitted by E's counsel to read portions of transcript prior to testifying in alleged violation of sequestration arrangement, denied in circumstances herein where parameters of sequestration arrangement negotiated among counsel had not been precisely denied)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 096

(no merit in E's exception to ALJ's refusal to sequester one or both of named discriminatees during hearing which was conducted in accordance with then-existing procedural rules; E was not prejudiced by ALJ's refusal to exclude discriminatees from any part of hearing; although one discriminatee was present while other discriminatee testified, their testimony differed in phraseology, order, emphasis, and details regarding area of their overlapping testimony; and finally, principal area of corroboration between testimony of discriminatees did not involve violation by E)

Local Union 633, Plumbers (B & W Construction Company) 249 NLRB No. 011

(ALJ's ruling permitting sequestration of witnesses on mtn of charging party which was made after GC's first witness had completed direct testimony w/i ALJ's discretion since respondent did not demonstrate that ruling had prejudiced its case)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)

(ALJ has authority to sequester witnesses, but fact that he did not is not necessarily reversible error where credibility findings made apart from testimony of unsequestered witness)

7625-8700 Failure to abide by sequestration order

Victor Electric Company JD-368-82

(testimony of witness who spoke with earlier witness in violation of sequestration order, credited, where his testimony did not deviate from that contained in his pretrial affidavit, therefore E not prejudiced; furthermore E's attorney did not move to strike testimony of witness who violated order)

7637 EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES

7637-0100 Generally

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 054

(ALJ's ruling sustaining GC's objection to question to U representative by E's counsel at hearing regarding what U's bargaining posture would have been had E not refused to bargain over mandatory subject of subcontracting of unit work held not prejudicial to E's defense, since inquiry was directed at subjective intentions of U's negotiators about a proposal which they never tendered to E)

7637-3300 Leading questions

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(reliability of answers to questions is enhanced when the questions are nonleading and simply put to witness so as to elicit exactly what was said. Such has resulted in procedural requirements that witnesses be questioned in a nonleading manner, even on cross-examination, before leading questions can be used)

United States Steel Corporation, Geneva Works JD-(SF)-122-81

(question held not leading since it was as susceptible of yes answer as of no answer and thus did not contain element of suggestion)

7637-5800 Surprise testimony adduced at hearing

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(E's claim of surprise at specific factual contentions brought forth at hearing held w/o merit where E failed to object to introduction of vast majority of evidence; E's extensive cross-examination of witnesses who testified concerning surprise factual allegations belied E's claim that it was prejudiced by introduction of such testimony; and even if charge was lacking in specificity, record conclusively demonstrated that surprise factual issues were fully and fairly litigated at hearing)

7637-6700 Cross-examination

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041

(ALJ properly granted mtn to strike entire testimony of E's official because of his defiance of ALJ's order to respond to questions on cross-examination, which ALJ had properly directed him to do; although official's conversations with E's corporate counsel were protected by attorney-client privilege, official may not assert privilege where E petitioned Bd to set aside settlement agreement, contending that official executed it upon self-serving advice of attorneys representing E in proceeding; Bd cannot reasonably evaluate E's contention w/o knowing whether official also received advice on subject from other attorneys)

Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 023

(Bd upheld ALJ's ruling that E might not cross-examine U officer about organizing campaigns other than one involved in proceeding herein; E's opportunity to test U officer's memory was ample in context of issues directly involved in proceeding)

Rai Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127

(where Bd directed that record be reopened after ALJ decision issued so that E could cross-examine Ee, Bd rejected E's contentions that hiatus between direct and cross exams was prejudicial or that ALJ failed to give adequate consideration to evidence on cross because he did not want to reverse his previously published decision)

7637-6725 Exclusion of questions on relevant matters within scope of direct examination improper

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041

(E's contention raised in exception to ALJ's overruling of E's objection to cross-examination of E's attorneys on ground testimony should have been excluded because it was hearsay as well as beyond scope of direct examination and irrelevant, rejected, where at hearing E only objected on latter grounds; since E did not then object that it was hearsay, it may not now claim to have meritorious exception to ALJ's ruling on hearsay grounds; moreover, ALJ correctly ruled that questioning was related to direct examination issues and was relevant)

7650 PRODUCTION OF STATEMENTS OF WITNESSES

7650-0100 Generally

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(where all tapes of bugged conversations that were w/i knowledge of GC (though he in no way suggested, assisted or participated in any electronic surveillance) were produced, and opposing party had sufficient opportunity to cross examine witness who made these tapes; mtn to strike testimony of said witness for failure to produce all tapes made as required under Jencks Act as adopted by Bd, denied)

Ronald Hackenberger d/b/a Ron's Trucking Service v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 966 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held that E failed to establish that Bd had improperly computed back pay of discharged Ee where ct rejected E's contention that E was prevented from showing that Ee failed to act reasonably to mitigate his damages because Bd denied FOIA request for information in its possession relating to interim employment, since counsel for E failed to request continuance or adjournment in order to familiarize himself with this material when information concerning interim employment was provided at or near beginning of supplemental back pay proceeding)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069

(under Sec. 102.118(b)(1), requirement that a witness' statements be furnished upon request to opposing counsel prior to cross-examination applies only to statements which are in existence at time of witness' testimony and which relate to subject matter of the testimony, so that GC had no obligation to furnish respondent with statements witnesses gave government agency subsequent to their testimony at Bd hearing)

Senatner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 058

(charging party is a party under Sec. 102.8 of Bd's R/R and under Sec. 102.38 of R/R any party has right to cross-examine witnesses; therefore, since charging party is granted full participatory rights, it is reasonable to infer that he is entitled to any pre-trial affidavits in same manner as respondent is)

7650-2000 What constitutes statement

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Bloomington, Indiana, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 131

(Bd agent writing something while witness spoke and nothing more did not qualify as statement w/i R/R 102.118(d))

7650-4000 Producible only after witness has testified

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)

(E not entitled to statements made to Bd counsel by Ees who never testified before ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Master Slack and/or Master Trousers Corp., et al. 618 F.2d 6 (C.A. 6, 1980)

7650-4025 Witness called by respondent

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 099

(Bd declined to rule on E's objection to ALJ's ruling that while E did not need to turnover to GC pretrial statement it took from witness ALJ would consider refusal as element in determining credibility, since ALJ did not draw any such inference)

7650-4075 Available to charging party

Senatner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 058

(charging party is a party under Sec. 102.8 of Bd's R/R and under Sec. 102.38 of R/R any party has right to cross-examine witnesses; therefore, since charging party is granted full participatory rights, it is reasonable to infer that he is entitled to any pre-trial affidavits in same manner as respondent is)

7662 CONDUCT OF HEARING BY ALJ

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069
(GC's exception to ALJ's finding that GC knowingly offered as exhibit a document which was not a true copy meritorious, since there is no evidence that GC knew that copy offered was not true copy until voir dire examination of a witness revealed that fact, whereupon GC obtained true copy, and true copy differed only in collateral respects from copy GC had originally offered)

7662-1400 Rulings on motion

Royal Zenith Corporation 263 NLRB No. 82
(Respondent's mtn to dismiss complaint granted where Charging Party's testimony on cross-examination false and contradictory so as to render his entire testimony not credible and where charging party violated ALJ's instructions not to discuss testimony with others)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(ALJ properly granted mtn to strike entire testimony of E's official because of his defiance of ALJ's order to respond to questions on cross-examination, which ALJ had properly directed him to do; although official's conversations with E's corporate counsel were protected by attorney-client privilege, official may not assert privilege where E petitioned Bd to set aside settlement agreement, contending that official executed it upon self-serving advice of attorneys representing E in proceeding; Bd cannot reasonably evaluate E's contention w/o knowing whether official also received advice on subject from other attorneys)

T.R.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025
(ALJ rejected E's mtn to strike Ee's testimony because of violation of ALJ's sequestration order to which Ee was subject since violation of ALJ's order was not significant and, in any case not prejudicial to E)

Quebecor Group, Inc. Philadelphia Journal Division 258 NLRB No. 125
(ALJ did not abuse his discretion when he denied Respondent's request for continuance in order to call former Ee as witness where Respondent was on notice that Ee would be necessary witness as he was named in complaint and Respondent made no showing that his whereabouts were unknown or he was otherwise unavailable)

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(E's argument that U was obligated to overturn prior arbitration decisions through arbitral forum in order to reassert its statutory right to requested information and contention that ALJ's refusal to admit evidence of parties' arbitration history was biased, rejected where E presented no evidence that U's statutory right was considered by arbitrators or that U acquiesced in E's interpretation of said decisions or otherwise clearly and unmistakably waived its statutory right to requested data)

Rai Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127
(E's exception to ALJ's refusal to grant mtn to strike Ee's testimony about card signatures because Ee violated ALJ's instructions not to discuss testimony held w/o merit as he only briefly mentioned during conversation that he had testified at hearing)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069
(E's mtn for mistrial correctly denied due to fair hearing and lack of prejudice; GC's recording witness's testimony or disturbing E's counsel's papers was prevented by ALJ; GC's offering not-true copy of document in evidence was corrected by offering true copy, which differed little from first copy offered; GC's failure to share tape transcription cost did not prevent completing record or ALJ's considering tapes' content; E's counsel allowed to further cross-examine witnesses whose statements GC failed to provide before cross-examination; and E's request for witnesses' statements not in existence when witnesses testified correctly denied)

Dura-Vent Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083
(ALJ denied mtn by representative of local television station to film portions of proceeding, based upon Bd's traditional position opposing filming of courtroom; if Bd's position is to be changed it should be done by Bd and not by ALJ)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E's mtn to reopen hearing to adduce evidence that GC's witness was discharged by his most recent E for embazzlement in order to impeach witness's credibility, denied as lacking sufficient importance or relevance to justify reopening, since (a) evidence did not exist at time of trial and thus was not newly discovered and (b) as witness had only been charged with, not convicted of alleged conduct, E could only question him as to his conduct but could not prove it by extrinsic evidence)

G. F. Business Equipment, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 040
(GC's mtn to strike portions of answer to complaint, denied, notwithstanding Respondent's denials did not present meritorious defense to allegations of complaint, since denials could be viewed as attempt by Respondent to preserve position)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 103
(where ALJ admitted E's mtn to dismiss or alternatively for Summary Judgment on grounds of defective complaint because it failed to allege that U had majority status or E was successor but he failed to rule on mtn, Bd denied mtn as lacking in merit since it agreed with ALJ that E unlawfully withdrew recognition from U)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(respondent's mtn to strike from GC's brief its arguments based on documents denied where respondent neither challenged authenticity of documents nor sought to explain them)

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(E's mtn to strike testimony of alleged discriminatee on grounds that GC failed to produce statement allegedly made by discriminatee to Bd's Regional Office held properly denied by ALJ where examination of record showed that alleged statement never existed)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 035
(Bd denied mtn to strike certain portions of GC's brief to ALJ where GC did not file exceptions or brief with Bd and brief to ALJ was not formally before Bd; furthermore, E did not suffer any prejudice by ALJ ruling denying mtn since ALJ made no credibility findings concerning objectionable material)

General Drivers & Helpers Union, Local No. 554 (Prairie Ford Truck Sales) 253 NLRB No. 096
(mtn to dismiss 8(b)(4)(B) complaint on grounds that Charging Party did not respond to subpoena ad testificandum, denied because public policy matters are being litigated; furthermore, Respondent could have sought enforcement of subpoena or introduced secondary evidence)

Electrical Workers, Local 1701 (Dynaelectric Company) 252 NLRB No. 119
(where GC refused to consent to respondent's motion for dismissal of specified allegation, ALJ felt obliged to reserve decision thereon and subsequently made ruling disposing of issue)

SFS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Seech d/b/a J. Seech Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 069
(respondents' mtn to postpone trial denied absent showing of good cause therefor and in view of scheduling of trial date 4 months before, respondents' failure to file ans to GC's amended C, and GC's counsel's own commitments and preparation for trial in other cases)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(exceptions to ALJ's denial of E's mtn to dismiss complaint and objection because of participation on behalf of charging party by individual who was regional Bd Ee at time of representation p'n and charge, and subsequently joined law firm of counsel for charging party; his participation was minimal and not shown to have prejudiced E's rights)

Ridgeway Trucking Company and Sand & Stone Transport, Inc. JD-23-82
(ALJ granted GC's mtn to reopen record to receive exhibits of company's articles of incorporation, with amendments, and annual reports for purposes of impeachment of testimony as to identity of officer and director of company)

Master Metal Products JD-(SF)-221-81
(GC's mtn to dismiss denied where mtn made after hearing at which evidence relevant to complaint had been introduced; peremptory withdrawal not permitted at this stage and to afford parties due process, decision on merits is warranted)

7662-2800 Rulings on objections

Bide-A-Wee Home Association 248 NLRB No. 110
(E's exception to ALJ's rulings overruled, as Bd found that rulings were correct and that E had failed to show prejudice thereby where E's purpose was only to show more of Ee's U activity than it had already shown, and result would have been same)

Pace, Inc.; J. Pace Inc.; and Riverside Warehouse, Inc. JD-441-81
(objection to holding hearing denied where Respondent alleged that issues arising from ULP alleged against it are moot due to its discontinuance of its business)

7662-4200 Exclusion or admission of evidence

Central Storage and Transfer Co. of Harrisburg 263 NLRB No. 089
(ALJ erred in admitting testimony concerning alleged job offer where offer occured during course of settlement negotiations)

Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 023
(Bd upheld ALJ's refusal to allow testimony to demonstrate post-election changes in bargaining unit on ground that any issue of change in unit was beyond scope of hearing; furthermore, absent special circumstances, there is irrebuttable presumption that majority status of certified U continues for 1 year from date of certification; as E's refusal to bargain occurred during certification year, presumption was clearly applicable; moreover, even if E's refusal to bargain had not occurred during certification year, factor of Ee turnover did not establish that U had lost majority status)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(mtn to strike all testimony of witness concerning violence outside U hall denied even though witness refused to respond to clearly material questions; mtn to rehabilitate witness to consider his testimony concerning above act of violence also denied. See Bd's R/R 102.44)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(where all tapes of bugged conversations that were w/i knowledge of GC (though he in no way suggested, assisted or participated in any electronic surveillance) were produced, and opposing party had sufficient opportunity to cross examine witness who made these tapes; mtn to strike testimony of said witness for failure to produce all tapes made as required under Jenks Act as adopted by Bd, denied)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064
(E waived its right to contest authenticity of cards which, may have been dated at different times than they were signed, where it did not object to admission of cards into evidence during hearing but raised objections to authenticity in brief to ALJ)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 122
(ALJ erred in not allowing evidence to be taken at hearing about unconditional offer of reinstatement by E and rejection by discriminatee, but instead relegated taking of such evidence to compliance stage)

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 091
(no merit to E's exception to ALJ's ruling excluding abstract of its payroll records, notwithstanding E's contention that payroll records were voluminous and therefore abstract should have been permitted under Federal Rules of Evidence 1005; 28 U.S.C.A., where at hearing, E offered neither to introduce original payroll records into evidence, not to demonstrate that records could not conveniently be examined in hearing room)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(Respondent not prejudiced by ALJ's refusal to admit documentary evidence of its wage increase practices where ALJ's finding that Respondent had no regular pattern of granting wages agreed with Respondent's position)

Luk, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 136
(record not reopened to admit evidence relating to complaint filed by Charging Party with state Civil Rights Commission where ALJ had properly ruled that evidence of proceedings before commission was inadmissible for purpose of impeaching Charging Party's testimony)

K & K Transportation Corp., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 087
(affidavit of Ee not admissible where Ee did not testify at hearing and proponent of statement did not make good faith effort to obtain declarant's presence at hearing to meet Federal Rules of Evidence, Sec. 804(a) unavailability test)

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(Bd declined to rule on E's objection to ALJ's ruling that while E did not need to turnover to GC pretrial statement it took from witness ALJ would consider refusal as element in determining credibility, since ALJ did not draw any such inference)

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff, Cohen & Burrows, P.C. 253 NLRB No. 054

Greens Disposal Service 253 NLRB No. 047
(remand, since ALJ refused to admit evidence of misconduct, but E's offer of proof, which, if true, and considered in light most favorable to E, would bar reinstatement, for purpose of taking evidence on whether alleged strike misconduct barred reinstatement of strikers and issuing decision on whether E violated Sections 8(a)(3) and (1) by its refusal to reinstate)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(ritht to question validity of authorization cards not waived by failure to object to authenticity of cards and their admission into evidence; further, where issue of validity of cards raised and litigated by cross-examination of authenticating witnesses and discussion in brief of testimony regarding possible misrepresentation in solicitation, validity of cards should be considered on merits)

Nice-Pak Products, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 173
(where E failed to produce evidence in response to subpoena but then during trial introduced material based on that evidence, admission proper where GC examined materials at start of hearing and had opportunity to examine list after it was intorduced into evidence)

Cerhomes Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107
(charging party's mtn to strike factual allegations of Respondent's exceptions based on certain exhibits which ALJ had refused to accept into evidence denied because Respondent had excepted to evidentiary rulings and having done so may present arguments based upon such exhibits notwithstanding GC and charging party were not able to cross examine witnesses concerning disputed exhibits)

Sparkie's Special Delivery & Messenger Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No.
(ALJ's statement at hearing that he believed Bd had juridiction and then directed parties not to brief on issue of jurisdiction over E, not prejudicial, notwithstanding that ALJ subsequently dismissed complaint because he found that GC had failed to establish that Bd has jurisdiction; statement was made after GC made his decision as to what evidence to put in record on issue of jurisdiction)

American Bumper and Mfg. Co. JD-136-82
(use of voluntary affidavit of former supervisor taken by Bd agent during investigation and w/o E's knowledge admissable to show (any) prior contradictory statements admissable under Federal Rules of Evidence)

Atlanta Baking Company, Inc. JD-220-80
(ALJ reaffirmed rejection of respondent's exhibits showing that RD had declined to issue C after investigating charges against respondents similar to those herein, since GC has exclusive authority to issue Cs, so that RD's dismissal of similar charges was not res judicata, and the exhibits thus contained no probative evidence applicable herein)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(ALJ's admission of transcript of tape recording Ee surreptitiously prepared of his conversation with his supervisor for limited purpose of varifying credibility held not error, since Bd has wide discretion in evidentiary decisions, and E was offered opportunity during continuance to inspect tape and compare it with transcript)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(ALJ could properly deny E's mtn to reopen record to admit, on issue of Ee's credibility, evidence that Ee had participated in robbery at company year after his discharge, since to extent evidence was at all relevant to credibility, ALJ was not bound to open the record on that issue alone)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(invocation of principle of Bannon Mills against E held fully warranted where E refused to produce tape of speech by E's official after GC subpoenaed it as evidence of ULPs; ct rejected contention that tape was attorney work product or that Ees who heard speech must testify first)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(E's complaint that ALJ erred in failing to force two Bd agents to testify in response to E's subpoena, rejected in view of E's failure to comply with 29 C.F.R. Sec. 102.118(a)(1) and to show how testimony, if admissible, would have helped its case)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 28, 1981)
(ALJ's refusal to allow Ee to be questioned as to whether fair election would be possible in near future, correct in view of language in Gissel)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 28, 1981)
(ALJ's exclusion of E's offer to testify as to present attitude toward Us and intentional hiring of Ees with proU sympathies after certain date, not improper; if in error, error was harmless, since record contained evidence of events occurring after date named by E and judge dtermined that altered behavior when facing Bd charges was not surprising and probably not a reliable guide to future conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Hansa Mold, Inc. 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ALJ's admission of testimony, if in error as contended, was harmless error where he stressed that his findings and conclusions were not dependent upon the challenged testimony)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)
(Bd lacked authority to deny E opportunity to present rebuttal evidence where denial was intended as sanction for E's refusal to comply with subpeona since Bd failed to have subpoena enforced in District Ct; challenges to agency subpoenas must be resolved by judiciary before compliance can be compelled)

7662-4900 Effect of stipulation

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(where parties stipulated that any benefits announced during meeting was E's usual and customary prectice and for which no violation can be found; ALJ bound by stipulation and no violation found notwithstanding one benefit announced did not fall w/i E's usual and customary practice)

7662-7700 Ex parte contacts

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(request by E's corporate counsel in letter to ALJ for deletion of language in ALJ's decision concerning counsel's activities seeking other attorneys representing E in proceedings to fabricate testimony as defense in perjury case against E, denied, where letter constituted ex parte communication under R/R Sec. 102.128(e) and, pursuant to Sec. 102.132, was placed on public record of proceedings with permission to all parties to file with Bd rebuttal to facts or contentions in counsel's letter; however, Bd did not invoke GC's suggested penalties against counsel under R/R Sec. 102.133(b) prohibiting ex parte communication)

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)
(ALJ's ex parte communication with GC held no basis for ALJ's disqualification, where respondents did not comply with R/R Sec. 102.37 requiring timely filing of affidavit alleging grounds for disqualification; parties, informed of communication, stated they were satisfied with ALJ's explanation concerning communication and did not raise objection until well after ALJ's decision; moreover, communication was entirely proper under R/R Sec. 102.130 permitting communication regarding settlement of case, which conversation herein dealt with and did not inappropriately deal with merits of case)

7662-8400 Control of conduct of counsel

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161
(charge of bias w/o merit and Bd noted attorney's prior groundless accusations against ALJ's; attorney behaved unprofessionally at hearing but Bd will not at this time institute disciplinary proceedings against him)

Catalina Yachts 250 NLRB No. 048
(Bd rejected charging party's mtn to bar respondent's attorneys from further practice before Bd because alleged misconduct was not of such aggravated character as to warrant such action)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(ALJ refused to countenance conduct of respondent's attorney who engaged in such tactics as preventing Bd from exercising its statutory authority, engaged in unwarranted attacks upon Bd personnel, and engaged in other conduct for purpose of inducing error into record upon appeal; due process suffered at hands of one who was most plaintiff in demanding it)

N.L.R.B. v. Friendly Ice Cream Corporation 677 F.2d 170 (C.A. 1, May 1982)
(GC's seeking to bolster her witnesses by endorsing them as having truthfully testified is practice that would be improper in both criminal and civil ct proceedings)

7662-9200 Misconduct or error by Administrative Law Judge

Woodruff & Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 043
(ALJ improperly required E to show in unlawful discharge case that contended extraordinary damage sustained by discharged Ee's truck was in fact related to way in which Ee drove it; E merely needed to show that it relied on damage as real reason for discharge)

The New York Times Company 265 NLRB No. 045
(case remanded for hearing de novo before different ALJ where ALJ at hearing dismissed C alleging E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by refusing to supply U with Ee job evaluation reports on grounds that information was allegedly available from other sources (Ees); ALJ erred as matter of law as fact that Ees may have information and may be willing to give it to U does not relieve E of its obligations under Act. Moreover, ALJ inpunged good faith of U and questioned whether GC and charging party were abusing Bd processes, in contravention of Bd policy to not only avoid partiality and prejudgment but even appearance thereof)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(Bd rejected E's request that Bd listen to tapes of hearing as Bd reviewed record and decision, found no evidence of bias, hostility or prejudice although some of ALJ's statements may have been ill-chosen)

Lay Food Stores, Inc. d/b/a Ken's IGA 259 NLRB No. 035
(ALJ's refusal to compare signatures for purpose of authenticating authorization cards and his failure to place signature samples in rejected exhibits file, erroneous but not prejudicial)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(respondents contention to Bd that ALJ should disqualify himself for having engaged in ex parte communication with RD, rejected, since contentions untimely filed as respondents delayed filing until after ALJ's decision issued; moreover, communication in no way addressed merits of complaint; rather, limited to settlement possibilities specifically allowable under [illegible] 102.130 of Bd's R/R)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 25[illegible] NLRB No. 003
(Bd found no merit in E's contention that ALJ was prejudiced against E and unduly pressured it to settle case by alleged off-the-record comments where it was incumbent upon counsel for E immediately to request that any alleged comments be repeated on record, to make timely objection thereto, and to move that ALJ disqualify himself; moreover, E's claim of impropriety was not made until after ALJ had issued decision and thus not timely raised; in any event, ALJ's findings were fully supported by record evidence)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's contention that bias of ALJ deprived it of fair trial, rejected, notwithstanding indications in record and ALJ's decision of hostility and impatience by ALJ towards E and its counsel, since no indication that this apparent attitude in any way affected fairness of hearing or integrity of record; nor does fact ALJ found for GC and against E in all but one instance and that a number of ALJ's findings were reversed by ct does not, w/o more, show bias)

N.L.R.B. v. Aluminum Cruiser, Inc. 620 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held E did not receive fair and impartial hearing where during hearing ALJ made several inexcusable and injudicious attacks upon E's president, one of which was particularly directed to his ethnic background, which could not but taint entire proceeding)

7682 PROCEDURAL DUE PROCESS AT HEARING

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention that it was denied due process by litigation of matters outside C, rejected, since actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements that govern private lawsuits; charge need not be technically precise as long as it generally informs charged party of nature of alleged violations; and where issue is fully and fairly litigated at administrative hearing, Bd may find ULP even though no specific charge is made in C)

7682-0100 Generally

Master Metal Products JD-(SF)-231-81
(GC's mtn to dismiss denied where mtn made after hearing at which evidence relevant to complaint had been introduced; peremptory withdrawal not permitted at this stage and to afford parties due process, decision on merits is warranted)

7682-3300 Due process not denied by

Douglas Aircraft Company, Component of McDonnell Douglas Corporation 260 NLRB No. 180
(E's contention that ALJ's finding that E unlawfully maintained and enforced unlawful no-distribution rules violated E's due process rights and APA on ground, among others, that E was not given proper notice that validity of rules was in issue and that E was not afforded opportunity to present evidence, rejected, where E was aware of C allegation that its conduct was a continuing violation encompassing E's rules; E cannot claim surprise since it put rules into evidence; and C clearly put E on notice that rules were related to incident alleged in C)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(contention that, since ULP conduct alleged herein included conduct found to support U's objections to election, Bd cannot give E fair hearing because it has already considered facts which U presented to it ex parte w/o hearing, rejected; since Bd's decision was based on E's own written materials and its own witnesses' admissions, no hearing is required; issues herein, which differ in the two types of proceedings, will be decided upon evidence submitted in instant case; and Bd's findings as to objections are not binding on ALJ nor must results necessarily be consistent because cases arise out of same situation)

Bristol Spring Manufacturing Company 247 NLRB No. 034
(respondent not denied due process by nature of hearing on remand from court, since it had ample opportunity to present its evidence and rebut testimony and failed to meet its burden of showing any prejudice to its substantive rights by GC's active participation in the hearing, even if such was departure from his customary role in proceedings of this kind)

Ronald Hackenberger d/b/a Ron's Trucking Service v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 966 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held that E failed to establish that Bd had improperly computed back pay of discharged Ee where ct rejected E's contention that E was prevented from showing that Ee failed to act reasonably to mitigate his damages because Bd denied FOIA request for information in its possession relating to interim employment, since counsel for E failed to request continuance or adjournment in order to familiarize himself with this material when information concerning interim employment was provided at or near beginning of supplemental back pay proceeding)

7682-3365 Refusal to allow substitution for employer's designated representative

I/O Optics Limited, U.S.A. 251 NLRB No. 037
(ALJ did not abuse discretion in not permitting E's designated representative to participate in hearing and assist E's counsel in preparation of defense pursuant to Rule 615 of Federal Rules of Evidence, or in not adjourning hearing until representative would be available, where individual originally designated was unable to participate and ALJ refused to allow another designated representative to participate as requested by E because second individual had been sequestered as witness as problem was E's own creation)

7682-3308 Being joined as party in proceedings

America Air Filter Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 010

(E's rights in ULP proceeding not prejudiced by its not having been named as E and not having participated in representation proceeding, where it had ample opportunity to and did fully litigate in ULP proceeding its joint E status with the E who was named as E in the representation proceeding)

7682-3313 Consideration of objection to election in ULP proceeding

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111

(on ct remand to hold hearing on objections to election before ALJ, Bd treated as mtn for reconsideration of Board's Order Remanding Proceeding to RD for Hearing, E's letter contending that ULP hearing on objections was illegal and in contempt of ct; mtn was denied since longstanding Bd policy provides for such hearing and avoids delay that would result from reinstatement of representation ptn)

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111

(contention that E would be prejudiced by holding hearing on election objections in ULP proceeding rejected as GC takes nonadversarial role at this type of hearing as would be the case if proceedings had not proceeded beyond representation stage)

Polyflex M Company 258 NLRB No. 108

(E's contention due process denied where upon ct's denial of enforcement and remand to Bd of alleged Section 8(a)(5) violation its objections to election were considered in ULP proceeding rather than in R hearing, rejected, since hearing granted E satisfied requirement of due process; further, E has not alleged any specific prejudice resulting from consideration of its objections in ULP hearing)

7682-3314 Admission of incompetent evidence

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 258 NLRB No. 022

(E's request, opposed by GC, that record be reopened to admit copy of U's contract proposal presented to E after trial herein on grounds U's proposal supports contention that charge herein was filed in order to enhance U's strength at bargaining table, denied, since proffered evidence was prepared after trial and is irrelevant to any charge herein; moreover, E's allegation that charge was filed with Bd's encouragement as coercive device was not proved at trial and was not supported by proferred evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(ct found no merit in E's contention that Bd denied it due process during hearing by admitting recording and transcript of its counsel's speech, notwithstanding E's argument that Bd admitted tapes and transcript which were unlawfully obtained and irrelevant to case, where there was no close connection between preparation of case by government and so-called theft; Fourth Amendment does not apply to Bd's proceedings; and furthermore, Bd did not rely on this evidence alone in making its findings)

7682-3318 Failure of General Counsel to obtain documents

Duquesne Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030

(Bd declined to rule on E's objection to ALJ's ruling that while E did not need to turnover to GC pretrial statement it took from witness ALJ would consider refusal as element in determining credibility, since ALJ did not draw any such inference)

7682-3320 Failure to comply with subpoena

General Drivers & Helpers Union, Local No. 554 (Prairie Ford Truck Sales) 253 NLRB No. 006

(mtn to dismiss 8(b)(4)(B) complaint on grounds that Charging Party did not respond to subpoena ad testificandum, denied because public policy matters are being litigated; furthermore, Respondent could have sought enforcement of subpoena or introduced secondary evidence)

U.S. Bus, Inc. JD-391-82

(where E failed to comply with subpoena requesting jurisdictional information, ALJ conducted hearing and allowed GC to adduce secondary evidence obtained from R-case hearing involving same E and also other reports filed with ICC and Maryland Public Service Commission)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(Bd lacked authority to deny E opportunity to present rebuttal evidence where denial was intended as sanction for E's refusal to comply with subpoena since Bd failed to have subpoena enforced in District Ct; challenges to agency subpoenas must be resolved by judiciary before compliance can be compelled)

7682-3328 Refusal to sequester witness

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. [illegible]

(no merit in E's exception to ALJ's refusal to sequester one or both of named discriminatees during hearing which was conducted in accordance with then-existing procedural rules; E was not prejudiced by ALJ's refusal to exclude discriminatees from any part of hearing; although one discriminatee was present while other discriminatee testified, their testimony differed in phraseology, order, emphasis, and details regarding area of their overlapping testimony; and finally, principal area of corroboration between testimony of discriminatees did not involve violation by E)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company 255 NLRB No. 063

(ALJ's refusal to sequester each C.P. during testimony of other proper where neither C.P. was alleged discriminatee, both appeared pro se testified not only to matters of common involvement but also about their separate meetings with E, and their separate attempts to counter E's action; ALJ's decision w/i descretionary guidelines set forth in Unga Painting Corp. 237 NLRB 1306)

Kenhin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117

(ALJ's failure to sequester discriminatee during testimony of other discriminatee not prejudicial error where hearing was conducted prior to Unga Painting Corp. 237 NLRB 1306, in which Bd held absent special circumstances mtn to sequester should be granted when a discriminatee is testifying about events as to which another discriminatee has, will or may testify; under rules in effect at time of hearing ALJ was w/i discretion in refusing to sequester discriminatee)

Local Union 633, Plumbers (B & W Construction Company) 249 NLRB No. 011

(ALJ's ruling permitting sequestration of witnesses on mtn of charging party which was made after GC's first witness had completed direct testimony w/i ALJ's discretion since respondent did not demonstrate that ruling had prejudiced its case)

7682-3337 Violation of sequestration rule

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159

(GC's mtn to strike testimony of E's witness on ground that sequestration rule had been violated, denied, where, although witness should not have been shown transcript of prior testimony of Ees, witness could properly have been questioned and prepared for trial by counsel on basis of specific allegations made by Ees and, thus, witness' reading of transcript resulted in little, if any, prejudice to GC's case; in these circumstances, due process would not be served by denying E benefit of its witness' testimony)

7682-3342 Admission of stipulation of adverse parties

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(hearsay evidence of incident of violence (outside U meeting hall) given weight of stipulated facts where both Respondents stipulated to its receipt)

7682-3349 Absence of party's counsel at hearing

Local 32E, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO 259 NLRB No. 180

Wean United, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 134

(contention that sequestration of E's personnel manager denied E of any corporate representative held w/o merit, where at all times during hearing E's director of industrial relations who had entered his appearance on behalf of E was present; and E did not demonstrate that personnel manager who was to be E's principal witness was essential to presentation of E's case or that E in fact was prejudiced by his exclusion)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(due process not denied where hearing proceeded w/o Respondent's labor counsel when counsel failed to appear at hearing w/o submitting timely written request for second continuance and w/o justifying giving precedence to other matter, and at subsequent reconvening of hearing failing to appear w/o any previous form of request for continuance)

7682-3356 Denial of motion to file reply brief

The Nestle Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 142

(ALJ accepted and considered respondent's reply brief, notwithstanding GC correctly argued that Bd's R/R do not provide for submission of reply briefs, because GC was not prejudiced thereby)

7682-3363 Board rules and procedures

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, which are applicable in U.S. District Cts, are not controlling in administrative hearings before Bd; GC and charging party are not preferred litigants before Bd and are under same obligation to produce relevant evidence where appropriate)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(mtn to strike all testimony of witness concerning violence outside U hall denied even though witness refused to respond to clearly material questions; mtn to rehabilitate witness to consider his testimony concerning above act of violence also denied. See Bd's R/R 102.44)

Quebecor Group, Inc. Philadelphia Journal Division 258 NLRB No. 125
(Respondent's post hearing exhibits relating to work history of discriminatee is not part of record and cannot be considered under Sec. 102.45(b) of Bd's R/R where Respondent presented no evidence to show documents it wished to produce were unavailable at time of trial)

The Nestle Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 142
(ALJ accepted and considered respondent's reply brief, notwithstanding GC correctly argued that Bd's R/R do not provide for submission of reply briefs, because GC was not prejudiced thereby)

7682-3370 Limitation of examination of witnesses

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 176
(ALJ sustained GC's objection to charging party calling witnesses after Respondent amended its answer essentially to admit factual allegations of complaint and GC and Respondent rested w/o adducing any evidence because record complete and would support findings on all allegations)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(Bd held ALJ, while fully warranted in precluding E's official from testifying because he refused to comply with subpoena and to testify, erred in precluding E from calling witnesses other than official; since E's asserted reasons for discharges involved herein must rest upon testimony of witnesses as to relevant events, best evidence rule involved in cases relied on by ALJ held not applicable to discharges; accordingly, Bd severed and remanded discharge cases to ALJ for supplemental decision)

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 054
(ALJ's ruling sustaining GC's objection to question to U representative by E's counsel at hearing regarding what U's bargaining posture would have been had E not refused to bargain over mandatory subject of subcontracting of unit work held not prejudicial to E's defense, since inquiry was directed at subjective intentions of U's negotiators about a proposal which they never tendered to E)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(ct held no prejudicial error where ALJ was fully warranted in invoking principle of Bannon Mills by precluding E's official from testifying in E's case because he refused to comply with GC's subpoena to appear and testify; furthermore, E's contention that Bd counsel should have sought enforcement of its subpoena delaying proceedings further instead of invoking Bannon Mills held frivolous, as well as E's assertion that such decision not to seek enforcement deprived it opportunity to contest subpoena)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(ct reversed ALJ's credibility findings of former supervisor on 2 grounds: 1) ALJ failed to allow cross examination on his work record at E, and 2) failed to give proper weight to circumstances under which supervisor left E's employ. Here, supervisor was fired on grounds he felt unjust; therefore, this testimony from embittered ex-Ee cannot support finding that E was illegally motivated in firing another Ee when there is ample evidence good cause existed)

7682-3375 Conduct of Counsel

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(E's contention that Bd order violated due process because Bd counsel incorrectly asserted at hearing that legality of E's preferential reinstatement system (PRS) depended on whether strike concerned ULPs, rejected since violation found was violation alleged in C, ALJ's rulings must have given E notice that ALJ considered nature of strike irrelevant to charges against PRS, counsel's comments hardly demonstrated coherent theory of case on which E could have relied and counsel's shifts in position were irrelevant because legal theories and policy conceptions of Bd counsel are not binding on Bd)

7682-3384 Revocation of subpoena

Howard Johnson Company 250 NLRB No. 161
(ALJ properly revoked E's subpenas directed to RD and U seeking authorization cards and related documents, even though ptns for revocation may not have conformed to Bd's R/R, where E was in no way prejudiced thereby, and material sought was irrelevant to issues herein since GC based C on U's winning of election and not on majority of authorization cards; moreover, E made no claim that it had obtained prior written consent for disclosure of official information as required by Bd's R/R)

Howard Johnson Company 250 NLRB No. 161
(ALJ properly revoked E's subpenas directed to Bd's associate executive secretary seeking information regarding Bd decisions as to E's requests for review of RD's D/O directing election; since E did not actually receive from Bd copies of telegrams denying its requests for review, E was not prejudiced by revocation of its subpenas, and E made no claim that it had obtained prior written consent for disclosure of information as required by Bd's R/R)

7682-3391 Absence of specific allegations or notice where adequate notice exists

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(although not alleged in C that E's mailgram to Ees terminated them in violation of 8(a)(3), Bd found such violation, where C specifically alleged mailgram threatened discharge in violation of 8(a)(1) and alleged other 8(a)(3) violations; although E asserted that law and interpretaion of facts do not support finding of violation, E did not contend that it was precluded from adducing any exculpatory facts or that it would have altered its presentation of case; issue was fully litigated, and all operative facts underlying finding of 8(a)(3) and (1) violations are in record)

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(renewed mtn, in GC's brief, to amend C to reflect possible subsidiary relationship among 3 corporations providing trucking service, denied as untimely, where original mtn was made and denied at hearing when GC was preparing to rest; 2 of corporations did not appear and were not accorded procedural due process; counsel for GC was aware of facts approximately one week before hearing)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(E's exception to finding of instance of unlawful refusal to bargain, overruled, where, although not specifically alleged, instance of refusal to bargain was fully litigated, and although E asserts it has no notice of specific basis for violation found, its arguments before Bd are limited to the law, sufficiency of facts, and interpretation of facts now in record; moreover, E does not allege that it was precluded from adducing any exculpatory acts, nor does it argue that it would have altered conduct of its case had it but received notice)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(although refusal-to-bargain violation was not exact one alleged, it was related to allegations in complaint which assert that E committed that category of ULP, issue was fully and fairly litigated, E has not been prejudiced, and due process requires no more)

Lighthouse For The Blind of Houston 248 NLRB No. 178
(lack of notice in formal C held nonpreducial to E, and mtn for summary judgment granted; E had notice of ULP charges against it when served with copy of C and had opportunity to prepare its ans and defense; GC did not seek hearing but instead filed mtn for summary judgment of which E had full and fair notice; and E's challenge to Bd's certification on statutory grounds is normally resolved by summary judgment, not hearing)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)
(E is not denied due process where complaint alleged 8(a)(3) violation and ALJ found 8(a)(1) violation for retaliation for engaging in protected concerted activity. Conduct alleged to be violative was the same and matter was fully litigated)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(procedural due process not denied E by ALJ consolidating case where issue of whether 8(a)(4) violation occurred when E sued in state ct dischargee in initial case and notice of consolidation ambiguous and sent day before trial as E's action at hearing regarding 8(a)(4) case demonstrated it suffered no resulting prejudice because E (1) presented no evidence, and (2) asserted no claim of inadequate notice or prejudice)

7682-3398 Dual role of GC represenative in consolidated complaint and representation proceedings

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(E had full and fair hearing where, it was ably represented by consel, had opportunity to produce evidence and cross examine adverse witnesses, and demonstrated no prejudice as result of GC's dual role at hearing)

7682-6700 Due process denied by

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(renewed mtn, in GC's brief, to amend C to reflect possible subsidiary relationship among 3 corporations providing trucking service, denied as untimely, where original mtn was made and denied at hearing when GC was preparing to rest; 2 of corporations did not appear and were not accorded procedural due process; counsel for GC was aware of facts approximately one week before hearing)

7682-6723 Failure to advise respondent of specific charge in complaint

The Metallic Lathers' Union of New York and Vicinity Local 46 of The Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union (Building Contractors Association, Inc. and The Cement League) 260 NLRB No. 086
(where GC failed to put unlawful discrimination against non member for steward referrals question in issue at hearing, nor was it alleged in complaint, complaint dismissed as U denied opportunity to litigate matter fully and to present evidence justifying conduct; U did not receive notice of issue until GC filed post-hearing brief)

Modular Designs, Inc. JD-(SF)-271-81
(ALJ made no finding on alleged 8(a)(1) violation of E's action of posting suggestion box and asking Ees to air out their complaints where GC raised issue for first time in post-hearing brief which deprived E of notice of alleged violation, and issue was not suffficiently litigated at hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied because of failure to provide due process to E, where allegations of 8(a)(5) violation based on E's failure to apply U contract to non-U Ees, although contained in charge, were not specifically pleaded in C; Bd's claim that E was actually aware that 8(a)(5) violations were in issue and had ample opportunity to prevent its defense, rejected; and Bd's reliance on principle that material issue may be decided by Bd, regardless of whether it has been specifically pleaded is not supported by the record; nor did E have opportunity to litigate its 8(a)(5) defenses)

7682-6750 Raising issue previously conceded by General Counsel to respondent

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(where GC specifically limits scope of allegations and specifically agrees that certain facts or theories are not at issue in case and ALJ agrees at hearing that facts and theories are so limited, then ALJ erred when he found violation based on conduct which had been thus excluded)

The Moore Company, Inc., Div. of Easco Corp. 264 NLRB No. 159
(ALJ erred in not passing on whether incident constituted violation, notwithstanding at one point in hearing Counsel for GC stated that testimony in regard to incident was being offered only as background, since alleged as violation in C and noted at later point in hearing)

7690 MISCONDUCT OF PARTIES

Quebecor Group, Inc. Philadelphia Journal Division 258 NLRB No. 125
(Bd not bound by determinations of disciplinary board of State in ruling on allegations of misconduct by counsel for GC)

7691 PARTICIPATION BY PARTIES

7691-2500 Self representation

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(notwithstanding that E was a nonlawyer representing himself in proceedings herein, E's alleged misunderstanding of either Bd's R/R or ALJ's statements during pre-trial conference concerning days scheduled for hearing held no basis for having Bd permit such alleged confusion to unreasonably delay or overturn its hearings)

7691-5000 Introduction of documentary evidence

Progressive Medical Group, Inc., t/a Walnut Hill Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 039
(although notes taken at bargaining meeting by E's official were admitted after they were authenticated by him, notes of such meeting were ruled inadmissible where it was subsequently shown that official had flatly misrepresented process whereby handwritten notes were transcribed into typewritten minutes; and since official also displayed open partisanship, his uncorroborated testimony on any subject would not be found reliable)

St. Regis Paper Company 247 NLRB No. 185
(correct to draw adverse inference from Respondent's failure to submit documentary evidence in support of its contention that transfer of work was economically motivated)

8000 ALJ DECISION AND PROPOSED FINDINGS

8001 GENERALLY

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(ALJ improperly omitted discussion of a number of C allegations, since ALJ has obligation to make findings of fact and reach conclusions of law with respect to all allegations of misconduct set forth in C; ALJ's remarks that C is duplicative and that certain testimony is repetitive of ULPs previously found by him provides no guidance as to why no findings were made on remaining C allegations which GC repeated in his cross-exceptions; moreover, evidence to support allegations were not basis for allegations discussed by ALJ)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. [illegible]
(ALJ did not consider case citations in GC's brief to ALJ decisions since until Bd rules thereon there is no precedent value)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(Bd's findings and conclusions as to objections to election in R case are not binding upon ALJ where same conduct is alleged as ULPs, since issues drawn are different in the two types of proceedings)

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc. (Moving Picture Projectionists, Local No. 150, Stage Employees) 250 NLRB No. 135
(where ALJ had failed to make critical credibility determinations regarding conflict in testimony of GC's witnesses--who claimed that on a certain date U and respondent E had reached oral agreement on terms of contract--and E's witnesses--who denied that such agreement was reached on that date--, Bd remanded proceeding for ALJ to make credibility determination regarding conflicting testimony)

Sparkie's Special Delivery & Messenger Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 064
(ALJ's statement at hearing that he believed Bd had jurisdiction and then directed parties not to brief on issue of jurisdiction over E, not prejudicial, notwithstanding that ALJ subsequently dismissed complaint because he found that GC had failed to establish that Bd has jurisdiction; statement was made after GC made his decision as to what evidence to put in record on issue of jurisdiction)

8001-4000 Decision must be based on record only

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(where GC specifically limits scope of allegations and specifically agrees that certain facts or theories are not at issue in case and ALJ agrees at hearing that facts and theories are so limited, then ALJ erred when he found violation based on conduct which had been thus excluded)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064
(E waived its right to contest authenticity of cards which, may have been dated at different times than they were signed, where it did not object to admission of cards into evidence during hearing but raised objections to authenticity in brief to ALJ)

Quebecor Group, Inc. Philadelphia Journal Division 258 NLRB No. 125
(Respondent's post hearing exhibits relating to work history of discriminatee is not part of record and cannot be considered under Sec. 102.45(b) of Bd's R/R where Respondent presented no evidence to show documents it wished to produce were unavailable at time of trial)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(ALJ's finding of no U animus on E's part based on his observation of E and Ees during hearing but not while testifying is impermissible reliance on conduct not w/i record)

8001-4400 ALJ's failure to detail conflicts in evidence not indication that such evidence not considered

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 003
(failure to explicate reasons for crediting witnesses where there is conflicting testimony on record not error where credibility findings are inherently consistent with ALJ's uncontroverted findings)

Kiawah Island Company, Ltd. 247 NLRB No. 080

Elder Moving & Storage Company, Inc. JD-129-82
(ALJ's failure to detail each of credibility considerations taken into account is not to be deemed failure on his part to have fully considered it)

8001-4700 ALJ's resolution of important factual conflicts against party not bias

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(resolved in favor of GC)

Nevada Resort Association; Summa Corporation, d/b/a Castaways Hotel; et al. 250 NLRB No. 118
(allegation of bias based on ALJ's resolution of important factual conflicts in favor of witnesses testifying for U held w/o merit)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's contention that bias of ALJ deprived it of fair trial, rejected, notwithstanding indications in record and ALJ's decision of hostility and impatience by ALJ towards E and its counsel, since no indication that this apparent attitude in any way affected fairness of hearing or integrity of record; nor does fact ALJ found for GC and against E in all but one instance and that a number of ALJ's findings were reversed by ct does not, w/o more, show bias)

8001-4800 ALJ's substitution of his judgment for that of party

Inland Steel Company 257 NLRB No. 065
(E must demonstrate that same action would have taken place in the absence of protected conduct and E bears burden of explaining its motivation; ALJ can not meet burden of E by supplying explanation which E himself did not advance)

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038
(ALJ found, based on entire record, that surface bargaining charge had no merit; contrary finding would place ALJ in judgment upon substantive terms of collective bargaining agreement)

8001-5000 ALJ bound by Board precedent and dispositions

Robert King d/b/a Regency At The Rodeway Inn 255 NLRB No. 133
(ALJ's must apply established Bd precedent that has not been reversed by Bd or Supreme Court)

Howard Johnson Company 250 NLRB No. 161
(ALJ held that Bd's denials of E's requests for review of RD's D/O directing election are binding on ALJ; E is free to request Bd to reconsider its determination and, in event of adverse decision, to seek ct review, but Bd's dispositions are not reveiwable by ALJ)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031
(Bd's denial of Es' mtn for summary judgment based on favorable arbitration award held binding on ALJ as law of case, notwithstanding Es' contention that under FRCP denial of mtn for summary judgment is interlocutory in nature and not res judicata)

8025 FORM AND CONTENT

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(where ALJ had considered record evidence carefully and determined that one of the briefs submitted to him fully and accurately recited the relevant facts, ALJ may rely in Decision on that statement of facts; Bd noted Sec. 102.42 does not expressly permit such use of a party's brief, and Bd does not encourage wholesale substitution of a party's formulation of major portion of facts for ALJ's description of the facts in his own words)

8025-3300 Specificity of findings and conclusions

Grane Trucking Company 261 NLRB No. 059
(Bd found U adherent's protected concerted activity to have clearly dictated E's change in his working conditions, notwithstanding fact that ALJ declined to state specifically that E's asserted reasons for change were pretextual, where ALJ rejected as specious each of E's asserted economic justifications and stated that E failed to adduce probative evidence that change was needed)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183
(where ALJ admitted E's mtn to dismiss or alternatively for Summary Judgment on grounds of defective complaint because it failed to allege that U had majority status or E was successor but he failed to rule on mtn, Bd denied mtn as lacking in merit since it agreed with ALJ that E unlawfully withdrew recognition from U)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 20, 1981)
(ALJ clearly stated the reasons upon which she rested her conclusion that remedies short of a bargaining order would be ineffectual)

8050 PREPARATION BY ALJ WHO DID NOT PRESIDE AT TRIAL

Huttig Sash and Door Company 263 NLRB No. 163
(where ALJ died before he issued decision and E agreed to waive hearing de novo and to permit credibility resolutions to be determined by one who did not observe witnesses' demeanor at hearing, Bd deferred to ALJ's credibility findings and held that they were not contrary to preponderance of evidence on record as whole)

8075 VARIANCE BETWEEN FINDINGS AND COMPLAINT

Cox Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Atlanta Newspapers 264 NLRB No. 120
(although C alleged that discharge was unlawful under Sec. 8(a)(3) for engaging in U activities, Bd found that discharge was unlawful under Sec. 8(a)(1) since Bd is not precluded from finding that conduct alleged as unlawful violates Act in different respect. Allegation was fully litigated; C was amended and E was thereafter afforded opportunity to present additional evidence pertaining to this allegation)

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149
(where E's refusal to reinstate ULP strikers was not alleged as violation in complaint or amended complaint and counsel for GC stated at beginning and end of hearing that only remedy sought was for other actions, ALJ erred in finding refusal unlawful and providing corresponding remedy, since E had no notice that this action was at issue, full record was not developed on the matter, and ALJ has authority to amend complaint only where GC seeks or consents to amendment or evidence on matter has been received into record w/o objection)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonininе's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(issue fully litigated and E not prejudiced by incomplete memory of GC's witness regarding alleged statement of E's owner that E was non-U where testimony regarding statement was supported by three other witnesses and E examined each of these witnesses)

8075-0100 Generally

The Moore Company, Inc., Div. of Eusco Corp. 264 NLRB No. 159
(ALJ erred in not passing on whether incident constituted violation, notwithstanding at one point in hearing Counsel for GC stated that testimony in regard to incident was being offered only as background, since alleged as violation in C and noted at later point in hearing)

U. S. Reduction Company JD-(ATL)-13-82
(complaint held sufficiently broad to provide basis for finding that demotion of Ee violated Sec. 8(a)(1) where complaint alleged that Ee was demoted because of her U activities and because she engaged in concerted activities with other Ees; moreover, E raised issue of concerted activity in its defense as part of operative facts of Ee's demotion and in doing so put in issue legitimacy of its actions in this regard; further, E addressed and argued concerted activity premise in its brief)

Continental Air Transport Co., Inc. JD-125-82
(reinstatement and backpay not precluded by GC's failure to seek such relief in C where after GC's request for remedy E was offered opportunity to provide reasonably specific statement of any evidence it wished to produce in connection with appropriateness of remedy; nothing in Bd's rules requires that GC include in C remedy he seeks and even if GC represents to ALJ that no relief is being sought as to particular Ee, this does not preclude Bd from requiring E to offer reinstatement and backpay)

Visu-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(E held to have violated Act by maintaining and enforcing unlawful security clause notwithstanding violation not alleged in complaint where legality of provision presented as matter to be considered at hearing and was closely related to allegations of unlawful assistance to U and unlawful discharge pursuant to provision)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(E's contention that Bd's order based liability under strike settlement stipulation on allegation neither made in C nor litigated at hearing, rejected notwithstanding ct's agreement with E that C did not allege E's violation of any term of settlement and that serious issue of due process would exist had Bd based its order solely on unrelated agreement that played no part in proceedings before ALJ, where from outset of hearings E was on notice that its Ee's poststrike reinstatement rights would be determined by settlement agreement)

8075-5000 Findings on issues fully litigated

Teamsters Local Union No. 528 (Associated Grocers Co-Op) 265 NLRB No. 065
(while C did not allege U representative's statement refusing to process dischargee's grievance over his termination as independent violation of 8(b)(1)(A), incident was fully litigated at hearing and was so central to C allegation as to justify finding of violation)

Admiral Merchants Motor Freight, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 016
(no prejudice to E by finding statements violative which were not alleged as such where they were fully litigated and closely related to alleged violations)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(although not alleged in C that E's mailgram to Ees terminated them in violation of 8(a)(3), Bd found such violation, where C specifically alleged mailgram threatened discharge in violation of 8(a)(1) and alleged other 8(a)(3) violations; although E asserted that law and interpretaion of facts do not support finding of violation, E did not contend that it was precluded from adducing any exculpatory facts or that it would have altered its presentation of case; issue was fully litigated, and all operative facts underlying finding of 8(a)(3) and (1) violations are in record)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 058
(although complaint did not specifically allege all violations found by ALJ, issues were fully litigated and record fully supported ALJ's conclusions)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(although E discriminated against six temporaries, findings were limited to three Ees alleged, by GC in C to have been discriminated against)

Inland Steel Company 250 NLRB No. 024
(although not alleged in complaint, supervisor's statement to Ee held unlawful threat, since statement was closely related to subject matter of complaint and was fully litigated)

Rei Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127
(urging Ees to sign pins indicating opposition to U held violative; though conduct not specifically alleged in complaint it was fully litigated)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(while complaint did not specifically alleg surveillance as violation and was not amended to allege such violation, E's conduct in coercing Ee to maintain surveillance of fellow Ees and to inform on their U activities, unlawful, since allegation was sufficiently related to subject matter of complaint to warrant specific finding of violation, facts were fully litigated at hearing, and E had opportunity to offer evidence on the point)

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Carpenters' District Council of Western Pennsylvania and Industrial Local No. 2605, AFL-CIO (DeRose Industries, Inc.) 256 NLRB No. 092
(U president's threatening Ee that his time card would be pulled if he did not pay U assessed fine, violative; although not specifically alleged in complaint as separate violation of Sec. 8(b)(1)(A), issue was fully litigated)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(E's exception to finding of instance of unlawful refusal to bargain, overruled, where, although not specifically alleged, instance of refusal to bargain was fully litigated, and although E asserts it has no notice of specific basis for violation found, its arguments before Bd are limited to the law, sufficiency of facts, and interpretation of facts now in record; moreover, E does not allege that it was precluded from adducing any exculpatory acts, nor does it argue that it would have altered conduct of its case had it but received notice)

(issue of legality of threat to close plant if Ees selected U properly before Bd notwitiistanding it was not alleged in complaint where issues was closely related to and took place in course of events which were alleged as ULPs and fully litigated)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(supervisor's telling Ee that he was on his way out because he had been passing out U cards, held violative, notwithstanding complaint did not allege remarks constituted ULPs, since GC's brief so contended and matter was fully litigated)

Ross M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(unlawfulness of no-solicitation rule, although not alleged in complaint, found proper issue in case and fully litigated where E injected rule into proceedings as defense to allegation in complaint of another violation)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 253 NLRB No. 003
(Bd rejected E's contention that unlawful discharge was not embodied in allegations of complaint and therefore denial of due process, where issue of whether Ee was discharged for her insistence that another Ee take racial complaint to supervisor, was fully litigated and misconduct found was clearly related to conduct specifically alleged)

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062
(finding of violation proper, notwithstanding allegations of complaint that Respondents' threatened to picket jobsite inadequate to state violation since it might be presumed that Respondents' would engage in lawful picketing and were giving secondary E opportunity to restrict picketing by establishing gate for non-U contractor, as allegation of complaint sufficient to put Respondents' on notice that statements were in issue and threat was fully litigated)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055
(although not alleged in complaint, unlawful conduct held closely related to matters actually alleged, formed part of alleged misconduct, and was fully litigated at hearing)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 128

Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 125
(although issue was not specifically alleged in complaint, Bd affirmed ALJ's finding independent 8(a)(5) violation where issue was fully litigated, and related to heart of complaint which alleged other instances of disregard of obligation to bargain with U; moreover, operative event regarding this matter was essentially admitted by E)

Post Manufacturing Company 251 NLRB No. 153
(and record fully supported conclusion, and violation found is closely related to violations alleged in complaint)

Weyerhaeuser Company 251 NLRB No. 097
(Bd and ALJ expected to pass upon issue although not specifically alleged to be ULP in complaint if matter was fully litigated)

Norton Concrete Company of Longview, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 172
(where issue is fully litigated at hearing it is not necessary that it have been specifically alleged in C for ALJ to make finding)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(Respondent not deprived of due process where threat not alleged in C held to be violation since allegation fully litigated)

Hack Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 693 F.2d 1176 (C.A. 8, Dec. 1982)

Cain's Generator and Armature Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 933 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(Bd's finding of violative wage increase was consistent with matters alleged and litigated and cannot serve as basis to reverse Bd's decision by ct)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's contention that it was denied due process by litigation of matters outside C, rejected, since actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements that govern private lawsuits; charge need not be technically precise as long as it generally informs charged party of nature of alleged violations; and where issue is fully and fairly litigated at administrative hearing, Bd may find ULP even though no specific charge is made in C)

Hadley Fruit Orchards, Inc. JD-(SF)-121-82
(where some instances of actions that might be unlawful had neither been plead as violations in original C nor amended in, ALJ made findings on each of them since they had come into the record w/o objection and appeared to have been litigated as fully as respondent chose to litigate any violations that had been alleged)

N.L.R.B. v. Tricor Products, Inc., and/or C & J Pattern Co. 636 F.2d 266 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(ct upheld Bd's finding of constructive discharge, notwithstanding contention that issue was not properly before Bd because it was not alleged in complaint, since matter was fully heard where Ee testified about confrontation with E which resulted in his termination, E did not challenge accuracy of Ee's testimony, and it appears that Ee and E were only persons who could shed any light on circumstances surrounding Ee's termination)

8075-7500 Findings on issues not fully litigated

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 1186 (Pacific Electrical Contractors Association, etc.) 264 NLRB No. 097
(where conduct not alleged in C and Respondent not otherwise put on notice that evidence of this conduct might be basis of finding of independent violation and even after hearing GC did not argue before ALJ that this conduct violated Act, nor did ALJ include it in his statement of case, issues not fully litigated and ALJ's conclusion that this conduct constituted violation improperly intrudes on GC's authority to frame case)

United Sanitation Services, Division of Sanitas Service Corp. 262 NLRB No. 173
(Bd did not adopt ALJ's finding that supervisor unlawfully threatened Ee, where supervisor's statement was not alleged in complaint to be violation, ALJ inadvertently credited incorrect translation of Ee's testimony, and issue was not fully litigated at hearing)

Beck Studios, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 044
(record did not support ALJ's findings concerning Ee's recall and later termination where these events were neither alleged in complaint as ULPs nor fully litigated)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 084
(Bd did not adopt ALJ's finding that E's maintenance of no-solicitation and no-distribution rule w/o delineating or explicating a special purpose for such rules was unlawful, where facial validity of rules was not raised in complaint nor put in issue at hearing, and consequently E was denied opportunity fully to litigate issue of rules' validity and to present evidence justifying them, if necessary)

International Brotherhood of Pottery & Allied Workers, AFL-CIO (Colton Manufacturing, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 035
(issue of denial of fair representation by U's failure to communicate to Ees rules and policies governing to whom strike benefits disbursements would be paid which was not alleged in complaint which alleged only unlawful refusal to pay accrued strike benefits to strikers who resigned from U and returned to work for E, held not fully litigated where nothing in GC's oral argument put U on notice and there was no notice of theory until submission of GC's post-trial brief)

Canney Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 0[illegible]
(where complaint did not allege E's unilateral implementation of its final wage as violation, no violation will be found as issue not sufficiently litigated at hearing; moreover, this issue is of such magnitude that when it is raised first time post hearing, this places undue burden on E, depriving him opportunity to present defense)

Valley Cabinet & Mfg., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 0[illegible]
(where violation was neither alleged in complaint nor litigated at hearing ALJ finding of violation not adopted by Bd)

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 249 NLRB No. 035
(violation not found where GC did not allege claimed ULP in C nor advance it as theory of C and GC and E resolved issue by settlement agreement in prior, related proceeding)

Hemly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-285-81
(interrogation which would otherwise be held violative, not held unlawful, where not alleged in complaint and matter not fully litigated since E not on notice and thus made no effort to refute testimony regarding interrogation, nor did GC in post trial brief allege interrogation as violation)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(since due process forbids ALJ from gratuitously interjecting new issues into case and deciding them sua sponte, ct held E's granting of wage increase which was held violative of Section 8(a)(1) not violative of Section 8(a)(5) where E did not have notice at hearing that its good faith in dealing with U on or before relevant date was in issue and issue was not fully litigated)

Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, Local 576, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 223 (C.A.D.C., Dec. 1980)
(no violation found where complaint alleged only alter ego theory which did not give E notice of GC's alternative theory that E went out of business w/o notifying U and bargaining over decision)

8400 EXCEPTIONS AND BRIEFS

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(E's extensive exceptions and brief challenging several of ALJ's findings such as factual finding that there was no evidence regarding E's statement to Ee pertaining to disciplinary warning, overruled; ALJ's error was insignificant in given instance and did not undermine ALJ's decision; E's other exceptions, neither separately nor cumulatively, cast any doubt on ALJ's finding of unlawful conduct on part of E)

8433 EXCEPTIONS

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064
(to extent that respondent's exceptions asserted existence of facts that were not part of formal record, Bd was unable to consider such evidence absent showing that it was newly discovered or not previously available; to extent portion of exceptions why he considered motion to reopen record, that motion denied)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(E's mtn to strike charging party's answer to its exceptions on ground answer raised issues not dealt w/i E's exceptions and constituted new exceptions which were not timely filed, denied; charging party's suggestion of additional remedies in responde to E's exceptions regarding ALJ recommended provisions does not justify striking entire answer, particularly since E was afforded opportunity and did file response with respect to those issues)

8433-0100 Generally

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(GC's mtn to strike E's exceptions to ALJ's decision, denied, where, although Bd did not condone E's unwarranted, unsubstantiated, and defamatory attacks on Bd processes and policies, Bd decided not to strike E's exceptions on such basis)

Bay Medical Center, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 159
(where E had consistently refused to bargain with charging party on basis that unit was inappropriate rather than on basis charging party lacked authority to demand bargaining and had admitted identity of bargaining agent in answer, E is estopped to assert in exceptions to ALJ's decision that charging party lacked authority to demand bargaining)

8433-2500 Who may file

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(alleged discriminatee who did not file ULP charge, seek to intervene at any stage in proceeding or participate in any manner as party to proceeding may not file exceptions to ALJ decision that is not excepted to by any party; statue requires that notice of ALJ decision be served on parties and w/o such notice it becomes impossible for Bd to enforce time limits for filing exceptions; moreover, alleged discriminatee could have filed charge or moved to intervene and having chosen to rely upon representation provided by U and GC cannot after the hearing complain about that representation)

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098
(Bd did not disturb ALJ's description of unit absent exceptions thereto by either party notwithstanding intervenor's contention that description was incorrect)

Leonard Giacalone v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 427 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(discriminatee does not have standing to file exceptions to ALJ's decision where U was charging party as Bd's rules contemplate that exceptions are to be filed only by parties to proceedings)

8433-3300 Time for filing

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(GC's mtn to strike E's exceptions to ALJ's decision, denied, where GC was not substantially prejudiced as result of late service of exceptions, since GC had adequate time to prepare a brief in opposition to exceptions)

Evans Brothers Barber & Beauty Salons, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 023
(Bd accepted U's exceptions notwithstanding E's contention they were untimely filed where E had received copies two days after exceptions were due in Washington and since copies were postmarked as of date they were due and assuming exceptions themselves were mailed on same date, U could not have harbored reasonable expectation they would reach Bd by filing date; assuming E's speculation was correct, Bd noted E had adequate time to answer exceptions, and E did not raise nor did Bd perceive any prejudice due to late filing)

Fremont Manufacturing Division, The Oil Gear Company, Inc. 255NLRB No. 113
(E's exceptions, mailed prior to last day on which timely exceptions could be filed, but filed a week after last day for filing rejected as being not timely filed under Bd's R/R)

Maine Forest, Inc., formerly known as Claude Carrier, Inc. JD-(NY)-59-80
(rejection of exceptions filed by E in French, not unfair and prejudicial, where exceptions were not timely filed, copies were not served on other parties to proceeding, and it really was not necessary for E to address exceptions in French)

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

8433-5000 Effect of failure to file or late filing

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 200
(GC's mtn to strike company's brief as untimely filed, denied where GC suffered no prejudices by brief reaching ALJ 3 days late and jurisdictional issue deserved full explication from company)

Axelson, Inc., subsidiary of U.S. Industries, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 010
(where no exceptions were filed to ALJ's findings and conclusions in ULP case with respect to 8(a)(1) violations found therein, Bd's adoption of ALJ's ultimate findings and conclusions does not carry with it approval of each and every comment by ALJ on the evidence, but only those that are essential to his ultimate findings; thus, Bd's decision should not be taken as adopting ALJ's gratuitous dictum which it was asked to consider in instant related decertification proceeding and which, in any event, could not be made from fair reading of record)

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 262 NLRB No. 089
(Bd is not bound by ALJ's findings, even in absence of exceptions and can reevaluate conclusions reached by ALJ based on record in case)

Cimpl Transporation Company 256 NLRB No. 173
(exceptions and briefs timely filed where Bd received documents w/i time allowed but GC received these documents 10 days after filing date; furthermore GC had adequate opportunity to answer these exceptions and briefs)

Teamsters & Auto Truck Drivers, Local No. 85 (William Volker and Company) 253 NLRB No. 089
(GC's mtn to strike brief in support of exceptions granted where R's brief untimely filed)

P. J. Gear & Sons, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 028
(request granted though E, acting on own behalf, notified Bd prior to deadline for filing exceptions that it intended to file exceptions and there was possibility that it would need extension of time, and then asked for extension prior to deadline although request not received until after date)

Wismer and Becker, Contracting Engineers 251 NLRB No. 086
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's finding that U's general refusal to make referrals was not unlawful, where GC failed to litigate such issue; U was w/o adequate notice from hearing and briefs that refusal was issue as independent violation and was deprived of opportunity to present relevant defense evidence, GC also failed to comply with Bd's R/R by not filing specific exceptions concerning issue, and it would be difficult to infer that GC intended to maintain issue as part of theory of case as it was originally presented to Bd)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 163
(where Respondent filed cross-exceptions and answering brief but Bd failed to receive them prior to its decision, Bd's original order rescinded in order for it to be able to consider those documents)

8433-5033 Adoption as Board order under section 10(c)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(in absence of exception to ALJ findings Bd may still review findings since Bd has authority to modify or set aside any finding or order made or issued by it until case shall have been filed in ct)

8433-5800 Service

Fashionline Ltd. 256 NLRB No. 067
(GC's mtn to strike exceptions of third party to dispute between respondent E and U denied, notwithstanding exceptions did not conform in all particulars with R/R Secs. 102.46, 102.112, and 102.113, where third party was not party to ULPs committed by respondent E)

8433-6700 Form and specificity required

A & T Manufacturing Company 263 NLRB No. 201
(mtn to strike GC and Charging Party's exceptions for failure to comply with requirements of BD's R/R Section 102.46(b) in that questions of procedure, fact, law or policy to which exceptions taken not set forth specifically, and grounds for exceptions and portions of record relied on in support of position not stated, denied, notwithstanding GC's and Charging Party's exceptions did not comply fully with requirements of rule, since exceptions sufficiently designated portions of decision claimed erroneous)

Stage Employees, Local No. 249 (General Cinema Corporation of Texas, et al.) 265 NLRB No. 093
(respondent E's mtn for reconsideration of Bd's decision on ground of alleged exceptions to ALJ's decision dismissing C against E in its entirety, denied, where Bd had previously found that E's exceptions did not meet requirements of R/R Sec. 102.46(b) in that they failed to identify any portion of ALJ's decision to which E objected, and now E complains that ALJ did not make additional rulings or comments that E would have found favorable in its bargaining relationship with charging U; moreover, subject matter of exceptions was not contained in C and issues were not litigated at hearing)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(GC's mtn to strike E's exceptions to ALJ's decision, denied, where, although exceptions did not fully comply with specificity requirements of Bd's R/R Sec. 102.46(b), they sufficiently designated portions of decision E claims were erroneous; moreover, GC has not shown prejudice as result of any deficiency)

Fashionline Ltd. 256 NLRB No. 067
(GC's mtn to strike exceptions of third party to dispute between respondent E and U denied, notwithstanding exceptions did not conform in all particulars with R/R Secs. 102.46, 102.112, and 102.113, where third party was not party to ULPs committed by respondent E)

Virecon, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 037
(although E's exceptions and brief in support thereof did not conform in all particulars with R/R Sec. 102.46(c), they were not so deficient as to warrant striking)

Poppin Fresh Pies, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 051
(dismissal of 8(a)(1) violation was not before Bd where GC excepted to ALJ's failure to find Sec. 8(a)(3) and (1) violations but exception grounded on U activities only)

Wismer and Becker, Contracting Engineers 251 NLRB No. 086
(GC's exception to ALJ's dismissal of all allegations of complaint not found violations of Act lacked specificity required by Bd's R/R and was not adequate notice of request to consider issue of general refusal to refer which ALJ had found not unlawful; R/R Sec. 102.46(b))

Ditch Witch of Central Illinois, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 052
(resubmitting to Bd brief that was originally submitted to ALJ is insufficient to place in issue any finding of ALJ that Bd can review in regards to specific exceptions)

Maine Forest, Inc., formerly known as Claude Carrier, Inc. JD-(NY)-89-81
(rejection of exceptions filed by E in French, not unfair and prejudicial, where exceptions were not timely filed, copies were not served on other parties to proceeding, and it really was not necessary for E to address exceptions in French)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(while E's exceptions to Bd's bargaining order were not precise and detailed, they were quite different from general pro forma objections found to be impermissibly vague; it goes against the grain to uphold a finding of a violation not charged in C, never acknowledged in hearing, and objected to in some detail before Bd, simply because magic phrase due process was not used in E's objections; Sec. 10(e) does not require such a triumph of technical pleading over fundamental fairness)

8433-9900 Cross exceptions

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 18
(E's mtn to reject GC's cross-exceptions as untimely filed, denied, where cross-exceptions, sent by certified mail bearing date 3 days in advance of deadline date but not received by Bd until after deadline, held to have been mailed in reasonable time for GC to have expected timely receipt; moreover, E had adequate time in which to answer cross-exceptions and has not shown that it was prejudiced by late receipt)

Hyatt On Union Square 265 NLRB No. 090
(E's conditional cross-exceptions stating that if Bd did not adopt recommended order, E wished to except to various rulings made by ALJ, treated as cross-exceptions since Bd has no provision for cross-exceptions conditioned on its disposition of case)

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097
(when GC filed cross-exception to part of ALJ order, and Respondent filed document labeled answering brief which was not response to GC cross-exception but was instead reply to GC's answering brief to Respondent's exceptions, this is abuse of Bd's processes which limit parties to one brief in support of, and one brief in opposition to, each set of exceptions and cross-exceptions)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134
(GC's mtn to strike portion of respondent's response to GC's exceptions as attempt to thrust its evidence before the Board ex parte denied since Bd found response is more properly characterized as argument, which is not bound by strictures applicable to posthearing submission of evidence)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(GC's mtn to strike Respondent's mtn to overrule GC's exceptions granted notwithstanding GC did not file answering brief as such brief is not required under Sec. 102.46(d) of R/R)

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048
(U's motion for special leave to file answering brief to E's cross-exceptions granted for limited purpose of answering questions raised in such exceptions; however, such brief not considered insofar as it exceeded scope of E's cross-exceptions (R/R Sec. 102.46(f)(1))

8467 BRIEFS

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024
(ALJ granted GC's mtn to disregard writings appended to E's brief, which appeared to be arbitration decisions, since E did not offer the proferred written evidence nor authenticate it at hearing)

8467-0100 Generally

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097
(when GC filed cross-exception to part of ALJ order, and Respondent filed document labeled answering brief which was not response to GC cross-exception but was instead reply to GC's answering brief to Respondent's exceptions, this is abuse of Bd's processes which limit parties to one brief in support of, and one brief in opposition to, each set of exceptions and cross-exceptions)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(GC's and parties' mtn to strike all references in E's brief to testimony of E's official, contending that, since ALJ struck all of official's testimony, it is not properly basis for argument in brief, granted, since Bd affirmed ALJ's ruling)

A & A Ornamental Iron, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 138
(ALJ expressed his disappointment that, as a matter of commonsense courtesy, neither GC nor respondent's attorney notified him that they were waiving their right to file briefs and, as a result, clerical Ee expended needless time and energy in attempts to determine whether briefs were filed, lost in the mail, or misplaced)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(briefs should not be used as means of making motions, such as motion to amend complaint made herein)

Ernst Construction, Div. of Ernst Steel Corporation JD-826-79
(where ALJ was informed that U's representative had not received copy of E's brief, ALJ, in absence of mtn to strike E's brief, reminded E's counsel of his obligation to forward copies of all post-hearing documents to all parties)

8467-2800 Time for filing

Avatar, Inc., d/b/a Downtowner Motor Inn 262 NLRB No. 131
(Bd denied GC's mtn to strike respondent's late-filed supplemental brief, notwithstanding technical failure to comply with Bd's R/R, in view of fact it contained no argument and only called attention to recent Bd decision, Bd's R/R calls for liberal construction, and decision to allow receipt was procedural and thus w/i Bd's discretion)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(ALJ treated GC's brief, mailed 4 days before due date but not received until 4 days after such date, as timely filed)

Otis Elevator Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of United Technologies 255 NLRB No. 005
(E's mtn to strike GC's brief in support of ALJ's decision on ground that such brief must be filed w/i same time limit as is permitted for filing of exceptions, and that GC failed to file timely answering brief to E's exceptions, denied; although not in technical compliance with R/R Sec. 102.46(a), GC's brief qualified as timely answering brief pursuant to Sec. 102.46(d) which does not require specificity as claimed by E; moreover, R/R are to be liberally construed, receipt of brief is w/i Bd's discretion, and E has failed to show it was prejudiced by brief's receipt)

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

8467-4000 Form and content

Forster Beverage Corporation 268 NLRB No. 035
(where E included in its brief to Bd a decertification ptn with an Ee ptn attached and argued that it is part of record since ALJ took official notice of decertification ptn, Bd noted that ALJ only took official notice to show that decertification ptn was on file so Bd struck Ee ptn and all references to it because ALJ never made Ee ptn part of record, only acepted decertification ptn for limited purpose and Ee ptn was never proven authentic)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's mtn in brief, opposed by GC, to include State unemployment board of review decision in evidence relating to quit of alleged discriminatee, granted; while E failed to assert that proffered document was newly discovered or not in existence during hearing, and while such previously unmentioned document would ordinarily be rejected upon GC's opposition, document placed in record on theory that its omission was result of E's oversight, especially since other documents pertaining to alleged discriminatee were in evidence)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(GC's and parties' mtn to strike certain portions of E's brief and attached exhibits, and to strike all references in E's brief to Corporate Counsel's letter to attorneys representing E in proceedings, granted, since exhibits and references were not admitted into evidence at hearing and, therefore, are not part of record in this proceeding; moreover, consideration of such documents would deny parties opportunity for voir dire and cross-examination and would violate R/R)

Viracon, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 037
(although E's exceptions and brief in support thereof did not conform in all particulars with R/R Sec. 102.46(c), they were not so deficient as to warrant striking)

Otis Elevator Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of United Technologies 255 NLRB No. 005
(U's mtn to strike portions of E's brief in support of its exceptions, which referred to report resulting from study of E's operations on which E based transfer of unit work, granted; E's claim that it wished to make part of record portions of summary of report which it repeatedly refused to provide U, stretches bounds of credibility; E's proffered documents are not part of official transcript and appear to have been edited; and admission of documents would deny GC and U opportunity for cross-examination and voir dire examination as to documents' authenticity)

United States Postal Service JD-420-81
(allegation made for first time in brief not considered by ALJ since respondent had no opportunity to defend against it)

8467-6000 Reply

Local 513, Plumbers (Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of the Twin Cities (Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, MI)) 264 NLRB No. 059
(Respondent's mtn to submit reply brief to correct significant factual distortions and give Respondents opportunity to reply to newly announced theory of GC, denied, since GC's facts as set forth in brief did not materially deviate from record and theory set forth in GC's brief substantially that given during trial)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(at GC's request, E's brief in reply to GC's brief stricken since Bd's R/R do not provide for reply briefs and, in any event, E's reply brief is unnecessary since it raises same issue treated in E's original brief)

8500 RECORD IN UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE PROCEEDING

8550 AUGMENTATION

Rai Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127
(where Bd directed that record be reopened after ALJ decision issued so that E could cross-examine Ee, Bd rejected E's contentions that hiatus between direct and cross exams was prejudicial or that ALJ failed to give adequate consideration to evidence on cross because he did not want to reverse his previously published decision)

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023
(mtn for leave to introduce new evidence denied where only effect of proffered evidence would be only to circumstantially bear upon witness' credibility which was not crucial to Bd's acceptance of ALJ's finding of violation)

8600 ORAL ARGUMENT

Pick-Mt. Laurel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 034
(request for oral argument denied since records, briefs and various submissions adequate to dispose of issues presented)

Ironworkers, Local 483 (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 248 NLRB No. 009
(oral argument denied because record, exceptions, and briefs adequately represented issues and positions of parties)

8800 BOARD DECISION

8801 GENERALLY

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(although Bd's action was nominally a summary judgment, it was in reality a default, since in summary judgment there is no dispute about relevant facts while in default defendant's contentions, as here, are not considered but rather ex parte allegations of adversary are accepted as true; possibility that an injustice may occur is much more likely in those circumstances, since controversies are decided upon a procedural technicality instead of ruling on merits; and, consequently, in a default case, more exacting judicial scrutiny is in order)

8801-5000 Requirements of APA Sec. 8(b) 5 USC 557(c)

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 006
(Bd did not rely on decision not reported in published volumes of Bd Decisions)

8801-7500 Retroactive application

Documation, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 052
(it is Bd's established policy that, following pronouncement of new rule of law, it should be applied retroactively; that is, to the case in which it arises and to all pending cases)

8820 DECISIONAL PROCESS

8820-0100 Generally

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(E's contention that 2 Bd members, who dissented in full Bd decision setting aside election because of U's improper use of election campaign material but were majority in 3-member panel decisions in instant case and other cases dealing with similar issue but not invalidating elections, refused to adopt full Bd's decision in prior case, rejected; such contention should not be made lightly, and ct sees no reason for overcoming strong presumption against it; moreover, proposed decisions of panels are circulated to entire Bd, and nonparticipating member may request full Bd attention)

8820-2500 Delegation to three member panel discretionary

A.G.S. Graphics, A Division of George Lithograph Co. 265 NLRB No. 120
(policy of Bd for same panel which decides case to pass on request for reconsideration of panel decision and for full Bd to consider such request only if panel refers it to full Bd)

8840 FORM AND CONTENT

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(Bd's failure, in citing own decision as authority for its holding in case herein, to cite ct decision denying enforcement of Bd order was misleading and subject to justifiable criticism; Bd thereby indicated that it should apply its own rules on national basis and that therefore it will not defer to reviewing cts; better approach for Bd would be to accept first ruling of ct or else seek reversal in SCt or statutory change by Congress; and shopping in number of cts for favorable decision should be subject to searching and critical review)

8840-2500 Reasons for decision must be made clear

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(Bd can satisfy requirement of ct to articulate factors (not just conclusions) that justify imposition of bargaining order over remedy of ordering new election by adopting findings and reasonings of ALJ if latter provides statement of reasons; furthermore, merely changing effective date of bargaining order from what ALJ set did not require separate statement by Bd; statement required to assist reviewing ct in determining whether standards of Gissel have been satisfied)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(Bd is authorized to change its mind and modify its construction of Act in light of its cumulative experience, but when it does so it must at least carefully explain its reasons and follow controlling law; it is duty of Bd, not of cts, to clearly set forth intent of its decisions and to explain departure from precedent)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(where Bd's finding that E bargained in bad faith was based solely on contract proposals and Bd made no findings which assertedly demonstrated bad faith, nor with respect to E's contention parties unable to agree because of U's unreasonable proposals and hard bargaining, remand to Bd to determine whether record as a whole, including course of negotiations as well as contract proposals, support finding of bad faith, since determination of whether E was engaged in impermissible surface bargaining or permissible hard bargaining can only be made upon consideration of totality of circumstances)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(where Bd failed to give any justification for its different treatment of 2 branches of State's gambling industry (jai alai and horse or dog racing), identical in all comparable respects, where as to former it asserted jurisdiction, latter it declined to do so, Bd abused its Sec. 14(c)(1) discretion)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(conclusory statement by Bd that access is needed to neutralize effects is not sufficient to justify grant of access; assumptions must be supported by evidence in record; Bd must find reasonable forseeability that Ees at those plants where access is imposed have suffered coercive effects from E's unlawful conduct and that access remedy is necessary to cure those effects)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

8840-2510 Not necessary as to ancillary issues

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(no remand where Bd did not discuss U's requests for costs and attorney fees as this issue was ancillary to major questions presented)

8840-3700 Decision only on issues raised by facts, pleadings and exceptions in case

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035

(where E included in its brief to Bd a decertification ptn with an Ee ptn attached and argued that it is part of record since ALJ took official notice of decertification ptn, Bd noted that ALJ only took official notice to show that decertification ptn was on file so Bd struck Ee ptn and all references to it because ALJ never made Ee ptn part of record, only acepted decertification ptn for limited purpose and Ee ptn was never proven authentic)

Salem Village I, Inc., Salem Village II, Inc., and Salem Village III, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 111

(on ct remand, hearing on objections was limited only to those issues raised before Bd in E's original objections, as ct opn does not say that it intended to ignore 10(e) limitation and refers only to objections that were discussed)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041

(GC's and parties' mtn to strike certain portions of E's brief and attached exhibits, and to strike all references in E's brief to Corporate Counsel's letter to attorneys representing E in proceedings, granted, since exhibits and references were not admitted into evidence at hearing and, therefore, are not part of record in this proceeding; moreover, consideration of such documents would deny parties opportunity for voir dire and cross-examination and would violate R/R)

Lashaw Corporation 260 NLRB No. 020

Northeastern Dodge, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 118

(although E did not except to findings on which violation premised, it did except to ALJ's Conclusion of Law and Recommended Order thereon; accordingly Bd considered issues to be before it)

S. Freedman Electric, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 060

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center. 256 NLRB No. 064

(to extent that respondent's exceptions asserted existence of facts that were not part of formal record, Bd was unable to consider such evidence absent showing that it was newly discovered or not previously available; to extent portion of exceptions why he considered motion to reopen record, that motion denied)

Poppin Fresh Pies, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 081

(dismissal of 8(a)(1) violation was not before Bd where GC excepted to ALJ's failure to find Sec. 8(a)(3) and (1) violations but exception grounded on U activities only)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 014

(no deferral where issue was not raised until after hearing and thus not fully litigated; in addition two members of Bd panel would find deferral inappropriate since complaint alleged 8(a)(3) violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(Bd abused discretion when: 1) adopted RD's report w/o reviewing underlying documents because E failed to append to its exceptions documents given by it to RD; and 2) failed to include this documentation in record to ct. No waives by E for failure to raise issue of complete record during Bd proceeding as E didn't discover fact until Bd filed its certificate of record. Bd Rule 102.69(g) to ambiguous to put E on notice complete record not sent to Bd, nor did RD's report give notice documents secured by RD himself would be excluded from record or clearly indicate that E's documents would be excluded unless appended to exceptions)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems,' Inc. 681 F.2d 913 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(where RD failed to submit full record to Bd, Bd's contention that it was entitled to rely on RD's report w/o resort to full administrative record in view of lack of specificity of E's exceptions to report, rejected, since difficulty in determining whether exceptions materially dispute RD's findings stems not from E's lack of specificity but from RD's failure to disclose evidentiary basis for his conclusion)

8860 FINDINGS

8860-0100 Generally

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(Bd not required to give elaborate explanation of factors warranting bargaining order but to estimate impact of ULPs on liklihood of fair rerun-election)

8860-1200 Board may make de novo findings on basis of record

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union NO. 420, Teamsters (Leonard Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161

(Bd upheld ALJ's finding of ULP notwithstanding ALJ failed to articulate his analyses of E's motivation in terms of Wright Line where his findings satisfied analytical objectives)

8860-2500 Adequate if ultimate facts on which order is based appear

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029

(ALJ application of Wright Line test to pretext case though unnecessary, did not alter correct result)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd order at issue could not be justified as remedial, and could only be explained as punitive, since need for mitigating coercive effects not present in record before access was awarded at unorganized plants of E)

8860-3300 Board not bound by ALJ reasoning or use of data

Yellow Taxi Company of Minneapolis, d/b/a Suburban Yellow Taxi Company 262 NLRB No. 089
(Bd is not bound by ALJ's findings, even in absence of exceptions and can reevaluate conclusions reached by ALJ based on record in case)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 185
(in finding that E unlawfully withdrew recognition; Bd did not rely on ALJ's finding that E was successor as GC did not allege more litigate successorship issue)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd not inhibited by references drawn by ALJ but may draw legitimate inferences from proven facts)

N.L.R.B. v. Hawthorne Mazda, Inc. 659 F.2d 1089(T) (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(Bd is free to draw its own inferences from evidence in record and reviewing ct will uphold Bd's finding even where ALJ interpreted facts differently)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct rejected E's contention that evidence supporting Bd's determination must be stronger when Bd disagrees with ALJ's findings than when it agrees; in any event, Bd did not disagree with ALJ's assessment of witness credibility, but drew different inferences from testimony itself which is entitled to judicial deference due to Bd's special expertise in drawing these kinds of inferences)

8860-3500 Board not bound by its previous reasoning or decisions

Kahn's Auto Company, Division of Consolidated Foods Co. 256 NLRB No. 147
(mtn for reconsideration denied where mtn raised no substantial issue not considered by Bd in its original decision and sufficient evidence was adduced at hearing to allow proper application of test established in Kraft Foods, Inc., 251 NLRB No. 6 (1980) determining when reinstatement was warranted to remedy violation of Weingarten rights)

Precision Striping, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 1144 (C.A. 9, Mar 23, 1981)
(Bd may change its mind about prior ruling, but when it does so it is obliged to set forth its reasoning in favor of change in order to avoid appearance of arbitrariness)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(while agency is free to change its policies as it determines are in public interest, it must supply reasoned analysis indicating why its departure from precedent)

8860-4100 Board not bound by ALJ recommendations

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(on exception, Bd revised ALJ's description of bargaining units, for which ALJ had relied on portions of C admitted by Respondent, as inaccurate as not fully reflective of job classifications set forth in bargaining agreement and description of largest unit omitted, in view of fact GC's and Charging Party's revised job descriptions identical and consistent with job descriptions in bargaining agreement)

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(question of motivation where alleged unlawful discharge involved is to be resolved by determination based on consideration and weighing of all relevant evidence and not one to be answered by crediting or discrediting E's professed reason for discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd has broad discretion to fashion remedies to effectuate policies of Act because relation of remedy to policy is singularly connected to Bd's competenceand knowledge gained from experience; therefore, since Bd, notALJ, was given such discretion, Bd's rejection of ALJ's recommended remedy is of no consequence)

8860-4500 Will not overrule ALJ's credibility resolutions unless contrary to clear preponderance of all relevant evidence

Vic Koenig Chevrolet 263 NLRB No. 088
(in evaluating conflicting testimony where demeanor factor is not primary basis, factors which Bd considers are: weight of evidence, established or admitted facts, inherent probabilities, and reasonable influences drawn from record as whole)

Right-Gard Corporation 261 NLRB No. 177
(reversal of ALJ's credibility resolutions not warranted, notwithstanding E's contention that hearing was tainted by conduct of witness who allegedly threatened and pushed other witnesses outside courtroom while waiting to testify)

Lasher Corporation 260 NLRB No. 020
(overruled)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(notwithstanding that Bd had doubts about ALJ's handling of credibility resolutions, Bd adopted ALJ's recommendations in favor of Respondent, since ultimate result (concerning ULPs) would not be changed; GC failed to present prima facie case)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(notwithstanding that Bd had doubts about ALJ's handling of credibility resolutions, Bd adopted ALJ's recommendations in favor of Respondent, since ultimate result (concerning ULPs) would not be changed; GC failed to present prima facie case)

Gerson Electric Construction Company 259 NLRB No. 088
(GC's contention that ALJ failed to make any findings concerning one witness' testimony, rejected; inasmuch as ALJ based his credibility findings upon his observation of witness demeanor, it was implicit in his general statement regarding credibility that he discredited testimony of witness in question since it conflicted with facts as described by other witnesses whose testimony ALJ, completely credited; consequently, in considering GC's exceptions to certain credibility findings of ALJ, Bd has also reviewed his implicit resolution with respect to witness herein

Edgcomb Metals Co., One of The Williams Companies 254 NLRB No. 140
(Bd overruled ALJ's finding of unlawful threat of plant closure where U president's testimony relied on by ALJ was of doubtful value in establishing particulars of alleged incident and not sufficient to sustain violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 1, Sep. 1981)
(ALJ's credibility resolutions stand unless they are unreasonable)

Consolidation Coal Company v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 482 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(successor's actual knowledge of pending ULPs of predecessor inferred by ALJ in credibility determinations which were supported by substantial evidence that during sale negotiations seller referred to U problems as one reason for selling, company's financial report included amount for legal fees and was shown to successor, predecessor's son testified to successor's awareness of pending ULP proceedings, predecessor stated that labor proceedings against company were not secret, and proximity and similarity of predecessor and successor's enterprises)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(where Bd found ULP, remand to ALJ for credibility findings was unnecessary, since E never clearly asked Bd for such relief and Bd found sufficient facts established by uncontradicted testimony to permit it to conclude that Ee was discharged for his U activitiy, and to reject as pretextual explanations offered by E)

8860-4700 Board may independently evaluate ALJ's credibil ity resolutions

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(where ALJ's credibility resolutions not based on demeanor, but upon facts and inferences drawn from testimony Bd can draw own credibility conclusions)

Humes Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159
(Bd will examine record de novo and make credibility findings, when appropriate, that comport with record evidence as a whole and with inferences fairly drawn therefrom where ALJ may have misstated or confused certain of relevant record evidence and testimony presented in instant case)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company 259 NLRB No. 167
(Bd upheld credibility findings of ALJ who wrote decision after trial judge died where such credibility findings were based on factors other than demeanor, and, in consonance with Bd policy set forth in Standard Dry Wall)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

8860-5000 Specificity required

N.L.R.B. v. Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation 693 F.2d 904 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)
(where objectives of contract stability and adequate Ee representation conflict, Bd must exercise its discretion to reach appropriate balance, but it must give explicit recognition to both sides of balance)

N.L.R.B. v. United States Postal Service 671 F.2d 503(T) (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)
(Bd order denied enforcement where Bd revised ALJ's credibility findings without sufficient justification)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(where Bd failed to give any justification for its different treatment of 2 branches of State's gambling industry (jai alai and horse or dog racing), identical in all comparable respects, where as to former it asserted jurisdiction, latter it declined to do so, Bd abused its Sec. 14(c)(1) discretion)

(conclusory statement by Bd that access is needed to neutralize effects is not sufficient to justify grant of access; assumptions must be supported by evidence in record; Bd must find reasonable forseeability that Ees at those plants where access is imposed have suffered coercive effects from E's unlawful conduct and that access remedy is necessary to cure those effects)

8860-6300 Decision limited to facts of case

S. Freedman Electric, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 068
(GC's mtn to strike affidavit from E's brief granted where affidavit was not introduced as evidence at hearing is not part of record and contains factual allegations which were not subjected to cross-examination)

8860-7500 Express finding not necessary on all points

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(no remand where Bd did not discuss U's requests for costs and attorney fees as this issue was ancillary to major questions presented)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(where Bd found ULP, remand to ALJ for credibility findings was unnecessary, since E never clearly asked Bd for such relief and Bd found sufficient facts established by uncontradicted testimony to permit it to conclude that Ee was discharged for his U activitiy, and to reject as pretextual explanations offered by E)

8860-8300 Disavowal of ALJ's statements

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 062
(Bd disavowed ALJ's gratuitous comments regarding right of E to limit participation of U representative at an investigatory interview of Ee)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189
(Bd disavowed ALJ's statement that U's objective during strike, as an alternative to obtaining more money, is to put E out of business if he does not yield)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189
(while agreeing with ALJ that strike was economic at its inception, Bd disavowed his characterization of GC's withdrawal of one 8(a)(5) complaint allegation to the effect that as of date strike started, E unlawfully paid its strike replacements higher wages than it had offered during negotiations as a legal admission that strike was an economic one)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189
(while agreeing with ALJ's finding that E's inistence during negotiations on proposal depriving strikers of accrual of seniority for period they were on strike was unlawful, Bd disavowed ALJ's reliance on any adverse effect E's seniority plan might have on strikers' pensions, vacation, or other substantive benefits)

Western Care, Inc. d/b/a Western Care Nursing Home (United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local 684, AFL-CIO-CLC) 250 NLRB No. 084
(Bd disavowed ALJ's characterization of E as being myopic in her legal obligations but incapable of firing anyone for U related reasons where record showed E was capable of blatant discriminatory conduct)

8860-8700 Findings of cumulative violations not necessary where order on those found would provide adequate remedy for others alleged

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 183

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 258 NLRB No. 065
(GC's failure to produce evidence in 8(b)(1)(A) and (2) proceeding in support of allegations that Es, other than E whose operations were found to warrant assertion of jurisdiction, satisfied Bd's jurisdictional standards held not material, since operations of company found engaged in commerce were sufficient to establish jurisdiction, and U's action relative to such company sufficed of itself to establish violation; additional findings based on similar U actions would be cumulative and would not warrant change in remedy)

Western Care, Inc. d/b/a Western Care Nursing Home (United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local 684, AFL-CIO-CLC) 250 NLRB No. 084

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 133

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that ALJ's additional findings as evidence of E's bad faith outside enumerated allegations in unreasonably withholding dues checkoff, dilatory tactics during bargaining, and circulation of Ee handbook containing an anti-U statement cannot serve as basis of a determination of an ULP and therefore finding is invalid; moreover, finding that non-alleged facts are evidence of bad faith was merely cumulative and non-alleged facts were not necessary element of Bd's finding of bad faith)

8860-9100 Variance between findings and complaint

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(Bd's finding multitude of other acts displaying anti-U animus of E and its supervisors, though not alleged as independent violations, were relevant in assessing violations that were alleged in complaint)

8860-9101 Generally

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(where ALJ failed to make finding with respect to C allegation that E engaged in misconduct violative of 8(a)(5), Bd found that E engaged in such unlawful conduct since record established presence of all necessary elements of such violation under rationale of Gissel and Trading Post)

Pease Company 251 NLRB No. 080
(although unlawful reinstatement of strikers was not specifically alleged in complaint, it was closely related to failure to reinstate allegation, and since composite testimony of strikers involved was credited regarding issue, finding of violation was warranted)

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that ALJ's additional findings as evidence of E's bad faith outside enumerated allegations in unreasonably withholding dues checkoff, dilatory tactics during bargaining, and circulation of Ee handbook containing an anti-U statement cannot serve as basis of a determination of an ULP and therefore finding is invalid; moreover, finding that non-alleged facts are evidence of bad faith was merely cumulative and non-alleged facts were not necessary element of Bd's finding of bad faith)

8860-9150 Findings on issues fully litigated

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

Paul Distributing Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 179
(allegation that E requested Ee to contact U and inform it Ees had changed their minds and no longer wanted U representation, although not alleged in C, sufficiently related to subject matter of complaint and uncontrovertedly testified to at hearing to support finding that E solicited Ees to abandon U)

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(violation of Sec. 8(b)(1)(B) found notwithstanding C did not precisely allege violation of subsection (B) where C alleged same action violated Sec. 8(b)(1)(A), factual issues fully litigated and GC argued matter in brief)

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(U's imposition of fine on supervisor-member held unlawful, notwithstanding imposition of fine not specifically alleged in C, where C did allege unlawful filing of internal disciplinary charges which is closely related to fine and thus fine falls w/i general language oc complaint; further, matter fully litigated where U did not object to testimony regarding fine)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 263 NLRB No. 084
(conduct not alleged or argued as 8(a)(3) violation will support finding of 8(a)(3) violation where conduct was fully litigated and found 8(a)(1) violation, same facts support findings of both 8(a)(1) and (3), and 8(a)(1) and (3) subsections of the Act were related as to this particular conduct)

Knapp Corporation 262 NLRB No. 171
(E who held Ee meeting and told Ees present that they had been chosen to attend based on their influence in shop and their strong interest in the organizing activities violated Act; not withstanding such conduct was not alleged as violation in C where E's actions are uncontroverted and and closely relate to subject matter of C)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183
(although E's poll was not alleged violative of 8(a)(5), violation was found as poll was alleged violative of 8(a)(1), was fully litigated, and there is no difference in facts which support finding of violation under both sections)

Hacienda Hotel and Casino 254 NLRB No. 007
(Bd held discharge of individuals unlawful, notwithstanding not alleged in complaint, since fully litigated where other Ee whose discharge had been alleged unlawful was discharged at same time for identical conduct and relevant issues were same, individual and another Ee who was discharged testified, E had opportunity to cross-examine and presented rebuttal evidence)

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100
(violation where E failed to apply contract to all Ees in appropriate unit and failed after contract's expiration to continue to maintain provisions of contract or to bargain for a new contract covering all unit Ees while erroneously insisting that a large number of Ees were not included in unit; although failure to apply existing contract to all unit Ees was not alleged as violation, matter was fully litigated, since it and later violation both turned on question of who was in appropriate unit)

The Baughman Company 248 NLRB No. 186
(exception to ALJ's finding of unlawful unilateral change in Ees' workweek on grounds that it was not alleged in C overruled, since matter was reasonably related to C's other allegations and was fully litigated)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 248 NLRB No. 145
(plant manager's statement to U vice-president in presence of Ees, that there would be no meetings in (plant) lunchroom because U had filed charges against him held violative, since statement was not merely threat but actual revocation of permission to use lunchroom; notwithstanding alleged violation was couched in terms of threat, issue of use of lunchroom was presented and litigated as actual revocation)

8860-9175 Findings on issues not fully litigated

Electric Hose and Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 014
(E's modification of its Ees' medical insurance program which occured before election ptn filed not violative of Sec. 8(a)(1) because not alleged as ULP in C but arose only in context of an objection to election and thus was not litigated as ULP. E presented no evidence regarding its action and thus allegation was never fully litigated)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(although Bd agreed with ALJ that E's statement that he terminated one Ee and laid off another for engaging in U activity violated 8(a)(1), Bd disavowed ALJ's finding that layoff violated 8(a)(3) since neither complaint nor GC's brief alleged such violation and this issue was not fully litigated during hearing)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(discharge assertedly for strike misconduct, lawful where, contrary to complaint allegations, misconduct was found to have occurred; ALJ's reliance on delay in discharge to find discharge unlawful, unwarranted; complaint alleged nonoccurrence of misconduct rather than delay in discharge, neither party addressed delay issue, and record was silent as to reason for delay)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183
(in finding that E unlawfully withdrew recognition; Bd did not rely on ALJ's finding that E was successor as GC did not allege nor litigate successorship issue)

Sacramento District Council of Carpenters, AFL-CIO (Garry L. Denny, an Individual Proprietorship, d/b/a Gary Denny Construction) 254 NLRB No. 132
(Bd overruled ALJ conclusion that U unlawfully used grievance procedure to secure compliance with hiring hall provisions where this issue was neither alleged nor fully litigated)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 095
(order narrowed and E ordered to furnish only that information which complaint alleged it refused to furnish since E's failure as to other information requested was not litigated)

Wismer and Becker, Contracting Engineers 251 NLRB No. 086
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's finding that U's general refusal to make referrals was not unlawful, where GC failed to litigate such issue; U was w/o adequate notice from hearing and briefs that refusal was issue as independent violation and was deprived of opportunity to present relevant defense evidence, GC also failed to comply wtih Bd's R/R by not filing specific exceptions concerning issue, and it would be difficult to infer that GC intended to maintain issue as part of theory of case as it was originally presented to Bd)

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(Bd reversed ALJ finding of joint Es where issue was neither alleged in complaint nor fully litigated at hearing, and Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election listed Es separately)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(mtn to amend complaint subsequent to hearing to include comment allegedly made by supervisor to Es, denied, since matter sought to be added was not introduced with notice that it was to be subject of new and independent allegation of Sec. 8(a)(1) violation, and Bd found that matter was not fully litigated at hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Hasbro Industries, Inc. 672 F.2d 978 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(ct found no violation by E's purported remarks where they had not been alleged as violative in complaint or fully litigated but had been received in evidence by ALJ as background with assurance they would not be made basis for finding separate violation)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)
(Bd's refusal to decide either whether parties reached impasse on U's contract proposals, or whether there would be violation even if they did reach impasse not abuse of Bd's discretion, since GC did not include the issues in C and they were not fully litigated)

Huck Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 693 F.2d 1176 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1982)
(ct held it was improper for Bd to find that E's speech was unlawful, since unlawfulness of speech was neither alleged in C nor litigated at hearing)

8880 ORDERS (See also 600 REMEDIAL ORDERS)

8880-5000 Consistency between order and decision required

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

9000 COSTS AND FEES

Pacific Coast Metal Trades District Council and Seattle Metal Trades Council 260 NLRB No. 152
(U not entitled to attorney's fees where ALJ's finding of no violation was based on credibility resolutions so that this case does not constitute frivolous litigation)

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(U was not entitled to litigation costs and attorney fees where E's defenses in refusing to bargain were not without merit or frivolous, i.e. defense rests on credibility determination)

9100 AWARDS OF ATTORNEY FEES AND OTHER EXPENSES UNDER EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT

9106 LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Tilton Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-99-82
(legislative history of EAJA relating to provision for award of fees and expenses to eligible parties, unless government can establish that its position in litigation was substantially justified establishes that standard for government's position is essentially one of reasonableness and not to be equated with a substantial probability of prevailing)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. B.C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-80-82
(in determining whether enterprise is eligible for attorney and expenses under Equal Access to Justice Act by meeting its requirement that met worth of enterprise be less than $5 million, ALJ rejected claim that value of enterprise should be determined by deducting depreciation from cost; legislative history shows that, in order to avoid need to determine whether property depreciated or appreciated, it was established that, in determining value of assets, cost of acquisition rather than fair market value should be used)

9112 COVERED PROCEEDINGS

9112-2000 Date pending before Board

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(request made by Respondent, for attorney's fees pursuant to EAJA 8 days prior to Bd's issuance of regulations pertaining to EAJA, denied as being premature as request did not compact with required procedure; denial in no way prejudiced properly executed request)

Granite State Minerals, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 098
(request filed with Bd for attorneys fees under Equal Access to Justice Act and Section 102.143 of Bd's Rules and Regulations, denied, since Bd had no jurisdiction inasmuch as any request for award must be filed with appropriate ct of appeals when case decided by Bd before October 1, 1981)

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)
(no award of fees for proceedings before Bd which ended with denial of mtn for reconsideration before effective date of EAJA)

9112-4000 Unfair labor practice proceeding in which complaint issues

Quiley Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-355-82
(no adversary adjudication pending before Bd on October 1, 1981, effective date of EAJA, notwithstanding GC filed pro forma mtn with ALJ to conclude case on October 22, 1981, as out-of-Board settlement reached on February 17, 1981. Case over when settlement agreed upon and all that was left was compliance. Nothing left to be adjudicated; no appeals pending and matters in issue had been resolved by parties to their mutual satisfaction prior to date EAJA came into effect)

9118 ELIGIBILITY FOR AN AWARD

9118-1200 Respondent in adjudicatory proceeding

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-268-82
(GC's mtn to dismiss granted in EAJA case where former counsel for defunct corporation filed application on his own behalf to recover fees and expenses and not on behalf of respondent corporation, or any trustee, conservator, executor, or any other individual or entity authorized to act on behalf of defunct corporation; furthermore, GC found to be substantially justified in issuing complaint and proceeding to trial in underlying case)

9118-2500 Prevailing party

Duncan Crane Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-270-82
(where prior to hearing parties agreed to arbitrate differences and charge was withdrawn and C dismissed award of attorney's fees to Respondent denied as no one won or lost case and it cannot be fairly said that applicant prevailed in ULP case; moreover, even if applicant considered to be prevailing party no evidence in record to establish whether allegations in C had merit)

Tilton Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-99-82
(legislative history of EAJA relating to provision for award of fees and expenses to eligible parties, unless government can establish that its position in litigation was substantially justified establishes that standard for government's position is essentially one of reasonableness and not to be equated with a substantial probability of prevailing)

Tilton Rack and Basket Corporation JD-(NY)-99-82
(application of E who prevailed on certain, but not on all issues, for attorney's fees and expenses pursuant to EAJA, dismissed, where, had GC's evidence been credited he might well have prevailed, and it was only after resolution of bona fide credibility issues that E prevailed; it is not GC's function to resolve such issues is absence of a hearing, and in this context, GC's position was not unreasonable and was substantially justified under EAJA requirement for government's establishment of such position so as to preclude award of fees and expenses to E)

Quiley Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-355-82
(E not prevailing party where Ees put back to work pursuant to out-of-Board settlement notwithstanding E did not need to post notice and no backpay liability, since no indication from record that there was definite backpay liability nor do we know whether Ees had interim earnings to negate any gross backpay amount)

N.L.R.B. v. Doral Building Services, Inc. 680 F.2d 647 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(application for fees under Equal Access to Justice Act denied, since Respondent has not prevailed on merits of underlying action; award of fees at this time would be inappropriate; See Hanrahan v. Hampton, 446 U.S. 754 (1979) where ct defined prevailing party)

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)
(prevailing party not limited to cases in which party has prevailed through entry of final judgment following full trial on merits. Party may have prevailed for purposes of award of attorney fees and costs even if action settled by stipulation on consent decree)

9118-5000 Significant discrete substantive portion of covered proceeding

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)
(where position of U.S. was substantially justified no award for attorney fees will be made under EAJA. Test of whether Government action is substantially justified is one of reasonableness both in law and fact. Burden of proof is on Government to show substantial justification but does not raise presumption that Government position was not substantially justified simply because it lost the case)

9118-7500 Financial eligibility

9118-7596 Any other partnership, corporation, association, or public or private organization with net worth not exceeding $5 million and no more than 500 employees

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82
(GC's contention that for purposes of determining U's net worth under Sec. 504 of Act local U must be considered integral part of international and international's net worth added to that of local's to determine whether local has net worth that excludes it from coverage, rejected, since would nullify purpose of Act as set forth in Sec. 202(a) inasmuch as such lumping together of net worth of local involved, and perhaps all other affiliated locals, with that of international would result in that only Us covered by Act would be small, independent, in plant groups)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. B.C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-80-82
(application of respondent U, following dismissal of C, for attorney fees and expenses under Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA), denied, where U's net worth exceeded $5 million at time adversary adjudication was initiated and, consequently, U was excluded from EAJA's coverage undr its provision requiring net worth of less than that amount to be eligible; U's claim for depreciation from cost of its real estate and other property, so as to have net worth of less than $5 million, was disallowed, in view of legislative history showing that cost of acquisition, and not market value, is determinative)

9130 APPLICATION FOR AWARD

9130-2000 Timeliness

Haynes-Trane Service Agency, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 136
(application for award of attorney fees discmissed for lack of jurisdiction where received by Bd 33 days after final judgment, since compliance with 30 day filing period after order entered prerequisite to jurisdiction under EAJA and under Bd's Rule Section 102.114(b) filing is accomplished when Bd receives document to be filed)

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(request made by Respondent, for attorney's fees pursuant to EAJA 8 days prior to Bd's issuance of regulations pertaining to EAJA, denied as being premature as request did not comport with required procedure; denial in no way prejudiced properly executed request)

Columbia Manufacturing Corporation 265 NLRB No. 012
(under Sec. 102.27 of Bd's R/R if ALJ dismisses C on mtn before issuing his decision and no party files request for review of order, case is considered closed as of date of issuance of order notwithstanding 10 day period that request for review can be filed; therefore, when application for award filed 33 days after order issued, filing was untimely)

Lord Jim's 264 NLRB No. 147
(if 30th day fell on Sunday, Bd did not decide whether service on Monday would be proper service)

Lord Jim's 264 NLRB No. 147
(30 day filing requirement is jurisdictional and will be strictly construed)

Farrens Tree Surgeons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 090
(application for attorney's fees under EAJA must be filed w/i 30 days after entry of BD's final order, and here, application made prior to Bd order and Bd will not consider it at this time)

Monark Boat Company 262 NLRB No. 124
(application for award of attorneys fees and expenses filed on 31st day after final judgment, dismissed since 30-day filing period is jurisdictional prerequisite to application under EAJA)

Pacific Coast Metal Trades District Council and Seattle Metal Trades Council 260 NLRB No. 182
(Bd will not consider request for attorney's fees under Equal Access to Justice Act where request is premature as such request must be filed within 30 days after entry of Bd's final order and here made in response to charging party's exception to ALJ decision)

Wyandotte Savings Bank 260 NLRB No. 130
(E's request under Equal Access to Justice Act for award of fees incurred by E in ct case in which enforcement of Bd's order was denied, plus legal fees and costs incurred by E before Bd, dismissed, since, pursuant to Sec. 2412(d)(3) of Equal Access to Justice Act, Bd has no jurisdiction because instant matter is pending before ct of appeals; moreover, Bd's D/O was issued prior to date such Act became applicable to administrative adjudications)

Furriers Joint Council of New York, UFCW International Union, AFL-CIO JD-(NY)-98-82
(to be timely filed application must be received w/i 30 days of final disposition in adversary adjudication, and here application was mailed on 30th day and not received until 31st day and was thus not timely)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82

(application received by Bd 5 minutes after close of business on 30th day after final order timely filed w/i Sec. 504(a) of EAJA which requires application w/i 30 days after final disposition of adversary adjudication, since neither statute nor Bd's R/R Sec. 102.149(a) keyed specifically to applications under EAJA make mention of close of business, interpretation precluding filing 5 minutes late too harsh, and GC not prejudiced; further papers that started time requirement running filed by mail which under R/R 102.114(b) allow 3 extra days)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82

(application for legal fees and expenses filed with Bd when received and not when stamped in)

Gerson Electric Construction Company JD-209-82

(application for fees and expenses for successful defense of ULP C, untimely where, although material mistakenly sent in place of application was received on Monday after Saturday due date, application itself was not received until Tuesday, 3 days beyond statutory period, and neither statute nor implementing regulations provide for extension of filing date)

9130-2050 Extension of time for filing

Haynes-Trane Service Agency, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 136

(filing application for award of attorney fee w/i 30 days after issuance of Bd's final order is jurisdictional prerequisite which Bd has nc authority to extend)

099130-4000 Place for filing

Lord Jim's 264 NLRB No. 147

(service on Regional Office is not proper service. Application must be filed in triplicate with Bd in Washington, D.C. RD also required to be served with copy of application, but this is additional requirement and not alternative requirement)

9154 DEFENSES

9154-0100 Generally

Enerhaul, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 121

(finding GC established prima facie case not prerequisite to finding GC's position was reasonable in law and fact; Bd will continue to analyze EAJA application and on case-by-cse basis)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc., B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-217-82

(burden is on Agency to make positive showing that its position and actions during course of proceedings were substantially justified. Test is one of reasonableness in law and fact)

9154-3300 General Counsel's position substantially justified

Enerhaul, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 121

(application for attorney's fees and expenses under Equal Access To Justice Act (EAJA) dismissed, since position of GC was substantially justified; legislative history of EAJA characterized substantially justified as test of reasonableness; where the Government can show that its case had a reasonable basis both in law and fact, no award will be made)

Farmer's Pride, Inc. JD-457-82

(E's application for attorney fees under EAJA denied, where decision hinged on credibility of witnesses based in large measure on the demeanor of witnesses at hearing. Such credibility issues are not subject of resolution by GC in investigative stage of ULP proceeding)

Bakery, Workers Union, Local No. 213 (Krispy Kreme Division, Beatrice Foods Co.) JD-467-82

(application for attorney's fees and expenses under EAJA dismissed where, although GC did not prevail, GC's position was reasonable in law and fact; for most part, ALJ's decision in C proceeding turned on credibility resolutions and GC's position was substantially justified)

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-260-82

(standard imposed by EAJA should not be read as raising presumption that GC's position was not substantially justified simply because GC did not prevail)

Rodell Watts III, an Individual d/b/a Watts Transfer and Delivery Service, and Super-Rite Freightways, Inc. JD-322-82

(where GC relied on testimony of several of his witnesses he was justified in issuing complaint and going to trial; fact that ALJ did not credit witnesses does not remove initial justification; moreover, fact that GC did not uncover during his investigation what was ultimately E's winning defense does not mean that GC was not substantially justified)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc., B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-217-82

(where bargaining agreement language was ambiguous as to what type of shop work was covered, interpertation put forth by GC was reasonable one, though not prevailing one, and this constituted substantial justification)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82

(government has burden of establishing that its actions were substantially justified; lack of substantial justification is not established simply by government's loss of case; where government's case weak or tenuous there is no substantial justification, and where government's case is strong both in fact and law but government loses because of adverse credibility or legal findings there is substantial justification)

American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 76, AFL-CIO (National Association of Orchestra Leaders) JD-(SF)-184-82

(GC had substantial justification for his position as to issuance of complaint on Section 8(b)(4)(i)(ii)(A) and (B) charge, notwithstanding ALJ found no violation, where decision turned on whether individual with whom U had dispute was Ee of E or independent contractor, similar fact situations have led to differing results, and GC presented serious argument to support his contention that law required individual be found independent contractor)

Midwestern Builders, Inc. JD-230-82

(award of fees and expenses denied, notwithstanding applicant's successful defense of ULP complaint, since GC's position was substantially justified where GC presented evidence in support of its position which, had that evidence been found probative, would have caused it to prevail)

Wyandotte Savings Bank v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 119 (C.A. 6, July 1982)

(application for award of attorney fees under EAJA denied, since ct found that the position of the United States (NLRB in instant case) was substantially justified; notwithstanding that Bd was losing party or that its position was contrary to prior ct precedent (concerning scope of unit in branch offices of bank), position taken by Bd was reasonable attempt to reopen a close (unit) question)

9160 COMPENSATED FEES AND EXPENSES

9160-5000 Compensated fees

9160-5030 Motion to Board for increase of maximum rate

Columbia Manufacturing Corporation 262 NLRB No. 004

(ptn requesting Bd to engage in rule making for purpose of raising agent or attorney fees recoverable pursuant to Equal Access to Justice Act and Sec. 102.145 of Bd's rules, denied as unwarranted where reasons advanced by petitioner--prevailing rate or alleged improper agency action--may not constitute justification under Act or rules, and there appears to have been no change in circumstance since Act and rules became effective)

International Maintenance Systems Group, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 002

(mtn to amend Sec. 102.145 of Bd's rules to provide for increase in fees payable to agents and attorneys from $7 to $140 per hour because there were no regularly practicing attorneys in movant's locale with sufficient expertise to defend GC's ULP allegations who charge $75, denied, since, as shown by the mtn, reasonable fees in certain circumstances exceeded $75 before passage of the Act, Congress must have been aware of that when it set the fee, and there appears to be no change in circumstances since passage)

Allied Lettercraft Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 003

(mtn denied where higher fees requested were common at time Congress passed Act and there has been no change in circumstances since that time)

9172 FORM OF PROCEEDINGS BEFORE ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE

9172-2800 Sealing of net worth exhibit

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc., B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-217-82

9172-4200 Preference for resolution of issues on pleadings

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc., B. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm JD-(SF)-217-82

(request for hearing to determine whether GC's actions were unreasonable or not, denied, as documents in the record are sufficient to resolve that issue)

9178 BOARD DECISION

9178-3300 Decision only on issues raised by facts, pleadings and exceptions in case

Enerhaul, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 121

(finding GC established prima facie case not prerequisite to finding GC's position was reasonable in law and fact; Bd will continue to analyze EAJA application and on case-by-cse basis)

9200 REOPENING OF RECORD AND REMAND

9233 CIRCUMSTANCES WARRANTING REOPENING OF RECORD

IPCO Hospital Supply Corporation, Cheshire Lake Division 255 NLRB No. 116
(E's mtn to reopen card and admit into evidence affidavit of attorney stating that each eligible striking Ee was offered reinstatement as soon as job became available, granted and Bd then found that economic strikers had no right to immediate reinstatement)

9233-0100 Generally

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(mtn to reopen record denied where E seeks to admit evidence which does not fall into exceptions i.e. newly discovered evidence or previously unavailable evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Lloyd Wood Coal Co., Inc. 585 F.2d 752 (C.A. 5)
(Bd abused discretion when it refused to reopen record to receive evidence of sale of facility since bona fides of E's intent to sell facility was central issue, actual sale w/i few months was highly relevant)

9233-1600 Consideration of offer of proof

N.L.R.B. v. Pre-Engineered Building Products, Inc. 603 F.2d 134 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(where predecessor business had essentially collapsed at time of E's take over and E of necessity had to rebuild both production demand and work force, ct held Bd was arbitrary in denying E's mtn to reopen record for purpose of adducing evidence to determine whether E had acquired full complement of Ees at time E refused to bargain with predecessor's U)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union Local No. 576, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 346 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)
(where Bd erred in applying Times Square doctrine by refusing to entertain U's defense based upon evidence that GC had previously considered in refusing to issue complaint, ct directed Bd to reopen 8(b)(7)(C) proceeding to hear evidence on U's defense that picketed E was in reality alter ego of, joint E with, or successor of another E with whom U had contract covering Ees in question; such action would not constitute interference by Bd with Gc's final authority under Sec. 3(d); moreover, charged party has right to full hearing on its defense)

9233-3300 Previously unavailable evidence

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(ALJ did not lack authority to reopen hearing sua sponte after original close of hearing to receive testimony of witness previously considered unavailable; ALJ's authority to reopen hearing under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.35(h) is based upon Bd's authority to take further testimony under Sec. 10(e), reopening was timely before issuance of ALJ's decision, no party was prejudiced thereby, and interests of justice were served; moreover, since District Cts may on own initiative order new trial after entry of judgment, a fortiori, trial judge has power to reopen record prior to judgment entry)

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 025
(mtn to reopen record denied where respondent failed to show that proffered evidence was unavailable at time of hearing)

9233-5000 Evidence previously presented but not considered

N.L.R.B. v. BJR Archer Inc., Filmco Division 617 F.2d 161 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where E filed objections to election based on U misconduct and filed affidavits of supervisory Ees substantiative allegations but RD, w/o hearing, recommended certification of election, Bd's adoption of recommendation w/o ordering hearing or having before it complete Regional Office file constitutes on abuse of discretion as being arbitrary and capricious; certification set aside and remanded to Bd for hearing)

9233-6700 Newly discovered evidence

Palm Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E's mtn to reopen hearing to adduce evidence that GC's witness was discharged by his most recent E for embezzlement in order to impeach witness's credibility, denied as lacking sufficient importance or relevance to justify reopening, since (a) evidence did not exist at time of trial and thus was not newly discovered and (b) as witness had only been charged with, not convicted of alleged conduct, E could only question him as to his conduct but could not prove it by extrinsic evidence)

9233-6780 Must be such as to probably change outcome

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(although it was error to reject U's proffer of evidence purporting to show that E violated Act, it was not necessary to reopen hearing to take proferred testimony since offer of proof showed that receipt of such evidence would not materially affect decision or remedy in the case)

9250 CIRCUMSTANCES NOT WARRANTING REOPENING OF RECORD

University of San Francisco 265 NLRB No. 188
(pursuant to Bd's R/R Sec. 102.65(e)(1), Bd denied U's mtn to reopen record for introduction of written exhibit of arbitrator's decision involving university members represented by U, since document was neither newly discovered nor previously unavailable, and, moreover, is only marginally relevant to issues herein and would have no effect on Bd's decision were it considered)

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(E's mtns to reopen record denied where evidence sought to be introduced, even if considered, would not alter Bd's decision since issues of reinstatement raised therein or E's possible merger with another bank had no bearing on its commission of ULPs; E not precluded from submitting evidence concerning reinstatement of discriminatees at compliance stage of proceeding)

Taft Broadcasting Company, WBRC–TV 264 NLRB No. 028
(mtn to reopen record denied where ALJ found E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) and E wishes to introduce evidence that parties executed contract after date of hearing to enable Bd to determine that it did not violate Act; violation occured when E dealt directly with Ees and that conduct tends to undermine U status; moreover, evidence that E has fulfilled its bargaining obligation can be presented during compliance hearing)

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(even though Bd was unable to resolve conflicting testimony in absence of credibility resolutions by ALJ, Bd declined to remand case for additional credibility resolutions regarding allegation of unlawful threat by E, which ALJ erroneously failed to rule on; in view of Bd's conclusions herein that E had made other unlawful threats, any additional finding of unlawful conduct based on allegation herein would not significantly change the remedy)

Jim Causley Pontiac, Division Jim Causley, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 130
(E's contention in its ptn to reopen hearing that specific finding of fact as to whether E knew of concertedness of Ee's activities could not be made on basis of record because GC failed to call E's president to testify about his knowledge or lack thereof of nature of Ee's activities held w/o merit, since GC was under no affirmative obligation to call E's president as witness and E was not precluded in any way from calling him)

United States Postal Service 263 NLRB No. 043
(reopening of record to take evidence on collateral issues not appropriate since it would delay issuance of decision)

Polis Wallcovering Co., et al. 262 NLRB No. 180
(charging party's mtn to reopen record assertedly because it was not presented at hearing through inadvertence and because counsel deemed it unnecessary to do so at time of hearing denied, since charging party alleged neither extraordinary circumstances nor any other matter satisfying requirements of Sec. 102.48(d))

Wine and Liquor Store Employees Union, Local 122, a/w Distillery Workers (Harvey Entin, d/b/a Oz Liquor Co.) 261 NLRB No. 152
(remand of case for hearing solely on allegation that U attempted to enforce in state ct agreement settling matter set for arbitration not warranted since determination that U violated Act as alleged would not materially affect remedy)

Cone Bros. Bakery, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 181
(Bd denied mtn to reopen record to adduce evidence that E's assets have been foreclosed and were being liquidated, and that involuntary bankruptcy ptn had been filed against company where this evidence if established would not affect Bd findings, R/R Sec. 102.48(d)(1); furthermore, such matters are more appropriately handled at compliance stage)

Loy Food Stores, Inc. d/b/a Ken's IGA 259 NLRB No. 035
(Bd denied E's request that record be reopened and/or amended to include averred facts that discharged Ees accepted E's unconditional offers of reinstatement where, even assuming Ees were reinstated, they were not given any backpay for period between their discharges and their reinstatement and as such reinstatements were insufficient to erase effects of E's ULPs or ensure free and fair election among E's Ees)

American Radio Association, AFL-CIO 258 NLRB No. 170
(E's mtn to reopen record on ground that, since case was heard by ALJ who had dismissed C because picketing for recognition in one-person unit did not fall w/i 8(b)(7)(A) proscription, E had hired another Ee in same category as person in unit, and certification had been issued by RD to incumbent U, denied, since certification issue is not properly before Bd and upon which it is not passing and, in any event, certification occurred subsequent to events herein and therefore does not affect outcome of case)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 926 (Oliver B. Cannon, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 143
(E's mtn to reopen record to admit affidavit of individual who allegedly could not be contacted during hearing and whose affidavit allegedly resolved certain matters discussed at hearing, denied, since E could have subpoened individual as witness, nor has E shown that evidence in affidavit was unobtainable at time of hearing through another source, or that evidence is vital to outcome of instant proceeding)

Research Products/Blankenship Company 258 NLRB No. 003
(mtn to reopen record to consider whether U gave requisite notice to Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service prior to its ULP strike denied since such notice is not condition precedent to ULP strike)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E's mtn to reopen hearing to adduce evidence that GC's witness was discharged by his most recent E for embezzlement in order to impeach witness's credibility, denied as lacking sufficient importance or relevance to justify reopening, since (a) evidence did not exist at time of trial and thus was not newly discovered and (b) as witness had only been charged with, not convicted of alleged conduct, E could only question him as to his conduct but could not prove it by extrinsic evidence)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064
(to extent that respondent's exceptions asserted existence of facts that were not part of formal record, Bd was unable to consider such evidence absent showing that it was newly discovered or not previously available; to extent portion of exceptions why he considered motion to reopen record, that motion denied)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(mtn to reopen record to determine reinstatement rights of additional alleged discriminatees other than those litigated at hearing denied where Charging Party was present at hearing and at no time raised or attempted to litigate reinstatement rights of these individuals)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(mtn to reopen record for receipt of newly discovered evidence regarding Bd's assertion of jurisdiction over E with connection with exempt entity, denied, since evidence not newly discovered where concerned events occurred after close of trial; further, evidence was cumulative and was not shown to require result different from decision to assert jurisdiction on basis of E's control over employment conditions)

General Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 092
(mtn to reopen record in order to present evidence regarding alleged unlawful Ee attitude survey, denied, where survey essential component of alleged subsequent institution of Ee sounding board committees and connection between survey and sounding board fully litigated)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 087
(E's mtn to reopen record denied notwithstanding E's contention that Bd's recent Wright LIne decision necessitated taking additional evidence concerning basis for discharge of striking Ee where record established that Ee did not engage in misconduct for which he was discharged)

Otis Elevator Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of United Technologies 255 NLRB No. 005
(E's mtn to supplement record by including additional exhibits on ground ALJ misapprehended certain evidence and improperly resolved certain credibility issues, denied, where exhibits were available to E at time of hearing but were not then offered; responsibility of making a record supporting party's position devolves upon it during hearing and before record is closed; granting of mtn would leave record open indefinitely; and exhibits are self-serving documents which would deny other parties opportunity to engage in voir dire or cross-examination)

Robert Batchelor d/b/a Batchelor Electric Co., a sole proprietorship 254 NLRB No. 156
(request to remand case and reopen hearing denied where E's request for continuance of hearing was denied initially by RD almost 2 weeks before opening of hearing, did not ask ALJ for continuance during hearing and E failed to show any reason why it could not have taken steps to insure witness's appearance at hearing)

Jasiak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(E's mtn to reopen record to allow it to introduce transcript of hearing and decision by state employment office denied, where state agency's decision undoubtedly was rendered under statute with different definitions, policies, and purposes from those of Act; furthermore, E did not show that ULP issue was considered by state agency and Bd's decision must be based upon independent consideration and evaluation of evidence recieved in ULP proceeding)

Williamsport Plumbing and Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 121
(E's contention in its exceptions that discharged Ees were supervisors under Act rejected as untimely where issue of supervisory status was raised neither in pleadings nor at hearing before ALJ)

Seafarers International Union of North America, Pacific District, AFL-CIO, and Its Affiliates (American Pacific Container Lines, Inc. (AMPAC)) 252 NLRB No. 105
(U's mtns to reopen record denied where proffered documents to be added to record would not constitute evidence to support U's contentions)

St. Francis Hospital 252 NLRB No. 174
(E's mtn to reopen record which asserts that subsequent to hearing, Ee was arrested for distributing marijuana, pleaded guilty to charge, and that E has policy of discharging such Ees, more appropriately left to complaince stage of proceeding)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(mtn to reopen record for purpose of introducing into evidence arbitration award concerning discharge alleged unlawful herein which was issued subsequent to hearing, denied, since it had been concluded deferral to previous arbitration award involving discharge would contravene policies of Act)

Wismer and Becker, Contracting Engineers 251 NLRB No. 086
(on ct remand to Bd for determination of whether U's general refusal to make referrals was not unlawful as found by ALJ, Bd held it would be improper exercise of its power to remand case for second hearing, since doing so would violate Bd procedures and Sec. 10(e) and would substantially delay resolution of case involving 24 proven discriminatees for almost 6 years in order to allow litigation of theory which GC had never properly advocated before Bd)

Bacchus Wine Cooperative, Inc., and Bacchus Wine International 251 NLRB No. 207
(Bd declined to reopen record to admit evidence of E's alleged business reverses making reinstatement of unlawfully discharged Ees to comparable positions impossible, since such matters are more appropriately handled at compliance stage of proceeding)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(E's mtn to reopen record to receive allegedly new, previously unavailable evidence of previously unavailable witness denied where E had failed to allege that witness was crucial to its case and E had failed to request continuance)

Owen Lee Floor Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 070
(Respondent's mtn to reopen record to introduce memorandum allegedly refuting Bd holding it alter ego, denied, absent evidence memorandum was newly discovered, that Respondent excusably ignorant of its existence and acted with due diligence to uncover and introduce it; further, when C was amended to allege alter ego relationship ALJ allowed Respondent additional time to rebut evidence on issue and Respondent never availed itself of opportunity)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 026
(Bd denied respondent's mtn for leave to adduce additional evidence purportedly showing that one of its witnesses testified truthfully at hearing, since respondent had had opportunity to bolster witness's testimony when it was placed in issue at hearing, and Bd will not reopen record to admit evidence which merely relates to credibility)

American Pistachio Corporation 249 NLRB No. 174
(mtn to reopen record for receipt of additional evidence denied where evidence was neither newly discovered nor unavailable at hearing; moreover it would not have affected result if accepted)

R. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(although it would have been better if ALJ had issued decision setting forth his reasons for dismissal of complaint, Bd held failure to do so was nonprejudial error and remand in compliance with R/R Sec. 102.45 unnecessary, where ALJ set forth on the record his reasons for dismissing complaint, GC had fully argued merits of dismissal, and no party has requested remand for purpose of issuance of decision)

Ironworkers, Local 483 (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 248 NLRB No. 006
(mtn for remand to RD for taking further evidence denied because there was no adequate showing that proffered evidence was newly discovered or previously unavailable)

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172
(U's mtn for leave to reopen record to adduce further evidence regarding certain issue and to file brief in response to issues raised in GC's exceptions and supporting brief denied, where U failed to show any extraordinary circumstances warranting reopening of record, and issue in question was considered at hearing and all parties had opportunity to present evidence relating thereto)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(mtn to reopen record to determine if bargaining order warranted on basis of Ee turnover, and lapse of time since ULPs, denied, notwithstanding dismissal of complaint in prior case in which E was Respondent)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(mtn at end of trial to reopen record to receive evidence of numerous measures taken by E to assure compliance with Act, which evidence assertedly was not proffered during hearing because available since that time, denied; evidence is of minimal relevance, it would not alter conclusions as to remedy, and it involves matters of general compliance with labor laws rather than substantive obligations; moreover, events took place well after operative misconduct and were not addressed specifically to its redress)

N.L.R.B. v. Midwest Zayre, Inc. 670 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)
(where case which had been decided under Shopping Kart doctrine was remanded at Bd's request for reconsideration under reinstated Hollywood

9250—Cont.

Ceramics rule, and thereafter E's refusal to bargain with U was held unlawful under both rules, E was not prejudiced by not being permitted to file a statement regarding issues on remand, since they were the same issues as those originally submitted to the Bd, and E had already argued them, even urging Bd to return to Hollywood Ceramics rule)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antoninino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(mtn to reopen hearing to permit introduction of letter which was purportedly signed by 13 of 18 Ees allegedly in bargaining unit expressing opposition to U properly denied, where letter was written three days after hearing and mtn was filed more than three months after letter written and more than month after ALJ rendered decision; further, no evidence effect of serious and numerous ULPs had diminished absent allegation identities of Ees or supervisors had changed by time letter written)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(where Bd found ULP, remand to ALJ for credibility findings was unnecessary, since E never clearly asked Bd for such relief and Bd found sufficient facts established by uncontradicted testimony to permit it to conclude that Ee was discharged for his U activitiy, and to reject as pretextual explanations offered by E)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion where it denied E's mtn to reopen hearing to receive testimony of its president since E's affidavit did not set forth any new evidence which would be added nor explain why its president could not have been present at original hearing; further, E did not move for continuance until 11 days before original hearing)

Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 172
(reopening of record on ground that Bd should permit E to call witnesses from mediation services to establish that it was general knowledge in area that U, in sending 8(d)(3) notice to mediation services of contract termination or modification with respect to E associations, also intended to five notice to mediation services with regard to all individual memorandum agreement Es, not warranted)

9258 REMAND FOR DE NOVO HEARING

The New York Times Company 265 NLRB No. 045
(case remanded for hearing de novo before different ALJ where ALJ at hearing dismissed C alleging E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by refusing to supply U with Ee job evaluation reports on grounds that information was allegedly available from other sources (Ees); ALJ erred as matter of law as fact that Ees may have information and may be willing to give it to U does not relieve E of its obligations under Act. Moreover, ALJ inpunged good faith of U and questioned whether GC and charging party were abusing Bd processes, in contravention of Bd policy to not only avoid partiality and prejudgment but even appearance thereof)

Ampco Metal Division of Ampco-Pittsburgh Corporation 247 NLRB No. 091
(contention that ALJ in original hearing should be disqualified because of bias and prejudice from participation in supplemental hearing, and that hearing de novo should be held before different ALJ, rejected)

9267 CIRCUMSTANCES WARRANTING REMAND

9267-1700 Normally deferral issues

Maine Yankee Atomic Power Company 258 NLRB No. 112
(case in which ALJ improperly deferred issue to arbitration regarding E's unilateral creation of position outside unit remanded to ALJ for full decision on merits and for appropriate recommended order as to E's obligation to bargain over matter at issue)

9267-3300 To receive additional evidence

Chattanooga Glass Company 265 NLRB No. 097
(Bd remanded case, for further hearing for taking evidence on merits of alleged ULPs, to ALJ who had dismissed C alleging unlawful discharge on ground that prior settlement of unlawful threat to discharge allegation barred litigation since all ULPs preceded settlement, where GC's knowledge of discharge at time of settlement, standing alone, was not sufficient basis to obligate GC to conduct investigation of the termination, and circumstances surrounding termination were not readily discoverable through investigation)

Multimatic Products, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 49
(proceedings remanded to ALJ to adduce further evidence and make appropriate findings concerning allegations of fraud on part of U and improper conduct by Regional Office personnel, and how that conduct, to extent engaged in, affected validity of ALJ's rulings, findings, conclusions, and recommended Order, where ALJ had failed to make significant findings concerning evidence of fraud and misconduct presently in record, and record evidence relating to fraud and misconduct was far from complete)

Milton College 260 NLRB No. 047
(GC's mtn for summary judgment denied and proceeding remanded for hearing concerning appropriateness of unit of college's faculty members where E claimed that SCt's intervening Yeshiva decision, holding certain faculty members managerial, rendered previously stipulated unit of faculty members' inappropriate; SCt's decision, issued following initial stipulation herein, constituted substantial change regarding managerial status of faculty members; there was no allegation of change in faculty's duties or authority; issue was not previously litigated; and E cannot be held to have knowledgeably waived ct decision which postdated unit stipulation)

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. [illegible]
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification in which respondent U's amended ans sufficiently raised issue as to interim earnings but its general denial as to backpay period or computation of gross backpay was insufficient to bring such matters into issue, Bd remanded case for hearing limited to determination of discriminatees' interim earnings, including whether or not they enjoyed any interim employment during backpay period)

Rai Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127
(where Bd directed that record be reopened after ALJ decision issued so that E could cross-examine Ee, Bd rejected E's contentions that hiatus between direct and cross exams was prejudicial or that ALJ failed to give adequate consideration to evidence on cross because he did not want to reverse his previously published decision)

Greens Disposal Service 253 NLRB No. 047
(remand, since ALJ refused to admit evidence of misconduct, but E's offer of proof, which, if true, and considered in light most favorable to E, would bar reinstatement, for purpose of taking evidence on whether alleged strike misconduct barred reinstatement of strikers and issuing decision on whether E violated Sections 8(a)(3) and (1) by its refusal to reinstate)

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 253 NLRB No. 029
(case remanded to ALJ for purpose of conducting further hearing on issue of E's objection to election under General Knit of California, Inc., 239 NLRB 619, where ALJ relied solely on formal papers submitted in R proceeding in analyzing E's objection and resolved the case entirely on application of standard set out in Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc., and, on last day of hearing in the R proceeding, w/o knowledge of parties to the R proceeding, Bd, in General Knit of California, Inc., overruled Shopping Kart Food Market, Inc.)

Local 90, Operative Plasterers and Cement Masons' International Association of the United States and Canada, AFL-CIO (Southern Illinois Builders Association) 252 NLRB No. 108
(remand to RD for purpose of ascertaining whether discriminatee incurred medical expenses for which he is entitled to recover under E's health and welfare plan; Bd rejected discriminatee's plan that medical claims be submitted directly to carrier for determination of coverage)

Reliable Roofing Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 069
(E's mtn for reconsideration granted to consider evidence relevant to Bd's finding that E unlawfully withdrew from multi-E bargaining; i.e., whether multi-E group actually existed or E's withdrawal privileged and further contention that compliance with resulting order would force E into bankruptcy, since E's submissions, if accepted as accurate, would be deemed sufficient to dismiss C)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(Bd severed and remanded discharge cases to ALJ for supplemental decision, where ALJ erred in precluding E's witnesses, whose testimony was relevant to events surrounding discharges, from testifying because E's official had refusal to comply with subpoena and to testify)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(Ee turnover between ULPs and Bd order is relevant in determining whether Gissel order should be used but Bd not required to reopen record to determine whether fair election could be held regardless of turnover since time of hearing where other evidence, such as, card majority, past union activity, and E responses to such activity support such finding)

Ellman Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 22 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(remand for hearing on E's objections to election that Ee who was U supporter had intimidated other Ees in voting in underlying R case, where Bd had adopted RD's report on objections overruling objections and recommending U be certified and granted mtn for summary judgment in ULP proceeding alleging refusal to bargain, w/o benefit of underlying evidence on which RD based recommendation)

9267-3700 Explication of basis for findings and conclusions concerning merits

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(where E's data on objections to election based on U's misrepresentations raised substantial and material issues which RD resolved not through hearing but through administrative investigation, and thereby deprived E of opportunity to meet RD's arguments and also deprived ct and Bd of adequate basis to evaluate process by which RD arrived at finding that U's misrepresentations were immaterial, ct remanded case with directions to RD to conduct hearing on E's objections and for appropriate findings on need for any further hearings prior to any recommendation to certify results of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, and its Local Union No. 1566 662 F.2d 1044 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion in reopening record to allow introduction of full collective bargaining agreement between E and U rather than excerpts which had been introduced since agreement was quite relevant to question of responsibility of International as well as Local for violation of Sec. 8(b)(1)(A); Us offered no objection when parts of collective bargaining agreement were introduced at hearing and reopening was sought before order or decision by Bd)

9267-5000 Misconduct of Administrative Law Judge in conduct of hearing

The New York Times Company 265 NLRB No. 045

(case remanded for hearing de novo before different ALJ where ALJ at hearing dismissed C alleging E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by refusing to supply U with Ee job evaluation reports on grounds that information was allegedly available from other sources (Ees); ALJ erred as matter of law as fact that Ees may have information and may be willing to give it to U does not relieve E of its obligations under Act. Moreover, ALJ inpunged good faith of U and questioned whether GC and charging party were abusing Bd processes, in contravention of Bd policy to not only avoid partiality and prejudgment but even appearance thereof)

9267-6700 For additional findings

Coca Cola Bottling Company of Buffalo, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 016

(where GC, in his complaint and mtn for summary judgment, alleged E unlawfully made unilateral changes in terms and conditions of employment after U's certification, and E raised defenses thereto on factual grounds, Bd found that genuine issues of material fact existed and remanded case to RD for hearing before ALJ to determine whether unilateral changes were ULPs as alleged)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(Bd severed part of instant case and remanded that aspect for further hearing to determine whether U steward participated in assault on dissident U member by use of municipal ct judgment wherein U steward was found guilty of assault in issue)

Deauville Hotel 256 NLRB No. 078

(Bd remanded case involving two discharges of same Ee for further proceedings to resolve credibility conflicts in order to determine whether circumstances, including E's animus, lapse of time, and possible causal connection between reinstated discriminatee's illegal demotion and quarrel with his replacement, warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to second reinstatement and backpay after date of second discharge; GC did not have to amend complaint to include second discharge)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(remanded to ALJ for additional findings of whether Ee attempted to revoke authorization card and whether such attempt occurred subsequent to E's ULP's)

Greens Disposal Service 253 NLRB No. 047

(remand, since ALJ refused to admit evidence of misconduct, but E's offer of proof, which, if true, and considered in light most favorable to E, would bar reinstatement, for purpose of taking evidence on whether alleged strike misconduct barred reinstatement of strikers and issuing decision on whether E violated Sections 8(a)(3) and (1) by its refusal to reinstate)

Savannah Wholesale Company 251 NLRB No. 087

(where ALJ credited Ee to extent that he found E had knowledge of fellow Ee's U activity before latter was discharged, but ALJ did not resolve credibility issue as to whether statement indicating E's knowledge was actually a threat as alleged, Bd, being unable to make determination on 8(a)(1) allegation, severed such allegation and remanded to ALJ for appropriate findings)

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc. (Moving Picture Projectionists, Local No. 150, Stage Employees) 250 NLRB No. 135

(where ALJ had failed to make critical credibility determinations regarding conflict in testimony of GC's witnesses--who claimed that on a certain date U and respondent E had reached oral agreement on terms of contract--and E's witnesses--who denied that such agreement was reached on that date--, Bd remanded proceeding for ALJ to make credibility determination regarding conflicting testimony)

Bullock's 247 NLRB No. 040

(remand for further findings (1) as to whether dischargee had obtained information in Ees' performance evaluations innocently or wrongfully and whether such activity was therefore concerted and protected or not, (2) as to other alleged reasons for her discharge and (3) resolution of conflict between testimony of dischargee and other Ee so as to make determination as to whether discharge violated 8(a)(1))

9267-7500 Pursuant to direction of court

Foundation For Comprehensive Health Services 261 NLRB No. 017

(upon ct remand to Bd to determine whether exclusion of social worker from unit of professional Ees at medical care facility would preclude, under ct's disparity of interest test, effective representation of such Ees, and whether such exclusion would create group of Ees eluding representation, Bd directed hearing to determine unit status of social worker under ct's test as law of the case, including question as to whether additional persons have been hired in such classification; and also, inasmuch as social worker's challenged ballot could now be determinative, directed hearing on all challenged ballots)

Fort Vancouver Plywood Company 252 NLRB No. 142

(on remand, original order, reinstating nonshareholder discriminatees affirmed where Respondent had not met its burden of proving that, to the time of present hearing, it would have eliminated jobs of any of discriminatees for other than unlawful reasons)

N.L.R.B. v. Maidsville Coal Company, Inc. 693 F.2d 1119 (C.A. 4, Nov. 1982)

(though ct did not consider E affidavit made to ct which purported to show that composition of workforce had changed dramatically since alleged ULPs committed, ct directed Bd on remand to consider inter alia, this affidavit)

Eliason Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 22 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)

(remand for hearing on E's objections to election that Ee who was U supporter had intimidated other Ees in voting in underlying R case, where Bd had adopted RD's report on objections overruling objections and recommending U be certified and granted mtn for summary judgment in ULP proceeding alleging refusal to bargain, w/o benefit of underlying evidence on which RD based recommendation)

9287 CIRCUMSTANCES NOT WARRANTING REMAND

Fry Foods, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 031

(request that Bd remand proceeding to another ALJ because record was not complete when judgment was made on ground that U.S. district ct issued its decision on criminal contempt charges against E after ALJ had issued his decision herein, denied; decision of district ct is matter of which Bd takes judicial notice and, furthermore, Bd found nothing in ct opn which would warrant reversal of ALJ's findings)

N.L.R.B. v. Master Slack and/or Master Trousers Corp., et al. 618 F.2d 6 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(notwithstanding valid objection to election, because of delinquency on part of E to raise objection Bd did not abuse its discretion in refusing to reopen record)

9600 FURTHER CONSIDERATION, RECONSIDERATION OR MODIFICATION OF ORDER

Clean and Shine 255 NLRB No. 180

(mtn for reconsideration denied where E failed to answer complaint due to its admitted negligence after having been afforded two separate opportunities to file and subsequently failed to file timely answer to duly served Notice to Show Cause in response to mtn for summary judgment due to unsupported contention that E relied on Bd agent's alleged misrepresentations that it was too late)

9601 GENERALLY

A.G.S. Graphics, A Division of George Lithograph Co. 265 NLRB No. 129

(policy of Bd for same panel which decides case to pass on request for reconsideration of panel decision and for full Bd to consider such request only if panel refers it to full Bd)

Kaiser Foundation Hospitals and Kaiser Foundation Health Plan of Oregon 259 NLRB No. 078

(Bd R/R Sec. 102.48(d)(3) provides that filing of motion for reconsideration shall not operate to stay the effectiveness of the Bd's action)

Daiser Foundation Hospitals and Kaiser Foundation Health Plan of Oregon 259 NLRB No. 078

(Bd R/R Sec. 102.148(c) provides that filing of motion for reconsideration does not stay time for filing application for award under Equal Access to Justice Act)

9625 BOARD AUTHORITY TO RECONSIDER OR MODIFY ORDER

9625-3300 Where record not yet filed in Court of Appeals

Haddon House Food Products, Inc. and Flavor Delight, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 146
(mtn for reconsideration and modification of Bd order and for reopening of record and rehearing denied, since Bd no longer possesses jurisdiction to modify order after Ct of Appeals issued its decision granting enforcement of Bd order, as modified, and subsequently, following denial of writs of certiorari by U.S. Supreme Ct, Ct of Appeals entered it judgment therein)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(in absence of exception to ALJ findings Bd may still review findings since Bd has authority to modify or set aside any finding or order made or issued by it until case shall have been filed in ct)

9650 CIRCUMSTANCES WARRANTING RECONSIDERATION

Stage Employees, Local No. 249 (General Cinema Corporation of Texas, et al.) 265 NLRB No. 093
(respondent E's mtn for reconsideration of Bd's decision on ground of alleged exceptions to ALJ's decision dismissing C against E in its entirety, denied, where Bd had previously found that E's exceptions did not meet requirements of R/R Sec. 102.46(b) in that they failed to identify any portion of ALJ's decision to which E objected, and now E complains that ALJ did not make additional rulings or comments that E would have found favorable in its bargaining relationship with charging U; moreover, subject matter of exceptions was not contained in C and issues were not litigated at hearing)

9650-3700 Denied where request sought Board reconsideration of panel decision

Farmland Soy Processing Company 265 NLRB No. 118
(E's Motion For Reconsideration En Banc denied by 3 member panel where mtn did not raise substantial issue warranting reconsideration of Bd's finding that discriminatee was engaged in protected concerted activity w/i meaning of Act; E attempt to negate record evidence by characterizing Ee's complaints as relating to plant operations rather than safety rejected, as 2 issues are not mutually exclusive)

9650-5000 Denied where all matters raised in motion had been previously considered

A.G.S. Graphics, A Division of George Lithograph Co. 265 NLRB No. 129
(three member Bd panel's refused to refer to full Bd Respondent's request that GC's mtn for summary judgment and its response thereto be considered by Bd en banc alleging underlying R case improperly decided by Bd, since Respondent presented no matters not previously considered)

Kahn's Auto Company, Division of Consolidated Foods Co. 256 NLRB No. 147
(mtn for reconsideration denied where mtn raised no substantial issue not considered by Bd in its original decision and sufficient evidence was adduced at hearing to allow proper application of test established in Kraft Foods, Inc., 251 NLRB No. 6 (1980) determining when reinstatement was warranted to remedy violation of Weingarten rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Lane Aviation Corporation 615 F.2d 759 (C.A. 6) (1980)
(Bd erred in reopening case after it had issued decision where moving party did not adduce any previously unexamined evidence in support of their mtn to reopen since all issues suggested by affidavits attached to mtn were thoroughly explored before ALJ and at Bd's initial hearing nor were there allegations of supervening events or extraordinary circumstances as required under R/R 102.48(d); thus Bd contravened its own regulations which an administrative agency has no power to do)

9675 CIRCUMSTANCES WARRANTING MODIFICATION OF ORDER

R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 163
(supplemental order modified to delete certain language no longer necessary after ct remanded to Bd for elimination of requirement that E reestablish in trucking operation)

MCC Pacific Valves, A Unit of Mark Controls Corporation 253 NLRB No. 090
(R/O amended to include additional Ees entitled to backpay and reinstatement)

Advance Pattern and Machine Corporation d/b/a Gibraltar Sprocket Company JD-51-80
(order requiring reinstatement of discriminatorily discharged strikers modified by agreement of parties to not require reinstatement of 2 strikers who engaged in picket line misconduct; hearing on issue unnecessary where parties resolved disputed questions)

9800 COURT REMAND

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(in finding Bd improperly granted mtn for summary judgment against debtor-in-possession, ct held that debtor's rejection of bargaining agreement would not affect its Sec. 8(d) obligations prior to date of bankruptcy ptn, and monetary claim resulting from Bd order is then governed by bankruptcy law and may be filed as creditor's claim in bankruptcy ct; as to post-bankruptcy ptn charges, Bd must await bankruptcy ct's determination on remand from ct herein before proceeding to consider such charges, and if bankruptcy ct permits rejection, Bd will be precluded from finding any post-ptn ULPs)

N.L.R.B. v. Pre-Engineered Building Products, Inc. 603 F.2d 134 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(where predecessor business had essentially collapsed at time of E's take over and E of necessity had to rebuild both production demand and work force, ct held Bd was arbitrary in denying E's mtn to reopen record for purpose of adducing evidence to determine whether E had acquired full complement of Ees at time E refused to bargain with predecessor's U)

9900 OTHER PROCEDURAL MATTERS

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 138
(unilateral changes in employment conditions of Ees made by E violative in instant case in event Bd affirms ALJ decision in pending C cases and R case concerning same Respondent, that E had duty to bargain with U)

Servair, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 014
(resolution of whether discriminatee, who had been reinstated voluntarily, and thereafter left his employment, forfeited his right to reinstatement and partial backpay, left to compliance stage of proceedings)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(individual non party discriminatee may appeal Bd decision to ct of appeals as provided for in Section 10(f) of Act but this does not provide for participation by non parties at earlier stages in Bd proceedings)

Mosey Manufacturing Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 077
(C case on remand from circuit ct to Bd retaines its status as ULP proceeding thereby enabling Bd, which had accepted remand, to remand proceedings to RD who in turn ordered case returned to ALJ rather than ordering hearing)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 184
(any dispute over application of guidelines concerning costs of compilation and furnishing requested information will be treated in compliance stage of proceeding)

Adams Delivery Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-275-81
(bankrupt E's application for removal of proceeding to bankruptcy court found ineffective due to exemption of Bd proceedings from removal statute, and Bd held to have retained jurisdiction to determine merits of case)

600 REMEDIAL ORDER PROVISIONS

601 GENERALLY

2500 NATURE AND PURPOSE

2514 EFFECTUATION OF POLICIES OF ACT (10(c))

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083

(Bd does not refuse to invoke remedies where Respondent's concealment of conduct injures parties entitled to protection of Act; Respondent estopped from denying consciously deceptive conduct (appearing to be party to successive U contracts) over long period of time)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061

(where E which had unlawfully dealt directly with Ees during term of bargaining agreement, paying less than contract wage and failing to make payments to pension fund, and failed to use hiring hall as required by contract, subsequently signed and then repudiated another in series of agreements, in order to effectuate policies of Act make whole remedy extended to time of beginning of ULPs during prior contract rather than beginning with latest contract which was repudiated)

Independent Stave Company 248 NLRB No. 025

(pay over to U sum of money, plus interest thereon, equal to sum of all dues checked off and not remitted to U)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Bd's choice of remedy in matter w/i its own discretion, open only to limited review; Bd's choice of remedy should stand unless it can be shown that order (to pay U's reasonable negotiating expenses and Bd's and U's reasonable litigation costs) is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of the Act)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(where Bd ordered make-whole remedy for U steward who was physically assaulted by supervisor while engaged in protected concerted activity, ct found that backpay award, although itself effectuating purposes of Act, was an abuse of discretion where it was left open-ended until after Ee's injury no longer precludes him from performing his former or a substantially equivalent job, and Bd admitted limited expertise in matters involving personal injury where tort remedies are available; ct held that two-year period would provide substantial remedy even if steward's disability lasted longer)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(standard of review of Bd's remedies is abuse of discretion)

N.L.R.B. v. Potter Electric Signal Company 600 F.2d 120 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(where Ees were discharged for fight that resulted in shutting down production line, inclusion of reinstatement and backpay in Bd's R/O, inappropriate notwithstanding that discharge was based on results of investigatory interviews conducted w/o presence of U in violation of 8(a)(1); Ees were discharged for cause and not for requesting U presence, and Bd does not have power to order reinstatement or back pay for Ees discharged for obvious personal misconduct, because to do so would violate section 10(c). See, Fibreboard, 379 US 203)

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)

(under section 10(c) of Act, Bd has considerable discretion in fashioning remedy for ULPs)

Warehouse Union, Local 860, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1022 (C.A.D.C., Apr 1981)

(Bd remedy ordering U to make clerical Ees whole for their loss of wages (due to U's unlawful conduct) upheld, since award of backpay is w/i authority of Bd and in keeping with policies of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(notwithstanding that Bd's affirmative remedies may appear punitive in context of individual case concerning recidivist violators of Act, they are clearly remedial, and are therefore proper, in context of total conduct of recidivist violator)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(access remedies ordered by Bd which were designed to assist U in communicating with Ees and to assist Ees in hearing U's side of story w/o fear of retaliation did not constitute a patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

2528 PROTECTION OF PUBLIC, NOT PRIVATE, RIGHTS

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-584-80

(private agreement between E and two of summarily-found discriminatees whereby, in lieu of backpay possibly due them by virtue of E's ULPs, discriminatees agreed to become equal partners with stock ownership in new E aided corporation held violative, since agreement interfered with application of Bd's remedies, which are provided as public right)

2542 PREVENTING RECURRENCE OF UNLAWFUL ACTIVITY

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(in absence of Bd orders for reinstatement and backpay, sole effect of finding of ULP is issuance of c/d order which prevents similar (violative) activity in future; no hardship to E where Bd retroactively changed its position regarding presence or absence of stenographers at negotiating sessions, now found to constitute non-mandatory subject of bargaining)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(powers of Bd are remedial, not punitive, and Bd may not justify order solely on ground that it will deter future violations of Act)

2556 REMOVAL, DISSIPATION, OR AVOIDANCE OF CONSEQUENCES OF ULPS

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006

(remedy (requesting Es hire applicants from hiring hall for employment they would have had but for U's unlawful conduct) for U's failure to refer applicants from hiring hall to Es, inappropriate in instant case where discrimination found involved short term or temporary jobs)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043

(where E ordered to bargain with U over effects of its decision to transfer operations and of its later decision to shutdown completely, E ordered to pay back pay so that parties bargaining is not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

McMillan Cartage, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 018

(limited backpay ordered in refusal to bargain case where E ceased operations, since such order is appropriate remedy even where such violation was unaccompanied by discriminatory shutdown of operations)

Trans-States Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116

(R/O necessary in 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(3) case where Bd found that E made no timely, unambiguous, and specific repudiation of E's unlawful conduct and repudiation was not adequately publicized to Ees)

United States Postcl Service 253 NLRB No. 158

(in order for E to repudiate unlawful conduct and thereby relieve himself of liability for such conduct, E's repudiation must be timely, unambiguous, specifically describe the conduct, and disavow it as unlawful; it must also be free of other proscribed conduct, and E must adequately publish repudiation to Ees involved, engage in no proscribed conduct after publication, and give assurances to Ees that in future E will not interfere with exercise of Ees' statutory rights)

United States Postal Service 253 NLRB No. 158

(E's prompt ameliorative action in posting notice disclaiming any intent to induce Ees to relinquish right to file grievances as result of excellance awards issued to some Ees partly because they had not filed grievances, herein found to constitute unlawful implied promise of benefits to other Ees, held not to preclude issuance of remedial order, since notice failed to recognize unlawful nature of E's actions and to assure Ees that E will not in future engage in similar conduct, and E did little more than reassert right to issue unlawful awards)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(U entitled to both certification and bargaining order if it wins election after revised tally of ballots is issued; bargaining order will issue only to correct any unilateral changes E may have made during time it had obligation to bargain with U)

Apple Tree Chevrolet, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 076
(Bd proceeds with tabulation of challenged votes for election results not out of any doubt concerning bargaining order remedy, but so as not to preclude U from enjoying any benefits to which it may otherwise be entitled as certified representative; moreover, Bd's established procedure to provide both remedies is because certification alone would not suffice to correct any unilateral changes E may institute between period when bargaining obligation commenced and issuance of certification, and further prolong E's refusal to bargain based on U's institution of still another ULP proceeding)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 247 NLRB No. 027
(modus operandi for providing information on job vacancies filled and applications filed, unless parties otherwise agree in writing, enunciated in remedy provided by ALJ)

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E's refusal to reinstate certain Ees and its discharge of others for strike misconduct cannot support back-pay order in instant case since there was no ULP strike)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd has power-and indeed obligation-to take into account history of recalcitrance in designing remedial order)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access to bulleting boards granted in cases in which E had extended history of unlawful conduct as well as in cases in which such access was ordered to remedy flagrant violation, outrageous conduct, or a gross interference with Ees' organizational rights)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(well-coordinated unlawful campaign at one plant may produce chilling effects throughout corporate structure)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access as remedial measure at unorganized plants (of E) may be predicated on Bd's finding that E's unlawful bargaining strategy at organized plant has chilled Ee rights at (E's) unorganized plants; access is ordered to remedy effects of unlawful behavior and not to punish or deter E)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(burden lies upon Bd to substantiate its conclusion that access is necessary remedy to offset consequences of unlawful E conduct)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd was clearly entitled to consider extensive record of past unlawful activity of E in shaping its remedial order in instant case)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(history alone could not justify relief (corporatewide access) ordered in instant case, since statements concerning E's continuing pattern of unlawful conduct were insufficient to substantiate conclusion that corporatewide access was needed to offset coercive or chilling effects produced corporatewide by unlawful conduct of E)

(propriety of access as organizational tool and propriety of U access as remedial measure are 2 separate questions involving different considerations; former need finding that U unable to reach Ees through other channels of communication; as to latter, critical inquiry is whether E conduct is of such nature that access is needed to offset harmful effects that have been produced by such conduct)

2570 RESTORATION OF STATUS QUO ANTE

Monongahela Steel Company and Youngstown Steel Corporation 265 NLRB No. 031
(principle that proper remedy in cases involving discriminatory conduct is restoration of status quo ante unless the wrongdoer can demonstrate that normal remedy would endanger its continued viability is based on Bd's policy that wrongdoer, rather than innocent victim, should bear hardships of unlawful action, and latter has the burden of showing that restoration would result in undue hardship)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in cases involving violation of 8(a)(5) based on E's unilaterally altering existing benefits, it is Bd's established policy to order restoration of status quo ante to the extent feasible where there is no evidence that to do so would impose an undue or unafir burden on E)

Nansemond Convalescent Center, Inc. 255 NLRB No. [illegible]
(in order to place E and U in as nearly same situation as posible which existed during early negotiations it was ordered that upon resumption of bargaining and for 8 months thereafter U be regarded as if initial certification year had not expired)

Empire Gas, Inc. of Denver 254 NLRB No. 076
(E's conduct in discharging Ees and supervisor for bringing concerted pressure upon E for some favorable resolution of their complaint regarding futher bonus payments, in addition to reflecting general disregard for rights of Ees quaranteed by Act, created atmosphere of coercion requiring restoration of status quo ante in order to dissipate effects of such unlawful conduct; reinstatement of all those affected, including discharged supervisor, is both necessary and fully warranted)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(order of Bd that E reinstitute its pension-plan as it existed as of December 31, 1978, although allegedly unqualified by reason of IRS ruling 78-403, doesnot preclude parties from bargaining over any proposed change intended to retain IRS qualification; order restored status quo ante and placed parties in position they would have enjoyed but for E's illegal conduct)

Pittsburgh–Des Moines Steel Co. 253 NLRB No. 086
(request for order that upon resumption of bargaining E place before U those same proposals for contract which was before U prior to E's ULPs denied, since normal bargaining order will suffice to remedy violation)

Scott Printing Corporation 249 NLRB No. 134
(Bd's remedy rescinding contract of sale to alter ego appropriate to restore status quo ante, since contract of sale was sham transaction)

Hood Industries, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, B & K Transportation, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 099
(in cases involving discriminatory termination of operations, restoration of status quo ante continues to be proper remedy unless wrongdoer can demonstrate that normal remedy would endanger its continued viability)

Lion Uniform, Jamesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(where Bd finds discriminatory conduct, restoration of status quo ante is proper remedy unless wrongdoer can demonstrate that normal remedy would endanger its continued viability)

Safeway Trails, Inc. JD-462-82
(Supplemental Decision sets forth method, in instant case, of computing: amounts of backpay; pension plan payments; discriminatee pension contributions; E pension contributions; interest provisions; and pension fund payments)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(although remedial power of Bd is broad and discretionary, Bd may not order remedies which are in fact punitive; purpose of remedial order under Act is to restore conditions that existed in absence of ULPs, and a remedy which grants rights to which a party would not have been entitled in absence of violations is punitive as to other party and is therefore unenforceable)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 653 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, July 1981)
(where E unilaterally changed insurance plans and its action resulted in some favorable and some unfavorable changes to Ees, Bd's supplemental order held w/i scope of ct remand and consistent with precedent where order provided both for restoration of working conditions or benefits improperly denied and for monetary compensation for any losses sustained)

2584 REMEDIAL, NOT PUNITIVE

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, et al. v. Foust RD 442 U.S. 42 (S Ct US, 1979)
(punitive damages were not permitted under Railway Labor Act for U's breach of duty of fair representation)

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, et al. v. Foust RD 442 U.S. 42 (S Ct US, 1979)
(fundamental purpose of fair representation suits is to compensate for injuries caused by violations of Ees' rights)

Stage Employees, Local No. 249 (General Cinema Corporation of Texas, et al.) 265 NLRB No. 093
(panel majority did not agree with one member's position that E abused Bd's processes by exercising its right to require Bd to reconsider its prior holding herein; majority deemed member's proposal, based on E's reiteration of frivolous contentions, that E should be assessed $100 to cover portion of expenditures of Bd resources involved in responding to E's wasteful action, unwarranted and punitive)

Barry S. Solof, M.D., A Professional Corporation, d/b/a The Victoria Medical Group and The West Jefferson Medical Group 264 NLRB No. 019
(since discriminatees were not subject to notice requirement of Sec. 8(g) of Act, they also were not subject to penalties set out in Sec. 8(d) of Act)

Carpenter Sprinkler Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 60 (C.A. 2, 1979)
(ct found too broad and refused to enforce Bd's orders to restore wages and terms of employment to status quo ante, make retroactive payments to U welfare and pension fund if U so desired, and to reimburse strike replacements for difference between wage and benefits actually received and those they would have received if E had not unilaterally altered them; respondent was small E in economically depressed region with good bargaining relations and the orders were financially crippling)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(Bd's remedial order concerning company-wide dissemination of notice and access to company plants, not punitive since notice and access order was designed to counteract use E made at other plants of its ULPs in bargaining at instant plant)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(although remedial power of Bd is broad and discretionary, Bd may not order remedies which are in fact punitive; purpose of remedial order under Act is to restore conditions that existed in absence of ULPs, and a remedy which grants rights to which a party would not have been entitled in absence of violations is punitive as to other party and is therefore unenforceable)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's power to command affirmative action is remedial not punitive and is to be exercised in aid of Bd's authority to restrain violations and as means of removing consequences of violation which thwart purposes of Act)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(bargaining orders are always remedial and are designed to set matters as they would have been in absence of E's misconduct)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that Bd's make-whole remedy for U steward who suffered injuries during incident with supervisor, found herein unlawful due to fact that steward was engaged in protected concerted activity, did tend to effectuate policies of Act and was not punitive in nature, notwithstanding that remedy did overlap injured party's tort remedy)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 653 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, July 1981)
(where E unilaterally changed insurance plans and its action resulted in some favorable and some unfavorable changes to Ees, Bd's supplemental order held w/i scope of ct remand and consistent with precedent where order provided both for restoration of working conditions or benefits improperly denied and for monetary compensation for any losses sustained)

Brotherhood Railway Carmen of the United States and Canada, Lodge 365, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 819 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(as violation for collecting assessment only technical in nature and U could still go against members who paid assessment but now request reimbursement, or pass proper assessment against members, Bd order, by placing heavy burden on U for locating and reimbursing all members who paid said assessment, held punitive and not appropriate)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(contention that dues reimbursement remedy is inappropriate in situation herein involving illegal assistance to U by E and misrepresentations by U in soliciting U authorization cards, on ground such remedy is punitive rather than compensatory, rejected, since remedy would effectuate policy of Act by returning to Ees money paid to support U they did not freely choose to join)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(award of reinstatement and backpay to Ees engaged in ULP strike against E who had unlawfully withdrawn from multi-E unit held not punitive and in accord with Act, where, after striking against E association, U negotiated new contract with it; upon strikers return, E offered them work under terms of old contract, claiming that for that reason award was punitive; however, such offer was invalid since E was bound by new contract, and strikers were not obligated to accept contract terms inferior to those they were intitled to)

(powers of Bd are remedial, not punitive, and Bd may not justify order solely on ground that it will deter future violations of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(notwithstanding that Bd's affirmative remedies may appear punitive in context of individual case concerning recidivist violators of Act, they are clearly remedial, and are therefore proper, in context of total conduct of recidivist violator)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access as remedial measure at unorganized plants (of E) may be predicated on Bd's finding that E's unlawful bargaining strategy at organized plant has chilled Ee rights at (E's) unorganized plants; access is ordered to remedy effects of unlawful behavior and not to punish or deter E)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd order at issue could not be justified as remedial, and could only be explained as punitive, since need for mitigating coercive effects not present in record before access was awarded at unorganized plants of E)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(refund reimbursement of take home fee declined, since many commission drivers who paid it may have made profit in doing so; Bd imposed only remedial, not punative relief; injury was ambiguous)

3700 AUTHORITY OF BOARD

3701 GENERALLY

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 49A
(matters of remedy (in instant case, Bd ordered E to withdraw wage increases or other benefits established pursuant to invalid contract) are traditionally w/i Bd's province, and may be addressed by Bd sua sponte)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(Bd does not refuse to invoke remedies where Respondent's concealment of conduct injures parties entitled to protection of Act; Respondent estopped from denying consciously deceptive conduct (appearing to be party to successive U contracts) over long period of time)

International Technical Products Corporation, and its Subsidiary, Rel, Inc.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 183
(bankruptcy ct's order allowing successor E to purchase predecessor's assets free of all liens, claims, and encumbrances cannot affect Bd's order which requires that successor E make predecessor's discriminatees whole for backpay due them since, unlike bankruptcy ct's order which affects only assets of bankrupt, Bd order, which enforces public rather than private right, reaches beyond assets of E and attaches to employing entity itself)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(Bd's choice of remedy in matter w/i its own discretion, open only to limited review; Bd's choice of remedy should stand unless it can be shown that order (to pay U's reasonable negotiating expenses and Bd's and U's reasonable litigation costs) is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of the Act)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd has broad latitude in ascertaining appropriate remedial measures, and its decision must be given special respect; ct will not disturb Bd's order unless it is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which effectuate policies of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbia Building Materials, Inc. 624 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd's task is to fashion remedy for ULPs that will restore economic status quo that would have existed but for ULP; backpay order herein w/i remedial authority of Bd since it does no more than return affected Ees to economic state which they would have enjoyed absent unilateral wage change)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd has broad authority to grant U access to company property as part of remedial order, however, Bd must make clear that such access is necessary to offset adverse effects of unlawful E conduct)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(imposition of remedies is matter of special administrative competence, subject to very limited judicial review; selection of remedies made by Bd must stand, unless it can be shown that the order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

3725 LIMITATION OF SECTION 8(d)

3725—Cont.

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that Bd's order that E grant proposed wage increase retroactively was beyond scope of its authority where such term was mandatory subject of bargaining; ct found that rule of H.K. Porter applied equally to orders requiring agreement on subjects of bargaining in cases arising under Sec. 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(5))

3750 WHERE NO VIOLATION OF ACT

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(cab companies not liable for dues and initiation fees which (U) - would have received had it been recognized as representative of lessee-drivers, since companies committed no ULP in refusing to recognize U)

3775 FRIVOLOUS LITIGATION

Stage Employees, Local No. 249 (General Cinema Corporation of Texas, et al.) 265 NLRB No. 093
(panel majority did not agree with one member's position that E abused Bd's processes by exercising its right to require Bd to reconsider its prior holding herein; majority deemed member's proposal, based on E's reiteration of frivolous contentions, that E should be assessed $100 to cover portion of expenditures of Bd resources involved in responding to E's wasteful action, unwarranted and punitive)

Standard Refinery Union, Inc. JD-632-80
(assessment of litigation expenses against respondent U, unwarranted where dispute concerning correctness or incorrectness of E's name was compared to typical 8(a)(5) type proceeding wherein parties seek to test underlying certification proceeding; pleadings were not frivolous)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(ct held costs against E in favor of Bd to include counsel fees and all expenses where ct concluded that E's ptn for review was filed only for purposes of delay in view of experience of E's counsel and totally frivolous nature of contentions before this ct; F.R.Civ.P. 11)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's award of organization and litigation expenses - in extension of frivolous-debatable exception as suggested in Heck's – not abuse of discretion where Bd carefully articulated reason for new rule and for application here, namely E's resolute resistance to unionization and its history of litigation before Bd and courts, which Bd has not only power but obligation to take into account)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(not-debatable defense not same as frivolous defense; terms are not necessarily coextensive)

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(U was not entitled to litigation costs and attorney fees where E's defenses in refusing to bargain were not without merit or frivolous, i.e. defense rests on credibility determination)

5000 SCOPE OF ORDERS

5025 BREADTH IN RELATION TO SPECIFIC VIOLATION

5025-0100 Generally

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(in exercising its great discretion in determining what curative measures are needed with respect to a particular violation, Bd may properly consider past conduct which may affect scope of effective remedy; however, remedial order is to be based on conduct found unlawful in current proceedings, and Bd is not empowered to monitor on continuing basis activities of E or U found to have committed ULPs or to impose on periodic basis additional requirements because of a past violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Transcon Lines 599 F.2d 719 (C.A. 5, 1979)
(where Bd found ban on U dissident's distribution of anti-U material in drivers' room at truck terminal unlawful, but issued broad order against any interference with Ee distributions generally, ct required Bd to issue a properly narrowed order)

5025-3300 Broad orders

Anchor Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(broad c/d order warranted in view of nature of E's ULPs in refusal to reinstate striker, threats to close plant, and surveillance)

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 040
(ct refused to enforce as too overly broad Bd order which provided that E c/d generally from refusing to bargain in good faith with U)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 036
(broad order warranted where E laid off all but skeleton work force one week after Bd agent scheduled pre-election hearing and closed plant after U won election)

5025-3301 Generally

Allied Stores Of N.Y., Inc., d/b/a Gertz 262 NLRB No. 119
(order requiring E to allow Ees to post U campaign literature and precluding E from promulgating nondiscriminatory rule prohibiting Ee access to bulletin boards and blackboard held too broad as there is no statutory right for Ees or U to use such boards and E could conceivably promulgate nondiscriminatory rule)

Oakwood Manor, Inc., d/b/a Danville Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 108
(broad order issued in view of unlawful conduct of interrogations, threats of plant closure, discriminatory work assignments and discriminatory discharges which reached most, if not all, Ees)

Patry Bee, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 125
(broad order issued in view of serious and egregious nature of violations)

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(narrow rather than broad order appropriate where E had not been shown to have proclivity to violate Act, or to have engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

5025-3309 Repetition of ULPs likely

Service Employees Union Local 77, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Thrust IV) 264 NLRB No. 082
(broad order appropriate where U's picketing exhibited blatent disregard of and willingness to violate Act, as U representative admitted his unlawful intent to ignore reserve gate system and picket when it knew that no Ees of primary were present and stated that they were picketing jobsite and not gate)

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1180 (Kenneth E. Mason, an Individual) 263 NLRB No. 134
(broad c/d order not warranted, notwithstanding Respondent had twice previously entered into informal settlement agreements involving identical alleged misconduct, since informal settlement agreement not basis for finding proclivity to violate Act)

Rosa M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(inj against ULPs other than ones specified may be justified where there is a danger of their commission in the future because of E's past course of conduct)

5025-3318 Prior ULP proceedings against same respondent

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 154
(broad order warranted in unlawful discharge case as E was found in violation of Sections 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) of Act in another recent case and thus has demonstrated proclivity to violate Act)

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1180 (Kenneth E. Mason, an Individual) 263 NLRB No. 134
(broad c/d order not warranted, notwithstanding Respondent had twice previously entered into informal settlement agreements involving identical alleged misconduct, since informal settlement agreement not basis for finding proclivity to violate Act)

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 102
(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

Carpenters Union Local No. 1622, UBCJA (Robert Wood & Associates, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 138
(broad order to remedy unlawful secondary boycott warranted in view of Respondent U's proclivity to violate Act as demonstrated by charges of similar violations in three other cases and resulting formal settlement stipulations since stipulations did not contain nonadmissions clause; not necessary for cases to be consolidated since Respondent's actions in each case warranted issuance of broad remedial order)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 103
(where E found to have violated Act twice w/i 1 year and on both occasions E found to have engaged in widespread violations)

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 042
(informal settlement agreement, in contrast with formal settlements, containing nonadmissions clause will not be used to show proclivity to violative Act)

South Shore Hospital 256 NLRB No. 001
(broad order warranted where E demonstrated proclivity to violate Act by 8(a)(5) violation in prior case and 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) in instant case)

St. Francis Hospital 252 NLRB No. 174
(broad order appropriate where same E had been found to have committed numerous violations of Act 2 years before)

5025-3337 Violation goes to heart of Act

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(Bd issued narrow instead of broad c/d order recommended by ALJ because E's conduct goes to the heart of the Act, since this is insufficient basis upon which to grant broad c/d order where it was not shown that E had proclivity to violate Act or engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(broad cease and desist order warranted in view of E's previous violations, proclivity for violating Act and engagement in such egregious and widespread, misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental Section 7 rights)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 058
(unlawful discharge of leading U advocate)

Taylor-Dunn Manufacturing Company 252 NLRB No. 118

5025-3332 Violation of fundamental employee rights

Cell-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(broad order appropriate in instant case in view of E's numerous ULPs (interrogations, threats to close plant and discharge) and their pervasiveness in unit of only 4 Ees; E had engaged in such egregious and widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for its Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(broad cease and desist order warranted in view of E's previous violations, proclivity for violating Act and engagement in such egregious and widespread, misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental Section 7 rights)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115

Emerson G. M. Diesel, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 168
(broad order appropriate because of number and extent of ULPs showing general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Timberline Energy Corporation 258 NLRB No. 037
(broad order warranted; in view of nature and extent of vioiations committed: laying of, refusing to rehire, interrogating and threatening Ees, paying benefits for no U representation, forming Ee committees and invalid no-solicitation rule, as E has exhibited general disregard for Ees' statutory rights)

Precision Graphics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 057
(threat of plant closure was egregious violation warranting issuance of broad order)

Richland Co. & Assoc., Division of McDonald Construction, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 026

Mazda of Anchorage 253 NLRB No. 112
(broad inj relief appropriate in view of E's egregious and widespread misconduct where it refused to bargain, unlawfully discharged Ees, granted pay raises to discourage support for U, threatened to close facility, proposed to Ee that they convert their status to independent contractors, and threatening to lock Ees out)

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(narrow rather than broad order appropriate where E had not been shown to have proclivity to violate Act, or to have engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

General Rental Co. d/b/a Avis Rent–A–Car 247 NLRB No. 188
(narrow injunctive order rather than broad order, appropriate where, although E's ULP included discharge of Ee because of his U activities, U had not been shown that E had proclivity to violate Act or had engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(broad order appropriate where E's refusal to negotiate contract pay rates for U's new members culminated in transparent turnover of all company activities to alter ego solely to abrogate its statutory obligations in general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights, E's action was exacerbated by deplorable techniques used in individual bargaining with Ees to lower their pay rates, and by making Ees choose between lower or higher take home pay, depending on inclusion of benefits; and mere fact that E had no prior record of ULPs does not, in itself, dissipate egregiousness of E's conduct)

5025-3345 ULPs indicate general opposition to purposes and policies of Act

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(broad c/d order warranted by reason of wholesale discharges and other discriminations at all plants involved, graphically displaying E's propensity generally to violate Act)

5025-3354 Unlawful conduct continued after settlement agreement

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1180 (Kenneth E. Mason, an Individual) 263 NLRB No. 134
(broad c/d order not warranted, notwithstanding Respondent had twice previously entered into informal settlement agreements involving identical alleged misconduct, since informal settlement agreement not basis for finding proclivity to violate Act)

5025-3372 Planned program of using unlawful tactics

Mazda of Anchorage 253 NLRB No. 112
(broad inj relief appropriate in view of E's egregious and widespread misconduct where it refused to bargain, unlawfully discharged Ees, granted pay raises to discourage support for U, threatened to close facility, proposed to Ee that they convert their status to independent contractors, and threatening to lock Ees out)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd has power-and indeed obligation-to take into account history of recalcitrance in designing remedial order)

5025-3379 Discriminatory conduct of a serious nature

Rodeway Inn of Las Vegas 252 NLRB No. 053
(in light of standards set forth in Hickmott Foods, Inc. and widespread misconduct of E which clearly demonstrates general disregard for its Ees' fundamental statutory rights, Bd used broad inj language in any other manner)

5025-6700 Narrow orders

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055
(E's violations which included unlawful subcontracting, layoffs, interrogations, promises and threats held not to meet test of egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' statutory rights, and only like or related conduct proscribed rather than broad c/d order issued)

5025-6701 Generally

Fall River Savings Bank 260 NLRB No. 125
(violations which included unilateral elimination of compensatory time-off for Saturday overtime, and unilateral institution of 6-day work week, and constructive discharge of Ee by forcing her resignation due to this 6-day work week held not to justify broad order)

United States Postal Service 250 NLRB No. 156
(narrow order substituted for broad order where E made threats of disciplinary action in violation of 8(a)(1))

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(narrow rather than broad order appropriate where E had not been shown to have proclivity to violate Act, or to have engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Wyman-Gordon Company v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 134 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(broad order not necessary where major violation overruled)

5025-6770 No history of previous ULPs

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(notwithstanding that Bd's affirmative remedies may appear punitive in context of individual case concerning recidivist violators of Act, they are clearly remedial, and are therefore proper, in context of total conduct of recidivist violator)

5025-6775 No proclivity to violate Act shown

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(Bd issued narrow instead of broad c/d order recommended by ALJ because E's conduct goes to the heart of the Act, since this is insufficient basis upon which to grant broad c/d order where it was not shown that E had proclivity to violate Act or engaged in such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106
(Bd modified ALJ's language in any other like manner, which is akin to broad language in any other manner, by substituting in any like or related manner, since ALJ's broad injunctive language was not appropriate where E had not demonstrated proclivity to violate Act nor had engaged in conduct so widespread as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

5050 PERSONS BOUND BY ORDER

5050-0800 Persons not named in charge

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Section 10(b) does not preclude liability of two corporations which were not named or served with amended charge until 7 months after alleged violation where they were held to be single E with corporation named and served w/i 10(b) period)

5050-1000 Persons not named in complaint

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 092
(neither E association nor E-member held liable for U's action in unlawfully requesting that members of sister Us, who had been referred out of U's hiring hall quit their jobs in favor of unemployed members of U inasmuch as complaint did not specify either one as respondent with respect to incident and their liability was not fully litigated)

N.L.R.B. v. Wayne Electric, Inc., Electrical Installation and Services, and Wayne E. Steward 636 F.2d 1227(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(owner of two businesses both of which found guilty of ULP's liable for backpay award notwithstanding he was not specifically named as party because obligations of proprietorship are obligations of its owner)

5050-1500 Successor employers

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(successor E liable for unremedied ULPs of predecessor E where it had actual notice of ULPs of predecessor. It is unnecessary that ULP charges be filed prior to takeover, but successor E must have notice of facts of ULP at time of take over of operation)

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(successor E bears responsible for remedying unlawful discharge by predecessor E where it failed to meet its burden of establishing it was w/o knowledge of predecessor's ULPs at time it took over operation, and those individuals who made decision to discharge Ee worked for successor and successor admitted reason it did not offer reinstatement to dischargee was her unlawful discharge)

Petros Coal Corporation and Blue Coal Corporation 257 NLRB No. 016
(mtn for summary judgment granted and backpay specification deemed admitted as true where E, found successor herein, failed to file answer; E and successor E held jointly and severely responsible for back pay remedy)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 094
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held Es' general denials of allegation in specification regarding their status as successor Es were sufficient to require hearing on whether they are successors obligated to remedy ULPs herein, since they were not made parties to underlying ULP proceedings and thus never had opportunity to present evidence at hearing as to their liability)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(E, as successor, held not liable for predecessor's 8(a)(5) ULPs since E was unaware of predecessor's ULP litigation; fact that predecessor's shop superintendent, who had knowledge of ULP litigation, continued to work for E has no probative value in establishing E's knowledge prior to its employment of superintendent; pendency of ULP charge against predecessor for several months before business changed hands does not warrant inference that E was aware of charge; and sales agreements indemnification provisions did not refer to ULP charge and limited indemnification to amount in excess of money involved in ULP litigation)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(although under State laws applicable herein surviving corporation is liable for obligations of disappearing corporation, ALJ, in light of SCt's Golden State Bottling case, held that successor E w/o knowledge of predecessor's ULP litigation is not obligated under Act to remedy predecessor's ULPs, unless successor has expressly contracted to do so)

Winco Petroleum and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 242 NLRB No. 150
(order requiring successor E to bargain with predecessor's U, held appropriate, where predecessor voluntarily recognized and bargained with U, violated 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) and was required under Gissel to bargain with U, and successor E purchased predecessor's business with actual knowledge of predecessor's ULPs)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(successor E responsible for remedying its predecessors refusal to bargain where it purchased business with full knowledge of predecessor's ULPs)

International Technical Products Corporation, and its Subsidiary, Rel, Inc.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 183
(bankruptcy ct's order allowing successor E to purchase predecessor's assets free of all liens, claims, and encumbrances cannot affect Bd's order which requires that successor E make predecessor's discriminatees whole for backpay due them since, unlike bankruptcy ct's order which affects only assets of bankrupt, Bd order, which enforces public rather than private right, reaches beyond assets of E and attaches to employing entity itself)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(successor E liable for acts of its predecessor where record supported finding that there was substantial identity of interest among Respondents)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. JD-(SF)-227-81
(Respondent which acquired assets of predecessor E, continued its business w/o change or interruption, with same supervisors and Ees, and was aware of ULP charges against E and potential liability at time of sale is successor E and obligated to remedy ULP's of predecessor E)

N.L.R.B. v. Hot Bagels and Donuts of Staten Island, Inc., and Amboy Baking, Inc. 622 F.2d 1113 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(ability to secure reduction in sales price by purchasing corporation because of outstanding Bd order is factor in supporting its policy of enforcing orders against successors; however, here, where purchaser and seller owned by same individual and therefore unlikely to profit from any price reduction, this factor becomes irrelevant)

N.L.R.B. v. Hot Bagels and Donuts of Staten Island, Inc., and Amboy Baking, Inc. 622 F.2d 1113 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(Bd's R/O enforced against successor E who had knowledge of outstanding order as public policy is served because Ees who have been retained by successor will understandably view their job situation as unaltered; thus, those Ees who were witness to predecessor's attempt to chill U activity might well be discouraged from U activity at successor)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(ct held that substantial evidence supported Bd's findings that E who bought company was successor E and obligated to remedy predecessor E's ULPs where (1) successor E acquired company with actual knowledge of pending ULP charges, (2) there was little or no interruption in business operations at company as result of acquisition, (3) successor E continued to operate enterprise w/o substantial change, and (4) a majority of successor E's Ees at acquired enterprise were predecessor E's Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(Bd properly applied principles of Golden State Bottling Co. in issuing bargaining order against successor E where predecessor voluntarily recognized U and then unlawfully repudiated its recognition, successor had actual knowledge of pending ULP proceedings when it acquired enterprise, successor E retained predecessor's Ees in same positions, successor operated enterprise with little or no interruption and w/o substantial change, and predecessor's Ees constituted majority of successor's Ees in relevant bargaining unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(ct recognized that the consequence of finding successorship under Golden State Bottling Co., successor E must remedy ULPs committed by predecessor although successor E had not been found guilty of committing any ULPs itself)

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(substantial evidence supported ALJ's finding that circumstances were appropriate to impose upon successor E duty to remedy predecessor E's ULPs)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(modified order was not addressed to successor E where sucessor E had already done what original order would have required to be done)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(in proper case Bd may order successor E which has not violated Act to remedy its predecessor's ULPs)

5050-3400 Multi-employer association

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 092
(E association and E-member held not liable for U's unlawful conduct in discriminating against U members in matter of placement on exclusive hiring hall referral list where adequate safeguards were present in form of appeals committee arbitration procedure provided for in contract; consequently, Es had not turned over their hiring practices to U so as to subject themselves to absolute liability for all wrongful acts of U)

5050-3800 Members of multi-employer association

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 092
(E association and E-member held not liable for U's unlawful conduct in discriminating against U members in matter of placement on exclusive hiring hall referral list where adequate safeguards were present in form of appeals committee arbitration procedure provided for in contract; consequently, Es had not turned over their hiring practices to U so as to subject themselves to absolute liability for all wrongful acts of U)

5050-5700 Partners

N.L.R.B. v. Wayne Electric, Inc., Electrical Installation and Services, and Wayne E. Steward 636 F.2d 1227(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(owner of two businesses both of which found guilty of ULP's liable for backpay award notwithstanding he was not specifically named as party because obligations of proprietorship are obligations of its owner)

5050-6200 Receiver or trustee in bankruptcy

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seeburg Corporation and Seeburg Service Parts Co., a single employer 259 NLRB 105
(where E terminated operations suddenly due to order of trustee in bankruptcy, Ees who were laid off after trustee took over and those employed at date of shutdown entitled to backpay for E's refusal to bargain over effects of closing because E still had valuable assets which would have given U some measure of bargaining power and shutdown was not because of calamitous event)

Retail Delivery Service, Inc., and Robert A. Baime, Esq. JD-486-80
(as receiver of E under Bankruptcy Act and trustee in bankruptcy, named individual has been successor in law or alter ego of E, and Bd's order of reparation for backpay due Ee is provable against said trustee as debt of bankrupt E owed to Bd as agent for Ee)

Belair Chalmers Hospital, Inc., d/b/a University Heights Hospital JD-(SF)-213-80
(trustee in bankruptcy derivatively liable for bankrupt E hospital's unlawful discharges where trustee knew of claims of unlawfully discharged Ees and had ample opportunity to shield itself against continuing accrual of backpay by offering reinstatement to claimants, course it deliberately eschewed)

5050-7200 Local union

Local 513, Plumbers (Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of the Twin Cities (Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, MI)) 264 NLRB No. 059
(where business agent of 1 local held agent of 2 other locals, and acting pursuant to this agency he violated Act, his local held liable for backpay because while committing proscribed acts he was doing so in his capacity as representative of his own local)

5050-7400 Single integrated enterprise

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Section 10(b) does not preclude liability of two corporations which were not named or served with amended charge until 7 months after alleged violation where they were held to be single E with corporation named and served w/i 10(b) period)

5050-7600 Joint employers

Industrial Personnel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 226 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(ct enforced order requiring manufacturing company and personnel company providing drivers for manufacturing company's trucking operations to bargain on joint-E basis with U which had contract with personnel company at time companies entered into agreement for providing drivers and now sought to represent drivers of both companies)

5050-7900 Alter ego

Master Food Services, Inc., Noah Robinson, and Al Williams d/b/a A & W Catering Co. 262 NLRB No. 105
(sole stockholder who personally controlled operation of company who managed college cafeteria held personally liable as alter ego)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R.L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(individual d/b/a sole proprietorship, liable notwithstanding he was not respondent in underlying ULP case since he was found herein to be alter ego of respondent company, where he had discontinued that company's operations and formed sole proprietorship after issuance of Bd decision in the ULP case)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(individual who operated his business under variety and succession of corporate names and structures each of which, had been alter egos held individually liable for ULPs he personally committed; circumstances warranted piercing corporate veil where individual threatened to close down and reopen under new name as he had done in past)

5050-8100 Employers jointly engaging in ULPs

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Section 10(b) does not preclude liability of two corporations which were not named or served with amended charge until 7 months after alleged violation where they were held to be single E with corporation named and served w/i 10(b) period)

5050-8300 Unions jointly engaged in ULP

Local Lodge Number 5, Boilermakers (Reger Construction Company, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 105
(international U held equally responsible with local U for violations because of status of international vice president as trustee of local, his awareness of and participation in local's discrimination involved in layoffs of Ees by E, and his condonation and ratification of such acts)

5050-9100 Agents of employer

5050-9137 President of corporation

5050-9137-3300 As individual

G and M Lath and Plaster Co., Inc. and Its Alter Ego, Central Texas Lath & Plastering Inc.; et al. 252 NLRB No. 137
(president and sole stockholder of corporation performing lath and plaster work held personally liable to remedy ULPs)

G and M Lath and Plaster Co., Inc. and Its Alter Ego, Central Texas Lath & Plastering Inc.; et al. 252 NLRB No. 137
(sole proprietor of corporation that supplies plastering and stucco materials held not to be personally liable for ULPs, notwithstanding corporation was alter ego of subcontracting corporation and president of such subcontracting operation was held solely liable, where proprietor of alter ego had no financial interest in corporation prior to receiving its stock in payment of a debt and neither took part in management of nor received any income from project where ULPs were committed)

5050-9137-6700 Liability limited to misconduct in which president actively participated

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(individual who operated his business under variety and succession of corporate names and structures each of which, had been alter egos held individually liable for ULPs he personally committed; circumstances warranted piercing corporate veil where individual threatened to close down and reopen under new name as he had done in past)

5050-9162 Principal stockholder of corporation

Master Food Services, Inc., Noah Robinson, and Al Williams d/b/a A & W Catering Co. 262 NLRB No. 105
(sole stockholder who personally controlled operation of company who managed college cafeteria held personally liable as alter ego)

5050-9600 Agents of union

5050-9656 Trustee of funds

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(welfare, vacation, and pension fund administered by E-U trustees held agent of both E and U for limited purpose of accepting contributions from U ordered by Bd to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits; for such purpose, fund is mere receptacle into which U must pay contributions in order to carry out Bd's backpay order and make Ee-beneficiaries whole for U's ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(limited agency of welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees to receive U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits held not to conflict with common law principles or with ERISA provisions requiring trustees of such fund not be subject to control of any other person or organization, since it does not extend to trustees' decision involving investment of trust funds or determination of eligibility requirements for benefits)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 406 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(compliance by welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees, and its acceptance of U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual benefits held to fall squarely w/i fiduciary duty of fund's trustees imposed by ERISA and common law requiring administration of trust solely in interest of its beneficiaries; moreover, trustees have duty to take possession of trust property as soon as reasonably possible)

5062 INDIVIDUAL LIABILITY OF OFFICERS, AGENTS, AND REPRESENTATIVES

Concrete Manufacturing Company and its Directors
(Bd found no merit to E director's assertion that Bd was w/o jurisdiction to determine issues raised by GC's Mtn for Determination of Personal Liability since, in N.L.R.B. v. C.C.C Associates, Inc., et al, 306 F.2d 534 (2d Cir. 1962) it clearly upheld authority of Bd to conduct post-decisional inquiries relating to questions of derivative liability; moreover, in first supplemental decision, Bd reserved jurisdiction to consider issue of personal liability at later date)

Concrete Manufacturing Company and its Directors 262 NLRB No. 092
(Bd found no merit to E director's assertion that Bd was w/o jurisdiction to determine issues raised by GC's Motion for Determination of Personal Liability since, in N.L.R.B. v. C.C.C. Associates, Inc., et al., 306 F.2d 534 (2d Cir. 1962) it clearly upheld authority of Bd to conduct post-decisional inquiries relating to questions of derivative liability; moreover, in first supplemental decision, Bd reserved jurisdiction to consider issue of personal liability at later date)

Concrete Manufacturing Company and its Directors
(action of E president and plant manager, members of E board of directors, directing E president as chairman of retirement committee to distribute retirement plan surplus for personal use of retirement plan's beneficiaries, including E president and plant manager, at time when board had actual knowledge of Bd's Decision providing for backpay to discriminatees and conversion of assets by E president and plant manager to their own personal use, warranted piercing corporate veil, and imposing personal liability on them to satisfy Bd's ct-enforced backpay order)

Concrete Manufacturing Company and its Directors 262 NLRB No. 092
(action of E president and plant manager, members of E board of directors, directing E president as chairman of retirement committee to distribute retirement plan surplus for personal use of retirement plan's beneficiaries, including E president and plant manager, at time when board had actual knowledge of Bd's Decision providing for backpay to discriminatees and conversion of assets by E president and plant manager to their own personal use, warranted piercing corporate veil, and imposing personal liability on them to satisfy Bd's ct-enforced backpay order)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 002
(mtn granted dismissing former owner and president of corporation as individual respondent where he was not individually alter ego of single integrated enterprise which, resulted from corporaton's acquisition of another corporations stock)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(individual who operated his business under variety and succession of corporate names and structures each of which, had been alter egos held individually liable for ULPs he personally committed; circumstances warranted piercing corporate veil where individual threatened to close down and reopen under new name as he had done in past)

Ardizzoni v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 130 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(clause in decree (E, its officers, agents, successors, and assigns, abide by and perform) effectuating Bd order necessary as integral part of judgment issued by ct upholding and enforcing Bd order, w/o such direction Bd incapable of effectuating its ct affirmed order)

5075 TERRITORIAL SCOPE OF ORDERS

5075-1100 Limited to plant or plants where ULPs occurred

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(extraordinary remedy that Respondent be required to post notices at 4 job sites involved in instant case and at all of its other construction sites w/i the continental U.S. held unnecessary, since circumstances (ULPs ordered by high-level supervision) which were present in Daniel Construction Company, a Division of Daniel International Corporation, 244 NLRB No. 106, did not appear to be present in instant case)

Arkansas-Best Freight System, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 063
(Bd limited rescision of E's policy statement and concurrent posting of appropriate notice, solely to facility involved in present proceeding since record is devoid of evidence indicating that E's policy statement was posted or implemented at any of its other facilities)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(E who unlawfully withdrew recognition from U with which it had short-form agreement for particular job site required only to apply terms of master agreement consistent with short-form agreement and only to job site involved herein)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 004
(rather than encompassing all of E's operations which are subject to Bd's jurisdiction)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(direct plant access for U organizers as remedy limited to site of ULP, but not warranted unless alternative means of access are clearly unavailable or have been tried and found wanting)

5075-2200 All of employer's plants

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's refusal of U's request for companywide bargaining order held properly supported by evidence)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct upheld corporate-wide remedies imposed by Bd in light of E's extraordinary history of lawlessness)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct recognizes that Bd can order E to cease ULPs at its other plants on proof of violation at one location when company-wide policy is involved)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(well-coordinated unlawful campaign at one plant may produce chilling effects throughout corporate structure)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access as remedial measure at unorganized plants (of E) may be predicated on Bd's finding that E's unlawful bargaining strategy at organized plant has chilled Ee rights at (E's) unorganized plants; access is ordered to remedy effects of unlawful behavior and not to punish or deter E)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(history alone could not justify relief (corporatewide access) ordered in instant case, since statements concerning E's continuing pattern of unlawful conduct were insufficient to substantiate conclusion that corporatewide access was needed to offset coercive or chilling effects produced corporatewide by unlawful conduct of E)

5075-3300 All of employer's construction

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062
(Bd ordered that Respondents c/d from threatening and picketing with object of forcing or requiring Es, or inducing and encouraging Ees, in violation of Sections 8(b)(4)(i) and (ii), to cease d/b/b with non-U contractor generally rather than only at construction projects at which violations took place herein)

Wright & Lopez of Alabama 250 NLRB No. 051
(Bd included construction contractor's geographic locations in its unit description that were included in commerce statement and Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election agreement duly executed by E, notwithstanding E denied doing business at one location described; E could move to amend certification in appropriate proceeding)

5087 TIME LIMITATION OF ORDER

Land Equipment Inc. 248 NLRB No. 098
(order applying contract retroactively to date it was signed including period beyond 10(b) period, appropriate where respondent had actively attempted to conceal from U 1)existence of one company it had formed to supply labor to its other company with which U had contract and 2) fact that some Ees dispatched by U to latter company appeared on former company's payroll)

7500 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

7512 CLEAN HANDS DOCTRINE

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's contention that estoppel exists as result of actions by Bd, GC, and U whereby E was deprived of right to hearing on U's objections to election, and hearing on complaint issued against U and, consequently, GC and U do not seek bargaining order with clean hands, rejected, where there was no impropriety on U's part or any irregularity in actions of Bd or GC, E did not show it had any right to hearing on objections or to require that GC not settle complaint against U, and this is not proper forum for assessing remedy against U)

7515 LACHES

7515—Cont.

C & D Transfer 253 NLRB No. 080
(Bd rejected E argument that backpay should not be computed from date of discharge because approximately 2 years had elapsed from date charge was filed until date of ALJ decision since laches is not defense to backpay obligation)

7516 DELAY IN BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Mr. B. IGA, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 111
(more than 3-year delay from time of processing E's objections to election in R case to time of mtn for summary judgment in C case, during which 3 of E's 4 stores were sold, number of Ees in unit was reduced from 19 to 3 and complete turnover of Ees in unit, not defense to mtn where Bd's affirmance of RD's Supplemental Decision clearly indicated that issues were considered by Bd; delay not special circumstance requiring Bd to reexamine its decision in underlying R case)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(long delay between filing C and action of Bd in ordering Gissell remedy, rather than 3rd election, made its imposition in instant case abuse of Bd discretion w/i meaning of Clark's Gamble Corp. v. NLRB 422 F.2d 845 (6th Cir.), cert. denied, 400 U.S. 867 (1970))

7518 TRIVIALITY OF VIOLATION

Ray-Lec, A Division of Genuine Parts Company 265 NLRB No. 211

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004
(even if E's conduct in promulgating and posting of no-solicitation, no-distribution, no-access rules, herein found unlawful, was minimal, remedial order warranted, notwithstanding fact that rules are no longer posted on company bulletin boards, where rule remained in Ee handbook and de minimis issue is not present)

East Bay Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a Contra Costa Times 265 NLRB No. 076
(where E technically violated Act by maintaining no-solicitation rule which failed to specify that Ees were free to engage in solicitation during working time, but promptly upon learning of change in Bd law promulgated announcement reflecting change to allow Ees to solicit during non-work time, no remedy is necessary)

Robert King d/b/a Regency At The Rodeway Inn 255 NLRB No. 133
(supervisor's questioning of Ee as to whether she knew who was passing around U ptn violative and not so de minimis as to require no remedial order notwithstanding U activity had ended by time of interrogation, E engaged in no other unlawful acts, statutory rights of only 1 Ee violated and that Ee did not communicate that fact to other Ees)

Foundation of California State University, Sacramento 255 NLRB No. 029
(c/d order necessary to remedy E's threats, made after U demanded recogniton, to enforce schedule and attendance policies more strictly if U came in and predictions of detrimental consequences of U's wage demands, notwithstanding contention R/O not warranted in view of triviality of violations and subsequent certification of U)

Campbell Industries JD-(SF)-108-81
(no necessity for remedial order for violation of Section 8(b)(1)(A), since violation stood in isolation and U, in instant case, was guilty of no other transgression of statute; Local 100, Transport Workers of America, AFL-CIO (Liberty Coaches, Inc.,) 230 NLRB 536 (1977) controlling; U perpetrated technical violation of 8(b)(1)(A))

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1445, United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO (Gallahue's Supermarkets) 647 F.2d 214 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(U's contention that its failure to notify Ees of their dues obligations before demanding discharge of nonpaying Ees, to whom U's discharge demands were never communicated and none of whom was fired, was such a minor violation as to not warrant enforcement of Bd order, rejected; Bd's discretion in framing remedies is broad and in absence of abuse of that discretion ct should defer to Bd's judgment)

Skrl Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 1218 (C.A. 6, June 1981)
(E's unlawful statements and denial of overtime to Ee when considered in context of record as a whole and, since isolated, were not sufficient to support finding E was not bargaining in good faith, and did not convert economic strike to ULP strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(where Bd did not seriously challenge ALJ's finding that interrogation was isolated and minimal, issuance of remedial order was abuse of Bd's discretion, notwithstanding Bd's selection of remedy entitled to great deference)

7524 CURRENT OR ANTICIPATED LITIGATION

Maywood Do-Nut Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 072
(request to dismiss complaint or stay proceedings alleging refusal to furnish information on wage rates and Ee benefits, pending Circuit Ct decision prior 8(a)(5) case denied, as pendency of collateral litigation does not suspend E's duty to bargain)

7530 SETTLEMENT OR WITHDRAWAL OF CHARGES

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(no violation where ULP was remedied by informal settlement agreement entered into in prior case covering same time period as instant case involving same E but different charging party and unit; RD had never set aside this settlement agreement; E had fully remedied ULP regarding invalid no-solicitation; no-distribution rules and it would not effectuate policies of act to find violation in this regard in instant case)

Hedison Manufacturing Co. 260 NLRB No. 137
(where parties engaged in collective bargaining subsequent to Bd order in prior case which effectively remedies ULP's found in this case, and filed joint mtn to modify ALJ recommended order in this case, this is in effect settlement agreement and since GC does not oppose mtn, Bd grants mtn of parties)

Chassen Brothers, Inc., d/b/a Ann's-Schneider Bakery 259 NLRB No. 162
(where RD set aside settlement agreement based on ULP allegations agreement reinstated after Bd found no evidence of ULP's)

7539 NO NEED FOR REMEDY IN VIEW OF EXISTING BARGAINING SITUATION

International Brotherhood of Painters and Allied Trades, Local Union No. 567 (Painting & Decorating Contractors of California and Nevada, Inc., Reno Chapter) 263 NLRB No. 180
(no violation, since any unlawful refusal by U to consider E's proposals for contract changes cured by fact parties untimately bargained and reached contract, notwithstanding differing interpretations of reopener clause which U initially contended justified its refusal to consider E's proposals since only U had given notice of intent to negotiate changes in agreement, and in its view any party wishing to make changes in agreement must notify other party 90 days before expiration of agreement)

Foundation of California State University, Sacramento 255 NLRB No. 029
(c/d order necessary to remedy E's threats, made after U demanded recogniton, to enforce schedule and attendance policies more strictly if U came in and predictions of detrimental consequences of U's wage demands, notwithstanding contention R/O not warranted in view of triviality of violations and subsequent certification of U)

7540 ACTIONS NOT BASED ON UNION ANIMUS

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discriminatees' asserted misconduct did not bar their reinstatement with backpay where E's violations were egregious; and Ees' conduct was not of quality or extent that might reasonably be thought to threaten future amicable relations between E and Ees; E acted with flagrant disregard for its Ees' rights under Act refusal (by Bd) to reinstate discriminatee would put premium on E's misconduct)

7542 ECONOMIC OR OTHER HARDSHIP

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(backpay awarded to those laid off Ees adversely affected by E's unilaterally adopted change in policy regarding seniority viz a viz layoff, notwithstanding E's financial position and that layoff decision was for economic reasons, since E's unlawful change resulted in different Ees being laid off and those victimized by change should be compensated; determination of specific reinstatements and backpay left to compliance stage)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 053
(U given option of requiring compliance by E with terms and conditions of labor agreement negotiated between it and multi-E bargaining association, or individually negotiating separate agreement with E, where compliance with Bd's order could cause E to cease business, hurting all its Ees and community at large)

Friday Canning Corporation 258 NLRB No. 052
(E's defense to order requiring it to reopen migrant labor camp on grounds of economic loss and camp has been torn down may be raised in compliance proceeding)

Acme Wire Works, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 209
(E's argument that if it had been required to pay amount specified in backpay proceeding it would have been forced out of business speculative; E bound by terms of collective-bargaining agreement)

7542—Cont.

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-86-81

(costliness insufficient reason to refuse remedy to correct effects of ULP)

Reliable Roofing Company, Inc. JD-237-81

(there is no authority which requires or even permits dismissal of C on basis that E's compliance with Bd's bargaining order, particularly financial obligations attached thereto, would cause E's bankruptcy; Bd has rejected defenses based upon defunctness of a business enterprise or its inability to satisfy monetary liabilities imposed by its order, and has held that uncollectability of judgment is not basis for absolving E from liability; Bd's order enforces a public rather than a private right and order is fashioned w/o regard to wrongdoer's past, present, or future state of assets)

Reliable Roofing Company, Inc. JD-237-81

(where compliance with financial obligations imposed by Bd order threatens E's continued viability, appropriate adjustments in financial liability with proper assessment of priorities must be made at compliance stage; dismissal of C in mitigation of order's effect on E would deny charging party and public benefits of remainder of Bd's negative and affirmative remedial provisions, and E's obligation is to comply with as much of Bd order as it can)

Reliable Roofing Company, Inc. JD-237-81

(contention that E's compliance with Bd order imposing financial obligations on E would cause E's bankruptcy, and thereby would hurt Ees, other creditors, and community at large, rejected; there is no reason why Ees who were harmed by E's wrongful conduct should bear burden of those losses for benefit of others who were not so wronged; relieving debtor of its obligations would deprive affected Ees of compensation for their losses, while enabling E, at Ees' expense, to consummate what may be more favorable arrangement with its other creditors)

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 633 (C.A. 2, Aug. 1982)

(E's contention that compliance with Bd order requiring E to furnish information requested by U for arbitration requested by U for arbitration of grievance resulting from suspension of Ee would be unduly burdensome because it would require search of thousands of files rejected, where E's own personnel guide instructed supervisors to check with personnel department for data on previous suspensions in order to avoid disparity; and ALJ made clear that order did not require search of thousands of files and that problems of burdensomeness could be dealt with in compliance stage)

N.L.R.B. v. Atlantic International Corporation and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Atlantic Manufacturing Corporation and Atlantic Marketing Corporation 664 F.2d 1231 (C.A. 4, Nov. 1981)

(make-whole remedy ordered by Bd was properly w/i its broad discretion even considering critical financial condition of E)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(ct refused to enforce Bd's order to reestablish its trucking operation where E had unlawfully sold trucks, discharged drivers, and contracted out hauling since major capital expense involved would put undue burden on E in view of its small size and slim profit margin)

7554 FEDERAL, STATE OR LOCAL LAWS

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(anyone sued upon a contract may set up as a defense that it is a violation of Act of Congress, and if found to be so, that fact will constitute a good defense to the action—; a defendant proferring defense of illegal contract seeks only to be relieved of an illegal obligation and does not ask any affirmative remedy based on antitrust or labor laws)

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-81

(Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens knowingly hired by E. Contention against public policy since US immigration law prohibits individual who does not have green card from engaging in employment and reinstatement would require E to violate state law which prohibits knowingly employing alien not entitled to lawful residence in US if such employment would have adverse effect on lawful resident workers rejected. Illegal alien not exception to employee in Act. Bd has no expertise or authority in immigration, and it has not been determined by state SCt whether state law is enforceable as in conflict with US immigration law.)

7560 GENERAL COUNSEL'S FAILURE TO REQUEST REMEDY

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 054

(absent any request by GC for order requiring reinstatement of status quo ante in case involving unlawful refusal by E to bargain over subcontracting of unit work, and absent allegations or evidence of unilateral action by E, order requiring unit Ees to be made whole held unwarranted)

Continental Air Transport Co., Inc. JD-128-82

(reinstatement and backpay not precluded by GC's failure to seek such relief in C where after GC's request for remedy E was offered opportunity to provide reasonably specific statement of any evidence it wished to produce in connection with appropriateness of remedy; nothing in Bd's rules requires that GC include in C remedy he seeks and even if GC represents to ALJ that no relief is being sought as to particular Ee, this does not preclude Bd from requiring E to offer reinstatement and backpay)

7563 GENERAL COUNSEL'S FAILURE TO ALLEGE VIOLATION OR TAKE EXCEPTION

Richdel, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 064

(R/O not necessary assuming supervisor's remark to Ee that another Ee could get fired for forming U was unlawful, where remark was not alleged to be violation nor was it subject of exception)

7575 RESPONDENT'S SUBSEQUENT COMPLIANCE WITH ACT

Alle Arecibo Corporation and Alle Industries Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 163

(E's responding to threat of ULP charge by supplying U most of information it originally requested warranted R/O prohibiting repeat performance by E since compliance has never been defense to ULP allegation)

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 128

(no-solicitation rule which was not limited to worktime presumptively invalid as is no distribution rule not limited to work areas; moreover, R/O is appropriate notwithstanding E changed the rules where he made no announcements to Ees of any change and did not assure Ees that in future he would not interfere with their Sec. 7 rights; additionally, fact that former rules have not been enforced for substantial period of time does not remove necessity for such order)

Service Spring Company, A Division of Garlock, Inc., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries 263 NLRB No. 103

(telling Ees they could not wear U insignia violative and although E later told Ees they could wear such insignia, this retraction does not fully remedy ULP and remedial order appropriate)

The Broyhill Company 260 NLRB No. 183

(posting of notice that disavowed supervisor's unlawful statements, declared it would not in that manner or any other manner interfere with Ees' Sec. 7 rights, and named those rights on day after E learned of said statements obviated need for additional remedial action; posting 5 weeks after ULP was timely and sooner than posting in litigated cases; publication was adequate where notice was on E's bulletin board and 3 Ees testified to seeing it–to imply that other Ees might have had no chance to see it was speculation; and notice was sufficiently specific although it did not name supervisor or mention circumstances, since Bd notices do not do so)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(ct rejected E's contention that Bd wrongly failed to consider as mitigating factor its voluntary actions aimed at insuring compliance with Act where E's present voluntary action is no guaranty of future compliance; furthermore, ct noted that ct-enforced order provides substantially greater protection to Ees)

7584 RESPONDENT'S LIMITED FINANCIAL RESOURCES

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(ct refused to enforce Bd's order to reestablish its trucking operation where E had unlawfully sold trucks, discharged drivers, and contracted out hauling since major capital expense involved would put undue burden on E in view of its small size and slim profit margin)

7585 NO LOSS SUFFERED

Hanes Corporation 260 NLRB No. 077

(where E violated Act by refusing to bargain over discretionary aspects of its non violative unilateral decision to layoff Ees, make-whole remedy is inappropriate as layoffs were inevitable and no basis on which to predicate a finding that any identifiable Ee suffered loss of pay; moreover, situation is analogous to refusal to bargain over effects of plant closure where there was no duty to bargain over decision to close, backpay remedy runs only from time of Bd decision; here, cause of loss of pay, the layoff, has long since ended so consequently, no loss of pay can be suffered after this decision)

7590 MOOTNESS

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 258 NLRB No. 142

(finding Mister Softee case inapposite and relying on Georgia Hosiery Mills case, Bd held E's removal of unlawfully imposed written warnings from personnel files of Ees involved did not moot matter or obviate need for appropriate remedy)

Strite-Anderson Mfg. JD-178-82

(E's admitted refusal to bargain, after contract expired, because of U's pending ULP charges, unlawful; no remedy ordered, however, since bargaining obligation had been rendered moot because U was no longer majority representative and to bargain with minority representative would have been unlawful)

7590—Cont.

7590-0100 Generally

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(ct held Bd's reinstatement order not mooted by E's partial compliance)

7590-0900 Compliance with ALJ's decision or settlement agreement

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(no violation where ULP was remedied by informal settlement agreement entered into in prior case covering same time period as instant case involving same E but different charging party and unit; RD had never set aside this settlement agreement; E had fully remedied ULP regarding invalid no-solicitation; no-distribution rules and it would not effectuate policies of act to find violation in this regard in instant case)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-273-79
(settlement reinstated where complaint alleged conduct that occured before and after settlement agreement, and though all allegations fully litigated, finding of no violations relatinng to post settlement allegations established that E had fully complied with settlement agreement)

7590-1000 Compliance with Board decision

N.L.R.B. v. Fourco Glass Company, Rolland Division 646 F.2d 863 (C.A. 4, Apr 1981)
(although E violated Act by unilaterally terminating incentive pay program and implementing new wage plan with new hourly rate, Bd order was moot as E and U renegotiated their contract in light of E's economic difficulties)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(E's sale of plant to unrelated successor who fulfilled all requirements of Bd order did notrender order moot)

7590-1400 Revision or rescission of invalid rule

East Bay Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a Contra Costa Times 263 NLRB No. 076
(where E technically violated Act by maintaining no-solicitation rule which failed to specify that Ees were free to engage in solicitation during working time, but promptly upon learning of change in Bd law promulgated announcement reflecting change to allow Ees to solicit during non-work time, no remedy is necessary)

Charleston Area Medical Center, Inc. JD-405-82
(although E had maintained violative no-solicitation rule, where rule was corrected 1 year prior to U campaign, and in any event was never enforced, then there is no current violation)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-29-81
(E's contention that no cease-and-desist order or remedial order is necessary because it has rescinded its no-soliciation and no-distribution rules and has not attempted to enforce them rejected, since, it has not published any recision, rescinded the rules or attempted to rescind them)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)
(charging party and Bd entitled to relief despite apparent mootness or duplication of remedies which might result from promulgation of new distribution policy--pursuant to ct order--that E claims was made, especially where as here E continually has eschewed voluntary relief and has evidenced unconcern for Bd orders)

7590-1800 Change in ownership or management of business

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-86-81
(failure of successor to pay vacation and sick benefits accrued under predecessor's contract, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(E's sale of plant to unrelated successor who fulfilled all requirements of Bd order did notrender order moot)

7590-2700 Discontinuance of business

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 675 (C.A. 3, Feb 19, 1981)
(although ct affd Bd finding that E's failure to bargain over decision to close facility violated Act, ct denied enforcement of Bd's bargaining order in that it would require E to engage in futile activity; ct decision to deny enforcement was w/o prejudice to Bd to commence additional proceedings to develop futility issue and order another remedy)

7590-3100 Discontinuance of illegal conduct

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. 008
(institution of new hiring hall procedures and referral system subsequent to issuance of complaint alleging operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner did not obviate need for remedial order since discontinuance of ULP does not dissipate its effect)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1445, United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO (Gallahue's Supermarkets) 647 F.2d 214 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(Bd order enforced notwithstanding that U had ceased its unlawful activity of failing to inform Ees of their dues obligations before demanding discharge of nonpaying Ees; Bd enforcement action is mooted only when party can establish that there is no reasonable expectation that wrong will be repeated; U has not conceded illegality of its conduct; and Bd may reasonably desire finality of judicial resolution of its own decisions as well as a ct order to serve as pointed deterrent against resumption of illegal practices)

7590-8100 Repudiation of threats of reprisal or promises of benefit

Lake Development Management Co. 259 NLRB No. 069
(E's threat to discharge Ees for U activity during discussion with Ee concerning U meeting, violative notwithstanding E's contention that threat was effectively retracted, since E's subsequent statement to Ees that they could attend U meetings w/o fear of termination was not effective repudiation of E's unlawful conduct, where E's statement did not disavow E's threat as unlawful, disavow E's other contemporaneous unlawful conduct, or give assurances to Ees that E in future would not interfere with Sec. 7 rights)

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(contention that assurances by E that plant would not close down if U came in, effectively retracted statement made by plant manager that plant would be closed down in event of unionization, rejected; although there was adequate publication of E's statement, it was not timely, having been delayed for a month from time of manager's statement so that Ees could fully ponder impact of manager's threat and threats to the same effect by other supervisors; moreover, E admitted no wrongdoing and did not assure Ees that in future E would not interfere with Ees' rights by such coercive conduct; nor did he address other violative conduct by other supervisors)

United States Postal Service 253 NLRB No. 158
(E's prompt ameliorative action in posting notice disclaiming any intent to induce Ees to relinquish right to file grievances as result of excellence awards issued to some Ees partly because they had not filed grievances, herein found to constitute unlawful implied promise of benefits to other Ees, held not to preclude issuance of remedial order, since notice failed to recognize unlawful nature of E's actions and to assure Ees that E will not in future engage in similar conduct, and E did little more than reassert right to issue unlawful awards)

7596 CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES

7596-0800 Change in Board policy

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(case remanded to Bd where Bd decision left ct uncertain about basis of its award for litigation expenses; Bd should explicate more fully its reasons for requiring reimbursement in instant case as Bd required to make reasoned explanation for departing from its precedents)

7596-1200 Intervening court decision

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where Bd issued bargaining order and ct set it aside, remanding to Bd for further proceedings and Bd reinstated bargaining order, ct affirmed Bd, E's institution of new plant rules while bargaining order set aside violative as Bd may make bargaining order retroactive to date U achieved majority status)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 667 F.2d 1170 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(Bd order requiring E to bargain over all future closings of any department, too broad in light of subsequent SCt decision that economically motivated decision to shut down part of business was not mandatory subject of bargaining and refusal to bargain over it did not violate duty to bargain; only portion of order concerning department whose closing was motivated by antiU animus enforced)

7596-2400 Bankruptcy

Construction Erectors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 095
(notwithstanding E filed voluntary ptn under chapter 7 of Bankruptcy Code and E is currently defunct, Bd issued R/O. Mere discontinuance in business does not render moot issues of ULP's alleged against E)

Polar Air Sheet Metal Company 264 NLRB No. 172
(where E filed ptn in bankruptcy after unlawfully failing to sign multi-E agreement, Bd issued traditional order requiring retroactive application of contract and granting make-whole remedy; Bd declined to grant moratorium on E's liability for remedy's monetary provisions, since to do so requires reliance on unwarranted assumptions concerning E's current financial viability; no action was taken on bankruptcy ptn even though filed several months after commission of ULPs; after filing of ptn, E continued operations and kept payroll obligations current; and Bd cannot assume that order will adversely affect E's stability and economic recovery or Ees)

I.S.G. Extrusion Toolings, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 087
(Bd is not deprived of its jurisdiction or authority to process ULP complaint to final disposition notwithstanding adjudication of Respondent as bankrupt)

International Technical Products Corporation, and its Subsidiary, Ral, Inc.; et al. 249 NLRB No. 183
(bankruptcy ct's order allowing successor E to purchase predecessor's assets free of all liens, claims, and encumbrances cannot affect Bd's order which requires that successor E make predecessor's discriminatees whole for backpay due them since, unlike bankruptcy ct's order which affects only assets of bankrupt, Bd order, which enforces public rather than private right, reaches beyond assets of E and attaches to employing entity itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(in finding Bd improperly granted mtn for summary judgment against debtor-in-possession, ct held that debtor's rejection of bargaining agreement would not affect its Sec. 8(d) obligations prior to date of bankruptcy ptn, and monetary claim resulting from Bd order is then governed by bankruptcy law and may be filed as creditor's claim in bankruptcy ct; as to post-bankruptcy ptn charges, Bd must await bankruptcy ct's determination on remand from ct herein before proceeding to consider such charges, and if bankruptcy ct permits rejection, Bd will be precluded from finding any post-ptn ULPs)

Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 9 (C.A. 7, 1980)

7596-2800 Insolvency

N.L.R.B. v. Hot Bagels and Donuts of Staten Island, Inc., and Amboy Baking, Inc. 622 F.2d 1113 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(fact that title to equipment is now vested in bank, and that foreclosure sale intervened between predecessor's disappearance and successor's emergence pose no legal bar to Bd's finding of successorship where employing industry test is met)

7596-4200 Disclaimer of interest by union

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 135
(E's mtn to dismiss all allegations in 8(a)(5) case because RD revoked U's certification based on U's disclaimer of interest in representing Ees, denied, since alleged violation occurred when U was Ee bargaining representative, and subsequent disclaimer by U does not alter fact that E violated Act and that remedy is necessary for such violation)

7596-4400 Discontinuance of business

Construction Erectors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 095
(notwithstanding E filed voluntary ptn under chapter 7 of Bankruptcy Code and E is currently defunct, Bd issued R/O. Mere discontinuance in business does not render moot issues of ULP's alleged against E)

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 675 (C.A. 3, Feb 18, 1981)
(although ct affd Bd finding that E's failure to bargain over decision to close facility violated Act, ct denied enforcement of Bd's bargaining order in that it would require E to engage in futile activity; ct decision to deny enforcement was w/o prejudice to Bd to commence additional proceedings to develop futility issue and order another remedy)

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 247 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(enforcement denied of part of Bd order requiring E to bargain over decision to close one of its plants where, by time of ct review, plant had been abandoned, lease on property had expired, and equipment removed more than three years earlier)

7596-5200 Sale of business

Scott Printing Corporation 249 NLRB No. 134
(Bd's remedy rescinding contract of sale to alter ego appropriate to restore status quo ante, since contract of sale was sham transaction)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(affirmative action ordered tobe taken by E in original order was eliminated from modified order, since that action had already been taken by successor towhom E sold plant)

7596-5900 Agreement between parties

N.L.R.B. v. Fourco Glass Company, Rolland Division 646 F.2d 863 (C.A. 4, Apr 1981)
(although E violated Act by unilaterally terminating incentive pay program and implementing new wage plan with new hourly rate, Bd order was moot as E and U renegotiated their contract in light of E's economic difficulties)

7596-8800 Change in operations

Friday Canning Corporation 255 NLRB No. 053
(E's defense to order requiring it to reopen migrant labor camp on grounds of economic loss and camp has been torn down may be raised in compliance proceeding)

7596-9600 Supervisor who engaged in unfair labor practices no longer employed

N.L.R.B. v. Axton Candy and Tobacco Company 645 F.2d 555 (C.A. 6, Apr 8, 1981)
(bargaining order warranted where U had card majority and in view of E's unlawful threats and granting of wage increases, notwithstanding E's contention of Ee turnover and that supervisor who made unlawful statements had been discharged)

625 ORDERS AGAINST EMPLOYERS

1100 CEASE-AND-DESIST ORDERS

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(c/d order with provision for posting notice only appropriate remedy for E's ULPs which consisted of unilateral transfer of bargaining unit work, refusal to provide information, wage increase and strike misconduct by supervisor where U had lost its majority status since provision otherwise justified requiring affirmative action would remain moot unless U regains its status. However, notice ordered posted indicating E was found to have violated Act)

1133 OMNIBUS CLAUSES

1133-2500 Broad orders (in any other manner)

Author Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(broad c/d order warranted in view of nature of E's ULPs in refusal to reinstate striker, threats to close plant, and surveillance)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(broad order appropriate in instant case in view of E's numerous ULPs (interrogations, threats to close plant and discharge) and their pervasiveness in unit of only 4 Ees; E had engaged in such egregious and widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for its Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization 261 NLRB No. 132
(warranted in view of unlawful discharge of 4 leading U proponents)

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(broad order proper where Respondent originally engaged in ULP 10 years prior to date of decision and has consistently delayed compliance, failed to comply with original D/O, made improper reinstatement offers; moreover, over 15-year-period Respondent has committed unlawful acts in response to attempts by Us to organize its other stores)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters,
Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29,
etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(appropriate in view of numerous 8(a)(1) and (4) violations including two discharges herein and 8(a)(1) discharge in prior case)

Anjo Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161
(warranted in view of E's ULPs including discriminatory discharge on election day and layoffs which had serious impact on Ee complement)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(broad order appropriate in view of E's egregious misconduct demonstrating general disregard for Ees' fundamental statutory rights)

Chicago Magnesium Castings Company 256 NLRB No. 105
(broad order appropriate in view of E's continued pattern of serious unlawful conduct in prior case and here and demonstrated proclivity to violate the Act)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc.,
A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036
(broad order warranted where E's ULP's were of such an egregious nature as to demonstrate E's general disregard for E's fundamental statutory rights)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(broad order issued in view of E's multiple and flagrant violations)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(although bargaining order will issue on remand if ALJ finds card majority, broad order appropriate now in view of interrogation, threats of discharge and plant closure, solicitation of grievances, and denial of wage increase to principal Ee organizer)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054
(broad order warranted where, although E's ULPs perhaps could not be characterized as widespread, they were numerous, varied, and egregious and demonstrated deliberate disregard for Section 7 rights of Ees)

St. Francis Hospital 252 NLRB No. 174
(broad order appropriate where same E had been found to have committed numerous violations of Act 2 years before)

Rodeway Inn of Las Vegas 252 NLRB No. 053
(in light of standards set forth in Hickmott Foods, Inc. and widespread misconduct of E which clearly demonstrates general disregard for its Ees' fundamental statutory rights, Bd used broad inj language in any other manner)

Timet, A Division of Titanium Metals Corporation of America 251 NLRB No. 157
(where unlawfully discharged Ee distributed letter derogatory to E after ALJ issued decision, Ee entitled to reinstatement as letter stated truth about his discharge and repeated his original offer to represent Ees concerning matters of common concern)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116
(broad order warranted in view of egregious nature of E's retaliatory conduct directed at Ees because of their U-related activities and its attempt through unlawful discharges to undermine and destroy U's representative status among unit Ees)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook
Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(appropriate where respondent's unlawful conduct, including interrogation and discharges of 5 Ees, was extensive and reached most of entire Ee complement)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a
EdwardA. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair
Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

Standard Homes, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 146
(broad order inappropriate absent showing of proclivity to violate Act, or egregious and widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' statutory rights)

Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries,
Inc. 249 NLRB No. 047
(nature of E's ULPs warranted issuance of broad cease-and-desist order under standards set forth in Hickmott Foods (directing Ees to observe and report on other Ees' U activities, violative))

Raimund Corsten Co., Inc. d/b/a Raycor Co. 249 NLRB No. 079
(severe nature of E's discharges dissipating one-half of the unit, coupled with other violations, warrants broad injunctive relief--under Hickmott Foods analysis)

Clinton Inn 249 NLRB No. 032
(broad order not warranted)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(order warranted, in view of Es' misconduct that was widespread as to number of violations and egregious as to their nature)

Service Spring Company A Division of Garlock, Inc.
A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries JD-123-82
(broad order warranted where ALJ in prior case recommended broad order, and conduct herein was sufficiently broad and intensive as to demonstrate E's general disregard or hostility to Act: ULPs extended over one year, were committed, approved and condoned by high management officials, continued after U was certified in Bd election and involved violations of Section 8(a)(1), (3) and (4))

1133-5000 Narrow orders (in any like or related manner)

Operating Engineers and Participating Employers
Pre-Apprentice, Apprentice and Journeyman
Affirmative Action Training Fund For Hawaii and Operating Engineers Joint Apprenticeship
Committee For Hawaii 265 NLRB No. 131
(to remedy threat of discharge violative of Section 8(a)(1))

Jackson Dairy Products Company 258 NLRB No. 172
(conduct not egregious enough to warrant broad order)

Tri-State Building and Construction Trades
Council, AFL-CIO (Structures, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 042
(where U particip[illegible] in formal settlement agreement under Sec. 8(b)(7)(B) which did not co[illegible] nonadmissions clause, this is insufficient to warrant broad c/d order in this case involving Sec. 8(b)(7)(C))

1133-5000—Cont.

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 014
(conduct not sufficiently egregious for broad order)

Go-Lightly Footwear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. [illegible]

Saratoga County Economic Opportunity Council, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 074
(notwithstanding E's admissions in its brief and in testimony in defense of specific ULPs before ALJ that it discharged Ees who refused to recant their prior protected concerted activities and that it offered improper support of organizational activities by Ees, Bd found ALJ's broad order unwarranted where matters relied on by ALJ were inadequate to indicate proclivity to violate Act since they were neither alleged nor litigated as violations and E's admissions did not indicate that E would ignore statutory rights of its Ees in future)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038
(order to c/d from in any like or related manner interfering with, restraining, or coercing Ees in exercise of their Section 7 rights not appropriate for Section 8(e) violations not directly involving Section 7 rights)

American Sunroof Corporation; et al. 248 NLRB No. 038
(appropriate absent proclivity to violate Act or such egregious or widespread misconduct as to demonstrate general disregard for Ees' fundamental rights)

Roath Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(Bd order used narrow cease-and-desist language it traditionally provides to remedy 8(a)(3) and (1) violations)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(narrow rather than broad order appropriate, where there was no evidence of continuing organizational activities or of broad scale unlawful activity by E)

1133-7900 Any other labor organization

Elk Brand Manufacturing Company 253 NLRB No. 132
(exception to Bd order that it should be modified to delete phrase any other U held w/o merit; when E has discharged Ee in violation of 8(a)(3) for activities on behalf of particular U, requiring that E to c/d from discriminatory discharges of adherents only of that U would be wholly inadequate to secure Ee rights)

1150 ORDERS ON ISOLATED OR TRIVIAL ULPS

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82
(no remedy warranted for technical violation of 8(a)(1) which was isolated in nature and de minimis)

1167 CEASE-AND-DESIST ORDERS RELATING TO SPECIFIC VIOLATIONS

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 054
(E ordered to c/d from insisting on unlawful placing of limits on scope of bargaining over subcontracting of unit work)

1167-0100 Generally

Trans-State Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 116
(R/O necessary in 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(3) case where Bd found that E made no timely, unambiguous, and specific repudiation of E's unlawful conduct and repudiation was not adequately publicized to Ees)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(notwithstanding unresolved question regarding alleged unlawful discharges, herein remanded to ALJ, Bd issued order requiring E to c/d from engaging in unlawful activity and to bargain with U, since resolution of remanded issue did not affect Bd's conclusion that E's extensive ULPs had tendency to undermine U's majority and to impede election process, where ULPs ranged from discriminatory layoffs, unlawful imposition of conditions for transfer of Ees, threats of reprisal, and acts of surveillance and coercive interrogation directed at substantial number of Ees)

1167-5000 Unilateral and various other actions

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 243 NLRB No. 189
(Bd found c/d, rather than reinstatement with backpay, order appropriate notwithstanding Ee was discharged for conduct that was subject of unlawful investigatory interview, since discharge was for cause and no additional damaging information was obtained in interview)

Pronto Casting Company 243 NLRB No. 047
(unilaterally discontinuing past practice of giving Ees annual Xmas gifts of turkeys, violative; E's subsequent correction of violation by giving turkeys to Ees later in February did not relieve E of the violation, and, contrary to contention, remedial order was warranted)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 256 NLRB No. [illegible]
(while predecessor E was apparently dissolved as legal entity when successor E took over its business, Bd should have opportunity during subsequent compliance proceedings to determine whether it was possible for predecessor, if it should ever resume business, to comply with order requiring it to c/d from engaging in 8(a)(5) conduct and to reimburse former Ees for loss of their vacation pay due to predecessor's unlawful unilateral action)

Kraft Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. [illegible]
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy, appropriate as remedy for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, since E negated prima facie showing of appropriateness of make-whole remedy by demonstrating that its decision to discipline Ee involved in forklift collision and fight with another Ee, was not based on information obtained at unlawful interview)

Coyne Cylinder Company 251 NLRB No. [illegible]
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy appropraite for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, where there was no evidence to indicate that any information obtained during unlawful interview which preceded Ee's discharge for smoking marijuana during his lunch breaks was relied on by E as basis for discharge)

Pease Company 251 NLRB No. [illegible]
(E ordered to c/d from making any unilateral changes w/o first bargaining in good faith with U to either new contract or to impasse; nothing herein shall be construed as requiring E to rescind benefits previously granted to Ees but which were found unlawful)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(order requiring E to c/d from denying uncompensated leave and/or vacation time sought by Ees in order to serve on other Us' negotiating committees at other plants, enforced, since order remedies ULPs herein and was proper exercise of Bd's discretion; ct rejected E's contentions that order imposed new contractual terms w/o bargaining, and that E's business operations may be seriously disrupted because Bd placed no limitation upon uncompensated leave; moreover Bd improperly relied on 7th circuit's decision)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(c/d portion of order, requiring E not to refuse to sign agreed-upon contract because nonplant Ees will also sign it, held entitled to enforcement as a continuing obligation in order to prevent resumption or repetition of unlawful conduct; however, affirmative portion of order, requiring E to sign contract upon U's request, denied enforcement, since contract has by its own terms expired, and ct therefore declined to examine validity of Bd's affirmative order to sign)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(order requiring E to stop refusing to make plant premises available for bargaining sessions, to pay Ee negotiators for work time lost during negotiations, and to grant uncompensated leave and/or vacation time, held not to force E to capitulate on such bargaining issues nor to impose new contractual provisions, since E may refuse to bargain on its premises for other valid business reasons, it does not have to pay Ee negotiators indefinitely, and it is free to develop form of leave to be granted)

1167-6000 Section 8(e)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038
(order to c/d from in any like or related manner interfering with, restraining, or coercing Ees in exercise of their Section 7 rights not appropriate for Section 8(e) violations not directly involving Section 7 rights)

1167-6600 Superseniority

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 638 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)
(objection to Bd's order that U and E c/d from invoking and permitting invocation of superseniority for other than officers whose duties involve administration of agreement or processing of grievances on grounds that it is retroactive change in rules, rejected since Bd has right to announce new principles in adjudicative proceeding)

1167-6700 Threatening union members for engaging in strike activity

Seattle-First National Bank 256 NLRB No. 164
(on ct remand for purpose of revising Bd order to limit U's economic strike activity in 46th floor foyer of E-owned building, directed against restaurant located on such floor, Bd issued revised order requiring E to c/d from threatening to cause arrest of individuals engaged in strike activity as long as such activity is peaceful, restricted to reasonable number of individuals, and does not unduly interfere with normal use of facilities or operation of businesses not associated with restaurant; such order adequately safeguards E's property rights while permitting U to engage in meaningful Sec. 7 activity)

Seattle-First National Bank 258 NLRB No. 164
(on ct remand for Bd to consider whether modification of its order, requiring owner of building to c/d from threatening to cause arrest of picketers of struck restaurant located on 46th floor of E's building, is appropriate because picketers were not restaurant Ees, Bd held fact that U members are not restaurant Ees does not affect protected nature of their information disseminating activity concerning labor dispute; accordingly, modification of order in that respect is not required since revised order issued herein describing permissible strike activity ensures that E's property rights will be protected)

1600 REPETITIVE ORDERS

1900 ORDERS TO ALLEVIATE EFFECT OF FRIVOLOUS LITIGATION

1933 WHAT CONSTITUTES FRIVOLOUS LITIGATION

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097
(extraordinary remedy ordering E to reimburse U for its collective bargaining expenses appropriate only when defenses raised were so insubstantial as to be patently frivolous not when defenses, as in instant case, are clearly nonmeritorious)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(while instant case was strong candidate for imposition of litigation expenses remedy, such remedy not imposed in view of Bd majority's position on issue to the effect that such remedy will not be imposed even in an egregious case of bad faith bargaining unless E's defenses are deemed frivolous; while many of E's defenses were wide of mark and unpersuasive, they cannot with confidence be labeled frivolous)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 250 NLRB No. 155
(issues not frivolous where determination of whether E had objective basis for good faith doubt of U's majority status required an evaluation as to credibility of E's witness's testimony about U admission of loss of majority status)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(E's positions regarding its refusal to bargain were twice rejected throughout course of litigation covering entire federal judiciary system, and its latest justification for refusal to bargain amounts to contention that its duty to bargain ceased by virtue of its own unlawful conduct, which precisely amounts to a frivolous position)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's award of organization and litigation expenses - in extension of frivilous-debatable exception as suggested in Heck's -- not abuse of discretion where Bd carefully articulated reason for new rule and for application here, namely E's resolute resistance to unionization and its history of litigation before Bd and courts, which Bd has not only power but obligation to take into account)

1967 TYPES OF ORDER PROVISIONS (SEE ALSO 625-5570)

1967-4900 Reimbursement to union for organizational and negotiation expenses

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(E must reimburse U for its bargaining expenses where E engaged in prolonged course of ULPs designed to thwart U's efforts to negotiate contract)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd adhered to position that reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses will not be ordered where E's defenses are debatable rather than frivolous, and in so doing Bd took into consideration role of charging party, remedial rather than punitive tenor of Bd orders, and inapplicability of collateral losses to framing of reimbursement order)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses in case involving frivolous defenses held not precluded by role of charging party; remedial aspects of such order predominate whatever deterrent effect such order may also have, and are well w/i Bd's authority; and such expenses resulting from frivolous refusal to bargain are not considered collateral)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd ordered reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses where E's refusal to bargain was not occasioned by reasonably debatable point of view but was meritless attempt to avoid its duty to bargain as evidenced by fact that E's positions were twice unsupported throughout course of litigation covering entire federal judiciary system, and E's latest justification for refusal to bargain amounts to contention that its duty to bargain ceased by virtue of its own unlawful conduct, which precisely amounts to a frivolous position)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E ordered to reimburse U for any excess organizing costs it reasonably incurred from date E willfully flouted its lawful duty to recognize U)

1967-5600 Reimbursement of litigation expenses (See also 625-5570)

Admiral Merchants Motor Freight, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 016
(no reimbursement to GC and charging party of litigation expenses where, respondent was not repeat offender, did not engage in pattern of unlawful conduct, and -- although its conduct was specious -- did not intentionally use defenses meritless on their face in a clear attempt to burden the processes of the Bd and courts)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(E not ordered to repay charging party for all litigation expenses as this is appropriate only when E raises patently frivolous defenses and here although without merit, defenses were not frivolous)

Litton Financial Printing Division, A Division of Litton Business Systems, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 077
(U's request for attorney fees and costs made in its Joinder to Motion for Summary Judgment, denied, as reimbursement order was not justified under Heck's Inc., 215 NLRB 765 (1974) and Tiidee Products, Inc., 194 NLRB 1234 (1972))

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(denied, since defenses were not frivolous)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054
(E ordered to reimburse Ees for legal expenses that they incurred in defense of trespass complaint brought against them by E; it is Bd's practice to order reimbursements of legal expenses arising from charges brought against Ee by E unlawfully motivated under Act)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(while instant case was strong candidate for imposition of litigation expenses remedy, such remedy not imposed in view of Bd majority's position on issue to the effect that such remedy will not be imposed even in an egregious case of bad faith bargaining unless E's defenses are deemed frivolous; while many of E's defenses were wide of mark and unpersuasive, they cannot with confidence be labeled frivolous)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 095
(U's legal fees and expenses not assessed against E, notwithstanding U's contention that assessment justified by E's frivolous defenses to its clear obligation to furnish information and facts given other charges alleging failure to furnish information had been filed against E during past ten years, where all but two charges had been settled prior to ALJ's decision, and E had frequently furnished information to U but had never before been asked for this type of information)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 184
(assessment of reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by U in pursuing charge that E refused to supply U requested information, denied where history of charges (against E) and settlements did not seem to show callous disregard by E of its collective-bargaining obligations)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031
(circumstances insufficient to support allegation of frivolous litigation so as to warrant requiring respondent Es to bear costs of litigation herein)

Standard Homes, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 146
(reimbursement of U and Bd for litigation costs not awarded where respondent's defense of its conduct were not patently frivolous)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd adhered to position that reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses will not be ordered where E's defenses are debatable rather than frivolous, and in so doing Bd took into consideration role of charging party, remedial rather than punitive tenor of Bd orders, and inapplicability of collateral losses to framing of reimbursement order)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses in case involving frivolous defenses held not precluded by role of charging party; remedial aspects of such order predominate whatever deterrent effect such order may also have, and are well w/i Bd's authority; and such expenses resulting from frivolous refusal to bargain are not considered collateral)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd ordered reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses where E's refusal to bargain was not occasioned by reasonably debatable point of view but was meritless attempt to avoid its duty to bargain as evidenced by fact that E's positions were twice unsupported throughout course of litigation covering entire federal judiciary system, and E's latest justification for refusal to bargain amounts to contention that its duty to bargain ceased by virtue of its own unlawful conduct, which precisely amounts to a frivolous position)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(E ordered to reimburse Bd and U for all litigation expenses, relating to meritorious ULP allegations and reasonably incurred as result of lengthy proceeding herein where, as in past, E reacted to organizing attempt by engaging in surveillance, creating impression thereof, promising and granting benefits, and unlawfully interfering with organizing campaign)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(disavowing ALJ's characterization of order requiring E to pay Bd and U litigation costs as traditional in Stevens cases, Bd noted that it reviews all cases on their merits and grants or denies remedies based on record as a whole)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)

(ct held costs against E in favor of Bd to include counsel fees and all expenses where ct concluded that E's ptn for review was filed only for purposes of delay in view of experience of E's counsel and totally frivolous nature of contentions before this ct; F.R.Civ.P. 11)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery, Rectifying, Wine & Allied Workers' International Union, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 318 (C.A. 2, July 1981)

(U's ptn for review of Bd's order insofar as Bd did not act on U's request for attorneys' fees as part of remedy sought, denied where ct saw no merit in U's argument that Es engaged in frivolous litigation and similarly saw no basis for concluding that Bd abused its discretion in this connection)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(case remanded to Bd where Bd decision left ct uncertain about basis of its award for litigation expenses; Bd should explicate more fully its reasons for requiring reimbursement in instant case as Bd required to make reasoned explanation for departing from its precedents)

1967-6100 Reimburse union for bargaining expenses

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097

(extraordinary remedy ordering E to reimburse U for its collective bargaining expenses appropriate only when defenses raised were so insubstantial as to be patently frivolous not when defenses, as in instant case, are clearly nonmeritorious)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(case remanded to Bd where Bd decision left ct uncertain about basis of its award for litigation expenses; Bd should explicate more fully its reasons for requiring reimbursement in instant case as Bd required to make reasoned explanation for departing from its precedents)

1967-7000 Reimbursement to union of lost initiation fees, dues, etc. (See also 625-5596)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(cab companies not liable for dues and initiation fees which (U) - would have received had it been recognized as representative of lessee-drivers, since companies committed no ULP in refusing to recognize U)

1967-8400 Reimbursement to employees for lost benefits

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 057

(E who unlawfully failed to make insurance payments ordered to reimburse Ees for payments Ees may have made to third party carriers)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(refund reimbursement of take home fee declined, since many commission drivers who paid it may have made profit in doing so; Bd imposed only remedial, not punative relief; injury was ambiguous)

1967-9800 Reinstitution of expired contract

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E, operating under 8(f) agreement, to restore contract as it applies to construction projects commenced after date on which ULPs occurred)

1967-9999 Other

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(request that order include imposition of interim grievance procedure whereby E is required to reduce to writing all its existing terms and conditions of employment and to discuss and process Ee grievances denied for reasons stated in J. P. Stevens, 239 NLRB No. 95)

2200 ORDERS RELATING TO AGREEMENTS

2201 GENERALLY

Polar Air Sheet Metal Company 264 NLRB No. 172

(where E filed ptn in bankruptcy after unlawfully failing to sign multi-E agreement, Bd issued traditional order requiring retroactive application of contract and granting make-whole remedy; Bd declined to grant moratorium on E's liability for remedy's monetary provisions, since to do so requires reliance on unwarranted assumptions concerning E's current financial viability; no action was taken on bankruptcy ptn even though filed several months after commission of ULPs; after filing of ptn, E continued operations and kept payroll obligations current; and Bd cannot assume that order will adversely affect E's stability and economic recovery or Ees)

2233 INVALIDATION OF CONTRACTS

2233-0900 Contracts with dominated or unlawfully assisted unions

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087

(cease giving effect to and cancel contract entered into by E and U which lacked majority status)

2267 ORDERS CONCERNING CONTRACTUAL BENEFITS

2267-3300 Restoration of benefits

2267-3325 Insurance coverage

Local 90, Operative Plasterers and Cement Masons' International Association of the United States and Canada, AFL-CIO (Southern Illinois Builders Association) 252 NLRB No. 108

(remand to RD for purpose of ascertaining whether discriminatee incurred medical expenses for which he is entitled to recover under E's health and welfare plan; Bd rejected discriminatee's plan that medical claims be submitted directly to carrier for determination of coverage)

2267-3350 Checkoff provision

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(E ordered to arbitrate Ee's discharge pursuant to grievance arbitration clause in expired contract which provided that violation of contract or any previous contract shall survive expiration of contract)

Potomac Iron Works, Inc.
(JD-264-82

(E ordered to give effect to its unilaterally discontinued dues checkoff provided for in contract and authorizations signed by its Ees, by deducting current dues from current earnings or by off-setting past dues against monies due any Ee under terms of order issued herein, thus assuring that dues will be paid by Ees primarily responsible for such payment and that remedy will effectuate national labor policy expressed in Sec. 302 of Act)

2267-6700 Make employees whole for loss of benefits

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(E ordered to make Ee whole who had been unlawfully denied disability benefits while ill at commencement and during strike, and overruling Emerson Electric, ordered that benefits should cease only when benefits exhausted or disability is ended rather than at date when she had previously affirmatively supported strike by joining picket line, inasmuch as benefits were form of compensation for past services and had vested, and did not constitute unfair strike financing by E further, remedy applied retroactively)

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 135

(where E had unlawfully withheld merit wage increases from unit Ees, Bd ordered E to make Ees whole by paying them the differences, if any, between their actual wages and wages they would have received had not merit increase programs been withheld and discontinued)

Polar Air Sheet Metal Company 264 NLRB No. 172

(where E filed ptn in bankruptcy after unlawfully failing to sign multi-E agreement, Bd issued traditional order requiring retroactive application of contract and granting make-whole remedy; Bd declined to grant moratorium on E's liability for remedy's monetary provisions, since to do so requires reliance on unwarranted assumptions concerning E's current financial viability; no action was taken on bankruptcy ptn even though filed several months after commission of ULPs; after filing of ptn, E continued operations and kept payroll obligations current; and Bd cannot assume that order will adversely affect E's stability and economic recovery or Ees)

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(where E signed memorandum of agreement but refused to sign contract, it was ordered to comply retroactively to its effective date and make Ees whole for losses suffered, i.e., wages and contributions to U funds and interest)

Pullman Building Company 251 NLRB No. 145

(where Bd ordered appropriate trust funds be made whole for losses suffered due to E's ULPs, it left determination of interest, if any, to individual provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003

(Bd left to compliance stage question of whether E must pay additional amounts into various funds in order to satisfy make-whole remedy since

provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements were variable and complex and Bd did not provide at adjudicatory stage of proceeding for addition of interest at fixed rate on unlawfully withheld fund payments)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 156

(E who unlawfully ceased contributing to U's health and welfare fund ordered to pay contributions to extent they have not been made, and to reimburse Ees for contributions they may have made for maintenance of U fund, for any premiums they may have paid to insurance companies for medical and dental coverage, and for any medical or dental bills they paid directly to health care providers; reimbursement provisions held reasonable and appropriately tailored to facts of case)

2283 ORDERS CONCERNING BENEFITS UNLAWFULLY GRANTED

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097

(upon request of U revoke unilateral changes in rates of pay, wages, and other terms and conditions of employment until such time as E negotiates with U in good faith to agreement or impasse thereon)

2291 ORDERS CONCERNING BENEFITS UNLAWFULLY WITHHELD

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 135

(where E had unlawfully withheld merit wage increases from unit Ees, Bd ordered E to make Ees whole by paying them the differences, if any, between their actual wages and wages they would have received had not merit increase programs been withheld and discontinued)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118

(make Ees whole for prize money and inspection money unlawfully withheld)

Computer Sciences Corporation Applied Technology Division, Huntsville Center 258 NLRB No. 085

(amend violative stock purchase plan, and all Ee handbooks or other literature discribing it to eliminate provision which disqualified Ees from participating if they were members of U or bargaining unit)

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 182

(on reconsideration, Bd modified original order by deleting requirement that E make delinquent and future payments to industry advancement fund since fund is permissive, nonmandatory subject of bargaining)

Independent Stave Company 248 NLRB No. 025

(pay over to U sum of money, plus interest thereon, equal to sum of all dues checked off and not remitted to U)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 660 (C.A. 6, June 1981)

(enforcement of order to reimburse Helping Hand Fund, denied where Ees were not aware of E's pre-election reductions in contributions to Fund and thus were not affected by reduction in regard to their U activities)

3300 REINSTATEMENT ORDERS

3301 GENERALLY

Ganley Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(three discriminatees, after having been reemployed by E, covered by traditional reinstatement order, since record was not clear that their restoration met statutory requirements (for reinstatement))

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099

(where unlawfully discharged U president was permitted to retire voluntarily on disability, normal backpay and reinstatement order held not applicable, and since discharge probably made him ineligible to hold or retain U office, E ordered to correct its records, deleting any reference to discharge and simply substituting therefor, the term retirement or retirement on disability, accompanied by notification to U of such action)

Lion Uniform, Jamesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123

(reinstatement order to remedy Sec. 8(a)(3) violation proper notwithstanding it imposes financial burden on E because E's unlawful conduct is root cause of burden and it and not Ees should bear burden)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(where strike not ULP strike, ct will not enforce Bd's order of reinstatement and backpay; record was devoid of evidence that impasse over nonmandatory subject (presence of stenographers at negotiating sessions) contributed to U's decision to strike)

3317 ENTITLEMENT OF EMPLOYEES TO REINSTATEMENT

3317-0100 Generally

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 189

(Bd found c/d, rather than reinstatement with backpay, order appropriate notwithstanding Ee was discharged for conduct that was subject of unlawful investigatory interview, since discharge was for cause and no additional damaging information was obtained in interview)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(details of reinstatement can be resolved after E agrees to return of strikers or in compliance hearings before Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Markle Manufacturing Company of San Antonio 623 F.2d 1122 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(consent order, which was agreed to by U and E and which directed cessation of strike violence by U, tolled any duty on part of E to reinstate strikers and any concomitant liability for back pay until second order determining fact issue of misconduct was entered since it shifted burden of proof on right to reinstatement and E was not required to reinstate Ees whose alleged conduct was subject of order unless and until alleged facts concerning violence were found not to have existed)

N.L.R.B. v. Potter Electric Signal Company 600 F.2d 120 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(where Ees were discharged for fight that resulted in shutting down production line, inclusion of reinstatement and backpay in Bd's R/O, inappropriate notwithstanding that discharge was based on results of investigatory interviews conducted w/o presence of U in violation of 8(a)(1); Ees were discharged for cause and not for requesting U presence, and Bd does not have power to order reinstatement or back pay for Ees discharged for obvious personal misconduct, because to do so would violate section 10(c). See, Fibreboard, 379 US 203)

3317-0150 Fitness determination

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092

(while medical evidence would support finding that Ee was physically disabled for reinstatement purposes prior to date when he was medically declared unfit for former employment, his physical condition was not so disabling as to disqualify him from reinstatement until such date, where Ee had returned to work after suffering injury on job, after unlawful discharge he engaged in arduous interim employment, and doctor denoted that his condition enabled him to perform physically demanding duties during backpay period)

Pantex Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113

(where no basis existed for concluding Ee's conduct violated Congressional enactment dealing with mutiny and it did not appear Ee was prosecuted for any criminal offense in that respect, there was no impediment based upon accomodating marine and labor relations legislation to according Ee usual reinstatement and backpay remedy under Act)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181

(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying list of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above miscconduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(reinstatement ordered for discriminatee who was conficted of felony for possession of marijuana after unlawful discharge as company permitted another Ee to work after felony conviction and during past 8 years only 1 or 2 Ees were discharged pursuant to alleged corporate policy and reinstatement would not create unacceptable employment relationship)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)

(ct held that Bd did not abuse its discretion when it concluded that record proof of discharged Ee being arrested for dealing drugs and allegedly admitting sale of marijuana at E's plant, did not warrant denying discriminatee's reinstatement, especially in light of fact that E took no disciplinary action based on these allegations despite company rule making involvement with drugs cause for discharge and fact that E failed to contend that drug charges contributed to its decision to discharge)

3317-0300 Limited to persons named in complaint

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbriar Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

3317-0900 Discriminatees

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 263 NLRB No. 064

(Ee who was discharged for insubordination, then offered reinstatement unlawfully conditioned on his resigning from local U presidency, was entitled to reinstatement with backpay; Act affords him same protection as it would individual denied initial employment because of his U activities)

Deauville Hotel 259 NLRB No. 117

(Ee who had been unlawfully discharged from his position as head houseman and reinstated to a lesser position was found not to have forfeited his right to reinstatement to the position as head houseman and backpay therefor when he was discharged a second time allegedly for making threats on his supervisor's life and failing to respond to an instruction, where it was found that he did not make the threats as alleged and that his failure to respond immediately to an instruction did not appear serious enough to warrant loss of his right to reinstatement)

Model A and Model T Motor Car Reproduction Corporation 259 NLRB No. 077

(Bd ordered reinstatement of Ee discriminatorily discharged for wearing U button where Bd, while not condoning Ee's conduct of returning to E's premises after being discharged and directing obscene language and threats of physical harm to managers, found that such abusive behavior was provoked by discriminatory discharge and did not warrant forfeiture of opportunity for reinstatement)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

(E's backpay liability subsequent to specified date may, if necessary, be subject of further proceedings where as of date of hearing E had not made valid offer of reinstatement to discriminatees)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162

(additional evidence can be presented by E as to forefeiture of reinstatement rights by dischargees at compliance stage of proceeding where E failed to establish sufficient basis to deny reinstatement rights to dischargees at C hearing before ALJ)

Deauville Hotel 256 NLRB No. 078

(Bd remanded case involving two discharges of same Ee for further proceedings to resolve credibility conflicts in order to determine whether circumstances, including E's animus, lapse of time, and possible causal connection between reinstated discriminatee's illegal demotion and quarrel with his replacement, warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to second reinstatement and backpay after date of second discharge; GC did not have to amend complaint to include second discharge)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153

(discriminatorily discharged apprentice under educational program held entitled to reinstatement although he was found not to be Ee w/i meaning of Sec. 2(3) of Act)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102

(reinstate Ee discharged for theft where Ee confessed at interview at which he was denial Weingarten rights and E had no independent corroboration of theft)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

(offer unit Ees jobs with backpay at relocated facility which they would have been offered absent discrimination against them; E must dismiss, if necessary, any persons hired to replace these Ees as result of such discrimination)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 061

(reinstate discharged Ee where information leading to discharge obtained during interview at which Ee was unlawfully denied his Weingarten rights; notwithstanding Ee confessed to theft of company property during interview as E relied solely on confession in making his decision)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181

(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying lest of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above misconduct)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(where supervisor was unlawfully demoted to salesman and thereafter participated in strike in latter capacity, Bd required his status as salesman not be considered or given any effect in assessing his right to reinstatement or in computing his backpay while he participated in strike or thereafter)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(reinstatement and backpay remedy held appropriate where ct rejected E's contention that discriminatee forfeited right to such remedy because of his previous conduct in pressuring other Ees into signing U cards and because he allegedly lied before ALJ; ct held that conduct of pressuring Ees was not of such degree that would deny Ee appropriate remedy and ct would not disturb ALJ's assessment of overall credibility of Ee in that Ee's dissembling was not sufficiently egregious to deny him proper remedy)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E, having 8(f) prehire contract with U, to reinstate discriminatees, who were constructively discharged when they quit, to construction projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; history of Sec. 8(f) and its interpretation by Bd and cts establish that U must reestablish its majority status at each affected jobsite before it can enforce Sec. 8(f) agreement with a project-by-project E)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(reinstatement ordered for discriminatee who was convicted of felony for possession of marijuana after unlawful discharge as company permitted another Ee to work after felony conviction and during past 8 years only 1 or 2 Ees were discharged pursuant to alleged corporate policy and reinstatement would not create unacceptable employment relationship)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(backpay but not reinstatement ordered for discriminatorily discharged Ee as he was probationary Ee at time of discharge and would have been employed only until his conviction of felony because of his work history; backpay awarded until date of felony conviction)

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbriar Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(Ee who participated in confrontation that lead to unlawful mass discharge, and reasonably considered himself discharged, entitled to reinstatement. In mass discharge, motive of E, not individual actions of Ee, is focus of inquiry and E's motive was to squelch protected activity and unlawful riot spread to include Ee)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(reinstatement denied to unlawfully discharged Ee who subsequently unlawfully failed to report earnings to State agency for purpose of obtaining unemployment compensation; Ee, rather than E, bears responsibility for his unlawful conduct for which he must assume consequences; Ee's dishonesty adversely affected E's unemployment reserve account which was charged for benefits wrongfully paid to Ee; and full reinstatement of Ee who abused process he now claims should grant him full relief is not justified; accordingly, reinstatement granted E with full backpay only for period preceding his unlawful postdischarge conduct)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(discriminatees' asserted misconduct did not bar their reinstatement with backpay where E's violations were egregious; and Ees' conduct was not of quality or extent that might reasonably be thought to threaten future amicable relations between E and Ees; E acted with flagrant disregard for its Ees' rights under Act refusal (by Bd) to reinstate discriminatee would put premium on E's misconduct)

Western Clinical Laboratory, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 225(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that Ee was competent medical technologist and entitled to reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(Bd's order to reinstate drivers whom E unlawfully discharged at time it sold its trucks and contracted out hauling not enforced since ct refused to enforce order requiring reestablishment of trucking operations; Bd may find some other remedy more appropriate; for example, compensating drivers until they find substantially equivalent employment)

Bellingham Frozen Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 674 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(E not required to reinstate office clerical Ee who was unlawfully discharged by predecessor E where E did not hire any of predecessor's office clericals and thus E was not successor with regard to predecessor's office clerical worker unit)

3317-1200 ULP strikers

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers are entitled to proper reinstatement regardless of whether they have found regular and substantially equivalent employment elsewhere)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(ULP strikers who took employment with other Es and found it necessary purely for economic reasons to move to other locations should be accorded full and equitable opportunity to consider present offers of reinstatement back to their respective plants, free of any fears of recurrence of ULP practices against them)

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189

(provisions for reinstatement and make whole relief for strikers appropriate where economic strike was converted into ULP strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(ULP strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement, even if replacements have been hired, provided they made unconditional offers to return to work)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(ULP strikers held entitled to reinstatement since E is obligated to reinstate them to their former jobs and, if necessary, to discharge replacements hired after date of conversion, and replacements herein were not hired until after such date (civil contempt proceeding))

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)

(strikers held entitled to reinstatement where they were found to be ULP strikers since, while they obviously had economic demands, such demands cannot be said to have been sole reason for strike, and strikers were complaining at the time about continued harassment by E)

Bellingham Frozen Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 674 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(strikers entitled to unconditional reinstatement as ULP strikers where E had refused to bargain with U as representative of seasonal as well as nonseasonal workers and as E cannot unilaterally change scope of recognized bargaining unit, its attempt to do so made strike an unfair labor strike)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(where Ees engaged in economic strike against E association of which E was member, and E subsequently unlawfully withdrew from multi-E group, Ees hired in anticipation of forthcoming withdrawal and before strike was converted into ULP strike held replacements of ULP strikers and subject to replacement by strikers)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(award of reinstatement and backpay to Ees engaged in ULP strike against E who had unlawfully withdrawn from multi-E unit held not punitive and in accord with Act, where, after striking against E association, U negotiated new contract with it; upon strikers return, E offered them work under terms of old contract, claiming that for that reason award was punitive; however, such offer was invalid since E was bound by new contract, and strikers were not obligated to accept contract terms inferior to those they were intitled to)

3317-1500 Sympathy strikers

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(where basis of strike at plant was sympathy for ULP strikers at E's other plant, strikers also are ULP strikers and entitled to immediate reinstatement upon unconditional offer to return to work)

3317-1700 Economic strikers

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(Ees unlawfully discharged while engaged in lawful economic strike entitled to reinstatement and backpay from date of discharge until date they are offered reinstatement, even though Ees did not offer unconditionally to return or request reinstatement, since it is E who has acted unlawfully in discharging them, and burden is on E to undo his ULPs by offering immediate reinstatement and reimbursement for all losses attributable to E's unlawful action until he offers full and lawful reinstatement)

A. Duie Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092
(Bd distinguished case herein in which it found that E unlawfully discharged striker, assertedly for picket line misconduct involving threatening statements to nonstrikeing Ee, and in which Bd required reinstatement, from case in which ct denied reinstatement to strikers because statements were made in context of strike marked by vandalism and harassment and were more than spontaneous picket line activity; here, threats were picket line rhetoric made where there was no reason to believe that they would be carried out, and such threats are not so egregious as to warrant denial of reinstatement)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093
(E's recall policy affording seniority preference for job vacancies to Ees who had been laid off over unreinstated (economic) strikers held violative, since policy constituted illegal grant of superseniority; policy was inherently discriminatory; E advanced no legitimate business justification in support of its policy; Bancroft Cap Company, 245 NLRB No. 86 (1979), distinguished to cover relatively short term layoffs)

Pennypower Shopping News, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 011
(E, by causing Ees reasonably to believe that they had been discharged, or that their continued employment status was questionable because of their strike activities, put Ees in position whereby they were under no obligation to seek reinstatement; reinstatement ordered by Bd)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(where supervisor was unlawfully demoted to salesman and thereafter participated in strike in latter capacity, Bd required his status as salesman not be considered or given any effect in assessing his right to reinstatement or in computing his backpay while he participated in strike or thereafter)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060
(defense to order requiring reinstatement and backpay based on assertion that order was unfair and unjustified and that participation of Ees in strike herein, which was basis for other ULP cases brought against U and were subject of settlement agreements, was tantamount to Ees' ratification of U's alleged misconduct which they had not disclaimed responsibility for or knowledge of, rejected)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(best left for consideration in compliance proceedings are matters dealing with E's contention that backpay and reinstatement rights of unlawfully discharged economic strikers have been diminished by fact that some discharged Ees had been scheduled for layoff due to lack of work and that several Ees had been offered reemployment)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(existence of bona fide replacements for economic strikers did not justify E's failure to offer strikers positions available, since economic striker is entitled to reinstatement if and when a job for which he is qualified becomes available; fact that his old job is occupied is no excuse for refusing to make reinstatement offer)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's contention that it should be obligated to offer reinstatement only to those economic strikers who responded to its letter regarding reinstatement, rejected, where U's offer to return to work was bona fide and unconditional, E had no substantial business justification for failing to reinstate strikers, E's letter merely inquired into strikers' interest in future job openings and, consequently, strikers were under no obligation to respond to E's letter)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, June 1980)
(where Ee was lawfully discharged because of his ringleader-role in unauthorized work stoppage, E not required to reinstate him even though he might not have lost his job had U represented him in more competent fashion)

3317-1800 Discharged strikers

Browning-Ferris Industries, Chemical Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 009
(Ees unlawfully discharged for refusing to cross picket line not required to unconditionally request reinstatement as E contended)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(former striker who had secured equivalent employment elsewhere following E's refusal to reinstate entitled to offer of reinstatement and backpay where he never articulated unequivocal resolve not to accept reinstatement because of new employment)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 258 NLRB No. 192
(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers are entitled to proper reinstatement regardless of whether they have found regular and substantially equivalent employment elsewhere)

3317-2300 Supervisors

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(where E's shutdown of operation is unlawfully motivated by Ees' attempt to organize, there is no reason why reinstatement of supervisor active in organizing attempt is necessary for Ees to be aware of their statutory rights since Bd's traditional remedy for discriminatory closing, requiring reinstatement with backpay of unlawfully terminated Ees, would be adequate to remedy E's ULPs)

B. E. & K., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 001
(supervisory Ee who was violatively discharged only need be reinstated to rank-and-file position he held prior to his promotion to supervisor where purpose of promotion was solely to remove him from Act's protection)

Pennypower Shopping News, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 011
(supervisor included in reinstatement and backpay order, since E's conduct, including discharge of supervisor, was part of pattern of conduct aimed at coercing Ees in exercise of Sec. 7 rights)

DRW Corporation d/b/a Brothers Three Cabinets 248 NLRB No. 095
(vindication of Ees Section 7 rights is basis for reinstatement of violatively discharged supervisor not protecting supervisor for his engagement in U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(supervisors discharged for organizational activity not entitled to reinstatement, although it has been ordered where discharge had tendency to interfere with Sec. 7 rights of protected Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbriar Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(discharge of supervisor who had complained of sexual harassment by another supervisor along with discharge of her supervisees who had been hired by supervisor and were either related to or friends of supervisor and who made similar complaints, unlawful, and supervisor ordered reinstated, since she was used as conduit to discharge her supervisees and squelch Section 7 activity or was an integral part of attempt by E to discourage exercise of Sec. 7 rights by Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(ct held that Bd applied wrong legal standard in holding that E violated 8(a)(1) by refusing to retain supervisor, and refused to order his reinstatement, since Congress had expressly chosen not to protect proU activities of supervisor and reinstating supervisor whenever discipline might have coercive effect on Ees would tend to override that will; coercive effect on Ees here could be eliminated by ordering reinstatement of Ees themselves)

3317-2900 Laid-off employees

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E to reinstate Ee who was laid off unlawfully and dismiss, if necessary, any replacement hired for him from date of layoff)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(various offers of jobs to laid off Ees held not bona fide reinstatement offers, where offers were consistent with E's design to get rid of U adherents at time of pending election)

Hudson Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(laid off Ees held entitled to reinstatement and backpay w/o regard to any effect layoff might have had on them if parties had bargained in good faith about layoff; while Ees were laid off because of lack of work in their department, it was their refusal to accept unlawfully imposed restrictions on their transfers to other departments, and their acceptance of layoff instead, which ultimately caused their loss of employment plantwide, not merely their loss of employment in their department)

Kewaunee Bottling Company, Inc. JD-338-82
(Ee held entitled to reinstatement and backpay where he was laid off as result of E's unlawful unilateral elimination of job classification)

Lorard Industries, Limited JD-293-82
(in view of adverse economic conditions, determination of when, if at all, Ees would have been laid off or recalled, absent discrimination, left to compliance stage of instant proceeding; immediate reinstatement or recall not required if it appears in compliance stage Ees are not entitled thereto)

3317-3000 Discharged employees

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 189
(Bd applied Illinois Bell Telephone standard for determining whether reinstatement and backpay were appropriate remedies for discharge following Weingarten violation as here – namely that where GC has shown that Ee was disciplined or discharged for conduct which was subject of unlawful investigatory interview, burden shifts to E to show that its decision to discipline or discharge was not based on information obtained at the interview; Bd found that discharge was not based on such information and only c/d order appropriate)

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(Ee discharged after unlawfully administered polygraph test showed he had stolen company property ordered reinstated where E did not prove that Ee would have been discharged without results of test)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 128
(where Ee was discharged based on information obtained during interview at which she was unlawfully denied presence of representative, reinstatement proper to rectify harm caused; also all references to disciplinary action taken must be expungent from E's files)

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(male Ees discharged pursuant to contract with U security clause unlawfully applied to them to be reinstated with backpay)

Continental Air Transport Co., Inc. JD-125-82
(reinstatement and backpay for Ee, appropriate, notwithstanding discharge not unlawful, where Ee was discharged for conduct which was subject of interview during which he was unlawfully denied right of U representation; particularly in circumstances where Ee might not have been discharged had U representative been present to present defense)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(reemployment of discharged Ee has no bearing on legality of discharge and, while it might reduce backpay, reemployment is not necessarily the same thing as reinstatement; accordingly, if E has offered unlawfully discharged Ees mere reemployment but not reinstatement, offers of reinstatement must be made to them)

N.L.R.B. v. Kahn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Company 694 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 6, Dec. 1982)
(enforcement of backpay and reinstatement award to dischargee denied, notwithstanding E violated 8(a)(1) by unlawfully refusing dischargee's request to have U steward present when he was interviewed concerning his overstaying his allotted time in restroom, where he was discharged for cause, and his discharge was not affected in any way by the 8(a)(1) violation)

General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d 576 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(enforcement of Bd's back pay and reinstatement order denied notwithstanding E unlawfully ignored Ee's request for U representation and obtained admission from Ee that he was at bowling alley, where report, of E's security officer concerning Ee's presence at nearby bowling alley during working hours, was independent evidence of good cause for discharge; E could have discharged Ee on basis of security officer's report alone; discharge for good cause precludes order of back pay and reinstatement; ct in instant case followed decisions of Eighth Circuit)

3317-8100 Employees hired for specified period or job

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 618 F.2d 288 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd remedy applying to future projects, proper)

3317-9400 Illegal alien

La Mousse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 037
(E to reinstate illegal-alien Ees whom it had constructively discharged for supporting U by bringing about their deportation by the immigration service)

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-81
(Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens knowingly hired by E. Contention against public policy since US immigration law prohibits individual who does not have green card from engaging in employment and reinstatement would require E to violate state law which prohibits knowingly employing alien not entitled to lawful residence in US if such employment would have adverse effect on lawful resident workers rejected. Illegal alien not exception to employee in Act. Bd has no expertise or authority in immigration, and it has not been determined by state SCt whether state law is enforceable as in conflict with US immigration law.)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(offers of reinstatement to constructively discharged illegal alien Ees shall remain open for four years as legal re-entry may require years of effort)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(award of reinstatement and backpay to illegal aliens who had been constructively discharged by E's notice to INS and permitted by INS to depart voluntarily, as opposed to deportation, held justified as vindication of policy of Act and to deter other Es from similar conduct)

3317-9600 Employees who quit

Penn-Dixie Steel Corporation, Joliet Bar Mill Division 253 NLRB No. 012
(reinstatement and backpay warranted where Ee signed confession of misconduct and resigned during investigatory interview in which he was denied right to U representation)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E, having 8(f) prehire contract with U, to reinstate discriminatees, who were constructively discharged when they quit, to construction projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; history of Sec. 8(f) and its interpretation by Bd and cts establish that U must reestablish its majority status at each affected jobsite before it can enforce Sec. 8(f) agreement with a project-by-project E)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E operating under 8(f) prehire contract to reinstate discriminatees, to construction projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; Bd cases which have drawn line between project-by-project and stable work force situations reaffirm rule that U must reestablish its majority status before it can enforce 8(f) agreement with project-by-project E; and Bd herein sought to restore discriminatees to economic position they might have attained despite E's lawful right not to rehire them at termination of projects in progress)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E operating under 8(f) prehire contract to reinstate Ees, who were constructively discharged when they quit because E decided to go open shop, to projects not yet begun at time of ULPs; inasmuch as it was found Ees were unwilling to work under open shop conditions which E would have lawfully offered, it can only be concluded that Ees would not have accepted employment on subsequent projects; therefore, finding that E would have rehired them is foreclosed by factual findings adopted by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring E, operating under 8(f) prehire agreement, to reinstate Ees, who were constructively discharged at almost completed project, at new construction projects, and also to make whole portion of Bd's reinstatement order as it applied to construction projects commenced after date on which ULPs occurred)

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbriar Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(Ee who participated in confrontation that lead to unlawful mass discharge, and reasonably considered himself discharged, entitled to reinstatement. In mass discharge, motive of E, not individual actions of Ee, is focus of inquiry and E's motive was to squelch protected activity and unlawful not spread to include Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct cutoff backpay liability of E to economic striker who was unlawfully discharged from time Ee resigned but allowed backpay from time of discharge until date of resignation as Bd exceeded its authority to remedy violations)

3333 MANNER OF REINSTATEMENT

3333-2000 Reinstatement to former or substantially equivalent position

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(where discharged Ee accepted E's offer of reinstatement unlawfully conditioned on Ee's acceptance of different work schedule and was unlawfully laid off day following his reinstatement, Bd ordered E to reinstate Ee to position he held on day he was discharged or to substantially equivalent position)

3333-2012 Includes interim benefits and promotions

Gulf States United Telephone Company 253 NLRB No. 087
(E required to offer discriminatee who was probationary Ee at time of unlawful discharge reinstatement as permanent Ee where he was discharged during probationary period, was considered satisfactory Ee and would have completed 90 days service absent his unlawful discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Ford Motor Company 683 F.2d 156 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(order that E offer supervisory promotions to Ees who were unlawfully denied promotions and make Ees whole for loss of earnigs sustained by reason of unlawful denial, vacated; promotion to supervisory position is management responsibility and to be distinguished from Bd's power to order reinstatement to formerly held supervisory position or where position had been restructured into supervisory position by management)

3333-2025 Substantially equivalent position acceptable only if former position no longer exists

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(failure to return ULP strikers to jobs to which they were entitled, violative, notwithstanding pay was same at both jobs)

3333-2037 Only within specified location or unit

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(reinstatement to positions discriminatees occupied before unlawful transfer to another store)

3333-2047 Insufficient work for all discriminatees offered reinstatement

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(E may not lawfully retain any Ee junior in seniority to another Ee, qualified to perform same job, who remains on layoff in view of E's stated formula for layoffs and number of jobs available to discriminatees)

3333-2050 Position not substantially equivalent where

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 037
(offers of reinstatement to unlawfully discharged drivers to alternate non-driving positions does not toll E's backpay obligation; Ees who refused such interim work were under no obligation to accept offer of employment substantially unlike that of truck driving)

3333-2050-0900 Probationary employee

Gulf States United Telephone Company 253 NLRB No. 087
(E required to offer discriminatee who was probationary Ee at time of unlawful discharge reinstatement as permanent Ee where he was discharged during probationary period, was considered satisfactory Ee and would have completed 90 days service absent his unlawful discharge)

Wright Plastic Products, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 101
(determination of whether discriminatees who were rehired on probationary basis have been retained beyond probationary period left to compliance stage of proceeding)

3333-2050-1600 Harder work

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(reinstatement of discriminatee to more onerous job and prohibiting him from speaking to other Ees violative where reinstatement occurred after Ee filed charges with Bd to protest his unlawful discharge and allegations of stealing and drinking on job not supported by record)

3333-2050-2000 Less desirable work

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035
(offers of reinstatement to economic strikers not valid where offers were to positions much less desireable than those strikers' left)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(reinstatement to more strenuous job which caused Ee's back trouble, not proper reinstatement)

3333-2050-2400 More disagreeable work

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(although E's letter to discriminatees was valid offer of reinstatement, backpay not tolled, where actual offers were mere subterfuge in that they did not offer discriminatees their former work schedule but provided shorter hours and/or graveyard shifts in lieu of day shifts and were concerted effort to provide work schedule which was so unacceptable that discriminatees would be forced to refuse offer)

3333-2050-3200 Different job classification

B. E. & K., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 081
(supervisory Ee who was violatively discharged only need be reinstated to rank-and-file position he held prior to his promotion to supervisor where purpose of promotion was solely to remove him from Act's protection)

Charge Card Association 247 NLRB No. 119
(E's offer to have strikers return to work only as probationary Ees not valid offer)

3333-2050-3900 Seasonal employment only

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(settlement agreement which did not require E to resume its original operation at plant not approved by Bd where replacement operation only provided Ees with seasonal work and was thus not substantially equivalent)

3333-2050-4700 Different location

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(reinstatement obligation not met by offering to employ and employing strikers at jobs at different locations from their former jobs where there was no evidence that the pay and benefits were the same as those for strikers' former jobs)

3333-2050-5100 Lower wages or salary

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82
(offer of reemployment to principal dancer for coming season at salary which was less than salary he received from E during past season, not valid offer of reinstatement, since offer, in effect, required Ee to take demotion; Ee's refusal to accept offer cannot be deemed willful loss of employment)

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Men, Inc., d/b/a Royal T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81
(offer of reinstatement to Ee not valid where offer was for lesser position at lower wage rate than Ee had earned prior to E's ULP's which resulted in Ee's employment being terminated)

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Men, Inc., d/b/a Royal T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81
(offer of reinstatement to Ee not valid where offer of reinstatement was at rate of pay lower than that required by collective-bargaining agreement)

3333-4000 Reinstatement without prejudice to privileges and benefits

3333-4025 Seniority

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093
(recall strikers in a nondiscriminatory manner)

3333-6000 Discharge of replacements

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E to reinstate Ee who was laid off unlawfully and dismiss, if necessary, any replacement hired for him from date of layoff)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027
(offer unit Ees jobs with backpay at relocated facility which they would have been offered absent discrimination against them; E must dismiss, if necessary, any persons hired to replace these Ees as result of such discrimination)

3333-8000 Validity of reinstatement offer

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(E's letter in response to U representative's demand that Ees who walked off job be returned to work held not valid offer of reinstatement, where letter was ambiguous and illusory statement of E's policy on critical topic; U representative, who was U organizer, was not shown to be agent for Ees; failure of U representative to communicate offer to Ees was immaterial since E should have done so itself; and Ees did not learn of offers of reinstatement during unemployment compensation hearing nor through extant letters)

Turner Tool And Joint Rebuilders Corporation 256 NLRB No. 101
(offer of reinstatement by letter 3 weeks after discharge in which incorrect version of discharge was given held unconditional offer of reinstatement)

3333-8001 Generally

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(no valid offer of reinstatement in view of absence of testimony concerning specific terms of offers made and ALJ's finding that offer caused uncertainty and that Ee believed that acceptance would have been tantamount to admission of wrongdoing on his part)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(issues presented by E's letters, sent out after charge had been filed, offering former Ees a job, to whose characterization as offers of reinstatement E had objected, and by other offers of employment made pursuant to ct proceeding held matters to be resolved in compliance proceeding)

3333-8001-5800 Must be offer of employment

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(valid offer of reinstatement not made to Ee during encounter with U business representative where E had previously manifested intention to withdraw offer and to withdraw U business representative's authority to make further offers to Ee; additionally, U business representative merely stated that he would take a shot at having Ee return to work and was not making clear reinstatement offer)

3333-8001-7800 Obligation on General Counsel to produce witnesses to resolve ambiguity in offer of reinstatement

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 693 F.2d 277 (C.A. 2, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that, in inquiring as to Ees' actual understanding of reinstatement language of mailgrams, found facially ambiguous by ct, although E has ultimate burden of persuasion on issue of validity of offer of reinstatement, Bd has an initial obligation to produce Ees to testify on their understanding of offer)

3333-8033 Mechanics of offer

3333-8033-1200 Receipt of offer

Seyforth Roofing Company of Alabama, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 048
(adequate offer of reinstatement not communicated to striker where he testified w/o contradiction that he did not receive or have any secondary knowledge of offer sent to him in care of another illegally discharged striker or offers to other strikers but E may show in compliance proceeding that its method of notification was reasonable under the circumstances)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(E's offer to reinstate striker insufficiently communicated where telephone calls to striker's residence were not answered or a message was left with third party but never received by striker, and letter sent by ordinary mail was not received by striker)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(reinstatement offer requirements met where striker received but did not respond to letter containing offer of reinstatement or E's contacts through another individual because he did not desire to return to work for E)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142
(offer of reinstatement mailed to address on Ee's employment application, tax withholding form, and paycheck constituted good faith offer of reinstatement sufficient to toll E's backpay liability notwithstanding that street address on envelope was misnumbered, since Ee had received registered letter from E previously with misnumbered street address; mail carrier knew Ee and would probably put letter for Ee in right box; E's failure to verify Ee's address does not establish lack of good faith; no showing that alternative means for communicating with Ee were available)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(offer of reinstatement communicated to discriminatee's roommate not valid offer)

3333-8033-3700 Offer by ordinary mail or telephone

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(E's offer to reinstate striker insufficiently communicated where telephone calls to striker's residence were not answered or a message was left with third party but never received by striker, and letter sent by ordinary mail was not received by striker)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(communication of reinstatement offer insufficient, where E knowingly sent letter to wrong address)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(letter sent to last known address and not returned or returned as not deliverable sufficient, where Ee had not informed E of change of address)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(attempted communication with striker sufficient where person answering telephone said that striker had moved w/o notifying landlord of his new address and phone number and he had notified E either)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142
(offer of reinstatement mailed to address on Ee's employment application, tax withholding form, and paycheck constituted good faith offer of reinstatement sufficient to toll E's backpay liability notwithstanding that street address on envelope was misnumbered, since Ee had received registered letter from E previously with misnumbered street address; mail carrier knew Ee and would probably put letter for Ee in right box; E's failure to verify Ee's address does not establish lack of good faith; no showing that alternative means for communicating with Ee were available)

3333-8033-4000 Offer through union as agent

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company 251 NLRB No. 118
(E's collective offer to reinstate ULP strikers through U as strikers' agent upon U's unconditional offer on behalf of strikers to return to work fulfills E's obligation to notify strikers date they should return to work)

Palas Corporation JD-(SF)-28-82
(neither reinstatement nor backpay obligation of E tolled where E's offer of reinstatement was made by asking U to dispatch discriminatees to E rather than being made directly to discriminatees themselves)

3333-8033-7500 Time limit must be reasonable

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 028
(E who offered economic striker reinstatement but only gave him 24 hours to consider offer did not validly offer striker reinstatement)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's telephone call to striker to report to work next morning at 6 a.m. not valid offer of reinstatement since did not allow reasonable period of time to consider whether to return)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(valid offer of reinstatement not made where offer was phrased to require that Ee return to work immediately, thereby clearly failing to afford Ee sufficient time in which to make considered choice concerning his employment or to give adequate notice to his current E; that E gave Ee extra day to reflect upon offer did not alter Bd's finding)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(letters offering ULP strikers in reinstatement failed to allow reasonable amount of time for acceptance to work and generally were invalid as not having been made in good faith; assuming letters were received at earliest, the next day, less than 1 day was provided for strikers to report for work next morning as directed, and less than 3 working days to report for work by specified deadline)

3333-8067 Circumstances of offer

3333-8067-1200 Must be in good faith

Sneva's Rent-A-Car JD-(SF)-283-82
(letters offering reinstatement in context of unretracted warning that reinstated Ee would be denied opportunity to earn income on nondistriminatory basis found neither unconditional nor in good faith and thus not valid)

3333-8067-4400 What constitutes unconditional offer

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 199
(merely asking ULP striker if he was working and then stating that E had some work available or sending another striker telegram stating there was a possibility that there may be a job did not constitute valid offers of reinstatement which would toll backpay where these communications were not sufficiently specific, unequivocal, and unconditional)

Consolidated Freightways 253 NLRB No. 137
(placement of warning letter in Ee's personnel file as prerequisite to his reinstatement renders reinstatement offer conditional and, thus, inadequate)

Sneva's Rent-A-Car JD-(SF)-283-82
(letters offering reinstatement in context of unretracted warning that reinstated Ee would be denied opportunity to earn income on nondistriminatory basis found neither unconditional nor in good faith and thus not valid)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's letter to discharged Ees following issuance of complaint but prior to hearing held not unconditional offer of reinstatement where letter could be construed as proposing that if Ees refuse to accept E's limited backpay offer, offer of reinstatement will be withdrawn; since offer must be wholly unconditional in order to be valid and letter is ambiguous as to whether it includes such unconditional offer, any ambiguity must be construed in favor of Ees and against E)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(in finding E's letter to discharged Ees to be invalid offer of reinstatement because offer was not wholly unconditional, ALJ found further support for such conclusion in circumstances surrounding preparation of letter which showed that E intended to offer a package deal, consisting of offer of reinstatement that would toll backpay along with a limited offer as to amount of backpay, with the understanding that backpay offer was contingent on offer of reinstatement being declined by Ees)

3333-8067-5000 Must not be conditioned on

Cooperative De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(back pay not tolled where tentative settlement agreement conditioned strikers' reinstatement on their accepting other terms of settlement agreement; thus, it was conditional, rather than unconditional, offer of reinstatement)

3333-8067-5060 Admission of wrongdoing

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(no valid offer of reinstatement in view of absence of testimony concerning specific terms of offers made and ALJ's finding that offer caused uncertainty and that Ee believed that acceptance would have been tantamount to admission of wrongdoing on his part)

3333-8067-5067 Application as a new employee

Stouts and Stouts, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 105

(reinstatement of discriminatees as probationary Ees does not satisfy remedial requirements of Act; such reinstatement was conditional)

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Men, Inc., d/b/a Royal
T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81

(offers of reinstatement not valid since they required Ees to reapply for jobs with E, thereby rendering offers conditional)

3333-8067-8700 Need not include offer of backpay

Consolidated Freightways 253 NLRB No. 137

(while valid offer of reinstatement must be specific, unequivocal, and unconditional, refusal to include accrued backpay in otherwise valid offer of reinstatement does not render offer inadequate; imposition of such requirement would nullify right to litigate lawfulness of discharge)

3341 APPLICATION FOR REINSTATEMENT

3341-0100 Generally

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent
Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(no abandonment of job as bar to reinstatement where discriminatee did not respond to letter from E to U giving ULP strikers deadline to return to work absent evidence discriminatee was aware of letter and since discriminatee had previously made application to return to work, burden was on E to reinstate)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent
Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(once offer made to return to work by strikers, burden shifts to E to reinstate them)

3341-2500 Requirement that application be made

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers are not required to request reinstatement in order to activate E's backpay obligation; backpay obligation arose when through its words and/or action E caused its Ees reasonably to believe that they had been discharged or that their continued employment status was questionable because of their participation in strike)

Brookline Corporation d/b/a Hi Fi Buys 257 NLRB No. 166

(Ees under no obligation to seek reinstatement where ambiguity and confusion caused Ees to believe that they had been discharged)

Inta-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111

(ULP strikers who were unlawfully notified that they had been permently replaced found not violatively discharged because despite this notification, no evidence to show that request for reinstatement would be utterly futile and Ee required to request to be reinstated)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No. 105

(backpay begins from date of discharge of economic strikers rather than from date of written notification of discharge or from strikers' offer to return to work since presumption offer to return to work at time of discharge would have been futile)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent
Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(offer by U on behalf of all ULP strikers sufficient)

Andersen Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80

(backpay runs from date of ULP strikers' discharges rather than from their unconditional offer to return to work, since Bd no longer requires such offer to start running of backpay period)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v.
N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(where E unlawfully discharged striker and did not show that Ee was unwilling to return to work or that he would have refused offer of reinstatement as required by Abilities and Goodwill 241 NLRB 27 which shifted burden of proof to wrongdoer, backpay was awarded to date of ULP discharge rather than end of strike)

Brown & Root, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 816 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd did not exceed its remedial powers when it ordered Ees who were discharged for participation in protected work stoppage reinstated and backpay, notwithstanding Ees never requested reinstatement, since in view of unlawful discharges application for reinstatement would have been ritualistic)

N.L.R.B. v. Tamaro Foods, Inc. 692 F.2d 1171 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)

(reinstatement and backpay justified although strikers did not request reinstatement or offer to return to work)

3341-5000 Adequacy

Barry S. Solof, M.D., A Professional Corporation, d/b/a The Victoria Medical Group and The West Jefferson Medical Group 264 NLRB No. 019

(adequacy of E's offers of reinstatement to some of discharged Ees should be disposed of in compliance stage of instant proceedings)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

(Bd does not require artistic request for reinstatement but rather, in each case, determines whether facts warrant conclusion that individual desired reinstatement)

3341-7500 What constitutes unconditional application

Pease Company 251 NLRB No. 080

(U's letter to E held continuing, effective, and unconditional application for reinstatement of all strikers, where letter clearly advised E that application was on behalf of its Ees, and E had no reasonable basis upon which to conclude that application was on behalf of less than all of the strikers, or that it was on behalf of anyone other than the strikers; fact that many strikers submitted individual requests did not vitiate validity of U's application)

3350 Affirmative Defenses

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent
Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

3350-0400 Failure to apply for reinstatement

Bodolay Packaging Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 038

(E's obligation to reinstate discriminatee not extinguished by Ee's failure to respond to registered letter mailed to him offering reinstatement where evidence showed Ee never received letter)

Browning-Ferris Industries, Chemical Services, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 009

(Ees unlawfully discharged for refusing to cross picket line not required to unconditionally request reinstatement as E contended)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No. 105

(backpay begins from date of discharge of economic strikers rather than from date of written notification of discharge or from strikers' offer to return to work since presumption offer to return to work at time of discharge would have been futile)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v.
N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(where E unlawfully discharged striker and did not show that Ee was unwilling to return to work or that he would have refused offer of reinstatement as required by Abilities and Goodwill 241 NLRB 27 which shifted burden of proof to wrongdoer, backpay was awarded to date of ULP discharge rather than end of strike)

Brown & Root, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 816 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd did not exceed its remedial powers when it ordered Ees who were discharged for participation in protected work stoppage reinstated and backpay, notwithstanding Ees never requested reinstatement, since in view of unlawful discharges application for reinstatement would have been ritualistic)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(ct held proper Bd order of reinstatement and back pay from date of unlawful discharge for Ee until offered reinstatement by E as consistent with remedial policies of Act)

3350-0700 Refusal of reinstatement offer

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a
Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161

(E was not required to offer reinstatement second time to discriminatee where valid offer had been made, and Ee failed to respond to such offer)

Seyforth Roofing Company of Alabama, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 048

(striking Ees, having been unlawfully discharged, and having subsequently declined E's offer of reinstatement, retained their status as economic strikers, with rights attendant to that status)

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136

(where Ee did not return application form to former E, this was not considered rejection of valid offer of reinstatement as application clearly indicated interview was needed and was conditional offer)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent
Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(no abandonment of job as bar to reinstatement where discriminatee did not respond to letter from E to U giving ULP strikers deadline to return to work absent evidence discriminatee was aware of letter and since discriminatee had previously made application to return to work, burden was on E to reinstate)

3350-0700—Cont.

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023

N.L.R.B. v. Trident Seafoods Corp. 642 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 9, Mar 23, 1981)

(where wrongly discharged Ees seek back pay from E, Bd policy places burden upon E of proving that Ees would not have accepted timely offer of reinstatement, had one been made)

3350-1100 Misconduct during strike

3350-1133 Reinstatement not barred

3350-1133-1500 Where non-strikers are aggressors

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(involvement in exchange of words and threats with nonstriker not bar to reinstatement and backpay where nonstrikers were agressors and strikers act was in self defense, further, incident too minor to bar reinstatement on backpay where no blows struck, and no damage to property or person)

3350-1133-2500 Misconduct must be such as to render employee unsuitable for further employment

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(E's contention that reinstatement should be denied Ees inasmuch as they were suspected of theft of E's business property because of business information they were accused of conveying through U to Bd in course of instant proceeding, rejected; E's labeling of Ees' action as theft did not bring it w/i conduct considered by Bd as causing them to become unemployable)

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

(post discharge behavior of discriminatee did not disqualify him from backpay and reinstatement where Ee, after being notified of his discharge, overtly demonstrated his anger because he believed discharge was unfair and complications in his wife's pregnancy added to his emotional state)

San Diego County Association For The Retarded 259 NLRB No. 136

(E's contention that strikers are barred from reinstatement because of their written appeal to parents of retarded students and public, for support concerning their efforts to resolve their grievances, rejected, since appeals by strikers to third parties for support concerning labor dispute issues with E do not deprive strikers of reinstatement rights)

J. W. Microelectronics Corporation 259 NLRB No. 050

(black Ee's remarks about caucasians being animals in context of E's statement that he had no solution for white community's verbal and physical harassment of black Ees held not so egregious as to render black Ee unfit for further service with E)

Fort Vancouver Plywood Company 252 NLRB No. 142

(on remand, original order, reinstating nonshareholder discriminatees affirmed where Respondent had not met its burden of proving that, to the time of present hearing, it would have eliminated jobs of any of discriminatees for other than unlawful reasons)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(discriminatees' asserted misconduct did not bar their reinstatement with backpay where E's violations were egregious; and Ees' conduct was not of quality or extent that might reasonably be thought to threaten future amicable relations between E and Ees; E acted with flagrant disregard for its Ees' rights under Act refusal (by Bd) to reinstate discriminatee would put premium on E's misconduct)

3350-1133-2550 Balancing of misconduct in light of ULP

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(ULP striker spitting at foreman and using profane language towards superintendent not sufficient misconduct to bar reinstatement, particulary since ULP striker)

3350-1133-6200 Minor misconduct

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(involvement in exchange of words and threats with nonstriker not bar to reinstatement and backpay where nonstrikers were agressors and strikers act was in self defense, further, incident too minor to bar reinstatement on backpay where no blows struck, and no damage to property or person)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(striker following car of non-striker insufficient to bar reinstatement and backpay where no threats made nor was there any attempt to run striker off road and non-striker not followed home)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(striking auto of non-striking Ee with picket sign impulsive trivial incident which did not bar reinstatement)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(striker holding gun not sufficient misconduct to deny reinstatement since non-striker not threatened by gun where he did not report incident to police or attempt to have striker arrested)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(ULP striker spitting at foreman and using profane language towards superintendent not sufficient misconduct to bar reinstatement, particulary since ULP striker)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(ULP striker striking side of non-striking Ee's car as non-striking Ee passing through gate of E's plant)

3350-1133-6700 Insulting or profane language

Model A and Model T Motor Car Reproduction Corporation 259 NLRB No. 077

(Bd ordered reinstatement of Ee discriminatorily discharged for wearing U button where Bd, while not condoning Ee's conduct of returning to E's premises after being discharged and directing obscene language and threats of physical harm to managers, found that such abusive behavior was provoked by discriminatory discharge and did not warrant forfeiture of opportunity for reinstatement)

3350-1133-8700 Threats

A. Duie Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092

(Bd distinguished case herein in which it found that E unlawfully discharged striker, assertedly for picket line misconduct involving threatening statements to nonstrikeing Ee, and in which Bd required reinstatement, from case in which ct denied reinstatement to strikers because statements were made in context of strike marked by vandalism and harassment and were more than spontaneous picket line activity; here, threats were picket line rhetoric made where there was no reason to believe that they would be carried out, and such threats are not so egregious as to warrant denial of reinstatement)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 098

(Ee's remark to supervisor Dead men tell no tales held insufficient basis for denying Ee reinstatement with backpay, where statement was made in heat of Ee's discharge and was unaccompanied by threatening gestures, and it was ambiguous and at worst nothing more than a rough remark by Ee under stress of an unlawful discharge)

3350-1167 Reinstatement barred

3350-1167-0400 Balancing of misconduct in light of ULPs

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205

(denial of reinstatement to Ee, while requiring E to provide Ee with backpay until he has obtained substantially equivalent employment elsewhere, appropriate, where E's denial of Ee's unemployment claim for no apparent reason, rather than actual discharge, provoked Ee's behavior in endangering E by proceeding with his car after E had intentionally placed himself in physical danger by bodily blocking Ee's car; remedy herein takes into account childish and unacceptable behavior of both parties, with particular consideration given to nature of provocation and reaction thereto; and neither party will shoulder entire blame for individual misconduct)

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205

(in denying reinstatement to discriminatorily discharged Ee, while requiring E to provide Ee with backpay until he has obtained substantially equivalent employment elsewhere, Bd noted that in cases such as this involving misconduct engaged in by both parties, it has held that E ought not to be allowed, as a matter of course, to profit from his own warongful misconduct and be wholly exonerated from Act's sanctions because Ee likewise was at fault)

N.L.R.B. v. Kahn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Company 694 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 6, Dec. 1982)

(enforcement of backpay and reinstatement award to dischargee denied, notwithstanding E violated 8(a)(1) by unlawfully refusing dischargee's request to have U steward present when he was interviewed concerning his overstaying his allotted time in restroom, where he was discharged for cause, and his discharge was not affected in any way by the 8(a)(1) violation)

General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d 576 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(enforcement of Bd's back pay and reinstatement order denied notwithstanding E unlawfully ignored Ee's request for U representation and obtained admission from Ee that he was at bowling alley, where report, of E's security officer concerning Ee's presence at nearby bowling alley during working hours, was independent evidence of good cause for discharge; E could have discharged Ee on basis of security officer's report alone; discharge for good cause precludes order of back pay and reinstatement; ct in instant case followed decisions of Eighth Circuit)

N.L.R.B. v. Illinois Bell Telephone Company 674 F.2d 618 (C.A. 7, Mar. 1982)
(remanded for further proceedings to determine if E should reinstate Ee whose Weingarten rights were violated for if E can show that Ee's discharge was not solely dependent upon evidence obtained from her during unlawful interview, but that discharge was supported by other independent evidence available to it at time of discharge if need not reinstate Ee)

3350-1167-0900 Commission of crime

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(reinstatement not required for Ee who accepted bribe from E to vote against U; also, backpay award is inappropriate as Ee's flagrant and malicious subversions of Act's purposes bars him from participating in these processes)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(reinstatement ordered for discriminatee who was conficted of felony for possession of marijuana after unlawful discharge as company permitted another Ee to work after felony conviction and during past 8 years only 1 or 2 Ees were discharged pursuant to alleged corporate policy and reinstatement would not create unacceptable employment relationship)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(backpay but not reinstatement ordered for discriminatorily discharged Ee as he was probationary Ee at time of discharge and would have been employed only until his conviction of felony because of his work history; backpay awarded until date of felony conviction)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(make whole relief, including back pay and reinstatement, improper where Ees were discharged for admittedly stealing goods from E and not for requesting U assistance at investigatory interview; Section 10(c) of Act, precludes back pay order and reinstatement under such circumstances)

3350-1167-2700 Abuse of Act's provisions

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(reinstatement not required for Ee who accepted bribe from E to vote against U; also, backpay award is inappropriate as Ee's flagrant and malicious subversions of Act's purposes bars him from participating in these processes)

3350-1167-6300 Picket line violence

Glydon's, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-81
(failure to reinstate wrongfully discharged Ee who captained strike during which rocks and bottles were hurled into E's parking lot, E's operations manager was spat upon and obscenities yelled at him, and strike captain was arrested and booked by police, not violative since Ee was involved in sufficiently serious misconduct warranting denial of his reinstatement)

3350-1167-7200 Other violence

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(denial of reinstatement to Ee, while requiring E to provide Ee with backpay until he has obtained substantially equivalent employment elsewhere, appropriate, where E's denial of Ee's unemployment claim for no apparent reason, rather than actual discharge, provoked Ee's behavior in endangering E by proceeding with his car after E had intentionally placed himself in physical danger by bodily blocking Ee's car; remedy herein takes into account childish and unacceptable behavior of both parties, with particular consideration given to nature of provocation and reaction thereto; and neither party will shoulder entire blame for individual misconduct)

3350-1500 Violations of other laws

N.L.R.B. v. Mutual Maintenance Service Co., Inc. 632 F.2d 33 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(although ct affirmed Bd's finding that U adherent was discharged because of his U activities, ct denied portion of Bd order concerning reinstatement of Ee where Ee defrauded federal government and former E of unemployment compensation benefits, notwithstanding that current E was aware and even encouraged this Ee to work for E under alias while collecting unemployment compensation)

3350-1800 Commission of crime

United States Postal Service 254 NLRB No. 030
(since decision to discharge was not based on confession of theft during unlawful Weingarten interview but on investigation which followed eye witness accounts of theft, reinstatement and back were not warranted)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that Bd did not abuse its discretion when it concluded that record proof of discharged Ee being arrested for dealing drugs and allegedly admitting sale of marijuana at E's plant, did not warrant denying discriminatee's reinstatement, especially in light of fact that E took no disciplinary action based on these allegations despite company rule making involvement with drugs cause for discharge and fact that E failed to contend that drug charges contributed to its decision to discharge)

3350-2100 Falsification of employment application

Garden State Motors Co. JD-100-80
(reinstatement and backpay ordered notwithstanding Ee's concealment of larceny conviction where conviction record was 20 years old and followed by relatively unblemished record; order contained proviso that order would not require reinstatement or backpay if it appeared in compliance stage that Ee was not entitled thereto under Bd precedent)

3350-2500 Solicitation of employer's customers

Vulcan Fuel Corporation JD-842-79
(laid off Ee not rendered unfit for reinstatement because Ee won bid for work previously performed by E since Ee was former entrepreneur who correctly believed he was wrongfully laid off and there is no reason to presume Ee took advantage of any confidential information in formulating bid)

3350-2800 Criticism of employer

San Diego County Association For The Retarded 259 NLRB No. 136
(E's contention that strikers are barred from reinstatement because of their written appeal to parents of retarded students and public, for support concerning their efforts to resolve their grievances, rejected, since appeals by strikers to third parties for support concerning labor dispute issues with E do not deprive strikers of reinstatement rights)

3350-3400 Participation in illegal strike

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, June 1980)
(where Ee was lawfully discharged because of his ringleader-role in unauthorized work stoppage, E not required to reinstate him even though he might not have lost his job had U represented him in more competent fashion)

3350-4000 Lack or loss of skill for original job or different job

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82
(reinstatement of principal dancer at an appropriate interval after Bd Order so as to allow discriminatee to condition himself for job is matter to be handled in compliance procedures)

3350-5600 Abolition of job

The Shaw College at Detroit, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 408 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(reinstatement of 10 college instructors inappropriate where no anti-U motivation in layoff, college had legitimate financial reason for not renewing contracts, and college had no duty to continue to employ during negotiations)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)
(Bd's order to reinstate drivers whom E unlawfully discharged at time it sold its trucks and contracted out hauling not enforced since ct refused to enforce order requiring reestablishment of trucking operations; Bd may find some other remedy more appropriate; for example, compensating drivers until they find substantially equivalent employment)

3350-5900 Employee would have been discharged or laid off for nondiscriminatory reasons

Kenshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discriminatee who was driver not reinstated since E's insurance carrier subsequent to discharge excluded from liability coverage any vehicle driven by discriminatee)

Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 015
(dischargee entitled to reinstatement and backpay since discharge motivated by U activity notwithstanding E seriously contemplated discharging Ee for poor sales prior to discovery of U activity or might have later discharged her for low sales)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(reinstatement of discriminatority discharged Ee ordered notwithstanding Ee guilty of falsifying time card as E had no knowledge of Ee's action until after discharge and no evidence presented to prove that Ee would have been discharged for this action)

A.S.U., a subsidiary of Intermedco JD-(SF)-161-80
(where discriminatee would have been discharged at later time for lawful reasons, backpay tolled as of that time and reinstatement not ordered)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(make whole relief, including back pay and reinstatement, improper where Ees were discharged for admittedly stealing goods from E and not for requesting U assistance at investigatory interview; Section 10(c) of Act, precludes back pay order and reinstatement under such circumstances)

3350-6100 Misconduct constituting cause for discharge

Salt River Valley Water Users' Association 262 NLRB No. 129
(reinstatement and make-whole remedy appropriate notwithstanding Ee discharged for refusing to answer questions at investigatory interview (no interview held to have occurred) at which he was denied presence of U representative as he was disciplined for engaging in protected concerted activity and not for any underlying misconduct)

Dansville Hotel 259 NLRB No. 117
(Ee who had been unlawfully discharged from his position as head houseman and reinstated to a lesser position was found not to have forfeited his right to reinstatement to the position as head houseman and backpay therefor when he was discharged a second time allegedly for making threats on his supervisor's life and failing to respond to an instruction, where it was found that he did not make the threats as alleged and that his failure to respond immediately to an instruction did not appear serious enough to warrant loss of his right to reinstatement)

Taracorp Industries, A Division of Taracorp, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 049
(reinstatement with backpay held appropriate, notwithstanding Ee was lawfully terminated for misbehavior, where E denied Ee's request for representation at investigatory interview)

Fort Vancouver Plywood Company 252 NLRB No. 142
(on remand, original order, reinstating nonshareholder discriminatees affirmed where Respondent had not met its burden of proving that, to the time of present hearing, it would have eliminated jobs of any of discriminatees for other than unlawful reasons)

N.L.R.B. v. Steinerfilm, Inc. 669 F.2d 845 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(Bd may order reinstatement of Ee whose rudeness and abusive language were result of unjustified treatment by E and does not exceed permissible limits)

N.L.R.B. v. Kahn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Company 694 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 6, Dec. 1982)
(enforcement of backpay and reinstatement award to dischargee denied, notwithstanding E violated 8(a)(1) by unlawfully refusing dischargee's request to have U steward present when he was interviewed concerning his overstaying his allotted time in restroom, where he was discharged for cause, and his discharge was not affected in any way by the 8(a)(1) violation)

General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d 576 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(enforcement of Bd's back pay and reinstatement order denied notwithstanding E unlawfully ignored Ee's request for U representation and obtained admission from Ee that he was at bowling alley, where report, of E's security officer concerning Ee's presence at nearby bowling alley during working hours, was independent evidence of good cause for discharge; E could have discharged Ee on basis of security officer's report alone; discharge for good cause precludes order of back pay and reinstatement; ct in instant case followed decisions of Eighth Circuit)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that Bd did not abuse its discretion when it concluded that record proof of discharged Ee being arrested for dealing drugs and allegedly admitting sale of marijuana at E's plant, did not warrant denying discriminatee's reinstatement, especially in light of fact that E took no disciplinary action based on these allegations despite company rule making involvement with drugs cause for discharge and fact that E failed to contend that drug charges contributed to its decision to discharge)

3350-7000 Unavailability of employee for work

Nebraska Bulk Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 311 (C.A. 8, 1979)
(notwithstanding Bd's finding that truckdriver was discharged because of U activities, ct held that remedy of reinstatement of unlawfully discharged Ee was inappropriate where truckdriver possessed bad driving record that would disqualify him from driving because he would not be covered under E's liability insurance policy)

3350-7300 Employee voluntarily quit

A.S.U., a subsidiary of Intermedco JD-(SF)-161-80
(backpay and reinstatement awarded to discriminatee who had announced prior to her unlawful discharge her intention to leave in order to seek more renumerative employment, since such motivation presupposes obtaining other employment before leaving E)

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbrier Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(no reinstatement of Ee who returned to work for E after her unlawful discharge by E and then voluntarily quit)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct cutoff backpay liability of E to economic striker who was unlawfully discharged from time Ee resigned but allowed backpay from time of discharge until date of resignation as Bd exceeded its authority to remedy violations)

3350-7400 Employee does not wish to return to work for employer

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(fact that Ee did not wish to return to job does not relieve E of obligation to make valid offer of reinstatement)

Hotel Employees Union Local 471 (Arasery, Inc.) JD-361-82
(reinstatement not ordered since discriminatees were college students who were only interested in seasonal employment at time of ULP but have since graduated)

3350-7600 Employee was searching for other employment prior to discharge

A.S.U., a subsidiary of Intermedco JD-(SF)-161-80
(backpay and reinstatement awarded to discriminatee who had announced prior to her unlawful discharge her intention to leave in order to seek more renumerative employment, since such motivation presupposes obtaining other employment before leaving E)

3350-8100 Employee has regular and substantialy equivalent employment elsewhere

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(Ee who obtained interim employment did not abandon her employment with E where she always intended to return to work at E and made attempts to return even before strike ended)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(fact discriminatee who was ULP striker was fully employed during strike does not bar backpay where his earnings were substantially lower than he was making at E and he was not obligated to search for better employment nor does fact accepted interim employment indicate he was no longer interested in employment with E)

3350-9100 Mitigating circumstances

Colgate-Palmolive Company 257 NLRB No. 028
(reinstatement of Ee unlawfully denied his right to preinterview consultation with U steward, not appropriate since steward did participate in all stages of disciplinary interview as well as in postinterview investigation leading to E's decision to discharge Ee, and E even provided time during interview for the requested private consultation)

3350-9800 Employee's prior misconduct on job

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(reinstatement of discriminatee to more onerous job and prohibiting him from speaking to other Ees violative where reinstatement occurred after Ee filed charges with Bd to protest his unlawful discharge and allegations of stealing and drinking on job not supported by record)

Albuquerque's Best Tires, d/b/a A. B. Tires JD-(SF)-283-81
(supervisor's unauthorized entry into E's safe, thus giving others access to personnel records and other contents is sufficient to preclude reinstatement)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(reinstatement and backpay remedy held appropriate where ct rejected E's contention that discriminatee forfeited right to such remedy because of his previous conduct in pressuring other Ees into signing U cards and because he allegedly lied before ALJ; ct held that conduct of pressuring Ees was not of such degree that would deny Ee appropriate remedy and ct would not disturb ALJ's assessment of overall credibility of Ee in that Ee's dissembling was not sufficiently egregious to deny him proper remedy)

3367 ULPS INVOLVED

Timberland Packing Corporation 261 NLRB No. 027
(backpay specification held to cover non-members as well as members of U where contract referred to all employees, E's actions indicated belief that contract covered all Ees, U believed it covered all Ees, and ct allowed E to purge itself by bargaining with U as representative of unit Ees, which had been defined by Bd and ct as all Ees)

3367-7000 Section 8(a)(5) violations

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(E ordered to supply U with requested wage and benefit information of Ees outside bargaining unit notwithstanding parties have already negotiated collective bargaining agreement as this information is pertinent to future contract negotiations)

3383 SPECIAL TYPES OF REINSATEMENT ORDERS

3383-0900 Conditional orders

3383-0900—Cont.

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 047
(E's request that language in ALJ's recommended order be modified by conditioning the order of reinstatement with phrase to the extent it has not done so, denied, since issue of whether E in fact made unconditional offer of reinstatement had not yet been resolved)

3383-0936 Conditioned on resumption of operations

Beech Branch Coal Company 260 NLRB No. 122
(although E presently not engaged in business involved herein, Bd ordered conditional reinstatement of discriminatees premised E's on resumption of same or substantially similar business)

Ahrens Aircraft, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 112
(reinstatement not conditioned on E's resumption of operations, notwithstanding Ee complement had fallen from 118 Ees to 35 Ees skeleton crew where no proof that discriminatees would not have been among Ees retained as part of skeleton crew)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(offer of reinstatement shall be made consistent with extent of (E's) future operations)

R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 139
(E who violated Act by contracting out bargaining unit work ordered to reinstate discriminatorily terminated Ees in event that it reestablishes its trucking operation)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(E to hire economic strikers on preferential basis if E or successor resumes operations)

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 025

3383-0958 Conditioned on restitution of payments for early retirement

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(where E made buy-out payments to Ees either in lump sum or installments for taking early retirement, and Ees who recieved lump sums were unable to make lump sum restitution of such payments before reinstatement as required by E, it is reasonable to require full reimbursement in advance of reinstatement by Ees who received lump sum payments and to require periodic payments by Ees who received installment payments in same ratio as E made periodic buy-out payments to them in the first instance)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(Ees who received buy-out payments from E for taking early retirement but were unable to make lump sum restitution of such payments to E before being reinstated, as required by E, such Ees who demonstrated desire to return to work held entitled to credit for backpay and fringe benefits on same basis as other Ees who accepted E's offer of reinstatement)

3383-0981 Reinstate ULP strikers upon application

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 258 NLRB No. 192
(copy of notice to accompany reinstatement offer and reasonable period not to exceed 2 weeks to be provided after prompt request of discriminatee in order that he or she can give fair departure notice to interim E, and make necessary arrangements to return to work at his or her former plant)

3383-0990 Reinstate economic strikers upon application or as vacancies arise thereafter

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028
(E's failure to offer position to former economic striker, unlawful, where E filled position with nonstriker after unconditional offer to return to work made on behalf of strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Marr Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct held proper Bd order of reinstatement and back pay from date of unlawful discharge for Ee until offered reinstatement by E as consistent with remedial policies of Act)

3383-1800 Identity of persons and entitlement to reinstatement to be determined at compliance stage

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(seniority of discriminatees)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(Ees of alter ego of E)

3383-2700 To plant or job other than discriminatee's former plant or job

3383-2781 To position to which employee would have been promoted or assigned absent discrimination

N.L.R.B. v. Ford Motor Company 683 F.2d 156 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(order that E offer supervisory promotions to Ees who were unlawfully denied promotions and make Ees whole for loss of earnings sustained by reason of unlawful denial, vacated; promotion to supervisory position is management responsibility and to be distinguished from Bd's power to order reinstatement to formerly held supervisory position or where position had been restructured into supervisory position by management)

3383-3600 Reinstatement on basis of seniority

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(E may not lawfully retain any Ee junior in seniority to another Ee, qualified to perform same job, who remains on layoff in view of E's stated formula for layoffs and number of jobs available to discriminatees)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 093
(recall strikers in a nondiscriminatory manner)

Motor Freight Express, Inc. JD-531-80
(remove discriminatee's name from Do-not-use list and reinstate him to hiring pool of casual dock workers; employment as full time Ee not proper where speculation involved as to whether he would have been hired as full-time Ee)

3383-6300 Preferential hiring

Central Transport, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 198
(remedy modified to include E establishing preferential hiring list and placing discriminatee's name at top of list)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(E to hire economic strikers on preferential basis if E or successor resumes operations)

3383-8500 Make employees whole for loss suffered due to delay in reinstatement

Cable Vision, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 062
(ULP strikers were not reinstated w/i 5 days from date of unconditional application for reinstatement)

3900 PERSONS ENTITLED TO BACKPAY

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 092
(determination of how many and which of a number of discriminatees were laid off by E or quit because of U's unlawful, request that they do so and suffered loss of earnings as result held appropriate matter for compliance stage of proceeding)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 183
(Bd held that Ee's discharge was solely result of E's unlawful production quotas and disciplinary system and that dischargee was therefore entitled to reinstatement and backpay in accordance with court decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Potter Electric Signal Company 600 F.2d 120 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(where Ees were discharged for fight that resulted in shutting down production line, inclusion of reinstatement and backpay in Bd's R/O, inappropriate notwithstanding that discharge was based on results of investigatory interviews conducted w/o presence of U in violation of 8(a)(1); Ees were discharged for cause and not for requesting U presence, and Bd does not have power to order reinstatement or back pay for Ees discharged for obvious personal misconduct, because to do so would violate section 10(c). See, Fibreboard, 379 US 203)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1184 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(requiring reinstatement and backpay for Ees fired solely as result of unlawful production quota system necessarily includes relief for Ees who reacted negatively to the system and developed poor attitude as result)

3901 GENERALLY

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices may not render jurisdictional decisions, and then overrule them retroactively and thereby transform E's interim behavior, legal when pursued, into illegal ULPs; E's conduct after formal declaration by Bd that he is not covered by Act and before re-examination of that issue, cannot subsequently be branded ULP subjecting E to liability for back-pay)

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and JMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(E may, w/o incurring back pay liability, refrain from reinstating discriminatorily discharged Ee during period when employment would not have been available for him even absent discrimination)

3905 EMPLOYEES UNLAWFULLY INDUCED TO RETIRE

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(Ee who was unlawfully induced to retire early from E's employment by receiving specified buy-out sum from E held not eligible to receive backpay or lost benefits where Ee refused Ees offer of reinstatement because she preferred other employment which she had secured)

3912 PROBATIONARY EMPLOYEE

3912—Cont.

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 084
(at time of strike)

3925 UNSPECIFIED BUT SIMILARLY SITUATED DISCRIMINATEES

Boilermakers, Local Union No. 154 (Western Pennsylvania Service Contractors Association, etc.) 253 NLRB No. 008
(Inclusion in make-whole order of all nonmember applicants for job referral as well as individual charging parties, proper where amended charge and consolidated complaint alleged that Ees who were not members of U and applicants for employment who were not members suffered discrimination, so that U was put on notice as to who were alleged to be discriminatees; further, nature of evidence adduced at hearing put U on notice of allegation that its referral system inherently favored members over nonmembers)

Ironworkers, Local 483 (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 248 NLRB No. 006
(non-member discriminatee of local's unlawful hiring hall preferential policy limited to backpay period to when he filed his separate charge because GC expressly limited relief requested for him and it would be inequitable to place discriminatee in class of unnamed beneficiaries of ULP order whose cut-off date for backpay would be six months before initial charges were filed)

3937 LIMITED TO EMPLOYEES WHOSE STATUS WAS LITIGATED AT HEARING

Frank Mascali Construction G.C.P. Co; Frank Mascali Construction Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 032
(backpay limited to Ees found discriminated against at hearing where no general pattern of discrimination by U in operation of referral system existed)

American Postal Workers Union, AFL-CIO, Memphis Local (U.S. Postal Service) 250 NLRB No. 105
(U to make whole all Ees as to whom there was evidence of loss of benefits due to U's unlawful policy, but not to include Ees who were not named in complaint and whose status was not litigated at hearing, since that would be contrary to Bd precedent and would enable GC to engage in unwarranted fishing expedition at compliance stage of proceeding)

Ironworkers, Local 483 (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 248 NLRB No. 006
(non-member discriminatee of local's unlawful hiring hall preferential policy limited to backpay period to when he filed his separate charge because GC expressly limited relief requested for him and it would be inequitable to place discriminatee in class of unnamed beneficiaries of ULP order whose cut-off date for backpay would be six months before initial charges were filed)

3947 EMPLOYEES WHO DECLINED TRANSFERS AFTER UNLAWFUL CLOSING

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 247 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(enforcement denied of backpay order involving Ees who declined transfers after partial closing notwithstanding E's unlawful failure to bargain over effects of its closure decision and unlawful offer to transfer Ees unilaterally; placing these Ees on preferential hiring list was sufficient)

3950 PERSONS HIRED AFTER EFFECTIVE DATE OF NEW CONTRACT

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011
(Ee who did not start to work for E, until after pay period (during which cost-of-living increase became effective) started not eligible for that quarter's increase where contract provided that Ee must be employed before its effective date or on date becomes effective)

3967 UNIT EMPLOYEES

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(foremen of laborer crews who worked along with laborers and had no supervisory attributes, eligible for backpay as laborers' unit members; and foremen who worked as laborer briefly during pertinent period before becoming supervisory foremen, eligible only for that period)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(Ees who worked at repair facility cleaning yard and digging trenches with jackhammer and Ee who dug ditches, shoveled concrete and used rake, eligible for backpay as laborers' unit members)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(mechanic and welder at repair facility who worked on field equipment eligible for backpay as operating engineers' unit members, but mechanics who worked on dump trucks, not eligible)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(policeman who, when off-duty, worked as laborer crew member and donned his uniform and directed E's traffic only as need arose, eligible for backpay as laborers' unit member)

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98
(Ee who worked as operating engineer long after he ceased to be an owner, eligible for backpay as member of operating engineers' unit)

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011
(Ee who worked in areas separate from unit Ees not included in bargaining unit and ineligible for backpay where her contact with bargaining Ees is minimal and her interests are closely aligned with non-bargaining unit Ees, notwithstanding work she performed quite similar to bargaining unit, received same fringe benefits and is paid only slightly less)

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Max, Inc., d/b/a Royal T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81
(stockholder should be included in bargaining unit and was therefore properly included as backpay claimant in backpay specification where he had no effective voice in formulation and determination of corporate policy and he enjoyed no preferential treatment)

3982 LAID OFF EMPLOYEES

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(backpay awarded to those laid off Ees adversely affected by E's unilaterally adopted change in policy regarding seniority viz a viz layoff, notwithstanding E's financial position and that layoff decision was for economic reasons, since E's unlawful change resulted in different Ees being laid off and those victimized by change should be compensated; determination of specific reinstatements and backpay left to compliance stage)

3985 PERSONS DISCRIMINATORILY DENIED EMPLOYMENT

Dunmar Company d/b/a Madison South Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(Bd left to compliance stage determination of job availability and possible backpay liability where E failed to establish that applicants were not qualified for employment had their applications been lawfully considered)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(Ees who were members of U entitled to backpay for hours they would have worked if E had continued to apply provisions of hiring hall agreement with their U for duration of project herein and had not unlawfully recognized another U)

Kenneth and Mary M. McGlaughlin, Copartners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper 247 NLRB No. 159
(discriminatee entitled to backpay from date he would have stated work at E had E not unlawfully withdrawn offer of position notwithstanding E may be overstaffed since at time of acceptance of job offer there was vacancy)

3989 STRIKERS

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 296
(make whole remedy ordered where E transferred Ees who had abandoned strike or made direct appeal to E after strike ended and had been reinstated to positions not substantially equivalent to pre-strike positions, but when positions substantially equivalent became vacant they were given preference to these positions over more senior economic strikers on whose behalf U had made unconditional offer to return to work. Order to run from time less senior Ees transferred to substantially equivalent positions until senior Ees receive valid offer of reinstatement)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers are not required to request reinstatement in order to activate E's backpay obligation; backpay obligation arises when through its words and/or action E caused its Ees reasonably to believe that they had been discharged or that their continued employment status was questionable because of their participation in strike)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(Bd held Ees who were discharged after participation in economic strike in support of discharged Ees not entitled to backpay where they did not unconditionally request reinstatement and there was no allegation of ULP in regard to their termination)

3989—Cont.

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 189
(provisions for reinstatement and make whole relief for strikers appropriate where economic strike was converted into ULP strike)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(ULP strikers unlawfully discharged as of time they went out on strike held entitled to backpay from date of discharge to date they are offered reinstatement, rather than from date they request reinstatement to date E offers them reinstatement)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(economic strikers unlawfully discharged because of their strike activity held entitled to offers of reinstatement and backpay from date of their unlawful discharge)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(best left for consideration in compliance proceedings are matters dealing with E's contention that backpay and reinstatement rights of unlawfully discharged economic strikers have been diminished by fact that some discharged EEs had been scheduled for layoff due to lack of work and that several Ees had been offered reemployment)

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impression Northwest JD-(SF)-187-80
(unlawfully discharged strikers should receive back pay from dates their discharge letters were issued to date upon which they were reinstated)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where E unlawfully discharged striker and did not show that Ee was unwilling to return to work or that he would have refused offer of reinstatement as required by Abilities and Goodwill 241 NLRB 27 which shifted burden of proof to wrongdoer, backpay was awarded to date of ULP discharge rather than end of strike)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where strike not ULP strike, ct will not enforce Bd's order of reinstatement and backpay; record was devoid of evidence that impasse over nonmandatory subject (presence of stenographers at negotiating sessions) contributed to U's decision to strike)

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E's refusal to reinstate certain Ees and its discharge of others for strike misconduct cannot support back-pay order in instant case since there was no ULP strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct cutoff backpay liability of E to economic striker who was unlawfully discharged from time Ee resigned but allowed backpay from time of discharge until date of resignation as Bd exceeded its authority to remedy violations)

3989-5000 Resigned as precondition to accepting new employment

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(resignation by ULP striker in order to accept other jobs during strike does not automatically eliminate striker as striking Ee absent unequivocal evidence of intent to permanently sever employment relationship; i.e., if new E required resignations to be submitted, such submission did not constitute unequivocal abandonment of employment)

3995 FOREIGN NATIONALS OR RESIDENTS

Long Beach Youth Center, Inc., a/k/a Long Beach Youth Home (formerly Trailback, Inc.) JD-(SF)-54-81
(pursuant to backpay settlement stipulation, ALJ found amount of gross backpay due discriminatee as that set forth in stipulation and issued order that, in event discriminatee, presently residing abroad, appears at Regional Office w/i reasonable time, E be given opportunity to cross-examine him regarding his search for work, interim earnings, and any other matters relating to his net backpay so that his net backpay can be determined, and Bd should retain jurisdiction in complaince stage for that limited purpose)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(in computing backpay, Ees will be unavailable for work when not lawfully entitled to be employed in US and backpay shall be placed in escrow up to one year)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(award of reinstatement and backpay to illegal aliens who had been constructively discharged by E's notice to INS and permitted by INS to depart voluntarily, as opposed to deportation, held justified as vindication of policy of Act and to deter other Es from similar conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(in computing backpay for constructively discharged illegal aliens, Bd may, if it sees fit, modify award by setting minimum period of six months during which backpay will be awarded on assumption that Ee would have been able to work 6 months more before Immigration and Naturalization Service would have caught up with illegal alien had E not unlawfully turned him in)

3999 OTHERS

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011
(high school student who participated in co-operative educational program not included in unit and not eligible for backpay because of participation in co-op program, hired at significantly less than other bargaining unit Ees, worked different hours and no evidence he could have expected fulltime employment upon graduation)

Price Pfister, A Division of Norris Industries 256 NLRB No. 021
(Ee who was suspended after E held violative investigatory interview not entitled to backpay where E did not base his decision to suspend Ee on basis of information obtained at interview, but had reached decision prior to interview)

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(reasserting that proper and effective realization of statutory policy requires that transgressor bear burden of consequences of its illegal acts, Bd ordered respondent E to make former Ee of non-respondent E, whose unlawful termination E had caused, to make such Ee whole for losses suffered as a result until he either is reinstated to former position or obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere; limiting liability to period prior to date respondent E notifies other E that it has no objection to Ee's employment is insufficient, but such notice is also required)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 002
(regular part-time Ees included in bargaining unit and eligible for remedial benefits)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(laid off Ees held entitled to reinstatement and backpay w/o regard to any effect layoff might have had on them if parties had bargained in good faith about layoff; while Ees were laid off because of lack of work in their department, it was their refusal to accept unlawfully imposed restrictions on their transfers to other departments, and their acceptance of layoff instead, which ultimately caused their loss of employment plantwide, not merely their loss of employment in their department)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(Ees who received buy-out payments from E for taking early retirement but were unable to make lump sum restitution of such payments to E before being reinstated, as required by E, such Ees who demonstrated desire to return to work held entitled to credit for backpay and fringe benefits on same basis as other Ees who accepted E's offer of reinstatement)

Long Beach Youth Center, Inc., a/k/a Long Beach Youth Home (formerly Trailback, Inc.) JD-(SF)-54-81
(unopposed mtn to dismiss backpay claim of discriminatee granted where discriminatee, who was provided with opportunity to seek review of backpay order, failed to do so)

Stearns-Roger, Inc. JD-10-81
(recommended where reinstatement inappropriate because E no longer had any Ees at construction site)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(Bd order, remedying E's unlawful refusal to bargain about effects of relocation of its facility, by giving each unlawfully terminated Ee at least 2 weeks' pay, with possibility of increased compensation if E continued to refuse to bargain, held not punitive, where such backpay was provided to remedy 8(a)(5) violation; remedy was not abuse of Bd's discretion, since 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(5) awards would be w/i Bd's discretion if made singly, and there is nothing punitive in remedying both violations which are separate and distinct)

4400 BACKPAY ORDERS

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(E's interrogation and solicitation were minor violations and did not support bargaining order or award of back pay)

4401 GENERALLY

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(in denying reinstatement to discriminatorily discharged Ee, while requiring E to provide Ee with backpay until he has obtained substantially equivalent employment elsewhere, Bd noted that in cases such as this involving misconduct engaged in by both parties, it has held that E ought not to be allowed, as a matter of course, to profit from his own warongful misconduct and be wholly exonerated from Act's sanctions because Ee likewise was at fault)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(whether counsel for GC seeks backpay remedy immaterial since Bd has full authority over remedial aspects of decisions)

4401—Cont.

C. R. Adams Trucking, Inc., and Michael Cams 262 NLRB No. 067
(assertion that Bd should assume partial responsibility for backpay award because of 2-year delay between hearing and ALJ's decision was rejected as liability could have been avoided by reinstatement offer)

Hanes Corporation 260 NLRB No. 077
(where E violated Act by refusing to bargain over discretionary aspects of its non violative unilateral decision to layoff Ees, make-whole remedy is inappropriate as layoffs were inevitable and no basis on which to predicate a finding that any identifiable Ee suffered loss of pay; moreover, situation is analogous to refusal to bargain over effects of plant closure where there was no duty to bargain over decision to close, backpay remedy runs only from time of Bd decision; here, cause of loss of pay, the layoff, has long since ended so consequently, no loss of pay can be suffered after this decision)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(where E ordered to bargain with U over effects of its decision to transfer operations and of its later decision to shutdown completely, E ordered to pay back pay so that parties bargaining is not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

Otis Elevator Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of United Technologies 255 NLRB No. 066
(where record was not clear whether specified classification was included in unit and did not specify total number of Ees laid off, whether they were part of unit, and dates of their respective layoffs, Bd, for purpose of determining backpay, deferred determination of such matters to compliance stage)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102
(Ee discharged for theft could be ordered reinstated with backpay where discharge resulted from interview in which E violated Act by refusing to allow Ee to have U representative present and obtained confession and discharge based solely on confession; however, where Ee also confessed at Bd hearing, as of that date Ee forfeits right to reinstatement or futher backpay)

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 099
(where unlawfully discharged U president was permitted to retire voluntarily on disability, normal backpay and reinstatement order held not applicable, and since discharge probably made him ineligible to hold or retain U office, E ordered to correct its records, deleting any reference to discharge and simply substituting therefor, the term retirement or retirement on disability, accompanied by notification to U of such action)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(ct enforced Bd's backpay order to all Ees at unlawfully closed plant involving two units each represented by different U, notwithstanding that E negotiated agreement as to effects of closing with one U; remedial order was not improper because closing harmed all Ees and agreement with one U regarding severance pay would not remedy 8(a)(3) violation, and remedial orders directed to non-parties are appropriate if fairly encompassed in C and adequately proved at hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(when supplementing Bd's backpay awards Bd is granted broad discretion in formulating remedies to make Ees whole and to effectuate policies of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Lyon & Ryan Ford, Inc. 647 F.2d 745 (C.A. 7, Apr 1981)
(backpay remedy for discharged ULP strikers appropriate and w/i Bd's discretion; retroactive application of Abilities & Goodwill remedy proper where Bd demonstrated that such application would further rather retard operation of backpay rule, would not create substantial injustice or undue hardship for either party, and would not provide windfall to striking Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Wayne Electric, Inc., Electrical Installation and Services, and Wayne E. Steward 626 F.2d 1227(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(owner of two businesses both of which found guilty of ULP's liable for backpay award notwithstanding he was not specifically named as party because obligations of proprietorship are obligations of its owner)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbia Building Materials, Inc. 634 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd's task is to fashion remedy for ULPs that will restore economic status quo that would have existed but for ULP; backpay order herein w/i remedial authority of Bd since it does no more than return affected Ees to economic state which they would have enjoyed absent unilateral wage change)

Douglas Aircraft Company, a component of McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 383 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(conditioning award of backpay on withdrawal of ULP charge repugnant to purposes and policies of Act)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(award of reinstatement and backpay to Ees engaged in ULP strike against E who had unlawfully withdrawn from multi-E unit held not punitive and in accord with Act, where, after striking against E association, U negotiated new contract with it; upon strikers return, E offered them work under terms of old contract, claiming that for that reason award was punitive; however, such offer was invalid since E was bound by new contract, and strikers were not obligated to accept contract terms inferior to those they were intitled to)

4410 LIMITED BACKPAY ORDER

C & E Distributing, Inc./Carbon-Emery Enterprises, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 074
(limited backpay order added to order that E bargain regarding effects of cessation of business in order to assure meaningful bargaining, to make Ees whole for losses suffered as result of E's failure to bargain, and to recreate to some degree situation in which parties bargaining positions are not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 037
(limited backpay requirement accompanied bargaining order requiring E to bargain with U w/i 5 days of decision concerning effects of its closing facility as result of sale and relocation; back pay order designed to make whole Ees for losses, if any, suffered as result of violation and to recreate in some practicable manner situation in which U's bargaining position is not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

4412 SUCCESSORS

Winco Petroleum and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 252 NLRB No. 150
(successor E required to pay stipulated amount of backpay due backpay claimants who were Ees of E's predecessor, where E had purchased predecessor's business with actual knowledge of E's unremedied ULPs)

4417 JOINT BACKPAY LIABILITY

4417-0100 Generally

Teckwal Corp. and E.M. Andrews Sales, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 122
(affiliated enterprise (alter ego) of E held to share obligation with E, named party in original ULP proceeding, to provide backpay, notwithstanding Es' contention that backpay specification should not include alter ego as liable for moneys due because Bd's original order did not apply to alter ego, since Es had admitted their single E status in original ans, and it is established that liability may be imposed upon party to supplemental proceeding even if that party had not been party to ULP proceeding if it is sufficiently closely related to party found in original proceeding to have committed ULPs)

Rayel Electric Company 260 NLRB No. 190
(where E was sole proprietorship when complaint issued and incorporated during course of hearing, order and notice provided joint and several liability to E as individual and as corporation)

4417-1400 Joint employers

Sneve's Rent-A-Car JD-(SF)-283-82
(taxicab fleet owner jointly liable with another taxicab business owner for unlawful discharge of driver of latter's cab, where former not only was found joint E with latter herein but also participated in discharge and reinstatement decisions with latter)

4417-2100 Separate and individual employers

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(reasserting that proper and effective realization of statutory policy requires that transgressor bear burden of consequences of its illegal acts, Bd ordered respondent E to make former Ee of non-respondent E, whose unlawful termination E had caused, to make such Ee whole for losses suffered as a result until he either is reinstated to former position or obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere; limiting liability to period prior to date respondent E notifies other E that it has no objection to Ee's employment is insufficient, but such notice is also required)

4417-2300 Predecessor and successor employers

Women Care, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 060
(seller E and buyer jointly and severally liable for backpay where seller unlawfully discharged several Ees and refused to reinstate ULP strikers upon their application to return to work; seller had stipulated Bd's order is binding, sale was made with notice to buyer, buyer acknowledged liability in entering backpay stipulation)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 258 NLRB No. 192
(successor and predecessor Es held jointly and severally responsible for making whole ULP strikers and Ee who was unlawfully denied employment)

Ridgeway Trucking Company and Sand & Stone Transport, Inc. JD-23-82
(where ULPs occurred while predecessor was in bankruptcy proceedings and it survived those proceedings, continuing in same operation, with only change in ownership successor E is jointly liable with predecessor for remedying ULPs)

Belair Chateau Hospital, Inc., d/b/a University Heights Hospital JD-(SF)-213-80

(trustee in bankruptcy derivatively liable for bankrupt E hospital's unlawful discharges where trustee knew of claims of unlawfully discharged Ees and had ample opportunity to shield itself against continuing accrual of backpay by offering reinstatement to claimants, course it deliberately eschewed)

4417-2700 Seller and purchaser

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(parent company and subsidiaries held jointly and severally liable together with respondent E for any loss of earnings suffered by Ees as result of E's unlawful conduct against them where, on mtn of GC, parent company and subsidiaries had been joined as parties respondent with E whose assets parent company had purchased while proceeding was pending before Bd)

4417-2800 Successor employers

Colonie Hill Ltd., and John Smythe Food Services Inc., Successor to Colonie Hill, Ltd. and Lackman Food Services of Hauppauge, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 150

(successor E found jointly and severally liable with predecessor E who unlawfully discharged Ee where successor failed to deny notice of predecessor's ULP or to offer evidence of lack of notice)

4417-3500 Employers and individual charged with derivative liability

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82

(partners and partnership entity their officers, agents, successors and assigns jointly and severally liable to make discriminatees whole for backpay due)

4417-4200 Firms found to be single employer

N.L.R.B. v. Master Slack and/or Master Trousers Corp., et al. 618 F.2d 6 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(parent corporation and subsidiaries held liable notwithstanding violation committed by 1 subsidiary where single enterprise test met)

4417-5600 Employer and alter ego

Teckwal Corp. and E.M. Andrews Sales, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 122

(affiliated enterprise (alter ego) of E held to share obligation with E, named party in original ULP proceeding, to provide backpay, notwithstanding Es' contention that backpay specification should not include alter ego as liable for moneys due because Bd's original order did not apply to alter ego, since Es had admitted their single E status in original ans, and it is established that liability may be imposed upon party to supplemental proceeding even if that party had not been party to ULP proceeding if it is sufficiently closely related to party found in original proceeding to have committed ULPs)

Custom Manufacturing Company (Successor to Zion Industries, Inc.—Curtain and Drapery Division); etc. 259 NLRB No. 066

(in backpay proceeding, drapery company held alter ego of 3 other companies which were successively formed earlier and each followed pattern of discontinuing its drapery business and commending scaled-down operation; changes in companies' operations did not represent abrupt shift but another step in evolution of drapery business from manufacturer to broker and from residential to institutional customers; there was no real hiatus between alter ego and preceding company since it was spinoff of former business and it was not so changed as to put it beyond Bd's backpay order)

Acme Apparel, Inc. and Harry A. Meyer, an Individual JD-(SF)-91-81

(sole owner held individually liable together with corporation to remedy ULPs)

4417-8400 Employer and union

Wismer and Becker, Contracting Engineers 251 NLRB No. 086

(E's backpay liability would not be altered if Bd were to find that U's general refusal to refer Ees was independent violation of Act, since U would be held solely liable for illegal refusal to refer; however, E would be secondarily liable for its ultimate acquiescence in U's demand to discharge direct hires; such liability is unaffected by separate issue of alleged unlawful refusal to refer individuals for employment)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 240 NLRB No. 050

(under circumstances herein, E held liable for entire backpay award rather than having damages apportioned between E and U)

4417-8425 Jointly and severally liable

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173

(U and E jointly liable for unlawful discharges where U pressured E to discharge Ees and E condoned and participated in Us attempts to cause terminations, notwithstanding supervisor's oppositions to discharges since he was overruled by higher authority)

Harsh Investment Corporation d/b/a The Claremont Resort Hotel and Tennis Club 260 NLRB No. 034

(U and E jointly and severably for Ees discriminatory discharge but U's backpay liability will end 5 days after it notifies E that it has no objection to employment of Ee)

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139

(E's telling individual to apply for job through referral system run by U, which subsequently discriminated against him because he was not U member violative, and E held jointly and severally liable with U for discriminatory operation of referral system; U held primarily, and E secondarily liable for any backpay due individual because of discriminatory operation of referral hall, since even if E had investigated U's operation of referral system, it would not have discovered discrimination against Ee)

Versatile Services, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 109

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

Frank Mascali Construction G.C.P. Co.; Frank Mascali Construction Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 032

(where E delegates hiring to U under U referral system it is responsible if U operates system discriminatorily, even if E has no knowledge of U's discrimination, and thus U and E are normally jointly and severally liable for any back pay due, but here where even if E had investigated it would have been unable to discover discriminatory practices of U, U will be held primarily liable and E secondarily liable)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(E's bargaining with U that lacked majority support among E's Ees, violative and E and U were jointly and severally liable to make whole unlawfully discharged Ees)

Carpenters, Local # 308 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

(broad order requiring E jointly and severally with U to make whole discriminatee, who was denied referral by U and consequently employment by E, for any loss of earnings from date of denial of employment until discontinuance of unlawful discrimination is consistent with Bd's usual policy of resolving such issues in compliance proceedings wherein temporary nature of work for which discriminatee's application was denied will undoubtedly be considered)

N.L.R.B. v. Pacific Coast Utilities Service, Inc. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1980)

(joint and several back pay liability of E and U proper where E wrongfully discharged Ee and U failed to represent him fairly and impartially)

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 658 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)

(U and E jointly and severally liable for applying superseniority clause to U trustee and U guard as E acceded to U's request)

4417-8475 Union primarily, employer secondarily, liable

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139

(E's telling individual to apply for job through referral system run by U, which subsequently discriminated against him because he was not U member violative, and E held jointly and severally liable with U for discriminatory operation of referral system; U held primarily, and E secondarily liable for any backpay due individual because of discriminatory operation of referral hall, since even if E had investigated U's operation of referral system, it would not have discovered discrimination against Ee)

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 253 NLRB No. 027

(where U alone administers health plan, U primarily liable to make whole any present or former nonU unit members or their estates who may have suffered reduced insurance coverage or increased insurance costs by U's charging nonU Ees service fee as condition to continue in contractually established U medical plan)

Frank Mascali Construction G.C.P. Co.; Frank Mascali Construction Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 032

(where E delegates hiring to U under U referral system it is responsible if U operates system discriminatorily, even if E has no knowledge of U's discrimination, and thus U and E are normally jointly and severally liable for any back pay due, but here where even if E had investigated it would have been unable to discover discriminatory practices of U, U will be held primarily liable and E secondarily liable)

4433 COMPUTATION OF AMOUNT OF BACKPAY

4433—Cont.

P.J. Gear & Son, Inc. JD-305-82
(E's proposed method of calculating backpay amounts due discriminatees held untimely, where Region's backpay specification was year or more in the making, of which E was aware, and month before hearing E suggested entirely new approach for calculating backpay; regardless of its feasibility, E's proposed method would be terrible injustice to discriminatees who have been waiting 3 years to be compensated for E's ULPs against them and would have to wait further for monies due them while Region begins calculations anew on basis of E's suggested method)

P.J. Gear & Son, Inc. JD-305-82
(E's proposed method of calculating backpay due discriminatees rejected where E's proposal was untimely made, and Region demonstrated diligence in attempting to obtain from E and other sources information necessary for accurate backpay specification; and despite E's delay in furnishing information and inconsistencies between such information and other information sources, Region frequently gave E benefit of doubt in arriving at its backpay figures)

4433-0100 Generally

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158
(U's defense to backpay specification on ground that backpay was not computed in accordance with ct and Bd decisions, rejected, where, after remand to Bd of its successive supplemental decisions, ct granted summary judgment and enforced Bd's second supplemental decision but did not address itself to any computations or make any references to period of backpay liability)

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(GC's contention that unusual conditions resulting from labor dispute during first quarter required that measure of gross backpay for Ee be associated to the immediately following second quarter, rejected, since departure from customary adjusted average hours formula was not warranted by Ee walkout and discharges, even though they had destabilizing effect on normal business routine; however, in recognition of practical effect disruption had on calculation of backpay, certain provisions were made to avoid artificial result in calculations)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(discriminatee not awarded backpay to which he would otherwise be entitled where he failed to report interim employment to Bd agent as he was instructed to do, and denied, until confronted on cross examination, that he had been paid by U for picketing, since such concealment of interim earnings constituted abuse of Bd's processes and his failure or refusal to recall what other information he failed to supply Bd rendered ascertainment of interim earnings impossible)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(Bd found no jurisdictional bar to review of GC's action in compliance stage and to issues raised by mtn for determination of compliance with Bd's order, since Sec. 101.13(b) of Bd's Statements of Procedures provides that, despite compliance, Bd's order is continuing one and that closing of case is conditioned upon continued compliance with order, which is equally true when proposed backpay formula fails to comply with order as it is when respondent has breached compliance provisions)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(GC's backpay formula rejected, since it did not comport with Bd's order entitling Charging Party (CP) to backpay he would have earned as supervisor from date he was unlawfully demoted to salesman until reinstated or offered reinstatement to former position; strike settlement agreement on which GC premised formula, claiming that agreement waived CP's right to recall to his salesman's position which he held at time of strike, is unrelated to violation found, and irrelevant to his backpay rights; consequently, agreement neither mitigated nor extinguished E's backpay liability)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(in finding GC's backpay formula defective since not comporting with Bd's order entitling Charging Party (CP) to backpay he would have earned as supervisor from date he was unlawfully demoted to salesman until reinstated or offered reinstatement to former position, Bd rejected contention that CP's participation in strike as salesman was intervening event which made strike settlement agreement, waiving salesmen's right to recall, applicable to him; since E's wrongdoing placed CP in circumstances herein, he must bear burden of making CP whole w/o reliance on agreement)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(where supervisor was unlawfully demoted to salesman and thereafter participated in strike in latter capacity, Bd required his status as salesman not be considered or given any effect in assessing his right to reinstatement or in computing his backpay while he participated in strike or thereafter)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(Bd is not required to attain mathematical precision in its formulas for determining gross backpay; rather, any formula which approximates what discriminatees would have earned had they not been discriminated against is acceptable if it is not unreasonable or arbitrary in the circumstances)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(in computing average hours worked per week by each discriminatee, ALJ held principle justifying exclusion of weeks as not being representative when discriminatees worked an unusually low number of hours was not applicable herein where number of hours worked by each discriminatee varied considerably from week to week and, therefore, it appeared that they did not work substantially regular schedules)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(in determining average hours worked per week, ALJ excluded weeks in which an unusually low number of hours was worked in order to take into account absences from work which are not likely to recur during backpay period; ALJ also excluded week in which discriminatees were discharged since discharge is not expected to recur during backpay period and consequently week is not representative of discriminatee's work pattern; however, weeks in which discriminatees did not work at all included in determination since there was no showing such absences were due to nonrecurring causes)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(calculations in backpay specification properly based on 13 weeks per calendar quarter in accordance with Bd's usual practice)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(reemployment of discharged Ee has no bearing on legality of discharge and, while it might reduce backpay, reemployment is not necessarily the same thing as reinstatement; accordingly, if E has offered unlawfully discharged Ees mere reemployment but not reinstatement, offers of reinstatement must be made to them)

U. S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-90-81

4433-0700 Partial backpay

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(where supervisor was unlawfully demoted to salesman and thereafter participated in strike in latter capacity, Bd ordered his participation in strike, regardless of status, constituting withholding of services from E, be taken into account in backpay computation)

4433-1400 Method of determining what employee would have earned

Timberland Packing Corporation 261 NLRB No. 027
(E's ignoring Ees' past work experience and starting Ees with wages of apprentice on first step of ladder not precluded by contract, history of negotiations of industry practice; even where industry did consider past experience, it was on voluntary basis)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(absent unusual circumstances formula utilized is one which averages actual prediscriminatory hours of discriminatee and projects that average into backpay period; purpose served is to account for absences, lost hours or other factors which because of a pattern may reasonably be accepted average for backpay period)

P.J. Gear & Son, Inc. JD-305-82
(amounts of backpay due discriminatees, set forth in backpay specification, held correct, where Region's field examiner, in solving backpay problem resulting from absence of witnesses, who were not made available for some unexplained reason, made reasonable assumptions on basis of documentary evidence regarding work done before and after discharges; and in determining kind of work discriminatees performed, field examiner relied on information obtained from discriminatees themselves)

4433-1410 Employee's earnings prior to discrimination

United Contractors Inc., JMCO Trucking Inc., Joint Employers 260 NLRB No. 031
(average weekly earnings of discriminatees during weeks preceeding unlawful layoffs held appropriate method of computing backpay in absence payroll records for replacement drivers, where business was irregular and subject to occasional slack periods during normally busy summer months (period of unlawful layoff) though layoffs were not caused by such slack periods, and same unit work was performed by non-unit Ees)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(where discriminatee had pattern of absenteeism prior to her discharge which was not attributable to demonstrable illness, weeks during which Ee worked far below average number of hours not excluded in projecting average for backpay period)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(overtime pay included where prior to his discharge discriminatee had performed maintenance work prior to regular hours and subsequent to his discharge work had been contracted out since work was still available had discriminatee continued his employment with E)

Highview, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 090
(appropriate measure of hours worked is average of each calendar quarter of entire last period of employment before discriminatory discharge where Ee had long absence due to illness in last calendar quarter preceeding discharge)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(backpay formula for calculating average weekly hours based on 9-month period rather than E's proposed 12-month period prior to termination of discriminatees held proper, where 9-month period was based on compliance officer's determination that hours worked during shakedown period after E had begun operations would not be representative of average hours worked during discriminatees' employment; shorter period was long enough to represent with reasonable accuracy discriminatees' earnings; and E failed to meet its burden of showing that its proposed longer period would result in a more accurate representation)

Abrahamson Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc. JD-65-80
(because of seasonality factors in automobile sales, representative period for determining amount of backpay due salesman was average weekly earnings over prior two full calendar years before discharge rather than just average weekly earnings for 9 week period that Ee worked in calendar year of his discharge)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(backpay award appropriate where successor refused to hire former Ees because of anti-U animus; however, ct would not enforce order to extent that backpay was set at wage scale prior to successor's takeover of business which would in effect force E to abide by terms of predecessor's contract and act as penalty in view of E's reduction of wages upon takeover of business)

4433-1420 Earnings of comparable employee during backpay period

Teamsters, Local 70 (Nielson Freight Lines) 265 NLRB No. 034
(where U discriminatorily refused to refer Ee to job for which he was requested by E, backpay is computed based on earnings of Ee who was dispatched at approximately the same time as discriminatee should have been, and who had successful long term employment based on fact that discriminatee was requested by E after interview and no reason to believe he would not have been successful Ee)

International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Local No. 53 (Insul-Contractors, Inc.) (Betty Ruth Turner) 262 NLRB No. 111
(backpay computed as difference between what Ee received prior to discrimination and that received after discriminatory referral)

Storta Sons Construction Co., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 173
(backpay for discriminatees determined by formula which computes whether the number of Ees during backpay period exceeded number during prebackpay period as revealed by evidence of work performed by Ees hired subsequent to application for work by discriminatees)

3 States Trucking, Inc., and Its Successor, Southern Illinois Minerals Corporation 252 NLRB No. 153
(discriminatee and another Ee comparable where both employed in same classification, paid same wage rate, Ee first laborer hired after discriminatee so seniority almost identical)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(average of weekly hours Ee worked prior to discharge plus amount of wage increase granted to two comparable Ees)

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102
(determination of Ee's gross earnings during backpay period made by using average wages of E's Ee U members from date of unlawful refusal to hire as it takes into account probability of earnings of one who would have been hired on date of Ee's unlawful refusal to hire)

4433-1430 Earnings of replacement during backpay period

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(basis for computation of hours discriminatees would have worked during backpay period was hours of Ees of subcontractor who replaced discriminatees rather than two Ees not included in mass discharge whose positions and duties were unique and hence not similar to those of discriminatees)

United Contractors INc., JMCO Trucking Inc., Joint Employers 260 NLRB No. 031
(hours actually worked by replacement drivers including non-unit Ees held appropriate measure for backpay; contention that E historically assigned work during slack periods to senior non-unit Ees and laid off more junior unit Ees, rejected)

Tri-Maintenance & Contractors, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 014
(earnings of replacement Ees during backpay period are appropriate measure of gross backpay of discriminatees; time sheets listing replacements' time allocated to various facilities served by E unreliable indicator of time actually spent at various locations, since they were not authenticated and were, merely allocations of time for accounting purposes)

4433-1435 Earnings of representative employee group

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 037
(discriminatee who was part-time Ee for several years while he attended school entitled to backpay of full-time Ee where Ee would have been available for full-time employment upon his graduation)

Hack Manufacturing Company 254 NLRB No. 088
(striking Ees to be paid for last day worked prior to strike at same rate nonstriking Ees paid for working during period of strike and not amount paid nonstrikers on last day before strike)

4433-1440 Employee's rate of absenteeism prior to discrimination to be considered

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(where discriminatee had pattern of absenteeism prior to her discharge which was not attributable to demonstrable illness, weeks during which Ee worked far below average number of hours not excluded in projecting average for backpay period)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(where Ee, due to serious injury she received at work, was absent from work for lengthy periods of time during 2 years used as base period to compute rate of absenteeism, her period of absence during first year disregarded and second year's absence used to arrive at her absentee percentage rate)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(GC's contention that Ee's pay should not be diminished by an absentee factor in accordance with Bd's Casehandling Manual which instructs that absence such as Ee's is de minimis and is to be disregarded, rejected; while manual may be useful for other purposes, where absentee factor is known and E insists upon it, as here, it should be applied)

4433-1440-5000 Except when due to specific illness

Highview, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 090
(appropriate measure of hours worked is average of each calendar quarter of entire last period of employment before discriminatory discharge where Ee had long absence due to illness in last calendar quarter preceeding discharge)

4433-1470 Terms and conditions of employment in unlawfully terminated or expired contract

L.B. Priester & Son, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 034
(E was free to hire Ees at any skill level but obligated under contract to pay all but apprentices journeymen rates)

Acme Wire Works, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 209

4433-1475 Terms and conditions of employment assuming no ULPs and agreement on contract

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011
(backpay due discriminatees not to be offset by merit increases Ees did receive which though not included in terms of unsigned collective bargaining agreement were customarily granted where E failed to prove that it would not have followed its past practice if had complied with terms of collective bargaining agreement)

4433-1480 Pay raise which employee would have received absent discrimination

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(where discriminatees were good workers, it is not unreasonable to compute backpay based on better paying jobs in store that other Ees who started with discriminatees were moved up to)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(to remedy discriminatorily withheld wage increases, E ordered to reimburse affected Ees for increases they would have received from date of withholding of increases to present by paying them difference between their actual wages and wages they would have received had increases originally been granted them)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(while wage increase, received by Ees some substantial period of time after increase had been discriminatorily withheld from them, might have tolled some backpay liability, resolution of such issue left to compliance stage)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115

J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-175-81
(where E had no contractual obligation to pay wages called for by multi-E association contract with U in same industry, E nevertheless unilaterally and voluntarily matched or surpassed wages called for by said contract and increased wage rates on same date as called for by contract, it was determined that E would have raised discriminatees' wage rate on date called for by said contract, and discriminatee's wage rate thereafter should be computed accordingly)

4433-1485 Overtime pay which employee would have received absent discrimination

4433-1485—Cont.

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001

4433-2800 Gross backpay

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81

(Bd is not required to attain mathematical precision in its formulas for determining gross backpay; rather, any formula which approximates what discriminatees would have earned had they not been discriminated against is acceptable if it is not unreasonable or arbitrary in the circumstances)

4433-2833 Items included

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(where E had paid Ees yearly extra benefit shifts constituting time off with pay, regarded herein as additional benefits, and it was impossible to determine when Ees would have taken such shifts and at what rate of pay, gross backpay figure computed by alloting yearly number of benefit shifts among 4 quarters, excluding specified number of days off in each quarter to determine backpay amount diminished by appropriate absentee factor, mutiplying such days by shift rate for that quarter, and adding such amount to diminished figure)

4433-2833-2700 Bonuses

Bob Maddox Plymouth, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 136

(E ordered to pay Christmas Club bonus, i.e., amount equal to what E's Christmas Club contribution would have been had Ees continued working during backpay period)

4433-2833-4100 Health and/or welfare fund payments

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(reimbursement of cost of insurance premiums which E furnished gratis)

4433-2833-4500 Retirement fund payments

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128

(Ee's pension benefit credit reinstated retroactively and U, because of its 8(b)(1)(A) conduct, ordered to pay pension fund amount necessary to vest Ee with pension credit for hours worked during backpay period)

Safeway Trails, Inc. JD-462-82

4433-2833-5000 Overtime premiums

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104

(overtime pay included where prior to his discharge discriminatee had performed maintenance work prior to regular hours and subsequent to his discharge work had been contracted out since work was still available had discriminatee continued his employment with E)

4433-2833-5500 Wage increase

Colonie Hill Ltd., and John Smythe Food Services Inc., Successor to Colonie Hill, Ltd. and Lackman Food Services of Hauppauge, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 150

(GC failed to sustain burden of showing that discriminatee would have been promoted to supervisor and was therefore entitled to supervisor's backpay for part of backpay period rather than unit Ee's wages; discriminatee had only acted as supervisor briefly on two occasions and GC's witness who supervised him did not consider him qualified to be a supervisor)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162

(amount of wage increase based on total increase given to two comparable Ees rather than 71 percent of average wage increases received by discriminatee compared to two comparable Ees while he worked)

Debarnardi Brothers, Inc. JD-(SF)-286-82

(pay Ee, who was lawfully discharged, increase (in wages unlawfully denied) that he would have received from date request was denied until date of his (lawful) discharge)

4433-2833-6300 Medical expenses

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee entitled to unreimbursed medical expenses which would have been covered by E's group insurance)

Madline Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 182

(notwithstanding finding that unlawfully discharged Ee incurred willful loss of earnings by leaving interim job w/o compelling or justifying means and thereafter did not make an honest good faith effort to obtain interim work, Ee did not willfully incur loss of his medical insurance benefits and is entitled to reimbursement for such lost medical benefits where interim jobs did not provide insurance coverage and there is no evidence as to how much it would have cost Ee to obtain comparable individual insurance coverage at his own expense)

Colonie Hill Ltd., and John Smythe Food Services Inc., Successor to Colonie Hill, Ltd. and Lackman Food Services of Hauppauge, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 150

(Ee entitled to reimbursement for medical and dental expenses, as Ee were parties to contract entitling Ees to such benefits)

Local 90, Operative Plasterers and Cement Masons' International Association of the United States and Canada, AFL-CIO (Southern Illinois Builders Association) 252 NLRB No. 108

(remand to RD for purpose of ascertaining whether discriminatee incurred medical expenses for which he is entitled to recover under E's health and welfare plan; Bd rejected discriminatee's plan that medical claims be submitted directly to carrier for determination of coverage)

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128

(Ee reimbursed for losses and expenses caused by U's unlawful 8(b)(1)(A) conduct against him by requiring U reimburse Ee for lost health insurance benefit coverage applicable to unreimbursed medical expenses incurred and his personal premium expenses incurred in securing for himself essentially comparable insurance)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

(out of pocket medical expenses incurred when E was not covered by insurance at his interim employment, less savings in cost of insurance, included; notwithstanding contention striker could have insured himself)

4433-2833-8600 Additional insurance premiums paid by discriminatee

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(reimbursement of cost of insurance premiums which E furnished gratis)

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128

(Ee reimbursed for losses and expenses caused by U's unlawful 8(b)(1)(A) conduct against him by requiring U reimburse Ee for lost health insurance benefit coverage applicable to unreimbursed medical expenses incurred and his personal premium expenses incurred in securing for himself essentially comparable insurance)

4433-2833-9100 Vacation benefits

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(discriminatees' backpay calculations included paid vacation if they would have qualified for it absent discrimination practiced against them)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(GC's claim for payment of vacation benefits to terminated Ees, as provided for in contract, disallowed where, absent some evidence of absentee rates of Ees, it was impossible to calculate their entitlement to vacation benefits, and GC failed to meet burden of establishing Ees' rights to such employment benefits)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(where vacation benefits due terminated Ees were not converted into dollar amounts by backpay specification, nor by E or GC, and neither record nor contract specified rates of pay to be used in payment of vacation which has been earned but not taken, rate in effect at date of Ees' return to work applicable to shift that Ees were working when terminated held applicable)

4433-2833-9600 Contributions to pension plan

Acme Wire Works, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 209

(to be paid directly to discriminatee since he has been out of industry for 24-month period and thus entitled to withdraw his monies from fund under agreement)

Acme Wire Works, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 209

(E must contribute full amount discriminatee entitled to notwithstanding lower amount would maintain vesting rights as this would result in windfall to E and deprive pension fund of its full entitlement)

J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-175-81

(E not required to make contributions to contractually-established trust funds as part of backpay remedy for discriminatorily discharged Ees where ct had determined that E was neither legally bound by the multi-E association contract nor equitably estopped from denying compliance with its terms since, although E had voluntarily contributed to funds in past, E had not agreed in writing to do so under Sec. 302(c)(5)(B) of the Act)

4433-2867 Items excluded

Eastgate I.G.A. Foodliner 253 NLRB No. 106

(Bd held E's backpay liability would continue past date when discriminatee became permanent part-time Ee at market he had been moonlighting from regular employment and earnings from such part-time employment constituted alternate earnings not to be deducted from E's gross backpay liability as interim earnings)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(Ees held not entitled to personal leave benefits under contract for year of backpay period preceding year in which they were reinstated, where contract provided that such leave must be taken in year in which entitlement occurs or be cancelled; Ees received backpay for all the time they would have been available for work during backpay period; and if it were also found that Ees are entitled to personal leave they could not take during the preceding year, they would receive benefit which they could not have taken if they had been working)

Maine Forest, Inc., formerly known as Claude Carrier, Inc. JD-(NY)-59-80
(amount reimbursed E's skidder operators for expenses incurred as owners and operators of skidder machine, excluded, since concept of reimbursement for skidder ownership and operation was based on compensation for expenses rather than allowance for profit to skidder owner)

4433-4200 Deductions from gross backpay

4433-4209 Recoupment of backpay

Plasticrafts, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 161
(E's make whole obligation for unlawful withholding of wage increases during election and negotiating period diminished by wage increases granted subsequent to period where such increase divided over backpay period equivalent to monthly average of increases over past representative period of employment)

4433-4217 Interim earnings

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(discriminatee not awarded backpay to which he would otherwise be entitled where he failed to report interim employment to Bd agent as he was instructed to do, and denied, until confronted on cross examination, that he had been paid by U for picketing, since such concealment of interim earnings constituted abuse of Bd's processes and his failure or refusal to recall what other information he failed to supply Bd rendered ascertainment of interim earnings impossible)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066
(where supervisor was unlawfully demoted to salesman and thereafter participated in strike in latter capacity, Bd required that his earnings as salesman for period between demotion and striking be entertained as offset against gross backpay owing him as supervisor during such period)

4433-4217-0100 Generally

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(where E's figures for interim earnings were derived from Ee's tax returns and such figures differed from compliance officer's calculations, precedence given to tax returns, although tax returns themselves would have been more satisfactory; since tax returns did not show earnings by quarters, total of earnings shown on returns distributed equally by quarters)

4433-4217-2500 Items included

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(Ee's interim earnings asserted by GC to be supplementary income not deductible from gross backpay not excluded from interim earnings, even though it would tend to penalize Ee, who also engaged in supplementory employment while working for E, for being energetic Ee, since GC failed to meet burden that earnings should be excluded)

4433-4217-2510 Earnings from self-employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(where discriminatee and wife also operated restaurant and filling station, fifty percent of earnings stated in IRS return)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(earnings placed in escrow account held reportable in year earned rather than in year released from escrow and reported to IRS)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(sales tax paid in year following collection held deductible in year paid where included on IRS return for year paid)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(self-employment should be treated like any other interim employment in measuring backpay liability)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(moneys earned during period of discrimination from a supplemental job which discriminatee also held during his employment with respondent/E are not deductible from gross backpay as interim earnings)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(money received by Ee from small business which he established with associates but which was subsequently liquidated held distribution of capital and not income and not included in interim earnings)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(living expenses recieved by Ee from small business he and associates established away from home included in interim earnings and valued at minimal rate in view of communal nature of living arrangements of Ee and his associates)

4433-4217-2515 Tips

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 238 NLRB No. 148
(where discriminatee voluntarily chose to work 32-hour instead of 40-hour week her backpay tips reduced by number of days she willfully reduced her interim work)

4433-4217-2545 Wages paid in equivalency for fringe benefits

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128
(wages paid to Ee in equivalency for fringe benefits on government funded jobs, if established as paid to Ee, would properly qualify as offsets to mitigate U's insurance expenses; and also available to offset pension benefits)

4433-4217-2580 Early retirement benefits

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(where Ees were unlawfully induced to retire early by receiving specified buy-out sum from E, net backpay for each quarter computed on basis of formula consisting of number of benefit and regular shifts available in quarter, shift wage rates, and Ee's attendance percentage rate to arrive at gross backpay, deducting therefrom interim earnings and portion of buy-out sum which together will equal amount of gross backpay, leading either to point that buy out sum is exhausted or to excess of buy-out over gross backpay and interim earnings)

4433-4217-2590 Workmen's compensation award included to extent it is payment for lost wages

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(amount paid Ee under workmen's compensation award in form of permanent disability indemnity excluded from interim earnings since, unlike temporary disability payments which are substitute for lost wages, permanent disability payment was for permanent bodily impairment designed to indemnify Ee for impairment of future earning capacity)

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102
(workmen's compensation award should be considered as interim earnings offset from backpay only so long as award is forthcoming so as to be used in backpay determinations and will not delay compliance beyond period of 30 days after ALJ's order; if not w/i 30 day period, issue of such contended interim earnings should be foreclosed)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(workmen's compensation earnings included in interim earnings only to the extent that they are substitute for earnings but not to the extent that they constitute damages)

4433-4217-2595 Social Security disability payments

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(Social Security disability payments received by Ee who was a deaf mute which severely limited his employment away from E included in interim earnings since payments were not due to injury but because his disability prevented him from deriving income from employment and, as such, payments are analogous to part of workmen's compensation that are a substitute for lost wages)

4433-4217-5000 Items excluded

4433-4217-5012 Strike benefits

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 084

Robert E. Anderson and Richard E. Anderson, Co-Partners d/b/a Anderson Cabinets JD-316-80

4433-4217-5050 Collateral benefits

Medline Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 182
(payment of medical expenses by father of Ee who was unlawfully discharged, whether deemed gift, loan, conditional loan or meeting moral obligation to one's offspring, constituted collateral benefit which is not an offset against Ee's claim for lost benefits because such payment did not constitute compensation to Ee for services performed)

Ace Masonry, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 022
(collateral losses not part of additional amounts to be determined at compliance stage)

4433-4217-5055 Unemployment compensation

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81

4433-4217-5075 Earnings during hours when discriminatee would not have worked for employer

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(earnings from second job which Ee held during time of employment with E not classified as interim earnings and not deducted from backpay determination)

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(where discriminatee took position as manager of store which required her to spend many hours at store, including those she previously worked for Respondent, the hours which would have been worked for Respondent are not excluded from her backpay earnings where it was requirement of job to work so many hours and she could not have worked for Respondent and as manager of store at same time)

Teamsters Local 559, an affiliate Of The International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 006
(Bd held that discriminatee's earnings from moonlighting job were not includable as interim earnings where Ee only worked on Sundays at second job and there was no evidence that he worked for previous E on Sundays)

Eastgate I.G.A. Foodliner 253 NLRB No. 106
(Bd held E's backpay liability would continue past date when discriminatee became permanent part-time Ee at market he had been moonlighting from regular employment and earnings from such part-time employment constituted alternate earnings not to be deducted from E's gross backpay liability as interim earnings)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(moonlighting earnings)

Maine Forest, Inc., formerly known as Claude Carrier, Inc. JD-(NY)-59-80
(money discriminatees earned during mud season when E's logging operation was shut down and no backpay accrued, not deducted from backpay which accumulated while E was operating)

4433-4217-5087 Income which discriminatee would have earned absent discrimination

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011
(backpay due discriminatees not to be offset by merit increases Ees did receive which though not included in terms of unsigned collective bargaining agreement were customarily granted where E failed to prove that it would not have followed its past practice if had complied with terms of collective bargaining agreement)

4433-4217-7500 Deductions

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(discriminatee entitled to reimbursement for tools left at E's, notwithstanding discriminatee never personally went to E's to claim tools, absent offer by E to return tools or evidence tools still intact because if not for E's ULPs, Ee would not have been forced to purchase new tools)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(expenses incurred in obtaining and keeping interim employment deducted from interim earnings)

4433-4217-7508 Tools and equipment used for interim employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(cost of tools purchased in connection with interim employment allowed, notwithstanding discriminatee's admission tools not condition of employment for interim job and tools had resale value, since Respondent neither formally contested tool expense claim, nor sought to rebut testimony that tools were needed)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(where business occupied one floor and half of basement and family occupied one floor and half of basement, fifty percent of rent is deductible)

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(total phone bill less amount of average personal phone bill before Ee commenced business held deductible where extension of business phone is installed in Ee's apartment)

4433-4217-7510 Travel expenses incurred in seeking interim employment

3 States Trucking, Inc., and Its Successor, Southern Illinois Minerals Corporation 252 NLRB No. 153
(gasoline costs incurred while job hunting)

Plumbers Local Union No. 83 (Power City Plumbing & Heating Inc.) JD-38-80
(15 cents rather than 10 cents per mile, held appropriate reimbursement rate for Ee's travel expenses in seeking job; 10-cent per mile figure is unreasonable in light of general inflation rate since 1964 when it was introduced as Federal Government's reimbursement rate and today's spiralling costs for operating motor vehicles)

4433-4217-7520 Travel expenses incurred in going to and from interim job

Petroleum Helicopters, Inc. 243 NLRB No. 009
(where discriminatory transfer resulted in increased commuting costs for discriminatee, E ordered to make Ee whole for any monetary losses he may have suffered)

Mid-America Machinery Company 258 NLRB No. 044

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(amounts expended for lease of tank truck and permit, although illegal to use lease of another under state law, and estimated milage from IRS return held deductible)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054

Adams Delivery Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-275-81

4433-4217-7530 Moving expenses for interim employment out of town

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee entitled to moving expenses, notwithstanding he voluntarily quit interim employment and moved to another area since discriminatee did not fail to mitigate damages where job market in new area comparable to that in E's area)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(discriminatee's moving expenses incurred upon obtaining out-of-town interim employment included in net backpay where E's evidence failed to disprove discriminatee's testimony or to show suitable jobs were available for her or that she rejected suitable employment in local area; and while E's statistical analysis may, at most, create element of doubt, any doubt must be resolved in favor of discriminatee rathe than E)

4433-4217-7540 Room and board for interim employment out of town

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(discriminatee who was transferred out of state during his interim employment not entitled to additional compensation for meals during period out of state since he would have had to spend same amoutat had he been w/i state working for same E)

4433-4217-7575 Training expenses

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162
(expenses for travelling to attend Success Motivation Institute meeting)

4433-4217-9900 Other

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(money received by Ee for working catered affair out of state and money he won at race track on visit back home held not interim earnings where money was received during period in which Ee was disqualified from gross backpay while out of state for family reasons)

4433-4233 Willful loss of earnings

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 238 NLRB No. 082
(fact that discriminatee was unemployed for almost 8 years out of 9 year backpay period does not remove her from eligibility for backpay where record shows she actively sought employment for entire period and failure to find employment was based on her lack of skills and smallness of town)

4433-4233-0100 Generally

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(while conduct of discriminatee after close of backpay period has no dispositive significance on issue of willful loss of earnings, where evidence w/i backpay periods tended to show discriminatees lack of serious interest in employment, his later conduct tending to show same lack of employment interest has some persuasive significance in shedding light on his earlier state of mind)

4433-4233-0400 Failure to seek or accept interim employment

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 087
(E's backpay liability tolled where discriminatee did not make diligent effort to find employment notwithstanding fact he registered with state employment commission)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E has burden of showing discriminatee willfully incurred loss and any uncertainty resolved against E; burden not met by showing lack of success in binding interim employment or low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively demonstrate that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee's substantial reliance on U hiring hall as basic means of obtaining interim employment did not constitute such unreasonable limiting of employment opportunities as to constitute willful idleness where discriminatee obtained regular employment at his skill level)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(playing guitar in tavern on weekends not serious search for comparable employment where discriminatee not professional musician, had no aspirations for musical career, pay was less than made at job from which discharged)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee who was laborer had falled to make serious search for comparable interim employment where only one job listed on NLRB's backpay

data sheet was weekend job playing guitar in tavern and other jobs held were very short term and low paying; further, discriminatee failed to show very many applications and comparable jobs were available in area)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings since discriminatee held to have made substantial efforts to obtain comparable employment, notwithstanding discriminatee's perfunctionery testimony as to job search, where he had filed detailed reports of his efforts with compliance officer and absent evidence discriminatee refused employment offers)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee turned down jobs because of low pay, entailed work out of his craft or involved revolving or night shifts)

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(Ee made diligent search for interim work where he regularly and sincerely sought employment, attempted to augment initial part-time employment with additional income or a substituted full-time position, and used newspapers and U offices as sources of prospective employment; his testimony that he visited many more firms than he chose to record was persuasive, and his purfunctory manner and ultimate cessation of making periodic reports to compliance officer was natural human trait)

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee registered with state employment office applied to three Es, and worked off loans by friend by working in friend's business)

A & W Products Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 015
(no wilful loss of earnings where Ee sought any available job at numerous places of business in area where she lived, applied at plants located 16 miles from her home and reported to state unemployment office every two weeks for job referrals)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(E may mitigate his backpay liability by showing willfully incurred loss by a clearly identifiable refusal to take desirable new employment; but since affirmative defense burden is upon E to prove necessary facts, such burden is not met by presenting evidence of lack of Ee success in obtaining interim employment or of low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively show that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(although discriminatee must make reasonable efforts to mitigate loss of income, he is held only to reasonable exertions in this regard, not the highest standard of diligence; success is not the measure of sufficiency of discriminatee's search for interim employment, since the law only requires an honest good faith effort, and reasonableness of effort is determined by considering discriminatee's skills and qualifications, his age, and labor conditions in his area)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(in determining whether discriminatee has made reasonable search for interim employment, test is whether record establishes that discriminatee has diligently sought employment during entire backpay period, and uncertainty in evidence is resolved against E as wrongdoer)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(discriminatee held not to have willfully failed to seek interim employment, even though compliance forms showed she had made only 15 documented employment contacts in 3-year period, where her testimony and compliance forms showed she sought appropriate employment on at least 45 occasions; in addition, she perused newspaper help-wanted ads, registered with her local and with State unemployment office, and occasionally checked back with local and visited unemployment office every other week)

Mid-America Machinery Company 258 NLRB No. 044
(refusal of position not substantially equivalent with that held with E, not willful loss of earnings)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(no willful loss of earnings notwithstanding discriminatee who had been employed at meatpacking plant sought employment at only one of several meat packing plants in area, absent specific evidence there were jobs available at plants for which he would have qualified)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(burden on E to show that discriminatee would have been successful in securing interim employment; general assertion of need in area for skills which discriminatee possessed is not sufficient to meet burden)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee during three weeks of unemployment applied to one E for work related to his recent experience, two other Es, went to two unemployment offices several times, and consulted friends and newspaper)

Sargent Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 018
(no willful loss of earnings during backpay period where Ee had substantial interim earnings throughout period in question, made repeated and continued contacts with business agents whenever out of work, and with due diligence, accepted their suggestions and referrals whenever job opportunities existed)

Sargent Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 018
(E failed to show that Ee did not exercise reasonable diligence in searching for employment during backpay period where he worked for number of enterprises and remained in regular contact with various locals and International during periods of unemployment)

Top Manufacturing Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 124
(5 months was not too long period of time for ULP strikes to rely primarily upon U's employment facility to secure work, especially where respondent E failed to carry its burden of demonstrating that suitable alternative work opportunities in non-U shops were available)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(fact discriminatee has low or even non-existant interim earnings does not of itself prove his or her failure to seek employment during backpay period)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(where discriminatee asserted she sought employment at various Es during backpay period Respondent did not meet its burden of proof regarding its claim that discriminatee did not seek employment during period where it failed to call as witnesses representatives of Es from whom discriminatee claimed to have sought employment, despite fact that these reports had been turned over to Respondent before trial)

Highview, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 090
(test of whether discriminatee has made reasonable search for employment is whether he/she had dilligently sought other employment during entire backpay period, and fact that discriminatee had no interim earnings during backpay period is not probative upon issue of whether discriminatee made diligent search for work)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(no willful loss of earnings since job at different E never actually offered him where striker stated he intended to return to E's employ when strike ended)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's contention that list of places where discriminatee applied for work indicates that she did not make as extensive a search as she indicated in her testimony, rejected, where discriminatee's abbreviated list of places that she applied to and which was prepared for hearing was due to discriminatee's difficulty in remembering names of potential Es that she contacted more than a year earlier)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E did not establish that discriminatee failed to follow up initial contacts with potential interim Es and thereby incurred willful loss of earnings, where discriminatee credibly testified that following some of her applications or interviews for employment, if prospective E told her that she would be contacted, discriminatee nonetheless called back, but in other cases she did not do so because she was left with impression that that's the way it was, don't call us, we'll call you)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(discriminatee held not to have willfully failed to seek interim employment where she was unsuccessful in her attempts through various means to find work similar to job she had with E or even dissimilar work)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(discriminatee held not to have willfully failed to seek interim employment where she allegedly did not seek reemployment with interim E after giving birth inasmuch as she was not in fact asked at hearing whether she had sought such reemployment afterwards)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(backpay claimant held to have made reasonable and diligent efforts to find interim employment where, during backpay period, he followed pattern of contacting firms in printing industry for type of job he performed in E's employ, and of checking want ads; obtained job dispensing beer at tavern until he was laid off; obtained employment with printing firm until it went out of business; and worked as maintenance man until he was reinstated by E)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(E's contention that backpay claimant should be penalized for 3 weeks when he admittedly did not seek employment immediately following his termination under E's unlawful early retirement program, rejected, since claimant need not instantly seek new work; rather, test is whether, on record as a whole, he has diligently sought employment during entire backpay period)

Pacific Coast Utilities Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-272-81
(no willful loss of earnings where during 3 month period discriminatee registered with U hiring hall and state unemployment office, read want ads and applied for several jobs, notwithstanding at beginning of period occupied with claim against his former E, indicated not willing to take any job at any pay, and limited search to home county; nor did discriminatee jeopardize his status as job seeker by his effort to change from jointer to E-lumper since both unskilled occupations)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81
(discriminatee who limited his search for interim employment to local area because he had transportation problems did not incurr willfull loss of employment)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81
(discriminatee allowed reasonable time (ALJ says 2 weeks not unreasonable) before commencing his search for employment)

Mckenna Contractors, A Joint Venture JD-(SF)-281-80
(not established where discriminatee sought employment both in and outside geographical area of his former employment and acted reasonably in seeking work at the different locations)

DeLorean Cadillac, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 554 (C.A. 6) (1980)
(uncorroborated testimony of party who tends to benefit from award of reinstatement or backpay should be subject to strict scrutiny and where discriminatee produced no corroborating witnesses or tangible evidence of his efforts to secure equivalent position and E produced witnesses who testified that discriminatee did not approach them for job, ct held discriminatee was not diligent in seeking employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Hopcroft Art & Stained Glass Works, Inc. 692 F.2d 63 (C.A. 8, Nov. 5, 1982)
(notwithstanding E's argument that discharged Ee failed to diligently search for alternate employment, ct found there was substantial evidence on record as a whole to support ALJ's finding that dischargee's backpay should not be reduced for that reason)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1154 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(E's burden of proving that discriminatorily discharged Ee failed to make diligent search for interim work not met, where record did not show discriminatee's efforts were insincere and, moreover, his period of unemployment coincided with period of substantial unemployment in the area)

4433-4233-0800 Self-employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee's casual self-employment not willful loss of earnings where discriminatee did not limit efforts to obtain interim earnings to such employment but also sought other work during backpay period)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee's quitting interim job for self employment not willful loss of earnings where discriminatee left job because of chemical vapors which were not associated with job at Respondent's; further, after discriminatee determined that self-employment was not profitable, he promptly sought other employment)

Top Manufacturing Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 124
(fact that ULP striker's self-employment was not financial success when compared to what he had been earning during his employment with respondent did not demonstrate that he failed to diligently pursue his business, that he failed to devote full time to it or that he incurred willful loss of earnings)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 084
(self-employment is not tantamount to withdrawal from job market)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee operated business for about six months but ceased operation when it proved to be unprofitable)

4433-4233-1300 Failure to retain interim employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings that would preclude discriminatee from receiving backpay where discriminatee's leaving interim job was not with intent of having idleness subsidized by E but because of dispute over pay increase and concern about handling hazardous substances, and where other more acceptable positions available and accepted that had same, or greater, backpay mitigating features than interim job from which Ee quit)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where instrument technician quit similarly named interim job to unsuccessfull try construction work with his father because interim job was cross craft job involving instrumentation and electrical work and he was concered over hazard of working with high voltage which was not involved in job with Respondent, nor was decision to enter construction work unreasonable since discriminatee guaranteed salary and possibility of share of profits, and subsequent decline of residential construction did not evidence intention to avoid interim earnings)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee quit interim employment because he was required to work graveyard shift not unreasonable since sufficiently more onerous than job he had occupied at Respondent's inasmuch as he was not required to work graveyard shift at Respondent's; discriminatee's duty to mitigate damages limited to duty to seek and remain on interim job which was substantially comparable to one he occupied before unlawful discharge)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee laid off from interim employment through no fault of his own)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee's quitting interim job for self employment not willful loss of earnings where discriminatee left job because of chemical vapors which were not associated with job at Respondent's; further, after discriminatee determined that self-employment was not profitable, he promptly sought other employment)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(Respondent's contention backpay tolled since discriminatee who had been working as traveller in construction industry voluntarily left job, rejected, where U permissibly requested that travellers leave job in order to make room for local workers)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee who had been working on interim jobs away from his home and family returned to his family for brief period rather than take another job in distant state)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E's contention discriminatee not entitled to backpay where he quit interim job at which he was making higher hourly wage than at E and moving to California; rejected, since E failed in its burden to show that discriminatee's overall earnings (including overtime) at interim employment would have been at least equal to those he would have received at E; therefore, discriminatee did not willfully avoid offsetting interim earnings by quitting interim job. Moving to California didn't reflect willful failure to seek comparable interim employment, because California is area with comparable employment opportunities)

Medline Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 182
(willful loss of earnings is evidenced when claimant exhibits a propensity to quit jobs for myriad of reasons)

Mid-America Machinery Company 258 NLRB No. 044
(contention that discriminatee was discharged from interim employment for drunkeness, rejected where only proof offered was interim E's business records w/o testimony as to their truth)

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002
(discriminatee who quit interim employment after being wrongly accused of theft from cash register quit for justifiable course and is not deprived of claim for backpay after that period of employment)

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102
(Ee did not engage in willful loss of earnings during backpay period where he left interim employment because he was not receiving benefit of having health, welfare, and pension contributions made to U funds and wanted to work where such would be done)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(discriminatee not barred from further claims for backpay where he quit interim employment which involved long commute)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(discriminatee's quitting of interim employment while pregnant, on instructions of her physician, held not willful loss of earnings where employment with E differed from work performed during interim employment and discriminatee was able to perform work but not the latter)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's contention that discriminatee failed to make adequate search for interim employment on ground that she did not testify that she left interim employment for a compelling and justifiable reason, rejected; although discriminatee was called as E's witness she was not asked why she left interim employment, and thus E has not demonstrated that she quit such job or that, if she did, she did not have good reason for doing so)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(no willful loss of earnings existed where discriminatee quit her part-time interim job since it was reasonable to conclude that discriminatee would reject part-time work when she had been offered and expected to receive full-time employment, and E did not adduce evidence in support of its contention that had discriminatee remained part-time Ee she would have had time to continue seeking a more satisfactory job)

N.L.R.B. v. Hopcroft Art & Stained Glass Works, Inc. 692 F.2d 63 (C.A. 8, Nov. 5, 1982)
(backpay award was not reduced where Ee voluntarily quit interim employment because he was physically incapable of performing job due to injury received during said interim employment; but backpay was reduced where Ee voluntarily quit other interim employment due to personal problems with E's manager)

4433-4233-1500 Failure to work full time at interim employment

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(backpay of discriminatee who voluntarily chose to work 32-hour instead of 40-hour week for family reasons, reduced accordingly but offset by number of hours she occasionally worked over 32 hours per week)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(where discriminatee voluntarily chose to work 32-hour instead of 40-hour week her backpay tips reduced by number of days she willfully reduced her interim work)

4433-4233-1600 Acceptance of lower paying job

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee who accepted jobs that paid less than job from which unlawfully discharged entitled to difference between what he earned in interim employment and what Respondent would have paid him, notwithstanding contention discriminatee never sought comparable employment, absent evidence better paying jobs available which discriminatee either avoided or turned down)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee turned down jobs because of low pay, entailed work out of his craft or involved revolving on night shifts)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee who had been employed in meat packing plant accepted job at hourly rate less than that paid in unionized meat packing plants in area absent evidence such jobs were available and where pay differential offset by commuting cost; further, it is often matter of necessity for discriminatees to accept jobs paying less than former wage and no requirement that he hold out until appearance of substantially equivalent employment)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(fact discriminatee who was ULP striker was fully employed during strike does not bar backpay where his earnings were substantially lower than he was making at E and he was not obligated to search for better employment nor does fact accepted interim, employment indicate he was no longer interested in employment with E)

Pacific Coast Utilities Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-272-81
(no willful loss of earnings where during 5 month period discriminatee registered with U hiring hall and state unemployment office, read want ads and applied for several jobs, notwithstanding at beginning of period occupied with claim against his former E, indicated not willing to take any job at any pay, and limited search to home county; nor did discriminatee jeopardize his status as job seeker by his effort to change from jainter to B-lumper since both unskilled occupations)

N.L.R.B. v. Tama Meat Packing Corp. 634 F.2d 1071 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(backpay claimant made good faith effort to mitigate damages where, during 2-day suspension even before he was unlawfully terminated, he sought aid of two state employment agencies and obtained new job same day he was terminated; E's contention that claimant's failure to apply at plant giving higher rate of pay than new job was paying was claimant's dislike for type of work involved, rejected; claimant, after expeditiously finding new employment, had no duty to apply for another type of position)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1154 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(job offered discriminatee not equivalent employment where it required acceptance of 60 percent pay cut w/i 3 months after Ee's unlawful discharge; indeed, acceptance of such a drastic pay cut so soon after discharge might subject Ee to reduction in back pay on ground that he had willfully incurred a loss)

4433-4233-1800 Registration with USES or state employment office

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 037
(E's backpay liability tolled where discriminatee did not make diligent effort to find employment notwithstanding fact he registered with state employment commission)

3 States Trucking, Inc., and Its Successor, Southern Illinois Minerals Corporation 252 NLRB No. 153
(Ee who attends trade school classes but registers with state unemployment services and continues job search not rendered unavailable for work by virtue of school attendance)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-431-81
(E's contention that discriminatee failed to make adequate search for interim employment on ground she failed to register with employment agencies, rejected; law imposes no positive obligation on discriminatee so to register, although it is a relevant factor in determining reasonableness of effort in seeking employment)

4433-4233-2700 Search for jobs out of town

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E's contention discriminatee not entitled to backpay where he quit interim job at which he was making higher hourly wage than at E and moving to California; rejected, since E failed in its burden to show that discriminatee's overall earnings (including overtime) at interim employment would have been at least equal to those he would have received at E; therefore, discriminatee did not willfully avoid offsetting interim earnings by quitting interim job. Moving to California didn't reflect willful failure to seek comparable interim employment, because California is area with comparable employment opportunities)

4433-4233-3100 Acceptance of job outside local job market

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee who had been working on interim jobs away from his home and family returned to his family for brief period rather than take another job in distant state)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(willful loss of earnings where discriminatee who worked as laborer and construction worker moved to cold climate where season for construction work shorter, notwithstanding move was motivated by poor health of mother who was resident of area, since this motivation irrelevant in regard to backpay computation)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E's contention discriminatee not entitled to backpay where he quit interim job at which he was making higher hourly wage than at E and moving to California; rejected, since E failed in its burden to show that discriminatee's overall earnings (including overtime) at interim employment would have been at least equal to those he would have received at E; therefore, discriminatee did not willfully avoid offsetting interim earnings by quitting interim job. Moving to California didn't reflect willful failure to seek comparable interim employment, because California is area with comparable employment opportunities)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81
(discriminatee who limited his search for interim employment to local area because he had transportation problems did not incurr willfull loss of employment)

4433-4233-4000 Preparing for, and attending, Board proceeding

Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 177
(Ee not entitled to backpay compensation for time spent at Bd hearings)

4433-4233-4500 Removal from labor market

Mid-America Machinery Company 258 NLRB No. 044
(Ee not removed from job market by attendance at morning and evening program of instruction where he sought employment during that period and would have taken it if offered)

Sargent Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 018
(no willful loss of earnings during period when Ee attended bible college in another city since it could not be determined that he had withdrawn from labor market as he was devoting only few evening hours for college studies while otherwise working 8-hour day, and there were no indications that he had permanently abandoned his work for full-time studies)

Top Manufacturing Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 124
(no willful removal from labor market where ULP striker waited 3 weeks at start of backpay period to see whether his promised job would materialize, especially where, as here, he checked to make sure that it was realistic for him to wait for promised employment)

3 States Trucking, Inc., and Its Successor, Southern Illinois Minerals Corporation 252 NLRB No. 153
(Ee who attends trade school classes but registers with state unemployment services and continues job search not rendered unavailable for work by virtue of school attendance)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81
(discriminatee considered to have removed himself from labor market for 2-week period during which he helped his family move)

N.L.R.B. v. Hopcroft Art & Stained Glass Works, Inc. 692 F.2d 63 (C.A. 8, Nov. 5, 1982)
(notwithstanding E's argument that discharged Ee failed to remain in the labor market, ct found there was substantial evidence on record as a whole to support ALJ's finding that dischargee's backpay should not be reduced for that reason)

4433-4233-4525 Leaving geographical area of former employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(willful loss of earnings since discriminatee by going abroad for long period to country where he well knew wage structure was lower than U.S. took himself out of comparable labor market and went into form of retirement)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(willful loss of earnings where discriminatee who worked as laborer and construction worker moved to cold climate where season for construction work shorter, notwithstanding move was motivated by poor health of mother who was resident of area, since this motivation irrelevant in regard to backpay computation)

4433-4233-4525—Cont.

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(E's contention discriminatee not entitled to backpay where he quit interim job at which he was making higher hourly wage than at E and moving to California; rejected, since E failed in its burden to show that discriminatee's overall earnings (including overtime) at interim employment would have been at least equal to those he would have received at E; therefore, discriminatee did not willfully avoid offsetting interim earnings by quitting interim job. Moving to California didn't reflect willful failure to seek comparable interim employment, because California is area with comparable employment opportunities)

M Restaurants, Incorporated d/b/a The Mandarin v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 336 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(unlawfully discharged Ee who was unable to find work for 18 months and then left country for 1 year period during which time he earned minimal salary found not to have voluntarily left labor market; discharged Ee is not confined to the geographical area of former employment; he or she remains in the labor market by seeking work in any area with comparable employment opportunities)

4433-4233-4833 Pregnancy

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-421-81

(discriminatee held unavailable for interim employment during backpay period for a period of 5 months due to pregnancy, where E adduced no evidence to support its claim that Ees who were unable to work due to pregnancy or other physical disability were routinely terminated rather than put on temporary leave of absence)

4433-4233-4850 Illness and/or bereavement

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee who had mononucleosis during backpay period not entitled to amount he would have been paid under E's paid sick leave program, absent evidence discriminatee, met requirement of E's sick leave program that he be under care of physician and in view of lack of full litigation of facts due to absence of notice to E that GC intended to seek disability pay for discriminatee)

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042

(E failed to establish discriminatee had not secured work because of drinking problem)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(consideration given to pattern of illness and disability suffered by Ee during backpay period when Ee, although feeling unwell, continued mostly unsuccessfully to seek interim employment by various means, including participation in job assistance programs, sought employment in other states, was confined to bed for period of time due to auto accident and, finally, after medical examination he was informed he was medically disabled from work)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(E's claim that Ee was disabled from work during portion of applicable quarters disallowed where Ee, although admitting he did not feel well, insisted that if he could have found work he was seeking he could have worked; it was E's burden to show Ee was removed from job market during periods in question but did not do so, and penalty herein would be based entirely on speculation; moreover, E's claim Ee should be accorded only disability pay one entire quarter rejected, since E failed to explain that Ee was so disabled)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(fact that Ee, who E claimed was disabled during entire quarter and was too ill to participate in job assistance program that Ee had applied for, was rejected after being hired by interim E, who had higher medical standard than Ee could meet, held not in an of itself to disqualify Ee as E claimed)

4433-4233-4880 On strike or refusal to cross picket line

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee who began working for Respondent during strike at his former E and returned to former E only after strike had been settled subsequent to his unlawful discharge entitled to backpay for period during which he honored picket line at former E, notwithstanding E's contention discriminatee was never bona fide Ee and honoring picket line constituted willful loss of earnings, since duty to mitigate damages does not encompass strikebreaking and Respondent did not establish discriminatee would have returned to former E after strike settlement had he not been unlawfully discharged)

4433-4233-5400 Rejection of invalid reinstatement offer

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 037

(offers of reinstatement to unlawfully discharged drivers to alternate non-driving positions does not toll E's backpay obligation; Ees who refused such interim work were under no obligation to accept offer of employment substantially unlike that of truck driving)

4433-4233-6700 Reinstated claimant's withdrawal from higher paying position

N.L.R.B. v. Texas Meat Packing Corp. 634 F.2d 1071 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(backpay claimant who, shortly after reinstatement at higher paying position to which he was entitled, withdrew therefrom and returned to his old job at lower rate of pay, held not entitled to have backpay computed on basis of higher paying position; claimant's voluntary withdrawal constituted independent intervening cause which was unrelated to E's discriminatory acts, and no evidence exists that claimant would have accepted and remained in higher paying position at time E discriminated against him; any other conclusion would compensate claimant beyond foreseeable wage loss he suffered)

4433-4233-7200 Accepting job involving shorter work week

Medline Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 182

(unlawfully discharged Ee not entitled to backpay in particular quarter because difference between interim earnings and gross backpay is attributable to fact that he incurred willful loss of earnings by quitting full-time job and working part time; had he worked full time for the entire quarter his earnings would probably have exceeded his gross backpay)

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 010

(where E was unlawfully motivated in reducing Ee's hours but Ee had requested some reduction in hours, backpay awarded for amount of reduction determined to be involuntary)

4433-4233-7600 Accepting less than regular interim employment salary

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(no willful loss of earnings nor denial of backpay results therefrom where discriminatee who was pipefitter took sales job in department store at less pay, since discriminatee did not leave his trade by choice but was laid off from interim job as pipefitter, and absent evidence pipefitting jobs available; further, layoff of pipefitters at interim E was not unusual)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(willful loss of earnings where discriminatee voluntarily left interim job comparable to that held with Respondent to take lesser paying job that he enjoyed more with musical group since Respondnet is not obliged to subsidize such ventures)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 078

(fact discriminatee who was ULP striker was fully employed during strike does not bar backpay where his earnings were substantially lower than he was making at E and he was not obligated to search for better employment nor does fact accepted interim employment indicate he was no longer interested in employment with E)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81

(discriminatee who searched for interim employment for 10 weeks w/o success was w/i reasonable time allowed before penalty would attach for not taking lower level employment)

4433-4233-7900 Accepting dissimilar job

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(no willful loss of earnings nor denial of backpay results therefrom where discriminatee who was pipefitter took sales job in department store at less pay, since discriminatee did not leave his trade by choice but was laid off from interim job as pipefitter, and absent evidence pipefitting jobs available; further, layoff of pipefitters at interim E was not unusual)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(no willful loss of earnings where instrument technician quit similarly named interim job to unsuccessfull try construction work with his father because interim job was cross craft job involving instrumentation and electrical work and he was concered over hazard of working with high voltage which was not involved in job with Respondent, nor was decision to enter construction work unreasonable since discriminatee guaranteed salary and possibility of share of profits, and subsequent decline of residential construction did not evidence intention to avoid interim earnings)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee who accepted jobs that paid less than job from which unlawfully discharged entitled to difference between what he earned in interim employment and what Respondent would have paid him, notwithstanding contention discriminatee never sought comparable employment, absent evidence better paying jobs available which discriminatee either avoided or turned down)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(no willful loss of earnings where discriminatee turned down jobs because of low pay, entailed work out of his craft or involved revolving on night shifts)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(willful loss of earnings where discriminatee voluntarily left interim job comparable to that held with Respondent to take lesser paying job that he enjoyed more with musical group since Respondnet is not obliged to subsidize such ventures)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-421-81

(discriminatee need not accept interim employment on shift different from that she had worked prior to discharge by E)

4433-4233-7900—Cont.

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-215-81
(discriminatee who searched for interim employment for 10 weeks w/o success was w/i reasonable time allowed before penalty would attach for not taking lower level employment)

4433-4233-8100 Failure to seek work after layoff or discharge from interim job

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(backpay claimant who was typesetter in E's employ and had obtained interim employment dispensing beer at tavern until he was laid off need not have thereafter lowered his sights and sought employment such as bartending, where claimant was willing to accept other employment besides typesetting, and his reluctance to seek further bartending jobs was not willful loss of earnings since claimant should not be required to seek employment which he rationally believes, as claimant did, may be physically hazardous due to affrays that often occur in such employment)

4433-4250 Severance payments

W. R. Grace & Co., Construction Products Division 247 NLRB No. 094
(ALJ's proration of severance pay over weeks remaining in quarter after layoffs, and deduction of prorated amount from backpay liability, proper where record did not establish in what week of the quarter severance pay was normally paid)

4433-4267 Premiums for insurance or medical coverage which discriminatee would have paid absent discrimination

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(out of pocket medical expenses incurred when E was not covered by insurance at his interim employment, less savings in cost of insurance, included; notwithstanding contention striker could have insured himself)

4433-4283 No deduction for periods when employee would not have worked for employer

Maine Forest, Inc., formerly known as Claude Carrier, Inc. JD-(NY)-59-80
(money discriminatees earned during mud season when E's logging operation was shut down and no backpay accrued, not deducted from backpay which accumulated while E was operating)

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and JMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(backpay award not enforced and remanded to Bd for new hearing on whether reduction of back pay award was justified where Bd ignored uncontradicted evidence that its back pay formula was inapplicable in instant case; work of discriminatee was irregular and during slack periods newer Ees were laid off)

4433-4291 Adjustment for absenteeism

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81
(gross backpay of claimant computed on basis of percentage rate of absenteeism during years used as base period; disregarded were unusual and lengthy absences in years when claimant was out of work due to illness and to surgical operation; also disregarded was low percentage annual attendance figure when he worked only short periods of time between recovery from operation and his unlawful termination)

4433-5600 Interest

Fegazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(inasmuch as ct of appeals enforced Bd's backpay order providing for interest to be paid at 6 percent, Bd required that such rate be used in computing interest due on backpay)

W. R. Grace & Co., Construction Products Division 249 NLRB No. 094A
(where Bd's D/O, as enforced by ct, does not include interest award, Bd, in exercise of its discretion and depending on circumstances, has awarded interest either from ALJ's supplemental decision adjudicating total net backpay obligation or from commencement of some earlier period; accordingly, upon reconsideration and finding no circumstances which warranted limiting award of interest to period following ALJ's supplemental decision, Bd found it appropriate to award interest on net backpay obligation from commencement of backpay period)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(make payments, w/o interest, into trust fund)

4433-5601 Generally

Iron Workers Union, Local 378 (Judson Steel Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 086
(in second supplemental decision, Bd ordered interest to be paid on backpay at rate of 6 percent as ordered in Bd's original decision rather than interest as computed by method set forth in Florida Steel and recommended by ALJ, since that method is not applicable in cases in which an earlier Bd order providing for different interest has been enforced by court of appeals, as here)

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 002
(interest rate as set forth in Florida Steel applicable to backpay provided for ULP which occurred after date of decision, but backpay still owing discriminatee from violation which was found by Bd and enforced by ct prior to that decision, computed at prior lower rate)

Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 256 NLRB No. 115
(Bd did not provide for interest at fixed rate on fund payment due as part of its make whole remedy because provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements are variable and complex leaving such determination for compliance stage)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(ct rejected E's contentions that 12% interest rate on backpay was improper because it bore no relation to loss sustained by Ee who had not had use of his money, did not reflect cost of money to average consumer, and exceeded 6% legal rate of interest in state; interest rate imposed here was rationally related to Bd objective of discouraging Es from borrowing from Ees instead of paying backpay awards promptly; furthermore, legal interest rate in state has no bearing on what interest rate is appropriate to effectuate goal of federal labor legislation)

4433-5633 Computed at Internal Revenue service's 'adjusted prime rate'

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158
(ALJ properly applied adjusted prime rate of IRS as interest rate herein as prescribed in Florida Steel since, although Bd refused to apply Florida Steel in Sargent Electric case in which earlier Bd order providing for different interest rate had been enforced by ct as in instant case, in Sargent Electric Bd's order issued prior to Florida Steel while here Bd's order issued after that decision; and Bd's failure to follow Florida Steel in its second supplemental decision in instant proceeding was inadvertent error)

Olympic Medical Corporation 250 NLRB No. 011
(use of automatically adjusting adjusted prime rate for determining interest rate as established in Florida Steel Corp., 231 NLRB 651, reaffirmed over fixed rate formula; automatically adjusting rate is preferable because of its link with interest rates of private industry and therefor provides a fairer method for setting interest rate on backpay and other monetary remedies)

U. S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-90-81
(GC's request that 9 percent interest be paid on any backpay due, denied, since Bd has not approved of such rate)

4433-7000 Woolworth formula

Melones Contractors, A Joint Venture JD-(SF)-281-80
(Woolworth formula used notwithstanding E's contention that, because during quarters 1 and 4 of certain year Ee earned more money than he would have earned had he worked at E, Ee's excess earnings must be carried forward to quarters 1 and 2 of the following year so as to avoid windfall for Ee and improper punitive measure as to E)

4433-7001 Generally

Robert E. Cashdollar, Sr., d/b/a Nelson Metal Fabricating 259 NLRB No. 141
(use of F. W. Woolworth Company, 90 NLRB 289 (1950), quarterly backpay computation formula approved in instant proceeding and Ees awarded appropriate amount of backpay notwithstanding that over backpay period Ees earned more at other jobs than they would have earned at E and when offered reinstatement Ees refused; purpose of quarterly balancing is to discourage delay of offer of reinstatement; such offer tolls backpay liability)

4433-7037 Expenses in search from interim work allocable to quarter in which incurred

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(Respondent's defense that since discriminatee's earnings overall during backpay period exceeded what he would have earned at Respondent if not discriminatorily discharged, then Respondent should not be liable for special claims by purchase of medical insurance or mileage in working for interim E, rejected; backpay is computed on quarterly basis (Woolworth formular); therefore special claims can only be treated as offset to interim earnings in quarter incurred rather than backpay period as a whole)

4433-9200 Limitation on backpay

McMillian Cartage, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 018
(limited backpay ordered in refusal to bargain case where E ceased operations, since such order is appropriate remedy even where such violation was unaccompanied by discriminatory shutdown of operations)

4450 BACKPAY PERIOD

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(where successor E had unilaterally reduced wages w/o consulting U, discriminatees were not entitled to have backpay set at prior wage rate for entire period of backpay but only for that portion of backpay period which represented reasonable time for bargaining, after which E would have been free to reduce wage rate)

4450-0100 Generally

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(in absence of offer of reinstatement to discharged striker, E remains free to avoid or reduce its backpay liability by establishing that Ee would not have accepted offer if made, or by any other evidence showing incurrence of willful loss of earnings)

Eastgate I.G.A. Foodliner 253 NLRB No. 106
(Bd resolves uncertainties in record regarding deductions from gross backpay figure against E; backpay claimant rather than wrongdoer receives benefit of any doubt regarding such deductions)

4450-2500 Beginning of period

4450-2501 Generally

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(E's backpay obligation governed by remedy given by Bd majority in Drug Package Company, Inc. 228 NLRB 108 (1977) and not by views of majority of Bd panel deciding instant case)

4450-2502 Date of Board order

Hanes Corporation 260 NLRB No. 077
(where E violated Act by refusing to bargain over discretionary aspects of its non violative unilateral decision to layoff Ees, make-whole remedy is inappropriate as layoffs were inevitable and no basis on which to predicate a finding that any identifiable Ee suffered loss of pay; moreover, situation is analogous to refusal to bargain over effects of plant closure where there was no duty to bargain over decision to close, backpay remedy runs only from time of Bd decision; here, cause of loss of pay, the layoff, has long since ended so consequently, no loss of pay can be suffered after this decision)

4450-2503 10(b) period cut off

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145
(where E had policy of refusing to transfer Ees to new facility for unlawful reasons, remedial order was effective to start of 10(b) period rather than from date E closed facility)

4450-2503-5800 Effect of Board's prior order

Pease Company 251 NLRB No. 080
(where issue of backpay for ULP strikers was, in substance, question concerning compliance with Bd's order in prior case against E, Bd held limitations of Sec. 10(b), applicable to charges in present proceeding, inapplicable to strikers' backpay award, beginning of which is controlled by Bd's prior order; accordingly, strikers are entitled to backpay, not from 6 months prior to filing of charge in instant proceeding, but beginning 5 days after E's receipt of U's unconditional reinstatement application to such time as they are offered reinstatement)

4450-2507 Date of discriminatory action

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tiperrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(Ees unlawfully discharged while engaged in lawful economic strike entitled to reinstatement and backpay from date of discharge until date they are offered reinstatement, even though Ees did not offer unconditionally to return or request reinstatement, since it is E who has acted unlawfully in discharging them, and burden is on E to undo his ULPs by offering immediate reinstatement and reimbursement for all losses attributable to E's unlawful action until he offers full and lawful reinstatement)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149
(backpay period to begin at end of E's vacation when Ee learned that E would not permit him to return to work)

Tamara Foods, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 180
(Ees unlawfully discharged while lawfully striking entitled to backpay from date of discharge until date offered reinstatement and not required to request reinstatement)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(where Ees were refused employment at new operation for unlawful reasons backpay commences from date new operation began and ends with date E lawfully shutdown operation as they would have been lawfully terminated on shutdown date)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061
(where E which had unlawfully dealt directly with Ees during term of bargaining agreement, paying less than contract wage and failing to make payments to pension fund, and failed to use hiring hall as required by contract, subsequently signed and then repudiated another in series of agreements, in order to effectuate policies of Act make whole remedy extended to time of beginning of ULPs during prior contract rather than beginning with latest contract which was repudiated)

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(where E unlawfully failed to bargain with U over partial terminations of operations and later closed all operations, backpay period extends from time Ees terminated notwithstanding on strike at that time to date of termination of all operations)

Newspaper Printing Corporation 250 NLRB No. 122
(relief granted to Ees who suffered monetary losses by reason of E's unlawful unilateral action limited to that period of time from effective date of changes (unilateral) until agreement on those changes by parties)

Trojan Transportation, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 084
(period for computation of backpay and seniority commenced from date of unlawful discharges, notwithstanding E's contention that period should have commenced from date discriminatees' replacements were added to work force, since discriminatees were not recalled but were unlawfully discharged; however, E permitted to attempt to mitigate its backpay liability by showing in compliance proceedings that discriminatees would have been laid off for economic reasons at some time after date of discharges, had Ees not been unlawfully discharged)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-485-80
(backpay runs from date of ULP strikers' discharges rather than from their unconditional offer to return to work, since Bd no longer requires such offer to start running of backpay period)

Associated Truck Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 884(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 9, 1981)
(backpay ordered from time dischargee's reinstatement was unlawfully conditioned on resignation of U steward rather than date of his termination)

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 669 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)
(Bd properly imposed backpay liability from date of strikers' discharge, rather than 5 days after strikers made unconditional offer to return to work, where strike was immediately abandoned after Ees were discharged and they made request for reinstatement through U; moreover, any request for reinstatement would have been futile as indicated by E's response to one Ee's request to come back to work, and E's refusal to return U steward's telephone calls for negotiations on getting Ees back to work)

4450-2507-2500 Unlawful discharge of striker

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(sympathy striker discharged for refusal to cross picket line due backpay from date of discharge until offered reinstatement rather than from date of termination of strike to date reinstatement offered)

Diversified Case Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 119
(backpay awarded to discriminatorily discharged strikers to run from date of discharge, not date strike began)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(economic strikers unlawfully discharged because of their strike activity held entitled to offers of reinstatement and backpay from date of their unlawful discharge)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers entitled to backpay from dates of unlawful discharges to date on which they receive from Es valid offers of reinstatement or to date on which they were fully reinstated, whichever is earlier)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No. 188
(backpay begins from date of discharge of economic strikers rather than from date of written notification of discharge or from strikers' offer to return to work since presumption offer to return to work at time of discharge would have been futile)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impression Northwest JD-(SF)-187-80
(unlawfully discharged strikers should receive back pay from dates their discharge letters were issued to date upon which they were reinstated)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where E unlawfully discharged striker and did not show that Ee was unwilling to return to work or that he would have refused offer of reinstatement as required by Abilities and Goodwill 241 NLRB 27 which shifted burden of proof to wrongdoer, backpay was awarded to date of ULP discharge rather than end of strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct cutoff backpay liability of E to economic striker who was unlawfully discharged from time Ee resigned but allowed backpay from time of discharge until date of resignation as Bd exceeded its authority to remedy violations)

4450-2507-5000 Mitigatory circumstances

Wonder Markets, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 042
(in light of Bd finding that E's offer to Ee of another job was not substantially equivalent to his former position, discriminatee cannot be put under obligation to accept such job to toll or mitigate lost wages and thereby reduce E's backpay obligation)

4450-2507-7500 Date of impact of action

Deberardi Brothers, Inc. JD-(SF)-286-82
(pay Ee, who was lawfully discharged, increase (in wages unlawfully denied) that he would have received from date request was denied until date of his (lawful) discharge)

4450-2514 Date work became available for discriminatee

Waveline, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 087
(Bd ordered backpay remedy for economic striker who was unlawfully refused reinstatement where Bd rejected E's asserted business reasons for refusing to reinstate striker, and where E's unexplained refusal to provide subpenaed information w/i E's control concerning E's poststrike hiring of new Ees warranted adverse inference that a position became available after strike that discriminatee could have filled)

4450-2514-5000 Seasonal work

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and JMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(E may, w/o incurring back pay liability, refrain from reinstating discriminatorily discharged Ee during period when employment would not have been available for him even absent discrimination)

4450-2528 Date vacancies for which discriminatees were qualified were filled

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(make whole remedy ordered where E transferred Ees who had abaondoned strike or made direct appeal to E after strike ended and had been reinstated to positions not substantially equivalent to pre-strike positions, but when positions substantially equivalent became vacant they were given preference to these positons over more.senior economic strikers on whose behalf U had made unconditional offer to return to work. Order to run from time less senior Ees transferred to substantially equivalent positions until senior Ees receive valid offer of reinstatement)

4450-2542 Five days after ULP strikers' unconditional application for reinstatement

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(E's backpay obligation with regard to ULP strikers unlawfully refused reinstatement held to have begun as of date strikers made unconditional offer to return to work)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(where E rejected strikers unconditional offer to return to work back pay period begins when strikers offered to return to work rather than 5 days after strikers offer to return to work)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(E's backpay obligation governed by remedy given by Bd majority in Drug Package Company, Inc. 228 NLRB 108 (1977) and not by views of majority of Bd panel deciding instant case)

Dick Seidler Enterprises, d/b/a Joe & Dodie's Tavern 254 NLRB No. 045
(if E has already rejected, or hereafter rejects, unduly delays, or attaches unlawful conditions to its offer of reinstatement, 5-day period serves no useful purpose and backpay will commence as of unconditional offer to return to work)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 109
(backpay liability commences as of date of unconditional offer to return to work where E rejects, unduly delays, or ignores any unconditional offer to return to work, or attaches unlawful conditions to its offer, since customary 5 day waiting period for liability to attach would serve no useful purpose in regard to accommodating Ees' interest in returning to work as quickly as possible and E's need to effectuate such return in orderly manner)

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038
(five day delay in returning either ULP or economic strikers to work after E had accepted their unconditional offer to return to work held not violative in view of fact that all strikers, in instant case, were duly returned to work)

Safeway Trails, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C. Sept 18, 1981)
(E's contention that backpay should not run from 5 days after unconditional offer to return to work but be tolled until violation was found at second Bd hearing–after remand from ct–rejected, absent involvement of new policy, special factor making award unfair, or reliance on pending decision, since burden resulting from illegal action must fall on wrongdoer)

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 669 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)
(Bd properly imposed backpay liability from date of strikers' discharge, rather than 5 days after strikers made unconditional offer to return to work, where strike was immediately abandoned after Ees were discharged and they made request for reinstatement through U; moreover, any request for reinstatement would have been futile as indicated by E's response to one Ee's request to come back to work, and E's refusal to return U steward's telephone calls for negotiations on getting Ees back to work)

4450-2546 Date of strikers' unconditional offer to return to work

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(backpay, in instant case, for reinstated ULP strikers commenced from their first offer to return to work rather than 5 days after they requested reinstatement, since E ignored strikers' unconditional offer to return to work; 5 day period served no useful purpose in providing reasonable accomodation between interests of Ees in returning to work quickly as possible and E's need to effectuate that return in orderly manner)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(where E rejected strikers unconditional offer to return to work back pay period begins when strikers offered to return to work rather than 5 days after strikers offer to return to work)

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117

4450-2556 Date discriminatee was physically able to return to work

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(doctor's testimony, based on Ee's medical record, that he would not have permitted Ee to return to work after injury on job, held not to extinguish E's backpay liability, since Ee did return to work and remained employed until his unlawful discharge, and it is speculative as to how much time might have passed before Ee's deteriorating physical condition would have caused him to cease working for E; consequently, backpay to run until date Ee was medically declared unfit for former employment)

4450-2570 Date of discriminatory refusal to recall after nondiscriminatory layoff or discharge

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 103
(backpay to run from date striker who was on sick leave at time strike began should have been reinstated but for E's unlawful refusal to accept his offer to return to work)

4450-2577 Date discriminatee requests reinstatement after abandoning strike

Mid-America Machinery Company 258 NLRB No. 044
(backpay period found to have begun on day ULP strikers note unconditionally requesting reinstatement was left for and read by E)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(backpay awarded all strikers not permanently replaced as soon after their unconditional offer to return to work as their individual positions were open)

4450-5000 End of period

4450-5001 Generally

The Leavenworth Times, A Division of Thomson Newspapers, Inc. JD-(SF)-308-79
(where Ees lost money each week for three years following unlawful failure to provide merit increase, E's obligation to backpay not cut off by subsequent bargaining agreement between E and U, notwithstanding that the agreement provided salary for Ees; backpay case was excluded from the collective-bargaining)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(where Bd ordered make-whole remedy for U steward who was physically assaulted by supervisor while engaged in protected concerted activity, ct found that backpay award, although itself effectuating purposes of Act, was an abuse of discretion where it was left open-ended until after Ee's injury no longer precludes him from performing his former or a substantially equivalent job, and Bd admitted limited expertise in matters involving personal injury where tort remedies are available; ct held that two-year period would provide substantial remedy even if steward's disability lasted longer)

4450-5006 Valid offer of reinstatement

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 197
(letter from E to striker, inquiring if striker was still interested in his job not valid offer of reinstatement which would terminate backpay obligation)

4450-5006—Cont.

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 018
(sympathy striker discharged for refusal to cross picket line due backpay from date of discharge until offered reinstatement rather than from date of termination of strike to date reinstatement offered)

Mid-America Machinery Company 238 NLRB No. 044
(backpay period found to have ended date discriminatee received offer of reinstatement, rather than date of E's letter making offer, since E delayed receipt of letter by sending it through the Bd and as party violating the Act should bear the consequences of any ambiguity)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142
(offer of reinstatement mailed to address on Ee's employment application, tax withholding form, and paycheck constituted good faith offer of reinstatement sufficient to toll E's backpay liability notwithstanding that street address on envelope was misnumbered, since Ee had received registered letter from E previously with misnumbered street address; mail carrier knew Ee and would probably put letter for Ee in right box; E's failure to verify Ee's address does not establish lack of good faith; no showing that alternative means for communicating with Ee were available)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(unlawfully discharged ULP strikers entitled to backpay from dates of unlawful discharges to date on which they receive from Es valid offers of reinstatement or to date on which they were fully reinstated, whichever is earlier)

Reeves Rubber, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 026
(backpay liability not tolled, since E's one-time telephone calls to Ee w/o reaching him did not constitute bona-fide effort to recall, especially where E failed to contact person whose name Ee had given as a reference, send Ee a letter or contact his U)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(offer of reinstatement communicated to discriminatee's roommate not valid offer)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153
(where Bd and ct ordered reinstatement of 3 discriminatees and Ees were rehired as helpers rather than drivers and subsequently quit, Ees found constructively discharged and additional backpay ordered from cutoff date of original backpay specification)

Marriott In-Flight Services, A Division of Marriott Corporation JD-157-81
(rejection of reinstatement offer did not toll backpay period where discriminatee was offered reinstatement, or backpay in the alternative; offer was therefore conditional and was at least ambiguous in regard to whether or not discriminatee was being offered reinstatement on same terms and conditions under which he had been previously employed)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct held proper Bd order of reinstatement and back pay from date of unlawful discharge for Ee until offered reinstatement by E as consistent with remedial policies of Act)

4450-5006-2500 Offer of reinstatement to some discriminatees tolls backpay as to those offered reinstatement

A & A Ornamental Iron, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 138
(backpay of job applicant unlawfully refused employment tolled as of date E subsequently wrote letter to applicant offering him employment, rather than later date when Ee wrote E refusing its job offer)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028
(offer of reinstatement to economic striker did not toll his backpay or E's continuing obligation to reinstate him where, Ee made specific request for additional time in which to consider offer notwithstanding E's offer made shortly after U's unconditional offer to return to work, E's offer did not require Ee to start work by specified date and Ee told Ee he was considering another position)

4450-5006-4000 On receipt in foreign country of offer of reinstatement

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan Inc., & Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(offers of reinstatement to constructively discharged illegal aliens written in English and mailed to last known Mexico address were inadequate because delivery was not verified and Ees' native language was Spanish; new offers will terminate backpay accrual)

4450-5006-5000 Offer of reinstatement to some ULP strikers tolls backpay as to those offered reinstatement

Lucy's, Inc. JD-832-79

4450-5006-7500 Offer must be kept open for reasonable period of time

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 693 F.2d 277 (C.A. 2, Nov. 1982)
(ct remanded case on circumstances surrounding alleged offer of reinstatement in regard to understanding of Ees generally about mailgrams sent to economic strikers directing them to report for work the following day, and as to knowledge of particular Ees of practice, if any, of E of rehiring strikers who appeared later than date mentioned in alleged offer)

4450-5024 Last day for acceptance of offer

Seyforth Roofing Company of Alabama, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 048
(backpay obligation tolled, not on date of E's letter offering reinstatement, but on last day on which Ees could reply thereto pursuant to letter's terms)

4450-5043 Date discriminatee obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 208
(denial of reinstatement to Ee, while requiring E to provide Ee with backpay until he has obtained substantially equivalent employment elsewhere, appropriate, where E's denial of Ee's unemployment claim for no apparent reason, rather than actual discharge, provoked Ee's behavior in endangering E by proceeding with his car after E had intentionally placed himself in physical danger by bodily blocking Ee's car; remedy herein takes into account childish and unacceptable behavior of both parties, with particular consideration given to nature of provocation and reaction thereto; and neither party will shoulder entire blame for individual misconduct)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(economic strikers who were unlawfully refused reinstatement ordered reimbursed for sum of money they would normally have earned from period of E's failure to reinstate to date on which they secured regular, substantially similar employment with another E or were reinstated)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(backpay period did not end on day that economic striker obtained new job, since E had burden of proving it was substantially equivalent job but presented no evidence on the issue; backpay period, which began when E had position for economic striker who had unconditionally offered to return to work, ended when striker expressly refused to return to work)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(former striker who had secured equivalent employment elsewhere following E's refusal to reinstate entitled to offer of reinstatement and backpay where he never articulated unequivocal resolve not to accept reinstatement because of new employment)

Eastgate I.G.A. Foodliner 253 NLRB No. 106

W. R. Grace & Co., Construction Products Division 247 NLRB No. 094
(E's backpay liability under Transmarine remedy not affected by Ee's obtaining substantially equivalent work after U's failure to bargain in good faith had already terminated E's backpay liability)

4450-5045 Date discriminatee abandoned employment

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(striker had not abandoned interest in reinstatement where he had never informed E he was satisfied with venture he had started during strike and wished to remain in it)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E's contention discriminatee formed intent not to return to E's employ but remain at job he had obtained, rejected, notwithstanding discriminatee stated he now believed future brighter at interim job than with E, since at time of alleged abandonment of interest in reinstatement, E had not made offer of reinstatement nor had Bd ordered reinstatement; therefore, discriminatee's testimony as to his subjective intentions at the time therefore does not establish any conscious or knowing waiver of potential right to reinstatement)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090
(backpay period did not end on day that economic striker obtained new job, since E had burden of proving it was substantially equivalent job but presented no evidence on the issue; backpay period, which began when E had position for economic striker who had unconditionally offered to return to work, ended when striker expressly refused to return to work)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(former striker who had secured equivalent employment elsewhere following E's refusal to reinstate entitled to offer of reinstatement and backpay where he never articulated unequivocal resolve not to accept reinstatement because of new employment)

Top Manufacturing Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 124
(by virtue of ULP striker's resignation from employment with respondent E at end of strike, E's backpay obligation was tolled as of date of letter of resignation)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(resignation by ULP striker in order to accept other jobs during strike does not automatically eliminate striker as striking Ee absent unequivocal evidence of intent to permanently sever employment relationship; i.e., if new E required resignations to be submitted, such submission did not constitute unequivocal abandonment of employment)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(constructive discharge does not constitute willful loss of earnings)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(self-employment is not tantamount to withdrawal from job market)

4450-5048 Date of misconduct barring reinstatement

Colorado Forge Corporation 260 NLRB No. 004
(backpay and reinstatement forfeited after date when dischargee willfully misrepresented his employment status with E and forged E's signature on savings and loan association loan application verification request)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102
(Ee discharged for theft could be ordered reinstated with backpay where discharge resulted from interview in which E violated Act by refusing to allow Ee to have U representative present and obtained confession and discharge based solely on confession; however, where Ee also confessed at Bd hearing, as of that date Ee forfeits right to reinstatement or futher backpay)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181
(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying list of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above misconduct)

High Performance Tube, Inc. JD-(ATL)-45-82
(backpay period ceased on date E learned of Ee's misconduct of having in his possession blue prints, papers, pictures, packet of information which could hurt E and for which he could lawfully be discharged)

4450-5052 Date discriminatee was medically declared unfit for former employment

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092

4450-5054 Date of conviction for crime

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(conviction and imprisonment of unlawfully discharged Ee would require disqualification of Ee from reinstatement and backpay beyond date of conviction)

N.L.R.B. v. Jacob E. Decker & Sons 636 F.2d 129 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(backpay but not reinstatement ordered for discriminatorily discharged Ee as he was probationary Ee at time of discharge and would have been employed only until his conviction of felony because of his work history; backpay awarded until date of felony conviction)

4450-5060 Date discriminatee would have been terminated or laid off for non- discriminatory reasons

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(E's liability for backpay ended when construction job for which discriminatees hired was completed, or when offered reinstatement to Ees)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(where Ees were refused employment at new operation for unlawful reasons backpay commences from date new operation began and ends with date E lawfully shutdown operation as they would have been lawfully terminated on shutdown date)

Debarnardi Brothers, Inc. JD-(SF)-286-82
(pay Ee, who was lawfully discharged, increase (in wages unlawfully denied) that he would have received from date request was denied until date of his (lawful) discharge)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's contention that it intentionally replaced all Ees who had worked for E's previous management and that consequently all discriminatees would have left its employ as of date such replacement had been completed, rejected, where under E's new management Ees had either quit or were discharged, and there was no evidence that there was any decision to replace all Ees who worked under prior management; rather, evidence that Ees were discharged only because of scheduling problems or misconduct or because they quit belies such assessment)

A-S.U., a subsidiary of Intermedco JD-(SF)-161-80
(where discriminatee would have been discharged at later time for lawful reasons, backpay tolled as of that time and reinstatement not ordered)

4450-5063 Date when difference in disparate discipline began

Ervin Szewczyga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(backpay for U stewards who were unlawfully discharged rather than given lesser discipline of suspension imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout limited to period by which stewards' discipline exceeded suspension given other strikers rather than beginning at date of discharge)

4450-5072 Date discriminatees resigned

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ordering reinstatement and backpay for Ee following his resignation would subject E to award of back pay for not making futile gesture of offer of reinstatement to one who prior to his discharge voluntarily withheld his work product and after discharge indicated he no longer wanted employment with E; thus, burden must be placed on Ee to indicate he desires reinstatement)

4450-5084 Date employer ceased operations

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(where Ees were refused employment at new operation for unlawful reasons backpay commences from date new operation began and ends with date E lawfully shutdown operation as they would have been lawfully terminated on shutdown date)

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 023
(where E unlawfully failed to bargain with U over partial terminations of operations and later closed all operations, backpay period extends from times Ees terminated notwithstanding on strike at that time to date of termination of all operations)

Alpha-X Corporation JD-632-81

4450-5090 End of period in 8(a)(5) case

Newspaper Printing Corporation 250 NLRB No. 132
(relief granted to Ees who suffered monetary losses by reason of E's unlawful unilateral action limited to that period of time from effective date of changes (unilateral) until agreement on those changes by parties)

4450-5090-0100 Generally

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(for failure to bargain over effects of closing one plant, E ordered to pay Ees employed at closed facility backpay at rate Ees paid when last in E's employ from five days after issuance of decision until one of following occurs: E bargains to agreement on effects of closing; impasse; failure of U to request bargaining w/i five days of E's notice of desire to bargain; subsequent failure of U to bargain in good faith; sum to any Ee not to exceed amount Ee would have earned from date of closing to time Ee secured equivalent employment or date E shall have offered to bargain, whichever occurs sooner; however, Ees shall receive minimum of 2 weeks pay)

Gulf States 261 NLRB No. 119
(where E laid off Ees w/o first bargaining with U over its decision, Bd ordered backpay remedy from date of layoffs until date bargaining obligation is met)

Hillcrest Furniture Manufacturing Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 009

Circle T. Corporation; Meat Men, Inc., d/b/a Royal T Meat JD-(SF)-201-81
(backpay period properly included period beyond expiration of collective bargaining agreement since it is well established that wages and pension contribution provisions survive expiration of collective-bargaining agreement until new agreement, or good faith bargaining impasse is reached)

4450-5090-1700 Agreement reached on mandatory subjects of bargaining

Ferro Mechanical Corp. 249 NLRB No. 083
(where there has been unlatual termination of operations w/o bargaining)

4450-5090-3300 Impasse reached on mandatory subjects of bargaining

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

Ferro Mechanical Corp. 249 NLRB No. 083
(where there has been unilateral termination of operations w/o bargaining)

4450-5090-5000 Failure of union to request bargaining within 5 days after receiving notice of employer's desire to bargain

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

Ferro Mechanical Corp. 249 NLRB No. 083
(where there has been unilateral termination of operations w/o bargaining)

4450-5090-6700 Failure of union to bargain in good faith

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

W. R. Grace & Co., Construction Products Division 247 NLRB No. 094
(U terminated E's backpay liability by its failure to bargain, neither revealing Ees' rejection of E's repeated offer nor making counterproposals)

W. R. Grace & Co., Construction Products Division 247 NLRB No. 094
(E's backpay liability under Transmarine remedy not affected by Ee's obtaining substantially equivalent work after U's failure to bargain in good faith had already terminated E's backpay liability)

4450-5090-8300 Minimum of 2 weeks backpay ordered

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

4450-5093 Date of offer of employment to individual who was refused employment because of lack of union membership

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139

4450-7500 Tolling of backpay

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 146

(although E's letter to discriminatees was valid offer of reinstatement, backpay not tolled, where actual offers were mere subterfuge in that they did not offer discriminatees their former work schedule but provided shorter hours and/or graveyard shifts in lieu of day shifts and were concerted effort to provide work schedule which was so unacceptable that discriminatees would be forced to refuse offer)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 146

(backpay not tolled where no reason was shown for E's failure to restore discriminatees to their former jobs and work schedules, their positions still existed, and there was no evidence that positions were held by Ees with greater seniority than discriminatees)

4450-7501 Generally

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

Safeway Trails, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C. Sept 18, 1981)

(E's contention that backpay should not run from 5 days after unconditional offer to return to work but be tolled until violation was found at second Bd hearing–after remand from ct–rejected, absent involvement of new policy, special factor making award unfair, or reliance on pending decision, since burden resulting from illegal action must fall on wrongdoer)

4450-7501-3300 8(a)(3) cases

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(merely asking ULP striker if he was working and then stating that E had some work available or sending another striker telegram stating there was a possibility that there may be a job did not constitute valid offers of reinstatement which would toll backpay where these communications were not sufficiently specific, unequivocal, and unconditional)

A & A Ornamental Iron, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 138

(backpay of job applicant unlawfully refused employment tolled as of date E subsequently wrote letter to applicant offering him employment, rather than later date when Ee wrote E refusing its job offer)

Wonder Markets, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 042

(in light of Bd finding that E's offer to Ee of another job was not substantially equivalent to his former position, discriminatee cannot be put under obligation to accept such job to toll or mitigate lost wages and thereby reduce E's backpay obligation)

4450-7501-6700 Non-8(a)(3) cases

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158

(ALJ properly applied standards for tolling backpay set forth in Pen and Pencil decision rather than those set forth in later decisions overruling Pen and Pencil where Bd's order (as well as ct enforcement) and backpay specification both issued prior to overruling of Pen and Pencil; moreover, U failed to comply with standard of later decisions requiring that U affirmatively request E to reinstate discriminatees in order to toll backpay)

4450-7540 Unavailability of work

Everspray Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 127

(Bd rejected E's contention that it was improper to base gross backpay figures on E's gross receipts during backpay periods since this work allegedly would not have been available to discriminatees, had they been reinstated, because of picketing and other U activities during period, where, upon remand to take additional evidence, E failed to prove that work performed by E or its contractors would not have been available to discriminatees had they been offered reinstatement to their former positions)

4450-7560 Unavailability of discriminatee for work

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172

(period when discriminatee voluntarily absented himself from job market while on his honeymoon not included in backpay period)

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172

(contention that claimant's picketing and rejection of E's reinstatement offer show claimant was unavailable for work rejected; uncertainty as to whether claimant would have picketed had he not been discriminatorily discharged is resolved against E, and claimant rejected E's reinstatement offer made 2 years after strike began because he had started his own business)

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172

(contention that claimant was unavailable for work during 2 weeks he worked for his brother-in-law rejected since the nature of the work or whether he worked on fixed schedule was not clear, and uncertainty is resolved against E)

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172

(claimant found unavailable for work during week when he had regular work of such a nature that he was voluntarily not in job market)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028

(offer of reinstatement to economic striker did not toll his backpay or E's continuing obligation to reinstate him where, Ee made specific request for additional time in which to consider offer notwithstanding E's offer made shortly after U's unconditional offer to return to work, E's offer did not require Ee to start work by specified date and Ee told Ee he was considering another position)

4450-7560-4000 Pregnancy

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104

(mere fact discriminatee, became pregnant during backpay period does not warrant conclusion she was unavailable for work)

4450-7560-6000 Illness, injury, or other absences

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee who had mononucleosis during backpay period not entitled to amount he would have been paid under E's paid sick leave program, absent evidence discriminatee, met requirement of E's sick leave program that he be under care of physician and in view of lack of full litigation of facts due to absence of notice to E that GC intended to seek disability pay for discriminatee)

4450-7560-6033 Does not toll backpay when caused by employee's constructive discharge

S. E. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 002

(failure to reinstate discriminatee to her former position or equivolent position which resulted in her constructive discharge does not toll backpay period)

4450-7560-6050 Does not toll backpay when caused by discriminatory transfer

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(where discriminatee's illness risk of living generally rather than result of interim employment presumption warranted that discriminatee would have become ill if he had remained in Respondent's employ and would have received any sick pay customarily paid by Respondent)

4450-7560-6075 Does not toll backpay when made possible by nature of interim employment

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(discriminatee's injury at interim job did not toll backpay since direct result of unlawful discharge and period of disability will not be excluded)

4450-7560-7000 Discriminatee-student returns to school

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054

(full time college student not entitled to backpay for period of school term)

4450-7560-8000 Discriminatee in Armed Forces

Diversified Case Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 119

(where discriminatee enlisted in armed forces after his discriminatory discharge E ordered to immediately pay him portion of net backpay between date of discharge and date he entered service w/o awaiting final determination of full amount of award)

4450-7567 Hiring hall registration

Plumbers Local Union No. 403, a/w Plumbers (Pullman Power Products) 261 NLRB No. 040

(backpay not tolled by multiple hiring hall registration of members of sister locals (travelers))

4450-7575 Rejection of valid offer of reinstatement

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028

(offer of reinstatement to economic striker did not toll his backpay or E's continuing obligation to reinstate him where, Ee made specific request for additional time in which to consider offer notwithstanding E's offer made shortly after U's unconditional offer to return to work, E's offer did not require Ee to start work by specified date and Ee told Ee he was considering another position)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

(liability for back pay not tolled by invalid offer of reinstatement)

Palan Corporation JD-(SF)-28-82

(neither reinstatement nor backpay obligation of E tolled where E's offer of reinstatement was made by asking U to dispatch discriminatees to E rather than being made directly to discriminatees themselves)

California Pacific Signs, Inc. JD-(ATL)-76-81

(where E proved that it mailed valid offers of reinstatement to 2 discriminatees, to which neither responded, backpay is tolled as of date Ees were requested to return to work)

4450-7575—Cont.

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(E's offer of reinstatement conditioned on admission of U error and Ees' waiver of backpay not effective to toll backpay; nor is Bd bound by waiver of backpay made by Ee in order to regain job)

4450-7580 Strike

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172
(E created uncertainty as to whether claimant would have joined strike if he had not been discriminatorily discharged; uncertainty was not resolved by dischargee's participation in strike or E's offer of reinstatement 2 years later; therefore uncertainty was resolved against E and entire strike period included in backpay award period)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1154 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(where there was no uncertainty about whether Ee would have taken part in strike, ct held there was no reason to include pay for strike period in the back pay award)

4450-7585 Strike settlement agreement

Cooperativa De Credito Y Aharro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(back pay not tolled where tentative settlement agreement conditioned strikers' reinstatement on their accepting other terms of settlement agreement; thus, it was conditional, rather than unconditional, offer of reinstatement)

4450-7586 Voluntary quit

N.L.R.B. v. Hopcroft Art & Stained Glass Works, Inc. 692 F.2d 63 (C.A. 8, Nov. 5, 1982)
(backpay award was not reduced where Ee voluntarily quit interim employment because he was physically incapable of performing job due to injury received during said interim employment; but backpay was reduced where Ee voluntarily quit other interim employment due to personal problems with E's manager)

George A. Angle v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 1296 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(Ee's backpay period tolled as of date he voluntarily quit; his improper conduct prior to quit should not bear on earlier periods of discharge, and earlier misconduct, if any, was not sufficiently egregious to remove him from protection of the Act)

4467 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

4467-0100 Generally

DeLorean Cadillac, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 554 (C.A. 6) (1980)
(uncorroborated testimony of party who tends to benefit from award of reinstatement or backpay should be subject to strict scrutiny and where discriminatee produced no corroborating witnesses or tangible evidence of his efforts to secure equivalent position and E produced witnesses who testified that discriminatee did not approach them for job, ct held discriminatee was not diligent in seeking employment)

4467-2300 Conduct constituting cause for discharge

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(where Respondent contends discriminatee's discharge from interim employment due to discriminatee's willful misconduct justifies deduction from backpay, Respondent has burden of showing willful misconduct was true reason for discharge)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102
(Ee discharged for theft could be ordered reinstated with backpay where discharge resulted from interview in which E violated Act by refusing to allow Ee to have U representative present and obtained confession and discharge based solely on confession; however, where Ee also confessed at Bd hearing, as of that date Ee forfeits right to reinstatement or futher backpay)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(in determining whether strike misconduct bars backpay fact strike was ULP strike and E's ULPs taken into consideration)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center v. N.L.R.B 621 F.2d 510 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(discharged doctors who had struck w/o notice in sympathy with health care institution Ees denied backpay for period of discharge by ct which held their picket-line statements improper and, unlike their sympathy strike, unprotected)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discriminatees' asserted misconduct did not bar their reinstatement with backpay where E's violations were egregious; and Ees' conduct was not of quality or extent that might reasonably be thought to threaten future amicable relations between E and Ees; E acted with flagrant disregard for its Ees' rights under Act refusal (by Bd) to reinstate discriminatee would put premium on E's misconduct)

4467-2350 Commission of crime

United States Postal Service 254 NLRB No. 080
(since decision to discharge was not based on confession of theft during unlawful Weingarten interview but on investigation which followed eye witness accounts of theft, reinstatement and back were not warranted)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(make whole relief, including back pay and reinstatement, improper where Ees were discharged for admittedly stealing goods from E and not for requesting U assistance at investigatory interview; Section 10(c) of Act, precludes back pay order and reinstatement under such circumstances)

4467-2500 Participation in strike misconduct

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060
(defense to order requiring reinstatement and backpay based on assertion that order was unfair and unjustified and that participation of Ees in strike herein, which was basis for other ULP cases brought against U and were subject of settlement agreements, was tantamount to Ees' ratification of U's alleged misconduct which they had not disclaimed responsibility for or knowledge of, rejected)

4467-3500 Concealment of interim earnings

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee who failed to disclose interim earnings until questioned by counsel at hearing not penalized as to backpay inasmuch as while discriminatee should have informed Bd fully of all interim earnings, it is recognized such accurate reporting is not always possible, and in remedying ULPs, Bd's concerned with public rather than private rights, determing future violations and making whole individual discriminatees, nor should discriminatee's failure to provide earnings records result in windfall for E)

N.L.R.B. v. Flite Chief, Inc., etc. 640 F.2d 989 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(where backpay claimant wilfully conceals interim employment from Bd with intent to fraudulently increase issuance of backpay specification, all backpay was disallowed from date claimant was first employed by interim E whose earnings have been concealed until claimant discloses these earnings to Bd)

4467-3600 Employee gave false testimony at hearing

Service Garage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 153
(although Bd disagreed with ALJ's finding that unlawfully discharged Ee admitted lying about his age at initial hearing for fear of losing current job was sufficiently egregious to amount to abuse of Bd procedures and to warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to reinstatement and limitation of backpay; Bd, however, held that Ee's original falsification of same critical information on employment application barred his entitlement to reinstatement and any backpay where E proved that it would not have hired Ee but for its reliance on application information whose falsity was discovered subsequent to Ee's unlawful discharge)

Laborers International Union of North America, Local 1136 (Southern Illinois Builders Association) JD-477-81
(discriminatees who made deliberate misrepresentations in their pretrial affidavits found ineligible to receive bakcpay)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(reinstatement and backpay remedy held appropriate where ct rejected E's contention that discriminatee forfeited right to such remedy because of his previous conduct in pressuring other Ees into signing U cards and because he allegedly lied before ALJ; ct held that conduct of pressuring Ees was not of such degree that would deny Ee appropriate remedy and ct would not disturb ALJ's assessment of overall credibility of Ee in that Ee's dissembling was not sufficiently egregious to deny him proper remedy)

4467-5300 Employee's misrepresentations on employment application

Service Garage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 153
(although Bd disagreed with ALJ's finding that unlawfully discharged Ee admitted lying about his age at initial hearing for fear of losing current job was sufficiently egregious to amount to abuse of Bd procedures and to warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to reinstatement and limitation of backpay; Bd, however, held that Ee's original falsification of same critical information on employment application barred his entitlement to reinstatement and any backpay where E proved that it would not have hired Ee but for its reliance on application information whose falsity was discovered subsequent to Ee's unlawful discharge)

Overnite Transportation Company 254 NLRB No. 011
(backpay remedy appropriate, notwithstanding omission by discriminatee on his employment application of his prior E and discharge because of auto accident, where E continued to employ other drivers eventhough they falsified their applications, company official told Ee to omit this part of his employment history, and E hired Ee despite this knowledge)

4467-7200 Discontinuance of employer's operations

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seeburg Corporation and Seeburg Service Parts Co., a single employer 259 NLRB 105

(where E terminated operations suddenly due to order of trustee in bankruptcy, Ees who were laid off after trustee took over and those employed at date of shutdown entitled to backpay for E's refusal to bargain over effects of closing because E still had valuable assets which would have given U some measure of bargaining power and shutdown was not because of calamitous event)

Prineville Stud Company 256 NLRB No. 068

(E liable for backpay where it had unlawfully closed its plant; E's claim that it would have been unable to operate at least half of the time due to freezing condition not substantiated where it was shown that during other cold spells E heated water pipes so he could continue operations)

4467-7700 Employee would have been discharged, laid off, suspended, etc. for nondiscriminatory reasons

Hanes Corporation 260 NLRB No. 077

(where E violated Act by refusing to bargain over discretionary aspects of its non violative unilateral decision to layoff Ees, make-whole remedy is inappropriate as layoffs were inevitable and no basis on which to predicate a finding that any identifiable Ee suffered loss of pay; moreover, situation is analogous to refusal to bargain over effects of plant closure where there was no duty to bargain over decision to close, backpay remedy runs only from time of Bd decision; here, cause of loss of pay, the layoff, has long since ended so consequently, no loss of pay can be suffered after this decision)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 030

(make-whole remedy not recommended for Ee who was denied U representation at investigatory interview that she reasonably believed would result in disciplinary action where E met burden of showing that decision to discipline was not based upon any information obtained at interview)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181

(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying lest of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above misconduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Kahn's and Company, Division of Consolidated Food Company 694 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 6, Dec. 1982)

(enforcement of backpay and reinstatement award to dischargee denied, notwithstanding E violated 8(a)(1) by unlawfully refusing dischargee's request to have U steward present when he was interviewed concerning his overstaying his allotted time in restroom, where he was discharged for cause, and his discharge was not affected in any way by the 8(a)(1) violation)

General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d 576 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(enforcement of Bd's back pay and reinstatement order denied notwithstanding E unlawfully ignored Ee's request for U representation and obtained admission from Ee that he was at bowling alley, where report, of E's security officer concerning Ee's presence at nearby bowling alley during working hours, was independent evidence of good cause for discharge; E could have discharged Ee on basis of security officer's report alone; discharge for good cause precludes order of back pay and reinstatement; ct in instant case followed decisions of Eighth Circuit)

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and JMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)

(backpay award not enforced and remanded to Bd for new hearing on whether reduction of back pay award was justified where Bd ignored uncontradicted evidence that its back pay formula was inapplicable in instant case; work of discriminatee was irregular and during slack periods newer Ees were laid off)

4467-8100 Receipt of sum in satisfaction of claims

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042

(E's contention that U had waived payment of net backpay to each discriminatee in consideration for E entering into bargaining agreement, and that each discriminatee except two had waived backpay by accepting settlement, rejected, since such commitment will be honored only if ULPs substantially remedied and individual may not bargain away or compromise backpay due him/her, inasmuch as backpay is public rather than private right)

4467-9100 Rejection of reinstatement offer

Laredo Packing Company 264 NLRB No. 037

(offers of reinstatement to unlawfully discharged drivers to alternate non-driving positions does not toll E's backpay obligation; Ees who refused such interim work were under no obligation to accept offer of employment substantially unlike that of truck driving)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 122

(ALJ erred in not allowing evidence to be taken at hearing about unconditional offer of reinstatement by E and rejection by discriminatee, but instead relegated taking of such evidence to compliance stage)

California Pacific Signs, Inc. JD-(ATL)-76-81

(where E proved that it mailed valid offers of reinstatement to 2 discriminatees, to which neither responded, backpay is tolled as of date Ees were reqested to return to work)

California Pacific Signs, Inc. JD-(ATL)-76-81

(E who in good faith mails bona fide offer of reinstatement to discriminatorily discharged Ee at Ee's last known address is relieved of further backpay liability whether or not offer is received by addressee)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-280-80

(E's offer of reinstatement conditioned on admission of U error and Ees' waiver of backpay not effective to toll backpay; nor is Bd bound by waiver of backpay made by Ee in order to regain job)

4467-9800 Employee illegal alien

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(in computing backpay, Ees will be unavailable for work when not lawfully entitled to be employed in US and backpay shall be placed in escrow up to one year)

4483 ULPS INVOLVED

4483-8300 Section 8(a)(5) violation

McMillan Cartage, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 018

(limited backpay ordered in refusal to bargain case where E ceased operations, since such order is appropriate remedy even where such violation was unaccompanied by discriminatory shutdown of operations)

5500 REIMBURSEMENT ORDERS

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(where E unlawfully refused to make its plant premises available for bargaining negotiations and to pay participating Ees for work time lost during negotiations, Bd's order requiring reimbursement of Us for sums expended as rent for alternative meeting facilities and payment to participating Ees held w/i Bd's discretion to remedy ULPs, since order requires only that E correct injuries suffered by Us and Ees during negotiations)

5514 DUES, INITIATION FEES, AND ASSESSMENTS

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175

(where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modifications, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, E and U ordered, jointly and severally, to reimburse all present and former Ees, except those who joined [illegible] U cards prior to the effective date of contract, for moneys paid by [illegible] withheld from them after such effective date for initiation fees, dues, or other obligations of membership in U)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064

(U and E not required to reimburse Ees for monies deducted pursuant to coercively obtained dues-checkoff authorizations since Ees were subject to lawful U-security provision obligating them to pay U sums deducted)

Bay Shipbuilding Corp. 263 NLRB No. 166

(no reimbursement of dues to remedy E's refusal to apply contract to Ees transferred to newly established department, absent E's noncompliance with dues checkoff procedure)

Fox Painting Company 263 NLRB No. 071

(where E executed and implemented multi E contract, served on negotiating committee which negotiated addendum to contract and implemented addendum though E did not execute addendum, he is bound by contract and addendum and liable for all payments to funds set forth in agreements save industry advancement fund and for any loss of dues not collected under checkoff provision of agreement)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(U and E jointly severably liable to reimburse Ees for unlawfully checked off dues where notwithstanding valid U-security clause dues were without during first 45 days of employment and Ees had not executed check-off authorization cards and had no obligation to pay dues or fees during that period)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049

(E ordered to reimburse Ees for all initiation fees, dues, assessments, or any other monies which may have been exacted on behalf of unlawfully assisted minority U with whom E had entered into pre-hire agreement containing U security provision before any Ees had been hired at facility covered by agreement)

5514—Cont.

Dura-Vent Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083
(E ordered to reimburse U for loss of dues where E's wrongful actions clearly included its repudiation of check-off provision)

Ross M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(E to reimburse Ees for dues collected pursuant to unlawful checkoff to extent not already reimbursed)

Strochmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(remedy to include reimbursement of Ees for any dues and initiation fees deducted from their wages and remitted to U unlawfully recognized by E)

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(male Ees, to whom contract with U security clause was unlawfully applied to be reimbursed for initiation fees and dues paid pursuant to contract)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038
(Bd refused to order reimbursement of initiation fees, dues, and contributions for U benefit funds deducted as result of enforcement of provisions held violative of Section 8(e) to individuals who were held independent contractors since insufficient evidence as to losses directly attributable to actual coercion; further, make whole reimbursement order generally over broad and inappropriate in context of Section 8(e) violations and aggrieved independent contractors may prove damage claim under Section 303 of Act)

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(E and U ordered to reimburse Ees for all moneys extracted from them by unlawfully requiring them to join U; order does not apply to Ees who joined U prior to employment with E)

J. F. Swick Insulation Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 086
(E-member of multi-E association ordered to pay U any loss of dues suffered as result E-member's unlawful refusal to sign and abide by multi-E contract containing valid U dues-checkoff provision)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

Mountaineer Shaft and Tunnel Construction Company 624 F.2d 050 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held Bd w/o authority to order reimbursement of initiation fees and dues checked off, where Ees had voluntarily signed authorization cards which permitted checkoff, notwithstanding E unlawfully recognized U and locked out Ees to force them to ratify contract and affirm U as their bargaining agent)

Brotherhood Railway Carmen of the United States and Canada, Lodge 365, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 819 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(as violation for collecting assessment only technical in nature and U could still go against members who paid assessment but now request reimbursement, or pass proper assessment against members, Bd order, by placing heavy burden on U for locating and reimbursing all members who paid said assessment, held punitive and not appropriate)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(dues reimbursement remedy held appropriate where coercion of Ees was established by fact that Ees joined U, which E unlawfully assisted, after U made misrepresentations to them that their selection for permanent jobs hinged upon their U membership)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(contention that dues reimbursement remedy is inappropriate in situation herein involving illegal assistance to U by E and misrepresentations by U in soliciting U authorization cards, on ground such remedy is punitive rather than compensatory, rejected, since remedy would effectuate policy of Act by returning to Ees money paid to support U they did not freely choose to join)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 789 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)
(U and contractors not ordered to reimburse indpendent contractors-truck operators-for dues, fees and contributions paid to U under unlawful 8(e) contract which required operators to join U as U members receive benefits, and since no violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(A) alleged make whole remedy would be punitive and beyond power of Bd as no showing operators were coerced into joining U)

5535 PAYMENTS REWARDING NONSTRIKERS

Huck Manufacturing Company 254 NLRB No. 008
(striking Ees to be paid for last day worked prior to strike at same rate nonstriking Ees paid for working during period of strike and not amount paid nonstrikers on last day before strike)

5547 DIVIDENDS ON STOCK INVESTMENT

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 091
(where E had unlawfully deprived Ees of stock investment plan, Bd ordered E to compensate Ees for dividends on stock that would have been purchased by E's matching contributions; however, E not required to compensate Ees for dividends that would have been earned on Ee purchases of E's stock since this would go beyond Bd's requirement that Ees be made whole for losses suffered as result of E's unlawful action)

5548 MEDICAL EXPENSES

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee entitled to unreimbursed medical expenses which would have been covered by E's group insurance)

Hassett Maintenance Corporation 260 NLRB No. 135
(E who unilaterally changed health insurance plans at expiration of contract ordered to make Ees whole for loss of medical benefits to extent that costs which would have been paid by old plan were not actually paid by new plan)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(after E unlawfully ceased contributing towards maintenance of coverage for Ee benefits)

Kraft Plumbing and Heating, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 126
(Bd ordered make whole remedy to include reimbursing Ees for any medical, dental, or other expenses ensuing from E's unlawful failure to make such contributions; furthermore, E ordered to reimburse Ees for any contributions Ees themselves may have made for maintenance of contractual health and welfare, pension, industry and apprenticeship funds after E unlawfully discontinued contributions)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(for any medical or dental bills Ees have paid directly to health care providers that contract would have covered, as well as any premiums Ees have paid to insurance companies to continue medical and dental coverage in absence of E's required contributions)

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100
(E to reinburse Ees for medical and dental bills which contractual policies would have covered as well as premiums Ees may have paid to third-party insurance companies to continue coverage)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 057
(E who unlawfully failed to make insurance payments ordered to reimburse Ees for payments Ees may have made to third party carriers)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 246 NLRB No. 075
(out of pocket medical expenses incurred when E was not covered by insurance at his interim employment, less savings in cost of insurance, included; notwithstanding contention striker could have insured himself)

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 040
(Bd ordered E to make whole any Ee who lost money as result of unlawful unilateral change in organizations administering health care insurance plans)

The Saison, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 156
(E who unlawfully ceased contributing to U's health and welfare fund ordered to pay contributions to extent they have not been made, and to reimburse Ees for contributions they may have made for maintenance of U fund, for any premiums they may have paid to insurance companies for medical and dental coverage, and for any medical or dental bills they paid directly to health care providers; reimbursement provisions held reasonable and appropriately tailored to facts of case)

5549 SICK LEAVE

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(discriminatee who had mononucleosis during backpay period not entitled to amount he would have been paid under E's paid sick leave program, absent evidence discriminatee, met requirement of E's sick leave program that he be under care of physician and in view of lack of full litigation of facts due to absence of notice to E that GC intended to seek disability pay for discriminatee)

5550 CONTRIBUTIONS TO WELFARE, PENSION AND OTHER FUNDS

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(reimbursement of cost of insurance premiums which E furnished gratis)

Capitol City Lumber Company 263 NLRB No. 102
(E ordered to pay all unpaid welfare and pension fund contributions due under contract and, if either fund had cancelled coverage, to reimburse unit Ees, with interest, for any loss of claims and benefits suffered as result)

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 078
(where E refused to sign agreed upon agreement and unilaterally ceased payments to U pension, welfare and annuity funds, E was ordered to make payments and compensate funds for administration costs incurred by processing retroactive payments)

Fox Painting Company 263 NLRB No. 071
(where E executed and implemented multi E contract, served on negotiating committee which negotiated addendum to contract and implemented addendum though E did not execute addendum, he is bound by contract and addendum and liable for all payments to funds set forth in agreements save industry advancement fund and for any loss of dues not collected under checkoff provision of agreement)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028
(E ordered to make payments into benefit funds which it had unlawfully failed to do after expiration of contract; however, determination of any additional amounts, including interest, required to satisfy make whole remedy, left to compliance stage because of variety and complexity of benefit fund agreements)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028
(to satify make whole remedy for failure to make payments into Ee benefits funds any additional amounts, including interest, these amounts may be determined depending on circumstances of each case, by reference to documents governing funds at issue and, where there are no governing provisions, to evidence of any loss directly attributable to unlawful withholding, which might include loss of return on investment of portions of funds withheld, additional administrative costs etc. but not collateral losses)

Hassett Maintenance Corporation 260 NLRB No. 135
(E who unilaterally changed health insurance plans at expiration of contract ordered to make Ees whole for loss of medical benefits to extent that costs which would have been paid by old plan were not actually paid by new plan)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(where E unlawfully discontinued payment of contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd ordered E, upon written request from U, to rescind insurance company's current plan, established under agreement with U, and immediately reestablish health and welfare fund plan by making retroactive contributions on behalf of Ees from day following receipt of U's request, and to continue such payments until E negotiates in good faith with U to new agreement or impasse)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(where E unlawfully discontinued payment of contributions to U's health and welfare fund whose plan provided for 6 months' future benefits on basis of previous 6 months' earned coverage, Bd, rather than requiring such payment from date of U's bargaining demand until date current agreement was reached with U, required payment of retroactive contributions which will purchase Ees 6 months of future coverage, commencing from day following receipt of U's request that health and welfare fund be reinstituted until date E fulfills its bargaining obligation)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering payment of contributions to E's unlawfully discontinued health and welfare fund, commencing from day following E's receipt of U's request that health and welfare fund be reinstated, Bd provided that U shall request reinstatement of health and welfare fund w/i 20 days of date of order herein, and if U does not do so, then private carrier's insurance plan in effect under parties' current contract shall remain in effect; upon reinstatement of coverage under health and welfare fund plan, E may discontinue payment of Ee premiums to contract insurer)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering E to reinstate U's health and welfare fund plan unlawfully discontinued by E, and considering fact that, due to health and welfare fund's 6-month eligibility requirement, Ees. hired shortly prior to date health and welfare fund's coverage becomes effective pursuant to Bd's order herein, might not qualify for fund benefits until 6 months later, Bd required E to make premium payments during such interim period for Ees hired under current contract with U providing for coverage by private insurance carrier until each Ee qualifies for coverage under fund)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering reinstatement of U's health and welfare fund as remedy for E's unlawful discontinuance of contributions to fund, Bd did not require E to pay double insurance premiums by making contributions to fund for entire period involved during part of which Ees were covered under contract with U providing for private insurer in place of fund plan; requiring full fund contributions would impose undue burden on E and constitute windfall to fund inasmuch as contract insurer has presumably already paid substantial portion of Ees' benefits durinig period in question)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering retroactive payment of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd also ordered E to compensate fund for administration costs and other expenses and loss of interest incurred by fund as result of its acceptance of retroactive payments; determination of such amounts left to compliance proceedings, should U request reinstatement of fund)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering retroactive payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd did not provide for interest at a fixed rate on fund payments due as part of make-whole remedy; such additional amounts may be determined, depending upon circumstances of each case, by reference to governing provisions in fund's documents and, in absence of such provisions, by reference to evidence of any loss directly attributable to E's unlawful action, including loss of return on investment of portion of funds withheld, additional administrative costs, etc., but not on collateral losses)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd provided that, irrespective of whether U requests reinstatement of fund plan, specific Ees who suffered actual damage in loss of benefits be made whole by recovering those damages, with E reimbursing them for actual cost to the extent those costs would have been paid by the fund minus the costs which were actually paid by private insurer carrier under agreement with U)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering retroactive payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd did not permit E to elect to make contributions to fund in lieu of compensating Ees for loss of benefits; instead, Bd required that Ees be made whole for loss of benefits after date on which fund coverage ceased until date E fully complies with order herein; and amounts due shall be computed in accordance with Cole Protection Service, Inc., 182 NLRB 682)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(E's failure to make contributions to U's health and welfare fund constituted unilateral change in terms and conditions of employment, notwithstanding substitution of another plan with private insurance carrier under contract with U; E's refusal to incorporate fund plan into contract with U increased total amount of contributions E failed to make and placed U in increasingly difficult position regarding reinstitution of fund plan, and many differences between fund's plan and private carrier's plan presented substantive grounds for concern by Ees)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(ancillary questions of interest or penalties due, in instant case, on E's delinquent payments to U trust funds not deferrable to compliance stage of proceedings, since contract contained explicit language defining delinquent contributions which were mandatory liquidated damages)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(after E unlawfully ceased contributing towards maintenance of coverage for Ee benefits)

Camay Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(determining E's contributions still owing to Ee benefit fund)

Kraft Plumbing and Heating, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 126
(Bd ordered make whole remedy to include reimbursing Ees for any medical, dental, or other expenses ensuing from E's unlawful failure to make such contributions; furthermore, E ordered to reimburse Ees for any contributions Ees themselves may have made for maintenance of contractual health and welfare, pension, industry and apprenticeship funds after E unlawfully discontinued contributions)

Pullman Building Company 251 NLRB No. 145
(where Bd ordered appropriate trust funds be made whole for losses suffered due to E's ULPs, it left determination of interest, if any, to individual provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100

Dial Tuxedos, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 064
(question of whether E must pay any additional amounts into benefit funds in order to satisfy Bd's make whole remedy left to compliance stage of instant case, since provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements were variable and complex)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 087
(whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit funds in order to satisfy make whole remedy left to compliance stage)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 240 NLRB No. 038

(Bd refused to order reimbursement of initiation fees, dues, and contributions for U benefit funds deducted as result of enforcement of provisions held violative of Section 8(e) to individuals who were held independent contractors since insufficient evidence as to losses directly attributable to actual coercion; further, make whole reimbursement order generally over broad and inappropriate in context of Section 8(e) violations and aggrieved independent contractors may prove damage claim under Section 303 of Act)

Argano Electric Corp. 248 NLRB No. 049

(payable to funds of U with which E had current contract but with whom E chose not to continue recognition and honor contract)

Scherr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 080

(remedial order which provides literally only for reimbursement to discriminatees for lost welfare or pension benefits, does not preclude order in subsequent backpay proceeding, directing E to make payments into trust fund)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016

(E ordered to pay to U pension fund contributions unlawfully withheld; however, Bd does not provide at adjudicatory stage of proceeding for addition of interest on withheld payments; Bd left to compliance stage question whether E must pay additional amounts by reference to governing provisions of fund's documents and, absent such provisions, to any evidence of any loss directly attributable to withholding action, but not collateral losses)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 156

(E who unlawfully ceased contributing to U's health and welfare fund ordered to pay contributions to extent they have not been made, and to reimburse Ees for contributions they may have made for maintenance of U fund, for any premiums they may have paid to insurance companies for medical and dental coverage, and for any medical or dental bills they paid directly to health care providers; reimbursement provisions held reasonable and appropriately tailored to facts of case)

Safeway Trails, Inc. JD-462-82

(Supplemental Decision sets forth method, in instant case, of computing: amounts of backpay; pension plan payments; discriminatee pension contributions; E pension contributions; interest provisions; and pension fund payments)

The A.S. Abell Company JD-221-81

(pension contributions owed by E on behalf of terminated Ees computed, as provided in contract, on basis of number of shifts available to be worked during backpay period reduced by Ee's absentee factor)

Carpenter Sprinkler Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 606 F.2d 60 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(order for retroactive payments to U welfare, health and pensions funds, inappropriate since order is unclear in absence of allowance for offsetting retroactive payments with benefits awarded, bargaining history is good, and change in benefits should have been subject to bargaining, not ordered by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 660 (C.A. 6, June 1981)

(enforcement of order to reimburse Helping Hand Fund, denied where Ees were not aware of E's pre-election reductions in contributions to Fund and thus were not affected by reduction in regard to their U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 691 F.2d 1023 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1982)

(where E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by discontinuing contributions to health and welfare fund after collective-bargaining agreement expired and Bd found liability for period running to date of its Order, case remanded to Bd for determination of whether because parties resumed bargaining after unilateral change they did not reach impasse at some point. E's liability will run from date of change to date when parties execute new agreement or reach lawful impasse)

5550-5000 Credit to pension fund for past service

Dellwood Foods, Inc., f/k/a Deltown Foods, Inc. JD-(SF)-213-81

(predecessor's Ees who were discriminatorily denied transfer to purchaser's facility because U representing Ees of purchaser refused to clear nonmember Ees for employment, were entitled to past service pension credit where evidence in record as whole showed terms of executed Settlement Stipulation, although not clear and unambiguous, was intended to provide for full past service pension credit to discriminatees for all prior employment in industry)

5554 CAFETERIA PRIVILEGES

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040

(E to make Ees whole for any losses occasioned by its withdrawing privilege of eating lunch at E's subsidized cafeteria)

5563 ALLOWANCES FOR EQUIPMENT ETC.

Standard Homes, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 146

(reimbursement ordered of safety shoe allowance unlawfully withheld under contract)

5570 LITIGATION COSTS AND EXPENSES (SEE ALSO 625-1967-5600)

Ferrous Tree Surgeons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 090

(GC did not engage in frivolous litigation where ALJ's conclusion that E did not violate Act was based on credibility determination)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(award of attorney's fees and organizational expenses not appropriate where on record as a whole defenses were not patently frivolous, even though violations found were flagrant and repetitious)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 239 NLRB No. 122

(Bd adopted ALJ's recommendation that there was no basis for granting attorney's fees or litigation expenses in case involving unlawful discontinuance by E of contributions to U's health and welfare fund; in ALJ's view, the Bd in Heck's (215 NLRB 765) did not imply that credibility test was the exclusive measure in determining whether to award litigation expenses; and other questions were present herein which gave rise to debatable issues)

Standard Homes, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 146

(reimbursement of U and Bd for litigation costs not awarded where respondent's defense of its conduct were not patently frivolous)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local No. 1063 (Heathman Employees Independent Union) 249 NLRB No. 082

(E's request for reimbursement to itself and to Bd of investigative, processing, and litigation expenses incurred by each of them in instant 8(b)(7)(A) proceedings and in 8(a)(2) proceedings brought by U against E, on ground U prolonged various proceedings as subterfuge which permitted it to continue its unlawful conduct for extended period of time, denied, where litigation was not frivolous but dealt with serious and legitimate issues which are debatable)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026

(E ordered to make Ees whole for all legal expenses incurred by them in defense of E's state civil lawsuit brought against them for libel and wrongful interference, which proceeding arose out of filing of ULP charges by Ees with Bd and their concerted protected activities)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029

(Bd ordered reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses where E's refusal to bargain was not occasioned by reasonably debatable point of view but was meritless attempt to avoid its duty to bargain as evidenced by fact that E's positions were twice unsupported throughout course of litigation covering entire federal judiciary system, and E's latest justification for refusal to bargain amounts to contention that its duty to bargain ceased by virtue of its own unlawful conduct, which precisely amounts to a frivolous position)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. JD-14-81

(E ordered to withdraw or otherwise effectuate dismissal of civil suit unlawfully brought against U for filing ULP charges against E and to reimburse U and representatives for all attorney fees and legal costs incurred as result of E's unlawful action)

H. H Fredericksen Co. JD-(SF)-64-80

(request by E, who was subject of dismissed complaint, for litigation expenses, denied, where, assuming Bd may require its statutorily independent GC to reimburse respondents when complaints filed against them have been dismissed, GC's determination to proceed had not been frivolously reached, and his decision was not unreasonable, or lacked a rationally justifiable foundation)

5570-0100 Generally

Admiral Merchants Motor Freight, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 016

(no reimbursement to GC and charging party of litigation expenses where, respondent was not repeat offender, did not engage in pattern of unlawful conduct, and – although its conduct was specious – did not intentionally use defenses meritless on their face in a clear attempt to burden the processes of the Bd and courts)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 034

(while instant case was strong candidate for imposition of litigation expenses remedy, such remedy not imposed in view of Bd majority's position on issue to the effect that such remedy will not be imposed even in an egregious case of bad faith bargaining unless E's defenses are deemed frivolous; while many of E's defenses were wide of mark and unpersuasive, they cannot with confidence be labeled frivolous)

Textual Corp. 253 NLRB No. 032

(Bd did not require E to reimburse U for reasonable litigation costs incurred in connection with instant proceeding, since Bd did not find that E's defenses were neither substantive nor occasioned by a reasonably debatable point of view)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 095
(U's legal fees and expenses not assessed against E, notwithstanding U's contention that assessment justified by E's frivolous defenses to its clear obligation to furnish information and facts given other charges alleging failure to furnish information had been filed against E during past ten years, where all but two charges had been settled prior to ALJ's decision, and E had frequently furnished information to U but had never before been asked for this type of information)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 186
(assessment of reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by U in pursuing charge that E refused to supply U requested information, denied where history of charges (against E) and settlements did not seem to show callous disregard by E of its collective-bargaining obligations)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd adhered to position that reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses will not be ordered where E's defenses are debatable rather than frivolous, and in so doing Bd took into consideration role of charging party, remedial rather than punitive tenor of Bd orders, and inapplicability of collateral losses to framing of reimbursement order)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses in case involving frivolous defenses held not precluded by role of charging party; remedial aspects of such order predominate whatever deterrent effect such order may also have, and are well w/i Bd's authority; and such expenses resulting from frivolous refusal to bargain are not considered collateral)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(disavowing ALJ's characterization of order requiring E to pay Bd and U litigation costs as traditional in Stevens cases. Bd noted that it reviews all cases on their merits and grants or denies remedies based on record as a whole)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery, Rectifying, Wine & Allied Workers' International Union, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 318 (C.A. 2, July 1981)
(U's ptn for review of Bd's order insofar as Bd did not act on U's request for attorneys' fees as part of remedy sought, denied where ct saw no merit in U's argument that Es engaged in frivolous litigation and similarly saw no basis for concluding that Bd abused its discretion in this connection)

5570-5000 Types of litigation expenses

Autoprod, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 042
(E ordered to reimburse Bd for its costs and expenses incurred in investigation of this proceeding, including salaries, witness fees, transcript costs, etc., due to its long history of intransigence in repudiating contract, failing to fully implement arbitration award, etc.)

Litton Financial Printing Division, A Division of Litton Business Systems, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 077
(U's request for attorney fees and costs made in its Joinder to Motion for Summary Judgment, denied, as reimbursement order was not justified under Heck's Inc., 215 NLRB 765 (1974) and Tiidee Products, Inc., 194 NLRB 1234 (1972))

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054
(E ordered to reimburse Ees for legal expenses that they incurred in defense of trespass complaint brought against them by E; it is Bd's practice to order reimbursements of legal expenses arising from charges brought against Ees by E unlawfully motivated under Act)

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(Bd did not accept ALJ's recommendation that Bd should administratively require U, which distributed Bd subpenas to attend Bd R hearing, to pay subpenaed Ees witness and mileage fees; although statements signed by Ees did not constitute explicit waiver of their right to such fees, issue of money owed for fees is matter between U and subpenaed Ees that has not been raised by either party and is not before Bd; moreover, there is no administrative process whereby Bd could compel such payment)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local No. 1063 (Hoachman Employees Independent Union) 249 NLRB No. 082
(reimbursement denied of all investigative, processing, and litigation expenses incurred by Bd and by E, charging party herein, in processing instant 8(b)(7)(A) proceedings and in processing 8(a)(2) charges filed by U against E)

Sachs Electric Company 248 NLRB No. 082
(Bd declined to reimburse U member whom U discriminatorily refused to register on hiring hall referral list for out-of pocket expenses in taking to arbitration his claim that he was entitled to such listing; such order unwarranted in view of availability of Bd's processes for determination regarding U's ULPs and adequacy of Bd's backpay and registration remedy)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E ordered to reimburse Bd and U for all litigation expenses, relating to meritorious ULP allegations and reasonably incurred as result of lengthy proceeding herein where, as in past, E reacted to organizing attempt by engaging in surveillance, creating impression thereof, promising and granting benefits, and unlawfully interfering with organizing campaign)

5580 BARGAINING EXPENSES OF UNION

Marriott In-Flite Services, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. 099
(no reimbursement of U for reasonable costs of participating in collective bargaining negotiations in which E failed to bargain in good faith since award of litigation or other expenses appropriate only where Respondent raises patently frivolous defenses and herein E's defenses, although unmeritorious, were not patently frivolous)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 034
(Bd declined to adopt ALJ's recommended order requiring E to reimburse U for any and all expenses incurred in bargaining with E from beginning of 10(b) period until date on which bargaining ended, in view of absence of proclivity on E's part to violate Act once its actions have been adjudicated unlawful)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(E must reimburse U for its bargaining expenses where E engaged in prolonged course of ULPs designed to thwart U's efforts to negotiate contract)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(case remanded to Bd where Bd decision left ct uncertain about basis of its award for litigation expenses; Bd should explicate more fully its reasons for requiring reimbursement in instant case as Bd required to make reasoned explanation for departing from its precedents)

5584 JOINT LIABILITY OF UNION AND EMPLOYER

General Instrument Corporation, Antenna Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(U and E jointly severally liable to reimburse Ees for unlawfully checked off dues where notwithstanding valid U-security clause dues were without during first 45 days of employment and Ees had not executed check-off authorization cards and had no obligation to pay dues or fees during that period)

Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund d/b/a Three Hundred South Grand Company 257 NLRB No. 175
(E and U ordered jointly and severally to reimburse Ee sum equal to difference between contractual wage and rate she was actually paid, where E permitted supervisor to handle grievances of members of U in which supervisor held positions of president and member of executive board, and U breached duty of fair representation by not giving her grievance protesting not being paid contract wage fair consideration)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 081
(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 067
(E and U ordered to reimburse Ees for all moneys extracted from them by unlawfully requiring them to join U; order does not apply to Ees who joined U prior to employment with E)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(E's bargaining with U that lacked majority support among E's Ees, violative and E and U were jointly and severally liable to make whole unlawfully discharged Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation and United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO 660 F.2d 1207 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)
(in denying enforcement of Bd order, ct held joint and several backpay liability should not be imposed on E and U since, by analogy to Sec. 301(a) of LMRA, such liability should be imposed only if discharges were contrary to bargaining contract and if U breached its duty of fair representation, which were not present herein; likewise, record did not show that any Sec. 7 rights of dischargees were responsible for their discharge)

Brotherhood Railway Carmen of the United States and Canada, Lodge 365, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 919 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(E held jointly, rather than secondarily, liable with U for reimbursement of unlawfully withheld U assessments since both E and U violated Act; further, bargaining agreement contained idemnification clause which shifted entire reimbursement obligation to U)

5596 ORGANIZING AND NEGOTIATING EXPENSES OF UNION

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(award of attorney's fees and organizational expenses not appropriate where on record as a whole defenses were not patently frivolous, even though violations found were flagrant and repetitious)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd adhered to position that reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses will not be ordered where E's defenses are debatable rather than frivolous, and in so doing Bd took into consideration role of charging party, remedial rather than punitive tenor of Bd orders, and inapplicability of collateral losses to framing of reimbursement order)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses in case involving frivolous defenses held not precluded by role of charging party; remedial aspects of such order predominate whatever deterrent effect such order may also have, and are well w/i Bd's authority; and such expenses resulting from frivolous refusal to bargain are not considered collateral)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(Bd ordered reimbursement of U's litigation and negotiation expenses where E's refusal to bargain was not occasioned by reasonably debatable point of view but was meritless attempt to avoid its duty to bargain as evidenced by fact that E's positions were twice unsupported throughout course of litigation covering entire federal judiciary system, and E's latest justification for refusal to bargain amounts to contention that its duty to bargain ceased by virtue of its own unlawful conduct, which precisely amounts to a frivolous position)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E ordered to reimburse U for any excess organizing costs it reasonably incurred from date E willfully flouted its lawful duty to recognize U)

5598 MAKE WHOLE REMEDY

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075
(where E signed memorandum of agreement but refused to sign contract, it was ordered to comply retroactively to its effective date and make Ees whole for losses suffered, i.e., wages and contributions to U funds and interest)

Towne Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 038
(to satisfy make whole remedy for failure to make payments into Ee benefits funds any additional amounts, including interest, these amounts may be determined depending on circumstances of each case, by reference to documents governing funds at issue and, where there are no governing provisions, to evidence of any loss directly attributable to unlawful withholding, which might include loss of return on investment of portions of funds withheld, additional administrative costs etc. but not collateral losses)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(make-whole remedy appropriate for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights since GC made prima facie showing that unlawful interview occurred and that Ee was discharged for failing to provide assurances at interview that he would no longer be insubordinate, and E did not meet burden of demonstrating that discipline was not based on information obtained at interview)

Petroleum Helicopters, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 009
(where discriminatory transfer resulted in increased commuting costs for discriminatee, E ordered to make Ee whole for any monetary losses he may have suffered)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 030
(make-whole remedy not recommended for Ee who was denied U representation at investigatory interview that she reasonably believed would result in disciplinary action where E met burden of showing that decision to discipline was not based upon any information obtained at interview)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering retroactive payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd did not provide for interest at a fixed rate on fund payments due as part of make-whole remedy; such additional amounts may be determined, depending upon circumstances of each case, by reference to governing provisions in fund's documents and, in absence of such provisions, by reference to evidence of any loss directly attributable to E's unlawful action, including loss of return on investment of portion of funds withheld, additional administrative costs, etc., but not on collateral losses)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd provided that, irrespective of whether U requests reinstatement of fund plan, specific Ees who suffered actual damage in loss of benefits be made whole by recovering those damages, with E reimbursing them for actual cost to the extent those costs would have been paid by the fund minus the costs which were actually paid by private insurer carrier under agreement with U)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering retroactive payments of unlawfully discontinued contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd did not permit E to elect to make contributions to fund in lieu of compensating Ees for loss of benefits; instead, Bd required that Ees be made whole for loss of benefits after date on which fund coverage ceased until date E fully complies with order herein; and amounts due shall be computed in accordance with Cole Protection Service, Inc., 182 NLRB 682)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in ordering that E make whole Ees for benefits they were entitled to under E's unlawfully discontinued health and welfare fund, Bd required that E notify, in writing, all Ees and former Ees that qualified for entitlement of benefits, since fund plan provided for future coverage for 6 months, regardless of whether individual remains employed, on basis of contribution made during his employment)

Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 256 NLRB No. 115
(Bd did not provide for interest at fixed rate on fund payment due as part of its make whole remedy because provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements are variable and complex leaving such determination for compliance stage)

Price Pfister, A Division of Norris Industries 256 NLRB No. 021
(Ee who was suspended after E held violative investigatory interview not entitled to backpay where E did not base his decision to suspend Ee on basis of information obtained at interview, but had reached decision prior to interview)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061
(where E which had unlawfully dealt directly with Ees during term of bargaining agreement, paying less than contract wage and failing to make payments to pension fund, and failed to use hiring hall as required by contract, subsequently signed and then repudiated another in series of agreements, in order to effectuate policies of Act make whole remedy extended to time of beginning of ULPs during prior contract rather than beginning with latest contract which was repudiated)

Aeronca, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 026
(make Ees whole for loss of benefits due them by paying them value of lost benefits, Christmas turkey)

Tolmich, Inc. d/b/a Orange County Metal Processing 252 NLRB No. 177
(collateral losses not included in make-whole remedy)

Kraft Plumbing and Heating, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 126
(Bd ordered make whole remedy to include reimbursing Ees for any medical, dental, or other expenses ensuing from E's unlawful failure to make such contributions; furthermore, E ordered to reimburse Ees for any contributions Ees themselves may have made for maintenance of contractual health and welfare, pension, industry and apprenticeship funds after E unlawfully discontinued contributions)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027
(limited backpay requirement accompanied bargaining order requiring E to bargain with U w/i 5 days of decision concerning effects of its closing facility as result of sale and relocation; back pay order designed to make whole Ees for losses, if any, suffered as result of violation and to recreate in some practicable manner situation in which U's bargaining position is not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

General Motors Corporation 251 NLRB No. 121
(Bd ordered make-whole remedy, including reinstatement and backpay, where E did not sustain its burden of establishing that it would have discharged Ee even in absence of unlawful Weingarten interview)

Kraft Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 006
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy, appropriate as remedy for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, since E negated prima facie showing of appropriateness of make-whole remedy by demonstrating that its decision, to discipline Ee involved in forklift collision and fight with another Ee, was not based on information obtained at unlawful interview)

Coyne Cylinder Company 251 NLRB No. 198
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy appropriate for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, where there was no evidence to indicate that any information obtained during unlawful interview which preceded Ee's discharge for smoking marijuana during his lunch breaks was relied on by E as basis for discharge)

5598—Cont.

Ohio Masonic Home 251 NLRB No. 089
(where E cannot meet burden to show that decision to discipline Ee was not based upon information obtained during unlawful interview, make-whole remedy such as reinstatement, backpay, and expungement of all disciplinary records will be ordered; if E meets burden, make-whole remedy will not be ordered and, instead, traditional c/d order will be sufficient to remedy 8(a)(1) violation)

Ohio Masonic Home 251 NLRB No. 089
(make-whole remedy for suspended Ee appropriate where decision to suspend was based, at least in part, on information obtained at E's unlawful interview with Ee; during interview E interrogated E regarding complaints E had received from E's supervisor and suspended Ee after she had explained circumstances surrounding complaints, which leads to conclusion that Ee was suspended because she did not have satisfactory explanation in response to complaints, rather than merely because there had been some complaints)

Newspaper Printing Corporation 250 NLRB No. 132
(relief granted to Ees who suffered monetary losses by reason of E's unlawful unilateral action limited to that period of time from effective date of changes (unilateral) until agreement on those changes by parties)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(collateral losses not included in any additional amounts determined in order to satisfy Bd's make-whole remedy)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 057
(whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit funds in order to satisfy make whole remedy left to compliance stage)

Plasticrafts, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 161
(E's make whole obligation for unlawful withholding of wage increases during election and negotiating period diminished by wage increases granted subsequent to period where such increase divided over backpay period equivalent to monthly average of increases over past representative period of employment)

(recommended where reinstatement inappropriate because E no longer had any Ees at construction site)

Whelly Foods, Inc. JD-(SF)-16-81
(ALJ did not impose remedial relief beyond that to which GC formally limited himself, where although ALJ had found that E waived 10(b) defense, GC did not seek full make-whole remedy but merely reached back 6 months prior to filing of charge; any other course by ALJ would raise serious due process question)

N.L.R.B. v. Allied Products' Corporation, Richard Brothers Division 629 F.2d 1167 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(contrary to E's contention, Bd did not disregard ct's remand to reconsider Bd's make-whole remedy in light of ct's theory of applicability of 10(b) limitations period which differs from that upon which Bd relied, where Bd accepted ct's finding that charging party did not become aware of E's unlawful suspension of merit wage review program until certain date, agreed that 10(b) limitations period was tolled until then, and consequently expanded its make whole remedy to include those Ees who had suffered before that date by reason of suspension of the scheme)

5598-5000 Interest

Construction Erectors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 045
(remedial order contained no provision for interest on E's obligation to fringe benefit trusts where such contract provisions dealing with Ee benefit funds are variable and complex and Bd traditionally leaves such determinations of interest on unlawfully withheld fund payments to compliance stage)

Pullman Building Company 251 NLRB No. 148
(where Bd ordered appropriate trust funds be made whole for losses suffered due to E's ULPs, it left determination of interest, if any, to individual provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements)

5599 OTHER FEES

Tolmich, Inc. d/b/a Orange County Metal Processing 252 NLRB No. 177
(collateral losses not included in make-whole remedy)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(interest payments on additional amounts E must pay into benefit funds to satisfy Bd's make-whole remedy)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(collateral losses not included in any additional amounts determined in order to satisfy Bd's make-whole remedy)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(refund reimbursement of take home fee declined, since many commission drivers who paid it may have made profit in doing so; Bd imposed only remedial, not punitive relief; injury was ambiguous)

6600 BARGAINING ORDERS

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(E's interrogation and solicitation were minor violations and did not support bargaining order or award of back pay)

6601 GENERALLY

Martin City Ready Mix 264 NLRB No. 066
(in determining whether bargaining order is appropriate, Bd will consider extensiveness of E's ULPs in terms of past effect on election conditions and likelihood of recurrence in future)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(Ees representational sentiment, once expressed through authorization cards, would, on balance, be better protected by issuance of bargaining order rather than by traditional remedies where possibility of erasing effects of E's ULPs and of insuring fair rerun election, was slight)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(bargaining order not appropriate notwithstanding E withdrew recognition from U and rescinded contract after U struck in violation of no-strike clause; discharge of all Ees because of strike support not violative and it is unknown whether new Ees desire representation)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's contention that estoppel exists as result of actions by Bd, GC, and U whereby E was deprived of right to hearing on U's objections to election, and hearing on complaint issued against U and, consequently, GC and U do not seek bargaining order with clean hands, rejected, where there was no impropriety on U's part or any irregularity in actions of Bd or GC, E did not show it had any right to hearing on objections or to require that GC not settle complaint against U, and this is not proper forum for assessing remedy against U)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(exhibits containing instructions given to supervisors concerning their obligations under labor laws and which were admitted into evidence held not to make bargaining order herein inappropriate since instructions were not transmitted to Ees and did not seek to retract or dissipate past ULPs; moreover, instructions were given over 1 year after refusal to bargain, and propriety of bargaining order must be appraised at time of ULPs and not at time Bd is deciding case)

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 084
(while E bought time by its unlawful refusal to bargain over subcontracting of unit work, it was not evident how such advantage could be negated by Bd's remedial order and, on other hand, U is not w/o practical recourse under circumstances, including filing of appropriate charges and seeking additional relief from Bd)

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81
(outcome of election does not determine whether or not bargaining order should issue)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(bargaining order to remedy ULPs including wage increases, failure to bargain regarding effect of closing of facilities and failure to furnish information, not warranted, since result would be to either compel parties to engage in continued futile negotiations, or to force upon Ees unwanted representation)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(bargaining order appropriate where E refused to bargain notwithstanding a long time had passed since ULPs had accurred. See Glomac Plasters v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 3 (2nd Cir. 1979))

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(although Bd, in weighing need for bargaining orders, apparently continues to refuse to consider subsequent events and current conditions, ct held both circumstances are relevant)

N.L.R.B. v. Jamaica Towing, Inc. 632 F.2d 208 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(bargaining order proper only if after objective review of all of relevant surrounding circumstances, including nature of E's misbehavior and any later events bearing on its impact on Ees, it may be reasonably concluded that Ees will be unable to exercise free choice in supervised rerun election)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd not required to give elaborate explanation of factors warranting bargaining order but to estimate impact of ULPs on liklihood of fair rerun-election)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd may consider ULPs committed subsequent to election in determining whether to issue bargaining order as they demonstrate E's continued opposition to unionization)

6601—Cont.

Kenworth Trucks of Philadelphia, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 580 F.2d 55 (C.A. 3)
(in light of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 46 L.W. 4301 (U.S. April 3, 1978) ct, on review, determined that so long as ALJ had provided statement of reasons for recommending bargaining order and so long as Bd had specifically indicated its adoption of findings and reasoning of ALJ, need for separate elaboration by Bd of factors prompting bargaining order appeared to have been met in instant case)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(although Bd properly ordered E to bargain, ct denied enforcement of order in view of lapse of time between ULPs and ct's consideration of order, special nature of employment in construction industry, and ct's holding that E's ULPs were not the reason for loss of U's majority status after termination of current projects)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(ct has held that because of unusual nature of Gissel bargaining order Bd should look to events subsequent to ULP in order to determine appropriateness of (bargaining) order)

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 660 F.2d 324 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(where subsidiary of corporation transferred operations to another subsidiary w/o prior bargaining with incumbent U, bargaining order held appropriate since subsidiary E continued to operate same business enterprise as alter ego of subsidiary which had its operations taken over)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(notwithstanding RD decision in representation case was still pending before Bd, Bd's findings in ULP case of E-Ee relationship and appropriate unit was proper since issue was relevant to Bd's request for bargaining order and fully litigated below; Bd's findings supported by substantial evidence where it showed E's full and centralized control over Ees and Ees had common interest necessary to comprise appropriate unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Ohio Masonic Home 620 F.2d 138 (C.A. 6, 1980)
order enforced and election upheld where E did not sustain burden of establishing that Bd acted arbitrarily, capriciously, and abused its discretion in overruling objections and ordering certification)

N.L.R.B. v. Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults 627 F.2d 202 (C.A. 9, 1980)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)
(purpose of bargaining order is to deter future violations of Act and not to be used as punitive measure)

6601-5000 Status quo ante

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(where E committed serious and extensive ULP's including refusing to notify and bargain with U about transfer of work from one mine to another, discriminatorily accelerated opening of second mine, transfered Ees represented by preferred U and hired new Ees through hiring hall of that U without recalling unit Ees and prematurely recognized favored U by entering into contract containing U-security, checkoff and hiring hall provisions, bargaining order necessary to restore status quo ante)

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company 261 NLRB No. 080
(where E unlawfully removed newly certified unit Ees from existing merit and COLA program covering non-unit Ees, and unilaterally canceled scheduled wage increase due unit Ees, E ordered to restore status quo ante by reinstituting Ees' participation in program retroactively to date scheduled for its implementation and by awarding them benefits they would have received under program since then; to hold that bargaining is adequate substitute for remedial action would unwarrantedly relieve E of its statutory obligation to maintain existing benefits during negotiations and ignore rights of Ees)

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 106
(E required to reinstate its unlawfully withdrawn offer concerning wage rate adjustments for consideration by U for reasonable period of time (20 days), since it is Bd's policy to order restoration of status quo ante to extent feasible where there is no evidence that to do so would impose undue or unfair burden on E; remedy not barred by H. K. Porter Co., Inc., Disston Division-Danville Works v. N.L.R.B 397 U.S. 99 (1970) since remedy merely requires E to do what it had previously agreed to do)

Nansemond Convalescent Center, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 089
(in order to place E and U in as nearly same situation as posible which existed during early negotiations it was ordered that upon resumption of bargaining and for 8 months thereafter U be regarded as if initial certification year had not expired)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(order of Bd that E reinstitute its pension-plan as it existed as of December 31, 1978, although allegedly unqualified by reason of IRS ruling 78-403, doesnot preclude parties from bargaining over any proposed change intended to retain IRS qualification; order restored status quo ante and placed parties in position they would have enjoyed but for E's illegal conduct)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. 233 NLRB No. 086
(request for order that upon resumption of bargaining E place before U those same proposals for contract which was before U prior to E's ULPs denied, since normal bargaining order will suffice to remedy violation)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027
(rationale for granting retroactive bargaining order is to re-establish conditions as they existed before E's unlawful campaign and not place U in a disadvantaged position)

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 064
(E ordered, immediately upon U's request to bargain in good faith over any proposed lawful restrictions on subcontracting of unit work; since there was no allegation or evidence that E unilaterally altered its subcontracting practices, and absent any request therefor by GC, order requiring reinstatement of status quo ante or order requiring unit Ees to be made whole is unwarranted)

6607 APPROPRIATE ONLY FOR MAJORITY REPRESENTATIVE

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045
(Ee ptn which indicated that Ees withdrew their support from U and withdrew their applications for membership not valid proof that U no longer enjoyed valid support where it was prepared two weeks after U requested recognition and well after E had embarked upon course of serious ULPs)

Trend Construction Corporation and General Electric Corporation, Individually and as Joint Employers 263 NLRB No. 044
(bargaining order not appropriate, where U had ceased to represent majority of Ees in unit due to Ee turnover prior to commission of any ULPs, and loss not attributable to E)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 263 NLRB No. 064

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(finding that E's extensive and serious ULPs did not require nonmajority bargaining order because totality of E's conduct did not completely foreclose possibility of holding fair election, Bd directed second election, but ordered extraordinary access and notice remedies)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(Bd held nonmajority bargaining order not warranted where, E's activity subsided well in advance of election, last 2 unlawful discharges occurred more than 2 months before election, E waged less aggressive campaign against unit Ees herein despite U's victory in earlier election in another unit, most violations involved single supervisor and single Ee, supervisors' remarks linking unionization to possible job displacement had less severe impact than management official's threat to close plant, and impact of ULPs was diffused because of 7 different locations involved)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(while refusing to issue nonmajority bargaining order, Bd ordered, instead, extraordinary access and notice remedies in recognition of E's unlawful conduct, where case presented widespread ULPs which although, severe, did not constitute the exceptional first category Gissel case which would warrant a nonmajority bargaining order)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(although E's extensive ULPs were so outrageous and pervasive as to render fair election impossible, nonmajority bargaining order not issued and, instead, remedial action directed that would emphatically inform Ees of their statutory rights and assure that E will respect such rights and afford U opportunity to participate in restoration and reassurance of Ee rights by engaging in further organizational efforts free of further restraint and coercion)

University Townhouses Cooperative 260 NLRB No. 187
(bargaining order not appropriate where parties did not request such remedy nor did record show that U obtained majority status)

Medical Investors Association 260 NLRB No. 124
(bargaining order appropriate where U had majority status at time it made demand and E refused to accept demand letter and subsequently discharged most of unit)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(not appropriate where U did not have majority at time E began ULP's)

Williams and Lane, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 074
(where E began new non-U plant and violated Act by requiring Ees to resign from U if they desired transfer, bargaining order not appropriate remedy where U never represented majority of Ees at new plant, Region made determination that there was no accretion to unit at first plant U never sought election nor sought recognition on basis of proof of majority)

Alco Venetian Blind Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 161
(bargaining order inappropriate where majority of Ee support was not clearly established by lawful E poll or by initial picketing of Ee majority)

6607—Cont.

Gordonsville Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(bargaining order appropriate notwithstanding possibility that U might win election after counting unopened ballots)

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(burden of proving U ever represented majority of Ees in appropriate unit not met)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(notwithstanding E clearly flaunted the Act in instant case, Bd did not issue requested bargaining order based on its decision in United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association, 242 NLRB No. 179 (1979), inasmuch as there was no showing that U, in instant case, previously enjoyed majority support in the unit; Bd balanced interest of preventing outrageous ULPs with principal of majority rule)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(bargaining order, based upon U's valid card majority, warranted where E's misconduct was pervasive and flagrant in nature by discharging Ee after reducing his working hours, interrogations and unlawful no-solicitation rule)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(bargaining order appropriate where E has engaged in ULPs and at one point U had support of majority of Ees)

Massey Stores, Inc., d/b/a Kermit Super Valu v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 328 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(not appropriate, where U did not represent majority of Ees at time it demanded recognition since cards on which it based demand were invalid)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 881 (C.A. 4)
(Bd's denial of bargaining order appropriate where ULP's occurred 18 months prior to time U allegedly obtained majority status and neither undermined majority strength nor demonstrated any impediment to an election)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(E's contention that Bd's bargaining order was unenforceable because it mandated bargaining w/o regard to U's majority status, rejected, since propriety of order does not normally depend on existence of majority status throughout period between time of ULPs and time for enforcement of Bd's order; rather, relevant date for determining E's duty to bargain and, thus, propriety of bargaining order is time of ULPs; however, ct denied enforcement of order in view of lapse of time between ULPs and ct's review of order and because of other considerations)

N.L.R.B. v. Agricom Oilseeds, Inc. 639 F.2d 789(T) (C.A. 9, 1981)
(bargaining order proper where 11 of 14 Ees signed cards and E had engaged in unlawful interrogation and discriminatory discharges)

6609 MAY BE APPROPRIATE IN CASES OF EXCEPTIONAL UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES ALTHOUGH MAJORITY NOT ESTABLISHED

Peal Distributing Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 179
(Bargaining Order not appropriate remedy where U never attained card majority even though E committed some ULPs there were no captive audience speeches, no mass appeals to Ees, no acts of surveillance, no wholesale retalitory terminations, no orchestrated escalation of anti-U activity, moreover, E's ULPs occurred only on 3 days immediately after it learned of Ees' U activity, involved encounters with individual Ees and id not continue. Also violative layoff of Ee mitigated by E's recall of him)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(issuance of nonmajority bargaining order, appropriate, in view of extreme gravity of E's violations consisting of numerous discriminatory discharges, mass discharge of ULP strikers, repeated threats of discharges and plant closure, discriminatory refusal to reinstate and delay in reinstating strikers, and discharge of reinstated strikers; coercive message of such conduct was carried to every Ee in relatively large unit by highest executive officials who openly committed many ULPs and by managerial officials who used mass communications with Ees to insure maximum dissemination of unlawful threats, solicitation of grievances, and promises of benefits)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(issuance of nonmajority bargaining order, appropriate, in view of repetition and timing of ULPs, since repetitions of unlawful discharges or threats of plant closure and other violations multiply strength and duration of impression left on Ees; same multiplier effect results from manner in which E timed its unlawful conduct consisting of swift and severe retaliation against U's organizational efforts, increase in violations as election neared, and unlawful discharges even after election; in moment and duration, timing of E's ULPs underscored its opposition to unionization and impressed on Ee mentories drastic consequences of seeking U representation)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(nonmajority bargaining order held appropriate in instant exceptional case since it is type of Gissel case which warrants order w/o need of inquiry into majority status on the basis of cards or otherwise; neither Bd's traditional remedies nor extraordinary access and notice remedies can effectively dissipate lingering effects of E's massive and unrelenting coercive conduct which foreclosed any possibility of holding fair election; and bargaining order is the only way to restore to Ees statutory right to make uncoerced determination whether they wish to be represented)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in exceptional Gissel category 1 case warranting issuance of nonmajority bargaining order, risk of imposing minority U on Ees for interim remedial bargaining period is greatly outweighed by risk that, w/o a bargaining order, all Ees would be indefinitely denied their statutory right to make a fair determination whether they desire U representation; there is nothing permanent in a bargaining order and if, after effects of E's acts have worn off, Ees desire to disavow U, they can do so by filing a decertification pet)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in Gissel category 1 case, nonmajority bargaining order, rather than extraordinary remedies order held appropriate to vindicate Ees' right of self-determination; moreover, reasonable basis exists for concluding that U would have had majority but for E's ULPs inasmuch as U had approximately 46 percent card showing, and even after 9 months of E's ULPs, approximately one-third of voters still cast ballots for U)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(critical predicate to issuance of nonmajority, bargaining order is Bd's finding that E's unlawful conduct fits Gissel category 1 description which warrants a bargaining order w/o need of inquiry into majority status on basis of cards or otherwise; consequently, Bd would not necessarily withhold bargaining order in absence of close election vote, high majority percentage card showing, or any other affirmative showing of reasonable basis for projecting U's majority support; accordingly, in view of E's outrageous and pervasive ULPs herein completely foreclosing fair election, Bd issued nonmajority bargaining order)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(Bd did not adopt ALJ's limitation of reasonable access to U representatives provisions of order if Bd issued certification or nonmajority bargaining order where such provisions were necessary to dissipate effects of illegal conduct)

Fred Lewis Carpets, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 198
(appropriateness of nonmajority bargaining order discussed)

6612 TO REMEDY ULP'S WHICH PRECLUDE FAIR ELECTION

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159
(U's request that bargaining order be entered against E despite absence of evidence that U at any time represented majority of Ees, denied; while E's ULPs were serious, they did not fall into category of outrageous and pervasive ULPs such as those in case upon which U relied)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 197
(on remand from ct, bargaining order held warranted in view of E's ULPs including payment of full cost of insurance, threats to discharge all Ees if U selected, to move plant elsewhere if U came in, loss of benefits, interrogation, layoff of U adherent and refusal to reinstate ULP strikers; substantial turnover of Ees did not dissipate effect of ULPs and obviate need for bargaining order where unlawfully instituted insurance premium payments continued to be received by Ees, and in view of fact E engaged in hallmark violations of discharge and threat of plant closure, and E's actions before and after strike would be repeated topic of conversation)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 060
(bargaining order appropriate where E, from first indications of Ee U activity until 3 days before election, engaged in numerous and repeated violations of Act, and then, after election and continuing into course of hearing herein, engaged in further violations; and such massive and egregious violations would render fair rerun election impossible)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(appropriate, in view of E's threats to close plant, maintenance of overly broad no solicitation and no distribution rule, promise of promotion to U adherent in return for opposition to U, layoffs and discharges which undermined majority and likely residual effect of ULPs since E never gave Ees any assurances it would not close plant in reprisal if they voted for U)

Arthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(appropriate, in view of E's campaign to undermine U's majority beginning even before demand for recognition, which included unlawful threats of plant closure, refusal to reinstate strikers and surveillance, which dissipated U's majority and in view of likelihood of lingering violations where principal perpetrator was E owner's and unit small)

De Queen General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 080
(appropriate)

6612—Cont.

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Kay Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(inappropriate where there were no hallmark violations, unit packing – though serious – would not necessarily have lingering adverse effect where Ees did not know about it, and traditional remedies could eradicate effects of E's ULPs)

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(election set aside and bargaining order warranted where U had authorization card majority, in view of E's numerous violations in effort to defeat U including interrogations, threats, requiring immediate repayment of loans, discharges, and prohibition against talking about U on E's premises, particularly since Ee complement was small, many violations committed by high level officials and E's unlawful conduct continued after election)

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(inappropriate, where U had ceased to exist as labor organization, and therefore no longer represented Ees)

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(appropriate, notwithstanding almost 3 years passed since E first engaged in conduct found unlawful herein, where E's unlawful conduct consisted, inter alia, of threats of discharge and discharge of two leading U adherents, and which resulted in dissolution of one U and attempted destruction of majority support for succeeding U)

Martin City Ready Mix 264 NLRB No. 066
(appropriate where E's actions fell in category of less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practices including illegal layoff of 5 Ees who signed cards in 8-Ee unit notwithstanding all 5 have since voluntarily quit and not been replaced; timing layoff on next working day after R ptn was received; promises of benefits and threats of plant closure; E-party to celebrate U's defeat in election; small size of unit and E's failure to offer reassurances that conduct would not recur all of which have tendency to undermine U's majority strength and impede election processes)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140
(appropriate, where instances of E's misconduct were not isolated but consisted of repeated acts of interrogation, threats of discharge and loss of job opportunities, creation of impression of surveillance, pressure upon Ees to spy on one another and constructive discharge of one Ee; as result, 2 months after organizational drive began with well over majority of Ees signing cards, U lost election by 2 votes; moreover, impact of ULPs committed solely by one company official was not minimized because just a few Ees were subjected thereto since, in small shop, official's conduct could hardly remain secret)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140
(bargaining rather than c/d order appropriate, notwithstanding replacement of sole malfeasor by new company president; E was not absolved of responsibility for former official's acts by virtue of his discharge and, if E wished to disassociate itself from his actions it could have issued reassurances to Ees by publicly condemning official's practices and offering reinstatement to unlawfully discharged Ees; and bargaining order may be needed even where ULPs have ceased, since order is designed to deter future misconduct as it is to remedy post election damage)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140
(appropriate despite Ee turnover, where core of Ees, who were part of U's initial majority, remained in E's employ and had not sought to withdraw their authorization cards; and to take Ee turnover into account would merely afford added inducement to E to indulge in ULPs in order to defeat U in election and, in addition to attrition of U support from delay in accomplishing results, Ee turnover would help E to hold out for better chance of victory)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(bargaining order, based on U's majority status as indicated by authorization cards, appropriate where E's ULPs tended to undermine U's majority strength and impede election process)

Onan, a Division of Ona Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(E's ULPs found sufficiently flagrant to warrant entry of remedial bargaining order, although no request for recognition was made to E by U)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(appropriate, in view of E's unlawful discharges instigating, assisting and reorganizing minority U, and promulgation of unlawfully broad no solicitation and no access rules)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(although E's extensive ULPs were so outrageous and pervasive as to render fair election impossible, nonmajority bargaining order not issued and, instead, remedial action directed that would emphatically inform Ees of their statutory rights and assure that E will respect such rights and afford U opportunity to participate in restoration and reassurance of Ee rights by engaging in further organizational efforts free of further restraint and coercion)

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(appropriate, since E's conduct before and after U demanded recognition tended to undermine U's majority status and impede fair election in view of E's unlawful interrogations, threat of closure and discharge, and creation of impression of surveillance, followed by unlawful discharge of 6 card signers out of total of 13 who signed cards in unit of 17 Ees; possibility of erasure of effects of ULPs and fair rerun election by use of traditional remedies is slight, and authorization cards provide more reliable measure of Ees' desire than second election)

Pedro's Inc., d/b/a Pedro's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 148
(inappropriate, where 8(a)(1) violations can adequately be remedied by c/d order inasmuch as violations consisted of interrogation which involved approximately a dozen Ees out of unit of 110 Ees, solicitation of grievances and promised remedies which did not include any promise of benefits, granting of benefit consisting of posting of promotional opportunities pursuant to existing promotion policy, threat of discharge made to one Ee which was not direct but rather implied and veiled threat, and unlawful promulgation of no-solicitation rule)

Pedro's Inc., d/b/a Pedro's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 148
(on ct remand and as law of the case, Bd held bargaining order was inappropriate where ct, contrary to Bd, found E's implementation of insurance plan on which Bd had relied heavily in concluding bargaining order was warranted, was not unlawful; and remaining 8(a)(1) violations can adequately be remedied by means of ct-enforced c/d order)

Scott Glass Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129
(appropriate in view of unlawful wage increase, solicitation of grievances, and threats of futility of unionization, plant closure and job loss)

Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization 261 NLRB No. 132
(where E discharged 4 leading U adherents unlawfully, E engaged in conduct so serious, pervasive, egregious and substantial that fair and free election would be impossible)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(appropriate in view of E's program of ULPs involving upper management which included unlawful discharge, offer of promotion conditioned on abandoning U, changes in working conditions, refusal to reinstate ULP strikers, and threats of killing Ee, discharge, loss of benefits, reprisal, and permanent replacement of ULP strikers)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(appropriate in view of unlawful interrogation, impression of surveillance, layoffs, discharges refusal to rehire, solicitation of grievances and aid in defeating U, threats, and promises of benefits)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 058
(appropriate, where E engaged in numerous ULPs which had tendency to undermine U's majority status and impede election process; unlawful discharge of leading U advocate went to the very heart of the Act; E's threats of plant closure were most effective means of destroying Ee support for U; and E's remedying of Ees' principal grievance through granting of substantial increase of insurance benefits, will have lingering effect by reminding Ees whenever they receive such benefits of E's action, which they are likely to communicate to new Ees)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Poletti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 051
(appropriate, where U had card majority at time of demand for bargaining, in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threat of closure, offer to consider benefits if Ees singed anti-U ptn, unilateral granting of wage increases and discontinuance of benefits, closure of its facility and layoff of Ees for two and a half weeks w/o warning, and discharge of U adherent; notwithstanding only 5 of the 14 Ees who signed ptn and 11 of 23 Ees employed at time of signing are still employed by E)

Ja-Wex Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 172
(appropriate, in view of serious and pervasive character of ULPs consisting of repeated threats to close plant, including those made on the very morning of election, and commission of other violations, all of which occurred in context of small work force; E's contention that at most GC had demonstrated only a series of minor violations and that established law precluded issuance of bargaining order, rejected)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(appropriate where E embarked on course of unlawful conduct in small unit of 13 Ees w/i one week of U's demand for recognition, including discharges, transfers to night shift, reduced working hours, threat of plant closure, interrogation of U activities, created impression of surveillance, withheld monetary prize awards and insurance sales commissions)

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056
(appropriate, where in concentrated period of time E engaged in open and persistent opposition to Ees' organizational efforts by engaging in various and successive 8(a)(1) violations which reached each Ee in small shop; such conduct, accompanied by discharge of chief U organizer, which removed one-fourth of proposed unit, constituted misconduct so serious and coercive that it was likely to have lasting inhibitive effect on Ees; and c/d order would not root out coercive effect upon Ees of E's unlawful conduct nor deter E from continuing ULPs committed by company president and his sole supervisor)

6612—Cont.

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 096
(appropriate, even though none of the Ees who signed authorization cards remained in E's employ, since to take Ee turnover into account would merely afford added inducement to E to indulge in ULPs; although bargaining order will impose U on Ees who had no voice in selecting it, Ees can, after effects of ULPs have worn off, disavow U by filing R ptn; and propriety of bargaining order to effectively cure ULPs and to implement will of majority previously expressed outweigh any consideration that might be given to Ee turnover)

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(appropriate in view of unlawful threats, grant of benefits, interrogation, discharges, calling organizing futile, preferring other U, refusal to bargain, and withdrawal of recognition)

Lay Food Stores, Inc. d/b/a Ken's IGA 259 NLRB No. 035
(order appropriate in view of increasing seriousness of E's ULPs in correlation with declining success of U's organizational activities)

Roth's IGA Foodliner, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 015
(appropriate in view of E's unlawful threats, interrogation, bribery, promise of benefits and instruction not to join U)

La Mousse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 007
(appropriate in view of unlawful interrogation, solicitation of grievances, promise and grant of benefits, unilateral changes, discharges and constructive discharges)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006
(election set aside and bargaining order to be issued, if after counting of ballots U did not win election, in view of fact U had authorization cards from 33 out of 47 unit Ees, and in view of E's ULPs including suggesting formation of Ee committee to bargain with U and threatening plant closure)

Valley Plaza, Inc. d/b/a Captain Nemo's 258 NLRB No. 076
(bargaining order appropriate where possibility of erasing effects of past ULPs and conducting fair and meaningful election is slight)

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156
(appropriate in view of unlawful interrogation, threats of loss of work, plant closure and discharge, discharges and layoffs, and promises of wage increases and improved benefits)

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142
(Gissel bargaining order appropriate where, contrary to ALJ's finding that E's three-day anti-U campaign a month and a half prior to election could be eradicated by more conventional remedies, Bd held that absence of further ULPs during that period did not lessen negative imprint of E's shortlived, but concentrated and effective campaign to undermine U's majority)

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192
(appropriate in view of unlawful interrogation, changing of method of paying Ees, requirement that Ees provide own uniforms, trucks, material and tools, transfer of part of unit, and subcontracting of work)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(election ordered set aside and bargaining order to be issued, if as consequence of revised tally after counting of challenged ballots, U loses election, in view of E's numerous ULPs including threats of discharges and plant removal, promises of benefits, changes in method of compensation, discharges and offers of reemployment conditioned on U rejection)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(appropriate, where election was precluded by E's conduct which included uninterrupted ULPs until day of election, involving all supervisors and high management officials and directed at all Ees including Ees of high school age highly susceptible to E's manipulation)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(appropriate, where election was precluded by E's conduct which included numerous threats of plant closure which constituted ULPs recognized as serious ULPs having substantial impact on Ee attitudes and reactions, and thus upon Ees' free choice)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(appropriate, where election was precluded by E's conduct which included threats of plant closure coupled with unlawful grants of benefits, thereby sending clear message to Ees that vote for U would jeopardize one's employment and that vote against U would lead to improved terms and conditions of employment and thereby instilling in Ees strong fear of U representation which would continue in event of second election; and traditional c/d remedy will not erase effect of such fear not enable Ees to participate in uncoerced rerun election)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(appropriate, where election was precluded by E's conduct which included widespread acts of interrogation, surveillance, and solicitation of grievances, and thereby signaled to Ees E's displeasure at U activity and lengths E would go to stifle Ees' right of self-organization; such unlawful conduct would not soon be forgotten and c/d order will not eradicate its lingering effects nor deter recurrence of ULPs since they were committed by top management officials, none of whom has left employ of E who has made no effort to neutralize effect of ULPs)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(appropriate, since E's unlawful conduct tended to undermine U's majority status, where during short 2-month period E engaged in pervasive and widespread ULPs, and destructive impact on Ees of such conduct was heightened since directed at relatively small complement of Ees in highly integrated work force which undergirded E's threatened closure of its facility)

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069
(Gissel order not appropriate where there has been no showing of card majority)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 048
(appropriate in view of interrogation, threats of reprisals, implied promises of benefits, statements that timing of warnings was due to U activity, post-election interrogation about Ee's testimony before Bd, threats, discriminatory enforcement of work rules and discharge based thereon)

Isadore Spiegel, an Individual t/a Spiegel Trucking Company; Spiegel Trucking Company, Inc.; I & L Trucking Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 020
(bargaining order appropriate in light of E's outrageous and pervasive ULPs especially discharging all but one Ee after they had signed U authorization cards)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(appropriate in view of unlawful promises and grant of benefits, threats of loss of benefits, discharge, closing of facility, interrogation, layoff, and failure to reinstate ULP strikers)

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126
(bargaining order appropriate where E was guilty of various ULPs such as unlawful interrogation, threats to cut work hours, granting of benefits to one group of Ees and not another, and threat to close)

Price's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123
(order appropriate in view of unlawful discharges, interrogation, polling of Ees, threats of discharge and store closure, and surveillance)

Precision Graphics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 097
(E's threat of plant closure warranted issuance of bargaining order to better protect Ee sentiment since it is unlikely Ees would soon forget threats to their livelihood, where E's clearly understood threat made 3 days after Ees designated U as their representative, and E's subsequent alleged repudiation of unlawful threat was ineffective and was continuation of prior direct threat or at least veiled threat that if U won election E still had same options as before)

Keystone Pretzel Bakery, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 099
(on remand, Bd held that neither passage of time resulting from delay in Bd's issuance of its Decision and in seeking enforcement of its Order in case nor Ee turnover in bargaining unit dissipated impact of E's ULPs and adhered to original conclusion that Ees' sentiment, as expressed through their authorization cards, would be better protected by issuance of bargaining order than by traditional remedies)

Vireson, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 037
(appropriate, since possibility of erasing effects of E's ULPs and of ensuring fair rerun election by use of traditional means was slight)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036
(barbaining order warranted where E emberked on extensive and pervasive campaign to thwart Ees' organizational efforts and to rid itself of U by destroying its majority support)

Highland Plastics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 028
(bargaining order proper since E committed certain ULPs; such as, threat of loss of employment, discharge of U adherents and threat of plant closure which are considered hallmark violations which have lasting inhibitive effect and notwithstanding E experienced substantial Ee turnover since validity of bargaining order depends on evaluation of situation at time ULPs committed)

Richland Co. & Assoc., Division of McDonald Construction, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 026
(barbaining order appropriate, in view of extensive and serious ULPs, including egregious threat to close plant if U won election, in very small bargaining unit)

Kovah Kenner, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 008
(appropriate in view of E's solicitation of grievances, discriminatory discharge, refusal to reinstate economic striker and other discriminatory actions against U adherents)

6612—Cont.

Samuel J. Wade, an Individual d/b/a Major Cab Company 255 NLRB No. 181

(bargaining order appropriate where fair election impossible because E undermined U's majority status by numerous ULPs such as unlawful threats of plant closure and discharge, interrogations, and actual discharges of U adherents)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176

(appropriate, where E's campaign of serious and extensive ULPs had tendency to undermine U's strength and impede election process, there was likelihood of E's misconduct recurring during election campaign, and possibility of erasing effects of E's ULPs and of ensuring fair election by use of traditional remedies was slight)

Sanitas Care, Inc. d/b/a Parkview Acres Convalescent Center 255 NLRB No. 149

(bargaining order appropriate where E engaged in various ULPs such as threats of discharge and loss of wage increase, interrogations, discharges, and requiring U adherent to work under less desirable conditions)

Southern Moldings, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 115

(appropriate, in view of numerous and extensive ULPs; fact that E's unlawful conduct extended beyond election to eve of ULP hearing revealed continuing hostility toward U and reduced possibility of erasing effects of E's ULPs and of ensuring fair rerun election by use of traditional Bd remedies)

Edmund Homes, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 106

(appropriate in view of E's unlawful threats, interrogation, promises of benefit and discharge of 7 of 11 card signers, a course of conduct designed to undermine Ees' organizational efforts)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097

(bargaining order warranted in view of unlawful mass discharg of entire unit of 11 Ees 4 days after 8 Ees in unit signed authorization cards)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 098

(bargaining order appropriate where E unlawfully discharged two Ees and unilaterally granted wage increase to Ee)

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 002

(appropriate, in view of pervasive ULPs which tended to destroy and undermine majority status of U)

United Oil Manufacturing Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 179

(bargaining order appropriate, where fair election involving small unit would be impossible because of E's ULPs, such as granting wage increases and promotions to U adherents and then denying them overtime benefits as reinstated ULP strikers; by its actions E clearly demonostrated to all Ees that it alone controlled their economic destiny)

Jensen's Motorcycle, Inc. d/b/a Honda of San Diego 254 NLRB No. 165

(bargaining order necessary to remedy effect of unlawful layoffs notwithstanding discriminatees were all reinstated as effects of discrimination are longlasting)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082

(appropriate where day after U made its demand, E threatened to discharge Ees for their U activity, threatened Ees with loss of benefits if U got in, and prohibited Ees from discussing U at any time during workday, effects of which are unlikely to be eradicated by c/d remedial order but which would remain to interfere with Ees' expressing free choice in second election)

Hasbro Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 070

(appropriate, where E granted substantial wage increases to entire unit; made it clear to 4 Ees that selecting U would mean closing department; distributed letters to each Ee's home advising that U victory would in essence be tantamount to sacrifice of existing benefits; gave 1 Ee impression that his U activities were under surveillance; and subjected another Ee to interrogation concerning his U sentiments)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(if card majority is found on remand, bargaining order warranted in view of interrogation, threats of discharge and plant closure, solicitation of grievances, and denial of wage increase to principal Ee organizer)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021

(if card majority is found on remand, bargaining order warranted in view of interrogation, threats of discharge and plant closure, solicitation of grievances, and denial of wage increase to principal Ee organizer)

Eastern Steel Company 253 NLRB No. 163

(bargaining order appropriate where E discharged 2 of 3 Ee unit, interrogated all unit Ees, forbade them to discuss U and threatened to withdraw Xmas bonuses, insurance benefits and pension plan)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 150

(on remand Bd did not hold bargaining order appropriate in view of extraordinary amount of time that had elapsed since E's initial refusal to bargain and Bd's prior issuance of bargaining order, and fact U had lost election; however, second election ordered in view of E's initial withdrawal of recognition since reasonable to assume E's act led to U's loss of majority; mailing of notice of election to Ees not ordered nor was E ordered to allow U access to its property since U will be furnished list of Ees)

Alco Venetian Blind Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 161

(inappropriate where only ULPs are isolated statements that E would close plant before recognizing U and vague promise that changes would be made and things would get better)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146

(bargaining order appropriate in view of E's pervasive ULPs and E's refusal to bargain)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023

(appropriate, where U had card majority and in view of E's ULPs, particularly wage increases)

Winco Petroleum and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 252 NLRB No. 150

(order requiring successor E to bargain with predecessor's U, held appropriate, where predecessor voluntarily recognized and bargained with U, violated 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) and was required under Gissel to bargain with U, and successor E purchased predecessor's business with actual knowledge of predecessor's ULPs)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(on ct remand, Bd in issuing bargaining order overruled ALJ finding that member of E-association withdrew from association and executed contract with outside U while entertaining good faith doubt of incumbent U's continued majority, where record was devoid of any objective factors w/i E's knowledge on which it could have reasonably relied to conclude that majority of its seven Ees no longer supported incumbent U)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(where ALJ conditioned bargaining order upon member of E association's resumption of steel fabricating, Bd held bargaining order was appropriate and deleted ALJ's condition, since record was unclear whether warehousing work being performed by E's Ees was bargaining unit work prior to E's discontinuation of fabrication operations; in any event, Bd will leave for appropriate subsequent proceedings question whether warehousing Ees are properly w/i that unit)

Rodeway Inn of Las Vegas 252 NLRB No. 063

(E ordered to bargain where E engaged in unlawful promises of benefits to induce its Ees to abandon U activities, made numerous threats in reprisal to Ees' U organizing activities, and interrogated its Ees to undermine U's majority strength and impede election process; nature and extent of E's ULP conduct especially warranted bargaining order where 40 percent of 5 person bargaining unit were exposed to ULP conduct)

Apple Tree Chevrolet, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 076

(Gissel order affirmed on remand, notwithstanding ct reversal of Bd finding of unlawful discharge, since E's other misconduct as affirmed by ct dissipated U's strength and possibility of erasing effects of such ULPs by use of traditional remedies was slight)

United Services For The Handicapped 251 NLRB No. 117

(U card majority rather than election provides more reliable test of Ees' R desires where E's ULPs precluded holding of fair election)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(bargaining order appropriate where E's conduct, taken as a whole, could lead Ees to believe that direct negotiations with E already was and would be as favorable to them as what they could obtain through U, and that vote for U would cause E to become less generous to Ees; such ULPs would likely leave lingering effect on presently employed Ees who benefited from E's ULPs and on new Ees to whom events surrounding ULPs would be conveyed)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(bargaining order appropriate where possibility of erasing effects of E's ULPs and ensuring fair election by merely issuing c/d order and posting of notice is slight at best and, on balance, bargaining order should issue on basis of authorization cards signed by majority of Ees at time of hearing; although Bd seems to draw no distinction between category one and category two cases described in Gissel, ALJ noted that he regarded instant case as being in category two)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's contention that second election should be directed rather than bargaining order issued because it has not previously been found to have violated Act, and has not been charged with further violations since first election, rejected, where E's conduct prevented free and fair election in first place, and its unlawful conduct continued to affect old and new Ees which could not be wiped out by passage of time)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's contention that no bargaining order should be issued because of U representative's misconduct during U organizing campaign, rejected, since U is not thereby disqualified from representing E's Ees inasmuch as issue herein is whether E should be ordered to bargain with U, not with U representative who may no longer be associated with U, or may not be U representative for bargaining with E)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(bargaining order warranted where ULPs committed by E constituted show of brute force, resulting in termination of only those Ees who had shown support for U, and impact of such discharges in small unit had far greater effect than in larger unit and made fair election impossible; consequently, E's ULPs may not be remedied merely by use of Bd's traditional remedies)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(appropriate, in view of E's unlawful interrogation and granting of benefits which particularly has tendency to undermine majority and impede election process by providing as much if not all they hoped to gain through U representation)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116

(appropriate, where E followed refusal to bargain with U having card majority with illegal discharge of approximately one-half of unit Ees, including U organizer)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107

(bargaining order warranted, in view of discharge of leading U adherent, discharge of other Ees for pretextual reasons, coercive interrogation and threats involving in one instance E's highest plant official, and continuation of E's egregious conduct at time of hearing w/o any abatement or remedy therefor)

Discotron Equipment Inc., d/b/a Xenon 250 NLRB No. 024

(appropriate in view of E's unlawful interrogation and discharges, where U had majority and had demanded recognition)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140

(appropriate, in view of E's campaign of intimidation and coercion after it learned of U organizing campaign which included threat to close business and to discharge Ees, and in view of its subsequent unlawful discharge of 10 U activists out of 27 Ee unit)

Patsy Bee, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 125

(Bd held, contrary to ALJ, that E's conduct warranted bargaining order; inasmuch as E not only attempted to thwart representation desire of Ees but in the process intentionally sought to abort free election, odds for free choice in rerun election were minimal)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096

(notwithstanding unresolved question regarding alleged unlawful discharges, herein remanded to ALJ, Bd issued order requiring E to c/d from engaging in unlawful activity and to bargain with U, since resolution of remanded issue did not affect Bd's conclusion that E's extensive ULPs had tendency to undermine U's majority and to impede election process, where ULPs ranged from discriminatory layoffs, unlawful imposition of conditions for transfer of Ees, threats of reprisal, and acts of surveillance and coercive interrogation directed at substantial number of Ees)

Battery Bill, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 030

(appropriate, in view of unlawful discharges, interrogations, and threats)

Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 015

(appropriate, where all members of unit had signed authorization cards and there was unlawful interrogation and discharge)

American Sunroof Corporation; et al. 248 NLRB No. 098

(inappropriate where ULPs not so egregious as to preclude holding of fair and reliable election)

Ditch Witch of Central Illinois, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 052

(Gissel order appropriate where E's course of serious ULPs included coercive interrogations and discriminatory discharges which destroyed U majority status immediately after U demand for recognition)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021

(violations of Section 8(a)(1), (3) and (4))

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(appropriate, in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threatening of plant closure and permanent replacement of ULP strikers if they did not abandon strike, refusal to reinstate strikers or to pay strikers accrued vacation pay, offering to strikers additional pay to abandon strike, and creating impression of surveillance)

Pay 'N Save Corporation 247 NLRB No. 116

(bargaining order issued since discriminatory discharge of leading U adherents had especially pervasive effect on other Ees, and impact of discharges in small unit had far greater effect than in larger one and practically makes fair election impossible)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(appropriate, where U had card majority, in view of E's unlawful interrogations, threats, solicitation of Ees to withdraw U cards, encouraging Ee not to honor Bd subpoena, denial of wage increases, and refusal to rehire U adherent)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(mtn to reopen record to determine if bargaining order warranted on basis of Ee turnover, and lapse of time since ULPs, denied, notwithstanding dismissal of complaint in prior case in which E was Respondent)

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 090

(after count of discriminatees' ballots, if revised tally of ballots does not show that majority of votes have been cast for U, issuance of bargaining order is warranted, since E's unlawful conduct precluded likelihood of fair second election)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(bargaining order appropriate where E's ULPs were severe and widespread, were of character which would linger, and were incapable of being dissipated under traditional remedies which also would not prevent their recurrence; moreover, denial of bargaining order would create in minds of Ees notion that E could successfully flout law and escape bargaining obligation simply by virtue of passage of time)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(GC's request for prospective company-wide bargaining order covering future bargaining requests whenever U secures either a card majority or certification, denied, since this was not a certification refusal to bargain case and no need exists for such order, and requested remedy is not appropriate for Gissel refusal to bargain since bargaining order based on card majority requires Bd's assessment of facts and its remedial authority in each case; moreover, GC has readily available litigation to accomplish same result)

Jamaica Towing, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 042

(bargaining order proper where, even though E's violations were not in category of exceptional cases and violations could not be characterized as outrageous, they were at least sufficiently serious and extensive, and their effect so lingering, that they fall w/i second category of less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practices which still have tendency to undermine majority strength and impede election processes)

Jamaica Towing, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 042

(upon ct remand, Bd affirmed its issuance of bargaining order, where E deliberately engaged in preelection unlawful conduct designed to convince Ees that their demands would be met through direct dealing and that U representation would in no way be advantageous to them, and E thereby so thoroughly chilled Ees' desire for representation as to cause them to reject election process; in view of small number of unit Ees and impact of E's conduct upon them, inference is that such conduct would continue to influence Ees' free choice in rerun election)

L.B.L., d/b/a China Night of Superior JD-373-82

(appropriate in view of discharge of 3 Ees on mourning after they met with U agent, reduction in hours of Ee, speech on day before election which substantially interfered with election, promise of benefits, threat of no wage increase, threat to close, threat not to bargain in good faith, threaten Ee with civil suit for taping E meetings)

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82

(appropriate, in view of unlawful substantial wage increase given large number of unit Ees after U demanded recognition)

Normike Contractors, Inc. JD-(NY)-51-81

(appropriate, in view of E's unlawful interrogation of Ees, threats of plant closing, and discharge of Ees in order to undermine U's majority status)

Lucky Lion Edgewater, Inc. d/b/a Lucky Lion JD-(SF)-349-80

(bargaining order appropriate where U majority was clearly shown, threats of plant closure and discrimination or loss of employment were made by E and threats were shortly followed by discriminatory discharge of two-fifths of unit; coercive atmosphere created by E so dissipated probability that fair and reliable election could be conducted with certainty that bargaining order is only effective remedy)

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yellow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80

(bargaining order appropriate in view of Es' open hostility to organizational activity, their readiness to act on it, their threats of discharge, and subsequent unlawful discharge of Ee and majority status U enjoyed at time of ULPs)

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-321-80

(not appropriate where ULPs are not so outrageous or pervasive as to impede election process or make likelihood of fair election impossible)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

(appropriate, in view of lingering effects of E's unlawful threats, encouragement of formation and domination of Ee committee, retaliatory layoff of Ees, and refusal to bargain with outside U which had majority)

6612—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Hasbro Industries, Inc. 672 F.2d 978 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(appropriate in view of unlawful interrogation, large post-election wage increases for unit Ees, and threats of loss of existing benefits and closing of department if U was selected)

N.L.R.B. v. Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 668 F.2d 13 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)
(ct held Gissel order appropriate, rejecting E's objections to Bd's ULP findings regarding discharges of U adherents and validity determinations of several authorization cards, where ct held that challenged Bd findings were supported by substantial evidence)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(ct enforced Bd bargaining order where there were too many established ULPs to question Bd's decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(bargaining order not warranted where ct overturned ALJ's finding of hallmark violation - granting of unusually large wage increases - and believed remaining practices were insufficient to justify bargaining order; remaining unfair practices were numerous but fell into less coercive category and almost all consisted of implied rather than overt threats or promises and thus were less likely to have strong and lasting effect; ct also noted good deal of Ee turnover in bargaining unit from time of hearings to time of Bd's bargaining order)

Coating Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 108 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(bargaining order proper where E reassigned and constructively discharged U activist and granted substantial pay and fringe benefits during U campaign as this conduct is likely to have lasting inhibiting effect on work force, notwithstanding Bd failed to explicate exactly why bargaining order proper)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(rerun election instead of bargaining order, appropriate, where 8(a)(1) violations were very minor infractions and were not communicated to other Ees; unlawful grant of wage increase was made under mitigating circumstances consisting of absence of anti-U motivation or of likelihood that anti-U conduct will be repeated; decision to grant increase was based on misconceived judgment of counsel; when increase was announced Ees understood it was delayed by Bd election proceedings; and because of Ee turnover, bargaining order could easily impose upon Ees U not desired by majority)

N.L.R.B. v. Jamaica Towing, Inc. 632 F.2d 208 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(bargaining order not warranted where E's ULPs consisted of interrogations, expression of opposition to U, threats of less overtime, stricter enforcement of workrules and implied promises that some of Ees' demands would be met as none of E's statements were ever put into effect and 38 percent of workforce left unit for reasons unrelated to E's ULPs; moreover, Bd, on remand, failed to elicit evidence regarding changed composition of workforce and whether Bd order might impair Ee rights, doing more harm than good)

United Oil Manufacturing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1208 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(bargaining order enforced where U had majority status at relevant times, senior company official engaged in serious pre-and post-strike ULPs including interrogation, grant of promotions and wage increases, denial of overtime benefits, all of which were communicated to significant portion of unit Ees, and Bd concluded that E's conduct conveyed powerful message which cannot be erased or forgotten)

United Oil Manufacturing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1208 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(pre-majority status ULPs can be relied upon by Bd in issuing bargaining order)

N.L.R.B. v. Eastern Steel Company 671 F.2d 104 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(appropriate, in view of reduction of unit through unlawful discharges intended to dissuade Ees from selecting U, effect of discharges in small unit, coercive interrogation, prohibition against Ees' discussion of U until after election, threats of punishment if U were chosen, participation of high level of manangement in unlawful conduct, attempt to remove Ee from unit even after charge was pending, and fact that in small work force Ees' free choice in election is undiscernible and delay in bargaining in order to have election merely allows ULPs to affect voters' behavior)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(appropriate, in view of E's numerous ULPs which included unlawful discharges, suspensions, interrogations, granting of benefits and threats)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(in some circumstances, ULPs committed prior to demand for recognition may be considered, in determining whether E's unlawful conduct was sufficiently pervasive to undermine U's majority support and to make fair rerun election impossible. Forbidding Bd consideration of such conduct sets artificial time barrier and ignores possible cumulative effect of antiU activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Garry Manufacturing Company 630 F.2d 934 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E ordered to bargain, especially in view of solicitation of grievances via E's telephone hot line and more stringent application of disciplinary rules to U adherents as well as numerous other statutory violations)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(ct enforced Bd's bargaining order where E's ULPs tended to undermine U's majority strength and make fair election impossible because of nature of ULPs which involved implied threat to close plant communicated to significant percentage of Ees, participation of senior company officials in ULPs, and fact that factors undermining first election would be present at any future election)

N.L.R.B. v. Maidsville Coal Company, Inc. 693 F.2d 1119 (C.A. 4, Nov. 1982)
(Gissel order must be supported by specific detailed reasons why election will not adequately reflect Ee preference and why traditional remedy of c/d order will not erase Sec. 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) violations and protect Ee rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Apple Tree Chevrolet, Inc. 671 F.2d 838 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(8(a)(1) violations alone are not enough to support Gissel order)

N.L.R.B. v. Apple Tree Chevrolet, Inc. 671 F.2d 838 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1982)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied, where ct found E's solicitation of grievances, announcement of benefits or interrogation of Ees not so coercive in long-term impact as to render likelihood of fair rerun election non-existent or even highly improbable; furthermore, there is no indication that E's misconduct will recur, and asserted dissipation of U's majority is highly speculative)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)
(approproiate in view of implementation of floor on profit-sharing, grant of supplemental employment benefits, interference with Ee literature distribution on election eve and day, encouraging Ee repudiation of their authorization cards in testimony before Bd, and pattern of unlawful conduct to reverse Ee pro-U sentiment)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(bargaining order held warranted where certified unit was merged with newly acquired facility and operation relocated at acquired facility's site 7 to 9 miles nearby, majority of Ees of certified unit were discriminatorily discharged, and presumption that these Ees would have transferred was not rebutted, and, therefore, would have constituted majority of unit at new site)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 654 F.2d 1022 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(bargaining order held appropriate in view of E's outrageous and pervasive ULPs such as unlawful threats and interrogations, unlawful layoffs and discharges, unlawful abolition of department, unlawful solicitation of strikers to return to work, and refusal to reinstate ULP strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)
(appropriate, where U had card majority and in view of E's pervasive ULPs including threats to close plant, creating impression of surveillance, and soliciting withdrawal of authorization cards, notwithstanding passage of time)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)
(in case not involving remand ct should evaluate appropriateness of bargaining order as of date of ULP proceedings, not as of date matter comes before ct)

Chromalloy Mining and Minerals Alaska Division, Chromalloy American Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1120 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(appropriate, notwithstanding ULPs concerned only one person each, since they were important because of closeness of election results and small size of bargaining unit; moreover E had history of resisting unionization)

N.L.R.B. v. Lloyd Wood Coal Co., Inc. 585 F.2d 752 (C.A. 5)
(not warranted, notwithstanding unlawful interrogation, discharges which were corrected w/i 48 hours, creation of impression of surveillance)

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(Bd properly rejected ALJ's policy considerations in refusing to issue bargaining order on ground E was nonprofit public service organization dependent upon public financial support, and properly concluded that bargaining order was appropriate, where E's threats and harassment were given continuing effect by permanent discharge of Ees, and conclusion that fair election was tainted by continuing impact of threat of discharge, together with reality of permanent discharge of other Ees w/o reinstatement)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d 567 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(bargaining order appropriate although ULPs found were less than outrageous and pervasive, since nonetheless they were sufficient to tend to undermine U's majority strength and interfere with electoral process)

N.L.R.B. v. Gibraltar Industries, Inc. and Case, Inc. 653 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(bargaining order not enforced since Bd's lack of analysis regarding residual impact of ULPs was fatal to bargaining order, especially where ct found record did not support many of Bd's ULP determinations)

N.L.R.B. v. Retail Clerks Union Local No. 31, United Food & Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO 655 F.2d 88 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(bargaining order not enforced in view of large increase in number of Ees in unit, passage of time since first election, and nature of ULPs found by Bd)

N.L.R.P. v. Arrow Molded Plastics, Inc. 653 F.2d 280 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(bargaining order not appropriate since E's ULPs were not so pervasive as to undermine U's previous card majority impede election process and interfere with Ees' freedom to select bargaining representative, notwithstanding unlawful granting and withholding of benefit, unlawful no-distribution rule, since misconduct fell far short of actual or threatened anti-U plant closures, disciplinary discharges or Ee surveillance which characterizes cases in which ct enforced bargaining orders)

N.L.R.B. v. Rexair, Inc. 646 F.2d 249 (C.A. 6, Apr 1981)
(bargaining order not enforced where Bd failed to support its conclusion that bargaining order was only satisfactory remedy or to give any analysis of causal connection between ULPs and conclusion that election process was undermined)

N.L.R.B. v. Axton Candy and Tobacco Company 645 F.2d 555 (C.A. 6, Apr 8, 1981)
(bargaining order warranted where U had card majority and in view of E's unlawful threats and granting of wage increases, notwithstanding E's contention of Ee turnover and that supervisor who made unlawful statements had been discharged)

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order based primarily on Bd's erroneous finding of unlawful discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Naum Brothers, Inc. 637 F.2d 589 (C.A. 6, Mar 17, 1981)
(ct enforced Bd's bargaining order in view of E's (1) promise and grant of substantial wage increases and improved benefits given to virtually all of members of bargaining unit; (2) general and individual communications with Ees regarding possible closure of store in event of unionization; and (3) discriminatory discharge of Ee during election campaign)

Dean Products, Inc. and American Metals Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 162 (C.A. 6)
(inappropriate where there were no discharges, widespread discrimination or harassment, where plant closing was for economic reasons, effect of ULP's would quickly dissipate, and finding of threat of sham bargaining was not supported by substantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 683 F.2d 1087 (C.A. 7, July 1982)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied in view of mitigating circumstances indicating that ordinary remedies would be effective to ensure fair election)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(appropriate, in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threats, and violence upon picketers)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Gissel bargaining order where, after determining that two of three challenged authorization cards were valid, ct found that U had not attained majority support from Ees in bargaining unit; ct remanded case for purposes of allowing parties to consider any remaining cards which were not considered below)

Red Oaks Nursing Home, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 503 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(bargaining order inappropriate, notwithstanding Bd's finding of U majority status through card authorizations and E conduct violative of 8(a)(1), where E's conduct was not so outrageous or exceptional as to warrant bypassing a rerun election)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(Bd properly applied principles of Golden State Bottling Co. in issuing bargaining order against successor E where predecessor voluntarily recognized U and then unlawfully repudiated its recognition, successor had actual knowledge of pending ULP proceedings when it acquired enterprise, successor E retained predecessor's Ees in same positions, successor operated enterprise with little or no interruption and w/o substantial change, and predecessor's Ees constituted majority of successor's Ees in relevant bargaining unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotto's I.G.A. 656 F.2d 290 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(appropriate, where U had majority, in view of E's unlawful promise of wage increase if U defeated, threats of discharge, closure, and interrogation)

Patsy Bee, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 515 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(ct held Bd abused its discretion by issuing bargaining order, denied enforcement thereof, and remanded case to Bd for further proceedings where evidence established that E's ULPs had had little impact on Ees' allegiance to U; and, contrary to Bd, ct found that the E's speech upon which Bd had primarily relied in issuing its bargaining order was not unlawful and that Bd had offered no explanation for its finding other than a conclusory statement)

N.L.R.B. v. Suburban Ford, Inc. 646 F.2d 1244 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(bargaining order warranted as to salesmen's unit in view of timing of unlawful conduct: 2 days after U requested recognition E told 2 Ees they were disloyal and at next weekly sales meeting E cancelled bonus contest, transferred Ees between new and used car sales, recalled demonstrators, discharged Ees and after he filed ULP charge reinstated him)

N.L.R.B. v. Suburban Ford, Inc. 646 F.2d 1244 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(bargaining order not warranted as to clerical unit as evidence does not show that unlawful conduct against Ees in salesmen's unit, in which bargaining order was found warranted herein, also affected clerical workers or that by hiring four additional clerical Ees after U obtained majority tainted election)

Faith Garment Company, Division of Dunhall Pharmaceutical, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 630 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion in issuing Gissel bargaining order where U enjoyed majority status by virtue of authorization cards, and effect of numerous ULPs on part of E tended to undermine this majority and impede election process)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonimino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(bargaining order appropriate where Bd's determination that decertification election precluded by E informing Ees it intended to operate w/o U and suggesting Ees either resign from U or seek work elsewhere, implying that better benefits coming w/o U and unilaterally implemented benefits supported by substantial evidence; contention order inappropriate since would impose minority U on Ees rejected, as contention based on letter signed by purported majority of Ees which expressed opposition to U since letter written after hearing and mtn to reopen proceeding to permit introduction of letter denied)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(although extreme case clearly warranting order to bargain as a matter of law was not involved, bargaining order held appropriate since U's majority status could not be viewed as minor case w/i Gissel standards, need for order was greater since small bargaining unit was involved, and pattern of activity engaged in by E during short period of time, including discharge for U activity and refusal to replace discharged Ees, indicated concentrated effort to nip U organization in the bud)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 28, 1981)
(bargaining order justified in view of adequate inquiry by Bd into whether fair election could be held and sufficiently explicit reasons given for order where impact of past ULPs had not been dissipated and they were so pervasive that traditional remedies were inadequate)

N.L.R.B. v. Leavitt J. Cafer, Eunice Cafer, and Travelodge International, Inc., a partnership, d/b/a Marysville Travelodge 637 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(appropriate)

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(contention that bargaining order is inappropriate because U lost majority status and because U directed campaign of violence and intimidation against Ees rejected, in light of E's ULPs found herein and insufficient evidence to invoke Laura Modes doctrine where record does not reflect that U was foregoing the peaceful, legal process)

N.L.R.B. v. Richard Tischler, Martin Rader and Donald Connelly, Sr., a limited partnership, d/b/a Devon Gables Nursing Home, et al. 615 F.2d 509 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(bargaining order rather than c/d order appropriate, in view of E's refusal of U's demand for recognition on basis of card majority and its commission of numerous ULPs; possibility of erasing effects of past ULPs and insuring fair election by traditional remedies was slight)

N.L.R.B. v. Chatfield-Anderson Co., Inc., dba Trans-Span Co. 606 F.2d 266 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(inappropriate where ULPs were trivial and more severe violations were mitigated before election by express disavowals of company president; violations sufficient to justify setting aside election and remand case to Bd for preparation of appropriate judgment)

N.L.R.B. v. Western Drug 600 F.2d 1324 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(inappropriate where before ULP charges were tried all Ees in unit voluntarily resigned for reasons unrelated to the ULP, there was no unusual delay in trying the charges, and Bd's findings did not suggest any alternative ground for concluding that election would not reflect present Ees' true wishes)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(ct agreed with Bd that U never demonstrated majority status that would make bargaining order appropriate under Bd precedents)

6612-0100 Generally

Vinyl-Fab Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133

(Bd reiterated its policy that bargaining order was required where serious widespread notice and repetitiveness of E's threats, solicitations, and promises, small size of bargaining unit, E's swift retaliation against organizing campaign, and fact that individuals making threats, president and plant manager, clearly had authority to carry them out; possibility of erasing effects of past practices and of insuring a fair election—is slight and Ee sentiment, once expressed through cards,—better protected by a bargaining order)

Martin City Ready Mix 264 NLRB No. 066

(in Gissel test, ULPs susceptible to bargaining orders are divided into (1) exceptional cases marked by outrageous and pervasive ULPs; and (2) less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practice; various courts of appeals require Bd to indicate specifically which category ULPs are classified and clearly explicate reasons for order)

I. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 045

(bargaining order proper where E committed such serious ULPs as threats to close plant, threatening to discharge leading U supporter, and these activities continued until day of election and resulted in U losing election with great disparity between number of Ees who signed authorization cards and number who ultimately voted for U)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069

(bargaining order necessary notwithstanding Bd did not affirm all of ALJ's findings of violations where E had committed so many serious ULPs including threats of plant closure and discharge of Ee for U activity that possibility of erasing effects of ULPs and ensuring fair rerun election is slight)

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078

(bargaining order granted where E unlawfully withdrew recognition from certified U after contract expired and impasse arose; encouraged Ees to join concertedly among themselves to bargain with E w/o U, unlawfully recognized in house shop committee and executed contract)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(in determining whether E's unlawful conduct was so outrageous and pervasive as to fall w/i first Gissel category of exceptional cases warranting bargaining order, absent showing of majority status, Bd held that factors to be considered are the gravity, extent, timing, and constant repetition of violations found; while focusing on repetition of specific ULPs w/i single case, Bd has noted that recidivism is an important element to be weighed; however, it is not a prerequisite to placing E's conduct in first Gissel category and, in instant case, there was no evidence that E engaged in ULPs predating those herein)

Progressive Supermarkets, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 074

(bargaining order proper where U had originally had almost unanimous Ee support and due to E's campaign statements threatening more onerous working conditions, dire consequences of unionization, loss of benefits, threat to discharge 1 Ee and discharge of another Ee, resulting in U losing election; possibility of fair re-run election slight)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/~/a Burger King 259 NLRB No. 178

(authorization card held not invalid even though it showed signing date 2 days after Regional Office date-stamped its receipt; in deciding whether bargaining order based upon 8(a)(1) violations should be issued, it is irrelevant whether or not a demand was even made, it is common experience for Ees to misdate card, and month and year appearing on card coincided with month and year appearing on all cards)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 034

(E's reliance on Gissel for arguing against imposition of bargaining order held misplaced, since bargaining order herein arose by virtue of Bd certification and remains intact because of E's failure to abide by its statutory duty to bargain in good faith; bargaining order remedy is not based on whether card majority is better indicator of free choice than new Bd election, but rather on E's failure to bargain and other conduct prior to decertification election which was set aside because of E's unlawful conduct)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054

(bargaining order appropriate notwithstanding possibility that U might win election after counting unopened ballots)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(on ct remand, Bd issued bargaining orders against several Es who withdrew from E association and executed individual contracts with outside U w/o notifying incumbent U)

Apple Tree Chevrolet, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 076

(Bd proceeds with tabulation of challenged votes for election results not out of any doubt concerning bargaining order remedy, but so as not to preclude U from enjoying any benefits to which it may otherwise be entitled as certified representative; moreover, Bd's established procedure to provide both remedies is because certification alone would not suffice to correct any unilateral changes E may institute between period when bargaining obligation commenced and issuance of certification, and further prolong E's refusal to bargain based on U's institution of still another ULP proceeding)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083

(E's discriminatory conduct directed to two known U supporters and affecting two of seven unit Ees, violative and remedy was bargaining order, since conduct was calculated and tended to dissipate and erode possibility of holding free election)

Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotty's I.G.A. 249 NLRB No. 132

Spearin, Preston & Burrows, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 135

(bargaining order inappropriate; in absence of ULP findings or agreement to permit majority status to be determined by other means, E need not bargain with U that has not demonstrated its majority status by means of an election)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 163

(appropriate remedy where E threatened to discharge all driver-warehousemen in unit, unit was very small, E unlawfully promised insurance benefits and granted wage increase; moreover, E had prior background of violating Act to discourage U activity)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169

(bargaining order, based upon U's valid card majority, warranted where E's misconduct was pervasive and flagrant in nature by discharging Ee after reducing his working hours, interrogations and unlawful no-solicitation rule)

Wright Plastic Products, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 101

(bargaining order necessary where E reacted swiftly and severely to organizational activity by discharging half of work force, threatening to close plant, w/i 1 week of initial organizational activity as such activity indicates that E is deeply committed to its anti-U position and substantial likelihood exists that it would resume its ULPs if second election were directed)

Jamaica Towing, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 042

(while instant case did not include factors in hallmark type of case in which bargaining orders issue, such as discharge for U activity or direct threats to close or curtail operations, other types of conduct substantially similar to that involved herein, while perhaps less dramatic in nature, can and do affect Ees to such an extent that bargaining order is usually warranted, and instant case graphically demonstrates such severity of impact inasmuch as E's misconduct caused Ees to repudiate U before election)

Jamaica Towing, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 042

(since bargaining orders have basic purposes of protecting Ee sentiments reached attime of card signing by majority of unit Ees and deterring E's future misbehavior, validity of bargaining order rests on evaluation of situation as of time unlawful conduct was committed)

Jamaica Towing, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 042

(prejudicial impact of E's unlawful preelection conduct held not dissipated by Ee turnover since commission of ULPs and by passage of time since issuance of bargaining order; to delete bargaining order on basis of Ee turnover would reward, rather than deter, E guilty of preelection ULPs, and delay due to passage of time hardly denied justice to wrongdoer, for during period of delay, E enjoyed fruits of its misconduct which was directed precisely at avoiding bargaining obligation it still seeks to avoid)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018

(since effect of ULPs may be easily dissipated by Bd's standard remedies, new election, ordered after remedies are invoked, would be likely to fairly reflect true desires of Ees)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018

(violations found held not sufficiently severe to warrant finding of violation of Sec. 8(a)(5) with accompanying barging order)

N.L.R.B. v. American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 670 F.2d 1236 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(before bargaining order should issue Bd must articulate specific examples and precise reasons for concluding that: (1) E's ULPs so undermined U's majority that conducting fair election would be unlikely; (2) E's unlawful conduct likely to continue; and (3) ordinary remedies of backpay, reinstatement, and posting of notices would be inadequate to insure fair election)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(where E's violation of Act consisted of borderline violations having minimal impact on election, with no threats of reprisal or direct coercion, and no evidence that E will continue its violative actions, an election is preferred method of determining bargaining representative and bargaining order not warranted)

N.L.R.B. v. Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 681 F.2d 99 (C.A. 2, May 1982)
(Bd's order finding various ULP's upheld but case remanded for determination if ULP's were serious enough to require bargaining order where Bd failed to analyze likelihood of fair and free election when it determined that bargaining order was necessary)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(rerun election and not bargaining order held preferred remedy for E conduct tainting U election since issuance of bargaining order in lieu of new election is only proper if surrounding circumstances, nature of E's misbehavior, and later events bearing on its impact on Ees, show that Ees will be unable to exercise free choice in rerun election)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(new election is preferable over bargaining order which should only be issued when there is substantial danger that Ees will be inhibited from adhering to U, and it is error to hold that bargaining orders should be liberally granted as remedies despite evidence that new election would suffice)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(while grant of significant economic benefits to Ees is often characterized as hallmark ULP which will justify bargaining order in absence of mitigating circumstances or evidence that conduct is not serious, such violation does not automatically preclude fair second election or mandate a bargaining order, since circumstances may exist where grants of economic benefits, even combined with additional ULPs, are insufficient to support bargaining order; and Bd must analyze nature of hallmark violation and surrounding events to assess potential for uncoerced election)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 928 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(although granting enforcement of order to c/d underlying violations, ct denied enforcement of bargaining order where record revealed neither lingering inhibitory effect nor likelihood of recurrence, and as such, did not warrant extraordinary remedy of bargaining order)

N.L.R.B. v. Eastern Steel Company 671 F.2d 104 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(by adopting findings of ALJ who conducted hearing, Bd satisfied ct's requirement that justification for bargaining be sufficiently articulated to permit meaningful appellate review; enforcement should not be denied because ALJ did not write down inescapable inference that bargaining order should issue; ALJ's reasoning process was sufficiently discernible for review; and remand for clearer statement would postpone for lengthy period of time issuance of bargaining order herein)

K & K Gourmet Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 460 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(not appropriate remedy where ULP's were not of serious nature and effects were erased by Ees vote to strike as this shows that Ees did not believe E's promise of benefits)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd has remedial authority to issue bargaining order in absence of card majority and election victory if E has committed such outrageous and pervasive ULPs that there is no reasonable possibility that free and uncoerced election could be held; ct remanded case for BD to consider in first instance whether facts in case rise to outrageous and pervasive conduct which sanctions issuance of such bargaining orders)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where implied threats of plant closure communicated to significant number of Ees by senior company officials, psychological impact on all Ees is unlikely to dissipate and factors undermining first election would be present at future election; therefore bargaining order proper remedy)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's defense to bargaining order on ground that Bd gerrymandered two units so that it could issue bargaining order and that Bd's orders, directing reelection in one unit while ordering bargaining in another unit, were inconsistent, rejected; Bd did not abuse its considerable discretion in setting the bargaining units, and Bd did not make inconsistent findings because neither R nor ULP proceeding presented Bd with question whether free election could be held in second unit)

Rapid Manufacturing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 144 (C.A. 3)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied where pre-majority conduct did not fall w/i Gissel exceptional case category inasmuch as three ULPs involved cannot be classed as pervasive in relation to two month organizational drive nor as outrageous since neither company officials nor large number of Ees nor immediate drastic consequences were involved; moreover, pre-majority conduct could not have undermined majority strength which is essential requirement of Gissel less extraordinary type of case)

Rapid Manufacturing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 144 (C.A. 3)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied where post-majority conduct did not fall w/i Gissel less extraordinary type of case inasmuch as occurrence of 2-month election campaign cannot be considered pervasive nor was case extraordinary since conduct had limited impact on labor force and no senior company officials committed or sanctioned any ULPs)

Rapid Manufacturing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 144 (C.A. 3)
(while it is for Bd and not cts to make determination as to effects on election process of ULPs of varying intensity because of Bd's knowledge and expertise, ct held that it would be remiss in its judicial function if, on record as sparse as herein, it were to enforce a bargaining order which, on every count, could not even be regarded as colorably in compliance with Gissel)

Rapid Manufacturing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 144 (C.A. 3)
(E's failure to publicly rebuke perpetrators of ULPs held not to warrant issuance of bargaining order since E's failure to do so did not constitute substantial evidence that fair rerun election would not be possible inasmuch as any continuing impact which E's failure may have had could be corrected by c/d order and posting of notice)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 881 (C.A. 4)
(Bd's denial of bargaining order appropriate where ULP's occurred 18 months prior to time U allegedly obtained majority status and neither undermined majority strength nor demonstrated any impediment to an election)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(Gissel order is invoked when U that has only informal evidence of majority status is refused recognition because formal election either fails or is likely to fail because of company's ULPs; bargaining orders are also appropriate where recognition unlawfully withdrawn from certified U)

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(while election is preferred method of determining Ees' choice of bargaining representative, SCt has held that bargaining order may issue w/o an election in exceptional cases marked by outrageous and pervasive practices which nonetheless still have tendency to undermine majority strength and impede election processes)

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(in Gissel bargaining order cases, usual deference given to Bd findings is lessened when Bd orders less preferred remedy of bargaining order w/o holding new election, and bargaining orders have not been enforced when Bd made no findings as to residual impact or likelihood of recurrence of any ULPs, when they are based on conclusory statements, or when Bd's reasoning consisted simply of reciting conclusions w/o factual explication; moreover, to determine appropriateness of bargaining order, analysis must be based on whether fair election can be held and on present effects of past or present ULPs)

Shrl Die Casting, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 1218 (C.A. 6, June 1981)
(E's unlawful statements and denial of overtime to Ee when considered in context of record as a whole and, since isolated, were not sufficient to support finding E was not bargaining in good faith, and did not convert economic strike to ULP strike)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(long delay between filing C and action of Bd in ordering Gissel remedy, rather than 3rd election, made its imposition in instant case abuse of Bd

N.L.R.B. v. Hitchiner Manufacturing Company 634 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(threats of plant closure and terminating coffee breaks and actual discharge of leading U adherent)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(bargaining orders not limited to exceptional cases marked by outrageous and pervasive ULPs ... SCt approved Bd's use of bargaining orders in less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practices which nonetheless still have tendency to undermine majority strength and impede election processes)

Pay'N Save Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 697 (C.A. 9, Mar 9, 1981)
(bargaining order appropriate, since probable impact of E's ULPs, is increased when small bargaining unit is involved; bargaining order not precluded by Bd's failure to consider E's good faith and lack of anti-U animus since key to issuance of such order is whether commission of serious ULPs interfered with election processes)

N.L.R.B. v. Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults 627 F.2d 202 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(bargaining order not justified where violations (interrogation of Ees) relatively mild, occurred 4 months prior to election, person responsible for interrogations no longer employed at time election held and election preferred method of selecting bargaining representative)

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(proper where only 1 Ee violatively discharged because of small size (4 Ees) of bargaining unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(determination of whether bargaining order warranted is task, not for reviewing cts, but for Bd based on its expert estimate as to effects on election of the ULPs)

N.L.R.B. v. Western Drug 600 F.2d 1324 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(enforcement of Bd order requiring E to bargain with U, denied where, although E's misconduct was not outrageous, Bd applied Gissel criteria w/o examining present context, including fact that all unit Ees had resigned before the ULP charges were tried; Ee turnover should be considered when, as here, E's misconduct is serious but not outrageous)

N.L.R.B. v. Willhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(Bd has great latitude in determining whether E's ULP vitiates fair election process, thus requiring bargaining order based on majority of U authorization cards)

N.L.R.B. v. Willhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(loss of employment due to U activity is hallmark violation which has residual effect on Ees and taints possibility of free election)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)
(bargaining order not justified where Bd did not balance E's, U's and Ees rights in determining necessity of order; Bd failed to consider whether Ees wanted U representation and here an election was held 2 years after E committed ULP and U was defeated)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 11 (C.A.D.C., June 1982)
(E's delayed reinstatement of striking Ees particularly serious ULP and bargaining order proper)

6612-8000 May not be ordered where results of valid election not set aside

B-P Custom Building Products, Inc.; and Thomas R. Peck Mfg. 251 NLRB No. 179
(appointment of E's agent to be observer at election constituted objectionable conduct sufficient to set aside election and issuance of bargaining order in event that one of the joint representatives which previously collected significant number of U cards did not receive majority of valid votes)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(inappropriate where unnecessary because, by virtue of ct's conclusions as to eligibility of voters in Bd election, evidence indicated that U prevailed in election and thus never lost its majority status, and Bd's Gissel bargaining order had been predicated on dissipation of U support by E's pervasive misconduct)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(unlawful discharge of 1 Ee not sufficient basis for bargaining order where U campaign began weeks after discharge and cards were also obtained long after discharge)

6612-8700 Order operates from date of either employer's misconduct precluding fair election or union's demand for recognition

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122

Knogo Corporation 262 NLRB No. 171
(proper notwithstanding fact that many of E's ULPs predate U's majority)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E ordered to bargain from date E commenced its unlawful campaign by threatening plant closure and loss of benefits if Ees supported U)

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(E's duty to bargain extended to date U both achieved majority status and demanded recognition and bargaining)

Jo-Wax Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 172
(bargaining order dated from first date on which E renewed its coercive campaign after U had obtained signed authorization cards from majority of Ees)

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001
(date E unlawfully discharged Ee)

Ahrens Aircraft, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 112

Pantex Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(bargaining ordered as of date on which U requested recognition where record did not precisely pinpoint date on which E began its unlawful conduct, to thwart Ees' organizational rights and E's other ULPs were otherwise individually remedied)

G.E.S., Inc., d/b/a Big Star No. 185 258 NLRB No. 046

6612-9100 Order operates from date employer withdrew recognition

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(where U enjoyed recognition from date it was certified to date E relocated plant at which time E withdrew recognition, bargaining order was retroactive to date of relocation rather than to earlier date on which E first refused to bargain in good faith as 8(a)(5) violations herein did not amount to withdrawal of recognition)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(in relocation non-Gissel case, composition of bargaining unit is determined at time of relocation (or after reasonable shakedown period) otherwise, situation would create undesirable incentive to delay through litigation)

6612-9200 Order operates from date union attains majority status

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165
(E's duty to recognize and bargain with U held to have commenced as of date U received majority vote in election, and it was unnecessary for ALJ to base E's obligation to bargain on Gissel basis, since U had demonstrated majority support among E's Ees in properly conducted and valid Bd election)

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(E required to bargain upon U's request from date that U achieved majority status after E had commenced its unlawful course of conduct)

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(E's duty to bargain extended to date U both achieved majority status and demanded recognition and bargaining)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 130
(where U had card majority but did not make continuing demand for recognition, Bd issued bargaining order retroactive to date of majority in view of E's series of intimidatory statements and threats of loss of benefits, discharges, layoffs, and shutdown of plant)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(from date E refused U's demand for recognition)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 259 NLRB No. 178
(bargaining order made effective from date on which majority status was attained, demand for recognition was made, and first ULP was committed, all of which happened on same day)

Bel Research Corporation 257 NLRB No. 127

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 018
(bargaining order effective upon date on which U acquired authorization cards from majority of Ees in unit)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(E's bargaining obligation arose on date U demanded recognition rather than on date U obtained majority status and E's ULPs began)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 253 NLRB No. 151
(U entitled to both certification and bargaining order if it wins election after revised tally of ballots is issued; bargaining order will issue only to correct any unilateral changes E may have made during time it had obligation to bargain with U)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 031
(order operates from date E refused to bargain after U had majority)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 097

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(from date U did attain majority status in past)

Frederick's Foodland, Inc. d/b/a Bucyrus Foodland North and Bucyrus Foodland South 247 NLRB No. 030
(where U demanded recognition before attaining majority status, Bd held such demand as continuing after U had established majority status)

Formasky Corp. JD-(ATL)-97-81
(in order to provide adequate remedy)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(where Bd issued bargaining order and ct set it aside, remanding to Bd for further proceedings and Bd reinstated bargaining order, ct affirmed Bd, E's institution of new plant rules while bargaining order set aside violative as Bd may make bargaining order retroactive to date U achieved majority status)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(Bd properly issued bargaining order where E's serious ULPs impaired possibility of free election; operative date of order is date on which U attained majority status rather than subsequent date on which U requested recognition when, according to E, it no longer had majority status; Bd did not abuse its discretion by excluding from unit Ee who began work after U had majority status, and also by excluding Ee whose lease with E so aligned his interest with management as to extinguish his community of interest with other Ees)

6618 APPROPRIATE DESPITE INCREASE IN UNIT EMPLOYEES SINCE ULPS

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(where E embarked on series of ULPs, including some designed to change status of its Ees to independent contractors, immediately after it received U pts; moreover, necessity for bargaining order not changed by fact that lawful discharges caused U to lose its majority status)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)
(in ordering new election instead of enforcing Bd's bargaining order, ct held effect of such order could be to impose upon Ees U not desired by great majority of them where, as result of high Ee turnover, less that 37% of Ees who voted in original election were still working; and, since E did not deliberately create delay and ULP involved was not egregious, risk of such unwanted imposition is not warranted)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(remand to Bd to consider additional evidence pertaining to necessity of bargaining order where ct reversed Bd on one ULP finding, as this is independent ground for review and differs from situation where ct upholds Bd order in toto)

N.L.R.B. v. Willow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(bargaining order appropriate notwithstanding 6 of 12 Ees who signed authorization cards sent letter to E, U and RD retracting desire to have U represent them-as Ee's retrenchment was product of E's unlawful conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Willow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(appropriate despite fact that only 1 out of 12 Ees who signed U authorization cards presently employed)

6621 WHERE EMPLOYER HAS INDEPENDENT KNOWLEDGE OF UNION'S MAJORITY

Meads of Anchorage 260 NLRB No. 112
(appropriate, where E admitted that majority of unit Ees had designated and selected U as their bargaining representative, and it had refused U's request for bargaining)

English Brothers Pattern and Foundry 260 NLRB No. 067
(E who threatened to close plant before it would bargain with U, violatively polled Ees, finding majority support for U ordered to bargain as it waived its right to election and bound by results of poll)

6623 IN ABSENCE OF DEMAND FOR RECOGNITION

6623—Cont.

Rodeway Inn of Las Vegas 262 NLRB No. 093
(in absence of alleged violation of Sec. 8(a)(5) of Act and where U has not made demand for recognition, E ordered to bargain with U as of date on which E began its campaign of ULPs, after U had already achieved majority status)

Grenader Beer Distributors, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 163

6625 BARGAINING CONCERNING PARTICULAR SUBJECT

6625-2000 Relocation of employees at plant transferred to new locality

Otis Elevator Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of United Technologies 255 NLRB No. 066
(GC's request that E be required to restore status quo by returning transferred unit work to its original location, denied, since there was no evidence tending to show anti-U animus or that changes were not economically motivated; instead, E ordered to c/d from further transferring of any Ees w/o first bargaining in good faith over decision and effects resulting therefrom; as for Ees already transferred, they will not be compelled to return to old location as long as E complies with all other aspects of order herein)

6625-2400 Subcontracting of work

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 094
(E ordered, immediately upon U's request to bargain in good faith over any proposed lawful restrictions on subcontracting of unit work; since there was no allegation or evidence that E unilaterally altered its subcontracting practices, and absent any request therefor by GC, order requiring reinstatement of status quo ante or order requiring unit Ees to be made whole is unwarranted)

6625-3300 Partial closing of business

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(E not ordered to bargain over decision to transfer operations from one plant to other where decision economically motivated and E eventually closed all its operations)

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 675 (C.A. 3, Feb 19, 1981)
(although ct affd Bd finding that E's failure to bargain over decision to close facility violated Act, ct denied enforcement of Bd's bargaining order in that it would require E to engage in futile activity; ct decision to deny enforcement was w/o prejudice to Bd to commence additional proceedings to develop futility issue and order another remedy)

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 247 (C.A. 4, May 1981)
(enforcement denied of part of Bd order requiring E to bargain over decision to close one of its plants where, by time of ct review, plant had been abandoned, lease on property had expired, and equipment removed more than three years earlier)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 667 F.2d 1170 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(Bd order requiring E to bargain over all future closings of any department, too broad in light of subsequent SCt decision that economically motivated decision to shut down part of business was not mandatory subject of bargaining and refusal to bargain over it did not violate duty to bargain; only portion of order concerning department whose closing was motivated by antiU animus enforced)

6625-3600 Effect of partial closing on unit employees

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(E must bargain with U over effects of its decision to transfer operations and of its later decision to shutdown completely)

6625-4400 Effect of change in operations on unit employees

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(restore status quo ante by restoring to unit Ees at closed terminal work which it (E) transferred to open terminal, and fulfill statutory duty to bargain)

6625-4800 Effect of termination of operations on employees

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seaberg Corporation and Seaberg Service Parts Co., a single employer 239 NLRB 308
(debtor-in-possession ordered to bargain with U over effects of shutdown of operations)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(E not ordered to bargain over decision to transfer operations from one plant to other where decision economically motivated and E eventually closed all its operations)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(E must bargain with U over effects of its decision to transfer operations and of its later decision to shutdown completely)

R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 139
(bargain concerning decision and effects of termination of trucking operation on unit Ees)

Cleveland Freight Lines, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 009
(where E who had recognized U for 20 years and had current contract closed plant w/o bargaining over decision and effects thereof, backpay ordered until earliest of one of following: E bargains to agreement on decision to close and effects, impasse, U fails to request bargaining w/i 5 days of decision or E's notice to bargain, or U's failure to bargain in good faith)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 8, Feb. 1982)
(Bd order, remedying E's unlawful refusal to bargain about effects of relocation of its facility, by giving each unlawfully terminated Ee at least 2 weeks' pay, with possibility of increased compensation if E continued to refuse to bargain, held not punitive, where such backpay was provided to remedy 8(a)(5) violation; remedy was not abuse of Bd's discretion, since 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(5) awards would be w/i Bd's discretion if made singly, and there is nothing punitive in remedying both violations which are separate and distinct)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 8, Feb. 1982)
(while modifying Bd's order by rejecting its requirement that E bargain with U at new facility after closing E's old operation and terminating unionized Ees at such operation, but enforcing Bd's order requiring monetary awards for separate and distinct violations of 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(5), ct, even assuming that E has complied with Bd order and U has not requested bargaining over effects of closing, held that such assumption does not affect its consideration of whether to enforce Bd's order; any issues about compliance may be litigated, if necessary, in further proceedings)

Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, Local 576, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 223 (C.A.D.C., Dec. 1980)
(E not ordered to bargain over effects of closing where complaint did not allege that E closed and only alleged alter ego theory which was rejected by ALJ and Bd)

6625-8000 Conditions of employment of trainees

United States Steel Corporation 248 NLRB No. 090
(Es to bargain on request concerning any future summer training schools to be attended by unlicensed Ees represented by U)

6637 BARGAIN WITH DESIGNATED EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVE

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 038
(E ordered to bargain with U where it had demonstrated by its dilatory and evasive tactics in bargaining for new agreement and unlawful withdrawal of recognition of U after expiration of contract, its refusal to so bargain)

Museum Associates d/b/a Los Angeles County Museum of Art v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 1278 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1982)
(ct affd Bd order to bargain where ct could not find that Bd had no foundation in evidence for its determination that Art Museum had sufficient control over labor relations to allow for meaningful bargaining to warrant exercising jurisdiction under Act nor could ct say that Bd acted contrary to law; E's contention that it was exempt from Act because it was substantially controlled by county so it could neither bargain meaningfully nor implement effectively contract with U rejected; however, ct noted that if county takes over funding for unit Ees as contended, E would be free to reapply to Bd)

6637-4000 Successor to certified or contracting union

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(if ALJ finds card majority on remand, bargaining order may issue to successor U formed by merger of U designated on authorization cards with another U, since designated U continued to exist as evidenced by successor U's retention of some offices, all property rights and assumption of all assets and liabilities, including contract obligations)

6637-8000 Negotiating committee including employees outside appropriate unit

Circle K Corporation JD-(SF)-222-80
(E to bargain with full U negotiating committee containing designated Ee members with which it had previously refused to bargain)

6650 BARGAIN IN GOOD FAITH

6650—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Bd did not err in ordering E to bargain with U representing engineers; had E not unlawfully refused to retain engineers, they would have comprised a majority of the bargaining unit, and E would have been required — as successor E— to bargain with their representative under Burns)

6650-0100 Generally

Pullman Building Company 251 NLRB No. 145
(E to comply with Master Agreement retroactively to date ULPs began rather than from 6 months before charge was filed, since 10(b) period was tolled for remedy as well as for charge where U through no fault of its own did not immediately become aware of E's ULP's)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(customary remedy when E's refusal to bargain is incident to sponsorship of decertification campaign is order directing E to meet with U and bargaining good faith)

6650-1100 Not to withdraw from tentative agreements

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(E required to reinstate its unlawfully withdrawn offer concerning wage rate adjustments for consideration by U for reasonable period of time (20 days), since it is Bd's policy to order restoration of status quo ante to extent feasible where there is no evidence that to do so would impose undue or unfair burden on E; remedy not barred by H. K. Porter Co., Inc., Disston Division-Danville Works v. N.L.R.B 397 U.S. 99 (1970) since remedy merely requires E to do what it had previously agreed to do)

6650-1200 Execute agreed contract

6650-1201 Generally

Wisdom Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 164
(giving retroactive effect to contract terms)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(c/d portion of order, requiring E not to refuse to sign agreed-upon contract because nonplant Ees will also sign it, held entitled to enforcement as a continuing obligation in order to prevent resumption or repetition of unlawful conduct; however, affirmative portion of order, requiring E to sign contract upon U's request, denied enforcement, since contract has by its own terms expired, and ct therefore declined to examine validity of Bd's affirmative order to sign)

6650-1205 As of original agreement date

Western Truck Services, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 096
(Bd ordered E to execute bargaining agreement containing terms and conditions agreed upon by E and U and give effect to contract retroactively from date of refusal making Ees whole for any losses they incurred as a result of E's unlawful refusal to abide by terms of agreement)

6650-1210 As of effective date of agreements with other bargaining unions

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where R/O improperly prescribed substantive provision for future agreement between E and U; namely, effective date of agreement be made retroactive to effective date of agreement between E and 3 Us representing other units of E, notwithstanding in previous successful negotiations, all 4 Us had conducted joint bargaining with E association of which E had properly withdrawn from)

6650-1277 Contract's expiration date extended

Dolter Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040
(bargain for 1 year from date of settlement agreement less 3 months past settlement in which U made no request for bargaining)

6650-1280 Union given option of signing contract or bargaining

N.L.R.B. v. Sumner Home For The Aged 593 F.2d 754 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where U agreed in advance to accept whatever proposals E submitted covering certain mandatory subjects of bargaining that remained unresolved, R/O requiring E to propose contract terms covering these unresolved issues and to execute contract if U agreed to proposals, denied enforcement, since it is doubtful U representative has legal authority to make any such commitment or that Bd or ct has authority to enforce such contract; furthermore, since U free to reject contract there was no contract agreed to by both parties)

6650-2000 Honor contract

Pullman Building Company 251 NLRB No. 145
(E to comply with Master Agreement retroactively to date ULPs began rather than from 6 months before charge was filed, since 10(b) period was tolled for remedy as well as for charge where U through no fault of its own did not immediately become aware of E's ULP's)

6650-3700 Furnish information

6650-3701 Generally

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007
(if costs of furnishing requested health and safety information substantial, parties to bargain as to allocation of costs of retrieving it and if no agreement is reached, U is to receive access to records from which it can reasonably compile requested information to extent records do not include trade secrets or individual medical records with identifying medical data)

6650-3704 Substances used in manufacturing process

Plough, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 141
(E violated Act when it refused to supply U with list of chemical substances it used and also any warnings or instructions it had regarding substances; however, Bd recognized E's legitimate interest in protecting confidential, proprietary and/or trade secret information and E ordered to turn over to U list of substances to which it asserts no trade secrets defense and for those to which it raised such defense parties ordered under procedure set forth in Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing 261 NLRB No. 2 to reach some satisfactory agreement through collective-bargaining to arrive at appropriate safeguards)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 002
(parties should bargain in good faith regarding conditions under which needed information (names of substances E claims to constitute trade secrets,) may be furnished to U with appropriate safeguards protective of E's legitimate proprietary interests yet maintained)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 002
(E must furnish list of those substances which do not constitute E's proprietary trade secrets)

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007
(parties to bargain over method of providing U with necessary health and safety information as to substances used in plant while safeguarding E's and its suppliers' legitimate propreitary interests)

Borden Chemical, A Division of Borden, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 006
(E ordered to furnish U information about materials purchased, stored, or processed at its chemical manufacturing facility to which E asserts no trade secret defense; as to those substances to which E claims constitute confidential trade secret information, parties to bargain in good faith)

6650-3714 All relevant and necessary information

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 247 NLRB No. 037
(modus operandi for providing information on job vacancies filled and applications filed, unless parties otherwise agree in writing, enunciated in remedy provided by ALJ)

6650-3735 Wage and financial data

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(E to supply timestudies and related materials as limited by parties' stipulation)

625-6650-3753 Photocopies of relevant documents

American Telephone and Telegraph Company—Long Lines Department 250 NLRB No. 098
(refusal to provide U with photocopies of requested documents necessary to process five grievances violative where, although E would rather furnish the information by reading to note-takers or permitting U to hand-copy documents, photocopying procedure would have been much less costly to E and U, and would have given U greater assurance of accuracy and completeness of information furnished)

6650-3756 Seniority list

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 186
(furnish U information relating to seniority of, interalia, handicapped Ees)

6650-5600 Bargain for reasonable period after remedying ULPs

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(reinstate withdrawn last maintenance offer for consideration of U for period of 20 conservative days)

6650-7000 Bargain until contract is achieved or impasse reached

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097
(upon request of U revoke unilateral changes in rates of pay, wages, and other terms and conditions of employment until such time as E negotiates with U in good faith to agreement or impasse thereon)

6662 CONDITIONAL ORDERS

6662-3300 Conditioned on resumption of operations

6662-3300—Cont.

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-06-81
(bargaining order conditioned upon successor E's again becoming E of Ees in unit where another E had replaced successor but if successor subsequently made winning bid for unit work, it would again become unit Ees' E)

6662-5000 On discriminatees' acceptance of unilateral change

South Carolina Education Association JD-(ATL)-6-82
(where E violated Act by unilaterally promoting 4 unit Ees to supervisory positions, thus reducing unit by 25%, it is ordered to restore status quo ante regarding promotion of these Ees but conditioned on desires of Ees as expressed through their bargaining agent)

6662-7000 On union's demand for reinstatement of benefit plan

Hassett Maintenance Corporation 260 NLRB No. 135
(where E unilaterally changed health insurance plans at expiration of contract, U required to request reinstatement of old plan within 20 days of date of Order and if it does not, new plan will remain in effect; in addition, if U requests that the old plan be reinstated E must keep new plan in effect until all Ees are covered by old plan to insure that no new Ees are left without coverage)

6675 EXTENSION OF CERTIFICATION YEAR

Coca Cola Bottling Company of Buffalo, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 016
(where E was found to have unlawfully refused to bargain with U after its certification, Bd, in order to insure Ees will be accorded services of U for period provided by law, construed initial period of certification as beginning on date E commences to bargain in good faith with U)

Wings Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 021
(U certification year extended for 6 months from time E makes requested financial material available to U)

Schnelli Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Cellar Restaurant 262 NLRB No. 094
(in order to place E and U in bargaining posture they would have been in but for E's unlawful conduct, Bd directed that, upon resumption of bargaining in good faith and for 4 months thereafter, E must regard U as if initial year of certification had not yet expired)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 071
(certification extended through one year after E commences to bargain in good faith pursuant to Bd's order)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 034
(certification year not extended since E's refusal to bargain dated from 6 months before first ULP charge was filed, which fell almost at end of original certification year; consequently, bargaining obligation imposed herein is a general one to extend for a reasonable period in which it can be given a fair chance to succeed)

Libbie Convalescent Center a/k/a Libbie Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 116
(not appropriate where E withdrew recognition shortly after end of certification year but no finding of bad-faith bargaining)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107
(extended to 1 year from time E commences to bargain in good faith)

Bureau of Rehabilitation of The National Capital Area JD-262-82
(upon resumption of bargaining and for six months thereafter, U is to be regarded as if initial year of certification had not yet expired)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct found no abuse of discretion in Bd's refusal to extend certification for two years; if E complied with bargaining order, one more year of bargaining should suffice; if not, it will again be charged and year will not have begun to run)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(remand to modify order for U's certified status to extend for remainder of certification year from date E withdrew recognition rather than from date E first failed to bargain in good faith)

6687 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

6687-0800 Cessation or removal of operations

ABC Trans-National Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 675 (C.A. 3, Feb 19, 1981)
(although ct affd Bd finding that E's failure to bargain over decision to close facility violated Act, ct denied enforcement of Bd's bargaining order in that it would require E to engage in futile activity; ct decision to deny enforcement was w/o prejudice to Bd to commence additional proceedings to develop futility issue and order another remedy)

6687-0900 Change in operations

Pantex Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(GC's mtn in opposition to admission in instant appeal of affidavit and charter agreement as attachments to E's exceptions in support of E's contention that recommended bargaining order was no longer appropriate denied; issues raised by documents can be more properly decided at compliance stage of proceeding and issues were properly raised by E)

6687-1200 Change in ownership

Armitage Lamp Company 260 NLRB No. 129
(change in stock ownership does not absolve continuing corporation of responsibility under Act)

6687-2000 Loss of union's majority

Peoples Gas System, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 180
(on remand Bd did not hold bargaining order appropriate in view of extraordinary amount of time that had elapsed since E's initial refusal to bargain and Bd's prior issuance of bargaining order, and fact U had lost election; however, second election ordered in view of E's initial withdrawal of recognition since reasonable to assume E's act led to U's loss of majority; mailing of notice of election to Ees not ordered nor was E ordered to allow U access to its property since U will be furnished list of Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Anton Candy and Tobacco Company 645 F.2d 555 (C.A. 6, Apr 8, 1981)
(bargaining order warranted where U had card majority and in view of E's unlawful threats and granting of wage increases, notwithstanding E's contention of Ee turnover and that supervisor who made unlawful statements had been discharged)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(bargaining order appropriate notwithstanding voluntary quit of three U members since presumption of continuing majority after expiration of contract justifies enforcement of order)

6687-2550 Employee turnover

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 197
(on remand from ct, bargaining order held warranted in view of E's ULPs including payment of full cost of insurance, threats to discharge all Ees if U selected, to move plant elsewhere if U came in, loss of benefits, interrogation, layoff of U adherent and refusal to reinstate ULP strikers; substantial turnover of Ees did not dissipate effect of ULPs and obviate need for bargaining order where unlawfully instituted insurance premium payments continued to be received by Ees, and in view of fact E engaged in hallmark violations of discharge and threat of plant closure, and E's actions before and after strike would be repeated topic of conversation)

Martin City Ready Mix 264 NLRB No. 066
(turnover in Ee complement did not render bargaining order inappropriate in absence of evidence that effects of ULPs, have been vitiated; contention that no Ee sentiment remains to be protected as all who signed cards have voluntarily quit, rejected, as this assumes only those who signed cards supported U)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Poletti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 051
(appropriate, where U had card majority at time of demand for bargaining, in view of E's unlawful interrogation, threat of closure, offer to consider benefits if Ees singed anti-U ptn, unilateral granting of wage increases and discontinuance of benefits, closure of its facility and layoff of Ees for two and a half weeks w/o warning, and discharge of U adherent; notwithstanding only 5 of the 14 Ees who signed ptn and 11 of 23 Ees employed at time of signing are still employed by E)

Jo-Wez Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 173
(no defense to issuance of bargaining order)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 033
(bargaining order not appropriate notwithstanding E withdrew recognition from U and rescinded contract after U struck in violation of no-strike clause; discharge of all Ees because of strike support not violative and it is unknown whether new Ees desire representation)

N.L.R.B. v. Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 681 F.2d 99 (C.A. 2, May 1982)
(remand to Bd to consider whether changes in Ee work force (10 new Ees out of work force of 21) have made bargaining order now inappropriate even if it had been appropriate at earlier time)

N.L.R.B. v. Jamaica Towing, Inc. 632 F.2d 208 (C.A. 2, 1980)

Chromalloy Mining and Minerals Alaska Division, Chromalloy American Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1120 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(although events such as Ee turnover occurring after E committed ULPs are relevant to decision as to whether to issue bargaining order, Bd may decide other considerations require bargaining order, such as here, where there is history of opposition to unionization and discriminatory refusal to recall, which indicated that E's antiU animus was partly responsible for turnover)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(Ee turnover between ULPs and Bd order is relevant in determining whether Gissel order should be used but Bd not required to reopen record to determine whether fair election could be held regardless of turnover since time of hearing where other evidence, such as, card majority, past union activity, and E responses to such activity support such finding)

N.L.R.B. v. English Brothers Pattern and Foundry 679 F.2d 787 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(E who conducted polls among its Ees both collectively and individually after U demanded bargaining, bound by affirmative results of polls and subsequent refusal to bargain violative)

6687-2900 Union's disclaimer of interest

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 138
(while ordinarily Bd would order E to c/d from failing and refusing, upon request, to bargain with U, Bd did not issue bargaining order herein since U had disclaimed interest in further representing unit Ees)

6687-6100 Union misconduct

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(bargaining order proper notwithstanding U engaged in retaliatory conduct against Ee who testified against U at Bd hearing where conduct occurred 6 weeks after Ee testified, hearing almost completed and no evidence that conduct had any effect on testimony of any witness at hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)

6687-8000 Existence of question concerning representation

Dura-Vent Corporation 257 NLRB No. 083
(E's exception to ALJ's recommendation that E be ordered to bargain with U on ground that such order was improper because qcr had been raised in R case held w/o merit, since Bd authorized RD to process R case to conclusion in face of outstanding complaint in instant case because it concluded that fair election could still be conducted; further, ALJ's recommended Order was narrowly drawn, merely requiring E to engage in limited bargaining to remedy precise ULP found)

6687-9600 Illegal contract provision

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(order of Bd that E reinstitute its pension-plan as it existed as of December 31, 1978, although allegedly unqualified by reason of IRS ruling 78-403, doesnot preclude parties from bargaining over any proposed change intended to retain IRS qualification; order restored status quo ante and placed parties in position they would have enjoyed but for E's illegal conduct)

7700 NOTICE REQUIREMENTS

7701 GENERALLY

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(more lengthy than usual notice required to be posted in view of off the record threats to new and returning Ees concerning resort to federal agency regulating working conditions, thereby creating impression, which would be difficult to remedy by usual Bd notice, that E maintained both a formal, public, and proper set of rules, and a second, secret, or confidential set of rules controlling Ees' job security)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(E's contention that notice required it to meet and bargain with U bargaining committees including outsiders, even though the Bd specifically found that E did not refuse to bargain, rejected, since, read in light of accompanying order, E must c/d from refusing to bargain with Us by engaging in unlawful conduct found by Bd herein)

7707 NECESSITY FOR POSTING

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd acted w/i permissible limits in ordering E to give notice, by letter, by posting, and by reading, to Ees that it would not interfere with Ees' exercise of their statutory rights and would provide U with information relevant to its performance of responsibilities as Ee representative; in view of E's use of ULP at one plant as part of its campaign against unionization elsewhere in its corporate structure, ct required that notice be provided to Ees at all of E's plants)

7714 TIME OF POSTING

7714-0000 Other

Douglas & Lomason Company 253 NLRB No. 029
(respondent's request that Bd issue its notice to Ees immediately so that it could be posted at once denied because Bd finds it inappropriate to issue a notice before Bd has decided a case and issued a decision therein)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 064
(E ordered to post notice for 1 year in view of severity of ULPs, 1-year time span w/i which they occurred, and delay between violations and implementation of remedy)

7728 PLACE OF POSTING

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(posting of notice not extended to E's facilities not involved in instant proceeding)

7728-0600 All locations where ULPs occurred

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(extraordinary remedy that Respondent be required to post notices at 4 job sites involved in instant case and at all of its other construction sites in the continental U.S. held unnecessary, since circumstances (ULPs ordered by high-level supervision) which were present in Daniel Construction Company, a Division of Daniel International Corporation, 244 NLRB No. 106, did not appear to be present in instant case)

ABC Liquors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 174
(notice to be posted only at warehouse and retail store where the ULPs occurred rather than at all E's stores in area)

Red Food Store 252 NLRB No. 020
(posting notices only at E's store where ULPs occurred appropriate)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(Bd did not err in issuing order requiring posting of a common notice at E's four plants involved in consolidated cases herein, since affirmative relief will be carried out in individual plants; E's contention that Bd used specific acts at one plant to bolster finding of unlawful four-plant scheme to defeat coordinated bargaining is w/o merit)

7728-1200 All locations

Randall E. Wheeler, Kevin E. Wheeler, and Edmund J. Wheeler, A General Partnership d/b/a Wheelco Co. 260 NLRB No. 129
(where E has lawfully closed plant where ULP's occurred, it is not required to post notice at other plants which were not involved in ULP's but is required to mail notice to all Ees who were in its employ on date final notice was given of plant's closure)

Giant Food, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 182

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 064
(notice dealing with ULPs at E's facility at one location ordered posted for 1 year on companywide basis; notice to be signed by company president, members of board of directors, and highest official of plant at which notice is posted)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81
(where E engaged in ULPs at one of its plants, E ordered to post in each of its plants copies of notice signed by highest management official of plant in which notice is posted)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(Bd's remedial order concerning company-wide dissemination of notice and access to company plants, not punitive since notice and access order was designed to counteract use E made at other plants of its ULPs in bargaining at instant plant)

N.L.R.B. v. Delchamps, Inc. 653 F.2d 225 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(notwithstanding that only 3 stores of 17 stores bargaining unit were involved in ULP proceeding Notice to Ees posted at all 17 stores, appropriate, since ULPs affected more than one of E's stores in unit and there was close association between all of E's stores; ends of Act best achieved by posting notices at all 17 stores)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd acted w/i permissible limits in ordering E to give notice, by letter, by posting, and by reading, to Ees that it would not interfere with Ees' exercise of their statutory rights and would provide U with information relevant to its performance of responsibilities as Ee representative; in view of E's use of ULP at one plant as part of its campaign against unionization elsewhere in its corporate structure, ct required that notice be provided to Ees at all of E's plants)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(well-coordinated unlawful campaign at one plant may produce chilling effects throughout corporate structure)

7728-2200 All locations where employees affected by unfair labor practices

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 143
(mail notices to homes of Ees employed as of date of discharges and/or are presently employed on E's cable splicing crew at only location affected by E's ULPs rather than to each of E's Ees working in Southern California)

7728-3600 All locations in two or more states

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 182
(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

7742 MANNER OF NOTICE

7742-0100 Generally

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 259

(charging party's request that E be required to mail notice to Ees, read to assembled Ees, and publish in local paper denied as those special nature remedies all designed for special situations and notice posting is sufficient here)

7742-1700 Mailed

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 102

(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(E ordered to mail copies of notice to home address of each Ee employed in its retail grocery stores comprising area-wide division)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(E ordered to post copies of notice at each of its retail grocery stores comprising area-wide division)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(mailed notice required to be in both Spanish and English where approximately 75 to 80 percent of E's Ees were Spanish speaking)

Randall E. Wheeler, Kevin E. Wheeler, and Edmund J. Wheeler, A General Partnership d/b/a Wheelco Co. 260 NLRB No. 109

(where E has lawfully closed plant where ULP's occurred, it is not required to post notice at other plants which were not involved in ULP's but is required to mail notice to all Ees who were in its employ on date final notice was given of plant's closure)

McMillan Cartage, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 018

(in view of fact that E is no longer in operation and its former Ees may be in different locations)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(mail notice to each Ee currently employed and to each striker, except to those Ees covered by dismissed allegations)

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 254 NLRB No. 176

(mail to every current Ee as well as every U represented Ee at 1 of its facilities whose employment ended since first date of E's misconduct notice setting forth Ee's potential criminal liability associated with giving willfully false statements in Bd proceeding as requested by E)

Robert Batchelor d/b/a Batchelor Electric Co., a sole proprietorship 254 NLRB No. 156

(where E's Ees reported directly to jobsites at which E's jobs were of varying and often short duration)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 150

(on remand Bd did not hold bargaining order appropriate in view of extraordinary amount of time that had elapsed since E's initial refusal to bargain and Bd's prior issuance of bargaining order, and fact U had lost election; however, second election ordered in view of E's initial withdrawal of recognition since reasonable to assume E's act led to U's loss of majority; mailing of notice of election to Ees not ordered nor was E ordered to allow U access to its property since U will be furnished list of Ees)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024

(Bd ordered that notices be mailed to homes of all present Ees and all those employed w/i 10(b) period whether in bargaining unit or not, in view of E's extensive violations and evidence that unlawful conduct was motivated by desire to squelch unionization, and because of passage of time since commencement of ULPs due to protracted nature of instant proceedings)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 013

(where security guards work at 25 different facilities and do not regularly visit main office, mailing notices to their home addresses is most effective means of reaching Ees)

Capriccio Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(mailed to Ees employed by E during time of ULPs)

SFS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Seech d/b/a J. Seech Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009

(mail signed copies of notice to all laid-off Ees who were bargaining unit members)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122

(mail to current Ees and all Ees on payroll at time ULPs were committed)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(E ordered to mail copy of Bd notice to home of each of its Ees at all of its plants, together with explanatory letter signed by highest official of recipient's plant)

The Haskell Company JD-74-82

(notice mailed to all Ees employed during period ULPs committed because second election ordered and Ees were in construction industry and transfer from job to job)

Apex International Management Service JD-(ATL)-86-81

(to former Ees at their home addresses, since E no longer occupied plant where it committed ULPs; posting notices impracticable where plant occupied by another E)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(E ordered to mail to each Ee at plant at which E engaged in ULPs and to each Ee at another of Ees involved plants copy of signed notice, together with letter signed by highest official of recipient's plant, informing Ees of Bd's decision relating to plant at which ULPs occurred)

Shulman Air Freight, Inc. JD-(SF)-39-80

(rather than posted in view of fact that E's involved facility had ceased operation prior to instant ULP charge, complaint and hearing)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd acted w/i permissible limits in ordering E to give notice, by letter, by posting, and by reading, to Ees that it would not interfere with Ees' exercise of their statutory rights and would provide U with information relevant to its performance of responsibilities as Ee representative; in view of E's use of ULP at one plant as part of its campaign against unionization elsewhere in its corporate structure, ct required that notice be provided to Ees at all of E's plants)

7742-3300 Read by company official or Board agent

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 102

(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(owner of retail grocery stores ordered to personally sign copies of notices mailed to Ees and posted at all of its retail grocery stores comprising area-wide division)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(E ordered to convene during working time all Ees at its retail grocery stores comprising area-wide division, and have E's owner read to assembled Ees contents of notice; E also required to afford Bd reasonable opportunity to provide for attendance of Bd agent at any such assembly)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(notice to be read by individual who is owner and company president to assembled Ees, with reasonable opportunity provided for attendance of Bd agent at reading)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192

(E ordered to convene during working time by departments and shifts all its Ees currently employed in each of respective plants, and at its option either have notices read by plant manager of such plant or provide facilities for and permit Bd agent to read such notices to said Ees; if it is decided that notices are to be read by particular plant manager, Bd to be afforded reasonable opportunity to provide for attendance of Bd agent)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087

(Bd ordered notice to Ees be read by either owner or manager of E with requirement for attendance of Bd agent when notice read; reassurances that anti-U campaign will end must come from top from which it emanated; therefore, Bd required notice be read by management and not Bd Agent)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122

(notice to be read to current Ees assembled for that purpose by district manager; Bd to be afforded reasonable opportunity to provide for attendance of Bd agent)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(notice ordered read during working time by highest managerial official at plant or by Bd agent)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd acted w/i permissible limits in ordering E to give notice, by letter, by posting, and by reading, to Ees that it would not interfere with Ees' exercise of their statutory rights and would provide U with information relevant to its performance of responsibilities as Ee representative; in view of E's use of ULP at one plant as part of its campaign against unionization elsewhere in its corporate structure, ct required that notice be provided to Ees at all of E's plants)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(ct modified Bd's order with regard to notice provision to require E to have a responsible officer of Respondent read the Bd notice rather than specified individual – here the president and owner of respondent E)

7742-5000 Published in newspaper of general circulation

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

Electric Hose and Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 014
(where E published ad in newspaper prior to election which was found to be meritorious objection but never alleged to be ULP, it is not necessary to order E to publish announcement of settlement of these charges as Bd's usual remedies will adequately rectify objectionable conduct)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(publish in newspapers of general circulation the essential terms and provisions of order, once a week for 4 consecutive weeks)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(Bd declined to adopt ALJ's recommended order requiring E to publish notices in newspaper of general circulation and to post notices for 1-year period unless impasse or contract is reached prior to that time, in view of absence of proclivity on E's part to violate Act once its actions have been adjudicated unlawful)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 057
(Bd ordered that E publish in local newspapers of general circulation copy of notice two times per week for a period of 4 weeks, since Bd deemed requirement to have been necessary part of remedy because it served to emphatically—inform Ees of their Section 7 rights and assure Ees that Respondent will respect those rights)

7742-8700 Notice published in employer's daily bulletin or other company publications

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(publication required to have notice in both Spanish and English were 75 to 80 percent of E's Ees were Spanish speaking)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(notice to be included in appropriate company publications, such as Ee newsletters)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(copy of notice to be included in appropriate company publications)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's requirement for inclusion of notice in appropriate company publications not warranted, since notice is to be given to Ees otherwise by mailing, by posting, and by reading, and additional requirement for inclusion of publication notices cannot be sustained inasmuch as only purpose would be to give notice of E's violations to E's customers, suppliers, and other public members which, although it might deter persons from violating Act, is an exaction which neither makes Ees whole nor assures them that they can bargain with E through representatives of their own choosing)

7742-9200 Distribution to employees

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 102
(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(E ordered to distribute notice to new Ees in its training program for one calendar year where unlawful threat concerning resort to federal agency involved in regulating working conditions occurred during formal Ee training program and undermined Ees' access to agency which was critically important to insuring Ees' health and safety)

7756 PERSONS REQUIRED TO POST AND/OR MAIL NOTICES

7756-3000 Members of multi-employer association

Marco Polo Resort Motel 257 NLRB No. 198
(requirement that entire multi-E association post notice where only one E member had violated Act not necessary since no indication other Es would engage in similar conduct)

7756-5000 Predecessor employer

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(ct deferred to Bd's judgment that it would effectuate purposes of Act for predecessor E to mail notices to former Ees that it would not again violate their rights, notwithstanding it was no longer their E)
70942262566624100000072280060З

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)

7756-8700 Employer who went out of business

C. Elton Johnson, d/b/a Print-Quic 261 NLRB No. 109
(where shortly before E sold business one of its supervisors committed ULP threat, it was required to mail notice to all its former Ees stating that if he ever went into business again, he would not condone such conduct)

C. Elton Johnson, d/b/a Print-Quic 262 NLRB No. 109
(where shortly before E sold business one of its supervisors committed ULP threat, it was required to mail notice to al its former Ees stating that if he ever went into business again, he would not condone such conduct)

(translation of official English language notice into Spanish language to be simultaneously posted alongside notice attached to decision where substantial number of E's Ees spoke Spanish)

Viracon, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 087
(E required to post notice to Ees in Spanish as well as in English in view of fact that substantial number of Ees are Spanish speaking)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(notice to be posted in both Spanish and English)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 100
(bilingual notice required to include Spanish version)

7784-2000 Language inappropriate

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd required to revise language of notice to avoid possibility of any misunderstanding which might arise due to interpretation that E had been ordered to recognize U at all plants, instead of just 2 plants involved herein)

7784-5000 Employees free to join or not join union

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106
(where decertification election was set aside because of denial of access to incumbent U's non-Ee representatives, thereby seriously interfering with Ees' right to deal with E through their chosen representative, RD required to include in notice of new election specified language consistent with Bd's decisions in The Lufkin Rule Co., 147 NLRB 341 and Bush Hog, Inc., 167 NLRB 1575)

7784-8500 Employer will not interfere with employees' right to resort to Board processes

7784-9500 Extraordinary remedies

Florida Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 102
(on remand and in light of E's prior order for corporatewide mailing, posting, publication of Bd's notice, reading it to Ee groups, and U access to 2 plants where ULPs occurred; however, requests for bulletin board access and names and addresses of Ees were denied)

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 264 NLRB No. 176
(mail to every current Ee as well as every U represented Ee at 1 of its facilities whose employment ended since first date of E's misconduct notice setting forth Ee's potential criminal liability associated with giving willfully false statements in Bd proceeding as requested by E)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(ct affd Bd order of imposition of extraordinary election remedies for two years or until Bd certification which included right by U to reasonable access to E blackboards and to Ees on premises; right by U to equal time to respond to any address by E regarding U representation; right to give 30 minute address prior to any Bd election; posting, mailing and public reading to Ees by E of Bd's notice; reprinting of notice in local newspapers and company publications; and for one year, receipt by U of names and addresses of all current Ees)

8800 ORDERS TO REMEDY SPECIFIC VIOLATIONS

8817 SECTION 8(a)(1)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004
(E's claim that Ees felt free to engage in open solicitation in violation of E's rule, both before and after E's posting of unlawful rule prohibiting such activity, held not to preclude issuance of remedial order, since, Ees' subjective state of mind is not probative evidence of restraint and coercion in violation of 8(a)(1))

8817-0300 Rescind changes in work schedule

RJR Communications, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 124
(resume discriminatorily discontinued 6 o'clock newscast)

8817-0400 Rescind unlawful rules against union activity

Saint Vincent's Hospital 265 NLRB No. 006
(E's rule which prohibited wearing of any type of insignia violative as overly broad where it prohibited such insignia at all locations on E's property while Ees were on duty or in uniform; moreover remedy is necessary notwithstanding E revised rule to make it non violative as this does not constitute effective repudiation since rule was in effect over 2 years)

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 128
(no-solicitation rule which was not limited to worktime presumptively invalid as is no distribution rule not limited to work areas; moreover, R/O is appropriate notwithstanding E changed the rules where he made no announcements to Ees of any change and did not assure Ees that in future he would not interfere with their Sec. 7 rights; additionally, fact that former rules have not been enforced for substantial period of time does not remove necessity for such order)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(discussions regarding U at any time on E's plant premises)

N.L.R.B. v. Transcon Lines 599 F.2d 719 (C.A. 5, 1979)

N.L.R.B. v. John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 677 F.2d 44 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)
(E violated Act by discriminatorily enforcing its antibutton policy against U adherent and not other types of buttons but Bd order barring any antibutton policy is overbroad and case remanded for modification of Bd order to prohibit only unreasonable restrictions on types of buttons or insignia which may be worn)

8817-0600 Rescind or amend unlawful savings or profit sharing plan

Computer Sciences Corporation Applied Technology Division, Huntsville Center 258 NLRB No. 085
(amend violative stock purchase plan, and all Ee handbooks or other literature discribing it to eliminate provision which disqualified Ees from participating if they were members of U or bargaining unit)

8817-0700 Rescind or make bonus payments

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(make Ees whole for prize money and inspection money unlawfully withheld)

8817-0900 Hire discriminatee

Mount Desert Island Hospital 259 NLRB No. 080
(E ordered to hire discriminatee it had refused to hire because he had engaged in protected concerted activity during prior term of employment, and if necessary to dismiss any Ee hired since discrimination for which position he qualifies)

8817-1000 Reinstate independent contract of employee's relative and pay whatever sums are required thereunder

Operating Engineers, Local 400 265 NLRB No. 169
(Bd ordered make-whole remedy to independent contractor who had her contract for janitorial services unlawfully terminated because Ee who was her husband had engaged in protected activity, where remedy of reinstatement of such contract and payment of sums required thereunder was necessary to eliminate fully coercive effects notwithstanding E's financial adversity or that violation in this case was unusual one)

8817-1200 Permit union to address employees on company time

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in response to any address made by E to its Ees on question of U representation; provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in order to deliver 30-minute speech prior to any election in which U may participate; provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(E to give notice and equal time and facilities for U to respond to any address by E to its Ees on question of U representation; this provision to apply for 2 years from date of posting of notice or until RD has issued appropriate certification upon election, whichever comes first)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(E to afford U right to deliver 30-minute speech to Ees on working time prior to any Bd election which may be scheduled in which U is a participant; this provision to apply for 2-year period from date of posting of notice or until RD has issued appropriate certification upon election, whichever comes first)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(if E convenes any Ees at any plant during 2-year period following entry of order and addresses Ees on question of U representation, E ordered to give U reasonable notice thereof and afford 2 U representatives opportunity to attend and, upon request, permit U representative to address Ees for same amount of time)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(if w/i next 2 years, Bd schedules election in which U participates, Bd ordered E to afford at least 2 U representatives reasonable access to each facility to deliver 30 minute speech to Ees on working time; date thereof to be w/i 10 working days before but not w/i 48 hours prior to any election)

8817-1500 Grant union reasonable access to employer's facilities in nonwork areas during employees' nonwork time

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106
(E ordered to rescind restrictive rules concerning U's access to its premises and adhere to access provisions of contract so long as U remains Ee representative and no adequate offer of opportunity to bargain a modification or an impasse is reached in bargaining over change in access provision)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(equal access remedy warranted in extraordinary cases only and in instant case conventional bargaining order was sufficient to remedy E's ULPs; no-solicitation, no-distribution rule not binding on Es and such rule may be lawfully used to limit access of non Ee organizers to Ees as long as it is applied in nondiscriminatory manner and U has other reasonable means of communication with Ees)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(granted for 6-month period upon request; this provision to apply for 2 years from date of posting of notice or until RD has issued appropriate certification upon election, whichever comes first)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access as remedial measure at unorganized plants (of E) may be predicated on Bd's finding that E's unlawful bargaining strategy at organized plant has chilled Ee rights at (E's) unorganized plants; access is ordered to remedy effects of unlawful behavior and not to punish or deter E)

(conclusory statement by Bd that access is needed to neutralize effects is not sufficient to justify grant of access; assumptions must be supported by evidence in record; Bd must find reasonable forseeability that Ees at those plants where access is imposed have suffered coercive effects from E's unlawful conduct and that access remedy is necessary to cure those effects)

(propriety of access as organizational tool and propriety of U access as remedial measure are 2 separate questions involving different considerations; former need finding that U unable to reach Ees through other channels of communication; as to latter, critical inquiry is whether E conduct is of such nature that access is needed to offset harmful effects that have been produced by such conduct)

8817-1600 Grant union reasonable access to bulletin boards

Allied Stores Of N.Y., Inc., d/b/a Gertz 262 NLRB No. 119
(order requiring E to allow Ees to post U campaign literature and precluding E from promulgating nondiscriminatory rule prohibiting Ee access to bulletin boards and blackboard held too broad as there is no statutory right for Ees or U to use such boards and E could conceivably promulgate nondiscriminatory rule)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(in case involving issuance of extraordinary remedies in nonmajority U situation, Bd provided for 2-year period in which E is required to grant U access to E's bulletin boards and to its nonwork areas)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting of notice)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 265 NLRB No. 192
(upon request, grant U access to plant bulletin boards at all places where notices to Ees are customarily posted, at each of involved plants for period of one year from date of request)

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(and to all places where notices to Ees are customarily posted granted for period of 6 months upon request)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E ordered to grant U, upon request made w/i 2 years of date of order herein, reasonable access to plant bulletin boards and to customary posting places at each plant for 1 year from date of request)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access to bulleting boards granted in cases in which E had extended history of unlawful conduct as well as in cases in which such access was ordered to remedy flagrant violation, outrageous conduct, or a gross interference with Ees' organizational rights)

8817-1700 Grant union companywide access to bulletin boards

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(in case involving issuance of extraordinary remedies in nonmajority U situation, Bd limited application of order provision, requiring E operating retail grocery chain to grant U reasonable access to bulletin boards, to stores comprising area-wide division involved herein, rather than to all of E's stores)

8817-2000 Give union list of employees' names and addresses

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(in case involving issuance of extraordinary remedies in nonmajority U situation, Bd limited application of order provision, requiring E operating retail grocery chain to make available to U list of names and addresses of Ees, to stores comprising areawide division involved herein, rather than to all of E's stores)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 122
(upon request made w/i 1 year; this provision to apply for 2 years from date of posting of notice or until RD has issued appropriate certification upon election, whichever comes first)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E ordered to immediately furnish, upon U's request, lists of names, addresses, and classifications of all Ees at each plant as of latest available payroll date and to furnish corrected current list to U at 6 month intervals during next 2 years)

8817-2500 Disavow antiunion petition

Polk Bros. Concrete Products 256 NLRB No. 128
(E violated Act where its plant manager first initiated U activity w/o knowledge of E and then solicited Ees to sign ptn disavowing interest in U especially where E had expressed its opposition to U, notwithstanding plant manager acted contrary to E's specific instructions not to involve himself with ptn; moreover, Ee's thought supervisor was speaking for E; therefore, R/O proper remedy)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

N.L.R.B. v. Metropolitan Alloys Corporation 624 F.2d 743 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E introduced collective-bargaining agreement at office party, announced formation of U-like committee, conducted election for committee members, and then for 2 years ignored existence, only to reactivate it when U expressed interest in organizing its Ees, as committee was company-created sham; disestablishment proper remedy)

8833-2000 Withdraw and withhold recognition

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 084
(E dominated and interfered with formation of in-plant Ee committee and contributed financial and other support to it)

Gas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(E to withdraw recognition of independent U it had assisted and any successor in E's stores in location involved in this case)

Smithtown General Hospital JD-752-80
(standard c/d order appropriate, as benefits U derived from initial E assistance were extinguished by Ees rescinding, cards per E's request, and ending U's status of assisted U; thus allowing U to continue serving as bargaining representative for Ee's already under contract)

View-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(no refund of dues which E collected pursuant to illegal checkoff agreement ordered where all but one Ee joined U voluntarily; nor was E ordered to cease recognizing U since no question of validity of recognition)

8833-2033 Until certified

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 178
(where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modifications, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, E ordered to withdraw and withhold all recognition from U, unless and until it has been duly certified by Bd)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049

Easy-Heat Wirekraft, Division of Bristol Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 163

8833-4200 Rescind contract

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 178
(E and U ordered to cease giving effect to contract unless and until U shall have been certified by Bd where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modification, E made concealed payments involving large sums of money to U officials, representing 10-percent kickback from all business referred to E by U; such concurrent actions tainted and undermined parties' bargaining relationship and contract negotiated by them while payments were being made)

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 178
(in ordering E and U to cease giving effect to contract because, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modification, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, Bd held fact that individuals participating in kickbacks did not engage in contract negotiations does not affect conclusion herein; although such individuals may not have personally participated therein, they were U's president and executive vice president, and E's president, and their divorce from actual negotiations is not determinative of issue)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(nothing in order herein, requiring E to cease giving effect to unlawful prehire agreement with minority U, shall authorize or require withdrawal or

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(cease giving effect to coerced agreement with assisted U)

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077
(no abrogation of bargaining agreement ordered where low level supervisor had served as member of U negotiating committee and supervisors had participated in contract ratification/strike vote where violation technical, confusion had existed as to supervisory status of individuals prior to Bd's denial of review of RD's decision holding individuals supervisors, apparent lack of conflict of interest, fact contract was result of hard bargaining and has been in effect for more than a year)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's actions to remedy U's failure to represent Ee enforced; Bd set aside collective bargaining agreement, decertified U, and ordered U to make Ee whole for differential between journeyman's scale and his actual wages for entire time of his employment with E)

8833-7900 Cease dealing with supervisor as union agent

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's remedies of ordering E and multi-E association to cease and desist to recognize or deal with supervisor as U official and ordering E not to permit supervisor to serve as U official held proper)

8833-8800 Inform employees solicitation for union will not be permitted

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(E, already subject to order requiring it to disestablish assisted U, ordered to inform Ees that solicitation and collection of dues on behalf of assisted U was in derogation of incumbent U's representative status and will not be permitted)

8833-9200 Reimbursement of dues paid under contract

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modifications, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, E and U ordered, jointly and severally, to reimburse all present and former Ees, except those who joined or signed U cards prior to the effective date of contract, for moneys paid by or withheld from them after such effective date for initiation fees, dues, or other obligations of membership in U)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(E ordered to reimburse Ees for all initiation fees, dues, assessments, or any other monies which may have been exacted on behalf of unlawfully assisted minority U with whom E had entered into pre-hire agreement containing U security provision before any Ees had been hired at facility covered by agreement)

Mountaineer Shaft and Tunnel Construction Company 624 F.2d 050 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held Bd w/o authority to order reimbursement of initiation fees and dues checked off, where Ees had voluntarily signed authorization cards which permitted checkoff, notwithstanding E unlawfully recognized U and locked out Ees to force them to ratify contract and affirm U as their bargaining agent)

8850 SECTION 8(a)(3)

8850-0100 Generally

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(Bd's order that E cease recognizing U as bargaining representative of E's male Ees unless and until such labor organization shall have demonstrated its majority status held appropriate remedy for E's unlawful extension of contract coverage to male Ees not in bargaining unit, notwithstanding order's resemblance to remedy for 8(a)(2) violation, which was not found in case; moreover, contrary to contention, order was given in recognition of existing situation rather than as sanction for unit based on sex)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(where discrimination is class-wide in scope, failure to name each specific member of class encompassed by E's discrimination and by Bd's remedial order is not defective so long as class itself is clearly defined, which in instant case was defined as being those Ees which E discharged on specified dates)

Anja Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 698 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement of order directing second election based on finding of 8(a)(3) violation, denied where finding was not supported by record evidence; Bd's contention that election order was not properly reviewable pursuant to ptn for review here because R proceedings are reviewable only upon a charge that an E's refusal to bargain with the certified U violates 8(a)(5), rejected, since order for second election must fall with unsupported ULP finding on which it is based)

8850-0200 Bargain with representative

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 130
(where U had card majority but did not make continuing demand for recognition, Bd issued bargaining order retroactive to date of majority in view of E's series of intimidatory statements and threats of loss of benefits, discharges, layoffs, and shutdown of plant)

8850-0300 Withdraw and withhold recognition

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(E to withdraw and withhold recognition of U as representative of male Ees, who were not in bargaining unit, unless and until U demonstrates exclusive majority representative status)

8850-0500 Permit union to address employees on company time

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in response to any address made by E to its Ees on question of U representation; provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(in order to deliver 30-minute speech prior to any election in which U may participate; provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting)

8850-0600 Transfer or offer to transfer employees

Mathews Ready Mix, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 092

8850-0700 Offer employment to applicant

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 049
(instate Ees whose employment was illegally conditioned on acceptance of less than contract called for and who did not accept such employment)

Kenneth and Mary M. McGlaughlin, Copartners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper 247 NLRB No. 199
(discriminatee entitled to backpay from date he would have stated work at E had E not unlawfully withdrawn offer of position notwithstanding E may be overstaffed since at time of acceptance of job offer there was vacancy)

8850-1000 Grant union reasonable access to bulletin boards

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(in case involving issuance of extraordinary remedies in nonmajority U situation, Bd provided for 2-year period in which E is required to grant U access to E's bulletin boards and to its nonwork areas)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(provision shall apply for period of 2 years from date of posting of notice)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(access to bulleting boards granted in cases in which E had extended history of unlawful conduct as well as in cases in which such access was ordered to remedy flagrant violation, outrageous conduct, or a gross interference with Ees' organizational rights)

8850-1500 Give union list of employees' names and addresses

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(in case involving issuance of extraordinary remedies in nonmajority U situation, Bd limited application of order provision, requiring E operating retail grocery chain to make available to U list of names and addresses of Ees, to stores comprising areawide division involved herein, rather than to all of E's stores)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

8850-2300 Reopen unlawfully closed plant

Monongahela Steel Company and Youngstown Steel Corporation 268 NLRB No. 031

(restore trucking operations and rescind subcontracting or other business relationship with subcontractor where E reduced operations and sold trucks in circumvention of ct order to reinstate discriminatees)

Rebel Coal Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 033

(E required to reopen and reestablish auto repair shop operation in order to restore status quo ante existing prior to E's discriminatory closing of the repair shop; normal status quo ante remedy herein appropriate, since it would not be unduly burdensome or endanger E's continued viability)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016

(rescind changes in working conditions in duties of owner-operator Ees where purpose of changes was unlawful attempt to convert Ee status to that of independent contractor)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 60

(E, who unlawfully closed its facility and subcontracted Ee's work, ordered to resume operations formerly performed at closed facility either at its former location or some other reasonable location w/i metropolitan area, where it was not shown that E would suffer undue hardship by application of Bd's usual remedies; moreover, E required to use its own Ees to perform work and to give preference for positions to discriminatees herein)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 60

(in ordering resumption of unlawfully closed operation, Bd rejected E's defense that order was unfair and unjustified since it was not supported by evidence, and it was not shown that E would suffer undue hardship by application of Bd's usual remedies)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(ct affd Bd's order that E dissolve paper corporations and contractual arrangements whereby drivers were ostensibly converted into independent contractors, and reestablish prior Ee system)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(ct refused to enforce Bd's order to reestablish its trucking operation where E had unlawfully sold trucks, discharged drivers, and contracted out hauling since major capital expense involved would put undue burden on E in view of its small size and slim profit margin)

8850-3000 Restore benefits and privileges

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050

(discriminatees who worked more than 24 hours in holiday week, which was basis for GC's specification that they had worked full time as required under contract held entitled to holiday pay)

8850-3010 Wage increase

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050

(Ees held entitled to receive benefit of pay increase, which they would have been eligible to receive, but for discrimination against them, for period from 6 months prior to filing of charge to date of expiration of contract, notwithstanding E's claim that intervening memorandum agreement with U altered unit represented by U)

8850-3045 Vacations and vacation pay

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050

(discriminatees held entitled to vacation pay, depending on length of service, where E produced no evidence that discriminatees could not under any circumstances have received vacations or vacation pay during period in question; any doubt in such regard must be resolved against wrongdoing E)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050

(fact that any discriminatee quit w/o notice held no basis for denial of vacation and sick pay benefits)

8850-3056 Employee grievance committee

General Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 092

(Bd refused to order reinstitution of unlawfully rescinded sounding board program-function was to solicit grievances-, since in fashioning remedy greater emphasis should be given to E's attempt to undermine U's primary purpose of representing Ees in matters concerning working conditions rather than to E's attempt to demonstrate power to unilaterally give and take away)

8850-3070 Cleanup time before quitting

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(E ordered ro rescind announcement to Ees and published statement of rules regarding elimination of wash-up time and to restore to Ees their practice regarding wash-up time as it existed priot to announcement)

8850-3078 Disability leave benefits

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(E ordered to make Ee whole who had been unlawfully denied disability benefits while ill at commencement and during strike, and overruling Emerson Electric, ordered that benefits should cease only when benefits exhausted or disability is ended rather than at date when she had previously affirmatively supported strike by joining picket line, inasmuch as benefits were form of compensation for past services and had vested, and did not constitute unfair strike financing by E further, remedy applied retroactively)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062

(those Ees who at onset of strike were sick or disabled entitled to accident or sick benefits during strike until they have affirmatively shown support of strike; fact those medically excused exhibited some strike support after medical release and testified if physically able they would have joined strike, irrelevant; nor did visit to picket line by Ee on leave manifest sufficient public support of strike to deny Ee continued entitlement to accident and sick benefits)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062

(Ee who had been on sick leave at onset of strike lost his entitlement to sick benefits on date of doctor's release to return to work rather than later date when he commenced picketing)

8850-3080 Sick leave benefits

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062

(those Ees who at onset of strike were sick or disabled entitled to accident or sick benefits during strike until they have affirmatively shown support of strike; fact those medically excused exhibited some strike support after medical release and testified if physically able they would have joined strike, irrelevant, nor did visit to picket line by Ee on leave manifest sufficient public support of strike to deny Ee continued entitlement to accident and sick benefits)

8867 SECTION 8(a)(4)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 248 NLRB No. 145
(permit Ees and U to use lunchroom for U meetings as in past, and notify them they have permission to do so)

8867-7800 Permission to use premises for union meeting

N.L.R.B. v. Vulcan-Hart Corporation, (St. Louis Division) 642 F.2d 255 (C.A. 8, Mar 9, 1981)
(ct modified Bd order requiring E to permit Ees and U to use lunchroom for U meetings, permission for which E had discontinued in retaliation for U's filing of charge with Bd, by limiting order to such period as U is certified bargaining agent of Ees, providing that order may be modified by parties as result of collective bargaining, and that use of lunchroom by U may be withdrawn by E for any legitimate, nonpretextual reason which does not involve any element of anti-U animus)

8883 SECTION 8(a)(5)

8883-0100 Generally

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(in cases involving violation of 8(a)(5) based on E's unilaterally altering existing benefits, it is Bd's established policy to order restoration of status quo ante to the extent feasible where there is no evidence that to do so would impose an undue or unafir burden on E)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174
(E ordered to pay such portion of costs attributable to deletion from records of irrelevant nonbargaining unit information requested by U; accordingly, unless parties can agree on breakdown between reproduction and deletion costs, amount owed by Us shall be determined during compliance proceedings)

Arizona Public Service Company 247 NLRB No. 054
(in case involving E's unlawful refusal to bargain with U over subcontracting of unit work, it was held that affirmative orders should be appropriate to particular situation requiring redress and should be tempered by practical considerations)

Anjo Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement of order directing second election based on finding of 8(a)(3) violation, denied where finding was not supported by record evidence; Bd's contention that election order was not properly reviewable pursuant to ptn for review here because R proceedings are reviewable only upon a charge that an E's refusal to bargain with the certified U violates 8(a)(5), rejected, since order for second election must fall with unsupported ULP finding on which it is based)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(where unrelated successor hadalready done what original order required E to do and what E no longer had authority to do, order was modified to eliminate affirmative action for E except for mailing of notices to former Ees that E would not again violate their rights)

8883-0400 Execute contract

Consolidation Coal Company 253 NLRB No. 104
(sign absentee policy agreement reached with U)

N.L.R.B. v. Custom Sheet Metal & Service Co., Inc. 666 F.2d 454 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(Bd's R/O, which required E to execute 8(f) contract but not give effect to those provisions (8 day U security and qualification for employment clause) which would be unlawful if applied to E who was no longer engaged in construction work but was manufacturing concern, set aside, where, especially latter clause, is so basic to contract and so interwoven with all its terms that it must stand or fall as an entirety; furthermore, no savings and severability clause in contract)

8883-0600 Expunge invalid disciplinary records

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 265 NLRB No. 036
(E to rescind and expunge from its records all disciplinary actions resulting from unilateral change in attendance/tardiness program)

The Celotex Corporation 259 NLRB No. 159
(revoke, rescind and expunge from personnel files all warnings and suspensions issued to Ees as result of E unilaterally instituting policy of stricter enforcement of plant rules)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 259 NLRB No. 157
(where issued pursuant to disciplinary system which E unlawfully unilaterally instituted)

8883-1000 Revoke and nullify individual employment contracts

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. The North American Soccer League and its Constituent Member Clubs 633 F.2d 217 (C.A. 2, Oct. 1980)
(where equity ct has reasonable cause to believe that flagrant ULPs' have been committed, remedy requiring E to revoke unilateral changes in employment conditions and individual player's contracts proper not withstanding final decision by Bd pending as E's practices threatened to render Bd's processes totally ineffective)

8883-1200 Terminate or rescind present arrangements

Merrill & Ring, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 039
(restore the status quo ante by rescinding its unlawful unilaterally imposed requirement that certain first shift Ees must work reasonable period of time before reporting for jury duty)

Turnbull Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(where E unlawfully discontinued payment of contributions to U's health and welfare fund, Bd ordered E, upon written request from U, to rescind insurance company's current plan, established under agreement with U, and immediately reestablish health and welfare fund plan by making retroactive contributions on behalf of Ees from day following receipt of U's request, and to continue such payments until E negotiates in good faith with U to new agreement or impasse)

Scott Printing Corporation 249 NLRB No. 134
(Bd's remedy rescinding contract of sale to alter ego appropriate to restore status quo ante, since contract of sale was sham transaction)

8883-1300 Furnish data concerning employment aptitude tests

Detroit Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 99 U.S. 1123 (S Ct., 1979)
(ct declined to enforce Bd order requiring E to disclose certain information about employment aptitude tests requested by U in order to prepare for arbitration of grievances; in view of sensitive nature of information, minimal burden E's offer, upon receipt of consents from examinees, to disclose information placed upon U, and absence of evidence that E acted to frustrate U in discharge of its statutory responsibilities, ct rejected Bd's conclusion that E violated Act)

8883-1400 Resume discontinued operations

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156
(resume transferred operation at original location and reemploy Ees who formerly performed operation before it was transferred)

Whitinsall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(E not ordered to resume operations to remedy ULP's where operation was shutdown permanently for economic reason)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(restore status quo ante by restoring to unit Ees at closed terminal work which it (E) transferred to open terminal, and fulfill statutory duty to bargain)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 036
(E ordered to reinstate operation where work is being performed at another of E's facilities, equipment is rented or shared among various plants, notwithstanding city is negotiating lease of facility to new tenant as E may lease another facility)

Hood Industries, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, B & K Transportation, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 089
(E ordered to reestablish its own trucking operation which it has contracted out w/o making effort to prove economic necessity or to accommodate its drivers in finding other employment, and did not respond to U's subsequent bargaining request)

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029
(reopen closed division and set aside layoffs and transfers, restore eliminated jobs and set aside reductions in pay and classifications if U so requests)

Smyth Manufacturing Company, Inc.; Beacon Industries 247 NLRB No. 164
(and reinstate Ees laid off)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(where ALJ approved settlement agreement which did not require E who had violatively transferred work to another plant to resume operations, Bd reversed ALJ's approval in light of fact that no evidence that such resumption would endanger E's economic viability)

8883-1500 Grant wage increase

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that Bd's order that E grant proposed wage increase retroactively was beyond scope of its authority where such term was mandatory subject of bargaining; ct found that rule of H.K. Porter applied equally to orders requiring agreement on subjects of bargaining in cases arising under Sec. 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(5))

8883-1600 Terminate subcontracting and resume operation

Dennis G. Maletta and Frank M. Maletta t/a Maletta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161

(restore trucking operations and rescind subcontracting or other business relationship with subcontractor where E reduced operations and sold trucks in circumvention of ct order to reinstate discriminatees)

Hood Industries, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, B & K Transportation, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 089

(in cases involving discriminatory termination of operations, restoration of status quo ante continues to be proper remedy unless wrongdoer can demonstrate that normal remedy would endanger its continued viability)

8883-1800 Reinstate cancelled or expired contracts

Bay Shipbuilding Corp. 263 NLRB No. 166

(Bd ordered make whole remedy to remedy E's unlawful refusal to apply bargaining agreement to Ees transferred to newly established department, including restoration to seniority pool with unit Ees in department from which transferred)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066

(E who unlawfully withdrew recognition from U with which it had short-form agreement for particular job site required only to apply terms of master agreement consistent with short-form agreement and only to job site involved herein)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061

(where E which had unlawfully dealt directly with Ees during term of bargaining agreement, paying less than contract wage and failing to make payments to pension fund, and failed to use hiring hall as required by contract, subsequently signed and then repudiated another in series of agreements, in order to effectuate policies of Act make whole remedy extended to time of beginning of ULPs during prior contract rather than beginning with latest contract which was repudiated)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring project-by-project E, operating under 8(f) agreement, to restore contract as it applies to construction projects commenced after date on which ULPs occurred)

8883-1900 Furnish wage and related data

Brown Newspaper Publishing Co., Inc. 238 NLRB No. 169

(E ordered to supply U with aggregate amounts paid to independent correspondents for editorial product and not amounts paid to individual writers as these writers are non-unit Ees and these amounts should remain confidential between E and those writers)

Press Democrat Publishing Company 238 NLRB No. 185

(E ordered to supply U with aggregate amounts paid to independent correspondents for editorial product and not amounts paid to individual writers as these writers are non-unit Ees and these amounts should remain confidential between E and those writers)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022

(E ordered to supply U with requested wage and benefit information of Ees outside bargaining unit notwithstanding parties have already negotiated collective bargaining agreement as this information is pertinent to future contract negotiations)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 002

(to extent that such information does not include individual medical records from which identifying data have not been removed)

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007

(E to furnish requested health and safety information to extent it does not include generic names of substances used at plant which E and its suppliers consider their respective proprietary interests and trade secrets or medical records from which identifying data have not been removed)

8883-2000 Reinstate pension or insurance plan administrator

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 606 F.2d 171 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(Bd's order to reinstate benefit plan administrator found disruptive where E's purpose was to cut costs, and Bd gave no justification for order)

8883-2400 Pay damages as compensation for refusal to bargain

Peerless Roofing Co., Ltd. 247 NLRB No. 072

(liquidated damages of 10 percent for each month E does not contribute to pension, welfare and similar trust funds found appropriate where contract, though expired, provide such remedy and additional payment was interpreted to mean 10 percent on entire sum due so not to constitute an unreasonable penalty)

8883-2500 Grant representation status at new location

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 092

(apply terms of collective bargaining agreement to Ees at new location)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)

(Bd order requiring E, who unlawfully failed to bargain over relocation of its facility, to recognize at new facility U that represented Ees at closed operation held abuse of Bd discretion since order is at least premature; there is no evidence E would recognize U at new facility if remedy requiring offer of employment to closed operation's terminated U Ees would result in majority, nor may such Ees even constitutes a majority; thus, injury done to current Ees by imposing on them U may not want is much greater than injury done by possibility that E will avoid U work force)

8883-2600 Pay backpay because of discontinuance of operations

C & E Distributing, Inc./Carbon-Emery Enterprises, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 074

(limited backpay order added to order that E bargain regarding effects of cessation of business in order to assure meaningful bargaining, to make Ees whole for losses suffered as result of E's failure to bargain, and to recreate to some degree situation in which parties bargaining positions are not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

(for failure to bargain over effects of closing one plant, E ordered to pay Ees employed at closed facility backpay at rate Ees paid when last in E's employ from five days after issuance of decision until one of following occurs: E bargains to agreement on effects of closing; impasse; failure of U to request bargaining w/i five days of E's notice of desire to bargain; subsequent failure of U to bargain in good faith; sum to any Ee not to exceed amount Ee would have earned from date of closing to time Ee secured equivalent employment or date E shall have offered to bargain, whichever occurs sooner; however, Ees shall receive minimum of 2 weeks pay)

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seeburg Corporation and Seeburg Service Parts Co., a single employer 259 NLRB 105

(where E terminated operations suddenly due to order of trustee in bankruptcy, Ees who were laid off after trustee took over and those employed at date of shutdown entitled to backpay for E's refusal to bargain over effects of closing because E still had valuable assets which would have given U some measure of bargaining power and shutdown was not because of calamitous event)

Cleveland Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 038

(where E who had recognized U for 20 years and had current contract closed plant w/o bargaining over decision and effects thereof, backpay ordered until earliest of one of following: E bargains to agreement on decision to close and effects, impasse, U fails to request bargaining w/i 5 days of decision or E's notice to bargain, or U's failure to bargain in good faith)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

(limited backpay requirement accompanied bargaining order requiring E to bargain with U w/i 5 days of decision concerning effects of its closing facility as result of sale and relocation; back pay order designed to make whole Ees for losses, if any, suffered as result of violation and to recreate in some practicable manner situation in which U's bargaining position is not entirely devoid of economic consequences for E)

Ferro Mechanical Corp. 249 NLRB No. 083

N.L.R.B. v. First National Maintenance Corp. 627 F.2d 596 (C.A. 2, July 1980)

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 247 (C.A. 4, May 1981)

(enforcement denied of backpay order involving Ees who declined transfers after partial closing notwithstanding E's unlawful failure to bargain over effects of its closure decision and unlawful offer to transfer Ees unilaterally; placing these Ees on preferential hiring list was sufficient)

8883-2700 Pay relocation expenses

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(Bd did not improperly order preferential hiring list and relocation expenses if E chose not to reopen plant closed in violation of 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(5); 8(a)(3) violation makes inapplicable doctrine that Bd may not set contract terms for parties in 8(a)(5) case, since remedy herein is designed to restore, as much as possible, situation prior to closing and not to impose contract terms)

8883-2800 Rescind unilateral changes

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156

(E ordered to revoke unilateral wage increase if requested by incumbent U with which it had refused to bargain notwithstanding U did not ask for this remedy from ALJ)

Dunham-Bush, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 175

(rescind unlawfully promulgated work rule and any discipline imposed pursuant to rule)

B. F. Oil, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 171

(in addition to backpay as result of unlawful changes, Bd ordered that E reinstate discontinued shift differential and Sunday premium pay if U so requests)

Stewart Granite Enterprises 255 NLRB No. 291

(E to rescind insurance change and wage increase only if U requests same; no requirement that Ees be made whole—there having been no proof that changes worked to reduce Ees' wage or benefit levels)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(ALJ's failure to include in his recommended order requirement that E rescind any unilateral changes he may have instituted subsequent to commencement of its bargaining obligation, held not improper; retroactive bargaining order re-establishes conditions existing before E's ULP activity began, and implicit in order herein is E's obligation to bargain over unilateral changes at U's request; moreover, there are no facts or allegations which could support finding that E instituted, or refused to bargain, over unilateral changes since onset of its bargaining obligation)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031

(Es required to cancel unilaterally instituted change in bill collection procedures whereby salesmen replaced delivery drivers in making c.o.d. collections, and to restore status quo ante to conditions which existed prior to change)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 026

(respondent if requested by U, to withdraw wage proposals it has implemented and reinstate cost-of-living raises)

8883-2812 Grievance procedures

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 633 (C.A. 2, Aug. 1982)

(E's contention that compliance with Bd order requiring E to furnish information requested by U for arbitration requested by U for arbitration of grievance resulting from suspension of Ee would be unduly burdensome because it would require search of thousands of files, rejected, where E's own personnel guide instructed supervisors to check with personnel department for data on previous suspensions in order to avoid disparity; and ALJ made clear that order did not require search of thousands of files and that problems of burdensomeness could be dealt with in compliance stage)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 767 (C.A. 4, Jan. 1982)

(Bd's refusal of U's request for interim dispute resolution mechanism, held properly supported by evidence)

8883-2825 Disciplinary action taken without consulting union

Dunham-Bush, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 175

(rescind unlawfully promulgated work rule and any discipline imposed pursuant to rule)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031

(rescind any disciplinary actions which occurred because, under Es' unilateral change in procedures of collecting c.o.d. payments from customers, salesmen may have lost commissions or accounts due to their failure to personally collect such payments)

8883-2837 Make payments into trust fund

Rockland Lake Manor, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 142

(compensate trust funds for administration costs and other expenses incurred in acceptance of retroactive payments)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028

(E ordered to make payments into benefit funds which it had unlawfully failed to do after expiration of contract; however, determination of any additional amounts, including interest, required to satisfy make whole remedy, left to compliance stage because of variety and complexity of benefit fund agreements)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083

(ancillary questions of interest or penalties due, in instant case, on E's delinquent payments to U trust funds not deferrable to compliance stage of proceedings, since contract contained explicit language defining delinquent contributions which were mandatory liquidated damages)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 061

(where E which had unlawfully dealt directly with Ees during term of bargaining agreement, paying less than contract wage and failing to make payments to pension fund, and failed to use hiring hall as required by contract, subsequently signed and then repudiated another in series of agreements, in order to effectuate policies of Act make whole remedy extended to time of beginning of ULPs during prior contract rather than beginning with latest contract which was repudiated)

Ortiz Funeral Home Corp. (Local 1034, Teamsters, 250 NLRB No. 100

(E to make welfare fund and severance and retirement fund payments it had failed to make on behalf of unit Ees)

Traffic Control Services, Inc., and Its Trustee in Bankruptcy, Albert Rau 249 NLRB No. 077

(whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit fund in order to remedy unlawful discontinuance of payments left to compliance stage to be determined by provisions pertaining to each fund or evidence of loss directly attributable to unlawful withholding of payments)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79

(make payments, w/o interest, into trust fund)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antoninino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(E ordered, upon request of U w/i 60 days, to pay into health and pension trust fund all monies it unlawfully withheld from fund and continue payments until new bargaining agreement negotiated or impasse reached, notwithstanding contention order punitive in view of fact E had provided better insurance during period, since E had chosen to incur additional expense of program in order to undermine U)

Peerless Roofing Co., Ltd. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 734 (C.A. 9, Apr 4, 1981)

(Bd's remedy requiring E to make trust fund payments following expiration of collective bargaining agreement, not unlawful under Sec. 302(c)(5) where trust funds were established by documents separate and apart from collective bargaining agreement and E's obligation to make trust fund payments survived expiration date of collective bargaining agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 691 F.2d 1023 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1982)

(where E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by discontinuing contributions to health and welfare fund after collective-bargaining agreement expired and Bd found liability for period running to date of its Order, case remanded to Bd for determination of whether because parties resumed bargaining after unilateral change they did not reach impasse at some point. E's liability will run from date of change to date when parties execute new agreement or reach lawful impasse)

8883-2838 No recission where changes beneficial to employees

Post Manufacturing Company 251 NLRB No. 153

(nothing, in order remedying unlawful unilateral wage raise shall be construed as requiring recission of any wage increase or benefit which previously had been granted to unit Ees)

8883-2850 Resume deduction and transmittal of dues pursuant to checkoff

8883-2850-5000 Reimburse union for dues not transmitted

Independent Stave Company 248 NLRB No. 025

(pay over to U sum of money, plus interest thereon, equal to sum of all dues checked off and not remitted to U)

8883-2863 Reinstate pension and/or other benefit plans

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164

(order of Bd that E reinstitute its pension-plan as it existed as of December 31, 1978, although allegedly unqualified by reason of IRS ruling 78–403, doesnot preclude parties from bargaining over any proposed change intended to retain IRS qualification; order restored status quo ante and placed parties in position they would have enjoyed but for E's illegal conduct)

8883-2887 Reinstate number of hours worked as they existed

Wellman Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 029

(restore discontinued third shifts and make overtime voluntary if U so requests)

8883-2909 Preferential hiring

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033

(to remedy effects of its failure to bargain regarding effects of closing of one of its plants, E ordered to establish preferential hiring list of all terminated U Ees following seniority provisions in bargaining agreement, and, if operations resumed, offered Ees reinstatement)

Forro Mechanical Corp. 249 NLRB No. 083

(place on preferential hiring list all Ees unlawfully terminated as result of plant closure w/o bargaining and offer reinstatement in event E resumes any part of terminated operations)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(Bd did not improperly order preferential hiring list and relocation expenses if E chose not to reopen plant closed in violation of 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(5); 8(a)(3) violation makes inapplicable doctrine that Bd may not set contract terms for parties in 8(a)(5) case, since remedy herein is designed to restore, as much as possible, situation prior to closing and not to impose contract terms)

8883-3500 Furnish budget expenditures for nonunit work

Times-Herald, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 135

(affg prior supplemental decision, Bd ordered E publishing newspaper to furnish U information as to aggregate amount of E's editorial budget expended for production of 5 named newspaper columns produced by nonunit writers, with aggregate amount meaning total sum expended for the 5 columns; Bd based order on its finding that amounts paid to individual nonunit writers should remain confidential and that it is appropriate to protect such a writer from disclosure of his compensation to entity not representing him, particularly absent any demonstrated need by U to have such information on individual basis)

8883-4200 Restore benefits and privileges

Rochester Institute of Technology 264 NLRB No. 135

Carpenter Sprinkler Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 60 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(order that wage and benefit levels be returned to status quo ante prior to E's unilateral change, inappropriate in view of basic disagreement over levels of wages and benefits, it being unfair to hold E to prior contract terms which caused it to withdraw from multi-E unit)

8883-4256 Health care services and benefits

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 040

(where E's change in organizations administering health insurance plans was found unlawful unilateral change in health care insurance plans, Bd, although rescinding pursuant to ct remand portion of order requiring restoration of original organization, ordered E to restore all services and benefits available under original health plan, including basis used for computing charges or, in the alternative, payment of same level of benefits, and to provide labor consultant to handle Ees' insurance claims)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 653 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, July 1981)

(where E unilaterally changed insurance plans and its action resulted in some favorable and some unfavorable changes to Ees, Bd's supplemental order held w/i scope of ct remand and consistent with precedent where order provided both for restoration of working conditions or benefits improperly denied and for monetary compensation for any losses sustained)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 653 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, July 1981)

(E's contention that Bd's order as to health care services will allow windfalls to Ees, rejected, since Ees will receive no benefits above cost to Ee of the health services provided; and E offered no specific evidence to support its claim of administrative burden)

8883-4268 Bonus

Aeronca, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 026

(make Ees whole for loss of benefits due them by paying them value of lost benefits, Christmas turkey)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 026

(E to reinstate Ee bonus and make Ees whole for any bonus accrued prior, or subsequent, to discontinuation of bonus payments)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076

(E ordered to pay Christmas bonus and continue to pay bonus until it bargains in good faith with U or until U refuses to bargain in good faith over its cessation)

8883-4294 Hot lunch program

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040

(E to reinstate subsidized cafeteria lunch privileges)

8883-4500 Restitution for unilateral changes

Van Dorn Plastic Machinery Co., Division of Van Dorn Company 265 NLRB No. 036

(E to make Ees whole for benefits lost as result of unilateral decision regarding paid lunch policy and for adverse effects of unilateral change in attendance/tardiness program including reinstatement as appropriate)

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040

(E to make Ees whole for any losses occasioned by its withdrawing privilege of eating lunch at E's subsidized cafeteria)

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031

(Es ordered to reimburse salesmen for added time and cost of performing their sales' duties resulting from Es' unlawful unilateral change in bill collection procedures whereby salesmen replaced delivery drivers in making c.o.d. collections)

8883-4525 For lost wages and benefits

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020

(where E had unlawfully adopted lower wage scale for new Ees, E ordered to make whole any Ee who has received wages lower than those he would have received if E had not changed wage scale)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166

(while predecessor E was apparently dissolved as legal entity when successor E took over its business, Bd should have opportunity during subsequent compliance proceedings to determine whether it was possible for predecessor, if it should ever resume business, to comply with order requiring it to c/d from engaging in 8(a)(5) conduct and to reimburse former Ees for loss of their vacation pay due to predecessor's unlawful unilateral action)

8883-4550 Following expiration of contract

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028

(E ordered to make payments into benefit funds which it had unlawfully failed to do after expiration of contract; however, determination of any additional amounts, including interest, required to satisfy make whole remedy, left to compliance stage because of variety and complexity of benefit fund agreements)

South Shore Hospital 256 NLRB No. 001

(rescind unilateral changes in wages, benefits and working conditions and make Ees whole for any losses incurred, i.e., overtime, call-in-work pay, vacations, health insurance coverage during certain unpaid leaves of absence, and shift differentials)

8883-4575 By successor

Saks & Company v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 681 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(Bd's order rescinded where ct faound unilaterial imposition of terms and conditions of employment not violative as successor E did not indicate when it hired Ees of predecessor that it planned to hire them all or continue with same terms and conditions of employment)

8883-4700 Restitution for wages and benefits under contract

N.L.R.B. v. Columbia Building Materials, Inc. 624 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd's task is to fashion remedy for ULPs that will restore economic status quo that would have existed but for ULP; backpay order herein w/i remedial authority of Bd since it does no more then return affected Ees to economic state which they would have enjoyed absent unilateral wage change)

8883-4900 Offer to accept grievance for processing

U.S. Utilities Corporation 254 NLRB No. 055

(E ordered to arbitrate grievances over layoffs prior to 10(b) and to waive objections based on timeliness of any arbitral proceedings though not whether grievances were timely filed)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 061

(In order to allow U to file grievance over Ee's discharge after they receive information which E originally refused to provide)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80

(parties ordered to proceed directly to arbitration where E unlawfully refused to submit grievance to Joint Standing Committee which was third step in grievance procedure since to remand for consideration at third step would merely be' accomodating run-around being engineered by Respondent and... requiring an empty ritual)

8883-5400 Cease solicitation for dominated or assisted union

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041

8883-5600 Grant union representative access to plant

Peoples Gas System, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 150

(on remand Bd did not hold bargaining order appropriate in view of extraordinary amount of time that had elapsed since E's initial refusal to bargain and Bd's prior issuance of bargaining order, and fact U had lost election; however, second election ordered in view of E's initial withdrawal of recognition since reasonable to assume E's act led to U's loss of majority; mailing of notice of election to Ees not ordered nor was E ordered to allow U access to its property since U will be furnished list of Ees)

Tet Wah Restaurant 251 NLRB No. 010

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd's extraordinary requirement for U access to plants at which U was Ee representative was justified for determining any repetition of conduct and for preventing impairment of U's effectiveness as representative; however, in requiring such access at E's non-U plants, Bd's order was not remedial with respect to charge involving interference with U as representative and cannot be sustained, particularly in view of other order provisions requiring notice be given to Ees throughout company of action taken on ULPs herein)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(direct plant access for U organizers as remedy limited to site of ULP, but not warranted unless alternative means of access are clearly unavailable or have been tried and found wanting)

8883-5633 Access to company bulletin board

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(access to bulleting boards granted in cases in which E had extended history of unlawful conduct as well as in cases in which such access was ordered to remedy flagrant violation, outrageous conduct, or a gross interference with Ees' organizational rights)

8883-6400 Furnish data concerning complaints filed with government agencies

Safeway Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 953 (C.A. 10, Oct. 1982)

(E ordered to furnish U copies of EEO complaints and charges filed against E, with only names deleted as this is sufficient to protect members' rights)

International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 18 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1980)

(E must provide U with compilation of numbers, types, dates and alleged basis of discrimination complaints filed but not with copies of complaints themselves)

8883-6500 Furnish information and reports filed with government agencies

Safeway Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 953 (C.A. 10, Oct. 1982)

(E ordered to furnish U information concerning handicapped Ees from records of recent audit by Office of Federal Compliance where one purpose of audit was to identify handicapped Ees, notwithstanding E's computer had no code identifying handicapped)

International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 18 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1980)

(E not required to furnish entire affirmative action plan (AAP) as it contains much information not relevant to collective bargaining; moreover, agency with which AAP is filed is prohibited by law from disclosing report and it would be incongruous to allow another agency to force its disclosure)

8883-7500 Restitution for wages and benefits under contract

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(unilateral change in E's formula to determine wage raises made computation of raises unclear, remedy in Master Slack Et. Al. 230 NLRB 1054, 1057 (1977) was warranted)

G. Beamo Contractors, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 097

(E ordered to make Ees whole by making fringe benefit fund payments required by bargaining agreement. However, because provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements are variable and complex, Bd does not provide at adjudicating stage of proceeding for addition of interest at fixed rate on unlawfully withheld fund payments question of whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit fund in order to satisfy make whole remedy left to compliance stage. Additional amounts may be determined by reference to provisions in documents governing funds, or absent governing provisions, evidence of loss directly attributable to E's unlawful withholding)

Hewett Maintenance Corporation 260 NLRB No. 135

(E who unilaterally changed health insurance plans at expiration of contract ordered to make Ees whole for loss of medical benefits to extent that costs which would have been paid by old plan were not actually paid by new plan)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(broad order warranted in view of U's implementation of its policy of performing total job at worksite resulting in secondary boycott violations)

1125-0150 Proclivity to violate Act as basis for broad order

English Coal Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 165
(broad c/d order appropriate where Bd relied upon formal settlement agreement, which did not contain nonadmissions clause, to show a proclivity to violate Act, and which contained language permitting later use in Bd-related proceedings)

Longshoremen's Association, Local 1180 (Kenneth E. Mason, an Individual) 263 NLRB No. 134
(broad c/d order not warranted, notwithstanding Respondent had twice previously entered into informal settlement agreements involving identical alleged misconduct, since informal settlement agreement not basis for finding proclivity to violate Act)

Carpenters Union Local No. 1622, UBCJA (Robert Wood & Associates, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 138
(broad order to remedy unlawful secondary boycott warranted in view of Respondent U's proclivity to violate Act as demonstrated by charges of similar violations in three other cases and resulting formal settlement stipulations since stipulations did not contain nonadmissions clause; not necessary for cases to be consolidated since Respondent's actions in each case warranted issuance of broad remedial order)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

Local Lodge Number 5, Boilermakers (Regor Construction Company, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 105
(no broad order in view of Bd's discontinuation of automatic adoption of broad orders in discharge cases and fact that finding by other judicial bodies of violations of other statues by respondent international U does not establish proclivity to violate this Act)

1150 NARROW ORDERS

International Photographers of the Motion Picture Industry, Local 659, et al.(Medway Productions, Inc.) 250 NLRB No. 052
(sufficient in circumstances of case)

Local 24, Hotel & Restaurant Employees (George Dorn, an Individual) JD-414-82
(narrow order issued to remedy U's failure and refusal to refer U member by removing his name from job referral list, since U was not shown to have proclivity for committing ULPs, and in operation of U hall distinction between objective discretion and an ad hominem approach to job referrals is easily blurred)

1175 CEASE-AND-DESIST ORDERS RELATING TO SPECIFIC VIOLATIONS

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(U ordered to c/d from applying its bylaw prohibiting members from allowing members of other Us to do work coming under U's jurisdiction, in such a manner as to induce or encourage its members to engage in unlawful secondary boycott activities, in support of U's claim to performance of total job at worksite; however, while application of bylaw under instant facts is restrained, bylaw itself may otherwise be validly implemented)

District Council No. 2 of The Brotherhood of Painters and Allied Trades, AFL-CIO (The Paintsmiths, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 017
(c/d order modified, on remand, so as to apply only to situations where appointment of a steward would displace a worker who is already on the job)

Plumbers, Local 388 (Charles Featherly Construction Co.) 252 NLRB No. 062
(Bd ordered that Respondents c/d from threatening and picketing with object of forcing or requiring Es, or inducing and encouraging Ees, in violation of Sections 8(b)(4)(i) and (ii), to cease d/b/b with non-U contractor generally rather than only at construction projects at which violations took place herein)

Sheet Metal Workers' Union Local 355 (Zinsco Electrical Products) 254 NLRB No. 092
(where U unlawfully caused E to discharge Ee for not complying with U security provisions and E lacked culpability, U liable for losses of wages and benefits until Ee is reinstated or obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere unless E refuses U's request to reinstate Ee in which case from that time forward burden of backpay shifts to E)

4450 BACKPAY PERIOD

4450-2500 Beginning of period

4450-2825 Date of discrimination caused by union

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158
(period of U's backpay liability held to extend from date of discharge through date that employment of discriminatees would have ceased as result of E's completion of construction project, where U failed to comply with Pen and Pencil requirement, applicable when Bd's order and backpay specification issued, of notifying both E and discriminatees that it had no objection to their employment in order to toll backpay; moreover, U did not comply with later Sheet Metal and Iron Workers cases, since it failed to affirmatively request E to reinstate discriminatees)

Teamsters Local Union No. 528 (Associated Grocers Co-Op) 265 NLRB No. 065
(U ordered to make dischargee whole for any loss of earnings he may have suffered as result of U's unlawful action in refusing to process his grievance over his termination, from date of discharge rather than from date U refused his request to file grievance)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092
(U's notice to E that it did not object to immediate reinstatement of discriminatees and letter to Ees stating same in attempt to terminate backpay liability found invalid where conditioned on Ees maintaining U membership to extent required by law; additional notice to E also invalid where Ees were not informed individually and in writing)

4450-2850 Date discriminatee requested union to present grievance

Teamsters Local Union No. 528 (Associated Grocers Co-Op) 265 NLRB No. 065
(U ordered to make dischargee whole for any loss of earnings he may have suffered as result of U's unlawful action in refusing to process his grievance over his termination, from date of discharge rather than from date U refused his request to file grievance)

4450-5000 End of period

4450-5005 Union notification of employer and discriminatee that it has no objection to discriminatee's reinstatement, reemployment or employment

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158
(period of U's backpay liability held to extend from date of discharge through date that employment of discriminatees would have ceased as result of E's completion of construction project, where U failed to comply with Pen and Pencil requirement, applicable when Bd's order and backpay specification issued, of notifying both E and discriminatees that it had no objection to their employment in order to toll backpay; moreover, U did not comply with later Sheet Metal and Iron Workers cases, since it failed to affirmatively request E to reinstate discriminatees)

Colonial Baking Company of Springfield 264 NLRB No. 072
(U's backpay liability to Ee to be terminated after it notified E and Ee that it no longer had any objection to his employment with E; such liability to terminate 5 days after U tendered appropriate notices)

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139
(liability shall terminate 5 days after notification to E and discriminatee)

C. B. Display Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(U's backpay liability to be tolled 5 days after U gives notice to E that it has no objection to hiring of discriminatee notwithstanding job U refused to refer him to was short term as discriminatee may have been hired for subsequent jobs absent discrimination; violation is a continuing one and will not be tolled until E notified)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092
(U's notice to E that it did not object to immediate reinstatement of discriminatees and letter to Ees stating same in attempt to terminate backpay liability found invalid where conditioned on Ees maintaining U membership to extent required by law; additional notice to E also invalid where Ees were not informed individually and in writing)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092
(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America, Local 262 (Hemisphere Broadcasting, Inc.) JD-437-80
(backpay period ordered to run from date U unlawfully caused E to discharge Ee, until 5 days after U gives required written notice to E and Ee that it has no objection to E's employment of Ee)

Plumbers Local Union No. 83 (Power City Plumbing & Heating Inc.) JD-38-80
(where issue raised by charge was U's responsibility for causing Ee's discharge by subtle pressures on Ee-members not to work alongside Ee, U's statements of non-objection to E's employing Ee made to E's president at time when complaint based on the charge was still pending, held not unequivocal and not sufficient to toll backpay, especially since statements were not made to Ee and U did not discipline its agents and members who were found to have contributed to Ee's discharge)

Plumbers Local Union No. 83 (Power City Plumbing & Heating Inc.) JD-38-80
(U's letter sent allegedly to RD's office and to discriminatee stating that U had no further objection to E's employment of discriminatee, held insufficient to toll backpay, since there was no evidence that letter was received either by discriminatee or by RD and no evidence that copy of letter was sent to E)

4450-5049 Date that employment of discriminatees would have ceased as result of completion of construction project

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158
(period of U's backpay liability held to extend from date of discharge through date that employment of discriminatees would have ceased as result of E's completion of construction project, where U failed to comply with Pen and Pencil requirement, applicable when Bd's order and backpay specification issued, of notifying both E and discriminatees that it had no objection to their employment in order to toll backpay; moreover, U did not comply with later Sheet Metal and Iron Workers cases, since it failed to affirmatively request E to reinstate discriminatees)

4450-5065 Date union fulfills duty of fair representation

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC, On Behalf of Its Local Union No. 15167 (Memphis Folding Stairs, Inc.) 238 NLRB No. 068
(backpay is tolled as of time Ee is reinstated, obtains substantially equivalent employment or U secures consideration of her grievance and pursues it with due dilligence whichever is sooner)

4450-5063—Cont.

United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America and Local 1105, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Westinghouse Electric Corporation) 254 NLRB No. 161

(U that unlawfully delayed filing grievance over promotion ordered to pay grievant backpay from time it should have filed grievance until time it did so notwithstanding grievance subsequently dismissed on its merits since backpay not contingent on outcome of grievance and U failed to prove that its delay in processing grievance did not cause her to be denied promotion)

4450-5072 Date discriminatee obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere

Boston Cement Masons & Asphalt Layers Union Local No. 534 (Duron Maguire Eastern Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 158

(U's defense to backpay specification on ground that its backpay liability should have ceased when discriminatees got jobs with Es under contract with U, rejected)

Teamsters Local 559, an affiliate Of The International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 006

(Bd found that job offered to discriminatee by another E was not substantially equivalent to position held by Ee before discharge, although same kind of work, where wages earned at new job were significantly lower than wages Ee had earned at previous position; U's back pay liability for refusing to process Ee's grievance in regard to his discharge was not tolled on date of new job but extends until E extended valid offer of reinstatement to discriminatee)

International Chemical Workers Union, Local No. 190 (FMC Corporation) 251 NLRB No. 204

(where U unlawfully refused to process grievance over discharge, and grievance became time barred under bargaining agreement as Bd will presume that arbitration procedure would have resulted in decision favorable to dischargee since failure to arbitrate is fault of U and it is proper to resolve doubts against wrongdoer)

4450-7500 Tolling (See headings under 625-4450-7500)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's notice to E that it did not object to immediate reinstatement of discriminatees and letter to Ees stating same in attempt to terminate backpay liability found invalid where conditioned on Ees maintaining U membership to extent required by law; additional notice to E also invalid where Ees were not informed individually and in writing)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

4467 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

4467-1800 Employer refused to reinstate discriminatee discharged pursuant to union security clause

Sheet Metal Workers' Union Local 355 (Zinsco Electrical Products) 254 NLRB No. 092

(where U unlawfully caused E to discharge Ee for not complying with U security provisions and E lacked culpability, U liable for losses of wages and benefits until Ee is reinstated or obtains substantially equivalent employment elsewhere unless E refuses U's request to reinstate Ee in which case from that time forward burden of backpay shifts to E)

4483 ULPS INVOLVED

4483-1700 Causing discrimination

Teamsters Local Union No. 515 (Cavalier Corporation) 259 NLRB No. 094

(where U discriminated against Ee who had resigned his U membership by processing grievance which resulted in his removal from position entailing overtime, it was ordered to withdraw grievance and process no further grievances because of his resignation and to reimburse him for lost overtime wages)

4483-2500 Refusing to process grievance

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001

(Bd ordered U, which unlawfully failed to process Ee's discharge grievance, to pursue grievance in good faith with due diligence and to make Ee whole for any loss of earnings, notwithstanding that E most likely would assert that grievance was contractually time-barred and Ee could not show that discharge was contrary to U contract; Bd has not made a backpay award conditioned on merits of grievance, and Ee's lawful discharge has nothing to do with U's ULP; and since uncertainty whether processing of grievance would have resulted in milder or no discipline is to be resolved against wrongdoer)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001

(U ordered to make Ee whole for any loss of earnings he may have suffered as result of his lawful discharge for cause, where U unlawfully failed to process Ee's discharge grievance and grievance appeared contractually time-barred, but U might be able to prevail upon E to waive those limits; accordingly, backpay period is to run from date of discharge until U secures consideration of his grievance by E and thereafter pursues grievance with all due diligence, or Ee is reinstated by E or obtains substantially equivalent employment, whichever is sooner)

Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund d/b/a Three Hundred South Grand Company 257 NLRB No. 178

(E and U ordered jointly and severally to reimburse Ee sum equal to difference between contractual wage and rate she was actually paid, where E permitted supervisor to handle grievances of members of U in which supervisor held positions of president and member of executive board, and U breached duty of fair representation by not giving her grievance protesting not being paid contract wage fair consideration)

Teamsters Local 559, an affiliate Of The International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 006

(Bd held, contrary to U's contention that backpay award was punitive and therefore prohibited because it was assessed w/o determination as to merit of discriminatee's grievance, that for purpose of allocating monetary responsibility, Bd presumed if grievance had been fully and fairly processed, it would have been found meritorious and discriminatee would have been reinstated with back pay)

Teamsters Local 559, an affiliate Of The International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc.) 257 NLRB No. 006

(where U had unlawfully failed to represent Ee concerning grievance relating to his discharge, burden is on U to show that barred grievance will be properly and promptly entertained by E and upon such showing Bd may find it proper to refrain from making backpay award but retain jurisdiction over entire case pending proper and prompt resolution of grievance)

International Chemical Workers Union, Local No. 190 (FMC Corporation) 251 NLRB No. 204

(where U unlawfully refused to process grievance over discharge, and grievance became time barred under bargaining agreement as Bd will presume that arbitration procedure would have resulted in decision favorable to dischargee since failure to arbitrate is fault of U and it is proper to resolve doubts against wrongdoer)

Local 99, International Ladies Garment Workers Union (Associated Retail Stores, Inc.) JD-(NY)-46-81

(where arbitrator rightfully found that Ee's discharge was legitimate, backpay is not appropriate remedy even if it was proved that U should have represented him in more competent fashion in filing grievance, since at worse, remark made by U leader could only be shown to restrain Ee in his access to Bd)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd properly resolved uncertainty in merit of grievance against U which created such uncertainty by unlawful act, through its improper investigation of grievance which made it impossible to determine merits of grievance)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 1052 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(backpay not assessed against U for alleged breach of duty of fair representation by failing to process grievance where no finding by Bd grievance had merit. Otherwise, discharge grieved might not have violated contract and backpay thus punitive and Ee rewarded for her misconduct)

4483-3300 Breach of duty of fair representation

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006

(loss of earnings to job applicants who refused referral from hiring hall because they were not informed of change in hiring hall procedure)

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006

(remedy (requesting Es hire applicants from hiring hall for employment they would have had but for U's unlawful conduct) for U's failure to refer applicants from hiring hall to Es, inappropriate in instant case where discrimination found involved short term or temporary jobs)

United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, Local 878 (Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company) 255 NLRB No. 032

(U ordered to post notice stating it will not prevent non-U unit Ees from receiving grievance pay, notwithstanding U has charged posititiion and notified E that Ee entitled to pay)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 1052 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(backpay not assessed against U for alleged breach of duty of fair representation by failing to process grievance where no finding by Bd grievance had merit. Otherwise, discharge grieved might not have violated contract and backpay thus punitive and Ee rewarded for her misconduct)

4483-5000 Illegal fines

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128

(Ee reimbursed for losses and expenses caused by U's unlawful 8(b)(1)(A) conduct against him by requiring U reimburse Ee for lost health insurance benefit coverage applicable to unreimbursed medical expenses incurred and his personal premium expenses incurred in securing for himself essentially comparable insurance)

4483-6700 Causing loss of earnings by injuring employee

General Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers and Yardmen, Local No. 470, a/w Teamsters (Connelly Containers, Inc.) JD-469-81

(no backpay to remedy unlawful granting of superseniority to steward for purpose of job selection, where no connection between driver seniority and earnings, thus no necessity to make whole senior Ees affected financially by operation of unlawful superseniority system)

5500 REIMBURSEMENT ORDERS

5511 DUES, INITIATION FEES, AND ASSESSMENTS

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175

(where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modifications, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, E and U ordered, jointly and severally, to reimburse all present and former Ees, except those who joined or signed U cards prior to the effective date of contract, for moneys paid by or withheld from them after such effective date for initiation fees, dues, or other obligations of membership in U)

Hervitt Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064

(U and E not required to reimburse Ees for monies deducted pursuant to coercively obtained dues-checkoff authorizations since Ees were subject to lawful U-security provision obligating them to pay U sums deducted)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(U and E jointly severably liable to reimburse Ees for unlawfully checked off dues where notwithstanding valid U-security clause dues were without during first 45 days of employment and Ees had not executed check-off authorization cards and had no obligation to pay dues or fees during that period)

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 66 (Houston Lighting and Power Company) 262 NLRB No. 061

(U ordered to make member, whose resignation from U and revocation of dues checkoff authorization was unlawfully refused by U whole for any monies tendered to U by E during relevant period on behalf of member pursuant to checkoff provisions, together with interest thereon)

C. B. Display Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140

(U ordered to reimburse discriminatee for reinitiation fee and monthly dues he was unlawfully required to pay by U notwithstanding the complaint alleged a refusal to refer because of failure to pay dues in June and discriminatee paid dues 5 months later; moreover, fact that 5 months passed before U's unlawful demand was satisfied does not diminish propriety of reimbursement as this is necessary to remedy June demand for such money)

Pipefitters Union Local No. 120 (Schweizer Dipple, Inc.) 260 NLRB No. 045

Berry-Mahurin Construction, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 171

(U, which had unlawfully required job applicants to become members of local U and execute checkoff authorizations as prerequisite for referral in right to work state, ordered to reimburse individuals who had paid dues or initiation fees, either directly or through payroll deductions, unless individuals shown to have agreed to such payment voluntarily and w/o regard to referral system)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038

(Bd refused to order reimbursement of initiation fees, dues, and contributions for U benefit funds deducted as result of enforcement of provisions held violative of Section 8(e) to individuals who were held independent contractors since insufficient evidence as to losses directly attributable to actual coercion; further, make whole reimbursement order generally over broad and inappropriate in context of Section 8(e) violations and aggrieved independent contractors may prove damage claim under Section 303 of Act)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082

(U not required to reimburse independent contractor truck owner-operators for payment of initiation fees or dues resulting from enforcement of agreement unlawful under 8(e))

Actors' Equity Association 247 NLRB No. 172

(where U maintained and enforced U security requirement that non-resident aliens pay dues of 5 percent of gross earnings while requiring significantly less dues from resident members, U ordered to reimburse all alien members for difference between amounts they paid as dues and amounts they would have paid if considered resident members)

Local 572, Teamsters (Ralphs Grocery Company) 247 NLRB No. 108

(although U sought and caused unlawful discharge of Ee for failing to pay dues pursuant to U-security agreement, Bd did not order refund of reinitiation fee paid to obtain reinstatement and, instead, awarded Ee only loss of earnings incurred, since there was no evidence of inconsistent enforcement and no allegation that Ee did not actually owe the fee under U's bylaws)

International Brotherhood of Security Personel Officers and Guards, formerly known as L. Joseph Overton & Associates JD-(NY)-44-82

(refund unlawful retroactive dues and initiation fee)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)

(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

Brotherhood Railway Carmen of the United States and Canada, Lodge 365, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 819 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(as violation for collecting assessment only technical in nature and U could still go against members who paid assessment but now request reimbursement, or pass proper assessment against members, Bd order, by placing heavy burden on U for locating and reimbursing all members who paid said assessment, held punitive and not appropriate)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(dues reimbursement remedy held appropriate where coercion of Ees was established by fact that Ees joined U, which E unlawfully assisted, after U made misrepresentations to them that their selection for permanent jobs hinged upon their U membership)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(contention that dues reimbursement remedy is inappropriate in situation herein involving illegal assistance to U by E and misrepresentations by U in soliciting U authorization cards, on ground such remedy is punitive rather than compensatory, rejected, since remedy would effectuate policy of Act by returning to Ees money paid to support U they did not freely choose to join)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 759 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)

(U and contractors not ordered to reimburse indpendent contractors-truck operators-for dues, fees and contributions paid to U under unlawful 8(e) contract which required operators to join U as U members receive benefits, and since no violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(A) alleged make whole remedy would be punative and beyond power of Bd as no showing operators were coerced into joining U)

5512 SERVICE FEES OR ASSESSMENTS IMPOSED ON NONMEMBERS

5512—Cont.

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 253 NLRB No. 027
(U ordered to return to non U Ees all service fees imposed as prerequisite for unit members' receiving wages, hours, and terms and condition of employment for which U has bargained for)

5522 HIRING HALL FEES

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(E and U ordered to reimburse Ees for all moneys extracted from them by unlawfully requiring them to join U; order does not apply to Ees who joined U prior to employment with E)

5522-3300 Service or referral fees

Highway and Local Motor Freight Employees, Local No. 667 (Spector Freight System, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 035
(U to reimburse each applicant or Ee who made payments to U for its referral system when in actuality no such system existed; liability limited by Section 10(b) to 6-month period prior to filing and service of original charge)

5534 MEDICAL INSURANCE OR EXPENSE

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 253 NLRB No. 027
(U primarily liable to make whole present or former Ees or their estates who may have suffered reduced insurance coverage or increased insurance costs by charging nonU Ees service fee as condition to continue in U medical plant)

5555 REINSTATEMENT FEES

Teamsters Local 296, Sales Delivery Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers Union w/o Teamsters (Northwest Publications, Inc.) 263 NLRB No. 104
(where U violatively fined member/supervisor for performing certain prestart job tasks required of supervisor it is ordered to rescind fine and expunge all records of fine from its files)

Local 714, Operating Engineers (Contractors Foundation Drilling Company) 262 NLRB No. 142
(Respondent local U required to reimburse discriminatee for his expenses in being reinstated to membership in good standing in his home local where Respondent Us notified home local not to accept discriminatee's dues and this violative conduct caused discriminatee to be suspended from his local)

Local 572, Teamsters (Ralphs Grocery Company) 247 NLRB No. 108
(although U sought and caused unlawful discharge of Ee for failing to pay dues pursuant to U-security agreement, Bd did not order refund of reinitiation fee paid to obtain reinstatement and, instead, awarded Ee only loss of earnings incurred, since there was no evidence of inconsistent enforcement and no allegation that Ee did not actually owe the fee under U's bylaws)

N.L.R.B. v. Construction and Building Material Teamsters Local No. 291 633 F.2d 291 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where U had unlawfully caused E to discharge Ee for delinquency in dues payments, U was not ordered to pay back to Ee reinitiation fee he had paid to regain his U membership; it is by means of this type of sanction that U can discourage delinquency, and nothing in this case suggested that failure to waive reinitiation fee did not comport with past practice)

5570 LITIGATION COSTS AND EXPENSES

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 282, Teamsters No. 29149, Mar. 28, 1980, C.A. 2 (unreported)
(U violated Section 8(b)(4) by picketing neutral E during labor dispute with trucking company that performed delivery services for E and found in contempt for violating prior judgments and contempt adjudications and required to pay fine, refrain from committing further violations of prior adjudications, post appropriate notices, mail copies to all U members, be subject to prospective fines for additional violations, reimburse NLRB for all its expenses)

5570-0100 Generally

District Union 227, United Food (The Kroger Co.) 247 NLRB No. 023
(E's request that U be required to reimburse it for expenses incurred in defending Section 301 suit, filing of which was held to be violative, since object was to compel arbitration of discriminatorily motivated grievance concerning alleged misclassification of Ee who had crossed picket line, denied; cases involving suits by Es against individuals whose ULP charges had been dismissed distinguished as to level of misuse of judicial process)

5570-5000 Types of litigation expenses

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(Bd declined to grant attorney's fees to Ee, whose discharge grievance U unlawfully failed to process, which was requested in order that Ee might be represented by his own attorney during any grievance/arbitration proceeding; Bd's order herein requiring U, under backpay liability, to pursue grievance in good faith and with due diligence provides adequate incentive for U so that it will responsibly represent Ee in his grievance)

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 1507 (General Electric Company) 252 NLRB No. 066
(order requiring U to reimburse Ee for loss of wages and other expenses incurred as result of having to secure his rights through recourse to Bd's processes, inappropriate, where defenses which U had raised were debatable, rather than frivolous)

5577 WELFARE PENSION AND OTHER FUND PAYMENTS

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128
(wages paid to Ee in equivalency for fringe benefits on government funded jobs, if established as paid to Ee, would properly qualify as offsets to mitigate U's insurance expenses; and also available to offset pension benefits)

Local Union No. 418, Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, AFL-CIO (Young Plumbing & Supply, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 128
(Ee's pension benefit credit reinstated retroactively and U, because of its 8(b)(1)(A) conduct, ordered to pay pension fund amount necessary to vest Ee with pension credit for hours worked during backpay period)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36 (Terra Trucking Company) 249 NLRB No. 038
(Bd refused to order reimbursement of initiation fees, dues, and contributions for U benefit funds deducted as result of enforcement of provisions held violative of Section 8(e) to individuals who were held independent contractors since insufficient evidence as to losses directly attributable to actual coercion; further, make whole reimbursement order generally over broad and inappropriate in context of Section 8(e) violations and aggrieved independent contractors may prove damage claim under Section 303 of Act)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 12; et al. (Maas & Feduska, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 175
(reimburse E for all funds paid to U's trusts on behalf of all nonunit executives and supervisors)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082
(U not required to reimburse independent contractor truck owner-operators for their contributions to U benefit funds as result of enforcement of agreement unlawful under 8(e))

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(welfare, vacation, and pension fund administered by E-U trustees held agent of both E and U for limited purpose of accepting contributions from U ordered by Bd to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits; for such purpose, fund is mere receptacle into which U must pay contributions in order to carry out Bd's backpay order and make Ee-beneficiaries whole for U's ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(limited agency of welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees to receive U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits held not to confilict with common law principles or with ERISA provisions requiring trustees of such fund not be subject to control of any other person or organization, since it does not extend to trustees' decision involving investment of trust funds or determination of eligibility requirements for benefits)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(compliance by welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees, and its acceptance of U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual benefits held to fall squarely w/i fiduciary duty of fund's trustees imposed by ERISA and common law requiring administration of trust solely in interest of its beneficiaries; moreover, trustees have duty to take possession of trust property as soon as reasonably possible)

Griffith Company; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 406 (C.A. 9, Oct 1981)
(contributions to joint E-Ee pension funds which were not extracted by unlawful means since collected under agreement w/i Section 8(e) construction industry proviso and Us did not engage in forbidden self help to compel compliance)

5577-7800 Credit to pension fund for past service

Dellwood Foods, Inc., f/k/a Deltown Foods, Inc. JD-(SF)-213-81

(predecessor's Ees who were discriminatorily denied transfer to purchaser's facility because U representing Ees of purchaser refused to clear nonmember Ees for employment, were entitled to past service pension credit where evidence in record as whole showed terms of executed Settlement Stipulation, although not clear and unambiguous, was intended to provide for full past service pension credit to discriminatees for all prior employment in industry)

5582 LOSS OF EARNINGS

Painters Local Union No. 1178, (Roland Painting, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 171

(Bd ordered U to make Ee whole for any loss of earnings he may have suffered as result of U's unlawful failure to refer him for employment)

Teamsters Local Union No. 515 (Cavalier Corporation) 259 NLRB No. 094

(where U discriminated against Ee who had resigned his U membership by processing grievance which resulted in his removal from position entailing overtime, it was ordered to withdraw grievance and process no further grievances because of his resignation and to reimburse him for lost overtime wages)

Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 1507 (General Electric Company) 252 NLRB No. 066

(order requiring U to reimburse Ee for loss of wages and other expenses incurred as result of having to secure his rights through recourse to Bd's processes, inappropriate, where defenses which U had raised were debatable, rather than frivolous)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082

(U not required to reimburse independent contractor truck owner-operators for loss of income resulting from enforcement of agreement unlawful under 8(e); make whole remedy inappropriate for 8(e) violations)

International Longshoremen's Association, Local 1414 JD-357-80

(make whole discriminatee for any loss of earnings he may have suffered by not being referred to jobs in proper sequence as called for in U's bylaws because of outstanding debt to U's credit)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, June 1980)

(where Ee was lawfully discharged for leading unauthorized work stoppage, ct denied enforcement of Bd's order that U reimburse Ee for any wages he might have lost because of his discharge notwithstanding that U failed, in violation of 8(b)(1)(A), to represent Ee in more competent fashion; it is inappropriate to require U to bear responsibility for pay that Ee had no right to receive and would not have received even had U represented him in more competent fashion)

5588 JOINT LIABILITY OF UNION AND EMPLOYER

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's backpay liability found jointly and several with E's liability and extends from date of discharge until five days after date U gives written notice to E and each discriminatee that it no longer has any objection to their immediate reinstatement, and thereafter until it joins E in submitting consent order to dismiss ct proceeding instituted by it for preliminary inj restraining E from reinstating wrongfully discharged Ees)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)

(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(E's bargaining with U that lacked majority support among E's Ees, violative and E and U were jointly and severally liable to make whole unlawfully discharged Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation and United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO 660 F.2d 1207 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)

(in denying enforcement of Bd order, ct held joint and several backpay liability should not be imposed on E and U since, by analogy to Sec. 30(a) of LMRA, such liability should be imposed only if discharges were contrary to bargaining contract and if U breached its duty of fair representation, which were not present herein; likewise, record did not show that any Sec. 7 rights of dischargees were responsible for their discharge)

5591 PERSONS SUBJECT TO ORDER

N.L.R.B. v. Local No. 12, Operating Engineers 673 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(Bd order requiring U to reimburse E for monies it unwilling contributed to U-trust funds for its president and vice-president enforced where Bd determined that U had committed ULP by requiring E to contribute; however, ct cannot require Bd to order E reimbursed for similar contributions to trusts which were not subject of ULP charge)

5597 EXPENDITURES MADE BY EMPLOYER UNDER INDIVIDUAL CONTRACT THAT EMPLOYER WOULD NOT HAVE MADE UNDER MULTI EMPLOYER OR INTERNATIONAL UNION CONTRACT

Local Union No. 420, Plumbers (Paragon Mechanical) 254 NLRB No. 051

(where U unlawfully coerced E into complying with local U agreement rather than agreed upon national contract by striking E and not giving proper notice under Sec. 8(d), U ordered to reimburse E for any expenditures it incurred pursuant to local agreement which it would not have incurred under national agreement)

5598 MAKE WHOLE REMEDY

Joint Council of Teamsters, No. 42 v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

(remanded to Bd to fashion appropriate make-whole remedy where U's violation of Section 8(e) caused independent contractors to pay to support U they did not freely choose to join; moreover, fact that U did not violate Section 8(b)(4) does not preclude award as truck owners were coerced into U membership by ULP)

6600 BARGAINING ORDERS

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007

(if costs of furnishing requested health and safety information substantial, parties to bargain as to allocation of costs of retrieving it and if no agreement is reached, U is to receive access to records from which it can reasonably compile requested information to extent records do not include trade secrets or individual medical records with identifying medical data)

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007

(parties to bargain over method of providing U with necessary health and safety information as to substances used in plant while safeguarding E's and its suppliers' legitimate propreitary interests)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC (L & S Products, Inc.) 253 NLRB No. 129

(Bd's traditional remedy of requiring respondent international U to demonstrate its majority status only by means of Bd certification held inappropriate where election, purporting to affiliate Ee committee with respondent U was ineffective and void because election was conducted in violation of minimal standards of democratic procedure or due process, and parties' existing agreement barred R election and record did not otherwise indicate possible raising of qcr; accordingly, Bd ordered respondent U to refrain from demanding or accepting recognition and bargaining unless and until majority of Ees have selected U)

Local #197, Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO (McLean County Electrical Contractors Association, Inc.) JD-(SF)-369-80

(no affimrative bargaining order directed; resolution as to whether bargaining best effectuated on single-E or multi-E basis left to parties with caveat that absent consent of all parties to any group bargaining, bargaining must be conducted on single-E basis)

Local 345, Utility Workers of New England, Inc (New England Power Service Company) 261 NLRB No. 073

(Bd held that, in present posture of case involving third supplemental decision after two ct remands, Us should not now be required to mail to each member a letter advising them that Us violated Act; instead, posting of notice should be sufficient to inform members of Us' unlawful conduct)

8811-3314 Rescind contract

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175

(E and U ordered to cease giving effect to contract unless and until U shall have been certified by Bd where, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modification, E made concealed payments involving large sums of money to U officials, representing 10-percent kickback from all business referred to E by U; such concurrent actions tainted and undermined parties' bargaining relationship and contract negotiated by them while payments were being made)

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175

(in ordering E and U to cease giving effect to contract because, at time E and U were negotiating midterm contract modification, contract was tainted by concurrent unlawful concealed payments made by E to U officials in form of kickbacks from all business referred to E by U, Bd held fact that individuals participating in kickbacks did not engage in contract negotiations does not affect conclusion herein; although such individuals may not have personally participated therein, they were U's president and executive vice president, and E's president, and their divorce from actual negotiations is not determinative of issue)

8811-3316 Rescind unlawful fine, fees or assessments

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(Bd ordered U, which unlawfully failed to process Ee's discharge grievance, to pursue grievance in good faith with due diligence and to make Ee whole for any loss of earnings, notwithstanding that E most likely would assert that grievance was contractually time-barred and Ee could not show that discharge was contrary to U contract; Bd has not made a backpay award conditioned on merits of grievance, and Ee's lawful discharge has nothing to do with U's ULP; and since uncertainty whether processing of grievance would have resulted in milder or no discipline is to be resolved against wrongdoer)

8811-3372 Request reinstatement of dischargee

Teamsters Local Union No. 528 (Associated Grocers Co-Op) 265 NLRB No. 065

(make Ees whole remedy generally inappropriate and overbroad in terms of 8(e) violations)

Joint Council of Teamsters, No. 42 v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(remanded to Bd to fashion appropriate make-whole remedy where U's violation of Section 8(e) caused independent contractors to pay to support U they did not freely choose to join; moreover, fact that U did not violate Section 8(b)(4) does not preclude award as truck owners were coerced into U membership by ULP)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 759 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)
(U and contractors not ordered to reimbruse indpendent contractors-truck operators-for dues, fees and contributions paid to U under unlawful 8(c) contract which required operators to join U as U members receive benefits, and since no violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(A) alleged make whole remedy would be punative and beyond power of Bd as no showing operators were coerced into joining U)

675 PROCEEDINGS TO DETERMINE BACKPAY LIABILITY (FOR COMPUTATION OF BACKPAY SEE HEADINGS UNDER 625-4433)

0100 GENERALLY

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(contention that GC's authority and discretion in compliance matters is analogous to that granted him under Sec. 3(d) of Act with respect to issuance of complaints, and that, therefore, his action in compliance matters is also final, rejected, since in compliance matters GC does not act on his own initiative as he does in issuance of complaints but as Bd agent in effectuating remedy ordered)

Ace Beverage Co. 250 NLRB No. 066

(Bd found no jurisdictional bar to review of GC's action in compliance stage and to issues raised by mtn for determination of compliance with Bd's order, since Sec. 101.13(b) of Bd's Statements of Procedures provides that, despite compliance, Bd's order is continuing one and that closing of case is conditioned upon continued compliance with order, which is equally true when proposed backpay formula fails to comply with order as it is when respondent has breached compliance provisions)

Adams Delivery Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-275-81

(bankrupt E's application for removal of proceeding to bankruptcy court found ineffective due to exemption of Bd proceedings from removal statute, and Bd held to have retained jurisdiction to determine merits of case)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(purpose of backpay orders is to make Ee whole for discrimination against him and to deter E from further unlawful activity)

1000 BACKPAY SPECIFICATION PROCEEDINGS

I.T.O. Corporation of Baltimore 265 NLRB No. 169

(R/R 102.53 does not only limit backpay proceeding to determination of amount of money owed; purpose is to resolve controversy in compliance situations)

2000 TIME OF DETERMINATION

2050 DETERMINED IN ULP PROCEEDING

F & F Construction Co., Inc., and Roland L. Barker, d/b/a R. L. Barker Construction Company 262 NLRB No. 98

(individual d/b/a sole proprietorship, liable notwithstanding he was not respondent in underlying ULP case since he was found herein to be alter ego of respondent company, where he had discontinued that company's operations and formed sole proprietorship after issuance of Bd decision in the ULP case)

2075 DETERMINATION LEFT TO COMPLIANCE STAGE OR SUPPLEMENTARY PROCEEDING

Salloff Publications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 139

(determination of what reduction in hours Ees suffered as result of unlawfully established and implemented seniority system)

C & E Distributing, Inc./Carlson-Emery Enterprises, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 074

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 138

Women Care, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 060

(purchase agreement contained indemnity clause that purports to apportion liability for backpay between seller and purchaser; meaning and scope of clause purporting to apportion liability for backpay left to compliance stage)

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafayette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029

(Bd affirmed ALJ's refusal to allow respondent's counsel to continue questioning apprentice about his own opinion of his abilities as an apprentice and about jobs he had quit as relevant to backpay, since backpay issues should be resolved in compliance proceedings and testimony sought was not probative evidence as to knowledge and motivation of apprenticeship board members who decided to terminate apprentice, and evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Barry S. Selof, M.D., A Professional Corporation, d/b/a The Victoria Medical Group and The West Jefferson Medical Group 264 NLRB No. 019

(adequacy of E's offers of reinstatement to some of discharged Ees should be disposed of in compliance stage of instant proceedings)

(seniority of discriminatees)

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(amount that E must pay as part of make-whole remedy to Ee benefit fund contributions and interest was left to compliance stage)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028

(E ordered to make payments into benefit funds which it had unlawfully failed to do after expiration of contract; however, determination of any additional amounts, including interest, required to satisfy make whole remedy, left to compliance stage because of variety and complexity of benefit fund agreements)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090

(whether E would have reached striker for recall even had E filled vacancies with strikers after certain date before striker's starting his job with construction company and whether that job constituted regular and substantially equivalent employment left for compliance proceedings)

Operating Engineers Local 406 (Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Corporation) 262 NLRB No. 006

(loss of earnings to job applicants who refused referral from hiring hall because they were not informed of change in hiring hall procedure)

G. Bosma Contractors, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 097

(E ordered to make Ees whole by making fringe benefit fund payments required by bargaining agreement. However, because provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements are variable and complex, Bd does not provide at adjudicating stage of proceeding for addition of interest at fixed rate on unlawfully withheld fund payments question of whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit fund in order to satisfy make whole remedy left to compliance stage. Additional amounts may be determined by reference to provisions in documents governing funds, or absent governing provisions, evidence of loss directly attributable to E's unlawful withholding)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 122

(ALJ erred in not allowing evidence to be taken at hearing about unconditional offer of reinstatement by E and rejection by discriminatee, but instead relegated taking of such evidence to compliance stage)

Plumbers Local Union No. 403, a/w Plumbers (Pullman Power Products) 261 NLRB No. 040

(resolution of issues concerning possibility of unavailability of some of members of sister locals (travelers) for employment during certain times during backpay period deferred to compliance stage where question was not sufficiently litigated to permit conclusive determinations as to particular travelers)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025

(Bd deferred to compliance stage issue of whether E should not have to reinstate discriminatee even if his discharge was unlawful because he was allegedly drunk when he had accident while driving E's truck since there was insufficient evidence that such was E's general practice in like cases)

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 129

(among factors bearing on remedy properly left for consideration at compliance stage of proceeding involving E's telling individual to apply for job through referral system run by U which subsequently discriminated against him because he was not U member were that job was largely staffed when individual tried to register for referral there, that little hiring took place after violation committed by U and E, and that U required certain tests to be passed prior to referral)

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(determination of when reinstated discriminatee should have been recalled to job to which she was entitled left to compliance process or if no accomodation is reached, to back pay stage of proceedings where there was no indication one way or other in record whether other new Ees were hired for job to which discriminatee would have been entitled between time she was made permanent layoff and her recall, or thereafter)

Dammer Company d/b/a Madison Smith Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(Bd left to compliance stage determination of job availability and possible backpay liability where E failed to establish that applicants were not qualified for employment had their applications been lawfully considered)

Texaco, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 170
(determination of exact date when Ee was released from medical care where record was not clear)

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 091
(determination of representative period for purpose of determining E's backpay liability left to compliance proceedings where issue was not fully litigated at hearing)

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(mtn to reopen hearing to admit additional exhibits, denied where exhibits all post-dated hearing and were relevant only to amount of backpay due discriminatees, which was issue to be decided at compliance stage of proceedings)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065
(determination of amounts (of dues) actually lost by U, if any, left to compliance stage of instant proceedings as record did not reveal whether unlawfully solicited Ees otherwise continued to tender dues to U apart from checkoff mechanism)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(whether date Ee, who was on sick leave at onset of strike and unable to work during strike, began to picket should be determinative of when he was able to return to work, thus ending his entitlement to sick benefits, or if he was medically able to return to work earlier, left to compliance stage)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(date Ee who had been on sick leave at onset of strike entitlement to sick leave benefits ended left to compliance stage, where GC and Ee who have access to Ee's medical records failed to demonstrate extent of Ees entitlement to continuing sick benefits during strike, in particular date of medical release)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(date which Ee who had been on sick leave at onset of strike entitlement to sick leave benefits ended left to compliance stage, where only clear evidence of Ee's ability to return to work was medical release, but where also evidence Ee may have been able to return to work prior to medical release)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(ancillary questions of interest or penalties due, in instant case, on E's delinquent payments to U trust funds not deferrable to compliance stage of proceedings, since contract contained explicit language defining delinquent contributions which were mandatory liquidated damages)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 053
(E was estopped from asserting its purported withdrawal from or nonmembership in multi-E association as defense to its failure to abide by terms of contract negotiated by multi-E association since, because of E's long history of participating in multi-group E bargaining arrangement involved, E was bound to give some positive notice of its intention not to participate or be bound by negotiations)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 171
(Bd left to compliance stage issue of Ee's reinstatement and whether he rejected earlier offer of reinstatement)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(additional evidence can be presented by E as to forefeiture of reinstatement rights by dischargees at compliance stage of proceeding where E failed to establish sufficient basis to deny reinstatement rights to dischargees at C hearing before ALJ)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(any loss of earnings ULP striker due to being reinstated to position other than his former position)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004
(in denying GC's mtn for summary judgment in proceeding on backpay specification, Bd ordered hearing limited to determination of net interim earnings of discriminatees and to issue of whether Es are successor Es responsible for remedying ULPs herein)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(deferral to compliance stage of proceeding the determination of whether certain individuals were ULP strikers and, if so, whether or not they were fully reinstated, entirely appropriate and w/i authority of compliance officer when record does not adequately establish Ee's status and/or degree, if any, of reinstatement)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 080
(whether E had made sufficient offer of reinstatement of strikers left to compliance stage)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128

Camay Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(determining E's contributions still owing to Ee benefit fund)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 045
(where GC moved to amend order to include those Ees who were later allegedly revealed to be in same situation as Ees included in decision and respondent did not reply to motion, Bd granted GC's alternative request to permit parties to litigate during compliance proceedings the status of the Ees in question)

Boilermakers, Local Union No. 154 (Western Pennsylvania Service Contractors Association, etc.) 253 NLRB No. 096
(backpay formula left to compliance stage of proceeding where there might be several classes of persons discriminated against for whom different approaches might be indicated)

St. Francis Hospital 252 NLRB No. 174
(E's mtn to reopen record which asserts that subsequent to hearing, Ee was arrested for distributing marijuana, pleaded guilty to charge, and that E has policy of discharging such Ees, more appropriately left to complaince stage of proceeding)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 184
(any dispute over application of guidelines concerning costs of compilation and furnishing requested information will be treated in compliance stage of proceeding)

Bacchus Wine Cooperative, Inc., and Bacchus Wine International 251 NLRB No. 207
(Bd declined to reopen record to admit evidence of E's alleged business reverses making reinstatement of unlawfully discharged Ees to comparable positions impossible, since such matters are more appropriately handled at compliance stage of proceeding)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(interest payments on additional amounts E must pay into benefit funds to satisfy Bd's make-whole remedy)

Dial Tuxedos, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 064
(question of whether E must pay any additional amounts into benefit funds in order to satisfy Bd's make whole remedy left to compliance stage of instant case, since provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements were variable and complex)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 057
(whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit funds in order to satisfy make whole remedy left to compliance stage)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(fruther hearing required to determine if 2 Ees quit during strike or are eligible for backpay)

Trojan Transportation, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 084
(period for computation of backpay and seniority commenced from date of unlawful discharges, notwithstanding E's contention that period should have commenced from date discriminatees' replacements were added to work force, since discriminatees were not recalled but were unlawfully discharged; however, E permitted to attempt to mitigate its backpay liability by showing in compliance proceedings that discriminatees would have been laid off for economic reasons at some time after date of discharges, had Ees not been unlawfully discharged)

Traffic Control Services, Inc., and Its Trustee in Bankruptcy, Albert Ros 249 NLRB No. 077
(whether E must pay additional amounts into benefit fund in order to remedy unlawful discontinuance of payments left to compliance stage to be determined by provisions pertaining to each fund or evidence of loss directly attributable to unlawful withholding of payments)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003
(Bd left to compliance stage question of whether E must pay additional amounts into various funds in order to satisfy make-whole remedy since provisions of Ee benefit fund agreements were variable and complex and Bd did not provide at adjudicatory stage of proceeding for addition of interest at fixed rate on unlawfully withheld fund payments)

2075—Cont.

Bide-A-Wee Home Association 248 NLRB No. 110
(E not precluded by Bd's order from attempting to prove in compliance stage of proceeding that unlawfully discharged strikers incurred willful loss of earnings by continued participation in strike after their date of discharge)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 6[illegible]
(ALJ's ruling to exclude evidence of E's alleged unconditional offer of reinstatement, appropriate since issue of alleged offer of reinstatement is matter best raised during compliance stage of the proceeding)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050
(Bd's findings and conclusions in ULP case are binding and may not be relitigated in subsequent backpay proceeding, and applicability of contract, adjudicated in present ULP proceeding, cannot be litigated at compliance stage herein)

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 106
(E's contention that it made valid offers of reinstatement to discriminatees left to compliance stage of proceedings)

H. S. Brooks Electric, Inc., K & F Electric Co. Inc., and Waldemar Nikolai, Their Agent 247 NLRB No. 082
(E's defense of assignment transferring assets to fund in question and of tender of offer to pay contributions to fund on behalf of discriminatees held not litigable herein but to be considered upon compliance)

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. 005
(extent to which discriminatees failed to avail themselves of hiring hall referrals or to sign roster and participate in new referral system instituted after issuance of original complaint alleging unlawful refusal to refer and operation of hiring hall in unlawful manner where new referral system was subject of recent charge)

Lorard Industries, Limited JD-293-82
(in view of adverse economic conditions, determination of when, if at all, Ees would have been laid off or recalled, absent discrimination, left to compliance stage of instant proceeding; immediate reinstatement or recall not required if it appears in compliance stage Ees are not entitled thereto)

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82
(reinstatement of principal dancer at an appropriate interval after Bd Order so as to allow discriminatee to condition himself for job is matter to be handled in compliance procedures)

Shelby Processing Company, A Whooly Owned Subsidiary of Fasano Industries JD-191-82
(successor E's claim that it had ceased operations and was no longer in business)

Clifford Cook, d/b/a Pinnacle Company and Pinnacle Roofing Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-196-79
(make payments, w/o interest, into trust fund)

U. S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-90-81
(whether entitled to overtime payments)

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-584-80
(backpay entitlement of discriminatees referred to compliance where issue of backpay allegedly due them was not litigated at ULP hearing)

W S H Construction Company, Inc., J. B. Shannon and James A. Hurd, Equipment Rental Company JD-70-80
(details of how many, if any, permanent replacements were hired and classification in which they worked, their hours, rates of pay, and the like, relegated to compliance stage of instant proceeding)

Quality Masonry Company and Top Quality Masonry, Inc. DS-1538-81 (09/25/81)
(use of words actually employed in Settlement Stipulation did not preclude finding in conpliance stage that persons performing unit work were Ees and not independent contractors)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(evidence in support of E's allegations that Ee participated in robbery at company a year after his discharge may be introduced at compliance stage of proceedings on issues of Ee's right to reinstatement and backpay)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(where Bd found E was responsible for supervisor's physical assault on U steward who was engaged in protected concerted activity and ordered make-whole remedy, ct set aside Bd finding of continued disability and directed that these issues be considered and definitive findings made at compliance hearing)

Carpenters, Local # 308 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(broad order requiring E jointly and severally with U to make whole discriminatee, who was denied referral by U and consequently employment by E, for any loss of earnings from date of denial of employment until discontinuance of unlawful discrimination is consistent with Bd's usual policy of resolving such issues in compliance proceedings wherein temporary nature of work for which discriminatee's application was denied will undoubtedly be considered)

N.L.R.B. v. Trident Seafoods Corp. 642 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 9, Mar 23, 1981)
(ct reaffirmed Bd's right to defer determination of amount of back pay liability until after its award has been enforced; E has opportunity at compliance proceedings to present all of its objections to individual back pay awards)

N.L.R.B. v. East Belden Corporation 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E's complaint that amounts claimed for back wages were unreasonable was found not in issue in court proceeding but must await backpay proceeding)

4000 PLEADINGS

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-421-81
(although it may have been prejudicial to GC to allow E to raise issues in second amended answer for first time nearly 8 months after backpay specification issued, it was appropriate to grant E opportunity to file such answer, since E's last-minute change in counsel, although not condoned, was motivated by original counsel's unfamiliarity with labor law and not by desire to prolong proceedings; Bd's R/R require ALJ to inquire fully into facts of case before him; and an insufficient answer may preclude E from litigating what may be meritorious defenses)

4015 IMPROPER OR LATE FILING OF, OR FAILURE TO FILE ANSWER

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc., and Gary C. Nelson Electric 260 NLRB No. 003
(allegations of backpay specification deemed admitted as true, since E's mtn to stay proceeding did not specifically deny or respond to allegations as required by Sec. 102.54(b) of Bd's R/R or explain E's failure to file timely answer)

Standard Materials, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 094
(mtn to strike backpay specification because answer not sworn to and did not contain post office address as required by Bd's R/R, denied, where response to Notice to Show Cause for Summary Judgment cured above defects and was treated by Bd as amended answer though no amendment to Specification filed and Bd's R/R provide that its rules shall be liberally construed)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(Respondent filed general denial to backpay specification but disputed end of backpay period, and thereafter, GC filed amended specification modifying backpay period in line with Respondent's objections to which Respondent filed no ans, nor appeared at hearing, nor responded to Notice To Show Cause, Mtn for Summary Judgment granted in view of lack of specificity in ans which under Bd's R/R allegations are deemed admitted, thereby precluding Respondent from offering evidence)

4025 SUFFICIENCY OF PLEADINGS

4025-0100 Generally

Teckwal Corp. and E.M. Andrews Sales, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 122
(Es held precluded from amending ans to deny single E status which they previously admitted where Es offered no reason for change of position; import of Sec. 102.54(b) and (c) required more from Es than complete change in position w/o explanation or supporting affidavits)

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 098
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification in which respondent U's amended ans sufficiently raised issue as to interim earnings but its general denial as to backpay period or computation of gross backpay was insufficient to bring such matters into issue, Bd remanded case for hearing limited to determination of discriminatees' interim earnings, including whether or not they enjoyed any interim employment during backpay period)

4025-2000 General denial insufficient

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 264 NLRB No. 087
(allegations of gross backpay specification, except as to interim earnings, deemed admitted as true and GC's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment granted where respondent filed general denial w/o specifically denying gorss backpay allegations, providing alternative formula, or explaining his failure to do so; assertion, in answer to NOtice to Show Cause, that he lacked knowledge because GC had subpoenaed his records held untimely and inadequate to explain his failure to seek information from GC, trial record, or elsewhere; general denial concerning interim earnings, however, sufficient to raise issue warranting hearing)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(GC's mtn for partial summary judgment on net backpay allegation in specification, and mtn to strike E's answers thereto, denied, where E's answers made general denials to specification's allegations and, since E's general denials on issue of interim earnings is directly related to computation and accuracy of net backpay which, in turn, is dependent upon data derived from interim earnings, E's general denials are sufficient to require hearing on issue)

Fugazy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168
(in partial summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, GC's mtn to strike portions of E's answers, which either deny generally or fail to explain adequately allegations of specification, granted, since E's answers are nonresponsive and not in conformity with Bd's R/R)

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 098
(GC's mtn for summary judgment with respect to backpay specification issued to respondent U, denied; although U's original ans, amounting to general denial of entire backpay specification, would not have been adequate under Bd's R/R, U's subsequently submitted documents stating that general denial was based on lack of information concerning discriminatees' employment prior to their present jobs, were construed by Bd as an amended ans which adequately raised interim earnings issue; and since interim earnings are not generally w/i knowledge of respondent, a general denial is sufficient to place them in issue)

Teamsters, Local No. 17 (Universal Studios and Warner Brothers, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 098
(although denying GC's mtn for summary judgment and ordering hearing concerning portion of backpay specification dealing with interim earnings raised as issue by respondent U's amended ans, Bd held that, inasmuch as U had not raised issues in its original ans or amended ans regarding other matters in backpay specification pertaining to backpay period or gross backpay, U's general denial was not sufficient to bring such matters in issue)

Jerome Fink & Sons, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 146
(general denial of allegations of backpay specification insufficient to comply with Section 102.54 of R/R as wages and working hours of Ees are ordinarily w/i knowledge of E and here where violation involved unilateral change in wages, backpay involves what Ees should have received under contract and wages actually received)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held E's ans constituting a general denial failed to comply with Bd's R/R Sec. 102.54(b) and (c) as to compliance matters w/i E's knowledge, where ans did not dispute accuracy of specification's figures or provide any alternative formula for computing amounts owed; and inasmuch as Ees' hours worked and pay rates are presumed to be w/i E's knowledge, ans was insufficient to deny specification's allegations concerning gross backpay and amounts owed to benefit funds)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held general denials in E's answers of allegations concerning interim earnings were sufficient to require hearing on such issue since it is not presumed that amount of interim earnings is normally w/i knowledge of E)

Marine Machine Works, Inc.; et al. 256 NLRB No. 004
(in summary judgment proceeding on backpay specification, Bd held E's general denial as to all allegations were insufficient under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.54(b) and (c); and since no explanation or response to notice to show cause was filed, E is deemed to have admitted all allegations in specification, except those regarding interim earnings, to be true)

Standard Materials, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 094

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(backpay specification as to interim earnings remained uncontradicted and deemed true, notwithstanding Respondent's general denial as to interim earnings and that general denial sufficient to defeat summary judgment since Bd does not presume interim earnings w/i knowledge of Respondent, inasmuch as hearing ordered and held and Respondent failed to avail itself of opportunity to contest interim earning figure which GC had burden of establishing)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(general denial of allegations concerning interim earning in backpay specification is sufficient under R/R Section 102.54 to defeat mtn for summary judgment on that issue since Bd does not presume that amount of interim earnings is normally w/i knowledge of Respondent)

4025-4000 Grounds for disagreement must be stated

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(GC's mtn to strike figures in E's ans to backpay specification which alleged lesser number of hours per week which discriminatees would have worked but did not set forth any formula utilized to arrive at figures, granted since data w/i E's knowledge and failure to set forth fully or furnish supporting figures contrary to requirements of Bd's R/R Section 102.54(b))

Petros Coal Corporation and Blue Coal Corporation 257 NLRB No. 016
(mtn for summary judgment granted and backpay specification deemed admitted as true where E, found successor herein, failed to file answer; E and successor E held jointly and severely responsible for back pay remedy)

Seven Motors Ltd., d/b/a Mazda South; et al. 252 NLRB No. 116
(allegations of backpay specification accepted as true and summary judgment granted where Responsent failed to comply with requirement)

3 States Trucking, Inc., and Its Successor, Southern Illinois Minerals Corporation 252 NLRB No. 153
(where backpay specification selected representative Ee for purpose of determining discriminatee's quarterly gross pay and E did not challenge that Ee's selection when it filed its answer and amended answer but did so on second day of backpay liability hearing, E precluded from raising issue)

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102
(ALJ's reliance on gross earnings formula contained in E's amendment to its ans to backpay specification held appropriate, notwithstanding GC's contention that reliance on formula did not satisfy requirements of Sec. 102.54(b) of Bd's R/R, since Respondent's original ans satisfied Section's requirements and GC did not object to proposed amendment)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82

4025-6000 Respondent must give correct backpay figure

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(GC's mtn to strike figures in E's ans to backpay specification which alleged lesser number of hours per week which discriminatees would have worked but did not set forth any formula utilized to arrive at figures, granted since data w/i E's knowledge and failure to set forth fully or furnish supporting figures contrary to requirements of Bd's R/R Section 102.54(b))

Jerome Fink & Sons, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 146

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82

4025-8000 Respondent must plead matters within its knowledge

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(GC's mtn to strike figures in E's ans to backpay specification which alleged lesser number of hours per week which discriminatees would have worked but did not set forth any formula utilized to arrive at figures, granted since data w/i E's knowledge and failure to set forth fully or furnish supporting figures contrary to requirements of Bd's R/R Section 102.54(b))

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(backpay specification as to interim earnings remained uncontradicted and deemed true, notwithstanding Respondent's general denial as to interim earnings and that general denial sufficient to defeat summary judgment since Bd does not presume interim earnings w/i knowledge of Respondent, inasmuch as hearing ordered and held and Respondent failed to avail itself of opportunity to contest interim earning figure which GC had burden of establishing)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(general denial of allegations concerning interim earning in backpay specification is sufficient under R/R Section 102.54 to defeat mtn for summary judgment on that issue since Bd does not presume that amount of interim earnings is normally w/i knowledge of Respondent)

4025-5080 Failure to deny or explain why information cannot be furnished constitutes admission

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 184
(allegation of E's liability for retirement and profit-sharing plan payments deemed admitted as true where E denied allegation as it is written w/o further explanation, did not argue that it lacked adequate information about the plans to ascertain amounts due or make a mtn requesting that backpay specification be made more specific or deny that discriminatees were eligible for coverage under the plans)

4025-8050—Cont.

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 264 NLRB No. 057

Fuguzy Continental Corp. 260 NLRB No. 168

(GC's mtn for partial summary judgment with respect to certain allegations in backpay specification granted since E's answers thereto are general denials and not adequately explained and, therefore are deemed to be admitted as true)

Nelson Electric, Gary C. Nelson, Inc., and Gary C. Nelson Electric 260 NLRB No. 003

(allegations of backpay specification deemed admitted as true, since E's mtn to stay proceeding did not specifically deny or respond to allegations as required by Sec. 102.54(b) of Bd's R/R or explain E's failure to file timely answer)

Bighorn Beverage 254 NLRB No. 081

(summary judgment granted where E had not filed answer to backpay specification and had not offered any explanation for its failure to do so)

Ralph Schaffner, an Individual d/b/a Schaffner Construction Co. 252 NLRB No. 136

(Respondent's contention that ptn for summary judgment in backpay proceeding should be stayed pending discharge of Respondent's ptn from Bankruptcy ct in which Bd and discriminatees are named as creditors, rejected, since adjudication in Bankruptcy does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction or authority to process ULP case to final disposition; since mtn to stay did not specifically deny or respond in any way to allegations of backpay specification, allegations of specification are deemed admitted)

4050 AMENDMENT OF PLEADINGS

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81

(where GC's amended backpay specification withdrew any claim for backpay for discriminatee during period covered by initial specification, liability for backpay subsequent to such period specifically reserved)

4050-0100 Generally

Standard Materials, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 094

(mtn to strike backpay specification because answer not sworn to and did not contain post office address as required by Bd's R/R, denied, where response to Notice to Show Cause for Summary Judgment cured above defects and was treated by Bd as amended answer though no amendment to Specification filed and Bd's R/R provide that its rules shall be liberally construed)

Kraft Plumbing & Heating, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-82

(after hearing started, ALJ granted GC's mtn to substantially amend backpay specification and E's mtn to withdraw its ans)

High Performance Tube, Inc. JD-(ATL)-45-82

(E may amend its answer prior to hearing even in absence of amendment to specification)

4050-3300 Both General Counsel and respondent bound by pleadings

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102

(ALJ's reliance on gross earnings formula contained in E's amendment to its ans to backpay specification held appropriate, notwithstanding GC's contention that reliance on formula did not satisfy requirements of Sec. 102.54(b) of Bd's R/R, since Respondent's original ans satisfied Section's requirements and GC did not object to proposed amendment)

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82

(Respondent filed general denial to backpay specification but disputed end of backpay period, and thereafter, GC filed amended specification modifying backpay period in line with Respondent's objections to which Respondent filed no ans, nor appeared at hearing, nor responded to Notice To Show Cause, Mtn for Summary Judgment granted in view of lack of specificity in ans which under Bd's R/R allegations are deemed admitted, thereby precluding Respondent from offering evidence)

4050-6700 Amendment to modify backpay period permitted

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82

(Respondent filed general denial to backpay specification but disputed end of backpay period, and thereafter, GC filed amended specification modifying backpay period in line with Respondent's objections to which Respondent filed no ans, nor appeared at hearing, nor responded to Notice To Show Cause, Mtn for Summary Judgment granted in view of lack of specificity in ans which under Bd's R/R allegations are deemed admitted, thereby precluding Respondent from offering evidence)

4075 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

4075-0100 Generally

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(under Bd's R/R Section 102.54 it was too late for E to dispute basis for measure of gross backpay for certain discriminatees in briefs, where it did not raise position in hearings)

Teckwal Corp. and E.M. Andrews Sales, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 122

(Es held precluded from amending ans to deny single E status which they previously admitted where Es offered no reason for change of position; import of Sec. 102.54(b) and (c) required more from Es than complete change in position w/o explanation or supporting affidavits)

4075-5000 Defenses which may be raised in backpay proceeding

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(no willful loss of earnings nor denial of backpay results therefrom where discriminatee who was pipefitter took sales job in department store at less pay, since discriminatee did not leave his trade by choice but was laid off from interim job as pipefitter, and absent evidence pipefitting jobs available; further, layoff of pipefitters at interim E was not unusual)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(where discriminatee's illness risk of living generally rather than result of interim employment presumption warranted that discriminatee would have become ill if he had remained in Respondent's employ and would have received any sick pay customarily paid by Respondent)

Material Transportation Co., Inc. and its successor Sco-Ric Trucking, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 133

(GC's mtn for partial Summary Judgment denied where GC alleged that Respondent failed to supply supporting figures as required and that alleged successor-E failed to file timely answer; Bd found that E's answer constituted more than general denial in that it alleged percentage reduction in work for each discriminatee and satisfied requirements of Sec. 102.54(b); Bd also held that matter of successorship is properly in issue and denied mtn for partial Summary Judgment against that E ordering hearing to determine successorship)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

(E may mitigate his backpay liability by showing willfully incurred loss by a clearly identifiable refusal to take desirable new employment; but since affirmative defense burden is upon E to prove necessary facts, such burden is not met by presenting evidence of lack of Ee success in obtaining interim employment or of low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively show that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82

(service of copy of backpay specification and notice of hearing on attorney of record for respondent-partner in underlying ULP case (partnership dissolved since C case completed) held proper notice to partner though not served, since attorney filed timely ans to specification, appeared at hearing, participated in litigation on all issues and interests not prejudiced)

Ridgeway Trucking Company and Sand & Stone Transport, Inc. JD-23-82

(where Ee attempted to conceal interim earnings from Bd by failing to tell Bd that he had worked on irregular basis in orange grove, but told truth in time for correct backpay specification, Ee was awarded backpay)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(evidence in support of E's allegations that Ee participated in robbery at company a year after his discharge may be introduced at compliance stage of proceedings on issues of Ee's right to reinstatement and backpay)

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and JMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)

(E may, w/o incurring back pay liability, refrain from reinstating discriminatorily discharged Ee during period when employment would not have been available for him even absent discrimination)

4075-6700 Defenses which may not be raised in backpay proceeding

H. S. Brooks Electric, Inc., K & F Electric Co. Inc., and Waldemar Nikolai, Their Agent 247 NLRB No. 082

(defense that respondent is defunct held issue, not properly raised in backpay proceeding; is w/o legal significance and not an issue for Bd to resolve)

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82

(individual's status as partner in partnership business in underlying ULP case, unless there were sufficient equitable considerations to warrant reopening record in underlying ULP case)

6017-6700 ALJ must recommend most accurate method of computing backpay, not merely determine whether General Counsel's formula is reasonable

George A. Angle d/b/a Kansas Refined Helium Company 252 NLRB No. 162

J. S. Alberici Construction Co., Inc. 249 NLRB No. 102

(notwithstanding parties stipulated to interim earnings figures, ALJ's rejection of gross earnings formula to which interim earnings were keyed caused ALJ to reject interim earnings when they could not be utilized in gross earnings formula adopted by ALJ)

6025 GENERAL COUNSEL HAS BURDEN OF GOING FORWARD WITH EVIDENCE AFTER ISSUE HAS BEEN RAISED AS ACCURACY OF BACKPAY SPECIFICATION

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(once Respondent showed discriminatee quit comparable interim job burden shifts to GC to show decision to quit reasonable; absent such showing by GC, quitting is willful loss of earnings)

Tri-Maintenance & Contractors, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 014

(earnings of replacement Ees during backpay period are appropriate measure of gross backpay of discriminatees; time sheets listing replacements' time allocated to various facilities served by E unreliable indicator of time actually spent at various locations, since they were not authenticated and were, merely allocations of time for accounting purposes)

6033 RESPONDENT HAS BURDEN OF PROVING DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS BACKPAY

6033-0100 Generally

Inland Empire Meat Company 255 NLRB No. 172

(E failed to meet its affirmative burden of proving that claimant did not diligently seek work during backpay period where it relied upon its examination of claimant and alleged impeachment of claimant's testimony where claimant's testimony about his diligent effort to find work was credited)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104

(fact discriminatee has low or even non-existant interim earnings does not of itself prove his or her failure to seek employment during backpay period)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104

(where discriminatee asserted she sought employment at various Es during backpay period Respondent did not meet its burden of proof regarding its claim that discriminatee did not seek employment during period where it failed to call as witnesses representatives of Es from whom discriminatee claimed to have sought employment, despite fact that these reports had been turned over to Respondent before trial)

M Restaurants, Incorporated d/b/a The Mandarin v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 336 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(when Bd establishes existence of ULP and gross amount of backpay due, burden shifts to E to prove circumstances which would limit its liability)

6033-1700 General Counsel's role in producing backpay claimants for cross-examination merely advisory and cooperative

Woonsocket Health Centre 263 NLRB No. 179

(where Ees entitled to backpay had moved to another city and did not appear at hearing, Bd awarded amount of backpay in specification and ordered backpay held in escrow for one year; RD to arrange with GC opportunity for E to examine Ees and other witnesses, determine amount of backpay due, and if amount of backpay due is reduced, this amount is to be returned to Ee and report to Bd w/i one year status of this matter)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

(although GC, as is customary, provided E with backpay specification containing amount of discriminatees' interim earnings and names of their interim Es, GC is not required to provide such information since burden is on E to prove that appropriate net backpay is less than alleged gross backpay amounts as set forth in the specification)

6033-2500 Make-up increases

Plasticrafts, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 161

(E's make whole obligation for unlawful withholding of wage increases during election and negotiating period diminished by wage increases granted subsequent to period where such increase divided over backpay period equivalent to monthly average of increases over past representative period of employment)

6033-3300 Willful idleness

I.T.O. Corporation of Baltimore 265 NLRB No. 169

(no willful loss where Ee did not register at hiring center some week days after unlawful demotion because he worked some weekend days)

I.T.O. Corporation of Baltimore 265 NLRB No. 169

(since sufficiency of efforts to mitigate backpay will be determined with respect to backpay period as whole; Ee's efforts during initial 4 weeks when he failed to register at hiring center was not considered in view of his overall efforts to mitigate loss of earnings and jobs available through hiring center were not substantially equivalent to foreman's job from which he was unlawfully demoted)

Woonsocket Health Centre 263 NLRB No. 179

(where willful loss of earnings began on date Ee quit interim job due to pregnancy, GC has duty to show date she began to look for work)

Woonsocket Health Centre 263 NLRB No. 179

(where Ee failed to answer newspaper ads for work as nurses aide because E's job was her first job in this work and she wanted different work, backpay was reduced to one month after discharge (adjustment period) until she accepted employment as nurses aide; registering at USES was insufficient search for work)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127

(E has burden of showing discriminatee willfully incurred loss and any uncertainty resolved against E; burden not met by showing lack of success in binding interim employment or low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively demonstrate that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Long Beach Youth Center, Inc., a/k/a Long Beach Youth Home (formerly Trailback, Inc.) JD-(SF)-54-81
(ALJ approved settlement stipulation setting forth net backpay for certain discriminatees and providing for finding of gross backpay for foreign resident, and also providing for entry by ALJ of supplemental order pursuant to terms of settlement, for Bd's adoption, w/o awaiting exception period, of ALJ's recommendation as its supplemental order, and for filing of consent judgment with ct of appeals which enforced Bd's order)

9033 NECESSARY PARTIES

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82
(service of copy of backpay specification and notice of hearing on attorney of record for respondent-partner in underlying ULP case (partnership dissolved since C case completed) held proper notice to partner though not served, since attorney filed timely ans to specification, appeared at hearing, participated in litigation on all issues and interests not prejudiced)

Belair Chateau Hospital, Inc., d/b/a University Heights Hospital JD-(SF)-213-80
(deletion of trustee in bankruptcy as party respondent from original complaint pursuant to ct order does not bar GC from raising issue of trustee's derivative liability for first time in backpay proceeding)

9067 GROUNDS FOR SETTING ASIDE

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(E's contention that U had waived payment of net backpay to each discriminatee in consideration for E entering into bargaining agreement, and that each discriminatee except two had waived backpay by accepting settlement, rejected, since such commitment will be honored only if ULPs substantially remedied and individual may not bargain away or compromise backpay due him/her, inasmuch as backpay is public rather than private right)

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 023
(where parent company was not named in proceeding until after ct remanded to Bd, it will not be named as R as it was never afforded opportunity to defend itself against ULP charges or litigate its relationship with E; determination can be made at compliance stage of proceeding)

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-584-80
(private agreement between E and two of summarily-found discriminatees whereby, in lieu of backpay possibly due them by virtue of E's ULPs, discriminatees agreed to become equal partners with stock ownership in new E aided corporation held violative, since agreement interfered with application of Bd's remedies, which are provided as public right)

9500 BACKPAY STIPULATIONS

9550 EFFECT OF BACKPAY STIPULATION

Women Care, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 060
(Respondent's bound by backpay stipulation, notwithstanding Respondent did not execute stipulation until after it had breached it and consequently RD did not sign it, since Respondent had signed stipulation and made partial payments on backpay award)

712 AGENCY PRINCIPLES

2500 COMMON LAW AGENCY PRINCIPLES APPLICABLE

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(Bd instructed to apply same general agency principles as would cts in determining whether or not individual (cab driver) is an Ee or an independent contractor)

2550 ACTUAL AUTHORIZATION OR SUBSEQUENT RATIFICATION NOT CONTROLLING

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(Bd may base finding of agency relationship on evidence that an individual was acting with knowledge and acquiescence of U and that he had implied authority to do what he did, since, under Section 2(13) of Act, labor organization's responsibility for acts of any individual is not dependent upon actual authorization or subsequent ratification)

5000 RESPONSIBIITY OF EMPLOYER OR UNION FOR ACTS AND STATEMENTS OF AGENTS AND OTHERS

5014 BASIS OF RESPONSIBILITY

5014-0100 Generally

Knaga Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130

(conclusion that individual is not supervisor, is not dispositive of question of whether that individual is acting as agent for E; agency established by mutual consent of parties that agent act for principal or from conduct of principal)

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of The United States and Canda, Local No. 195, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-330-81

(finding of agency can not be made based upon fact action was designed to benefit U)

5014-0120 Actual authority

Escambia River Electric Cooperative, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 128

(each member of E's board of trustees held agent of E, where by-laws conferred upon trustees powers normally associated with board of directors and officers of typical corporation, and trustees had complete control over management of corporation)

Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care and Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 152

(Ee who was active in organizing for U, not U agent since he lacked actual or apparent authority where he had no authority to act for U in official capacity, and other Ees recognized that fact, nor was his serving as U's election observor, soliciting authorization cards and distributing U literature and materials sufficient to render him an agent)

Jacobs Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 087

(foreman found not supervisor but held agent as E's president authorized him to find out who started U campaign)

East Texas Motor Freight 242 NLRB No. 101

(agency in instant case limited to contractual assignment of authority, i.e.: (1) investigation and presentation of grievances, and (2) transmission of messages and information; each incident evaluated to determine agency responsibility)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(where striking Ees have signed U authorization cards, and joined in strike under U supervision, general agency is created which empowers U through its representatives to offer to return to work on behalf of all striking Ees w/o obtaining specific authorization from Ees to do so)

F & D Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Westward Ho Hotel 251 NLRB No. 160

(E did not violate Act when employment agency, acting as E's agent, refused to refer applicant for job with E because of his U membership, since E was not liable for employment agency's action inasmuch as employment agency was, at most, a special rather than a general agent; neither express nor apparent authority was conferred upon the agency to refer only nonU applicants, and E did not ratify the refusal to refer)

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041

(E not responsible for Ee's threat to fellow Ee that latter's paycheck would be withheld unless he signed card for U favored by E, since Ee was merely contributing to E's support of favored U w/o having real or apparent authority to do so)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(in affirming Bd finding the E was responible for physical assault by supervisor on U steward who was engaged in protected concerted activity since incident pertained to matters w/i responsibilities E had conferred on supervisor, ct concluded that E's single expression of disapproval after the fact did not suffice as a repudiation where such disapproval was not made known to all Ees affected and, in any event, was accompanied and followed by reiteration of supervisor's authority)

Crane Sheet Metal, Inc. and Hartley Sheet Metal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 256 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(apparent authority sufficient to determine whether multi-E bargaining unit is acting as agent of Es so as to bind individual E by bargaining unit's acts; whether specific acts were actually authorized or subsequently ratified not controlling)

5014-0140 Apparent authority

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Felts Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079

(E's contention that signatories to bargaining agreement were not authorized by it to enter into agreement with U, rejected where signers were half owners of E and active in its management and at no instance was contract attacked by corporate denial of signatory agent's ostensible authority; rather, terms of contract were followed; thus, E held out individuals at time they signed contracts as having apparent authority to enter into agreements)

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Felts Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079

(E's contention that one of its bargaining agreement signatories may have been member of U when he signed agreement was relevant to issue of whether he had apparent authority to sign contract, rejected since U membership does not debar individual from acting as agent of E in entering into contract with U)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(although assistant assembly line supervisor was not statutory supervisor, E was responsible for his conduct where assistant regularly directed Ees' work pursuant to E's authorization, acted as assembly line supervisor on rare occasions when head supervisor was absent from work, and assistant wore gold hat which was emblem of management; E placed assistant in position whereby Ees would have just cause to believe he was acting for and on behalf of management)

Airborne Freight Corporation 253 NLRB No. 181

(where company official's wife solicited individual as new hire, official's wife was found agent of company, since individual solicited had good reason to believe company official's wife was acting pursuant to company authority on basis of authority of her husband; moreover the company official ratified the solicitation by hiring the individual his wife had solicited)

Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care and Guidance Center 263 NLRB No. 152

(Ee who was active in organizing for U, not U agent since he lacked actual or apparent authority where he had no authority to act for U in official capacity, and other Ees recognized that fact, nor was his serving as U's election observor, soliciting authorization cards and distributing U literature and materials sufficient to render him an agent)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(agency in instant case limited to contractual assignment of authority, i.e.: (1) investigation and presentation of grievances, and (2) transmission of messages and information; each incident evaluated to determine agency responsibility)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073

(Ees were led to believe that anti-U Ee group, known as SCAB, was acting on behalf of and with E's approval where E asked Ees to join SCAB, permitted SCAB members to use worktime for solicitation to join anti-U campaign and provided SCAB members and E's supervisors with time, equipment and Vote No buttons to promote anti-U campaign)

Progressive Medical Group, Inc., t/a Walnut Hill Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 039

(agent appointed to negotiate bargaining agreement is deemed to have apparent authority to bind his principal in absence of clear notice to the contrary; in instant case, there was clear notice that E's agents had no independent authority to bind E and there was no clear notice that E's board of directors reserved right to act upon agreement only after it had been accepted by bargaining unit Ees)

The Maumee Stone Company, Union Quarry Division 259 NLRB No. 150

(former owner of E spoke at Ees' meeting as agent of E where at time of meeting he was consultant to E, had past history of authority over Ees and E failed to disavow his statement which was inconsistent with claim that he spoke w/o authority)

The Maumee Stone Company, Union Quarry Division 259 NLRB No. 150

(individual who spoke at Ees' meeting held agent of E, where he had past history of authority over Ees of E's quarry, was employed by company whose operations were apparently closely related to E's quarry operations, and took actions on behalf of quarry which were consistent with conclusion that he was still acting as de facto supervisor for E)

Delta Hosiery, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 139

(unit Ee's poll of Ees about their U sympathies, violative, since such action was clearly viewed by Ees as act of management and management itself acquiesced in conduct)

Union Oil Company of California, Polymer PLant 258 NLRB No. 188

(where lead operators were allowed to vote in election pursuant to stipulation, statements made by them are attributable to E as Ees considered them their bosses or supervisors and they are the only supervisors or management officials in plant on regular basis on second and third shifts)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

(E representative acting as chairman on joint E-U review board created by U and industry Es for purpose of dealing with individuals problems relating to industry work held joint agent of both U and Es in arranging for, convening, and presiding at meetings of review board; and since chairman was clothed with apparent authority by U representative to deal with problems of E herein, latter acted reasonably in believing chairman had been authorized to act as U's agent in handling his problems)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

(joint board's employment department created jointly by agreement of contracting Es and U to serve their mutual interests in providing a source of Ees for Es in industry held joint agent of Es and U; and U's advice to E that requests for Ees are to be made to department and E's testimony that he believed it was bound to seek referrals solely from department held to have created apparent authority in department to act for U)

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142

(crew foreman of subcontractor engaged in cable splicing work for telephone company held supervisor and whose decision to grant time off to his entire crew E was bound, since foreman was management representative empowered to grant days off as well as directing work of splicing crew; crew could have reasonably believed that foreman was acting for and on behalf of E)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 039

(security guard at gatehouse clothed with apparent authority to restrict access of all who would enter company premises and that her comments to organizers not to distribute literature on public property adjacent to gatehouse were w/i scope of that authority)

Le Roy Fountain, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036

(working foreman held agent of E where she was vested with ostensible authority to affect personnel actions such as hiring and reprimands and held herself out as managerial official and she clearly was perceived as such)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101

(statement of leadperson to Ee that Ee was fired imputable to management; although leadperson was not supervisor w/i meaning of Act; record established that E had placed leadperson in position where Ees could reasonably believe leadperson spoke on behalf of E whether or not her act was actually authorized or subsequently ratified)

Wm. Chalson & Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 006

(Ee assistant foreman in his activities focusing on unlawful solicitation of anti-U petition from Ees, imputed unlawful activity to E by his apparent authority derived from management support and approval of his activities; solicitation campaign was implicitly adopted and supported by E's supervisors and Ees could reasonably believe that activities of assistant foreman reflected E's policy)

F & D Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Westward Ho Hotel 251 NLRB No. 160

(E did not violate Act when employment agency, acting as E's agent, refused to refer applicant for job with E because of his U membership, since E was not liable for employment agency's action inasmuch as employment agency was, at most, a special rather than a general agent; neither express nor apparent authority was conferred upon the agency to refer only nonU applicants, and E did not ratify the refusal to refer)

Tylertown Wood Products 251 NLRB No. 048

(local minister who, allegedly acting as E's agent, made unlawful statements to Ees held not agent of E, since he was not placed in position to be identified with management in eyes of Ees and to translate to them policies and desires of management)

Local Lodge Number 5, Boilermakers (Regor Construction Company, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 105

(stewards of local U held agents of local and international Us where stewards' unlawful acts were w/i scope of their apparent authority, were not repudiated, disavowed or condemned by local or international and were thus ratified and condoned)

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054

(even though Ees were unable to specifically identify agent of E, E held responsible for conduct of member of firm employed by E to conduct attitude survey among Ees, where firm's member to whom critical remarks were attributed was placed in his position of apparent authority by E; even if firm did not rise to level of agent w/i Sec. 2(13), E is still responsible for its conduct under Sec. 2(2) under circumstances herein)

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041

(in some circumstances supervisor's acts cannot be imputed to E)

5028-7501-5000 Effect of supervisor's erroneous inclusion in bargaining unit

Union Oil Company of California, Polymer PLant 258 NLRB No. 168

(where lead operators were allowed to vote in election pursuant to stipulation, statements made by them are attributable to E as Ees considered them their bosses or supervisors and they are the only supervisors or management officials in plant on regular basis on second and third shifts)

5028-7514 Authorization and ratification by employer of supervisor's acts

Times-Herald, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 066

(no violation when, in response to question asked by supervisory member of unit, E told him there was way Ees could end strike and referred him to Regional Office of Bd from which he thereafter received decertification ptn which he filed; there was no evidence that any Ee reasonably believed supervisor was acting on behalf of management, and GC failed to present any evidence relating to circumstances in which the solicitations for decertification of U were made)

Flexsteel Industries, Inc. JD-(SF)-274-79

(supervisor's friendly warnings to Ees concerning their U activities which were not ratified by or even know by E, not attributable to E)

5028-7514-2500 Expressly authorized

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Luzerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073

(Ees were led to believe that anti-U Ee group, known as SCAB, was acting on behalf of and with E's approval where E asked Ees to join SCAB, permitted SCAB members to use worktime for solicitation to join anti-U campaign and provided SCAB members and E's supervisors with time, equipment and Vote No buttons to promote anti-U campaign)

5028-7514-8000 Unnecessary

Kimberly-Clark Corporation JD-(SF)-291-81

(threats of supervisor who was invested with authority to reprimand, discipline and discharge Ees imputed to E since he had authority to carry out threats; further, reasonable for Ees to believe supervisor could carry out threats and under Section 2(13) of Act whether supervisor's conduct actually authorized or subsequently ratified by E not controlling)

5028-7528-1200 Authority to negotiate on behalf of employer

Progressive Medical Group, Inc., t/a Walnut Hill Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 039

(agent appointed to negotiate bargaining agreement is deemed to have apparent authority to bind his principal in absence of clear notice to the contrary; in instant case, there was clear notice that E's agents had no independent authority to bind E and there was no clear notice that E's board of directors reserved right to act upon agreement only after it had been accepted by bargaining unit Ees)

5028-7528-2000 Employees have just cause to believe supervisor's acting for employer

Burnup & Sims, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 142

(crew foreman of subcontractor engaged in cable splicing work for telephone company held supervisor and whose decision to grant time off to his entire crew E was bound, since foreman was management representative empowered to grant days off as well as directing work of splicing crew; crew could have reasonably believed that foreman was acting for and on behalf of E)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148

(acting terminal manager at time of ULP held agent of E, since he was responsible for operation of terminal during period between terminal manager's termination and employment of new manager; Ees could reasonably have believed acting terminal manager was E's agent)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's general manager and its executive vice-president held agents of E where Ees were clearly justified in believing they were authorized to speak for management in expressing opposition to U)

Kimberly-Clark Corporation JD-(SF)-291-81

(threats of supervisor who was invested with authority to reprimand, discipline and discharge Ees imputed to E since he had authority to carry out threats; further, reasonable for Ees to believe supervisor could carry out threats and under Section 2(13) of Act whether supervisor's conduct actually authorized or subsequently ratified by E not controlling)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)

(comments by low level supervisor not conclusive as to E's liability since statements by low-level, marginal supervisors are less likely to influence Ees' decision than statements by high level officials which bear imprint of company policy)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)

(no violation, where no evidence E authorized remarks of low level supervisor; further, where low level supervisor had voted in election and Ees knew that his anti-U bias was personal Ees did not have just cause to believe he had made threatening remarks on behalf of management)

5028-7542 Self-organization, supervisors' own interest in, does not relieve employer of responsibility for their anti-union activity

5028-7542-3300 But inclusion in bargaining unit rebuts employer responsibility absent authorization or ratification

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 128

(where supervisors were part of bargaining unit but Ees did not feel they were acting on behalf of management, their solicitation of Ees by circulating decertification petition is not attributable to E and thus not violative)

5028-7556 Supervisors' participation in union affairs imputable to employer

5028-7556-3300 Good faith immaterial

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077

(individual who was member of U negotiating committee agent of E after she had been held statutory supervisor by RD, notwithstanding E was not responsible for her presence on committee, no apparent conflict of interest or communication with management)

5028-7556-3333 Express authorization or ratification not necessary

Polk Bros. Concrete Products 256 NLRB No. 128

(E violated Act where its plant manager first initiated U activity w/o knowledge of E and then solicited Ees to sign ptn disavowing interest in U especially where E had expressed its opposition to U, notwithstanding plant manager acted contrary to E's specific instructions not to involve himself with ptn; moreover, Ee's thought supervisor was speaking for E; therefore, R/O proper remedy)

5028-7556-6700 Forms of participation

Maidsville Coal Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 148

5028-7570-0600 Bookkeeper

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(E held answerable for controller's promises of financial benefit to Ees, in view of E's admission in its answer that controller was E agent, controller's participation in E conference and compliance with company attorney's instructions in making promises, supervision over office staff, and fact that Ees had just cause to believe that controller had authority to advise them about what E's decision about wages and benefits would be)

5028-7570-1200 Foreman or immediate supervisor

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(nonsupervisory foreman held agent of E where E used him as conduit for its instructions to Ees, clothed him with authority to receive requests for time off, assigned him to oversee performances of Ees on his shift and used him as company spokesperson among other Ees; therefore his actions in conducting election for Ee committee attributable to E whether or not E actually authorized or subsequently ratified them)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(E not responsible for supervisor circulating decertification ptn among Ees where supervisor was part of bargaining unit and record disclosed no evidence that E encouraged, authorized or ratified supervisor's activity or acted in such manner to lead Ees to reasonably believe that he was acting on behalf of E)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(E's denial of responsibility for allegedly unlawful acts of general foreman, who was U member and sympathetic to U cause, on ground he was U agent, rejected, where there was no evidence that he acted in latter capacity in committing alleged unlawful acts; or that, in conduct complained of, he did other than communicate what he knew or construed to be company policy; nor does evidence reveal circumstances that would have caused Ees to believe that foreman's statements were mere personal opinions)

Church's Fried Chicken, Inc. JD-(SF)-301-79
(E whose only retaliation against supervisor (who had engaged in unlawful surveillance and violence against Ees while attending U organizing meeting) was to demote him and assign him to a remote area violated Act as this did not effectively repudiate supervisor's actions)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B 681 F.2d 127 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(If Ee found supervisor and is also member of U, E is responsible for his circulation of anti-U petitions only if it encouraged, authorized, or ratified supervisor's activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(there was ample reason to conclude that Ees would believe company controller was speaking as representative of E where he was treated as member of management, participated in discussions with company counsel regarding organizing campaign, kept company records, supervised office staff and was consulted by Ees on payroll matters)

5028-7570-4800 Personnel counselor or staff member

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(personnel office Ee held agent of E where he was placed in strategic position so that his apparent authority to act on E's behalf could be fairly implied and Ees could reasonably believe he reflected E's policy)

5028-7570-5400 Personnel officials

Union Independiente De Empleados De Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico (Corporation de Servicios Legales De Puerto Rico, Inc.) 249 NLRB NO. 147
(personnel relations officer held E's representative for purposes of collective bargaining and adjustment of grievances, notwithstanding U's contention that officer ceased to be such representative when he assertedly was relieved of his duties, where subsequent thereto officer continued to consider and recommend grievance dispositions, and E's offer to him of different managerial position was conditional and never effectuated)

Red Oaks Nursing Home, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 503 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Ee who had title of personnel director, held agent of management, notwithstanding that most of her duties were clerical in nature and some Ees regarded her as merely payroll clerk, where she often made contact with other Ees with respect to pay, insurance, and disciplinary matters and she was invited to management campaign strategy meeting because of her frequent contact with Ees on employment matters)

5028-7570-6000 Plant manager

Polk Bros. Concrete Products 256 NLRB No. 128
(E violated Act where its plant manager first initiated U activity w/o knowledge of E and then solicited Ees to sign ptn disavowing interest in U especially where E had expressed its opposition to U, notwithstanding plant manager acted contrary to E's specific instructions not to involve himself with ptn; moreover, Ee's thought supervisor was speaking for E; therefore, R/O proper remedy)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(acting terminal manager at time of ULP held agent of E, since he was responsible for operation of terminal during period between terminal manager's termination and employment of new manager; Ees could reasonably have believed acting terminal manager was E's agent)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's general manager and its executive vice-president held agents of E where Ees were clearly justified in believing they were authorized to speak for management in expressing opposition to U)

5028-7570-8000 Purchasing agent

Bell Industries, Inc. JD-479-82
(individual who was purchasing agent held agent of E in view of Ee's long time employment with E, his hiring of Ees in past, occupies choice office, reference in conversations with Ees to E's attitude towards U, his custom of helping Ees with problems)

5028-7570-9000 Inspector

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(Ee who was inspector of various assembly line products held agent of E where Ee circulated among Ees, actively sought to persuade them to reject U, his activity was at least implicitly if not expressly supported by his supervisor, and Ees reasonably believed that Ee reflected company policy and acted for management)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(U violated Act where pickets damaged vehicles in presence of U agents)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(Bd may base finding of agency relationship on evidence that an individual was acting with knowledge and acquiescence of U and that he had implied authority to do what he did, since, under Section 2(13) of Act, labor organization's responsibility for acts of any individual is not dependent upon actual authorization or subsequent ratification)

5042-3300 Affiliated organizations

District 30, United Mine Workers of America (Beth-Elkhorn Corporation) JD-19-81
(local, but not district, held liable for unlawfully causing discharge of nonmember of U by engaging in strike where committeeman stated, in presence of local official who did not dissent, that object of strike was to prevent nonmember from working, local's president stated that men who had been with U for years should be employed before a man who had left U, and his direction to Ees to return to work fell far short of bona fide effort to resolve dispute since he and other U representatives abstained from working after nonmember reported for work)

District 30, United Mine Workers of America (Beth-Elkhorn Corporation) JD-19-81
(while its constituent local was held responsible, district held not liable for discharge of nonmember of U caused by local's strike, where district's participation in events was minimal in absence of proof that district instigated, authorized or participated in strike; and district field representative's statement at contractual grievance meeting regarding desirability of hiring U member was too ambiguous to impose liability, and his silence when U representative restated reason for strike may not be construed to be either a condonation or ratification of strike)

5042-3310 Sister Local

Local 513, Plumbers (Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of the Twin Cities (Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, MI)) 264 NLRB No. 009
(business agent of one local U held agent of 2 other locals in different jurisdictions where, on request of latter locals, business agent provided workers from his own local to enable these locals, to whom Ees reported to, to fulfill their obligations pursuant to exclusive hiring hall clauses rather than allow contractors in their jurisdictions to hire nonmembers)

Plumbers, Local Union 119 (Kamtech, Inc.264 NLRB No. 004
(where at request of business manager of local with jurisdiction over jobsite, business agent of members own local (both admitted agents of their respective locals) went to jobsite and identified members of his local and business manager threatened these Ees with bodily harm in presence of business agent who did not disavow threats, members were told by both they faced internal U charges and neither wanted members working job, Bd held they were agents acting in concert with each other, agents for each other's local and that each U served as agent for other)

(welfare, vacation, and pension fund administered by E-U trustees held agent of both E and U for limited purpose of accepting contributions from U ordered by Bd to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits; for such purpose, fund is mere receptacle into which U must pay contributions in order to carry out Bd's backpay order and make Ee-beneficiaries whole for U's ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)

(limited agency of welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees to receive U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits held not to confllict with common law principles or with ERISA provisions requiring trustees of such fund not be subject to control of any other person or organization, since it does not extend to trustees' decision involving investment of trust funds or determination of eligibility requirements for benefits)

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)

(compliance by welfare, vacation, and pension fund, administered jointly by E-U trustees, and its acceptance of U contributions in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual benefits held to fall squarely w/i fiduciary duty of fund's trustees imposed by ERISA and common law requiring administration of trust solely in interest of its beneficiaries; moreover, trustees have duty to take possession of trust property as soon as reasonably possible)

N.L.R.B. v. Driver Salesmen, Warehousemen, Food Handlers, Clerical & Industrial Production Teamsters Union, Local No. 582, a/w Teamsters 670 F.2d 855 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(contrary to Bd which found Trust made up of U and E trustees was agent of U and that its establishment of new benefits for U members constituted unilateral contract modification in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3), ct held Bd did not establish that Trust was agent of U and that U caused Trust to violate trust agreement where Trust was lawfully established, E trustees were not coerced by U trustees in voting in favor of proposal, and U's distribution of information about new benefits did not demonstrate U control over Trust)

Griffith Company; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 406 (C.A. 9, Oct 1981)

(actions of neither trust fund administrator of joint E-Ee benefit trust nor his counsel attributable to U since none of the following situations present: (1) provisions of bargaining agreement remove discretionary of administrator to administer funds solely for benefit of Ees (2) where trustee's actions which are in question were directed by U officials (3) where trustees actions which are in question are undertaken in their capacity as U officials rather than as trustees)

Griffith Company; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 406 (C.A. 9, Oct 1981)

(administrator of benefit funds threat to send renewed notice to contractors which would trigger U's right to withhold services because of contractor's failure to pay trust fund delinquencies of its subcontractors as provided in contract not violative, since neither administrator nor his counsel is agent of U merely because they attempted to secure prompt payment of delinquencies, officials, under duty to maximize trust assets for beneficiaries, sought to fulfill this obligation by means short of filing suit for breach of contract; thus, actions were not done on behalf of U but to protect interests of beneficiaries)

5042-6701 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation and United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO 660 F.2d 1207 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)

(U held not liable for acts of its agents herein since in order to do so it must be clearly shown that what was done was done by their agents in accordance with their fundamental agreement of association, and, in order to establish U's liability under doctrine of respondant superior, evidence must be offered that U instigated, supported, ratified, or encouraged activity in question; and it was not shown that either situation existed)

5042-6701-2500 Agency established by knowledge and acquiescence in performance of union functions

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(evidence that U maintained what was, in essence, an office in the home of U business representative in charge of U job referral system, and testimony that the representative's wife often answered the referral phone and added job applicants' names to idle list when her husband was away, held substantial evidence of knowledge and acquiescence on part of U in the wife's activities on its behalf)

5042-6701-5000 Agency may be established by conduct

Local 300, Cosmetic and Novelties Workers' Union, Affiliated With International Production Service and Sales Employees Union 257 NLRB No. 174

(former Ee of E hired by U, prior to election, who acted as interpreter for E's Haitian Ees held agent of U since at time of alleged unlawful statements made by her, she acted as interpreter at request of U, was paid by U for her services and Ees reasonably could have believed that her statements reflected U policy)

Six Flags Over Mid-America, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 013

(Ees' statement that E's agreement to second election amounted to admission of guilt not attributable to U where 1 Ee's presence to assist U in arriving at election agreement meant nothing more than that U utilized U adherent with personal knowledge of work force and E's operation to provide it with necessary information preliminary to reaching election agreement and other Ee's presence at counsel table to assist U's counsel did not suggest that he possessed any agency status)

5042-6701-5025 Failure to repudiate conduct

Truck Drivers Local Union No. 449, Teamsters, et al. (Universal Liquor Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 199

(where trustees of pension fund used authority under contract to refuse to accept contributions for regular full-time Ees from Es who allegedly failed to execute stipulation unlawfully interpreted by trustees as extending Es' obligation to make contributions for casual, seasonal, or part-time Ees, trustees held agents of U in view of fact that trustees acted pursuant to authority granted by contracts, and U did not protest trustees' actions but supported erroneous interpretation by joining in effort to collect additional contributions even to point of sacrificing pension benefits of all Ees)

General Teamsters Local 959, State of Alaska (Frontier Transportation Company) 248 NLRB No. 108

(where U business representative was present and nodded his head when U member threatened Ee with physical violence for refusing to join strike and for failing to honor U's picket line, U held responsible for the threats to Ee, since U business representative's conduct constituted tacit approval of the member's threats)

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of The United States and Canda, Local No. 195, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-330-81

(if pickets engage in misconduct in presence of U agent, and that agent fails to disavow that conduct and take corrective measures, U may be held responsible)

Local 200, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Lakeside Nursing Home, Inc.) JD-195-80

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(E representative acting as chairman on joint E-U review board created by U and industry Es for purpose of dealing with individuals problems relating to industry work held joint agent of both U and Es in arranging for, convening, and presiding at meetings of review board; and since chairman was clothed with apparent authority by U representative to deal with problems of E herein, latter acted reasonably in believing chairman had been authorized to act as U's agent in handling his problems)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(jointly established and administered board and trust funds, created by U and industry Es for purpose of administering Ee welfare and employment plans held agents of U and Es, where joint board and funds exist by virtue of bargaining agreement pursuant to which joint board and funds are administered, function of chairman or trustee is not distinct from his function as E, and U plays important role in dictating policies of joint board and of chairman of subsidiary review board and manner in which review board exercises its advisory authority)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167
(joint board's employment department created jointly by agreement of contracting Es and U to serve their mutual interests in providing a source of Ees for Es in industry held joint agent of Es and U; and U's advice to E that requests for Ees are to be made to department and E's testimony that he believed it was bound to seek referrals solely from department held to have created apparent authority in department to act for U)

Stage Employees Union, Local 592 (William A. Thomas, an Individual) JD-358-82
(business agent of local U who was also supervisor and agent for E and made crew calls for assembling stage crews for E held dual agent; fact that he was agent for E did not prevent him from being agent of U as well since hiring authority can be dual agent)

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 175
(U's president and vice president held U agents in their participation in unlawful arrangement for receipt of kickbacks from E from all business referred to E by U, where arrangement arose out of E's decision to sign U contract; U's interests were furthered by increase in E's business resulting in more work for U members and more moneys paid to U; conduct of vice president, who received payments at U office and administered contract, can hardly be called individual frolic or personal adventure; and U president condoned and approved arrangement)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(as E-U's Secretary-Treasurer had authority under by-laws to hire office Ees and to fix their compensation, this is sufficient authority to permit him to establish wages, hours, and conditions of employment on collective basis and/or individual basis w/o Executive Board approval, and therefore, could sign contract recognizing U of office clericals, and such could not be repudiated by new administration)

International Union of Petroleum and Industrial Workers, AFL-CIO (Chevron U.S.A. Inc.) JD-(SF)-172-81
(International responsible for actions of president of local where U constitution and bylaws was silent with regard to authority of local's president)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

Electrical Workers Local Union No. 453 (National Electrical Contractors Association, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 195
(member of U's executive board found to be agent of U notwithstanding at time of his violative actions he had taken temporary job 175 miles from home and outside geographic jurisdiction of U where he never resigned from his position and in past had sat on trial board which passed upon charges involving discriminatee)

5042-6783-7400 Employee committee members

Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation 249 NLRB No. 088
(shop steward and Ee committeemen held to have acted for U in requesting discharge of Ees, where GC established prima facie agency of steward and committeemen to act for U in matters of discharge and grievances, and U failed to rebut by adducing evidence that steward and committeemen were not agents or acted so far outside their actual, implied or apparent, authority as to require conclusion they did not bind U by their acts)

5042-6783-7800 Pickets, picket major's, etc.

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of The United States and Canda, Local No. 195, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-330-81
(where U authorizes picket line, it is required to retain control over picketing. If unwilling or unable to take necessary steps to control its pickets, U must bear responsibility for their misconduct)

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of The Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of The United States and Canda, Local No. 195, AFL-CIO JD-(SF)-330-81
(if pickets engage in misconduct in presence of U agent, and that agent fails to disavow that conduct and take corrective measures, U may be held responsible)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(picket captains are agents of U w/i Section 2(13) of Act)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(individual U members cannot be considered agents of U per se; however, if picket line misconduct occurs, U responsible for pickets' actions even if particular picket who engaged in misconduct cannot be identified, and even responsible for misconduct away from picket line which was reasonable extension of actions which occurred on picket line)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(U cannot abdicate responsibility to control its picket line with inaction where either U leaders or picket captains are present when picket line misconduct occurred)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(U violated Act where pickets damaged vehicles in presence of U agents)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(U not responsible for threats and violence engaged in by pickets where these actions took place away from picket line and no evidence was introduced to prove that this was U venture or extension of picket line activity)

Local 144, Hotel, Hospital, Nursing Home, and Allied Health Services Union, S.E.I.U., AFL-CIO (Eden Park Management, Inc.) JD-401-80
(threats by unidentified picket to Ee as she walked home, unlawful, where picket left picket line to make threats)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (Nixdorf Computer Corporation) JD-(NY)-18-80
(U held responsible for pickets' several acts and threats of violence where U authorized and organized pickets to act as its representative, and in its interest under supervision of its business agent, and U failed to disavow or take action against offending strikers)

5042-6783-8300 Trustee

Truck Drivers Local Union No. 449, Teamsters, et al. (Universal Liquor Corp.) 265 NLRB No. 199
(where trustees of pension fund used authority under contract to refuse to accept contributions for regular full-time Ees from Es who allegedly failed to execute stipulation unlawfully interpreted by trustees as extending Es' obligation to make conttibutions for casual, seasonal, or part-time Ees, trustees held agents of U in view of fact that trustees acted pursuant to authority granted by contracts, and U did not protest trustees' actions but supported erroneous interpretation by joining in effort to collect additional contributions even to point of sacrificing pension benefits of all Ees)

Warehousemen's Union Local 334 a/k/a Teamsters Union, Local No. 582 (The Crescent, Division of The Halle Brothers Company) 253 NLRB No. 109
(U trustee of joint benefit fund trust held agent of U and actions imputed to U where U trustee initiated proposal for change in benefits, U subsequently implemented change and held itself out as responsible for change; authority of trustee limited to benefit plans agreed upon in bargaining agreement, thus change to inside benefits rejected in bargaining unilateral and unlawful notwithstanding agreement of E's trustees, since trust agreements are mere products of collective bargaining and not extension thereof)

N.L.R.B. v. Driver Salesmen, Warehousemen, Food Handlers, Clerical & Industrial Production Teamsters Union, Local No. 582, a/w Teamsters 670 F.2d 855 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)
(contrary to Bd which found Trust made up of U and E trustees was agent of U and that its establishment of new benefits for U members constituted unilateral contract modification in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3), ct held Bd did not establish that Trust was agent of U and that U caused Trust to violate trust agreement where Trust was lawfully established, E trustees were not coerced by U trustees in voting in favor of proposal, and U's distribution of information about new benefits did not demonstrate U control over Trust)

Griffith Company; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 406 (C.A. 9, Oct 1981)
(actions of neither trust fund administrator of joint E-Ee benefit trust nor his counsel attributable to U since none of the following situations present: (1) provisions of bargaining agreement remove discretionary of administrator to administer funds solely for benefit of Ees (2) where trustee's actions which are in question were directed by U officials (3) where trustees actions which are in question are undertaken in their capacity as U officials rather than as trustees)

5042-6783-8400 Secretary

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 139

(U business agent's secretary held agent of U, notwithstanding U's argument that she was not agent but non-member secretary whose actions were not binding on U, where U admitted in its answer to complaint that she was agent of U and her actual tasks were fully intertwined with workings of hiring hall)

5042-6783-9000 Steward

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(notwithstanding that U steward, when assaulting Ee outside of U meeting hall, was not acting as agent of U during assault, U's failure to reprimand steward or make any effort to prevent him from engaging in such conduct in future held violative, since failing to act in connection with preventing assault constituted condonation of steward's action by U)

Teamsters Local Union No. 515 (Cavalier Corporation) 259 NLRB No. 094

Local Lodge Number 5, Boilermakers (Regor Construction Company, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 105

(stewards of local U held agents of local and international Us where stewards' unlawful acts were w/i scope of their apparent authority, were not repudiated, disavowed or condemned by local or international and were thus ratified and condoned)

Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation 249 NLRB No. 068

(shop steward and Ee committeemen held to have acted for U in requesting discharge of Ees, where GC established prima facie agency of steward and committeemen to act for U in matters of discharge and grievances, and U failed to rebut by adducing evidence that steward and committeemen were not agents or acted so far outside their actual, implied or apparent, authority as to require conclusion they did not bind U by their acts)

Teamsters Local 312 a/w Teamsters (William E. Coons, an Individual) JD-378-81

(assistant steward's threat of violence and actual assault on Ee held misconduct of agent w/i his apparent authority which created, by itself, responsibility of U; later actions of U president and U steward, in effect approving what assistant steward had done, including making threats of their own to Ee, constituted condonation and ratification by U of misconduct of assistant steward)

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80

(U not liable for U stewards' statements as to allocation of overtime or use of tools, where U's constitution and by-laws do not indicate that stewards had any authority, apparent or implied, to make such statements, and bargaining agreement and by-laws do not give stewards responsibility to investigate and present grievances, authorize them to transmit messages and information originating from and authorized by U)

Old Pueblo Lodge No. 933, Machinists (Hughes Aircraft Company) JD-(SF)-123-80

(threatening statements of U steward when telephoned by Ee to discuss latter's intentions of crossing picket line during strike held attributed to U where U's subsequent action against Ee and other members indicated steward's statements reflected U's official policy)

5042-6783-9100 Observer

Anchor Inns, Inc. d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix 262 NLRB No. 148

(not agent)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81

(service as U election observer does not constitute one agent of U)

5042-6783-9200 In-plant organizing committee members

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 138

(orally informing U representative of reduction in hours to be worked 4 days before implementing change, and indirect notice via member of in-plant committee notifying U of further reduction in hours 2 days before implementing this change held sufficient notice to allow U to request bargaining, and by U's failure to make request it waived its right to complain about E's failure to bargain)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company 247 NLRB No. 180

(threat by one member of inplant organizing committee to take another member to court because he quit going to U meetings, not unlawful absent actual or apparent authority)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81

(in-plant organizing committee not agent of U where it was w/o any formal structure and was composed of any and all interested Ees who gave their support voluntarily and w/o pay)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 671 F.2d 817 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)

(In-Plant Organizing Committee (IPOC) held agent of U notwithstanding full time professional U organizer active at plant, where IPOC members served as eyes and ears of U, Ees before becoming members of IPOC had to submit their names to U and members were asked to distribute U literature and to voice and demonstrate support for U)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(remand for evidentiary hearing on whether threat by Ee member of U organizing committee, when coupled with apparent authority, so influenced voters in U representation election that it made free choice impossible, since close case on U agency where Ees considered member primary spokesman for U and it had been indicated member would be U steward after election, notwithstanding U had instructed organizing committee not to threaten Ees, and in view of other threats and vandalism, which viewed in light most favorable to objecting E, make prima facie showing that free election prevented)

5042-6783-9300 Interpreter

Medical Investors Association 260 NLRB No. 124

(Ee who acted as conduit for supervisor because he translated instructions from English to Spanish not found supervisor where he possessed no other indications of supervisory status)

Local 300, Cosmetic and Novelties Workers' Union, Affiliated With International Production Service and Sales Employees Union 257 NLRB No. 174

(former Ee of E hired by U, prior to election, who acted as interpreter for E's Haitian Ees held agent of U since at time of alleged unlawful statements made by her, she acted as interpreter at request of U, was paid by U for her services and Ees reasonably could have believed that her statements reflected U policy)

Sag-Gard of Southern California, Inc. JD-(SF)-36-82

(Ee who acted as one of several interpreters but did not act as conduit between management and rank-and-file Ees held not agent of E)

5042-6783-9400 Unit chairman

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, CLC, Local 1981 (Major Safe Company, Inc.) 259 NLRB No. 067

(U's unit chairman held agent of U where he was responsible for enforcing bargaining agreement, was required to report to U any infraction or violations of agreement of which he was aware, handled grievances on behalf of U and, in accordance with provisions of bargaining agreement, he was excused from work to do so w/o loss of pay)

5042-6783-9500 Rank-and-file employee

ARA Services, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 26

(S.J. granted where E refused to bargain alleging invalid certification of U because U threatened Ees with deportation for their illegal alien status if they did not vote for U; however no evidence was introduced at original hearing to show that Ee who made statement was agent of U; thus E's offer of such statements as proof of interference with election are not determinative because they do not provide new evidence regarding agency status)

Davlan Engineering, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 104

(solicitation of authorization cards by Ees, standing alone, does not make those Ees agents of U)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

(U held responsible for Ees' unlawful refusal to work at jobsite at which another U's members were performing work sought by Ees' U, where U was aware of refusal to work, Ees would have worked if directed to do so by U, and Ees were not disciplined even though contract prohibited strikes; consequently, U induced individuals to strike or refuse to perform services and ratified such conduct which was not merely an independent decision of workers or matter of their individual consciences but a reaction implicitly authorized by U and related to U's interests)

Local Union No. 3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

(even if Ees had acted on their own in refusing to work at jobsite with another U's members, U agent's later authorization of another Ee's refusal to work under same conditions constituted U ratification of prior conduct; express authorization is not essential to bind U, agency may be inferred from all the circumstances, U is in no different position than any other legal entity when agency issue is in dispute, and U may ratify acts of Ees by affirming prior acts which did not bind U when done)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055

(rank-and-file Ees held to have acted as E's agents in conducting unprecedented Ee meeting at plant, where E allowed such meeting, accepted Ees' signed request for withdrawal of U ptn and their list of requested job improvements which had evolved from meeting, subsequently granted most of Ees' requests, and no Ees were questioned or reprimanded with respect to their long absences from their work stations to attend meeting)

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041

(E not responsible for Ee's threat to fellow Ee that latter's paycheck would be withheld unless he signed card for U favored by E, since Ee was merely contributing to E's support of favored U w/o having real or apparent authority to do so)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(fact Ee had been active in U's organization campaign does not establish agency relationship between Ee and U absent evidence either authorized or condoned conduct)

5042-6783-9600 Union adherent

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145

(fact that Ee serves as U observer at election or is prominant in organizing campaign does not make him U official and Bd is reluctent to set aside election due to conduct of such Ee)

Aero Warehouse, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-81

(card solicitation insufficient to show agency status)

5042-6783-9700 Rank-and-file member

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)

(election set aside where Ees threatened fellow Ees with physical harm if U did not win election; moreover, it is immaterial that Ees were not agents of U)

5056 MEMBERS

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 428 (Bechtel Power Corporation) JD-(SF)78-82

(U's contention that processing members internal U charge against supervisor fining him and ordering supervisor to trial was purely ministeral and free of animus, rejected, since charge on its face made clear charge was based on fact fellow member fired him and thus clearly addressed action protected by Section 8(b)(1)(B))

5056-0100 Generally

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010

(foreman not agent of U notwithstanding U member and additionally brother of U's secretary-business manager where he did not need U approval to obtain contract with E, never held any U office, does not participate in U meetings, is not member of bargaining unit, and enjoyed no special privileges because of relationship to U's business manager; moreover, agency relationship is not created even though discharges foreman effectuated benefited U)

5070 DEFENSES

5070-4000 Termination of authority

Electrical Workers Local Union No. 453 (National Electrical Contractors Association, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 195

(member of U's executive board found to be agent of U notwithstanding at time of his violative actions he had taken temporary job 175 miles from home and outside geographic juridiction of U where he never resigned from his position and in past had sat on trial board which passed upon charges involving discriminatee)

5070-6000 Repudiation by employer or union

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(as E-U's Secretary-Treasurer had authority under by-laws to hire office Ees and to fix their compensation, this is sufficient authority to permit him to establish wages, hours, and conditions of employment on collective basis and/or individual basis w/o Executive Board approval, and therefore, could sign contract recognizing U of office clericals, and such could not be repudiated by new administration)

Pickering & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 137

(E did not repudiate supervisor's unlawful threat to close plant if U won election where in nonviolative speech expressing its opposition to U, E did say that it intended to continue operation of plant regardless of outcome of election but no reference was made to supervisor's speech and for repudiation to be effective it must be timely, unambiguous, and adequately publized)

Kimberly-Clark Corporation JD-(SF)-291-81

(no effective repudiation of threats of E's assistant superintendent by disavowals and assurances of E's employee relations manager where not all threats repudiated and in view of subsequent proscribed conduct, and attempted disavowal by E's manager was untimely to effectively neutralize threats made ten months previously)

Church's Fried Chicken, Inc. JD-(SF)-301-79

(E whose only retaliation against supervisor (who had engaged in unlawful surveillance and violence against Ees while attending U organizing meeting) was to demote him and assign him to a remote area violated Act as this did not effectively repudiate supervisor's actions)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)

(in affirming Bd finding the E was responsible for physical assault by supervisor on U steward who was engaged in protected concerted activity since incident pertained to matters w/i responsibilities E had conferred on supervisor, ct concluded that E's single expression of disapproval after the fact did not suffice as a repudiation where such disapproval was not made known to all Ees affected and, in any event, was accompanied and followed by reiteration of supervisor's authority)

5084 RATIFICATION OF ACTS OR STATEMENTS BY EMPLOYER OR UNION

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109

(entity engaged in business of representing E concerning labor relations and other matters and hired by E to conduct its anti-U campaign held not to have been co-manager of E's anti-U campaign or co-E with instant E (no agency alleged in C), since E's managers were instructed by E to accept advice and carry out instructions which came from labor relations advisor, but advisor did not have direct control over supervisors and did not deal with rank-and-file Ees)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(notwithstanding that U steward, when assaulting Ee outside of U meeting hall, was not acting as agent of U during assault, U's failure to reprimand steward or make any effort to prevent him from engaging in such conduct in future held violative, since failing to act in connection with preventing assault constituted condonation of steward's action by U)

Local Lodge Number 5, Boilermakers (Rager Construction Company, Inc.) 249 NLRB No. 108

(stewards of local U held agents of local and international Us where stewards' unlawful acts were w/i scope of their apparent authority, were not repudiated, disavowed or condemned by local or international and were thus ratified and condoned)

Teamsters Local 312 a/w Teamsters (William E. Coons, an Individual) JD-378-81

(assistant steward's threat of violence and actual assault on Ee held misconduct of agent w/i his apparent authority which created, by itself, responsibility of U; later actions of U president and U steward, in effect approving what assistant steward had done, including making threats of their own to Ee, constituted condonation and ratification by U of misconduct of assistant steward)

Old Pueblo Lodge No. 933, Machinists (Hughes Aircraft Company) JD-(SF)-123-80

(threatening statements of U steward when telephoned by Ee to discuss latter's intentions of crossing picket line during strike held attributed to U where U's subsequent action against Ee and other members indicated steward's statements reflected U's official policy)

Crane Sheet Metal, Inc. and Hartley Sheet Metal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 256 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(evidence in instant case indicated that Es considered themselves to be segment of multi-E Association, retaining for themselves final authority to approve any contract negotiated by Association and U; U official had assured instant Es of separate negotiations and contracts for Es represented by multi-E Association)

725 CONTRACT LAW

0100 GENERALLY

New York Typographical Union No. 6 (Haber Typographers, Inc.) JD-(NY)-78-80

(in field of labor relations, if parties have agreed upon terms of bargaining agreement, they are bound by terms agreed upon notwithstanding failure to sign it)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(U and E's adoption of labor contract is not dependent on reduction to writing; instead, what is required is conduct manifesting an intention to abide by terms of an agreement)

0150 TECHNICAL RULES OF CONTRACT LAW NOT NECESSARILY CONTROLLING UNDER NLRA

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1982)

(third party beneficiaries, like Trustees of benefit funds, are subject to contract defenses of nonperforming promisors; pension fund trustees have no special status which exempts them from general rule that cts do not enforce illegal contracts)

Shawn's Launch Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 124

(tenent of contract law that new offer revokes former offer when offer has not been accepted not applicable to collective bargaining agreement situations, even when E's proposal had been rejected by U membership and U thereafter made counterproposal, E's original offer remained capable of acceptance)

Shawn's Launch Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 124

(in context of labor disputes, and particularly Section 8(a)(5) violations; however, technical question of whether contract was accepted in traditional sense is perhaps less vital than it otherwise would be rather more crucial inquiry is whether two sides have reached agreement even though agreement might fall short of technical requirements of accepted contract)

Deluxe Poster Co., Inc., d/b/a Johnson Printers 257 NLRB No. 011

(U's failure to sign contract does not affect its validity where parties agreed to substantial terms and conditions; E's failure to abide by contract violative)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028

(since Bd not strictly bound by technical rules of contract law, fact that U rejected E's contract offer and even made counterproposals did not nullify offer; complete package proposal made on behalf of either party through negotiations remains viable, and upon accpetance in toto must be executed as part of statutory duty to bargain in good faith, unless expressly withdrawn prior to such acceptance, or defeated by an event upon which offer was expressly made contingent at time prior to acceptance)

El Rancho Market JD-(SF)-116-81

(basic contract law concerning principles of offer and acceptance, apply to formation of collective-bargaining agreement)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 87 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(technical rules of contract law covering offer and acceptance do not control whether bargaining agreement has been reached because, unlike commercial setting, NLRA compels E and U to bargain in good faith)

N.L.R.B. v. World Evangelism, Inc. 656 F.2d (C.A. 9, 1981)

(in determining whether parties agreed to contract, Bd is not bound by technical questions of traditional contract interpretation; Bd is free to use general contract principles adapted to collective bargaining context to determine whether two sides have reached agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Electra-Food Machinery, Inc. 621 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd free to use general contract principles adapted to collective-bargaining context)

N.L.R.B. v. Penasquitos Gardens, Inc.; etc. 603 F.2d 225 (C.A. 9, 1979)

3300 FORMATION OF A CONTRACT

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011

(agreement by E to purchase struck E's propane gas tanks, allowing E to perform struck work by filling struck E's gas tanks with his own product, held not true contract, in view of stated $1.00 consideration, failure to state purchase price, lack of requirement that purchase price ever be paid, and existence of repurchase clause; mere deletion of such clause did not cure lack of arms length contract, and to all intents and purposes struck E still owned tanks; however, when purchase price was agreed upon and paid, a true arms length purchase was consummated)

3325 OFFER

3325-1700 Must be unequivocal

N.L.R.B. v. Sumner Home For The Aged 293 F.2d 754 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(pre-strike agreement on certain contract terms contingent upon resolution of other unresolved major issues is not legally enforceable agreement)

3325-5000 No length of time specified for acceptance, reasonable time

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 87 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(where contract proposal presented near beginning of strike as offer to settle a contract and a strike, offer contained no express time conditions for acceptance and remained open to be accepted 3 weeks later, a reasonble period)

3325-6700 When terminated

3325-6717 Rejection

Shawn's Launch Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 124

(tenent of contract law that new offer revokes former offer when offer has not been accepted not applicable to collective bargaining agreement situations, even when E's proposal had been rejected by U membership and U thereafter made counterproposal, E's original offer remained capable of acceptance)

3325-6717-3300 By counter offer

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028

(since Bd not strictly bound by technical rules of contract law, fact that U rejected E's contract offer and even made counterproposals did not nullify offer; complete package proposal made on behalf of either party through negotiations remains viable, and upon accpetance in toto must be executed as part of statutory duty to bargain in good faith, unless expressly withdrawn prior to such acceptance, or defeated by an event upon which offer was expressly made contingent at time prior to acceptance)

3325-6717-6700 By refusal

Shawn's Launch Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 124

(E's contention its refusal to sign agreement justified since when U had been informed by Ees of their unhappiness with contract and desire for greater benefits U effectively withdrew original offer from any further consideration by attempting after meeting with Ees to renegotiate terms before E could reasonably be expected to act and thus no agreement reached, rejected)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028

(since Bd not strictly bound by technical rules of contract law, fact that U rejected E's contract offer and even made counterproposals did not nullify offer; complete package proposal made on behalf of either party through negotiations remains viable, and upon accpetance in toto must be executed as part of statutory duty to bargain in good faith, unless expressly withdrawn prior to such acceptance, or defeated by an event upon which offer was expressly made contingent at time prior to acceptance)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 87 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(contract offer remained open 3 weeks after offer, notwithstanding U rejected offer and intervening strike, where bargaining sessions occurred during this period at which E could have rescinded offer and circumstances do not indicate parties considered offer withdrawn)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 87 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(contract offer, once made, will remain on table unless explicitly withdrawn by offeror or unless circumstances arise which would lead parties to reasonably believe that offer had been withdrawn)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 87 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(where contract proposal presented near beginning of strike as offer to settle a contract and a strike, offer contained no express time conditions for acceptance and remained open to be accepted 3 weeks later, a reasonble period)

3350 ACCEPTANCE

3350-0100 Generally

Shawn's Launch Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 124
(in context of labor disputes, and particularly Section 8(a)(5) violations; however, technical question of whether contract was accepted in traditional sense is perhaps less vital than it othewise would be rather more crucial inquiry is whether two sides have reached agreement even though agreement might fall short of technical requirements of accepted contract)

N.L.R.B. v. Electra-Food Machinery, Inc. 621 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(acceptance of final offer of complete bargaining agreement manifests mutual assent and creates binding agreement)

3350-1400 By promise or act

United Paperworkers International Union and Its Local No. 795 (International Paper Company - Bagpak Division) 254 NLRB No. 173
(U's refusal to sign agreement with E which operated two facilities aimed at putting one facility on economic basis that would permit facility to remain open, unlawful, notwithstanding contention acceptance and implementation of agreement conditioned on approval by International's president of separation of dual plant unit into separate plant units, where E implemented economic terms of agreement and plant remained open, U acquiesced in implementation, adhered to its terms and deopped grievances and law suit)

McMillan Cartage, Inc. JD-(ATL)-48-81
(E adopted association contract by paying wage, cost of living and annual increases; and by attempting to negotiate changes in contract)

3350-2500 Must embody all the terms

N.L.R.B. v. Sumner Home For The Aged 293 F.2d 754 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(pre-strike agreement on certain contract terms contingent upon resolution of other unresolved major issues is not legally enforceable agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Sumner Home For The Aged 293 F.2d 754 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where U agreed in advance to accept whatever proposals E submitted covering certain mandatory subjects of bargaining that remained unresolved, R/O requiring E to propose contract terms covering these unresolved issues and to execute contract if U agreed to proposals, denied enforcement, since it is doubtful U representative has legal authority to make any such commitment or that Bd or ct has authority to enforce such contract; furthermore, since U free to reject contract there was no contract agreed to by both parties)

3350-4200 Must comply with terms of offer

3350-4250 Withdrawal of outstanding proposals

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(complete package proposal made on behalf of either party through negotiations remains viable, and upon acceptance in toto must be executed as part of statutory duty to bargain in good faith, unless expressly withdrawn prior to such acceptance or defeated by event upon which offer was expressly made contingent at time prior to acceptance)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(contract proposal, rejected by U during negotiations and subsequently withdrawn by E, ceased to exist and could no longer form basis for agreement where E's withdrawal was fully justified)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(ct rejected proposition implicit in Bd's conclusion that in face of U's unequivocal rejection of E's offer, E was somehow committed to all portions of the proposal as to which tentative agreement had been reached; that U could hold E to what U liked while rejecting that which it disapproved. Party may retract proposal before other side has accepted it)

3350-5000 Revocation of offer

3350-5067 Action taken by party

El Rancho Market JD-(SF)-116-81
(U by filing Sec. 8(a)(5) charge rejected contract)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(ct rejected proposition implicit in Bd's conclusion that in face of U's unequivocal rejection of E's offer, E was somehow committed to all portions of the proposal as to which tentative agreement had been reached; that U could hold E to what U liked while rejecting that which it disapproved. Party may retract proposal before other side has accepted it)

6700 CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT

6717 WRITTEN TERMS OF CONTRACT ARE CONCLUSIVE

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(incorporation by silence into contract of prior arbitration decision involving discipline also alleged to be violative of Act would be inconsistent where contract required express-written approval of parties before giving precendentral effect to disciplinary decisions)

6717-3700 Writing is interpreted as a whole and all writings forming part of same transaction are interpreted together

United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners of America, Local Union No. 743 261 NLRB No. 028
(termination provisions included in memorandum agreement signed by U and E govern over termination provisions of agreement signed by U and multi E association and refusal of U to bargain after notice given under memorandum violative since latter agreement bound parties to all provisions of agreement save those specifically excluded in memorandum agreement. E did not become signatory to multi-E agreement by signing memorandum; furthermore, U had let other Es with identical termination clauses in their memorandum agreements terminate agreements prior to expiration year of multiE agreement)

Olinkraft, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 185
(provision in Supplemental Agreement that E would give U name of subcontractor, date, duration and scope of job refers back to collective bargaining agreement and refers only to new construction as opposed to routine maintenance)

6717-7500 Where words are ambiguous or have more than one meaning they are construed against one who drafted contract

Into-Reto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111

6733 CONTRACT INTERPRETATION

Timberland Packing Corporation 261 NLRB No. 027
(extrinsic evidence of negotiations and relevant bargaining history used to resolve ambiguities in labor contract)

6733-0100 Generally

Dunham-Bush, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 175
(Bd attempts to discern from contract the parties intent when that is possible)

Capitol City Lumber Company 263 NLRB No. 102
(where parties had negotiated 1-year contract with year-to-year extensions unless either party gave notice of cancellation but because U welfare and pension funds required 3-year commitment, they had included articles providing for 3-year contributions with yearly step-increases, E's failure to increase 2nd year amount and to make 3rd-year contributions after contract was terminated at end of 2nd year held unlawful, since contribution commitment survived contract, and parties' letter of understanding reiterated 3-year commitment and, although it seemed to contradict step-increase requirements, had to be construed consistently with contract)

General Drivers, Local Union No. 89, a/w Teamsters (Robert E. McKee, Inc.) 254 NLRB No. 093
(extrinsic evidence necessary to show whether administration of ambiguous subcontracting clause lawful or unlawful; such evidence must be based on mutual consent or acquiescence of parties to contract)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(although interpreting written instrument is matter of law in which ct is not obliged to follow interpretation of Bd, ct generally will exercise usual deference to Bd's expertise in this regard. Such deference extends only in so far as Bd's interpretation is supported by language of agreement and relevant and necessary extrinsic evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(Bd's interpretation of contract terms entitled to deference from cts if interpretation is reasonable and not inconsistent with Act's policies)

6733-2000 Interpretation which gives reasonable, lawful, and effective meaning to all manifestations of intent is preferred

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(supplemental agreement executed by parties not subject to oral condition subsequent in view of meticulous preliminary language preceeding terms of supplemental agreement leads one to conclude that if such undertaking contemplated by parties it would have been inserted in agreement, moreover, prior contemporaneous oral agreement may not alter terms of written contract)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(as principle of coterminous interpretation had been adopted by Bd at time contract was negotiated, ct inferred that inclusion of two no-strike clauses, one expressly tied to arbitration clause and one prohibiting all strikes, was intended to waive Ees' right to strike over unforeseeable disputes including U fund's failure to pay insurance premiums)

6733-3000 Attempt to construe the contract as an implied agreement not to strike

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Company 282 NLRB No. 140

(contract containing provision requiring disputes to be referred to Joint Local Trade Board for arbitration not found to contain no-strike clause where section concerning safety does not directly state that those disputes be submitted to final and binding arbitration and clause is silent as to fines or remedial actions)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(Bd analyzes language of collective bargaining agreement and factual circumstances of labor controversy to determine whether U has waived right to engage in sympathy strikes; contract need not explicitly prohibit sympathy strikes to show intent to waive right to engage in such activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(U does not necessarily waive right by failing to negotiate contractual confirmation and silence in bargaining agreement cannot be considered to be waiver even in light of bargaining history; failure to obtain contractual confirmation of right is evidence of waiver only if it shows that U thought right had been waived by other provisions of contract and sought to regain right)

6733-4000 When there is an inconsistency between specific and general provisions, specific will qualify general

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082

(provision alleged to be violative of 8(e) not rendered lawful by another provision stating any other exclusions from construction industry proviso, previously defined by NLRB or cts, shall continue to be applicable in interpreting (alleged unlawful provision); explicit self-contained and clearly illegal contractual provision ... will not be purged of illegality by vague and general savings clause)

6733-6000 Interpretation given by parties will be favored

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1034, Teamsters 651 F.2d 136 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(U agents' statements during strike that strike violated no-strike clause were probative of parties' intent at time contract was executed, notwithstanding fact that strike resulted from Ee dissatisfaction over U's administrative of insurance fund)

Denver Stereotypers and Electrotypers Union, Local No. 13 v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 134 (C.A. 10, June 1980)

(in determining whether U, acting through its officers and members, breached its duty of fair representation, skill of union officers, as opposed to that of, in interpreting U's constitution and bylaws, is very relevant)

6733-7000 Past practices used in interpreting contract

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(E's refusal to sign agreement prepared by U pursuant to signed memorandum of agreement violative; contention that there was no meeting of minds on terms, e.g., increases in wages during 2d and 3d years, increases in annuity payments, and change in method of resolving disputes by substituting state board mediation for American Arbitration Association, rejected as any ambiguity over wages and annuity payments was resolved by bargaining history and memorandum provided for substitution of mediation for arbitration)

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(bargaining history of wage increases for 2d and 3d years and annuity payments in prior contract was supportive of finding that parties had meeting of minds on these issues when they signed memorandum agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Northeast Oklahoma City Manufacturing Company 631 F.2d 669 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1980)

(Bd properly relied on E's past practice in interpreting contract to require that Ees' bonus payments be paid during second week of month, notwithstanding E's contention that there was no evidence that payments were contractually due at that time, where E had long established practice of paying bonuses second week of month, and contract language will be presumed to have meaning given it by such practice)

6733-7500 Extrinsic evidence not admissable to impeach written terms

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 259 NLRB No. 004

(on ct remand Bd held that extrinsic evidence must be excluded in contructing meaning of members only provision of health benefits provision)

6733-8000 Provisions interpreted

6733-8006 Wage increase

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(where prior contract contained clause that 2d and 3d year wage increase shall not be precedent for future contracts, purpose of clause was interpreted to prevent U from taking position of tying wage increases to competitors rather than to exclude clause from subsequent contract w/o specific oral discussions or agreements)

6733-8010 Duration and termination

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169

(refusal of E who was not member of multi-E association to abide by current contract between association and U, not unlawful, notwithstanding agreement with U in which E had agreed to abide by expired association bargaining agreement and to be bound by terms of negotiated agreements with association during terms of agreement since agreement was only meant to be temproary interim agreement with intent to bind E only for duration of next agreement with association and this agreement with association and this agreement expired)

6733-8020 No-strike clause

6733-8020 No strike clause

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

(waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes will not be implied from general no-strike clause; prohibition on self-help only as extensive as grievance-arbitration procedure, thus when U foregoes right to strike it does so only with respect to disputes which are arbitrable and sympathy strikes precipitated by another U's dispute with same or different E raises no issue that can be resolved by resort to sympathy strikers' grievance procedure)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

(Ees right to participate in sympathy strike not waived by no-strike clause since no-strike clause quid pro quo for grievance procedure and economic issues at root of strike against another E not arbitrable under contract between Ees' E and U; further, proviso that if violation of no-strike provision occurred there would be no negotiations until work resumed and no lockout provision further evidenced grievance procedure quid pro for no-strike/no lockout agreement and that only disputes between parties to agreement subject to discussion under grievance procedure; nor was there discussion of amendment of no-strike clause during long bargaining relationship)

St. Regis Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 162

(suspension or discharge of sympathy strikers for refusing to cross picket line at own E's premises in violation of no-strike clause not unlawful, where overall bargaining history pointed decisively to conscious waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes during contract period)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues, Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)

(while U officers may be disciplined more harshly than other strikers if officers flount affirmative contractual duties during illegal strike, herein no waiver found of officers' protected rights; E's contention contract ratified and incorporated by silence prior arbitration decision holding that imposition of longer suspensions on U stewards than other Ees participating in strike in violation of no strike agreement, rejected; silence is not dispositive of parties intent in labor contract. Giving equivalent to stare decisis effect to private arbitration decisions should be by express clause in contract)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminous and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(2 requisites required for finding no-strike obligation; (1) contract imposes upon both parties duties of submitting to final and binding arbitration; and (2) matter is one which it has been agreed to will be covered by compulsory terminal arbitration)

N.L.R.B. v. Gould, Inc., Switchgear Division 638 F.2d 159 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(sympathy strike is not prohibited by no-strike clause where clause is tied to grievance procedure and dispute underlying sympathy strike is not subject to grievance-arbitration machinery of contract; strike was spontaneous action to honor own U's informational picket line at own E's premises)

6733-8029 Accrued benefits

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128

(contention that Ee must be working, i.e., not striking, and E was permitted to cancel vacations and withhold vacation pay, rejected where contract is silent in this regard)

Vesuvius Crucible Company 252 NLRB No. 179

(refusal to pay economic strikers vacation pay accrued under expired contract, violative, fact contract limited vacation pay, computed on prior year's earnings, to its term did not free E from responsibility of paying these vacation benefits because they vested in Ees during term of contract and do not divest on expiration)

6733-8030 Effective date of contract

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where R/O improperly prescribed substantive provision for future agreement between E and U; namely, effective date of agreement be made retroactive to effective date of agreement between E and 3 Us representing other units of E, notwithstanding in previous successful negotiations, all 4 Us had conducted joint bargaining with E association of which E had properly withdrawn from)

6733-8038 Subcontracting clause

Olinkraft, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 185

(provision in Supplemental Agreement that E would give U name of subcontractor, date, duration and scope of job refers back to collective bargaining agreement and refers only to new construction as opposed to routine maintenance)

6733-8040 Arbitration

Diplomat Envelope Corporation 263 NLRB No. 075

(where prior contract provides for arbitration and memorandum agreement provides for state mediation board, parties agreed to substitute mediation for arbitration in new contract)

Metropolitan Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 478 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)

(ct enforced Bd order where E disciplined U officers more harshly than other Ees who participated in illegal work stoppage since (1) agreement did not expressly impose duty on U officers to attempt to halt illegal work stoppage, and (2) ct is not bound by two previous arbitral interpretations of no-strike clause placing greater responsibilities on U officials to take affirmative steps to end illegal work stoppage; furthermore, substantial evidence supports Bd finding that U officers were not leaders of strike)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(as principle of coterminous interpretation had been adopted by Bd at time contract was negotiated, ct inferred that inclusion of two no-strike clauses, one expressly tied to arbitration clause and one prohibiting all strikes, was intended to waive Ees' right to strike over unforeseeable disputes including U fund's failure to pay insurance premiums)

16733-8042 Precedential value of grievance settlement

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033

(contract provisions providing that where U fails to appeal grievance it shall be deemed withdrawn w/o prejudice or precedent, and if E fails to render decision w/i time limits it shall be deemed granting of grievance by default w/o prejudice or precedent, did not manifest intent that all other grievance resolutions were to become precedent)

6733-8045 Management rights clause

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128

(contention that Ee must be working, i.e., not striking, and E was permitted to cancel vacations and withhold vacation pay, rejected where contract is silent in this regard)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001

(U waived right to bargain regarding temporary termination of operations by virture of management rights clause which generally reserved to E right to abolish or change operations determine extent to which plant will operate layoff Ees because of legitimate reasons sell...terminate, discontinue or transfer operations due to economic factors and E's obligation to bargain was limited by agreement to permanent discontinuance of operations)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001

(waiver of statutory right may not be lightly inferred but must be expressed in clear and unmistakable language. Bd will not find that contract terms of themselves confer on E management right to take unilateral action on mandatory subject of bargaining unless contract expressly or by necessary implication confers such a right)

6733-8080 Union representation at disciplinary hearing

Prudential Insurance Company of America 254 NLRB No. 020

(contract provision that neither U nor its members shall interfere with E's right to interview Ee with respect to any phase of his work w/o presence of grievance committee held not waiver of Weingarten rights)

6750 PAROL EVIDENCE

6750-0100 Generally

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 252 NLRB No. 025

(evidence extrinsic to written contract resorted to where contract provision is ambiguous)

6750-2500 Agreements prior to or contemporaneous with an integrated agreement are admissible in evidence

6750-2567 To prove facts rendering agreement void or voidable for illegality, fraud, duress, mistake or insufficiency of consideration

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049

(parol evidence offered by E and U to change pre-hire contract rejected where language contained in contract was clear and unambiguous)

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051

(supplemental agreement executed by parties not subject to oral condition subsequent in view of meticulous preliminary language preceeding terms of supplemental agreement leads one to conclude that if such undertaking contemplated by parties it would have been inserted in agreement, moreover, prior contemporaneous oral agreement may not alter terms of written contract)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)

(E's contention that there was mutual mistake of fact as to ending date of payroll period and date inserted in Stipulation for Certification upon Consent Election not grounds for relief because mistake by one party to agreement, where not induced by other falls on party making mistake)

6750-7500 Where language employed leaves meaning obscure, parties' previous negotiations are admissible to show meaning of agreement

6750-7550 Previous negotiations cannot give a meaning that is completely alien to the words

U.S. Utilities Corporation 254 NLRB No. 055

(parole evidence insufficient to show that contract was not applicable to jobsites outside U's jurisdiction where contract clause requires Ees to be paid mileage when assigned to jobsites outside U's jurisdiction; additionally, rest of contract by its terms evidences no limitation on its application to only geographical area of U's jurisdiction)

8300 WITHDRAWAL FROM CONTRACT

8700 ILLEGAL PROVISIONS

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(illegal promises will not be enforced in cases controlled by federal law; ct permits defendant to set up contract's illegality (as defense), on account of public interest)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(rules of estoppel will not be permitted to thwart the purposes of statutes of the U.S. even if petitioner waited over long to assert defense of illegality (waiting to after contract expired))

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(anyone sued upon a contract may set up as a defense that it is a violation of Act of Congress, and if found to be so, that fact will constitute a good defense to the action—; a defendant proferring defense of illegal contract seeks only to be relieved of an illegal obligation and does not ask any affirmative remedy based on antitrust or labor laws)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(third party beneficiaries, like Trustees of benefit funds, are subject to contract defenses of nonperforming promisors; pension fund trustees have no special status which exempts them from general rule that cts do not enforce illegal contracts)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(ct must reach merits of illegality defense in order to determine whether contract clause at issue has any legal effect)

9100 BREACH OF CONTRACT

Complete Auto Transit, Inc., et al. v. Reis et al. 451 US 401 (U.S. SCt. May 1981)

(E's ptn for damages from individual U members for breach of no-strike contract by engaging in strike unauthorized nor approved by U, dismissed; Sec. 301(a) does not sanction damage actions against individuals, whether or not U participated in or authorized strike; legislative history shows Congress intended to shield individuals from breach of no-strike clause, even though it might leave E unable to recover his losses; and Sec. 301(b)'s prohibition against money judgment against U from being enforced against individual U members does not suggest that Ees should be liable where U is not liable for strike)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(petitioner's contractual promise to UMW to report and make contributions to specified U health and retirement funds based on specified amount, on each ton of — coal procured for use or sale by petitioner from producers not under contract with UMW was illegal under anti-trust and labor laws and thus valid defense to suit for such contributions by trustees of U funds)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(illegal promises will not be enforced in cases controlled by federal law; ct permits defendant to set up contract's illegality (as defense), on account of public interest)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(contrary to E's contention that any breaches by it of strike settlement agreements with Us were nothing more than violations of U's private contract rights, Bd held such breaches were w/i cognizance of Act and must be remedied in the public interest; accordingly, since E's violations of agreements denied reinstatement of economic strikers who had done no more than engage in protected concerted activity, E's conduct was unlawfully discriminatory)

0150 FEDERAL RULES OF EVIDENCE, APPLICABILITY (SECTION 10(b))

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(Charging Party's testimony as to conversation he had with U's business agent who was allegedly presuring E to discharge him, which was offered against U w/o contradiction, not hearsay under Federal Rules of Evidence and admissible under Bd law; that testimony may be appropriately supplemented by Charging Party's testimony as to what E's area supervisor informed Charging Party what business agent was telling E which, although hearsay as to U, admissible to support other evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antoninino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(actions before Bd are not subject to technical pleading requirements of private law suit. Charge need not be technically precise so long as it generally informs party charged as to nature of alleged violations. General allegations in charge may be later supplemented or amplified by more specific allegations which relate back to date charge was filed)

0150-5000 'So far as practicable'

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(Bd not bound to strictly apply Federal Rules of Evidence)

International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, an unincorporated labor organization v. Thomas C. Hendrix, et al. No. 80-1071, Jan. 29, 1980, DC KS (unreported)
(administrative proceedings are not bound by strict rules of court procedure or of evidence)

0150-5067 Parol evidence rule

Air-Vac Industries, Inc., Leeward Constructors, Inc., Air-Vac Environmental Limited 259 NLRB No. 051
(supplemental agreement executed by parties not subject to oral condition subsequent in view of meticulous preliminary language preceeding terms of supplemental agreement leads one to conclude that if such undertaking contemplated by parties it would have been inserted in agreement, moreover, prior contemporaneous oral agreement may not alter terms of written contract)

1400 JUDICIAL AND OFFICIAL NOTICE

Fry Foods, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 031
(request that Bd remand proceeding to another ALJ because record was not complete when judgment was made on ground that U.S. district ct issued its decision on criminal contempt charges against E after ALJ had issued his decision herein, denied; decision of district ct is matter of which Bd takes judicial notice and, furthermore, Bd found nothing in ct opn which would warrant reversal of ALJ's findings)

Seafarers International Union of North America, Pacific District, AFL-CIO, and Its Affiliates (American Pacific Container Lines, Inc. (AMPAC)) 252 NLRB No. 105
(U's request which was filed with ALJ after hearing closed for judicial notice of exhibits from collateral suit of which GC was not party denied where other parties would not have opportunity to be heard as to propriety of taking judicial notice and tenor of matter noticed as moving party did not move to reopen record)

Local No. 3, Electrical Workers (Nixdorf Computer Corporation) 252 NLRB No. 082
(ALJ's taking judicial notice of credibility findings made in another case held not reversible error, notwithstanding fact that it is generally inappropriate for ALJ to rely on credibility findings made in another case; here, ALJ did not predicate his credibility resolutions on credibility findings in companion case, but rather based his resolutions on demeanor of witnesses and record as whole)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055
(Bd took administrative notice of fact that, following close of hearing, a change occurred in leadership of Iran which was E's primary customer at facility involved herein, and left to compliance stage determination of timing and nature of impact of such leadership change on E's operations which E alleged resulted in its closing, as well as period during which Ees would have worked had it not been for E's unlawful layoff of Ees and subcontracting of its operations)

Madison Newspapers, Inc. JD-157-82
(no official notice taken of findings in decision to which exceptions have been filed and which is thus not final)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(ct declined U's request to take official notice of letters from E to Us concerning sale of E's stores, since U failed to establish that information in letters is not subject to reasonable dispute, as required by Fed. R. Evidence 201(b))

1450 SPECIFIC FACTS NOTICED

1450-0900 Board decisions

Magnesium Casting Company 259 NLRB No. 064
(ALJ's official notice of prior case involving same E not taken until after Bd issued its decision and order in that case)

Marriott Corporation 251 NLRB No. 180
(prior Bd decision holding that E's In-Flight Services Division had violated Secs. 8(a)(1) and (3) of Act at E's Tampa facility not taken into account in instant case, since: (a) issue of E's motive was not litigated; (b) acts in issue occurred in Tampa, not San Juan; (c) even in Tampa, E did not demonstrate general disregard for its Ees' rights)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 250 NLRB No. 155
(request that ALJ take official notice of Bd's decision in related cases rejected where GC had proceeded in instant case w/o consolidation with said cases and prior to Bd decision in said cases)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 250 NLRB No. 071
(to find U a labor organization)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(representative for appropriate unit)

Tripp Electric, Inc.; Triple B Electric; Robert Stephen Tripp d/b/a Coordinated Systems; Ronald J. Tripp d/b/a Integrated Systems JD-(SF)-220-81
(jurisdiction asserted over signatories to multi-E bargaining agreement where notice was taken that jurisdiction had been asserted over same multi-E association in prior Bd case, creating presumption of continuing jurisdiction which was not rebutted by E)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(status of local of Teamsters as labor organization, since U had been cited in prior Bd decisions as labor organization)

National Electric Coil, A Division of McGraw Edison Company JD-235-81
(official notice taken of Bd decision cited in memorandum submitted by respondent appropriate where memorandum contains no argument and deci-

1450-2700 Commerce facts

New World's Restaurant d/b/a Sunbird Restaurant JD-(SF)-288-82
(in unpublished decision)

1450-4500 Federal laws, regulations, decisions, publications, etc.

The Bakery, Incorporated 259 NLRB No. 099
(administrative notice taken of recently effective changes in Sec. 102.69(a) of the Bd's R/R, series 8, as amended; however, Respondent's contention that former Sec. 102.69(a) required transmittal to Bd of statements of witnesses as part of R case underlying alleged section 8(a)(5) violation proceeding herein, rejected; and GC's contention that in no hearing cases witnesses' statements always have been and still are excluded from record, accepted)

Alco Venetian Blind Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 161
(official notice of inflation rate as reported by Bureau of Labor Statistics may not be taken to show that wage increases were not higher in percentage terms than wage increases in prior years because GC had no opportunity to respond to these figures at hearing)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063
(affidavit of witness who died prior to hearing, admissable to prove conversation between deceased and E's terminal manager, since affidavit met standards of Rule 804(b)(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence)

Lord Jim's 259 NLRB No. 164
(judicial notice of district ct decision regarding merger of Us which was basis for decision as to whether there was successor U in Bd case)

1450-4800 State laws, regulation, decisions, publications etc.

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(decision of state unemployment insurance appeal board denying benefits because charging party lost job through conduct, received into evidence; however, since ALJ drew differnet factual conclusions and ULP not considered by unemployment tribunal, award not given controlling weight).

1450-6300 Record in prior Board case need not be introduced as formal exhibit

Stop and Shop Companies, Inc. Medi Mart Division 259 NLRB No. 124
(ALJ, in rejecting E's argument of alleged discriminatee's lack of involvement in prior ULP case in defense to E's alleged motivation in present ULP case , found that prior charge was filed at least partially on alleged discriminatee's behalf, and ALJ took official notice of fact that alleged discriminatee for whom ULP charge had been filed would provide affidavit to Bd in support thereof)

1450-7200 Record in prior R proceeding involving same parties

Bally's Park Place, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 132
(intervenor U held labor organization where record in 2 prior RC cases disclosed that local was organized to deal with Es concerning wages, hours and working conditions and was found labor organization and nothing in recent cases casts doubt upon its qualification)

Colorado Aggregate Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 169
(as term record is defined in Sections 102.68 and 102.69 of Bd's R/R)

Wright & Lopez of Alabama 250 NLRB No. 051

Spring City Knitting Company 260 NLRB No. 033

U.S. Bus, Inc. JD-391-82
(where E failed to comply with subpoena requesting jurisdictional information, ALJ conducted hearing and allowed GC to adduce secondary evidence obtained from R-case hearing involving same E and also other reports filed with ICC and Maryland Public Service Commission)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(E status and jurisdiction)

1450-8100 Record in prior ULP case against same party

Building and Construction Trades Council of Philadelphia and Vicinity, AFL-CIO (Neshaminy Constructors, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 147
(where Council for Building and Construction Trades Council declined to stipulate that it is labor organization, Bd took administrative notice that it was found to be labor organization in prior cases)

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(finding in Earle Industries, Inc., 146 NLRB 536 (1964), that supervisor and plant manager had propensity to engage in violative 8(a)(1) conduct prior to instant hearing, not adopted by Bd, since earlier decision predated alleged violation in instant case by some 14 years and was too remote to support ALJ's finding)

Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 047
(where E excepted to ALJ's taking official notice of its ULPs in prior case as evidence of E's U animus herein claiming few if any of its management personnel then employed still remained, Bd held E's prior ULPs may be noted as background here)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(formal pleadings and transcript from prior case involving same local were admitted into evidence in instant case, since they were relevant with respect to consideration of res judicata issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 483 and Local 11, Ironworkers 672 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(referral in violation of consent decree in earlier Ironworkers' cases is not, ipso facto, violation of Sec. 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2))

N.L.R.B. v. Joseph, d/b/a Meat Packers International 605 F.2d 466 (C.A. 9, 1979)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd was clearly entitled to consider extensive record of past unlawful activity of E in shaping its remedial order in instant case)

1450-8900 Other

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82
(cost of living as determined by U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics USDL: 79-305 (April 29, 1979))

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd will not consider extrinsic evidence to determine if ambiguous contract provisions were intended to have, or in practice had, illegal effects)

2800 BURDEN OF PROOF

Texas Department of Community Affairs v. Burdine 450 U.S. 248 (U.S. SCt., Mar. 1981)
(in Title VII cases, defendant held to have burden – not of persuasion by a preponderance of the evidence that theirm employment action was lawful – but burden of production of admissable evidence of legitimate nondiscriminatory reason for rejection of plaintiff, or preference for another, sufficient to raise a genuine issue of fact and legally sufficient to justify judgment for defendant; burden of persuasion remains with plaintiff)

Sierra Vista Hospital, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 066
(E failed to meet its burden of proving that there was clear and present danger of conflict of interest as result of supervisory participation in positions of authority in nurses' association so as to compromise association's bargaining integrity)

Cashmere Lumber Company JD-(SF)-93-80
(burden is on party alleging supervisory status to prove that it, in fact, exists)

Central Florida Sheet Metal Contractors Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 489 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1981)
(burden of proof was not on U to show that trust fund was lawful under Sec. 302 of LMRA and not union war chest, but on GC to show that trust fund's providing for strike benefits changed it from mandatory to nonmandatory bargaining subject and made U's bargaining to impasse over it unlawful; potential surreptitious payments of strike benefits was sufficient basis for ct's finding fund violated Sec. 302, but not for GC's showing 8(b)(3) violation)

2810 STANDARD OF PROOF

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)
(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

2810-3300 On General Counsel-preponderance of evidence

Virginia Electric Power Company 260 NLRB No. 075
(proper standard for finding a violation at agency level is that violation must be proved by preponderance of the evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(section 10(c), as well as Bd's own regulation, make clear that GC must prove E's guilt by preponderance of evidence to warrant finding that ULP has occurred)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(to prove knowledge of U activity Bd did not need to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that E was aware of Ee's involvement where record allows fair inference of discriminatory motivation. Circumstantail evidence of E's knowledge and motive sufficient to prove Sec. 8(a)(3) violation)

2810-6700 On Respondent-rebut or meet presumption that violation occurred

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(E in section 8(a)(3) discharge case has no more than limited duty of producing evidence to balance, not to outweigh, evidence produced by GC; E has burden of going forward to meet prima facie case, but not burden of persuasion on ultimate issue of existence of violation; i.e., that there would be no discharge but for E's protected activity)

2850 BURDEN OF GOING FORWARD WITH PROOF

Texas Department of Community Affairs v. Burdine 450 U.S. 248 (U.S. SCt., Mar. 1981)
(in Title VII cases after plaintiff proves by a preponderance of the evidence a prima facie case of discrimination, burden shifts to defendant to rebut presumption of discrimination by production of admissable evidence of legitimate nondiscriminatory reason for its employment action sufficient to raise a genuine issue of fact and legally sufficient to justify judgment for defendant; burden of persuasion remains with plaintiff)

2850-0100 Generally

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(burden of proving supervisory status rests on party alleging that such status exists)

Sheet Metal Workers International Association, Local Union No. 13, AFL-CIO (Sheet Metal Contractors Association Hudson & Bergen Counties, New Jersey) 259 NLRB No. 056
(where U refuses to refer applicant because of improper U considerations, GC need not prove that jobs were available at the time of the request for referral)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(party seeking Bd deferral to arbitration award has burden of proving that issue of discrimination was litigated before arbitrator; Electronic Reproduction, 213 NLRB 758, overruled)

General Grocer Company JD-591-80
(ALJ noted that Bd has not adopted ct established requirement that U has burden of proof to demonstrate some objective justification for discriminatory conduct towards its members; instead, burden of proving violative motives or objectives is on GC)

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct did not sustain Bd's finding of unlawful discharge where it found Bd's inference of E's knowledge of dischargee's U activity based solely on disbelief of E's stated reasons for discharge tantamount to compelling E to disprove prior knowledge)

2850-0600 Proving contract as bar to petition

The German School Society, Washington, D.C., d/b/a The German School of Washington, D.C. 260 NLRB No. 169
(party asserting contract as bar to election bears burden of proving the facts establishing the applicability of contract bar doctrine)

2850-0800 In objections to election proceeding

Campbell Products Department, Harry T. Campbell Sons Company, Division of Flintkote Company 260 NLRB No. 161
(the burden of proving its objections to elections is on party making objections and Bd staff has no duty to seek out evidence which would warrant setting aside election)

Burns International Security Services, Inc. 236 NLRB No. 165
(U certified where E's contention that RD's investigation was inadequate was rejected because E failed to make out prima facie showing in connection with any of its timely objections, or demonstrate that material factual issues existed as to correctness of RD's findings)

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(burden on party urging overturning of Bd decision which refused to set election aside)

EDS-IDAB, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(hearing required where company's prima facie evidence supporting objections to conduct of election related to specific events and people and raised substantial and material issues of fact as to whether the threats and violence were sufficient to destroy atmosphere necessary to exercise of free choice in election)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(burden is on objecting party to prove prejudice to fairness of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(contention by E, in objecting to election, that U had created racially inflamatory atmosphere precluding fair election, rejected, where E failed to supply prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

2850-1100 Beginning burden rests on General Counsel

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(GC made prima facie showing that Ee's protected concerted activity of participating, as miner's representative, in federal agency's safety inspection of mine was motivating factor in Ee's suspension assertedly because of safety infraction on job, in view of prior threats of termination for resorting to agency, timing of suspension shortly after inspection, and departure from usual practice in disciplining Ee for safety violation)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd has burden of proving that discharge was motivated by anti-U animus)

2850-1133 Discriminatory reason for discharge or other action

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-96-82
(warning and suspension notices for strike misconduct issued to Ees who were stipulated to have participated in strike proved GC's prima facie case; need not include showing of explicit motivation to punish strikers for participating in strike)

A. Duie Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092
(in order to prove prima facie case of discharge violative of 8(a)(1), GC must establish that violation occurred because (a) Ees, to E's knowledge, were engaged in protected concerted activity of lawful economic strike, and (b) E discharged or failed to reinstate Ees for alleged misconduct associated with their picketing activity)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(make-whole remedy appropriate for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights since GC made prima facie showing that unlawful interview occurred and that Ee was discharged for failing to provide assurances at interview that he would no longer be insubordinate, and E did not meet burden of demonstrating that discipline was not based on information obtained at interview)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 182
(To establish violation of Section 8(a)(3) it is incumbent on GC to adduce evidence supporting contention that Ee was unlawfully discharged. Should prima facie case of unlawful discharge be shown, burden of persuasion shifts to respondent to establish lawful reason for discharge. However, in assessing whether prima facie case has been presented, ALJ must view GC's evidence in isolation, apart from respondent's proferred defense. It is only after GC's prima facie requirement has been met that ALJ must consider respondent's defense)

Webb-Centric Construction 254 NLRB No. 159
(under test articulated in Wright Line GC is required to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's action... once such a prima facie case is established, burden is shifted to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct. This shifting of burdens does not shift ultimate burden of GC to establish ULP by preponderance of evidence)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(E's unlawful reasons for action must be motivating factor in its decision rather than constituting only part of reason; GC must make prima facie showing to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor... once this is established, burden shifts to E to demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(under dominant motive test it is GC who in addition to establishing prima facie showing of unlawful motive, is further required to rebut E's asserted defense by showing that discharge would not have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Kraft Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 086
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy, appropriate as remedy for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, since E negated prima facie showing of appropriateness of make-whole remedy by demonstrating that its decision, to discipline Ee involved in forklift collision and fight with another Ee, was not based on information obtained at unlawful interview)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(disciplining Ee for harassing two other Ees by various derogatory, threatening and vulgar remarks and spitting at one of them for their not having participated in strike held not violative where GC had not established that conduct was prima facie or, in fact, protected activity)

Charles Dom d/b/a Hopp Tapp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation may be inferred from record as whole; economic justification no defense to discriminatory discharges or lay offs if selection of those Ees effected was because of their U activities)

Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 047
(where it was alleged that E violated 8(a)(3) by discharging Ee, E does not have burden of proving ignorance of Ee's U activity but, rather, it is GC who has burden of establishing E's knowledge of Ee's U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(in dual motive case, the initial inquiry is whether Bd has made a prima facie showing that a significant improper motivation underlay E's adverse action against an Ee; such a showing can rest either on independent evidence of anti-U animus or on circumstances surrounding the conduct itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Blackstone Company, Inc. 685 F.2d 102 (C.A. 3, Aug. 1982)
(where Bd found violation relying on Wright Line stating that E did not sustain burden of proof to show that Ee would have been discharged absent of his having engaged in protected activity after GC showed discriminatory motivation; remanded to Bd for reconsideration under Circuit's decision in Behring International No. 81-1937, which holds once GC has established prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, E should rebut this with evidence of legitimate business reason for its action but ultimate burden of proof does not shift from GC to E and E doesn't need to show lack of impermissible motive)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where valid reason to discharge Ee exists, it is not sufficient in order to establish violation for Bd to declare that reasons were pretextual but burden which is on Bd is not simply to discover some evidence of improper motive, but to find affirmative reason why E rejected good cause and chose bad one and to present substantial basis of believable evidence pointing toward unlawful one)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(GC has burden of establishing that E's conduct was so egregious as to be inherently destructive of important Ee rights or that E acted with intent to discourage U membership)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, Mar 1981)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)
(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(when discharge motivated by both legitimate business and anti-U animus, or when business reasons may be pretext for termination motivated by hostility toward U, ULP may be found only if anti-U animus was moving cause of discharge. Bd must make showing that U activity was motivating factor; then burden shifts to E to establish that terminations would have occured absent protected U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Adams Delivery Service, Inc. 623 F.2d 96 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(Bd has burden of proving that moving cause for discharge was anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(in establishing that Ee's duties were changed and he was discharged in violation of Section 8(a)(1) and (3), Bd bears burden of proving that these actions were unlawfully motivated, and this burden must be met by substantial evidence)

2850-1133-0000 General Counsel may not rely on inferences

Lorid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(where E presented evidence that discharge of Ee was for excessive absences and lateness, particularly in view of fact Ee's U activities limited to signing authorization card, its defense was accepted, but adverse inference, drawn from E's refusal to present time cards of other Ees which might show that Ees with equally bad attendance records not discharged, did not aid GC since adverse inference may not be used as substitute for affirmative evidence in establishing prima facie case; therefore no link to show that discharge was for U activities)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(termination of technologically displaced telephone operator, U activist, subsequent to alleged refusal to transfer her to another clerical position w/I E's organization not violative where Ee refused to accept other clerical jobs offered by E; GC did not sustain burden of proving discrimination, since events relied on were outside 10(b) limitation period, and were subject to several inferrences none of which constituted ULP nor amplified character of any later conduct of E)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(in absence of evidence of animus or hostility towards Ee based upon Ee's U activity, discriminatory motive may not be inferred)

Le Norse Company, a Subsidiary of Ingersoll Rand Company 247 NLRB No. 098
(where E's relocation of plant was based on legitimate economic reasons and E was under no legal duty to transfer unit Ees to new location, E's failure to transfer unit Ees while transfering non-unit Ees, not violative, notwithstanding that E did not offer legitimate business reasons for its disparate treatment of unit and not-unit Ees; GC did not claim that disparate treatment was illegally motivated, and it is presumed that an action was taken for lawful reasons, absent evidence of illegality)

2850-1150 Justification of superseniority contractual provision

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(burden upon party (U in instant case) asserting legality of (super-seniority) clause to show substantial and legitimate justification for grant if extended beyond seniority and layoffs; see N.L.R.B. v. Great Dane Trailers, Inc. 388 U.S. 26, 33-34 (1967))

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 658 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)
(superseniority clauses are discriminatory; therefore, those who are responsible for invoking or applying such clause to U officers must initially prove legitimate and substantial purpose. Exact proof which will be sufficient has to depend on surrounding circumstances of each case)

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 658 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)
(minimum standard of proof Act requires for those invoking superseniority clause is that official duties and responsibilities of officer who receives superseniority must help to implement collective bargaining in meaningful way)

2850-1167 Illegality of wage increase

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(burden of dissociating anouncement of wage increase from pre-election campaign and thereby making it lawful is on E)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(pre-election granting of wage increases which were appreciably larger than those granted in previous years, unlawful, where E failed to sustain burden of showing that as to Ees receiving more than statutory minimum wage, size of increases was governed by other than pendency of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(where size of wage increases is in question, burden is on GC to demonstrate that increases were abnormally large and timed to influence Ees' organizational decision; once this is shown, GC has put forth prima facie case of interference with Ee rights, and burden shifts to E to establish that increases were consistent in size with those granted in prior years or that increases were timed so as not to interfere with Ee rights)

2850-1168 Whether union, denied access to employer's property, has other means of access to employees

Belcher Towing Company v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 88 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)
(to sustain its burden of proving lack of alternative means of communication U need not have attempted communication by other means but show only that such attempts would have been unsuccessful under circumstances)

Belcher Towing Company v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 88 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)
(remand to Bd to reconsider whether U had alternative means of communication with E's Ees where its agents were denied access to E's ship with burden on GC to prove lack of alternative means of communication rather than on E to show existence of means)

(burden lies upon Bd to substantiate its conclusion that access is necessary remedy to offset consequences of unlawful E conduct)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)

(propriety of access as organizational tool and propriety of U access as remedial measure are 2 separate questions involving different considerations; former need finding that U unable to reach Ees through other channels of communication; as to latter, critical inquiry is whether E conduct is of such nature that access is needed to offset harmful effects that have been produced by such conduct)

2850-1185 Appropriateness of unit

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(ct must insure that Bd's exercise of discretion, as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining, is not unreasonable, arbitrary, unsupported by evidence, or in conflict with congressional intent)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(requiring health care industry Es to bear burden of producing evidence that limited bargaining units are more inappropriate than broader bargaining units runs contrary to Congress' admonition)

2850-1186 Majority status of incumbent union

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109

(burden of proof to establish invalidity of cards shifted to E where GC had established validity of cards to show U's majority status)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(burden of proof is upon GC to establish by affirmative probative evidence that at some relevant time U represented majority of Ees in appropriate unit)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

(burden on GC to establish U does not represent majority of Ees at time of recognition; however, GC need not prove with mathematical certainty that U lacked majority support at time of recognition where there is evidence that E unlawfully assisted in U organizational campaign)

2850-1187 Unilateral change in terms and conditions of employment

Artim Transportation System, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 020

(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie showing that E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by unilaterally implementing changes in wage rate structures covered by multi-E association contract in circumstances which showed that E implemented changes w/o consulting in any manner with U and E did not effectively withdraw authority from multi-E association to bargain on its behalf with U negotiating committee)

Spector Freight System, Inc., Viking Division 260 NLRB No. 014

(GC held not to have met his burden of proof where, in order to make out prima facie showing that E violated 8(a)(5) by unilaterally changing terms and conditions of employment, GC was required to show that E failed to bargain and reach agreement with designated bargaining representative before implementing changes, which in instant case was industry negotiating committee, but introduced evidence showing only that E had not reached agreement concerning changes with local's business agent; see also Branch Motor Express Co., 260 NLRB No. 16)

2850-1188 Lawful recognition of incumbent union

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local No. 1063 (Heathman Employees Independent Union) 249 NLRB No. 052

(GC sustained burden of proving that incumbent U was lawfully recognized, where recognition was granted during pre-election conference at Bd's office, incumbent's numerical majority was not challenged, at time of recognition no R ptn had been filed by rival U or any other U seeking Ee representation, and rival U did not move to intervene in R proceeding)

2850-1190 Refusal to refer

International Longshoremen's Association, Local 1414 JD-357-80

(unnecessary that GC demonstrate what specific jobs were available at time of discriminatory refusal to refer, inorder to establish violation)

2850-1700 Burden on party seeking to overturn results of election

Gulf Coast Automotive Warehouse Company, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 058

(ALJ upon remand from Bd and ct found E failed to show that U engaged in pre-election misconduct involving Sewell rule which would warrant setting aside results of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 650 F.2d 741 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

(burden is heavy one, and objecting party must present specific evidence which on its face would warrant setting aside election. Party seeking to have Bd overrule RD's recommendation required under established Bd policy to supply Bd with specific evidence tantamount to offer of proof, which would warrant setting aside election before Bd will direct hearing or require RD to pursue investigation further)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(conclusory allegations are not sufficient to obtain hearing in representation case; losing party bears heavy burden)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 5, May 1981)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(Bd enjoys broad discretion in conducting and supervising representation elections, once complete, Bd conducted election is presumed legitimate accordingly, to be entitled to hearing, party making post-election objection or otherwise seeking to void election must supply prima facie evidence that presents substantial and material issues which would warrant setting aside election)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(mtn for reconsideration after election held must be supported by prima facie evidence that presents substantial and material issues which warrant setting aside election since once completed, Bd-conducted election is presumed legitimate and standard for reversal of BD's denial of hearing on post election objection is abuse of discretion)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)

(post-election objections based on U's (or international's) merger or change of affiliation with another U is not automatically entitled to hearing addressing is of continuity of representation i.e., whether successor U is continciation of elected U, or substantially different organization but objection must be supported by substantial and material evidence standard applicable to any post-election objection)

South Pacific Furniture, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 NLRB No. 173 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(hearing on objections to election not required where E, seeking to void Bd conducted election, did not supply prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting election aside; E cannot demand evidentiary hearing simply to inquire further into unspecified possible election improprieties)

2850-2200 Failure to sustain burden justifies adverse inference

2850-2201 Generally

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(absence of any legitimate basis for action, of course, may form part of proof of GC's case)

2850-2233 Nonproduction of material evidence in one's possession raises adverse inference

Plumbers, Local Union 598 (Columbia Mechanical Contractors Association) 250 NLRB No. 023

(U's own failure to maintain (out-of-work) records does not obviate its burden of rebutting GC's prima facie case of discrimination)

Aeronautic Corporation JD-(Atl)-110-81

(GC's mtn to strike economic matters related to E's defense granted where E failed to produce economic records to support his defense)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(rule that unfavorable inference shall be drawn against party which fails to introduce evidence known to be in its control will not apply where party has good reason to believe that its opponent has failed to meet its burden of proof; in such situation there is good faith belief that there is no need to offer further evidence, and therefore no inference can properly be drawn from non-production)

2850-2267 Nonproduction of material witness

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017

(in determining whether strike was ULP or economic strike where 7 out of 12 strikers did not testify as to their motivation for striking, no assumption that witnesses GC did not call would have testified contrary to his position, since GC not obligated to call every witness to event and bringing 4 strikers to stand sufficient to avoid any adverse inference)

2850-2300 Remains with General Counsel if Employer's explanation is reasonable

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(responsibility of establishing that successor was w/o knowledge of predecessor's ULP's at time successor took over latter's operation rests with successor, and in instant case, successor made prima facie showing that it was w/o knowledge and GC failed to rebut such showing)

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(discharge of active U adherent for goofing off not violative where GC failed to prove by preponderance of evidence that discharge was motivated in whole or part by Ee's U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(burden of persuasion with respect to ultimate question of determining causal link between bad motive and the discharge remains always with GC)

N.L.R.B. v. Blackstone Company, Inc. 685 F.2d 102 (C.A. 3, Aug. 1982)
(where Bd found violation relying on Wright Line stating that E did not sustain burden of proof to show that Ee would have been discharged absent of his having engaged in protected activity after GC showed discriminatory motivation; remanded to Bd for reconsideration under Circuit's decision in Behring International No. 81-1937, which holds once GC has established prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, E should rebut this with evidence of legitimate business reason for its action but ultimate burden of proof does not shift from GC to E and E doesn't need to show lack of impermissible motive)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(when E shows legitimate reason for discharge of Ee, burden shifts to GC to prove improper motive moved E to discharge Ee)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)

Fun Striders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 716 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(in Sec. 8(a)(1) discharge case, if E demonstrates legitimate, substantial business reason for dismissal, burden shifts to Bd to establish that primary motivation for discharge was to penalize Ee for his protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(burden (of proof) to establish that primary motivation for E's replacing sympathy striker was to penalize Ee for engaging in protected activity shifts to GC once E had demonstrated legitimate business reason for replacing Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 19, Hotel, Motel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO 638 F.2d 1367(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where ALJ's decision to reject E's business justification reason for E's layoff not supported by substantial evidence and record contains no direct evidence of anti-U animous layoff's not violative)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(once E comes forward with legitimate motive for dismissal, burden that discharge was unlawfully motivated, or improper notice contributed to discharge, on Bd; burden of establishing discharge was unlawfully motivated must be met by substantial evidence)

2850-4400 Shifts to respondent union or employer to establish affirmative defense

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 189
(Bd applied Illinois Bell Telephone standard for determining whether reinstatement and backpay were appropriate remedies for discharge following Weingarten violation as here – namely that where GC has shown that Ee was disciplined or discharged for conduct which was subject of unlawful investigatory interview, burden shifts to E to show that its decision to discipline or discharge was not based on information obtained at the interview; Bd found that discharge was not based on such information and only c/d order appropriate)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93
(deferral to arbitration award is affirmative defense in which burden of proof is assigned to moving party thus burden is not met and defense not sustained where Respondent has not even offered arbitration award into evidence)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(fact that U member of another local on traveler status, who frequently requested overtime from foreman who was member of local herein, was not given overtime work while others were, showed not only prima facie case of discrimination, which was not rebutted nor explained away by E, but also sufficiently established necessary predicate for U member's later actions in seeking to obtain processing of his grievance by U, herein charged with failure to process his grievance)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(burden on E to show that Ees that went out on strike and had not been reinstated struck for economic reasons rather than as result of ULPs, notwithstanding those particular Ees did not testify as to their motivation for striking, where other strikers testified they were motivated by E's ULPs; further, those strikers by going along with ULP strikers had manifested their support and acquired rights of those whom they supported)

Brookline Corporation d/b/a Hi Fi Buys 257 NLRB No. 166
(burden of results from ambiguity (which caused Ees to believe they were discharged) must fall on Respondent)

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 148
(test in cases alleging violation of Section 8(a)(3) of Act where lawful as well as unlawful motive may exist for discharge, requires GC to make prima facie showing that Ees' protected activities motivated E's decision to discharge them. If the GC is successful, burden of proof is then shifted to E to show by preponderance of evidence that discharges would have occured even in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(Section 10(b))

Fort Vancouver Plywood Company 252 NLRB No. 142
(once unlawful discrimination has been established, burden is on wrongdoer as to dimunition of damages — from the unavailability of a job at (its) plant for some reason unconnected with the discrimination)

Ohio Masonic Home 251 NLRB No. 059
(where GC shows that E conducted unlawful interview with Ee who was subsequently disciplined for conduct which was subject of interview, burden of going forward with evidence shifts to E to show that decision to discipline Ee was not based upon information obtained at interview)

Ashcraft's Market, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 025
(once objecting petitioner establishes that E has announced new benefits during critical period prior to election, burden shifts to E to establish announcement would have been forthcoming at time even if there was no U campaign)

East Wind Enterprises 250 NLRB No. 101
(burden on E to show layoff was motivated by business considerations where GC had established prima facie case of unlawful layoff)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(after GC establishes prima facie case burden shifts to E to come forward with enough evidence to convince trier of fact that, under the circumstances, there is no longer preponderance of evidence establishing violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(where size of wage increases is in question, burden is on GC to demonstrate that increases were abnormally large and timed to influence Ees' organizational decision; once this is shown, GC has put forth prima facie case of interference with Ee rights, and burden shifts to E to establish that increases were consistent in size with those granted in prior years or that increases were timed so as not to interfere with Ee rights)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 667 F.2d 1031(T) (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(once GC invokes presumption of U's majority support burden is on E of producing sufficient evidence to demonstrate that U was actually in minority or E had reasonable good faith doubt of U's majority support)

N.L.R.B. v. Trident Seafoods Corp. 642 F.2d 1148 (C.A. 9, Mar 23, 1981)
(where wrongly discharged Ees seek back pay from E, Bd policy places burden upon E of proving that Ees would not have accepted timely offer of reinstatement, had one been made)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(ct did not extend rule placing burden upon E to come forward with evidence of legitimate and substantial business justification for its act to alleged violation of Sec. 8(a)(4) of Act, since rule was intended to be limited to Sec. 8(a)(3) violations where discrimination was in issue)

2850-4450 Where employer's actions inherently destructive

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142
(Bd, contrary to ALJ, refused to assume from U's failure to list discharges among other alleged discriminatory discharges in its election objections or in original charge that this Ee's discharge did not play role in undermining or dissipation of U's majority status and it subsequent loss of election; E did not meet its burden to show that Ee's termination one day after intensively surveilled U meeting which Ee attended was not widely known fact of significance to unit Ees)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. American Postal Workers Union 618 F.2d 1249 (C.A. 8, 1980)

2850-5500 Shifts to respondent where prima facie case established

A. Dale Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092
(burden of going forward with evidence to rebut GC's prima facie case of discharge violative of 8(a)(1) shifts to E to establish honest belief that dischargees engaged in misconduct of such serious character as to lose protection of Act and to justify E in denying them reinstatement; upon establishing such honest belief, E is absolved from liability, except where GC carries further burden of affimratively proving that Ees did not, in fact, engage in conduct for which they were discharged, whereupon burden of rebutting GC's denials again shifts to E)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(make-whole remedy appropriate for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights since GC made prima facie showing that unlawful interview occurred and that Ee was discharged for failing to provide assurances at interview that he would no longer be insubordinate, and E did not meet burden of demonstrating that discipline was not based on information obtained at interview)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(To establish violation of Section 8(a)(3) it is incumbent on GC to adduce evidence supporting contention that Ee was unlawfully discharged. Should prima facie case of unlawful discharge be shown, burden of persuasion shifts to respondent to establish lawful reason for discharge. However, in assessing whether prima facie case has been presented, ALJ must view GC's evidence in isolation, apart from respondent's proferred defense. It is only after GC's prima facie requirement has been met that ALJ must consider respondent's defense)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93
(deferral to arbitration award is affirmative defense in which burden of proof is assigned to moving party thus burden is not met and defense not substained where Respondent has not even offered arbitration award into evidence)

Atlas Minerals, Division of Atlas Corporation 256 NLRB No. 022
(after Gc's prima facie case shifted burden to E, E failed to meet burden of showing that it would have suspended Ee because of safety infraction on job even if Ee had not engaged in protected conduct of acting as Ee representative during federal agency's safety inspection of E's operation, where suspension procedure was not consistent with E's past practice, no suspension under similar circumstances had occurred, Ees would likely perceive suspension as unprecedented, and suspension could reasonably be expected to have chilling effect on Ees' rights to utilize both agency and suspended Ee as their representative)

Webb-Centric Construction 254 NLRB No. 159
(under test articulated in Wright Line GC is required to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's action... once such a prima facie case is established, burden is shifted to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct. This shifting of burdens does not shift ultimate burden of GC to establish ULP by preponderance of evidence)

The Board of Trustees of City Hospital, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 097
(discharge unlawful where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's protected activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge her and E did not establish affirmative defense nor did E carry out its burden of showing that its action concerning Ee would have been the same even in absence of protected conduct)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(under dominant motive test it is GC who in addition to establishing prima facie showing of unlawful motive, is further required to rebut E's asserted defense by showing that discharge would not have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(1947 amendment of Section 10(c) of NLRA does not address in part or dominant motive analysis or allocations of burdens but legislative history of such amendment does; E required to make out what is actually affirmative defense to overcome prima facie case of wrongful motive)

Kraft Foods, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 086
(c/d order, rather than make-whole remedy, appropriate as remedy for violation of Ee's Weingarten rights, since E negated prima facie showing of appropriateness of make-whole remedy by demonstrating that its decision, to discipline Ee involved in forklift collision and fight with another Ee, was not based on information obtained at unlawful interview)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

N.L.R.B. v. American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 670 F.2d 1236 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(after burden shifts to E to rebut prima facie case of GC, E must simply produce sufficient evidence to balance, not to outweigh evidence produced by GC)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(E in section 8(a)(3) discharge case has no more than limited duty of producing evidence to balance, not to outweigh, evidence produced by GC; E has burden of going forward to meet prima facie case, but not burden of persuasion on ultimate issue of existence of violation; i.e., that there would be no discharge but for E's protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 657 F.2d 685 (C.A. 5, 1981)

2850-5550 Nondiscriminatory motive must be affirmatively shown by Employer where General Counsel's evidence permits inference of discrimination

RAHCO, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 030
(Bd affirmed ALJ's findings of ULPs where GC's prima facie showing was sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision and E failed to show same decision to change Ees conditions of employment would have occurred even in absence of protected conduct)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(discharge not violative where, notwithstanding GC made prima facie showing that E had unlawful motive for discharging Ee, E proved Ee would have been discharged because of long history of Ee's problems of discussions with other Ees while Ee was working, even in absence of Ee's protected activity; Ee was issued numerous lawful warnings concerning violation of E's lawful policy on solicitation in work areas on E's time)

Brookline Corporation d/b/a Hi Fi Buys 257 NLRB No. 166

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct rejected, as being unreasonable and not based on substantial evidence, Bd's conclusion that E's economic justification for discharges was sham; furthermore, Sec. 8(a)(1) violations alone are legally insufficient to show Bd met its burden of proof that Ees were discharged because of U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

2850-5575 Same disciplinary action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(once GC has established prima facie case w/i teachings of Wright Line that motivating factor for discharge was to discourage U activities, burden will shift to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected activity)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(when discharge motivated by both legitimate business and anti-U animus, or when business reasons may be pretext for termination motivated by hostility toward U, ULP may be found only if anti-U animus was moving cause of discharge. Bd must make showing that U activity was motivating factor; then burden shifts to E to establish that terminations would have occured absent protected U activity)

2850-6600 Employer has burden of establishing good faith belief in misconduct warranting discharge

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(direct evidence that Ee committed acts constituting alleged misconduct not necessary in order to establish E's honest belief Ee committed acts; circumstantial evidence sufficient, and absent any proof by GC that punishment could be ascribed to motives other than alleged misconduct, E's motive held not to be unlawful and discipline lawful where misconduct (dropping nails against 2 trucks and damaging 1 tire) sufficient to warrant discipline imposed)

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 251 NLRB No. 167
(discharge not violative, since E, by preponderance of evidence met burden of demonstrating that Ee would have been discharged even in absence of protected conduct of advising Ees as to their U rights)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(picket line activity is generally protected, and the duty of going forward with evidence of conduct which would remove mantle of statutory protection is upon Respondent if, upon such alleged misconduct, it bases its post-strike employment decisions)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(E's disciplining Ees for alleged misconduct during strike, violative, where E failed to detail in record activity for which each striker was accused; E's honest belief that misconduct had occurred required some specifity in record linking particular Ees to particular allegations of misconduct in order to satisfy E's burden of proof)

2850-6650 General Counsel then has burden of proving misconduct did not occur

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(direct evidence that Ee committed acts constituting alleged misconduct not necessary in order to establish E's honest belief Ee committed acts; circumstantial evidence sufficient, and absent any proof by GC that punishment could be ascribed to motives other than alleged misconduct, E's motive held not to be unlawful and discipline lawful where misconduct (dropping nails against 2 trucks and damaging 1 tire) sufficient to warrant discipline imposed)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(absence of any legitimate basis for action, of course, may form part of proof of GC's case)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(E's suspension of Ee for striking security guard and trespassing on company property during course of strike held not violative where GC failed to establish either that conduct did not occur or that alleged conduct was protected activity)

2850-7000 Employer has burden of establishing existence of objective considerations on which good faith doubt of union's majority is based

Mingtree Restaurant, Inc. d/b/a Forbidden City Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 052
(supervisors' affidavits stating that majority of Ees expressed strong antiunion sentiments w/o stating what those statements were held not sufficient to show good faith doubt of U's majority status since affidavits merely tantamount to allegations but not proof of discontent)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(burden of proof to establish invalidity of cards shifted to E where GC had established validity of cards to show U's majority status)

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096
(E's burden for rebuttal of presumption of continued majority after expiration of contract heavy one. E must come forward with evidence of objective considerations which would justify its claim of doubt of majority. It is insufficient that E merely intuits nonsupport and good faith doubt may not depend solely on unfounded speculation or subjective state of mind)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(after the expiration of valid collective bargaining agreement, U enjoys a rebuttable presumption that its majority representative status continues; such presumption may be effectively rebutted if E affirmatively establishes either (1) that at time of refusal to recognize U, U in fact no longer enjoyed majority support of unit Ees; or (2) that E's refusal was predicated on good faith doubt based on objective considerations; however, burden of rebutting presumption rests on party who would do so)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(in considering evidence of support for U, court will look at Ee attitudes before E's refusal to bargain occurred and was E aware of this)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(sum total of: 70% turnover in personnel, statements of Ees regarding dissatisfaction with U, extremely low attendance at U meetings, lack of any grievance activity, during first contract term or of visits by U to E's facility, comulatively was sufficient to shift burden to GC to establish U's majority; ct refused to place burden on E of possibly committing ULP of bargaining with minority)

2850-7600 Burden on employer to establish legitimate business reasons for transfer of work

St. Regis Paper Company 247 NLRB No. 105
(burden upon Respondent of establishing, by credited and/or other probative evidence, that its conduct was result of legitimate business considerations)

2850-7700 On employer to show replacement of economic strikers or legitimate business reasons

Consolidated Drum Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(E who refuses to reinstate economic strikers who make unconditional offers to return to work has burden of proving that strikers have been permanently replaced; burden not met where payroll records indicated E had work available for all striking Ees, no evidence of hiring of permanent replacements, or of decline in business or elimination of jobs)

2850-7800 Burden on employer to show lack of relevance of requested information that is presumptively relevant (See also 530-6067-6001-0000)

Leland Stanford Junior University 262 NLRB No. 017
(burden of proving that standard of relevance is or is not met shifts according to nature of information. Information about bargaining unit personnel such as wage data is so intrinsic to Ee relationship that it is considered presumptively relevant and E has burden of proving lack of relevance)

2850-9300 To show net backpay

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(E has burden of showing discriminatee willfully incurred loss and any uncertainty resolved against E; burden not met by showing lack of success in binding interim employment or low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively demonstrate that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Big Three Industrial Gas & Equipment Co. 263 NLRB No. 127
(where Respondent contends discriminatee's discharge from interim employment due to discriminatee's willful misconduct justifies deduction from backpay, Respondent has burden of showing willful misconduct was true reason for discharge)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 185
(burden on E to show that discriminatee would have been successful in securing interim employment; general assertion of need in area for skills which discriminatee possessed is not sufficient to meet burden)

Wayne Trophy Corp. 254 NLRB No. 104
(where discriminatee asserted she sought employment at various Es during backpay period Respondent did not meet its burden of proof regarding its claim that discriminatee did not seek employment during period where it failed to call as witnesses representatives of Es from whom discriminatee claimed to have sought employment, despite fact that these reports had been turned over to Respondent before trial)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 348 NLRB No. 075

Alan S. Dubin and Nicholas A. Micelli, A Partnership d/b/a L.A. Inhalation Therapy Services JD-(SF)-289-82
(backpay specification as to interim earnings remained uncontradicted and deemed true, notwithstanding Respondent's general denial as to interim earnings and that general denial sufficient to defeat summary judgment since Bd does not presume interim earnings w/i knowledge of Respondent, inasmuch as hearing ordered and held and Respondent failed to avail itself of opportunity to contest interim earning figure which GC had burden of establishing)

2850-9500 To show lack of knowledge of predecessor employer's unfair labor practices

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(successor E bears responsibility of establishing that it was w/o knowledge of ULPs of predecessor E at time it took over operation)

4200 SUFFICIENCY UPON REVIEW

4233 ALJ DECISION IS RECOMMENDATORY ONLY, NOT CONCLUSIVE ON BOARD

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(in reviewing questions of fact, ct of appeals has less discretion to overturn a Bd determination than Bd has to reject conclusions of ALJ; Bd is not bound by findings and conclusions of ALJ and is free to draw its own inferences as well as conclusions when its broader experience and expertise is applicable)

4233-2200 Credibility of witnesses, however, primarily for ALJ

Hummer Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 199
(Bd will examine record de novo and make credibility findings, when appropriate, that comport with record evidence as a whole and with inferences fairly drawn therefrom where ALJ may have misstated or confused certain of relevant record evidence and testimony presented in instant case)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 263 NLRB No. 017
(Bd rejected charge of bias and prejudice on part of ALJ after careful review of entire record concluding that his credibility findings were not contrary to clear preponderance of all relevant evidence)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(notwithstanding that Bd had doubts about ALJ's handling of credibility resolutions, Bd adopted ALJ's recommendations in favor of Respondent, since ultimate result (concerning ULPs) would not be changed; GC failed to present prima facie case)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(witnesses' untruthfulness strengthens inference of unlawful motive under circumstances of ALJ's credibility findings)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(ct will not disturb credibility findings of ALJ as long as ALJ considers all relevant factors and sufficiently explains his or her resolutions; here ALJ fully explained her credibility findings showing that she considered various factors relevant to credibility such as demeanor, admissions, and self-interest)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(merely because ALJ believed Ee's story (at hearing) does not furnish reason to overturn his credibility determinations)

4233-2233 'Demeanor evidence'

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(ALJ's finding of no U animus on E's part based on his observation of E and Ees during hearing but not while testifying is impermissible reliance on conduct not w/i record)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(demeanor is often a major factor in ALJ's crediting testimony of one witness over that of another, and significant weight must be attributed to ALJ's findings based on demeanor because neither Bd nor reviewing ct has opportunity similarly to observe the testifying witness)

4233-2267 ALJ recommendation entitled to great weight

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

4233-2267-3300 Especially where reasons stated for believing one witness rather than another

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)

4267 PRESUMPTIONS AND INFERENCES

4267-0100 Generally

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(knowledge, like any other element in case, may be proven by circumstantial evidence if circumstances are such as to support reasonable inference)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(reasonableness of presumption that meat department Ees and grocery Ees are represented in separate units can be demonstrated by citing cases revealing the bargaining trend in the retail food industry generally)

N.L.R.B. v. Parnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)
(presumption is procedural device under which certain facts are held to call for uniform treatment with respect to their effect as proof of other facts)

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct found Bd's inference of E's prior knowledge of Ee's U activity based solely on ALJ's not crediting E's stated reasons for discharging U activist not supported by substantial evidence)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(although giving particular weight to ALJ's evaluation of witness demeanor, ct held that decision of ALJ did not turn solely on demeanor evidence but was also based on inferences he drew from the facts; and since these factors do not depend on an assessment of demeanor, Bd, in exercise of its own expertise, can effectively draw its own inferences from the record)

4267-0100—Cont.

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(E's assertion that Bd and ALJ drew adverse inferences from its refusal to comply with subpoena issued by GC held w/o merit, where ALJ drew no such inference and Bd did not address question because it found that direct evidence at hearing established the charges)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(use of rebuttable presumptions is tied to various rationale—judicial economy, regularity and fairness, probability, and public policy)

4267-2000 Where uncertainty exist as to merits of grievance, issue resolved against party creating uncertainty

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local No. 139, AFL–CIO (C. F. Kalupa, Inc.) 256 NLRB No. 089

(any uncertainty that grievance would have been found meritorious is direct result of U's unlawful conduct and is resolved in favor of injured and innocent Ee)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd properly resolved uncertainty in merit of grievance against U which created such uncertainty by unlawful act, through its improper investigation of grievance which made it impossible to determine merits of grievance)

4267-2200 Failure to produce evidence peculiarly within party's knowledge raises adverse inference

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040

(where E presented evidence that discharge of Ee was for excessive absences and lateness, particularly in view of fact Ee's U activities limited to signing authorization card, its defense was accepted, but adverse inference, drawn from E's refusal to present time cards of other Ees which might show that Ees with equally bad attendance records not discharged, did not aid GC since adverse inference may not be used as substitute for affirmative evidence in establishing prima facie case; therefore no link to show that discharge was for U activities)

Polar Air Sheet Metal Company 264 NLRB No. 172

(no adverse inference drawn from E's failure to present data concerning its financial condition as of date of its withdrawal from multi-E bargaining, including listing of contracts for current projects, where E presented list of jobs it was engaged in almost 2 weeks after its withdrawal and, at hearing, presented Federal and state tax forms, yearly financial statement, testimony concerning gross revenue and profits, costs and expenses, and ptn in bankruptcy proceeding showing its assets and liabilities)

International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Local No. 53 (Insul-Contractors, Inc.) (Betty Ruth Turner) 262 NLRB No. 111

(is not basis for adverse inference; basis for inference rests on E's failure to produce records containing evidence peculiarly w/i its own knowledge in support of its defense in face of evidence of GC that practice has been in effect and continued in effect past date of alleged unlawful conduct)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(GC's request for application of adverse inference doctrine on ground that payroll records, which E failed to produce pursuant to GC's subpoena enforcement of which was not sought by GC, would have been adverse to E and would have established that U had majority status, denied; no case authority exists for applying adverse inference doctrine to determine U's majority; burden of proof is upon GC to establish by affirmative probative evidence that U had majority; and potential of thrusting minority representation upon Ees is too great when done so by application of adverse inference doctrine)

Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization 261 NLRB No. 132

(negative inference was not drawn from E's failure to produce subpoenaed documents as record reflects confusion concerning their nature and existence)

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056

Isadore Spiegel, an Individual t/a Spiegel Trucking Company; Spiegel Trucking Company, Inc.; I & L Trucking Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 020

(ALJ permitted to draw adverse inferences against E where E refused to turn over subpoenaed materials including corporate books and records which ALJ ruled were relevant and material to proceedings)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144

(E's failure to offer into evidence accounting substantiation to contradict testimony inapposite to E's position that it had economic justification to lay Ee off established inference that claimed documents would not support E's contentions)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101

(business records)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051

(E's economic defense of business decline rejected where chose not to introduce into evidence documentation of its annual reports, profits and loss figures etc. or any data for comparative purposes regarding personnel and income levels; failure to introduce such evidence justified inference that it would not support or assist contentions of party who originated them)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 163

(failure to produce records showing routineness of raise given Ees which coincided with U activity)

St. Regis Paper Company 247 NLRB No. 105

(correct to draw adverse inference from Respondent's failure to submit documentary evidence in support of its contention that transfer of work was economically motivated)

Frank Briscoe Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 006

D & D Supermarket, Inc. JD-292-81

(where supervisor testified as to list that had been abstracted from accounting book maintained by him, but no effort was made to introduce book, inference warranted that production of weak evidence where strong is available that strong would have been adverse)

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-631-81

(E's contention in backpay proceeding that adverse inference should be drawn from discriminatee's failure to comply with subpoenas duces tecum requiring production of her tax returns, rejected, since failure to comply with subpoena was justified where discriminatee's husband prepared joint tax returns of which they made no copies; however, discriminatee had copies of her W-2 forms which she supplied to E's counsel at hearing)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81

(discharge of U adherent allegedly because of complaints from customers of E held violative where E failed to testify as to complaints and failed to produce at hearing letters of complaint from somebody...over at the University (customer of E))

Lucky Lion Edgewater, Inc. d/b/a Lucky Lion JD-(SF)-349-80

(E's failure to produce documentation, solely w/i its control, to support claim of its financial difficulties, required drawing of adverse inference; accordingly, supervisor's statements, regarding impact of successful organizing campaign upon Ees, were not shown to be related to economic necessities and were not reasonable predictions but threats of retaliation)

4267-2700 Failure to comply with subpena raises adverse inference

International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Local No. 53 (Insul-Contractors, Inc.) (Betty Ruth Turner) 262 NLRB No. 111

(is not basis for adverse inference; basis for inference rests on E's failure to produce records containing evidence peculiarly w/i its own knowledge in support of its defense in face of evidence of GC that practice has been in effect and continued in effect past date of alleged unlawful conduct)

General Drivers & Helpers Union, Local No. 554 (Prairie Ford Truck Sales) 253 NLRB No. 006

Marlboro Trucking Co., Inc., C-J Construction Co., Inc., Suburban Yelow Cab, Inc. JD-441-80

(statutory jurisdiction asserted over Es, w/o regard to whether Es' operations met Bd's jurisdictional standards because Es failed to respond to numerous subpoenas duces tecum which sought jurisdictional information and evidence elicited at hearing demonstrated that revenues derived from Es' activities affecting interstate commerce were more than de minimis)

4267-3300 Failure to produce material witness raises adverse inference

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 106

(allegation that Ees were told that they would be denied wage increases because of U, dismissed, since GC failed to prove allegation, where E denied making statement, and GC failed to elicit testimony of two Ees present when statement was assertedly made to testifying Ee, and it is reasonable to infer that they would not have corroborated latter's testimony)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004

(no adverse inference drawn from failure of witnesses to be called since they were equally available to both sides)

A. Dale Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092

(no adverse inference drawn from GC's failure to produce U agent as witness where U was decertified and apparently lost interest in prosecuting case on behalf of Ees no longer supporting it; since drawing of inference is not mandatory, there must be some rational basis on which to support the position, and mere general suspicion is insufficient; moreover, even if generalized adverse inference were drawn, in absence of suggestion from E what support it seeks from it, same conclusion would nevertheless be reached)

4267-3300—Cont.

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

Bakery Workers Union, Local No. 213 (Krispy Kreme Division, Beatrice Foods Co.) 261 NLRB No. 114
(no adverse inference to be drawn from GC's failure to call former Ee as corroborating witness because he was equally available to E to refute testimony in support of C)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025
(no adverse inference to be drawn by E's failure to ask witness about conversation since witness was equally available to GC)

Wayne Construction, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 082
(no adverse inference drawn against E, where witness was not called at hearing to corroborate testimony of E's superintendent in defense of charge, since prospective witness was equally available to be called as witness by both E and GC)

Local 32B-32J, Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Allied Maintenance Corporation) 258 NLRB No. 059

Litton Mellonics Systems Division, A Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 084

Ingram Farms, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 137

Anjo Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161
(no adverse significance attached to GC's failure to call Ee as witness or to absence of Ee from proceedings in view of Ee's serious hearing impairment)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036
(E's supervisor's failure to appear permits inference that her testimony would have been adverse to E had she testified)

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029
(failure to corroborate critical testimony concerning cause for discharge where other witness was present warrants inference that testimony was unreliable)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(inference adverse to E's position drawn where E failed to call as witnesses two supervisors with whom E had consulted about real reason for layoffs)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 098
(failure of E to call witness who was available raised inference that had witness testified his testimony would have been adverse to E)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101

Appalachian Power Company, John E. Amos Plant 253 NLRB No. 135
(Ee who sought to invoke his Weingarten rights)

Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Co. 252 NLRB No. 025
(no basis found for reversing ALJ's credibility findings, notwithstanding his failure to draw adverse inference from fact U spokesman did not testify, where, in crediting chief U representative and discrediting E's attorney and industrial relations director, ALJ relied on E's minutes of crucial meeting, on nontestifying U spokesman's actions in meeting as shown by minutes, on E's attorney's letter to Bd, and on corroboration by Ee negotiating-team members of U representative's account of negotiations)

Wm. Chalson & Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 006
(unlawful motivation for layoffs inferred where individual who made selection for layoffs not called)

American Petrofina Company of Texas 247 NLRB No. 015
(Respondent's failure to produce as witnesses supervisors who could best corroborate testimony as to Charging Party's alleged deficiencies raised inference their testimony would not have corroborated that of other Respondent's witness)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(and detracts from strength of inference drawn by ALJ from E's branch manager's failure to testify concerning meetings between Ees and management)

Champion Plating Company JD-562-81
(inference only applies when witness' absence is unexplained)

United States Steel Corporation, Geneva Works JD-(SF)-122-81

Apollo Management Corporation d/b/a Golden Sails Inn JD-(SF)-293-80
(adverse inference warranted where charging party testified that an individual would substantiate her charge that she was discharged for filing workman's compensation claim but said individual did not testify, and in state proceeding also alleging charging party was discharged for filing workman's compensation claim in which individual did testify no liability was imposed on E; further, production of weak evidence where strong evidence is available can lead only to conclusion that strong would be adverse)

United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America, Local 262 (Hemisphere Broadcasting, Inc.) JD-437-80
(failure to call respondent U's chief negotiator and strategist)

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 613 F.2d 1338 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(where E did not produce its president as witness over issue of alleged coercive statements attributed to the president, but rather relied solely on testimony of office manager who stated that he did not recall many specifics of what E president said, ct declined to say that Bd's finding of violation on the basis of credited testimony of several GC witnesses was inherently unreasonable or self-contradictory; it is appropriate to infer that testimony of E president would have been adverse to E's position, since only contrary evidence offered by E was minimal and uncertain)

Rockingham Machine-Lunex Company v. N.L.R.B. 665 F.2d 303 (C.A. 8, Dec. 1981)
(E's contention that GC's failure to call as witness U agent, who attended every negotiation session and filed unlawful refusal to bargain charge, created inference, presumably on refusal to bargain issue, that his testimony would be unfavorable to U, rejected; rule permits adverse inference to be drawn in such a situation, but it does not create a conclusive presumption against party failing to call witness; if ct accepted E's interpretation, Bd would have to call every witness on every conceivable issue relevant to establishing an ULP, which obviously is not necessary)

Rockingham Machine-Lunex Company v. N.L.R.B. 665 F.2d 303 (C.A. 8, Dec. 1981)
(even if ct drew adverse inference unfavorable to U from U agent's failure to testify and drew every favorable inference to E that could be drawn from its agent's testimony, ct held latter's testimony, together with undisputed evidence, was sufficient to justify Bd's finding that E had unlawfully refused to bargain)

4267-3800 Offering spurious defense

Ross's Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 076
(inference of illegal motive warranted where belated affirmative defense was advanced at hearing nine months after alleged unlawful discharge)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(E's assertions that its satisfaction with discharged Ee drastically declined over relatively short period of time and that E made no real effort to attempt to change Ee's work practices back to what they had been is strong evidence of untruthfulness of E's stated reasons for Ee's discharge)

Norman Mesnikoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(abrupt refusal to allow newscaster to leave on long scheduled vacation which had been approved by her immediate supervisor well in advance, assertedly because of E's lack of funds and/or because E was unhappy with Ee's replacements, violative, where Ee had filed charges and testified against E in prior Bd proceeding; E's defenses were shifting and inconsistent leading to inference of real reason for E's action)

4267-4000 No presumption of relevancy where union seeks information about employees outside bargaining unit

N.L.R.B. v. A. S. Abell Company 624 F.2d 506 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(U bears burden of showing that information it seeks concerning Ees outside bargaining unit is relevant to bargaining issues)

4267-4400 Failure to testify concerning crucial point raises adverse inference

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(concerning actual motive)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(and GC's mtn to strike quoted portion of E's brief (no adverse inference should be drawn by failure of E to call supervisor because of her medical condition) granted, since E failed to explain, on record, why supervisor was not called as witness at hearing)

Danmor Company d/b/a Madison South Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(E's failure to recall witness to deny testimony relied on by GC created inference that her testimony would not have been favorable to E)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(no adverse inference drawn from striker's failure to testify regarding his conduct on picket line absent prima facie case of misconduct)

Cimpl Transportation Company 256 NLRB No. 173

Post Manufacturing Company 251 NLRB No. 183
(failure to provide testimony regarding E's affirmative defense that Ee, alleged to have solicited U cards, was discharged because he was too frequently away from his machine, warranted conclusion that testimony would not have supported E's defense)

General Teamsters Local 959 (Northland Maintenance) 248 NLRB No. 100
(where respondent fails to testify about incident though called by both sides, ALJ not required to draw negative inference from this lack of testimony and credit charging party's version because its testimony is uncontroverted where ALJ feels there are reasonable grounds for concluding such testimony is false or contains improbabilities)

D & D Supermarket, Inc. JD-292-82
(where supervisor testified as to list that had been abstracted from accounting book maintained by him, but no effort was made to introduce book, inference warranted that production of weak evidence where strong is available that strong would have been adverse)

Lee Simmons and Beverly McKinstry Simmons, A Partnership, d/b/a Elmendorf and Fort Richardson Barber Concessions JD-(SF)-186-82
(that individual was partner in partnership)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82
(fact that E's witnesses, who were in best position to describe weight which E would have accorded alleged supervisor's recommendations as to their effectiveness in hiring and firing Ees, failed to provide such evidence warrants inference that had they testified regarding the matter, if would not have been favorable to E)

Manifold Services, Inc. JD-734-80
(concerning 2-hour meetings with unit Ees)

Albany Steel and Brass Corporation JD-227-80
(E's president who notified Ee of discharge)

Gar-Wood Detroit Truck Equipment Company JD-747-79
(Charging Party's failure to testify in regard to E's assertion that he voluntary quit rather than was discharged raises inference that he would have affirmed E's position)

4267-6600 Loss of majority due to ULP

Pittsburgh and New England Trucking Co. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 174 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd bargaining order in view of distinct possibility that ALJ could have concluded that causal connection between E's ULPs and U disaffection was lacking had ALJ not improperly declined to receive proffered testimony of Ee who had headed decertification campaign to the effect that ULPs had not affected her or other signers, that nothing had interfered with them nor had E interfered or discriminated against them in any way; barring such testimony as to Ee's state of mind was denying E most direct proof available on controverted issue)

4267-7100 Animus as motive for action

Cell-Ace, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(sudden termination of U adherent w/i two days of U's request for recognition w/o notice and before end of his work week together with E's interrogation of, and threats to, its Ees warranted inference of discriminatory motive)

Onan, a Division of Onan Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(Bd held that Ee's job performance after returning to work from sick leave had been poor and was basis for discharge; moreover any adverse inference of unlawful motivation arising from E's assignment of arduous task to Ee upon his return was overcome by fact that Ee had not engaged in U activities since year before and that U had not campaigned at plant until after Ee was discharged)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(in absence of evidence of animus or hostility towards Ee based upon Ee's U activity, discriminatory motive may not be inferred)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(animus towards U illustrated by negative reaction of E's president when he was presented with U wage scale of area meat market Ees by one of dischargees)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(circumstances, including timing of discharges upon E's learning of Ees' U activity and false explanation for discharges, size of plant, and fact Ees not circumspect in their discussions of U warrant inference that E's reference to Ees' attitude, as grounds for action, was allusion to their U sympathies)

Rose's Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 076
(inference of illegal motive warranted where belated affirmative defense was advanced at hearing nine months after alleged unlawful discharge)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(E's hostility to Ee (U advocate) was evidenced by E's adverse references to Ee's attitude which E had linked to Ee's protected efforts to obtain reinstatement of a discharged Ee)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(failure to consider leading U advocate's wife's application for employment held violative, since inference was reasonable that she was not considered because of E's posture of hostility towards applicant's husband's U and protected concerted activities)

United Broadcasting Company of New Hampshire, INc. d/b/a WMUR–TV 263 NLRB No. 102
(discharge allegedly for protected activity not unlawful, since GC failed to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that Ee's protected activity was motivating factor for discharge; only evidence in regard to Ee's protected activity is that he had at one time been employed at unionized operation, and there is no showing of E hostility or animus toward U)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(evidence adduced at hearing as to execution of contract between E and minority U and received before complaint was amended to show preferential treatment to U, admissible to show E animus to petitioner and as bearing on credibility of witness, E's president)

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 132
(supervisor's threat to discharge another Ee along with shifting reasons for discharge and disparate enforcement of rules indicating pretextual reasons for discharge evidence U animus)

Plumbers, Local Union 598 (Columbia Mechanical Contractors Association) 250 NLRB No. 023
(where U departs from its lawful contractual hiring hall rules and admitted standards of referral in denial of employment, action, standing alone, is discrimination which inherently encourages U membership)

Norton Concrete Company of Longview, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 172
(shifting defenses to charge of unlawful discharge during hearing gives rise to inference of unlawful motivation)

Eight In One Pet Products, Inc. JD-(NY)-106-82
(in absence of evidence of E's animus towards U, discriminatory motive (on part of E) may not be inferred)

Palas Corporation JD-(SF)-28-82
(inference, that foreman's action against Ees was motivated by his animus towards Ees, bolstered by foreman's disregard of seniority provision under contract)

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81
(son's discussions with E, his father, who was hostile to U, concerning Ees' U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(anti-U statements plainly w/i (management's) rights ... do lend a significance to otherwise ambiguous events when the question is whether given course of conduct was actuated by anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(witnesses' untruthfulness strengthens inference of unlawful motive under circumstances of ALJ's credibility findings)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where valid reason to discharge Ee exists, it is not sufficient in order to establish violation for Bd to declare that reasons were pretextual but burden which is on Bd is not simply to discover some evidence of improper motive, but to find affirmative reason why E rejected good cause and chose bad one and to present substantial basis of believable evidence pointing toward unlawful one)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States United Telephone Company 694 F.2d 92 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1982)
(ALJ found that summary discharge of Ee while he was on strike, w/o warnings, was evidence that discharge was for unlawful reasons; ALJ and Bd may rely on circumstantial evidence in drawing reasonable inferences about anti-U animus motivating employment decisions)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)
(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Pfizer, Inc. 629 F.2d 1272 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(E's refusal to hire laborer for vacant position where reference check disclosed former E found him to be trouble maker, mentioned his U activities and stated would not rehire Ee not violative where evidence to support finding of E's U animous based on inferences and not supported by substantial evidence)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

4267-7100—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(lapse of time between E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and Ee's change in duties and discharge did not negate inference of E's anti-U motivation, since supervisor's harassment of Ee (U adherent) originated during, and continued throughout, unionization period)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(factor of anti-U animus is germane to determination of whether proposed change in company's operations is mandatory subject of bargaining)

4267-7400 Majority status is presumed to survive timely withdrawal from multi-employer bargaining unit

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(rebuttable presumption of majority U support survives Es' withdrawal from multi-E unit is grounded on policy determination by Bd that industrial peace is more likely to be achieved by maintaining continuity in bargaining structure over enhancement of Ee free choice)

4267-7500 Employee's intent to authorize union to represent him presumed from signature on authorization card

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(E's contention that where Ees were of low educational level GC could not rely on presumption which normally flows from E's authenticated signature on card to establish clear intent of authorization, but rather GC has burden of proving that each Ee who executed card clearly understood significance of document and intended to authorize U to represent him, rejected)

4267-7600 Extending superseniority of stewards to areas other than recall or layoff, presumptively unlawful

The PaintSmiths, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 8, 1980)

4267-7900 In settlements, GC will meet its burden of proof in regard to allegations in complaint

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123
(in order for Bd to consider approval of settlement agreement it must assume that GC will carry its burden of proof with respect to allegations of complaint)

4267-8200 Solicitation of grievances raises inference of corrective action

St. Francis Hospital 249 NLRB No. 017
(at E sponsored grievance meeting with Ees during critical period, E, in response to C, stating that he would take a look and see what we can do violated Act because he held out prospect of remedial action)

CTS Keene, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 141
(no unlawful solicitation of grievances with implied promise to remedy them where supervisor who had initiated conversation with U adherent by asking how things were going, suggested adherent discuss her complaints regarding job bidding procedures with her immediate supervisor during scheduled job review, since not implied promise to remedy where Ee had received no satisfactory result from prior discussion with same supervisor)

4267-8800 Miscellaneous

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(ALJ held that when litigants seek to raise presumption with regard to letter's receipt by presenting evidence descriptive of routine office procedures followed with respect to mailings, such evidence is generally considered insufficient to raise presumption regarding letter's receipt, unless proffered witness claims actual, personal knowledge that routine was, in fact, followed completely; testimony that witness always follows same procedure is not sufficiently precise to raise presumption of receipt (Bd did not consider proof of mailing issue since presumption of receipt had otherwise been overcome)

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(presumption of due receipt by E of law firm's letter on behalf of U claiming majority representation of Ees, as basis for E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, held overcome, where E denied receipt of law firm's letter, and GC's proffered testimony that E, through one of its Ees, received letter from U, rather than from its law firm, did not warrant determination that law firm's letter had been delivered to E, in view of Ee's significantly restricted opportunity to discern whether some particular letter from U or its law firm had really been delivered)

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(fact that invitation to E's anniversary party was postmarked with date of party raises inference that invitations were not mailed until afternoon of party)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004
(overreaction by E in diciplining Ee for violating work rule, even if valid, especially when rule had not been evenly enforced or necessary to maintain production standards, supports inference that Ee's violation of rule has been seized upon as pretext, and is supported only by invidious and discriminatory motive)

Oklahoma City Collection District of Browning-Ferris, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 012
(remark by E there goes that U man which created impression of surveillance to Ee and which occurred during critical preelection period not found to be ground for setting aside election where Ee was terminated prior to election and that remark was not of serious enough nature to create presumption of dissemination to other Ees)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(proof of mailing of properly addressed and stamped envelope, in this case involving letters to E by Ee on extended sick leave and containing doctor's medical reports concerning Ee, raises rebuttable presumption that it was received; if evidence tending to show nonreceipt is presented, question is for trier of fact, and general denial does not overcome presumption; here, Ee's testimony that he personally mailed properly addressed letters was credited, and it was found letters were received by E)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(inference that E was aware of Ees' U activity supported by fact that Ees were only ones identified as U spokesmen)

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028
(inference that U did not represent majority of E's Ees gleaned from facts that: (1) no Ees had signed cards for U; (2) no Ees had paid dues to any U; (3) no notices, meetings or information concerning U had been brought to Ees' attention; and (4) U representative failed to appear at Bd hearing with any testimony or cards concerning U membership)

Pennypower Shopping News, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 021
(where E created ambiguity and failed to clarify it, burden of results of that ambiguity must fall on E)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(after her reinstatement, Ee's being assigned full time to arduous machine work when she had shared time on machine with other Ees and being denied same lunch break given other Ees in department held violative, since inference was warranted that Ee was being made to suffer for her concerted action and U activities)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 083
(in determining agency relationship, it is not necessary to find direct evidence that anti-U activities of Ees were authorized or subsequently ratified by E, since agency may be inferred from circumstances)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(adverse inference warranted where E's interrogation of Ee failed w/o explanation to testify as to alleged unlawful interrogation)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(transfer of Ee, who was witness in Bd hearing, fromhis desired second shift to less desirable day shift held violative where trans fer occurred on heels of Ee's testifying at Bd hearing; inference drawn that shift of job was not solely for business reasons, since E was motivated by desire to punish Ee for testifying against E in Bd proceeding; action was taken w/o regard to Ee's seniority or other contractual provisions)

Malibu Grand Prix Corp. JD-(SF)-90-80
(concerted refusal to work overtime presumptively protected where there was no bargaining relationship, only inchoate relationship with U which did not provide structured procedures for conflict resolution)

P.M.S. West, Inc. JD-(SF)-47-80
(small plant doctrine standing alone does not impute knowledge of U activity to E; there must be some direct evidence to support inference)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(E's discharging U advocate assertedly for violating E's rule against falsifying inspection reports, violative where apparent insignificance of rule along with E's history of treating rule as unimportant support inference that something more was involved than just breach of rule)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(from totality of evidence concerning circumstances of bargaining, Bd could rationally infer E had not bargained in good faith as required by Act)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 661 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(U's receipt of a receipt for certified mail sent to E establishes presumption that E received letters)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(in case involving disagreement between ALJ's decision that discharges were unlawful and Bd's conclusion to the contrary, ct held there was substantial evidence in support of Bd's inference that E's concern about dischargee's work habits was not a response to his protected activity but, rather, was due to pressure from company for which E was performing contractual services; nor were Bd's inferences tenuous or arbitrary, nor did its findings rest almost solely on testimonial evidence discredited either expressly or by clear implication by ALJ)

4267-8900 Employer has obligation to bargain over decision to partially close business

N.L.R.B. v. First National Maintenance Corp. 627 F.2d 596 (C.A. 2, July 1980)

(there is presumption that E has obligation to bargain over decision to partially close business which may be rebutted by showing that purposes of statute would not be furthered by imposition of duty to bargain)

5600 WITNESSES

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(E's contention that he failed to have his intended witnesses appear at hearing assertedly because he was not timely advised of subpoena process to assure their appearance at hearing, rejected, where about 1 month before hearing E was instructed by GC concerning procedure for procuring blank subpoenas from RD, and at no time did E assert that Bd subpoenas were sought or refused)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(E's failure to produce his intended witnesses at hearing held no basis for delaying or overturning hearing where, after hearing was adjourned so that E could produce his witnesses at hearing and one witness did not appear because of his fears of economic loss for taking time off to testify, E failed to produce his remaining witnesses)

Pittsburgh and New England Trucking Co. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 174 (C.A. 4, 1981)

(ct denied enforcement of Bd bargaining order in view of distinct possibility that ALJ could have concluded that causal connection between E's ULPs and U disaffection was lacking had ALJ not improperly declined to receive proffered testimony of Ee who had headed decertification campaign to the effect that ULPs had not affected her or other signers, that nothing had interfered with them nor had E interfered or discriminated against them in any way; barring such testimony as to Ee's state of mind was denying E most direct proof available on controverted issue)

5601 GENERALLY

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055

(contention that witness who was severed by E was disgruntled witness and therefore should not be credited, rejected, where witness' testimony was consistent with general fact pattern of case, and his testimony adverse to E was inconsistent with his interest in receiving hospitalization benefit payment from E)

Go-Lightly Footwear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 008

(GC had no obligation to call as witnesses a newspaper reporter and police officer who were present at picketing by Ees, and no presumption should be made because he failed to do so; neither person was employed by GC or was otherwise shown to be under his control, and E was in as good position to subpoena the two as was GC)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096

(Bd held ALJ, while fully warranted in precluding E's official from testifying because he refused to comply with subpoena and to testify, erred in precluding E from calling witnesses other than official; since E's asserted reasons for discharges involved herein must rest upon testimony of witnesses as to relevant events, best evidence rule involved in cases relied on by ALJ held not applicable to discharges; accordingly, Bd severed and remanded discharge cases to ALJ for supplemental decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Friendly Ice Cream Corporation 677 F.2d 170 (C.A. 1, May 1982)

(GC's seeking to bolster her witnesses by endorsing them as having truthfully testified is practice that would be improper in both criminal and civil ct proceedings)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)

(ct held no prejudicial error where ALJ was fully warranted in invoking principle of Bannon Mills by precluding E's official from testifying in E's case because he refused to comply with GC's subpoena to appear and testify; furthermore, E's contention that Bd counsel should have sought enforcement of its subpoena delaying proceedings further instead of invoking Bannon Mills held frivolous, as well as E's assertion that such decision not to seek enforcement deprived it opportunity to contest subpoena)

5601-1600 Witness claiming constitutional privilege against self incrimination

Teamsters, Local Union 215 (B & W Construction Company) 251 NLRB No. 164

(upon not crediting witness because he was found unreliable and untrustworthy, ALJ found it unnecessary to strike witness' testimony on direct examination because he claimed privilege against self-incrimination on cross-examination; respondent's motion for receipt of certain documents pertaining to interlocutary appeal from ruling in connection with witness' claim of privilege, granted)

5601-5800 Board agent

Drukker Communications, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary The Daily Advance, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097

(mtn to quash subpoena requesting Bd agent to testify at ULP hearing granted where Respondent made no attempt to obtain testimony of other persons who had same knowledge as Bd agent and thus there were no special circumstances requiring privilege shielding Bd personnel from testifying in Bd cases to be waived)

5601-8300 Writing used to refresh memory

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 190

(where witness for E admitted on cross-examination that before testifying he had reviewed list of questions with E's attorney and retained a copy of the list while testifying, ALJ declined to order production of list under FRE 612 as well as attorney-client privilege encompassed in FRE 501, rejecting GC's contentions that (1) attorney-client privilege had been waived when questions were asked, (2) document was producible under Jencks Act, and (3) privilege was outweighed by interest in developing probative record)

Nordstrom, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-82

(memo made by witness concerning conversation she had not admissible into evidence as recorded recollection under Sec. 803(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence where witness did not express any doubt as to completeness or accuracy of her own recollection of conversation)

5650 CREDIBILITY

Colson Equipment, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 018

(Bd independently evaluated witness' credibility where ALJ based his findings on factors other than demeanor; and reversed ALJ's finding that witness' uncontroverted testimony was not creditable; contrary to ALJ, Bd found that witness' testimony, while vague and rambling in places, was sufficiently direct and straightforward about supervisor's acts to establish a basis for finding the violative, that his testimony was not so confused as to cause the parties to restructure their presentations, and that absence of animus was not a credibility factor, since it was negated as such by Bd's finding of several violations)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055

(contention that witness who was severed by E was disgruntled witness and therefore should not be credited, rejected, where witness' testimony was consistent with general fact pattern of case, and his testimony adverse to E was inconsistent with his interest in receiving hospitalization benefit payment from E)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(E's witness credited over GC's witnesses where former was management official who is no longer associated with E and has no apparent stake in outcome of instant proceeding, and his testimony concerning his statements to Ees was persuasive and internally consistent, whereas testimony of GC's witnesses, while seemingly credible, was sketchy and lacking in detail)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(alleged specific incidents of interference with election and violation of Act held not proved by GC, where versions of incidents on both sides were attempts to recall events which occurred more than a year prior to witness' testimony, violations could only be found if precise words remembered by GC's witnesses were actually used and, although such witness' testimony seemed credible, on balance, testimony of E's witnesses was more believable and more accurately reflected what occurred and context in which discussions were held)

5650-0100 Generally

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203

(when a witness' demeanor satisfies some trier of fact, not only that the witness' testimony is not true, but that the truth is the opposite of his story, such trier of fact may assume the truth of what the witness denies)

Right-Gard Corporation 261 NLRB No. 177

(reversal of ALJ's credibility resolutions not warranted, notwithstanding E's contention that hearing was tainted by conduct of witness who allegedly threatened and pushed other witnesses outside courtroom while waiting to testify)

Nanticoke Homes, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 107

(although ruling that surreptitiously recorded conversation and transcript thereof would only be admitted into evidence for purpose of credibility was error, it was not reversible error where evidence which was contained on tape was admitted by direct testimony of Ee who recorded tape)

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 260 NLRB No. 166

(relevant factor concerning credibility of testimony of co-owner Es herein was fact that they were convicted felons guilty of serious crime of income tax fraud, and dishonesty in so serious a matter bespeaks dishonesty in others)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011

(while Ee was not the most accurate of witnesses and might give an inaccurate interpretation to a statement, his testimony concerning E's statement, herein found unlawful, was credited, since it was not deemed that Ee would invent allegations or fabricate a story out of whole cloth, and there was no denial or other testimony by E)

The Washington Post Company 254 NLRB No. 014

(in U C proceeding, Bd found it unnecessary to make credibility resolutions, since it ordinarily does not do so in determining unit issues)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(weight given to actual sworn testimony, and credited, over stipulated testimony to same effect)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027

(where parties waived hearing and submitted case to ALJ for issuance of decision based on record in related proceeding for 10(j) inj and, consequently, ALJ based credibility findings on factors other than demeanor, Bd independently examined case record and found no basis for reversing ALJ's credibility determinations or his findings of fact based thereon)

Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 140

(respondent's motion to expunge portion of ALJ's decision or alternatively to reopen the record and submit supplemental brief, denied because in that portion of ALJ's decision, ALJ's discussion regarding counsel for respondent goes to his credibility, which impacts on credibility of other witnesses in case)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060

(inaccuracy of recall of dates considered not impediment to veracity of any witness; instead, credibility resolutions based on ability of witnesses to recall events, demeanor of each witness, weight of respective evidence provided by witness, established or admitted facts, and inherent probabilities and reasonable inferences)

Dravo Corporation, Chris & Shaver Division 247 NLRB No. 064

(Bd's established policy is not to overrule hearing officer's credibility resolutions unless they are clearly in error)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(demeanor is often a major factor in ALJ's crediting testimony of one witness over that of another, and significant weight must be attributed to ALJ's findings based on demeanor because neither Bd nor reviewing ct has opportunity similarly to observe the testifying witness)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)

(ct rejected E's contention that ALJ's crediting other Ees' versions of exchanges with discriminatee when different from discriminatee's version amounted to finding that discriminatee testified falsely)

5650-0900 Corroboration

Teamsters Local Union No. 528 (Associated Grocers Co-Op) 265 NLRB No. 065

(in affg ALJ's findings, Bd found it unnecessary to rely on E's failure to call witnesses to corroborate testimony of U witness, since ALJ relied on independent grounds for his credibility resolutions, including demeanor)

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 029

(failure to corroborate critical testimony concerning cause for discharge where other witness was present warrants inference that testimony was unreliable)

Technicolor, Inc. JD-(SF)-37-82

(lack of which strengthened determination of unreliability of witness)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 660 (C.A. 6, June 1981)

(uncorroborated testimony of interested witness who stands to gain from back pay award should be subject to strict scrutiny)

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 649 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(uncorroborated testimony of charging party and U vice president that plant manager in training allegedly threatened to make it hard on U members was not credited where it was not supported by other evidence and he was unable to recall with specificity contents of conversation as uncorroborated testimony of interested charging party does not amount to substantial evidence of ULP)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(self-serving declarations made by E's witnesses not credited and fact that witnesses corroborated each other irrelevant where ALJ found GC's witnesses more credible)

5650-1000 Employee's alien status

Plywood Los Angeles, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 067

(Ees' status as undocumented workers or illegal aliens is irrelevant to determining their credibility as witnesses)

5650-1200 Confusion and contradiction not crucial

Royal Zenith Corporation 263 NLRB No. 82

(Respondent's mtn to dismiss complaint granted where Charging Party's testimony on cross-examination false and contradictory so as to render his entire testimony not credible and where charging party violated ALJ's instructions not to discuss testimony with others)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

(in backpay proceeding involving validity of reinstatement offer, ALJ credited testimony of discriminatees who testified in clear, concise, and convincing manner, even though one of them occasionally exhibited a poor memory which was understandable considering passage of time between discharge, offer of reinstatement and trial)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

(in determining backpay due discriminatee and inclusion of moving expenses incurred in obtaining interim employment out of town, based solely on her oral testimony unsubstantiated by any documents, ALJ found discriminatee's testimony convincing; while her memory appeared vague and limited, which should be attributed to 3-year passage of time, her efforts to recall were sincere and accurate)

Neely's Car Clinic 255 NLRB No. 188

(discriminatee's testimony found not evasive as his inability to recollect specific's of each job contact two years after discharge was understandable and his testimony was clear and w/o internal contradiction)

5650-1500 Uncontradicted testimony

General Teamsters Local 959 (Northland Maintenance) 248 NLRB No. 100

(where respondent fails to testify about incident though called by both sides, ALJ not required to draw negative inference from this lack of testimony and credit charging party's version because its testimony is uncontroverted where ALJ feels there are reasonable grounds for concluding such testimony is false or contains improbabilities)

National Steel Service Center, Inc. JD-395-80

(trier of fact may find facts contrary to those presented by uncontradicted witness)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(self serving statements of E representative not accepted merely because they are uncontradicted when record as whole casts reasonable doubt on accuracy of these statements)

5650-1800 Demeanor

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(in evaluating credibility of witness, ALJ relied upon demeanor not only while witness was on stand but also while under ALJ's observation in hearing room)

Vic Koenig Chevrolet 263 NLRB No. 088

(in evaluating conflicting testimony where demeanor factor is not primary basis, factors which Bd considers are: weight of evidence, established or admitted facts, inherent probabilities, and reasonsable influences drawn from record as whole)

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 182

(Bd attaches great weight to credibility findings based on demeanor)

Gerson Electric Construction Company 259 NLRB No. 086

(GC's contention that ALJ failed to make any findings concerning one witness' testimony, rejected; inasmuch as ALJ based his credibility findings upon his observation of witness demeanor, it was implicit in his general statement regarding credibility that he discredited testimony of witness in question since it conflicted with facts as described by other witnesses whose testimony ALJ completely credited; consequently, in considering GC's exceptions to certain credibility findings of ALJ, Bd has also reviewed his Bd implicit resolution with respect to witness herein)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(witness who appeared to be giving his best recollection of factual issue involved, credited, where opposing witness was content to provide a superficial account)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(witness who appeared more conscientious toward his role as witness, credited, where opposing witness had to be reminded as to inadequacy of his responses, on occasion appeared to be evasive, and did not flatly deny testimony of first witness)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(supervisors' testimony to the effect that work assigned to Ee, alleged to be discriminatory because of its unpleasant nature, was considered favorably by other Ees, not credited, in view of sarcastic demeanor of supervisors while testifying, and credible testimony of alleged discriminatee's fellow Ees that they were not in fact envious of him)

Colson Equipment, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 015
(Bd independently evaluated witness' credibility where ALJ based his findings on factors other than demeanor; and reversed ALJ's finding that witness' uncontroverted testimony was not creditable; contrary to ALJ, Bd found that witness' testimony, while vague and rambling in places, was sufficiently direct and straightforward about supervisor's acts to establish a basis for finding the violative, that his testimony was not so confused as to cause the parties to restructure their presentations, and that absence of animus was not a credibility factor, since it was negated as such by Bd's finding of several violations)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(E's uncorroborated and self-serving denials that he made statements found unlawful herein or that he threatened or interrogated Ees was not credited where ALJ observed demeanor and found E's testimony hesitant and evasive)

5650-1833 Credibility based on demeanor within discretion of ALJ

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009

Brockwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028
(contention that ALJ's credibility findings were unreasonable and inconsistent where ALJ questioned candor of one witness, yet credited testimony of another witness who could not produce documentation he alleged existed, w/o merit, since ALJ thoroughly evaluated witnesses' testimony in light of their demeanor)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(witnesses' untruthfulness strengthens inference of unlawful motive under circumstances of ALJ's credibility findings)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(in determining whether Ee was supervisor, Bd was not required to defer to conclusory testimony of others that Ee's duties were identical to those of one supervisor; Bd properly accepted view of ALJ, who observed demeanor of witnesses)

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)
(where ALJ's decision rests explicitly on his evaluations of demeanor, ct will weigh those findings more heavily)

5650-1867 Uncontradicted testimony may be disregarded in view of witness' demeanor

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)
(ALJ may not rely on unrefuted assertions of witness otherwise found to be lacking in credebility because this would effectively place burden of proof on E to refute testimony of otherwise admittedly unbelievable witness instead of GC)

5650-2400 Employment relationship not sufficient to disregard testimony

A-W Washington Service Station, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 014
(fact that witness is charging party is not enough, in itself, to discredit witness)

Pittsburgh Press Company 252 NLRB No. 075
(fact that witness testified adversely to E's interest at time she was still Ee of E tended to support witness's credibility)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. JD-(ATL)-99-81
(testimony of E's former safety director concerning speed of Ee's driving, credited, since director was no longer employed by E at time of hearing and had nothing to gain or lose by his testimony which was supported by documentation)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(undenied testimony of Ee whose livelihood is controlled by E against whom he testifies should be given credence)

5650-3700 Failure to credit some testimony does not justify rejection of witness' entire testimony

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(in crediting any witness only in part, ALJ relied upon fact that subjective human perceptions of situations and events are subject to coloration and for suggestion imposed upon a predisposition and, making allowance for this, it is not uncommon to believe some but not all of a witness' testimony)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(everything said by trustworthy witness not a fact)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031
(nothing is more common than to believe some and not all of what a witness says)

Le Roy Fontaine, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 034
(trier of fact is not required to believe entirety of witness' testimony)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060

Durango Boot, a Division of U.S. Industries, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 046
(nothing is more common in all kinds of judicial decisions than to believe some and not all of a witness' testimony)

National Steel Service Center, Inc. JD-395-80

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)
(ALJ may not rely on unrefuted assertions of witness otherwise found to be lacking in credebility because this would effectively place burden of proof on E to refute testimony of otherwise admittedly unbelievable witness instead of GC)

5650-4300 Failure to testify concerning crucial point may be considered

Cora International Corporation 263 NLRB No. 071
(where Ee testified that supervisor told him at time of co-worker's discharge that trying to bring U in was only reason he knew for discharge, ALJ credited Ee because supervisor did not testify and E gave no explanation)

Great Plains Beef Company 255 NLRB No. 188
(discriminatee not awarded backpay to which he would otherwise be entitled where he failed to report interim employment to Bd agent as he was instructed to do, and denied, until confronted on cross examination, that he had been paid by U for picketing, since such concealment of interim earnings constituted abuse of Bd's processes and his failure or refusal to recall what other information he failed to supply Bd rendered ascertainment of interim earnings impossible)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(failure of respondent's attorney to ask one of his witnesses to testify concerning important matter reinforced ALJ's finding of lack of credibility of witness)

General Teamsters Local 959 (Northland Maintenance) 248 NLRB No. 100
(where respondent fails to testify about incident though called by both sides, ALJ not required to draw negative inference from this lack of testimony and credit charging party's version because its testimony is uncontroverted where ALJ feels there are reasonable grounds for concluding such testimony is false or contains improbabilities)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(supervisor's statement to Ee that she had nothing to worry about if she was not engaged in U activities constituted implied threat to the effect that Ee would have something to worry about if she did engage in such activities; inference is permissible from supervisor's failure to testify that his honest testimony would either have been damaging to case of E in some way or that it would not substantially have differed from Ee's testimony about this incident)

5650-4900 Impeachment

5650-4910 For criminal activity

5650-4910-0100 Generally

Waikiki Inn, Inc. d/b/a Hunan Village Restaurant JD-(NY)-47-82
(testimony concerning fact that one of GC's witnesses had received unemployment compensation while employed by E properly admitted during cross-examination for purpose of credibility determination as Federal Rules of Evidence, 404(a)(3), 405(b), and 608(b)(1) grant trial judges broad discretion in such cases)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81

5650-4910-2500 Only for felony or misdemeanor convictions involving deceit or falsification

Medical Investors Association 260 NLRB No. 124
(testimony of Ee who admitted taking job under false name so he could continue to collect unemployment benefits not discredited especially where testimony of other witnesses tends to support his testimony)

Ampco Metal Division of Ampco-Pittsburgh Corporation 247 NLRB No. 091
(in supplemental hearing, testimony of Ee credited, notwithstanding his prior criminal conviction for illegal possesion of drugs, where evidence revealed but single conviction of Ee occurring some 6 years before original hearing herein and concerning type of misconduct which would not necessarily support inference of tendency to testify dishonestly under oath)

California Circuit Assembly/Anderson Circuits, Inc. JD-(SF)-71-82
(under Rule 609(a)(2) of Federal Rules of Evidence, crime involving dishonesty or false statement is always admissible evidence, and here where witness had been convicted of fraudulent receipt of aid for child, felony under state law, conviction taken into account in determining credability)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(status of witness as admitted felon and fact that he pleaded guilty to three counts of violating state law regarding unauthorized use of recording device during telephone conversations, held to be not sufficient basis for striking his testimony in Bd proceeding from the record or for reversing credibility determinations of Bd)

5650-4910-5000 Convictions before hearing

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(isolated 20-year conviction (for assault) too remote to warrant consideration on issue of credibility)

Ampco Metal Division of Ampco-Pittsburgh Corporation 247 NLRB No. 091
(in supplemental hearing, testimony of Ee credited, notwithstanding his prior criminal conviction for illegal possesion of drugs, where evidence revealed but single conviction of Ee occurring some 6 years before original hearing herein and concerning type of misconduct which would not necessarily support inference of tendency to testify dishonestly under oath)

Corbin-Dykes Electric Company JD-(SF)-208-82
(ALJ credited witness who approximately 10 years earlier had been convicted of crime of safe burglary for which he served prison term in view of long passage of time since crime was committed, witness' lack of any criminal activity thereafter, and ALJ's observations of witness on stand)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(status of witness as admitted felon and fact that he pleaded guilty to three counts of violating state law regarding unauthorized use of recording device during telephone conversations, held to be not sufficient basis for striking his testimony in Bd proceeding from the record or for reversing credibility determinations of Bd)

5650-4940 Contradictory statements

Rockland Lake Manor, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 142
(trial testimony of E's Ee-witness contradicted by affidavit to Bd)

Royal Zenith Corporation 263 NLRB No. 82
(Respondent's mtn to dismiss complaint granted where Charging Party's testimony on cross-examination false and contradictory so as to render his entire testimony not credible and where charging party violated ALJ's instructions not to discuss testimony with others)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(U's minutes of bargaining session, which contained information about data received from E, which was prepared under U auspices and attached to U agent's affidavit, held admission against interest where during trial U agent testified that he did not remember receiving data)

Ridgeway Trucking Company and Sand & Stone Transport, Inc. JD-23-82
(ALJ granted GC's mtn to reopen record to receive exhibits of company's articles of incorporation, with amendments, and annual reports for purposes of impeachment of testimony as to identity of officer and director of company)

5650-4940-5000 Board must produce witness' pretrial statements

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC, On Behalf of Its Local Union No. 15167 (Memphis Folding Stairs, Inc.) 258 NLRB No. 068
(witness's pretrial affidavit credited rather than testimony at trial which demonstrated refusal or inability to sufficiently recollect facts surrounding subject matter of testimony)

5650-4950 Consistent statements

Monroe Medi-Trans, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 107
(ALJ did not err in refusing to allow into evidence Ee's letter to E's president thanking him for having been a fair E, since it was in no way inconsistent, as asserted, with Ee's testimony concerning unlawful remarks attributed to E's general manager)

5650-5500 Miscellaneous reasons for crediting or discrediting testimony

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(E credited as witness in denying that he made allegedly coercive statements to Ee who was U adherent, in view of his demeanor, generally good recall, recollections made w/o hesitation, logicality and plausibility of his explanations made with sincerity, and improbability that he would make coercive remarks regarding U to known U adherent not made to other Ees none of whom attributed such remarks to him)

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(Ee witness not credited regarding allegedly coercive statements made to him by E, in view of his demeanor; pecuniary interest, as allegedly discriminatorily discharged Ee, in outcome of proceeding; record as a whole; and fact that E, as staunch U supporter, who was well aware of discharge of fellow Ees and alleged unlawfulness of it, did not reveal to Bd investigators any coercive remarks made to him until after his own discharge, which apparently prompted his recollection upon which 8(a)(1) allegation was based and was attributed to E prior to discharge of fellow Ees)

Moon Equipment Company 262 NLRB No. 076
(where ALJ credited terminated Ee's version of conversation between him and company official at time of Ee's allegedly unlawful discharge, ALJ's failure to make credibility resolution of fellow Ee's adverse testimony concerning conversation held not improper, since ALJ, by crediting terminated Ee's version of what was said, implicitly discredited fellow Ee's version to the extent the two were inconsistent; moreover, since fellow Ee specifically testified that Ee told him he was fired, his testimony corroborated that of terminated Ee)

Moon Equipment Company 262 NLRB No. 076
(no weight given to testimony of witness concerning statement she claimed was made to her by allegedly unlawfully discharged Ee that he had quit, where witness testified year after statement was supposed to have been made, she did not remember anything else that was said by Ee, did not know if she had more than one conversation with Ee on day statement was supposedly made, nor where at company's facility nor at what time of day it was made)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's witnesses held not credible where, while testimony of GC's witnesses was given in fortright manner, was generally unequivocal and clear, corroborative and consistent with other evidence, testimony of E's principal witnesses was for the most part contradictory, evasive, guarded and quite defensive, at times unclear and equivocal, and in some instances of such incredible nature as to be unworthy of belief; and, significantly, witnesses consistently contradicted not only their own testimony given both at hearing and in previously acquired affidavits, but also that of each other)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's witnesses held not credible where departure from their affidavits was so substantial and their testimony varied so dramatically from affidavits that it could not have been accidental)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025
(Ee-witness who testified as to identity of car's driver who allegedly engaged in surveillance of U activities discredited, given time of day, his distance from road, poor lighting conditions and fact that two other Ee-witnesses were unable to identify driver, one of whom was much closer to road for portion of incident)

Alcar Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 094
(testimony of witness not credited where he testified in evasive manner, avoided giving complete answers unless pressed to do so, gave inconsistent testimony which he changed in several material respects, and displayed memory not as complete as that of other witnesses)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(credibility resolved against E because of his hostile and suspicious attitude toward Us, Bd, women, and blacks; his inherently incredible testimony; large volume of testimony against him, most of it consistent, corroborative, and unimpeached; his own corroboration of his anti-U remarks; and fact that GC's witnesses for most part were sincere and truthfull witnesses who would not be given to fabrication)

Progressive Medical Group, Inc., t/a Walnut Hill Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 039
(although notes taken at bargaining meeting by E's official were admitted after they were authenticated by him, notes of such meeting were ruled inadmissible where it was subsequently shown that official had flatly misrepresented process whereby handwritten notes were transcribed into typewritten minutes; and since official also displayed open partisanship, his uncorroborated testimony on any subject would not be found reliable)

Gerson Electric Construction Company 259 NLRB No. 086
(testimony of Ee allegedly unlawfully laid off during temporary shut down of construction job, not credited where Ee left clear impression that his version of facts was tailored to meet counsel's legal theory as opposed to representing his best recollection of past events; his testimony contained overstatements and exaggerations which were contradicted not only by E's witness but also by co-Ee; and his testimony as to E's ability to continue job, instead of closing it down, was wholly unconvincing)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031
(Ee's testimony concerning one aspect of E's conduct while observing Ee on picket line, not credited, where Ee's affidavit given 4 days after incident omitted mention of it; it cannot be gainsaid that one's memory is fresher immediately after an event than 8 months later)

Blackstone Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 126
(witness not discredited because of his religious beliefs, which fell outside of mainstream of organized Western Religion)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(testimony of witness not credited in view of self-serving nature of testimony, demeanor of all witnesses, review of their testimony, weighing of established facts, and reasonable inferences drawn from record)

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(fact that witnesses were all related held but one factor bearing on their overall credibility and not determinative that they should all be discredited on that account, where commulative weight of such sequestered witnesses' testimony, in light of extensive cross-examination, indicated that their version of event testified to was more probable than that of E)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(witness using such terms as felt that and to the effect that renders uncertain content and import of his remarks)

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048
(GC's witnesses not credited where their testimony lacked consistency and logic and was undermined by their own statements, principal witness was evasive and reluctant to testify and in some instances his testimony was contrived or fabricated, and review of entire testimonial record and briefs coupled with due regard for logic of probability, demeanor of witnesses, and S Ct's Walton Mfg decision were basis for credibility resolutions herein)

Local No. 12, Operating Engineers (Enterprise Aggregates Corp.; Jones, Jones, and Jones) JD-(SF)-254-82
(credibility of testimony of neutral E's witness in secondary boycott proceeding over that of respondent U's representative was based on corroboration by another witness of neutral E, inherent probabilities, demonstrated candor and reasonable inference from record as well as demeanor, status of E's witnesses as disinterested non-parties, and logical inferences drawn from neutral E's conduct; E's witnesses were not involved in primary dispute, had no apparent animosity toward U, employed U members, and had no reason t testify other than to their recollection of what occurred)

5650-5550 Leading questions

United States Steel Corporation, Geneva Works JD-(SF)-122-81
(question held not leading since it was as susceptible of yes answer as of no answer and thus did not contain element of suggestion)

5650-6200 Partiality of witnesses

A-W Washington Service Station, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 014
(fact that witness is charging party is not enough, in itself, to discredit witness)

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 649 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(uncorroborated testimony of charging party and U vice president that plant manager in training allegedly threatened to make it hard on U members was not credited where it was not supported by other evidence and he was unable to recall with specificity contents of conversation as uncorroborated testimony of interested charging party does not amount to substantial evidence of ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(ct reversed ALJ's credibility findings of former supervisor on 2 grounds: 1) ALJ failed to allow cross examination on his work record at E, and 2) failed to give proper weight to circumstances under which supervisor left E's employ. Here, supervisor was fired on grounds he felt unjust; therefore, this testimony from embittered ex-Ee cannot support finding that E was illegally motivated in firing another Ee when there is ample evidence good cause existed)

5650-6900 Self-serving nature of testimony affects credibility

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148

Apollo Clothes, Inc. JD-296-82
(shifting explanations for Ee's discharge, resting on self-serving inaccurate and inconsistent testimony, are evidence that E seeks to conceal true reasons for discharge because true reasons or causes (protesting homework and pursuing duties as U steward) are improper)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 690 (C.A. 6, June 1981)
(uncorroborated testimony of interested witness who stands to gain from back pay award should be subject to strict scrutiny)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(E's uncorroborated and self-serving denials that he made statements found unlawful herein or that he threatened or interrogated Ees was not credited where ALJ observed demeanor and found E's testimony hesitant and evasive)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(testimony of wholly credible witness not untrustworthy merely because he has financial interest in outcome of hearing)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct overruled Bd's finding of unlawful threat based on Ee's testimony alleging that supervisor told her to be careful about her U activities because E intended to get rid of every Ee on U list; Ee's testimony was incomplete, self-serving, and none of Ee's allegations were mentioned in sworn affidavit Ee gave to Bd; furthermore, supervisor's testimony that members of management uttered anti-U statements in meetings with Ees was also discredited where record indicated that such testimony was refuted by 15 other witnesses and that he was biased for being fired after only 3 months in E's employment)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(self-serving declarations made by E's witnesses not credited and fact that witnesses corroborated each other irrelevant where ALJ found GC's witnesses more credible)

5650-7400 Testimony of witnesses where sequestration violated

Gossen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041
(mtn to exclude testimony of witnesses who had been permitted by E's counsel to read portions of transcript prior to testifying in alleged violation of sequestration arrangement, denied in circumstances herein where parameters of sequestration arrangement negotiated among counsel had not been precisely denied)

5650-7500 Testimony of witnesses whose statements are lost or destroyed need not be struck

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Bloomington, Indiana, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 131
(Bd did not strike testimony of GC's witness where respondent did not allege bad faith on part of GC and presented no evidence to establish that it was prejudiced by failure to produce alleged statement where such statement has been destroyed or lost in good faith)

5650-7800 Testimony against employer by employee while in employ of employer not likely false

Rome Baking Company 263 NLRB No. 004

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(testimony of GC's witnesses, pursuant to subpoena, who were still Ees of E at time they testified is not likely to be false since testimony was given at considerable risk, including loss of employment or promotion)

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054
(weight given to testimony of still employed employee where he testified against self-interest)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036

Sanitas Care, Inc. d/b/a Parkview Acres Convalescent Center 255 NLRB No. 149
(ALJ considered fact that witnesses were still employed by E at time they testified adversely to E's position in making credibility resolution)

Harper & Arterburn Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 105

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Menswear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(Ee who testified adversely to E concerning alleged E ULPs, not credited, even though she was still in E's embloy; while individual's act in testifying against own pecuniary interests tends to support reliability of individual as witness, in present instance witness was friend of charging party and was closely aligned with her in internal U matters; while such factors by themselves do not serve as basis for rejecting witness' testimony they tend to show that she was not disinterested in disposition of charging party's case)

Durango Boot, a Division of U.S. Industries, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 046

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-(SF)-238-82
(Ees testifying adversely to their E's interests not credited in view of the state of the record; while Bd has credited testimony of such witnesses, it would be intellectually dishonest to ignore witnesses' testimonial inconsistencies and contradictions in favor of blindly utilizing boradly stated principle in making credibility resolutions)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. JD-(ATL)-99-81
(testimony of E's former safety director concerning speed of Ee's driving, credited, since director was no longer employed by E at time of hearing and had nothing to gain or lose by his testimony which was supported by documentation)

Retailer's Coupon Redemption Co., Inc. JD-194-80

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(no basis to upset ALJ's resolution of credibility conflict in favor of charging party's witness, since w/i reason ALJ's judgment on credibility controls, and witness testified against E while still employed and would not likely have fabricated incident he testified to)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)

(mere fact that Ee exposes himself to retaliation by testifying against his E has little bearing on credibility)

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)

5650-7900 Testimony of witness may be credited in part

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(in crediting any witness only in part, ALJ relied upon fact that subjective human perceptions of situations and events are subject to coloration and for suggestion imposed upon a predisposition and, making allowance for this, it is not uncommon to believe some but not all of a witness' testimony)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025

(despite discrediting Ee-witness's testimony on one point, Bd found no basis therein for disturbing ALJ's crediting his testimony as to other matters)

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82

5650-8100 Testimony of biased witness may be disregarded

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(in determining that E's testimony lacked credibility, ALJ took into consideration E's remarks suggesting racial bias only insofar as they appeared to be relevant to labor issues herein; while not discrediting him as witness solely because he made those remarks, ALJ held that, in context of case, they reflected on his general credibility)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)

(ct reversed ALJ's credibility findings of former supervisor on 2 grounds: 1) ALJ failed to allow cross examination on his work record at E, and 2) failed to give proper weight to circumstances under which supervisor left E's employ. Here, supervisor was fired on grounds he felt unjust; therefore, this testimony from embittered ex-Ee cannot support finding that E was illegally motivated in firing another Ee when there is ample evidence good cause existed)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(ct overruled Bd's finding of unlawful threat based on Ee's testimony alleging that supervisor told her to be careful about her U activities because E intended to get rid of every Ee on U list; Ee's testimony was incomplete, self-serving, and none of Ee's allegations were mentioned in sworn affidavit Ee gave to Bd; furthermore, supervisor's testimony that members of management uttered anti-U statements in meetings with Ees was also discredited where record indicated that such testimony was refuted by 15 other witnesses and that he was biased for being fired after only 3 months in E's employment)

5650-8700 Testimony of witnesses found unreliable as to one issue may be disregarded as to other issues

Delco Air Conditioning Division, General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(ct held that substantial evidence on record did not support Bd finding that E unlawfully conditioned Ee's reinstatement on his resignation as U committeeman where ALJ, although completely discrediting Ee's version of his initial discharge, credited Ee's uncorroborated testimony concerning E's alleged condition for Ee's reinstatement; furthermore, ct was unwilling to enforce backpay award upon uncorroborated testimony of Ee who would be beneficiary of reinstatement and backpay award)

6300 WEIGHT AND SUFFICIENCY

6301 GENERALLY

Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Commission 446 US 917 (U.S. SCt. Feb. 1981)

(substantial evidence phrase of SEc. 7 of the Administrative Procedure Act which provides that agency must not impose sanctions unless supported by and in accordance with reliable, probative and substantial evidence requires that agency decision be based on quality of evidence rather than setting standard of quality; and in accordance with weight of evidence to justify, if trial were to jury, refusal to direct verdict. Thus, SEC properly used preponderance-of-evidence rather than clear-and-convincing standard of proof in determining whether anti-fraud provision of federal securities law violated)

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(contention that increased initiation fee restrained applicants from accepting jobs with E rejected; evidence of increase in ratio of number of interviews of applicants to number of jobs filled by E valueless where E failed to give basis for his figures or describe records he consulted to refresh his recollection)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036

(weight given to actual sworn testimony, and credited, over stipulated testimony to same effect)

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc. (Moving Picture Projectionists, Local No. 150, Stage Employees) 250 NLRB No. 135

(U's quiescence–when it heard that E did not agree with U that E and U had reached agreement on terms of contract–found not evidence that U concurred with E, where U members ratified the agreement that U claimed had been reached and so notified E, and E acted in accordance with contractual terms that U claimed they had reached agreement on)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107

(ALJ's refusal to accept into evidence summaries of E's economic condition at time it instituted layoffs, since that information was not available to E at time it made its decision, reversed by Bd because this factor goes to weight to be accorded evidence not its admissibility)

D & D Supermarket, Inc. JD-292-82

(where supervisor testified as to list that had been abstracted from accounting book maintained by him, but no effort was made to introduce book, inference warranted that production of weak evidence where strong is available that strong would have been adverse)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 628 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)

(threats of physical harm attributable to Ees who are not agents of U are entitled to less weight in determining whether free election was possible)

6325 SUSPICION, CONJECTURE OR BELIEF

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029

(Bd revised ALJ finding of violation based on E's unlawful surveillance of Ees where Bd found that finding based on subjective impressions of witnesses, not objective observations)

Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. JD-(ATL)-55-81

(although sequence of events may give rise to suspicion as to whether actions taken by respondent were based on unlawful motivation, mere suspicion is not sufficient to support finding of violation of Act)

6350 EFFECT OF CORROBORATION

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 649 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(uncorroborated testimony of charging party and U vice president that plant manager in training allegedly threatened to make it hard on U members was not credited where it was not supported by other evidence and he was unable to recall with specificity contents of conversation as uncorroborated testimony of interested charging party does not amount to substantial evidence of ULP)

6375 NONPARTY STATEMENTS

Six Flags Over Mid-America, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 013

(less weight to be accorded to conduct of rank-and-file Ees than that of parties to election in considering election objections)

7000 SPECIFIC KINDS OF EVIDENCE

7006 ADMISSIONS

7006-3700 By affidavit

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120

(U's minutes of bargaining session, which contained information about data received from E, which was prepared under U auspices and attached to U agent's affidavit, held admission against interest where during trial U agent testified that he did not remember receiving data)

Wolverine World Wide, Inc. JD-188-80

(pretrial statements adduced to impeach witnesses may be used as affirmative evidence, especially where statements contain admissions or declarations against interest)

7012 AFFIDAVITS

Economy Fire and Casualty Co. 264 NLRB No. 083

(where Ee testified that she had no present recollection of supervisor's comment, Ee read statements from affidavit given to Bd agent 2-1/2 months after incident occurred into record as hearsay exception under Rule 803(5))

Geary Motor Sales, d/b/a Geary Ford 261 NLRB No. 169

(GC's mtn to strike affidavits presented with respondent's exceptions in support of its contentions, granted where, inter alia, affidavits were not previously made part of record and matters therein were not shown to constitute new or previously unavailable evidence)

Comair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's witnesses held not credible where departure from their affidavits was so substantial and their testimony varied so dramatically from affidavits that it could not have been accidental)

Milton College 260 NLRB No. 047

(in summary judgment proceeding, Bd denied GC's mtn to strike affidavit submitted by college's dean enumerating duties and authority of faculty members in support of claim that they are managerial under SCt's intervening Yeshiva University decision and that, consequently, previously stipulated unit of faculty members was inappropriate; Bd rejected GC's contentions that dean, employed only a few months when certification issued, had insufficient time to determine faculty's actual duties and authority and that, if affidavit is not stricken, little, if any, weight should be given to it)

Zeigler Coal Company 256 NLRB No. 169

(U agent's affidavit and attached exhibit of E's reply letter to bargaining request, submitted in support of GC's mtn for summary judgment, held admissible notwithstanding affidavit was sworn to best of memory, information, knowledge and belief rather than personal knowledge since agent had personal knowledge of all key facts asserted as shown by entire affidavit including exhibits, and reply letter was held self-authenticating)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)

(in remanding for hearing on objections, ct rejected RD's contention that RD is entitled to ignore issues of fact raised by affidavits not setting forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence (Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e)), where RD did not draw any distinction between hearsay and nonhearsay evidence and ct could not assume that this was sole or dispositive basis for decision not to hold hearing; Rule 56(e) does not apply, and even if it did and evidence relating to objections was solely hearsay, it might still be admissible; and narrations of affidavits were not hearsay for all purposes)

7012-2000 Of witnesses who did not testify

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodkraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121

(admissible under Sec. 804(b)(5) notwithstanding GC not informed of its intended use since GC waived its right to notice)

Poppin Fresh Pies, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 051

(Ee's affidavit in Spanish was accorded no weight where Ee was not present at hearing and Bd agent who prepared affidavit did not testify though requested to by Respondent and prevented from doing so by GC, and thereby deprived E of opportunity at cross-examination, notwithstanding U agent who was present when Bd agent prepared affidavit authenticated affidavit)

K & K Transportation Corp., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 087

(affidavit of Ee not admissible where Ee did not testify at hearing and proponent of statement did not make good faith effort to obtain declarant's presence at hearing to meet Federal Rules of Evidence, Sec. 804(a) unavailability test)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146

(prehearing affidavit admitted into evidence to show that during meeting at U hall, Ee asked one of his companions, who was not named in affidavit, to put Ee's name on card for U, notwithstanding Ee was unavailable to testify at hearing, where general purposes of Federal Rules of Evidence and interests of justice were best served by admission of affidavit)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 063

(affidavit of witness who died prior to hearing, admissible to prove conversation between deceased and E's terminal manager, since affidavit met standards of Rule 804(b)(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)

(where signatures on W-4 form and authorization card different, Ee's affidavit explaining that he had authorized another Ee to sign his authorization card admissible since E was informed that affidavit would be used as soon as GC learned Ee would be unavailable to testify)

7015 BUSINESS RECORDS

Electric Hose and Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 014

(elimination of overtime during U organizing campaign not violative where E introduced its projections of production needs upon which its decision was based but did not produce actual production records and GC did not prove that E, in fact, did not base its decision on these projections but acted out of U animus)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107

(ALJ's refusal to accept into evidence summaries of E's economic condition at time it instituted layoffs, since that information was not available to E at time it made its decision, reversed by Bd because this factor goes to weight to be accorded evidence not its admissibility)

7015-5000 Authentication of

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 200

(on ct remand, freight bills were re-introduced to show that E met legal jurisdictional standard, and qualified witness who was completely familiar with preparation of bills of lading and could vouch for their accuracy testified and authenticated bills for admission under business records exception to hearsay rule)

7018 CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E's motivation for unlawful action taken against Ee due to Ee's U activities may be proven by circumstantial evidence, including timing of action taken, hostility towards unionization in general and discriminatee in particular, and shifting nature and/or insubstantiality of explanation offered by E for its action (civil contempt proceeding))

7018-0100 Generally

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162

(circumstances, including timing of discharges upon E's learning of Ees' U activity and false explanation for discharges, size of plant, and fact Ees not circumspect in their discussions of U warrant inference that E's reference to Ees' attitude, as grounds for action, was allusion to their U sympathies)

7018-3300 Direct evidence of purpose to violate statute seldom obtainable

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196

(knowledge, like any other element in case, may be proven by circumstantial evidence if circumstances are such as to support reasonable inference)

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195

(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation is not necessary to support finding of discrimination and such intent may be inferred from record as a whole)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(state of mind of E officials who make decision to discharge Ee reflects motive for discharge; GC will rarely be able to produce direct evidence of official's state of mind and therefore GC can only produce circumstantial evidence from which Bd can infer finding of improper motive)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(since it would be extraordinary for a party directly to admit a bad faith intention his motive must of necessity be ascertained from circumstantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

(reasonable inference of knowledge of U support may be established by circumstantial evidence such as: supervisor's singling out discriminatee for derision regarding subpoena and supervisor's interest in inducing discriminatee not to honor it; supervisor's multiple references to Ee's U brothers as well as small size of market in which both supervisor and Ee worked)

7018-6700 Sufficient in light of absence of rebuttal

Douglas & Lomason Company 253 NLRB No. 039

(although it was not certain that it was supervisor who posted anti-U petition, there was sufficient circumstantial evidence to make that likely; his failure to rebut that necessary inference was persuasive to find violation)

7021 EXHIBITS

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81

(in determining in backpay proceeding whether E's or GC's exhibits listing weekly hours worked by discriminatees should be credited where discrepancies occurred, ALJ accepted GC's figures as accurate, where E's exhibit, although having few discrepancies, contained omissions regarding hours and weeks worked by certain discriminatees during specified periods and also listed hours worked during one week by another discriminatee under another discriminatee's name)

7024 EVIDENCE RELATING TO PARTICULAR EVENTS OR FACTS

7024-1700 Commerce data

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No. 065

(GC's failure to produce evidence in 8(b)(1)(A) and (2) proceeding in support of allegations that Es, other than E whose operations were found to warrant assertion of jurisdiction, satisfied Bd's jurisdictional standards held

not material, since operations of company found engaged in commerce were sufficient to establish jurisdiction, and U's action relative to such company sufficed of itself to establish violation; additional findings based on similar U actions would be cumulative and would not warrant change in remedy)

7024-1750 Summaries and testimony proper if 'facilities for proper cross- examination' provided

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissable hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

7024-2200 State and local courts records and decisions

Author Briggs, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 038
(acquittal in criminal trial of act which is contended herein to be misconduct of striker justifying refusal to reinstate, cannot be given collateral estoppel effect in this proceeding)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 191
(Bd severed part of instant case and remanded that aspect for further hearing to determine whether U steward participated in assault on dissident U member by use of municipal ct judgment wherein U steward was found guilty of assault in issue)

7024-3300 Events occurring before ULP alleged in complaint may be given weight

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(Bd's finding multitude of other acts displaying anti-U animus of E and its supervisors, though not alleged as independent violations, were relevant in assessing violations that were alleged in complaint)

N.L.R.B. v. Savair Manufacturing Company 611 F.2d 169 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(order based on 8(a)(1) violation enforced, since Bd entitled to conclude from testimony of company official that E refused to hire Ee in 1976 because he was trouble during Ees' walkout in 1969)

Rockingham Machine-Lunar Company v. N.L.R.B. 665 F.2d 303 (C.A. 8, Dec. 1981)
(notwithstanding that ALJ improperly relied on backgound evidence to find that E committed ULPs, ct held that other evidence in record was sufficient to support Bd's findings of violations)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(Bd has power-and indeed obligation-to take into account history of recalcitrance in designing remedial order)

7024-3350 Events covered by settlement may be considered as background

English Coal Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 165
(broad c/d order appropriate where Bd relied upon formal settlement agreement, which did not contain nonadmissions clause, to show a proclivity to violate Act, and which contained language permitting later use in Bd-related proceedings)

Arnold Ready Mix Corporation 259 NLRB No. 026
(ALJ allowed introduction of prior settlement agreement involving alleged discriminatory discharge of dischargee for background material and to reflect on U animus of E)

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(in considering whether any postsettlement conduct is sufficient to warrant setting settlement aside, can consider presettlement conduct only as background evidence or indicator of credibility in appraising E's motives and objectives)

7024-3375 Settlement agreements not admissible

Central Storage and Transfer Co. of Harrisburg 263 NLRB No. 089
(ALJ erred in admitting testimony concerning alleged job offer where offer occured during course of settlement negotiations)

Lord Jim's 259 NLRB No. 164
(settlement agreement in suit of 5 Us' trust funds could not be used as admission that E had recognized or had contract with U into which these 5 Us were merged)

East Wind Enterprises 250 NLRB No. 101
(letter from E's counsel to GC written during course of settlement negotiations and was part thereof, inadmissable; See, Federal Rules of Evidence, Rule 408)

7024-3800 Events occurring prior to filing of petition

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(prepetition conduct may be considered in determining whether party has engaged in objectionable conduct where such prepetition conduct lends meaning and dimension to post-election conduct)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 065
(E's statement to Ee, threatening to close shop if U came in, excluded from consideration as objectionable conduct since it occurred before filing of ptn)

Turner Shoe Company, Inc. and Carmen Athletic Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 029
(although E's speech to Ees emphasizing strikes, plant closing, and loss of jobs resulting from unionization was made prior to filing of operative ptn and cannot serve as basis for setting aside election, it was considered insofar as it provided background in evaluating E's post-ptn conduct)

7024-4200 Offers of settlement or compromise

East Wind Enterprises 250 NLRB No. 101
(letter from E's counsel to GC written during course of settlement negotiations and was part thereof, inadmissable; See, Federal Rules of Evidence, Rule 408)

7024-5000 Facts established at hearing before other agencies

7024-5033 Arbitration tribunal

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146
(E's argument that U was obligated to overturn prior arbitration decisions through arbitral forum in order to reassert its statutory right to requested information and contention that ALJ's refusal to admit evidence of parties' arbitration history was biased, rejected where E presented no evidence that U's statutory right was considered by arbitrators or that U acquiesced in E's interpretation of said decisions or otherwise clearly and unmistakably waived its statutory right to requested data)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(contrary to ALJ, Bd did not rely on contents of mediation arbitrator's letter, advising E to suspend Ee, in finding that E's disciplinary action against Ee was not unlawful, since Ee's misconduct provided sufficient cause for disciplining Ee)

7024-5067 Unemployment compensation agency

Armored Transport of Nevada, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 209
(unemployment compensation decision showing that Ee was discharged for cause was admitted but would not be controlling)

Western Publishing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 145
(ALJ erred in refusing to admit into evidence copy of decision made by State Department of Labor concerning unemployment compensation claimed by Charging Parties; such decision, although not controlling as to findings of fact or conclusions of law, has some probative value and is admissible into evidence)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's mtn in brief, opposed by GC, to include State unemployment board of review decision in evidence relating to quit of alleged discriminatee, granted; while E failed to assert that proffered document was newly discovered or not in existence during hearing, and while such previously unmentioned document would ordinarily be rejected upon GC's opposition, document placed in record on theory that its omission was result of E's oversight, especially since other documents pertaining to alleged discriminatee were in evidence)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(although documents supporting conclusions of State unemployment bureau that Ees quit w/o just cause were received in evidence, such documents not given governing weight in interpreting statutory questions whether Ees quit or whether they left work while engaging in concerted protected activity; in defining quit, purpose and ends of State statute are not necessarily consistent with protections afforded by Act; and interpretation of events under State statute cannot control, much less bind, Bd concerning whether action of Ees amounted to quit under Act)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(opinion of state unemployment compensation commission not binding on Bd)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(decision of state unemployment security division regarding Charging Party's unemployment compensation claim excluded where decision appealed)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(decision of state unemployment security division appeals referee regarding Charging Party's unemployment compensation claim admitted)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(statement of E submitted to state unemployment agency in regard to Charging Party's unemployment compensation claim, admitted, since materials related to reasons E discharged Charging Party)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(materials submitted to state unemployment compensation agency regarding Charging Party's claim for unemployment compensation including statement from E regarding Charging Party's attendance records, and affidavits, admitted, where E did not object to authenticity of any of the materials)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(transcript of tape made at hearing before state unemployment compensation agency regarding Charging Party's unemployment compensation claims admitted, but ALJ only considered parts which were material)

Emory Nursing Home, Inc. d/b/a Emory Convalescent Home 260 NLRB No. 071 (decisions of state unemployment commissions have probative value but are not controlling)

Lashner Corporation 260 NLRB No. 020
(proceedings at employment Services Board of Review admitted for probative value, although not conclusive evidence)

Lattimer Associates Limited 258 NLRB No. 132
(Bd found merit in GC's exception to /ALJ's admission into evidence of transcript and decision of state unemployment compensation bd pertaining to dischargee's claim for benefits, since it is well established that ALJ and Bd decisions must be based upon an independent consideration and evaluation of the evidence received in this ULP proceeding; furthermore, it was not shown that ULP issue was considered by state agency in reaching its decision)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(decision of state unemployment insurance appeal board denying benefits; because charging party lost job through conduct, received into evidence; however, since ALJ drew differnet factual conclusions and ULP not considered by unemployment tribunal, award not given controlling weight)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(E's mtn to reopen record to allow it to introduce transcript of hearing and decision by state employment office denied, where state agency's decision undoubtedly was rendered under statute with different definitions, policies, and purposes from those of Act; furthermore, E did not show that ULP issue was considered by state agency and Bd's decision must be based upon independent consideration and evaluation of evidence recieved in ULP proceeding)

Moss Equipment Company 262 NLRB No. 076
(findings of state employment agency, contrary to ALJ's finding that Ee was discharged for engaging in protected activity, held not binding on ALJ who based his findings on other evidence of record herein)

7024-6700 Facts established at hearing in other Board cases

7024-6717 Admission and decision based thereon not conclusive

Marriott Corporation 251 NLRB No. 180
(prior Bd decision holding that E's In-Flight Services Division had violated Secs. 8(a)(1) and (3) of Act at E's Tampa facility not taken into account in instant case, since: (a) issue of E's motive was not litigated; (b) acts in issue occurred in Tampa, not San Juan; (c) even in Tampa, E did not demonstrate general disregard for its Ees' rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 483 and Local 11, Ironworkers 672 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's finding that Us referral operation discriminated against non-members or those to whom membership was denied was not supported by substantial evidence that referral was in fact based on U membership or activity and case remanded, as earlier Ironworkers cases were not dispositive of issues of proof; hire, unlike earlier cases, contractors' requisition registers were in evidence, and U officers testified as to mechanics of hiring hall operation)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 483 and Local 11, Ironworkers 672 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(referral in violation of consent decree in earlier Ironworkers' cases is not, ipso facto, violation of Sec. 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2))

7024-6733 R proceeding

Gurabo Lace Mills, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 044
(E who issued warnings to two Ees two days after it received notice R hearing would be held found to have violated Act in as much as warnings were issued in retaliation for U activities; however, no evidence that warnings, standing alone, were issued for purpose of influencing outcome of hearing; therefore, R-hearing not tainted and evidence of supervisory status of Ee adduced at hearing considered along with evidence presented at ULP hearing for determination of supervisory status in second hearing)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(Bd's factual findings in related R case not binding in subsequent ULP proceedings because issues are different in R and ULP proceedings)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(representative for appropriate unit)

7024-6742 10(k) proceeding

Ironworkers, Local No. 86, (Kulama Erectors) 264 NLRB No. [illegible]
(although rank-and-file E-members of U were not its agents, their involvement in repeated threats to walk out if rival U's members were allowed to perform disputed work relied upon as backgound evidence in assessing threats made by individuals who admittedly were U agents)

7024-6783 Where present parties were parties to earlier proceedings

Knapp Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(unilateral changes in employment conditions of Ees made by E violative in instant case in event Bd affirms ALJ decision in pending C cases and R case concerning same Respondent, that E had duty to bargain with U)

Local 3, Electrical Workers (Northern Telecom, Inc.) 265 NLRB No. 029
(in finding violation Bd relied, inter alia, on prior Bd decisions that U's history before Bd demonstrated its proclivity to engage in unlawful secondary activity in support of its claim to telephone interconnect work being performed by Ees represented by another U)

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(finding in Earle Industries, Inc., 146 NLRB 536 (1964), that supervisor and plant manager had propensity to engage in violative 8(a)(1) conduct prior to instant hearing, not adopted by Bd, since earlier decision predated alleged violation in instant case by some 14 years and was too remote to support ALJ's finding)

International Business Systems, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 017
(admission of warning letters issued to Ee but held in prior proceeding to be unlawful change in method of communication w/i disciplinary system, error, where letters ordered expunged in prior proceeding; however, ALJ not precluded from considering incidents documented in letters since E found to have merely unlawfully changed means it used to communicate w/i disciplinary system and not underlying disciplinary standards or to have altered system to rid it self of U adherents)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(formal pleadings and transcript from prior case involving same local were admitted into evidence in instant case, since they were relevent with respect to consideration of res judicata issue)

Standard Refinery Union, Inc. JD-633-80
(determination of correctness or incorrectness of name of E made in prior Bd cases concerning same E was controlling in instant case by virtue of Bd's denial of respondent U's request for review as regards such determination)

7024-7500 Interim employment during backpay period

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(E may mitigate his backpay liability by showing willfully incurred loss by a clearly identifiable refusal to take desirable new employment; but since affirmative defense burden is upon E to prove necessary facts, such burden is not met by presenting evidence of lack of Ee success in obtaining interim employment or of low interim earnings; rather, E must affirmatively show that Ee neglected to make reasonable efforts to find interim work)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(in determining whether discriminatee has made reasonable search for interim employment, test is whether record establishes that discriminatee has diligently sought employment during entire backpay period, and uncertainty in evidence is resolved against E as wrongdoer)

Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 258 NLRB No. 148
(in determining backpay due discriminatee and inclusion of moving expenses incurred in obtaining interim employment out of town, based solely on her oral testimony unsubstantiated by any documents, ALJ found discriminatee's testimony convincing; while her memory appeared vague and limited, which should be attributed to 3-year passage of time, her efforts to recall were sincere and accurate)

Neely's Car Clinic 255 NLRB No. 188
(where doubt is raised by testimony of E witnesses where discriminatee applied for jobs, such doubt must be resolved against wrongdoer responsible for existence of uncertainty)

7024-8300 Majority status of union

Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 023
(Bd upheld ALJ's refusal to allow testimony to demonstrate post-election changes in bargaining unit on ground that any issue of change in unit was beyond scope of hearing; furthermore, absent special circumstances, there is irrebuttable presumption that majority status of certified U continues for 1 year from date of certification; as E's refusal to bargain occurred during certification year, presumption was clearly applicable; moreover, even if E's refusal to bargain had not occurred during certification year, factor of Ee turnover did not establish that U had lost majority status)

Lexington Cartage Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 085
(ptn signed by all members of unit stating they wished to renounce U irrelevant and not admissible into evidence in hearing on alleged unlawful refusal to bargain, since signed during certification year during which pre-

sumption is not rebuttable, absent unusual circumstances; pin not unusual circumstances that would justify E's refusal to bargain)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local No. 1063 (Heathman Employees Independent Union) 249 NLRB No. 082
(in 8(b)(7)(A) proceeding, U's evidence tending to show that incumbent U's majority may have been tainted and not uncoerced held insufficient to rebut conclusion that incumbent had been lawfully recognized; U's evidence of sporadic substitution for supervisors by Ees participating in U activities, supervisor's election to U office, apparent acceleration of dues checkoff, and brief nature of, and rapidly concluded, negotiations had little probative value in support of U's contentions)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(sum total of: 70% turnover in personnel, statements of Ees regarding dissatisfaction with U, extremely low attendance at U meetings, lack of any grievance activity, during first contract term or of visits by U to E's facility, cumulatively was sufficient to shift burden to GC to establish U's majority; ct refused to place burden on E of possibly committing ULP of bargaining with minority)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(refusal to allow E to introduce into evidence U's membership list obtained after withdrawal of recognition improper, notwithstanding membership not correlative with U support, since low membership is clearly probative to issue of U's continued majority and admissibility is not determined solely by what evidence E could have relied on upon in making decision to withdraw recognition)

7024-8800 Objective evidence of card majority

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(testimony of specialist in reading education as to level of difficulty of wording on authorization card, irrelevant, since has no practical application insofar as predicting whether individual Ees during organizing campaign would understand, upon reading and signing card, that they were authorizing U to represent them)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(secondary evidence is sufficient to establish identity of card signer and his/her act of signing card; witness providing such secondary evidence need not have actually seen Ee sign card so long as he can identify the card as having been executed by signatory Ee)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(fact card undated does not destroy its validity. Collateral evidence may be relied upon to establish when undated card was signed and such evidence may include officially noticed Regional Office time and date stamps if card was submitted to Bd in support of R pin)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(right to question validity of authorization cards not waived by failure to object to authenticity of cards and their admission into evidence; further, where issue of validity of cards raised and litigated by cross-examination of authenticating witnesses and discussion in brief of testimony regarding possible misrepresentation in solicitation, validity of cards should be considered on merits)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(lost card not counted since w/o card it cannot be determined if individual authorized U to represent him on any of the critical dates litigated)

7024-8900 Subjective motivation in signing card

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-321-80
(subjective testimony adduced at hearing held unreliable and does not prove that Ees, when they signed card, did not want U, or that they were tricked into signing cards)

7024-9100 Events at union meeting

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(U's inaction not violative where physical altercation took place outside of U meeting hall in presence of U agents; none of U agents knew who participated in brief fight that occurred at some distance from where agents were positioned)

7024-9500 Appropriateness of unit

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 260 NLRB No. 166
(in resolving question of appropriateness of unit in 8(a)(5) proceeding in which E refused to produce subpenaed records, Bd based its unit finding on testimony of GC's witnesses and on testimony of E's witnesses on matters not covered by GC's subpenas)

7024-9900 Other

Woodruff & Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 043
(ALJ improperly required E to show in unlawful discharge case that contended extraordinary damage sustained by discharged Ee's truck was in fact related to way in which Ee drove it; E merely needed to show that it relied on damage as real reason for discharge)

John J. Canova d/b/a Canova Moving & Storage Co. 261 NLRB No. 092
(in backpay proceeding involving question of Ee's physical disability condition, it is proper to give greater weight to opinion of physician specializing in field in which Ee's impairment lies than to an opinion of his general practitioner)

7025 IDENTIFICATION EVIDENCE

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States United Telephone Company 694 F.2d 92 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1982)
(ct held that ALJ did not abuse his discretion in admitting identification evidence where, over E's objections that proper foundation had not been laid, ALJ asked witness, who as customer had allegedly complained to E about Ee's conduct, whether witness could select Ee from group of spectators in courtroom, and witness failed to be able to do so; admissibility of identification evidence lies w/i sound discretion of trial judge)

7030 EXPERT TESTIMONY

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafayette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(ALJ's refusal to allow respondent to present expert witness to testify about apprenticeship programs generally and their standards for operation as irrelevant, affirmed since witness had no knowledge of operations of respondent's apprenticeship program and did not participate in decision to terminate apprentice herein; moreover, rejected evidence would have been merely cumulative)

7036 EXPERT KNOWLEDGE OF BOARD

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(ct reluctant to substitute its judgment on issue of whether Ee was casual rather than regular part-time Ee, where Bd possessed significant expertise and minor factual differences are so important, so long as substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(Bd is entitled to deference in drawing line between strike misconduct and protected activity)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd has special expertise in classifying mandatory and non-mandatory subjects of bargaining; Congress delegated primary responsibility of defining scope of duty to bargain to Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(deference (from ct) is due Bd's interpretation of labor contracts because such contracts are different in nature and scope from ordinary commercial contracts and, as such, labor contract interpretation falls w/i area of Bd's special expertise)

7042 HEARSAY

7042-0100 Generally

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(hearsay admissible if rationally probative in face and if corroborated by something more than slightest amount of other evidence. Bd jealously guards its discretion to rely on hearsay testimony in proper circumstance)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(E's contention raised in exception to ALJ's overruling of E's objection to cross-examination of E's attorneys on ground testimony should have been excluded because it was hearsay as well as beyond scope of direct examination and irrelevant, rejected, where at hearing E only objected on latter grounds; since E did not then object that it was hearsay, it may not now claim to have meritorious exception to ALJ's ruling on hearsay grounds; moreover, ALJ correctly ruled that questioning was related to direct examination issues and was relevant)

Injected Rubber Products Corp. 258 NLRB No. 092
(testimony of leadman-agent of E-concerning comments by E's management held not hearsay since statement by party's agent concerning matter w/i scope of agency)

United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, Local 878 (Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company) 255 NLRB No. 032
(Bd not bound to apply strickly Federal Rules of Evidence concerning hearsay)

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(in remanding for hearing on objections, ct rejected RD's contention that RD is entitled to ignore issues of fact raised by affidavits not setting forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence (Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e)), where RD did not draw any distinction between hearsay and nonhearsay evidence and ct could not assume that this was sole or dispositive basis for decision not to hold hearing; Rule 56(e) does not apply, and even if it did and evidence relating to objections was solely hearsay, it might still be admissible; and narrations of affidavits were not hearsay for all purposes)

Rockingham Machine-Lunex Company v. N.L.R.B. 665 F.2d 303 (C.A. 8, Dec. 1981)
(where ALJ ruled that unauthenticated transcripts of post-strike negotiations were hearsay but admitted them for limited purpose of showing essence of what occurred at negotiations and then improperly relied on transcripts to establish truth of matter asserted therein, ct held there was other evidence that was more than sufficient to support Bd's finding of violations)

7042-0120 What constitutes hearsay

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(Ee's testimony as to what he was told by company official held not inadmissible hearsay, where official's statement was in nature of work instructions given to Ee and others in accordance with E's existing work practice and procedure)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(testimony of E that detective told him that discriminatee had been accused of harassing a pregnant woman held not hearsay, where it was not being offered for truth of matter being asserted by detective but rather was offered to show basis for E's fear of discharging discriminatee before E's departure overseas, as result of which his pregnant wife would be left alone)

Carpenters District Council of Sabine Area and Vicinity and Carpenters Local 753 (Gulf Coast Construction Company) 248 NLRB No. 111
(although testimony of general contractor and party in interest herein regarding his own statements made to various subcontractors in course of his attempts to get them to schedule work at jobsite was not hearsay, Bd held general contractor's testimony regarding responses made by the subcontractors was self-serving hearsay)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(in case involving issue of whether E unlawfully discriminated against U members in refusing to transfer them to new facility after closing old operation, ct held testimony of witnesses, to the effect that U members were not going to be transferred, was not inadmissible hearsay, where witnesses' statements were not offered to prove that any Ees wanted to transfer rather, statements were offered to show that Ees asked about transferring, and significance of statements lies solely in fact that they were made and no issue is raised as to truth of anything asserted)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissable hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

7042-0140 District Court rules of evidence applicable

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(statements of strikers before strike regarding their grievances, fears and intent to strike fall w/i exception to hearsay rule as then existing state of mind or emotion; further, Bd not bound to strictly apply Federal Rules of Evidence)

7042-0160 Hearsay may be excluded

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(statements made by former agent of E to discriminatee properly excluded as hearsay where offered for truth of statement, although if agent was still employed would be admissible under F.R.E. 801 (d)(2)(D) as an admission by party opponent)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (Nixdorf Computer Corporation) JD-(NY)-18-80
(testimony of witness, who was nonstriking Ee, concerning what his children reported to him regarding phone call they had received allegedly made by striking Ee who threatened witness' family excluded as hearsay and held not w/i exception to hearsay rule, since it did not have equivalent circumstantial guarantee of trustworthiness necessary for admission)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissable hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

7042-0180 Hearsay may be given weight

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(hearsay testimony of one of E's managers not sufficient proof of threatened assault on picket line, to overcome another witness's credible denial)

7042-0180-2500 Where admitted without objection

C & D Transfer 258 NLRB No. 080
(hearsay testimony of dischargee that he was told by fellow Ee that E had told him dischargee was fired because he had filed application for U membership held competent where such testimony was not objected to or contradicted by either E or fellow Ee in their testimony)

Avon Mirror & Distributing Co. 247 NLRB No. 033

7042-0180-5000 Where corroborated

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(hearsay admissable if rationally probative in face and if corroborated by something more than slightest amount of other evidence. Bd jealously guards its discretion to rely on hearsay testimony in proper circumstance)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 098
(hearsay testimony, although not always entitled to as much weight as direct testimony, can constitute substantial evidence, particularly when there are circumstances which corroborate its credibility)

Carpenters District Council of Sabine Area and Vicinity and Carpenters Local 753 (Gulf Coast Construction Company) 248 NLRB No. 111
(testimony of general contractor and party-in-interest herein regarding responses made by various subcontractors in course of his attempts to get them to schedule work at jobsite, held self-serving hearsay not to be given significant weight, since testimony was not corroborated, either by testimony from subcontractors involved in conversations or by any documentary evidence)

7042-0180-7500 Where not contradicted

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(Charging Party's testimony as to conversation he had with U's business agent who was allegedly presuring E to discharge him, which was offered against U w/o contradiction, not hearsay under Federal Rules of Evidence and admissible under Bd law; that testimony may be appropriately supplemented by Charging Party's testimony as to what E's area supervisor informed Charging Party what business agent was telling E which, although hearsay as to U, admissible to support other evidence)

C & D Transfer 258 NLRB No. 080
(hearsay testimony of dischargee that he was told by fellow Ee that E had told him dischargee was fired because he had filed application for U membership held competent where such testimony was not objected to or contradicted by either E or fellow Ee in their testimony)

7042-0180-7600 Existing state of mind or emotion

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(statements of strikers before strike regarding their grievances, fears and intent to strike fall w/i exception to hearsay rule as then existing state of mind or emotion; further, Bd not bound to strictly apply Federal Rules of Evidence)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(statements of strikers before strike regarding their grievances, fears and intent to strike fall w/i exception to hearsay rule as then existing state of mind of emotion; further, Bd not bound to strictly apply Federal Rules of Evidence)

7042-0190 Exceptions to the hearsay rule

Cumberland Farms Dairy of New York, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 120
(Bd overruled ALJ admission of hearsay testimony of foreman concerning E's statement to him of why he discharged Ee as present sense impression exception where 10-minute lapse between discharge and E's subsequent offer of explanation to foreman was significantly more than slight and failed to meet any reasonable application of substantial contemporaneity standard; F.R.E.-Advisory Committee's Note - Rule 803(1); also, record establishes that foreman was not present when Ee was discharged, so as to provide check on accuracy of E's stated reason, and E himself did not appear as witness, McCormick's Law of Evidence)

Dallas Stage Employees, Local Union 127 (Mulberry Square Productions) 247 NLRB NO. 110
(contention that conversation between E and International U was inadmissible because International was not party to proceeding, rejected, where testimony of conversation was admissible since it went to E's state of mind in reaching decision to terminate Ee)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (Nixdorf Computer Corporation) JD-(NY)-18-80
(testimony of witness, who was nonstriking Ee, concerning what his children reported to him regarding phone call they had received allegedly made by striking Ee who threatened witness' family excluded as hearsay and held not w/i exception to hearsay rule, since it did not have equivalent circumstantial guarantee of trustworthiness necessary for admission)

7042-0190-0100 Generally

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029

(statements made by former agent of E to discriminatee properly excluded as hearsay where offered for truth of statement, although if agent was still employed would be admissible under F.R.E. 801 (d)(2)(D) as an admission by party opponent)

Nordstrom, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-82

(memo made by witness concerning conversation she had not admissible into evidence as recorded recollection under Sec. 803(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence where witness did not express any doubt as to completeness or accuracy of her own recollection of conversation)

7042-0190-2500 Recorded recollection

Economy Fire and Casualty Co. 264 NLRB No. 003

(where Ee testified that she had no present recollection of supervisor's comment, Ee read statements from affidavit given to Bd agent 2-1/2 months after incident occurred into record as hearsay exception under Rule 803(5))

7042-2500 Admission against interest not within hearsay rule

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(hearsay evidence of incident of violence (outside U meeting hall) given weight of stipulated facts where both Respondents stipulated to its receipt)

America Air Filter Company, Inc. 238 NLRB No. 010

United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, Local 878 (Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company) 255 NLRB No. 032

(admissions by party opponent are not hearsay and witnesses' testimony that U representatives told him they skipped Ee intentionally when computing eligibility for grievance pay because he was not U member, admissible)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120

(U's minutes of bargaining session, which contained information about data received from E, which was prepared under U auspices and attached to U agent's affidavit, held admission against interest where during trial U agent testified that he did not remember receiving data)

7042-5000 Business entries

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 084

(document properly rejected since it was not properly authenticated and it was offered to prove its contents, where document was purported to be summary of information extracted from E's business records but was not itself a document prepared in ordinary course of business and it therefore failed to qualify under business record exception to hearsay rule, and E failed to proffer as witness person who prepared document and does not now offer to show unavailability of such witness)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissable hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

7042-7500 Testimony as to witness' own conversations not hearsay

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(testimony as to witness conversations with deceased individual admissible as exception to hearsay rule where witness deemed forthright and responsive and testimony consistent with admissions of another witness)

Carpenters District Council of Sabine Area and Vicinity and Carpenters Local 753 (Gulf Coast Construction Company) 248 NLRB No. 111

(although testimony of general contractor and party in interest herein regarding his own statements made to various subcontractors in course of his attempts to get them to schedule work at jobsite was not hearsay, Bd held general contractor's testimony regarding responses made by the subcontractors was self-serving hearsay)

7042-8700 Statements of deceased persons or persons too ill to testify

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201

(ALJ erred in admitting affidavit of individual who executed same for use in other litigation. GC averred at hearing that affiant was unable to testify w/i meaning of Rule 804(a)(2) and (4) of Federal Rules of Evidence because of physical illness and contended affidavit admissable under Rule 804(b)(5); however, GC failed to present any medical evidence to support its avverment that witness unable to appear because of illness so serious that taking of testimony poerd threat to witness's health)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(Bd's criteria regarding credibility resolutions deemed properly to be less stringently applied where, as here, onset of final illness of E official, who was involved in many instances herein, was now deceased, occurred after GC had presented his witnesses and at time of hearing E knew what his testimony would be but made no efforts to preserve his testimony concerning events involving official which, fortunately, occurred in presence of other witnesses)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(testimony as to witness conversations with deceased individual admissible as exception to hearsay rule where witness deemed forthright and responsive and testimony consistent with admissions of another witness)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019

(affidavit of deceased dischargee which GC furnished sufficiently in advance of trial with certain names deleted held admissible pursuant to hearsay exception of F.R.C.P. Rule 804, although better policy would have been to furnish affidavit w/o deletions since need for affidavit as evidence outweighed any internal policy relating to confidentiality, where unedited affidavit was furnished at trial and counsel was advised that he would be given time to prepare concerning affidavit)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019

(affidavit of deceased dischargee held admissible where trustworthiness of affidavit in regard to being given by interested party to proceeding was subject to careful and cautious consideration and to close scrutiny with weight to be given subject to consideration of all circumstances and facts)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(ex parte affidavit of deceased declarant admissible, notwithstanding Respondent's contention it was not advised of particulars of affidavit as required by Federal Rules of Evidence 804(b)(5) since GC met requirement by having advised Respondent in writing that it intended to use affidavit to support allegations of complaint including unlawful suspension of declarant)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(ex parte affidavits of deceased declarant admissible under Federal Rules of Evidence 804(b)(5) hearsay exception where statement corroborated by testimony since ct has discretion to admit such affidavits where necessity for receipt is shown and affidavit consistent with circumstantial evidence)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

(ex parte affidavits of deceased declarant admissible under Federal Rules of Evidence 804(b)(5) hearsay exception where statement corroborated by testimony since ct has discretion to admit such affidavits where necessity for receipt is shown and affidavit consistent with circumstantial evidence)

Hood Industries, Inc., and Its Wholly Owned Subsidiary, B & K Transportation, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 089

(Bd may consider as evidence statements of persons who are deceased, but such evidence must be scrutinized with great care)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(Bd erred in relying on affidavit of deceased Ee to support finding that E violated 8(a)(1); Rule 804(b)(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence did not apply where affidavit had no guaranty of trustworthiness of any kind)

7045 BEST EVIDENCE

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 237 NLRB No. 069

(GC's exception to ALJ's finding that GC knowingly offered as exhibit a document which was not a true copy meritorious, since there is no evidence that GC knew that copy offered was not true copy until voir dire examination of a witness revealed that fact, whereupon GC obtained true copy, and true copy differed only in collateral respects from copy GC had originally offered)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(contrary to E's contention, ct held that Bd and ALJ did not rely on secondary evidence in concluding that E committed alleged ULPs where, while ALJ specifically stated he was considering secondary evidence only to corroborate primary evidence, Bd concluded that direct evidence offered in support of charges was so substantial that it need not consider propriety of ALJ's use of secondary evidence for any purpose)

7051 IMMATERIAL OR IRRELEVANT EVIDENCE

Realty Maintenance Inc., d/b/a National Cleaning Company 265 NLRB No. 173

(GC's evidence reasonably relevant to U's requesting information about E's relationship to other companies so as to resolve grievance about contractual violations and subcontracting although, U did not make request until 5-13 months after U official received C from E's Ee who was paid by one of the other companies; since U official received all Cs during contract term and was not time-barred from filing grievances about them, his testimony about them was not irrelevant; and U was entitled to delay asserting rights to determine whether Cs were due to error or showed pattern of subcontracting unit work)

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafayette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(Bd affirmed ALJ's refusal to allow respondent's counsel to continue questioning apprentice about his own opinion of his abilities as an apprentice and about jobs he had quit as relevant to backpay, since backpay issues should be resolved in compliance proceedings and testimony sought was not probative evidence as to knowledge and motivation of apprenticeship board members who decided to terminate apprentice, and evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafayette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(ALJ's rejection as irrelevant of three letters from Es regarding apprentice's performance on job offered as exhibits by E, affirmed where date of letters was later than date of apprenticeship board's decision to terminate apprentice, letters were clearly prepared in contemplation of litigation, and rejected evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafayette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(ALJ's refusal to allow respondent to present expert witness to testify about apprenticeship programs generally and their standards for operation as irrelevant, affirmed since witness had no knowledge of operations of respondent's apprenticeship program and did not participate in decision to terminate apprentice herein; moreover, rejected evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Shen-Valley Meat Packers, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 144
(any evidence of parties' understanding of contract's expiration date, which contract expressly stated as being otherwise, is irrelevant to determination of contract's duration for contract-bar purposes; and if such evidence were necessary to determine expiration date, contract would be ineffective as a bar)

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(mtn to reopen hearing to admit additional exhibits, denied where exhibits all post-dated hearing and were relevant only to amount of backpay due discriminatees, which was issue to be decided at compliance stage of proceedings)

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc. (Moving Picture Projectionists, Local No. 150, Stage Employees) 250 NLRB No. 135
(dispute between GC and U as to whether exclusion of certain individuals at certain locations from coverage by contract in question constituted disclaimer of interest by U in representing those individuals found irrelevant to proceeding concerning dispute as to whether U and E had reached agreement on terms of contract from whose coverage said individuals were excluded)

N.L.R.B. v. A. S. Abell Company 624 F.2d 506 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(relevancy in cases should be determined under discovery-type standard where cts of necessity must follow a more liberal standard as to relevancy)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 657 F.2d 685 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(Bd's refusal to accept as evidence on ULP charges an offer of reinstatement that E had assertedly sent Ee a month after his discharge and Ee had refused held not error, since reinstatement is not relevant except as it pertains to remedy)

Pay'N Save Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 697 (C.A. 9, Mar 9, 1981)
(Bd properly sustained relevancy objection to admission of ptn for election which E contended was evidence that bargaining order was inappropriate, where such ptn was signed after E unlawfully discharged U adherents)

7054 OFFER OF PROOF

Greens Disposal Service 253 NLRB No. 047
(remand, since ALJ refused to admit evidence of misconduct, but E's offer of proof, which, if true, and considered in light most favorable to E, would bar reinstatement, for purpose of taking evidence on whether alleged strike misconduct barred reinstatement of strikers and issuing decision on whether E violated Sections 8(a)(3) and (1) by its refusal to reinstate)

Healdsburg General Hospital 247 NLRB No. 030
(E's offer of proof did not meet its heavy burden of showing direct conflict of interest disqualifying nurses association from acting as Ee representative on ground association is subject to control by supervisor-members; there was no evidence that any member of association's board of directors could influence board to advance competitive position of any E as against E, and there was no proof of possible financial conflict of interest between association and E or that presence of supervisory nurses of other Es in positions of authority conflict with E's interests)

Dravo-Groves Company JD-(ATL)-93-81
(offer of proof regarding evidence in prior settled case, rejected, since GC's contention regarding it, if accepted, would have resulted in litigation of settled case w/o setting aside settlement, giving up its benefits or giving notice to respondent)

Pittsburgh and New England Trucking Co. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 174 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd bargaining order in view of distinct possibility that ALJ could have concluded that causal connection between E's ULPs and U disaffection was lacking had ALJ not improperly declined to receive proffered testimony of Ee who had headed decertification campaign to the effect that ULPs had not affected her or other signers, that nothing had interfered with them nor had E interfered or discriminated against them in any way; barring such testimony as to Ee's state of mind was denying E most direct proof available on controverted issue)

7060 OPINION EVIDENCE (NONEXPERT) MAY BE GIVEN WEIGHT

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(witnesses may not testify to matters outside their personal knowledge nor give opinions unless based on their own perception so that ALJ's reliance on Ee-witness's lack of testimony that he had been laid off for U activity is improper)

7067 EVIDENCE AS TO STATE OF MIND

7069-5000 Initiation of decertification petition

Pittsburgh and New England Trucking Co. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 174 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd bargaining order in view of distinct possibility that ALJ could have concluded that causal connection between E's ULPs and U disaffection was lacking had ALJ not improperly declined to receive proffered testimony of Ee who had headed decertification campaign to the effect that ULPs had not affected her or other signers, that nothing had interfered with them nor had E interfered or discriminated against them in any way; barring such testimony as to Ee's state of mind was denying E most direct proof available on controverted issue)

7072 SELF-SERVING STATEMENTS

Apollo Clothes, Inc. JD-296-82
(shifting explanations for Ee's discharge, resting on self-serving inaccurate and inconsistent testimony, are evidence that E seeks to conceal true reasons for discharge because true reasons or causes (protesting homework and pursuing duties as U steward) are improper)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 630 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)
(self serving statements of E representative not accepted merely because they are uncontradicted when record as whole casts reasonable doubt on accuracy of these statements)

7078 STIPULATIONS

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(where parties stipulated that any benefits announced during meeting was E's usual and customary practice and for which no violation can be found; ALJ bound by stipulation and no violation found notwithstanding one benefit announced did not fall w/i E's usual and customary practice)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's stipulation regarding supervisory status of Ee, as to whom there was little evidence in regard to his duties or position, given very little weight, where GC was not party to stipulation and, in this instance, it would not be admission against interest)

7078-5000 Effect of stipulation on stipulating parties

Clear Lam Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 96
(Norris Thermador list not dispositive of challenged voters' eligibility to vote where challenged on grounds of statutory supervisory status as this is exception to rule)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(hearsay evidence of incident of violence (outside U meeting hall) given weight of stipulated facts where both Respondents stipulated to its receipt)

Firestone Corporation 260 NLRB No. 180
(E, in C case, cannot challenge appropriateness of unit, since E had stipulated to unit's appropriateness in R proceeding and U was certified as bargaining representation for E's Ees in unit)

Construction, Production & Maintenance Laborers' Local Union 383, Laborers (Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc.) 260 NLRB No. 193
(where stipulated facts included 26 instances of various threats, damage to property, assaults, throwing nails on E's property, pursuing nonstriking Ees in autos, and blockage of entrance to E's facility, dismissal of blockage and damage allegations as generally isolated and minor, denied; Totality of U's acts as course of conduct lends support to finding that each action is separately violative of Act. Failure of U to rebut or supply an explaining context to admitted conduct sustains violation in each instance and when taken as single course of conduct)

Construction, Production & Maintenance Laborers' Local Union 383, Laborers (Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc.) 260 NLRB No. 193

(where stipulation of facts by its terms stated that U's conduct as to allegations Intimidated and coerced non-striking Ees U has admitted necessary restraint and coercion which sustains finding of violation of Section 8(b)(1)(A))

North Shore University Hospital 259 NLRB No. 121

(in view of procedural situation herein creating special circumstances, ALJ held E's stipulation to consent election did not waive its right to present evidence concerning extent of supervisory participation in nurses' association in instant 8(a)(5) proceeding; under the circumstances, consideration of merits of issues presented does not violate Bd's relitigation prohibition; however, this does not mean future cases involving challenge to qualification of nurses associations on basis of alleged supervisory or managerial domination will not require Ees to raise and litigate such issues in R proceeding)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214

(E's contention that its stipulation in R case, that Ee was supervisory is not binding on ALJ in instant ULP case and that E should not be responsible for Ee's anti-U conduct, rejected; while this was clearly so insofar as instant ULP case did not involve eligibility to vote, stipulation was received in evidence w/o objection and was treated as substantive evidence; as to Ee, it was treated as admission against interest as to Ee's status)

The Salvation Army of Massachusetts Dorchester Day Care Center 247 NLRB No. 062

(Bd held stipulation specifying that E is engaged in commerce w/i meaning of Act did not foreclose inquiry by Bd to determine whether assertion of jurisdiction would be contrary to Bd's jurisdictional policy)

7078-6700 Effect of stipulation on nonstipulating parties

Karl Kallmann d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant No. 62 JD-(SF)-200-82

(in proceeding on ct remand of reinstatement and make whole issues, in which charging party would not enter into stipulation entered into by GC and E and agreed to by trustee in bankruptcy, GC's mtn to accept stipulation granted, where charging party failed to respond to order to show cause, stipulation appeared to resolve issues posed by remand, and there was no indication any evidence could be presented that would lead to more satisfactory resolution of issues; moreover, further prolongation of proceeding might only deprive discriminatees altogether of even partial monetary relief)

7084 STATEMENTS OF WITNESSES TO COUNSEL OR BOARD AGENT IN PREPARATION OF TRIAL

7084-0100 Generally

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(E's proffered of unsigned pre-trial statement allegedly made by Ee to and notarized by E's attorney and witnessed by E's vice-president, for purpose of impeachment, rejected)

7084-5400 Production of statements of witnesses required

Ducane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030

(Bd declined to rule on E's objection to ALJ's ruling that while E did not need to turnover to GC pretrial statement it took from witness ALJ would consider refusal as element in determining credibility, since ALJ did not draw any such inference)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)

(E not entitled to statements made to Bd counsel by Ees who never testified before ALJ)

7084-5430 For purpose of cross-examination of particular witness

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069

(GC's failure to provide respondent with witnesses' statements until after cross-examination of witnesses had begun or been completed, though erroneous, found not prejudicial where respondent was allowed to further cross-examine witnesses whose statements had not been timely furnished, there was no evidence of bad faith, and GC furnished statements promptly upon discovering their existence)

American Bumper and Mfg. Co. JD-136-82

(use of voluntary affidavit of former supervisor taken by Bd agent during investigation and w/o E's knowledge admissible to show (any) prior contradictory statements admissible under Federal Rules of Evidence)

7084-5467 Memoranda prepared by witness after interview not statements under Jencks Act

7084-7000 Rules & Regulations 102.118

Kawasaki Motors Corporation, U.S.A. 257 NLRB No. 069

(under Sec. 102.118(b)(1), requirement that a witness' statements be furnished upon request to opposing counsel prior to cross-examination applies only to statements which are in existence at time of witness' testimony and which relate to subject matter of the testimony, so that GC had no obligation to furnish respondent with statements witnesses gave government agency subsequent to their testimony at Bd hearing)

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Bloomington, Indiana, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 131

(Bd agent writing something while witness spoke and nothing more did not qualify as statement w/i R/R 102.118(d))

7084-8400 Affidavits of employees not involved in hearing - confidential and privileged matter

North Electric Company, Plant No. 10, Gray, Tennessee 262 NLRB No. 174

(Bd accepted as law of the case ct's remand instruction to review Ee's affidavit obtained by RD during investigation of objections, but noted that it continues to be Bd policy that affidavits independently acquired by RD during investigation of objections are confidential and not part of record)

7085 BOARD FILE

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81

(formal pleadings and transcript from prior case involving same local were admitted into evidence in instant case, since they were relevant with respect to consideration of res judicata issue)

7087 STATISTICAL DATA

Teamsters Local Union No. 326 (The Firestone Plastics Company) 253 NLRB No. 074

(contention that increased initiation fee restrained applicants from accepting jobs with E rejected; evidence of increase in ratio of number of interviews of applicants to number of jobs filled by E valueless where E failed to give basis for his figures or describe records he consulted to refresh his recollection)

7088 POLYGRAPH TEST

Armored Transport of Nevada, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 209

(report from polygraph examiner with regard to polygraph test administered to Ee was introduced into evidence to show report received by E regarding Ee and not to establish accuracy of polygraph machine or accuracy of examiner in interpreting mechanical markings made during test)

7090 TELEPHONE CONVERSATION

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(Bd's admission of recordings, and transcripts of recordings, of telephone conversation between Ee and U business representative and between Ee and the representative's wife, held proper, notwithstanding that use of recording device during conversations violated state law and that the state cts would not admit these recordings as evidence at trial; there was no argument that the recording violated any federal statute or the Constitution; and federal, not state law governs admission of evidence in federal proceedings)

7096 TAPE RECORDINGS

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122

(where ALJ admitted transcript of tape recording of E-held meeting for purpose of impeachment and then quoted from it in decision, ALJ did not improperly rely on transcript as direct evidence but to demonstrate accuracy of an Ee's testimony)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(where all tapes of bugged conversations that were w/i knowledge of GC (though he in no way suggested, assisted or participated in any electronic surveillance) were produced, and opposing party had sufficient opportunity to cross examine witness who made these tapes; mtn to strike testimony of said witness for failure to produce all tapes made as required under Jenks Act as adopted by Bd, denied)

Nanticoke Homes, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 107

(although ruling that surreptitiously recorded conversation and transcript thereof would only be admitted into evidence for purpose of credibility was error, it was not reversible error where evidence which was contained on tape was admitted by direct testimony of Ee who recorded tape)

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union No. 420, Teamsters (Leonard Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161

(tape recordings made by charging party during staff meeting admitted as substantive evidence reflective of what was said at meeting, not merely for purposes of impeaching charging party)

7096—Cont.

Plumbers and Steamfitters Local Union No. 598, AFL-CIO (Rust/W.S.H.) 255 NLRB No. 071

(tape recordings surreptitiously made by CP of conversations between himself and Respondent U and Bd agent admissible in evidence; 1 tape was of face to face conversation with U official, concerned CP's desire to pay U dues, register on out-of-work list, was not for illegal purpose; second tape of telephone conversation with Bd agent not violative of Federal wiretapping statute as CP took part in conversation, was attempting to exercise his rights under Act, was not engaged in any illegal Act; moreover, neither conversation involved making contract proposals or negotiating collective bargaining agreements)

Maywood Do-Nut Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 080

(exclusion of surreptitiously recorded tapes offered in evidence in instant case, held proper, since the tapes were concerned with collective bargaining and thus fall squarely w/i rule established by Bd in Carpenter Sprinkler Corporation, 238 NLRB No. 139)

Ryder Truck Lines, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-82

(tape recording made by charging party of two separate telephone conversations between himself and two supervisors admitted where recording was done merely to protect Ee's Sec. 7 rights)

Levi Strauss & Company JD-158-80

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(ALJ's admission of transcript of tape recording Ee surreptitiously prepared of his conversation with his supervisor for limited purpose of verifying credibility held not error, since Bd has wide discretion in evidentiary decisions, and E was offered opportunity during continuance to inspect tape and compare it with transcript)

Carpenter Sprinkler Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 60 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(Bd was w/i its discretion in fashioning rule in this case that surreptitiously prepared tape recordings are inadmissible as evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(Bd's admission of recordings, and transcripts of recordings, of telephone conversation between Ee and U business representative and between Ee and the representative's wife, held proper, notwithstanding that use of recording device during conversations violated state law and that the state cts would not admit these recordings as evidence at trial; there was no argument that the recording violated any federal statute or the Constitution; and federal, not state law governs admission of evidence in federal proceedings)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(ct found no merit in E's contention that Bd denied it due process during hearing by admitting recording and transcript of its counsel's speech, notwithstanding E's argument that Bd admitted tapes and transcript which were unlawfully obtained and irrelevant to case, where there was no close connection between preparation of case by government and so-called theft; Fourth Amendment does not apply to Bd's proceedings; and furthermore, Bd did not rely on this evidence alone in making its findings)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Do-Nut Co., Inc., 659 F.2d 108 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(Bd properly excluded from evidence tape recording which E made secretly at bargaining session with U, for permitting introduction, into evidence of such tape recordings would severely inhibit willingness of parties to express themselves freely, thus, interfering with smooth functioning of collective bargaining process)

7098 SURPRISE TESTIMONY

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

(E's claim of surprise at specific factual contentions brought forth at hearing held w/o merit where E failed to object to introduction of vast majority of evidence; E's extensive cross-examination of witnesses who testified concerning surprise factual allegations belied E's claim that it was prejudiced by introduction of such testiminy; and even if charge was lacking in specificity, record conclusively demonstrated that surprise factual issues were fully and fairly litigated at hearing)

8400 ADMISSIBILITY

8401 GENERALLY

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 269 NLRB No. 131

(ALJ improperly excluded evidence which was not only relevant but crucial to an informed legal assessment of E's reasons for discharging U adherent and therefore to protection of his statutory rights, notwithstanding fact that GC offered evidence during rebuttal stage and not during his case-in-chief)

Local Union No. 3, Electrical Workers (L. M. Ericsson Telecommunications, Inc., New York Division) 257 NLRB No. 167

(witness' testimony met standard for receipt of his statement as a past recollection recorded, where witness failed to recall particular fact but after being shown his prior testimony in related District Ct proceeding, he agreed that since he had so testified in ct and recalled it then, it must be true; although not explicitly read into record, witness' statement was received in summary form; see Rule 803(5) Federal Rules of Evidence)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(E's exhibits containing written and video-tape instructions prepared by E's counsel and given to supervisors concerning their obligations under labor law held admissible and copies thereof should be provided to GC and U; although exhibits deal essentially with compliance matters, they are useful in providing a full record)

8401-1600 Effect of form and order of evidence offered

Progressive Medical Group, Inc., t/a Walnut Hill Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 039

(although notes taken at bargaining meeting by E's official were admitted after they were authenticated by him, notes of such meeting were ruled inadmissible where it was subsequently shown that official had flatly misrepresented process whereby handwritten notes were transcribed into typewritten minutes; and since official also displayed open partisanship, his uncorroborated testimony on any subject would not be found reliable)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(E's proffered of unsigned pre-trial statement allegedly made by Ee to and notarized by E's attorney and witnessed by E's vice-president, for purpose of impeachment, rejected)

8401-2200 Incompetent evidence

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

(payroll record, other than one agreed upon to be admitted into evidence, held inadmissable, since it was for different period of time than document agreed upon and no good cause was shown as to why it should have been admitted)

8401-2500 Authentication of documents

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 200

(on ct remand, freight bills were re-introduced to show that E met legal jurisdictional standard, and qualified witness who was completely familiar with preparation of bills of lading and could vouch for their accuracy testified and authenticated bills for admission under business records exception to hearsay rule)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064

(E waived its right to contest authenticity of cards which, may have been dated at different times than they were signed, where it did not object to admission of cards into evidence during hearing but raised objections to authenticity in brief to ALJ)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(E's proffered of unsigned pre-trial statement allegedly made by Ee to and notarized by E's attorney and witnessed by E's vice-president, for purpose of impeachment, rejected)

American Cast Iron Pipe Company, a corporation v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 132 (C.A. 8, 1979)

(where authorship of document in dispute, there was inadequate foundation for their admiscibility)

8401-4400 Limitation of purpose of evidence

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190

(GC's failure to limit purpose for which he offered letter which stated that E had decided to give Ees wage increase on specified date required that letter be given its natural probative effect)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd will not consider extrinsic evidence to determine if ambiguous contract provisions were intended to have, or in practice had, illegal effects)

8401-8800 References to state court proceeding

Local 157, Plumbers (Local 204, Laborers) 248 NLRB No. 032

(E's mtn to strike from U's brief all references to state ct proceeding, denied, since the fact that such references concern state ct proceeding involving different legal issues goes to their weight and not their admissibility)

8401-8900 Evidence inadmissible under State law

N.L.R.B. v. Local 90, Plasterers 606 F.2d 189 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(Bd's admission of recordings, and transcripts of recordings, of telephone conversation between Ee and U business representative and between Ee and the representative's wife, held proper, notwithstanding that use of recording device during conversations violated state law and that the state cts would not admit these recordings as evidence at trial; there was no argument that the recording violated any federal statute or the Constitution; and federal, not state law governs admission of evidence in federal proceedings)

8401-6600 Parol evidence

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(parol evidence offered by E and U to change pre-hire contract rejected where language contained in contract was clear and unambiguous)

Joe Carroll Orchestras & Entertainment Agency, Inc. d/b/a Meyer Davis Orchestra; et al. 284 NLRB No. 153
(parole evidence rule did not preclude testimony as to whether new contract subject to ratification by members where there is material issue whether or not contract adopting expired agreement intended thereby to incorporate ratification provision contained in expired contract)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050
(in backpay proceeding E held precluded from presenting evidence regarding modification of contract, since such evidence would be immaterial and Bd had adjudicated issue in question in ULP proceeding herein)

8401-7790 Testimony regarding decedent's statements or conduct

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(testimony of witness concerning statements made to him by deceased dischargee inadmissible as hearsay under F.R.C.P. Rule 804)

8401-8400 Affidavit of decedent

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(ALJ erred in admitting affidavit of individual who executed same for use in other litigation. GC averred at hearing that affiant was unable to testify w/i meaning of Rule 804(a)(2) and (4) of Federal Rules of Evidence because of physical illness and contended affidavit admissable under Rule 804(b)(5); however, GC failed to present any medical evidence to support its avverrment that witness unable to appear because of illness so serious that taking of testimony posed threat to witness's health)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(affidavit of deceased dischargee which GC furnished sufficiently in advance of trial with certain names deleted held admissible pursuant to hearsay exception of F.R.C.P. Rule 804, although better policy would have been to furnish affidavit w/o deletions since need for affidavit as evidence outweighed any internal policy relating to confidentiality, where unedited affidavit was furnished at trial and counsel was advised that he would be given time to prepare concerning affidavit)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(affidavit of deceased dischargee held admissible where trustworthiness of affidavit in regard to being given by interested party to proceeding was subject to careful and cautious consideration and to close scrutiny with weight to be given subject to consideration of all circumstances and facts)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113
(ex parte affidavit of deceased declarant admissible, notwithstanding Respondent's contention it was not advised of particulars of affidavit as required by Federal Rules of Evidence 804(b)(5) since GC met requirement by having advised Respondent in writing that it intended to use affidavit to support allegations of complaint including unlawful suspension of declarant)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063
(affidavit of witness who died prior to hearing, admissable to prove conversation between deceased and E's terminal manager, since affidavit met standards of Rule 804(b)(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(Bd erred in relying on affidavit of deceased Ee to support finding that E violated 8(a)(1); Rule 804(b)(5) of Federal Rules of Evidence did not apply where affidavit had no guaranty of trustworthiness of any kind)

8401-8500 Affidavit of unavailable witness

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(ALJ erred in admitting affidavit of individual who executed same for use in other litigation. GC averred at hearing that affiant was unable to testify w/i meaning of Rule 804(a)(2) and (4) of Federal Rules of Evidence because of physical illness and contended affidavit admissable under Rule 804(b)(5); however, GC failed to present any medical evidence to support its avverrment that witness unable to appear because of illness so serious that taking of testimony posed threat to witness's health)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissable hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

8433 EXCLUSION OF EVIDENCE

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(E's exception to exclusion by ALJ of certain evidence it sought to admit into record, overruled, where proffered evidence was not relevant to issues in case and E was not prejudiced by its exclusion)

8433-0100 Generally

Electrical Workers, Local 1701 (Dynalectric Company) 283 NLRB No. 129
(GC's contention that journeyman's test given referral applicants for electricians' jobs was unfair and discriminatory, rejected, where electrician with considerable experience testified test was fair notwithstanding his failure to pass test; GC's attempt to introduce other examinations into evidence to show that, perhaps, instant examination was more difficult held entirely irrelevant in view of electrician's testimony)

8433-0150 Prejudicial exclusions only significant

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafeyette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(ALJ's refusal to allow respondent to present expert witness to testify about apprenticeship programs generally and their standards for operation as irrelevant, affirmed since witness had no knowledge of operations of respondent's apprenticeship program and did not participate in decision to terminate apprentice herein; moreover, rejected evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 239 NLRB No. 131
(ALJ improperly excluded evidence which was not only relevant but crucial to an informed legal assessment of E's reasons for discharging U adherent and therefore to protection of his statutory rights, notwithstanding fact that GC offered evidence during rebuttal stage and not during his case-in-chief)

8433-0150-2500 No prejudice where excluded evidence is cumulative

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafeyette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(Bd affirmed ALJ's refusal to allow respondent's counsel to continue questioning apprentice about his own opinion of his abilities as an apprentice and about jobs he had quit as relevant to backpay, since backpay issues should be resolved in compliance proceedings and testimony sought was not probative evidence as to knowledge and motivation of apprenticeship board members who decided to terminate apprentice, and evidence would have been merely cumulative)

Local No. 121, Plasterers (Associated Building Contractors of Lafeyette, Inc.) 264 NLRB No. 029
(ALJ's rejection as irrelevant of three letters from Es regarding apprentice's performance on job offered as exhibits by E, affirmed where date of letters was later than date of apprenticeship board's decision to terminate apprentice, letters were clearly prepared in contemplation of litigation, and rejected evidence would have been merely cumulative)

8433-0150-5000 No prejudice where excluded evidence is immaterial

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 284 NLRB No. 176
(ALJ sustained GC's objection to charging party calling witnesses after Respondent amended its answer essentially to admit factual allegations of complaint and GC and Respondent rested w/o adducing any evidence because record complete and would support findings on all allegations)

American Cast Iron Pipe Company, a corporation v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 132 (C.A. 8, 1979)
(ALJ did not err in refusing to admit exhibits of documents which E contended contained false or maliciously false statements against it and were distributed in violation of its rule prohibiting distribution of such material, since falsity or malicious falsity of documents irrelevant where rule which E attempted to enforce overbroad since it prohibited distribution of merely false documents)

8433-0150-7500 No prejudice where ALJ assumed existence of fact to be proved

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 287 NLRB No. 022

Upjohn Co. et al. v. United States et al. 449 US 925 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(ct upheld E's contention that questionnaires, memoranda, notes of interviews conducted by its attorneys among Ees protected from disclosure by attorney-client privilege and constitute work product of attorney prepared in anticipation of litigation; further, control group test (officers and agents responsible for directing company's actions in response to legal advice does not apply as attorneys need information from all Ees to enable them to give sound advice; Rule 26(b)(3) of FRCP provides that work product can't be disclosed w/o showing of substantial need and inability to obtain equivalent w/o undue hardship)

Feld & Sons, Inc. t/a Today's Man 263 NLRB No. 041
(ALJ properly granted mtn to strike entire testimony of E's official because of his defiance of ALJ's order to respond to questions on cross-examination, which ALJ had properly directed him to do; although official's conversations with E's corporate counsel were protected by attorney-client privilege, official may not assert privilege where E petitioned Bd to set aside settlement agreement, contending that official executed it upon self-serving advice of attorneys representing E in proceeding; Bd cannot reasonably evaluate E's contention w/o knowing whether official also received advice on subject from other attorneys)

Tuf-Flex Glass, A Part Of Libby-Owens-Ford Company 263 NLRB No. 003
(Hearing Officer did not commit error by denying mtn to have subpena duces tecum revoked where E required to produce affidavits taken from Ees by its counsel as E only required to produce them after Ees had testified at hearing, use restricted to impeaching witnesses and did not cover matters w/i scope of their corporate duties which could bind E but covered statements made by nonsupervisory Ees about upcoming election)

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(where witness for E admitted on cross-examination that before testifying he had reviewed list of questions with E's attorney and retained a copy of the list while testifying, ALJ declined to order production of list under FRE 612 as well as attorney-client privilege encompassed in FRE 501, rejecting GC's contentions that (1) attorney-client privilege had been waived when questions were asked, (2) document was producible under Jencks Act, and (3) privilege was outweighed by interest in developing probative record)

(evidence relating to E's assistance to, and/or domination of incumbent U not precluded, where such evidence is not designed to establish existence of 8(a)(2) violation but, rather, is proffered as defense against assertion that incumbent U was lawfully recognized; it is inequitable to conclude U is precluded from litigating a legal defense, and U's evidence is directly addressed to words of Act placing burden on GC to prove 8(b)(7)(A) violation by showing lawful recognition was granted to incumbent U)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 047
(ALJ's ruling to exclude evidence of E's alleged unconditional offer of reinstatement, appropriate since issue of alleged offer of reinstatement is matter best raised during compliance stage of the proceeding)

8433-6718 8(a)(5)

8433-6718-2000 Evidence relating to continuing union majority

Lexington Cartage Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 085
(ptn signed by all members of unit stating they wished to renounce U irrelevant and not admissible into evidence in hearing on alleged unlawful refusal to bargain, since signed during certification year during which presumption is not rebuttable, absent unusual circumstances; ptn not unusual circumstances that would justify E's refusal to bargain)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(refusal to allow E to introduce into evidence U's membership list obtained after withdrawal of recognition improper, notwithstanding membership not correlative with U support, since low membership is clearly probative to issue of U's continued majority and admissibility is not determined solely by what evidence E could have relied on upon in making decision to withdraw recognition)

8433-6724 Hearsay

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(testimony of witness concerning statements made to him by deceased dischargee inadmissible as hearsay under F.R.C.P. Rule 804)

First Termite Control Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 186
(freight bills made out by railroad and in custody of E held to have indicia of trustworthiness required by Federal Rules of Evidence for admission of hearsay evidence and therefor not excluded for purposes of showing E met legal jurisdictional standard)

N.L.R.B. v. First Termite Control Co., Inc. 646 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(freight bill, introduced by Bd into evidence to prove substantial amount of lumber purchased from out of state by entity which supplied lumber to E, was inadmissible hearsay, since authenticating witness was Ee of supplier and not of carrier that prepared freight bill; witness had no knowledge of circumstances under which freight bill was prepared and was not custodian or other qualified witness necessary in order to admit this hearsay under business records exception, Federal Rules of Evidence 803(6))

8433-6727 Subjective evidence concerning prior state of mind

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lacoste Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(Ee's personal and subjective reaction to coercive conduct and charges pending are not legitimate or bona fide subject of an attorney's preparation for litigation)

Flagler Memorial Park 247 NLRB No. 204
(hypothetical testimony relating to effect of previously unknown U constitutional provisions on minds of voters relating to their actions 3 years before, rejected as wholly unreliable)

8433-6731 Impeaching evidence

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(where ALJ admitted transcript of tape recording of E-held meeting for purpose of impeachment and then quoted from it in decision, ALJ did not improperly rely on transcript as direct evidence but to demonstrate accuracy of an Ee's testimony)

8433-6736 Abstracts of payroll records dividends on stock investment

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 091
(no merit to E's exception to ALJ's ruling excluding abstract of its payroll records, notwithstanding E's contention that payroll records were voluminous and therefore abstract should have been permitted under Federal Rules of Evidence 1005; 28 U.S.C.A., where, at hearing, E offered neither to introduce original payroll records into evidence, nor to demonstrate that records could not conveniently be examined in hearing room)

8433-6762 Records and testimony of Board representative

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd properly upheld quashing subpoenas directed to field examiner with respect to his alleged statement that ULP charges would probably be dismissed, where others were present during conversations with field examiner and Es showed no reason why examining these people was not possible or would not have produced information similar to that which they sought from field examiner; moreover, there was doubt whether information sought was sufficiently material to Es' case to outweigh investigatory privilege)

8433-6764 Subject matter beyond scope of hearing

C.J.R. Industries 250 NLRB No. 184
(contention that evidence of unlawful motive in hiring should not have been considered with respect to 8(a)(5) claim because no allegation or finding that E violated 8(a)(3) was made held w/o merit, since claim was based upon alleged successorship obligation, and element of continuity or work force between predecessor and successor is critical; GC must show either that E hired or retained requisite complement of former Ees or that it decided not to hire former Ees because of their U affiliation)

8433-6772 Contents of settlement negotiations

Nathan Yorke, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Successor in Bankruptcy, or alter ego To The Seeburg Corporation and Seeburg Service Parts Co., a single employer 259 NLRB 105

8433-6775 Testimony of or concerning government conciliators

N.L.R.B. v. Joseph Macaluso, Inc., d/b/a Lemon Tree 618 F.2d 51 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(subpoena of Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service mediator properly revoked where E sought mediator's testimony regarding bargaining sessions since public interest in maintaining perceived and actual impartiality of Federal Mediators does outweigh benefits derivable from testimony)

8433-6788 Evidence in settled case involving same parties

Nabisco, Inc. JD-(SF)-34-82
(in considering whether any postsettlement conduct is sufficient to warrant setting settlement aside, can consider presettlement conduct only as background evidence or indicator of credibility in appraising E's motives and objectives)

Dravo-Graves Company JD-(ATL)-93-81
(objecttion to admission in instant case of evidence of charging party's concerted activities in prior settled case involving same parties, sustained as improper and prejudicial to respondent where such concerted activities were not contended to play a part in ULP alleged herein, and settlement of prior case had not been set aside)

8433-6796 Refusal to produce evidence under subpoena bars party's own use of it

Ron-Bob, Inc. t/a Crazy Horse Saloon JD-621-81
(E's failure to produce subpoenad payroll records on first day of hearing in backpay proceeding did not preclude their admission on E's behalf where non-production was not due to deliberate attempt to conceal relevant evidence but to lack of opportunity by E's recently retained counsel to determine whether records could be produced, or even to examine them; records were made available to GC upon resumption of recessed hearing and also to compliance officer for preparation of backpay specification; and denial of records to subpoenaed party is w/i ALJ's discretion)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)
(invocation of principle of Bannon Mills against E held fully warranted where E refused to produce tape of speech by E's official after GC subpoenaed it as evidence of ULPs: ct rejected contention that tape was attorney work product or that Ees who heard speech must testify first)

8467 EVIDENCE RELATING TO EVENTS BARRED BY 6-MONTH LIMITATION

Clearwater Finishing Company, A Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 155

Electrical Workers, Local 1701 (Dynalectric Company) 252 NLRB No. 119
(while U representative's conduct outside 10(b) period may be used to ascertain his motive for action taken w/i such period, it is not to be inferred that he was motivated by unlawful considerations in his refusal in instant case to refer non-U applicants, in absence of evidence demonstrating that his actions herein were mere continuation of his prior conduct)

Local 394, Laborers' (Building Contractors Association of New Jersey) 247 NLRB No. 085
(U's failure to refer alleged discriminatees outside 10(b) period admissible as evidence of animosity and as background to support finding of unlawful refusal to refer w/i 10(b) period)

8467-6700 Admissible to test credibility of witnesses

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 232 NLRB No. 151
(evidence adduced at hearing as to execution of contract between E and minority U and received before complaint was amended to show preferential treatment to U, admissable to show E animus to petitioner and as bearing on credibility of witness, E's president)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096

Charmer Industries, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 031
(Bd's denial of Es' mtn for summary judgment based on favorable arbitration award held binding on ALJ as law of case, notwithstanding Es' contention that under FRCP denial of mtn for summary judgment is interlocutory in nature and not res judicata)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180
(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction in prior R case underlying instant ULP proceeding held res judicata of every contention raised in R case to avoid Bd's jurisdiction as well as any contention that could have been raised)

Schorr Stern Food Corp. 248 NLRB No. 050
(Bd's findings and conclusions in ULP case are binding and may not be relitigated in subsequent backpay proceeding, and applicability of contract, adjudicated in present ULP proceeding, cannot be litigated at compliance stage herein)

0150 PRIOR COURT DECISION

Teamsters, Local 70 (Nielson Freight Lines) 265 NLRB No. 034
(where contempt proceeding involved issue of actual motivation for U's refusal to dispatch discriminatee, backpay proceeding involves issue of his actual eligibility for a by-name dispatch and thus is not res judicata and evidence pertaining to that question is properly admissible)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 008
(prior litigation in which Bd and ct of appeals had found E's rule prohibiting solicitation on plant premises not unlawful held not to bar consideration of validity of rule in instant case in view of intervening SCt's decision in Magnavox which overruled fundamental assumption of Bd and ct, on which decisions were based, that U can contractually waive Ees' right to engage in solicitation)

Fotomat Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 320 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(res judicata applied where ct previously had affirmed district ct's denial of E's FOIA claim for reports of Bd agents concerning conduct of election)

Service Employees International Union Local 250,
AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1042 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct agreed with Bd that it lacked jurisdiction to rule on Section 8(a)(3) charge where prior ct had determined that E had not committed ULPs under Sections 8(a)(1), (4) and (5) but deemed it unnecessary to give consideration to 8(a)(3) charge and did not remand it to Bd; prior ct's opinion was final under Sections 10(e) and (f), and barred further proceedings arising from same transaction under doctrine of res judicata)

2500 FORMS OF APPLICATION

2533 COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL - SUBSEQUENT PROCEEDING BASED ON DIFFERENT CAUSE OF ACTION

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(E not entitled to rely on informal settlement agreement entered into after C issued on its charge against U of strike misconduct which inflicted damage to E's property to justify its refusal to reinstate striker who inflicted damage, since collateral estoppel did not apply where E consented to agreement and facts not adjudicated; further, in absence of final order burden did not shift to GC to establish striker's right to reinstatement by virtue of Bd's seemingly inconsistent positions on issuance of two complaints)

Pennatech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Bd holding that three corporations were single E not precluded by principles of res judicata or collateral estoppel based on outcome in prior decisions of federal cts in suit under Section 301 of Act by Us to compel arbitration under bargaining agreement in view of lack of identity of either cause of action or issues involved, since in ct suit issue was whether, under Federal common law, parent corporations bound by bargaining agreements of subsidiaries, and herein issue is whether three corporations single integrated enterprise so as to constitute single E under Bd criteria)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(admission of warning letters issued to Ee but held in prior proceeding to be unlawful change in method of communication w/i disciplinary system, error, where letters ordered expunged in prior proceeding; however, ALJ not precluded from considering incidents documented in letters since E found to have merely unlawfully changed means it used to communicate w/i disciplinary system and not underlying disciplinary standards or to have altered system to rid it self of U adherents)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(GC allowed to litigate issue of whether strike was ULP strike or economic strike, notwithstanding E's contention issue should have been litigated in proceeding in which legality of E's actions which allegedly caused strike were held unlawful but in which U and GC's objection to litigation of issue had been sustained)

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers,
Local 453 (Southern Sun Electric Corporation) 252 NLRB No. 103
(Bd not prevented from litigating case between same parties with different issues and time periods involved)

Wonder Markets, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 042
(although discriminatee was involved in an incident that justified discharge of another Ee in previous cause of action, Bd rejected theories of res judicata and collateral estoppel as bars to relitigating reinstatement issue in the instant backpay proceeding where discriminatee was not party to previous ULP hearing and instant case involved different issue which Ee is entitled to litigate as matter of due process)

N.L.R.B. v. Markle Manufacturing Company of San Antonio 633 F.2d 1122 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(doctrine of collateral estoppel did not preclude Bd from determining whether E committed ULPs by failing to reinstate economic strikers who allegedly committed charged violence where fact issue of such misconduct was not determined in previous case, in which Bd acting on E's complaint charging strike violence and misconduct by U agents, entered consent order agreed to by E and U that directed cessation of strike violence; moreover, Bd was not barred from litigation of violence issue on theory that Bd was taking inconsistent positions with respect to same matter in successive suits)

2550 COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL SUBSEQUENT PROCEEDING BASED ON SAME CAUSE OF ACTION

Sabine Towing and Transportation Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 019
(parties held estopped from seeking reconsideration of determination in prior proceedings involving same parties that seamen were reasonably accessible to non-Ee U organizers at locations away from E's premises, where circumstances in instant case were not materially different from those essential to judgment previously reached)

Joint Council of Teamsters No. 42; et al. (Associated Independent Owner-Operators, Inc.) 248 NLRB No. 082
(dump truck operators were held independent contractors in prior Bd decisions involving same parties herein or their privies and under principles of res judicata and collateral estoppel parties are foreclosed from litigating status of operators)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel do not bar litigation of ULP practices alleged in instant case where GC did not expressly renounce possibility of examining in future other allegedly impermissible superseniority clauses in prior case involving same local)

2567 DIRECT ESTOPPEL - SUBSEQUENT PROCEEDING BASED ON SAME CAUSE OF ACTION

Accessory Controls and Equipment Corporation JD-890-81
(Board Order entered pursuant to settlement agreement which did not contain non-admissions clause has same res judicata effect as decision entered after answer and hearing)

5025 NOT CONCLUSIVE AS TO QUESTIONS OF FACT NOT ACTUALLY LITIGATED

Walter B. Cooke, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 074
(Region's dismissal and approval of withdrawal of charges not res judicata as to new charges involving same conduct since there was no adjudication on the merits)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(GC allowed to litigate issue of whether strike was ULP strike or economic strike, notwithstanding E's contention issue should have been litigated in proceeding in which legality of E's actions which allegedly caused strike were held unlawful but in which U and GC's objection to litigation of issue had been sustained)

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028
(underlying R case to instant C case, which was remanded to ALJ, not res judicata concerning allegations in C where ULP charges were not filed until after Bd's decision in R case)

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel do not bar litigation of ULP practices alleged in instant case where GC did not expressly renounce possibility of examining in future other allegedly impermissible superseniority clauses in prior case involving same local)

5032 NOT OPERATIVE WHERE PARTIES ARE DIFFERENT

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(decision in 301 suit not res judicata where although ULP charges were pending alleging unauthorized checkoff of U dues neither NLRB or Charging Parties were parties to suit, Ees from whose pay dues were allegedly unlawfully withheld failed to appear; nor did ct express desire to dispose of ULP issue)

Wonder Markets, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 042
(although discriminatee was involved in an incident that justified discharge of another Ee in previous cause of action, Bd rejected theories of res judicata and collateral estoppel as bars to relitigating reinstatement issue in the instant backpay proceeding where discriminatee was not party to previous ULP hearing and instant case involved different issue which Ee is entitled to litigate as matter of due process)

5043 NOT OPERATIVE WHERE NON-8(a)(5) CASE INVOLVES PRIOR REPRESENTATION CASE FINDINGS

Escambia River Electric Cooperative, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 128
(issue of Ee's managerial status properly before ALJ, notwithstanding issue was litigated in R proceeding, since Bd R/R provides that failure to request review of RD's decision, as in case herein, precludes relitigation of same issue in any related subsequent ULP proceeding; Bd's current position is that related proceeding is one where issue comes up, for example, in Sec. 8(a)(5) case based on certification of representative, but does not include case where independent violations of Sec. 8(a)(1) are alleged, as is case herein)

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(Bd's factual findings in related R case not binding in subsequent ULP proceedings because issues are different in R and ULP proceedings)

5087 OPERATIVE ONLY AGAINST SAME PARTY INVOLVED IN PRIOR CASE

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(no violation where ULP was remedied by informal settlement agreement entered into in prior case covering same time period as instant case involving same E but different charging party and unit; RD had never set aside this settlement agreement; E had fully remedied ULP regarding invalid no-solicitation; no-distribution rules and it would not effectuate policies of act to find violation in this regard in instant case)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(decision in 301 suit not res judicata where although ULP charges were pending alleging unauthorized checkoff of U dues neither NLRB or Charging Parties were parties to suit, Ees from whose pay dues were allegedly unlawfully withheld failed to appear; nor did ct express desire to dispose of ULP issue)

Standard Refinery Union, Inc. JD-632-80
(determination of correctness or incorrectness of name of E made in prior Bd cases concerning same E was controlling in instant case by virtue of Bd's denial of respondent U's request for review as regards such determination)

7500 FINDINGS OF OTHER TRIBUNALS BASED ON SAME EVIDENCE NOT BINDING ON BOARD

Pennstech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 080

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 138

(orally informing U representative of reduction in hours to be worked 4 days before implementing change, and indirect notice via member of in-plant committee notifying U of further reduction in hours 2 days before implementing this change held sufficient notice to allow U to request bargaining, and by U's failure to make request it waived its right to complain about E's failure to bargain)

Old Pueblo Lodge No. 933, Machinists (Hughes Aircraft Company) JD-(SF)-123-80

(U by signing strike amnesty agreement effectively waived right to discipline Ees for crossing picket line where agreement prohibited reprisals against Ees who worked for E during strike)

2500 MAY RESULT FROM IMPLICATION OR USAGE

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

(no waiver of right to participate in sympathy strike by prior failure to contend broad no-strike provision did not encompass sympathy strikes, notwithstanding prior to refusal herein no member of U with which E had agreement had refused to cross picket line established by Ees of another E on E's premises during 35 year bargaining relationship, nor had U ever contended it had right to engage in sympathy strikes or urged its members to do so as past failure by U to assert statutory right does not stop subsequent assertion of that right)

Aeronca, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 026

(E's unilateral discontinuance of long standing practice of giving turkey bonus to Ees at Christmas w/o bargaining with U held violative where U had not waived its right to bargain over matter notwithstanding that contract contained broad zipper clause and no maintenance-of-benefits clause; contention that provisions in contract constituted waiver by U refuted by extensive past bonus practice)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(waiver of right to strike or engage in sympathy strike may be implied by binding arbitration clause; even in case of express no-strike clause, waiver of right to strike is generally coterminous with scope of arbitration clause)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(Bd analyzes language of collective bargaining agreement and factual circumstances of labor controversy to determine whether U has waived right to engage in sympathy strikes; contract need not explicitly prohibit sympathy strikes to show intent to waive right to engage in such activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(U does not necessarily waive right by failing to negotiate contractual confirmation and silence is bargaining agreement cannot be considered to be waiver even in light of bargaining history; failure to obtain contractual confirmation of right is evidence of waiver only if it shows that U thought right had been waived by other provisions of contract and sought to regain right)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015

Methodist Hospital of Gary, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 054

(U does not effectively waive statutory right merely by presenting proposal for its contractual guarantee and thereafter signing contract which fails to include such guarantee)

Premium Fine Coal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 060

(opening of 2 determinative challenged ballots cast by individuals who were alleged discriminatees in pending ULP proceeding, appropriate in seeking to resolve qcr expeditiously, where theirs were the only challenged ballots, and they clearly and voluntarily waived their right to secrecy of their ballots and requested that their ballots be opened by voluntarily submitting signed affidavits)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 003

(U did not waive its right to request health and safety information, since right was derived from Section 8(d) of Act and contract between E and U contained no such waiver either in clear and unmistakable language, or even impliedly)

Colgate-Palmolive Company 261 NLRB No. 007

(contention that by agreeing to a health and safety clause in the contract U waived right to receive health and safety information on request, rejected; neither contract language nor record as a whole showed requisite clear and unmistakable waiver of right to such information)

Borden Chemical, A Division of Borden, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 006

(no waiver of U's right to request list of materials and chemicals purchased, stored, or processed at E's chemical manufacturing facility where U never proposed contractual provision which would have committed E to provide requested list, when in presenting health and safety proposal E did not state it should be dispositive of prior request for list, U negotiators never consciously relinquished list request and mere silence when confronted with presentation of counter proposal cannot be construed as relinquishment)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062

(E's contention that right of Ees who are or disabled at onset of strike to refrain from declaring their position on strike while medically excused, thus not becoming strikers and losing right to contractual accident and sick benefits, was waived by U's request for reopening of contract and strike pursuant to reopener clause, rejected, since requirement that any waiver of protected right must be clear and explicit not met)

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company 259 NLRB No. 030

(contract's statement that E was to supply U with personnel records and that arbitration was to be conducted according to Rules of American Arbitration Association, not waiver of U's right to certain requested information which U might find necessary to make judgment whether to proceed to arbitration concerning a grievance)

General Motors Corporation, Delco Moraine Division 257 NLRB No. 146

(E's argument that U was obligated to overturn prior arbitration decisions through arbitral forum in order to reassert its statutory right to requested information and contention that ALJ's refusal to admit evidence of parties' arbitration history was biased, rejected where E presented no evidence that U's statutory right was considered by arbitrators or that U acquiesced in E's interpretation of said decisions or otherwise clearly and unmistakably waived its statutory right to requested data)

Tocco Division of Park-Ohio Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 044

(waiver of U's right to be consulted about relocation of unit work must be clear and unmistakable and was not found in contract clause providing severance pay if plant is closed or transferred or by E's bargaining request that U submit proposal restricting E's freedom to transfer work, as burden is on E to obtain waiver)

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108

(fact that contract article concerning wage rate adjustments specifies legal effect of agreement or lack of agreement by parties during mid-term (contract) negotiations, held not waiver of Ee rights and may not be equated with express relinquishment by U of its rights to demand bargaining especially in view of U's vigorous assertion of its position during negotiations, and its demand that E promise to make wage adjustments rather than merely discuss them)

3700—Cont.

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 149
(contract language that —closing of plant or any department or single operation—shall not be deemed a lockout, by itself, did not constitute clear and unmistakable waiver of U's right to be consulted about change in E's operations)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(U did not waive its right to be afforded opportunity to bargain about subsequent wholesale reassignment of trucks which adversely effected unit Ees' working conditions when it acquiesced in isolated wholesale reassignment of trucks which did not adversely effect unit Ees' working conditions)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 096
(waiver over particular subject matter must be shown to be clear and unmistakable; in absence of explicit waiver language in contract, Bd requires probative extrinsic evidence that parties intended waiver)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027
(contract's zipper clause waiving parties' bargaining rights over subject matter not included, or referred to, in contract or w/i contemplation or knowledge of parties when they negotiated agreement held not waiver of effects of E decision to sell and relocate operations, since general zipper clause did not amount to clear specific and unmistakable waiver by U of right to be consulted regarding effects of elimination of all unit positions)

Angelus Block Co., Inc., Amari, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 127
(zipper clause not waiver where record did not establish what, if any, specific proposals were considered during contract negotiations nor even whether parties were agreed on precisely what provisions they were agreeing to exclude)

Western Die Casting Company JD-(SF)-86-82
(E's contention that U waived right to represent unit Ees in processing grievance because 2 members of 4 person in-plant grievance committee who attempted to present grievances were no longer Ees of E, rejected, since neither U's contract provisions with E nor its constitution, considered either separately or together, merited inference that U clearly and unmistakably waived Ees' statutory right to select their own grievance processors)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(while U officers may be disciplined more harshly than other strikers if officers flount affirmative contractual duties during illegal strike, herein no waiver found of officers' protected rights; E's contention contract ratified and incorporated by silence prior arbitration decision holding that imposition of longer suspensions on U stewards than other Ees participating in strike in violation of no strike agreement, rejected; silence is not dispositive of parties intent in labor contract. Giving equivalent to stare decisis effect to private arbitration decisions should be by express clause in contract)

Prudential Insurance Company of America v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 398 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(right to U representation at investigatory interview effectively waived in agreement between insurance company and U by provision neither U nor its members shall interfere with right of E to interview any agent with respect to any phase of his work w/o grievance committee being present notwithstanding contention that waiver not clear and unmistakable, since it referred to grievance committee rather than U representative, right not focused on during negotiations, and provision predated Weingarten, where E had recognized grievance committee as essentially same as U representative)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(ct held prior withdrawal of same charge did not constitute waiver thereof and equitable doctrine of estoppel not applicable to preclude discriminatees from filing charge a second time)

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 606 F.2d 171 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(lack of prohibition against change in administrator in contract, not waiver where administrator was specified and no change expressly authorized)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(although right to strike may be waived by appropriate provisions in bargaining agreement, such waiver of protected right must be expressed in clear and unmistakable language)

5000 WAIVER OF PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

5012 UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES

F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Co. 250 NLRB No. 180
(E's failure to raise issue of RD's failure to transmit complete record in R-case at that time constitutes waiver precluding it from raising it in ULP case)

Rock Hill Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 139 (C.A. 4, 1979)
(U's right to assert that conduct violated Act not waived by its withdrawal of objections to election based on said conduct)

5025 RIGHT TO OBJECT TO ELECTION

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 069
(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel—knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

5060 RIGHT TO SEC.10(b) DEFENSE

Taft Broadcasting Company, WBRC–TV 264 NLRB No. 028
(where issue of timeliness of charge was not raised at hearing, and E was aware of facts, E's failure to raise 10(b) defense is waiver)

5088 SUBPENAED WITNESSES' WAIVER OF WITNESS AND MILEAGE FEES

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(Bd did not accept ALJ's recommendation that Bd should administratively require U, which distributed Bd subpenas to attend Bd R hearing, to pay subpenaed Ees witness and mileage fees; although statements signed by Ees did not constitute explicit waiver of their right to such fees, issue of money owed for fees is matter between U and subpenaed Ees that has not been raised by either party and is not before Bd; moreover, there is no administrative process whereby Bd could compel such payment)

6200 APPLICABILITY TO BOARD

7500 ELECTION OF REMEDIES (ANALOGOUS TO WAIVER)

7550 PARTY WHO HAS A CHOICE OF SEVERAL RIGHTS OR REMEDIES ADOPTS ONE AND DESTROYS ALL RIGHTS TO OTHERS

Professional Porter & Window Cleaning Co., Division of Prapaco, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 034
(no deference where arbitrator considered only contractual issue of discharge for cause by Ee's letter, signed by 8 other Ees, to former E criticizing work of subcontractor and present E of Ee as Bd found that question of the nature of the protected concerted activity was not presented to or considered though arbitrator aware that charge filed. Grievant not required to raise any statutory issue and is not deprived of statutorily created forum for adjudication of ULP charges)

International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 18 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1980)
(Title VII's (anti discrimination) purpose and procedures strongly suggest that individual does not forfeit his private cause of action if he first pursues grievance to final arbitration under nondiscrimination clause of bargaining agreement)

8700 WAIVER OF PROTECTED RIGHTS

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(waiver of statutory right may not be lightly inferred but must be expressed in clear and unmistakable language. Bd will not find that contract terms of themselves confer on E management right to take unilateral action on mandatory subject of bargaining unless contract expressly or by necessary implication confers such a right)

AMCAR Division, ACF Industries, Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 130
(U did not waive Ees' right to engage in sympathy strikes or to honor picket lines of other Us picketing at E's plant, where contract's no-strike provision did not expressly refer to such activity, and bargaining history shows U understood no-strike clause as not covering activity in question; while E adopted contrary position, U did not capitulate to E's interpretation but preserved its ability to contest E's position)

8712 RIGHT TO OBSERVE PICKET LINE

United States Steel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 010
(Bd will not defer to arbitrators' award which is repugnant to Act, and here where arbitrator upheld suspension of sympathy striker for violating contractual no-strike clause deferral is inappropriate because Bd and cts have held that waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes will not be inferred from general no strike clause and any waiver must be clear and unmistakable and there is no such evidence of waiver; moreover, under doctrine of coer-

8712—Cont.

[illegible] application Bd and cts have refused to find sympathy strike to be encompassed in broad no-strike pledges)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(no waiver of right to participate in sympathy strike by prior failure to contend broad no-strike provision did not encompass sympathy strikes, notwithstanding prior to refusal herein no member of U with which E had agreement had refused to cross picket line established by Ees of another E on E's premises during 35 year bargaining relationship, nor had U ever contended it had right to engage in sympathy strikes or urged its members to do so as past failure by U to assert statutory right does not stop subsequent assertion of that right)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes will not be implied from general no-strike clause; prohibition on self-help only as extensive as grievance-arbitration procedure, thus when U foregoes right to strike it does so only with respect to disputes which are arbitrable and sympathy strikes precipitated by another U's dispute with same or different E raises no issue that can be resolved by resort to sympathy strikers' grievance procedure)

St. Regis Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 162
(as right of Ees to honor picket line of U other than their own is right granted by statute, Bd will not infer that Ees' own U has waived right to engage in sympathy strikes unless waiver is clear and unmistakable; Bd considers contract provisions which do not specifically refer to sympathy strikes or crossing picket lines, to be ambiguous and will find waiver in them only where parties' intent to waive is clearly evident from relevant bargaining history)

St. Regis Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 162
(suspension or discharge of sympathy strikers for refusing to cross picket line at own E's premises in violation of no-strike clause not unlawful, where overall bargaining history pointed decisively to conscious waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes during contract period)

Geiger & Peters, Inc. JD-(SF)-245-81
(U business agent's assuring E that U would man job and any Ee refusing to cross picketing U's picket line would be handled as if he had quit held not to constitute waiver of Ees' right to honor lawful picket line where there was no clear and unmistakable extrinsic evidence that business agent had authority to and did waive Ees' right to honor picket line)

N.L.R.B. v. Gould, Inc., Switchgear Division 638 F.2d 159 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no waiver of right to engage in sympathy strike in honor of own U's lawful picket line at E's premises where contract's no-strike clause does not expressly prohibit sympathy strikes and no evidence that parties intended such prohibition)

8718 RIGHT TO REINSTATEMENT AND/OR BACKPAY

Michael M. Schaefer, an individual proprietor 261 NLRB No. 042
(E's contention that U had waived payment of net backpay to such discriminatees in consideration for E entering into bargaining agreement, and that each discriminatee except two had waived backpay by accepting settlement, rejected, since such commitment will be honored only if ULPs substantially remedied and individual may not bargain away or compromise backpay due him/her, inasmuch as backpay is public rather than private right)

Villa Care, Inc., d/b/a Edmonds Villa Care Center 249 NLRB No. 095
(dischargees' statement at hearing that they did not wish to return to work for E held not to constitute waiver of right to reinstatement, since questions which led to responses were not valid offers of reinstatement, and E had not otherwise offered them reinstatement)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-303-80
(E's offer of reinstatement conditioned on admission of U error and Ees' waiver of backpay not effective to toll backpay; nor is Bd bound by waiver of backpay made by Ee in order to regain job)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(Ees who did not respond to E's letter which was mere invitation to apply for work rather than unconditional offer to return did not waive right to reinstatement because their response would have been futile as those who responded were merely placed on preferential hiring list since their jobs had been filled by strike replacements)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(E's contention that its preferential reinstatement system was negotiated and accepted by U and thus constituted waiver of whatever statutory reinstatement rights strikers may have had, rejected since waiver of statutory rights must be demonstrated by express statement in contract to that effect and agreement provided no support for suggestion that clear and unmistakable waiver of statutory rights took place)

8725 RIGHT TO STRIKE AGAINST ULP MAY BE WAIVED BY EXPLICIT CONTRACTUAL PROVISION

ITT Continental Baking Company American Bakeries Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 149
(right to strike over health and safety disputes held waived by no-strike clause which contains explicit promise not to strike during such proceedings, i.e., grievance and arbitration proceedings)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 095
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E, contrary to contractual no-strike clause, to protest failure of U's health and welfare fund to fulfill its contractual medical insurance obligations held violative, since no-strike pledge relied upon by E did not constitute clear and unequivocal waiver of Ees' right to strike against actions of third party (Fund) which affected terms and conditions of employment)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 095
(U cannot waive Ees' right to strike over issue of medical payments from U fund to insurance carrier by ad hoc statements of purported intent of collective bargaining agreement in view of essentially conflicting interests of U and Ees regarding Fund)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-455-80
(held ULP strike where Ees of 1 U struck to protest hiring of Ees represented by different U who were not subject of contract of first U and E's unilaterally contracting with outside U for work claimed by first U, notwithstanding no-strike clause and U representative attempt to get Ees back to work and statement that walkout violated contract)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(as principle of coterminous interpretation had been adopted by Bd at time contract was negotiated, ct inferred that inclusion of two no-strike clauses, one expressly tied to arbitration clause and one prohibiting all strikes, was intended to waive Ees' right to strike over unforeseeable disputes including U fund's failure to pay insurance premiums)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(although right to strike may be waived by appropriate provisions in bargaining agreement, such waiver of protected right must be expressed in clear and unmistakable language)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(right to engage in sympathy strikes may be waived by collective bargaining agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(waiver of right to strike or engage in sympathy strike may be implied by binding arbitration clause; even in case of express no-strike clause, waiver of right to strike is generally coterminous with scope of arbitration clause)

8731 RIGHT TO BARGAIN OVER MANDATORY SUBJECTS

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

Milwaukee Spring Division of Illinois Coil Spring Company 265 NLRB No. 038
(E's decision to relocate work from U to non-U plant, to layoff Ees as consequence during term of agreement solely because of higher labor costs, absent U's consent, is midterm repudiation of agreement in violation of Sec. 8(d), Sec. 8(a)(1), (3), (5); moreover, U did not waive right to bargain notwithstanding management rights clause; such clause reserves for E right to decide whether and how products will be manufactured; it does not grant E right to transfer its operation. Thus, absent explicit language, U has not waived its right to object to E's decision)

Ciba-Geigy Pharmaceuticals Division 264 NLRB No. 134
(U did not waive right to bargain over new Attendance Control Program by its failure in past not to request bargaining when E unilaterally implemented new rules and regulations since right once waived is not lost forever, and each time bargainable incident occurs-each time new rules are issued-U has option to request bargaining or not. Nor by its failure to request bargaining at meeting in which E gave U copy of new program, as U was presented with fait accompli since E told U on same day Ees were notified that program would be effective in ten days yet E had been studying matter over many months w/o notice to U)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 128
(orally informing U representative of reduction in hours to be worked 4 days before implementing change, and indirect notice via member of in-plant committee notifying U of further reduction in hours 2 days before implementing this change held sufficient notice to allow U to request bargaining, and by U's failure to make request it waived its right to complain about E's failure to bargain)

8731—Cont.

C. Elton Johnson, d/b/a Print-Quic 261 NLRB No. 109
(where E announced to U his intention to sell business and U failed to ask for further details concerning impact on Ees, it its right to bargain with E)

C. Elton Johnson, d/b/a Print-Quic 262 NLRB No. 109
(where E announced to U his intention to sell business and U failed to ask for further details concerning impact on Ees, it waived its right to bargain with E)

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096
(no waiver of right to bargain over change in shift hours since waiver must be clear and unmistakable and mere conversation of shop steward with U official regarding E's intent to change hours of shift not sufficiently reliable notice to trigger U's obligation to request bargaining)

Tocco Division of Park-Ohio Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 044
(U did not waive right to be consulted about transfer of unit work to another plant by contract clause providing severance pay in event of plant closure or transfer, or by bargaining request that U submit proposal restricting work transfer as burden is on E to obtain clear and unmistakable waiver)

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(fact that contract article concerning wage rate adjustments specifies legal effect of agreement or lack of agreement by parties during mid-term (contract) negotiations, held not waiver of Ee rights and may not be equated with express relinquishment by U of its rights to demand bargaining especially in view of U's vigorous assertion of its position during negotiations, and its demand that E promise to make wage adjustments rather than merely discuss them)

Sheltering Pines Convalescent Hospital 255 NLRB No. 182
(where state enacted law, which provided for payments to nursing care facilities to be used for raising wages, after E and U had signed collective-bargaining agreement providing for automatic wage increases, E who used state monies to fund contractually provided for increases violated Act when it refused to bargain with U over disbursement of state funds; these funds directly related to terms and conditions of employment, U did not waive its right to bargain where law not enacted until after contract signed)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(U waived right to bargain regarding temporary termination of operations by virtue of management rights clause which generally reserved to E right to abolish or change operations determine extent to which plant will operate layoff Ees because of legitimate reasons sell...terminate, discontinue or transfer operations due to economic factors and E's obligation to bargain was limited by agreement to permanent discontinuance of operations)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(contract language that —closing of plant or any department or single operation—shall not be deemed a lockout, by itself, did not constitute clear and unmistakeable waiver of U's right to be consulted about change in E's operations)

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(U did not waive its right to be afforded opportunity to bargain about subsequent wholesale reassignment of trucks which adversely effected unit Ees' working conditions when it acquiesced in isolated wholesale reassignment of trucks which did not adversely effect unit Ees' working conditions)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 097
(defense of waiver not available to E where E granted unit Ees merit wage increases, percentage wage increases, and extra paid holiday w/o giving U sufficient opportunity to bargain over those unilateral changes which it wanted to do, E and U had made no attempt to bargain on any economic issue during initial negotiations, hence neither party could contend that impasse had been reached justifying unilateral action)

National Broadcasting Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(E's refusal to bargain over its saving plan being part of collective bargaining agreement, violative, as it is mandatory subject of bargaining; moreover, U did not waive its right to bargain over plan where E made brief reference to plan in response to U question and made clear to U that plan only available to non-U Ees notwithstanding U failed to press for savings plan at that time)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027
(U's failure to specifically request effects bargaining when it learned of sale and relocation of segments of E's rental operations not waiver of U's right to effects bargaining where E's announcement that entire unit was being terminated precluded U request to bargain; E had indicated that any attempt at bargaining would have been futile)

Dial Tuxedo, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 064
(E unilaterally granting unit Ees Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance benefits after contract containing provisions for E contributions to U's health plan and insurance fund had expired, held violative, where U had not waived its right to bargain on the health and insurance issue; no impasse had been reached; and change in benefits was not consistent with any previously rejected offer)

California Pacific National JD-(SF)-260-81
(where E posted new rules concerning Ees taking home company vehicles (mandatory subject of bargaining) on bulletin board and U failed to protest change, it waived its right to do so and E's failure to negotiate not violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)
(whether U has waived its right to bargain over layoff by failing to raise issue or by agreeing to E's action is question of fact to be determined by Bd and to be upheld (by ct) if supported by substantial evidence)

8733 RIGHT TO DISCIPLINE UNION OFFICERS FOR BREACH OF AFFIRMATIVE CONTRACTUAL DUTIES

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(while U officers may be disciplined more harshly than other strikers if officers flount affirmative contractual duties during illegal strike, herein no waiver found of officers' protected rights; E's contention contract ratified and incorporated by silence prior arbitration decision holding that imposition of longer suspensions on U stewards than other Ees participating in strike in violation of no strike agreement, rejected; silence is not dispositive of parties intent in labor contract. Giving equivalent to stare decisis effect to private arbitration decisions should be by express clause in contract)

8735 RIGHT TO APPROVE NEW REPRESENTATIVE

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 069
(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel—knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

8737 RIGHT TO SOLICIT OR DISTRIBUTE

Harper-Grace Hospitals, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 089
(U's acceding to contract providing for U bulletin board did not waive Ee's right to solicit or distribute antiU literature at hospital, since E and U could not lawfully prohibit Ees from doing so)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 068
(in finding E's maintenance and enforcement of rule prohibiting solicitation during all paid nonworking time unlawful, Bd held that, in view of SCt's decision in Magnovox, ban on solicitation was not rendered lawful by U contract provision waiving Ees' right to engage in solicitation)

Pioneer Finishing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 199 (C.A. 1, Nov. 1981)
(contract which contained specific limitations on access of U officials to E's premises to performance of specific duties, not including distribution of literature, and established bulletin board for posting official notices does not waive Ees' rights to circulate literature dealing with employment conditions)

8743 STRIKERS' RIGHTS

Airport Parking Management 264 NLRB No. 062
(refusal to reinstate ULP strikers upon unconditional offer to return notwithstanding they had been replaced to work, unlawful; contention that parties should defer to strike settlement agreement rejected, since it would extinguish strikers' rights, and settlement agreement did not constitute waiver of those rights)

Downtown Ford Sales JD-(SF)-275-82
(economic striker did not waive backpay by signing statement that he was self employed because self employment treated like any other interim job but waived right to reinstatement at later date by telling E that he no longer wanted job)

8750 FAILURE TO OBJECT TO ELECTION NOT WAIVER OF PREELECTION ULP'S

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(E who signed agreement in which U agreed that We will not restrain or coerce Ees of E in the exercise of rights guaranteed in Section 7 of Act (not conventional request to proceed) waived its rights to have election set aside due to ULP's which were part or could have been part of settlement agreement it entered into with U, thereby enabling election to take place before end of posting period, effectively waived its right to protest U's ULP's committed prior to execution of agreement)

8755 WITHDRAWAL OF ELECTIONS PETITION NOT WAIVER OF PRE-ELECTION UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE'S

Chef's Pantry, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 498 (C.A. 6, 1981)

(Bd did not waive ULP charges stemming from first election campaign by withdrawing first representation ptn and conducting valid intervening election)

8770 PROTEST NOT ENOUGH WITHOUT REQUEST FOR BARGAINING

Morco, Inc. d/b/a Towne Plaza Hotel 258 NLRB No. 016

(unilateral pay raise not violative where U never demanded bargaining over unilateral pay raise itself while engaging in bargaining over issue of wages; in such circumstances, U must be held to have waived its right to bargain over pay raise)

8775 CONTRACT WAIVER OF RIGHTS TO BARGAIN CONCERNING MATTERS NOT COVERED

Dunham-Bush, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 175

(if parties have collective-bargaining agreement which is silent as to certain terms and conditions of employment, but requires renewed bargaining to impasse over those particular terms, absent clear and unmistakable waiver of bargaining)

Methodist Hospital of Gary, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 054

(right to use company cafeteria for U election, waivable; however, not waived where at relevant time contract had expired and E's contention right waived based only on failure of contract to include provision affording use of company property for U elections where U had requested such provision since U does not effectively waive statutory right merely by presenting proposals for its contractual guarantee and thereafter signing contract which fails to include guarantee)

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 002

(U did not waive its right to request health and safety information, since right was derived from Section 8(d) of Act and contract between E and U contained no such waiver either in clear and unmistakable language, or even impliedly)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

(contract's zipper clause waiving parties' bargaining rights over subject matter not included, or referred to, in contract or w/i contemplation or knowledge of parties when they negotiated agreement held not waiver of effects of E decision to sell and relocate operations, since general zipper clause did not amount to clear specific and unmistakable waiver by U of right to be consulted regarding effects of elimination of all unit positions)

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040

(Bd found U's failure to bring up issue of cafeteria privilege for laboratory Ees during bargaining not tantamount to a waiver where there was no clear and unequivocal evidence of U's conscious relinquishment of right to bargain and no clear and unequivocal notice by E that privileges would be withdrawn)

American Telephone and Telegraph Company—Long Lines Department 250 NLRB No. 008

(U's statutory right to photocopies of requested documents, not waived regardless of contention that E rejected U's demand for photocopies during contract negotiations and that bargaining agreement contained zipper clause; waiver of statutory right, unlike waiver of rates of pay, wages, hours of employment, or other conditions of employment, requires conscious relinquishment by U)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 247 NLRB No. 027

(contention that U had waived its right to requested information because requirement was not in contract with E, rejected, since failure to incorporate statutory right in collective agreement does not justify inference of waiver thereof)

Rochester Methodist Hospital JD-506-81

(E's refusal to bargain for dental plan during contract term held not violative where such proposals were discussed and eliminated as part of final agreement which was settlement of all issues and waiver was clearly intended and clearly expressed)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues, Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

N.L.R.B. v. Pepsi-Cola Distributing Company of Knoxville, Tennessee, Inc. 646 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(general waiver clause which does not refer specifically to waiver of a portion of compensation, not clear and unmistable waiver of U's right to bargain over that portion of compensation)

8787 RIGHT TO ASSISTANCE OF UNION REPRESENTATIVE AT INVESTIGATORY INTERVIEW

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 012

(denial of Ee's request for U representation at disciplinary interview, unlawful, where there was no waiver of U representation consonant with Bd standards for waiver of Ee's Weingarten rights; even if contract could be interpreted as waiving Ee's rights of U representation, it was not clear that waiver would apply herein since contract waiver was ambiguous; moreover, E had reasonable fear of discipline in view of prior similar situation, and E not only denied request but also failed to offer Ee option of continuing interview unaccompanied by U representative or having no interview at all)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102

(E who held investigatory meeting with Ees and refused to allow them to have U representative present while he questioned them regarding stolen merchandise and cash violated Act; moreover, waiver Ees signed at beginning of interview, agreeing to be interviewed and acknowledging that they were free to leave at anytime does not constitute waiver of Weingarten rights where request for U representation made subsequent to signing)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 102

(waiver to be effective must specifically waive right to U representation)

Prudential Insurance Company of America 254 NLRB No. 020

(contract provision that neither U nor its members shall interfere with E's right to interview Ee with respect to any phase of his work w/o presence of grievance committee held not waiver of Weingarten rights)

General Motors Corporation 251 NLRB No. 121

(E proceeding with interview after Ee requested U representation interfered with Ee's Weingarten rights; no voluntary waiver of these rights occurred where Ee was constrained to respond to E's inquiries)

Prudential Insurance Company of America 251 NLRB No. 213

(where contract provision which waived unit Ees right to Weingarten representation had been in contract since 19 years prior to that decision and U has consistently taken position that it was not waiving its rights, provision is not waiver of those rights)

Airco Alloys, a Division of Airco, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 081

(Weingarten rights not waived where U agreed that probationary Ee could be discharged at sole discretion of E since probationary Ees have all rights of Ees under Act)

Continental Air Transport Co., Inc. JD-125-81

(language in contract directed to grievance and arbitration procedure which excluded from that procedure discharge of probationary Ees did not waive Ee's right of U representative; type of interview held with Ee was not part of grievance procedure, and obligations imposed by Weingarten class of cases are not imposed as part of duty imposed by Section 8(a)(5) in light of Sections 8(d) and 9(a) to bargain about grievance)

Prudential Insurance Company of America v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 398 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)

(right to U representation at investigatory interview effectively waived in agreement between insurance company and U by provision neither U nor its members shall interfere with right of E to interview any agent with respect to any phase of his work w/o grievance committee being present notwithstanding contention that waiver not clear and unmistakable, since it referred to grievance committee rather than U representative, right not focused on during negotiations, and provision predated Weingarten, where E had recognized grievance committee as essentially same as U representative)

Prudential Insurance Company of America v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 398 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)

(since right to U representation at investigatory interview only inheres at Ee's request, Ee's silence can be effective waiver of right)

Super Valu Xenia, a Division of Super Valu Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held contrary to Bd that Ee during disciplinary interview waived any right to U representation when Ee decided to proceed with meeting w/o U stewards present)

N.L.R.B. v. Illinois Bell Telephone Company 674 F.2d 618 (C.A. 7, Mar. 1982)

(Ee found not to have waived her right to have U representative present at investigatory interview, where after being informed U steward that she requested was not on premises she was not informed that she might terminate interview or suspend it until U officer could be present)

8799 CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS OR BENEFITS

Saint Marys Hospital 260 NLRB No. 178

(Us waived right to reopen contract and bargain over dental plan by discussion of formal proposal concerning dental care during negotiations though specifics of plan later adopted for nonbargaining unit Ees were not discussed, and elimination of this proposal from final agreement as this was conscious relinquishment of proposal for dental plan in contracts)

Tenneco Oil Company 260 NLRB No. 062

(E's contention that right of Ees who are or disabled at onset of strike to refrain from declaring their position on strike while medically excused, thus not becoming strikers and losing right to contractual accident and sick benefits, was waived by U's request for reopening of contract and strike pursuant to reopener clause, rejected, since requirement that any waiver of protected right must be clear and explicit not met)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034

(instituting minimum wage rates higher than offered U, violative as U did not waive its bargaining rights over minimum rates by permitting rates above contract rate during prior contract term)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 096

(waiver over particular subject matter must be shown to be clear and unmistakable; in absence of explicit waiver language in contract, Bd requires probative extrinsic evidence that parties intended waiver)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 096

(U cannot waive Ees' right to strike over issue of medical payments from U fund to insurance carrier by ad hoc statements of purported intent of collective bargaining agreement in view of essentially conflicting interests of U and Ees regarding Fund)

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 263 NLRB No. 027

(failure of E to demand bargaining over U's unilateral change by requiring nonU Ees to pay service fee for U's administration of health insurance plan held not waiver, where U gave no notice of change and where both E and U considered that service fee was intra-U dispute)

Exxon Company, U.S.A. 263 NLRB No. 027

(U did not waive right to bargain over E's unilateral charge by allowing nonU Ees to participate in medical insurance plan formerly available to nonunit Ees, notwithstanding E's action was in response to Ee protest over U's unilateral action in charging service fee to nonU Ees for participating in contractually agreed-upon U medical plan)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-337-82

(in deferring to arbitration alleged unlawful prohibition against posting of grievances on E's bulletin boards made available to U under contract, ALJ rejected GC's contention that right to post grievances exists under contract's provision for U posting, and that there was no evidence U expressly waived its right to post grievances; use of E's bulletin boards is not a statutory right, and if, as GC alleges, right herein is derived from contract, it is incongruous to place any significance on lack of evidence that one party waived a right whose very existence is at issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(Bd analyzes language of collective bargaining agreement and factual circumstances of labor controversy to determine whether U has waived right to engage in sympathy strikes; contract need not explicitly prohibit sympathy strikes to show intent to waive right to engage in such activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1363 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)

(U does not necessarily waive right by failing to negotiate contractual confirmation and silence is bargaining agreement cannot be considered to be waiver even in light of bargaining history; failure to obtain contractual confirmation of right is evidence of waiver only if it shows that U thought right had been waived by other provisions of contract and sought to regain right)

787 ESTOPPEL

2000 ELEMENTS OF ESTOPPEL

Knapp-Sherrill Company 265 NLRB No. 060
(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel—knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)

2033 INTENTIONALLY CAUSING PARTY TO BELIEVE FACTS TO BE OTHER THAN WHAT THEY REALLY ARE

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(Bd does not refuse to invoke remedies where Respondent's concealment of conduct injures parties entitled to protection of Act; Respondent estopped from denying consciously deceptive conduct (appearing to be party to successive U contracts) over long period of time)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(notwithstanding that E did not have signed contract with U, E was estopped from denying it was bound by residential and commercial agreements between multiE group, of which E was not member, and U, since E held itself out to its Ees under U contract by hiring through U hiring hall and making payments into various U trust funds; E's conduct was consciously deceptive (to its Ees and U) over long period and manifest desire to take advantage of U's miscalculation concerning existence of contract)

Pacific Intercom Co. 255 NLRB No. 041
(violation, where E, which had had succession of previous agreements with U entered into 8(f) agreement with U which matured into full bargaining relationship when majority of Ees in unit joined U, embarked on long journey of unlawful conduct aimed at deceiving U and depriving Ees of fruits of collective bargaining by entering into private arrangement with Ees to pay them less than contractual wage rate, and avoided use of U hiring hall; contention that majority of Ees were coerced by E to join U and E paid U dues, rejected, as such conduct 8(a)(2) violation; therefore E estopped from asserting its own unlawful conduct as defense to U's majority status)

N.L.R.B. v. J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. 615 F.2d 1289 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no equitable estoppel where U did not lack information or means of obtaining information as to status of E's membership in multi-E association but took no action to clarify ambiguity as to such status)

2067 KNOWING OF SUCH BELIEF AND OF POSSIBLE CHANGE IN POSITION IN RELIANCE THEREON, REASONABLE STEPS TO NOTIFY PARTY OF TRUE STATE OF FACTS WERE NOT TAKEN

N.L.R.B. v. J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. 615 F.2d 1289 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no equitable estoppel where no detrimental reliance by U on E's conduct suggesting membership in multi-E association)

4000 TYPES OF ESTOPPEL

4025 ESTOPPEL BY SILENCE

Post Manufacturing Company 261 NLRB No. 036
(U not estopped from singling out layoff of one Ee when Ee was laid off in middle of series of layoffs and U had never requested that E bargain about previous layoffs, since legality of other layoffs was not at issue in instant case; E has generally refused to recognize or bargain with U until ct of appeals enforced prior Bd Order directing E to do so)

Bristol Spring Manufacturing Company 267 NLRB No. 034
(respondent held estopped, on remand from court to determine purpose and effect of specific U conduct, to assert that local U had no authority to act for certified representative at such late date in proceedings)

4037 EQUITABLE ESTOPPEL

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(notwithstanding that E did not have signed contract with U, E was estopped from denying it was bound by residential and commercial agreements between multiE group, of which E was not member, and U, since E held itself out to its Ees under U contract by hiring through U hiring hall and making payments into various U trust funds; E's conduct was consciously deceptive (to its Ees and U) over long period and manifest desire to take advantage of U's miscalculation concerning existence of contract)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(ct held prior withdrawal of same charge did not constitute waiver thereof and equitable doctrine of estoppel not applicable to preclude discriminatees from filing charge a second time)

N.L.R.B. v. J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. 615 F.2d 1289 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(no equitable estoppel where U did not lack information or means to obtain information as to E's membership status in muiti-E association, and there was detrimental reliance by U on E conduct suggesting membership)

4075 ESTOPPEL BY MISREPRESENTATION THAT ONE WHO HAS NO AUTHORITY TO ACT HAS SUCH AUTHORITY (SEE ALSO AGENCY 712-5028)

Cabinet Shop & Supply Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-262-82
(E estopped from challenging Ee's authority to execute contract with U where both parties performed under the agreement)

6000 ESTOPPEL OF BOARD

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's contention that estoppel exists as result of actions by Bd, GC, and U whereby E was deprived of right to hearing on U's objections to election, and hearing on complaint issued against U and, consequently, GC and U do not seek bargaining order with clean hands, rejected, where there was no impropriety on U's part or any irregularity in actions of Bd or GC, E did not show it had any right to hearing on objections or to require that GC not settle complaint against U, and this is not proper forum for assessing remedy against U)

6001 GENERALLY

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(while agency is free to change its policies as it determines are in public interest, it must supply reasoned analysis indicating why its departure from precedent)

6005 ADVICE OF BOARD AGENT

Vanity Fair Mills, Inc., Clarke Mills Division 296 NLRB No. 168
(ptn improperly dismissed, notwithstanding filed w/i insulated period of 60 days prior to third anniversary of contract for more than three years and that prior to filing of ptn in proper form parties had executed new contract, where petitioner acted on advice of Regional Office which was unaware of and did not attempt to find out origination date and duration of contract)

6012 GENERAL COUNSEL'S RULINGS OR OTHER ACTIONS

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local No. 576, AFL-CIO 282 NLRB No. 196
(U not permitted to present evidence in proceeding alleging violation of Section 8(b)(7)(c) regarding possibility of alter ego, joint E, or successorship relationship between picketed E with which E had longstanding relationship, thus rendering picketing for continued rather than for initial recognition, where same theories had been rejected by GC in refusing to issue complaint in prior ULP case; final statutory authority to decide whether U should obtain hearing on its charges rests with GC; Bd will not act as forum that GC, for reasons satisfactory to himself has thought it proper to dismiss)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union Local No. 576, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 306 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)
(where Bd erred in applying Times Square doctrine by refusing to entertain U's defense based upon evidence that GC had previously considered in refusing to issue complaint, ct directed Bd to reopen 8(b)(7)(C) proceeding to hear evidence on U's defense that picketed E was in reality alter ego of, joint E with, or successor of another E with whom U had contract covering Ees in question; such action would not constitute interference by Bd with Gc's final authority under Sec. 3(d); moreover, charged party has right to full hearing on its defense)

6050 PRIOR COMPLAINT PROCEEDING

6050-5800 Effect of settlement agreement

Anthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(E not entitled to rely on informal settlement agreement entered into after C issued on its charge against U of strike misconduct which inflicted damage to E's property to justify its refusal to reinstate striker who inflicted damage, since collateral estoppel did not apply where E consented to agreement and facts not adjudicated; further, in absence of final order burden did not shift to GC to establish striker's right to reinstatement by virtue of Bd's seemingly inconsistent positions on issuance of two complaints)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 470 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(Bd is bound by settlement agreements that it participates in and approves where parties abide by agreements)

6075 RETROACTIVE APPLICATION OF CHANGED POLICY

6075-6700 Proper

Kahn's Auto Company, Division of Consolidated Foods Co. 256 NLRB No. 147
(mtn for reconsideration denied where mtn raised no substantial issue not considered by Bd in its original decision and sufficient evidence was adduced at hearing to allow proper application of test established in Kraft Foods, Inc., 251 NLRB No. 6 (1980) determining when reinstatement was warranted to remedy violation of Weingarten rights)

6094 COLLATERAL COURT LITIGATION

Anthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(acquittal in criminal trial of act which is contended herein to be misconduct of striker justifying refusal to reinstate, cannot be given collateral estoppel effect in this proceeding)

Penntech Papers, Inc.; etc. 263 NLRB No. 033
(Bd holding that three corporations were single E not precluded by principles of res judicata or collateral estoppel based on outcome in prior decisions of federal cts in suit under Section 301 of Act by Us to compel arbitration under bargaining agreement in view of lack of identity of either cause of action or issues involved, since in ct suit issue was whether, under Federal common law, parent corporations bound by bargaining agreements of subsidiaries, and herein issue is whether three corporations single integrated enterprise so as to constitute single E under Bd criteria)

8000 ESTOPPEL OF PARTIES

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(rules of estoppel will not be permitted to thwart the purposes of statutes of the U.S. even if petitioner waited over long to assert defense of illegality (waiting to after contract expired))

Knapp-Sherrill Company 263 NLRB No. 060
(E estopped from challenging procedures employed in merger of two local U's two years after it took place where it satisfied all elements of estoppel—knowledge, intent, mistaken belief and detrimental reliance; had knowledge of U merger, was aware it had right to refuse to recognize it as successor, and after merger E dealt with successor as its Ees' bargaining representative including forwarding dues payments, adjusting grievances, and bargaining over terms of proposed midterm wage reopener, and local relied on E's business as usual approach to its detriment when it took no further action to establish its status as collective-bargaining representative)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(E estopped from denying responsibility for coercive interrogation and threats made by anti-U Ee group where E, by its conduct, led Ees to believe that anti-U group spoke for and with approval of E)

Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(E's refusal to negotiate area practices agreement on ground that U's acceptance of E association agreement constituted waiver of negotiations for area practices agreement and was bar to and estopped ULP charges, unlawful, in view of circumstances herein, which included fact that U members voted to accept E association's negotiated settlement agreement rather than enter into separate negotiations with E, which was option contained in settlement agreement, and such agreement did not support argument that U waived right to negotiate for area practices agreement or to file ULP charges regarding E's refusal to do so)

Bay Medical Center, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 159
(where E had consistently refused to bargain with charging party on basis that unit was inappropriate rather than on basis charging party lacked authority to demand bargaining and had admitted identity of bargaining agent in answer, E is estopped to assert in exceptions to ALJ's decision that charging party lacked authority to demand bargaining)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(E's contention that estoppel exists as result of actions by Bd, GC, and U whereby E was deprived of right to hearing on U's objections to election, and hearing on complaint issued against U and, consequently, GC and U do not seek bargaining order with clean hands, rejected, where there was no impropriety on U's part or any irregularity in actions of Bd or GC, E did not show it had any right to hearing on objections or to require that GC not settle complaint against U, and this is not proper forum for assessing remedy against U)

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81
(adverse determination against alleged discriminatee by unemployment compensation board not collateral estoppel against party charging unlawful discharge; Ee was not a party to unemployment compensation proceeding which involved different definitions, policies and purposes than those of NLRA)

N.L.R.B. v. Welfed Catfish, Inc. 674 F.2d 1076 (C.A. 5, May 1982)
(E is estopped from challenging election on ground that pro-U conduct of one of its supervisors influenced outcome of election where conduct occurred one month prior to election and E made no effort to communicate to Ees that it disavowed supervisor's conduct, though E did tell supervisor to stop such conduct and he complied and notwithstanding U knew about pro-U conduct and did nothing)

Arco Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 698 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(estoppel against E's repudiating new multi-E bargaining agreement, created, where E did not notify U of intent not to renew bargaining obligation under expired contract but rather, for 15 months after effective date of new agreement, availed itself of benefits of U hiring hall for referral of Ees, and implemented terms of the new contract, including paying contract wage scale, making deductions, and remitting payments, to various trust funds)

800 COURT PROCEEDINGS

817 PROCEEDINGS FOR ENFORCEMENT OR REVIEW OF BOARD DECISIONS AND ORDERS

0100 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(in denying Bd's application for enforcement of its summary judgment in 8(a)(5) proceeding against debtor-in-possession who had obtained bankruptcy ct's permission to reject bargaining agreement, which was affirmed by district ct, ct, upon remanding to cts below, emphasized that application for enforcement was not entered after reception of evidence by ALJ and Bd review of record, and held that denial of enforcement does not preclude Bd from processing charges through full hearing governed by bankruptcy ct's determination on remand and guided by ct's views expressed herein)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(for purposes of affirming no less than reversing its orders, appellate ct cannot intrude upon the domain which Congress has exclusively entrusted to administrative agency)

0175 NATURE OF PROCEEDINGS UNDER 10(e) AND (f)

Service Employees International Union Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1042 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(ct agreed with Bd that it lacked jurisdiction to rule on Section 8(a)(3) charge where prior ct had determined that E had not committed ULPs under Sections 8(a)(1), (4) and (5) but deemed it unnecessary to give consideration to 8(a)(3) charge and did not remand it to Bd; prior ct's opinion was final under Sections 10(e) and (f), and barred further proceedings arising from same transaction under doctrine of res judicata)

0500 JURISDICTION

0501 GENERALLY

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(--federal cts may decide labor law questions that emerge as collateral issues in suits brought under independent federal remedies, including the anti-trust laws)

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(statutorily-created administrative and legal remedies, not eschewed in favor of immediate review by district court, even where party presents claim of Constitutional violations; as general rule, parties are required to employ statutorily provided administrative and legal remedies before seeking general equitable relief)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(contrary to E's contention that appeal herein may be treated as ptn for review of final Bd order, ct held jurisdiction under 10(b) may not be obtained on appeal from district ct holding that it had no jurisdiction to review Bd decision denying certification to expedited election conducted pursuant to 8(b)(7)(C) during period in which challenges to validity of election were being resolved)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2263 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(district ct w/o jurisdiction to hear E's due process claims against Bd discovery rules; proper forum for review is ct of appeals)

0550 ORDER REVIEWED MUST BE 'FINAL ORDER' UNDER SECTION 10(c)

0550-0100 Generally

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(district ct's decision to exercise jurisdiction over hearing officer's decision to close preelection hearing, held erroneous, since Bd decisions in U certification proceedings are not directly reviewable in cts; such decisions are normally reviewable only where dispute concerning correctness of certification eventuates in finding by Bd that ULP has been committed)

0550-1300 Not final orders

Linda Willenbrink, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 1086 (C.A. 8)

(Bd determinations under sec. 9 in certification proceeding are not directly reviewable under sec. 10(f) as final orders of Bd and orders concerning representation matters are only reviewable when representation proceedings are drawn into question by ptn for enforcement or review of Bd order made under sec. 10(c) to restrain ULP)

0550-3125 Dismissal of representation case

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(decisions of RD, if not set aside by Bd,are entitled to same weight as determinations by Bd; RD's opinion final determination binding parties where party with prerogative to appeal to Bd did not do so)

0550-3337 Direction of election or certification

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)

(certification decision under Secs. 10(e) and 10(f))

Smitty's Super Markets, Inc., a Missouri Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-3019-CV-S, June 11, 1980, DC W.D. MO (unreported)

(District Ct lacked jurisdiction to review Bd's refusal to hold election as scheduled where 8(b)(7)(c) charges pending alleging picketing for R for more than 30 days w/o filing election ptn, since jurisdiction to review NLRB decisions lies in Cts of Appeals with narrow exception of cases where Bd is alleged to have exceeded authority)

0550-3375 Refusal to issue complaint

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 354 (C.A. 4, July 1980)

(ct lacks jurisdiction over GC's decision to withdraw C and not prosecute further charge in C; controlling factor is that character of GC's decision is fundamentally prosecutorial and is not final order)

Pacific Southwest Airlines v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1980)

(GC's decision not to issue C is not subject to review by Ct of appeals whether or not GC's decision considered final order or not as Section 3(d) of Act provides that GC has final authority on behalf of Bd in investigation of charges and issuance of C)

0550-3390 Closing of preelection hearing

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(district ct's exercise of jurisdiction, assertedly on basis of Leedom v. Kyne, 358 U.S. 184, to review hearing officer's decision to close preelection hearing, held unwarranted, since the review preceded Bd's Section 10 orders; Leedom v. Kyne is not authority in instant case for avoidance of statutory requirement that Bd proceedings be reviewed by ct of appeals after final order by Bd)

0550-3395 Determination in 10(k) proceeding

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shurtleff & Andrews Construction v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)

(Bd's ptn to ct for original en banc hearing, asserting that ct lacks appellate jurisdiction because Bd's order quashing 10(k) hearing is not final order subject to review by ct as sought by Es herein, and that prior precedent to the contrary should be overruled, denied, since no judge requested a vote on

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Construction v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 424 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)
(after argument and panel's request for en banc review to determine whether Bd order quashing 10(k) hearing was reviewable and whether Waterways Terminal decision to that effect should be overruled, ct en banc determined that such quashing order was reviewable and case was accordingly returned to three-judge panel for decision on merits)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(Bd order quashing notice of 10(k) hearing held appealable since, in contrast to 10(k) work assignment award whereby machinery for resolving dispute has been set in motion, such machinery is taken out of operation by quashing notice of 10(k) hearing; to allow appeals to be taken from 10(k) awards would involve cts in direct interference with normal operation of 8(b)(4)(D) machinery, whereas no such interruption is entailed when appeals are allowed from orders quashing 10(k) hearing inasmuch as it is not possible to interrupt process which has already come to an end)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(Bd order quashing of 10(k) hearing held appealable sice distinction between 10(k) awards and quashing 10(k) hearings is that in latter case disputing U can continue picketing w/o engaging in ULP and picketed E cannot secure hearing on propriety of picketing, and unless cts can review Bd decision to quash 10(k) hearing, there is likelihood of no judicial review; this contrasts with chance of repetitive review should 10(k) awards be made reviewable when cts would have to review both award and ULP determination, contrary to policy against premature and piecemeal appellate proceedings)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(ct declined to overrule its decision in Waterway Terminals case that Bd order quashing 10(k) hearing is appealable; SCt's decision in ITT v. Electrical Workers, in which SCt focused on idea that 10(k) award is not a final disposition and therefore hearing out of which award originates is not an adjudication, did not explicitly address situation herein where, instead of issuing 10(k) award, Bd quashed notice of of 10(k) hearing; and in view of substantive differences between 10(k) awards and quashing of 10(k) hearing, ITT provides no basis for overruling Waterway)

0550-6700 FINAL ORDERS

Pacific Southwest Airlines v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1309 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1980)

0550-6775 Order quashing notice of Sec. 10(k) hearing

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(Bd order quashing notice of 10(k) hearing held appealable since, in contrast to 10(k) work assignment award whereby machinery for resolving dispute has been set in motion, such machinery is taken out of operation by quashing notice of 10(k) hearing; to allow appeals to be taken from 10(k) awards would involve cts in direct interference with normal operation of 8(b)(4)(D) machinery, whereas no such interruption is entailed when appeals are allowed from orders quashing 10(k) hearing inasmuch as it is not possible to interrupt process which has already come to an end)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(in holding that Bd order quashing notice of 10(k) hearing is appealable, ct declined to rely on reasoning that such order should be treated like a refusal of GC to issue complaint on ULP charge, which is not appealable; differences between those situations have been spelled out previously by ct and stand in need of no further elaboration herein)

Foley-Wismer & Becker and Shartlaff & Andrews Constructors v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 770 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(in declining to overrule its decision in Waterway Terminals case that Bd order quashing notice of 10(k) hearing is appealable, ct declined to give deference to other circuit cts which have concluded that such order is not appealable; although ct's primary duty must always be to apply the law as it understands Congress to have written it, there is much to be said for view that a sister circuit's reasoned decision deserves great weight and precedential value; however, reasoned decision of this ct is just as deserving of deference, and Waterway is such a decision)

0575-0100 Generally

Industrial Personnel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 226 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(although alleged ULP occurred w/i jurisdiction of another circuit ct, ct herein noted that parties petitioning for review of Bd's order in instant case took advantage of Sec. 10(f) and chose instant ct which had issued decision in prior case favorable to petitioning parties' position)

Linda Willenbrink, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 1088 (C.A. 8)
(Bd determinations under sec. 9 in certification proceeding are not directly reviewable under sec. 10(f) as final orders of Bd and orders concerning representation matters are only reviewable when representation proceedings are drawn into question by ptn for enforcement or review of Bd order made under sec. 10(c) to restrain ULP)

Linda Willenbrink, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 1088 (C.A. 8)
(ptn for review dismissed since ct lacked jurisdiction to review matter where ct had remanded case to Bd and cannot regain it until proper appeal is perfected by person with standing under Sec. 10(f) of Act; petitioners herein have no such standing since harm they urge relates to Bd's reinstatement of strikers allegedly to block decertification proceeding and therefore such charge goes to Bd certification action not related to any pending ULP charge over which ct has jurisdiction so as to be reviewable under 10(f))

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)
(unlike Sec. 10(e), which authorizes Bd to seek enforcement only in circuit in which ULPs allegedly took place, Sec. 10(f) places D.C. Ct of Appeals as alternative forum, Congress apparently sought to assist aggrieved losing party desiring review, but no such assistance is due a person who has substantially prevailed before Bd)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)
(petitioner has standing to appeal Bd order w/i meaning of Sec. 10(f) if there is demonstrated an adverse effect on petitioner; however, it is not clear how petitioner, which received all the relief it requested from Bd, was actually affected by Bd's refusal to rule specifically on U's mtn for summary judgment, which refusal does not even amount to a technical aggrievement; while it would have been proper to dismiss U's ptn because U lacked standing to ptn ct for review; ct preferred to follow precedent and transfer ptn to ct wherein E had filed later ptn)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(ct of first filing by U of ptns for review of Bd order noted that if it were to transfer ptns to circuits in which Es had subsequently filed ptns for review, question of standing would be one for transferee ct, since aggrievement insufficient to warrant respecting petitioner's choice of forum may well be aggrievement sufficient to withstand dismissal; thus, mtns to dismiss are properly referred to transferee ct having venue to decide the question)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(where U was sufficiently aggrieved to withstand transfer of its ptns for review from ct of U's first filing to other circuits in which Es had subsequently filed, and such determination necessarily mandated that mtn to dismiss be denied, ct held merits of mtn to dismiss are properly discussed before mtn to transfer, since any inquiry into sufficiency of U's aggrievement for purposes of determining venue must begin with determining whether alleged aggrievement is even capable of withstanding a mtn to dismiss)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(U held person aggrieved w/i meaning of Sec. 10(f) for obtaining ct review of Bd order requiring Es to furnish U with all information requested, except information alleged to be confidential or proprietary, which was relegated to good faith bargaining process; U at least has standing to challenge (1) relegation of contested information to mandatory bargaining which by itself does not ensure its release; (2) refusal of Bd to address merits of disclosure; and (3) denial of relief sought, i.e., immediate release of disputed information, either unconditionally or with Bd-prescribed conditions)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(in finding U had standing as person aggrieved to obtain ct review of Bd order requiring Es to furnish U with all information requested, except allegedly confidential or proprietary information, which was relegated to bargaining, ct held that whether Bd has power to balance competing U and E interests prior to bargaining and order release of relevant information, and whether and how Bd should have exercised its power, as opposed to remanding information to bargaining, are questions on merits, answers to which do not negate standing to raise questions)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(in finding U had standing as person aggrieved to obtain ct review of Bd order requiring Es to furnish U with all information requested, except allegedly confidential or proprietary information, which was relegated to bargaining, ct held that, if withheld information does indeed concern potential health and safety hazards to Ees, as claimed by U, delay involved herein, consisting of E's resistance to disclosure for close to 5 years, and now Bd's order allowing Es to continue withholding data through more years of bargaining and litigation, is itself additional aggrievement to U)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in instant ct, sustained, and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns for review, denied, since U did not fall w/i statutory exception mandating transfer to another circuit when filing party is not aggrieved, where Bd, although granting order requiring E to furnish almost all information requested by U, denied disclosure order against E as to proprietary and confidential information, which cannot be deemed insignificant or inconsequential)

S.L. Industries, Inc., and Extruded Products Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1 (C.A 1, Feb. 1982)
(appeal of Bd order dismissed for lack of proper venue because E does not transact business in this circuit w/i meaning of Act; Sec. 10(f) of Act provides jurisdiction where person resides or transacts business and E's only contacts with this circuit are its purchases and sales to individuals and businesses located here and its exclusive representation arrangement with one customer located here are not enough for E has no offices, storage facilities, corporate records or telephone listings and no Ees in any state in circuit)

(where ptns for review of Bd order have been filed in different circuits, ct of first filing has discretion under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 2112(a) to transfer proceedings to any other ct for the convenience of the parties in the interest of justice; in so doing, cts have placed special emphasis on choice of forum of party aggrieved by Bd order, but where both parties are genuinely aggrieved, forum preference persists and E, U, and Bd perceive that ct of first filing will hear case absent good reason to transfer it elsewhere)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)
(preference for forum in which first ptn for review is filed is subject to certain exceptions including one where first ptn is filed by party who is not substantially aggrieved or has received substantially all the relief contemplated; moreover, possibility of transfer is reserved for the special case where the inconsequential character or the deficiency in findings or relief is established by petitioner's stipulation or other pleadings or representations; and transfer from ct of first filing will be warranted in special case for this reason)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)
(while it is normally assumed that U first filed ptn for review in ct herein because it was aggrieved, and not for purpose of forum shopping, such first filing will be disregarded if it appears from the insubstantiality of the pleadings that U filed first largely to secure a forum believed favorable to it)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)
(U's choice of forum by filing first in ct herein is entitled to no weight where U received all the relief it request from Bd; U failed to indicate to ct any additional or different relief Bd or ct can award it; and, if Bd is required, as contended by U, to rule in writing on U's mtn for summary judgment, either by its own regulations or entire concept of due process, its failure to do so is harmless error)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(E's contention that U's ptns for review filed in instant ct should be transferred to respective circuits in which Es had subsequently filed ptns on ground that Es were prejudiced because of failure to receive notice of Bd's decision until after U had filed ptns herein and, therefore, U's first filing was ineffective and premature, rejected; ct's prior decision has expressly validated Bd's simultaneous mailing notification procedure and has rejected proposition that one's address or vagaries of postal service can render ptns for review premature for purposes of first filing rule)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(E's mtn to transfer U's first-filed ptn for review from instant ct to respective circuits in which Es had subsequently filed ptns, on ground clerk of ct herein failed to comply with FRAP 15(c) requirement that he serve respondents with copy of ptn, even though Es were mistakenly named as respondents in U's original ptn; Es, as parties to agency proceedings, are not proper respondents to ptn for review and, were not entitled to service; even if Es were so entitled FRAP 3(d) states that failure of clerk to serve notice shall not affect validity of appeal)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(Es' contention that U's failure to serve copy of ptns for review on Es as required by FRAP 15(c) is ground for dismissal, or alternatively, for invalidating U's first-filing of ptn herein and transferring to circuits in which Es had subsequently filed, rejected; noncompliance with 15(c) is defect that is not jurisdictional in nature and thus not determinative of first-filing priority; and 15(c) has no relation to considerations of transfer since, even if U's ptn were hand-delivered to E, E would not have been able to effect prior or contemporaneous filing of ptn herein)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in D.C. Circuit Ct herein, sustained, and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns, denied, since statutory provision for the convenience of the parties in the interest of justice is served by retention of ptns herein, where both Bd and U counsel are w/i ct's venue, impact of litigation goes beyond interests of one region, Bd consolidated cases involving geographically widely separated plants, and Congress has specifically placed D.C. Circuit Ct on par with circuits in which alleged ULPs occurred)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in instant ct, sustained , and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns for review, denied, where there was currently pending in this ct ptn for review of Bd's decision in another case that was consolidated with 2 cases herein; such decision involves substantially same issues as herein, and there is also Bd ptn for enforcement of third decision pending in this ct; hence, these cases are best heard in single proceeding in interests of uniformity and judicial efficiency)

0975 MOTIONS FOR TRANSFER TO ANOTHER COURT

S.L. Industries, Inc., and Extruded Products Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1 (C.A 1, Feb. 1982)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

(ct of first filing, which has discretion when presented with mtn to transfer brought under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 2112(a), takes into consideration location of counsel, location of parties, whether impact of litigation is local to one region, whether one circuit is more familiar with the same parties and issues than other cts, caseloads of respective cts, and whether there is but one truly aggrieved party)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

(although U first filed ptn for review in ct herein, ct transferred case to ct in which E later filed ptn, where E, unlike U, is truly aggrieved party and properly filed ptn in transferee ct since both E and U are located in area w/i such ct's jurisdiction wherein alleged ULPs took place, and law firms engaged by both parties are also located there, and convenience of parties, and more importantly convenience of counsel, are relevant factors in deciding whether to transfer; moreover, Bd itself suggested case be transferred to transferee ct)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

(although U first filed ptn for review in ct herein, ct transferred case to ct in which E later filed ptn, where U received all relief it requested from Bd, it was not substantially aggrieved by Bd's denial of its request for attorney's fees; U's aggrievement relates to no part of underlying dispute between E and U; Bd grants attorney's fees only in rare cases, and cts rarely reverse Bd's denial of such fees; and Bd's imposition of remedies is matter of administrative competence, subject to very limited judicial review)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

(while ct of first filing, as herein, should not delve into merits of underlying dispute lest there be an appeal w/i an appeal, ct held parties' moving papers showed that filing U's protest of routine denial of counsel fees was ancillary to dispute; in such circumstances, ct of first filing can subordinate forum preference of U which substantially prevailed before Bd and sought review only of Bd's refusal to grant it ancillary relief; and ct may exercise discretion under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 2112 to retain case or transfer it to appropriate circuit)

Liquor Salesmen's Union Local 2 of The State of New York, Distillery Workers v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1200 (C.A.D.C., Mar. 1981)

(in transferring case, in which U first filed ptn for review with ct herein, to another circuit in which E had later filed ptn, ct held residence of parties, although not a major factor, is considered by ct and, although not dispositive of mtn to transfer, place where ULP occurred is not irrelevant)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(Es' contention that U's failure to serve copy of ptns for review on Es as required by FRAP 15(c) is ground for dismissal, or alternatively, for invalidating U's first-filing of ptn herein and transferring to circuits in which Es had subsequently filed, rejected; noncompliance with 15(c) is defect that is not jurisdictional in nature and thus not determinative of first-filing priority; and 15(c) has no relation to considerations of transfer since, even if U's ptn were hand-delivered to E, E would not have been able to effect prior or contemporaneous filing of ptn herein)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(ct held U's failure to serve copy of ptns for review on Es as required by FRAP 15(c) did not deprive U of its victory in venue race to instant ct, rejecting Es' claim that U's noncompliance with rule 15(c) invalidated U's first-filing of ptns herein and required transfer to circuits in which Es, who had also intervened herein, had filed ptns; under circumstances herein, U's failure to comply with rule in no way prejudiced Es' right to appeal w/i time allowed by law or to protect their interests by intervention in instant ct)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in instant ct, sustained, and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns for review, denied, since U did not fall w/i statutory exception mandating transfer to another circuit when filing party is not aggrieved, where Bd, although granting order requiring E to furnish almost all information requested by U, denied disclosure order against E as to proprietary and confidential information, which cannot be deemed insignificant or inconsequential)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)

(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in D.C. Circuit Ct herein, sustained, and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns, denied, since statutory provision for the convenience of the parties in the interest of justice is served by retention of ptns herein, where both Bd and U counsel are w/i ct's venue, impact of litigation goes beyond interests of one region, Bd consolidated cases involving geographically widely separated plants, and Congress has specifically placed D.C. Circuit Ct on par with circuits in which alleged ULPs occurred)

Oil Workers, Local Union No. 6-418 v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 1289 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 30, 1982)
(U's choice of forum by first filing ptn for review in instant ct, sustained , and Es' mtn for transfer to circuits in which they had filed ptns for review, denied, where there was currently pending in this ct ptn for review of Bd's decision in another case that was consolidated with 2 cases herein; such decision involves substantially same issues as herein, and there is also Bd ptn for enforcement of third decision pending in this ct; hence, these cases are best heard in single proceeding in interests of uniformity and judicial efficiency)

1400 STAY OF BOARD ORDER

1475 STAY DENIED

N.L.R.B. v. Evans Plumbing Company 639 F.2d 291 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(enforcement granted where Bd ordered E who filed voluntary bankruptcy ptn to reinstate with backpay two discriminatorily discharged Ees since, contrary to E's contention, ct held that Bd proceeding falls w/i statutory exemption to automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act of 1978)

2300 PARTIES

2301 GENERALLY

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(individual non party discriminatee may appeal Bd decision to ct of appeals as provided for in Section 10(f) of Act but this does not provide for participation by non parties at earlier stages in Bd proceedings)

2380 PERSON 'AGGRIEVED'

Leonard Giacalone v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 427 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(discriminatee does not have standing to file exceptions to ALJ's decision where U was charging party as Bd's rules contemplate that exceptions are to be filed only by parties to proceedings)

2700 INTERVENTION

2750 PERSONS ENTITLED TO INTERVENE

2750-2000 WHERE COMPLAINT DISMISSED

Leonard Giacalone v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 427 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(discriminatee does not have standing to file exceptions to ALJ's decision where U was charging party as Bd's rules contemplate that exceptions are to be filed only by parties to proceedings)

3200 PLEADINGS

3233 FAILURE TO RAISE ISSUE IN PLEADINGS DOES NOT PRECLUDE CONSIDERATION ON MERITS WHERE ARGUED

N.L.R.B. v. Highway and Local Motor Freight Employees, Local Union No. 667 654 F.2d 254 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(U's contention that pleadings before Bd never raised issue of whether referral service was bona fide rejected, since at beginning of hearing, GC explained that it was his position that there was not a bona fide referral service; therefore U was sufficiently on notice and issue was fully litigated at hearing)

3600 CONSOLIDATION OF PROCEEDINGS

4100 RECORD

Vitek Electronics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 785 (C.A. 3, June 1981)
(ct found it unnecessary to grant E's mtn to amend record on review for purpose of informing ct as to RD's failure to submit to Bd affidavits resulting from RD's ex parte investigation of E's objection to election, since E's request could affect Bd's decision only on one of E's request could affect Bd's decision only on one of E's objections; and, as result of RD's lack of explanation in disposing of E's affidavits regarding such objection, ct was unable to dispose of threshold issue of whether or not absence of hearing on such objection was justified)

4125 CASE MUST BE HEARD ON RECORD CERTIFIED BY BOARD

N.L.R.B. v. Master Slack and/or Master Trousers Corp., et al. 618 F.2d 6 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(notwithstanding valid objection to election, because of delinquency on part of E to raise objection Bd did not abuse its discretion in refusing to reopen record)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(denial of continuance for purpose of having Ee who had given affidavit to Bd investigator available for examination could not be raised on appeal where record showed no request for continuance; in any event E failed to show how absence of Ee prejudiced case)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)

4175 CONTENTS OF RECORD

N.L.R.B. v. A. S. Abell Company 624 F.2d 506 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(no special significance attaches to ALJ's findings where ALJ and Bd reach different legal conclusions based on same facts; while ct reviews Bd's decision, ALJ's decision is part of record)

4175-2000 Record of complaint proceeding

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(conclusory statement by Bd that access is needed to neutralize effects is not sufficient to justify grant of access; assumptions must be supported by evidence in record; Bd must find reasonable forseeability that Ees at those plants where access is imposed have suffered coercive effects from E's unlawful conduct and that access remedy is necessary to cure those effects)

4175-8000 Record of representation proceeding

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(Bd's contention that some affidavits in record before ct were not part of formal record in initial proceeding on objections to election before RD, rejected, since alleged technical defect in record was of no significance inasmuch as Bd's field examiner witnessed the depositions and thus ct assumed RD considered them when he stated that all evidence including sworn statements of witnesses, documentary evidence, and parties' statements of position had been fully considered)

N.L.R.B. v. Decibel Products, Inc. 657 F.2d 727 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied and case remanded for consideration on basis of entire record; it was error for Bd to consider nothing but RD's report in determining whether E committed ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct found that affidavits comprising all related evidence underlying RD's decision on objections to election must be considered part of record relied upon by RD but did not remand case for supplementation of the record with said affidavits or reconsideration by Bd where RD had forwarded affidavits to ct under seal, and ct had found that they would not add weight to respondent's case or affect Bd's decision but that they allowed ct to verify existency and accuracy of evidence quoted by RD in his decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct found no substantial interest in BD's maintaining confidentiality of affidavits gathered during RD's investigation of objections to election where affidavits were used as an evidentiary basis for RD's decision, since contents were no longer confidential, and RD could screen out affiant's name and portions of affidavit irrelevant to testimony used in RD decision before incorporating affidavits in the record)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct found that RD could reach a decision on objections to election w/o endangering confidentiality of affidavits gathered during his own investigation by not including them in the record, because they are not essential for decision; objecting party bears burden of adducing prima facie proof of facts sufficient to invalidate election, and RD could reach a decision based only on evidence offered by objecting party)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 656 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(contrary to Bd, ct interpreted contents of record to be filed in the ct of appeals in a review or enforcement case as set forth in the first sentence of Sec. 102.69(g) as applying to all such proceedings, whether or not a hearing had been required; it also held that any reasonable interpretation of documentary evidence included all portions of affidavits or other documents relevant to the evidentiary basis of the RD's decision and recommendation)

N.L.R.B. v. Klinger Electric Corporation, Klinger Electronics Division and Klinger Manufacturing Division 686 F.2d 76 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(28 USC Sec 2112(b) requires that affidavits used as the evidentiary basis of decisions of the RD and the Bd must be part of the record available to ct of appeals in its review of those decisions; if those affidavits were not available or offered slightest basis for different Bd action, ct of appeals would be required to remand case to Bd for completion of record and reconsideration of the case)

N.L.R.B. v. Fodyce Company, Inc. 674 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(although ct did not condone RD's apparent failure to transmit entire record to Bd, ct was convinced in this case that remand could not avail objecting party and would only cause further delay in vindication of its Ees' collective bargaining rights)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(issues raised by E's objections to election not sufficiently substantial and material to require remand to Bd to consider additional affidavits that E claimed were uncovered during RD's investigation but not included in the record before the Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(any error in RD's failure to send to Bd, in transmitting election report, underlying documentation gathered during region's ex parte investigation and to submit E's affidavits and other documentation held harmless, where E filed all documents it had given RD when it filed its exceptions with Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(where Bd certified U w/o benefit of hearing or full record, ct would construe the well pleaded factual assertions ... most favorably to (the excepting party); and if factual assertions create material issue of fact, ct will remand to the Bd to order a hearing, and if not, ct will affirm Bd's decision)

4175-5067 Does not include material from investigatory file of post-election issues

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 680 F.2d 1166 (C.A. 7, June 1982)

(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order, set aside certification, and remanded case to Bd for appropriate action where Bd had adopted RD's findings and conclusions as to objections to election w/o seeing evidence relied on by RD)

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 680 F.2d 1166 (C.A. 7, June 1982)

(where Bd has adopted RD's decision over-ruling objections to election w/o seeing evidence in RD's investigatory file on which decision was based, neither Bd nor ct could review fairness or accuracy of RD's decision; ct thus denied enforcement of bargaining order, set aside certification, and remanded case to Bd for appropriate action)

4500 BRIEFS AND ORAL ARGUMENT

5000 DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(in case in which Bd issued summary judgment considered by ct to be in reality a default, ct held that where injustice may result in default judgments by administrative agencies, consideration must be given to questions whether prejudice to plaintiff and meritorious defense on defendant's part exist, and standard of liberality rather than strictness should be applied; any doubt should be resolved in favor of setting aside the judgment so that cases may be decided on their merits; and a relevant factor is whether default was wilfully caused by defendant)

5075 SCOPE OF COURT REVIEW OF RECORD

N.L.R.B. v. G and M Lath and Plaster Co., Inc. 670 F.2d 580 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)

(Bd entitled to enforcement of its order by default where respondents failed to submit briefs or appear at oral argument, and offered no explanation for failure to do so; after examining record and Bd's decision, ct found order was not unreasonable and was supported by the findings)

5400 SUMMARY ENFORCEMENT

5401 GENERALLY

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(petitioner's contractual promise to UMW to report and make contributions to specified U health and retirement funds based on specified amount, on each ton of — coal procured for use or sale by petitioner from producers not under contract with UMW was illegal under anti-trust and labor laws and thus valid defense to suit for such contributions by trustees of U funds)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(Ct of Appeals clearly has power to order entry of summary judgment to non-movant, given appropriate circumstances)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(where debtor-in-possession untimely responded to 8(a)(5) C and notified Bd that bankruptcy ct had shortly before granted its mtn to reject labor contract on which C was based, ct held Bd erred as matter of law and misused its discretion in granting mtn for summary judgment; while not condoning failure to file, ct refused to enforce Bd order that cavalierly refused to recognize outstanding federal ct order directly relating to proceedings before Bd; technical breach did not excuse Bd's refusal to recognize ct order and to explain its reasons for doing so)

5467 'EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES' EXCEPTION OF 10(e) APPLICABLE

(E's failure to raise issue before Bd and ct of appeals as to whether information requested by U regarding E's aptitude testing program would be of any actual or potential relevance to performance of U's statutory duties held foreclosed from consideration herein by Sec. 10(e); E's contention that it had no practical reason to object was not an extraordinary circumstance excusing E's neglect to press an exception before Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(ct rejected Bd's contention that, because of debtor-in-possession's untimely filing of ans, ct may not consider debtor's 8(a)(5) defense based on disruption caused by reorganization proceedings, because such excuse was not w/i 10(e) extraordinary circumstances exception; Sec. 10(e) is inapplicable because debtor's objection was urged when Bd could have taken meaningful notice thereof; although debtor's response was exceedingly tardy, Bd was required to utilize good cause standard ensuring that Bd makes decisions on merits despite technical noncompliance with procedural rules)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(Bd improperly failed to accept debtor-in-possession's untimely ans to 8(a)(5) C and to consider its defense for failure to file based on disruption caused by reorganization proceedings; involvement in such proceedings is not itself sufficient reason for delay, but drastic circumstances herein involving severe reduction in debtor's work force in business associated with most distressed industry, and pre-bankruptcy company's long involvement in active reorganization gave Bd good cause for accepting untimely ans and proceeding to consider debtor-in-possession's apparently persuasive arguments)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(Sec. 10(e) does not bar ct review of Bd's issuance of summary judgment because E failed to demonstrate extraordinary circumstances to excuse its failure to file timely ans; less stringent standard of good cause under Bd's R/R Sec. 102.20 applies to late filing of ans as opposed to the extraordinary circumstances test under Sec. 10(e) which is intended to prevent litigant from raising matter in cts which had never been presented to Bd for consideration; but E herein did so and gave Bd opportunity to rule on question involved)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(E failed to comply with Sec. 10(e) and waived his right to raise issue before ct regarding contradictory evidence that Bd allegedly erroneously refused to consider, where E's statement of position on remand was ambiguous and caused Bd to interpret it as requesting resolution of charge w/o resolution of contradictory evidence, and E's counsel stated to ct that extraordinary circumstances did not exist)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(Sec. 10(e) of Act does not limit ct's review of Bd's treatment of answer to complaint as untimely; however, review is limited to whether Bd abused its discretion in refusing to consider answer)

5900 SCOPE OF JUDICIAL REVIEW

5901 GENERALLY

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 449 US 908 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(issuance of C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully held not collateral order subject to review since issuance of C is a step toward, and will merge in, decision on merits; consequently, review of such preliminary step should abide review of final order)

5901—Cont.

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(ct reviewed comprehensively issues and evidence where Bd summarily affirmed ALJ's decision with only minor modification of resulting order, where ALJ's decision did not merit summary affirmance)

Jaime Andino d/b/a Jaime Andino Trucking v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 147 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(reviewing ct may not displace Bd's choice between two fairly conflicting views, even though ct would justifiably have made a different choice had the matter been before it de novo, and such standard is not modified when Bd and its ALJ disagree)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(refusal to bargain pursued in good faith and on substantial grounds is an appropriate means of obtaining judicial review of Bd's certification of U as Ee representative)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(determination of whether election was tainted by coercive effect of pro-U supervisory conduct is essentially a matter of drawing inferences, and agency's conclusions based upon such inferences should not be set aside by reviewing ct unless they transgress bounds of reason)

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)

(careful judicial scrutiny of Bd's action is necessary in face of accusations of failure to abide by precedent since cts have obligation to ensure that administrative agencies adhere to enunciated policies and procedures)

N.L.R.B. v. Browning-Ferris Industries of Pennsylvania, Inc. 691 F.2d 1117 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1982)

(ct held E waived Bd's finding that E fired Ees because of their protected concerted activities, where E failed to raise such issue on appeal)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(ct held that, where state of law is settled, prerequisites for determination of reversible error consist of specific acts or omissions by trial ct constituting legal error, properly suggested as error to trial ct and, if uncorrected at that level, then properly presented for review to appelate ct which, in order to find reversible error, must be able to determine that appellant properly identified the error and requested trial ct to take legally appropriate action)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(in suit brought in bankruptcy ct by debtor-in-possession seeking rejection of bargaining agreement, and in which Bd, having ordered compliance with agreement, intervened, ct vacated bankruptcy ct's judgment, affirmed by district ct, permitting rejection of agreement, and remanded to district ct with direction to remand to bankruptcy ct, where bankruptcy ct, had not set forth reasoned elaboration of its decision; since ct could not determine what movitated ct's decision and could not properly determine whether there was legal error, it remanded for consideration in light of precepts announced herein)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)

(although Bd's action was nominally a summary judgment, it was in reality a default, since in summary judgment there is no dispute about relevant facts while in default defendant's contentions, as here, are not considered but rather ex parte allegations of adversary are accepted as true; possibility that an injustice may occur is much more likely in those circumstances, since controversies are decided upon a procedural technicality instead of ruling on merits; and, consequently, in a default case, more exacting judicial scrutiny is in order)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(SCt's decisions on deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's interpretation of statute demonstrate two lines of cases on the subject; thus, SCt has acquiesced in BD's position as a reasonable interpretation of Act, even through issue could have, with equal reason, been resolved either way, and Bd determination is to be accepted if it has warrant in the record and a reasonable basis in law; on the other hand, SCt has refused to yield to Bd's finding which was fundamentally inconsistent with Act or amounted to movement into new area of regulation which Congress had not committed to it)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's statutory interpretation, ct may not simply abdicate its responsibility by citing series of cases that extend great deference to administrative conclusions, inasmuch as cts are not obliged to rubber stamp adminstrative decisions that they deem inconsistent with statutory mandate or that frustrate congressional policy underlying statute)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's statutory interpretation, a distinction has been made between whether issue is factual or legal; if the latter, then there may be less deference to agency and more independent review by cts; however, difficulty arises when matter is one of mixed law and fact; nevertheless, distinction has some value in a situation where there are no factual disputes and then tendency is toward a less inhibited approach by cts)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's statutory interpretation, the nature of the question determines standard to be applied; thus, if issue falls outside area generally entrusted to agency, and one in which cts have special competence, such as the common law or constitutional law, there is little reason for judiciary to defer to an administrative interpretation)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord statutory interpretation by agency whose interpretation is considered w/i its specialized knowledge, cts are still not free to relinquish their responsibility of judicial review or to subordinate their competence to administrative expertness; however, where agency has been entrusted with wide discretion in technical area and Congress has designated agency as primary source for interpretation and application of statute, ct ought to refrain from substituting own lawmaking for that of agency, so long as latter's lawmaking is not irrational)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's statutory interpretation, SCt has been less inclined to be influenced by administrative construction of its own authorization statute; thus, agency ruling that broadens its own jurisdiction is examined carefully; however, when agency has participated in legislative activity leading to its authorization, generally more respect will be accorded administrative interpretation; and if construction is longstanding, it is often considered more authoritative because those having matters before agency come to rely upon its interpretation)

N.L.R.B. v. A. G. Parrott Company 630 F.2d 212 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(while reviewing cts should be slow to overturn an administrative decision, cts are not left to sheer acceptance of Bd's conclusions and they are not obliged to rubber-stamp affirmance of decisions that they deem inconsistent with a statutory mandate or that frustrate congressional policy)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(Bd is authorized to change its mind and modify its construction of Act in light of its cumulative experience, but when it does so it must at least carefully explain its reasons and follow controlling law; it is duty of Bd, not of cts, to clearly set forth intent of its decisions and to explain departure from precedent)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(in denying enforcement of Bd order, ct relied on fact that Bd rendered its finding w/o single citation to previous Bd or ct decisions, and its extremely brief and unenlightening opinion which was issued despite order's possible conflict with Bd's previously enunciated principle on which dissent citing conflicting case was based)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd has broad latitude in ascertaining appropriate remedial measures, and its decision must be given special respect; ct will not disturb Bd's order unless it is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which effectuate policies of Act)

Amoco Production Company v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 107 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)

(if review is of a decision agency alone is authorized to make and which it has not made, or for which grounds invoked are inadequate, reviewing ct may not canvass the record and form its own conclusion, for that would amount to substituting judicial judgment for one which Congress has decreed the agency is authorized to make, and the only solution is to remand to the agency)

N.L.R.B. v. Schwan's Sales Enterprises, Inc. 687 F.2d 163 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)

(Bd's finding of 8(a)(1) violations held supported by substantial evidence, even though evidence was slight and ct or any other body reveiwing case in first instance might easily have reached conclusion contrary to that of ALJ and Bd)

5901—Cont.

Harper and Arterburn Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 492 (C.A. 6, June 1982)

(SCt has cautioned cts against abdicating role as independent decision-makers by granting finality to Bd's orders; Congress did not contemplate that cts are obliged to sustain decision w/o reference to how heavily the countervailing evidence may preponderate; instead, Congress made clear that ct is not barred from setting aside Bd decision when it cannot conscientiously find substantial evidence supporting that decision, when viewed in light of entire record, including evidence opposed to Bd's view)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc.; et al. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 629 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(cts of appeals bear responsibility of reviewing Bd's specific application of its rules initially promulgated under its wide discretion, establishing procedures and safeguards for conducting R elections; where Bd has promulgated standards governing conduct of election, those standards are controlling until Bd announces a change and its reason for it, and Bd's application of its standards must be reasonably consistent with its previous decision)

Anja Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)

(enforcement of order directing second election based on finding of 8(a)(3) violation, denied where finding was not supported by record evidence; Bd's contention that election order was not properly reviewable pursuant to ptn for review here because R proceedings are reviewable only upon a charge that an E's refusal to bargain with the certified U violates 8(a)(5), rejected, since order for second election must fall with unsupported ULP finding on which it is based)

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 628 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)

(Bd order is reviewed for consistency with Act and for rationality, but if it satisfies these criteria; Bd's application of rule, if supported by substantial evidence will be enforced)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)

(E's substantial claim of lack of due process at hearing upheld, since failure to object at Bd level does not invariably deprive ct of ability to decide that hearing was fundamentally flawed for lack of due process; and ct review is not precluded, in absence of objection below, when Bd has patently traveled outside orbit of its authority)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)

(while deferring to laudatory objective of 10(e) to give Bd first opportunity to resolve on the merits questions urged on review of its orders, cts are and should be reluctant to enforce orders emanating from proceedings contrary to clear requirements of APA and devoid of basic due process guarantees unless there has been a deliberate bypassing of Bd's rules; here, Bd could not have examined ALJ's findings w/o discovery in record of ongoing debate between E's and GC's counsels as to relevance of point at issue herein)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)

(ct has responsibility to carefully examine Bd's findings and reasonings to assure that Bd has considered factors relevant to its choice of remedy, that remedy is remedial not punitive, and effectuates purposes of Act)

5901-3300 Standard of review same over cases announcing general principles

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)

(Bd's adoption of Mt. Healthy test, to extent it establishes new standard or set of legal presumptions, reviewed by ct for legal error, giving due deference to Bd's expertise in interpreting act it administers; see Mt. Healthy City School District Board of Education v. Doyle, 429 U.S. 274 (1977))

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(for purposes of affirming no less than reversing its orders, appellate ct cannot intrude upon the domain which Congress has exclusively entrusted to administrative agency)

5901-3800 Reviewable final agency action

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 449 US 980 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully held not final agency action under 10(c) of APA and is not judically reviewable before administrative adjudication concludes, even though issuance is a part of a final disposition and therefore is agency action; ct left open the question whether issuance of C is unreviewable because it is committed to agency discretion by law)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 449 US 980 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring it had reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully was not final agency action, since issuance was not a definitive ruling or regulation and had no legal force or practical effect upon respondent's business other than disruptions that accompany any major litigation, and immediate judicial review would serve neither efficiency nor enforcement of FTC's enabling Act)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 449 US 980 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(E's contention that FTC's issuance of C constituted final agency action on ground that E's challenge to C can never be reviewed unless reviewed before FTC's adjudication is concluded, rejected, since speculation that unlawfulness of issuance of C is likely to be insulated from any review if deferred until appelate review of c/d order is not persuasive; ct of appeals has power to review alleged unlawfulness in issuance of C since ct, under FTC's enabling Act, can order FTC to take additional evidence, and APA provides for review of FTC's action on review of final agency action)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 449 US 980 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(concern that C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully would be insulated from review because alleged unlawfulness would be moot if respondent prevailed in adjudication does not support conclusion that issuance of C is final agency action; rather, a principal reason to await termination of agency proceedings is to obviate all occasion for judicial review, and thus possibility that respondent's challenge may be made moot warrants requirement that it pursue adjudication, not shortcut it)

5901-6700 Enforcement mandatory where Board has acted properly

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)

(no remand where there was substantial evidence (of illegal motive) to support Bd's findings of ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(ct's standard of review concerning challenged ballot is restricted to analysis of whether Bd abused its discretion in sustaining challenge and certifying U)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(ct reluctant to substitute its judgment on issue of whether Ee was casual rather than regular part-time Ee, where Bd possessed significant expertise and minor factual differences are so important, so long as substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 206 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)

(ct must accept Bd's findings of 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(5) violations if they are supported by substantial evidence on record as whole, even if we (ct) would have resolved issue differently in first instance)

N.L.R.B. v. Delchamps, Inc. 653 F.2d 225 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(Bd's R/O should not be altered by ct unless order was patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(reviewing ct must not substitute its judgment for that of agency but must decide only whether agency made reasonable finding, not whether it made correct finding; difference between two depends on how strongly reviewing ct disagrees with finding)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(if Bd makes finding of discriminatory discharge, ct must enforce finding if reasonable person might have concluded from entire record that improper motive moved E to discharge Ee; but if ct decides that reasonable person could only have either concluded that proper motives moved E to discharge or been unable to conclude whether proper or improper motives moved E, ct must refuse to enforce Bd's finding of discriminatory discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 615 F.2d 1100 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(cts must give great weight to Bd's determination of relevance of information regarding wages of nonunit Ees requested at mid-term by U, if only because it is finding on mixed question of law and fact which is w/i particular expertise of Bd)

Bunting, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 8)

(illegality of discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his refusal to obey order to assist with heavy unloading work upheld where substantial evidence justified Bd's conclusion that asserted reason for discharge was pretextual; discharge was mixed motive firing; E's anti-U animus and other anti-U actions justified Bd's conclusion)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct must accept Bd's decision (concerning Ee's supervisory status) if it is supported by record and has reasonable basis in law)

K Mart Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 704 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct will accept inferences drawn by Bd from external conduct even if another inference seems more plausible so long as supported by substantial evidence)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(enforcement denied where Bd erred in accepting presumptively appropriate unit restricted to registered nurses at single facility of E's 3 hospitals in single city, since there was sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit excluding physicians; evidence was sufficient to sustain finding of inappropriateness of proposed unit had it been accepted)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(w/o any necessity of searching for contrary alternative inferences that might also be drawn from record evidence)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(ct looks only to see if Bd has reasonably exercised its discretion and will not interfere (in election process) except in cases of glaring discrimination or abuse)

Warehouse Union, Local 860, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1022 (C.A.D.C., Apr 1981)
(Bd remedy ordering U to make clerical Ees whole for their loss of wages (due to U's unlawful conduct) upheld, since award of backpay is w/i authority of Bd and in keeping with policies of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(enforcement denied where ct felt that Bd majority findings on ultimate factual question were not supported by substantial evidence on record considered a whole; 8(a)(4) charge in issue)

Retail Store Employees Union, Local 1001 v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 280 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd's finding that land title companies were neutrals with respect to U's dispute with title insurance company, whose policies of title insurance they sold, and accounted for 95% of revenues of land title companies, affirmed where findings of neutrality were based on substantial evidence)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(enforcement denied since ct was able to determine that lessees in instant case were independent contractors; nor would enforcement have been granted w/o first having received from Bd intelligible rationale for distinctions it drew between Ees and independent contractors)

5907 FINDINGS OF FACT

5907-3000 Reviewable as to whether supported by 'substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole'0331

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 674 F.2d (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(ct held Bd's findings that E violated 8(a)(1) by coercively interrogating Ees, threatening less desirable working conditions and by granting new benefit during U's organizing efforts were supported by substantial evidence on the whole record)

Peter Frattaroli, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 590 F.2d 15 (C.A. 1, 1978)
(Bd's opn failed to refute ALJ's factual findings on remand and is thus not supported by substantial evidence; its efforts to undercut these findings in its brief to ct do not meet its official obligation)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(enforcement denied where no evidence in record to support Bd's finding of non coercive atmosphere during election especially in view of fact that hearing officer who had opportunity to observe witnesses reached opposite conclusion)

Jamesway Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 63 (C.A. 3, Mar. 1982)
(ct, in determining whether particular incident so disrupted election as to warrant setting it aside, must satisfy itself that Bd's determination regarding impact of incident at issue is supported by substantial evidence on record considered as whole; ct rejected Bd contention that proper standard of review in instant case was whether Bd acted arbitrarily in exercise of its discretion)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 483 and Local 11, Ironworkers 672 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's finding that Us referral operation discriminated against non-members or those to whom membership was denied was not supported by substantial evidence that referral was in fact based on U membership or activity and case remanded, as earlier Ironworkers cases were not dispositive of issues of proof; hire, unlike earlier cases, contractors' requisition registers were in evidence, and U officers testified as to mechanics of hiring hall operation)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(drawing line between prediction and implied threat is often one of great difficulty, and possibility that statement contains implied threat must be viewed from Ees' point of view; for that reason Bd expertise is particularly relevant to determination of whether latent threat lies hidden in E's words, while ct's scope of review is limited to inquiry whether Bd's determination is reasonable and supported by substantial evidence)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1301 (C.A. 5, Aug. 1980)
(prior case law establishes that even the Bd's determination involving statements alleged to be in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of the Act are to be reviewed under the usual substantial evidence standard. The focus is on whether or not the words themselves or the context in which they are used suggest an element of coercion)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that foreman at sheet metal contractor was supervisor where he made recommendations to owners of E about who they should assign to particular jobs, spent 75% of his time checking on jobs to see how they were progressing, assigned Ees to work, asked Ees to put in overtime and transferred Ees from one job to another on owners' orders)

N.L.R.B. v. Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 613 F.2d 1338 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(in assessing E's activity alleged to constitute unlawful restraint or coercion, relevant inquiry is not limited to examining ostensible meaning or likely impact on Ees of E's statement; scope of inquiry must encompass entire pattern of E conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)
(where Bd made unit determination, ct must inquire whether Bd acted w/i its discretion in assessing preponderance of circumstantial evidence under all relevant criteria)

N.L.R.B. v. Foelgas Company, Inc. 674 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(ample evidence supported Bd's conclusion that all propane gas distributor's 26 offices need not be included in appropriate bargaining unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Industry Products Company 673 F.2d 164 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(upon consideration of briefs and oral arguments of counsel together with record on appeal, ct concluded Bd's findings that respondent committed 8(a)(1) violations and that particular individual was Ee rather than supervisor were supported by substantial evidence; ct also concluded that Bd did not abuse its discretion in ordering respondent to bargain with U)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(petitioner cannot seek review of RD's credibility determination and his assessment of conflicting evidence presented to him, only can get review based on sufficiency for support for what RD did find)

N.L.R.B. v. Retail Clerks Union Local No. 31, United Food & Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO 655 F.2d 88 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(because factual findings adopted by Bd were supported by substantial evidence, they could not be disturbed on appeal)

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct found Bd's inference of E's prior knowledge of Ee's U activity based solely on ALJ's not crediting E's stated reasons for discharging U activist not supported by substantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Sovakis Industries, Inc. 633 F.2d 217(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)
(although ct might have viewed various aspects of the 8(a)(1), (3), and (5) charges differently if it were fact-finders herein and if charges were isolated from each other, cumulative effect of evidence convinced ct that it could not appropriately hold ALJ's findings of fact and conclusions of law adopted by Bd as not supported by substantial evidence)

Machine Tool and Gear, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 216(T) (C.A. 6, 1980)
(determination of whether Ee is supervisor or not is question of fact, and Bd's finding here that Ee was not supervisor is conclusive since it is supported by substantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Franklin Property Company, Inc., d/b/a The Hilton Inn 617 F.2d 447 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(ct enforced Bd order where there was substantial evidence to support findings that E coercively interrogated and threatened Ees)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(Bd's decision, contrary to E's contention, to count Ee's card supported by substantial evidence where language on card expressing representational purpose was neither canceled nor negated)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(economic striker whose job has not been permanently promised to replacement at time striking Ee is discharged is entitled to reinstatement; determination of whether job has been permanently promised is question of fact for ct review to see if it is supported by substantial evidence)

The PaintSmiths, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(standard applies even where Bd has reversed ALJ, especially where Bd had adopted ALJ's credibility determinations and findings of fact but drawn different conclusions of law)

Congress of Independent Unions and Southern Sun Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 172 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(ct's obligation was to review record in entirety, for substantiality of evidence must take into account whatever in record fairly detracts from its weight; thus, history of dispute and language of picket signs and letters sent by respondent U to picketed E must be considered together in order to determine whether U's picketing exhibited recognitional objective)

N.L.R.B. v. Oil Workers, Local 6-578 619 F.2d 708 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(on reviewing entire record, ct concluded that there was substantial evidence in record to support Bd's finding that each Ee resigned from U before crossing picket line in violation of U constitution and thus, no longer bound by U conditions)

N.L.R.B. v. Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation 693 F.2d 904 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1982)
(ct denied enforcement of Bd order requiring E to bargain with U certified by Bd notwithstanding contract-bar rule which Bd found did not preclude election initiated by ptn filed outside window period because of erroneous dates of duration printed on cover of circulated contract, where Bd abused its discretion by presuming w/o foundation that E contributed to the confusion over contract dates since record does not show that E caused in any way or even knew about misprint on cover of booklet reproducing contract)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(whether E has permanently replaced economic striker is factual question and Bd's finding reviewable under substantial evidence standard of Section 10(e))

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)
(whether U has waived its right to bargain over layoff by failing to raise issue or by agreeing to E's action is question of fact to be determined by Bd and to be upheld (by ct) if supported by substantial evidence)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(for purposes of affirming no less than reversing its orders, appellate ct cannot intrude upon the domain which Congress has exclusively entrusted to administrative agency)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(evidence may properly be considered less substantial when ALJ who has observed witnesses and lived with case has drawn conclusions different from those reached by Bd especially where credibility issues are important)

N.L.R.B. v. Brewton Fashions, Inc., a Division of Judy Bond 682 F.2d 918 (C.A. 11, Aug. 1982)
(Bd's finding that two women who were discharged for refusing to push heavy cart were treated differently from others who also refused held supported by substantial evidence on record as whole but not by everything in record and court will not displace Bd's choice)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(in determining whether substantial evidence on the record as a whole supports conclusion that legitimate business reason was motivating factor, i.e., the but-for cause of discharge, ct must not limit its consideration to supporting evidence while excluding contradictory evidence)

5907-2001 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 668 F.2d 13 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)
(ct held Gissel order appropriate, rejecting E's objections to Bd's ULP findings regarding discharges of U adherents and validity determinations of several authorization cards, where ct held that challenged Bd findings were supported by substantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(no remand where there was substantial evidence (of illegal motive) to support Bd's findings of ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(ct upholds findings of fact if supported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole; and substantial evidence means such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion; ct supports inferences that Bd draws from those facts, and its application of statutory standards to those facts or inferences as long as they are reasonable)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(ct will not substitute its judgment for that of Bd when choice is between two fairly conflicting views, even though ct would justifiably have made a different choice had the matter been before it de novo)

N.L.R.B. v. Maine Caterers, Inc., et al. 654 F.2d 131 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(so long as Bd's position represents between two fairly conflicting views, it should be enforced even if ct would justifiably have made different choice had matter been before it de novo)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(ct's standard of review concerning challenged ballot is restricted to analysis of whether Bd abused its discretion in sustaining challenge and certifying U)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(ct will uphold Bd decision when it represents a choice between two fairly conflicting views if supported by evidence)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(ct rejected Bd's attempt now made before ct to distinguish Bd's prior similar cases from instant case in which it reached opposite result from those cases in finding that supervisors' pro-U conduct did not interfere with election because their authority was ministerial and limited; no such limitations of authority are delineated in opinions of RD, hearing officer, or Bd which would now permit such characterizations of the various indicia of supervisory authority; moreover, ct cannot now accept counsel's post-hoc rationalizations for disparate treatment in these cases)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(ct will not engage in but for analysis where Bd found that impermissable ground was only basis for discharge and refusal to rehire; ct will look for substantial evidence to support pretext finding)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 286 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)
(ct must accept Bd's findings of 8(a)(1) and 8(a)(5) violations if they are supported by substantial evidence on record as whole, even if we (ct) would have resolved issue differently in first instance)

Tri-State Truck Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 65 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd's finding that two Ees were unlawfully discharged for engaging in protected concerted activity reversed in absence of substantial evidence on record as whole that E knew of such concerted activity from telephone conversation with individual Ee who only asked about time and one-half for working on Saturday with no indication that subsequent decision of refusing to work was made on other than an individual basis; furthermore, E's knowledge that two discharged Ees lived together does not infer knowledge of concerted activity)

American Thread Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 316 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1980)
(Bd's decision supported by substantial evidence notwithstanding Bd drew different inferences and conclusions from evidence than did the ALJ; Bd, not ALJ, is ultimately vested with responsibility for determining whether ULP has been committed)

Hutzler Brothers Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 1012 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct reversed Bd finding that E unlawfully denied U organizers access to store Ees since GC had not sustained his burden of proving that U had no other reasonable means of communicating with Ees; absent effort by U to communicate by other possibly available means, Bd could only infer inadequate access from physical evidence of structure and location of plant, working habits of Ees, and conduct of E)

United States Postal Service v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 384 (C.A. 4) (1980)
(where factual and legal theory of pretext discharge relied upon by Bd in ct to support finding of violation was completely different from factual and legal theory of Weingarten violation upon which evidentiary hearing was conducted before ALJ and case decided by Bd, ct held substantial evidence test was not met)

TRW, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 307 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(determination that E's reason for discharging Ee is pretextual in finding of fact that is subject to plenary review)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(in reviewing reasonableness of Bd's findings under substantial evidence test, ct must review reasonableness of conclusion Bd drew from record and must determine how reasonable person might view record)

Amoco Production Company v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 107 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)
(in making factual determination of whether affiliated U was successor to independent U, ct must consider whether changes have occurred in rights and obligations of U's leadership and membership, and in relationships between putative bargaining agent, its affiliate, and E; however, such factual determination is for Bd to make initially)

Childers Products Company v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 242 (C.A. 6, Feb 1981)
(refusal to bargain with certified U unlawful where U won election, eight votes to six, and evidence supported Bd finding that two additional Ees were ineligible to vote in the election on ground they were supervisors)

The Kroger Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 634 (C.A. 6, Oct 1980)
(ct set aside Bd's dismissal of complaint against U for picketing secondary E's grocery stores and remanded case for further proceedings where there was no substantial evidence in record to support Bd's finding that cessation of business of secondary E would not have been result of successful boycott of primary E's paper bags, since such bags were necessary for every purchase made at stores and thus lost their separate identity and merged into secondary E's operation of grocery stores)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(ct cited SCt's Universal Camera decision to the effect that, in case of a disagreement between ALJ and Bd, evidence supporting a conclusion may be less substantial when impartial, experienced examiner who has observed witnesses and lived with case has drawn conclusions different from Bd's than when he has reached same conclusion; examiner's findings are to be considered along with consistency and inherent probability of testimony, and significance of his report depends largely on importance of credibility in the particular case)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(in assessing the substantial evidence standard in SCt's Universal Camera decision, ct declined to weigh merits of E's contention that Bd's decision holding, contrary to ALJ, that discharge was not unlawful should be upheld if record offers a rational basis for the Bd's conclusion; ct noted, however, that it has interpreted substantial evidence test as requiring such evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(in case involving disagreement between ALJ's decision that discharges were unlawful and Bd's conclusion to the contrary, ct rejected dischargees' argument that Bd erred in overruling ALJ because his contentions were supported by substantial evidence and, therefore, Bd is subject to reversal by ct; framing issue on review as being whether Bd erred is inconsistent with SCt's decision in Universal Camera which establishes level of scrutiny which must be applied to Bd decision by reviewing ct; it does not apply to standard of review which Bd must apply to ALJ's determination)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(in reviewing questions of fact, ct of appeals has less discretion to overturn a Bd determination than Bd has to reject conclusions of ALJ; Bd is not bound by findings and conclusions of ALJ and is free to draw its own inferences as well as conclusions when its broader experience and expertise is applicable)

N.L.R.B. v. Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation and United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO 660 F.2d 1207 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)
(ct's discussion of facts of case followed ALJ's findings where based on substantial evidence but not when based on scintilla evidence or when contrary to the record)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)
(substantial evidence standard requires ct to review entire record, including evidence which detracts from Bd's decision, even though evidence supporting Bd's conclusion, viewed by itself, might seem substantial; if record, considered in its entirety, clearly precludes Bd's decision from being justified by a fair estimate of the worth of the testimony of witnesses or its informed judgment on matters w/i its special competence, the Bd's decision must be set aside)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct rejected, as being unreasonable and not based on substantial evidence, Bd's conclusion that E's economic justification for discharges was sham; furthermore, Sec. 8(a)(1) violations alone are legally insufficient to show Bd met its burden of proof that Ees were discharged because of U activity)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(ct held substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion that its factual findings demonstrated that unlawful E assistance to U and U misrepresentation in soliciting U authorization cards coerced Ees in their selection of bargaining agent, and such conclusion was inherently reasonable and well w/i discretion of Bd whose interpretation of Act is entitled to considerable deference)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(ct found no merit in E's contention that Bd's findings were not based on substantial evidence where findings were supported by testimony of E's witnesses and in other instances, findings were based on credibility resolutions made by ALJ; E's argument relied on discredited testimony)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(where Bd certified U w/o benefit of hearing or full record, ct would construe the well pleaded factual assertions ... most favorably to (the excepting party); and if factual assertions create material issue of fact, ct will remand to the Bd to order a hearing, and if not, ct will affirm Bd's decision)

Western Clinical Laboratory, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 225(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct cannot reject Bd's choice between two fairly conflicting views even if it would have decided matter differently had it been before ct originally)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Es' contention that Bd demanded more evidence than required to rebut presumption of U's majority support rejected; substantial evidence on record supported Bd's decision and policies and goals of Act are best served by enforcement of Bd's orders on Es' refusal to bargain)

N.L.R.B. v. Best Products Company, Inc. 618 F.2d 70 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(notwithstanding Bd's finding that Ee's suspension was unlawfully motivated by Ee's U activity and not her excessive absenteeism, ct denied enforcement where Bd's finding was supported not by substantial evidence but circumstantial inferences of pretextual motivation and U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(where ultimate findings of Bd are contrary to those of ALJ's ct must pay particular attention to standards of review of Bd's findings of fact; standard of review does not change because Bd reaches conclusion contrary to ALJ, and Bd's findings of fact must be upheld if supported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole; moreover, in light of Bd's special expertise, ct will defer to reasonable derivative inferences drawn by Bd from credited evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Joseph, d/b/a Meat Packers International 609 F.2d 446 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(enforcement refused where ct could not look at entire record including demeanor findings, and find that there was substantial evidence supporting Bd's finding of ULP)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(conclusory statement by Bd that access is needed to neutralize effects is not sufficient to justify grant of access; assumptions must be supported by evidence in record; Bd must find reasonable foreseeability that Ees at those plants where access is imposed have suffered coercive effects from E's unlawful conduct and that access remedy is necessary to cure those effects)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)

(enforcement denied where ct felt that Bd majority findings on ultimate factual question were not supported by substantial evidence on record considered a whole; 8(a)(4) charge in issue)

5907-2033 Erroneous findings immaterial where other evidence sustains conclusions

N.L.R.B. v. Local 19, Hotel, Motel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO 628 F.2d 1357(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(where ALJ's decision to reject E's business justification reason for E's layoff not supported by substantial evidence and record contains no direct evidence of anti-U animous layoff's not violative)

5907-4000 Court determines sufficiency of evidence supporting admitted or uncontested findings

Amoco Production Company v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 107 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)

(case remanded to Bd where ct was left wondering why Bd had decided that affiliated U was successor to independent U and, while it would be possible for ct to review record and determine whether affiliated U was a continuation of old U under a new name or substantially different organization, ct held this was a factual determination to be made by Bd and precedent required ct to avoid substituting its own judgment for that of Bd)

Aeroplastics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 610 F.2d 485 (C.A. 6, 1980)

Aeroplastics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 610 F.2d 485 (C.A. 6, 1979)

5907-8000 Court may not encroach upon fact-finding prerogatives of Board

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)

(while ct might not have decided issue as did Bd if ct were viewing matter de novo, it could not say that there was no substantial evidence supporting ALJ's and Bd's finding that evidence of significant improper motivation outweighed evidence of proper motive produced by E)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(ct reluctant to substitute its judgment on issue of whether Ee was casual rather than regular part-time Ee, where Bd possessed significant expertise and minor factual differences are so important, so long as substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(determination of sufficiency of E's evidence regarding loss of majority status or good faith doubt is question of fact for Bd which is subject to limited review)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(while ct, contrary to Bd herein, might be inclined to infer that groupleaders possessed sufficient authority to warrant holding that their extensive pro-U involvement in U campaign was coercive upon Ees, determination of such coercive effects must initially lie with Bd, since adjudication of this issue is clearly committed in first instance to Bd; reviewing ct's substitution of counsel's rationale or its discretion for that of Bd is incompatible with orderly function of process of judicial review)

Electrical Products Division of Midland-Ross Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 617 F.2d 977 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(ct's scope of review as to factual findings is narrow and it may only reverse if Bd's finding is not supported by substantial evidence; it is for Bd to draw inferences and assess credibility, and ct may not substitute its assessment of evidence for Bd's if there are conflicting versions in record)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(even if ct disagrees with Bd's finding that E repudiated its contract obligations, ct cannot reverse such finding since it is not ct's province to substitute its judgment for that of the Bd when Bd has drawn plausible inference from competent evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 659 F.2d 725 (C.A. 6, Sep 1981)

(conflicts in evidence are for Bd to resolve and, if supported by substantial evidence, such resolutions must be accepted by ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Supreme Bumpers, Inc., d/b/a Precision Plating 648 F.2d 1076 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(ct granted enforcement of Bd order, notwithstanding sharp factual dispute presented by record, where there was substantial evidence to support findings of Bd, which accepted ALJ's recommendations)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(even though Bd chose one of conflicting inferences)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(in case involving disagreement between ALJ's decision that discharges were unlawful and Bd's conclusion to the contrary, ct stated it is not bound to uphold ALJ's findings because they are supported by substantial evidence; it is Bd's decision, rather than that of ALJ, which is subject to scrutiny by reviewing ct under substantial evidence test; and, if there is evidence to support each of two conflicting views, Bd's findings must be allowed to stand despite fact ct might have reached opposite conclusion on its own)

St. Charles Journal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 679 F.2d 759 (C.A. 8, June 1982)

(ct will not displace Bd's choice between two fairly conflicting views of evidence merely because it might justifiably have reached different result were matter before it de novo)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(Bd's determination on issue of relevancy of information sought (roster of membership) by U is given great weight, either because it is finding of fact or because it is finding on mixed question of law and fact which is w/i expertise of BD)

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Alson Mfg. Aerospace Division of Alson Industries, Inc. 599 F.2d 1057 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(following ct remand to Bd for full evidentiary hearing on E's objections to election and after careful analysis of evidence produced at evidentiary hearing, ct enforced Bd's order upholding certification of U, notwithstanding ct would have preferred second election, in view of U's calling E's document circulated to Ees prior to election all lies when it was merely campaign propaganda and in view of U representatives' presence at polling area on election day)

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)

(fact finding not prerogative of reviewing ct even in light of new standards set by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)

(whether U has waived its right to bargain over layoff by failing to raise issue or by agreeing to E's action is question of fact to be determined by Bd and to be upheld (by ct) if supported by substantial evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

(w/o any necessity of searching for contrary alternative inferences that might also be drawn from record evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(in reviewing merits, ct is bound by Bd's factual determinations if they are supported by substantial evidence on record as whole; if Bd has made plausible inference from evidence ct may not overturn its findings, although if deciding case de novo ct might have made contrary findings)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(Bd's interpretation of issues is entitled to no particular deference where issues involved are purely legal or otherwise outside Bd's particular expertise; Bd's vacillation in regard to question of status of cab leasing-independent contractor-made attitude of judicial deference to its decision especially inappropriate)

5907-8800 Weight given ALJ findings

N.L.R.B. v. Steinerfilm, Inc. 669 F.2d 845 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)

(notwithstanding Bd revised ALJ's conclusion, ct need not employ degree scrutiny more stringent than that used when Bd upholds ALJ where disagreement was not as to credibility determinations but only as to drawing inferences and legal conclusions from facts)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(ct not persuaded with E's objections to ULP finding which challenged sufficiency of evidence and credibility findings of ALJ; ct noted in particular its reluctance to interfere with credibility judgments of an ALJ)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where Bd disagrees with ALJ's finding of fact, Bd's finding must be supported by substantial evidence, and evidence may be less substantial where there is disagreement between ALJ and Bd)

Kenworth Trucks of Philadelphia, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 580 F.2d 55 (C.A. 3)
(in light of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 46 L.W. 4301 (U.S. April 3, 1978) ct, on review, determined that so long as ALJ had provided statement of reasons for recommending bargaining order and so long as Bd had specifically indicated its adoption of findings and reasoning of ALJ, need for separate elaboration by Bd of factors prompting bargaining order appeared to have been met in instant case)

N.L.R.B. v. Supreme Bumpers, Inc., d/b/a Precision Plating 648 F.2d 1076 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(ct granted enforcement of Bd order, notwithstanding sharp factual dispute presented by record, where there was substantial evidence to support findings of Bd, which accepted ALJ's recommendations)

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)
(where ALJ's decision rests explicitly on his evaluations of demeanor, ct will weigh those findings more heavily)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(ct bound by ALJ's credibility findings, since his assessments were supported by substantial evidence in record and were not shocking to ct's conscience)

Anjo Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement denied, since Bd's finding that GC had established prima facie case of wrongful discharge failed due to lack of substantial record evidence of E's knowledge of Ees' views on U representation at time of discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(credibility findings of ALJ will be overturned only if clear preponderance of evidence convinces us that they are incorrect)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(disagreement between ALJ and Bd as to whether economic strikers were permanently replaced was not difference of opinion as to credibility of witnesses or E's motivation, but drawing of different conclusions from same facts, ALJs determinations as to facts remain intact)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Homes 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(credibility resolutions of ALJ are entitled to special weight, and Bd's findings contrary to those resolutions will be subjected to particularly critical scrutiny)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(ALJ's decision given special weight when contrary to Bd's especially when credibility involved)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(Bd's finding that discharge of Ee violative not supported by substantial evidence where his driving record resulted in problem in insuring him; further, ALJ's finding that there was insufficient evidence of discriminatory motive entitled to weight)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(discharge not violative where for temper outbursts about which Ee had been warned earlier; further, weight must be given to ALJ's conclusion there was no discriminatory motive for discharge)

5911 CREDIBILITY RESOLUTIONS

N.L.R.B. v. Hasbro Industries, Inc. 672 F.2d 978 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(overruling of ALJ's determination of credibility not warranted, since neither side's witnesses were altogether consistent, and ALJ was in best position to judge credibility of witness whose grasp of English was an issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(ALJ's credibility resolutions stand unless they are unreasonable)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(no basis to upset ALJ's resolution of credibility conflict in favor of charging party's witness, since w/i reason ALJ's judgment on credibility controls, and witness testified against E while still employed and would not likely have fabricated incident he testified to)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)
(ct not persuaded with E's objections to ULP finding which challenged sufficiency of evidence and credibility findings of ALJ; ct noted in particular its reluctance to interfere with credibility judgments of an ALJ)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(credibility resolutions generally rest with ALJ when he considers all relevant factors in his explanation)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Pretzel Bakery, Inc. 674 F.2d 197 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(ct could not accept Bd's conclusion that company officer's jocular remark, Here is your check. U steward to Ee was coercive; ALJ, who heard and saw Ee testify that he considered exchange to be joke, was in far better position than Bd to evaluate incident; it was trivial matter and should not have been elevated to stature of ULP)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(ct will not disturb credibility findings of ALJ as long as ALJ considers all relevant factors and sufficiently explains his or her resolutions; here ALJ fully explained her credibility findings showing that she considered various factors relevant to credibility such as demeanor, admissions, and self-interest)

Eastern Engineering & Elevator Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 191 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd's order not supported by substantial evidence based on testimonial evidence not credited by ALJ, where Bd, contrary to Bd policy and legal precedent, rejected ALJ's acceptance of witness' testimony because ALJ did not give specific reasons for crediting it; Bd relied on testimony of witness discredited by ALJ on basis of demeanor, notwithstanding Bd's disclaimer of intent not to do so; and Bd's inferred conclusion that violation occurred is not supported by narrative or historical facts presented in evidence which must have logical and rational connection with fact to be inferred)

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that ALJ's credibility determinations were supported by substantial evidence and from such credited statements it was reasonable to infer that E was attempting to induce U to abandon backhelp by offering greater benefits to unit already represented by U; same evidence supports Bd's findings that these statements constituted bad faith bargaining)

N.L.R.B. v. E-Systems, Inc., ECI Division 642 NLRB No. 113 (C.A. 5, Apr 4, 1981)
(ct must determine if Bd's credibility determinations are supported by substantial evidence; if credibility choice is based on inadequate reason, or no reason ct not compelled to respect it and will not do so)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(credibility resolutions regarding whether E told economic strikers they would be fired or be replaced affirmed since credibility resolutions are peculiarly w/i province of trial examiner and Bd and are entitled to affirmance unless inherently unreasonable or self-contradictory and ct found no such contradictions)

N.L.R.B. v. Lloyd Wood Coal Co., Inc. 585 F.2d 752 (C.A. 5)
(credibility resolutions preculiarly province of Bd)

Thomas Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 863 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(ALJ's credibility resolutions should be affirmed unless they are inherently unreasonable or self-contradictory)

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 649 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(uncorroborated testimony of charging party and U vice president that plant manager in training allegedly threatened to make it hard on U members was not credited where it was not supported by other evidence and he was unable to recall with specificity contents of conversation as uncorroborated testimony of interested charging party does not amount to substantial evidence of ULP)

Delco Air Conditioning Division, General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(ct held that substantial evidence on record did not support Bd finding that E unlawfully conditioned Ee's reinstatement on his resignation as U committeeman where ALJ, although completely discrediting Ee's version of his initial discharge, credited Ee's uncorroborated testimony concerning E's alleged condition for Ee's reinstatement; furthermore, ct was unwilling to enforce backpay award upon uncorroborated testimony of Ee who would be beneficiary of reinstatement and backpay award)

N.L.R.B. v. Naum Brothers, Inc. 637 F.2d 589 (C.A. 6, Mar 17, 1981)
(Bd's finding that discharge was violative supported by substantial evidence where there was ample evidence in record supporting inferences drawn by

5911—Cont.

ALJ and her credibility determinations; that contrary inferences and credibility determinations may also have been supported by record is not relevant on appeal; ct's function is not to make de novo review)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)

(ct reversed ALJ's credibility findings of former supervisor on 2 grounds: 1) ALJ failed to allow cross examination on his work record at E, and 2) failed to give proper weight to circumstances under which supervisor left E's employ. Here, supervisor was fired on grounds he felt unjust; therefore, this testimony from embittered ex-Ee cannot support finding that E was illegally motivated in firing another Ee when there is ample evidence good cause existed)

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)

(where ALJ's decision rests explicitly on his evaluations of demeanor, ct will weigh those findings more heavily)

Sioux Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 1251 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)

(ALJ may not rely on unrefuted assertions of witness otherwise found to be lacking in credibility because this would effectively place burden of proof on E to refute testimony of otherwise admittedly unbelievable witness instead of GC)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(ct will fault Bd for accepting ALJ's credibility determinations only when such determinations are inherently incredible, unreasonable or conflict with clear preponderance of evidence)

Consolidation Coal Company v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 482 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(where ALJ's credibility determinations rested not on demeanor, despite general preliminary statement that demeanor was factor in ALJ's conclusions, but on an analysis of testimony, they deserve less than usual deference and here find Bd's determination not supported by substantial evidence)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(demeanor is often a major factor in ALJ's crediting testimony of one witness over that of another, and significant weight must be attributed to ALJ's findings based on demeanor because neither Bd nor reviewing ct has opportunity similarly to observe the testifying witness)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(SCt's use of term credibility in Universal Camera case was intended to distinguish witness demeanor from credibility determinations inherent in ALJ's findings which have been termed derivative inferences, and when they are reached by ALJ they are important to review by ct since they contribute to amount of evidence weighed against that supporting Bd in determining whether Bd decision is supported by substantial evidence; but to extent that ALJ's decision rests explicitly on his evaluation of demeanor, ct is required to weigh those particular findings more heavily)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)

(although giving particular weight to ALJ's evaluation of witness demeanor, ct held that decision of ALJ did not turn solely on demeanor evidence but was also based on inferences he drew from the facts; and since these factors do not depend on an assessment of demeanor, Bd, in exercise of its own expertise, can effectively draw its own inferences from the record)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(although ct is usually bound by credibility choices of ALJ, ct may disregard these credibility determinations where ct finds them to be unreasonable, self-contradictory or based on inadequate reasoning)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(ct overruled Bd's finding of unlawful threat based on Ee's testimony alleging that supervisor told her to be careful about her U activities because E intended to get rid of every Ee on U list; Ee's testimony was incomplete, self-serving, and none of Ee's allegations were mentioned in sworn affidavit Ee gave to Bd; furthermore, supervisor's testimony that members of management uttered anti-U statements in meetings with Ees was also discredited where record indicated that such testimony was refuted by 15 other witnesses and that he was biased for being fired after only 3 months in E's employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 675 F.2d 1004 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)

(ct will not overturn findings of ALJ based on credibility determinations unless they shock our conscience)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)

(successor's actual knowledge of pending ULPs of predecessor inferred by ALJ in credibility determinations which were supported by substantial evidence that during sale negotiations seller referred to U problems as one reason for selling, company's financial report included amount for legal fees and was shown to successor, predecessor's son testified to successor's awareness of pending ULP proceedings, predecessor stated that labor proceedings against company were not secret, and proximity and similarity of predecessor and successor's enterprises)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(ct bound by ALJ's credibility findings, since his assessments were supported by substantial evidence in record and were not shocking to ct's conscience)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. United States Postal Service 671 F.2d 503(T) (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)

(Bd order denied enforcement where Bd revised ALJ's credibility findings without sufficient justification)

N.L.R.B. v. Hawthorne Mazda, Inc. 659 F.2d 1089(T) (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(ct will not sustain factual finding of Bd that rests solely on evidence discredited by ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Hansa Mold, Inc. 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(ct would not disturb contested credibility findings where there was no clear preponderance of evidence showing ALJ's credibility determinations to be incorrect)

Western Clinical Laboratory, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 225(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(of Bd will not be overturned by ct absent exceptional circumstances)

N.L.R.B. v. Adams Delivery Service, Inc. 623 F.2d 96 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbia Building Materials, Inc. 624 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(ct upheld Bd's finding based primarily on credibility determination that E's hiring Ees at trainee rate which was below contract rate was unlawful since testimony on which Bd relied not inherently incredible)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(self-serving declarations made by E's witnesses not credited and fact that witnesses corroborated each other irrelevant where ALJ found GC's witnesses more credible)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(ALJ did not err in crediting testimony of witness notwithstanding other witness's testimony was inconsistent in several respects; ct respected credibility choice; it was not inherently unreasonable)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)

(ALJ's decision given special weight when contrary to Bd's especially when credibility involved)

5914 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(ct held Bd's conclusions of law with reference to E's objections to election were not supported by essential findings relative to two issues: (1) whether, based upon evidence and findings of fact, group leaders who engaged in pro-U activity during critical period were supervisors, setting forth criteria for such; and (2) if so, whether their pro-U activities affected Ees' votes; since Bd only looked at groupleaders' challenged ballots, it avoided issue regarding whether any ballots cast were affected by groupleaders' conduct)

5914-0100 Generally

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(decisions of U.S. Ct of Appeals is law which Bd must follow in cases arising in particular judicial circuit)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(ct cannot in first instance adjudicate whether certification of unit is consistent with congressional intent; nor can ct adequately review Bd's decision and order unless Bd discloses why certification of unit comports with necessity of preventing proliferation of bargaining units)

5914-1200 Application of intervening change in law while case is on appeal

Peavey Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 460 (C.A. 7, May 1981)
(ct considered unlawful discharge under Wright Line test and found Ees discharge not based on pretextual reasons and not violative)

5914-2500 Weight given ALJ conclusions

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(degree of weight and likely interpretation to be given supervisor's allegedly unlawful statements held to depend upon context, and ALJ is likely to understand that context better than reviewing ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(ALJ is primarily responsible for judgments as to credibility and his conclusion that E's statements were unlawful was reasonable)

Kenworth Trucks of Philadelphia, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 580 F.2d 55 (C.A. 3)
(in light of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 46 L.W. 4301 (U.S. April 3, 1978) ct, on review, determined that so long as ALJ had provided statement of reasons for recommending bargaining order and so long as Bd had specifically indicated its adoption of findings and reasoning of ALJ, need for separate elaboration by Bd of factors prompting bargaining order appeared to have been met in instant case)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(where ALJ evidenced some bias towards E, although not enough to warrant finding abuse of discretion, this bias detracts from weight accorded his credibility findings and ct subjected them to closer scrutiny than unusal, concluding that there is insufficient evidence to support ALJ's conclusions and remand case for further proceedings before different ALJ)

5914-5000 Experienced judgment of Board entitled to great weight

N.L.R.B. v. Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 675 F.2d 426 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(weight given to Bd's expertise and judgment particularly apt in determination of supervisory status)

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)
(ct reluctant to substitute its judgment on issue of whether Ee was casual rather than regular part-time Ee, where Bd possessed significant expertise and minor factual differences are so important, so long as substantial evidence supported Bd's conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles D. Bonanno Linen Service, Inc. 630 F.2d 25 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(Bd decision that impasse alone does not justify E's unilateral withdrawal from multi-E bargaining association subject to only limited review where Congress intended to leave to Bd's specialized judgment... questions concerning multi-E bargaining and here Bd has struck reasonable balance)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(Bd's findings with respect to supervisory determinations are entitled to special weight in light of its expertise in this area)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(while deference is to be given to agency's intepretation of statute it administers, it is cts that have final responsibility under constitution on matters of statutory interpretation)

The Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 20 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(agency's conclusions based upon inferences it draws not to be set aside by reviewing ct unless they transgress bounds of reason)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd has special expertise in classifying mandatory and non-mandatory subjects of bargaining; Congress delegated primary responsibility of defining scope of duty to bargain to Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Garry Manufacturing Company 630 F.2d 934 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(cts should defer to Bd expertise, particularly where Ees may be especially sensitive to implied threats)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct deferred to Bd's expertise in finding posted notice stating that signing U card can have serious consequences unlawfully coercive especially in context of E's history of misconduct; moreover, notice was posted only day after known U activist disappeared from plant)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct recognizes that Bd can order E to cease ULPs at its other plants on proof of violation at one location when company-wide policy is involved)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(judgment of Bd is subject to judicial review; but if its construction of statute is reasonably defensible, it should not be rejected merely because cts might prefer another view of statute; but enforcement of Bd orders refused where orders had no reasonable basis in law, fundamentally inconsistent with structure of Act or attempt to usurp major policy decisions properly made by Congress)

N.L.R.B. v. L. B. Priester & Son, Inc. 669 F.2d 355 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(in case involving alleged untimely withdrawal from multi-E bargaining unit, respect for Bd's expertise is particularly proper because of Congress deliberate inaction with regard to multi-E bargaining as this indicates commitment by Congress of the issues raised to Bd's specialized judgment)

Vicksburg Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1070 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(Bd has wide discretion in determining whether election has been fairly conducted, and its decisions warrant special respect on review)

N.L.R.B. v. Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, Inc. 639 F.2d 1344 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(wage data on Ees outside bargaining unit must meet standard of relevance before it must be surendered to U but NLRB determination of relevance of information sought in particular case must be given great weight by courts if only because it is finding of law and fact w/i expertise of Bd)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(ct accords special deference to Bd's expertise in determining supervisory status under substantial evidence test because gradations of authority w/i organization can be so subtle)

N.L.R.B. v. Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 615 F.2d 1100 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(cts must give great weight to Bd's determination of relevance of information regarding wages of nonunit Ees requested at mid-term by U, if only because it is finding on mixed question of law and fact which is w/i particular expertise of Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Medical Mutual of Cleveland, Inc. 659 F.2d 726 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1981)
(oral argument not needed, since Bd's findings, that E coercively interrogated one Ee and violatively discharged another Ee for filing charges with Bd, were supported by substantial evidence including evidence opposed to Bd's view; standard of review does not allow ct to set aside Bd's choice between two conflicting views of evidence, even though ct may have reached different conclusion after de novo hearing)

C & D Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd's bargaining order enforced since E's objections concerning certification of inappropriate unit were properly overruled by Bd as being w/i its expertise and discretion to exclude Ees of five grow-out farms as being agricultural Ees and to exlcude Ees of sixth grow-out operation as lacking a community of interest with Ees of properly certified unit)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)
(determination of agricultural Ee properly left, in first instance to Bd, whose special duty is to apply this broad statutory language to varying fact patterns; Bd's determination must be accepted by reviewing ct if it has warrant in the record and a reasonable basis in law)

The PaintSmiths, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(Bd decision based on dissent in prior Bd case does not merit deference where there has been no significant change in decisional law)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(it is for Bd, and not the cts, to make determination based on its expert estimate as to effects on election process of ULPs of varying intensity)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(where issue is E's motive behind Ee discharge, determination of motive is particularly w/i purview of Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. World Evangelism, Inc. 656 F.2d (C.A. 9, 1981)
(Bd's interpretation of Act is entitled to considerable deference, and must be upheld if reasonably defensible)

N.L.R.B. v. Hawthorne Mazda, Inc. 659 F.2d 1089(T) (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)
(Bd is free to draw its own inferences from evidence in record and reviewing ct will uphold Bd's finding even where ALJ interpreted facts differently)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(deference (from ct) is due Bd's interpretation of labor contracts because such contracts are different in nature and scope from ordinary commercial contracts and, as such, labor contract interpretation falls w/i area of Bd's special expertise)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct rejected E's contention that evidence supporting Bd's determination must be stronger when Bd disagrees with ALJ's findings than when it agrees; in any event, Bd did not disagree with ALJ's assessment of witness credibility, but drew different inferences from testimony itself which is entitled to judicial deference due to Bd's special expertise in drawing these kinds of inferences)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct has uniformly deferred to expertise of Bd to make initial determination whether E's conduct demonstrates an unwillingness to bargain in good faith)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd's determination on issue of relevancy of information sought (roster of membership) by U is given great weight, either because it is finding of fact or because it is finding on mixed question of law and fact which is w/i expertise of Bd)

K Mart Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 704 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct will accept inferences drawn by Bd from external conduct even if another inference seems more plausable so long as supported by substantial evidence)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(issue of whether current three year contract was bar to election ptn remanded to Bd to explain, why membership as used in contract should be interpreted differently depending on whether word appeared in U security clause or health benefit clause, and whether petitioner, to its detriment, reasonably relied on contract's cover dates in determining when to file election ptn; Bd must follow its own precedent by excluding extrinsic evidence from its consideration or explain why its rules should be disregarded; ct not allowed to substitute different rationale for that provided by Bd)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(ct will not disturb Bd's (unit) determination unless there has been abuse of discretion and bargaining unit is clearly inappropriate; issue of bargaining unit determination is w/i particular expertise of Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Chet Monez Ford 624 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct will defer to Bd's expertise in assessing impact of ULP's with regard to U's subsequent loss of majority support notwithstanding record is silent as to actual impact)

N.L.R.B. v. International Harvester Company 618 F.2d 85 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(in Bd's interpretation of mandatory bargaining provisions)

N.L.R.B. v. Richard Tischler, Martin Rader and Donald Connelly, Sr., a limited partnership, d/b/a Devon Gables Nursing Home, et al. 615 F.2d 509 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(deference accorded to Bd's conclusions rather than to ALJ's where Bd did not disagree with ALJ's assessment of credibility of witnesses, but rather drew different inferences from statements made by witnesses upon whom ALJ relied)

Crane Sheet Metal, Inc. and Hartley Sheet Metal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 256 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Bartlett-Collins Company 639 F.2d 652 (C.A. 10, 1981)
(in reviewing Bd decision as to whether issue constitutes mandatory bargaining subject, ct must give considerable deference to Bd's judgment; Congress delegated to Bd primary responsibility of marking out scope of statutory duty to bargain and classification of bargaining subjects is matter concerning which Bd has special expertise)

N.L.R.B. v. Bartlett-Collins Company 639 F.2d 652 (C.A. 10, 1981)
(reasonableness of Bd's construction concerning issue of presence of court reporter as mandatory subject of bargaining is not altered because Bd reverses its previous rulings as long as new position is fully explained and is fair and reasoned one w/i scope of Bd's authority)

Lone Star Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 545 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(classification of bargaining subjects as terms or conditions of employment is matter of special Bd expertise; Bd's judgment as to what is mandatory bargaining subject is entitled to considerable deference)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(imposition of remedies is matter of special administrative competence, subject to very limited judicial review; selection of remedies made by Bd must stand, unless it can be shown that the order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd's interpretation of issues is entitled to no particular deference where issues involved are purely legal or otherwise outside Bd's particular expertise; Bd's vacillation in regard to question of status of cab leasing-independent contractor-made attitude of judicial deference to its decision especially inappropriate)

5914-7500 Consideration may be given to fact Board and ALJ reached different results

N.L.R.B. v. Steinerfilm, Inc. 669 F.2d 845 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(notwithstanding Bd revised ALJ's conclusion, ct need not employ degree scrutiny more stringent than that used when Bd upholds ALJ where disagreement was not as to credibility determinations but only as to drawing inferences and legal conclusions from facts)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(enforcement denied where no evidence in record to support Bd's finding of non coercive atmosphere during election especially in view of fact that hearing officer who had opportunity to observe witnesses reached opposite conclusion)

K & K Gourmet Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 460 (C.A. 3, 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. A. S. Abell Company 624 F.2d 506 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(no special significance attaches to ALJ's findings where ALJ and Bd reach different legal conclusions based on same facts; while ct reviews Bd's decision, ALJ's decision is part of record)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(ct reviews Bd's findings, but where its findings conflict with those of ALJ, record, including ALJ's report, must be subjected to particular scrutiny)

The Berry Schools v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 966 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(where Bd has reversed decision of ALJ finding of no unlawful behavior, ct has obligation to examine evidence and findings of Bd more critically than if two were in agreement)

N.L.R.B. v. Datapoint Corporation 642 F.2d 123 (C.A. 5, Apr 8, 1981)
(where Bd does not accept factual findings of ALJ, ct's examination of record and Bd's findings must be especially critical when Bd disagrees with some of ALJ's credability determinations)

N.L.R.B. v. Ridgeway Trucking Company 625 F.2d 122 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's decision cannot be reversed where it merely draws different inference than ALJ from established facts, provided there is substantial evidence; here, ALJ refused to credit testimony of two Ees who accused E of specifically firing them and Bd did not refute finding and did not accept those witness' credibility either but reached its conclusion from remainder of record, relying on facts accepted as credible by ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. 615 F.2d 1100 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(judicial deference to Bd's legal conclusion as to relevance of information sought was not lessened as result of contrary legal inference drawn by ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Town & Country LP Gas Service Company 687 F.2d 187 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)
(where Bd and ALJ reached different conclusions, ct examined evidence carefully but upheld Bd decision where Bd only rejected ALJ's reasoning process and not subsidiary factual findings)

Colson Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B 673 F.2d 221 (C.A. 8, Mar. 1982)
(ct held Bd's conclusion, which overturned ALJ, that E threatened or interrogated Ees was not supported by substantial evidence)

The PaintSmiths, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(ct attached no significance to Bd's acceptance of ALJ's findings of fact but rejection of his conclusions of law)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(ct must uphold factual determinations of Bd if, considering evidence as whole, its findings are based upon substantial evidence when Bd and ALJ make contrary findings, this standard does not change; deference accorded fact findings runs in favor of Bd, but ALJs findings as part of record must be weighed along with other opposing evidence, against evidence supporting Bd's decision)

Doug Hartley, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 579 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct rejected E's contention that evidence supporting Bd's determination must be stronger when Bd disagrees with ALJ's findings than when it agrees; in any event, Bd did not disagree with ALJ's assessment of witness credibility, but drew different inferences from testimony itself which is entitled to judicial deference due to Bd's special expertise in drawing these kinds of inferences)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(disagreement between ALJ and Bd as to whether economic strikers were permanently replaced was not difference of opinion as to credibility of witnesses or E's motivation, but drawing of different conclusions from same facts, ALJs determinations as to facts remain intact)

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(ALJ's decision given special weight when contrary to Bd's especially when credibility involved)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(evidence may properly be considered less substantial when ALJ who has observed witnesses and lived with case has drawn conclusions different from those reached by Bd especially where credibility issues are important)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd has broad discretion to fashion remedies to effectuate policies of Act because relation of remedy to policy is singularly connected to Bd's competenceand knowledge gained from experience; therefore, since Bd, notALJ, was given such discretion, Bd's rejection of ALJ's recommended remedy is of no consequence)

5921 MIXED QUESTIONS OF LAW AND FACT

N.L.R.B. v. Yeshiva University 440 U.S. 906 (U.S. SCt, Feb 20, 1980)
(where mixed question of fact and law exists and Bd failed to make relevant findings of fact SCt upheld ct of appeals factual findings that faculty of Yeshiva University operated enterprise and were managerial Ees and overruled Bd's finding that faculty were professional Ees w/i meaning of Act)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(in regard to deference that reviewing ct should accord agency's statutory interpretation, a distinction has been made between whether issue is factual or legal; if the latter, then there may be less deference to agency and more independent review by cts; however, difficulty arises when matter is one of mixed law and fact; nevertheless, distinction has some value in a situation where there are no factual disputes and then tendency is toward a less inhibited approach by cts)

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd's determination on issue of relevancy of information sought (roster of membership) by U is given great weight, either because it is finding of fact or because it is finding on mixed question of law and fact which is w/i expertise of Bd)

5928 DISCRETION IN EXERCISE OF JURISDICTION

N.L.R.B. v. Pincus Brothers, Inc. - Maxwell 620 F.2d 367 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(enforcement denied where Bd committed error in declining to defer to arbitration award as clearly repugnant to Act where arbitrator had determined that E had discharged Ee for just cause; Ee's conduct arguably unprotected and where arbitration award arguably characterizable as not inconsistent with Bd policy, Bd must defer to arbitrator's decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Pincus Brothers, Inc. - Maxwell 620 F.2d 367 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(in reviewing Bd's refusal to defer to arbitration award as clearly repugnant to Act, ct applied abuse of discretion standard based on substantial evidence of record to support reasonableness of Bd's actions, as opposed to reviewing Bd's decision under an error of law standard)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 343 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(standard of review used in evaluating Bd application of Spielberg doctrine regarding deferral to arbitration is abuse of discretion standard)

Transportation Enterprises, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 421 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd and its regional offices may not render jurisdictional decisions, and then overrule them retroactively and thereby transform E's interim behavior, legal when pursued, into illegal ULPs; E's conduct after formal declaration by Bd that he is not covered by Act and before re-examination of that issue, cannot subsequently be branded ULP subjecting E to liability for back-pay)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(Bd did not abuse its discretion by refusing to defer to grievance-arbitration procedure alleged unlawful discontinuance of Ees' right to request transfers involving down-grading, since Bd's determination that determinative issue required interpretation of Act rather mere contract interpretation, not unreasonable)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(Bd's determination, that E met $250,000 standard for exercising jurisdiction over day-care center rather than $1,000,000 standard for educational institutions will not be set aside in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, such as unjust discrimination)

N.L.R.B. v. Safeway Stores, Inc. 622F.2d 425 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd not required to defer to arbitrator's decision on grievability of Ees' transfers where sole issue presented to Bd was whether E had committed ULP by refusing to produce requested documents to defend its decision to transfer Ees)

5932 PROTECTED NATURE OF ACTIVITY

St. Regis Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 487 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E during critical period to gain recognition for U, rival of petitioner, not unlawful, since if E, during pendency of election proceedings, had recognized rival U as bargaining agent, E would have been guilty of interference with Bd's election procedures as well as ULP in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of Act)

5935 UNIT DETERMINATIONS

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(only pertinent limitation on Bd's unit determinations is Sec. 9(b) statutory direction to NLRB to make decision in each case. This statutory direction invalidates conclusive presumption but does not invalidate rebuttable presumption)

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(The issue as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining is one for which no absolute rule of law is laid down by statute, and none should be by decision. It involves of necessity a large measure of informed discretion, and the decision of the Board, if not final, is rarely to be disturbed... Packard Motor Car Co. v. N.L.R.B., 330 U.S. 485, 491-492 (1947))

Big Y Foods, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(Court may set aside NLRB Sec. 9(b) determination only if Bd has not disclosed basis of its determination, or determination is not supported by substantial evidence, or determination is in violation of Act, or some other statute, or Constitution, or is arbitrary or unreasonable)

Burns Electronic Security Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 403 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(remanded for reconsideration of question of whether Ees known as Operator/Runners were guards w/i meaning of Sec. 9(b)(3) where Bd had determined Ees were not guards on basis of R hearing only, did not consider relevant information introduced at ULP hearing on related charge and avoided addressing inconsistency between classification of Ees in present case and Ees with same title in three Bd decisions involving same E, notwithstanding Bd's argument that R/R Sec. 102.67(f) required party to produce all available evidence at R hearing rather than attempt to relitigate unit issue at ULP hearing)

Tressler Lutheran Home For Children, t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 302 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(Bd given considerable discretion in shaping bargaining units)

N.L.R.B. v. H. M. Patterson & Son, Inc. 636 F.2d 1014 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(Bd unit determinations involve of necessity large measure of informed discretion and should not be set aside unless reviewing ct finds that Bd exercised its discretion in an arbitrary or capricious manner)

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)
(Bd has broad discretion in making unit determination; it must select an appropriate unit, not the most appropriate unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Continental Corporation of Michigan, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn West 612 F.2d 257 (C.A. 6)
(Bd has very broad discretion in determining bargaining units; See Packard Motor Car Co. v. N.L.R.B., 330 U.S. 485 (1947))

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 766 (C.A. 7, July 1980)
(Bd's finding that Ee was not confidential Ee not supported by substantial evidence where only standard applied was labor nexus and upon remand Bd did not reopen proceedings to take evidence under different Bell Aerospace 416 U.S. 267 (1974), standard)

Mary Thompson Hospital, Inc. 621 F.2d 858 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Ct refused to enforce Bd's order that E bargain with separate unit of licensed sanitary engineers apart from other engineering and maintenance department Ees at hospital since in finding unit appropriate Bd failed to heed congressional admonition to avoid fragmentation of units at health care facilities but rather applied traditional community of interests standard)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(where E refused to bargain on ground that Bd certified RN unit should have included LVNs, Bd on remand must state why Ees' tasks and E's personnel policies mandated that RNs be classified as professional Ees and

LVNs as technical Ees, why RNs should not be preliminarily certified in same unit with LVNs with proviso of a Sonotone election, and how precisely it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional nonproliferation mandate)

Tomy Corporation, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Tomy Kogyo, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 1032 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

(Bd's legal conclusions concerning appropriateness of bargaining unit will be credited on appeal unless clearly arbitrary)

Tomy Corporation, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Tomy Kogyo, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 1032 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

(ct upheld Bd's determination that seasonal Ees with only a day of service with E were eligible to vote, but in ct's view whether seasonal Ees who have minimal time of employment with company can be said to have substantial mutual interest with permanent Ees in working conditions is questionable; however ct's review of a Bd determination that particular bargaining unit is appropriate is narrowly circumscribed; and here ct did not find abuse of discretion by Bd, and Bd's other factual findings were supported by substantial evidence)

Alaska Statebank v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1285 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(assuring Ees of free exercise of their rights is paramount criterion in determining what will be bargaining unit. Bd's judgment as to what bargaining unit will serve this purpose will rarely be disturbed on appeal. Because this is area where special expertise is needed, Bd has exceptionally broad discretion in determining appropriate or capricious, Bd's legal conclusion - that unit is appropriate or inappropriate-will be credited on appeal)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(Bd has discretion to define appropriate bargaining unit and should not be overturned unless it has abused its discretion)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(ct will not disturb Bd's (unit) determination unless there has been abuse of discretion and bargaining unit is clearly inappropriate; issue of bargaining unit determination is w/i particular expertise of Bd)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(unit of power station Ees only who produced electricity for oil production complex in Alaska, appropriate, since they share community of interest, have their own separate work station, supervision, and no interchange with other Ees; Bd only required to pick appropriate unit not most appropriate unit)

Beth Israel Hospital and Geriatric Center v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 697 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1982)

(en banc ct held Bd must determine, when certifying bargaining unit in health care institutions, whether unit is appropriate w/o resorting to presumption that shifts to E burden of showing proffered unit is appropriate, and Bd must state why unit it chooses complies with Congress' admonition; Bd cannot rely on E's failure to show that units are inappropriate; if Bd declines to redetermine whether an appropriate unit was selected, then that issue is not addressed at ULP proceeding, and thus Federal Rule of Evidence 301 would not apply and E could challenge unit selection only through judicial review)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(Bd has been granted broad discretion in determining appropriate bargaining units, and its decisions will be set aside only shown to be arbitrary or capricious)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(ct must insure that Bd's exercise of discretion, as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining, is not unreasonable, arbitrary, unsupported by evidence, or in conflict with congressional intent)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)

(enforcement denied where Bd erred in accepting presumptively appropriate unit restricted to registered nurses at single facility of E's 3 hospitals in single city, since there was sufficient evidence adduced to sustain appropriateness of all professional unit excluding physicians; evidence was sufficient to sustain finding of inappropriateness of proposed unit had it been accepted)

Local 627, Operating Engineers v. N.L.R.B. 595 F.2d 844 (C.A.D.C., 1979)

(Bd's unit determinations will not be overturned by ct unless they are arbitrary and unreasonable, and ct may not substitute its own judgment for rationally supported position adopted by Bd which has discretion to choose an appropriate unit and select among several appropriate ones)

5935-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Living and Learning Centers, Inc. 652 F.2d 209 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(E must show Bd's unit determination was clearly not appropriate rather than that another unit determination would be more appropriate)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(Bd may not depend solely on traditional community of interest test when making unit determination for health care institution Ees but must give due consideration to congressional admonition against proliferation of bargaining units; Bd decision must clearly explain manner in which its unit determination... implement(s) or reflect(s) that admonition; Bd cannot leave its explanation to implication or argument of its counsel)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(ct cannot in first instance adjudicate whether certification of unit is consistent with congressional intent; nor can ct adequately review Bd's decision and order unless Bd discloses why certification of unit comports with necessity of preventing proliferation of bargaining units)

N.L.R.B. v. Frederick Memorial Hospital, Inc. 691 F.2d 191 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1982)

(ct remanded case involving Bd's certification of bargaining unit composed of registered nurses at hospital and denied enforcement of Bd's order, notwithstanding E's argument that legislative history of health care amendments established that only unit composed of all E's professional Ees was appropriate, where acceptance of such argument would deny Bd flexibility in unit determination that Congress intended to preserve; moreover, validity of unit of registered nurses was not foreclosed if Bd considered all relevant factors, including prevention of proliferation of bargaining units in reaching its decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Parnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(where Bd made unit determination, ct must inquire whether Bd acted w/i its discretion in assessing preponderance of circumstantial evidence under all relevant criteria)

L. M. Berry and Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 247 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)

(determination of appropriate bargaining unit under Sec. 9(b) lies largely w/i discretion of Bd, whose decision, if not final, is rarely to be disturbed)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbus Hi, Inc., d/b/a Columbus Hilton Inn 652 F.2d 614 (C.A. 6, Feb 1981)

(Bd did not abuse its discretion in including educable mentally retarded Ees in bargaining unit)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)

(Bd's unit determination will not be overturned unless it is arbitrary and unreasonable)

N.L.R.B. v. C & D Foods, Inc. 626 F.2d 578 (C.A. 7, July 1980)

(Bd not required to choose most appropriate unit but only to choose appropriate unit w/i range of several units in given factual situation; ct has recognized that Bd has vast discretion in deciding appropriate unit)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(Bd may give same effect to stipulation in R case that Es were joint Es as it gives to litigated determination)

5935-5000 Supervisory status of employee

Maine Yankee Atomic Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 347 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(shift operating supervisors (SOS) at nuclear power plant found statutory supervisors where they: are in charge of control room, required to be there at all times, give responsible directions requiring use of independent judgment to two lower level classes, salaries 17 percent higher than lower level Ees, attend management meetings; responsibility level high due to complex, criterial character of job requirements; fact that SOS must inform his supervisor if emergency occurs does not strip him of authority to act)

Maine Yankee Atomic Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 624 F.2d 347 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(Bd must not ignore E job description which gave Ee-supervisory status where record contained real evidence as to Ee's supervisory duties)

United States Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 286 (C.A. 3, Mar 19, 1981)

(E's Ees who attended special summer school which prepared Ees to take Coast Guard licensing examination which would qualify passing applicants for supervisory positions, held to be supervisory trainees, since students attending school for purpose of becoming licensed officers, that is, nonbargaining unit Ees)

Monongahela Power Company v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 608 (C.A. 4, 1981)

(control room foremen (CRF's) found supervisors where they are in charge of control room and thus operation of entire power plant; they coordinate activities of operators and maintenance men during startup and shutdown, act quickly and independently in emergency situations; therefore fact that they do not have authority with regard to hiring, firing, etc. is not controlling as test for supervisory status is disjunctive)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that foreman at sheet metal contractor was supervisor where he made recommendations to owners of E about who they should assign to particular jobs, spent 75% of his time checking on jobs to see how they were progressing, assigned Ees to work, asked Ees to put in overtime and transferred Ees from one job to another on owners' orders)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(on question of supervisory status of LPNs at nursing home, Bd must determine: Do LPN activities respecting patient care involve independent professional judgment? If not LPNs properly included in unit. If yes, and that independent professional judgment exercised primarily in connection with patient care, not in interest of her E, then LPNs should be included; however, if judgment exercised in interest of her E, then supervisor and not included in unit)

Beverly Enterprises, dba Beverly Manor Convalescent Centers 661 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)

(1974 amendments did not alter the pertinent law, or change way in which Bd should approach question of supervisory status of health care professionals)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)

(notwithstanding RD decision in representation case was still pending before Bd, Bd's findings in ULP case of E-Ee relationship and appropriate unit was proper since issue was relevant to Bd's request for bargaining order and fully litigated below; Bd's findings supported by substantial evidence where it showed E's full and centralized control over Ees and Ees had common interest necessary to comprise appropriate unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(Bd shall be affirmed in its determination if its findings supported by substantial evidence. If, when so viewed in its entirety, record contains such relevant evidence as reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion, ct must accept findings)

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 878 (C.A. 7, Aug 1981)

(ct found inapposite cases cited by Bd in support of its decision that system supervisors at electrical utility were supervisors, finding that Bd's asserted distinctions between cited cases and case herein reflected only semantic differences; Bd decisions, relied upon by Bd, were undermined by denial of enforcement in such cases; in respect to ct decisions concerning supervisory independent discretion, Bd's view was clearly contrary to existing ct law; and Bd relied on case which did not provide sufficient grounds on which ct could base conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotto's I.G.A. 656 F.2d 290 (C.A. 8, 1981)

(ct must give deference to Bd's determination on this issue. Ct agreed with Bd and ALJ that individual in charge of meat department at grocery store superviser w/i Act, since he exercised independent judgment with regard to work functions where he set hours, successfully recommended pay raises and reprimands)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(ct must accept Bd's decision (concerning Ee's supervisory status) if it is supported by record and has reasonable basis in law)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(to qualify as supervisor, it is only necessary that person supervise statutory Ees directly or indirectly through chain of command)

5935-7500 Independent contractor status

Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 862 (C.A.D.C.)

(Bd instructed to apply same general agency principles as would cts in determining whether or not individual (cab driver) is an Ee or an independent contractor)

5942 CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS AND CERTIFICATION OF UNIONS

5942-0100 Generally

Hall-Brooke Hospital, a division of Hall-Brooke Foundation, Inc. 645 F.2d 158 (C.A. 2, Mar 31, 1981)

(in reviewing Bd's action in not setting aside election to which objections were raised allegedly because of improper use of campaign material, ct noted that Bd is entrusted with broad discretion in creating and enforcing standards to ensure fair election)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(R elections are not to be set aside lightly)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

(where first election was only was only referendum on whether Ees desired separate representation for unit and second election was held to determine which U would be Ees' bargaining representative, second election was not a runoff, and Bd properly permitted more than two choices on ballot)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(election will be invalidated only if material fact has been misrepresented, opponent has no opportunity to reply and election process is impaired)

Worley Mills, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 362 (C.A. 10, July 1982)

(Bd has broad discretion in supervising elections and will not be overturned unless record shows interference was present to extent that inference can be drawn that conduct materially affected election)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(Bd will conduct R election if: (1) involved E's business affects commerce; (2) qcr exists; (3) group of Ees which U seeks to represent is appropriate unit; and (4) petitioner has made sufficient showing of interest to justify holding election)

5942-2000 Mechanics of election

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)

(designation of U official as observer at election does not warrant overturning election absent evidence official engaged in improper conduct while acting in that capacity)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(acts not attributable to U warrant setting aside election if acts disrupted voting procedure or destroyed atmosphere necessary to (Ees') exercise of free choice in R election)

Summa Corporation d/b/a Frontier Hotel v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 293 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1980)

(where breach of election agreement occurs, results of election should be overturned only if breach is material or prejudicial)

5942-4000 Counting of ballots

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)

(ballot printed in Spanish and cast by Spanish speaking Ee with word NO written in both SI and NO boxes held valid, since intent of voter was free from doubt)

5942-6000 Rulings on challenges

N.L.R.B. v. Boston Beef Co., Inc. 652 F.2d 223 (C.A. 1, July 1981)

(ct's standard of review concerning challenged ballot is restricted to analysis of whether Bd abused its discretion in sustaining challenge and certifying U)

New England Lumber Division of Diamond International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)

(Bd has broad discretion to interpret ambiguities in Stipulation for Certification Upon Consent Election and here stipulation provided that observers must be nonsupervisory Ees of E (division of large company) and U's use of Ee, U president employed at another division of company, as observer found consistent with terms of stipulation)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(where 2 supervisors signed U authorization cards and voted, subject to challenge, in election, this is not sufficient misconduct to warrant setting aside election; their activity was minor and they did not threaten or coerce other Ees to vote for U)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(ct looks only to see if Bd has reasonably exercised its discretion and will not interfere (in election process) except in cases of glaring discrimination or abuse)

5942-8000 Rulings on objections

N.L.R.B. v. Morgan Health Care Center, Inc. 618 F.2d 127 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(ct will reverse Bd's decision in regard to alleged interference with election only where Bd has abused discretion)

N.L.R.B. v. U. S. Cablevision Corp. 614 F.2d 341 (C.A. 2) (1980)
(whether hearing on objections required or not, ct stated conduct of representation elections is the very architype of a purely administrative function with no quasi about it, concerning which cts should not interfere save for the most glaring discrimination or abuse however, if party demonstrates by prima facie evidence existence of substantial and material factual issues which if resolved in its favor, would require setting aside election hearing is required)

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 435 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(where objections involve extemedly close election, even minor misconduct cannot be summarily excused on ground that it could not have influenced election)

Jamesway Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 63 (C.A. 3, Mar. 1982)
(ct, in determining whether particular incident so disrupted election as to warrant setting it aside, must satisfy itself that BD's determination regarding impact of incident at issue is supported by substantial evidence on record considered as whole; ct rejected Bd contention that proper standard of review in instant case was whether Bd acted arbitrarily in exercise of its discretion)

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(ct must consider validity of certification where Bd's decision that E was guilty of ULP (in refusing to bargain) was premised on certification of election)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where RD denied hearing on E's objection to election on ground that rank-and-file Ee was U agent whose electioneering activities influenced co-workers outside polling place while they were waiting to vote; RD failed to assume truth of E's allegation and, instead, substituted facts gleaned from his ex parte investigation for E's allegation, and thereby completely controverted E's allegation; as result, RD's findings were not only not supported by evidence but, even more seriously, they precluded E from participating in evidentiary hearing)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's assertions, in support of objection to election in effort to obtain hearing on objection overruled by RD, were more than sufficient to prima facie warrant setting aside election where E's proffer was neither conclusory nor vague, referred to specific events (time, place, and conversations), and specifically identified person whose conduct was being challenged)

Anchor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 292 (C.A. 3, Mar 20, 1981)
(in order to obtain evidentiary hearing objector's proffer of evidence must prima facie warrant setting aside election, the proffer may not be conclusory or vague; it must point to specific events and specific people, on the other hand, an evidentiary hearing is not required when, if all evidence proffered by objecting party is accepted as true, no ground for produced which would warrant setting aside election)

N.L.R.B. v. Carroll Contracting and Ready-Mix, Inc. 636 F.2d 111 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(acts not attributable to U warrant setting aside election if acts disrupted voting procedure or destroyed atmosphere necessary to (Ees') exercise of free choice in R election)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(RD must make available relevant information discovered in course of investigation of representation election, at least to extent that E has pointed him toward it, whether it favors successful party or objector regardless of whether it was referred to by objectors affidavits or is independently turned up by investigation)

ATR Wire and Cable Company v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 188 (C.A. 6, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that Bd abused its discretion by adopting RD's report on objections to election since RD failed to transmit U affidavits obtained in camera to Bd upon which RD relied)

Mid America Media, Inc., WTRX-AM v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 17 (C.A. 6, Oct 1981)
(no hearing required, since objections to R election did not raise substantial and material factual issues)

Randall, Burkart/Randall Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 951 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(ct affd Bd's findings of unlawful refusal to bargain with certified U where Bd properly overruled E's objections to representation election; U agents did not engage in improper campaign activities, innocuous and isolated events of misconduct during critical period were not sufficient to vacate election nor significant to admit pre-ptn events of misconduct, and there was no evidence proffered to demonstrate that these occurances interfered with voters' choice or impugned integrity of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Curtis Noll Corporation, Curtis Industries Division 634 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied and E's objections to consent election remanded to Bd for further consideration where evidence relied upon by RD concerning determination of E's objections was not transmitted to Bd, hence was not transmitted to ct; ct held that Bd had abused its discretion by adopting report of RD when RD failed to transmit to Bd evidence relied upon by RD)

N.L.R.B. v. Ohio Masonic Home 620 F.2d 138 (C.A. 6, 1980)
order enforced and election upheld where E did not sustain burden of establishing that Bd acted arbitrarily, capriciously, and abused its discretion in overruling objections and ordering certification)

N.L.R.B. v. RJR Archer Inc., Filmco Division 617 F.2d 161 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where E filed objections to election based on U misconduct and filed affidavits of supervisory Ees substantiative allegations but RD, w/o hearing, recommended certification of election, Bd's adoption of recommendation w/o ordering hearing or having before it complete Regional Office file constitutes on abuse of discretion as being arbitrary and capricious; certification set aside and remanded to Bd for hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 680 F.2d 1166 (C.A. 7, June 1982)
(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order, set aside certification, and remanded case to Bd for appropriate action where Bd had asopted RD's findings and conclusions as to objections to election w/o seeing evidence relied on by RD)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)
(for review of Bd's decision regarding objections to election, standard is whether Bd acted w/i wide degree of discretion vested in it by Congress regarding R matters)

N.L.R.B. v. All-Weather Architectural Aluminum, Inc. 692 F.2d 76 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(where E only supplied partial list until a few days before election and then complied and U received complete list on day before election, U was precluded from using list in any effective manner and Bd did not abuse discretion in overturning election)

N.L.R.B. v. Eskimo Radiator Mfg. Co. 688 F.2d 1315 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1982)
(closeness of vote is only one factor Bd and cts consider in scrutinizing pre-election conduct)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(mtn for reconsideration after election held must be supported by prima facie evidence that presents substantial and materiel issues which warrant setting aside election since once completed, Bd-conducted election is presumed legitimate and standard for reversal of BD's denial of hearing on post election objection is abuse of discretion)

J.F. Hink & Son v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 729(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(post-election objections based on U's (or international's) merger or change of affiliation with another U is not automatically entitled to hearing addressing is of continuity of representation i.e., whether successor U is contínciation of elected U, or substantially different organization but objection must be supported by substantial and material evidence standard applicable to any post-election objection)

Spring City Knitting Company v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 1011 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(abuse of discretion standard is to be applied to denials by Bd of evidentiary hearings on election objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Biomedical Resources Corporation of Northern California 624 F.2d 192(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(party challenging election has heavy burden to show coercion took place and is not entitled to evidentiary hearing unless it supplies prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(contention by E, in objecting to election, that U had created racially inflamatory atmosphere precluding fair election, rejected, where E failed to supply prima facie evidence presenting substantial and material factual issues which would warrant setting aside election)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 127 (C.A. 10, Sept. 1981)
(hearing required on objections only if request shows by prima facie evidence existence of substantial and material factual dispute which, if resolved in its favor, would require setting aside election. No hearing required where Bd assumes truth of party's contentions, and then rules as matter of law that, assuming facts alleged, conduct does not warrant setting aside election)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(ct looks only to see if Bd has reasonably exercised its discretion and will not interfere (in election process) except in cases of glaring discrimination or abuse)

5944 DETERMINATIONS AS TO EFFECTS OF ULPS ON REPRESENTATION ELECTIONS

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)
(ct must consider validity of certification where Bd's decision that E was guilty of ULP (in refusing to bargain) was premised on certification of election)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(Bd can satisfy requirement of ct to articulate factors (not just conclusions) that justify imposition of bargaining order over remedy of ordering new election by adopting findings and reasonings of ALJ if latter provides statement of reasons; furthermore, merely changing effective date of bargaining order from what ALJ set did not require separate statement by Bd; statement required to assist reviewing ct in determining whether standards of Gissel have been satisfied)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(bargaining order appropirate where E has engaged in ULPs and at one point U had support of majority of Ees)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(Bd not required to give elaborate explanation of factors warranting bargaining order but to estimate impact of ULPs on liklihood of fair rerun-election)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 634 F.2d 215 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(Bd did not abuse discretion in determining that U's offer to purchase gasoline for Ees who transported other workers to U meetings and/or campaigned on behalf of U at their fellow Ees' homes did not have such tendency to influence election that new election would be required)

Anchortank, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E who refused to bargain by making unilateral changes in mandatory subjects on ground that election is invalid does so at his own risk, and if election challenge proves fruitless, order by Bd based on refusal to bargain will be enforced)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(enforcement denied where Bd improperly granted summary judgment in ULP case despite E's showings of atmosphere of fear and coercion that would tend to interfere with election and possible Savair violations; hearing was required on E's objections)

N.L.R.B. v. Claxton Manufacturing Company, Inc. 613 F.2d 1364 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(although it would be difficult to make sufficient showing to have election set aside where U won election by wide margin, ct must consider possibility that objectionable conduct itself contributed to margin of victory)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(Ee turnover between ULPs and Bd order is relevant in determining whether Gissel order should be used but Bd not required to reopen record to determine whether fair election could be held regardless of turnover since time of hearing where other evidence, such as, card majority, past union activity, and E responses to such activity support such finding)

Randall, Burkart/Randall Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 951 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(ct affd Bd's findings of unlawful refusal to bargain with certified U where Bd properly overruled E's objections to representation election; U agents did not engage in improper campaign activities, innocuous and isolated events of misconduct during critical period were not sufficient to vacate election nor significant to admit pre-ptn events of misconduct, and there was no evidence proffered to demonstrate that these occurances interfered with voters' choice or impugned integrity of election)

Seligman and Associates, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 639 F.2d 307 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(notwithstanding RD decision in representation case was still pending before Bd, Bd's findings in ULP case of E-Ee relationship and appropriate unit was proper since issue was relevant to Bd's request for bargaining order and fully litigated below; Bd's findings supported by substantial evidence where it showed E's full and centralized control over Ees and Ees had common interest necessary to comprise appropriate unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Ely's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotto's I.G.A. 656 F.2d 290 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(ct enforced Bd's bargaining order; nothwithstanding Bd and ALJ's statement of factual finding as basis for order less than desireable and presented marginal case for bypassing election procedure, where record as whole supported order, in view of U's majority and fact E's location in small town with limited labor market made possibility of erasing ULP's by traditional methods slight; further, after effects of ULPs have worn off, Ees can disavow U by filing R ptn)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(it is for Bd, and not the cts, to make determination based on its expert estimate as to effects on election process of ULPs of varying intensity)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(bargaining orders not limited to exceptional cases marked by outrageous and pervasive ULPs ... SCt approved Bd's use of bargaining orders in less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practices which nonetheless still have tendency to undermine majority strength and impede election processes)

Anja Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement of order directing second election based on finding of 8(a)(3) violation, denied where finding was not supported by record evidence; Bd's contention that election order was not properly reviewable pursuant to ptn for review here because R proceedings are reviewable only upon a charge that an E's refusal to bargain with the certified U violates 8(a)(5), rejected, since order for second election must fall with unsupported ULP finding on which it is based)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(bargaining order appropriate where Bd's determination that decertification election precluded by E informing Ees it intended to operate w/o U and suggesting Ees either resign from U or seek work elsewhere, implying that better benefits coming w/o U and unilaterally implemented benefits supported by substantial evidence; contention order inappropriate since would impose iminority U on Ees rejected, as contention based on letter signed by purported majority of Ees which expressed opposition to U since letter written after hearing and mtn to reopen proceeding to permit introduction of letter denied)

Episcopal Homes Foundation dba Los Gatos Meadows, a California non-profit corporation v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 888(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 5, 1981)
(no hearing required of E's objections where E failed to make prima facie showing of U involvement in alleged threats or vandalism or that conduct actually affected any votes)

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(determination of whether bargaining order warranted is task, not for reviewing cts, but for Bd based on its expert estimate as to effects on election of the ULPs)

5949 JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTE DETERMINATIONS

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)
(Bd has express authority to settle work assignment disputes as stated in Section 10(k) whenever person has engaged in Section 8(b)(4)(D) ULP)

Retail Store Employees Union, Local 1001 v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 280 (C.A.D.C.)
(Bd's finding that land title companies were neutrals with respect to U's dispute with title insurance company, whose policies of title insurance they sold, and accounted for 93% of revenues of land title companies, affirmed where findings of neutrality were based on substantial evidence)

5953 SECONDARY BOYCOTT DETERMINATIONS

N.L.R.B. v. International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, et al. 447 US 490 (U.S. SCt. June 1980)
(lawful work preservation agreement must pass two tests: (1) it must have as objective preservation of work traditionally performed by Ees represented by U; and (2) contracting E must have power to give Ees work in question - the so-called right of control test)

5953—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, et al. 447 US 490 (U.S. SCt. June 1980)

(work of stuffing and stripping containers used in shipping goods at waterfront facilities must focus on bargaining unit Ees' work, not on work of other Ees who may be doing same or similar work, and (Bd) must examine relationship between work as it existed before innovation (the container revolution) and as agreement proposes to preserve it)

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(work preservation doctrine provides generally that efforts to preserve work for Ees displaced by technological innovation (in instant case, containerized shipping) are not unlawful secondary activities and that U-management contracts with same purpose are not proscribed hot cargo agreements)

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(Bd and cts are required, in course of deciding cases, to apply general congressional proscription (against secondary boycotts) in various specific contexts: e.g., in cases where there are ally Es; in common situs situations; in consumer picketing cases; and in context of work preservation agreements such as those in instant case)

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(under NLRA's proscription of secondary boycotts, work preservation agreements, by which parties seek to preserve work for contracting E's Ees when nature or location of that work has changed due to technological advances, as well as primary collective action enforcing their terms, are not considered illegal)

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(ct's understanding of legality of work preservation agreements controlled by National Woodwork Manufacturers Association v. NLRB, 386 U.S. 612 (1967) and NLRB v. Enterprise Association of Steam, etc. Pipefitters, 429 U.S. 507 (1977))

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(Bd erred as matter of law by ignoring traditional work patterns when defining work in contraversy; being work of loading and unloading ocean-borne cargo)

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(under National Woodworking 386 U.S. 612 (1967) all surrounding circumstances must be examined and this requires inquiry into work patterns both before and after technological innovation is introduced rather than just post-innovation work patterns because to do only latter would remove any opportunity for pre-innovation workers to preserve their work and Bd must show that new work is sufficiently unrelated to old work before ignoring traditional work patterns)

5956 REMEDIAL ORDER PROVISIONS

(although Bd has broad discretion in devising remedial orders, and relationship of remedy to policy is peculiarly a matter for administrative competence, Bd's choice of remedy does not constitute a blank check for arbitrary action; ct's role in reviewing ptns for enforcement under 10(e) is not that of a passive conduit)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(Bd has great discretion in fashioning appropriate remedies which will effectuate policies of Act and reviewing ct is required to grant great deference to Bd's remedial order unless order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of Act; however, it is also plainly true where ct reverses underlying ULP finding, corresponding remedy will not be enforced; also, it is implicit in abuse of discretion review that the remedy must be in reasonable proportion to violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 1445, United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, AFL-CIO (Gallahue's Supermarkets) 647 F.2d 214 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)

(Bd's discretion in framing remedies is broad and in absence of abuse of that discretion ct should defer to Bd's judgment)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(bargaining order not warranted where ct overturned ALJ's finding of hallmark violation - granting of unusually large wage increases - and believed remaining practices were insufficient to justify bargaining order; remaining unfair practices were numerous but fell into less coercive category and almost all consisted of implied rather than overt threats or promises and thus were less likely to have strong and lasting effect; ct also noted good deal of Ee turnover in bargaining unit from time of hearings to time of Bd's bargaining order)

N.L.R.B. v. Jamaica Towing, Inc. 632 F.2d 208 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(bargaining order not warranted where E's ULPs consisted of interrogations, expression of opposition to U, threats of less overtime, stricter enforcement of workrules and implied promises that some of Ees' demands would be met as none of E's statements were ever put into effect and 38 percent of workforce left unit for reasons unrelated to E's ULPs; moreover, Bd, on remand, failed to elicit evidence regarding changed composition of workforce and whether Bd order might impair Ee rights, doing more harm than good)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 928 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(although granting enforcement of order to c/d underlying violations, ct denied enforcement of bargaining order where record revealed neither lingering inhibitory effect nor likelihood of recurrence, and as such, did not warrant extraordinary remedy of bargaining order)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(in absence of Bd orders for reinstatement and backpay, sole effect of finding of ULP is issuance of c/d order which prevents similar (violative) activity in future; no hardship to E where Bd retroactively changed its position regarding presence or absence of stenographers at negotiating sessions, now found to constitute non-mandatory subject of bargaining)

Latrobe Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 171 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(where strike not ULP strike, ct will not enforce Bd's order of reinstatement and backpay; record was devoid of evidence that impasse over nonmandatory subject (presence of stenographers at negotiating sessions) contributed to U's decision to strike)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(purpose of backpay orders is to make Ee whole for discrimination against him and to deter E from further unlawful activity)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Bd's choice of remedy in matter w/i its own discretion, open only to limited review; Bd's choice of remedy should stand unless it can be shown that order (to pay U's reasonable negotiating expenses and Bd's and U's reasonable litigation costs) is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of the Act)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(ct recognizes that Bd can order E to cease ULPs at its other plants on proof of violation at one location when company-wide policy is involved)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Bd's remedial order concerning company-wide dissemination of notice and access to company plants, not punitive since notice and access order was designed to counteract use E made at other plants of its ULPs in bargaining at instant plant)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(ct found no abuse of discretion in Bd's refusal to extend certification for two years; if E complied with bargaining order, one more year of bargaining should suffice; if not, it will again be charged and year will not have begun to run)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 881 (C.A. 4)

(where Bd granted extraordinary relief, applying corporate-wide relief for acts committed at single plent, ct upheld decision as Bd acted w/i its discretion to remedy ULPs)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)

(in relocation non-Gissel case, composition of bargaining unit is determined at time of relocation (or after reasonable shakedown period) otherwise, situation would create undisirable incentive to delay through litigation)

N.L.R.B. v. Delchamps, Inc. 653 F.2d 225 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)

(Bd's R/O should not be altered by ct unless order was patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

5956—Cont.

Brown & Root, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 816 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(function of Bd, not cts, to fashion remedies)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)
(in case not involving remand ct should evaluate appropriateness of bargaining order as of date of ULP proceedings, not as of date matter comes before ct)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's remedies of ordering E and multi-E association to cease and desist to recognize or deal with supervisor as U official and ordering E not to permit supervisor to serve as U official held proper)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd's actions to remedy U's failure to represent Ee enforced; Bd set aside collective bargaining agreement, decertified U, and ordered U to make Ee whole for differential between journeyman's scale and his actual wages for entire time of his employment with E)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(Bd ordered proper remedy in revoking U certification where U did not fairly represent all those in bargaining unit)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(ct has held that because of unusual nature of Gissel bargaining order Bd should look to events subsequent to ULP in order to determine appropriateness of (bargaining) order)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(bargaining orders are always remedial and are designed to set matters as they would have been in absence of E's misconduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Travis Meat and Seafood Company, Inc. 653 F.2d 233 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(order requiring E to make Ees whole for loss of earnings due to discontinuance of merit wage program not enforced, where evidence does not show that amount and timing of merit increases created any pattern or practice beyond one year employment period but were awarded on ad hoc basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Sumner Home For The Aged 293 F.2d 754 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where U agreed in advance to accept whatever proposals E submitted covering certain mandatory subjects of bargaining that remained unresolved, R/O requiring E to propose contract terms covering these unresolved issues and to execute contract if U agreed to proposals, denied enforcement, since it is doubtful U representative has legal authority to make any such commitment or that Bd or ct has authority to enforce such contract; furthermore, since U free to reject contract there was no contract agreed to by both parties)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 1052 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(no violation where grievant failed to show grievance violated bargaining agreement; Bd erred when it held only necessary for grievance to be not clearly frivolous, Bd contention that U is not its function to decide merits of grievance rejected; since Bd must pass on merits of claim to extent affects U's liability. Otherwise, assessment of backpay against U would be speculive and punitive)

United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 1052 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(Bd has broad authority to fashion remedial orders. Such awards will not be disturbed unless it can be shown that the order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of the Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(standard of review of Bd's remedies is abuse of discretion)

N.L.R.B. v. Mutual Maintenance Service Co., Inc. 632 F.2d 33 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(although ct affirmed Bd's finding that U adherent was discharged because of his U activities, ct denied portion of Bd order concerning reinstatement of Ee where Ee defrauded federal government and former E of unemployment compensation benefits, notwithstanding that current E was aware and even encouraged this Ee to work for E under alias while collecting unemployment compensation)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(ct recognized that the consequence of finding successorship under Golden State Bottling Co., successor E must remedy ULPs committed by predecessor although successor E had not been found guilty of committing any ULPs itself)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1095 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)
(make whole relief, including back pay and reinstatement, improper where Ees were discharged for admittedly stealing goods from E and not for requesting U assistance at investigatory interview; Section 10(c) of Act, precludes back pay order and reinstatement under such circumstances)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(bargaining orders not limited to exceptional cases marked by outrageous and pervasive ULPs ... SCt approved Bd's use of bargaining orders in less extraordinary cases marked by less pervasive practices which nonetheless still have tendency to undermine majority strength and impede election processes)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(while Bd's selection of remedy for ULPs entitled to great deference, cts role in reviewing remedial orders not merely that of rubber stamp, and ct held it was abuse of Bd's discretion to issue remedial order to remedy interrogation where Bd did not seriously challenge ALJ's finding that interrogation was isolated and minimal)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(Bd has broad discretion in fashioning remedies to effectuate Act's policies in light of circumstances of each case and ct will overturn Bd's choice of dues reimbursement remedy only where reimbursement is shown to be punitive rather than compensatory or where Bd orders reimbursement absent showing that Ees were coerced in their choice of bargaining representative)

N.L.R.B. v. Local No. 12, Operating Engineers 673 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(Bd order requiring U to reimburse E for monies it unwilling contributed to U-trust funds for its president and vice-president enforced where Bd determined that U had committed ULP by requiring E to contribute; however, ct cannot require Bd to order E reimbursed for similar contributions to trusts which were not subject of ULP charge)

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where R/O improperly prescribed substantive provision for future agreement between E and U; namely, effective date of agreement be made retroactive to effective date of agreement between E and 3 Us representing other units of E, notwithstanding in previous successful negotiations, all 4 Us had conducted joint bargaining with E association of which E had properly withdrawn from)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antoninino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(bargaining order appropriate where Bd's determination that decertification election precluded by E informing Ees it intended to operate w/o U and suggesting Ees either resign from U or seek work elsewhere, implying that better benefits coming w/o U and unilaterally implemented benefits supported by substantial evidence; contention order inappropriate since would impose minority U on Ees rejected, as contention based on letter signed by purported majority of Ees which expressed opposition to U since letter written after hearing and mtn to reopen proceeding to permit introduction of letter denied)

N.L.R.B. v. Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 641 F.2d 794 (C.A. 9, Apr 6, 1981)
(Bd's sua sponte adoption of unargued remedies not statutory extraordinary circumstances under Section 10(e) that would allow E to assert objection for first time on appeal, since rehearing (before Bd) was available to E; on appeal after Bd rehearing, ct would have benefit of Bd's expert opinion when ct reviewed Bd's determination)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 1272 (C.A. 9, Nov 1980)
(Bd's order requiring E to cease and desist threatening to cause arrest of picketers in its building too broad and Bd ordered to revise order to place limits on U's picketing which will accomodate U's Section 7 rights and E's private property rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(Bd has great latitude in determining whether E's ULP vitiates fair election process, thus requiring bargaining order based on majority of U authorization cards)

Warehouse Union, Local 860, Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1022 (C.A.D.C., Apr 1981)
(Bd remedy ordering U to make clerical Ees whole for their loss of wages (due to U's unlawful conduct) upheld, since award of backpay is w/i authority of Bd and in keeping with policies of Act)

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(imposition of remedies is matter of special administrative competence, subject to very limited judicial review; selection of remedies made by Bd must stand, unless it can be shown that the order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate the policies of the Act)

5956—Cont.

United Steelworkers of America v. N.L.R.B. 646 F.2d 616 (C.A.D.C., Feb 1981)
(enforcement of stringent access remedy denied where Bd failed to make findings that corporatewide remedies were necessary to offset coercive or chilling effects caused by E conduct at issue, even as that conduct was magnified by existence of previous violations of Act)

Ardizzoni v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 130 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(clause in decree (E, its officers, agents, successors, and assigns, abide by and perform) effectuating Bd order necessary as integral part of judgment issued by ct upholding and enforcing Bd order; w/o such direction Bd incapable of effectuating its ct affirmed order)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)
(bargaining order not justified where Bd did not balance E's, U's and Ees rights in determining necessity of order; Bd failed to consider whether Ees wanted U representation and here an election was held 2 years after E committed ULP and U was defeated)

N.L.R.B. v. Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 691 F.2d 1023 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1982)
(where E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by discontinuing contributions to health and welfare fund after collective-bargaining agreement expired and Bd found liability for period running to date of its Order, case remanded to Bd for determination of whether because parties resumed bargaining after unilateral change they did not reach impasse at some point. E's liability will run from date of change to date when parties execute new agreement or reach lawful impasse)

Building Material and Dump Truck Drivers, Teamsters Local Union No. 36, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 759 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1981)
(Bd remedial order may not be disturbed unless it can be shown that order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of Act)

5963 BACKPAY DETERMINATIONS

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct cutoff backpay liability of E to economic striker who was unlawfully discharged from time Ee resigned but allowed backpay from time of discharge until date of resignation as Bd exceeded its authority to remedy violations)

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct held proper Bd order of reinstatement and back pay from date of unlawful discharge for Ee until offered reinstatement by E as consistent with remedial policies of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Columbia Building Materials, Inc. 624 F.2d 193(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(when backpay order is entered it should stand unless order is patent attempt to achieve ends other than those which can fairly be said to effectuate policies of Act; backpay order involved here, which does no more than return affected Ees to economic state which they would have enjoyed absent unilateral wage modification, cannot be said to achieve ends other than those which would effectuate Act)

Consolidated Freightways v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 790 (C.A.D.C., Dec. 1981)
(ct remanded case, brought before ct on issue of whether backpay award was tolled by E's conditional offer of reinstatement, for Bd to explicate circumstances, if any, under which an inquiry into whether an Ee would have rejected valid offer of reinstatement; Bd failed to distinguish or overrule cases that emphasize actual reasons why Ee refuses an offer of reinstatement even when validity of offer itself is challenged)

5970 INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

N.L.R.B. v. Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corp. 454 US 170 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1981)
(construction of a statute by those charged with its execution should be followed unless there are compelling indications that it is wrong, especially where Congress has refused to alter the administrative construction)

Donald Schriver, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 859 (C.A.D.C. 1980)
(ct held Bd's interpretation of scope of construction industry proviso to 8(e) was entirely consistent with its legislative history and purposes for which it was enacted; in matters of statutory construction ct is bound to give considerable deference to interpretation of statute by Bd)

Mary Thompson Hospital, Inc. 621 F.2d 858 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(Bd should heed congressional admonition to avoid fragmentation of units in health care facilities rather than applying traditional community of interest standards)

Ford Motor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 305 U.S. 364 (S. Ct US, 1979)
(in enacting Sec. 8(d), Congress delegated to Board primary responsibility of marking out scope of statutory language and of statutory duty to bargain; Bd's view that in-plant food prices and services are mandatory subjects of bargaining is entitled to considerable deference and should be enforced)

New York Telephone Co. et al. v. New York State Department of Labor, et al. 440 U.S. 519 (S Ct., 1979)
(NLRA does not preclude state from enacting unemployment compensation law which pays benefits to strikers notwithstanding fact that this law put majority of financial burden on struck E and enabled strikers to extend length of strike; Legislative history of NLRA indicates that Congress recognized potential conflict between state law and Act but did not intend to preempt that exercise of state power)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(while deference is to be given to agency's intepretation of statute it administers, it is cts that have final responsibility under constitution on matters of statutory interpretation)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(Bd's failure to conduct hearing was arbitrary, capricious and unlawful where its order denying E review, of issue of whether full-time faculty members of college were managerial or supervisory Ees, was based on its statutory interpretation which had been rejected by Ct of Appeals and Supreme Court)

N.L.R.B. v. Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 73 621 F.2d 1035 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(major concern of Congress in enacting 8(b)(1)(B) of NLRA, was to prevent Us from forcing Es into or out of multi-E bargaining units and to guarantee that E's bargaining representative would be completely faithful to E's desires)

N.L.R.B. v. Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 73 621 F.2d 1035 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(U activity prohibited by Section 8(b)(1)(B) includes: (1) picketing company in attempt to force E to dismiss labor relations consultant thought to be anti-U, (2) attempting to force Es to join or resign from multi-E bargaining associations, (3) attempting to force Es to select foremen from ranks of U members, (4) expelling U-member foreman from U for assigning unit work in violation of bargaining agreement, and (5) penalizing U members for performing nonU supervisory duties during strike and forbidding them from resigning from U to avoid further threats)

N.L.R.B. v. Electrical Workers, Local Union No. 73 621 F.2d 1035 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(ct found U's fining of its member for working in non-U shop and who was grievance arbiter for E, not violative, since U neither represented company's Ees nor had it demonstrated desire to represent such Ees; U had no incentive to either influence company's choice of bargaining representative or affect representative's loyalty to E; acts did not deprive E of loyal bargaining representative)

5977 INTERPRETATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

Kessler Institute For Rehabilitation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 138 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(Bd Rule, Sec. 102.114, provides, inter alia, maximum time period for Bd to receive documents with additional 3 day period allowed if Bd uses mail to serve notice of right to file documents, and further, if time period ends on Sunday or holiday (Saturday considered holiday), these days are not counted in response period and 3 day mailing period is tacked on beginning on 2nd day following such Sunday or holiday)

N.L.R.B. v. The Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, Inc. 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where RD determines that objections to election do not require hearing, RD, and not objecting party, is responsible for transmitting whole record (all evidence considered in reaching decision) to Bd for its review on appeal, notwithstanding R/R 102.69(g) places responsibility for submission of documents on objecting party)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)

5984 DISCRETIONARY ADMINISTRATIVE POLICIES

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(Bd's failure to conduct hearing was arbitrary, capricious and unlawful where its order denying E review, of issue of whether full-time faculty members of college were managerial or supervisory Ees, was based on its statutory interpretation which had been rejected by Ct of Appeals and Supreme Court)

5984—Cont.

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct found no abuse of discretion in Bd's refusal to extend certification for two years; if E complied with bargaining order, one more year of bargaining should suffice; if not, it will again be charged and year will not have begun to run)

Sohio Petroleum Co., a division of Sohio Natural Resources Co. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 223 (C.A. 9, June 1980)
(where first election was only was only referendum on whether Ees desired separate representation for unit and second election was held to determine which U would be Ees' bargaining representative, second election was not a runoff, and Bd properly permitted more than two choices on ballot)

N.L.R.B. v. Metro-Truck Body, Inc. 613 F.2d 746 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(Sec. 9(c)(1)(A) substantial interest requirement is not jurisdictional prerequisite to Bd action; rather it is administrative expedient only, adopted to enable Bd to determine for itself whether or not further proceedings and warranted)

Douglas Aircraft Company, a component of McDonnell Douglass Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 352 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(Bd must defer to arbitrator's award notwithstanding he clarified reasons for award after charge filed with RD and stated 2 independent reasons for denying backpay, one of which repugnant to Act; furthermore if reasoning behind award is susceptible to 2 interpretations, one permissable and one impermissible under Act, permissible one should be accepted in order to give arbitration hospitable acceptance)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(ct, in instant case, limited to question whether Bd abused its discretion in applying extraordinary circumstance rather than good cause standard to E's reasons for late filing of its answer)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 450 (C.A. 10, July 1981)
(ct must insure that Bd's exercise of discretion, as to what unit is appropriate for bargaining, is not unreasonable, arbitrary, unsupported by evidence, or in conflict with congressional intent)

5991 CONTRACT CONSTRUCTION

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)
(illegal promises will not be enforced in cases controlled by federal law; ct permits defendant to set up contract's illegality (as defense), on account of public interest)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(as principle of coterminous interpretation had been adopted by Bd at time contract was negotiated, ct inferred that inclusion of two no-strike clauses, one expressly tied to arbitration clause and one prohibiting all strikes, was intended to waive Ees' right to strike over unforseeable disputes including U fund's failure to pay insurance premiums)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(whether there is a law of the contract between parties once arbitrator decides issue and what effect, if any, is to be given precedent are not primary, if at all, questions for judicial resolution)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(although interpreting written instrument is matter of law in which ct is not obliged to follow interpretation of Bd, ct generally will exercise usual deference to Bd's expertise in this regard. Such deference extends only in so far as Bd's interpretation is supported by language of agreement and relevant and necessary extrinsic evidence)

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 956 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(ct rejected proposition implicit in Bd's conclusion that in face of U's unequivocal rejection of E's offer, E was somehow committed to all portions of the proposal as to which tentative agreement had been reached; that U could hold E to what U liked while rejecting that which it disapproved. Party may retract proposal before other side has accepted it)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(Bd's interpretation of contract terms entitled to deference from cts if interpretation is reasonable and not inconsistent with Act's policies)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(deference (from ct) is due Bd's interpretation of labor contracts because such contracts are different in nature and scope from ordinary commercial contracts and, as such, labor contract interpretation falls w/i area of Bd's special expertise)

District 1199E, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1102 (C.A.D.C.) (1980)
(unless Bd's construction of contract which differs from that of arbitrator is arbitrary or capricious Bd's interpretation is entitled to great weight)

6300 ADDUCTION OF ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

6301 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, and its Local Union No. 1566 662 F.2d 1044 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(cts generally have shown same deference to Bd as to district ct in its decisions with regard to whether to reopen record in particular case, and will not upset decision of Bd in those matters absent abuse of discretion)

6375 EVIDENCE WHICH MAY NOT BE ADDUCED

6375-2500 Cumulative evidence

Clearwater Finishing Company, a Division of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 464 (C.A. 4, Feb. 1982)
(ct held that ALJ's additional findings as evidence of E's bad faith outside enumerated allegations in unreasonably withholding dues checkoff, dilatory tactics during bargaining, and circulation of Ee handbook containing an anti-U statement cannot serve as basis of a determination of an ULP and therefore finding is invalid; moreover, finding that non-alleged facts are evidence of bad faith was merely cumulative and non-alleged facts were not necessary element of Bd's finding of bad faith)

6375-5000 Events subsequent to Board order

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd, not ct, must receive new evidence if it is proper for it to be received)

6800 CONTENTIONS NOT RAISED BEFORE BOARD

6801 GENERALLY

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's failure to request post-hearing reopening of record to receive additional evidence on issue not alleged in charge or amended complaint did not foreclose E from raising issue before courts where E amply preserved its appelate rights on issue in its exceptions to ALJ's decision)

6817 ISSUES NOT RAISED BEFORE BOARD WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED BY COURT

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 668 F.2d 661 (C.A. 2, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's contention that petitioner was precluded from raising particular claim in ptn for review because it had not previously challenged Bd's finding, rejected in view of Bd's statement in its decision which could only have been designed to rebut the claim that Bd contends petitioner did not make)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)
(Bd's refusal to decide either whether parties reached impasse on U's contract proposals, or whether there would be violation even if they did reach impasse not abuse of Bd's discretion, since GC did not include the issues in C and they were not fully litigated)

Amax Coal Company, a Division of Amax, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Mine Workers, Local No. 1854) 614 F.2d 872 (C.A. 3) (1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Maidsville Coal Company, Inc. 693 F.2d 1119 (C.A. 4, Nov. 1982)

The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 264 (C.A. 4, Oct 1981)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(although remedy issue, regarding reimbursement of Us for their share of rental cost of alternative meeting facilities for holding negotiations necessitated by E's refusal to hold negotiation meetings on its premises, was not fully litigated, ct considered such remedy issue on its merits, since GC and E litigated ALJ's finding that E violated Act by refusing to make its plant premises available for bargaining sessions)

6817—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1593, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 644 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, May 4, 1981)
(ct declined to consider lack of due process in issuance of Bd order requiring health, welfare, and pension fund to accept contributions from U in order to remedy U's discrimination against U member resulting in his loss of contractual fringe benefits; contention that task of recalculating benefits is an impossible one and costs thereof would be astronomical was not made herein until case was on appeal and then even not clearly presented until oral argument)

N.L.R.B. v. Fry Foods, Inc. 609 F.2d 267 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(contention that election should be invalidated because E found that supervisor was U supporter and had coercively influenced Ees to vote for U, rejected, since E failed to present evidence on the question at representation hearing and subsequent threats failed to object to certification of U or appeal results of election in timely fashion)

N.L.R.B. v. Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc., d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 690 F.2d 159 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)
(where E for first time on appeal raised issue that Bd should have excluded Ee from unit because he was supervisor's son, ct is w/o jurisdiction to consider issue)

N.L.R.B. v. Mr. B. IGA, Inc. 677 F.2d 32 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)
(ct agreed that objection made during course of representation proceeding must be reasserted in subsequent ULP case in order to be preserved for review by ct; E, during certification proceedings, initially raised, but later abandoned, its objection that managers' participation tainted election, and did not raise such objection in ULP case before Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Winco Petroleum Company and Cooper Oil Company, Inc., Successor Employer 668 F.2d 973 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(where successor was held obligated to remedy predecessor's ULPs, ct rejected successor's contention that such liability order would deprive it of due process because validity of underlying ULP charges against predecessor was not an issue in supplemental proceedings on successorship and should be enforced first before going against successor since successor did not raise this argument before Bd and had not advanced any extraordinary circumstances to excuse its failure to do so)

Tobey Fine Papers of Kansas City, Division of Distribix, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 841 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1981)
(E's claim that record did not support Bd's finding as to reason for withdrawal from multi-E bargaining association could not be considered by ct where E did not attempt to resist brief of GC made before Bd as to actual motivation for its withdrawal)

N.L.R.B. v. Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 641 F.2d 794 (C.A. 9, Apr 6, 1981)
(Bd's sua sponte adoption of unargued remedies not statutory extraordinary circumstances under Section 10(e) that would allow E to assert objection for first time on appeal, since rehearing (before Bd) was available to E; on appeal after Bd rehearing, ct would have benefit of Bd's expert opinion when ct reviewed Bd's determination)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 637 F.2d 698 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct will not consider whether Bd applied proper standard to determine if discharge violated Act where E did not raise issue before Bd or on appeal to ct)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(issue as to whether E's withdrawal from multi-E unit was permissible in light of separate agreement with U by another member of multi-E group w/o any protest by other members held not properly before ct where record was devoid of any information regarding what impact agreement had on other Es when separately contracting E continued working during strike; and, since distinction between permanent and interim agreements was not explored, ct could not make factual determination regarding matter for first time on record before it)

Harding Glass Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1330 (C.A. 10, Feb. 1982)
(ct declined to consider E's argument that its withdrawal from multi-E unit was justified because of separate agreement entered into with U by another member of multi-E group, where issue had not been raised by E at time of withdrawal and was never presented to ALJ or Bd but was raised later as an after thought)

R. W. Harmon & Sons, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 248 (C.A. 10, Nov. 1981)
(ct did not address E's claim that Bd abused its discretion in abandoning one facet of jurisdictional test where E did not raise issue until ULP proceeding; party cannot raise issue in ULP proceeding or on appeal that could have been, but was not raised in R proceeding, and E had not suggested any compelling circumstances which would make exception to rule applicable)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)
(failure of non-profit hospital, run by religious order, to raise before Bd in R proceeding constitutionality of Bd's assertion of jurisdiction on ground that it is religious organization exempt from governmental regulation under First Amendment, precluded hospital from raising issue before Bd or ct in ULP case. While statutory jurisdiction of Bd may be challenged at any time, facts upon which Bd determines it has jurisdiction may be challenged only upon timely exception, in absence of which Bd's findings are not open to attack in proceeding for enforcement)

6825 THEORY OF CASE NOT RELIED UPON BY BOARD WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED BY COURT

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(although Bd did not cite Wright Line case issued same day as this decision that test may be applied as Bd's analysis was consistent with Wright Line framework)

Construction Erectors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 801 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(ct will not rely on facts in Bd's brief to support Bd's order where Bd did not rely on such evidence to find that E had permanent and stable work force at time it signed Sec. 8(f) contract)

6833 OBJECTIONS NOT URGED BEFORE BOARD MAY NOT BE CONSIDERED

N.L.R.B. v. Fry Foods, Inc. 609 F.2d 267 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(contention that election should be invalidated because E found that supervisor was U supporter and had coercively influenced Ees to vote for U, rejected, since E failed to present evidence on the question at representation hearing and subsequent threats failed to object to certification of U or appeal results of election in timely fashion)

N.L.R.B. v. Blake Construction Co., Inc., etc. 663 F.2d 272 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied, notwithstanding Bd's contention that E is barred by Sec. 10(e) from raising due process claim because it failed to do so before Bd; E, in fact, excepted to ALJ's finding of 8(a)(5) violation at issue herein, even though not expressly asserting due process objections to conduct of hearing; although E's objections were not precise or detailed, they were not pro forma objections found to be impermissibly vague, and Bd was otherwise apprised that E intended to press question now presented)

6833-2000 Failure to except to proposed findings and order conclusive

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(where E failed to object to language of Bd's c/d order before Bd, it is barred from subsequently raising issue, absent unusual circumstances)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)

6833-2825 Except where Board enlarges order

N.L.R.B. v. Local 345, Utility Workers of New England 612 F.2d 598 (C.A. 1)
(where ALJ's Order did not include all items in Remedy section, no exceptions filed, and Bd adopted pro forma ALJ's recommended D/O, Bd has no right to clarify its Order where such modification imposes additional and material burdens on Respondents w/o allowing parties to be heard on propriety of additional relief notwithstanding party filed no exceptions with Bd and Bd has inherent power to modify its orders)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Maintenance Corp. 627 F.2d 596 (C.A. 2, July 1980)
(condition to right to object to enforcement of remedy ordered by NLRB is that party opposing order must have excepted to remedial portion of order before NLRB, and fact that GC's exceptions to order requested further relief does not have effect of notifying Bd that E would raise issue)

6833-9000 Unless failure to do so excused because of extraordinary circumstances

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 667 F.2d 1170 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)
(contrary to Bd's contention, SCt's pronouncement of new doctrine subsequent to Bd's order held extraordinary circumstance justifying E's failure to object until it petitioned for rehearing, since SCt's decision overruled previously controlling doctrine; at time Bd issued its order, objected-to portion of order was in accord with circuit ct's precedent, so that objection to order would have been futile if not frivolous)

6833-5000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Warehouse & Distributing, Inc. and Public Warehousing Corporation 677 F.2d 31 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(respondent's contention that fact they were not represented by counsel at time Bd's decision was received constituted extraordinary circumstances excusing failure to file objections to Bd's decision and order, rejected, where they were represented by counsel before ALJ, they did not allege difficulty in obtaining counsel for pecuniary or other reasons and did not dispute that decision to forego services of counsel was their own)

N.L.R.B. v. Advanced Systems, Inc. 681 F.2d 918 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)

(Bd abused discretion when: 1) adopted RD's report w/o reviewing underlying documents because E failed to append to its exceptions documents given by it to RD; and 2) failed to include this documentation in record to ct. No waives by E for failure to raise issue of complete record during Bd proceeding as E didn't discover fact until Bd filed its certificate of record. Bd Rule 102.69(g) to ambiguous to put E on notice complete record not sent to Bd, nor did RD's report give notice documents secured by RD himself would be excluded from record or clearly indicate that E's documents would be excluded unless appended to exceptions)

N.L.R.B. v. Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 641 F.2d 794 (C.A. 9, Apr 6, 1981)

(Bd's sua sponte adoption of unargued remedies not statutory extraordinary circumstances under Section 10(e) that would allow E to assert objection for first time on appeal, since rehearing (before Bd) was available to E; on appeal after Bd rehearing, ct would have benefit of Bd's expert opinion when ct reviewed Bd's determination)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(SCt decision in Yeshiva inapplicable to instant case and therefore not the extraordinary development which might otherwise excuse appellant's failure to raise the managerial employee exception before the Bd)

Teamsters Local 115 v. N.L.R.B. (Haddon House Food Products, Inc.) 640 F.2d 392 (C.A.D.C. 1981)

(where Bd, sua sponte, adopted new remedies and neither GC nor U as charging party had taken exception to ALJ's failure to impose such remedies, and notwithstanding that E did not petition for reconsideration concerning new remedies, ct is not precluded from hearing E's objections, since filing for judicial review by another aggrieved party can constitute extraordinary circumstances that prevent a matter which should have been presented to the Board from having been presented at proper time)

6833-5800 Objections must be specific

Ervin Szewczuga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)

(respondent's request for remand to Bd to consider arbitrator's decision which upheld alleged unlawful discharges of stewards for participation in unprotected walkout, rejected, since argument before Bd in general terms that stewards' discipline was contractually authorized not adequate to put Bd on notice under Sec. 10(e) that issue might be raised on appeal, contention intervening ct decision announced after briefing but before oral argument extraordinary circumstances excusing failure to raise issue rejected, since decision did not overrule any precedent so as to justify reliance on arbitration award)

6833-7000 Issues not seen to be important until controlling decision in another case

N.L.R.B. v. Carbonex Coal Company 679 F.2d 200 (C.A. 10, May 1982)

(10th Cir. Ct does not believe that it must apply Bd's Wright Line standard to cases decided by Bd before change; cases were en route (to ct) on date of change)

Ervin Szewczuga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)

(respondent's request for remand to Bd to consider arbitrator's decision which upheld alleged unlawful discharges of stewards for participation in unprotected walkout, rejected, since argument before Bd in general terms that stewards' discipline was contractually authorized not adequate to put Bd on notice under Sec. 10(e) that issue might be raised on appeal, contention intervening ct decision announced after briefing but before oral argument extraordinary circumstances excusing failure to raise issue rejected, since decision did not overrule any precedent so as to justify reliance on arbitration award)

6833-8400 Objections concerning orders

N.L.R.B. v. Local 343, Utility Workers of New England 612 F.2d 598 (C.A. 1)

(where ALJ's Order did not include all items in Remedy section, no exceptions filed, and Bd adopted pro forma ALJ's recommended D/O, Bd has no right to clarify its Order where such modification imposes additional and material burdens on Respondents w/o allowing parties to be heard on propriety of additional relief notwithstanding party filed no exceptions with Bd and Bd has inherent power to modify its orders)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Maintenance Corp. 627 F.2d 596 (C.A. 2, July 1980)

(condition to right to object to enforcement of remedy ordered by NLRB is that party opposing order must have excepted to remedial portion of order before NLRB, and fact that GC's exceptions to order requested further relief does not have effect of notifying Bd that E would raise issue)

Hedstrom Co., a subsidiary of Brown Group, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 305 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(E's objection that Bd failed to take additional testimony or request statements of position or briefs from counsel on remand overruled as E is precluded from raising this objection where E made no effort to introduce new evidence, filed no statements or briefs during entire time case pending before Bd on remand; moreover, E did not move for reconsideration or leave to adduce additional evidence after Bd issued decision)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)

(Bd's contention that, since E failed to file ptn for reconsideration of affirmative relief issue, it cannot under Sec. 10(e) now assert any objection absent extraordinary circumstances not present herein, rejected, since there was sufficient compliance with Sec. 10(e) inasmuch as issue was briefed and argued to Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 667 F.2d 1170 (C.A. 5, Feb. 1982)

(contrary to Bd's contention, SCt's promouncement of new doctrine subsequent to Bd's order held extraordinary circumstance justifying E's failure to object until it petitioned for rehearing, since SCt's decision overruled previously controlling doctrine; at time Bd issued its order, objected-to portion of order was in accord with circuit ct's precedent, so that objection to order would have been futile if not frivolous)

N.L.R.B. v. Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 641 F.2d 794 (C.A. 9, Apr 6, 1981)

(Bd's sua sponte adoption of unargued remedies not statutory extraordinary circumstances under Section 10(e) that would allow E to assert objection for first time on appeal, since rehearing (before Bd) was available to E; on appeal after Bd rehearing, ct would have benefit of Bd's expert opinion when ct reviewed Bd's determination)

6850 MOOTNESS OF ISSUES

Pet, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 545 (C.A. 8, Jan 30, 1981)

(appeal found not moot although U's conduct of consumer boycott was terminated for present with negotiation of new labor contract)

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)

(Bd's mtn to dismiss on ground of mootness was granted where plaintiff engineers received in interim full relief that they were seeking: Bd determination that they are professional Ees and decertification election was held)

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)

(mootness doctrine requires dismissal whenever (1) it can be said with assurance that there is no reasonable expectation... that alleged violation will recur, ... and (2) interim relief or events have completely and irrevocably eradicated effects of alleged violation)

6850-5000 Changes after Board order affecting propriety of enforcement may be considered

N.L.R.B. v. St. Regis Paper Company 674 F.2d 104 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(in responding to E's contention that after three years Bd order was so outdated as to be moot and incapable of enforcement, ct, although it normally does not take into account changes in circumstances when reviewing Bd proceedings, recognized that E's interim actions of closing two garages involved in initial complaint and transferring operations to reopened non-U facility at another location was fundamental change, and enforcing Bd order would require E to bargain in unit at which there is no basis for assuming U currently enjoys support of any Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)

(ct in its supervisory role may decline to enforce affirmative orders which have become futile at time enforcement is sought)

6867 SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION MAY BE QUESTIONED AT ANYTIME

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(failure of non-profit hospital, run by religious order, to raise before Bd in R proceeding constitutionality of Bd's assertion of jurisdiction on ground that it is religious organization exempt from governmental regulation under First Amendment, precluded hospital from raising issue before Bd or ct in ULP case. While statutory jurisdiction of Bd may be challenged at any time, facts upon which Bd determines it has jurisdiction may be challenged only upon timely exception, in absence of which Bd's findings are not open to attack in proceeding for enforcement)

6867—Cont.

6875 LACK OF INDISPENSABLE PARTY MAY BE RAISED AT ANYTIME

N.L.R.B. v. Doug Neal Management Company 620 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(notwithstanding issue of indispensable party had not been previously raised, ct not precluded from sua sponte raising it)

7200 JUDGMENT

7217 ISSUANCE OF JUDGMENT

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(judgment of Bd is subject to judicial review; but if its construction of statute is reasonably defensible, it should not be rejected merely because cts might prefer another view of statute; but enforcement of Bd orders refused where orders had no reasonable basis in law, fundamentally inconsistent with structure of Act or attempt to usurp major policy decisions properly made by Congress)

7233 ENFORCEMENT OF BOARD ORDER

N.L.R.B. v. Fry Foods, Inc. 609 F.2d 267 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(enforcement granted where ct concluded that substantial evidence supported Bd's findings of 8(a)(1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) violations, and that E's conduct was one of the most obvious examples of an E's complete defiance of the Act which had come before the ct in recent years)

N.L.R.B. v. Campbell 66 Express, Inc. 609 F.2d 312 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(enforcement of Bd's finding of unlawful discharge denied, since there was more than convincing evidence that E had good reason to discharge Ee and there was no substantial evidence of anti-U animus)

7233-3300 As modified

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(Ct may adjust its relief to exigencies of case in accordance with equitable principles which govern judicial action)

N.L.R.B. v. Turner Tool and Joint Rebuilders Corporation 670 F.2d 637 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(where E violated Act by discharging U adherent on pretext that he had violated rule requiring Ees to remain in working area, order modified to delete provision requiring posting of notice which stated that E would not unlawfully threaten Ee caught out of work area with discharge because E's rule can be validly enforced and rest of notice remedies E's violation of threatening or discharging Ees on basis of U or organizational talks)

Ardizzoni v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 130 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1980)
(clause in decree (E, its officers, agents, successors, and assigns, abide by and perform) effectuating Bd order necessary as integral part of judgment issued by ct upholding and enforcing Bd order; w/o such direction Bd incapable of effectuating its ct affirmed order)

7242 DENIAL OF ENFORCEMENT OF BOARD ORDER

N.L.R.B. v. Decibel Products, Inc. 657 F.2d 727 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied and case remanded for consideration on basis of entire record; it was error for Bd to consider nothing but RD's report in determining whether E committed ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Doug Neal Management Company 620 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement denied where order not supported by substantial evidence as Ees discharged because E installed automated equipment which eliminated work of Ees, and indispensable party, owner of building, not joined; making building manager party not sufficient, especially where Bd ordered reinstatement of 3 discharged Ees)

7250 MODIFICATION OF JUDGMENT

7250-1700 Board action as prerequisite for modification

N.L.R.B. v. Associated General Contractors of California, Inc. 633 F.2d 766 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd's order ordering E Association to furnish Us full membership roster modified to include Open Shop and Open Shop Specialty members only where record established relevance of roster of those members only)

7283 VACATION OF JUDGMENT

7283-7900 Vacated because of intervening Supreme Court decision

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 656 F.2d 32 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(in view of SCt's decision in First National Maintenance Corp. holding that E is not required to bargain with U over its decision to shut down part of its business purely for economic reasons, ct ordered that Bd's consent to a decree denying enforcement of Bd's bargaining and backpay order shall be approved, that ptns for enforcement and review shall be dismissed, that Bd dismiss ULP charges, and that costs shall be imposed on Bd with question of amount reserved until appropriate motion is filed by E)

Kenworth Trucks of Philadelphia, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 580 F.2d 55 (C.A. 3)
(in light of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 46 L.W. 4301 (U.S. April 3, 1978) ct, on review, determined that so long as ALJ had provided statement of reasons for recommending bargaining order and so long as Bd had specifically indicated its adoption of findings and reasoning of ALJ, need for separate elaboration by Bd of factors prompting bargaining order appeared to have been met in instant case)

7292 RECALL OF MANDATE

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct treated ptn for clarification as ptn for recall of mandate, since ptn for clarification is one procedure by which necessity for recall of mandate may be brought to ct's attention; ct's power to recall its mandate is rooted in inherent power of the ct)

7700 REHEARING

7750 GROUNDS FOR

N.L.R.B. v. Sambo's Restaurant, Inc. 641 F.2d 794 (C.A. 9, Apr 6, 1981)
(Bd's sua sponte adoption of unargued remedies not statutory extraordinary circumstances under Section 10(e) that would allow E to assert objection for first time on appeal, since rehearing (before Bd) was available to E; on appeal after Bd rehearing, ct would have benefit of Bd's expert opinion when ct reviewed Bd's determination)

7775 REQUEST TO VACATE TREATED AS PETITION FOR REHEARING

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(ct refused to vacate decision and reconsider in light of Bonanno Linen Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 50 U.S.L.W. 4087 where considerable time has passed since original decision, remand would be necessary to give effect to Bonanno, and public interest is best served by not exercising discretionary power to reopen decision 4 years old)

8100 REMAND TO BOARD

The Dow Chemical Company v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(ct declined to remand case to Bd to determine whether, independent of U's breach of contract's no-strike clause, E's post-strike discharge of strikers and termination of contract with U were unlawful; strike was material breach of contract, no Boys Markets injunction was available to E, and unless E were to submit to ongoing coercion, new hires to operate plant were a necessity; moreover, there was loss of majority status among new hires, and 9 years had elapsed since events herein transpired)

8101 GENERALLY

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(no remand for Bd to determine if ULPs found by ct converted economic strike into ULP strike since ct held ULPs not supported by substantial evidence; remand and inevitable return to ct for another review would prolong controversy, w/o any indication that more appropriate adjudication would be achieved)

N.L.R.B. v. Nixon Gear, Inc. 649 F.2d 906 (C.A. 2, May 1981)
(upon denying enforcement of Bd order because Bd had improperly refused to order hearing on E's objections to election, ct did not remand proceedings for further hearing in view of great expense and delay to which E had been subjected by Bd's refusal, E's lessened prospects of prevailing at hearing due to delay and witness' fading memories and unavailability, narrow one-vote election victory by U, and change in E's labor force and question as to whether U still had majority support)

Ithaca College v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 224 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(remand to Bd not appropriate and proceedings dismissed where petitioner sought no remand, Bd refused to resolve issue of faculty status and college had been put to needless expense and unwarranted prejudicial publicity; passage of time undoubtedly accompanied by changes in faculty personnel)

8101-3300 Effect of remand

8101-3350 'Law of the case' binding on Board

Peter Frattaroli, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 590 F.2d 15 (C.A. 1, 1978)
(on remand for new evidence on issue of whether or not U had in fact operated legitimate exclusive hiring hall service provided for in contract, ct's prior opinion that there was not substantial evidence thereof was law of case, and ct rejected Bd's holding that, given existence of contract providing for exclusive hiring hall, evidence thereof was irrelevant, and system as operated was legitimate)

N.L.R.B. v. Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 566 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(absent demonstration of significant modification of situation since prior unpublished memorandum decision involving same parties, such decision remains law of case for purposes of res judicata or collateral estoppel even though under ct's rules unpublished memorandum does not have precedential weight)

8150 PURPOSE OF REMAND

Albertson's, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 939(T) (C.A. 9, Sep. 1981)
(case remanded where Bd abused its discretion in not deferring to arbitrator's decision that discharge was for cause)

8150-1100 Reconsideration in light of court opinion

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 040
(pursuant to ct remand, Bd rescinded portion of its order requiring E to restore original organization administering health care insurance plan in place of new insurance company whose unilateral substitution by E for original organization was found unlawful unilateral change by Bd as well as by ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Transportation Management Corp. 674 F.2d 130 (C.A. 1, Apr. 1982)
(ct remanded case to Bd for reconsideration under Wright Line standard where Bd based finding of violation on E's failure of overcoming GC's prima facie case; ct has upheld Bd's imposing burden of neutralizing GC's prima facie case on E but to impose a greater burden is outside Bd's authority)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(case remanded for reconsideration of Bd's finding that pro-U activities of groupleaders, found supervisory, did not interfere with election)

N.L.R.B. v. Mercy Hospital Association 606 F.2d 22 (C.A. 2, 1979)
(ct remand for reconsideration of appropriateness of separate unit of maintenance Ees in hospital in light of congressional admonition against proliferation of units in health care field)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(case remanded to Bd for reconsideration in light of ct's opn that Bd misallocated burden of proof; Bd held that E failed to substantiate its economic defense because it could not justify timing of discharges; relevance of that observation was not clear from Bd's decision since lay-offs occurred soon after election and, therefore, could not have affected it; E did articulate legitimate business reason for discharges, and GC did not prove that E's real motive was anti-U animus)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(upon determining that Bd improperly denied hearing with respect to E's objection to election on ground that rank-and-file Ee was U agent whose electioneering activities outside polling place influenced co-workers, ct remanded case for evidentiary hearing and further proceedings consistent with ct's opinion)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(impermissibly broad order remanded to Bd for modification with respect to requirements for U access to plants and inclusion of notice in appropriate company publications)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States Canners, Inc. 598 F.2d 896 (C.A. 5)
(remand to apply appropriate standard in assessing whether action justifies setting aside election)

The Kroger Company v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 634 (C.A. 6, Oct 1980)
(ct set aside Bd's dismissal of compalint against U for picketing secondary E's grocery stores and remanded case for further proceedings where there was no substantial evidence in record to support Bd's finding that cessation of business of secondary E would not have been result of successful boycott of primary E's paper bags, since such bags were necessary for every purchase made at stores and thus lost their seperate identity and merged into secondary E's operation of grocery stores)

Patsy Bee, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 515 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(ct held Bd abused its discretion by issuing bargaining order, denied enforcement thereof, and remanded case to Bd for further proceedings where evidence established that E's ULPs had had little impact on Ees' allegiance to U; and, contrary to Bd, ct found that the E's speech upon which Bd had primarily relied in issuing its bargaining order was not unlawful and that Bd had offered no explanation for its finding other than a conclusory statement)

N.L.R.B. v. Foundation For Comprehensive Health Services 654 F.2d 731(T) (C.A. 9, July 1981)
(bargaining order denied and case remanded to Bd for reconsideration of determination of bargaining unit at health care services foundation and application of disparity of interest test to exclusion of only one professional Ee, a social worker, from unit of family nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and registered nurses; Bd to also consider whether exclusion of classification of social workers, whose numbers are expected to increase, would create residual group of Ees eluding classification)

National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, Local 531, AFL-CIO, CLC 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct denied Bd order and remanded case back to Bd where it had not addressed question of reasonableness of U's constitutional rule making resignations ineffective for at least 60 days which Bd incorrectly found to be unenforceable for vagueness and ambiguity against members who submitted resignations and subsequently were fined for violating U boycott)

St. Elizabeth Community Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 123 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(First Amendment challenge to Bd's jurisdiction over charitable hospital operated by religious order held timely raised, notwithstanding contention that issue could have been litigated at R proceedings before RD and no new or previously unavailable evidence was offered or special circumstances alleged to require Bd's consideration, since it is sufficient that hospital raised First Amendment issue in R proceedings before Bd and did not defer its challenge to enforcement proceedings; case remanded to Bd for further consideration in light of SCt's opinion in NLRB v. Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, a Division of Marriott Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 850 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(issue of whether current three year contract was bar to election ptn remanded to Bd to explain, why membership as used in contract should be interpreted differently depending on whether word appeared in U security clause or health benefit clause, and whether petitioner, to its detriment, reasonably relied on contract's cover dates in determining when to file election ptn; Bd must follow its own precedent by excluding extrinsic evidence from its consideration or explain why its rules should be disregarded; ct not allowed to substitute different rationale for that provided by Bd)

Pedro's Inc., d/b/a Pedro's Restaurant v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1005 (C.A.D.C., Apr 1981)
(where ct enforced Bd's order in part, case remanded to Bd for consideration as to whether bargaining order remains appropriate in light of ct's decision and of conditions in bargaining unit at time Bd renders its decision)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, Plumbers v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 826
(remanded for Bd to determine whether double-breasted E engaged in conduct that deprived E's U company of work which, in light of E's past practice, U company would otherwise have been expected to perform; if Bd finds that E did engage in such conduct, it should either apply clear and unmistakable waiver standard to test whether U agreed to that conduct, or explain why different standard is appropriate; if Bd concludes that there was unwaived denial of U's statutory rights, it should devise appropriate remedy)

Cook Paint and Varnish Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 712 (D Ct D.C., Apr 1981)
(ct remanded case for further proceedings as to whether U steward was entitled to special protection due to his status as U steward in regard to being compelled to answer questions at pre-arbitration interview concerning grievance of fellow Ee in which steward may have been initially responsible for processing grievance; altho ct recognized possible serious infringement on protected activity if representatives were required to submit to compulsory interviews, it indicated that blanket rule would be inappropriate)

8150-1700 Reconsideration in light of changed circumstances

N.L.R.B. v. St. Regis Paper Company 674 F.2d 104 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(ct remanded case so Bd could consider whether circumstances justify application of bargaining order, now addressed to defunct garage, to any location other than defunct garage, and whether any purpose remains to be served by enforcing such order at this time where E had closed down garage with Ees that Bd had previously determined to be accreted to unit at headquarters which subsequently closed down and transferred operations to reopened facility at another location)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(remand to Bd to consider additional evidence pertaining to necessity of bargaining order where ct reversed Bd on one ULP finding, as this is independent ground for review and differs from situation where ct upholds Bd order in toto)

8150-2300 Reconsideration in light of intervening decisions of other courts

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(ct refused to vacate decision and reconsider in light of Bonanno Linen Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 50 U.S.L.W. 4087 where considerable time has passed since original decision, remand would be necessary to give effect to Bonanno, and public interest is best served by not exercising discretionary power to reopen decision 4 years old)

8150-3300 Reconsideration in light of subsequent Board decision

N.L.R.B. v. Steinerfilm, Inc. 669 F.2d 845 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(where Bd and ALJ in pre Wright LIne decision first found evidence of anti-U motive and then found reason for discharge pretextual remand for consideration under Wright Line, not necessary)

Cedar Coal Company v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 1197 (C.A. 4, May 1982)
(case remanded to Bd for reconsideration in light of Wright Line decision)

N.L.R.B. v. The Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, Inc. 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(remand to Bd to consider applicability of present day controlling case law to E's objections to election based on alleged misrepresentation by U where Bd decision based on Shopping Kart, which has since been overruled by General Knit Co.)

Skyline Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1328 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(where RD made decision on objections to elections using Hollywood Ceramics standard and Bd later adopted less stringent Shopping Kart standard before returning to former standard and Bd's adoption of RD's decision occurred under latter standard, Shopping Kart; no denial of due process where Bd merely adopted report as written as it is not assumed that Bd considered objection under standard other than that used by RD)

8150-4400 Clarification of Board order

Easy-Heat Wirekraft, Division of Bristol Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 163
(on remand Bd clarified affirmative order to provide that pre-violation relationship between E and Ee council may continue notwithstanding Bd order that E withdraw and withhold recognition from Ee council until certified by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(where Bd failed to give weight to nonproliferation policy of health care amendments and failed to apply court-mandated test based on legislative history of amendments as to whether disparity of interest of Ees in different classifications required a number of units, Bd was to state on remand precisely how it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional amendment's nonproliferation mandate)

N.L.R.B. v. HMO International/California Medical Group Health Plan, Inc. 678 F.2d 806 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(where E refused to bargain on ground that Bd certified RN unit should have included LVNs, Bd on remand must state why Ees' tasks and E's personnel policies mandated that RNs be classified as professional Ees and LVNs as technical Ees, why RNs should not be preliminarily certified in same unit with LVNs with proviso of a Sonotone election, and how precisely it proposed to modify its traditional community of interest standard so as to implement herein the congressional nonproliferation mandate)

N.L.R.B. v. John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 677 F.2d 44 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)
(E violated Act by discriminatorily enforcing its antibutton policy against U adherent and not other types of buttons but Bd order barring any antibutton policy is overbroad and case remanded for modification of Bd order to prohibit only unreasonable restrictions on types of buttons or insignia which may be worn)

Consolidated Freightways v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 790 (C.A.D.C., Dec. 1981)
(ct remanded case, brought before ct on issue of whether backpay award was tolled by E's conditional offer of reinstatement, for Bd to explicate circumstances, if any, under which an inquiry into whether an Ee would have rejected valid offer of reinstatement; Bd failed to distinguish or overrule cases that emphasize actual reasons why Ee refuses an offer of reinstatement even when validity of offer itself is challenged)

8150-4900 Fashion appropriate remedy

Mussell Trailer Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 753 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(remand to Bd to determine when E, in exercise of reasonable business judgment, would have been forced to close operations and discharge Ees; backpay should be computed from date of actual discharge to date Ees would have been discharged in absence of anti-U animus)

Joint Council of Teamsters, No. 42 v. N.L.R.B. 671 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(remanded to Bd to fashion appropriate make-whole remedy where U's violation of Section 8(e) caused independent contractors to pay to support U they did not freely choose to join; moreover, fact that U did not violate Section 8(b)(4) does not preclude award as truck owners were coerced into U membership by ULP)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(remand appropriate where Bd order requiring successor E to reinstate all forty of predecessor's unionized Ees was held unenforceable since E was not provided opportunity to show that fewer than forty jobs would have been available regardless of discrimination)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(backpay award appropriate where successor refused to hire former Ees because of anti-U animus; however, ct would not enforce order to extent that backpay was set at wage scale prior to successor's takeover of business which would in effect force E to abide by terms of predecessor's contract and act as penalty in view of E's reduction of wages upon takeover of business)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)
(remand for more appropriate remedy than reinstatement of drivers whom E discharged at time it unlawfully sold trucks and contracted out hauling since ct refused to enforce order to reestablish trucking operations; Bd may find some other remedy more appropriate; for example, compensating drivers until they find substantially equivalent employment)

Mass & Feduska, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 714 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(case remanded to Bd to fashion appropriate remedy for 8(b)(3) violation, where ct found, contrary to Bd, that U's threat to strike to compel payment by E of E's contribution to fringe-benefit trust funds on behalf two Ees, who were statutory supervisors, was violative of 8(b)(3))

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)
(where bargaining order found inappropriate case remended for Bd to consider appropriate remedies, including direction of second election)

N.L.R.B. v. Henry Cauthorne, an individual, t/a Cauthorne Trucking 691 F.2d 1023 (C.A.D.C., Oct. 1982)
(where E violated Sec. 8(a)(5) by discontinuing contributions to health and welfare fund after collective-bargaining agreement expired and Bd found liability for period running to date of its Order, case remanded to Bd for determination of whether because parties resumed bargaining after unilateral change they did not reach impasse at some point. E's liability will run from date of change to date when parties execute new agreement or reach lawful impasse)

8150-5500 Consideration of offer of proof

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks Towers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 874 (C.A. 10, July 1982)
(where ct had remanded to Bd for consideration of newly discovered evidence, fact that Bd retained its original conclusion does not warrant ct to conclude that Bd ignored directions of remand where substantial evidence supports Bd's decision)

N.L.R.B. v. Pre-Engineered Building Products, Inc. 603 F.2d 134 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(where predecessor business had essentially collapsed at time of E's take over and E of necessity had to rebuild both production demand and work force, ct remanded case for Bd to take evidence, pursuant to E's offer of proof, to determine when E acquired full complement of Ees and whether, at that point, E was under obligation to bargain with U)

United Food and Commercial Workers International Union Local No. 576, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 346 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)
(where Bd erred in applying Times Square doctrine by refusing to entertain U's defense based upon evidence that GC had previously considered in refusing to issue complaint, ct directed Bd to reopen 8(b)(7)(C) proceeding to hear evidence on U's defense that picketed E was in reality alter ego of, joint E with, or successor of another E with whom U had contract covering Ees in question; such action would not constitute interference by Bd with Gc's final authority under Sec. 3(d); moreover, charged party has right to full hearing on its defense)

8150-6600 Rerun election

Arrow Molded Plastics, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 174

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(remand to Bd with directions to order rerun election, where Bd's bargaining and make-whole orders were vacated)

N.L.R.B. v. Loewy Drug Company, Inc. 595 F.2d 1217(T) (C.A. 4, 1979)

(where challenged ballot which had been ordered counted was destroyed election set aside and new election ordered in which current Ees shall determine whether they wish to be represented by U, provided U makes new showing of interest w/i 60 days)

8150-7700 Additional findings

N.L.R.B. v. GAIU Local 13-B, Graphic Arts International Union 682 F.2d 304 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(U's mtn to remand to Bd for taking of additional evidence allegedly in defense of action found unlawful and order concerning it which was sought to be enforced, denied where U had not made an offer of specific proof as to alleged defense, or filed cross-exceptions or moved for reconsideration of reopening of record)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(Bd has remedial authority to issue bargaining order in absence of card majority and election victory if E has committed such outrageous and pervasive ULPs that there is no reasonable possibility that free and uncoerced election could be held; ct remanded case for BD to consider in first instance whether facts in case rise to outrageous and pervasive conduct which sanctions issuance of such bargaining orders)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)

(remand for Bd finding whether or not it agrees with ALJ that polygraph test implicated Ee in thefts and he would have been discharged in absence of U activity, as meaning of written report of test is unclear)

General Thermo, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 195 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1981)

(ct remanded portion of Bd decision relating to U adherent's discharge where credibility issue remained in regard to what happened at investigatory meeting in light of Ee's abusive, insubordinate conduct, and whether management had intention to fire Ee prior to meeting or discharge was actual result of Ee's conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Teamsters Union Local No. 378, a/w Teamsters 672 F.2d 741 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(case remanded for factual determinations 1) regarding existence of solidarity agreement among multi-E association's E-members, or 2) whether notice of such solidarity agreement had been sent to U prior to negotiations, either of which would be determinative in concluding whether, as found by Bd, U violated 8(b)(3) by separately negotiating agreement with E which had withdrawn from multi-E bargaining unit w/o unit's consent)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltc. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(where secondary evidence was essential to finding that Ees were improperly discharged and Bd lacked authority to bar rebuttal evidence as sanction against E for refusing to comply with subpoena, case remanded for taking of additional evidence and opportunity to seek enforcement of subpoena in District Ct)

District 1199E, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 1102 (C.A.D.C.) (1980)

(remand for further analysis of collective bargaining agreement and arbitrator's interpretation of it where arbitrator decided E had not complied with agreement with regard to contracting out but ALJ and Bd decided contracting out proper since E complied with bare notice and bargaining requirements of Fibreboard since not clear to what extent ALJ and Bd considered contract and arbitrator's interpretation of it in view of strong policy favoring deference to arbitrator's interpretation of bargaining agreement)

8150-7710 Objections to election

N.L.R.B. v. ARA Services, Inc. 678 F.2d 435 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(upon concluding that E was improperly denied evidentiary hearing with respect to its objection which asserted that threats and coercion tainted representation election, enforcement of Bd's order denied and case remanded for evidentiary hearing as to that issue)

Wells Fargo Guard Services, A Division of Baker Protective Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 363 (C.A. 3, Sep. 1981)

(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where issue, of whether allegedly unfit leader remained in control of U, had significant impact on election won by U; strictness of Bd action in setting aside first election because of E's distributing altered facsimile ballot prior to election when contrasted with its flexibility in certifying U after second election supplies additional reason for remand)

Season-All Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 932 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(upon determining that Bd improperly denied hearing with respect to E's objection to election on ground that rank-and-file Ee was U agent whose electioneering activities outside polling place influenced co-workers, ct remanded case for evidentiary hearing and further proceedings consistent with ct's opinion)

Anchor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Anchor Inn Hotel of St. Croix v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 292 (C.A. 3, Mar 20, 1981)

(ct remanded for previously denied hearing on E's objections to election and held Bd had erred in denying mtn for reconsideration after certification, not withstanding contentions that individual who made allegedly objectionable remarks not agent of U, and that proferred evidence had been available prior to certification, where affidavits reasonably supported claim of U agency and admitted withholding evidence from Bd agent due to threats which supported allegation of objectionable conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. The Cambridge Wire Cloth Company, Inc. 622 F.2d 1195 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(where RD determines that objections to election do not require hearing, RD, and not objecting party, is responsible for transmitting whole record (all evidence considered in reaching decision) to Bd for its review on appeal, notwithstanding R/R 102.69(g) places responsibility for submission of documents on objecting party)

N.L.R.B. v. Decibel Products, Inc. 657 F.2d 727 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(case remanded for Bd to consider entire record compiled in connection with RD's report on objections to election along with his report)

Hickory Springs Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 506 (C.A. 5, May 21, 1981)

(record established that E entitled to hearing before Bd on questions of whether alleged preelection threats as to what would happen to Ees who crossed picket line and drove E's trucks, and picket line violence were made or adopted by U and if such conduct interfered in representation election since threats were conditioned on U winning election and strike ensued)

Kusan Manufacturing Company, a Division of Kusan, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 150 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)

(hearing required where allegations established factual questions attacking basic fairness of election and Ee affidavits detail specific threats against Ees who failed to announce public support for U)

Loose Leaf Hardware, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 1036 (C.A. 6, Dec. 1981)

Revco D.S., Inc. and/or White Cross Stores, Inc., No. 14 v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 264 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(issues raised by E's objections to election not sufficiently substantial and material to require remand to Bd to consider additional affidavits that E claimed were uncovered during RD's investigation but not included in the record before the Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Curtis Noll Corporation, Curtis Industries Division 634 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(enforcement denied and E's objections to consent election remanded to Bd for further consideration where evidence relied upon by RD concerning determination of E's objections was not transmitted to Bd, hence was not transmitted to ct; ct held that Bd had abused its discretion by adopting report of RD when RD failed to transmit to Bd evidence relied upon by RD)

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(where objections had been filed on basis of U's letter alleging average contribution of Ees based only on subtraction of salaries from income and E had answered in letter which set forth other items which must be deducted from income to determine profitability but not amounts, bargaining order based on certification must be denied, since RD did not rule on whether profitability was important issue and did not hold hearing to determine whether figures misleading, E's version must be accepted; however, since remand for hearing on other grounds, remand also for hearing on what knowledge Ees had with respect to profits of E)

N.L.R.B. v. RJR Archer Inc., Filmco Division 617 F.2d 161 (C.A, 6, 1980)

(where E filed objections to election based on U misconduct and filed affidavits of supervisory Ees substantiative allegations but RD, w/o hearing, recommended certification of election, Bd's adoption of recommendation w/o ordering hearing or having before it complete Regional Office file constitutes an abuse of discretion as being arbitrary and capricious; certification set aside and remanded to Bd for hearing)

Bauer Welding and Metal Fabricators, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 314 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)

(case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing on E's objections to election with regard to alleged coercion and misstatements since material factual issues were raised in these areas)

N.L.R.B. v. Winburn Tile Manufacturing Company 663 F.2d 44 (C.A. 8, Oct 1981)

(case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing on E's objections to R proceedings where E specifically controverted subsidiary factual determination made by RD in his finding, adopted by Bd, that 2 individuals were supervisors, and offered proof which, if true, would rebut evidence presented by U)

Beaird-Poulan Division, Emerson Electric Company v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 589 (C.A. 8, May 1981)

(no denial of due process merely because hearing on remand is conducted in context of ULP proceeding rather than R proceeding)

Pinetree Transportation Company v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 740 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)

(case remanded for evidentiary hearing where it was clear that E raised substantial and material issues of fact regarding readability of Notice of Election in its objections before RD and Bd)

Tanforan Park Food Purveyors Council and the Hapsmith Company v. N.L.R.B 656 F.2d 1358 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(ct remanded to Bd for hearing on whether retranslation of notice of election in Samoan into English by Samoan unit Ee suggested that Samoan version of notice was so garbled and confusing that Bd did not meet duty to present election notices to Ees in languages they understand)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(ct remanded case to Bd for hearing, since affidavits submitted by E with its exceptions to RD's rulings on objection to election alleging Savair violation raised such substantial and material factual issues that Bd should have ordered hearing; affidavits stated that Ees had signed recognition slips to avoid paying dues after U activist promised affiants fee waivers for signing recognition slips before election, and evidence adduced at hearing might support a finding that U either authorized or condoned activist's conduct so as to give him agency status)

N.L.R.B. v. Belcor, Inc. d/b/a San Jose Care & Guidance Center 652 F.2d 856 (C.A. 9, Aug 1981)

(where E had submitted with its objections to election an index card concerning U meeting on which Mandatory Attendance was written and contended that U meeting held w/i 24 hours before election was not voluntary and not exempt form Peerless Plywood rule ct could not affirm RD's finding to contrary on basis of record w/o supporting documentation therefor and remanded case for hearing to resolve substantial and material issues raised by index card)

8150-7715 Challenges to ballots

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 668 F.2d 661 (C.A. 2, Jan. 1982)

(where Bd found that U had successfully challenged hospital clerk's ballot on ground that clerk was member of religious order controlling hospital and lacked community of interest with lay Ees, ct remanded case to Bd to reconsider that ruling -- even if on remand it still finds control -- and take into account comparability of wages, differential access to areas of hospital, and uniqueness of Ee's part-time employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Polyflex M Company 622 F.2d 128 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(case remanded to Bd for evidentiary hearing where Ee affidavit raised substantial and material issue that would warrant setting aside election by presenting prima facie case that U representatives made statements which were subject to reasonable interpretation by Ees that they could avoid initiation fees by joining U prior to election)

N.L.R.B. v. Pinkerton's, Inc. 621 F.2d 1322 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(remand for evidentiary hearing on whether ballots were in fact sent to Ees who did not receive them, particularly in view of fact no proof of mailing had been presented)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Liberty, Inc., d/b/a Hy-Land Convalescent Hospital 672 F.2d 788 (C.A. 9, Mar. 1982)

(case remanded to Bd so that RD can supply Bd with contested ballots because w/o ballots Bd cannot consider all relevant evidence which was before RD, where as here E supplied all other relevent evidence to Bd to support its objections)

Crown Coach Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 865(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(enforcement denied and case remanded for further hearing where ct found prejudicial error in denial of E during hearing on objections to election to question Ee witness on issue of U agency in regard to Ee misconduct)

8150-7725 Determination of majority status

N.L.R.B. v. Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 681 F.2d 99 (C.A. 2, May 1982)

(remand to Bd to consider whether changes in Ee work force (10 new Ees out of work force of 21) have made bargaining order now inappropriate even if it had been appropriate at earlier time)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(where Bd erred in applying total exclusion of evidence from pre-10(b) period, ct remanded case to Bd for reconsideration of ALJ's finding that E did not have reasonable grounds based on objective considerations for believing that U did not enjoy majority support at time E refused to bargain)

N.L.R.B. v. Scott Printing Corporation and J&J House of Composition 612 F.2d 783 (C.A. 3)

(remand to Bd to determine if Bd should have allowed E to assert good faith doubt in U's majority status because ALJ failed to find that U did not represent majority of Ees and Bd adopted ALJ's findings, thus there are no findings on record concerning good faith doubt defense)

Construction Erectors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 801 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(remand to determine whether U had majority support and that it was permanent and stable workforce in unit at that time prior to construction industry E's repudiation of Sec. 8(f) agreements as E claimed that it employed no U members at time E repudiated contract and ct found that work force was not permanent and stable at time contract was signed)

8150-7727 Appropriateness of unit

N.L.R.B. v. Purnell's Pride, Inc. 609 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1980)

(remand to Bd to articulate reasons for its approval of RD's unit determination where rationale for designation of production and maintenance Ees of poutry company's processing division as separate unit not sufficiently set forth to permit proper judicial review)

St. Anthony Hospital Systems v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1028 (C.A. 10, Aug 1981)

(remand for determination of appropriate unit and its effect on E's duty to bargain in view of Bd's holding that had improperly relieved GC of burden of establishing ULP occured by holding unit of registered nurses at hospital presumptively appropriate and E had duty of rebutting presumption)

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(ptn by Bd for adjudication that alleged successor E was in civil contempt of prior judgment which granted enforcement of bargaining order issued against E's competitor, which E had underbid for government contract, dismissed on grounds that highly factual issue of whether bargaining unit remains appropriate existed and this requires more complete development of factual record by Bd and falls w/i its statutory authority to make unit determinations)

8150-7728 Unilateral change

Aaron Brothers Company, a Division of Chromalloy American Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 750 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1981)

(case remanded to Bd to determine whether E granted wage increase as continuation of company wage policy)

8150-7730 Supervisory status

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(case remanded for reconsideration of Bd's finding that pro-U activities of groupleaders, found supervisory, did not interfere with election, where Bd's conclusory holding that groupleaders were minor supervisors was not based on any analysis as to distinction between major and minor supervisors, and no explanation was given as to what factors were taken into consideration in arriving at such a distinction; and cases relied upon by Bd are inapposite or distinguishable and provide no authority for finding groupleaders minor supervisors)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)

(case remanded for reconsideration of Bd's finding that pro-U activities of groupleaders, found supervisory, did not interfere with election, where Bd improperly applied principle that E cannot rely on supervisors' pro-U conduct, ignored by E, for setting aside election, since E herein, because of possible finding of ULPs for interfering with their activities if found not supervisory, was precluded from such interference inasmuch as Bd failed to rule on their supervisory status at E's request)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(case remanded for reconsideration of Bd's finding that pro-U activities of groupleaders, found supervisory, did not interfere with election, since, contrary to Bd, unlikelihood of fear of supervisory retaliation where Ee shares E's anti-U views is not determinative of issue of coerciveness of supervisory pro-U participation in U campaign inasmuch as supervisor might recommend or cause adverse treatment of Ee by disguising true motive in innumerable ways; likelihood of such occurrence is less important than possibility that Ee might fear such retribution and act accordingly)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 934 (C.A. 2, Sept. 1981)
(case remanded for reconsideration of Bd's finding that pro-U activities of groupleaders, found supervisory, did not interfere with election, where Bd made no attempt to either distinguish or reconcile instant case with contrary Bd decisions in similar cases; and due to lack of specific findings and articulated reasons for distinction between instant case and contrary decisions, ct cannot properly review Bd's action; Bd cannot circumvent its obligation to explain its departere from precedent simply by failing to make necessary factual determinations which would bring a case w/i bounds of precedent)

N.L.R.B. v. Tio Pepe, Inc. 629 F.2d 964 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order and remanded case to Bd for evidentiary hearing on two issues advanced in E's mtn to reopen record since E made sufficient prima facie factual showing of after-discovered evidence that captains had promised other dining room Ees that, if U won, captain's distribution of pooled tips would be adjusted in their favor, which, if sustained later at full hearing, would undermine Bd's reasons for its denial of supervisory status for captains in unit of dining room Ees and further significantly affect election by way of monetary inducement for U support)

8150-7735 Determination of impact of employer's unfair labor practices on employees' union adherence

N.L.R.B. v. Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 681 F.2d 99 (C.A. 2, May 1982)
(Bd's order finding various ULP's upheld but case remanded for determination if ULP's were serious enough to require bargaining order where Bd failed to analyze likelihood of fair and free election when it determined that bargaining order was necessary)

8150-7738 Validity of reinstatement offer

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 693 F.2d 277 (C.A. 2, Nov. 1982)
(ct remanded case on circumstances surrounding alleged offer of reinstatement in regard to understanding of Ees generally about mailgrams sent to economic strikers directing them to report for work the following day, and as to knowledge of particular Ees of practice, if any, of E of rehiring strikers who appeared later than date mentioned in alleged offer)

8150-7740 Backpay determination

N.L.R.B. v. Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 657 F.2d 685 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(remand to determine whether E, as claimed, had offered reinstatement to Ee which Ee assertedly had refused; if so, reinstatement portion of order should be deleted, and Ee should be entitled to backpay only for period between discharge and reinstatement offer)

N.L.R.B. v. United Contractors Inc. and IMCO Trucking, Inc. joint employers 614 F.2d 134 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(backpay award not enforced and remanded to Bd for new hearing on whether reduction of back pay award was justified where Bd ignored uncontradicted evidence that its back pay formula was inapplicable in instant case; work of discriminatee was irregular and during slack periods newer Ees were laid off)

8150-7745 Basis of justification for no solicitation, no distribution rule

Belcher Towing Company v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 88 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)
(remand to Bd to reconsider whether U had alternative means of communication with E's Ees where its agents were denied access to E's ship with burden on GC to prove lack of alternative means of communication rather than on E to show existence of means)

Baylor University Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 56 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(ct rejected Bd's ruling that vending areas were not immediate patient care areas and remanded case to Bd with instruction to consider whether evidence submitted by E is sufficient to overcome St. John's presumption; evidence as it now stands in record-showing location of vending areas as off corridors and indicating they are regularly used by patients and their visitors–suggests that ban during daytime hours would probably be permissible)

Baylor University Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 56 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1981)
(record did not support Bd's total invalidation of E's solicitation ban in its cafeteria and vending areas; ct's disapproval of Bd's method of dealing with evidence that (1) approximately 40% of cafeteria's patrons were non-Ees, and (2) exterior grounds of hospital complex are convenient place for solicitation and are widely used by Ees, required remand to Bd)

8150-7750 Motivation for respondent's action

N.L.R.B. v. Gorman Machine Corporation 683 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, July 1982)
(remand for reconsideration in light of burdens of proof announced in NLRB v. Wright Line, 662 F.2d 899 held unnecessary because Bd did not rely on burdens of proof but found reason for discharge was pretext)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(remand to determine E's motivation for discharges where Bd had failed to adequately assess validity of rule prohibiting distribution of wage data pursuant to which Ees discharged; Bd would be required to determine whether application of rule impermissibly burdened protected activity, or whether E was not compelled to allow distribution of wage data on its property because other means available to disseminate material; anti U motivation irrelevant if rule itself invalid)

Livingston Powdered Metal, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 133 (C.A. 3, Jan. 1982)
(to determine validity of E's defense that closure of plant and discharge of Ees, found unlawful by Bd, was because of economic reasons rather than anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Gorman Machine Corporation remand for reconsideration in light of burdens of proof announced in NLRB v. Wright Line, 662 F.2d 899 held unnecessary because Bd did not rely on burdens of proof but found reason for discharge was pretext)

Carlson Roofing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 77 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(no remand for evidence of U animous to establish 8(a)(3) violation where 8(a)(1) violation carries same remedy)

8150-7755 For consideration of appropriate relief

Peter Frattaroli, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 590 F.2d 15 (C.A. 1, 1978)

8150-7760 Not necessary where facts clear from record

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(no remand where there was substantial evidence (of illegal motive) to support Bd's findings of ULP)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(no remand to Bd where ct concluded there was insufficient evidence to support either determination that E's conduct was inherently destructive or finding of anti-U motivation in E's conduct in refusing to pay accrued vacation benefits because of dispute over interpretation of contract terms)

8150-7765 Basis of credibility findings

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)
(where ALJ evidenced some bias towards E, although not enough to warrant finding abuse of discretion, this bias detracts from weight accorded his credibility findings and ct subjected them to closer scrutiny than usual, concluding that there is insufficient evidence to support ALJ's conclusions and remand case for further proceedings before different ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(ct remanded to Bd to determine whether U's notice to Mediation Services was sufficient to appraise Services of potential dispute which might relieve E of duty to notify Services, notwithstanding E was initiating party and, thus, render permissible E's failure to abide by terms of contract, where E timely informed U it did not wish to be bound by master outside agreement but not Mediation Service, later U notified E association and Mediation Services it wished to reopen agreement; after new agreement negotiated, U took position E bound by new agreement because E's notice ineffective since not sent to Mediation Services)

8150-7770 Determination of jurisdictional dispute

N.L.R.B. v. Preler International Corporation 635 F.2d 381 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(remand for purpose of determining there was substantial business justification for E's failure to reinstate economic strikers upon their unconditional offer to return to work, where case was tried on theory that strike had been converted into ULP strike by alleged discharge when E refused reinstatement, and no proof was offered as to who was not reinstated and whether there was substantial business justifications for company's failure to reinstate)

8150-7776 Coercion in obtaining authorization cards

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 88 (C.A. 9, July 1980)

(Ee's statement that U representative told her to sign authorization card right away because if she did she would not have to pay any initiation fee was prima facie proof of illegal fee waiver offer; E should have evidentiary hearing on issue)

8150-7777 Explain basis for decision

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)

(remand to determine E's motivation for discharges where Bd had failed to adequately assess validity of rule prohibiting distribution of wage data pursuant to which Ees discharged; Bd would be required to determine whether application of rule impermissibly burdened protected activity, or whether E was not compelled to allow distribution of wage data on its property because other means available to disseminate material; anti U motivation irrelevant if rule itself invalid)

N.L.R.B. v. Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 681 F.2d 99 (C.A. 2, May 1982)

(Bd's order finding various ULP's upheld but case remanded for determination if ULP's were serious enough to require bargaining order where Bd failed to analyze likelihood of fair and free election when it determined that bargaining order was necessary)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 483 and Local 11, Ironworkers 672 F.2d 1159 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)

(Bd's finding that Us referral operation discriminated against non-members or those to whom membership was denied was not supported by substantial evidence that referral was in fact based on U membership or activity and case remanded, as earlier Ironworkers cases were not dispositive of issues of proof; here, unlike earlier cases, contractors' requisition registers were in evidence, and U officers testified as to mechanics of hiring hall operation)

Kenworth Trucks of Philadelphia, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 580 F.2d 55 (C.A. 3)

(in light of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 46 L.W. 4301 (U.S. April 3, 1978) ct, on review, determined that so long as ALJ had provided statement of reasons for recommending bargaining order and so long as Bd had specifically indicated its adoption of findings and reasoning of ALJ, need for separate elaboration by Bd of factors prompting bargaining order appeared to have been met in instant case)

N.L.R.B. v. Maidsville Coal Company, Inc. 693 F.2d 1119 (C.A. 4, Nov. 1982)

(remand to detail reasons for Gissel order and why election will not adequately show Ee preference and c/d order erase coercion from Sec. 8(a)(1), (3) and (5) violations found)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 322 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(case remanded to Bd where Bd decision left ct uncertain about basis of its award for litigation expenses; Bd should explicate more fully its reasons for requiring reimbursement in instant case as Bd required to make reasoned explanation for departing from its precedents)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 881 (C.A. 4)

(remand not warranted where Bd failed to discuss denial of litigation expenses because costs are awarded only for frivolous or dilatory litigation and issues here were arguable and brought in good faith)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(where Bd's finding that E bargained in bad faith was based solely on contract proposals and Bd made no findings which assertedly demonstrated bad faith, nor with respect to E's contention parties unable to agree because of U's unreasonable proposals and hard bargaining, remand to Bd to determine whether record as a whole, including course of negotiations as well as contract proposals, support finding of bad faith, since determination of whether E was engaged in impermissible surface bargaining or permissible hard bargaining can only be made upon consideration of totality of circumstances)

Press Democrat Publishing Co., etc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 1320 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(remand for clarification on remedy ordering publishing company to disclose amounts paid to non-unit editorial writers where Bd ordered inconsistent remedies in Times Herald, 237 NLRB 922, and Amphlett, 237 NLRB 955, and inadequate explanation for maintaining confidentiality between E and non-unit writers failed to provide sufficient basis for review)

8150-7788 Primary or secondary objectives of union

N.L.R.B. v. International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, et al. 447 US 490 (U.S. SCt. June 1980)

(case remanded to Bd for further proceedings to find if CONASA ILA Rules on containers have lawful work preservation objective)

Pet, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 545 (C.A. 8, Jan 30, 1981)

(ct declined to consider issues not ruled on by Bd, whether primary and subsidiaries are separate persons under 8(b)(4), whether U's publicity is violative of 8(b)(4)(ii) and whether U's first amendment rights were violative as these questions must initially be committed to Bd's discretion)

8150-7798 Mandatory or nonmandatory subject of bargaining

Newspaper Guild, Local 10 v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 550 (C.A.D.C. 1980)

(remanded for substantive determination with respect to Code of Ethics for journalists and Office Rules and to determine whether any particular subject matter is or is not mandatory subject of bargaining)

8150-7799 Other

Mercy Hospital of Buffalo 668 F.2d 641 (C.A. 2, Jan. 1982)

(where Bd had found that religious order controled hospital through its members serving as hospital administrator and trustees, ct remanded case Bd to consider nature of trustees' power and responsibility, scope of administrator's authority, and evidence of organization's financial control of hospital in reconsidering question of control)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(remand to Bd for further consideration of use of date of filing charge rather than date of refusal to bargain in measuring 10(b) limitation period, where ALJ found that benchmark date for exclusion of evidence was date when ULP charge was filed, while E contended that when Act is not being given its literal application to filing of charge but is being used to bar evidence in defending against such charge, 10(b) period should be measured from time of E's refusal to bargain)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 657 F.2d 685 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(remand to determine whether E, as claimed, had offered reinstatement to Ee which Ee assertedly had refused; if so, reinstatement portion of order should be deleted, and Ee should be entitled to backpay only for period between discharge and reinstatement offer)

Anchortank, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1153 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(Bd's 8(a)(1) findings, concerning interview Ee was compelled to attend, vacated and case remanded to Bd so Bd could determine what type of interview was conducted; record contained no evidence concerning occurrences at interview)

Amoco Production Company v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 107 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)

(case remanded to Bd where ct was left wondering why Bd had decided that affiliated U was successor to independent U and, while it would be possible for ct to review record and determine whether affiliated U was a continuation of old U under a new name or substantially different organization, ct held this was a factual determination to be made by Bd and precedent required ct to avoid substituting its own judgment for that of Bd)

Newspaper Drivers and Handlers Local Union No. 372, a/w Teamsters v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, June 1982)

(case remanded to Bd for determination of U's claim that E should be equitably estopped from asserting a position inconsistent with its past conduct and representations)

Jim Causley Pontiac, Division Jim Causley, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 125 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(although affirming finding that discharged Ee's filing of MIOSHA complaint was protected concerted activity, ct for second time remanded case to Bd to determine whether E had actual knowledge of concertedness of Ee's actions where Bd on previous remand had relied on evidence already submitted and applied wrong standard in holding that it was sufficient if E knew or should have known that Ee's actions were concerted)

Jim Causley Pontiac, Division Jim Causley, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 122 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct remanded case to Bd for finding on issue, not addressed by Bd, as to whether E knew that Ee's complaints were concerted activity)

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(remand to district court for dismissal of E's complaint that Bd hearing officer's closing of preelection hearing violated E's rights to due process of law, since courts are w/o jurisdiction to review U representation proceedings prior to final orders by Bd)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 458 (C.A. 7, July 1982)

(ct remanded case to Bd to consider whether contract authorized E to require salesmen to observe turnover rule as condition precedent to receipt of sales commission, and, if so whether 50% commission reduction was excessive in light of E's injury due to loss of turnover customers, before determining whether 50% reduction in salesmen's commissions for failure to abide by turnover rule was unilateral change in wage structure)

N.L.R.B. v. Allis-Chalmers Corporation 680 F.2d 1166 (C.A. 7, June 1982)

(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order, set aside certification, and remanded case to Bd for appropriate action where Bd had adopted RD's findings and conclusions as to objections to election w/o seeing evidence relied on by RD)

Hendricks County Rural Electric Membership Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 603 F.2d 25 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(ct remanded to Bd for determination as to whether dischargee was statutory Ee or confidential Ee under Taft-Hartley Act as broadly interpreted in Bell Aerospace rather than whether she acted in confidential capacity regarding labor relations under narrower B.F. Goodrich test)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(reconsideration of bargaining order partly based on unlawful discharge finding by Bd where ct overruled Bd finding of ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(where secondary evidence was essential to finding that Ees were improperly discharged and Bd lacked authority to bar rebuttal evidence as sanction against E for refusing to comply with subpoena, case remanded for taking of additional evidence and opportunity to seek enforcement of subpoena in District Ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Zeno Table Company, Inc. 610 F.2d 567 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(enforcement denied and case remanded so that Bd may consider whether good cause excused late filing of E's answer)

United Scenic Artists, Local 829, Brotherhood of Painters and Allied Trades, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 1267 (C.A.D.C., 1981)

(ct reversed Bd's finding of unlawful secondary boycott by U and remanded for development of adequate evidence in support of Bd's unstated assumption that U knew general contractor possessed contractual control when U encouraged subcontractor's Ees not to work on prefabricated material supplied to subcontractor by general contractor and informed subcontractor it would assess him for time it would have taken his Ees to fabricate said material)

8150-8800 Modification of order

Local 345, Utility Workers of New England (New England Power Service Company) 250 NLRB No. 007

(where ct remanded case to Bd to allow parties opportunity to present objections to proposed amendments to R/O which Bd, sua sponte, made to ALJ's order, parties could not once again contest ULP findings adopted by Bd as this exceeded scope of remand)

N.L.R.B. v. Chester Valley, Inc. 652 F.2d 263 (C.A. 2, June 1981)

(ct denied enforcement and remanded to Bd since revised order was necessary in view of ct's holding as to impermissibility of bargaining order and vacating of Bd's holding as to violation of 8(a)(5))

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)

(remand to modify order for U's certified status to extend for remainder of certification year from date E withdrew recognition rather than from date E first failed to bargain in good faith)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 79 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(impermissibly broad order remanded to Bd for modification with respect to requirements for U access to plants and inclusion of notice in appropriate company publications)

Pattern Makers' Association of Detroit and Vicinity, Pattern Makers' League of North America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 622 F.2d 267 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(remand to consider modification of order to cease giving preference in referral to U leaders and to reinstate policy of giving Es 5 names from which to choose, where subsequent to Bd decision new bargaining agreement was ratified which provides that hiring hall is to be operated under modified rule-of-5 which gives Es choice among U members but which protects U officers against potential hiring discrimination)

Keystone Steel & Wire, Division of Keystone Consolidated Industries, Inc. 606 F.2d 171 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(remand for consideration of more limited remedy than disruptive order to reinstate Blue Cross as health program administrator)

East Bay Chevrolet dba Time Chevrolet v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 1006 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(enforcement denied and case remanded to Bd where R/O improperly prescribed substantive provision for future agreement between E and U; namely, effective date of agreement be made retroactive to effective date of agreement between E and 3 Us representing other units of E, notwithstanding in previous successful negotiations, all 4 Us had conducted joint bargaining with E association of which E had properly withdrawn from)

N.L.R.B. v. Chatfield-Anderson Co., Inc., dba Truss-Span Co. 606 F.2d 266 (C.A. 9, 1979)

(inappropriate where ULPs were trivial and more severe violations were mitigated before election by express disavowals of company president; violations sufficient to justify setting aside election and remand case to Bd for preparation of appropriate judgment)

8150-9900 Other

N.L.R.B. v. Connecticut Foundry Company 680 F.2d 871 (C.A. 2, July 1982)

(no remand for hearing on challenges to voters and election objections where 4 years have passed since election because company's burden would be too difficult, U election victory was very narrow, workforce at E has probably changed and so no way of knowing that U enjoys majority support; therefore new election ordered)

8600 COSTS AND FEES

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 32 (C.A. 1, Mar 11, 1981)

(ct held costs against E in favor of Bd to include counsel fees and all expenses where ct concluded that E's ptn for review was filed only for purposes of delay in view of experience of E's counsel and totally frivolous nature of contentions before this ct; F.R.Civ.P. 11)

Brockway Motor Trucks, Division of Mack Trucks, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 656 F.2d 32 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(in view of SCt's decision in First National Maintenance Corp. holding that E is not required to bargain with U over its decision to shut down part of its business purely for economic reasons, ct ordered that Bd's consent to a decree denying enforcement of Bd's bargaining and backpay order shall be approved, that ptns for enforcement and review shall be dismissed, that Bd dismiss ULP charges, and that costs shall be imposed on Bd with question of amount reserved until appropriate motion is filed by E)

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)

(reasonable costs awarded to plaintiffs who initially were denied relief by Bd but were ultimately successful in obtaining all relief they had sought in a judicial forum, namely, new findings by Bd, even if no causal nexus whatsoever found between actions of Bd and prosecution of lawsuit by plaintiffs)

8667 AWARDS OF ATTORNEY FEES UNDER FRAP 38

N.L.R.B. v. Lance Investigation Service, Inc. 680 F.2d 1 (C.A. 2, May 1982)

(Bd awarded costs and counsel fees)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 881 (C.A. 4)

(remand not warranted where Bd failed to discuss denial of litigation expenses because costs are awarded only for frivolous or dilatory litigation and issues here were arguable and brought in good faith)

N.L.R.B. v. Catalina Yachts 679 F.2d 180 (C.A. 9, June 1982)

(ct assessed double costs to E, notwithstanding Bd rather than E petitioned ct, where Bd was forced to ptn ct for enforcement of its decision due to E's refusal to follow Bd's decision; E's resistance to Bd's findings was frivolous and E resisted enforcement as delaying tactic)

N.L.R.B. v. East Wind Enterprises 664 F.2d 754 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)

(award of attorneys' fees, which Bd requested on ground that petitioner had taken frivolous appeal to delay enforcement, declined by ct, notwithstanding it found no merit to appeal, since it had not been practice in this circuit to award attorneys' fees; ct declared, however, that henceforth it would be more favorably disposed to such requests in order to preserve all parties' rights under NLRA and to protect its own docket)

Stanley Spencer, et al. v. N.L.R.B. 548 F.Supp. 256 (DC DC, July 1982)

(attorneys fees denied where Bd's initial denial of plaintiff's decertification ptn w/o determining whether they were professional Ees in mixed unit as position adopted by Bd has reasonable basis in law and fact, notwithstanding Bd later made exception to its longstanding rule after plaintiffs filed lawsuit and processed second decertification ptn)

9100 CERTIORORI TO SUPREME COURT

9600 SUPREME COURT PROCEDURES

9675 REMAND FROM SUPREME COURT

H. A. Artists & Associates, Inc., et al. v. Actors' Equity Assn. et al. 451 US 704 (U.S. SCt. May 1981)

(remand for ct to determine whether franchise fees U charges agent associates are permissible, component of exempt regulatory system; U's justification for fees inadequate and if U did not impose fees on agents no reason to believe that any of its legitimate interests would be affected)

9675—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, et al. 447 US 490 (U.S. SCt. June 1980)

(case remanded to Bd for further proceedings to find if CONASA ILA Rules on containers have lawful work preservation objective)

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(decision to disclose petitioner's reports is reviewable agency action under APA and petioner is person adversely affected and aggreived w/i APA provision affording right of judicial review of agency action; remand to ct to consider whether contemplated disclosures would violate APA)

Malone, Commissioner of Labor and Industry For Minnesota v. White Motor Corp. et al. 435 U.S. 497 (SCt, 1978)

(claims of impariment of contractual obligations and violation of due process remanded to District Ct where State enacted statute after collective bargaining agreement took effect)

N.L.R.B. v. Baylor University Medical Center 439 U.S. 9 (SCt, 1980)

(judgment refusing to enforce Bd order vacated and case remanded to D.C. Ct of Appeals for reconsideration of no-solicitation rule with respect to hospital cafeteria in light of ct's decision in Beth Israel Hospital v. N.L.R.B. No. 77-152 (June 22, 1978))

0100 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 677 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(E cannot collaterally attack terms of Bd's broad order in contempt proceeding, since E had full opportunity to challenge terms of Bd's order back at time Bd sought enforcement)

N.L.R.B. v. ARC Industries, Inc. and SJODIN No. 74-1203, July 15, 1980, DC N.D. IL (unreported)

(where respondents wish to settle compliance dispute on basis of their mere promise to comply with pertinent judgment in future and Bd has reason to believe that such promise is hollow and meaningless, Bd has right, and perhaps is even duty bound, to seek to have contempt order entered both to carry out remedial purposes of Act and to put teeth in ct judgments and orders entered pursuant to it)

0125 BOARD ONLY MAY INSTITUTE CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(private settlement agreement between E and U withdrawing ULP charge cannot estop NLRB from seeking contempt order against U because interested private party cannot initiate proceedings for contempt order based on prior Bd enforced order)

0150 CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AS ULTIMATE SANCTION TO OBTAIN COMPLIANCE

0150-7500 With Section 10(j) injunction

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466-R, May 21, 1979, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(ct found E in civil contempt for violating its order based upon its consideration of pleadings, evidence, arguments of counsel and entire record in instant case; E ordered to purge itself from contempt and to pay petitioner and U compensatory relief; failure to fully comply with ct orders will bring $25,000-compliance fine imposed by ct)

0175 CONTEMPT NOT EXCLUSIVE SANCTION FOR BOARD FOR VIOLATIONS SUBSEQUENT TO DECREE

0175-5000 Board proceedings on new complaint may be appropriate where violations involve circumstances unrelated to outstanding judgment

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(Bd should have proceeded on pending ULP C lodged with it rather than resorting first to courts to resolve issue in contempt proceeding)

1700 PROCEDURE

1701 GENERALLY

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(party cited for contempt of permanent inj may not collaterally attack validity of underlying decree)

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 677 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(E cannot collaterally attack terms of Bd's broad order in contempt proceeding, since E had full opportunity to challenge terms of Bd's order back at time Bd sought enforcement)

1714 PARTIES SUBJECT TO CITATION

1714-5000 Officer of corporation responsible for failure to carry out judgment

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 78-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(president and vice-president of corporation held personally liable for contumacious conduct where they had notice and knowledge of prior ct enforcement decree and were involved in committing ULP in underlying proceeding, repeated such conduct here in greater intensity, and are bound under rule 65(d) of FRCP and by prior judgment which specifically ran against them)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(ct held special master was correct in finding company's chairman of the board and executive vice president should be held in civil contempt, along with company, for violation of consent decree)

1714-7500 Successors

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(ptn by Bd for adjudication that alleged successor E was in civil contempt of prior judgment which granted enforcement of bargaining order issued against E's competitor, which E had underbid for government contract, dismissed on grounds that highly factual issue of whether bargaining unit remains appropriate existed and this requires more complete development of factual record by Bd and falls w/i its statutory authority to make unit determinations)

1735 DENIAL OF PETITION

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(ptn by Bd for adjudication that alleged successor E was in civil contempt of prior judgment which granted enforcement of bargaining order issued against E's competitor, which E had underbid for government contract, dismissed on grounds that highly factual issue of whether bargaining unit remains appropriate existed and this requires more complete development of factual record by Bd and falls w/i its statutory authority to make unit determinations)

5306 SUMMARY JUDGMENT

N.L.R.B. v. ARC Industries, Inc. and SJODIN No. 74-1203, July 15, 1980, DC N.D. IL (unreported)

(summary judgment improper where there are genuine issues of material fact as to whether respondents are in contempt of any judgment or order of ct)

1756 HEARING ON PETITION

1756-8300 Standard of proof

1756-8333 Civil contempt

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 233 (C.A. 5, June 1981)

(proper standard of proof in civil contempt is by clear and convincing evidence. In civil, as opposed to criminal contempt, E's intent is not at issue, only its actual compliance with order. Thus, absence of wilfullness on part of E's top management cannot relieve E from civil contempt)

N.L.R.B. v. Crockett-Bradley, Inc., et al. 598 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, 1979)

1770 EVIDENCE

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 78-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(in civil contempt proceeding Bd is required to produce clear and convincing evidence that respondents have engaged in contemptuous conduct, and such evidence is more than mere preponderance of evidence; moreover, Bd need not show that conduct was wilful)

1770—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Craft Metals, Inc. Dkt. Nos. 74-3052 and 74-3101, (C.A. 5, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(affidavits taken by Bd in its investigation fall w/i FOIA Exemption 7(A) and need not be disclosed prior to hearing even in civil contempt cases as herein; there is no distinction between enforcement proceedings before ALJ and contempt proceedings as both are instituted to enforce compliance with Act, and Bd's prosecutorial function remains the same; risk of intimidation of witnesses because of premature disclosure is no less a risk in contempt cases; and it is irrelevant that there is no reason to suspect that E herein would attempt to coerce a witness)

N.L.R.B. v. Craft Metals, Inc. Dkt. Nos. 74-3052 and 74-3101, (C.A. 5, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(applying FOIA Exemption 7(A) in contempt proceeding, Special Master required Bd, ten days prior to hearing, to provide E with summary of expected testimony of exempted witnesses w/o disclosing their names, and required Bd, on day any such witness is to testify, to provide E with any affidavit or prior statement of such witness w/i its possession)

1777 STANDARD OF REVIEW OF MASTER'S REPORT

1777-5000 Subsidiary findings of fact must be affirmed unless 'clearly erroneous'

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Crockett-Bradley, Inc., et al. 598 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, 1979)

1785 DECISION BY COURT

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

(E found in civil contempt for withdrawing recognition from E after 2 previous ct orders ordering it to bargain with U)

1792 REMAND

1792-6700 For additional findings

Computer Sciences Corporation, as successor to Federal Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 804 (C.A. 11, June 1982)

(ptn by Bd for adjudication that alleged successor E was in civil contempt of prior judgment which granted enforcement of bargaining order issued against E's competitor, which E had underbid for government contract, dismissed on grounds that highly factual issue of whether bargaining unit remains appropriate existed and this requires more complete development of factual record by Bd and falls w/i its statutory authority to make unit determinations)

N.L.R.B. v. Blevins Popcorn Company 639 F.2d 1173 (C.A.D.C., July 1981)

(remand for master to apply proper standard of proof for civil contempt—clear and convincing evidence rather than proof beyond reasonable doubt—to record in determining whether E had violated contempt and purgation order, to give special attention to whether E's adherence to proposals disadvantageous to U supported inference of bad faith bargaining, and to reconsider his finding that E properly withheld usual December wage increase)

1796 COSTS OF PROCEEDINGS

1796-3300 Discretion of ct

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466-R, May 21, 1979, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

1796-6700 Taxable costs

1796-6742 Costs of litigation

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(U president and U that were in civil contempt of ct's decree enforcing Bd order must purge themselves of contempt by obeying previous order, pay all Bd costs including attorney's salaries)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E ordered to pay Bd all costs and expenditures, including reasonable attorneys' salaries incurred by Bd in investigation, preparation, presentation, and final disposition of proceeding; unless agreed upon by parties, amount to be fixed by ct upon submission by Bd of verified statement of costs and expenses)

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Bruce Cartage, Inc. 654 F.2d 456 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(paying to Bd all costs and expenses, including attorneys' salaries, incurred by Bd in investigation, preparation, and final disposition in this proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Teamsters, Local 85 No. 71-1293, Mar. 4, 1980, C.A. 9 (unreported)

(ct of appeals approved settlement agreement reached by Bd and the U which was found in civil contempt of ct's decree; U agreed to purge itself of contempt by paying approximately half the Bd's bill of costs and expenses, including counsel fees incurred in preparing contempt proceedings)

N.L.R.B. v. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. et al. No. 72-1493 (D Ct. OH, Dec. 27, 1978 (unreported))

(Bd to be reimbursed for all costs and expenditures including reasonable counsel fees)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466-R, May 21, 1979, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

1796-6756 Master's fees, stenographic costs, or printing costs

3300 ACTIONS CONSTITUTING CONTEMPT OF JUDGMENTS

3301 GENERALLY

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466-R, May 21, 1979, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(ct found E in civil contempt for violating its order based upon its consideration of pleadings, evidence, arguments of counsel and entire record in instant case; E ordered to purge itself from contempt and to pay petitioner and U compensatory relief; failure to fully comply with ct orders will bring $25,000-compliance fine imposed by ct)

3301-5000 Conduct not specifically enjoined but within terms of decree

3301-5050 But may be considered in determining violation of decree

N.L.R.B. v. Leslie Metal Arts Company, Inc. 677 F.2d 529 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

(E's mtn for summary judgment, in action by Bd to have E held in contempt decree of Bd order because violations subject to contempt action occurred in plants not involved in prior cases, denied where Bd's use of broad order was directed to E and was intended to protect all of E's Ees at all of E's plants w/o limitation to specific plant or conduct)

3311 8(a)(1) JUDGEMNTS

3311-4000 Interference

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(promising Ees benefits to induce them to abandon U)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(informing Ees that presence of U prevented E from granting new benefits such as medical and pension plans)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(soliciting Ee repudiation of U)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(threatening to close shop; there is no free speech protection for threats of reprisal or promises of benefit, and such statements are ULPs per se)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(inclusion of question concerning U membership in employment applications is effort to discourage Ees from exercising statutory rights)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 233 (C.A. 5, June 1981)

(E held in civil contempt since it had violated previous orders of ct prohibiting U from in any manner interfering with, restraining or coercing Ees in exercise of their rights under Section 7 of Act by its misstatement of law and implied threats that electing U would delay wage increases and other benefits and that signing U meeting attendance roster or authorization card would jeopardize Ees employment relationship)

3333 8(a)(3) JUDGMENTS

3333-2000 Discharge, layoff, or demotion or other conduct after entry of decree

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(sending ULP strikers letter informing them that they had been permanently replaced when, in fact, no replacements had been hired at that time; while letter was sent to strikers on tenth day of strike, it is reasonable to conclude that discharges occurred on or near first day of strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(changing leading U adherent's working conditions by subjecting his work to closer scrutiny, even if only motivated in part by his U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E's justification for sending letter, herein found unlawful, to leading U adherent on ground that he was low producer held pretext, where letter did not accuse Ee of general lack of productivity but dealt with problem occurring on a specific day and involving special circumstances)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(failing to offer ULP striker reinstatement upon his application)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(offering jobs to returning ULP strikers which did not conform to their pre-discharge jobs)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(consent order violated by E's refusal to grant merit increases to ULP strikers upon their reinstatement, since strikers would have received increase but for strike, in view of fact that 99 per cent of nonstriking Ees received increase during period of strike)

3333-7000 Failure to offer reinstatement

David D. Sutherland, d/b/a Manco Auto Painting and Body Work v. N.L.R.B. 656 F.2d 359 (C.A. 8, Aug. 1981)

3333-9000 Inadequate offer of reemployment to discriminatees

N.L.R.B. v. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. et al. No. 72-1493 (D Ct. OH, Dec. 27, 1978 (unreported))

(delayed and inadequate reinstatement of salesclerks where they received lower pay, were assigned cleaning rather than selling jobs and worked fewer hours)

3344 8(a)(5) JUDGMENTS

3344-1400 Unilateral change in working conditions without consent of union

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(unilaterally changing terms of drivers' compensation; change from hourly to per load basis not justified by economic considerations)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(consent order violated by E's failure to reinstate its former practice of paying Christmas bonus to leadmen and leadwomen upon U's request)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(consent order violated by E's unilateral change of morning break time)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(consent order violated by E's failure to rescind unilaterally instituted new merit evaluation system)

3344-4200 Refusal to bargain in good faith

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

(E found in civil contempt for withdrawing recognition from E after 2 previous ct orders ordering it to bargain with U)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(refusal to bargain not unlawful in view of impasse; ct stated that it could not as a matter of law hold that E's refusal to concede on one issue – arbitrability of merit increases – constituted bad faith bargaining)

N.L.R.B. v. Crockett-Bradley, Inc., et al. 598 F.2d 971 (C.A. 5, 1979)

(evidence of failure to bargain in good faith as ordered held insufficient to warrant finding of contempt, and special master's determination of bad faith on basis of reasonableness of E's position found improper; U termed its own proposals negotiating tactics but when E attempted to use negotiating tactics U called them bad faith; and conclusion that E was surface bargaining was found not proper when parties were at proposal stage)

3344-4900 Refusal to sign contract

N.L.R.B. v. Goodsell & Vocke, Inc. 645 F.2d 680 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1981)

(ct found E in contempt for failure to comply with judgment enforcing Bd order finding E to have committed ULP by withdrawing from contractor's association; E was ordered to, inter alia, sign bargaining contract and preserve records relevant to determination of back pay and fringe benefits due as result of judgment, to reconstruct existing records that were incomplete, post Bd's remedial notice and pay fine for each violation and an additional fine for each day that each such violation continues)

3344-6400 Bypassing union

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(by dealing directly with certain Ees culminating in signing of individual contracts with such Ees; such unilateral action is a per se violation of E's bargaining obligation)

3355 8(b)(1)(A) JUDGMENTS

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(U president and U that were found in violation of Act and required to publish in newspapers Bd's notice were in civil contempt of Bd's order when U, adjacent to Bd's required notice published side notice published side notice which contained statements destroying substance and purpose of required notice and expressed U's intention to threaten and use violence in future; side notice not protected by first amendment where it did not express U's political opinion but eviscerated Bd's lawful publication requirement)

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(U president and U that were found in violation of Sections 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of LMRA were in civil contempt of ct decree when U members picketing struck gas station threatened violence and other reprisals against 2 Ees of gas station, notwithstanding that Ees were employed by security firm that was engaged by gas station operator to provide individuals to pump gas and report threats to persons and damage to property)

3377 8(b)(4) JUDGMENTS

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(U president and U that were found in violation of Act and required to publish in newspapers Bd's notice were in civil contempt of Bd's order when U, adjacent to Bd's required notice published side notice published side notice which contained statements destroying substance and purpose of required notice and expressed U's intention to threaten and use violence in future; side notice not protected by first amendment where it did not express U's political opinion but eviscerated Bd's lawful publication requirement)

(ct found E in contempt for failure to comply with judgment enforcing Bd order finding E to have committed ULP by withdrawing from contractor's association; E was ordered to, inter alia, sign bargaining contract and preserve records relevant to determination of back pay and fringe benefits due as result of judgment, to reconstruct existing records that were incomplete, post Bd's remedial notice and pay fine for each violation and an additional fine for each day that each such violation continues)

5033-6733-6300 By mail

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E ordered to mail to each present Ee and former Ees employed since date latter of two prior enforcement judgments was entered, and to provide list of names and addresses of all Ees and former Ees to whom documents were mailed, together with proof of mailing)

5033-6733-7800 Read notice at meeting

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 233 (C.A. 5, June 1981)

(ct refused Bd's request that E be ordered to convene during working hours all Ees and read to its Ees contents of notice in presence of Bd representative to remedy E's contempt of previous ct orders by its misstatements of law and implied threats via videotape that electing U would delay wage increases and other benefits and that singing U meeting attendance roster or authorization card might jeopardize Ees' employment relationship with E, since violations not flagrant and portion of tape relating to wage increases and other benefits deleted when Bd questioned its use)

5033-6767 By union

5033-6767-7000 Publication in newspaper of general circulation

N.L.R.B. v. Union Nacional De Trabajadores, et al. 611 F.2d 926 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(U president and U that were found in violation of Act and required to publish in newspapers Bd's notice were in civil contempt of Bd's order when U, adjacent to Bd's required notice published side notice published side notice which contained statements destroying substance and purpose of required notice and expressed U's intention to threaten and use violence in future; side notice not protected by first amendment where it did not express U's political opinion but eviscerated Bd's lawful publication requirement)

5033-6767-8300 Read notice at meeting

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(convened during working hours; Bd agent to read notice at E's option)

5067 REPORT OF COMPLIANCE WITH JUDGMENT

5067-3300 To court

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E ordered to file sworn statements with clerk of ct and copy thereof with RD w/i 10 days of adjudication and at end of 60 day posting period, showing what steps have been taken by company and by corporate officers, also found in contempt, to comply with ct's direction)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(company ordered to file sworn statement with clerk of ct and copy with RD w/i 15 days after adjudication of contempt and at end of posting period showing steps taken by company, chairman and executive vice president to comply with ct's directions)

5067-6700 To Regional Director

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(E ordered to file sworn statements with clerk of ct and copy thereof with RD w/i 10 days of adjudication and at end of 60 day posting period, showing what steps have been taken by company and by corporate officers, also found in contempt, to comply with ct's direction)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(company ordered to file sworn reports signed by company, its chairman and executive vice president, and by U representative with RD every 30 days summary of nature and course of bargaining and append minutes, proposals, counterproposals, and written communications between parties about bargaining; separate reports may be filed in case of exceptions)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(company ordered to furnish RD with writing signed under oath by each officer, director, supervisor and negotiating representative of E that he or she has been furnished with a copy of contempt adjudication and ct's judgments and order and has read and understands them and will act accordingly)

6700 SANCTIONS TO ENFORCE JUDGMENT

6701 GENERALLY

6701-5000 Nature and purpose

N.L.R.B. v. Blevins Popcorn Company 639 F.2d 1173 (C.A.D.C., July 1981)

(criminal contempt is used to punish intentional misconduct and requires criminal procedural safeguard of use of reasonable doubt standard of proof; civil contempt, however, is used to obtain compliance or to compensate for damages resulting from noncompliance, and therefore, even third stage of proceeding -- in which noncompliance may be determined and penalty assessed -- is not criminal and punitive and requires use of only clear and convincing standard of proof, and intent is irrevelent)

6725 FINES

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-6222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)

(ct declined to levy fines against company and its president and vice president in view of financial burdens that will be placed on company by remedies proposed herein, and fact that financial condition of company, and presumably its principal officers, had significantly deteriorated during relevant period; moreover, company's president was only minimally involved in unlawful activities)

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

(E, found in contempt for withdrawing recognition from U for 3rd time, ordered to pay Bd all costs and expenditures, including counsel fees incurred by Bd, and all costs relative to Special Master; however, in light of change in ownership prospective fines not imposed)

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 233 (C.A. 5, June 1981)

(ct refused Bd's request for prospective fine of E since not case of flagrant violation that would justify extraordinary remedy where E judged in civil contempt of previous ct orders by its misstatement of law and implied threats that electing U would delay wage increases and other benefits and that signing U meeting attendance roster cr authorization care might jeopardize Ees employment relationship with E; fact E has long history of litigation does not justify extraordinary remedies since remedy must be proportionate to illegal conduct at hand)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(company ordered to pay $30,000 for past non compliance with ct's order of which it has been found in contempt)

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(to assure compliance with ct's order and contempt adjudication, ct imposed daily fines of $2,500 against company and $500 against its chairman and executive vice president and anyone with knowledge of order acting with them to violate order, to commence 15 days from entry of order and continue so long as respondents fail to comply)

N.L.R.B. v. Goodsell & Vocke, Inc. 645 F.2d 680 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1981)

(ct found E in contempt for failure to comply with judgment enforcing Bd order finding E to have committed ULP by withdrawing from contractor's association; E was ordered to, inter alia, sign bargaining contract and preserve records relevant to determination of back pay and fringe benefits due as result of judgment, to reconstruct existing records that were incomplete, post Bd's remedial notice and pay fine for each violation and an additional fine for each day that each such violation continues)

N.L.R.B. v. Nichols of Ohio, Inc. et al. No. 72-1493 (D Ct. OH, Dec. 27, 1978 (unreported))

(prospective compliance fine of $10,000 on E and further compliance fine of $200 per day for each further day of noncompliance)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466-R, May 21, 1979, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(ct found E in civil contempt for violating its order based upon its consideration of pleadings, evidence, arguments of counsel and entire record in instant case; E ordered to purge itself from contempt and to pay petitioner and U compensatory relief; failure to fully comply with ct orders will bring $25,000-compliance fine imposed by ct)

6750 PERSONAL ATTACHMENT OR COMMITMENT

N.L.R.B. v. Bancroft Manufacturing Company, Inc., et al. 635 F.2d 492 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1981)

(ct reserved jurisdiction to issue attachment against respondents and any officer or agent of E responsible for failure to purge respondents of contempt, as well as to substantially increase amount of compliance fines)

8300 DEFENSES

8307 ABSENCE OF WILLFULLNESS

Florida Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 233 (C.A. 5, June 1981)

(proper standard of proof in civil contempt is by clear and convincing evidence. In civil, as opposed to criminal contempt, E's intent is not at issue, only its actual compliance with order. Thus, absence of wilfullness on part of E's top management cannot relieve E from civil contempt)

850 PROCEEDINGS ANCILLARY TO BOARD PROCEEDING

2000 SUBPOENA ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

2017 JURISDICTION OF U.S. DISTRICT COURTS

N.L.R.B. v. Valley West Welding Company, Inc. No. 78-1379, Sept. 7, 1979, C.A. 6 (unreported)

(parties against whom subpoena issued by ALJ nor GC required to seek review of these orders from Bd, because when Bd filed ptn to enforce subpoenas in District Ct that ct had full jurisdiction to determine propriety of enforcement)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glen Zipp, RD 632 F.2d 30 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(district ct had no jurisdiction to review Bd decision denying certification to expedited election conducted pursuant to 8(b)(7)(C) during period in which challenges to validity of election were being resolved; ct rejected contention that Bd's rule that election becomes valid under 8(b)(7)(B) when all challenges and objections to it have been resolved is contrary to Act when applied to expedited election conducted under 8(b)(7)(C))

2017-3300 Exclusive under Section 11

N.L.R.B. v. Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. Local 102 and Local 20408 No. 79-481, Sept. 17, 1979, DC NJ (unreported)

(notwithstanding district ct's jurisdiction over that part of case dealing with subpoena enforcement and desirability of deciding all issues in one action, district ct dismissed E's counterclaim to Bd's enforcement of subpoena against it, since counterclaim issues could be considered in enforcement or review proceeding, and then ct of appeals would have exclusive jurisdiction)

2033 SCOPE OF COURT INQUIRY

2033-2000 Pendency of proceeding before Board

Ithaca College v. Thomas W. Seeler, RD (unreported) (D Ct. NY, 1978)

(E's C seeking to enjoin pending Bd election and to require Bd to re-open hearing dismissed by ct for lack of jurisdiction, since Bd did not act contrary to specific provision of Act but, rather, exercised its statutory power, no substantial constitutional question was involved, and E failed to show likelihood of success on the merits and irreparable injury)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(merits of instant case, where Bd sought order requiring obedience to its subpoenas, before Bd not District Ct; ct's limited scope of review, which is, whether information sought by Bd relates to or touches matter under investigation, not whether ptn has merits must be kept in focus)

2033-3000 Agency's purpose in issuing subpoena

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(District Ct may undertake only extremely limited inquiry in deciding whether to enforce subpoenas; Agency need not even show probable cause to believe that law has been violated, only some reasonable basis for believing that information will prove relevant)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors 510 F.Supp. 341 (D Ct OH, Nov 7, 1980)

(Bd entitled to order requiring E to comply with subpoenas seeking information on job description, equipment, supervision and management where information needed to determine appropriateness of bargaining unit; however, E entitled to stay pending appeal where there is likelihood that E will prevail on appeal, E will suffer irreparable harm if stay denied, no potential harm to other parties; public interest best served by preserving E's right to appeal rather than by expediency)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(merits of instant case, where Bd sought order requiring obedience to its subpoenas, before Bd not District Ct; ct's limited scope of review, which is, whether information sought by Bd relates to or touches matter under investigation, not whether ptn has merits must be kept in focus)

2033-4000 Administrative regularity of issuance of subpoena

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(alleged alter ego E which was not named in subpoena and not served does not have standing to contest relevancy of subpoena's requested documents issued to Respondent E; alter ego's rights will attach during appeal proceedings, additionally will have right to argue relevancy of subpoened materials which are introduced as evidence during ULP hearing)

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(District Ct must be reticent to examine alleged procedural irregularities in underlying administrative proceedings insofar as piecemeal appeals will disrupt resolution of labor disputes)

2033-6000 Exhaustion of administrative remedies to quash subpoena

Johanna Maurice, Business Editor The charleston Daily Mail v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 182 (C.A. 4, July 1982)

(injunctive order preventing Bd from enforcing subpoena, vacated where individual who was subpoenaed had failed to invoke procedure provided by Bd regulations to challenge subpoena and failed to show herein that she would be irreparably injured by requirement to exhaust available administrative remedies before seeking judicial relief; individual can make any defense to subpoena before Bd that she could make before ct, and Bd cannot even enforce subpoena w/o recourse to ct)

Hedison Manufacturing Company v. Robert S. Fuchs, RD C.A. No. 78-0498 (D Ct. RI, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(in denying E a protective order to defer introduction of tape recording of speech of E's president to Ees, ct noted E had failed to exhause administrative remedies)

2033-8000 Relevance of materials requested or testimony sought to matters under investigation

N.L.R.B. v. Valley West Welding Company, Inc. No. 78-1379, Sept. 7, 1979, C.A. 6 (unreported)

(ptn for rehearing on ct's denial of enforcement of Bd's subpoena ad testificandum and duces tecum, denied, for differing reasons including lack of relevancy, overbroadness and Bd's lack of power, or that protective order would not adequately assure confidentiality)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(District Ct may undertake only extremely limited inquiry in deciding whether to enforce subpoenas; Agency need not even show probable cause to believe that law has been violated, only some reasonable basis for believing that information will prove relevant)

N.L.R.B. v. Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. No. 79-481, Oct. 22, 1979, DC NJ (unreported)

(mtn for discovery against Bd made in Bd suit to enforce a subpoena in an election case, denied on grounds that access to Bd records should be available only as available in Bd proceedings and FOIA did not permit district ct, having only statutory, rather than general jurisdiction, to enforce on Bd disclosure obligation)

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(alleged alter ego E which was not named in subpoena and not served does not have standing to contest relevancy of subpoena's requested documents issued to Respondent E; alter ego's rights will attach during appeal proceedings, additionally will have right to argue relevancy of subpoened materials which are introduced as evidence during ULP hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors 510 F.Supp. 341 (D Ct OH, Nov 7, 1980)

(Bd entitled to order requiring E to comply with subpoenas seeking information on job description, equipment, supervision and management where information needed to determine appropriateness of bargaining unit; however, E entitled to stay pending appeal where there is likelihood that E will prevail on appeal, E will suffer irreparable harm if stay denied, no potential harm to other parties; public interest best served by preserving E's right to appeal rather than by expediency)

N.L.R.B. v. General Motors Corporation 510 F.Supp. 338 (DC S.D. OH, Sept. 1980)

(order requiring obedience to subpoenas duces tecum and ad testificandum granted where Bd sought information, during R case investigation, concerning: Ee job descriptions; equipment descriptions; comparison of supervision; management; and description of physical changes in (E's) plants; all before E relocated its appliance operation, and now during conversion of appliance plants to light body truck and engine assembly plants, since information was related to matter under investigation; information would clarify issues of: relationship of Ees in unit well have with entire production procession E's facilities)

2050 MATERIALS SOUGHT BY SUBPOENA

2050-2000 List of employees and employment data

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(ct held district ct's granting of subpoena duces tecum for W-4 form or other forms bearing Ees' signatures in order for Bd to ascertain authenticity of U authorization cards proper since necessary for Bd to determine validity of U claim of majority where U is alleging ULPs which preclude fair election and is requesting bargaining order; however, to protect Ees' privacy order modified to allow E to provide legible copies of W-4 forms made by copying machine obliterating all information on form except full name and address, social security number, and signature of Ee, and date W-4 form was signed)

2050-6000 Statements of witnesses

Ray Marshall, Secretary of Labor v. Brite Metal Treating, et al. No. C77-1105 (D Ct. OH, June 30, 1978 (unreported))

(subpoena issued by defendant in OSHA proceeding against Bd attorney for his work product quashed where defendant failed to seek GC's permission for disclosure)

2050-8000 Eligible voter name and address list

N.L.R.B. v. Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. Local 102 and Local 20408 No. 79-481, Sept. 17, 1979, DC NJ (unreported)

(E's am defending against Bd's subpoena enforcement remedy held moot where Bd had obtained Excelsior list itself rather than underlying documents from which to prepare it which Bd had subpoenaed)

N.L.R.B. v. Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. No. 79-C-3173, Feb. 20, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(names and addresses of Ees eligible to vote in R proceeding were proper subject of Bd subpoena duces tecum)

2083 DEFENSES TO COMPLIANCE

2083-1400 Attorney-client privilege

Upjohn Co. et al. v. United States et al. 445 US 925 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(ct upheld E's contention that questionaires, memoranda, notes of interviews conducted by its attorneys among Ees protected from disclosure by attorney-client privilege and constitute work product of attorney prepared in anticipation of litigation; further, control group test (officers and agents responsible for directing company's actions in response to legal advice does not apply as attorneys need information from all Ees to enable them to give sound advice; Rule 26(b)(3) of FRCP provides that work product can't be disclosed w/o showing of substantial need and inability to obtain equivalent w/o undue hardship)

2083-2000 Infringement of constitutional rights

N.L.R.B. v. Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. Local 102 and Local 20408 No. 79-481, Sept. 17, 1979, DC NJ (unreported)

(notwithstanding district ct's jurisdiction over that part of case dealing with subpoena enforcement and desirability of deciding all issues in one action, district ct dismissed E's counterclaim to Bd's enforcement of subpoena against it, since counterclaim issues could be considered in enforcement or review proceeding, and then ct of appeals would have exclusive jurisdiction)

Pegasy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(person has no Fourth Amendment basis for challenging subpoenas directed at business records of third party)

Hellison Manufacturing Company v. Robert S. Fuchs, RD C.A. No. 78-0498 (D Ct. RI, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(there is no Fifth or Fourteenth Amendment issue involved in admissibility of evidence in ULP proceeding)

2083-8400 Danger of misuse of information sought

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(ct held district ct's granting of subpoena duces tecum for W-4 form or other forms bearing Ees' signatures in order for Bd to ascertain authenticity of U authorization cards proper since necessary for Bd to determine validity of U claim of majority where U is alleging ULPs which preclude fair election and is requesting bargaining order; however, to protect Ees' privacy order modified to allow E to provide legible copies of W-4 forms made by copying machine obliterating all information on form except full name and address, social security number, and signature of Ee, and date W-4 form was signed)

N.L.R.B. v. Valley West Welding Company, Inc. No. 78-1379, Sept. 7, 1979, C.A. 6 (unreported)

(ptn for rehearing on ct's denial of enforcement of Bd's subpoena ad testificandum and duces tecum, denied, for differing reasons including lack of relevancy, overbroadness and Bd's lack of power, or that protective order would not adequately assure confidentiality)

2091 BASIS FOR COURT ACTION

Maurice Business Editor, Charleston Daily Mail v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 182 (C.A. 4, July 1981)

(ct denied Bd's mtn for stay pending appeal of district ct's granting of preliminary inj against enforcement of Bd's subpoena directed to newspaper editor in attempt to compel his testimony as non-party witness in ULP proceeding; ct's decision based on its assessment and balancing of likelihood of success on merits of appeal, harm to Bd if stay is denied and to editor if granted, and effect of granting or denying the stay upon interests of public)

4000 INJUNCTIVE RELIEF UNDER SECTION 10(j)

4001 GENERALLY

4001-5000 Nature of proceeding

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(Sec. 10(j) gives district ct power to enjoin alleged ULPs even before such charges have become subject of formal proceedings before ALJ or Bd; ct may so act if there is reasonable cause to believe that respondent has committed an ULP, and if grant of injunctive relief is just and proper under the circumstances)

4001-7500 Purpose of proceeding to maintain status quo pending Board determination

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(unavailability of injunction bond was no reason for permitting change in status quo which risks giving ongoing effect to what may be ULP)

Advertisers Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 677 F.2d 544 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)

(district ct's Sec. 10(j) inj affirmed where there is reasonable cause to believe E's post-election unilateral changes, which Bd has under review, did constitute violations and, contrary to E's belief, does not order E to bargain, but merely restores the status quo in significant terms and conditions of employment, as of the date of election)

4008 COURT PROCEDURE

4008-8000 Intervention

4008-8033 Charging party

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(U's mtn to intervene in 10(j) proceeding denied, where there was no possibility that outcome will adversely affect U's ability to protect its interests, and Congress excluded charging parties such as U from participating in 10(j) actions, empowering only Bd to do so)

4016 TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

4016-7500 Criteria for granting

4016-7501 Generally

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(three factors must be considered when determining appropriateness of Section 10(j) relief: (1) traditional equitable considerations such as the need to preserve or restore status quo; (2) need to prevent frustration of basic remedial purposes of Act; and (3) degree to which public interest is affected by continuing violation. Appellate review of relief fashioned by district ct is limited to determination of whether district ct abused its discretion in granting such relief)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(in 10(j) or 10(l) case, ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such motivation)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(request that E be enjoined from interrogating Ees concerning U, threatening Ees for conduct protected by Act, and discharging them for anti-U reasons, denied, since such conduct is already illegal under Act which provides for redressing such violations)

4016-7544 Danger of repetition

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj, pending final disposition of ULPs before Bd, enjoining E from refusing to recognize and bargain with U, unilaterally reclassifying Ees and increasing wages, and distributing letters encouraging Ees to abandon U, where ct had reasonable cause to believe E had engaged in alleged ULPs and such conduct would have been repeated or continued unless enjoined; ct made and filed its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law upon consideration of record as a whole)

4024 HEARING

4024-8000 Discovery

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(contention ct denied E due process by permitting Bd to engage in pretrial discovery in subpoena enforcement proceedings while denying E equal discovery, rejected; since if current investigation conducted by GC should result in filing of complaint, E will be entitled to hearing and opportunity to refute evidence obtained by subpoena, and any failure on part of Bd to conduct due process hearing can be challenged before Bd and is subject to ct review)

4032 SCOPE OF COURT INQUIRY

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(in deciding whether 10(j) inj would be just and proper, district ct must, under 2nd circuit's General Electric 10(j) standard, consider whether circumstances are extraordinary, whether traditional equitable principles support affirmative application of Sec. 10(j), and whether the public interest would be served by accelerating invocation of remedy sought by charging party)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(outcome of Bd proceedings on merits of case is relevant to ct decision on 10(j) ptn; however, success on merits is only one of the factors to be weighed when making just and proper determination)

4032-3300 Commerce jurisdiction

Louis V. Baldovin, Jr., RD v. International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 626 F.2d 445 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(inj denied since no basis to believe U's refusal to load grain aboard ships bound for Russia in order to protest Russia's invasion of another country, and avoid enhancing economic status of Russia affected commerce, where only political decision by foreign government could satisfy U's grievance; notwithstanding U's action affected producers and transporters of grain and those who loaded it aboard ships; boycott secondary in that U did not seek to affect labor relations of E's with which it had contract or terms and conditions of employment of their Ees)

4032-6700 Reasonable cause to believe unfair labor practice has occurred

Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp., et al. 633 F.2d 1026 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(RD is not required to show that a ULP occurred, or that governing precedents are in perfect harmony, but that there is reasonable cause to believe that a Court of Appeals will enforce a Bd decision finding a ULP)

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(reasonable cause for belief that E had anti-U motivation (in discharging unit Ees) satisfied on record in instant case)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct had reasons to believe that E's subcontracting of unit work was motivated by anti-U considerations and hence unlawful where E knew Ees were engaged in U activity, supervisor had warned Ees U representation was critical mistake and E made no commitments regarding subcontracting until after U filed ULP charges)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(evidentiary burden on RD in 10(j) proceeding is not as great as burden on Bd in enforcement action. If evidence viewed in light most favorable to RD would reasonably support finding violation of Act has occured, RD has discharged his relatively insubstantial burden and the district ct may grant appropriate relief since district ct's reasonable cause determination is factual one it may not be disturbed on appeal unless clearly erroneous)

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(district's ct's sole function is to determine whether reasonable cause and just and proper standards have been met, and not to determine ultimate merits of case before it)

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(Sec. 10(j) gives district ct power to enjoin alleged ULPs even before such charges have become subject of formal proceedings before ALJ or Bd; ct may so act if there is reasonable cause to believe that respondent has committed an ULP, and if grant of injunctive relief is just and proper under the circumstances)

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp. 484 F.Supp. 167 (D Ct NY, 1980)

(to decide whether bargaining unit is accretion to existing unit or not, it must first be determined that such bargaining unit truly represents uncoerced majority of Ees involved; here, majority of Ees at new plant had expressly disavowed bargaining representative who had entered into contract with E; thus, reasonable cause exists to support claim that recognition of U at new plant constitutes ULP)

4032-6733 On facts

Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp., et al. 633 F.2d 1026 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(RD had reasonable cause to believe that E and U representing its Ees at old plant had violated 8(a)(3), (2) and (1) and 8(b)(2) and (1)(A) respectively by using accretion clause of their contract for old plant's Ees to extend contract coverage to Ees at E's new plant where incumbent U did not represent majority of Ees there, who had shown support of rival U and had different work and separate scheduling from Ees at old plant)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(in 10(j) or 10(l) case, ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such motivation)

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(great deference is to be accorded petitioner's evidence and legal theories; so long as evidence favorable to petitioner lies within range of rationality, it is to be accepted and where more than one inference is possible, inferences favorable to petitioner may be drawn)

Daniel Silverman, RD v. Major League Baseball Player Relations Committee, Inc. et al. 516 F.Supp. 588 (D Ct NY, June 1981)

(ptn for inj pending disposition ofplayer-association's charge that multi-owner committee failed to provide requested financial information, denied for lack ofreasonable cause to believe ULP was committed; Es are not required to disclose financial condition except when claiming inability to pay during bargaining sessions--as Es here did not--and statements by individuals not authorized to determine committee's position did not put inability to pay in issue)

4032-6733—Cont.

Farkas, etc. v. Connector Manufacturing Company No. C-1-80-115, Apr. 14, 1980, DC S.D. OH (unreported)

(inj granted since petitioner had reasonable cause to believe ULPs had occurred in view of timing of E's revision of no-solicitation rule when it became aware of organizational campaign, interrogation accompanied by threats, granting of increased wages and fringe benefits, and support, interference or domination by E of labor organization; and since Bd's ultimate goal is to insure that fair election is conducted free of effects of any ULPs, inj is necessary to preserve status quo that existed prior to commission of alleged ULPs)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in determining whether RD has reasonable cause to believe that E violated Act, ct is limited to determining whether evidence exists which supports finding of reasonable cause, resolving all factual disputes in favor of RD; and burden of proof that he must sustain is relatively light)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(evidence was sufficient to support reasonable cause belief that E violated 8(a)(5) where E refused U's demand for recognition after it had obtained authorization cards from 100% of Ees; RD's argument that E's offer to recognize U for limited purpose of negotiating Ees' terminations is not sufficient to satisfy E's obligation to bargain in good faith is substantial and not frivolous)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in its discussion of reasonable cause ct did not evaluate evidence that E had legitimate business reasons for deciding to terminate its trucking operations because they were operating at a financial loss, since ct need only decide whether there is evidence to support finding of illegal conduct; motivation is irrelevant if E was additionally motivated by anti-U considerations)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order on ground that ct's finding that RD's burden of proof was relatively insubstantial was improper and that evidence was insufficient to show a likelihood of violation of Act, denied; clear and convincing evidence for finding reasonable cause is not required and RD's burden is relatively insubstantial; in any event, evidence was sufficient even under more vigorous likelihood of violation standard proposed by E)

4039 CRITERIA FOR GRANT OF RELIEF

4039-0100 Generally

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(three factors must be considered when determining appropriateness of Section 10(j) relief: (1) traditional equitable considerations such as the need to preserve or restore status quo; (2) need to prevent frustration of basic remedial purposes of Act; and (3) degree to which public interest is affected by continuing violation. Appellate review of relief fashioned by district ct is limited to determination of whether district ct abused its discretion in granting such relief)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(order to resume subcontracted operations and to reinstate Ees held just and proper since, unless interim relief is provided, delay inherent in Bd's processes will make order ineffective and Bd order alone will provide no relief to Ees; U will be harmed because unit it represented will have been irremediably dissipated, and general unionism will suffer since Ees, having suffered because of association with U, will avoid any future involvement with Us; and Es and Ees alike need to know that ULPs will not go w/o effective redress)

4039-2000 Purpose of Act frustrated absent relief

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. The North American Soccer League and its Constituent Member Clubs 632 F.2d 217 (C.A. 2, Oct. 1980)

(where equity ct has reasonable cause to believe that flagrant ULPs' have been committed, remedy requiring E to revoke unilateral changes in employment conditions and individual player's contracts proper not withstanding final decision by Bd pending as E's practices threatened to render Bd's processes totally ineffective)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct erred where in Section 10(j) proceeding it declined to order E to c/d from interrogating, restraining or discriminating against Ees in violation of Act, notwithstanding contention order unnecessary since conduct sought to be enjoined is already made illegal by Act and Act provides adequate procedures for redressing violations, inasmuch as if mere availability of ultimate ULP sanctions were held to obviate need for interim relief, there would be no need for Section 10(j))

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in determining whether ordering E to resume subcontracted operations and to recognize and bargain with U is just and proper, it is appropriate to consider (1) need for inj to prevent frustration of basic remedial purpose of Act, (2) degree to which public interest will be affected by continuing violation of Act, and (3) traditional equitable considerations)

4039-4000 Threat to public interest

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(interest is in integrity of collective bargaining process)

Daniel Silverman, RD v. Major League Baseball Player Relations Committee, Inc. et al. 516 F.Supp. 588 (D Ct NY, June 1981)

(ct refused to grant inj, notwithstanding its desire in public interest to prevent possible strike, since there was no reasonable cause to believe ULP had been committed, and association had apparently filed charge insincerely and as bargaining tactic)

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(second circuit ct of appeals has delineated reach of Act's just and proper requirement under Sec. 10(j) which should be applied in public interest and not in vindication of purely private rights)

Kaynard, RD v. Courier Life Publications, Inc. No. 79-C-2610, May 13, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(ct held that RD was not entitled to Sec. 10(j) inj enjoining E from, inter alia, interrogating Ees and discharging Ees to discourage U membership, where ULP charges were still pending before ALJ for final disposition and any delay pending this decision would have minimum impact on U's organizational efforts; furthermore, ct also denied ptn to order E to reinstate discharged Ees and bargain with U for above-stated reasons)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in determining whether ordering E to resume subcontracted operations and to recognize and bargain with U is just and proper, it is appropriate to consider (1) need for inj to prevent frustration of basic remedial purpose of Act, (2) degree to which public interest will be affected by continuing violation of Act, and (3) traditional equitable considerations)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on ground that impact of E's conduct was not grave enough to warrant 10(j) inj, denied, since there may be widespread and serious repercussions from E's ULPs, reasonably believed to have been committed; threat to public interest may be substantial, and degree to which public interest is affected is only one of several factors to be considered in ruling upon a 10(j) ptn)

4039-6000 Imminent danger of irreparable harm

Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp., et al. 633 F.2d 1026 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(TRO held just and proper and not abuse of discretion which enjoined E from recognizing U which represented its Ees at old plant as representative of its Ees at new plant pending Bd's final disposition of ULP charges, since, notwithstanding lack of flagrant or egregious violations or great urgency, advantages of U's incumbency as bargaining representative over rival U supported by majority of Ees might corrode Ees' free and uncoerced choice)

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(refusal (by district ct) to order reinstatement (of discharged Ees) was abuse of discretion that Section 10(j) affords in view of potential for irreparable harm to certified U from loss of 8 U supporters in small bargaining unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(request for issuance of 10(j) inj denied where ct was satisfied that alleged harm to U from accused conduct of E can be alleviated by Bd order directing reinstatement of discharged Ees with appropriate backpay awards, and such order would result if Bd eventually condemns E's conduct as ULP; potential impact of such order negates conclusion that harm suffered by U and its members as result of E's conduct is or will be irreparable or extraordinary)

4039-8000 Maintenance of status quo

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(unavailability of injunction bond was no reason for permitting change in status quo which risks giving ongoing effect to what may be ULP)

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(inj is most appropriately issued where aim is to preserve the status quo and to prevent alteration in legal relations; it is most difficult to justify when it would establish pro tempore new legal relations, require action that could effect job turnover, and would be useless to assure finality in anything that it brought about)

Kaynard, RD v. Haym Salomon Home For The Aged, et al. No. CIV. 80-1568, Sept. 5, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(inj denied where relief Bd seeking-reinstate U as bargaining agent, reinstate dismissed Ees-is whole of relief sought as ultimate goal; purpose of inj is to preserve status quo-here 80% of nursing home Ees replaced, past deplorable condition of home largely caused by former Ees-; thus reinstatement creates risk that conditions will revert jeopodizing health of patients; moreover, if Bd proves complaint, backpay will be provided, rinstatement scheme will screen out Ees whose dismissal would have been justified based on cause)

Farkas, etc. v. Connector Manufacturing Company No. C-1-80-115, Apr. 14, 1980, DC S.D. OH (unreported)

(inj granted since petitioner had reasonable cause to believe ULPs had occurred in view of timing of E's revision of no-solicitation rule when it became aware of organizational campaign, interrogation accompanied by threats, granting of increased wages and fringe benefits, and support, interference or domination by E of labor organization; and since Bd's ultimate goal is to insure that fair election is conducted free of effects of any ULPs, inj is necessary to preserve status quo that existed prior to commission of alleged ULPs)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to bargain with U on ground that order is improper because it does not result in restoration of status quo since status quo prior to E's subcontracting of operations was that Ees were not represented by U, denied; restoration of status quo is not the only consideration relevant to 10(j) decision; other considerations are to prevent frustration of basic remedial purpose of Act, which favors bargaining order herein; moreover, U's majority status was never in doubt, and status quo appropriately includes organized work force entitled to good faith bargaining)

4039-9000 Stage of proceeding before Board

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(issue of whether district ct properly found reasonable cause to believe Act violated and issued temporary inj not moot, notwithstanding Bd had meanwhile issued decision on merits dismissing ULP charges, since neither party had sought order from district ct dissolving inj or suggested mootness)

4047 SCOPE OF RELIEF

4047-1700 Within discretion of court

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(in Section 10(j) inj proceeding where ct has reasonable cause to believe that particularly flagrant ULPs have been committed, just and proper relief includes any remedy ordinarily fashioned by Bd in ULP proceeding despite fact final decision by Bd in ULP proceeding still pending)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(so long as Bd has reasonable cause to believe that charged party in 10(j) proceeding has violated Act, district ct has jurisdiction to order whatever relief is deemed just and proper)

4047-5800 Persons affected

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(in 10(j) proceeding, Bd's concern that reinstatement order would have little practical effect since, if it does issue, such order would come down many months in future after economic exigencies would force discharged U members to seek other employment, held outside of instant inquiry in accordance with 2nd circuit's holding in General Electric)

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(since discharged U members were offered reinstatement to their jobs by E, which was same relief sought in 10(j) proceeding herein, ct held grant of such reinstatement, which dischargees refused, through extraordinary remedy of 10(j) inj would run counter to traditional equitable principles)

4047-8300 Duration

Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp., et al. 633 F.2d 1026 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct modified inj to provide that it terminate by specified date if ALJ had not rendered decision by then and by another specified date if in case of appeal Bd had then rendered final decision by then; inj reduces GC's incentive for speed by granting considerable portion of desired relief, and Ees herein have been unrepresented more than a year)

Harold Boire, RD v. SAS Ambulance Service, Inc. dba Florida Ambulance Service et al. No. 80-1112, Oct. 20, 1980, DC M.D. FL (unreported)

(until final disposition of matter by Bd)

Joseph A. Szabo, Acting RD v. Kantor Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Beloit, Wisconsin No. 79-C-176, Nov. 30, 1979, DC W.D. WI (unreported)

(District ct granted mtn to vacate 10(j) inj in view of dismissal of C by ALJ as first determination to emerge in administrative process to resolve reasonableness of RD cause to believe Act violated)

4055 COURT DECISION

4055-6700 Ultimate relief is for Board

N.L.R.B. v. Clara Frankel, d/b/a Surfside Nursing Home No. 80-C-3418, Dec. 23, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(ct denied ptn for 10(j) inj, noting that problem involving maze of labor-management problems involved herein should be adjudicated by BD which was the expert agency designed by Congress to untangle labor disputes, and that the public interest would best be served by leaving matter to ALJ and Bd)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

4057 COURT OF APPEALS REVIEW

4057-0100 Generally

4057-0150 Mootness

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(issue of whether district ct properly found reasonable cause to believe Act violated and issued temporary inj not moot, notwithstanding Bd had meanwhile issued decision on merits dismissing ULP charges, since neither party had sought order from district ct dissolving inj or suggested mootness)

4057-5000 Scope of review

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(evidentiary burden on RD in 10(j) proceeding is not as great as burden on Bd in enforcement action. 4057-5050—Cont.

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(order of ct of appeals granting injunctive relief pending appeal shall remain in effect until such time as order consistent with opinion in instant case is entered in district ct)

4057-5075 Need for equitable relief

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(three factors must be considered when determining appropriateness of Section 10(j) relief: (1) traditional equitable considerations such as the need to preserve or restore status quo; (2) need to prevent frustration of basic remedial purposes of Act; and (3) degree to which public interest is affected by continuing violation. Appellate review of relief fashioned by district ct is limited to determination of whether district ct abused its discretion in granting such relief)

4057-7000 Procedure

4057-7060 Remand to Regional Director

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(remand to RD to enter c/d order which district ct had erred when it refused to so enter in Section 10(j) proceeding, notwithstanding contention order unnecessary since conduct sought to be enjoined is already made illegal by Act and Act provides adequate procedures for redressing violations; if mere availability of ultimate ULP sanctions were held to obviate need for interim relief, there would be no need for Section 10(j))

4070 EMPLOYER CONDUCT INVOLVED

4070-0800 Assistance to union

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(inj warranted where there existed reasonable cause to believe that E aided U in solicitation of cards and granted recognition to U before plant was in full operation)

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Mego Corp. 484 F.Supp. 167 (D Ct NY, 1980)

(to decide whether bargaining unit is accretion to existing unit or not, it must first be determined that such bargaining unit truly represents uncoerced majority of Ees involved; here, majority of Ees at new plant had expressly disavowed bargaining representative who had entered into contract with E; thus, reasonable cause exists to support claim that recognition of U at new plant constitutes ULP)

Edwin Youngblood, RD v. Solar Excavating, Inc. 486 F.Supp. 159 (D Ct OK, 1980)

(request for temporary inj denied where E had recognized U w/o election and evidence does not show that ULP's were so pervasive as to raise serious question that majority of Ees did not freely sign U authorization cards)

4070-1700 Discharges

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(reasonable cause for belief that E had anti-U motivation (in discharging unit Ees) satisfied on record in instant case)

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(reinstatement order warranted where Ees reasonably believed to have been discharged in violation of Section 8(a)(3))

4070-2100 Surveillance, coercion, interrogation, intimidation

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct erred when it found no reasonable cause to believe interrogations violated Act since unable to determine interrogator's actual or perceived authority where E had stipulated interrogator was supervisor; further, interrogator controlled assignment of work, Ees perceived they were threatened, particularly where they deliberately withheld information from supervisor)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct erred where in Section 10(j) proceeding it declined to order E to c/d from interrogating, restraining or discriminating against Ees in violation of Act, notwithstanding contention order unnecessary since conduct sought to be enjoined is already made illegal by Act and Act provides adequate procedures for redressing violations, inasmuch as if mere availability of ultimate ULP sanctions were held to obviate need for interim relief, there would be no need for Section 10(j))

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(inj warranted where there existed reasonable cause to believe that E questioned Ees about their U activities, solicited aid of Ees in discouraging U activities, threatened Ees with loss of jobs if they persisted in U activities, created an impression of surveillance, and threatened move or shutdown of plant should U activities continue)

Raymond A. Jacobson, RD v. Womentco Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Nashville, Inc. No. 79-3554-NA-CV, Dec. 26, 1979, DC M.D. TN (unreported)

(ct refused to issue inj where it found that there was no reasonable cause to believe that alleged ULP's had been committed)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj, pending final disposition of ULPs before Bd, enjoining E from refusing to recognize and bargain with U, unilaterally reclassifying Ees and increasing wages, and distributing letters encouraging Ees to abandon U, where ct had reasonable cause to believe E had engaged in alleged ULPs and such conduct would have been repeated or continued unless enjoined; ct made and filed its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law upon consideration of record as a whole)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(evidence was insufficient for finding reasonable cause to believe that E committed independent 8(a)(1) violations when its manager questioned Ees and warned them against joining U; whether conduct reasonably induced fear of reprisal depends upon authority that Ees perceived him as having, but there was no evidence to indicate extent of manager's actual or perceived authority; however, manager's actual authority does not determine E's liability)

4070-2500 Distributing of anti-union literature

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj, pending final disposition of ULPs before Bd, enjoining E from refusing to recognize and bargain with U, unilaterally reclassifying Ees and increasing wages, and distributing letters encouraging Ees to abandon U, where ct had reasonable cause to believe E had engaged in alleged ULPs and such conduct would have been repeated or continued unless enjoined; ct made and filed its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law upon consideration of record as a whole)

4070-3400 Discontinuance or subcontracting of operation

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct had reasons to believe that E's subcontracting of unit work was motivated by anti-U considerations and hence unlawful where E knew Ees were engaged in U activity, supervisor had warned Ees U representation was critical mistake and E made no commitments regarding subcontracting until after U filed ULP charges)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(ample evidence existed from which RD could conclude that E's decision to subcontract its trucking operations was not motivated by legitimate business reasons, but instead, at least in part, by anti-U considerations, in view of E's announcement of decision to subcontract after U demanded recognition; expenditure, prior to announcement, of considerable capital to improve trucking operations; gradual and not unexpected increase in costs of operation; and retention of trucking operations at its other plants)

4070-5000 Refusal to recognize

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct properly determined there was reasonable cause to believe E had committed ULPs rendering fair election impossible where it unlawfully subcontracted unit work, and thus its refusal to bargain on basis of authorization cards violative of 8(a)(5))

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj, pending final disposition of ULPs before Bd, enjoining E from refusing to recognize and bargain with U, unilaterally reclassifying Ees and increasing wages, and distributing letters encouraging Ees to abandon U, where ct had reasonable cause to believe E had engaged in alleged ULPs and such conduct would have been repeated or continued unless enjoined; ct made and filed its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law upon consideration of record as a whole)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(there was reasonable cause to believe E unlawfully refused to bargain where, although authorization cards alone from 100% of Ees do not create duty to bargain, E's unilateral decision to subcontract out work and to discharge its Ees left U powerless to indicate its majority status by means of election since U's R ptn was dismissed because termination of operations was imminent; and it is for Bd to decide whether refusal to bargain, when coupled with conduct which frustrates Bd electoral procedures, constitutes an 8(a)(5) violation)

4070-6700 Refusal to bargain in good faith

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. The North American Soccer League and its Constituent Member Clubs 632 F.2d 217 (C.A. 2, Oct. 1980)

(where equity ct has reasonable cause to believe that flagrant ULPs' have been committed, remedy requiring E to revoke unilateral changes in employment conditions and individual player's contracts proper not withstanding final decision by Bd pending as E's practices threatened to render Bd's processes totally ineffective)

Harold Boire, RD v. SAS Ambulance Service, Inc. dba Florida Ambulance Service et al. No. 80-1112, Oct. 20, 1980, DC M.D. FL (unreported)

(10(j) inj granted and E restrained from refusing to bargain with U notwithstanding that 2 members of U bargaining committee had been unlawfully discharged by E prior to attempted negotiations; circumstances did not suggest species of ill-will between parties that would justify E's refusal to bargain; circumstances were not permissable exception to rule under criteria of General Electric Company v. NLRB, 412 F.2d 512 (2d Cir. 1969) where negotiator's hostility toward E was held to be sufficient to sustain finding that E's refusal to bargain was not ULP)

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. The North American Soccer League and its Constituent Member Clubs 501 F.Supp. 633 (DC S.D. NY, Aug. 1980)

(inj to render voidable contract provisions warranted, where E admitted unilateral changes of employment conditions by entering into individual contracts with Ees after U was certified and by modifying, continuing, extending, or renewing contracts which were entered into prior to certification)

Humphrey v. Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. No. CA-78-0466, June 12, 1978, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj, pending final disposition of ULPs before Bd, enjoining E from refusing to recognize and bargain with U, unilaterally reclassifying Ees and increasing wages, and distributing letters encouraging Ees to abandon U, where ct had reasonable cause to believe E had engaged in alleged ULPs and such conduct would have been repeated or continued unless enjoined; ct made and filed its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law upon consideration of record as a whole)

4078 UNION CONDUCT INVOLVED

4078-2800 Strikes

Johansen v. Operating Engineers, Local 12 (Maas & Feduska, Inc.) No. CV 2765 (D Ct. CA, Aug. 2, 1978 (unreported))

(inj granted where U engaged in economic actions including strikes and withholding of services of Ee members, in furtherance of demand that E withdraw its ptn for review of Bd's D/O in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3))

4078-5600 Refusal to negotiate in good faith

Johansen v. Operating Engineers, Local 12 (Maas & Feduska, Inc.) No. CV 2765 (D Ct. CA, Aug. 2, 1978 (unreported))

(inj granted where U engaged in economic actions including strikes and withholding of services of Ee members, in furtherance of demand that E withdraw its ptn for review of Bd's D/O in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3))

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(bargaining order appropriate where U represented majority of appropriate unit when it demanded recognition, E's ULP's had effect of undermining U's majority status, and free and unhampered election would not be possible due to E's anti-U conduct)

4085 RELIEF AGAINST EMPLOYERS

4085-0100 Generally

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order on ground that RD had originally refused to issue complaint and then 7 months later, after review and remand by Bd, filed instant 10(j) ptn, denied, where issue was adequately covered in ct's order, and E has not raised any new arguments that would justify reexamination of issue here)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in deciding E's mtn to suspend 10(j) inj pending appeal to circuit ct, district ct considers (1) likelihood that E will prevail on merit of its appeal, (2) whether E will suffer irreparable harm if inj is not stayed, (3) whether RD will suffer substantial harm if inj is stayed, and (4) the public interest)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in denying E's mtn, made pursuant to Rule 62(c) of FRCP, ct noted that its enumerated factors (merits of E's appeal to circuit ct, irreparable harm to E if inj is not stayed and substantial harm to RD if stayed, and public interest) are generally considered by lower cts in connection with Rule 62(c) mtns)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to suspend 10(j) inj pending appeal to circuit ct, denied, since standard used by circuit ct makes likelihood of success for E less than probable inasmuch as its standard for sustaining district ct's finding is to determine whether evidence and inferences drawn therefrom support conclusion that there is reasonable cause to believe violation has occurred; moreover, requested relief would likely be enforced by circuit ct if ordered by Bd)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in denying E's mtn to suspend 10(j) inj, ct rejected E's contention that likelihood of success before Bd must be treated as important consideration; under 10(j), requirement that Bd must have reasonable cause to believe charged party has violated Act is much more easily satisfied than requirement that RD be likely to prevail before Bd; moreover, 10(j) injs are unlike other preliminary injs which require showing of likelihood of success on merits; to require same showing in 10(j) actions, Rule 62(c) of FRCP would effectively replace reasonable cause standard)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to suspend 10(j) inj denied where interest of, and potential harm to RD, E, and public were evaluated at hearing and led to conclusion that issuance of inj was just and proper, and such conclusion is warranted on mtn herein where E has suggested no reason why it could not have produced evidence on matters it has raised herein at 10(j) hearing; and in view of damaging delay in instant case, additional evidence will not now be considered)

4085-0800 Bargain with majority representative

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Palby Lingerie, Inc. 625 F.2d 1047 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(district ct's granting interim bargaining order appropriate, where, based on authorization cards, U had clear majority and E then engaged in such egregious ULP's as to make fair election impossible; fact that no final unit determination had yet been made did not preclude issuance of bargaining order where there was substantial basis for RD's unit determination and if bargaining order were denied by ct, later Bd approval of unit determination would come at time when those violating Act might have been able to accomplish their unlawful objective before being placed under any legal restraint)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(order requiring E, who subcontracted operations and terminated Ees, to bargain with U held just and proper, since by the time Bd finally rules on charges and obtains enforcement of any consequent orders, U support among Ees may have eroded thereby unfairly diminishing U's bargaining strength; delay in permitting E to avoid negotiations with U will deny benefits of potential bargaining agreement during such period; order only requires that E bargain and not that it reach any agreement; and no reason exists to suspect bargaining order will artificially enhance U's strength)

4085-1700 Recognize and bargain with certified union

Harold Boire, RD v. SAS Ambulance Service, Inc. dba Florida Ambulance Service et al. No. 80-1112, Oct. 20, 1980, DC M.D. FL (unreported)

4085-2900 Resume operations

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on basis of claimed new evidence negating RD's key element of case that U activity predated Ees' knowledge of E's decision to subcontract, denied, such evidence is immaterial inasmuch as evidence exists from which BD could conclude that reasonable cause exists to believe E knew of Ees' U activities prior to deciding to subcontract, and that such decision was motivated at least in part by anti-U considerations)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on ground ct failed to give proper weight to evidence showing that decision to subcontract was made prior to U organizing activity and was motivated solely by legitimate business considerations, denied, since ct does not weigh evidence and determine facts; instead, it assumes all factual disputes will be resolved by Bd in RD's favor and then determines whether those facts, with all reasonable inferences, indicate reasonable cause to believe violation occurred)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn for new trial or to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations on ground ct was in error in arriving at amount that resumption would cost which E claimed would be much higher than ct's figure, denied; ct's amount was reasonably arrived at in view of evidence, and E's claim for higher amount rested on statement in answer to ptn but E failed to produce evidence regarding costs; E will not now be granted new hearing in order to come forward with evidence that it could have presented at hearing)

4085-3300 Reinstate employees

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Palby Lingerie, Inc. 625 F.2d 1047 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(district ct's order that E offer reinstatement to two active and open U supporters was just and proper where their discharges risked serious impact on Ee interest in unionization)

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Palby Lingerie, Inc. 625 F.2d 1047 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(reinstatement warranted where Ees testified that Ee was discharged when she failed to heed instructions of E agents to cease distributing U literature on company premises during lunch break, since E articulated no special circumstances adequate to overcome presumption against restrictions on Ee distributions; alternatively, reinstatement also warranted on theory that E enforced its no distribution policy in discriminatory manner, where prior to U's organizing efforts, E permitted such activities on sale of candy by Ees during lunch period)

Samuel M. Kaynard, RD v. Palby Lingerie, Inc. 625 F.2d 1047 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(reinstatement warranted for U activist whose belief that she had been subjected by E to pattern of harassment and discriminatory assignments was supported by record and buttressed conclusion that she had been constructively discharged)

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(refusal (by district ct) to order reinstatement (of discharged Ees) was abuse of discretion that Section 10(j) affords in view of potential for irreparable harm to certified U from loss of 8 U supporters in small bargaining unit)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct's order to restore operation which E had subcontracted and offer reinstatement to Ees who were terminated as result of subcontracting proper, where ct had reasonable cause to believe Act violated and E failed to demonstrate that such remedy would endanger its continued viability and here cost of restoring operations not unduly burdensome expenditure in view size of company, extent of operations and nature of violations; further, unless interim relief is provided, strong likelihood that if and when Bd does order E to resume operations, delay inherent in Bd processes will cause order to be ineffective)

Hirsch, etc. v. Trim Lean Meat Products, Inc. 479 F.Supp. 1351 (DC DE, Jan. 1980)

(reinstatement order warranted where Ees reasonably believed to have been discharged in violation of Section 8(a)(3))

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's contention that order to resume subcontracted operations and to reinstate Ees would be improper and unjust because RD had originally ruled charges did not warrant issuance of complaint and then 7 months later, after review and remand by Bd, filed instant 10(j) ptn, rejected; RD has satisfied reasonable cause requirement and is entitled to same consideration that ptn would receive if it came to ct w/o having gone first through Bd's appeal procedure; after Bd's remand, ptn was filed promptly; and E has not shown that it has been harmed by delay)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's contention that order to resume subcontracted trucking operations and to reinstate Ees would be improper and unjust because of financial burden it would impose, rejected, since E, who maintains several plants through country, cannot be characterized as a relatively small company; E failed to come forward with evidence that financial costs of resumption of operations will be a substantial burden; there is reason to believe that resumption will have a remedial effect; and resumption will not be wasted since E continues to stay in business)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on basis of claimed new evidence negating RD's key element of case that U activity predated Ees' knowledge of E's decision to subcontract, denied, such evidence is immaterial inasmuch as evidence exists from which BD could conclude that reasonable cause exists to believe E knew of Ees' U activities prior to deciding to subcontract, and that such decision was motivated at least in part by anti-U considerations)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on ground ct failed to give proper weight to evidence showing that decision to subcontract was made prior to U organizing activity and was motivated solely by legitimate business considerations, denied, since ct does not weigh evidence and determine facts; instead, it assumes all factual disputes will be resolved by Bd in RD's favor and then determines whether those facts, with all reasonable inferences, indicate reasonable cause to believe violation occurred)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to suspend 10(j) inj requiring reinstatement of Ees terminated when their work was subcontracted, on ground they are now employed elsewhere, denied, since E is only required to offer Ees reemployment and if Ees decline offer because satisfied with other employment, E will be spared expense of reemploying them and of purchasing trucks necessary for them to perform their duties; but if Ees still desire fromer jobs, it is just and proper that they now be offered them)

4085-4800 Restore operation

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct's order to restore operation which E had subcontracted and offer reinstatement to Ees who were terminated as result of subcontracting proper, where ct had reasonable cause to believe Act violated and E failed to demonstrate that such remedy would endanger its continued viability and here cost of restoring operations not unduly burdensome expenditure in view size of company, extent of operations and nature of violations; further, unless interim relief is provided, strong likelihood that if and when Bd does order E to resume operations, delay inherent in Bd processes will cause order to be ineffective)

4085-4900 Render contract provisions voidable

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. The North American Soccer League and its Constituent Member Clubs 501 F.Supp. 633 (DC S.D. NY, Aug. 1980)

(inj to render voidable contract provisions warranted, where E admitted unilateral changes of employment conditions by entering into individual contracts with Ees after U was certified and by modifying, continuing, extending, or renewing contracts which were entered into prior to certification)

4085-8000 Bargain in good faith

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(bargaining order appropriate in Section 10(j) proceeding to remedy Section 8(a)(5) violation since RD made showing U once had majority and that E had engaged in ULPs so as to make fair election impossible, where E after refusing to bargain with U on basis of authorization cards had subcontracted operations and discharged Ees; in absence of such order, purpose of Act apt to be frustrated since before Bd can rule on charges, U support may erode, and longer E permitted to avoid negotiating with U longer Ees denied benefits of bargaining agreement)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on basis of claimed new evidence negating RD's key element of case that U activity predated Ees' knowledge of E's decision to subcontract, denied, such evidence is immaterial inasmuch as evidence exists from which BD could conclude that reasonable cause exists to believe E knew of Ees' U activities prior to deciding to subcontract, and that such decision was motivated at least in part by anti-U considerations)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to resume subcontracted operations, reinstate terminated Ees, and bargain with U on ground ct failed to give proper weight to evidence showing that decision to subcontract was made prior to U organizing activity and was motivated solely by legitimate business considerations, denied, since ct does not weigh evidence and determine facts; instead, it assumes all factual disputes will be resolved by Bd in RD's favor and then determines whether those facts, with all reasonable inferences, indicate reasonable cause to believe violation occurred)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(E's mtn to alter or amend 10(j) order requiring E to bargain with U on ground that order is improper because it does not result in restoration of status quo since status quo prior to E's subcontracting of operations was that Ees were not represented by U, denied; restoration of status quo is not the only consideration relevant to 10(j) decision; other considerations are to prevent frustration of basic remedial purpose of Act, which favors bargaining order herein; moreover, U's majority status was never in doubt, and status quo appropriately includes organized work force entitled to good faith bargaining)

4085-8500 Cease and desist from interrogation, interference or coercion

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(district ct erred where in Section 10(j) proceeding it declined to order E to c/d from interrogating, restraining or discriminating against Ees in violation of Act, notwithstanding contention order unnecessary since conduct sought to be enjoined is already made illegal by Act and Act provides adequate procedures for redressing violations, inasmuch as if mere availability of ultimate ULP sanctions were held to obviate need for interim relief, there would be no need for Section 10(j))

4093 RELIEF AGAINST UNIONS

4093-4000 Instruct members to cease striking or picketing

Johansen v. Operating Engineers, Local 12 (Maas & Feduska, Inc.) No. CV 2765 (D Ct. CA, Aug. 2, 1978 (unreported))

(U enjoined from engaging in economic actions, including strikes and withholding services of Ee members, and required to notify every U member employed by E that U has no objection to Ees' performing services for E where U took economic action to force E to withdraw ptn to review Bd's D/O in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3))

4093-8000 Bargain in good faith

Johansen v. Operating Engineers, Local 12 (Maas & Feduska, Inc.) No. CV 2765 (D Ct. CA, Aug. 2, 1978 (unreported))

(U enjoined from engaging in economic actions, including strikes and withholding services of Ee members, and required to notify every U member employed by E that U has no objection to Ees' performing services for E where U took economic action to force E to withdraw ptn to review Bd's D/O in violation of Sec. 8(b)(3))

6001 GENERALLY

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F.Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(10(l)injunctive relief is interlocutory pending final determination of ULP charges before Bd)

6001-6200 Jurisdiction of District Court

6001-6275 After remand from court of appeals to Board

William A. Pascarell, Acting RD v. New York Shipping Association, Inc., etc. 650 F.2d 19 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(U's contention that district ct which Bd had petitioned for mandatory inj in 8(b)(4)(B) cases should have referred the Bd to the ct of appeals from which pending ULP cases were remanded for consideration of pendents lite relief, rejected as inconsistent with structure of the Act, since ct of appeals has authority under 10(e) to grant temporary relief only in connection with enforcement of a Bd order, and, if it has any power to enforce a Bd order pending a remand, such power in no way preempts district ct's authority or Bd's duty under 10(l))

6001-7500 Nature and purpose

6001-7560 Preservation of status quo

Union De Tronquistas De Puerto Rico, Local 901, etc. v. Arlook, etc. of N.L.R.B. 586 F.2d 872 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(Sec. 10(l) inj may be just and proper where necessary to preserve status quo so that Bd's ultimate decision will not be rendered moot by intervening events, or where necessary to prevent disruptions in commerce or future ULP's)

Reed Johnston, RD v. Thonet, a Simmons Company No. C-C-78-257 (D CT. NC, Dec. 22, 1978 (unreported))

(reinstatement of two Ees held just and proper to restore and preserve status quo where Bd met its burden of establishing reasonable cause to believe that the ULP's occurred, and its theories of fact and law were substantial and not frivolous)

6007 PROCEDURE

6007-4200 Parties

6007-4250 Intervention

6007-4250-5000 Charging party

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F. Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(request by general contractor who, as primary E, was charging party, to enjoin U from engaging in consumer appeal publicity directed against restaurant which contractor was constructing, denied, since publicity was not directed at contractor but at restaurant because of its contracting policies, and 8(b)(4) publicity proviso encompasses U's publicity which appeared truthful and was result of primary dispute with restaurant; moreover, contractor was not party to action herein and Bd, as petitioner, did not seek relief requested by contractor)

6007-7000 Dismissal

Raymond A. Jacobsen, RD v. Wometco Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Nashville, Inc. No. 79-3554-NA-CV, Dec. 26, 1979, DC M.D. TN (unreported)

(ct refused to issue inj where it found that there was no reasonable cause to believe that alleged ULP's had been committed)

6007-8400 Discovery

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(contention ct denied E due process by permitting Bd to engage in pretrial discovery in subpoena enforcement proceedings while denying E equal discovery, rejected; since if current investigation conducted by GC should result in filing of complaint, E will be entitled to hearing and opportunity to refute evidence obtained by subpoena, and any failure on part of Bd to conduct due process hearing can be challenged before Bd and is subject to ct review)

6014 TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

6014-5600 Evidence

6014-5667 Sufficiency

Samuel M. Kaynard v. Local 259, United Automobile Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America No. CV-80-2305, Oct. 10, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(when reasonable cause to believe turns on disputed issues of fact, RD may assume these in favor of charge and District Ct should sustain him if his choice is w/i range of rationality. If differing inferences may fairly be drawn from facts he has found, he may choose one more favorable to charging party, and this too should be upheld)

6014-8400 Relief

6014-8425 'Must be just and proper'

William A. Pascarell, Acting RD v. New York Shipping Association, Inc., etc. 650 F.2d 19 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(where appellant Us contended that district ct must under 10(l) determine what inj relief was just and proper, ct of appeals held that, given Bd's obligation to seek pendente lite relief against 8(b)(4) violations, district ct could not be held to have erred in refusing to permit a change in status quo by allowing Us to put into effect contractual Rules on Containers which involved non-frivolous substantial ULP charges and would have put the freight consolidators out of business while the Bd hearing went forward)

6021 SCOPE OF COURT INQUIRY

6021-0100 Generally

D'Amico v. Teamsters, Local 639 No. 80-1537, July 18, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(10(l) inj against U engaged in strike, denied, since 10(l) grant of jurisdiction to district ct is not a mandate to grant Bd an inj whenever it decides it has reasonable cause to believe an ULP is occurring; rather, statutory language just and proper means ct should apply general equitable criteria whenever Bd seeks inj; and it would be unjust and improper to break ongoing strike by inj which, because of unlikelihood that Bd will succeed on merits, would be inconsistent with overall purpose of Act)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 500 F.Supp. 1120 (DC W.D. WI, Aug. 1980)

(in 10(l), as in 10(j), proceeding, ct's task is limited to determining whether there is reasonable cause to believe that respondent engaged in ULPs, resolving all factual disputes in favor of RD who faces a relatively insubstantial burden of proof in such proceedings)

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F.Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(prerequisite for granting injunction is finding by ct that reasonable cause exists to believe that violation has been committed and that injunction relief is just and proper)

6021-5000 Standard of court's inquiry

6021-5009 Commerce

Louis V. Baldovin, Jr., RD v. International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, et al. 626 F.2d 445 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(inj denied since no basis to believe U's refusal to load grain aboard ships bound for Russia in order to protest Russia's invasion of another country, and avoid enhancing economic status of Russia affected commerce, where only political decision by foreign government could satisfy U's grievance; notwithstanding U's action affected producers and transporters of grain and those who loaded it aboard ships; boycott secondary in that U did not seek to affect labor relations of E's with which it had contract or terms and conditions of employment of their Ees)

6021-5036 Reasonableness of regional director's interpretation

Union De Tronquistas De Puerto Rico, Local 901, etc. v. Arlook, etc. of N.L.R.B. 586 F.2d 872 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(ct must conclude that legal theories relied on by RD are not w/o substance)

Samuel M. Kaynard v. Local 259, United Automobile Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America No. CV-80-2305, Oct. 10, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(when reasonable cause to believe turns on disputed issues of fact, RD may assume those in favor of charge and District Ct should sustain him if his choice is w/i range of rationality. If differing inferences may fairly be drawn from facts he has found, he may choose one more favorable to charging party, and this too should be upheld)

6021-5073 Reasonable cause to believe Act has been violated

Union De Tronquistas De Puerto Rico, Local 901, etc. v. Arlook, etc. of N.L.R.B. 586 F.2d 872 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(ct must determine whether RD has reasonable cause to believe that elements of ULP are present, and RD need only show existence of credible evidence even if disputed, together with reasonable inferences which support his conclusions; district ct's findings herein held not erroneous)

William A. Pascarell, Acting RD v. New York Shipping Association, Inc., etc. 650 F.2d 19 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(district ct held not to have erred in issuing preliminary inj upon finding that there was reasonable cause to believe ULP was present and Bd's legal theory was substantial and not frivolous; district ct thus applied standard which is settled law of the circuit)

Allen, RD v. Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, Local 2 No. 80-2447 WHO, June 18, 1980, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj in order to enjoin U for 60 days from picketing E pending final disposition of ULP charges before Bd where objects of picketing were to force E to recognize U and to force Ees to select U as their representative; district ct had reasonable cause to believe that picketing violated Section 8(b)(7)(c) and that it would likely be repeated or continue unless enjoined)

D'Amico v. Teamsters, Local 639 No. 80-1537, July 18, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(10(l) inj against U engaged in strike, denied, since Bd failed to satisfy ct that there is reasonable cause to believe U violated Act where it was unlikely Bd could establish that two companies involved herein were operated independently of each other, and its contention companies were wholly unconcerned with each other's labor problems was frivolous inasmuch as companies shared ownership, facilities, equipment, workers, and advertising; and president of one company involved himself in other company's dealings with Ees, participated in its contract negotiations, and was kept abreast of its labor relations)

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F. Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(U's picketing, questioning workers on site, or calling and writing letters to neutral subcontractors and owner of site had objective of inducing or encouraging such individuals to c/d/b with primary general contractor, and U's direct and indirectpressure on secondary parties had as its goal pressuring of primary E to agree to U's contract demands; consequently, reasonable cause exists to believe 8(b)(4)(B) was violated)

Joseph H. Solien, RD v. Teamsters Local No. 610 484 F.Supp. 1240 (DC E.D. MO, Feb. 1980)

(statutory standard of reasonable cause is satisfied if there is any showing of formal issues which must be resolved by Bd)

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(reasonable cause to believe ULP exists where U, having dispute with contractor employed by neutral E, picketed gate set aside for exclusive use of neutral Ees and caused such Ees to engage in work stoppages, even though a gate had been reserved by E for exclusive use of contractor's Ees)

Samuel M. Kaynard v. Local 259, United Automobile Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America No. CV-80-2305, Oct. 10, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

6021-5081 Existence of ULP not within court's province

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1675 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(in passing upon application for inj, ct is not called upon to finally decide issues presented, rather ct's role is limited to determining whether there is some significant possibility that picketing herein would violate the Act)

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F.Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(ct isnot called upon to decide whether violation has been committed; rather, Congressplaced ultimate determination with Bd, subject to review by cts of appeals)

6028 EVIDENCE

6028-0100 Generally

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

6028-3300 Quantum

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 663 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

(E's contentions that RD has greater burden of proving by substantial evidence on record as a whole that E's actions motivated by anti-U animus, rejected, since that standard applicable only to determination of merits of ULP charge; in Section 10(j) or 10(l) inj cases ct need not, indeed should not, make finding of E motivation. It need only find reasonable cause for belief that there was such a motivation)

6049 GRANT OF RELIEF

6049-1200 Considerations in denying relief

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F. Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(request by general contractor who, as primary E, was charging party, to enjoin U from engaging in consumer appeal publicity directed against restaurant which contractor was constructing, denied, since publicity was not directed at contractor but at restaurant because of its contracting policies, and 8(b)(4) publicity proviso encompasses U's publicity which appeared truthful and was result of primary dispute with restaurant; moreover, contractor was not party to action herein and Bd, as petitioner, did not seek relief requested by contractor)

Winifred D. Morio, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 94-94A 79-Civ. 626-CSH (D Ct. NY, Feb. 26, 1979 (unreported))

(no inj granted where picketing has ceased after settlement of contract issues because there must be existing condition for inj to issue notwithstanding possibility exists that U could revert to prior illegal conduct)

6049-1287 Failure to establish reasonable cause

D'Amico v. Teamsters, Local 639 No. 80-1537, July 18, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(10(l) inj against U engaged in strike, denied, since Bd failed to satisfy ct that there is reasonable cause to believe U violated Act where it was unlikely Bd could establish that two companies involved herein were operated independently, of each other, and its contention companies were wholly unconcerned with each other's labor problems was frivolous inasmuch as companies shared ownership, facilities, equipment, workers, and advertising; and president of one company involved himself in other company's dealings with Ees, participated in its contrate negotiations, and was kept abreast of its labor relations)

Joseph H. Solien, RD v. Teamsters Local No. 610 484 F.Supp. 1240 (DC E.D. MO, Feb. 1980)

(inj not granted since no reasonable cause to believe Act violated where U was not picketing for recognition but for purpose of disseminating information that that E was not paying area standards in view of signs which stated Ees of E who were represented by another U were not being paid wages comparable to those paid to Ees represented by U which was picketing and that picketing was informational rather than for recognition)

Samuel M. Kaynard v. Local 259, United Automobile Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America No. CV-80-2305, Oct. 10, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(when reasonable cause to believe turns on disputed issues of fact, RD may assume these in favor of charge and District Ct should sustain him if his choice is w/i range of rationality. If differing inferences may fairly be drawn from facts he has found, he may choose one more favorable to charging party, and this too should be upheld)

6049-2500 Considerations in granting relief

William A. Pascarell, Acting RD v. New York Shipping Association, Inc., etc. 680 F.2d 19 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(where appellant Us contended that district ct must under 10(l) determine what inj relief was just and proper, ct of appeals held that, given Bd's obligation to seek pendente lite relief against 8(b)(4) violations, district ct could not be held to have erred in refusing to permit a change in status quo by allowing Us to put into effect contractual Rules on Containers which involved non-frivolous substantial ULP charges and would have put the freight consolidators out of business while the Bd hearing went forward)

6049-2525 Damage to employer's business

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1673 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(equitable relief found just and proper in view of tremendous pressure which could be brought to bear by picketing neutral Es with correspondingly little impact on primary E)

6049-2550 Nature of conduct involved

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(U, having dispute with contractor employed by neutral E, picketed gate set up by neutral E for exclusive use of its Ees, even though E had also reserved a gate for exclusive use of contractor's Ees)

6049-2583 Resumption or continuation of conduct

Allen, RD v. Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, Local 2 No. 80-2447 WHO, June 18, 1980, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj in order to enjoin U for 60 days from picketing E pending final disposition of ULP charges before Bd where objects of picketing were to force E to recognize U and to force Ees to select U as their representative; district ct had reasonable cause to believe that picketing violated Section 8(b)(7)(c) and that it would likely be repeated or continue unless enjoined)

6049-3700 Duration of injunction

6049-3767 Until final adjudication of Board

Allen, RD v. Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, Local 2 No. 80-2447 WHO, June 18, 1980, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(RD entitled to temporary inj in order to enjoin U for 60 days from picketing F pending final disposition of ULP charges before Bd where objects of picketing were to force E to recognize U and to force Ees to select U as their representative; district ct had reasonable cause to believe that picketing violated Section 8(b)(7)(c) and that it would likely be repeated or continue unless enjoined)

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 483 F. Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(pending final disposition by Bd, U enjoined from engaging in picketing, orders, directives, instructions, requests or appeals, or by any other means, in threatening, coercing, or restraining neutral Es in order to force them to c/d/b/ with primary E, or to force or require primary E to entire into agreement prohibited by Sec. 8(e))

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(it is just and proper that, pending final disposition by Bd, U be enjoined from continuation or repetition of conduct giving reasonable cause to believe that U violated Act by picketing neutral E's gate reserved for exclusive use by its Ees, even though a gate had been set up for exclusive use by Ees of contractor with whom U had dispute)

6049-3775 Only so long as reserved gate is properly used

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(should primary E, its Ees, suppliers for whose exclusive use a gate was reserved by neutral E, be permitted to use such gate, then provisions of injunctive order herein shall be stayed and shall be reinstated only upon good cause shown in ct)

6049-7500 Acts charged and similar acts

6049-7522 'Any like or related acts or conduct'

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(it may fairly be anticipated that unless enjoined U will continue to repeat acts and conduct specified herein or similar or like acts and conduct in violation of 8(b)(4)(B)(i) and (ii))

6049-7588 Relief must be 'just and proper'

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 618C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(it is just and proper that, pending final disposition by Bd, U be enjoined from continuation or repetition of conduct giving reasonable cause to believe that U violated Act by picketing neutral E's gate reserved for exclusive use by its Ees, even though a gate had been set up for exclusive use by Ees of contractor with whom U had dispute)

6063 COURT OF APPEALS REVIEW

6063-4000 Procedure

6063-4050 Remand to District Court

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(order of ct of appeals granting injunctive relief pending appeal shall remain in effect until such time as order consistent with opinion in instant case is entered in district ct)

6063-6000 Scope of review

Union De Tronquistas De Puerto Rico, Local 901, etc. v. Arlook, etc. of N.L.R.B. 586 F.2d 872 (C.A. 1, 1980)

(on appeal from order granting injunctive relief, role of this ct is usual limited one; it applies the clearly erroneous standard to district ct's findings and reviews for errors of law and abuse of discretion)

6063-6033 Findings of District Court will not be disturbed where not plainly erroneous

Arthur Eisenberg, RD v. Wellington Hall Nursing Home, Inc. 651 F.2d 902 (C.A. 3, May 1981)

(refusal (by district ct) to order reinstatement (of discharged Ees) was abuse of discretion that Section 10(j) affords in view of potential for irreparable harm to certified U from loss of 8 U supporters in small bargaining unit)

6084 CONDUCT INVOLVED

6084-0100 Generally

6084-0150 Conduct charged against same party in other proceeding may be considered

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(—federal cts may decide labor law questions that emerge as collateral issues in suits brought under independent federal remedies, including the anti-trust laws)

6084-2100 Coercion, intimidation, violence

Union De Tronquistas De Puerto Rico, Local 901, etc. v. Arlook, etc. of N.L.R.B. 586 F.2d 872 (C.A. 1, 1978)

(district ct did not err in granting inj restraining U from violating 8(b)(4)(A) pending final disposition by Bd of ULP charges alleging U attempted to induce Ee to stop work and threatened E with future problems in order to force him to become member of multi-E association which represented trucking firms in their negotiations with U)

6084-2700 Common situs picketing

Milo V. Price, RD v. Construction, Production & Maintenance Laborers' Local Union No. 383, International Union of North America, AFL-CIO No. Civ 80-63 PHX, Feb. 7, 1980, DC AZ (unreported)

6084-3100 Reserved gate picketing

Milo V. Price, RD v. Construction, Production & Maintenance Laborers' Local Union No. 383, International Union of North America, AFL-CIO No. Civ 80-63 PHX, Feb. 7, 1980, DC AZ (unreported)

Milo V. Price, RD v. Operating Engineers, Local 953 Civ 78 610C (D Ct. NM, Aug. 31, 1979 (unreported))

(it is just and proper that, pending final disposition by Bd, U be enjoined from continuation or repetition of conduct giving reasonable cause to believe that U violated Act by picketing neutral E's gate reserved for exclusive use by its Ees, even though a gate had been set up for exclusive use by Ees of contractor with whom U had dispute)

6084-3400 Consumer boycott

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1675 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(U enjoined from picketing Franchisees of primary E where Franchisees were found to be neutrals in U's dispute with primary E; moreover picketing of Franchisees was held not to be protected struck product picketing where business at Franchisees' stores was derived almost exclusively from sale of primary E's products)

6084-4800 Jurisdictional strike - 8(b)(4)(D) conduct

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(when E has been acting in accord with ultimate Bd Section 10(k) ruling, E is not liable for damages to disappointed U; even in a LMRA Section 301 suit)

6084-6100 Picketing

6084-6175 Recognition picketing

Johansen v. Plumbers, Local 398 (Robbins Plumbing and Heating) No. CV 78-2939 (D Ct. CA, Aug. 9, 1978 (unreported))

(inj granted where U had not filed timely ptn for election)

Johansen v. Carpenters, Local 1752 (Eastport Development Co.) No. CV 78-2520 (D Ct. CA (unreported))

(inj granted where U had not filed timely ptn for election)

Joseph H. Solien, RD v. Teamsters Local No. 610 484 F.Supp. 1240 (DC E.D. MO, Feb. 1980)

(inj not granted since no reasonable cause to believe Act violated where U was not picketing for recognition but for purpose of disseminating information that that E was not paying area standards in view of signs which stated Ees of E who were represented by another U were not being paid wages comparable to those paid to Ees represented by U which was picketing and that picketing was informational rather than for recognition)

6084-6800 Product boycott

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1675 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(U enjoined from picketing Franchisees of primary E where Franchisees were found to be neutrals in U's dispute with primary E; moreover picketing of Franchisees was held not to be protected struck product picketing where business at Franchisees' stores was derived almost exclusively from sale of primary E's products)

6084-7000 Secondary boycott

Scott v. Joint Council of Teamsters (Calif. Dump Truck Owners Assn.) No. CV-79-0139 (D Ct. CA, Jan. 26, 1979 (unreported))

(finding reasonable cause to believe U violated 8(b)(4)(ii)(B), ct granted temporary inj, pending final disposition by Bd, whereby U was enjoined from in any manner threatening or coercing owner-operators of for-hire dump trucks used by Es to leave construction project until they became members in good standing)

6084-9000 Maintaining or enforcing agreement prohibited by 8(e)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(ct must reach merits of illegality defense in order to determine whether contract clause at issue has any legal effect)

Kaiser Steel Corp. v. Mullins et al. 455 U.S. 72 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(while only Bd may provide affirmative remedies for ULPs, ct may not enforce contract provision which violates 8(e))

Scott v. Joint Council of Teamsters (Calif. Dump Truck Owners Assn.) No. CV-79-0139 (D Ct. CA, Jan. 26, 1979 (unreported))

(finding reasonable cause to believe Us and E associations in construction industry violated 8(e), ct granted temporary inj, pending final disposition by Bd, whereby Us and E associations were enjoined from maintaining or enforcing contract provisions which designated work to be done at site of construction as including any driving to, from or in connection with hauling materials to or from any source or disposal site on the one hand, and a geographical site of construction on the other hand)

6091 DEFENSES

6091-1000 Ally-relationship of secondary Employer

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1675 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(Franchisees of primary E held neutral Es with respect to U's dispute with primary E, notwithstanding that primary E and Franchisees were wholly dependent on each other for economic survival, where each Franchise was owned by person or persons having no affiliation with primary E, and U only sought to picket some but not all of 750 Franchises with correspondingly little impact on primary E)

6091-1600 Consumer picketing

International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO and Council of North Atlantic Shipping Associations v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 890 (C.A.D.C.) (1979)

(Bd and cts are required, in course of deciding cases, to apply general congressional proscription (against secondary boycotts) in various specific contexts: e.g., in cases where there are ally Es; in common situs situations; in consumer picketing cases; and in context of work preservation agreements such as those in instant case)

Edwin H. Bennett, Acting RD v. Local 456, Teamsters 78 Civ. 1675 (D Ct. NY, Oct. 10, 1978 (unreported))

(picketing struck E's products held not w/i decision of Tree Fruits, 377 U.S. 58, where neutral Franchisees sold almost exclusively products of struck E, and thus picketing which followed struck products was necessarily aimed at the Franchisee's business in general)

6091-6400 Publicity proviso

George Squillacote, RD v. Racine Building Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO 490 F. Supp. 1218 (D Ct WI, 1980)

(request by general contractor who, as primary E, was charging party, to enjoin U from engaging in consumer appeal publicity directed against restaurant which contractor was constructing, denied, since publicity was not directed at contractor but at restaurant because of its contracting policies, and 8(b)(4) publicity proviso encompasses U's publicity which appeared truthful and was result of primary dispute with restaurant; moreover, contractor was not party to action herein and Bd, as petitioner, did not seek relief requested by contractor)

Joseph H. Solien, RD v. Teamsters Local No. 610 484 F.Supp. 1240 (DC E.D. MO, Feb. 1980)

(inj not granted since no reasonable cause to believe Act violated where U was not picketing for recognition but for purpose of disseminating information that that E was not paying area standards in view of signs which stated

Ees of E who were represented by another U were not being paid wages comparable to those paid to Ees represented by U which was picketing and that picketing was informational rather than for recognition)

2500 PROCEEDINGS AGAINST AGENCY

2520 PROCEEDINGS TO ENJOIN OR MANDAMUS BOARD ACTION

2520-0100 Generally

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(interlocutory rulings of Bd in course of proceedings involving ULPs may not be reviewed by District Ct except in very limited circumstances)

2520-2500 Standing to institute action

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(where State filed suit in district ct to enjoin election and obtain declaratory judgment that Bd lacked jurisdiction over labor disputes involving jai alai players, ct granted E's mtn to appear as amicus curiae because it had interest in outcome of litigation. E was precluded from joining State as party plaintiff because decision to hold election is non-final order and district ct must ordinarily dismiss, for want of subject matter jurisdiction, E or U challenges to such decision)

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(cts have not taken expansive view of standing; instead, they have located its boundaries w/i personal and introspective setting)

2520-3700 Parties

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(where State filed suit in district ct to enjoin election and obtain declaratory judgment that Bd lacked jurisdiction over labor disputes involving jai alai players, ct granted E's mtn to appear as amicus curiae because it had interest in outcome of litigation. E was precluded from joining State as party plaintiff because decision to hold election is non-final order and district ct must ordinarily dismiss, for want of subject matter jurisdiction, E or U challenges to such decision)

2520-6200 Jurisdiction of court

2520-6201 Generally

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(E's contention that Bd's dismissal of decertification ptn violated Ees' Sec. 7 rights to freely choose their own representative and forced unwanted action on unwilling majority, rejected; Bd is required, in conducting 9(c)(1) investigation and hearing, to observe Congressional mandate; Act's general goals of free choice and majority rule do not contain a grant of federal jurisdiction, nor does the arguable contravention of those goals permit jurisdiction under Kyne)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(district ct did not have jurisdiction to issue order compelling Bd to reinstate R ptn and to conduct investigation to determine if there were sufficient grounds for hearing on decertification ptn; contention that Bd's action was arbitrary and reviewable because of limited scope of Bd's investigation, rejected, since RD had conducted investigation and ct does not judge accuracy of Bd's selective investigative technique; Bd has authority to determine scope of investigation necessary to act on decertification ptn)

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(District Ct must be reticent to examine alleged procedural irregularities in underlying administrative proceedings insofar as piecemeal appeals will disrupt resolution of labor disputes)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, et al. v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-16-NN, June 6, 1980, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(mtn to amend ct's judgment filed by E denied where ct did not have authority to authorize E to grant pay raises to Ees in classification involved in litigation for past three years concerning certification of bargaining unit)

2520-6201-5000 Board actions reviewable under Sections 10(e) and (f)

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(final orders made reviewable by Sections 10(e) and (f) in courts of appeal do not include Bd decisions in certification proceedings under Section 9(c))

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local 400, a/w United Food and Commercial Workers, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 276 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1982)

(Bd's Excelsior requirement does not specifically appear in NLRA and cannot reasonably be viewed as statutory mandate violation under Leedom v. Kyne exception where Bd failed to send U complete list of Ees eligible to vote prior to R election. Therefore, district ct lacked jurisdiction to order Bd to order another election as Bd decision in this election case is not final agency action that is subject to judicial review)

Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-L-62, Apr. 10, 1980, DC NE (unreported)

(district ct granted Bd's mtn to dismiss E's request for injunctive relief since it lacked jurisdiction to interfere with pending Bd proceeding where Bd did not violate Sec. 10(e) under Kyne exception by issuing ULP C or including E in backpay proceeding since theory of joint Es and common control by E was not raised in previous proceeding in which E was not party)

2520-6201-7500 Jurisdiction under APA Section 10, 5 U.S.C. Section 701, et seq.

Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Commission 446 US 917 (U.S. SCt. Feb. 1981)

(Sec. 7(c) of APA which provides that agency may not impose sanctions or issue order unless supported by and in accordance with reliable, probative, and substantial evidence requires agency decision be in accordance with weight of evidence; by contrast Sec. 10(e) does not permit reviewing ct to weigh the evidence, but only determine that there is in record such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion; to conclude that phrase substantial evidence in 7(c) defines scope of judicial review would make substantial evidence language of 10(e) redundant)

Federal Trade Commission et al. v. Standard Oil Company of California 445 US 903 (U.S. SCt. Dec. 1980)

(FTC's issuance of C averring reason to believe respondent acted unlawfully held not final agency action under 10(c) of APA and is not judically reviewable before administrative adjudication concludes, even though issuance is a part of a final disposition and therefore is agency action; ct left open the question whether issuance of C is unreviewable because it is committed to agency discretion by law)

2520-6225 No jurisdiction except where constitutional issue or agency action contrary to express statutory provision

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(statutorily-created administrative and legal remedies, not eschewed in favor of immediate review by district court, even where party presents claim of Constitutional violations; as general rule, parties are required to employ statutorily provided administrative and legal remedies before seeking general equitable relief)

Orange Belt District Council of Painters No. 48 v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(District Ct lacked subject matter jurisdiction since not established that NLRB's decision not to hold election fell w/i narrow exception to reviewability created by Leedom v. Kyne absent violation of statute or regulation by NLRB in application of contract bar rule)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local 400, a/w United Food and Commercial Workers, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 276 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1982)

(federal district cts w/o jurisdiction to review Bd rulings in R proceedings since proceedings are nonadversarial actions and do not result in issuance of judicially reviewable final orders; Bd orders reviewable where they form basis of subsequent ULP charge or in rare instances where: (1) Bd has contravened clear and specific statutory mandate; (2) Bd has deprived party of its constitutional rights; or (3) Bd has interfered with government's conduct of foreign relations)

Chicago Truck Drivers, Helpers and Warehouse Workers Union (Independent) v. N.L.R.B. No. 78 C 749 (D Ct. IL, Sept. 28, 1978 (unreported))

(determination of whether E is carrier or not is factual in nature and not dependant solely on construction of statute; thus, District Ct precluded from jurisdiction)

Smitty's Super Markets, Inc., a Missouri Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-3019-CV-S, June 11, 1980, DC W.D. MO (unreported)

(District Ct lacked jurisdiction to review Bd's refusal to hold election as scheduled where 8(b)(7)(c) charges pending alleging picketing for R for more than 30 days w/o filing election ptn, since jurisdiction to review NLRB decisions lies in Cts of Appeals with narrow exception of cases where Bd is alleged to have exceeded authority)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 498 F.Supp. 267 (D Ct. VA, 1980)

(district ct had jurisdiction to review Bd order entered in decertification proceeding where suit was to strike down order of Bd dismissing ptn for decertification of bargaining representative w/o making statutory investigation, and complaint raised substantial question whether actions of Bd were in excess of its delegated powers and contrary to statutory mandate)

2520-6225-0100 Generally

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(plaintiff who cannot seek review of Bd's order in Court of Appeals but who claims that Bd violated his federal rights has right to repair to district court under any statute that may grant district ct power to hear his claim)

Staco Sales, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2990, Feb. 25, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(District Ct lacks jurisdiction to hear challenge to propriety or legality of ULP proceeding; must go to Bd and, on review, to Ct of Appeals)

National Engineers and Professionals Association, et al. v. N.L.R.B. et al. CV78-2130-RMT (D Ct. CA, July, 31, 1978 (unreported))

(ct has no constitutional basis to assert jurisdiction where U seeking to have ct award inj relief requiring Bd to hold mail ballot election because generally District Cts lack jurisdiction to review Bd rulings in R proceedings and issue does not fall w/i any exceptions to rule)

2520-6225-2000 Actions found contrary to express statutory provision

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(party claiming ct jurisdiction in case involving Bd's dismissal of decertification ptn must show that Bd order was made in excess of its delegated powers and contrary to specific prohibition of Act; Kyne exception to initial exclusiveness of Bd's determination in R proceedings is narrowly to be construed and should not be used to review alleged Bd errors of fact; ct jurisdiction is appropriate only when there is a strong and clear demonstration that a clear, specific, and mandatory provision of Act has been violated)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(district ct had jurisdiction over C that challenged Bd's jurisdiction over labor disputes in jai alai industry and asked for declaratory judgment as C alleged Bd abused its discretion under Sec. 14(c)(1) of Act because it directly contravened firm policy Bd had established for identical Ees in horse or dog racing branches of State's gambling industry; furthermore, jurisdiction impinged on State industry in violation of tenth amendment. These claims obviously arise under Constitution or law of U.S.; therefore, ct had jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1331)

Physicians National House Staff Association et al. v. John H. Fanning et al. 642 F.2d 492 (C.A.D.C. Jul 11, 1981)

(Leedom v. Kyne exception to rule that Bd orders in representation proceedings are unreviewable requires showing that Bd acted w/o statutory authority and violated a specifically identified clear and mandatory provision of the Act)

International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, an unincorporated labor organization v. Thomas C. Hendrix, et al. No. 80-1071, Jan. 29, 1980, DC KS (unreported)

(district ct has power to strike down orders of Bd made in excess of Bd's delegated powers and contrary to specific prohibitions or mandates of Act)

Amsoil, Inc., a Delaware Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 525 F.Supp. 839 (DC MN, Nov. 1981)

(district cts have jurisdiction, apart from review provisions of Act, to strike down orders which contravene an express statutroy mandate)

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2388-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)

(District Ct, under its general equity powers, has jurisdiction to restrain Bd from exceeding its powers as administrative agency to detriment of one affected by its illegal acts)

2520-6225-4000 Actions found not contrary to express statutory provisions

Touche Ross & Co.; et al. v. Securities and Exchange Commission, et al. Dkt. No. 78-6098 (C.A. 2, May 10, 1979 (unreported))

(Myers v. Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp. principle of no judicial relief for supposed or threatened injury before prescribed administrative remedy exhausted still viable and Leedom v. Kyne exception interpreted narrowly)

Chicago Truck Drivers, Helpers and Warehouse Workers Union (Independent) v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 816 (C.A. 7, 1979)

(appellate ct upheld district ct's decision that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction to review Bd decision dismissing representation ptn on grounds that company was excluded from NLRA Sec. 2(2) definition of E as it was an air carrier subject to jurisdiction of RLA, and that its petitioned-for truckdrivers' work was integral part of its air carrier operations; Bd did not disregard clear, specific statutory directive, and there was support for its decision)

Physicians National House Staff Association et al. v. John H. Fanning et al. 642 F.2d 492 (C.A.D.C. Jul 11, 1981)

(ct of appeals affd D. Ct's dismissal of suit seeking to overturn Bd's determination that members of nonprofit hospital staff consisting of physicians serving as interns, residents and clinical fellows were not Ees but students, and have them declared Ees' legislative history of the Act and case law show that Bd certification decisions are not to be subject to judicial review and, although Congress discussed treatment of hospital staff as Ees, it did not mandate such treatment in the 1974 amendments, and the instant case therefore does not come w/i Leedom v. Kyne exception)

United Food and Commercial Workers, Local 400, a/w United Food and Commercial Workers, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 694 F.2d 276 (C.A.D.C., Nov. 1982)

(Bd's Excelsior requirement does not specifically appear in NLRA and cannot reasonably be viewed as statutory mandate violation under Leedom v. Kyne exception where Bd failed to send U complete list of Ees eligible to vote prior to R election. Therefore, district ct lacked jurisdiction to order Bd to order another election as Bd decision in this election case is not final agency action that is subject to judicial review)

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al., v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)

(State would have standing to seek review if ULP proceedings ensue; problem is that no ULP proceedings may ensue (see p. 7))

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)

(District Ct will assert jurisdiction under Leedom v. Kyne, 358 U.S. 184, where circumstances show that party seeking relief will not otherwise have avenue for review if jurisdiction declined, and here, if E acceded to certification and Bd order so that no ULP proceeding will ensue, State may be precluded from seeking review under Sec. 10 of Act; alternatively, D Ct could assert jurisdiction under Fay v. Douds, 172 F.2d 720 since there is substantial claim by State that action taken by Bd has violated constitutional rights of complaining party; State's 10th Amendment rights)

Carol Estes and 166 Other Warehouse Facility Employees v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-4068 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(ct lacked jurisdiction over suit challenging Bd's application of its blocking charge rule to decertification ptn; at time RD applied rule and dismissed ptn, there were pending not merely ULP charges filed by U but formal Cs issued on behalf of Bd concerning those charges, and it was reasonable to assume RD had some idea whether U's charges were substantial and whether representation election could fairly be held)

The Jewish Hospital Association of Louisville, Kentucky, Inc. v. John H. Fanning, et al. No. C 79-0206-L(B), Aug. 9, 1979, DC W.D. KY (unreported)

(where certification order valid on its face ct lacks jurisdiction to set it aside as health care facilities are subject to provisions of NLRA)

Gene Patterson v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 862(T) (D Ct NC, 1979)

(ct held that it lacked subject-matter jurisdiction over Bd's exercise of blocking charge rule; Bd had exercised discretion specifically entrusted to it by Congress and cts and applied rule to ongoing, not stale, ULP proceedings, not mechanistically, but with consideration for E's statement of position as well as its history of ULPs)

Signode Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. C-1-79-615, Nov. 1, 1979, DC S.D. OH (unreported)

(mtn for temporary restraining order and permanent inj, denied, where mtn sought to enjoin ULP proceeding; district ct is w/o jurisdiction over the matter and, contrary to petitioner's contention, Leedom v. Kyne is inapplicable since Bd had not acted in excess of its delegated powers and contrary to a specific prohibition in the Act)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2363 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(district ct has no jurisdiction to review Bd decision under Leedom v. Kyne rationale, 358 U.S. 184, unless there was clear disregard by NLRB of specific and unambiguous statutory directive contained in the Act)

Combustion Engineering, Inc., etc. v. Curtis L. Mack, RD, etc. CIV-2-79-67 (D Ct. TN, May 8, 1979 (unreported))

(no denial of due process by Bd refusal to delay election to permit E to retain additional counsel; Bd orders in certification proceedings are not directly reviewable by cts and none of the judicially recognized exceptions appear to be applicable to instant situation where E had not engaged sufficient counsel to handle its labor-management matters seasonably)

2520-6225-6000 Actions found to raise constitutional questions

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(district ct had jurisdiction over C that challenged Bd's jurisdiction over labor disputes in jai alai industry and asked for declaratory judgment as C alleged Bd abused its discretion under Sec. 14(c)(1) of Act because it directly contravened firm policy Bd had established for identical Ees in horse or dog racing branches of State's gambling industry; furthermore, jurisdiction impinged on State industry in violation of tenth amendment. These claims obviously arise under Constitution or law of U.S.; therefore, ct had jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1331)

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)

(District Ct will assert jurisdiction under Leedom v. Douds, 172 F.2d 720 since there is substantial claim by State that action taken by Bd has violated constitutional rights of complaining party; State's 10th Amendment rights)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glenn Zipp, RD 482 F.Supp. 489 (D Ct. IL)

(GC's refusal to issue complaint based upon alleged ULPs, not violation of a constitutional right, and hence district ct lacked subject matter jurisdiction to review GC's refusal)

2520-6225-8000 Actions found not to raise constitutional questions

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)

(Bd's assertion of jurisdiction over jai alai industry does not violate Tenth Amendment, as regulation if that industry does not impose a direct obligation upon the state but is indirect interference through Congressional effort to regulate same object)

Fugazy Continental Corp. of Connecticut v. N.L.R.B. 514 F.Supp. 718 (D Ct NY, Feb 1981)

(person has no Fourth Amendment bar's for challenging subpoenas directed at business records of third party)

Combustion Engineering, Inc., etc. v. Curtis L. Mack, RD, etc. CIV-2-79-67 (D Ct. TN, May 8, 1979 (unreported))

(no denial of due process by Bd refusal to delay election to permit E to retain additional counsel; Bd orders in certification proceedings are not directly reviewable by cts and none of the judicially recognized exceptions appear to be applicable to instant situation where E had not engaged sufficient counsel to handle its labor-management matters seasonably)

2520-6237 Actions for declaratory judgment

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(where State's C asked district ct to enjoin Bd ordered R election and sought declaration that Bd lacked statutory authority and constitutional authority to regulate labor disputes in jai alai industry as a whole, ct does not have jurisdiction, absent extraordinary circumstances to enjoin election but it does have subject matter jurisdiction over whether Bd can regulate labor disputes in jai alai industry as this is not subject to extraordinary circumstances rule set forth in Boire v. Greyhound Corp. 376 U.S. at 478)

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(district ct had jurisdiction over C that challenged Bd's jurisdiction over labor disputes in jai alai industry and asked for declaratory judgment as C alleged Bd abused its discretion under Sec. 14(c)(1) of Act because it directly contravened firm policy Bd had established for identical Ees in horse or dog racing branches of State's gambling industry; furthermore, jurisdiction impinged on State industry in violation of tenth amendment. 2520-6800 Court procedure

International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, an unincorporated labor organization v. Thomas C. Hendrix, et al. No. 80-1071, Jan. 29, 1980, DC KS (unreported)

(ct's power to grant TRO is discretionary; factors considered are: 1) probability that plaintiff will succeed on merits; 2) significance of threat of irreparable injury to plaintiff; 3)balance between injury and injury that granting order would inflict on defendants and 4) public interest)

2520-6850 Stay of order pending appeal

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, et al. v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-16-NN, June 6, 1980, DC E.D. VA (unreported)

(ct denied Bd mtn for stay pending appeal of earlier ct order requiring Bd to investigate and report on whether reasonable cause to believe question of R affecting commerce existed, where Bd would suffer no demonstrable harm in performing its usual duties, and other parties involved would be substantially harmed by Bd's failure to carry out ct order promptly)

2520-7500 Board actions sought to be enjoined

2520-7533 Representation proceedings

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(where State's C asked district ct to enjoin Bd ordered R election and sought declaration that Bd lacked statutory authority and constitutional authority to regulate labor disputes in jai alai industry as a whole, ct does not have jurisdiction, absent extraordinary circumstances to enjoin election but it does have subject matter jurisdiction over whether Bd can regulate labor disputes in jai alai industry as this is not subject to extraordinary circumstances rule set forth in *Boire v. Orange Belt District Council of Painters No. 48 v. N.L.R.B. 634 F.2d 635(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)

(District Ct lacked subject matter jurisdiction since not established that NLRB's decision not to hold election fell w/i narrow exception to reviewability created by Leedom v. Kyne absent violation of statute or regulation by NLRB in application of contract bar rule)

Monterey Peninsula Country Club v. N.L.R.B. No. C-80-1459, May 6, 1980, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(E's application for temporary restraining order and/or preliminary inj against holding R election, denied, where there was no claim that Bd's election order was in excess of its power or that Bd powers cannot be extended to E's country club, and E's claim that Bd rulings at hearing deprived it of constitutional due process and that Bd lacked jurisdiction over its operation may be reviewed at proper time by ct of appeals)

Gould, Inc. v. Robert S. Fuchs, et al. 486 F.Supp. 164 (D Ct. CT, 1980)

(Bd's mtn to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction E's mtn for preliminary inj or writ of mandamus to set aside Bd's postponement of election under its blocking charge policy, granted for case not w/i Leedom v. Kyne exception to Sec. 10 limitation on appellate cts' jurisdiction to review Bd's nonfinal orders; postponement was pursuant to exercise of Bd's discretion in formulating blocking charge policy and not in excess of delegated powers for failure to analyze whether to postpone or conduct election, or in contravention of specific prohibition of Act for failure to conduct election)

National Engineers and Professionals Association, et al. v. N.L.R.B. et al. CV78-2138-RMT (D Ct. CA, July, 31, 1978 (unreported))

(ct has no constitutional basis to assert jurisdiction where U seeking to have ct award inj relief requiring Bd to hold mail ballot election because generally District Cts lack jurisdiction to review Bd rulings in R proceedings and issue does not fall w/i any exceptions to rule)

Florida Board of Business Regulation, etc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 497 F. Supp. 599 (D Ct. FL, 1980)

(on remand, ct denies State's request for preliminary inj to enjoin Bd from asserting jurisdiction over jai alai industry in R proceeding; Bd's action held not arbitrary and capricious in absence of showing that Bd's unwillingness to assert jurisdiction over dog and horse racing industries prejudiced state interest)

International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, an unincorporated labor organization v. Thomas C. Hendrix, et al. No. 80-1071, Jan. 29, 1980, DC KS (unreported)

(district ct denied TRO against Bd conducting election at E's plant where U contended fair election could not be held at that location but RD had considered U's objections in making decision and RD's discretionary decision can only be overturned when found to be arbitrary or capricious)

2520-7567 Unfair labor practice proceeding

Amsoil, Inc., a Delaware Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 525 F.Supp. 839 (DC MN, Nov. 1981)

(in action by E seeking to enjoin Bd from proceeding with hearing until after E is permitted to take depositions in preparation for hearng, ct dismissed action for lack of subject matter of jurisdiction, since Sec. 10(b), providing that Bd proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with rules of evidence applicable in district cts, relates only to introduction of evidence at hearing, leaving Bd free to establish prehearing procedures; moreover, E should be able to obtain review in ct of appeals of denial of depositions in event Bd should rule against it)

2520-7567-5000 Conduct of hearing

Signode Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. C-1-79-615, Nov. 1, 1979, DC S.D. OH (unreported)

(mtn for temporary restraining order and permanent inj, denied, where mtn sought to enjoin ULP proceeding; district ct is w/o jurisdiction over the matter and, contrary to petitioner's contention, Leedam v. Kyne is inapplicable since Bd had not acted in excess of its delegated powers and contrary to a specific prohibition in the Act)

2520-7567-7800 Revocation of settlement agreement

Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132 v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2388-CH, Oct. 1, 1979, DC S.D. WV (unreported)

(Bd order granting mtn to set aside on-th-record settlement agreements and consolidating settled cases with another pending C case held unlawful, since settlement agreements had been consumated and conditions thereof performed and accomplished; action was abuse of Bd's powers and denial of petitioner's constitutional rights)

2520-8700 Board action sought to be mandated

2520-8733 Representation proceedings

2520-8733-1200 Processing of petition

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)

(Bd's decision to take jurisdiction over jai alai Ees and not race track Ees is arbitrary as Bd treated 2 industries, identical in all comparable respects, differently, and gave no reasons for doing so; thus, where Bd asserts right to act arbitrarily in its decision to assert jurisdiction, this is abuse of discretion)

Newport News Shipbuliding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 498 F.Supp. 267 (D Ct. VA, 1980)

(mandate to require Bd to reinstate decertification ptn and conduct investigation to determine whether there was reasonable cause to believe qcr existed, granted, where RD's decision to dismiss decertification ptn was arbitrarily made w/o meaningful investigation, or consideration given to long term of bargaining sessions between U and E or any reasoning behind RD's reversal of earlier decision that qcr did exist, and Bd's terse telegraphic affirmance on review gave no reasons for its judgment)

2520-8733-2500 Conduct of election

Gould, Inc. v. Robert S. Fuchs, et al. 486 F.Supp. 164 (D Ct. CT, 1980)

(Bd's mtn to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction E's mtn for preliminary inj or writ of mandamus to set aside Bd's postponement of election under its blocking charge policy, granted for case not w/i Leedom v. Kyne exception to Sec. 10 limitation on appellate cts' jurisdiction to review Bd's nonfinal orders; postponement was pursuant to exercise of Bd's discretion in formulating blocking charge policy and not in excess of delegated powers for failure to analyze whether to postpone or conduct election, or in contravention of specific prohibition of Act for failure to conduct election)

2520-8733-7500 Vacation of certification

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1079 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(Sec. 9(c)(1) prohibits ct from ordering Bd to conduct hearing in R case since hearing must be provided only after Bd has reasonable cause to believe qcr exists; since Bd met its statutory obligation by conducting investigation, ct cannot interfere with Bd's evaluation of investigation short of Bd's arbitrary action, and Bd's decision herein to dismiss decertification ptn, whether right or wrong, was not arbitrary)

Semi-Alloys, Inc. v. Winifred D. Morio, RD 490 F.Supp. 422 (D Ct. NY, 1980)

(where RD revoked certification of election after U presented newly discovered evidence of E's ULPs, E's mtn for injunction on TRO against RD to keep her from conducting hearing denied for lack of jurisdiction where no statutory provision prohibiting RD's action exists, administrative remedies have not been exhauted and E will be able to obtain review of Bd's actions in circuit ct)

2520-8767 Unfair labor practice proceeding

2520-8767-7500 Issuance of prehearing subpoenas

Martins Ferry Hospital Association v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 455 (C.A. 6, 1981)

(E's suit for mandamus relief, seeking order compelling Bd to issue subpoenas to it during investigative stage directing field examiner and U's involved in ULP proceeding to turn over originals or copies of authorization cards denied; Bd's interpretation of proceedings as applying only after Bd has issued complaint is not clearly wrong and duty imposed by Sec. 11(1) of Bd's R/R is not so clearly established that E has established clear and certain right and is entitled to mandamus relief)

2540 PROCEEDINGS TO ENJOIN OR MANDATE GENERAL COUNSEL ACTION

2540-5000 Jurisdiction of court

2540-5001 Generally

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)

(in dismissing action for declaratory judgment and writ of mandamus against GC to declare unlawful GC's refusal to file complaint and to require him to do so, ct held that, unless ct can ascertain that GC acted in excess of his statutorily delegated authority, ct has no jurisdiction to require him to issue complaint, and case dismissed for want of jurisdiction, since Act is not so clear that ct can say with reasonable certainty that GC exceeded his delegated authority in ruling that state agency was not statutory E)

[illegible] No statutory basis for jurisdiction to review

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)
(GC's refusal to file complaint alleging ULP)

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, a non-profit Michigan Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 609 F.2d 240 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(remand to district court for dismissal of E's complaint that Bd hearing officer's closing of preelection hearing violated E's rights to due process of law, since courts are w/o jurisdiction to review U representation proceedings prior to final orders by Bd)

Laurie L. Abraham v. Graphic Arts International Union, AFL-CIO, CLC, et al. 592 F.2d 1189 (D Ct DC, 1980)
(C that GC failed to perform his official duty by refusing to issue ULP C against E dismissed since Sec. 3(d) of NLRA provided GC with unreviewable discretion to refuse to issue ULP C)

Semi-Alloys, Inc. v. Winifred D. Morio, RD 490 F.Supp. 432 (D Ct. NY, 1980)
(where RD revoked certification of election after U presented newly discovered evidence of E's ULPs, E's mtn for injunction on TRO against RD to keep her from conducting hearing denied for lack of jurisdiction where no statutory provision prohibiting RD's action exists, administrative remedies have not been exhauted and E will be able to obtain review of Bd's actions in circuit ct)

The Fort Miller Company Inc. v. Thomas W. Seeler, RD (78-CV-482 Dec. 11, 1978, D Ct. NY) (unreported)
(ct had no jurisdiction to enjoin Bd from conducting any further investigation of objections to election on basis that objections did not comply with Bd's R/R which require short statement of reasons for objections since plaintiff's only recourse for review was under sections 10(e) and (f) of Act where Bd did not act in excess of its powers or contrary to Act; herein, procedure followed by RD was practical and fundementally fair and evidence furnished by U satisfied provisions of Bd's R/R)

2540-5067 Arbitrary and capricious action constituting denial of constitutional due process

Florida Board of Business Regulation Department of Business Regulation, etc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1362 (C.A. 11, Sept. 1982)
(Bd's decision to take jurisdiction over jai alai Ees and not race track Ees is arbitrary as Bd treated 2 industries, identical in all comparable respects, differently, and gave no reasons for doing so; thus, where Bd asserts right to act arbitrarily in its decision to assert jurisdiction, this is abuse of discretion)

The Fort Miller Company Inc. v. Thomas W. Seeler, RD (78-CV-482 Dec. 11, 1978, D Ct. NY) (unreported)
(ct had no jurisdiction to enjoin Bd from conducting any further investigation of objections to election on basis that objections did not comply with Bd's R/R which require short statement of reasons for objections since plaintiff's only recourse for review was under sections 10(e) and (f) of Act where Bd did not act in excess of its powers or contrary to Act; herein, procedure followed by RD was practical and fundamentally fair and evidence furnished by U satisfied provisions of Bd's R/R)

2540-6700 Action sought to be enjoined

N.L.R.B. v. Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. No. FB-78-00662, May 16, 1979, DC N.D. IN (unreported)
(Chapter XI automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act applies to proceedings before NLRB, and therefore bankruptcy ct was not w/o jurisdiction to restrain Bd from commencing or continuing proceedings against debtor)

The Fort Miller Company Inc. v. Thomas W. Seeler, RD (78-CV-482 Dec. 11, 1978, D Ct. NY) (unreported)
(ct had no jurisdiction to enjoin Bd from conducting any further investigation of objections to election on basis that objections did not comply with Bd's R/R which require short statement of reasons for objections since plaintiff's only recourse for review was under sections 10(e) and (f) of Act where Bd did not act in excess of its powers or contrary to Act; herein, procedure followed by RD was practical and fundamentally fair and evidence furnished by U satisfied provisions of Bd's R/R)

2540-6800 Action sought to be mandated

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)
(ct affirmed district ct's dismissal of action by E association for declaratory judgment and writ of mandamus against GC to declare unlawful GC's refusal to file requested complaint and to require him to file complaint; GC's refusal to issue complaint is ordinarily not reviewable by federal cts unless failure to act turns on mistake of law, and GC's opinion in instant case that state agency is not statutory E, and therefore proscriptions of Sec. 8(e) do not apply was not in excess of his statutorily delegated authority)

Ray Marshall, Secretary of Labor v. Brite Metal Treating, et al. No. C77-1105 (D Ct. OH, June 30, 1978 (unreported))
(subpoena issued by defendant in OSHA proceeding against Bd attorney for his work product quashed where defendant failed to seek GC's permission for disclosure)

2540-8367 Issuance and prosecution of complaint

Raymond T. Kolinske v. William A. Lubbers, et al. 516 F.Supp. 1171 (D Ct DC, June 1981)
(district ct lacked jurisdiction where non-U member in agency shop sought writ of mandamus directing GC to issue complaints charging ULPs against U and local for failure to pay him strike benefits unless he participated in picketing and for U's collection of fees allocated to be spent on programs in which he may not participate since GC has unreviewable discretion to refuse to institute ULP complaint)

Laurie L. Abraham v. Graphic Arts International Union, AFL-CIO, CLC, et al. 592 F.2d 1189 (D Ct DC, 1980)
(C that GC failed to perform his official duty by refusing to issue ULP C against E dismissed since Sec. 3(d) of NLRA provided GC with unreviewable discretion to refuse to issue ULP C)

Rockford Redi-Mix Co., Inc. v. Glenn Zipp, RD 482 F.Supp. 489 (D Ct IL)
(ptn to require RD and GC to reverse their decision not to issue complaint or alleged ULP charges, dismissed, since the decision was w/i RD's and GC's discretion and ct has no jurisdiction to mandamus the RD and GC)

Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 80-L-62, Apr. 10, 1980, DC NE (unreported)
(in applying traditional test and standards promulgated in Second Circuit, district ct denied E's request for preliminary inj (and inj pending appeal) against Bd, GC, and RD from prosecuting backpay specification and ULP C, since ct found no irreparable injury and no probability of success on merits; and ct also felt no need to reach question of fair ground for litigation since there was no balance of hardships tipping decidedly toward E)

2590 ACTIONS FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)
(district ct improperly denied Bd's mtn to intervene in declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while district ct action was pending; Bd had right to intervene since (1) it had interest in subject matter of action, (2) disposition of action impaired or impeded Bd's ability to protect that interest, and (3) its interest was not adequately represented by existing parties)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)
(Bd had right to intervene in D.Ct in declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of checkoff revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending; Bd had necessary interest in action's subject matter derived from its role as primary tribunal for adjudicating ULPs and from its responsibility for preventing and remedying them; there was real possibility of inconsistent adjudications; and Bd had legitimate interest to protect its exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)
(a party may not evade Bd's exclusive jurisdiction by contriving in ct of law an ostensible contract dispute when true issue is one of an ULP and Bd had right to intervene to protect its jurisdiction and processes in district ct's declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while district ct action was pending)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)
(Bd properly intervened in E's declaratory judgment action in D.Ct against U for judicial construction of check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, since Bd's protection of its interest was thereby impeded inasmuch as finding that provision was valid gave parties final unappealed decision; even if not entitled to res judicata or collateral estoppel effect in Bd proceeding, judgment created for Bd practical disadvantage warranting intervention of right)

2590—Cont.

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd's status as amicus curiae after being denied intervention in D.Ct declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation clause, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, did not relieve practical impediment to Bd's ability to protect its interest; as amicus, Bd was deemed to lack standing to challenge contractual provision; and lacking party status, Bd had no right to seek review by appeal of any decision affecting its interests)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd properly intervened in E's declaratory judgment action in D.Ct against U for judicial construction of check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, since Bd had right to intervene in order to protect its jurisdiction and processes against possibility of ct judgment in conflict with its own in pending ULP proceeding where Bd's interests in subject matter of ct action were not adequately represented by parties)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(where D.Ct improperly denied Bd's mtn to intervene in declaratory judgment proceeding brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, ct remanded action to admit Bd by intervention as party defendant for limited purpose of prosecuting on appeal, if so disposed, from D.Ct's judgment; based upon such ct's rejection of Bd's contentions as amicus curiae in proceedings, Bd had appealable interest in D.Ct)

Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., Baltimore Metropolitan Chapter v. John S. Irving, GC 610 F.2d 1221 (C.A. 4)

(ct affirmed district ct's dismissal of action by E association for declaratory judgment and writ of mandamus against GC to declare unlawful GC's refusal to file requested complaint and to require him to file complaint; GC's refusal to issue complaint is ordinarily not reviewable by federal cts unless failure to act turns on mistake of law, and GC's opinion in instant case that state agency is not statutory E, and therefore proscriptions of Sec. 8(e) do not apply was not in excess of his statutorily delegated authority)

2595 DISCOVERY

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(U authorization cards exempt from disclosure. authorization cards are investigatory records in possession of Bd for enforcement purposes. Authorization cards are not discoverable by E under any rule of the Bd, and discovery cannot be obtained under Freedom of Information Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(contention ct denied E due process by permitting Bd to engage in pretrial discovery in subpoena enforcement proceedings while denying E equal discovery, rejected; since if current investigation conducted by GC should result in filing of complaint, E will be entitled to hearing and opportunity to refute evidence obtained by subpoena, and any failure on part of Bd to conduct due process hearing can be challenged before Bd and is subject to ct review)

Ray Marshall, Secretary of Labor v. Brite Metal Treating, et al. No. C77-1105 (D Ct. OH, June 30, 1978 (unreported))

(subpoena issued by defendant in OSHA proceeding against Bd attorney for his work product quashed where defendant failed to seek GC's permission for disclosure)

5000 PROCEEDINGS BY BOARD TO PROTECT BOARD JURISDICTION

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)

(where U did not honor Ees' revocation of their checkoff authorizations because not on U forms as required by contract provision, ct rejected Bd contentions that district ct lacked jurisdiction because there was neither case nor contraversy since U and E were aligned on interpretation of disputed provision, and that district ct abused its discretion by not deferring to Bd's primary jurisdiction or by not staying action pending resolution of ULP proceeding; issue of E's rights to defense and indemnification in regard to provision presented live case to district ct; and ct also had jurisdiction under LMRA Sec. 301)

5001 GENERALLY

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(appellate ct is authorized to issue a writ of mandamus pursuant to All Writs Act in aid of its jurisdiction to confine inferior ct to lawful exercise of its prescribed jurisdiction or to compel it to exercise its authority when it is its duty to do so, but only in exceptional circumstance amounting to judicial usurpation of power; moreover petitioner must show that he had no other adequate means to attain the desired relief, a showing of simple error being insufficient)

5020 ENJOINING STATE EXERCISE OF JURISDICTION

5020-3300 STATE COURT PROCEEDINGS

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(all state actions for libel are preempted unless they are based upon defamatory statements published with knowledge of their falsity or with reckless disregard of truth or falsity. While state courts have competency to determine whether E who brings libel suit has evidence to support allegations, but so does Bd in deciding whether filing libel suit is ULP. If Bd does decide it preempts further action by state ct)

Arel Lynn Rodgers v. John H. Fanning, et al. No. 78-1074 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 17, 1979 (unreported))

(Bd's mtn for dismissal of third party C filed by individual for indemnity against Bd in malicious prosecution suit brought by E in state ct against individual for filing false charges and willfully fabricating evidence in prior Bd ULP proceeding, granted; suits against Bd are suits against the United States and cannot be maintained w/o consent of Congress, and exclusive remedy for tort claims is Federal Tort Claims Act which, however, excludes any claims arising out of malicious prosecution; consequently, third party C against Bd cannot be maintained)

Arel Lynn Rodgers v. John H. Fanning, et al. No. 78-1074 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 17, 1979 (unreported))

(Bd's mtn to dismiss malicious prosecution suit brought by E in state ct against discharged Ee for filing false charges and willfully fabricating evidence in prior Bd ULP proceeding, denied; although preemption is required when state law clearly conflicts with policies established by federal law, threat that malicious prosecution suits would chill exercise of right of access to Bd is insufficient to outweigh interests of state in protecting its citizens from such suits)

Arel Lynn Rodgers v. John H. Fanning, et al. No. 78-1074 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 17, 1979 (unreported))

(Bd's mtn to dismiss malicious prosecution suit brought by E in state ct against discharged Ee for filing false charges and willfully fabricating evidence in prior Bd ULP proceeding, denied; although preemption is required when activities are either arguably protected or arguably prohibited, preemption is not justified when aggrieved party does not have a reasonable opportunity to invoke Bd's jurisdiction which E could not have done herein and, consequently, arguably protected nature of Ee's conduct was not sufficient to justify preemption)

Arel Lynn Rodgers v. John H. Fanning, et al. No. 78-1074 (D Ct. KS, Jan. 17, 1979 (unreported))

(Bd's mtn to stay malicious prosecution proceedings in state ct brought by E against discharged Ee for filing false charges and fabricating evidence in prior Bd ULP proceeding, granted; Bd's primary jurisdiction does not extend to cases in which E, as herein, has no acceptable method of invoking, or inducing other party to invoke Bd's jurisdiction; consequently, while action was not necessarily preempted, ct deferred to Bd's determination of probable cause to believe that suit herein infringes on protected conduct and stayed action pending Bd's determination)

5060 INTERVENTION IN FEDERAL COURT PROCEEDINGS

5060-0500 All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. Section 1651(a)

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(appellate ct is authorized to issue a writ of mandamus pursuant to All Writs Act in aid of its jurisdiction to confine inferior ct to lawful exercise of its prescribed jurisdiction or to compel it to exercise its authority when it is its duty to do so, but only in exceptional circumstance amounting to judicial usurpation of power; moreover petitioner must show that he had no other adequate means to attain the desired relief, a showing of simple error being insufficient)

In Re: Charles K. Sewell 690 F.2d 403 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)

(mandamus petitioned for by company official, with Bd as intervenor, on ground that U action in district ct against him because of company's refusal to bargain was preempted by Bd law, granted and appellate ct held district ct action must be dismissed)

5060-1700 Actions under 28 U.S.C. Section 1337

5060-1750 To protect jurisdiction

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(district ct improperly denied Bd's mtn to intervene in declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while district ct action was pending; Bd had right to intervene since (1) it had interest in subject matter of action, (2) disposition of action impaired or impeded Bd's ability to protect that interest, and (3) its interest was not adequately represented by existing parties)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd had right to intervene in D.Ct in declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of checkoff revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending; Bd had necessary interest in action's subject matter derived from its role as primary tribunal for adjudicating ULPs and from its responsibility for preventing and remedying them; there was real possibility of inconsistent adjudications; and Bd had legitimate interest to protect its exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(a party may not evade Bd's exclusive jurisdiction by contriving in ct of law an ostensible contract dispute when true issue is one of an ULP and Bd had right to intervene to protect its jurisdiction and processes in district ct's declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while district ct action was pending)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd properly intervened in E's declaratory judgment action in D.Ct against U for judicial construction of check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, since Bd's protection of its interest was thereby impeded inasmuch as finding that provision was valid gave parties final unappealed decision; even if not entitled to res judicata or collateral estoppel effect in Bd proceeding, judgment created for Bd practical disadvantage warranting intervention of right)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd's status as amicus curiae after being denied intervention in D.Ct declaratory judgment action brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation clause, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, did not relieve practical impediment to Bd's ability to protect its interest; as amicus, Bd was deemed to lack standing to challenge contractual provision; and lacking party status, Bd had no right to seek review by appeal of any decision affecting its interests)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(Bd properly intervened in E's declaratory judgment action in D.Ct against U for judicial construction of check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, since Bd had right to intervene in order to protect its jurisdiction and processes against possibility of ct judgment in conflict with its own in pending ULP proceeding where Bd's interests in subject matter of ct action were not adequately represented by parties)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company v. Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, et al. 631 F.2d 263 (C.A. 4, Apr. 1981)

(where D.Ct improperly denied Bd's mtn to intervene in declaratory judgment proceeding brought against U by E seeking judicial construction of bargaining agreement's check-off revocation provision, enforcement of which was alleged unlawful in Bd C issued while D.Ct action was pending, ct remanded action to admit Bd by intervention as party defendant for limited purpose of prosecuting an appeal, if so disposed, from D.Ct's judgment; based upon such ct's rejection of Bd's contentions as amicus curiae in proceedings, Bd had appealable interest in D.Ct)

5060-1900 Section 301 suits

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)

(where U did not honor Ees' revocation of their checkoff authorizations because not on U forms as required by contract provision, ct rejected Bd contentions that district ct lacked jurisdiction because there was neither case nor controversy since U and E were aligned on interpretation of disputed provision, and that district ct abused its discretion by not deferring to Bd's primary jurisdiction or by not staying action pending resolution of ULP proceeding; issue of E's rights to defense and indemnification in regard to provision presented live case to district ct; and ct also had jurisdiction under LMRA Sec. 301)

Automobile Workers (UAW) and Its Local 1519 v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1980)

(when E has been acting in accord with ultimate Bd Section 10(k) ruling, E is not liable for damages to disappointed U; even in a LMRA Section 301 suit)

5060-6700 Bankruptcy proceedings

In re W. T. Grant Company, and Charles G. Rodman, as Trustee of the Estate of W.T. Grant Company, Bankrupt v. Alton Rinier, as agent for Certain Employees of Bankrupt 620 F.2d 319 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct held executory contract of Ees of debtor-in-possession is binding on latter if it receives benefits under it which occurred here when debtor-in-possession permitted workers to continue in its employ during Chapter XI proceeding)

In re W. T. Grant Company, and Charles G. Rodman, as Trustee of the Estate of W.T. Grant Company, Bankrupt v. Alton Rinier, as agent for Certain Employees of Bankrupt 620 F.2d 319 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(ct held severance pay claims of bankrupt's Ees are entitled to first priority as costs and expenses of administration; severance pay is compensation for termination and is not a form of wages that accrues from day to day)

N.L.R.B. v. Evans Plumbing Company 639 F.2d 291 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(enforcement granted where Bd ordered E who filed voluntary bankruptcy ptn to reinstate with backpay two discriminatorily discharged Ees since, contrary to E's contention, ct held that Bd proceeding falls w/i statutory exemption to automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act of 1978)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(trustee's objection to Bd's claim for backpay against bankrupt, overruled, even though Bd's claim was not timely filed, where due to procedural irregularity on part of bankrupt, ct assumed Bd did not receive notice of bar date for filing claim which arose during bankruptcy proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(even in absence of procedural irregularity resulting in overruling of trustee's objection to Bd's backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct would overrule trustee's objection, in view of appeals ct's liberality in amendments rule)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(although automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act would appear to apply to Bd's ULP C involving backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct held that, in instant liquidating proceeding, it was appropriate for ct to stay its hand and terminate automatic stay since Bd has necessary specialized expertise for litigation of dispute, and there is no apparent reason why such expertise should be bypassed in favor of litigation in bankruptcy ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(in terminating automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act and permitting Bd to proceed with ULP C and determination of backpay against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct, recognizing trustee's dilemma in deciding whether to contest C or not to proceed in the matter, advised delay on part of all parties to await determination of availability of assets and, if contrary to trustee's wishes, matter is pursued, trustee could seek instructions from ct on question of defending against C)

N.L.R.B. v. Trans-Coal Barge Co. and Vincent J. Shannon, Trustee No. 3-78-0199, Dec. 31, 1979, DC N.D. CA (unreported)

(while terminating automatic stay under Bankruptcy Act and permitting Bd to proceed with ULP C involving backpay claim against bankrupt, bankruptcy ct did not terminate automatic stay and reserved jurisdiction over question of priority to be given any backpay claim in connection with ULP and any distributions to be made by trustee on account of such claim)

N.L.R.B. v. Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. No. FB-78-00662, May 16, 1979, DC N.D. IN (unreported)

(Chapter XI automatic stay provision of Bankruptcy Act applies to proceedings before NLRB, and therefore bankruptcy ct was not w/o jurisdiction to restrain Bd from commencing or continuing proceedings against debtor)

5060-6733 To prove claim

Charles G. Rodman, as Trustee of The Estate of W.T. Grant Company, Bankrupt, etc. v. Alton Rinier, as agent for certain employees of Bankrupt, etc. No. 75-B-1735 (KTD) Aug. 29, 1979, DC S.D. NY (unreported)

(Ees held entitled to recover full amount of severance apy guaranteed them by contracts as expenses of administration where E as debtor-in-possession during Chapter XI bankruptcy proceedings had failed to formally reject executory severance agreements and had received benefits of service of its experienced personnel)

5060-6767 To protect proceeding or order

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(in suit brought in bankruptcy ct by debtor-in-possession seeking rejection of bargaining agreement, and in which Bd, having ordered compliance with agreement, intervened, ct vacated bankruptcy ct's judgment, affirmed by district ct, permitting rejection of agreement, and remanded to district ct with direction to remand to bankruptcy ct, where bankruptcy ct, had not set forth reasoned elaboration of its decision; since ct could not determine what movitated ct's decision and could not properly determine whether there was legal error, it remanded for consideration in light of precepts announced herein)

Shippers Interstate Service, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 9 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(where company is being reorganized rather than liquidated and assets are not threatened, Bankruptcy Rule 11-44 shall not apply and regulatory proceedings of NLRB are not subject to automatic stay provisions of that rule)

The Seeburg Corporation, et al. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-B-39597, Nov. 13, 1980, DC N.D. IL (unreported)

(order staying Bd's ULP proceedings vacated and bankruptcy judge ordered to refrain from hearing ULP charges, since proceedings by BD are not automatically stayed by bankruptcy filing; all bankrupt's assets were being sold to single entity with full knowledge of ULP charges and possibility of backpay assessment which made transfer of assets a reorganization, and not a liquidation; ULP charges and question of successorship left to Bd's superior expertise)

5060-6767-5000 Circumstances to be considered by bankruptcy court in rejection of bargaining agreement

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(in case involving determination of propriety of debtor-in-possession's rejection of bargaining agreement giving rise to 8(a)(5) C, ct held debtor-in-possession is new entity, separate and apart from pre-bankruptcy company, and does not become party to executory contract unless it assumes contract; and, since debtor-in-possession is not party to contract, it is not bound by Sec. 8(d), but burden of persuading bankruptcy ct to permit rejection is on debtor-in-possession or trustee)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(while usual test for rejection of executory contracts in bankruptcy situation is business judgment test, i.e., whether rejection would benefit estate, impact of rejection of bargaining agreement on workers' rights, calling for more stringent examination of evidence to justify rejection, requires thorough scrutiny and careful balancing of equities on both sides; such test accommodates NLRA's labor policies but does not erect impossible barriers to rejection of labor contracts in violation of bankruptcy law's policies and plots a middle course requiring sensitive weighing of competing interests)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(ct rejected test predicating permission to reject bargaining agreement by debtor-in-possession on showing that burdensome bargaining agreement will thwart efforts to save failing enterprise from collapse; such test goes well beyond balancing of the equities test and, by basing rejection on determination that failure to reject will make successful arrangement impossible and allowing rejection only when equities favor debtor, it may make it impossible to predict success of reorganization until very late and unduly exalts perpetuation of bargaining agreement over whether Ees will have jobs at all)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(among factors to be considered by bankruptcy ct when debtor-in-possession rejects bargaining agreement is fact that debtor remains an E and is required by NLRA to bargain with representative of Ees who retain right to strike should negotiations fail; and consequences of strike on precarious business must be weighed; moreover, under bankruptcy laws, Ees may assert monetary claim for breach of contract, and both impact of claim against debtor and adequacy of relief Ees might obtain through claim procedures must be considered)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(bankruptcy ct's proper approach for protecting bargaining agreements w/o unduly advancing NLRA's interests over interests of Ees and of debtor's creditors requires that debtor demonstrate that continuation of bargaining agreement would burden estate and then make factual presentation to permit bankruptcy ct to weigh competing claims under labor contract and other claims; Ees' rights under national labor policy and sacrifices of other creditors must be considered and determination made that rejection of labor contract will assist debtor to achieve satisfactory reorganization)

N.L.R.B. v. Bildisco and Bildisco, Debtor-In-Possession 682 F.2d 72 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(proper approach by bankruptcy ct in considering propriety of rejection of bargaining agreements by debtor-in-possession requires that, under circumstances of distressed economy in construction industry affecting debtor herein, bankruptcy ct should consider that it would be in interest of workers to be afforded opportunity to continue to work under less generous financial benefits than to insist upon absolute payment of contractual benefits, and it could well conclude that it is in public interest for Ees to work w/o advantage of contractual fringe benefits than not to work at all)

In The Matter Of: The Connecticut Celery Company No. H-79-146, July 9, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(E debtor-in-possession was denied permission to reject executory contract, as it would be inequitable to shift so much of burden of reorganization to U Ees by depriving them of pension rights and U Ees might be forced to choose between their jobs and U membership)

In The Matter Of: The Connecticut Celery Company No. H-79-146, July 9, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(though bankruptcy ct empowered to reject collective bargaining agreements, decision to reject should not be based solely on whether it will improve financial status of debtor; furthermore, no support in law for use of comparison of competition test - unfavorable competitive situation forced on bankrupt by that contract - to determine burdensomeness of labor contract)

In The Matter Of: The Connecticut Celery Company No. H-79-146, July 9, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(before ct will allow labor agreement to be rejected it must be shown that agreement is so onerous that, if enforced, it would cause collapse of debtor with ensuing loss of U Ees' jobs and would tip the equities decidedly in favor of rejection of contract)

7500 CERTIFICATION OF QUESTIONS TO BOARD BY COURT

The Carpenters District Council of North Central Texas v. North Texas Contractor Assoc. et al. No. CA3-76-1151-F (D Ct. TX, Feb. 21, 1979 (unreported))

(on mtn of Bd that it could only decide contractual questions which ct had asked Bd to decide in context of ULP proceedings, ct withdrew its certification of questions to Bd)

8700 AWARDS OF ATTORNEY FEES AND OTHER EXPENSES UNDER EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT (EAJA)

8733 COVERED PROCEEDINGS

8733-2000 Date pending before Court

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)

(contrary to GC's contention, fees for appellate ct proceeding where ptn for review and cross ptn for enforcement were pending at time EAJA became effective held recoverable, since test for recovery is whether case was pending on effective date, not when fees were incurred; SCt has approved fee awards for work performed before effective date of applicable authorizing statute, and rationale in those SCt cases applies here since statutes involved in those cases and statute herein address similar concerns)

8733-6000 Court proceeding on review of Board order

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)

(contrary to GC's contention, fees for appellate ct proceeding where ptn for review and cross ptn for enforcement were pending at time EAJA became effective held recoverable, since test for recovery is whether case was pending on effective date, not when fees were incurred; SCt has approved fee awards for work performed before effective date of applicable authorizing statute, and rationale in those SCt cases applies here since statutes involved in those cases and statute herein address similar concerns)

8750 ELIGIBILITY FOR AN AWARD

8750-2500 Prevailing party

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)

(E awarded costs and attorney's fees related to appellate ct proceeding denying cross-ptn for enforcement on ptn for review, since petitioner prevailed and not only did GC fail to show that his position was substantially justified, but his position also lacked a reasonable factual basis where he failed to address a hiatus in his proof)

8767 DEFENSES

8767-3300 General Counsel's position substantially justified

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)

(E awarded costs and attorney's fees related to appellate ct proceeding denying cross-ptn for enforcement on ptn for review, since petitioner prevailed and not only did GC fail to show that his position was substantially justified, but his position also lacked a reasonable factual basis where he failed to address a hiatus in his proof)

8783 COMPENSATED FEES AND EXPENSES

8783-6000 Compensated fees for proceeding before Court

Tyler Business Services, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 695 F.2d 73 (C.A. 4, Nov. 24, 1982)

(E awarded costs and attorney's fees related to appellate ct proceeding denying cross-ptn for enforcement on ptn for review, since petitioner prevailed and not only did GC fail to show that his position was substantially justified, but his position also lacked a reasonable factual basis where he failed to address a hiatus in his proof)

883 PROCEEDINGS UNDER OTHER STATUTES

2500 FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT

2501 GENERALLY

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(FOIA is to be broadly construed and its basic policy is in favor of disclosure; its exemptions are to be narrowly construed, with all doubts resolved in favor of disclosure; and burden is on administrative agency to prove that documents sought are w/i statutory exemptions from disclosure)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(in testing validity of Bd's refusal to disclose requested information, ct observed that FOIA seeks to insure disclosure and not suppression, and that all exemptions are subject to narrow construction)

2501-3300 Purpose of Act

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(FOIA purely disclosure statute and petitioner not afforded private right of action to enjoin agency disclosures of material submitted by petitioner)

N.L.R.B. v. Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. No. 79-C-3173, Feb. 20, 1980, DC E.D. NY (unreported)

(compliance with Excelsior rule not violative of Ees' rights to privacy and E's citation to FOIA inapposite to E's obligation under Excelsior rule, notwithstanding Ees are free to resist U attempts to solicit them at home; E ordered to comply with Bd's subpoena duces tecum to supply Excelsior list)

2501-3350 Not intended as discovery device

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(U authorization cards exempt from disclosure. authorization cards are investigatory records in possession of Bd for enforcement purposes. Authorization cards are not discoverable by E under any rule of the Bd, and discovery cannot be obtained under Freedom of Information Act)

Stero Sales, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2990, Feb. 25, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(Congress did not intend for FOIA to be used as broad discovery tool by litigants involved in proceeding before NLRB)

2501-6700 Legislative history

Forsham et al. v. Harris, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, et al. 445 U.S. 169 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(legislative reports concerning history of FOIA clarify that confidential information submitted to a government—agency, obtained by the government or given to an agency otherwise subject to disclosure, were made exempt from disclosure under FOIA)

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(Legislative history of FOIA shows provisions exempting specified material from disclosure were only meant to permit agency to withhold information—not meant to mandate non disclosure)

2517 PUBLICLY AVAILABLE DOCUMENTS

2517-2000 Final orders of Board

Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 006

(Bd did not rely on decision not reported in published volumes of Bd Decisions)

2533 INDEXING OBLIGATION

Stero Sales, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2990, Feb. 25, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(mtn for Summary Judgment denied where Bd only advanced generalized claims of exemption w/o providing either Vaughn index or supporting affidavits to show number and nature of documents withheld, description of procedures used in reviewing requested documents, and no explanation why all documents must be exempted in their entirety; therefore, ct is unable to determine whether or not Bd is entitled to judgment as matter of law)

2550 PRODUCIBILITY OF DOCUMENTS

2550-0100 Generally

John S. Irving, GC v. Anthony DiLapi, et al. and Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. 600 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 2, 1979)

Madeira Nursing Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Emil C. Farkas, RD) 615 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6) (1980)

(applicability of FOIA exemptions must be determined in context of specific individual documents and request for any documents indicating Region's final determination of the petitioner's showing of interest or lack thereof is too general)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(E's request for in camera inspection of Bd documents E sought under FOIA, denied, since it is discretionary matter, and ct did not believe that such inspection would aid in its decision)

2550-0112 Requirement of adequate identification

Kissinger v. Reporters Committee For Freedom of The Press et al. 445 US 136 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(FOIA requires requestor to adequately identify records which are sought)

Stero Sales, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2990, Feb. 25, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

(mtn for Summary Judgment denied where Bd only advanced generalized claims of exemption w/o providing either Vaughn index or supporting affidavits to show number and nature of documents withheld, description of procedures used in reviewing requested documents, and no explanation why all documents must be exempted in their entirety; therefore, ct is unable to determine whether or not Bd is entitled to judgment as matter of law)

2550-0125 Obligation to create documents

Forsham et al. v. Harris, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, et al. 445 U.S. 169 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(FOIA applies to records which have been, in fact, obtained, and not to records which merely could have been obtained; FOIA imposes no duty on agency to create records)

Kissinger v. Reporters Committee For Freedom of The Press et al. 445 US 136 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(only the Federal Records Act, and not the FOIA, requires an agency to actually create records, even though agency's failure to do so deprives public of information which might have otherwise been available to it)

2550-0150 Neutralization

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 423 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(deletion of names and other identifying data in informant statements obtained during investigation, Bd notes of interviews with informants, and bid-sheets listing instances in which Ees were passed over for promotion found inadequate to prevent serious privacy invasions because informant and persons discussed could be readily identified)

2550-6700 Agency records

Forsham et al. v. Harris, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, et al. 445 U.S. 169 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(FOIA applies to records which have been, in fact, obtained, and not to records which merely could have been obtained; FOIA imposes no duty on agency to create records)

Kissinger v. Reporters Committee For Freedom of The Press et al. 445 US 136 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(physical location of notes of telephone conversations does not render them agency records; papers were not in control of agency at any time; agency did not generate papers; papers were never entered into agency files nor were they used by agency for any purpose)

2550-1000 Confidential information

Forsham et al. v. Harris, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, et al. 445 U.S. 169 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(legislative reports concerning history of FOIA clarify that confidential information submitted to a government—agency, obtained by the government or given to an agency otherwise subject to disclosure, were made exempt from disclosure under FOIA)

2550-1400 Advice and appeals memoranda

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No, C-2-78-786 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(advice memorandum privileged from disclosive under Exemption 5 of FOIA as an intra-agency memorandum setting forth GC's strategy in putative litigation before Bd)

2550-2100 Intra-agency memoranda

Nissin Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(Bd's conclusions with regard to two of the ULP charge investigations of E's plant held not to make facts underlying those investigations subject to disclosure, since dismissed charges are factually related to pending ones)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-157 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum transmitting Regional Office file to Office of Appeals with Acting RD's comment on appeal at time when no action whatever had begun on deciding appeal, held w/i Exemption 5 protection of predecisional communications; RD's comment was clearly intra-agency advisory opn w/i scope of executive privilege)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-157 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum to acting RD setting forth acting Regional attorney's Review of Appeals in a case, hold exempt as intra-agency predecisional communication)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-157 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum prepared by Bd Ee assigned to investigate case for consideration by RD in making final determination whether to issue C, held exempt, where memorandum recommends action on basis of tentative conclusions reached by a committee of Bd Ees)

2550-3800 Statements of witnesses

Polynesian Cultural Center v. N.L.R.B. 582 F.2d 467 (C.A. 9, July 1979)

(Ee's affidavit taken in ULP proceeding privileged from disclosure under exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding it was taken in different and technically closed case where Ee was potential witness in pending ULP proceeding between same parties and affidavit contained information relevant to such proceeding)

Lewis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 423 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(informant statements obtained during investigation, Bd notes of interviews with informants, and bid-sheet indicating 39 instances in which 10 Ees were passed over for promotion held exempt from disclosure under 7(c) because information contained therein was of highly intimate and personal nature and their disclosure would result in serious invasions of privacy subjecting Bd informants and others to embarrassment or reprisals from plaintiff, who was charging party before Bd, and E)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(Bd's deletions from affidavits in cases with closed files of affiants' home addresses, Bd agents' names and material to protect confidentiality and privacy interests and from one inflamatory allegations not exempt under 7(A) in view of FOIA's strong pro-disclosure policy and Congress' clear intention to circumscribe 7(A)'s applicability where Bd's basis is speculative fear of chilling prospective witnesses' candor in unspecified future proceedings)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(ct assumed legitimate private interests were protected by portions of material deleted from affidavits in closed cases to protect confidentiality, which included names and identifying material and allegations of criminal activity; in balancing public and private interests, ct sought guidance from parties as to whether it might properly consider (a) E's and public's interest, need for, and use of information requested and (b) whether E's ULPs described in affidavits might affect public interest)

Fullerton Transfer and Storage Limited, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-76-208-Y, Feb. 12, 1980, DC N.D. OH (unreported)

(notwithstanding proceedings have been concluded, under Exemptions 7(A) and (D) Bd need not release affidavits of witnesses not called to testify as potential harm to such confidential sources which said exemptions were designed to prevent still exists)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-157 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(report by Bd Ee summarizing facts related to him in interview with certain, named individual, held w/i scope of Exemption 5, especially since signed affidavit of said individual relating to same factual matters had been made available to party seeking report)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2263 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(district ct is w/o jurisdiction to entertain E's C of Bd's refusal to issue investigatory subpoenas requested under 29 USC Section 161(l), where subpoenas required prehearing release of all evidence in Bd's control pertaining to the charges, including documents as well as names, addresses, and statements of witnesses; prehearing discovery questions are committed to Bd's discretion)

The Capital Times Company v. N.L.R.B. 483 F.Supp. 267 (D Ct. WI) (1980)

(refusal to disclose statements and affidavits obtained by Bd agents during their investigation of ULP charge filed by plaintiff upheld notwithstanding that charge was dismissed and case closed; exemption 7(a) of FOIA correctly relied upon by Bd, since statements sought by plaintiff were relevant to pending enforcement proceeding which grew out of labor controversy in which plaintiff was involved but not as party)

2550-4200 Names of witnesses

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(Bd's deletions from affidavits in cases with closed files of affiants' home addresses, Bd agents' names and material to protect confidentiality and privacy interests and from one inflamatory allegations not exempt under 7(A) in view of FOIA's strong pro-disclosure policy and Congress' clear intention to circumscribe 7(A)'s applicability where Bd's basis is speculative fear of chilling prospective witnesses' candor in unspecified future proceedings)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(where Bd contended identity of undisclosed affiant was protected as identity of a confidential source, ct granted Bd's mtn for leave to file for in camera inspection of affidavit allegedly containing highly inflammatory accusations of criminal activity on part of official of E by affiant who was then Ee of E, and ordered hearing for parties to discuss (a) wieghing of affiant's interest against public disclosure of affiant's identity and (b) special circumstances regarding affiant relevant to issue of confidentiality)

Fullerton Transfer and Storage Limited, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-76-208-Y, Feb. 12, 1980, DC N.D. OH (unreported)

(notwithstanding proceedings have been concluded, under Exemptions 7(A) and (D) Bd need not release affidavits of witnesses not called to testify as potential harm to such confidential sources which said exemptions were designed to prevent still exists)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2263 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(district ct is w/o jurisdiction to entertain E's C of Bd's refusal to issue investigatory subpoenas requested under 29 USC Section 161(l), where subpoenas required prehearing release of all evidence in Bd's control pertaining to the charges, including documents as well as names, addresses, and statements of witnesses; prehearing discovery questions are committed to Bd's discretion)

The Capital Times Company v. N.L.R.B. 483 F.Supp. 267 (D Ct. WI) (1980)

(refusal to disclose statements and affidavits obtained by Bd agents during their investigation of ULP charge filed by plaintiff upheld notwithstanding that charge was dismissed and case closed; exemption 7(a) of FOIA correctly relied upon by Bd, since statements sought by plaintiff were relevant to pending enforcement proceeding which grew out of labor controversy in which plaintiff was involved but not as party)

2550-4700 Hearing Officer's report

Scott Management Company et al. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1327 (C.A. 6, Aug. 1980)

(issue of whether hearing officer's report was exempt from public disclosure remanded to District Ct to be examined in camera to determine if document would not flow freely w/i agency unless protected from public disclosure)

2550-7000 Authorization cards

John S. Irving, GC v. Anthony DiLapi, et al. and Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. 600 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 2, 1979)

(authorization cards are exempt from discovery during Bd proceedings and from disclosure under FOIA, but here where cards are material to defendants defense of criminal charges against them their fundamental right to due process of law must be balanced against confidentiality of cards and disclosure is proper but only to defendants' attorneys)

American Airlines, Inc. v. National Mediation Board; et al. 588 F.2d 863 (C.A. 2, 1978)

(U authorization cards held exempt from disclosure as commercial information where U supplied information to National Mediation Board in reliance on regulations that it would be kept confidential; information relates to delicate area of labor relations as it deals with U's effort to obtain majority support and certification and disclosure would adversely affect U's competative position with other Us and e itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association 649 F.2d 445 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(U authorization cards exempt from disclosure. authorization cards are investigatory records in possession of Bd for enforcement purposes. Authorization cards are not discoverable by E under any rule of the Bd, and discovery cannot be obtained under Freedom of Information Act)

Howard Johnson Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(district ct reversed and case remanded to Bd with directions to enter summary judgment in favor of Bd position on U authorization cards falling w/i exemption 6 of FOIA)

Madeira Nursing Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Emil C. Farkas, RD) 615 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6) (1980)

(Exemption 6 of FOIA precludes E from obtaining signed U authorization cards or other Bd documents which reveal voting preferences of individual Ees because such disclosure would be an invasion of personal privacy; ct held authorization cards fell w/i meaning of similar files of exemption refusing to give term narrow and technical meaning)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-785 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(authorization cards are important to Bd's investigation of ULP and are exempt from disclosure under Exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding that initially cards were executed and forwarded to Bd for purpose then only, at best, indirectly related to law enforcement; and under Exemption 6 to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy for if Ees knew E would be able to see signed cards they might be reluctant to sign)

2567 SCOPE OF EXEMPTIONS

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(in testing validity of Bd's refusal to disclose requested information, ct observed that FOIA seeks to insure disclosure and not suppression, and that all exemptions are subject to narrow construction)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-187 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(Office of Appeals case progress sheet which memmorialized case history on appeal indicating information such as when appeal was filed and when it was decided, not exempt under FOIA)

2567-3300 Exemption 4

Chrysler Corporation v. Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, et al. 441 U.S. 281 (S Ct US, 1979)

(Legislative history of FOIA shows provisions exempting specified material from disclosure were only meant to permit agency to withhold information—not meant to mandate non disclosure)

American Airlines, Inc. v. National Mediation Board; et al. 588 F.2d 863 (C.A. 2, 1978)

(U authorization cards held exempt from disclosure as commercial information where U supplied information to National Mediation Board in reliance on regulations that it would be kept confidential; information relates to delicate area of labor relations as it deals with U's effort to obtain majority support and certification and disclosure would adversely affect U's competative position with other Us and e itself)

Quickie Manufacturing Corp. v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-2012 (D Ct. NJ, Dec. 26, 1978 (unreported))

(Bd Form 4069 held more appropriate under Exemption 5 regarding memorandums than Exemption 4, since it involves a particular document rather than general information)

2567-5000 Exemption 5

Upjohn Co. et al. v. United States et al. 449 US 928 (U.S. SCt. Jan. 1981)

(ct upheld E's contention that questionnaires, memoranda, notes of interviews conducted by its attorneys among Ees protected from disclosure by attorney-client privilege and constitute work product of attorney prepared in anticipation of litigation; further, control group test (officers and agents responsible for directing company's actions in response to legal advice does not apply as attorneys need information from all Ees to enable them to give sound advice; Rule 26(b)(3) of FRCP provides that work product can't be disclosed w/o showing of substantial need and inability to obtain equivalent w/o undue hardship)

Federal Open Market Committee of The Federal Reserve System v. Merrill 443 U.S. 340 (June 1979)

(Exemption 5 incorporates qualified privilege for confidential commercial information to the extent that this information is generated by Government itself in process leading up to awarding contract)

Federal Open Market Committee of The Federal Reserve System v. Merrill 443 U.S. 340 (June 1979)

(sensitivity of commercial secrets involved and harm inflicted on Government by premature disclosure are relevant criteria for determining applicability of Exemption 5 privilege; if these criteria are met then slight delay in publication of such information as authorized in 12 CRF Sec. 271.5 is permitted under Exemption 5)

Scott Management Company et al. v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1327 (C.A. 6, Aug. 1980)

(issue of whether hearing officer's report was exempt from public disclosure remanded to District Ct to be examined in camera to determine if document would not flow freely w/i agency unless protected from public disclosure)

Anthony Mallin v. N.L.R.B., et al. No. 78-C-1753, May, 31, 1979, DC E.D. IL (unreported)

(documents not drafted by persons with decision-making power found neither final opns nor explanations of final opns and exempt)

Quickie Manufacturing Corp. v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-2012 (D Ct. NJ, Dec. 26, 1978 (unreported))

(Form 4069 held not final opn compelling disclosure but exempt because w/i executive privilege protecting memoranda which would intrude on predecisional processes)

Buffalo Newspaper Guild, Local 26 The Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. No. CIV-78-639, Apr. 9, 1980, DC W.D. NY (unreported)

(where documents consist of recommendations by one NLRB Ee to another for particular actions relating to prosecution of closed actions, they are w/i scope of exemption (5), since disclosure could have severe impact on frank discussion in writing of legal and policy matters on which effective operation of government agencies depends to large extent; additionally, these recommendations would appear to be squarely w/i atty work-product privilege incorporated into structure of exemption (5))

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-785 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(advice memorandum privileged from disclosive under Exemption 5 of FOIA as an intra-agency memorandum setting forth GC's strategy in putative litigation before Bd)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(E not entitled to records forming basis of Bd attorney's comments purportedly admitting to attorney acting on E's behalf that ULP charges against E were w/o merit, since exemption 5, based on executive privilege and protection of attorney's work product, exempts such information; executive privilege exempts pre-decisional inter- and intra-office memoranda; however, disclosure is warranted after agency forms final opinion; and attorney's work product is applicable here since notes, interview, etc. of Bd attorneys were compiled in anticipation of litigation by agency having such basic function)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(E held not entitled to documents and witnesses' statements regarding Bd attorney's comments purportedly admitting to attorney acting on E's behalf that ULP charges against E were w/o merit; unlike ct case in which waiver of FOIA's executive privilege was found, disclosures herein were of limited nature, did not reveal specific contents of withheld documents, and no disclosures with particularity took place; moreover, conversations with Bd's attorney were viewed as settlement talks, and statements were made to party with interests antagonistic to those of E)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(E held not entitled to information regarding RD's statements to newspaper that Bd found violations at E's plant, since, unlike case in which ct ruled waiver had taken place where government incorporated exempt document into final agency decision, no such documentary release occurred here; no authority was found where general statements by agency official either to attorney or newspaper served as basis for release of inter-agency memoranda; and allowing such release would prevent, or at least inhibit, Bd agents from informally discussing pending matter with anyone, including parties to proceeding)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(Bd's conclusions with regard to two of the ULP charge investigations of E's plant held not to make facts underlying those investigations subject to disclosure, since dismissed charges are factually related to pending ones)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-187 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum transmitting Regional Office file to Office of Appeals with Acting RD's comment on appeal at time when no action whatever had begun on deciding appeal, held w/i Exemption 5 protection of predecisional communications; RD's comment was clearly intra-agency advisory opn w/i scope of executive privilege)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-187 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum to acting RD setting forth acting Regional attorney's Review of Appeals in a case, held exempt as intra-agency predecisional communication)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-187 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(memorandum prepared by Bd Ee assigned to investigate case for consideration by RD in making final determination whether to issue C, held exempt, where memorandum recommends action on basis of tentative conclusions reached by a committee of Bd Ees)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-187 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(report by Bd Ee summarizing facts related to him in interview with certain, named individual, held w/i scope of Exemption 5, especially since signed affidavit of said individual relating to same factual matters had been made available to party seeking report)

2567-6700 Exemption 6

Howard Johnson Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(district ct reversed and case remanded to Bd with directions to enter summary judgment in favor of Bd position on U authorization cards falling w/i exemption 6 of FOIA)

Madeira Nursing Center, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. (Emil C. Farkas, RD) 615 F.2d 728 (C.A. 6) (1980)

(Exemption 6 of FOIA precludes E from obtaining signed U authorization cards or other Bd documents which reveal voting preferences of individual Ees because such disclosure would be an invasion of personal privacy; ct held authorization cards fell w/i meaning of similar files of exemption refusing to give term narrow and technical meaning)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-788 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(authorization cards are important to Bd's investigation of ULP and are exempt from disclosure under Exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding that initially cards were executed and forwarded to Bd for purpose then only, at best, indirectly related to law enforcement; and under Exemption 6 to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy for if Ees knew E would be able to see signed cards they might be reluctant to sign)

2567-8300 Exemption 7

2567-8367 1974 Amendment

2567-8367-1400 Exemption 7(A)

Polynesian Cultural Center v. N.L.R.B. 582 F.2d 467 (C.A. 9, July 1979)

(Ee's affidavit taken in ULP proceeding privileged from disclosure under exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding it was taken in different and technically closed case where Ee was potential witness in pending ULP proceeding between same parties and affidavit contained information relevant to such proceeding)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(former Ee's request, following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, for affidavits of witnesses relating to investigation of charges filed by Ee with Bd, granted, since exemption 7(A) is not applicable, and Bd submitted no evidence that release of documents to former Ee would inhibit future investigations at E's plant, or elsewhere)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(Bd's deletions from affidavits in cases with closed files of affiants' home addresses, Bd agents' names and material to protect confidentiality and privacy interests and from one inflammatory allegations not exempt under 7(A) in view of FOIA's strong pro-disclosure policy and Congress' clear intention to circumscribe 7(A)'s applicability where Bd's basis is speculative fear of chilling prospective witnesses' candor in unspecified future proceedings)

Quickie Manufacturing Corp. v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-3012 (D Ct. NJ, Dec. 26, 1978 (unreported))

(Form 4069 would not be held exempt under Exemption 7, since asserted possible use in future ULP proceeding is not sufficient where ct precedent has held relationship to pending formal proceeding was required)

Buffalo Newspaper Guild, Local 26 The Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. No. CIV-78-630, Apr. 9, 1980, DC W.D. NY (unreported)

(plaintiff's action to compel Bd to produce files in several closed NLRB cases dismissed, since there was clear risk of premature disclosure of Bd's hand which would be likely to result in interference with enforcement proceedings, where the government has yet to present its case in ct in cases to which plaintiff is party, brought on C of same individual and involving same industry and closely related charges to closed files that plaintiff seeks)

Fullerton Transfer and Storage Limited, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-76-298-Y, Feb. 12, 1980, DC N.D. OH (unreported)

(notwithstanding proceedings have been concluded, under Exemptions 7(A) and (D) Bd need not release affidavits of witnesses not called to testify as potential harm to such confidential sources which said exemptions were designed to prevent still exists)

N.L.R.B. v. Martins Ferry Hospital Association No. C-2-78-788 (D Ct. OH, Feb. 5, 1979 (unreported))

(authorization cards are important to Bd's investigation of ULP and are exempt from disclosure under Exemption 7(A) of FOIA notwithstanding that initially cards were executed and forwarded to Bd for purpose then only, at best, indirectly related to law enforcement; and under Exemption 6 to prevent unwarranted invasion of personal privacy for if Ees knew E would be able to see signed cards they might be reluctant to sign)

Nissen Foods (USA) Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 540 F.2d 584 (DC E.D. PA, June 1982)

(information compiled during Bd investigation leading to ULP charges held exempt under 7(A), since hearing is currently in recess; such records, used for law enforcement purposes relate to formal proceeding that is pending and are protected from release prior to completion of enforcement proceeding; even if new document summarized information for non-law enforcement purposes, it would nevertheless continue to meet threshold requirements of exemption; if released, documents could lead to witness intimidation and permit respondent in NLRB proceeding to construct defenses against violation)

The Capital Times Company v. N.L.R.B. 483 F.Supp. 247 (D Ct. WI) (1980)

(refusal to disclose statements and affidavits obtained by Bd agents during their investigation of ULP charge filed by plaintiff upheld notwithstanding that charge was dismissed and case closed; exemption 7(a) of FOIA correctly relied upon by Bd, since statements sought by plaintiff were relevant to pending enforcement proceeding which grew out of labor controversy in which plaintiff was involved but not as party)

2567-8367-4200 Exemption 7(C)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 423 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(informant statements obtained during investigation, Bd notes of interviews with informants, and bid-sheet indicating 39 instances in which 10 Ees were passed over for promotion held exempt from disclosure under 7(c) because information contained therein was of highly intimate and personal nature and their disclosure would result in serious invasions of privacy subjecting Bd informants and others to embarrassment or reprisals from plaintiff, who was charging party before Bd, and E)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 423 (C.A. 10, Apr. 1982)

(Exemption 7(C) calls for balancing of competing interests analogous to balancing used for exemption 6, i.e., individual's right of privacy must be weighed against preservation of public's right to government information and initial inquiry must be directed to determining whether there is serious invasion of privacy; if disclosure will cause serious invasion of privacy, it must be determined what public interest is served by disclosure and both interests must be weighed. All doubts are resolved in favor of disclosure)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(Bd's claim of exemption under 7(C) or 7(D) with regard to release of investigatory file sought by former Ee following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, rejected, where no absolute guaranty of confidentiality was claimed by Bd even though an expressed assurance of confidentiality was granted to one witness: such an assurance should not operate so as to insure total anonymity, and fellow Ees are not to be regarded as confidential sources; SCt's Robbins Tire and Rubber Co. case distinguished)

Anthony Mallin v. N.L.R.B., et al. No. 78-C-1753, May, 31, 1979, DC E.D. IL (unreported)

(names of attorneys handling plaintiff's case withheld as there is no public interest outweighing attorney's interest in privacy; identity of agency official responsible for decision is sufficient disclosure)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(ct assumed legitimate private interests were protected by portions of material deleted from affidavits in closed cases to protect confidentiality, which included names and identifying material and allegations of criminal activity; in balancing public and private interests, ct sought guidance from parties as to whether it might properly consider (a) E's and public's interest, need for, and use of information requested and (b) whether E's ULPs described in affidavits might affect public interest)

2567-8367-5600 Exemption 7(D)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(Bd's claim of exemption under 7(C) or 7(D) with regard to release of investigatory file sought by former Ee following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, rejected, where no absolute guaranty of confidentiality was claimed by Bd even though an expressed assurance of confidentiality was granted to one witness: such an assurance should not operate so as to insure total anonymity, and fellow Ees are not to be regarded as confidential sources; SCt's Robbins Tire and Rubber Co. case distinguished)

Trustees of Boston University v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-1319-K, June 30, 1980, DC MA (unreported)

(where Bd contended identity of undisclosed affiant was protected as identity of a confidential source, ct granted Bd's mtn for leave to file for in camera inspection of affidavit allegedly containing highly inflammatory accusations of criminal activity on part of official of E by affiant who was then Ee of E, and ordered hearing for parties to discuss (a) wieghing of affiant's interest against public disclosure of affiant's identity and (b) special circumstances regarding affiant relevant to issue of confidentiality)

Fullerton Transfer and Storage Limited, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-76-208-Y, Feb. 12, 1980, DC N.D. OH (unreported)

(notwithstanding proceedings have been concluded, under Exemptions 7(A) and (D) Bd need not release affidavits of witnesses not called to testify as potential harm to such confidential sources which said exemptions were designed to prevent still exists)

2583 SUITS TO ENFORCE OBLIGATION

2583-0200 Withholding of agency records

Kissinger v. Reporters Committee For Freedom of The Press et al. 445 US 136 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(agency's failure to sue a third party to obtain possession is not a withholding under the FOIA; Act only obligates agency to provide access to documents which it, in fact, has created and retained)

Forsham et al. v. Harris, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, et al. 445 U.S. 169 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(must be established for an individual to obtain access to documents through FOIA action)

2583-0500 Court jurisdiction

Kissinger v. Reporters Committee For Freedom of The Press et al. 445 US 136 (U.S. SCt. Mar. 1980)

(jurisdiction of Federal Ct to ensure private access to requested materials under FOIA is dependent upon a showing that agency has (1) improperly; (2)withheld; (3)agency records; judicial authority can only be invoked if agency has contravened all three components of obligation)

2583-1500 Court procedure

John S. Irving, GC v. Anthony DiLapi, et al. and Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. 600 F.2d 1027 (C.A. 2, 1979)

Van Borg, Allen, Weinberg & Roger v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 1356 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(ct vacated summary judgment and remanded FOIA case that denied disclosure of certain affidavits and agency memoranda relating to terminated ULP proceedings where reasons for district ct decision, which did not enter findings of fact or conclusions of law, were not apparent from record and where reviewing ct was unable to determine which exemption district ct applied to each document withheld and what relevent undisputed facts provided basis for nondisclosure of other documents)

Louis Alirez v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-Z-1243, Feb. 26, 1980, DC CO (unreported)

(former Ee's mtn for summary judgment for disclosure of Bd's investigatory file, granted, where, following Bd's denial of his appeal from its refusal to file charge against E, Ee filed instant action under FOIA; however, Bd may excise name, address and phone number of each witness on all documents, and names of persons other than plaintiff should be omitted from documents)

N.L.R.B. v. Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc. No. 79-481, Oct. 22, 1979, DC NJ (unreported)

(mtn for discovery against Bd made in Bd suit to enforce a subpoena in an election case, denied on grounds that access to Bd records should be available only as available in Bd proceedings and FOIA did not permit district ct, having only statutory, rather than general jurisdiction, to enforce on Bd disclosure obligation)

2583-2000 Exhaustion of administrative remedies

Steco Sales, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. 79-2998, Feb. 25, 1980, DC DC (unreported)

Quickie Manufacturing Corp. v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-3012 (D Ct. NJ, Dec. 26, 1978 (unreported))

(plaintiff not required to exhaust administrative remedies by appealing GC's refusal of FOIA request since Bd's adament position against disclosure of documents relative to elections and its winning SCt reversal of decision in only circuit where its position was rejected have shown appeal would be futile; decision whether to require exhaustion of administrative remedies is discretionary, and plaintiff's time constraint given the imminence of the election outweighs considerations favoring requirement of an administrative appeal)

The Capital Times Company v. N.L.R.B. 483 F.Supp. 247 (D Ct. WI) (1980)

(statutory policy allows agency to determine first the merits of FOIA request)

2583-4000 Enjoining of Board proceedings

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2263 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(although district ct does have jurisdiction to hear plaintiff's claims under FOIA and if appropriate to order production of Bd records, the ct lacks power to enjoin Bd proceedings in order to enforce requirements of FOIA)

2583-5590 Issuance of subpoenas

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. No. C-79-2263 (D Ct. TN, May 22, 1979 (unreported))

(district ct is w/o jurisdiction to entertain E's C of Bd's refusal to issue investigatory subpoenas requested under 29 USC Section 161(l), where subpoenas required prehearing release of all evidence in Bd's control pertaining to the charges, including documents as well as names, addresses, and statements of witnesses; prehearing discovery questions are committed to Bd's discretion)

2583-6000 Stays pending appeal

National Steel Products Company v. N.L.R.B. C78-293A (D Ct GA, Oct. 12, 1978 (unreported))

(ct granted Bd stay on order prohibiting Bd from conducting consolidated R and ULP hearing unless Bd turned over requested statements of witnesses, since decision by SCt in Robbins Tire and Rubber Co. virtually ensures that Bd will succeed on merits of appeal and made issuance of inj improper and unnecessary to protect any legally cognizable rights or plaintiff)

2583-8000 Attorney's fees and costs

Westinghouse Electric Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 497 F.Supp. 82 (D Ct PA, 1980)

(notwithstanding Bd's denial of plaintiff's FOIA request for affidavit from closed file of current Ee of E, and Bd's subsequent disclosure immediately prior to oral arguments in this ct on cross mtns for summary judgment, ct denied E's ptn for attorney's fees where benefit from disclosure to public was marginal, interest in affidavit was private one, purpose of prior FOIA litigation was argumentation of civil discovery for potential use in other litigation, E was not indigent, and refusal by Bd to disclose was not unreasonable)

Joseph Horne Co., a Division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation v. N.L.R.B. No. 78-157 (D Ct. PA, Dec. 11, 1978 (unreported))

(request for reasonable attorney's fees from United States, denied as inappropriate even assuming, as contended, that party requesting such fees had substantially prevailed, because substantial portion of file it requested had been disclosed since commencement of instant litigation; both parties had
